SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

"MADE IN JAPAN"
One thing made in Japan we can't get rid of as easily as we might. Bub's Japan-made piggy-bank. That's the war.

Remember Pearl Harbor!
THE PRICE THEY SHOULD PAY
For every dead American, at least three Japs should die. Who would give one fine American boy for three of the Yellow-bellies?

NO BLACKOUT HERE
Those downtown Christmas lights have evoked many well-merited complimentary remarks for Prestonsburg. Don't you think we should be at least a little thankful we can have these or any lights, of long winter nights, when enemy bombers are on the prowl?

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE
You say it couldn't happen here? Well, many of us thought it couldn't happen over San Francisco, but it did.

THE BUCK PASSES
My Dad's farm on Salt Lick was visited Monday by a deer—possibly the first such animal to be seen in that section in more than half a century. After attracting considerable attention, the buck, with a loss of his antlers, disappeared into the timber. I hope that deer dies old age—but one will get you two that some alleged Floyd county sportsman has had venison on his table already this week.

SE-FLYD COUNTY'S BIGGEST OPEN SECRET
That slot machines are being operated throughout the county. It may be none of our business. But it's against the law, you know.

HE ALSO GAVE
Gordon Francis never did a finer thing in his life and few of us ever did a thing as fine as that purchase he made this week of $2,000 in Defense Savings Bonds. Money in the right hands is a blessing.

COINCIDENCE
It's a blessing that some folks can't see. A little funny coincidence noted this week that his water, gas and telephone bills ended with 87 cents.

OOPS!
Then there was the case of the beer salesman who returned home at 4 a. m., a sadder Budweiser man.

OUR DANDY UP
Floyd countians shared with the entire nation burning indignation for Sunday's unprovoked and unforgivable bombing of Pearl Harbor and other U. S. possessions. Two youths from Drift were here early Monday—some had quit a job in the mines—to enlist in the Navy. Learning that a Navy recruiting office was not here, they left, thinking their way to Ashland.

GAS WORKER DIES OF BURNS
WALKS TWO MILES AFTER FLAMES SEAR BODY

Age Davis, 50 years old, toolmaker in the local gas field and a father of three, was killed and died at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, Sunday morning of burns sustained at a gas well on Sycamore fork of John's Creek, Pike county, a few hours earlier.

Club Holds Annual Christmas Party On December 4

Mrs. Chalmers Praxler was hostess to the Prestonsburg Women's Club on Thursday, Dec. 4, for the club's annual Christmas party. Co-hostesses were Mrs. W. W. Burchett, E. B. Harlow, Mrs. W. W. Burchett, Mrs. J. B. Clarke and Mrs. W. Claude Caull. Large baskets were filled with the gifts brought by members to be given to the Red Cross for distribution at Christmas time. The home was beautifully decorated for the season with candles, lights, and miniature figurines in Yuletide settings. A group of carolers favored the guests with several appropriate songs during the evening and various games were played with prizes awarded to the winners. The refreshments served carried out the Christmas motif, each plate bearing a small lighted candle in a novel holder.

JEFFRIES TO HEAD FLOYD CAMPAIGN TO START SOON

Floyd Red Cross chapter was notified by telegram Thursday that the country's quota for the new drive has been set at $5,000. The Rev. Campbell Jeffries, pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, has accepted chairmanship of the drive, and will within the next few days, organize workers throughout the county in an effort to reach the goal as quickly as possible.

With America at war, Floyd county is the only one in the state with the prospect of raising additional funds for the American Red Cross in a sum larger than any yet to be contributed. The new drive, which was announced by Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary of Floyd Chapter of the Red Cross.

Although the new quota for this county has not been definitely learned, an indication of its size is seen in that set for the city of Louisville—$250,000. The national campaign seeks to collect $50,000,000 for use during the national emergency. The initial Red Cross drive which began on Armistice Day is drawing to a successful conclusion in Floyd county, reports received in the local office.

Comments on the success of the drive, Chairman H. Praxler, Floyd county chairman, this week said: "On behalf of Floyd county, I wish to thank the people of Floyd county for their generous response to this call for contributions for such a worthy cause. They have fully justified our faith in our home folks."

Funds raised in the coming drive, it is pointed out, will be used to financing the Red Cross work in the U. S. Army and Navy, in the defense training of civilians, and for the relief of men, women and children who are suffering because of the suffer distress because of enemy attack.

Guests were invited into the dining room where a beautifully appointed table cake and punch were served.

18 TO 44 AGE LIMIT SEEN

20,000,000 INCREASE MAY BE GAINED IN MANPOWER

The War Department was understood Tuesday night to be ready to ask Congress for expansion of selective service age limits from 21-28 years to 18-44 years, a move which would increase by almost 20,000,000 the reservoir of manpower available for the armed forces.

