"FITNESS FOR VICTORY"
Keynote of National Posture Week
 By DR. MARVIN RANSDALL
 Director, Floyd County Health Department

The health of our nation has never been a matter of more vital concern than it is today. As a people, we have long been health conscious, but it has been a question of individual health rather than the larger view of society as a whole.

Today most of us are placing great demands on our bodies, than ever before. In or out of uniform, our job is peak production, which can be met only by using our minds and bodies with a minimum of waste effort. We must devise means of using every ounce of energy where it will count, most, as well as building up a reserve supply. It isn't enough to do the job, but to do it in the most efficient way, and with the least unnecessary strain on the individual.

And one of the commonest causes of undue fatigue is faulty posture.
 Too many people think of posture in terms of simply standing up straight. True, a good standing posture is important and probably the easiest way to begin. But posture goes farther than that. It is virtually a 24-hour proposition. It means the observance of proven rules that contribute to the proper alignment of the body at all times—standing, bending, sitting and occupationally in relation to our occupational duties.

National Posture Week, May 3 to 8, in which school, colleges and physical fitness groups participate, is an excellent time to take stock of your own posture and to start a program of good posture habits in your own behalf. Like many habits, good posture, once acquired, is actually easier than bad. With the abdomen pulled in and up, back straight, and hips tucked under, the body takes on a new sense of physical well-being and vitality.

The lungs send more oxygen into the blood stream to provide extra energy. You not only look but feel better. By maintaining good posture, whether your particular job is on the assembly line, a farm or running a household, you will find the work easier to do and yourself fresher at the end of the day.

Check your posture as you go about your daily routine. When working at a desk or table, be sure that it is at the correct height. Sit so that the small of the back and hips are firmly supported by the chair, the rest of the back following the straight line, with feet on the floor.

Standing to iron and work at a table or stove will be less tiring if the back is kept in a straight rectangle and the weight of the body distributed equally on both feet.
 Of course, consideration to sanitary shores is important at all times.

In lifting a heavy object from the floor, bend the knees, keeping the upper body erect. The common practice of lifting by leaning over from the waist is the cause of many strained backs.

Another point to keep in mind is that proper posture has an important bearing on the prevention of accidents. The housekeeper as well as the industrial worker can save countless hours of absenteeism from the job, not to mention the personal discomfort involved.

For all of us like to feel fit, and now more than ever, with the shortage of cotton to start for civilian uses. "Fitness for Victory" is more than a slogan. It is a reminder of a duty you owe both to yourself and your country.

Alvin Lee was served at a meeting of homemakers' clubs in Anderson county.

SHIKE'S POKES
 (The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.— Editor.)

We're still hearing plenty about absenteeism—the irregular workers, the don't-give-a-damn, the drones and the delicate darlings who are always figuring out a way to miss a day's work. The regular worker is the guy who's winning the war of production on the home front. He's the man behind the man behind the gun; he's a fighter, a scrapper, a real man, just the kind of a man you like to have on your side when the chips are down.

To show just how the man at the front feels about strikes and absenteeism, I'm quoting from a letter from Cecil Salisbury, of Hunter, Ky., to his mother (Cecil is in North Africa in the thick of the fighting):
 "Dear Mom:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I am o.k. and hope this finds you and the family all o.k. I guess you know by now what we are doing in North Africa. It's been a long time since I've heard from you or anyone else. I can't write any time I want to but, Mom, tell all the war-workers that if they don't stop laying off and striking—Shike will be telling them when and how long to work and he'll pay them just what he wants to. I sure wish I could be working at a defense plant and some of the defense workers were in my place over here.
 I wouldn't be 48 hours, but 128 hours. I just wish the people knew how the fighting men felt about the tardy and slackin' defense workers.
 The soldiers get mad enough to fight the above-named defense workers.
 What if the workers have to work 48 hours a week?—they still have 120 hours of leisure that a soldier has at his disposal."

"Mom, you give this to 'Shike-poke' and tell him to have it published. I want the people back home to know I'm working at the army in North Africa, folks."

