DEWEY DAM, POST-WAR PROJECT

But Its Construction on 'Must List' Planned For After-War Period

Although the existing federal policy to forego all public works save those which are of importance to the war effort precludes any possibility of the John C. Dewey dam being constructed while the war continues, work on the project is almost certain to begin shortly after the conclusion of hostilities, Maj. Gen. E. Reynolds, chief of engineers, War Department, recently wrote Congressman A. J. May.

'WE'RE PUSHIN' HIGH SCHOOLS JAPS AROUND'

22-Year-Old Veteran Of Navy Declares On Visit Home

Home after nine months in the Guadalcanal area, Preston Hicks, a navy veteran of more than five years at the age of 22, declared this week that "we're pushing the Japs around out there."

"We were short on food for about a month through a part of November and December, but everything is under control now. We have the place cleaned up."

Hicks, one of five brothers in the armed forces, and a son of Mrs. Julia Hicks Batley, of Eltop, has been on a seaplane tender since outbreak of the war which found him in the wreckage of Pearl Harbor. He left the United States in February, 1941, went to Pearl Harbor and after outbreak of the war was on duty in the Bering Sea.

"Our ship hasn't seen so much actual fighting, since it is a plane tender," Hicks said. "But, day before I left Guadalcanal, July 6, we were attacked by five Jap bombers. We were at sea and had no planes near to intercept them. But our flock kept them so high they were ineffective. Their bombs fell no nearer than 200 yards away."

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

The campaign is nearing its close. There are many of you whom I have not been able to see, but I want to tell you that I appreciate the interest you are taking in my race.

There will be rumors of all kinds in the last days of the campaign in an attempt to defeat me. Do not be misled by these falsehoods. We have this race won. The people of Floyd county have made up their minds to nominate and elect me, and the will of the good people cannot be defeated.

I am not aligned with any clique or group, and I assure you that I am having nothing to do with any other race. You will be told that I am aligned with different candidates. The fact is, I am making my own race. You are also being told that certain people have been promised deputyships. This is not the truth. After I am elected Sheriff I will let the good people of each community select their deputy.

Work hard for me from now till the polls close and we will win by an overwhelming majority.

Your friend,

WORK SHOP HERE PLANNED, TRIPLETT SAYS

Burden of Sponsorship Only Handicap Seen By School Board

The possibility exists that machinery operated here until recently by the National Youth Administration in the training of youths for war plant work will be operated under the sponsorship of the Prestonsburg Board of Education, it was said here this week.

This hope for retention of the training project here was expressed following a conference of school authorities with C. F. Brooker, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and R. H. Woods, director of vocational training, at Frankfort last week.

The state officials told Elmhurst Triplett, principal of Prestonsburg schools; Lon S. Miles, of the school board; and A. C. Carter, by invitation of the federal government is to permit machinery operated by the non-department NVA to remain in original location if local sponsorship for its use in vocational training under state approval is provided.

Mr. Triplett and Mr. Miles indicated that the board of education is anxious to keep the training program here if requirements exacted of the sponsor are not too heavy. The matter, said Mr. Carter, was known even at Frankfort, are expected to be discussed at a later date.

Letter From Jap Prison Camp Reassures Floyd Mother

Tangible proof that her son, Wyman Walters, signaller in U. S. Navy, was living as late as Dec. 22--almost eight months after he had been reported missing by the Navy Department, was furnished Friday by Mrs. T. F. Walters, of Emma.

The proof was a letter, written in the only one handed from the Jap prison camp. Seven months reaching its destination, the letter, apparently cleared through the Red Cross, read:

"I am well and safe in Japan. My health is as usual. I have had no news of the family since October, 1941. How do you get the letter especially you and Don? Remember me to all Love. Wyman"

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Some of my opponents have been telling the voters that I have quit the race for Sheriff. This is absolutely false. I have not, and will not, quit.

Such rumors are born of the wishes of candidates who fear defeat. With the support of the good citizens of Floyd county, I will be nominated and elected Sheriff. I wish at this time to thank my many loyal supporters who are working for my nomination and ask them and all others to work with me till the last vote is cast and counted.

