SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY
PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

MERE SUGGESTION

Paintville has a recreation center operated mostly at W. D. Spencer that's the envy of this section. In Johnson county, at East Point, is another such center and it is doing splendid work. It is doing so well that it is being copied. If some of our citizens are interested in school children, especially those of teen age who are restless seemingly with nothing to do except go to the show, would investigate the work being done at these centers. Floyd county would have one of two such combination work-play projects. Don't sound the call, you of the "whispering gallery," till you visit the Paintville center during its exhibition hours, 3 p. m. till 9 p. m., Oct. 12 to 18, and the East Point center from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m.

First sign of Halloween:
A woman leaving a Prestonsburg liquor store, wearing a mask. Spirits probably had enough to do with it.

NOTA BENE

Banks are closed Monday—it's the only day of the boys could take for Columbus Day, since the holiday really falls, this year, on Sunday.

THE TIMES OFFERS A REWARD

The story is told that John Graham, back to the early 1800's conveyed a farm on Johns Creek, the consideration being the grantee's performance with a rifle during a party at the Graham manor, near Emma, near here. Several persons of undoubted veracity have told of seeing the deed in the court records. Clerk's records here. But, look high and low as we have, it's still undiscovered by us. In fact, we're looking so long that we've decided to offer a reward for that deed.

To the person finding that document on these records or in any other records in the courthouse here, THE TIMES will give a five-year subscription. We mean to have it, if it can be had.

TO HELP THE SUFFERING

An archdiocese appeal to Local Union No. 7283, of Fed. for its contribution of $100.00 to the Infants' Paralysis Committee headed by J. J. Kavanaugh, president of the local, himself the father of two twins crippled by polio, made the trip here Saturday to get a certified check at a local bank to send the contribution to the pace where he hoped it would do the most good.

These boys who work at the most hazardous occupation in Floyd county are always ready contributors to such causes. Maybe, if we could draft some of our lightest citizens, and send them to the mines to work for a season, they'd loosen up the pursestrings.

Floyd County Needs Harry R. Burke For County Attorney

Floyd county citizens need Harry R. Burke as their County Attorney for the next four years to complete an administration of the fiscal affairs in the interest of the people. He is a man who is not controlled by his house and upright and will take instructions from any man, but always look to the interest of the people.

HARRY R. BURKE

He is not possessed or dominated by any lawyer or set of lawyers; he is not controlled by any company or many companies and has done so in the PEOPLE'S RIGHTS and will preserve them. The one-sillable man from the hollows, the miller, the farmer, doctor, lawyer, and every other citizen should be for this fine young man. He is in sympathy with the people and is not afraid to meet them and is always willing to serve. He is the same man every day you meet him. He never changes and never will. He grew from boyhood to manhood as just a plain, common boy in the common way.

Let him carry out the policies of the one he can so well succeed. He was once as County Attorney on many occasions and has done so admirably. He was always the choice of Forrest D. Short when Porrett Burke was appointed. The unanimous approval of the relatives, friends and citizens of this county. Let's give him four years to place a check Harry R. Burke is to talk and act in the best interest of this county want him and the Republicans should, so let's all fight for HARRY COMMON GOOD.

TO THE CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY

THE FLOYD COUNTY FAIR benefits all Floyd county citizens, and you need no invitation to attend. But, inasmuch as it is being held here in Prestonsburg, we are extending to you all cordial invitation to join with us here in viewing the "cream of the crop" in agricultural and industrial products of our home county.

None of us will profit financially in making this fair possible, but we fully expect that all of us will benefit from the friendly associations had at the fair and that we all will leave it with a profound respect for the farmers, business men and workers of the county.

This fair time is a good time for us all to join in three days of full co-operation and goodwill. And in that spirit we ask you to join us and all those who make the fair possible.

MINE TRAGEDY ESCAPE MADE CLAIMS ONE

FIVE ARE INJURED IN LIGON MINE TRAGEDY

One man was killed and five others were injured Monday afternoon in the mine of the Payne-Baker Coal Company, Clear Creek, when a string of loaded cars plunged into a large trip car stalled because of motor trouble.

Melvin Osborne, 41, died instantly, his head being crushed when he was pinned against the roof by a car.

Injured were Dersan Hall, broken neck; Anderson Moore, broken ribs; Wags Bryant, his son, Zeile Bryant, and Rich Ferguson. The injured men were taken to the Martin General hospital, but only Hall remained.