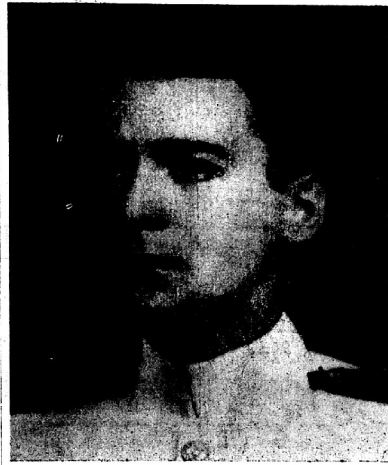

Under present age limits, the selective army is drawn from a pool of 6,000,000 men. Broadening of age limits to 18 and 44 would raise that number to 28,000,000.

Congress, meanwhile, began action on legislation to permit retention of all soldier and sailors in service for the duration of the war, and to eliminate restrictions on use of selectees and national guardsmen outside the Western Hemisphere.

These were the developments that came last night—twenty-four hours after Congress formally acknowledged a state of war with Japan.

MIDSHIPMAN E. V. HALL

Edgill V. Hall, of Weeksbury, is duty as a junior officer on the new battleship, U. S. S. Washington. THE WAR AT A GLANCE

3 Attorneys Here Named To Assist Service Men

J. B. Clarke, J. W. Howard and W. P. Mayo, Prestonsburg attorneys, have consented to serve on a National Defense Committee and act as legal assistants to registrants and members of the armed forces from Floyd county in their particular problems which may be handled by an attorney.

From time to time registrants have problems when about to be called to the army such as installment payments on cars, taxes, parents' need of money, etc. These attorneys will be glad to advise them. Parents and relatives may be contacted about boys who have deserted and is A. W. O. L. They should get in touch with one of the above-named men who will give sound and sympathetic advice. Soldiers home from the army may see these men about their problems.

In line with this help to registrants and to members of the armed forces, the public is invited to listen in on the following radio programs bearing on such problems: WAVE, Dec. 12, Saturday, 5 p. m.; WHAS, Dec. 13, Saturday, 6 p. m.; WGRG, Dec. 17, Wednesday, 8:45 p. m.; WINN, Dec. 18, Thursday, 9 p. m.; WAVE, Dec. 20, Saturday, 5 p. m. Time is Eastern Standard.

DRAFT BOARDS AWAIT ORDERS

RESERVES' RECALL EXPECTED; SAVING OF PAPER ASKED

Although momentarily expecting orders that will supply work in plenty for both Draft boards and Reserve boards, selective Service headquarters here were merely waiting until Thursday noon, not knowing how soon larger demands on the manpower of Floyd county will be made.

All soldiers discharged after having reached the age of 28 but placed in the Reserve, it was stated, soon after Japan attacked the United States, will be returned to active duty. But draft headquarters here have no orders detailing the method of handling those who reported for service.

In Prestonsburg Boy Scout Commissioner Carey Burchett called upon all business firms and housekeepers to preserve waste paper until Friday of each week so that Boy Scouts will have paper waste against the imminent national paper shortage. The Boy Scouts will gather waste paper, each Friday, Mr. Burchett announced.

Prestonsburg merchants already are having difficulty in procuring paper bags and have asked customers to save them in which their purchases are placed.

Utilities not financially able to employ guards for their plants have been told that the government will provide such protection against possible sabotage.

Over the country a round-up of enemy aliens was being made this week. At the postoffice here it was said that no Japanese was known to reside in Floyd county. There are, however, it was stated, a number of Italians and Germans.

AT WARCO THIS WEEK

Mrs. H. L. Gobie is spending this week at War with her daughter, Mrs. John R. Baldrige, who is ill.

To the People of Prestonsburg:

I am indebted to the people of Prestonsburg on many counts, but at this time I would express in particular my deep appreciation of the spirit of friendship which prompts those of both ticks in the recent city election not to offer me opposition when I sought re-election as Mayor of Prestonsburg. For this friendship and this mark of respect I shall return friendship and the full measure of my effort to make the people of the community a Mayor ready and willing at all times to serve you all to the best of my ability.

Sincerely,
E. P. ARNOLD (Please turn to Page 8)

MANTON MINE BLAST FATAL TO SYMON

TRAGEDY BELIEVED TO HAVE SAVED WORKERS' LIVES

Body of George Symon, 58-year-old mine superintendent for the Stephens Eckhorn Coal Company at Manton near Martin, was recovered Monday night at 9:30 o'clock, approximately 12 hours after mine officials and workers began to vain a search which they hoped would end in his rescue.

An explosion of gas, approximately 6,000 feet back in the mine, is believed to have resulted in the mine veteran's death. His body was found 60 feet from the motor which conveyed him inside the mine.