Betsy

The little girl tugged gently at her mother's sleeve.

"Now, Mother," she asked, "Why can't we write my letter?"

"Why of course, Betsy," Mrs. Carson grinned. "Are you going to write it or am I?"

"Well," Betsy said, "maybe you'd better kind of say it to me. Only I'd love to write it."

"All right, then, Miss Carson, take a letter," her mother said, walking slowly up and down the room.

"Ready?" "Dear Mr. Merchant," The way I save money for War Stamp buying is to save all the small household goods to

...w a r d m y daughter, who is eight years old. She is so keen about buying War Stamps that I know all the money I might have paid to someone else for doing the job will go toward Victory when paid to her.

"Now make a list, Betsy," Mrs. Carson said, "and I'll pick them up from under the tree, 25 cents. Empty trash cans, 4 cents. Sold string beans from the garden, 15 cents. Sold strips of spoiled film to children for sunglasses, at one cent a pair, 20 cents. Total, $1.24. You'll helpfully, I hope, and then I'll sign it at the bottom."

Betsy was puffing like a grampus from her labors. The faint, painstaking letters tottered bravely across the sheet of paper. Gravely Mrs. Carson took the pen to sign.

"Mother, would it be the proper etiquette if I signed it too?"

"Perfectly proper, I think," Mrs. Carson said without a smile, and handed the pen back to Betsy.

We "Dug Up" 345,500 pounds of Scrap

THE call to the Nation for scrap was taken seriously by your Electric Company... every nook and cranny was explored to uncover every last ounce of the scarce metals that are needed to supply munitions to our men at the Front. We "dug up" all sorts of scrap—iron, copper, aluminum and rubber—ranging all the way from large pieces of electrical equipment that had served their usefulness down to office keys.

For the year ending February, 1943, we had turned in over 345,500 pounds.

In addition, we have made every effort to conserve scrap materials while still maintaining the best service to our customers... this was done by using substitutes and by various methods: by conserving tires, gasoline and equipment.

Many of these wartime expedients would not have been possible but for the helpful cooperation of our customers who have taken every situation with typical American spirit.

BIG JOKE VIRGIL

Virgil Wark, store employee, had to deliver some merchandise on Carney the other day. He stopped at Claude Allen's house on the way up and told Mrs. Allen that Elvade would give him a fryer which he would pick up on the way back. The chickens were small, so Mrs. Allen just gave him two.

Virgil had a merry time of it when he got back to David, telling what a good joke he had pulled on Claude. But Claude, who is paying a clerk, thought that was such a good joke that it ought to be worth something to him—so he just issued him $3 and changed it to Virgil's account.

The joke should have ended there, but it didn't. When Virgil started to go home he went into the back of the store to get his chickens and they were gone—and he hasn't found bone nor feather of them yet. And if he doesn't stop threatening to send the guilty party of parties to jail for stealing, he probably never will learn who ate them.

Among the recent good news items is that of another government official dying in Argentina.

That was a pretty good picture in J. Laver Donaldson's advertisement in THE TIMES a few weeks back. The road is hard-surfaced with a nice white strip of paint down the middle. The background shows a beautiful mass of sky and clouds over the rolling, eye-filling Bluegrass country.

It's a bad picture to display on John Cree, Left Beaver and on many other smaller creeks in Floyd county.

STOP, LOOK & LISTEN!

Last week's editorial in THE TIMES was about the best piece of horse sense I've seen on the Courier-Journal's inconsistency in supporting Donaldson.

I would like to add that Rodes K. Myers has been with the same crowd so long that he has the same odor; that Ben Kikore is the only one who has promised to clean out that Frankfort political machine, and not to build anything up; that there are many Democrats who own prefer an Old Guard Republican to a machine-picked Bluegrass politician as Kentucky's next governor.

AMERICA SHOULD KEEP ITS LIFELINES STRONG

1 WHEN YOU READ of the enormous amount of troops and materials of war that the railroads are so successfully transporting today, it is not surprising that many people have assumed those figures represent big profits for the railroads. Actually, this is not true, even though the Class I railroads carried 80% more passengers in 1942 than in 1941, and 33% more freight.

