TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

HOLIDAYS

ONCE we have got into such a tangle about Thanksgiving Day, I have been reminded of the holidays that we celebrated a half century ago. Some of us know of some of the holidays only by consulting the calendar, or only a few of them ever amounted to anything in fidelity. Naturally those of us who were reared in the old-fashioned places have never acquired the respect for most of the holidays that now dot the calendar. Thanksgiving itself meant next to nothing. There was certainly no homecoming, for most people were already at home. Whatever homecoming there was took place in the summer, when frying chickens and the garden were at their best. Very late in my days at Piddlet, along about 1904, the teacher of the little one-roomed country school put on a Thanksgiving program of piety and gave us a treat, just like the earlier exhibitions. A few people straggled in, but most of the community probably regarded the celebration with a mild indifference. We did not know it, but our coldness toward Thanksgiving probably grew out of our being innocent of New England descent. Though we talked about the Pilgrim Fathers as if they were our ancestors, we all knew that Virginia and North Carolina had cradled our ancestors, who had come across the Atlantic in some nameless vessel less famous than the Mayflower.

Other holidays that meant nothing or nearly nothing were, Labor Day and Memorial Day. All days were labor days for us; we did not know about labor unions and certainly did not look forward to the day as the end of a season's vacation, for we had no such thing. Occasionally people would decorate graves, but there was no set time for this. We depended largely on the time of great profusion of flowers. There was not any hostility toward these holidays; they just did not register. New Year's Day made a little impression, for it was still a part of the festivities of Christmas. But as a separate day it hardly counted, as it still hardly counts in most places where I have been.

That leaves just two, and they were great. The Fourth of July brought our annual summer picnic, when all the neighbors cooked up tons of food and spent the day at some gathering place. The cream was sold, and soda pop, and five-cent cigars. Barbecue (venison or sheep, baker's bread and all the trimmings made us remember the day. High-frown oratory from some political candidate helped make the day memorable. Christmas was really Christmas and not a commercialized season when we start getting ready the minute the Thanksgiving turkey bones are thrown to the dogs. Christmas began, quite properly, on Christmas Eve when the stockings were hung up and youngsters tried to stay awake to catch Santa in the act of filling them. Christmas dinner and prolonged festivities usually brought ecstasies and headaches to many of us, but it was great anyway. The cold, clammy hand of standardization and commercialization had not then been laid on the season of pure joy. We celebrated because our ancestors had brought the custom from "merrie England" itself, and all the longfaced Puritans could not get down it. Fortunately those two genuine holidays created an oasis in the summer season and another in the winter; we could easily count them by their, as the Eskimos count time by the return of the sun from the south.

Friends—Far From Home

WHEN their mother, Crown Princess Juliana of The Netherlands, gave a reception to the crew of a Dutch warship at Picon Lodge, overlooking the shining waters of the Northumberland Strait in Nova Scotia, many of the seamen saw the children of the Dutch royal family for the first time. In the above photo, a Dutch sailor tries to gain the attention of Princess Beatrix, 3 (left) while Princess Juliana looks wistfully at the camera, probably wondering why they all have to be so far from their native Holland.