The Bryants and Ferguson suffered only bruises and minor cuts.

It was reported here that the labor trip, following the first string of loaded cars, stopped to help when the preceding row failed on an incline. The following trip of loaded cars was sent out on the premise that the other trips had already reached the surface. It was said.

Surviving Osborne are his widow, Mrs. Ely Osborne, and 19 children. The body was taken to Robinson Creek, Pike county, where burial was made Wednesday under the direction of the Malone Funeral Home.

WOUNDED MAN FLEES HOSPITAL GUARD AT MARTIN

Wounded in a pistol duel with James L. Honaker, Jr., and under guard at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, on a shooting and wounded charge as his adversary lay, seriously wounded, in a Charleston, W. Va., hospital, Jack Salisbury, of McDowell, Monday fled from both his guard and hospital attendants but made a successful break for liberty.

Deputy Sheriff Tommy Salisbury, who had been on guard most of the time the fugitive had been in the hospital, told THE TIMES that the escape was discovered about 10:30 p. m. He indicated that the getaway was planned by Salisbury and a Democratic rally held at the hospital.

While I have been guarding Jack, Deputy Sheriff Salisbury said, "I have usually stayed out in front of the hospital till about 11 o'clock. After that hour, it has been spending the remainder of the night in the hall, outside the door of his room." Movements of the wounded man's wife, just a man caused him to make the inspection trip to Salisbury's room, earlier than usual, he added.

It was reported here this week that Henker, Salisbury's brother.

FBI May Investigate WPA Luncheon Break Here

Walter Winchell

The Village News-Press (Prop. and Editor, Paul Winchell) Right smart remark by Ed Cantor on his radio hour. Said to Carol Landis that she must accuse Joe DiMaggio for never hearing about her as he never seen any movie shows. "Then what it he doing in the N. Y. Yankees?" Carol said back. "He should be with the Washington Senators!"

Era Stone, accordian to reliable report direct from his camp, had to stroll in double time last week 'cause his wife was dirty.

Yesterday to Clean & Johnson's office came to town. Three years old got on 4 million dollars. "Oh and the same we ed a telegram, sayin', 'Thanks for what you wrote about it to make it all time annuity for two lucky and appreciative Scandinavian boys. About a couple passes, fellers?'"

Ye ed sure wisent his detractors would hold a rehearsal of something. In a magazine piece it was claimed we ain't never had no scoops on the Mannin case. But in a new book 'The Bunk of the Month' ye ed criticized for spillin' secrets about the case! The secrets (scoops) came from New York policemen workin' on it.

How come those famous speakers and lawmakers get $500 and more to come to the American people make those "patriotic" speeches?"

New York Hearstbeat The Big parade, Arthur Treacher, who she swallowed a monocle, anking along 7th Avenue a few inches behind Grace Moore, who once swallowed a case! The Jack Bennys and Ida Lupino sitting at the left rear table in The Stork club to give that corner some class.

Glady Geyer and her groom decorating Cora & Irene's. Lois January at the Belasco Jessel rehearsal telling puns. The Lois form of wit. . . . Elsa Maxwell sneezing into a cab outside the Hurricane Broadway. Rose, now called Broadway Cactus. . . . Wendell Wilkie, who proves that the only way you can put your country before everything else is by getting behind the President.

Memos of a Midwigher: Garbo and a dance director here are causing merger talk. . . . S. I. Hayakawa's "Language" is being commended as unit and un-American by the American Comm. of the Legion. It will combat "the cleverly concealed Axis propaganda." . . . Jim Tully's new book will be published by Scribner's, which claims it is his best yet. . . . Local Italians are supporting "Il Muro" magazine and Axis paper. . . . The winner of the Mrs. America beauty contest (entered as non-professional) is a Powers model.

Things Just Found Out About Newspaper Features The California legislature in 1936 passed a law prohibiting publication of cartoons in newspapers. . . . Only one important daily newspaper doesn't run comic strips. . . . The New York Times. . . . The most universally popular story, "Robinson Crusoe," was the most influential American novel. "Uncle Tom's Cabin," it is credited with fomenting the Civil war appeared first as newspaper serial.

The first serial in an American newspaper was Defoe's "A History and Mystery of the Female" in a Boston gazette. It wasn't completed because the agonistic Ben Franklin took over the paper and threw it out. . . . Franklin published the first newspaper cartoon in this country. . . . Paul Feyer was a newspaper cartoonist. . . . John Barrymore and Gary Cooper.

