By all means, let 'em eat cake and candy, too

Nature has her own way of telling us that there is energy in sweets. Today, corn syrup, rich in dextrose, is playing a more important role than ever before in supplying active America with the sugar that gives power to the body and keeps it with sharp.

Candy is part of the field ration and sweets are served generally to our armed forces everywhere. Sweets served in war plants have greatly stepped up human energy and production.

Tremendous quantities of corn syrup are used to make icings, cookies, cakes, candies and pies—a temptingly good—and good for you.

Immense amounts of corn syrup for the army as well as for civilian consumption are produced by the Home of Budweiser. Our Corn Products Division—working entirely apart from the brewery—grew out of the experience that developed from years of laboratory research. The quest for better methods and facilities for brewing the world's most popular beer never ceases.

Budweiser

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glucose, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of Rubber • Aluminum • Manganese • Medicines • Compote Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle foods • Batteries • Paper Soap and textiles—to name a few.

U. K. Fall Term Opens On September 27th

All freshmen and other new students planning to enter the University of Kentucky this fall, are asked to report Friday and Saturday, Sept. 24 and 25, for classification tests and physical examinations prior to the opening of the regular fall quarter which is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 27, according to an announcement issued Saturday by Dr. Len Chamberlain, University dean and registrar.

The morning of Monday, Sept. 27, has been reserved for advisory conferences for freshmen students, and that afternoon freshmen will classify, and will register according to an alphabetical schedule. Tuesday will be devoted to registration and classification of upper classmen, also according to an alphabetical schedule. All academic departments of the University will operate this fall in full scope, and a complete teaching staff will be available as in previous years. Although there will be approximately 1,200 soldier-trainees on the campus, enrolled in the army specialized training program, the University will operate for its civilian students as in the past.

State War Fund Goal Set at $1,419,300

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 23 (Sp.)—The Kentucky War Fund announced this week a goal of $1,419,300 to be reached Oct. 15 to 30. The money will be for services to men and women in the armed forces and merchant marine, recreational, spiritual and educational aid to prisoners of war, medical supplies, clothing and food for the peoples of the United Nations and to refugees.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, campaign chairman for Kentucky, stated that the drive will give every Kentuckian an opportunity to share his material goods with those rising their lives on the military and United Nations' fronts.

"A thousand services... a million kindnesses" are wrapped up in a single gift to the United War Fund," Dr. McVey said. "It will cover a federation of agencies stretching around the world and will reach into the lives of our fighting men, our fighting allies and their families."

"Farmers in Breckinridge county have ordered 25 carloads of feed wheat, corn being practically impossible to buy locally."

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor)

Well, it has taken me almost eight years to convince the people that "Happy" Chandler is just a cheap 2nd politician. He's over in March Africa galivanting around, supposed to be inspecting, but what in the hell does he know about anything to "inspector"? Our state is just 50 per cent in the war effort with him as its Senator.

Yoo-hoo!—hello, Bob Hicken's how's peanuts? Since you're the nominee, don't let that elephant eat up your stock. I'll be up next weekend to try out your peanuts. Peanuts for votes.

What's this I hear about Dennis Warrick the demon checkswoman, winning a bucket of tomatoes?

We must be the Japs to speed up their shipbuilding or our navy gunners all get rusty from lack of practice.

It makes me sore to hear any grumbling about rationing, taxation, etc. We have all got to sacrifice to win this war. Thomas Jefferson once said, "The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants." The Axis knows that our tree of liberty is being refreshed and they will learn that American, can and will survive. It is not to be kept in the ground where our Founding Fathers planted it and I imagine that our Founding Fathers would have countered our rationed fare a banquet. We should be thankful we have as much as we do—so just keep your mouth shut and pull in your ears. The government might draft jackasses.

Why all this yelling about a shortage of butter? It's easy to make at home—all you need is a cow and a churn.

I notice in the papers where some scientist said, "Old maid is particular." I guess that's the reason they're old maids.

A fellow asked me the other day if there was any difference in the school children of today and in my day. Well, in my high school days the young ladies blushed when embarrassed. Now they're embarrassed when they blush.

I see in the papers where Missouini means "Little Donkey." Just a braying jackass that lost his voice and his operator. He once said he'd be Caesar or bust. He didn't get to be Caesar.