American Rolling Mill Holds Spotlight As Eastern Kentucky's No. 1 Industry

TELLING KENTUCKIANS ABOUT KENTUCKY

There is an obvious view of the present plant of the American Rolling Mill located on the banks of the Ohio River, west of Ashland. A new building is under construction. This is one of a series of articles published by Eastern Kentucky University which in 1941 would tell the story of the state's progress. It should tell the world that we are a state of progress. BY RAY HATCHER Ashland's billion dollar industry, the American Rolling Mill Company plant has launched an $2,000,000 construction program that will surpass everything in its continuous stream of improvements since its location here in 1922. Already one of the finest steel plants in the nation, $2,000,000 worth of reconstruction will condition the local industry to handle a greater volume of production than any other mill operated by the American Rolling Mill Company, whose main offices are in Middletown, Ohio. However, a greater portion of the huge appropriation, the cost being estimated at $2,000,000, will pour into the erection of a giant blast furnace, powerful enough to turn out hundreds of tons of pig iron daily for use in not only the local plant but in other steel industries of the nation. The huge furnace will be a new investment in itself, a place of employment for over one hundred men, a direct result for more than 25 car loads of Great Lakes ore daily; lowering 300 feet, this new industry will also stand out as a symbol of Ashland's continual progress. All Eastern Kentucky recently saluted the American Rolling Mill Company in its new undertaking at a colorful "ground-breaking" ceremony. All Eastern Kentucky is aware of the vastness and the great worth of an industry such as the American Rolling Mill Company. The American Rolling Mill Company purchased Ashland Iron and Mining Company's holdings of furnaces and property in 1922 and spent millions of dollars in founding the nation's number one continuous rolling mill. The West Ohio plant underwent extensive reconstruction. Ashland immediately became known as "Kentucky's City of Steel" and the city "Where Coal Meets Iron." It was given national wide recognition as one of the country's greater steel producing centers. Several thousands more men were called upon to take their places in the hundreds of various industrial and clerical occupations created by the new plant. Ashland's population jumped nearly 100 per cent in the span of ten years, from 14,729 in 1922 to 30,074 in 1930. Along with the industrial growth, the city's civic and professional fields expanded immensely and Ashland found its place among Kentucky's leading cities. When Armo established one of its finer operations in Ashland nearly two decades ago, many men of outstanding achievement in the steel industry were transferred here from other plants. They brought with them two distinct qualities that have been upheld in high accord through years past, and which are being passed on to the new plant. These principles are (1) a true spirit of cooperation between plant officials and plant employees and (2) a program of safety for the welfare of both workmen and the plant. The maintenance of both of these standards in the local plant has been unparalleled by any other steel producing plant of its size. The Ashland plant for a number of years has held the "iron man" trophy which is awarded annually to the department having the outstanding safety record of the year in any one of Armo's five operating plants. The trophy is now in the possession of the processing department of the Ashland plant. Among the outstanding improvements Ashland has made at the Ashland plant are listed the following: Construction of the bar and jobbing mill and the first process of No. 1 sheet mill in 1924 and the No. 2 sheet mill in 1927; constructed warehouse buildings; increased number of open hearth furnaces

Floyd County Times

Published Every Thursday by PRESTONSBURG PUBLISHING CO. OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY. $1.50 Per Year

NORMAN ALLEN Editor Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOLE, 'YES'

IN the rather vague and involved wording of a question to be voted upon at the November election the hopes of many of the educational system in the poorer counties of Kentucky and of thousands of boys and girls needing and desiring better education.

That question is to be answered, "Yes," or "No," and it will be stated on the ballot in these words: "Are you in favor of amending the Constitution of Kentucky so as to provide the General Assembly may by general law distribute not to exceed 10 pct. of the school fund on other than a census pupil basis?"

To all who believe that no child should be penalized because of his or her place of birth and the poverty of his or her community, the answer surely will be, "Yes."

The amendment will permit funds other than those derived from the state per capita rate to go to those counties that are in the "pauper" class, thus strengthening these educational systems. As a result, thousands of youngsters will benefit from longer school terms and instruction by better paid teachers, which—in theory at least—means better teachers.

At the same time, we are told by the Kentucky Education Association, the amendment would impose no added burden on the taxpayers nor would it deprive the richer counties of any of their present revenues. Although this amendment may not directly benefit Floyd county by any great extent, it is in child's play to extend beyond our own narrow borders. We should vote for the common good—in this case, "Yes."

Points By Other Editors

THE LAW PUTS VOTES ON A C.O.D. BASIS

WHAT a difference a little scrap of paper sometimes makes. For lack of a "secondary stub"—a strip with his name on it to be torn off the ballot, by the voter—"chain voting" appears to destroy not only the purity of popular elections but their secrecy.

And Howard Henderson informs us that the Legislature dispensed with the "secondary stub" ostensibly to preserve secrecy. Maybe, a majority of the legislators thought so, but Mr. Henderson is skeptical of the original motive in view of subsequent events.

There being no telltale, detachable "secondary stub," the ballot, because transferable; the bought voter could deposit the marked ballot handed him outside, carry his own back to the briber and receive his money. Thus the voter buyer knows how the "flower" voted before paying off and has a fresh ballot to be marked for the next voting convention.