2 IT IS TRUE the railroads are earning more money today than they have in recent years, but for many years past they have been making far less than other businesses. Even in 1942, a peak year, earnings were only 5.56% on investment. And in the ten years ending with 1941, the average earnings were only a fraction over 2%. Many small businesses like the little retailer pictured above have, over the years, made much more money per dollar invested.

3 IN THE FIRST WORLD WAR the standard return fixed by the government for the railroads amounted to 6.21% on investment. Today the railroads are earning about 6%—a little more than they did in 1918. But they are carrying 24% more passengers and 55% more freight.

4 MAJOR FINANCIAL PROBLEMS now faced by the railroads include heavy taxes and greater cost of materials. Equipment now in service bears extra strain. The wheels pictured above travel more track in a week than they used to cover in a month. And rails and cars and engines are being used up at a rapid rate. Normal repairs cannot be made because of shortage of materials and man-power. Funds which should be put aside out of current earnings for making these repairs in the future are now taxed as "profits."

5 WEAKENING OF THE RAILROADS would be a national calamity. They are our lifelines, the vital arteries of our industrial and commercial system. America must keep its railroads strong. Too much depends on them today and will depend on them tomorrow, to risk the effects of any policy that would endanger what we now enjoy—the finest railroad service in the world.

A GOOD WORD

By the REV. W. B. GARBIOTT, Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church.

I am quoting here a statement from the pen of the Rev. Chas. W. McCaskill who was writing on this subject and here is what he said: "I cannot be sure you parents or so young people without saying, I think we ministers and public school teachers and physicians have been silent on these things too long. Do you know that the most tremendous punishment God has ever visited upon anything or anybody in this world is the terrible judgment upon this sin of immorality in the leprosy diseases that accompany it? The greatest scourge that is sweeping this country—greater and more alarming than tuberculosis or cancer or both of them combined—is the scourge of venereal diseases. We have been passive and silent too long, and I believe that God's judgment will be upon the ministers and professors and teachers of our schools and upon the physicians and the statesmen if we don't lift up our voices and warn the people of the awful scourge and pestilence that is striking through our land, striking down thousands upon thousands of our fine young men, sending thousands of innocent women and children, to stay nothing of the guilty ones, to their graves or to years of suffering and invalidism, murdering thousands upon thousands of babies before they are born or bringing them into the world to be blind or idiotic or insane."

Some will say, "Well, you have left your subject, now, these are all a part of what the dance will lead to."

Here is what a reputable physician has to say upon the awfulness of these things. (Mind you, these figures were given before the outbreak of the present war and I am sure the figures would be far greater now.) "There are in the U. S. A. not less than 300,000 public fallen women and associated with them are not less than 2,000,000 fallen men. If you add the number of fallen women not registered and inter-associated with them, you can double this number, and then multiply all the truth." The well-informed person will agree that this is easily true now. This same doctor goes on to say that "Every prominent public or private, acquired venereal diseases sooner or later; hence, all of them are diseased part of the time and many of them practically all of the time." The man who patronizes them will soon find the ranks of the diseased. Venereal diseases are the most contagious known. Many persons escape tuberculosis, bubonic diseases and cholera when they are directly exposed to them; but when exposed to venereal diseases, the reverse is true and few persons escape. Venereal diseases are transmittable not only through sexual intercourse but also by means of discharge from sores on the body, the lips, through the kiss, by means of clothing, and by use of the public drinking cup, towels and comb. (Think of millions of persons spreading the most contagious of diseases around our fair country! The Medical Society of New York estimates that there are not less than 200,000 persons so infected in that city.)

Let me say something more about what this doctor says. He says: "We educate and educate about the great white plague, tuberculosis; we quarantine against the great yellow plague, bubonic disease; but against the great black plague, venereal disease, there are almost no restrictions. We are all susceptible. The virtuous wife and the unborn child have no protection except the personal purity of the husband and father. Thousands of innocent women and children are infected by him either before or after marriage in his visits to the scarlet woman. From 40 to 60 per cent of all operations upon women for men's diseases are caused by venereal diseases. Of the 60,000 blind people in the U. S. A., at least two-thirds lost their sight by venereal infection contracted from their parents."