Boys, make no mistake about P. D. R. He will go down in history as our greatest President. He took over ship of state when it was floundering in the worst since the Civil War and he brought it and all of us through safely. Historians in 2043 will write that Franklin Roosevelt presented a revolution in 1933 and saved American democracy. We wouldn't have American democracy to fight for, if it hadn't been for P. D. R. In fact, I am firm in my belief that he is the logical choice for a fourth term. He is the only man capable of dealing with Churchill and Stalin at the peace table.

There's wheat on the Broadbent farms in Trigg county made 35 bushels to the acre on tobacco land, and as high as 25 bushels on corn land.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS Booby Trap Detector

In the snow, in the sand, on the beaches, on the roads, in the woods, everywhere the Axis soldiers hide "booby traps" to slow the movement of our incoming fighting men of the United Nations. The detector does the same work on land as the mine sweeper does at sea.

Like buying War Bonds, the soldier operating the detectors will never know just how much they have aided in the success of their campaign, but he knows his work is necessary and must be accomplished. If more Americans on the home front will come to realize that the success of our War Bond campaigns will be assured.

School Speech Contest Planned by KEA

A state-wide speaking contest sponsored by the Kentucky Education Association will be inaugurated in the schools when the fall term begins, the board of directors declared last week at a meeting in Louisville.

Finals will be held in January. W. P. King, K. E. A. secretary, said subject of the speeches will be taken from the time bulletins prepared, printed and distributed by the K. E. A. staff. The project is a part of the public campaign to acquaint the public with the schools, looking toward improvement of conditions.

In his report to the board, King listed the bulletins as follows: G. E. A. Ten-Year Record and Legislative Program; School Money; Teachers' Salaries; Teacher Shortages; What Happens When Schools Close?; Remedies; What Other States are Doing to Meet the Emergency in Schools; Rank; Federal Aid.

Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State Teachers' College, attending his first board meeting as K. E. A. president, suggested that great moral and social advances were made during depression, added: "We may be able to do more for Kentucky schools during this year than could be accomplished during 10 years in ordinary times."

He pointed out that the new teachers' code had been drafted and that the school fund per capita had been almost doubled during and since the depression.

By John W. Fowler, state superintendent of public instruction, said a survey is being made in every county in the state to determine the effect of the teacher shortage; and that all district conferences will follow at which recommendations will be made to cope with the situation.

The making of laprobes for army hospitals and canning demonstrations were primary interests of Meter county homemakers' clubs the past month.

FDR says: I hope Americans will figure out for themselves additional payroll savings.

I write letters in the nearly-dark

THIS is part of an actual letter from a soldier overseas: "It's not the big things that you miss out here. It's little things. Like street noises. Or an electric lamp. Where we there ain't no such. Since I'm on nearly-dark, I write letters in the nearly-dark. Funny, how you can miss a common, ordinary, electric light bulb." Here at home, folks take electricity for granted. The fact that you do take electric service for granted is a tribute to the men and women who supply it. They've made it dependable, and they've made it cheap. The average American family gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did fifteen years ago. Soldier, we're sorry we can't send you electricity over there. But we are pouring power into industry over here, so that you can have the tanks, planes, ships and guns you need. . . . The electric companies under business management are in the war—as you are—to dispel the darkness of state slavery!

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING

By E. F. EPLING I like others no doubt, 'ose sight of little things, sometimes, the real something that's helping to make possible the achieving of a bigger undertaking.

A little acknowledgement of thanks for a little kindness shown someone; and you'd thought it was so little.

My mother, aged 86, dropped in for a short visit with me. It was for a couple of hours only. This was better than not young her at all.

I've neglected going to see her, up in Pike county. It has never occurred to me, as it has her, until now that it is her greatest privilege on earth to see her children again.

Little things mean a lot sometimes.

The iron and steel scrap you see, just to mention Prestonsburg, would turn into big ammunition for your defenders who have taken your place on the battle line.

If there is something you've not turned loose of, something your country needs, then it can be said—"That art the man."

None of us are doing all we can. I'm guilty. But it's true and sad. Floyd county is getting more and more into selfish complacency.

The food stamps I don't use help my country a little.