Early U. S. newspapers took care of "syndication" themselves. They clipped freely from each other, and anything good that appeared for example, in Thomas Paine's excellent Boston Post was sure to be republished throughout the Colonies. . . . Fleet by the way, the first job to his son by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Gosse, into a book and made her the immortal "Mother Goose." But Fleet's paper printed no story of the Battles of Lexington and Concord in its next issue, because "the military transactions of last week are so variously related that we small not at present undertake to give any particular account thereof!"

The first popular serial writers were Horatio Alger and Mary Jane Holmes, developed by the N. Y. Sun. And, believe it or not, the above-cited "Lens" story, by Miss Holmes, last year topped sales of Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and Robert "Oliver Twist" well. . . . The longest novel in history is Adele Garrison's (real name, Mrs. Martin White) story of one couple's married life, called "Pittfalls of Love." It has appeared in newspapers every week-day since 1915—more than 5,750,000 words.

Wheelwright Youth Killed in Pike-co. Auto Wreck

One person was killed and at least 11 others were hurt in a series of automobile accidents on Pike county highways, over the holiday weekend.

Jack Ward, 15-year-old adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, of Wheelwright, died several minutes after a car in which he was riding plunged off the highway at Robinson Creek early Sunday morning. Eight people crowded the car, and six of them, in addition to young Ward, were injured.

Injuries were reported in three automobile accidents over the weekend. Highway patrolmen reported that two men had been arrested and fined on charges of drunken driving.

Those hurt in the Robinson Creek accident were: Gomer Bates, 26, of Myra, owner of the car, lacerations and bruises; his wife, Dixie Bates, a fractured leg; Garrett Bates, 22, nephew and driver of the car, head and chest cuts and bruises; Elmer Vanover, 25, of Dorton, injured back; Leonard Cordell, 38, Dorton, cuts and bruises, and Ed Hall, 24, of Dorton, head lacerations.

Arthur Tucker, 21, of Ligon, was fined $100 and costs by Magistrate U. G. Haynes Monday and suffered his driver's license to be revoked on a charge of drunken driving. A car he was driving collided with one driven by Carl Etter, of Williamson, Saturday on Shalby Creek highway. Tucker and a passenger, Oscar Carter, also of Ligon, were slightly injured, while Etter and his wife sustained cuts and bruises. Both cars were badly damaged.—Pike County News.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

TELLING TALES

CHEAP literature, radio, and moving pictures have almost destroyed a means of entertainment that was almost as ancient as the hills, the telling of tales. In the earlier days of the race this was one great means of passing on all that had happened to the tribe or family. People prided themselves on being able to repeat the sacred legends and stories of their clan or family. Much of this same feeling was still left a generation ago. Tales were told not alone for the information they conveyed but to keep alive the feeling of other times and places. The ancient Hebrews were exhorted to talk of their great events while sitting in the home or walking by the way, "When thou sleekest down, and when thou risest up." Long before writing as such was invented, this method of passing on traditions was in use; books have only given a little more objective form to it.

Tales were of many kinds. First of all, we children had to be told for the nth time about the pioneers. Some of the tales were actual, individual ones, but many of them had become pure folklore, told again and again and half believed by their tellers. Indians, bears, panthers, but- tresses, pigeons—these figured in many of the tales. All of our ancestors had come from Virginia or North Carolina in covered wagons, a generation or two before our time. Some of them had lived for a time in sections of Kentucky or Tennessee on the way over, before the Purchase had been opened for settlement. I knew a few people who had hunted in the Purchase while it was still the property of the Indians. These tales lost nothing in the telling, for children in those days realized the good old days of the pioneer; I am afraid that we pictured the whole westward movement as a prolonged picnic.

Pioneer stories had close rivals in the endless yarns we heard about the Civil War. Many of these yarns grew under the telling, apparently because the teller did not remember all the details until he got warmed up, much as Rip Van Winkle could not recall all of his strange experiences at first, because some of his 20 years' sleep was still in his eyes and mind. Our stories about the Civil War had the Southern slant, so that we heard only of the valor of our ancestors and how they always fought against fearful odds.

Honoring Two Famous Pan-Americans

Statue of Simon Bolivar in Central Park, New York City.

We will publish additional authentic feature articles dealing with the significant personalities and fundamental institutions of Latin American countries...