About 50 per cent of all involuntary childless marriages are due to gonorrhea.

Syphilis is a constitutional disease which, when once acquired, is exceedingly difficult to eradicate, if indeed it can ever be entirely eradicated. Every organ and every tissue in the body may be affected. A syphilitic parent may transmit this disease to his or her child before birth, and of all children affected with hereditary syphilis from 60 to 80 per cent are either born dead or die shortly after birth, and the remainder either die during childhood or grow up diseased in mind and body. Such diseases make of marriage an abomination and of child-bearing a social peril. They are the cause of one-third of the cases of insanity and nearly all of idiocy, 50 per cent of locomotor ataxia, and a large percentage of cases of heart failure are traceable to such diseases.

In the United States 60,000 white slaves die every year, 500 every month, 170 every day in the year, and one every eight minutes. Sixty thousand innocent girls are enticed, seduced or procured to take the places of those who have died. These are the statements of a reputable physician.

ASKS MOTHERS TO SUPPORT

J. Lyter Donaldson
At August Primary
For Governor

Louisville, Ky., July 29—Calling on all mothers of boys in the service to support the candidacy of J. Lyter Donaldson for Governor in the Democratic primary, August 7, Mrs. C. Carroll, state woman's chairman for Mr. Donaldson, said in a speech last night, broadcast by Radio Station WGRG here, "Let us as mothers of those boys determine that we shall neglect nothing to insure to them on their return a better way of living. Let us remember that those boys on distant fighting fronts are looking to us to take their places in electing the best possible candidate."

Mrs. Carroll, a former president of the Kentucky State Federation of Women's Clubs, said, in endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Donaldson, that she did so "without any thought of criticism for the opposition, but with the sincere conviction that in Mr. Donaldson the women of Kentucky have a candidate whose ability is admitted by his most severe critics, and whose record of service to his state assures us that he will continue to advance and carry out those things for which we have so patiently striven."

Mrs. Carroll discussed at length Mr. Donaldson's platform, which she announced in his opening campaign speech in Carrollton on June 1, particularly that part of the platform in which mothers and women generally are interested. Concerning his promise of thirteen million dollars per year for the common school fund which, according to present school population, would increase the per capita appropriation to $16.20, Mrs. Carroll said: "It is not natural that we should be more deeply interested in those things which more closely affect our homes, and one of the most important of these is the education of our children. In education their physical, intellectual and moral welfare are deeply involved and upon that training depends not only the future welfare of the individual, but, by its effect on the very principles of our government."

Calling upon candidates opposing Mr. Donaldson for the nomination to publicly announce their plans for rehabilitating Kentucky's young men and women now in the service of their country, as well as for the development and improvement of the state, Mrs. Carroll said the voters should require of each candidate a "solemn pledge" as to his post-war plans about our boys, and then "should scrutinize carefully his past record, to determine to what extent this pledge is not one of lip service only." "Mr. Donaldson," she said, "has advocated an appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars annually to provide scholarships for these boys and young women."

"Knowing him as I do," she said, "I can safely assure the mothers of Kentucky that such a program will be considered by him as a sacred pledge to them and their families." "There is not a county in the state of Kentucky whose women are not busy in their efforts to contribute to the final victory in this war. Long, hot hours are being daily spent in connection with canning food for future use; the Red Cross and other war agencies are demanding and cheerfully receiving much of our time and labor. You have been faithful in your efforts to do everything possible to assist in the carrying on of this war and whatever is necessary for its success. This is as it should be. Willingly, but with saddened hearts, we have seen our boys leave their homes gladly to offer of themselves whatever is necessary in order to keep safe and inviolate to us that right of living, which is the heritage of every American." ### 60 Pct. of Tests Made Show Rabies Signs, Figures Indicate

Not all heads of animals submitted for rabies analysis are declared to show signs of the disease, as some profess to believe, figures released last week prove. In the past 11½ years, 2,473 dog heads have been analyzed at the Public Service Laboratories, Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, and 1,487 found to have rabies. Cat heads numbered 264, of which 103 had rabies. Of five human brains received, three had rabies. One hundred twenty-four cattle had rabies, 16 hogs and six sheep. The heads of five foxes showed rabies. These animals attack persons when they are mad.