"Chain voting" figures extensively in primary contests and charges to grand juries this year.

This is an indispensable facility for buying votes with any assurance of specific performance of the contract. Evidently the system could be granted successfully so long as the voter had to tear off that "secondary stub" before depositing his ballot in the box. But the complaint was heard that now and then some voter forgot to detach the stub and his vote was frivolous excuse for throwing elections wide open to fraud. The voter had a right to tell how he voted if he wanted to; and there are four officers in the room with the ballot box to see that the stubs are detached.

Indeed it was a statutory duty down to 1930 for one of the judges of the election himself to "detach the secondary stub." Since the stub was to be thrown away as soon as the polls closed, it served no purpose other than to prevent "chain voting."

Why Blame Beer?

Occasionally, beer is blamed for unwholesome conditions, anti-social practices or other abuses in a handful of law-breaking taverns.

Such blame is entirely unwarranted. Prominent authorities—physicians, psychiatrists, dieticians and others—have definitely said that beer is a wholesome and healthful beverage, a true beverage of moderation.

Kentucky's legalized beer industry is determined to protect beer's good name—determined, therefore, that beer should be sold in Kentucky only under clean, wholesome conditions in law-abiding places.

You can help us, if you will, by patronizing only reputable beer retailers; and by reporting any disorderly outlets to this committee.

We sure were worried about Parsons—the Insurance Company refused to insure him until he built business around his porch. He got his policy, though; so the porch must have been enclosed.

And speaking of insurance, my policy must have been "too good"—I couldn't collect on it for going up Salt River.

I guess I was one of the defeated candidates who took the Floyd County Salt River. Morg had to go over to the Wilkie Paradise in Indiana.

George Ryan and Roe Turner had to get a lot of salt—they went to the ocean—George to Virginia Beach and Roe to Florida.

And is there anything in the report that Bill Biggers went to the Great Salt Lake?

Why all this yelling about future shortage of silk hose? Remember that "Grandma" was about 80 years old before she saw a pair and she made it all right.

We saw a distant defeated candidate for Constable donate his personal car to the government the day after election—because the coffee would be weak, anyway, for four years.

The following fellows want to state they have quit honky-tonking: Charlie Case, Esrel Mullins, Russell Price, William Huff, Useless Crum, Buck Ward and Billie Ward. Yep, you guessed it—they have their "other half" back.

Senators Wheeler, Taft, and Yellow Lindy remind me of the summer flowers—their blooms are fading fast—it won't be long now.

Hearing a big noise and commotion the other day while standing on "our" hardware store steps in Martin, I investigated and found Perry Osborne in a rage, waving his arms, etc. Perry is an ex-soldier, you know, and he was berating the collection of money for the entertainment of the soldiers in camp. Perry sez that when they called some of the boys to the army he had hopes they would make something out of themselves getting them away from the honky-tonks and bad environment and he sez now they want me to donate money to build honky-tonks around the camps for them. Perry sez that all our boys know all about honky-tonking and that they should be taught something else in the army.

Mitch says that he intends to stay on the county's premises from now on. He got on the city's premises and it took four days to find him.

The merchants up in this section have cut their meat prices on electric meat bulletin boards. They are going up like the stock market. When you purchase meat, you have to watch the "ticker tape."

Some fellow remarked the other day, that now we had a black-top road to Drift and we had to ride horseback on it, and that is the reason we have yelled for this road so long—to keep from riding horseback.

UMW, Operators Sign Contract

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 18.—Sam Caddy, president of District 30 United Mine Workers of America (U.M.W.), said today the U.M.W. signed a contract with representatives of the Big Sandy Coal Operators Association at Cincinnati late last night which is to last until April 1, 1942.

Caddy said the agreement included a guarantee of $750 a day for conveyor loaders, a point which had held up signing of a two-year contract since a temporary agreement was made in Washington last July 5. A similar agreement was signed with the Hazard operators last week, Caddy said, adding that together the contracts cover 22,000 miners.

HEALTH NEWS

TUBERCULOSIS OFTEN EXISTS WITHOUT THE PRESENCE OF SYMPTOMS AND SIGNS

(Compiled by Dr. Marvin Ransdell, Director, Floyd County Health Department)

It is now well known that the disease when it begins usually fails to announce itself by obvious signs and symptoms. In the beginning there are no sounds in the chest that a physician will notice in a routine health examination.

