CAPITOL COMMENTS

By David M. Porter

The sovereign state of Kentucky has just made a spectacle of itself that has other states laughing, and this show is put on at the taxpayers' expense. The Kentucky State Fair is over. It was an out-of-state paper put in "An International Horse Show with a glorified carnival."

The investigation of the state purchasing department may have revealed one thing that has had the politicians wowed for some time. That is Mr. Talbot's status in Frankfort.

No one doubts the ability of J. Dan Talbot, or his political astuteness; but many remember that, during the campaign of Governor James P. Bland, Talbot was one of the many of Mr. Talbot's political enemies, that Mr. Talbot would go, yet he has stayed on at Frankfort and no one has interfered with his department.

This may be the reason: All through Governor Chandler's term, the farmers are looking to the man who hired and fired, and the one who received campaign contributions or assessments for each political race.

Rumor has it that, at the start of Governor Johnson's campaign, either through rumor or urging, state the state started sending the money to Mr. Talbot for the Governor's use.

When the campaign got hot and when the farmers had to have money, this rumor says, Mr. Talbot was the man with the big stick and had to be used with it.

The Finance Department in Frankfort and a political power in Kentucky.

Man About Town

John Edgar Hoover trimmed Heinrich Himmler's Hamburg Gestapo out of $21,000 in cash! Spent 30s for that "Naz" Long Island short-wave station and is keeping the rest for widows of his agents. . . The Left Wingers and John Labor Lewis are not so wide apart as Washington circles hope.

Herr Bruening, who was Germany's chancellor before the Nazis came, has applied for membership at the Harvard club. . . Louis Bromfield's description of the Paris social set: "The International White Trash."

Tom Mooney, they say, is tapping a committee petitioning the release of Earl Browder. . . Sidney Weinberg, the OPR exec, to hear his severest critics tell it, is running things as though it were a flop show.

Sammy Kaye, who helped "Daddy" to fame, isn't to blame for the arranger not getting his royalties. . . How come the sport allows Nazi "journalists" to remain here after their own colleagues (the Foreign Press) have kicked them out of that club for "unprofessional conduct"?

Four days before the "horror ship" was to depart, the line gave a sumptuous dinner for ship news reporters, trying to soft-pedal matters. . . The newly wedded Howard Reilly, formerly Jean Harrington) aren't being yaps, are they?

The Savoy-Plaza had an attentive and respectful listening audience the night FDR spoke. . . When a lad asked them to hush the fight was on—and police summoned. . . Topperweins to Shoot

The world record book in number of targets shot at and targets broken.
In compiling this record that will probably never be equalled, Topperwein used three 22 Winchester automatic rifles which he loaded himself. So remarkable was this shooting considered that it appropriately found a place in the famous and reliable Ripley's "Believe It or Not" series.
One of his most spectacular features in the shooting of various pictures or cartoons. Shooting a number of rapid-fire shots at a sheet of tin or paper set out in front of him on an easel. Topperwein draws the outlines of Indians, cowboys, Uncle Sam, or any of the familiar cartoon characters—drawing rapidly with his Winchester. He uses no pencil drawings—just shoots a lot of holes in the target and quickly draws with bullets a striking likeness of the character he has in mind. This feature, as well as many others in his program, is original. He was the first shooter to conceive the idea of drawing cartoons with bullets.