By EDWARD C. JOHNSTON

A few years ago there was unveiled in Caracas, the capital of the South American republic of Venezuela, a statue of a great Pan-American. The inscription on it, written in Spanish, reads: "Henry Clay, 1777-1822. Apostle of fraternity between the countries of America and valiant defender of their independence. The United States of America presents to the United States of Venezuela this statue of its illustrious statesman, speaker of the House of Representatives, Senator and Secretary of State."

The statue, given in return for one of General Simon Bolivar, the South American champion of independence and Pan-Americanism which was unveiled in Central Park in New York City in 1921, was formally dedicated by a distinguished delegation from the United States and the statue was received by the President of the Republic of Venezuela.

This ceremony, which honors the man who, in the United States, has been called "The Father of Pan-Americanism" and "the Father of Pan-Americanism," was a significant one in the history of the nations of the New World. It was a gesture of friendship on the part of the most powerful of those nations to a smaller nation which has reason to feel grateful to an older sister in the Pan-American family. For to the Venezuelans the statue, erected in the square in their capital to which they have given the name of Plaza Henry Clay means more than a mere memento of a great man. To them Henry Clay was a friend, not only a friend in words, but a friend in deeds as well and the monument will be a constant reminder of that fact and of the international good-will which prompted the presentation of it to their country.

As early as 1818 Henry Clay began his campaign in the Congress in support of the recognition of Spanish independence. Clay in his capacity as Speaker of the House of Representatives, reasoning that the United States might have openly "to take part with the patriots of South America" opposed the reduction of taxes incident to the War of 1812, and a year later likewise opposed a bill intended to stop the fitting out of war vessels in United States ports.

maintaining that such a bill might be detrimental to the interests of South Americans who were still struggling for their freedom.

In 1817 he offered a proposal to authorize a salary for a minister to the provinces of the Rio de la Plata. In March, 1818, Clay made the speech which is still gratefully remembered by South Americans. Like all of Clay's orations, it was stirring; it was the first plea voiced for recognition of the countries then sharing of the dominion of Spain.

Alone in Congress, he thundered and pleaded sympathy for "the 18 millions of people struggling to be free." This speech gained for the United States generally and Henry Clay in particular many friends among the South American countries, who were destined to increase when, in 1820, Clay introduced a motion into the Congress to inaugurate diplomatic intercourse with "any of the governments of South America which have established and are maintaining their independence of Spain."

The next year, as the result of a resolution he supported, President Monroe sent a special message to Congress and a resolution to establish intercourse with the South American nations.

When Clay became Secretary of State in 1825, his zeal in promoting friendship between the republics of North and South America became apparent almost immediately. He has been hailed as "The Father of Pan-Americanism" in the United States because of the steps which he took to encourage the success of the congress at Panama in 1826, which convened at the call of Simon Bolivar. The United States was not in the first list of countries invited. Clay suggested this country later was included. The invitation gave Clay an opportunity to prepare instructions to the United States delegation, which in every feature seems to accord with the principles which have governed the Pan-American policy of recent years.

One of the facts about Clay's influence upon the international policy of the United States which is not commonly known to most North Americans is in regard to the so-called "Monroe Doctrine." In 1823, Clay suggested this country later was included. The invitation gave Clay an opportunity to prepare instructions to the United States delegation, which in every feature seems to accord with the principles which have governed the Pan-American policy of recent years.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON YOUR CAR

NO matter how expert we may be as drivers, the best of us fall into the careless habits of not measuring up to know what we know is right.

How easy it is to forget that an idling motor is a useless expense. It is not much of a job to turn it off while we are waiting for a friend. The hot sun evaporates gas from your tank. Park in the shade when possible.

It's a bad and expensive habit to keep your foot on the clutch pedal while driving.

Speeding is not only dangerous but it is also expensive. Your motor consumes twice as much gas at 70 miles per hour as it does when traveling at 20 miles per hour. The motor becomes overheated and the consumption of oil is also considerably increased. The most economical speed to travel is about 35 miles per hour.

DRIVING IS A RESPONSIBILITY—TREAT IT AS SUCH.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

By David M. Porter

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper—Editor.)

The investigation of the purchasing department now going on is of vital importance to all the people of Kentucky and may lead to the abolishing of a procedure that has cost the taxpayers millions of dollars.

Don't believe that this is a battle of spite between two political factions and, above all, don't take the attitude that such things are necessary evils that go with our Democratic form of government. Such an attitude leads to more graft, and more corruption and would eventually lead to the downfall of our democracy.