Tuberculosis seldom strikes a sharp blow in the beginning. It has been likened to a sneak thief, creeping in from behind. As the disease advances some of these danger signs may appear: fatigue, loss of weight, indigestion, and a cough that hangs on. The difficulty is that these warnings are common to so many other ailments.

Young people are prone to "burn the candle at both ends." They study hard, they plan hard, and often fail to get enough sleep. Their eating habits are frequently far from satisfactory. Bad health practices pave the way for tuberculosis. Overwork, lack of rest, and careless eating habits are often responsible for physical breakdown and if tuberculosis germs have entered or are entering the body, the infecting organisms have a good chance of doing considerable damage. High school and college students are particularly prone to neglect their health and may be spreaders of tuberculosis among their fellow unless school administrators take steps to bring about their removal from the group. Teachers may be spreading the disease to their children. It is estimated that there are at least 16,000 teachers with active tuberculosis now in classrooms in the United States.

The fact that eight out of 10 patients in a tuberculosis sanatorium are admitted in a moderately advanced or far advanced stage of the disease is a discouraging reminder of how the average person procrastinates in seeking medical advice. The tuberculin testing and x-raying of large numbers of high school students have uncovered active cases of tuberculosis who have actually been playing on high school football teams. In rural areas, young teachers lately out of training school have been found with active disease, after having infected a large percentage of their pupils. Dr. J. A. Myers of the University of Minnesota, in a recent article in the Journal of the National Education Association, said: "So much is now known about tuberculosis that it is a serious reflection on the educational profession when any of its members are found to have advanced and contagious disease on first examination. The teacher who is not adequately examined for tuberculosis every year may be looked upon as a negligent and indifferent person, one who has little thought for her own health and worse than that, little consideration for the health of her fellow teachers and students. There are numerous cases on record of educators having spread their disease to their associates and to the children in schools. By setting the example of being examined annually for tuberculosis, there would be little difficulty in convincing parents that all school children should be adequately examined."

On and after this date I will be responsible for no debts incurred by any person other than myself. WALTER PRICE, West Prestonsburg, Ky.

Here's National Average On "Market Basket"—Compare Prices

By FREDERICK W. STAMM, Economist and Director of Adult Education, University of Louisville

The U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics has released some figures on the cost of living which should interest everyone. The yardstick which is used to measure these costs is called the "market basket." This "market basket" contains food items which are purchased weekly by the average American housewife and is made up of: three pounds of round steak, two pounds of bacon, one qt. of milk, one pound of butter, one pound of lard, one dozen eggs, one loaf of bread, one peck of potatoes, three pounds of cabbage, one dozen oranges, one can each of corn, peas, and tomatoes, five pounds of sugar and one pound of coffee.

It is interesting to note how the cost of this "market basket" has fluctuated. In 1929 it cost $6.21 to buy these articles. In 1933 prices were at their lowest level, and you could have purchased all these items for $5.28. On August 1 of this year it would have cost Mrs. Average American $4.85 to fill the basket. Since that date, prices have risen

$4.90. It should be interesting to see what this "market basket" would cost at your grocer and butcher and check it with the national average.

TRAVEL BULLETIN TODAY'S ROUTES

Prepared by Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

FACTS SHOW THAT MOST SERVICE MEN ARE HONEST

With only 218 out of over 200,000 automobile service and repair men proved by a Bureau of Digest survey to be dishonest, the motoring public feels more confident than ever that the men who are in business to keep service in motor transportation can be trusted. The facts furnish a splendid tribute to the men engaged in a difficult business.

In its widely criticized article, the Digest attempted to prove that because only 129 out of 347 repair men failed to fall for a trick, three out of five times a motorist stops for service at strange shops he will be gypped. As Automotive News, a multipiece of the auto industry, points out, this is like picking one bad apple out of a barrel and condemning the whole barrel as being rotten.

Careful observers note that it is no necessary for motorists, even in touring to frequent strange repair shops. Car manufacturers have their officially appointed service stations everywhere. In addition, many well-known products are nationally represented. One of the best guides is the AAA emblem of the American Automobile Association, approved shops which will render efficient service to over a million organized motorists.