Through the day, while his widow, Mrs. Bessie Symon, waited in the little mine office, a few yards from the mine opening, for what she steadfastly believed would be his safe return, rescue squads battled vainly against deadly gas fumes in which the explosion occurred.

His sacrifice probably prevented 6,000 feet back in the mine, is believed to have resulted in the mine veteran's death. His body was found 60 feet from the motor which conveyed him inside the mine.

Mr. Symon, a native of Scotland, whose experience in the rescue of others trapped underground led not only Mrs. Symon and Mine Manager A. H. Mandt, Prestonsburg, to believe that he would soon emerge alive if the explosion had not injured him beyond recovery, entered the opening around 4 a. m. Monday to ascertain if the mine was safe for the entry of approximately 150 men for the day's work. When a labor "trip" scheduled to go inside at 7:30 a. m. was blocked at the outside by Symon, officials decided that someone back under the hill, he had met with disaster.

Mr. Mandt himself led the first squad of rescue workers which entered the mine at around 9 a. m., and did not return until until 7:30 p. m. William Parks, of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, a rescue squad from Wheelwright, another from the Hazard coal field, and individuals from the Central Eckhorn Coal Company, the mines at Wayland.

Not Wheat but Milk and Eggs

In 1918 wheat headed the list of farm products needed for national defense purposes. In today's emergency, however, the emphasis is on foods such as milk and eggs. There is plenty of wheat on hand—in fact, nearly a two year's supply is stored in the nation's Ever-Normal Granary. The U. S. Department of Agriculture urges that farmers, in planning for next year, hold down production of surplus crops such as wheat and at the same time expand production of defense food products.

864 Retired Workers Or Beneficiaries Paid $12,424

As of Sept. 30, 1941, monthly payments to 864 individuals totaling $12,424 were being paid to retired workers and survivors of deceased wage earners throughout the 13 counties included in the Ashland, Ky., field area. This information was released by Elbert M. Bohon, manager of the Ashland office of the Social Security Board, Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors' Insurance.

"The following figures show the number of individuals in each group receiving monthly checks, based on awards made in our service area," Mr. Bohon added.

"Claims are received at an average of 45 per month, the result being that these figures are steadily increasing," Mr. Bohon added. "At the end of 1940, the number of individuals receiving monthly payments was 493, totaling $7,692."

The office of the Social Security Board's bureau of old-age and survivors insurance is located in the Second National Bank, Ashland, Ky., and serves Floyd, Lewis, Greenup, Rowan, Carter, Boyd, Morgan, Elliott, Lawrence, Magoffin, Johnson, Martin, and Pike counties.

BETSY LAYNE

By JAMES BLEVINS Mrs. Clifford Akers, Mrs. Lon Roberts and Mrs. C. F. Hays, of Betsy Layne, and Mrs. E. K. Robette, of Harold, were Christmas shopping in Huntington, Friday.

SCHOOL NEWS The Betsy Layne Bobcats won their eighth victory Friday night at McDowell, where they defeated McDowell, 44 to 27. Stratton was high point man with 18 points. Betsy Layne's team hopes to go to the state tournament this year. The next game was Friday night with Maytown here.

The president of the Betsy Layne high school Alumni Association has announced a meeting to be held in the high school auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 20, at 8:45 p. m., and suggests that all members attend. This meeting will be over in time to attend the Betsy Layne Christmas party. A "get-together" party was given the Home Economics class Monday night at 6:30 by the Future Farmers club. Refreshments were served after a series of games.

The following is the amount each class and teachers of the Betsy Layne high school contributed to the George Rogers Clark memorial fund: seniors, $195; juniors, $100; sophomores, $200; freshmen, $50; grade 8, $2; grade 7, $7; grade 6, $1; grade 5, $5; grade 4, $3; grade 3, $7; grade 2, $1; grade 1, $6; Miss Burke, $5; Miss Hays, $5; Miss Hale, $5; Mr. Howard, $1.

Better Mail Early This Christmas, Public Advised

The Railway Mail Service and postmasters are urging earlier mailing for this Christmas because of unusual conditions prevailing this year.

There is ample reason to believe that the holiday mail this year will be heavier than ever before. In addition to heavier mail, there will be troop movements, soldiers that will require use of the cars usually available for carrying the mail. Heavier express traffic and defense activities will also need more care.

Confronted with the problem of handling more mail than ever before with possibly less equipment, postal authorities seek the co-operation of the public to aid in the difficult task. Early mailing will spread the flow of mail over a longer period of time, thereby reducing the extreme peak days during the week before Christmas when tax mail facilities to the limit.