We have a report that Jay Sal-vers is back at coal mining now.
 Must he have liked his job as nurse maid?
 "Hah—the boy who likes hot ears so well, he'd shoot me so and get all he got for it, he just as well have swapped the gun for God's pony
 that the train killed Sunday night.
 Bet he overcats again!"

Tip is swappin' again. Yep, he got his 480 shotgun so and got all
 he got for it, he just as well have
 swapped the gun for God's pony
 that the train killed Sunday night.
 Bet he overcats again!"

The following letter was received by an insurance company: "Dear Sir: I married a woman thirty-five years younger than myself. She wants to have me insured. Is this permissible?" The answer: "The rate on antiques is 75c per hundred dollars."

The army might put up a fight without the WAAC's, but the navy would be stranded right if it wasn't for the WAVES.

I just found out that A. W. O. I. means "absent without leave." I always thought it meant, "After Whiskey or Liqueur."

Jack came draggin' in about 11 o'clock, reason, please?
 Little Moore must be getting absent-minded on the job, but as soon as he got for it, he just as well have swapped the gun for God's pony
 that the train killed Sunday night.
 Bet he overcats again!"

We've all got to "dig in" on the Food Front

In our national emergency transportation space is precious. Every foot of space that's saved means just that much more room for vital materials of war. So the production of food near centers of consumption has taken on national importance.

You, the American people, can "dig in"
 and help by starting Victory Gardens now, and by seeing to it that they are really productive.

You can help your country, you can help the railroads, and you can also help yourself by cutting down your food bills and making your ration stamps go further.

Victory Gardens can make more food available for military needs and foreign shipments. And they can make a major contribution to the "battle of transportation." Our patriotic gardeners will have many of their fresh vegetable needs satisfied right from their own backyards!

We, the railroads, will go on "digging in" by moving, fast and efficiently, the incredible quantities of food needed for our armed services, for our allies, for lead-lease shipments, and for millions on the home front.

What's more, we'll keep on moving the equipment, tools, fertilizer, and other supplies our hard-pressed farmers need to meet the staggering farm quotas for 1943.

And we'll continue to get the greatest possible service out of every piece of railroad equipment—through careful management and the splendid cooperation of railroad workers and shippers.

It's up to you and to us. Let's all "dig in."

An estimated 50,000 WAVES including 5,000 WAVES officers will be holding important navy posts in 1943 and since it is possible for non-college educated candidates to become officers, many more will later win their commissions.

Chief Thixton, with the Navy recruiting station, Ashland, pointed out that all WAVES sail a higher rating than apprentice seamen, the rating with which the girls in blue start their naval careers, and that their salary, equivalent to $150 per month to start, raises with every promotion.

Chief Thixton said that practically all of the SEABEE ratings were open again. This is the construction branch of the navy and to men between the ages of 38 and 50 some excellent positions are waiting for those who qualify.

Either Petty Officer D. R. Flinn or Chief Thixton will be in Paintsville every Tuesday and Wednesday at the postoffice to interview applications.

By MRS. EDGAR R. MAY

In 1938 the average American family spent $48.88 for liquor. The U. S. spends $19,238 per pupil for education, $46.85 per CAPITA for liquor. For every dollar we give God, we give the devil fifty. America has twice as many saloons as churches, three times as many girls working in them as we have in college.

Wets said Prohibition made bootlegging easy. Repeat would bootlegging then why are 4,500 federal agents now needed to enforce bootlegging laws, when 2,500 were needed under Prohibition? Legalized liquor is a smoke screen for bootleggers. Government authorities say half of all liquor sold is moonshine. Gov. Bricker says 70 per cent is Liberty Magazine, quote: "We now have the worst system of bootlegging ever known." There were more violations of liquor laws last year in U. S. than in any FIVE years of prohibition. In 1939 36 per cent of all federal prison commitments violated liquor laws. In '38, after REPEAL, 52 per cent were.