One of the first things an insurance loss adjuster learns is to look for the damage which has occurred, has reported, not to assume that the loss is fictitious. This attitude is indispensable in any investigation on survey, and is based on the premise that everyone is innocent until he is proven guilty.

In making his survey the Reader's Digest investigators admit purposely deceiving honest and dishonest repairmen alike. But as a Michigan services manager, Clarence Loyd, of Ypsilanti, put it so succinctly,

ON DISPLAY SEPTEMBER 26 THE FINEST CHEVROLET OF ALL TIME FOR THE SERVICE OF AMERICA

Here's the highest-quality motor car Chevrolet has ever offered to the motoring public... with fleet, modern, aerodynamic lines and Fisher Body beauty which create "the new style that will stay new"...

DESIGNED TO LEAD IN STYLING Chevrolet alone of all low-priced cars has "Lederer Line" Styling, sleek fenders, caps and body by Fisher.

IT PAYS TO BUY THE LEADER AND GET THE LEADING BUY VALLEY CHEVROLET SALES PRESTONSBURG, KY.

If you want honest service from a garage man you have to be absolutely truthful with him in the first place. The Digest method was like going to a physician with the complaint that you have a terrible pain in your leg when your real trouble is all bladder condition. Deceivably, the doctor has to take detours to arrive at the truth. If pressed for time, he may miss his diagnosis altogether.

America's service men may or may not rally to their own defense. It is feared that if they do not defend themselves against attack the American car owner may reach the conclusion that there is something in the charge that he is too likely to be defrauded when he seeks service.

It is likely that there will always be dishonest repairmen, just as there will always be dishonest customers. Such service men should be avoided, and what is more to the point, they ARE avoided. There are too many safe guides to honest service to warrant any justifiable fear of being gypped "three out of five times" you stop for service at a strange place. The highways and byways are generally populated with men who are making a sincere effort to keep complicated cars in safe running condition.

COURT TERM ENDS MONDAY

CRIMINAL DOCKET AT LOWEST STAGE, STEPHENS SAYS

The Floyd circuit court's criminal term ended Monday well ahead of schedule, after the docket had been reduced to the lowest ebb in a generation and after Circuit Judge Stephens decided that to hold the petit jurors here with little or nothing to do would entail needless expense.

Judge Stephens this week declared that the jurors serving at this court term were the "best I can remember."

Last official act of the court was to pass sentence on 13 men who had first penitentiary terms during the session.

Saturday, Joe Hall, slayer of Henry Hale, drew his second pen term, this latest a 21-year stretch for slugging Panter Haber, son of Jailer Will Halbert, in an attempted jail break on primary election day. He entered a plea of guilty. Earl Miller, Garrett, indicted jointly with Hall, pleaded not guilty, and was supported by Hall's evidence, but drew a 10-year term.

Other cases called since last Wednesday follow:

Sam Keel, drunkenness acquitted; Luther Crisp Allen, carrying concealed deadly weapon, $50 fine; Percel Hall, slayer of Henry Hale, continued jail term, 12; Orville Mitchell, reckless use of deadly weapon, continued jail term, 5; Clyde Mitchell, reckless use of deadly weapon, continued jail term, 5; Joe Nelson, Ernest Buckner, Will Rogers, Robert Finley, Roosevelt Jackson, Fred Pickett, Garland Ward and Loranza Thornton, gaming, continued jail term, 5; Joe Nelson, murder, 2 years; Sam Robinson, grand larceny, $1,000 bond forfeited in each of two cases; Joe Hall shooting and wounding, continued generally.

Henry Stone shooting into auto, dismissed, proof insufficient; Woodrow Hicks, shooting on public highway, acquitted; Tilda Simpson, reckless use of deadly weapon, $50 fine; Tilda Simpson and Lillian Jacob, breach of peace, dismissed; Tilda Simpson, assault and battery, dismissed; Wiley Nelson, continued $15 fine; Woodrow Hicks and Rosie Heck, adultery and fornication, acquitted, child in question, acquitted; Woodrow Ousley, acquitted; Harold Patton, breaking and entering, six-month term; Barkadaie Cook, peace bond reduced from $2,500 to $1,000, executed; Johnnie Holbrook, peace bond reduced to $1,000.

