This Town-- That World

Anything will advertise pays to advertise in THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES especially those who seek free advertising.

WHEREIN ADVERTISING HURTS
Your truly arises to tell about some of the advertising that paid the advertiser so well that it hurt THE TIMES. You see these ads telling of the wonderful opportunities offered at Willow Run, haven't you? Well, Charles Goble, one of our printers, reads them. Result: Mr. Goble headed for Willow Run last week. TIMES is minus a printer this week.

WE DID NOT!
And now, just for the record, THE TIMES did not say in a steamer on Page 1 last week that "Donaldson May Win in State Election." He may and then he may not and THE TIMES made no prediction whatever. That headline read (take another gander) "Donaldson, May Win in State Election." Note please the comma between the two names. That's a headline writer's way of saying, when he gets paid for space, that Donaldson and May won in the state election. And didn't they? Well, stop accusing us of crawling out on a limb with predictions for November!

I never did have any patients with anybody more ignorant than this.

The war goes on, night and day. American boys, some from your home county and some towns, are falling wounded, night and day. How many surgical dressings did you fold, any night, any day, and how many War Bonds did you buy at any time?

VERY VITAL STATISTICS
For want of something better to write, permit us to reiterate a few things every reader or prospective reader should know:

When you want your address changed, tell your old address as well as the new. Our notices are published in Floyd County, and we need your name, as well as your address. And we want the news, accurate and on time.

GET RID OF THE WEEDS
A young girl who shouldn't be sick, but is, has asked for a recipe to the townspop, to please, to cut their weeds. That may sound far-fetched to you, but anybody who is allergic to ragweed, or other weeds, suffering from hay-fever or asthma, will know the importance of getting rid of them. The weeds help nobody, actually hurt someone, cut 'em.

OF POLITICS
If Commissioner of Agriculture W. H. (Bill) May, of Prestonsburg, the Democrats' choice for Lieutenant-Governor, were attending an old-time school, his family's per capita tax would have to be raised. He busts too many slates.

Death Report Erroneous, TIMES is Informed

Last week's story in THE TIMES telling of the reported death of Irvin, Ky. of Mrs. Charles Phillip, nee, Miss Lily Strong, was wholly erroneous. Mrs. Phillip not only is alive at her home in Irvine but is enjoying good health.

THURSDAY 6 TEACHERS ARE MISSING FROM FACULTY Of Schools Here As Term Slated To Begin Aug. 30

Six of last year's faculty-members will be missing from Prestonsburg's high and grade schools when the 1943-44 term begins Monday, Aug. 30. Ishmael Triplett, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, said Tuesday.

Replacements already are in sight for all these except in the Commercial, Musical and Athletic departments of the high school.

Teachers who have notified the City Board of Education of their intention of remaining out of school this year are Mrs. Jane R. Combs, Mrs. Minnie Grace Sutherland, Mrs. Norcie T. Brown, all of the high school; and Mrs. M. J. McMillan of the Music department, and Miss Jessie Pitts, third grade teacher.

Employment of Miss Linda Stephens and Mrs. Zella S. Hensley will fill the vacancies created by the resignations of Mrs. Combs and Mrs. Sutherland. Mrs. Hensley's teaching post is expected to be filled without trouble.

Bill (Eck) Branch, last year's athletic coach, is now in the military service, and no coach has been found to replace him. Football already has been written of here as a war game, and no coach has been found to replace him.

GOP 'WRITE-IN' VOTE, VOIDED

Attempts of Republican voters in Magisterial District No. 2 of this county to nominate a candidate for constable by "write-in" votes were declared of no effect by the Assistant-Attorney-General Guy H. Herdman.

Mr. Herdman added, however, that "write-in" candidates can be elected in a general election.

Names of John Robinson, Tom Rediff and John D. Prater were written on the Republican ballot, and Robinson with 25 votes had apparently won the nomination until the "write-in" method was declared illegal in a primary election.

"There is no authority for a voter writing in the name of a candidate on a primary ballot and nominating him," Herdman wrote.

With Only Sons In Service, Floyd Couple Contributes To "Honor Roll" Here

Mr. and Mrs. Tandy Cecil, of Banner, have two sons in the armed forces. The eldest, Billy, is with the signal corps in the southwest Pacific; the youngest, Fred, is with the infantry in North Africa where he has been action on four occasions.

Contributing $25 to the fund being raised by Floyd Post, American Legion, to finance construction here of an Honor Roll building in the armed forces, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil and their youngest son being forced to swim more than a mile before being rescued after a ship had been torpedoed.