With the friendly co-operation of the public by mailing early, gift mail and messages will be delivered before Christmas. Earlier mailings are urgently requested. Parcels are also urged to mail their articles before noon wherever possible so as to avoid the evening rush. Try a TIMES WANT AD—and you'll get results.

MAYTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ferguson visited Mrs. Ferguson's parents in Wheelersburg, Ohio, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cooley motored to Louisville Sunday, taking Mr. Cooley's aunt, Mrs. Van Shu-mate, of Wheelwright, back to the Norton Infirmary for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Reed were shopping in Huntington recently.

The annual Christmas program held in the Methodist Church is scheduled for the 4th Sunday at 7 p. m. Mrs. V. A. Hayes is chairman with Mrs. Mary Hayes, Miss Ests Salisbury and Mrs. E. R. May assisting. Miss Moseleete Ferrell is junior chairman, with the following assistants: Miss Nancy and Rachel May, Marjorie Ferguson, Marie Halbert, Beryl Stewart and Janice Patton. Lighting and costumes will be made by those of any previous year, and everyone is cordially invited to attend. A. will also help the Future Farmers' Association, under the direction of its leader, Ogden Stewart, to prepare an outdoor Christmas tree stop the scene hall this year.

MAYTOWN INDEPENDENTS WIN

Mark Reed's quintette downed the Drift Independents, sponsored by his brother, Ward Reed, in an excellent game Saturday evening, winning 10 to 2. While most visitors seemed to favor the out-of-town squad, local fans did not hesitate to boost the Maytown boys, most of whom have been former stars here.

WAYLAND HOT-SHOTS

By R. H. (Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.) As a practical matter, the union wants to keep Mr. Roosevelt from running the unions, and Big Business wants to keep Mr. Roosevelt from running big business. That being the case, the union and big business should get together and settle their own differences in a sensible fashion. If they fight, they are both losers. Hitler used Big Business to liquidate the German unions. Then he used the German unions in liquidating Big Business; and when the shooting and shouting were over, everything was liquidated—except Hitler.

How the standard of values changed since America with 800 slaves was considered quite a boy. Now he'd be in jail. Once a man whose house was held together by nails was the envy of the community. Worse luck, the time may be near when he will be again. What's the defense housing co-ordinator going to do to the value we set on things? That's the question.

Unusual but true: Jack Lyons, George S. Fuller, Ted Resor, have one into the Beauty Parlor business. They have rented a beauty shop from the Elk Horn Coal Corporation next door to the hotel where they all stay. Jack is the beautician; Fuller, the manicurist; Ted seems to have his office to one side and is hair drier, or maybe the collector. It's all right, Ted. If Hot-Shots sends his wife down there, he'll be with her and stay until all bills are paid.

Well, Shikepoke, you are improving in your writing. Get Andy and Burton K. out of your mind one week and turn the heat on Hitler and Bill Green, and apologize to John L.

TRUCKS BUILD ROADS

They pay their way

KENTUCKY'S trucking industry paid more to the State (1940-41 fiscal year) than the State Highway Department expended for new road construction—$6,276,048, as compared to $6,077,187.38. About 8% of Kentucky's freight is transported by truck, but the trucking industry pays almost 13% of the State's total tax income (1940-41 fiscal year)—$6,276,048, as compared with $49,294,095.

Trucks paid more than one-third of the entire expense of the Kentucky Highway Department in 1940-41—$6,276,048, as compared to $18,151,587.

(These figures furnished by Kentucky Department of Revenue and Kentucky Highway Department, Frankfort.)

Table with columns: TRUCKS PAY, KENTUCKY COLLECTED IN 1940-41. Rows include Licenses, Permits, Weight tax, Drivers' licenses, State Gas Tax, Total, Total tax revenue, Dept. expended, New road construction, State aid, etc.

The Truck tax figures do not include the Federal gasoline tax of 1 1/2c per gallon—totaling for Kentucky trucks $1,405,363. This returns to the State for road-building purposes. Nor do the foregoing figures include sales taxes on new trucks, registration fees, nor real estate, tangible personal property, franchise, income tax, and other contributions by the trucking industry and its personnel to the State Government.

THE BIG ROAD
A BROTHER I had inadvertently mentioned the "big road" and had to take a few minutes to explain to my students under 21 what that phrase used to mean to us who lived in the country. At least I went through the motion of explaining and succeeded satisfactorily so far as I was concerned, but I am still doubting whether more than one or two of the students caught on. You see, we oldsters and our young friends rarely speak the same language. The big road was the main road in a community, even though it might look pretty small to drivers of cars today. The roads that led from it to the farmhouses were "little roads." I suppose, but no such term was used. The King's Highway sounds no larger in Great Britain than did "big road" to us.

Action in Lieu of Argument

ENOUGH has been said, editorially and otherwise, about the part America should play in a world at war. The so-called interventionists and isolationists have had their hour. And now it is the past.