Three times as many animals suspected of having rabies were received at the laboratories in the first half of this year as were received in the entire year of 1932. The number of heads showing rabies was four times as many as the number 19 years ago. Areas from which most heads of mad dogs arrive at the Experiment Station include: Fayette and adjoining counties; Boone, Campbell and Kenton counties; Bell county, and Madison county. These areas have been furnishing almost a steady flow of heads this year.

Too many persons are being exposed to rabies, says Dr. Linwood A. Brown, head of the Public Service Laboratories. As a result, they are paying out thousands of dollars for the Pasteur treatment. He advises persons who find a stray or sick animal, especially pets, until it is certain they do not have rabies. Rabies is often suspected only after all members of a family have landed a dog or cat. If animals must be handled, it is advisable to wear gloves—rubber gloves, if possible.

Only heads of animals should be sent to the Public Service Laboratories, Dr. Brown said. Bodies are of no use, and cannot be handled by the laboratories. Heads should be packed in ice.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Times—

I am the mother of three soldier boys in the service of Uncle Sam—Sgt. Richard McGuire, Jr., Sgt. Talber McGuire, both now overseas, and Emil McGuire, still in the States. My husband is working on defense, paying income tax and victory tax, trying to back our boys up who are facing the bullets and hardships of all kinds, that we may have our freedom. Back home, I hear some complaining and growling because prices are high and because foods are rationed—not content with enough and don't have one thought of our boys over there who are giving their lives for their country. Our boys have had to leave home, their loved ones and lots of them can never return. But you don't seem to hear growling. They just ask and beg for more planes, tanks and guns, asking why we can't send them more.

Listen, dear friends, why not wake up and realize that we are in a war and a terrible war such as the world has never seen before, and let each and every one do a bit to help win and stop this terrible conflict. And you fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, wives and sweethearts of these fine American boys! Come down upon your knees and ask God to be with us and help us to win this war and bring our boys back home. And you dear soldier boys who read this letter, let me appeal to you and beg you to give your hearts to God and ask Him to save your souls and go with you on the battlefields, on land and on sea and in the air. He has all power and He will surely hear. I am praying for you all, as well as for my own sons. I am sure there will never be an earnest prayer lost.

ARRIVE HOME
Mrs. J. D. Thomas and daughter, Miss Theda Bobb arrived Sunday from Falls Church, Va., where they have been for the last few months. They were accompanied home by her sister and brother, Miss Mary Saunders and Rufus Saunders, also of Falls Church, who spent a few days here, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

In Taylor county docked and castrated lambs weighed 15 pounds more than those not treated, and sold for $1 more per 100 pounds on the local market.

FOR SHERIFF OTTO FANNIN

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, AUGUST 7

To the Miners of Floyd County:

This year, as never before in Labor's history, it is absolutely necessary for us miners to stand together. Only through complete unity can our organization continue to exist and afford to the working men the rights and privileges we as free Americans deserve.

I am a member of the United Mine Workers of America, have carried a Union card practically all my life and now am working at a coal mine. Moreover, I am the only miner seeking the Sheriff's office who has a chance to win.

IF WE ALL STAND TOGETHER, I WILL BE NOMINATED AND ELECTED SHERIFF. We never in the past have voted the full strength of the miners for one man and, therefore, have never had the part we should have had in the conduct of our country's government.

THINK THIS OVER—DON'T LET NON-UNION CANDIDATES LEAD YOU ASTRAY. Don't split your voting strength. I am the only man you can ABSOLUTELY depend upon, during the trying days that will surely come, to stand up for your rights and give you the protection of the Sheriff's office as the law provides.

TO THE FARMERS:

I promise you that my office will always be open to you. A welcome will always await you when you come to Prestonsburg. I will be glad at any time to help you in meeting your individual problems. I know what the working man's problems are and sympathize with every man who earns a living by the sweat of his brow.