The favoritism that has led to the purchasing department has some authorities claim, cost taxpayers of Kentucky more than a dollar apiece. Let us break this, and let every taxpayer of Kentucky, according to those figures, at least two meals a year, or enough to feed all the unfortunate of the state for four months.

This is the reason it is so important to you, and to all the people of Kentucky, and for this reason public opinion must be aroused, and positive action taken to remedy the situation.

General Meredith deserves much credit and complete cooperation of the people, to carry on a successful investigation, and if he is successful the taxpayers will save tremendous sums in the years to come.

It is not in the nature of politics for little people, men of no great political importance, to be allowed to shrink the best of themselves. The unfolding story will not satisfy intelligent observers. It will be incomplete, until it is brought out whether or those favorites are only "fronts."

In this connection the real beneficiaries were the "big shots" when V. L. Spaulding, "pay roll sleeper," said off more than three thousand dollars, the other day, in full settlement of Meredith's recovery suit.

Spaulding, a Uniontown editor, seems much more fortunate than most of the rest of us newspaper editors. Very few of us could go to the bank and get a certified check for this amount, as Spaulding did.

RANDOM SHOTS

One of the things under investigation by General Meredith is the large number of direct purchases made by Robert Jewett, state fair manager. These did not go through the purchasing department.

Since the state has been paying $100 a pound for soap, we suggest that the theme song of the administration candidate for Governor in 1943 be, "I'M FOREVER BLOWING BUBBLES."

Glad ridings await you at Chesapeake and Ohio ticket windows! It's only 2 cents a mile for one-way coach tickets and there are even further reductions in round-trip fares with 60 day return privileges. Travel by train for comfort... safety... economy!

Imagine having to bring your own candles for light aboard trains at night! Passengers had to do that when night travel first came into vogue but the railroads soon began to provide specially protected candles. In 1850 oil lamps were introduced and in 1887 passenger trains were first lighted by electricity.

The average mile of railroad in the United States, together with its proportion of extra tracks, yards, buildings, locomotives, cars, shops and other equipment, represents an investment of $108,871,000!

Can you identify different types of locomotives? All you have to do is count the wheels! For instance a 4-6-2 or Pacific type, has 2 pairs (4) small front wheels, 3 pairs (6) drive wheels, followed by a single pair (2) small wheels. The huge Mallet articulated locomotive is a 2-10-2 and the 4 wheel switcher is a 0-4-0! Other famous types are: Mikado (2-8-2), Hudson (4-6-4), Mountain (4-8-2), Greenbrier (4-8-4) and Chesapeake and Ohio's new Allegheny (2-6-6).

A MALEVOLENT ARCHAISM

AN archaism may clutter up the premises a bit and yet do no harm. Again, it may take malevolent form and be an old sore, a canker, in the body politic.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Representative Hamilton Fish, Senators George Nye and Worth Clark and others, has served Adolf Hitler at the expense of you and me and every other taxpayer in the country.

These "franked" envelopes issued to the gentlemen named—on which the postage was paid by us all—have, somehow, found their way into the hands of Nazi-supported organizations. The F.B.I. has followed their devious trails till that has been established as a fact that may be used as evidence in the courts.

Senator Wheeler's now-famous postal card campaign with the soldiers and citizens throughout the country cost the taxpayers a cool $10,000. His franked envelopes have been postmarked from various obscure postoffices throughout the country—mailed by God knows who.

A few weeks ago a truck, say Pearson and Allen in their syndicated newspaper feature, "The Washington Merry-Go-Round," a truck manned by F.B.I. agents backed up to an office maintained by persons having Nazi connections.

That is the service this archaic law permitting the franking privilege to Senators and Congressmen is giving us today—at our expense, and at a time when we all are burdened by a heavy tax load.

Don't you think it's time to repeal this law? Don't you think it is enough for us to pay the salaries of Congressmen and Senators without carrying the mail for them from no matter what source, for no matter what purpose?

PLAY-OFF TIE IS BROKEN

AS B-CHAMPIONS IN SCORING FEST VS. P/BURG

Battling around in the fourth inning, Auxler's B-class champions scored six runs Sunday against Prestonsburg, A-class (title of the Big Sandy Baseball League, and thus broke the spell that held the two teams in the thrall of the games over the preceding two Sundays.

These six runs were enough, for Prestonsburg was able to score only five times, all game. These five were scored in the fifth and sixth innings off Lambert, Van Lear hurler enlisted by Auxler for the championship series.