For now the United States is in a war that was forced upon the nation by a treacherous, murderous foe. And so, instead of mass verbiage on the subject of getting in or staying out of war, national thought and effort turns to the matter of bringing this war to a victorious end.

We Americans enter the fray, free men and women. It is our job to end this war, still free.

This end can be achieved by all; it cannot be achieved by a part of us. Such unity of purpose as has crowned the national effort of the last few days is the true victory effort.

Republicans and Democrats in accord; isolationists and interventionists agreeing that fight we must; labor pledging labor in the pledge of loyalty to country and flag—this is started the march to war in defense of a land of freedom born, more than a century and a half ago, in the travail of "blood, sweat and tears."

Sure and it will be no easy way, the months ahead. The boys in the air, on the land and the sea will brave enemy bomb and bullet and shell. And there will be sorrow through the land. Back home, business will not be as usual. Many of those modern conveniences and luxuries to which even the humblest has become accustomed will be missing. The tax burden will grow heavier and heavier. We shall taste defeat as well as victory. Sacrifices we all shall make.

But why—pray, why should we not? This national effort, which, in some way or another, will include every soul of us except the craven, the slacker, the profiteer and the traitor—is the greatest privilege within the reach of any American. And, so doing, we in retaining our freedom will retain the spirit of our free ancestors who fought and won liberty for us in the face of odds far greater than those against us today.

TIME FOR CONSERVATION

EXCEPT for a time during the first World War, Americans have never been impressed with the need for conservation of easily replaced things. What matter if we let scrap iron rust into dust, burned our paper, threw away our discarded pots and pans? There were always more where those things came from.

The nation is awakening now to the realization that we can no longer be profligate in our waste—and be safe at the same time. The output of our steel mills, the millions of tons of scrap metal in many landfills by the shortage of scrap metal, a serious paper shortage looms because we have grown accustomed to burning 70 per cent of our wastepaper—precious stuff to the process of paper reclamation.

Conservation has become to be an important—indeed, an essential—phase of national defense. And this is one "front" upon which every citizen can fight.

All wastepaper, metal articles, rubber, cardboard boxes and other things ordinarily thought of as "trash" now have their usefulness to the national defense effort. Don't burn your wastepaper. Collect it and sell it at regular intervals through the wastepaper collection services. The price you get for it may not be much more than worth your while, but you will have helped your country in an important particular.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

DOES THE SLIGHT SAVING EXCUSE A BOORISH GESTURE?

FORCING the withdrawal by Congressmen May of his request, made on behalf of the State Department, that the son of Thailand's Premier be permitted to enter West Point, a few members of Congress made one boorish objection serve for two unmerited rebuffs.

Congressman May had asked unanimous approval of his request, which the State Department described as a "good neighbor gesture." Refusal of the few dissenters was based upon the ridiculous plea that "they were not fully satisfied the resolution would not cost the United States money."

No doubt the gentlemen so deeply concerned over the taxpayers' interest in a matter which at the most could not involve more than a few hundred dollars, felt that their zeal will more than compensate the voters back home for a grade and impudently slap at the State Department, and at the ranking official of a strategically important nation.—The Courier-Journal.

In other words, in common with you and a lot of my friends, I have been dumfounded all of our husbands. I have been dumfounded all my life that because I succeeded in changing her name, I did not also succeed in changing her nature.

When I married her, I had selected her from among all the women I knew. I worked hard to sell her the idea of marrying me. I realize now that during that courtship, I saw that she had brains and admired them. That may have had its influence in making me propose.

Just why I should think that because she married me, she should abandon all her own ideas and take up mine; think just what I think; enjoy the same things I enjoy, and want to live just exactly the way I want to live, is a mystery. It will remain an unsolved mystery, but those are exactly the things I expected of her.

She never went fishing with me before we were married. Just what chemical, mental or physical change I expected to take place in her after the person said a few words over us, I don't know. But ever since that momentous occasion, I have been flabbergasted every time I have realized that I did not marry a rubber stamp.

We men all think that because a woman is our wife, she should have the same tastes, the same ambitions, the same desires, the same inclinations that we have. We think they should want to go to the same places, do the same things and like the same people like we.

It is a form of masculine egotism. We men are always so sure of ourselves, so positive that we are right about everything. We feel that when a woman has the benefit of daily contact with us, she should see the error of her ways and adopt ours.

The truth is that we are much the same way about every one else. We feel that people associated with us in business should have intelligence to do as we do. We feel that the men in Kiwanis who do not agree with us can't be very smart. I may be judging you by myself.

As I sat there working over my fishing tackle, I realized that if there ever was a prize dumb chuck, I am it. A man never learns anything, when he is talking. It is only when he is listening to some one learn anything from any one who agrees with us all the time.