TO ALL CITIZENS:

I am a member of the American Legion and served overseas in World War I, just as thousands of your own sons, husbands and brothers are now serving. My schooling was cut short when I put my duty to my country first in our first war with Germany. I sacrificed my future then for what I devoutly hoped would be a better future for us all.

NOW I AM ASKING THE OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE MY HOME COUNTY AS AN OFFICIAL. Won't you fight for me as I once did for you?

If elected Sheriff, I will not interfere with your legal rights by overstepping my authority.

My deputies will work at all times under my personal supervision. Protection will be given the rural sections of the county as well as the towns. I will have only outstanding men selected by good citizens, as deputies.

I am not a rich man; I can only beg for your support. It is yours to give—I yours is the power to name your Sheriff. It has been a long time since 1918 but I served my county and country then, and ask you not to let the memory of those days die.

I humbly solicit your vote and influence in my behalf.

(Pol. Adv.)

Your friend, OTTO FANNIN

Apollo got the Glory ...the Vitamins did the work

Fortunately, we do not have to depend upon the whims of an Apollo for safeguards for our health. Science has demonstrated over and over again that sensible living and proper nutrition are the first steps toward a robust body and an alert mind.

The entire nation looks eagerly for news about Science's continuous studies of vitamins. One fact that has been determined is that the B Complex vitamins are the least plentiful in the foods that come to your table. Physicians say that your body is quick to feel a B Vitamins deficiency, but unharmed if you get more than enough.

The home of Budweiser is one of the world's biggest sources of B Complex vitamins. They are contained in brewer's yeast, which we supply to leading pharmaceutical manufacturers. From them, our armed forces and our civilian population obtain millions of B Complex vitamin units to supplement the daily diet when necessary. The perfection of this vitamin-rich yeast is one more result of laboratory and research work that has helped to produce the world's most popular beer.

Here's Word from Bill! "... and tell my old gang down at the Telephone Company that I'm thinking of them. I see tons of telephone materials every day over here—in the form of tanks, shells and field communications equipment. We need a steady stream of these supplies to win—and being a telephone man, I know that telephone lines have to carry many calls affecting production and transportation of fighting equipment. So I hope you bankfolks are helping to keep the wires clear, for war calls which MUST go through. Love, BILL" operated as a unit of the co-ordinated reservoir system for flood control on Lewis Park, Big Sandy river, and in the Ohio valley generally. In accordance with the existing federal policy no new public works are being undertaken during the war period, except projects which are determined to have a direct importance to the war effort. Although under this policy it does not appear that it is possible to undertake construction of the Dewey dam in the near future, the Department is completing the design of the dam and the contract plans and specifications in order that the project may be ready for immediate initiation after the war.

Fellows like Bill Jones—on the fighting front—know what they're talking about when they say that Victory depends upon an unceasing flow of supplies. And at home, those directing the war effort rely on the telephone to keep munitions and men moving forward. These urgent calls pass through the same local telephone equipment you use. Yet facilities can't be expanded to meet demands fully, because the necessary materials are being made into planes, tanks and guns. By avoiding unnecessary local calls—and by speaking briefly whenever you talk—you help relieve crowded lines and switchboards for war duty. In that way you help speed vital war calls.

The Department is also making an investigation of the Big Sandy river for flood control, navigation and allied purposes, under the authority of Congress as contained in Flood Control and River and Harbor acts. This investigation is considering all feasible projects for beneficial development of the water that it carries in a year. The field work is now in progress and it is expected that the survey report of the Division and District Engineers will be submitted to the Department in about a year. "I may assure you that the Department recognizes the importance of the proposed projects in the Big Sandy river basin, and that it will proceed with the construction of it as rapidly as possible within the limits of the authorizations and funds available, and consistent with the necessity for conserving materials, manpower and construction equipment of the war effort."