Wets said Repeat would decrease crime. In 1929 Louisville arrested 2,185 for drunkenness. In 1938, first year of REPEAL, 6,000 were arrested, 400 minors. In 1937 12,000, 4,000 minors. In 1938 20,000 were killed by 42 by drunken drivers. 80 per cent of all auto fatalities are due to ALCOHOL, 40 per cent of ALL crimes. 80 per cent of 8,000 crimes in state prison Southern Mich. admitted drinking and over 60 per cent confessed to being drunk when their crimes were committed. 80 per cent of all prisoners in Edinville prison (Kentucky) are there because of liquor! A Louisville police official in the C. J. said half the operators of 600 saloons there have criminal records! Every saloon keeper in the city was recently fingerprinted. Authorities know where to look for the law-defying crowd, whether in Louisville or Floyd county. Since REPEAL, a C. J. editorial said vice control in Louisville has almost disappeared. What else can be expected, with 900 saloons to breed lawlessness?

In their fight for repeal, the wets promised the old-time saloon would not return. For ONCE, they kept their word. THE NEGRO SALOON IS FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN, TOO. Doubters may read papers, check the records, or see for themselves. In February saloons were required of women customers. "Sorry, we'll take the women; our business is two-thirds women now," the management replied.

America is at war. In spite of all battles recorded by history and the Bible as lost, because those defeated were drinking, the U. S. lags behind.

"To get the most use from kitchen utensils, homemakers in Caldwell county have been learning new tricks in caring for such items."

State To Send Greene Here To Give Aid On Income Tax

Jobe Greene, field representative of the Kentucky Department of Revenue, Frankfort, will be in Prestonsburg April 13 for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in preparation of their 1942 state income tax returns. While in Prestonsburg Mr. Greene will be located at the office of Circuit Court clerk W. W. Cooley.

All small persons including heads of families having a net income of over $1,000 or a gross income of over $1,500, and all married persons living with husband or wife having a gross income of over $3,000 or a net income of over $2,500 are required to file an income tax return with the Kentucky Department of Revenue, or its agent, on or before April 15. Persons required to file will facilitate the preparation of the return by submitting the copy of their federal return.

Because of limited facilities the Department will be unable to assign a representative to this vicinity at any other time.

Four thousand pounds of fat were salvaged by housewives in Fleming county, and collected by one grocer.

End to Confusion Sought in Handling Of Farmers' Supplies

The many emergencies orders regarding production, limitations, rationing and priorities, particularly as they affect the farmer, have resulted in much lost motion and confusion. For the individual has not known just which agency handles applications for the various items of services necessary. It was pointed out in a letter attempting to inform county agricultural war boards and local price and rationing boards which particular agency or board should be contacted by the farmer in applying for certain items.

The county war board has jurisdiction over applications for the following items:

New farm machinery, milk cans and covers, types of fencing wire, assistance in needed, building a new barn (if priority assistance is needed), domestic water systems, remodeling farm residence (if priority assistance is needed), remodeling farm residence (if priority assistance is not needed but cost exceeds $200).

A GOOD WORD

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT, Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church.

The thoughtful world clings for Christian sentiment but the practical world needs more than sentiment. The realities of religion as Jesus taught it. There is need to clear unclean skies, cleanse individual lives, and to improve the lives of dependent men and women. Learn once said: "Christianity has been tried for sixteen hundred years but it will continue to try the religion of Jesus." Some one else has said: "The people have tried all sorts of substitutes but what they try to do is to take the advice of the great order, Horace Greeley, and try religion." We are known as a Christian nation but how much it there among us who are not Christians? The community is known as a Christian community but how much is there in this community which is not Christian? We believe in the teachings of Christianity but what do we practice?

We may never know all of the things which Jesus taught when He was here, but there are certain things we do know that He taught. He gave us the idea of God as a Father revealed to his son, the new birth which means redemption as the only hope of humanity, the dwelling of his spirit as well as sane and holy living.

G. H. Buchanan has said: "Having learned to plate baser metals to resemble real gold, the world wants to palm off on a needy humanity and a righteous God a cheap religion; but God is not mocked, neither are men deceived. They know the sad consequences of such things."

This world is in a sad plight with all of its scientific discoveries, all of its wisdom and its radios as a substitute for the things of the earth and still they have no message and nothing to say. How hopeless and leaderless the nations of earth are today!