A little assistance towards the building of the "Honor Roll" will help, indirectly, where you mention this after completion to your boys in service.

College Football and 1943

What will happen to the colleges and college football this year?

In the first place, this is a matter entirely up to the war department. In the second place, it is also a matter that interests many millions.

Here is a tip from inside sources in the war department: In 1943 we will take over 200 of the 18 and 19-year-old boys will be assigned to this class. They will be drafted, but the pick of the draft will be given over to ROTC training. These men will be trained for officers, especially in the flying corps, where we are looking for at least 70,000 additional fliers. This is a different sort of war.

The only colleges and universities that can get by are those picked for war training. After 1942, the war department will have full charge, not college presidents, who are in complete accord with the war department program.

The New Program It is my belief that so far as 1943 is concerned, football should be given first place in any physical training program.

Football isn't war—but it is the closest thing we have to war. Football is the best training for war. As references I'll give you Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Capt. Mike Moran of the good ship Benet, who sank six Jap warships in 22 minutes.

Both are staunch believers in football values for war. But what sort of college football program will we have for 1943?

Only an intramural program. In this respect they are 100 per cent wrong.

On both the physical training and the morale sides, football—or any other sport—needs outside competition.

Men in the service know this much better than head men in Washington. These servicemen want to beat somebody else—not themselves.

There are too many in Washington who don't happen to understand this psychological angle—which is an important one.

There is no way that they can get close enough to millions of servicemen, who know what they want.

The Needed Program Granting the fact that football is a badly needed ingredient in our national training program—which has sane person denials—there should be outside competition at close traveling range.

There should be no faraway inter-sectional games. But there are a number of colleges who are fairly close neighbors, where there is a homespun rivalry, where traveling distances are not a factor.

The East can play against the East—the South against the South—the Midwest against the Midwest and the Southwest against the West only against the Far West.

Until the war is over, national championships are entirely out of the question. Long trips are out of order. Inter-sectional games are out of order.

Very few people expect sports as usual. They know that far-reaching changes are inevitable.

But it so happens this country has teams in every section that can play among themselves on a high basis of skill with a neighborhood rivalry that is far more interesting than any outside challenge.

For example—Harvard, Yale and Princeton—Georgia, Georgia Tech, Alabama and Auburn—Boston College and Holy Cross—Army and Navy—Southern Cal. and UCLA—Stanford and California—the Texas teams—and on.

With the war department taking over so many colleges and universities, their major mistake would be to abolish football.

Their second major mistake would be to abolish all outside competition. They should let these colleges carry on with what they have left. We are thinking now only in terms of physical condition, competitive training and morale.

These are factors that can't be ignored, even by those in charge at Washington who claim to have more important matters to take about.

For practically this entire college enrollment will be in war service training, only waiting the call to active duty.

Magnificent Job The services are doing a magnificent job in maintaining physical fitness—army, navy, marines and coast guard. They are giving millions the chance to box, swim, wrestle and jump.

This same program should be carried through for the remainder of the nation—for the kids coming up and for the older men who have yet to be called. We have had one out of two much on the outstanding few, who needed this training less than the others.

Floyd Sailor's Ship Defies 2 Torpedoes, Bombing Attacks

The unmanned ship Homer J. Tucker, former Banner boy, now of the U.S. navy, is riding these days, must be one tough homie or hompess.

The Floyd sailor son of Mrs. Josephine Hill Hall, formerly of Banner but now a resident of Cleveland, O., writes his aunt, Mrs. Fred Workman, of Allen, that his ship during the Sicily action was bombed three times and torpedoes twice—but they didn't do us very much damage. . . . Once when we were attacked coming back we got a destroyer and two days later we got shot about it in two or three months.

Moreover, his ship brought back in addition to its regular complement of officers and men 400 casualties and about 800 Italian prisoners.

"I think," he writes, "the prisoners are going to Camp Breckinridge, Ky. . . . We were on the beach three days. The fellows in the Third Beach Battalion made the invasion. I sure wish we could have been in on it. It must have been fun. They say the Italians surrendered by the hundreds every time they got a chance. Our boys even turned some of the prisoners loose to go get their friends who wanted to surrender, too."

called. There also will be "several thousands" whose deferment periods have expired, and many of these, likewise, will be called up for service.