Mrs. Topperwein embarked on her shooting career shortly after marriage. Today she is recognized as the greatest all-around woman shot in the world. She is also one of the few shooters who has mastered all forms of firearms shooting rifle, pistol or shotgun equally well.
Mrs. Topperwein was the first woman in the United States to qualify as a National Marksman with a military rifle. She was the first woman in the world to break 100 straight targets of trapshooting with a shotgun. This she has accomplished nearly 200 different times. She has broken 200 straight or better 14 different times and her longest straight run is 307 making her record even more remarkable.
At aerial targets with the rifle, Mrs. Topperwein has scored 1,400 without a miss on 2 1/4-inch wood blocks. As a pistol and revolver shooter, she also holds many records. Shooting in various positions at small objects and targets, she has scored 497,500 on 25 yards in 50 shots with a .38-caliber revolver.
Mrs. Topperwein has shot in every state in the union during her professional career and has defeated both amateur and professional trapshooters—shooting side by side in championship tournament competition.
To give some idea of her extraordinary shooting ability and endurance, Mrs. Topperwein, shooting in Montgomery, Ala., fired at 2,000 large targets (regulation trap), breaking 1,952,300 in five hours and 20 minutes. This is the world's record both for score and number of targets shot in one day by either man or woman with a shotgun.
In teaming with her husband in exhibitions, Mrs. Topperwein practically duplicates the various shots in Mr. Topperwein's big bag of tricks. At some points, she even exceeds him. At every performance they seem to compete against each other by springing some new surprises.
This thrilling exhibition is FREE! Come out and enjoy the fun. The Topperweins will be glad to discuss your shooting problems at the conclusion of the exhibition.

TRAVEL BULLETIN TODAY'S ROADS

Prepared By Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

How Will the Defense Program Affect Motor Vehicle Ownership and Operation?
AUTOMOBILE SERVICE MAY BECOME DEFINITE PROBLEM—Because the demands of the defense industries for expert mechanics at the higher pay in these industries has caused an exodus of automobile mechanics from garages and service stations. The turn-over in the garages in many sections has been extremely high. The AAA has taken up the question with the Social Security Board which has over-all charge of the training of the new personnel. The Board has plenty of facilities for the training of auto mechanics as a priority. However, we are assured that if a definite shortage can be proven in any city—New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, etc.—the surplus will be consigned to the situation, but in order to get training programs put into effect it will be necessary to submit definite statistics based on the figures of employment service in the respective communities and on reports of local employers. So if a situation develops where you feel a mechanics' training program should be inaugurated, your community leaders should have the facts and we will take them up with the proper authorities. So far this program is more acute in the larger cities than in smaller communities.
In considering this service problem, we must keep in mind the fact that with fewer new cars sold more used cars will be in operation and this in itself will call for more service.

How to Use Your New Dial Telephone

Now that all calls must be made by number, you should always refer to your telephone directory to be sure you have the right number before placing a call.
The purpose, for example, you want to dial 2511.
1. Lift your receiver and listen for the dial tone, a steady humming sound.
2. Place your finger firmly in the dial opening over the figure 2.
3. Turn the dial around to the right until your finger strikes the finger stop.
4. Remove your finger and without touching the dial allow it to return to its normal position.
5. Proceed in the same manner with the other figures 1 and 1.
If, before you complete the dialing of a number, you find that you have made an error, or if your finger slips out of the dial opening before you have turned the dial around to the finger stop, hang up the receiver for a few seconds. Then remove the receiver and upon hearing the dial tone proceed to dial the complete number again.
Do not jiggle the receiver hook, or turn the dial after you have finished dialing, or while you are talking, if you do, you will be cut off and it will be necessary to dial the number again. Be sure to replace the receiver on the hook when you finish talking.
If you are on a party line and wish to call another party on your own line, it will be necessary to dial a special code number instead of the regular number of the subscriber as used in the directory. All subscriber numbers have four figures. The first three figures will be the same for all parties on the same line. In order to call another party on your line, the code number to be dialed is the figure "9" followed by the first figure in your telephone number and the last figure in the number you are calling. For example, if your telephone is 2211 and you are calling the subscriber number 2213, you should dial the code number "913". Mrs. You have finished dialing the code number, hang up your receiver. You will, as well as the bell of the party you are calling, will then ring at brief intervals. When the called party answers, your bell will stop ringing. You should then lift your receiver and talk to the party answering.
If your bell does not stop ringing in front of you, you indicates that there is no one without hearing dial tone to answer the called telephone. You should then stop your bell from ringing and free the line from the connection by removing your receiver from the hook for a few seconds and then replace it.
To make a long distance call, or to report your "telephone out of order," and to secure a number not listed in your directory, dial "Operator."

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY. 50 Per Year. Double in Advance. NORMAN ALLEN, Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

'STRAINING AT A GNAT...'