This being true, wouldn't it be smarter of us to seek the society of people who disagree with us, as well as those who agree with us? For those who are in an argument, let the truth, and only stubbornness and pride, keep us from seeing it from either side.

To my thinking, the great success of Kiwanis lies in the fact that it is a cross-section of the humanity in each town in which it functions. In each club are men of all political parties, men of many different kinds of religion, men of different ages, young men and old men, radical men and men of conservative thought. Out of this variety of ideas comes something which approximates the truth.

But the truth comes only to the tolerant men of the club. The man who is so "set" in his thinking that he can never see at the other side of the street is unfortunate because he will never advance in his thinking.

The wise men who founded Kiwanis had a wonderful idea which has survived, because it was founded on right principles. But from time to time Kiwanis has had to change its plans and its procedures as conditions change. There were men who believed that that change would ruin the organizations. Kiwanis has gone on with change in ideas, but no change in ideals.

The only way to judge the future is by the past. Thus we may look forward to the future of Kiwanis with the certainty that there will be no change. Each new situation in our civilization with changes in Kiwanis, even though there be headaches, and at each change.

Only through diversified thinking can the true path be figured out. If every one thought exactly as we think, it would be a mighty monotonous world.

But I still don't understand why my wife doesn't like to go fishing. It just doesn't make sense.

IF THAT TAX-DEDUCTION FROM PAY ENVOYED AN IDEA GOES FURTHER: Boss—You say you might take a job with us? Applicant—I think so. What is the pay? Boss—It's fifty minus. Applicant—Minus what? Boss—Minus what the government doesn't take out of your envelope. Applicant—I'd have to get more money than that. Boss—More money than what? Applicant—More than that wouldn't be left out of what I don't get? Boss—Let's be practical. How much money do you want? Applicant—Well, on my last job I got $55. Boss—If what? Applicant—If the government didn't get their first. And I know right now where I can go to work on a salary of sixty provided. Applicant—Sixty, provided not too much is extracted. Boss—Come, come, exactly how much do you want to go to work for? Applicant—I'll take fifty-eight E.U. Boss—What's E.U. stand for? Applicant—Envelope untouched! Boss—I can't do that. The best I can do is to put you on at a salary of seventy. Applicant—S.F.A.W.K.? Boss—Yeah. That stands for So-Far-As-We-Can. Applicant—That means my salary is S.T.W.W.W. or Subject To Washington's whims? I can't run my house according to whims. I've got to know how much I am going to get each month. Boss—You can solve that by buying groceries and paying rent on the Federal I.T.E.A.L. or If-You-Have-Anything-Left plan.

Applicant—No, you see, what I want is to know how I stand at the end of each week. Boss—I have the same dream, mister. There's nothing in it. Applicant—But isn't a man entitled to know from week to week how he stands financially? Applicant—Don't like a reclamation list? Listen, this is my last proposition. I'll give you fifty-seven dollars plus a reclamation list. Applicant—S-E-R. & M.? Boss—Subject to Roosevelt and Morgenthau.

Applicant—No, thanks. But I know a fellow who might work for you as a beginner. What do you pay a beginner? Boss—We pay ten dollars minus the cost of a suit. At the end of a year, if he makes good we advance him to fifteen dollars minus. Applicant—That leaves him owing both you and the government money. Boss—Yes. Applicant—Can you see there's no room for me? Boss—Nonsense. One of our best men here started with us on one dollar a week and worked it up to a mere pittance. Applicant—That's an exceptional case. Boss—Not at all. Look at me. When I began here I worked for nothing. Now my salary has gone up to a hundred dollars a month. I get goes to the government. Applicant—In other words, you start for nothing and end up with a big salary. Boss—Yes, but if I work hard I can double it. (Curtain with a thud.)

THE ART OF TEACHING
By R. D. JUDD, Ph.D.
Marshall State Teachers' College

AMONG some educators there is confusion between the art of teaching and "the science of teaching." The artistic teacher is like the artistic musician, poet, or painter. He is, somehow, able to give tone, color and perspective like the master hand is able to give perspective and interpretation to his work. Whenever one indicates that this is the A. B. A. M., and Ph.D. degree after his name, it is said that this is the "science of teaching," but it does not necessarily follow that he has the "art of teaching."

"The science of teaching" may be learned from books, and lectures as indicated by one's semester-hours, but "the art of teaching" can not be imparted. It comes from the intrinsic teaching qualities of one's own self. The artistic teacher may dwell in the one-room log schoolhouse or he may be found within the ivied walls of a college or a university. One of the greatest teachers the writer ever had was without educational portfolio. She did not have the A. B. degree and, as far as I know, she did not possess a high school diploma, but she taught "as one with authority." The writer on a trip recently through Eastern Kentucky saw a dirty, ragged little fellow in the canvass of a mental image of a dirty that it seemed he had been in a coal mine digging coal with his face. His value to the world is far greater than all the coal in the mountain near which he lived.