"But he never gave up," they write, "therefore we cannot give up and not contribute to it we are in behalf of their honor as well as that of other Floyd county boys."

Wednesday afternoon, the fund had reached only $25, but officials of the Legion Post believe hundreds of other parents and relatives of Floyd county boys in the armed forces will do their part at once to make the Honor Roll possible.

'Washing Machine Charlie' Yet Flying, Says Floyd Vet

"Washing Machine Charlie" was still operating over Guadalcanal when Sgt. Silas Deroussé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deroussé, of Sloan, near here, left that American floatplane in the war against the Japs.

"He was operating when we went in on November 4 last year and was still going when I left March 1, this year," Deroussé said. "He usually came out for refueling."

Soldier, Hart in Wreck, Taken to Danville, Ky.

His left arm broken near the shoulder and the elbow crushed in an automobile wreck on a curve of the May Trail at Sugar Loaf, six miles from Banner, Thursday night, last week, Cpl. Everett E. Osborne, 21, Camp Ellis, Ill., was removed from the Prestonsburg General hospital Monday and taken to a government-operated hospital at Danville, Ky., for further treatment.

It was at first feared amputation of the soldier's arm would be necessary.

HUGE QUOTA TO DRAIN 'BARREL'

Drafting of Fathers Seen by Officials In Two Months

Floyd county's quota of 452 selections to be called into service next month will require the closing of the "barrel" for all the county's single men, married men without children and men who became fathers after Pearl Harbor, it is believed.

The county's quota largest since the war began, was destined to place Floyd county's two draft boards on an equal footing with other draft boards of the county for October Mississippi demands all exhausted of eligible unmarried men, children of single men or non-Pearl Harbor fathers. The only single-man source of supply after October will be found in the youths who register for selective service as they become 18 years old.

Draft Board 44 will send 212 selections to Huntington September 24 for the first induction examination, and on the same day Board 45 will send 30. Four colored selections to be sent on September 24 and 143 a week later, September 29 and 143 a week later, October 6.

Re-classification of married men without children has been under way here for the past fortnight. Official word that were pre-Pearl Harbor fathers must expect to be called into service the moment the long standing son attains the induction is received Oct. 1. A week later Saturday night with this quota the Chairman Paul W. McMillan of the War Relocation Commission.

Estimated that the quota may not be met by making the contribution to the quota.

TREATMENT OF WATER

Blackened by Cool Advised; Garrett's Supply Affected

Treatment of cool-blackened water before it is turned from the Floyd County Corporation's coal-washing plant at the Westland into Beaver Creek has been asked by State Board of Health authorities. The board of health authorities at the coal-washing plant of the corporation, which is located on the bank of Beaver Creek, near Middle Creek, said that the water from the plant is blackened by the coal-washing process and that the water is being used for drinking purposes.

A comparatively inexpensive treatment plant, probably a settling tank and a filter, has been suggested for the company's operation. This plan is similar to that proposed months ago by E. R. Burke, Prestonsburg, when he was district commissioner after seeking purification of Beaver Creek to protect fish in the stream.

A solution of the water problem of the town of Middle Creek, ten miles from here, may lie in procuring water from the locking river valley approximately three miles away, and installation of a well of a purification plant. Several wells drilled there have failed to provide sufficient water, an aquifer is being drilled. Meanwhile, water is being bought here and taken by truck to the town.

Plans of the next several days have formed water-starved livestock on farms in most sections of the county, County Agent S. L. Ligon said.

A representative of the bureau of food and drugs was working in the county of God Church, West Prestonsburg, the Rev. Clyde Church, Swords Creek, Va., and the Rev. C. R. Pannin officiating. Burial will be held at West Prestonsburg under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

A GOOD WORD

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT
Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church

You know that the facts brought out by the enforced physical examination of our young men at the opening of the World War concerning the prevalence of disease alarmed and started a great crusade over the nation to try to check the awful scourge of venereal disease. What was then in reality a small part of what the present examinations are revealing.

When the nation is speaking out and passing out warning signs everywhere in public places where men gather and are sending out loads of literature to young men, telling them of the awful results of these diseases, it is high time that the ministry and school teachers and parents begin to say something and speak plainly to the young men. I doubt not that some person will say, "Well, I do not want my children to read such stuff." Now let me tell you, and don't you get me wrong, that these are the very things from a vulgar source. If you think I am not informed about this matter, then you get around where the children are playing and listen to their conversation.