FULL knowledge of the large percentage of Floyd automobile drivers who are addicted to drunkenness, recklessness in the handling of their cars and general carelessness for the safety of human life and limb should impress upon Floyd county officials and citizens the undeniable fact that Kentucky's state highway patrol is "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel" when it over-emphasizes enforcement of the driver's license part of the law to the neglect of those statutes applying to actual motorized lawlessness.

If these officials and citizens are sufficiently aware of the situation, they can and will demand and receive from this enforcement department of the Commonwealth protection from those who commit the real offenses against the laws of the highway rather than from those who mainly are theoretical offenders.

Your ordinary highway patrolman is no more to blame for this unbalancing of the scales of justice whereby any good but fearful citizen may be drunk and heavily fined while the drunk with impunity weaves his way in an automobile that may be the deus machina of mass murder than is the cop on the street responsible for some offenses being seen and others unseen. Their actions are governed by "the boys higher up." In other words, they are told that they have a job to do—and they follow orders.

Somewhere in Kentucky lies the power to have the taxpayers of the Commonwealth given the service by this state highway patrol that sensible people have a right to expect in behalf of themselves and their children.

The grand jury of the Floyd circuit court has suggested that more attention be paid to more serious offenders of traffic laws; has even suggested the employment of more patrolmen, if special attention must continue to be paid to the driver's license law. And THE TIMES is glad the jury made the suggestion.

But this newspaper would suggest that, in addition to all this, the county officials, representing the people, get busy and demand better and more realistic service, at the same time trying to cooperate more fully with the highway patrolmen who do bring into court drunken drivers whom they have every right to convict but too often do not.

ALL WHO CAN SHOULD HELP

EVERY business firm, every professional man and citizen of means in Prestonsburg should contribute in some degree to the support of the Floyd county fair committee.

Without finances, the committee is powerless as it works to give the town and Floyd county an exposition of home agricultural and industrial products not only comparable but superior to those of neighboring counties.

Those now asking your financial assistance are doing so at their own expense—giving of their time and work in a cause in which they believe. They are proud of the fair held here in recent years; would make the Floyd county fair an institution.

Success of this undertaking is a success for all; and in their failure we all would share. Make yourself or your business a stockholder in this undertaking planned for the benefit and profit of none in particular and all Floyd county in general.

Points By Other Editors

THESE MUST BE SOME WAY TO FIND OUT

GOVERNOR JOHNSON'S committee investigating the state's Division of Purchases enters its third week today without having been able to shed much light on the question that must overshadow everything else before it. That is whether and to what extent political campaign funds have been steeled by contributions from persons and firms selling supplies to the state. This matter, and is corollary—whether political favoritism has been shown in the making of purchases—are of deep concern to Kentucky taxpayers.

What has become obvious to the committee, if it accepts the full implications of its task, will not find it easy. J. Dan Tabbutt, Commissioner of Finance, under whom the Division of Purchases operates, has been asked: "Do you know of campaign contributions by people who sell to the state?" His reply was: "I have thought that some of them might have contributed but I do not know personally." Frank Peterson, formerly Mr. Tabbutt's first assistant, has been asked: "Will you state on oath that nobody who sold anything to the state ever gave you any campaign money?" His reply was: "Directly to me, no." Then he was asked: "Did they indirectly?" His reply was: "Not that I know of."

On the face of their replies, it is evident that Mr. Tabbutt and Mr. Peterson, though they have been by no means disassociated with politics, have seen nothing to prevent campaign contributions from people who sell to the state. They apparently have been content not to know about something which, in the interest of good government, should have engaged their curiosity.

However, somebody, or some set of people, must know whether Mr. Tabbutt's blank statement shows some others who sell to the state might have contributed to political funds as well-bested. There surely is some way for the committee to find out. The subject cannot, in justice to anybody, be allowed to rest where it is.—The Courier-Journal.

THE GOAL OF THE ALLIES

ENDORSEMENT of the Roosevelt-Churchill war aims by representatives of the 16 Allied powers, including the Soviet Union, is the first real sign of general agreement on something more than the common aim of merely beating Germany. As such, it is a welcome indication that the great coalition opposing Nazism is moving toward a coherent post-war settlement.