Prestonsburg blew a big scoring chance in the first inning when three hits and an Auxler error still aggregated not a score. Roark, first up, singled to left, but was out stealing. Crum followed with a double to right, Prater singled to right and Crum went out at the plate on music's eye throw. B. Butcher's grounder went through Clifton at second and Prater was out trying to score. Music to Clifton.

Leslie, who hurled brilliantly against Auxler, on the preceding Sunday when the two teams battled in the first game, was the losing pitcher. Hamilton succeeded him and did not succeed in retiring a batter. Patton came on for the last four innings, during which Auxler scored three runs.

Wells was hit often enough by Prestonsburg during his opening three-inning mound tenure but was not scored upon. Lambert, "up" from Van Lear, was ineffective, and Bickford came on in the sixth to hurl successfully, during which Auxler scored three runs.

The same two teams are at it again next Sunday, same place.

WHEELWRIGHT IN 20-0 WIN

DEFEATS VAN LEAR ELEVEN FOR FIRST CONFERENCE WIN

By OWEN RICKARD

A small but enthusiastic crowd of Wheelwright supporters dropped in on the Maroons' second home game at the current season at the Wheelwright ball yard Saturday afternoon and Coach Walter Price's maroon-and-white charges, peppered by a Wheelwright high pep rally and bonfire the preceding evening, and with hopes for a victory ball game all the while, showed much improvement in turning back a fighting Bank Mule eleven from Van Lear, 20-0.

The Maroon gliders tallied on two line plunges and a pass in the second, third and fourth periods of play with Atkins, Maroon end, and backs, King and Rathiff, doing the registering.

Captain Billy Skiles took the opening kick-off and drove the ball to his own 25-yard strip before a Van Lear man tagged him. Bowe, Skiles and Rathiff carried the ball to the Van Lear line, where the punters of various and sundry sorts stopped the Maroon machine. The Bank Mules took over and on their third play of the afternoon Jess Rathiff snared a Van Lear pass deep in the visitors' territory as the quarter came to an end. Two plays later, Rathiff carried the ball over from the three for the first rally of the ball game. Bowe converted for the Pioneers and the Maroons went into the lead, 7-0.

Coach Honeycutt's eleven, paced by Captain Grove, Clifton and Sparks, hustled back at the host team with a running and passing offensive and Wheelwright led at the half mark, 7-0.

The Maroon eleven registered their second touchdown of the afternoon late in the third period on a 25-yard pass from Skiles to Elmer.

A blocked Bank Mule deep in their own territory, late in the fourth period, was set up for the Maroon and White third and last touchdown of the day. Skiles shot another pass, labeled touchdown, to George Hughes and Hughes jogged the cowhide to the Van Lear six-yard line and Ormand King hit the left side of his own line for the score. Jess Rathiff converted and the Maroons went ahead, 20-0.

(Black Mark) Allen and Elizabeth Gibson Allen, and the grandson of McLean and Mulesburg county cattle raisers, who resided at Northern, Ky., and Dan B. Gibson and Jane Stumbo Gibson of Minnie, Ky. He married Pauline Hall, of McDowell, a daughter of Mjford Hall, Sr.

Ralph has never held public office and now asks you for this opportunity to serve as your County Court Clerk for the next four years. At the end of his term he promises to step aside and give some other deserving Floyd county boy or girl a chance. His opponent has held the office of County Clerk THREE terms and now asks you for the FOURTH.

'CATS, VICTORS OVER BELFRY

THIRD WIN ESSAY FOR P'BURG 11, SUCCESSFUL

Prestonsburg's Blackcats started rolling Saturday afternoon here against Belfry high and when they stopped they had their first victory of the current football semester by a 28-0 score.

Belfry was a hapless eleven Saturday afternoon, never advancing the ball inside the 'Cat 20-yard line and powerless to stop either the aerial thrusts or the ground attacks of Prestonsburg. Every man on the Prestonsburg squad was used during the game.

The scoring started in the first quarter, with Butler passing to Combs on the Belfry 25. Combs scoring from that point, standing up. In the same period Butler dashed 15 yards for the second Prestonsburg marker.

In the second quarter Heinze took Butler's pass and ran 10 yards for the third touchdown. The third period was scoreless, but in the fourth quarter Return of Combs to the 'Cat backfield added to the general strength of the team.

Commodore Goble, regular center, sustained a fractured collar bone in practice Tuesday and will not be available for the game here Saturday afternoon with the Louisiana Bulldogs.