I know some one has begun to say, "What has this to do with the church?" Well, it has to do with the first place you hear but little about these places and vices and so few ever try to know what is taking place where the children are playing. Is the one great breeding place, the incubator of immorality, and immorality is the breeding place of the worst of the diseases of the body and of their suffering and shame. If you want evidence that is unimpeachable, read what the public health service has to say on this subject. Here is a quotation from one of our papers: "The United States Public Health Service offers to co-operate with the dancing teachers and fully than it has already done. The Surgeon-General has been asked to put medical warnings on the teachers' dance reform literature, which goes to high schools and reaches thousands of young folk."

Why is the government so careful and anxious to issue these warnings concerning venereal diseases on all of the dance reform literature which goes to the high schools and reaches thousands of young folk? YOU KNOW WHY. It is because the government and the public health service know that the danger among the youth of this nation is the place where much of immorality is born, and there is where these diseases have their great breeding place. If there were a wild fire running wild in the community you would not let your young people out until it was disposed of. Every parent should rise up and stand against the things which are worse than wild fires.

I notice in the Floyd County Times of the week of July 13, that some one has some kindly thing to say about these articles, and that they commend our County Judge, Mr. J. B. Clarke, for his part in doing his duty as a public officer. It is good and right that he should be commended and every good father and mother should tell him of it and stand by him in enforcing the law. But Mr. Hill is not doing what he is doing for the purpose of having some one say nice things about him for that purpose. It is to arouse the people to a sense of their responsibility for better citizenship in this better country in which to live.

I would like to say to all of you who have children, whether you make a profession of religion or not, if you care for the life or the health of your children you should do something about it. But you say that these things do not exist here in this community. If you feel that way about it, then just inform yourself about what is going on. Ask your family physician. He may not tell you all that he knows, but he will tell you enough to convince you. If these doctors were to tell all that they know about it, there would be one of two things take place—either they would have to leave the community or else they would be a different person who would. Don't tell me I do not know what I am talking about for since I have been writing these articles a man came to me and confessed the kind of a life he was living and what it had led him to. You need not ask his name, for he has not told me his name, and I do not intend to tell it. I have the statement from a reputable minister who was the pastor of the church a year ago some other ministers and myself were called to the courthouse with two judges and the prosecuting attorney to discuss these matters as they existed in that community and we tried to find out what could be done. I do not quite here to be said that I found upon investigation, but it was appalling and they gave the name of the town. I will quote this much but omit the name of the city—In this city, within one month, seventeen girls were dismissed from high school to become mothers and forty-two of the young men of that high school were under

Pike County Prepares Local Option Test

Pikeville, Ky., Aug. 14—Pike county will decide at a local option election September 20 whether intoxicating beverages shall be sold within the county's borders.

The order for the election was issued by the fiscal court on a petition by Dr. Virgil H. Moore, pastor of the Methodist church of Pikeville.

The petition bore the signatures of 2,826 persons.

Doctors' care for venereal diseases. By not doing this, my friends, there is corruption all about you. Liquor, fallen women and the dance all go together and there is corruption in the air. The roadhouse and liquor go together and, whether you know it or not, most of these people attending such places take their money there. They cannot purchase it there. (To be continued)

Beginning at a branch; thence up the hill with the McGuire's line to the top of the hill to a marked oak to the John Keel line; thence in weight when you recall such men as Cal Hubbard, Missus, Joe Stydahar, Al Rhoda, Wee Willie, Martin, Turk Edwards and others from the pro ranks.

But these were the pick of a lot that was both massive and active, two elements needed in any professional line.

These can be listed as the gambling mammoths, picked from the entire football map.

But when it comes to average college weights, there were more than enough big men from 30 or 40 years ago—many of them too big for the modern passing game.

Looking Back

Looking back a few decades, I can't recall any heavier squad than Hurry-up! You once had beneath Michigan's banner of Maize and Blue.

They were on hand nearly 40 years ago.

In the hall, at various times, I recall the following feisty husky specimens—

- From 1901 to 1905—Germany Schulz—Center—6 feet 4 inches—340 pounds.
- Curtis—Tackle—320 pounds.
- Ocky Graham—Guard—280 pounds.
- Blackwell—Tackle—315 pounds.
- Neil Snow at about weight 290 and Willie Heston was around 190.

Schulz, who backed up the line and acted as a star and end all over the field, was the most active big man I ever saw. His closest rival was Cal Hubbard.