It is one of the serious defects of Great Britain's wartime leadership that no clear and inspiring declaration of purpose has been made. With all his magnificent qualities, Mr. Churchill seems lacking in the capacity to envision and define the broader ends of Britain's war effort.

There are obvious dangers in any attempt to declare aims in general terms. This is doubly true now that there are so many strange bedfellows in the Allied camp. Obviously the Poles and Russians do not see eye to eye when they consider the boundaries they should like after Hitler's defeat. Such conflicts of interest are numerous.

Nevertheless, the defeat of the German Reich calls for an immense coalition of free peoples and peoples wanting to be free. If such a common effort by a dozen or a score of nations is to reach its maximum strength, the people involved must have a program before them that will command their allegiance and justify their sacrifices. The war will not be won simply by the provision of arms and fighting manpower. These must be strengthened by an unshakable faith in the purposes of their struggle.

It is a war of survival, to be sure. For the British themselves, this is a sufficient war aim to insure relentless effort and wholehearted devotion to the cause until victory is won. For some other peoples this is not enough even though for them it is also a less obvious war aim.

By accepting the Roosevelt-Churchill declaration, "the Atlantic Charter," as it has been called, the governments associated with Great Britain have taken the initial step toward a full definition of their goal. But they must carry this much farther if they hope to infuse a strong fighting faith in the peoples who support they must rely.—Chincinnati Enquirer.

120 Floyd Students Continue Study With NYA Help

National Youth Administration jobs will enable approximately 120 youths in Floyd county to continue their education during the 1941-42 school year. Robert K. Salvers, State Youth Administrator, announced this week.

An allotment of $534 per month, to be distributed among 15 schools, has been granted this county. A school official, appointed by Mr. Salvers as a non-commensated official of the federal government, will administer the NYA program in each of the schools. The official will choose the youths to be given jobs and outline the work to be done. To earn their money, students might look or help in the lunch room, repair books, chairs, desks, help with construction or landscaping on the school grounds, do clerical work a day that it would sustain maintenance, or they might do a number of other kinds of work beneficial to the schools. They are attending schools between the ages of 16 and 24 who could not continue in school without financial assistance are eligible for NYA work.

Drunk Drivers, Beware! In Stern Ruling

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 30.—The court of appeals related Tuesday that it would sustain manslaughter convictions whenever there is evidence the driver of a motor vehicle was intoxicated at the time of a fatal accident.

Drunk Driver Killed and Killing Out Kach's Liqueur In Car

It said charges that Dunn had operated his car in the "careless, reckless" manner charged were not entirely proved, and it added that it was plain that Kach's own negligence and contribution to the accident, but that it was shown that Dunn had been drinking and also had liquor in his car.

The opinion stated that Kach and a companion, Raymond Adams, also had been drinking and that Kach had parked his car partly on the highway near Campbell, shortly before it was hit. Dunn, Adams and two boys riding with the former were injured in the same accident.

TIE UNBROKEN RAYS SEEN IN SERIES

P'BURG AND AUXIER IN SECOND TILT HERE SUNDAY

Aspiring to the championship of the Big Sandy League, the "A" class Prestonsburg baseball team and the "B" class champs from Auxier Sunday wound up in a tie for the second consecutive time and for the three-game series continuing far into the fall.

Sunday's 13-inning thriller ended up, 10-10, Sunday before, the two teams battled to a four-hour deadlock. Both games were called because of darkness.

Although Prestonsburg led Auxier 10-9 in the ninth, nine batters to seven, "Red" Bickford pitched masterfully for Auxier in the pinch, and sent the entire distance.

Auxier came back in the fourth to even the score. Evans opened the inning by mounding to Leslie, who fumbled the ball. A balk was called on Leslie, advancing Evans. Montgomery doubled to right, Evans scored in the tenth, and by the same route, and Music grounded to Leslie.

Both teams scored in the sixth. Evans again opened up for Auxier and grounded out, Vance to Branch. Montgomery flied out to Vance. Bud Chumette's grounder scooted through Crum, Patton singled to left and VanHogge dropped Music's pop fly to Bickford. Evans scored, Patton and Music then grounded out.