The sculptor sees the statue in the block of marble; the poet writes an immortal song impelled by his emotions and imagination; the musician snatches from the air a strain of music which moves the world; the painter paints the canvas of his mental image from the world below down before. And what of the artistic teacher struggling for expression and this artistic teacher in an intangible, spiritual sort of way, adds a touch here and there towards making a man or a woman.

If a teacher makes a fetish of methods, materials and rules she has only "the science of teaching"; on the other hand, if she teaches boys and girls, and makes them, at all times, the point of departure, she likely has the "art of teaching"—the "art of teaching." Happy is he, however, who has both "the art" and "the science" of teaching.

ATTEND CHURCH NOW
By THE REV. CAMPBELL JEFFRIES

IN the war machine of the United States is mobilized for active duty in military combat, and since the flag of our country has been fired upon, it behooves every true American to prepare for defense. Some will take up arms in battle, while others will stay at home and help prepare the material needed; but each citizen is anxious to have a maximum part according to his or her ability. Laying aside for the moment the philosophy of war and the Christian principles, I am calling you good people of Floyd county to return to our God. The one greatest criticism of this great group of people is indifference toward God and the church. I realize there are many athletes in Prestonsburg and this county; so, with the utmost respect to their personal belief, I am merely calling all Christian believers, who have faith in a living God, to stand in the church during this world crisis. Every church building should be crowded Sunday morning, and this is the testing time to show whose side you are on, and your stand for or against God. Christian citizens will be there unless they are sick; and after all we would not expect the atheist every family should be represented in the churches. This has no exception. In the words of our President, "RETAIN THOSE SPIRITUAL THINGS WHICH WE CANNOT GIVE UP."

Many mothers have tear-stained eyes today because a soldier boy is in danger. Let me say to these mothers, only God through Christ can help you in this hour. Don't face it alone, but be at church Sunday morning. My beloved citizens of Prestonsburg, please, throw away that bottle, forget your petty differences, disregard the economic profits of war and come into the house of God for prayer. This is no time for little men, this is the call for real Americans who really believe in Almighty God. All churches in our city and county are open for worship. Go to the church of your choice—but GO!

Citizens of Kentucky Urged to Join In Activities for National Defense

A proclamation defining steps to be taken for the tightening up of Kentucky's defense plans was issued Tuesday by Brig. Gen. John A. Pollock, Adjutant General of Kentucky, and J. J. Greenleaf, State Director of Civilian Defense, on Governor Johnson's authority.

The ten-point program calls for: Intensified militia training; Organization of local defense councils; Registration of volunteers for civilian defense assignments; Completion of county defense units; Rehabilitation, where needed, of police and fire departments; Reporting of "suspicious activities of any kind of alien elements"; A minimum of real excitement with relation to the foregoing; Preventing of paper waste; Display of flags on public buildings and private homes.

$500,000 MINE OPENS IN PIKE

COAL-CAR SUPPLY DELAYED BY PRIOR CLAIMS ON STEEL

Floyd, Ky., Dec. 6.—John E. Bowman, general manager of the Pike mine, said today the concern's new half-million-dollar mine at Esco would start operating Monday with just one coal car.

Bowman explained that opening of the mine had been delayed several weeks because steel priorities were being delivered within the next week or two days and that he believed the mine would be producing satisfactorily by mid-December.

The mine at Esco, six miles south of Pikeville, is completely mechanized and one of the most modern in Eastern Kentucky.

It is the first new operation for Pike county since 1892. Bowman said approximately 150 men would be employed and that capacity production would be more than 500,000 tons a year.

They said last year's epidemic which traveled eastward might get a foothold among war-weakened European peoples and return in more virulent form to this country.

CRAIG WOOD, not only one of the greatest of our National Open champions, but also one of the most colorful and one of the smartest, has a cheerful message for the matching army of golfers whose scores range from 75 to 120, or up.

Wood headquarters at the excellent Normandy Inn course at Miami Beach where he operates a golf clinic for the benefit of all sufferers who would esteem it much bliss to find the road from the rough and sand back to the fairways, where the carpet is green and smooth.