DONALDSON, JOHNSON CAN'T BE BOUGHT

The trucking interests and their friend, D. C. Moore, of Pikeville, secured assistant state director of transportation, have rendered Kohn Johnson and Lyter Donaldson a disservice by their "disclosure" of the last few days. They have proved conclusively that neither the Governor nor Mr. Donaldson can be bought! Moreover, they have told the people of Kentucky that they can depend on Mr. Donaldson to oppose special privileges for this minority group, and that it is impossible to be depended upon to oppose them for private. This strengthens the conviction expressed nearly two weeks ago by the Messenger as to Mr. Donaldson's honesty, integrity, and ability to cope with the problems that will confront the next Governor of Kentucky. We do not think that the impurities of such a rich and obviously generous organization as the truckers of Kentucky in their quest for favors—the hands of the administration. But neither Lyter Donaldson nor Kevin Johnson are weak men. The truckers are not the first group seeking special concessions to learn this. This newspaper wants the truckers to enjoy all of the rights to which they are entitled. We do not want to receive favor-against the public interest favors that they obviously sought in vain of the Johnson administration. Therefore we will watch with interest to see whom the trucking interests support in this campaign, as every other American interested in the maintenance of good government in general and our highway system in particular will do so. It is improbable that the Moore resignation and attacks on Governor Johnson and Lyter Donaldson by both Moore and M. C. Whitney, of Bowling Green, were coincidental. They smack of well-timed steps in a carefully conceived plan to try to defeat Lyter Donaldson for Governor. It is an effort to elect someone who would give the trucking interests what they want—what they were unable to get from the present administration. If the Democratic electorate of Kentucky can ascertain who this candidate is, it will know whom to be against in the primary. It is obvious that Moore took money from the trucking interests four years ago for campaign purposes. It is also probable that they were promised something in return. It is equally clear too that someone led the truckers to believe that the Governor and Mr. Donaldson could be "handled" when they patently could not be. In our opinion, it is not difficult to guess who that person was. However, the people of Kentucky can have no quarrel with Kohn Johnson and Lyter Donaldson over this incident. Their records bear careful scrutiny. They took care of people's interests by taking care of their highways. The contributions of Moore and Whitney fall flat in the face of their performance. The authors of this accusation may find that the charges hurled at the Governor and Mr. Donaldson will be like a boomerang that missed its mark and, returning hit their vulnerable selves. (Reprinted from the Owensboro Messenger and Inquirer of July 17, 1943. (Pol. adv.)

THOSE NAUGHTY FLYERS

It was shocking—now it's a disgrace to learn of those officers new to North Africa being shocked by some of the names our bomber crews had given their planes. Naughtiness, "Lord Cresspool" and "Impatient Virgin." What we want to know is, who is hurt by any pet name the boys want to give their planes? When they're flying the only embarrassment they cause is to the Axis; when they're on the ground—well, let others just stay at a safe distance.

YOUR VOTE FOR BEN KILGORE

WILL BUILD KENTUCKY AND NOT A POLITICAL MACHINE!

VOTE FOR KILGORE AUG. 7th

Open Letter from Ben Kilgore to the Voters of Kentucky

Dear Folks:

I am making the race for Governor in order that we may have a greater Kentucky. There can be no doubt but what the great majority of Kentuckians are patriotic and want to overthrow the corrupt political regime at Frankfort. Good government and good morals go hand in hand. No one dares to defend the present regime at Frankfort because it has continuously violated every moral and constitutional concept of democratic government. The concentration of power in the hands of non-elected political bosses, the arrogant manner in which the Governor and the dictators back of him have debased and controlled the Legislature, the unlawful and unwholesome use of state funds to influence primaries and elections, the degrading influence of the political hierarchy over the Courts through political patronage, the assessment of state employees, the corruption and waste of the taxpayers money in the Purchasing Department, the collection of bridge tolls contrary to the plain provisions of the law, all are evidence of an immoral leadership, which an outraged and decent citizenship can no longer tolerate or endure.

I am calling upon all good Democrats to actively join in the "battle of ballots" against the corrupt leadership of our party, and I urge all forward looking men and women to assist in re-deeming Kentucky from a ruthless political machine.

Sincerely yours,
BEN KILGORE