In the bottom of the sixth Vance, Montgomery returned, and was indicted on a voluntary manslaughter charge and four true bills returned as a result of the investigation of alleged homicide at the August primary election.

Floyd Hospital Paid $5,800 on Claims Won by Suits

In session Monday, the Floyd fiscal court voted payment of $4,800 to the Beaver Valley hospital and $1,000 to the Martin General hospital as credits on judgments gained in circuit court by the two institutions against Floyd county.

County Judge E. P. Hill and Magistrate W. A. Willis voted against the action.

These payments followed by a suit by the county against Floyd county by the Beaver Valley hospital for $7,000 hospital fees, less a credit of $2,200 for medical supplies and during the last fiscal year by direction of the fiscal court, the other against the county by the Stumbo Medical Supply for $2,424, less a credit of $242.70, for the same service during the same period and under the same conditions.

Perry County Sued On Road, Bridge Bond Issues

Haard, Ky., Sept. 30.—Payment of $4,700 as back interest on Perry county road and bridge bonds was asked Tuesday in a circuit court suit filed by Frederick W. Defoe of New York City.

Defoe asked further that county officials be prevented from making non-essential governmental expenditures until provision was made for the road and bridge bonds and principal on the bonds when due in the future.

The suit said Defoe held $100,000 of the county's bonds, issued in 1922 and 1928, and that the county had failed to make certain interest and principal payments since 1936.

The county's annual income is $75,000, the petition said, with $88,000 used for support of non-essential governmental agencies.

Who are the greatest left handers baseball has ever known? Eddie Plank school. He lacked the blazing speed of a Grove or a Rube Waddell, but he could hit up batters into more knots than 10 sailors could untie in a week.

From this list Rube Waddell and Lefty Grove undoubtedly had the big edge in physical stuff—which largely consists in speed. Speed—and a fast curve. Waddell had the fastest breaking curve ever thrown.

On the right handed side this distinction belonged to Dazzy Vance. Waddell and Vance could start a fast curve four or five feet from the plate.

So could Nap Rucker—minus the leg. To see the catcher take the pitch ankle high. Toad Ramsey, one of the greatest, goes back beyond the 40 year span. Toad had a curve ball you couldn't hit with two planks.

How They Rank Here's the left handed ranking I give you since 1900—all in order: 1. Lefty Grove; 2. Eddie Plank; 3. Rube Waddell; 4. Herb Pennock; 5. Carl Hubbell; 6. Nap Rucker.

And Hubbell might be moved up into third place. A great pitcher. From this list Grove and Waddell had the physical stuff. Waddell was the greatest genius of the lot—but too much on the erratic side.

The Rube would rather fish or act as bartender than pitch a World series game. Grove and Plank, both under Connie Mack's direction, were the two greatest combinations of Carl Hubbell's brilliancy and consistency.

They won the most games—which is a big part of the answer. More than a few have ranked Herb Pennock as the top left hander of the long period—for brain control, style and the rest of it. Pennock was Bill Hanna's nomination—and Bill Hanna knew his share of baseball.

We'll still string with Grove, Plank, Waddell, Pennock, and Hubbell, in that order. Grove, at his greatest physical peak, was still learning how to pitch. I've seen him strike out six of the first nine Yankees and be hammered from the box two innings later. When Grove got to be canny and cunning he was almost unbeatable. For example 1921—when he won 31 and lost 4. That's what you might call pitching. Compare this to any 1941 record—I mean Feller or any of the others.

Floyd Jobless Paid Total of $8,286 During August

Unemployed workers of Floyd county received $8,286 in jobless benefits during August. R. F. Fields, manager of the Pikeville Unemployment office which serves Floyd and other counties of this section, announces...

During the month 446 claims were filed by residents of the county, 19 of which were initial claims and 427 were continued claims. Unemployed workers, eligible to draw unemployment insurance, received approximately one-half their regular wage up to $16 a week for not more than 16 weeks. Benefit checks are issued for two week periods.