Men are not much concerned about scientific discoveries or the discussion of unsettled religious questions. The angel of death has spread his wings on the blast, men are being ground to dust and torn to shreds on battlefields and distributed to the waters of the difference, oceans as food for sharks, mother puts her arm around her son to bid him goodbye, not knowing whether she shall ever see him again or not. Blood runs in the streets and blood cries out from the ground, but the bugle is sounding, men are responding, children and innocents are dying, while other helpless children and women are starving. In the face of these conditions, do you not find in your heart a cry for a religion that is real?

Practical business men do not hesitate to say: "The failure of modern religion and education is to blame for the breakdown in society." No religion has not failed as some suppose, for it has not had a chance to prove itself. When you hear some one saying religion has failed, you set it down then and there that that person has not given it a fair trial. Men have failed because of their unwillingness to give religion a fair chance in their lives. What we need is to get back to the religion of Christ.

Christ knows the needs of the human heart, for he prepared the remedy to meet man's need and for us not to accept what he has prepared and offered to us in the name of Jesus.

The physician knows the remedy and has the cure for life disease. The question has come down through the centuries: "Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there? Why then is not the hurt of my daughter healed?" The answer is simple: "We have not applied to him for the remedy."

Floyd county is said to have the best and most poverty stricken industry with an estimated increase of 25 per cent for this year.

Approval of county war board and local utility company is necessary if new electrical service is requested by farmers, by use of certificate in Order U-3.

The Office of Price Administration, through its local War Price and Rationing Boards, has jurisdiction over applications for the following items:

Sugar, coffee, gasoline, heating stoves using oil or coal as fuel, tractors, shoes, bicycles, fuel oil and kerosene, new automobiles, canned goods, tires, including tractor tires.

NOTE: Cooking stoves not included here.

War Production Board Order P-100 gives the farmer a rating of A-1 if materials necessary to repair farm machinery.

War Production Board Order P-84 gives the rating of A-10 for replacement of plumbing and heating equipment and parts worn or damaged beyond repair. This includes cooking stoves using coal, gas or oil as fuel.

There are many items which the farmer can purchase free of any priorities assistance, including the following:

Nails, horseshoe nails, horseshoes, tractor cultivation fabric if used for agricultural purposes, wire, wood, oil, buckets, wash tubs, heating and cooking stoves, window wood, oil, repair parts for such items as automobile, farm machinery, refrigerators, washing machines and other household appliances.

The following items may be purchased without priorities assistance if for maintenance and repair purposes only:

Water well casing, posts and gates, metal roofing and siding.

The following is the procedure for applying for new heating and cooking stoves:

Heating stoves using coal or oil are rationed by local war price and rationing boards.

Cooking stoves using coal, oil or gas, worn out or damaged beyond repair or parts thereof, can be replaced by using the certification in War Production Board Order P-84.

For new cooking stoves using coal, oil or gas as fuel, where an old stove is not replaced, a letter must be directed to the nearest War Production Board district office. Reference is made to why authorization should be granted and how it will affect the war effort.

War Production Board Order N-208 sets out a specific rating for lumber that the farmer needs for items pertaining to maintenance and repair of dwellings and new construction of other agricultural buildings.

Where priority assistance is needed, the War Production Board is the proper place to apply. In this memorandum several items are provided for, but many more could be mentioned which require assistance from the War Production Board and inquiries should be addressed to 300 Todd Bldg., Louisville, Ky.

When life hangs by a wire!

BLUE WHITE light blazes down on the tense little group. . . . A suction machine hums quietly. . . . Skilled fingers poised an electric knife. . . . A human life depends on the smooth, even flow of electric power.

But electric power isn't automatic. The hard-working men and women of America's electric companies are the folks who have made it dependable. They've made it plentiful, too—so that America's war plants have far more power than those of any other nation. And they've made it cheap—so that the average American home enjoys about twice as much electricity for the same money it paid 15 years ago.

These are the results of practical business management under public regulation—part of the system of business freedom in which millions of Americans have put their faith and their savings.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MRS. FORD'S REPLY

The Times: Did that little fellow finally get put in her place? Judge for yourself. It was a very good letter, considering it took three young War Brades to write it.