MEN 17 TO 50 ARE WANTED FOR U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

According to an announcement made in Washington by order of Secretary of the Navy Knox, "All men now existing in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Enlistment in the Naval Reserve is for four years but, if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over and will not be required to complete his four year term in active service.

Four classes of service in the United States Naval Reserve need men urgently today. They are Class V-3, which includes radio and communications; V-5, aviation; V-6, for trade specialists or men desiring trade or vocational training; V-7, fleet officers. A more detailed outline of each class follows below.

Men with specialized training in radio, searchlight and semaphore signaling or Morse telegraphy may be enrolled in Class V-3, the communications class of the Naval Reserve. These men will be enlisted as petty officers with ratings according to their degree of proficiency. Pay for men enrolling in this group ranges from $60 a month for a petty officer third class to $99 a month for a chief petty officer. An additional allowance of $15 per day is made for men with dependents who have the rating of petty officer second class or higher.

A man with at least two years of college education who desires to enter naval aviation will be enlisted as seaman second class in Class V-5 of the Naval Reserve. After a month's preliminary training the V-5 recruit will become a naval aviation cadet and will be sent for advanced training to one of the three principal naval flight training centers: Pensacola, Fla.; Jacksonville, Fla.; or Corpus Christi, Texas. On completion of this advanced course which requires approximately seven months, the V-5 cadet will be designated as a naval aviator and will be commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

During the first month of training, the V-5 recruits are paid $36. On completion of the first month's training the V-5 recruit is designated as a naval aviator cadet and will be paid $75 a month, plus $1 per day living expense. Upon commission as an ensign his pay will be increased to approximately $245 a month and in addition he will receive regular pay bonuses of $500 for each year he serves in active duty after the training period.

Class V-6 in the U. S. Naval Reserve offers opportunities for men with specialized training to continue their trades and at the same time serve their country. This group includes specialists of any kind such as electricians, carpenters, machinists, stenographers, accountants, plumbers, cooks, bakers, and many other trades and vocations. These men upon enlistment will be given ratings in accordance with the amount of previous specialized training they have had.

Men with no previous specialized training in Class V-6 as apprentice seamen with pay of $21 a month. Directly following enlistment, the new recruits will be given training at the four Naval Training Stations for a short period. At the training station the apprentice seaman will be given an aptitude test and if he passes this test successfully he will be sent to a Navy Trade School. Approximately 5,000 men are admitted to navy trade schools each month. This schooling, valued at hundreds of dollars, is free and the seaman receives regular navy pay while receiving instructions.

Those applicants who do not pass their tests for admission to a navy trade school will be sent to duty aboard ship where an opportunity will be given them to learn in a trade. Four months after enlistment, non-specialized applicants in Class V-6 will be advanced automatically to seaman second class with a pay increase to $38 a month.

Men with previous specialized training of any kind will be enlisted in the Naval Reserve Class V-6 with petty officer ratings and will be sent immediately to the ship or shore station where they are needed. College graduates who desire engineering or deck duty as officers in the U. S. Naval Reserve will be enlisted as Midshipmen, Class V-7. Upon completion of a four-month training course these men will be commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve. During the training period, Midshipmen are paid $53 a month. As ensigns with commissions the pay will be approximately $10 a month with an additional allowance of $50 a month if they are married.

All applicants for the U. S. Naval Reserve must be native-born citizens of the United States with the exception of candidates for Class V-5 who must have been United States citizens for a period of at least 10 years. Detailed information with regard to enlistment in any class of the U. S. Naval Reserve may be secured by writing to or calling at your nearest regional Navy Recruiting Station.

1941's 'GREATEST TRAGEDY' You don't have to wait for historians to record the fact that the greatest tragedy of the year 1941 as far as this war is concerned is the way the British have twiddled their thumbs; watched the Russians, and done almost nothing except cheer.

Over three months have passed since Hitler sent his mechanized masses hurtling across the Russian border, and in that time the British sent only a trickle of help. Yet the British knew that Hitler's tactic always has been to pick his victims one by one.

Yet realizing this, the British have done virtually the same thing Poland did when Czechoslovakia was invaded, what Yugoslavia and Bulgaria was invaded, and what Turkey did when Jugoslavia was invaded. They have merely sat on the sidelines, sent 200 airplanes, plus a mission to Moscow, sent a good long rest—and cheered.

Second Front? Meanwhile, the general staff advisers of both the British and American armies have blundered so that the Russians were sure to be defeated unless a second front was created against Hitler.