During August, the Unemployment Compensation Commission paid $202,822 in benefit claims to unemployed workers in the state. Robert B. Hendley, acting executive director, said. This amount brings the total benefits paid this year to $1,954,142 and the total since the start of the job insurance program in Kentucky to $11,853,820.

L. HARRISON ELLIOTT, am the REPUBLICAN NOMINEE for REPRESENTATIVE, and in the November election I come up against the man who defeated "Shikpoke". I enter the campaign fully confident that the people of Floyd county will not let THEMSELVES down. And mark this, neighbor, if it's good legislation I'm for it—if it's bad legislation I'm against it, no matter which party proposes it.

Miners! Vote for me! Fight for me! Get on the bandwagon and ride it to victory with me! Then I shall remember you and your interests for which you have so long and gallantly struggled.

I know what you want! I know what you NEED! You need life, liberty, and a more clearly defined opportunity to pursue happiness through real recreation, better working conditions and better working conditions. I cannot promise to attain these for you. Such promises are merely sounding brasses and tinkling cymbals—like the chimes which the wind drives away.

But I can and will promise you this: ILL HELP YOU ALL I CAN IN EVERY WAY I CAN. Everyone who knows me will tell you I'll do just that.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'OLD-TIMER' MAKES SUGGESTIONS

Dear Editor: Am all riled up about this hunting business. One might as well take out hunting license for bear and deer, as for as the finding of some, as for squirrels, in this section, the "meat-hounds" persons who hunt the year throughout; the squirrel hawk and large owl have killed all but a very few of the squirrels and rabbits. Unless drastic changes are made by the Fish and Game Commission, hunting will just be a lot of exercise here in Kentucky soon. Suggest a bounty of fifty cents each placed on the hawk and owl; also that the groundhog be on the protected list. His holes save many a rabbit and opossum from being captured. Also Mr. "Meat-hound" goes groundhog hunting the year throughout, killing squirrels and rabbits at every opportunity. The squirrel season should be for 30 days, bag limit 15 for season, for a few years while we can raise some worthwhile to hunt for. Ferrets and weasels should be outlawed in rabbit hunting, both being very unsportsmanlike. Unless some action is taken along these lines I am in favor of the farmers posting their lands, prohibiting hunting at all times. "OLD-TIMER," Martin, Ky.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR CHILDREN

I ran across the Prestonsburg grade school last Thursday morning. The nearer I got to the street, the more I thought it might be my boy. It was someone's boy. There were two of them. They were playing tag, racing across the street, and the brakes were screaming but the car hit him. One jumped up and ran, the other boy lay where his mouth, a big blood on his forehead. Children should not play on the street or highway. The school officials and teachers should not allow this.

SO HE MOPPED THE FLOOR

We, the Floyd county selectees, now stationed at Ft. Thomas, Ky., would like to give the future selectees of Floyd county an idea of army life. Ft. Thomas is located five miles east of Cincinnati, Campbell county, Ky., overlooking the Ohio river. From one side of the post you can look across the Ohio river and see Lunken Airport where transport planes from all points of the United States are constantly leaving and arriving. From the other side of the fort you can see Coney Island, Cincinnati's nationally-known amusement park. A street car line runs past the fort. Street cars from Newport, Covington, and Cincinnati run every 15 minutes, making it very convenient. Ft. Thomas is very beautiful and ranks as an old fort. Before the Selective Service Act it was occupied by the 2nd and 3rd battalions of the 10th Infantry but is now an induction center. Among the permanent personnel at this fort are four Floyd countians: Pvt. J. E. Bailey of Martin; Pvt. Jack Tackett of Martin; Pfc. Earl Martin of Minnie, and myself, of Martin. We see lots of Floyd countians, as most all selectees from Eastern Kentucky, are inducted here. The work we do here is not very hard and is very interesting. You meet lots of boys, some nice and some who think they are act tough because they were tough in civilian life. The other day I act a fellow to get a mop and mop the floor. He looked up and said, "Boy you know where I'm from?" I said, "No." He said, "I'm from Harlan county." Then I said, "I'm from Floyd county." So he got busy and mopped the floor. Recreation is another important factor in army life and our recreation here is varied. We have soft ball, tennis, volleyball, and other summer sports. In the barracks we have day rooms in which there are pool tables, ping pong, and other games. The soft ball team of Company "B," of which I am a member, ranks with the best on the post. After soft ball season is over we will take up basketball. We also have other amusements and amusements.