Local boards throughout the state are now engaged in re-classifying fathers and those in non-deferable occupations will be the first to go. Local boards for the August and September calls was insufficient to meet the quota.

Seven out of every 100 men in the hitherto draft-proof pool of fathers may expect to be in uniform by the end of the year, Gen. Hershby said. Actually, as many as 21 out of every 100 may expect to make the trip from their local boards to military centers, he added, but many are likely to be rejected as not physically fit for the life of a serviceman.

Hershby's figures were contained in a letter sent to 8,500 local boards explaining why the ban on drafting pre-World War I fathers, except those in non-deferable work and therefore subject to induction at any time, had been lifted effective October 1.

Since he put the total number of draft age 18-37 fathers in non-agricultural work at 6,553,000, Hershby's figures showed approximately seven out of every 100 of them can be expected to be in uniform before the end of 1943. Hershby said 977,000 men would have to be inducted between October 1 and January 1 to meet estimated army and navy calls. Inductions from last July 1 to October 1 would total 988,000, making the aggregate of inductions for the last half of this year 1,973,000.

From the 1,566,000 non-fathers in IA on July 1, he said, 783,000 should be qualified for induction and another 644,000 can be obtained among the non-fathers now in 4F and occupationally deferred in 2A and 3B classifications, making 1,427,000 non-fathers to meet calls for 1,973,000 men.

The shortage of 446,000 must be made up with fathers, Hershby said, adding these observations:

"We have 2,976,000 4Fs. We are constantly reworking that group and many are inducted every month. The possibility of recovery, however, from class 4Fs is not great in the light of present physical standards of the army and navy.

"Most of these men will remain in class 4F until the present physical standards are changed by the army and navy.

"There are 1,448,000 deferred because of agricultural activities. These deferments have been made pursuant to the act of Congress, and while reviews of such deferments may lead to the re-classification of some individuals, it is obvious that our deficit cannot be met from those now deferred for agricultural activities if food production is to be maintained.

"Those occupationally deferred because of their work in the war effort total 1,373,000. Many of the men so deferred must for the time being continue their work in the building of ships, tanks, guns and planes. Many are highly skilled and irreplaceable in the present tight labor market. Even if we took all of them it is doubtful whether more than 683,000 would be actually available for military service after physical examination. This number would be little more than complete the calls through January 1, 1944.

"It therefore appears that the only large deferred pool remaining from which men can be called is the group of fathers, numbering 6,559,000.

000. The fundamental issue is not whether we are to draft fathers but whether, in the consideration of the war effort, we will call those men least valuable to the war effort.

"It is clear that if a pre-World War I father now becomes employed in a war plant he may be considered for occupational deferment. . . . In view of the fact that replaceability has become extremely important in tight labor areas, local boards will undoubtedly give thorough consideration to the occupational deferment of fathers making a substantial contribution to the war effort.

"We have but one alternative: To complete our calls by taking fathers as they may be needed after all other available men have been exhausted.

"Occupational deferment problems are going to be troublesome but the system will meet its responsibilities in providing the necessary deferments so as to insure the food, ships, guns, tanks and planes that are necessary to the millions of men already in the armed forces.

"Our responsibility is first to those we have sent to war and we must not fail them.

"The decisions will be difficult and many times unpleasant, but we can bear the burden, knowing that these decisions will bring the end we are seeking—the early and complete surrender of our enemies."

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

★ FROM YOUR PULPWOOD COMMITTEE ★

THIS Committee is starting a drive to cut more pulpwood trees. The shortage is serious . . . and pulpwood is urgently needed for everything from blood plasma containers to parachutes . . . from shell cases to airplane parts . . . from gas mask filters to explosives.

This is a challenge to everyone of us in this community. We must not let our boys down. 3 EXTRA days' work are little to ask when our boys are out there giving their lives for their country.

Our Government is asking every able-bodied woodcutter and farmer to pledge 3 extra work days this year (at regular pay) to cut pulpwood . . . 2,500,000 extra cords are needed quickly.

Enlist today in this drive. Wear the button that shows you are in this fight. This is one way this community can help win this war.

Come to Committee headquarters or get in touch with any of these men. And do it quickly.

This pulpwood shortage is a national war emergency.