This second front which Hitler meant, of course, a British expeditionary force landing in France, Holland, or Spain. This question has been discussed carefully behind the scenes, but the British have meant two things: one that the most of their having been demoralized at Dunkirk; the second has been an American Expeditionary force to help them.

The British did not really push this idea of an A.E.F. for they knew intuitively it was a disaster for Roosevelt. But nevertheless they did want company in attempting to land troops on the continent. They had plenty of troops in England—in fact so many that there has been restlessness and had morale because of inactivity.

It is true that these troops are not completely equipped and are badly lacking in tanks and armor. It is considerable belief that they were equipped sufficiently to make a landing in Spain from the British Isles. In France the local people would have risen up to welcome them.

However, all summer long the British have maintained an "after you, Alphonse" attitude. Meanwhile the situation in Russia has become darker and darker—as every military expert knew was inevitable. All of which brings us to the real question of exactly who is the dominating factor in the now virtual Anglo-American alliance.

It is the British who have thrown a very large pile of chips into the gamble on a British victory, yet no one seems to know whether the British are taking advantage from us or whether we are taking orders from the British. President Roosevelt and Harry Hopkins may know, but if so they have not informed those closest to them.

HITLER'S OIL PROBLEM Most of the reports from Russia look black, and to U. S. army officers they have been taking away for some time. However, one encouraging factor stands out. This is the question of oil.

Without oil no army or navy can move. And despite the tremendous losses taken by Hitler in his taking of oil fields, two years after starting the war, almost the same oil shortage as before.

Rumania, seized chiefly for her oil fields, has a capacity of 8,000,000 tons annually. However, the Russians bombed the Rumanian oil fields so badly that production is now down to about 4,000,000 tons or less.

Germany itself has a synthetic gasoline production of about 3,000,000 tons, making a total annual production today of about 7,000,000 tons. On the other hand, Germany is using oil and gas to operate its army at the rate of about 25,000,000 tons a year, most of which has come from reserves. It is estimated that Germany still has reserves of about 10 or perhaps 15 million tons.

All of which means that the real pinch will come next spring. In other words, Hitler has enough oil and gas to last through the winter, but by the end of the winter he absolutely must take the Russian oil fields of the Caucasus. In fact, he is sure to stage a terrific drive in his next seven or eight months. He has made his mind up to take Kiev and Odessa all because those two cities are the path of the Nazi march to the Caucasus.

Russian Chances. During the coming winter, however, the Russians should be able to hold out. The Caucasian mountains are high and rugged. The Russians have a huge force in this area. The British also have rushed troops from Iran to the border of the Caucasus.

However, if Hitler's gasoline situation is even more desperate than indicated above—which may be quite possible—then it is almost sure to put the pinners on Turkey harder than ever before in order to drive on the Caucasus.

Wondering about the 1942 cars? Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

IT was no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said — these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car — certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve full annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry and cherish the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

HEALTH NEWS TUBERCULOSIS IS CURABLE No two cases of tuberculosis are exactly alike. Treatment must always be fitted to the special needs of the patient. The early case has a far better chance to recover quickly than the one which has gone unchecked for months or years. The first requisite is a good doctor, one who is well informed about tuberculosis and the newer methods of caring for the disease. But even the best of doctors cannot bring about a cure without the full co-operation of the patient. It is essential that the patient, his family, and all who have been in contact with him, should understand the insidious nature of the disease so that the doctor's instructions will be followed intelligently. There is no specific drug or agent to cure tuberculosis. Some day there may be, for through many years research workers have been seeking one. Keep modern surgery, good food and fresh air as of great importance in the cure. The sanatorium is the best place in which to get

ONE LINE OF DEFENSE THAT Must REMAIN IMPREGNABLE

Of vital importance to the South's security is the dependability of its far-reaching telephone lines.

On their constantly maintained efficiency depends continuity and flexibility of communication between military, industrial, and civilian forces necessary to the nation's defense.

In this crisis, Southern Bell is faced with the three-fold task of giving "all-out" service to defense, industry, and the public—a task requiring every ounce of its resources.

In most cities and towns in the nine southern states we serve, the demand upon our services is without precedent. In many of these places, mass troop and civilian concentrations, in addition to increased industrial demands, have made the continuation of normal telephone service difficult.

In these critical times, telephone workers ask your cooperation and appreciative understanding of the problems which confront them, knowing that you, too, are "all-out" for defense—that it is our common problem to keep telephone lines of defense impregnable.