a Service Club which is used 'mostly for entertaining girl friends and any other visitors you might have about every three weeks we have a pool dance here. There are usually 150 girls present at these dances which are held on the cement tennis courts behind the Service Club when the weather permits. You might think that the boys would go wild but in fact they are very shy and most of them have to be coaxed to dance. We can also see the Cincinnati Reds play baseball at reduced prices. So you can see the recreation program is a good one. K. P. (kitchen police) is something which all soldiers must take their turn, but it isn't too hard. Here we have electric potato peelers and electric dishwashers which are very convenient. You imagine the amount of work involved if this had to be done by hand. K. P. can also be given an extra duty; but, you obey orders, you won't get any extra K. P. Cleanliness is another important factor in the army as well as in civilian life. We have inspection every day, so at all times the barracks must be shining and everything in order. We have lots of visitors here on week-ends and holidays. They are shown around the post by M. P.'s (military police). Fort Thomas has been pretty busy for a while as lots of men are coming in daily. They are not here very long and they come in about as fast as they are sent out. Most of them they can get a lot of questions the first day or two they are here. The majority of them want to know when they can get their money or to town, or when and whom to salute. They are given instructions in military courtesy as soon as practicable but the officers are very nice and don't expect selectees to salute until they have been instructed. I'm sure you all will want to know about the army food. Food in the army is known as "chow." They always feed rich food in the army. I'm sure that any one will gain weight on it, and it is always on time. I've seen some fellows gain as much as 18 pounds in the first two months. That's a lot of weight to gain, especially when you're drilling. If you always eat good food, the food you can forget your worries, because it's O.K. I hope this will give you fellows some idea of army life. It really isn't so tough unless you make it that way. The hardest part about it is staying away from your friends and family, of course, your mother's cooking; but you'll get used to it. Don't worry about your losing your girl friend, because the girls are so nice and they doesn't-well, if you can't trust her for a year, you couldn't for a lifetime. Besides, there are plenty of girls, wherever you go. Just take army life with a smile, chin up and chest out and you will practice the motto of the army: "Be on your feet when the world may soon depend on Hitler can get Churchill off his back and Stalin out of his whiskers." PVT. CLYDE HUNTER, Fort Thomas, Ky., Reception Center.

Two Blame Drink After Robbery Of Postoffice

"We were so drunk we didn't hardly know what we were doing," Carmel Kidd told Postoffice Inspector J. P. Poch last week in confessing that he and Constable Mullins robbed the Blue Moon postoffice on Mud Creek and the store of Lilburn Hall in the same building. The confession was gained Sept. 23, three days later the two appeared before Circuit Judge Stephens to plead guilty, but their case was deferred for grand jury action. Federal authorities agreed to rest the case on state prosecution. County Attorney W. Claude Cavill said: "Mullins said the postoffice haul was 'about' $1,48 in cash; that from the store, approximately $10 worth of merchandise and a 'little over' $1. The youths were indicted by the grand jury last week and will be given trial at the October court term.

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times) The "First Aid" classes are now going on at the mines in this section. Many of the fellows show a lot of interest. For instance, J. M. and Hubert of Betsy Lague, laid off from work last Monday to practice "artificial respiration." They are getting along of the class. George King, it is reported is about to quit his "brakin'" job to take a contract in pickin' chickens. "Bob" Butler took a "tour" of the Big Sandy over the week-end. He reports many places of interest visited. TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

DO TELL! A WHOLE BOOK, and a big and interesting one, could be written on the way that people keep conversation going when they are being talked to or, at the case may be. Many of these ways are standardized and official, but they are not necessarily the most interesting. If you do not understand the talker, of course you run into "beber your pardon" or some similar formula. If you agree, you can say "Surely," or "Yes," or any number of other meaningless modes of assent. If you are surprised, it is quite natural to express yourself with "Is that so?" which is capable of many interpretations, ranging from "I act English to rather flat slang. But these are common things and as yet do not demand any notice, just as antique furniture was good and fine but common, long before somebody decided that it merited attention. Folk ways of doing their part in the conversation have always amused and pleased me. If you tell something astonishing, many people used to remark, "I act English to rather flat slang. in peace or war . . . the RAILROADS SERVE KENTUCKY and the NATION