These days, I see fellows of Princeton, Pitts Ferry of W. and Gordon Brown of Yale, Babe White of Syracuse, and Harry and Al Yale in addition to Michigan's erasing man power.

And no one has ever accused Michigan of playing lightweight years after year.

Rockne's Favorites

Knute Rockne's two favorite Notre Dame teams included no giants. These were the Four Horsemen outfit of the 1920 squad.

I've always thought his Four Horsemen and his Seven Mules were closest to his football goal.

But that day happened to be one of the highest big-time teams football ever knew.

The average weight of the Four Horsemen in the backfield was around 160 pounds.

- Elmer Layden at tackle was 150.
- Harvey Stubbler was 135.
- Crowley and Miller around 180.

Adam Walsh, one of the best centers in the country, was a general neighborhood 180—miller head.

Pounds and Speed

The 1930 Notre Dame team was probably a stronger outfit. It packed many extra pounds—and still had speed.

Joe Savoldi was its biggest back, but after losing Savoldi around mid-season Rock still had Mickey Schwartz, Marty Brill and a few others left—enough to crush a fine Southern California outfit that had taken them to the limit.

Rockne rarely had men in action above 200. He wanted speed, quickness, agility.

My guest here there would be no great weight change in football over a long period of years. But this is still a guess.

Boston college had one of the heaviest teams in the country through 1942, with a massive line, but it did not have the great speed of Holy Cross and Alabama.

Weight in football, is still unimportant compared with speed and quickness.

But that doesn't mean football still can't use a flock of big fellows who know how to move around.

Alvin Hein, Bulldog Turner, Musso, Wilkins, Sydhar, Henry, Blois, or Hubbard.

My guest men always will be the answer to a coach's prayer. And that is true of more sports than football. Speed and size are essential in modern basketball. But there speed is necessary. It's usually the smaller man who fills the bill.

SECOND TRACT

A tract of land lying on Bull Creek in Floyd County and bounded as follows: Commencing at a bench stump on a rock at the foot of the hill, thence to the branch; thence down the branch to the mouth of a hollow on the left hand side of the hill to John Keel land; thence up the fence to two marked sound trees; thence up the hill with the fence to the top of the ridge to the wire fence, a line between George Goodman and Dick Branham; thence down the hill with the fence branch; thence up the hill with the fence to S. P. Davidson's line; thence down the point to a bench stump and rock on a rock and back on the side of the hill; thence with S. P. Davidson's line back to the beginning to a bench stump and rock on the top of the hill; thence the same land conveyed to George Goodman and James Goodman by Dick Branham and Julie Branham by deed bearing date October 28, 1926, recorded in Deed Book 78, at page 569, Floyd County Court Clerk's office.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or a surety, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 30 day of July, 1943.

Editor, The Times: Please, as our boys march off, was what we are doing about it?

Are we able to care, who they are? In prayer, shall we be there for them? ... We believe it the duty of all parents to be equipped with the spirit of Christ to fight the victory battle on our home front.

When we are able to look at the world with a spiritual eye, we see very plainly that the trouble that is coming upon the people is due to their disobedience of God.

McInt was reporting to the content of the War Relocation Authority that the father-draft is unnecessary. He continued in a statement:

The time has come when every father must justify himself in terms of his contribution to the war effort. There is nothing in the Selective Service Act which assumes that fathers should be exempted from the draft by the expense of the war effort.

Lawrence Appleby, executive director of the WMC made the first official admission that unless Congress intervenes, some of the hitherto draft-proof fathers of children born prior to Sept. 18, 1942, are virtually certain to be inducted on October 1.

Appleby made the prediction in a press conference discussion of the new WMC program designed to hold essential workers to war-essential tasks and furnish men needed for the armed services without cutting war production.

THAT NEW RATION BOOK

Uncle Sam is author of the Book of the Month for March. It will be a love affair to develop during an argument with a grocerman.

It will have action, excitement, drama and plenty of mystery. But no romance unless it is possible for a love affair to develop during an argument with a grocerman.

There will be a foreword by the department of justice. And an appendix by the same people.

It will be read by more people than "Gone With the Wind," "Greta Garbo," "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "The Lone Ranger." They will have more irresistible understanding it.

It will be linked up with more battles than "Napoleon's Memoirs" and "The Founding of the West." And it will combine the best features of Burrows's Simple Arithmetic, the Nursery A B C Book and "How to Diet With Federal Cooperation."