What was so terribly offensive in my suggestion for a better cooperation of Red Cross work? A constructive criticism is supposed to be helpful. Was it the satire on vanity and pride that offended? When an emergency arises, trills and vanity could be dispensed with. If the making of dressings in the home is so impractical, why not have a dressing room in each of the willing to make dressings? We were coal-mining communities here last fall when the Red Cross reorganized. Many of the women, who could not sew, were willing to make dressings, but, as always, we women of the coal-mining communities are treated as if we couldn't possibly know enough to want to prove to you what we could do. We seldom are given a chance to display our abilities. You take our lack of knowledge ignorantly too much for granted and you do not give us credit for what we do or the plain commonsense we all have.

I was in nurse training for a while once upon a time, and I haven't forgotten the thousands of articles and dressings we had to make in order not to be idle. The reports were were more substantial than other-wise and they wouldn't have kept a loose hair from falling into the dressings, either. Still we were given a nurse receives in a good hospital makes her methodical, careful custom or habit. I have observed much in the 12 years I have lived here at Wayland. The people of the coal-mining communities are all alike, have come a long way from what they were when I first came here. And I am being complimentary about it, and I am glad that life has been better to them, than it must have been years and years ago. Even now there seems to be a lack of the old timidity of fear, that they must have had long ago. I called it "class distinction" in one of my letters. It isn't that exactly. It is the line between employer and employee; a sort of distrust, one for the other; a fear that one side or the other would take an unfair advantage; a sort of "armed truce" attitude, even to the women. Yes, if the differences of jobs, the importance of insignificance attached to the men's individual work, could be forgotten by the women, the men seem well enough contented, a coal-mining community like a "coal-camp" but more like other small towns out of the mining region. As you know, I came here an "outsider." I considered myself as a "coal-camp" but more like other small towns out of the mining region. As you know, I came here an "outsider." CONTROL CAN DO WHAT PROHIBITION CAN'T!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, there's been quite a bit of talk going around about prohibiting liquor in various spots around the country... around the Army camps for one thing. What do you make of it?"

"Well, Henry, I size it up about like this. It looks to me like the folks who are doing the talking are shooting a little bit higher than most people seem to realize. Sort of like the salesman who gets his foot in the door and before you know it he's sold you a bill of goods. Wouldn't surprise me a bit if what they're really aiming for is to take in the whole country again. We all know it didn't work the last time. All we got was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor... plus racketeers, gangsters and the worst crime wave the country ever saw.

"Seems to me we've all got our hands full to win this war without starting up an argument we just got through settling a few years back."

First and second prizes in war stamps of 50 and 25 cents were awarded for outstanding entries by pupils of the Garrett and Wayland schools. Adults received blue and red ribbons for entries selected as first and second in the various classes of hobbies.

In addition to the regular prizes, the club offered first prizes of $1.00 and second prizes of $1 in war stamps to the students from Wayland and Garrett high schools who wrote the best essay on the topic, 'The Marches with the Victory Corps,' and to the students who made the best war posters.

Miss Owens and Alline Hayes, both of Garrett high school, were the winners of the first and second prizes for essays. Miss Owens, a senior, was also the writer of an essay which won first prize for Garrett high school in last year's essay contest.

First and second prizes for war posters went to Edith Lester and Arthur Clifton of Wayland high school.

Woman and 20 Acres Solve Food Problem

How women can help in food production was demonstrated last year by a farm woman in Johnson county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Neal and their three children, 7, 8 and 13 years old live on a 20-acre farm. Because Mr. Neal is engaged in work elsewhere the business of farming as well as homemaking falls on Mrs. Neal.

When the farm was purchased it produced little last year, because of careful building of the soil with lime and phosphate, 100 bushels of hybrid corn were produced on ten acres, six tons of hay from three cuttings, were grown on one acre, and all the acre produced in 1942 produced a crop worth approximately $114.

In addition, there was a garden, berry patch and fruit trees, so that Mrs. Neal was able to put up 1,100 quarts of vegetables and fruits, all home-grown with the exception of peaches.