Floyd Man's Nephew Is Plane Crash Victim, Friday

Corporal Arrie M. Howard, Saltsburg, nephew of Dayton W. Howard, of Northern, this week, was killed Friday in a plane crash, and was one of eight who lost their lives in the day's flying of Army ships.

Four of the crashes were connected with the Louisiana war game maneuvers.

Corporal Howard and First Lieut. Walter H. Boyd, of Long Beach, Calif., members of the 12th Observation Squadron, burned to death in Marshall Field, Texas, when their plane overshot the air field, crashed into a tree and caught fire.

Corporal Howard is survived by his mother, Mrs. Stella M. Howard, of Saltsburg, one brother, Eldridge, 10, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Akers, of Matouka, W. Va. In addition his uncle, W. H. Howard, Northern, the victim is survived by two other uncles, Josephus Howard.

Shot Kills Merchant

Johnson related by swearing, out peace warrants for Ted Johnson, Miller, Mitchell and Lester Martin, brothers. He contended that they had fired into his home.

Deputy Sheriff Tom James, Coroner Elliott Prater and Constable Willie Johnson, of Wheelwright, followed the dogs to the home of Andy Hall, where the trail became confused. Hall and Dewey Johnson were at the home, but both denied having seen any person when the dogs got on the trail.

Mrs. Johnson told THE TIMES that her husband had been seated on the porch and Mrs. Cook was pumping water. A matter of seconds after the merchant arose to his feet, the shot was fired.

Trail of the assassin was picked up in bloodstains at the spot where the widow said she saw a man running. Scraps of paper found on the ground where the gunman awaited this victim's appearance were identified by Barkadaie Cook as having been a copy of a legal notice which he himself had torn to bits, about a month ago, and deposited there.

The paper, however, authorities said, was not faded or discolored as might be expected from exposure over that period of time.

The victim was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dock Johnson. Besides his widow, he is survived by three children, Dorothy E. Betty June, 4, and Clayton Matt, 2; four step-children, Hagan King, Mrs. Theina Cook, Mrs. Nannie Burke and Curt King.

Brothers and sisters: Miss Minnie Belle Osborne, Halo; Marles Johnson, Kile, Ky.; Mrs. Marie Holbrook, Hall, Ky.; Mrs. Estle Evans, Cincinnati, O.; Curt Johnson, of the U. S. army; and Diamond Johnson, of Weaksburg.

The body was prepared at the Arnold Funeral Home here for burial and returned to the Johnson home Wednesday. Funeral rites will be conducted there Friday, with burial in the family cemetery.

$8,481.50 PLUS $37,945.22 PLUS $??? OF OUR MONEY

$8,481.50 is the amount of money that is now being demanded of the taxpayers of this county in the two suits filed in circuit court this week. We taxpayers are asked to pay OUR MONEY to two hospitals whose other boasts of the CHARITY for which he now demands of us $8,481.50 for "bestowing" less than one year of that "charity."

$37,945.22 is the amount of OUR MONEY that has been paid since June, 1935 to those hospitals and their owners.

$27,773 is the unknown amount of our money which was paid to, or is now claimed by, the same CHARITABLE agencies for salaries, fees, commissions, unallowed claims and other unreported and unaccounted for money.

Besides the thousands of dollars per month that this charitable gets collected over the payrolls for himself and his businesses, he claims the right to demand from the PUBLIC MONEY—OUR MONEY—more than $60 for each of the seventy-five months past. This figure is based on only the RECORDED payments and claims. It does not include his official salary or commissions or other income. $60 per month—$50 every day—for more than six years is a lot of money to be paid to him from OUR MONEY.

Shall we now vote him into office again so that he can then enlarge and tighten his greedy grasp on the taxpayers—on OUR MONEY? From thousands of good citizens and good Democrats in Floyd county comes the thundering answer—"NO! NO! A THOUSAND TIMES NO!"

By their thoughtful and wise votes these good citizens will be united on election day to overwhelmingly elect— D. P. (PERK) DINGUS FOR SHERIFF