Publication date March 1. Available at all rationing boards. And you can't get it through a circulating library, madam.

It's the new 1943 model Point System. It's a book in which the ladies think they had fun with the last book but all they wrestle with this. We intended to have our book editors review it but we found him disqualified. He had just disapproved "Van Loo's Lives" for nine copies of tomatoes and one potato anything in the library for a dozen bottles of catsup.

So we'll have to review it briefly. It's a snappy fast moving thing in old blue, the action revolving around 48 weapons of various vintages ranging from one point to eight. (And no point for goat after touchdown.)

On the old book you could win only on a knockout, but with this one you can win or lose on points.

It's going to complicate life for people who can't count. You can bring along a public accountant but remember, he can't have mustard or jam.

The corner delicatessen store is going to be one place to brush up on your arithmetic. Shopping for groceries wasn't so bad before but from now on it's strictly an upper brackets routine.

Private Turkey Is Lonely. Dear Harriet: Just a quickie to let you know I am okay. But it seemed kind of lonesome here in Africa on account of there is just the army around. No presidents or prime ministers has been here in over two weeks now. There was a report last night a prime minister had been sighted off the coast flying low, but nothing came of it.

Also a rumor that four White House officials had been spotted in the stratosphere between Dakar and here was false. I will write you a long letter tonight.

Love, Oscar. P.S.—Things look better over here. The French generals almost trust each other now.

A coat has been designed with four inside pockets, enclosed in isinglass to hold the social security, draft, gas, ration and other cards which now have to be held around. There are so many cards that it might be easier to make them into a coat and put in a couple of pockets for the pants.

FORCES THAT MUST NOT FAIL

SEATED in your living room beside the comforting light of an electric lamp, you listen to the storm roaring overhead. Should you hear a plane dropping through the thunder, your only concern would be for the safety of the pilot—a whispered prayer that lightning might not strike him down.

For every high in their control rooms in stations throughout our system sit "Load Dispatchers," men who with intense concentration watch the progress of the storm on instrument boards. On them rests a grave responsibility—the responsibility not alone of your comfort and convenience, but of the safety of the lives and death.

Should the storm interrupt the electric power facilities, these dispatchers must be alert to find the way to bring the power to the stricken area. Other dispatchers down the line must pick up the load until finally at the power house idle turbines come to throbbing life.

These dispatchers are only a few of the 271 employees whose responsibility is maintaining this company's service. In the aggregate, this loyal body of men and women represents 1,875 years of experience, an average of almost 7 years for each person employed by the company.

Before the War we had the "know how" and, in these war-times, that is partly the secret of America's Power to Produce. We are proud of our employees and their unceasing efforts to help win Victory.

Reynolds Is Prisoner Of Japs in Philippines, Flood Relatives Learn

A card from the missing soldier was received Monday by his father, Tell friends and relatives here. Am well and uninjured.

"This cannot last forever. I'll see you soon. Keep your chin up. Tell friends and relatives here. Am well and uninjured."

Young Reynolds' last message to relatives was sent from Ft. Stoenburg, P.I., where he was with an army medical detachment. After the last days of American occupation of Corregido the silence clamped down and until this week Reynolds' fate was unknown.

THIS COMMUNITY HAS A SPECIAL WAR JOB

THIS COMMUNITY is on the spot! We are in a pulpwood growing section and there is now a pulpwood shortage. The country needs vast quantities of pulpwood for explosives, rayon parachutes, gas mask filters, shipping containers and a thousand other uses — yet some of the mills that make these things are actually shutting down for lack of wood.

This is a desperate situation—a war emergency. Something must be done QUICKLY!

And only we who live in the pulpwood cutting areas can do anything about it.

This is OUR responsibility.

How the problem can be solved
 Mr. Donald M. Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, gave the key to the solution in the following statement:

"If every one of the more than 3,800,000 farmers in the 27 pulpwood producing states were to devote 3 EXTRA days in 1943 to cutting pulpwood, we could overcome the threatened 2,500,000 cord shortage with wood to spare."

Will you enlist for 3 EXTRA days? If you are now cutting pulpwood part time; if you have cut in the past; or if you have never cut but know how to use an axe and saw, will you pledge 3 EXTRA days (at regular pay) to meet Mr. Nelson's challenge?

Fill in the coupon, Mail it to this newspaper and you will receive the pledge badge which identifies you as a Victory Pulpwood Cutter.

This is a war emergency.