Chicago did well, too. In January, 24 dozen eggs were sold net, $2.00. Second prize winners from the county were Patsy Beck, penmanship; Mickey Whitaker, art.

The following adults received blue ribbons for their entries: Mrs. Mike Staley, applique quilt; Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, turkey track quilt; Mrs. Arthur Kilburn, crocheted bedspread; Mrs. Elyon Murray, quilt top; Paulina Massey, crocheted baby clothes; Miss Dorothy Caudill, embroidered pillow top; Mrs. R. H. Messer, collection of cat pictures; Mrs. Fred A. Martin, antique doll furniture; Mrs. H. H. Hornsby, embroidery and tatting; Mrs. J. O. Webb, Chinese mannequin costumes; Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, Whig Rose hand-loomed coverlet; Mrs. R. H. Messer, collection of vases.

Adults who received red ribbons were Mrs. John Raymond, antique cup; Mrs. Arthur Kilburn, antique honey stand; Mrs. Frank Rasnick, collection of doll furniture; Mrs. Mike Staley, hand-woven rug; Mrs. Bill Francis, wedding dress; Mrs. Charles Hornsby, crocheting; Mrs. Frank Rasnick, quilt top.

All entries were judged by Mrs. Wm. Massey and Mrs. J. B. Hahn, of Mawson.

Club members, who served on the Hobby Show committee, were Mrs. R. H. Messer, chairman; Mrs. Thomas Hatcher, Mrs. Kermit Bevels, Mrs. Charles H. Wells and Mrs. Fred A. Martin.

With all her farm and home work, Mrs. Neal finds time to see for her three children, with the assistance of the 13-year-old daughter. This mother is also active in community affairs. For the past four years she has been a 4-H club leader, a secretary of both the county home-makers' club association and her own local homemakers' club and a president of the parent-teacher association.

Most of the 500 pictures in Knoxville have been displayed during the past month with phosphate and manure soil that seeded with phosphate.

NEW WAR CORPORATION

The Lackey Co-Operative Gardening Corporation with a capitalization of $50 authorized under the laws of the town of Lackey, this county and a "rolling stock" consisting of one brown mule, aged 16, is a direct result of the war, we are informed in a letter to which the name of Virgil Akers, secretary of the new firm, is signed. Continues the letter: "This war economy corporation was organized because of the fact that labor and plow horses are so hard to get and every patriotic citizen is wanting a large war garden. At the first meeting of the board of directors the following officers were elected: Dillard Reed, president; Felix Patton, first vice-president; Noah Akers, second vice-president; Andy Zee Treasler, (and keeper of the mule); Virgil Akers, secretary."

O. C. Hays, a non-stockholder, was employed as superintendent and general manager of the corporation, and the mule's services will be alternated among stockholders, it was stated. All business meetings of the corporation will be held on the third Saturday or Sunday (or both) in the only empty house in Lackey, this county, to be communicated from the garden front concludes.

THE PRODUCTION LINE

Speaking of farm production, Magistrate Glenn Burchett was taken with the idea that County Judge Hays knew the way to get things going on when she farrowed six pigs, all of her sex, this week.

Boy Scouts is going camping and they might get some too. It would be good for every boy to go camping because they might blow up the trains at Martin and them two boys might save them. Pete is a mascot of the Boy Scouts and Harry is a Cub Scout. Harry is a 9 year old boy. Pete is 9 year too. I will send in more."

Fourteen are named for trial on charges of wounding, by shooting, cutting or striking.

Circuit Judge Stephens' instructions to the grand jury, opening the term, were brief and formal. His only mention of specific violations came with his comment on the legality of the closing hour for roadhouses, after which he remarked: "I understand such places on Left Beaver and one below Prestonsburg are running, wide open."

J. W. Prater, of Hueysville, was named foreman of the grand jury. The grand jury Thursday morning had returned, besides the two murder bills, 15 indictments. Major indictments follow:

Herschell Mayo, reckless use of a deadly weapon and carrying a concealed deadly weapon (parapet and wounding); E. K. Tolson, permitting gaming on premises; Odie Horn, gaming; John Music, bigamy; Teddy Fraunce, voluntary manslaughter; Tony Crags, breaking and entering.