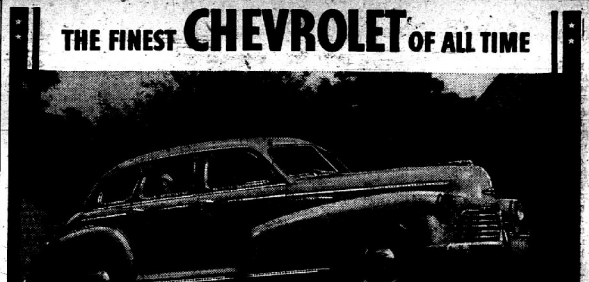

A Few Methods

Just what does Champion Wood mean by simpler or more direct methods? "In the first place," Craig said, "I can give you only a brief outline here. I expect to take the matter up in much greater detail later on. One main point is the matter of how the club's face comes through the ball. There was a day in golf when everything was pronation and the so-called open face. It was a firm believer in swinging through the ball with a square or closed face—which simply means keeping the club face square to the line of flight.

Forced to Improve

"Necessity," Craig continued, "is the mother of many things. In golf it has become the mother or father of improvement. I'll tell you about this part of it. Anywhere from fifty to a hundred of the world's finest playing pros move from Florida to California, then back across Arizona, Texas and Louisiana to Florida again. It is a desperate struggle to break even, even if you win a few. I've made as much as $2,500 on one of these winter tours, which left me a profit of maybe $200.

"Then we began to find that golf wasn't nearly good enough. You'd average par for four rounds and finish tenth or twelfth. We began to discover that you had to beat par by six or maybe eight strokes to win. Naturally, everyone began to try out certain experiments. None of us could afford to stand pat on what we had. We just had to get better or die out. These four anywhere from $1,500 to $2,000 out of my pocket.

Proper Ways To Check Food Waste

Running parallel to the "food for freedom" campaign should be one for "no waste of food," says the home economist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, in Kentucky alone, probably tons of food could be saved and utilized—simply by the exercise of care.

For instance: Have adequate food servings, but do not make them overly large so that food is left on the plate and thrown away.

Watch small items of wastage, such as half-use in some cases of oranges and lemons (squeeze out a little juice and throwing the rest away), baked potatoes, etc.

Keep meals carefully balanced so that the whole family gets exactly the right food for optimum of health. Less costly meals may make for greater individual efficiency, if they supply the vitamins and minerals and other human requirements. A meal giving just the required substances, in just the right amount—THAT is an efficient meal.

Plan meals so that left-overs can be used in successive meals. Properly-prepared hash can be an integral part of an attractive meal, instead of just a way to dispose of the extra chicken or roast turkey.

Learn ways to "dress up" inexpensive foods so they will not be shunned by the family. A little parsley or thyme may work wonders. It may be wasteful to use costly foods if inexpensive ones are just as nutritious and just as good. Throwing nothing away which can be used efficiently. The garbage pail should be the last resort.

Use of phosphate has been greatly increased among Magoffin county farmers.

Kentucky Wages Total $1,000,000 a Day

Pay rolls in Kentucky reached $1,000,000 a day during the third quarter of 1941, an increase of one-third over the same period last year, it is indicated by social security payments, the most accurate barometer in the state on how much money employees are earning. During the third quarter period, employers and employees paid a total of $3,415,998 to the state unemployment fund, the employer paying 1 per cent of his wages and the employer 2.7 per cent of wages. The combined payroll of employees thus was more than $92 million for 90 working days. For the same period last year the total was $2 million. The state's unemployment fund on deposit in Washington now totals over $38,000,000.

Safety Assured for Tiny Tourists

Tiny tourists sometimes grow restless on long motor trips and their limitless energy and curiosity require double checking to insure that every safety precaution is being taken by their parents. With the entire rear compartment of the family Chevrolet as his personal playground, this youngster assumes a favorite perch that ordinarily would be dangerous. However, a simple adjustment, easily made by Chevrolet mechanics, converted the rear door handle to a safety-action handle, which "free wheels" and does not open the door. After the lock is turned to safety position, as indicated in the inset, the lock button is depressed and the inside handle then will open the door, rendering it "child-proof." Release of the lock button enables the driver to open the door as usual.

18 to 44 Age Limit
a bill to permit the navy to retain all enlisted men for the duration. The Senate approved this measure only yesterday.

The House Military Affairs Committee—and then the Senate Military Affairs Committee—approved identical bills to remove from the selective service act restrictions against use of selectees and guardsmen outside the Western Hemisphere or United States possessions. These measures also would permit retention of all land and naval forces, including selectees, until six months after the war ends and wipe out the thirty months limitation on selective services.

Senator Edwin Johnson (D., Col.) said the bill would "open the entire world to the army for possible operations," but added he had received no War Department reports of a proposed expeditionary force. Chairman Andrew J. May (D., Ky.) of the House committee, said his group would meet to consider army requests to repeal laws forbidding government confiscation of factory, machinery or equipment when it is essential to the continued operation of the business, and for authority to buy war materials abroad and to bring them into the United States duty free.

He said he knew of no army plans to expand selective service age limits.