Railroads Spent $71,322,897 in Kentucky in 1940 For fuel, maintenance and supplies the railroads last year paid $18,646,339 in 377 Kentucky cities and towns. In wages they paid $47,376,558 to 28,694 Kentucky citizens. And in taxes they paid more than $5,300,000 to the State, counties, cities and school districts. Thus, their total contribution to Kentucky's economic welfare in 1940 amounted to $71,322,897. Similar payments were made in all other states.

Efficient Mass Transportation Is Essential Still more important, the railroads at all times support the nation's economic welfare by providing highly efficient mass transportation. Preparation for national defense largely depends on mass transportation by railroad. The emergency and magnitude of the defense program impose a stupendous burden on the railroads. The railroads are doing the job. They will continue to do it because they have the plant, the manpower, the skill, the tradition of service that such a task requires.

The Twofold Contribution to National Welfare The railroads carry over their own roadways the bulk of the national transportation load in peace and in war. Most of the $4,297,000,000 which the public paid for railroad services last year was turned back to the public in wages of employees, purchases of materials and supplies, and direct tax support of the schools and of city, county, State and Federal governments. Less than 1% on the investment in railroad property was paid to the stockholders who own the railroads and furnish the service.

WHO WOULD BE THE FIRST TO MAKE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

On the Altar of One Man's Lust for Power?

Would you or some member of your family willingly die in a hospital, helplessly crying out for the rescuing hand of a physician and surgeon—the rescuing hand that would be away from the hospital and busily grinding the wheels of its political machine?

Would you or some member of your family willingly suffer death, robbery, arson, rape, or some other horrible crime of violence, helplessly crying out for the strong protective arm of the law—the protective arm that would be too burdened with its private business, perhaps in another county, to shield and protect OUR peace and safety?

One man should not ask the people of Floyd county to believe that he could so perform his duties as to prevent this SUPREME SACRIFICE being made, not by HIM but by YOU.

For the protection of Floyd county's sack and suffering!

For the protection of Floyd county's peace and safety!

LETTER THAT WAS NEVER MAILED

Dear Senator Clark: While you're investigating the movies, watch the newspapers—they're publishing some stuff that's not helping the Nazi cause any.

Any day you may see a picture of Czech or French patriots facing the German firing squad.

Pictures, especially the moving pictures, are just too, too awful, aren't they? But they've been getting by with propaganda for a long time. If you'll think back. Only some of the movies weren't showing up Hitler, his Gestapo and their utter inhumanity.

Think back, Senator. There was "The Birth of a Nation." Why, it was simply terrible, that propaganda film against the Jews.

And there was "Ben Hur," the film version of Lew Wallace's famous book of the same name, showing the persecution and crucifixion of Christ.

Remember "Scarface"? It didn't show our old Sicilian acquaintance, Al Capone, and his gangster chief, Tom? That was propaganda, too, in the war against crime.

Senator, I write this merely to let you know that for more years than either you or I can remember books, magazines, newspapers, the movies or other media of expression have been full of propaganda against the tyrant-scourge and the iron heel.

While you're at it, you should do a good job of stopping all propaganda. Run Simon Legree off the plantation, call the bloodhounds off, excoriate Harriet Beecher Stowe for writing that greatest of all American works of propaganda, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which crystallized sentiment against slavery.

Introduce bill barring films depicting the persecution of Christ to the shame of Pontius Pilate and all other men who suffered the crucifixion of the Man who came to save men. Don't let them show, by word or picture, the oppression of the poor, not even a picture of America rising as a nation from beneath the yoke of George V.

For none of these who were tyrants there were worse than Adolph Hitler and his minions are today. Yours,

Editor, FLOYD COUNTY TIMES
