This Town-- That World

QUICK--THE SNUFF!
"Precher" Smiley, a veteran of hundreds of marriages, was stuck and he knew it. And he wasn't taking any chances. So when he addressed the bride in a marriage ceremony at the courthouse Tuesday, he said, "Do you, whatever your name is, take this man by whom you hold the right hand," etc. Which was the better part of valor, for the radiant bride's last name was Wojciechowski.

SMILE, FODNER.
WHEN YOU SAY THAT
Some of my best friends--cousins--are Republicans. One of these boys got such a laugh out of this one that I'll repeat it here for the rest of 'em.

Well--the young man was introducing the new deacon to his father who was a bit on the deaf side. "Father, this is our new deacon."
"Huh, what say? Say he's a New Dealer?"
"No, no, father. He's the son of a bishop."
"The old man bobbed his head. "Yes, sire, son--keered. They all are!"

ONE--COUNT 'EM
Don't tell the Kentucky Press Association, but the boys seem to have picked a lemon when they awarded THE TIMES that prize for an editorial. When the editorial first appeared in this paper only one reader--Porter Mayo--commented it.

WRITER SAYS HE WALKED 'ROAD TO HELL' WITH FLOYD COUNTY SOLDIER IN ITALY

Telling of a tour of the Cassino front, long weeks before its fall to the Allies, Graham Hovey, International News Service writer, says he walked "down Highway 6 to hell tonight" with two American soldiers, one of whom was Cpl. Earl Hall, 22, son of John A. Hall, of Hite.

Cpl. Hall, a jeep driver with the army engineers, has been on the front for 13 months. Hovey's story tells how he, Hall and a jeep driver with the army engineers, has been on the front for 13 months. FLOYD COUNTY BOND DRIVE IS BEGUN

Caddy To Address Miners at Wayland In UMWA Bond Rally

Post-invasion activities on the Home Front began Monday morning on Floyd county's south $20,000 quota in the Fifth War Loan drive. Reports on the work being done in the scattered communities of the county were few, but County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., chairman of the drive, said volunteer bond salesmen and saleswomen were working in all parts of the county.

Mrs. Guy Horn, invalid wife of Floyd county's jailer, was the first Prestonsburg resident to buy a Bond Monday morning. From money she had saved during her illness she bought a $100 Bond from County Judge Hill. Her son, Joe Wheeler, is guarding German prisoners at an Arkansas prison camp.

Sam Caddy, president of District 30, United Mine Workers of America, will launch the miners' bond drive at Wayland Sunday afternoon. All local unions are being notified of the meeting and of Mr. Caddy's scheduled address.

Miners of the district have been asked by UMWA officials to buy Bonds to the limit of their ability. Ologora Coal Company at Oio, this county, led off the Bond drive with a $25,000 purchase of Bonds. Largest individual purchaser to date is the current drive is County Clerk A. B. McCord with $10,000 worth of Bonds.

BOARD SEEKS SCHOOL BIDS

Plans 10-Room Brick To Supplant School Destroyed by Fire

Bids are being asked by the Floyd County Board of Education on the construction of a 10-room brick building to supplant the 16-room frame school building destroyed by fire at Weekaburg in January.

Plans for the structure include an auditorium to seat approximately 400 persons.

Bids on the work will be opened June 23. A WPB priority rating required for the undertaking was requested last week.

Says Need Increases For Surgical Dressings

"The invasion merely accentuated the army's urgent need for surgical dressings, and we still need more and more of them," said a spokesman for the thousands who will fall wounded in the long fight ahead.

Lillian Keenon, director of Red Cross surgical dressing work, said this week and at the same time urged them not to falter in their enthusiasm.

A new surgical dressing room, under the direction of David, makes four points available to women of the county who want to make a contribution to the country's fighting men and return home Saturday. Mrs. Davis and Nora Ann spent the week-end with the Clarks.

Penicillin Being Used In Treatment of Two At P'burg General

The Prestonsburg General hospital announced Tuesday that it has a limited supply of penicillin, the medical profession's newest wonder drug which has achieved cures in which the sulfu drugs have failed.

Two patients, one suffering from peritonitis, the other an old operative case, are being given penicillin. It was said at the hospital.

The supply on hand here was procured through a hospital named as a penicillin distribution depot. Nearest hospitals distributing penicillin at this time are the Palmetto hospital and the Methodist hospital at Pikeville.

Support the Invasion

"I looked around. We seemed to be in some kind of a square. There seemed to be one fairly intact building on the left and nothing but occasional white walls anywhere else. The bulk of Mount Cassino loomed up--seemed only a few yards off."

"A few tanks and a handful of soldiers were standing guard as stretcher bearers labored through the rubble with their burdens."

"We waded through plaster and mud to a cavity hole almost tripped over the body of a soldier near the entrance. Then we got on our hands and knees and crawled through a tunnel. My steel helmet scraped the tunnel roof, but I don't think it was that sound that made shivers run up my spine."

"We had to crawl back again and by the light of a lantern saw that we were in the cellar of a ruined building. Wounded men lay all over the place. Most of them were smoldering casualties. They smoked and said little or nothing. It's true that wounded men don't cry."

Mrs. Sarah Stewart Dies at Home Here In Her 90th Year

Mrs. Sarah Martin Stewart, wife of H. E. Stewart and one of Prestonsburg's oldest women, died Monday afternoon at her home here at the age of 89.

Mrs. Stewart's death followed a few days' illness and was directly attributed to a heart attack.

A daughter of the late Simpson and Betty Turner Martin, she was born March 23, 1855 and was a member of one of the section's best-known families. She had resided in Prestonsburg since 1920, and was deeply revered by all who knew her.

Surviving her are three daughters and one son: Mrs. Cordella Whittier, Prestonsburg; Mrs. J. T. Cannon, Maywood, Ill.; Mrs. Lizzie Mellon, Ashland, and C. C. Stewart whose address is unknown. Funeral rites were conducted from the residence on Highland avenue Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating, and burial was made in the Porter cemetery under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

JULY DRAFT QUOTA, LOW

County Draft Boards Told To Send Only 22; Regulations Changed

Floyd county's induction quota for July was announced this week as 22--two from Draft Board 44 here, 20 from Board 45 at Martin.

These 22 men will enter the armed forces at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, the Ft. Thomas induction center having been closed.

A new Selective Service regulation, announced over the week-end, provides that selectees no longer may choose a branch of service, that they will be placed in a common pool and placed in the army, navy or other service branch according to needs of the various departments for manpower.

Another regulation also provides that men already accepted at induction centers for future call may be inducted without another pre-induction examination, even though not called for 90 days or more.

RETURNS TO WHEELWRIGHT

Mrs. Stephen W. Clark and daughters, Sally and Jane, of Wheelwright, have concluded a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Davis and returned here Saturday. Mrs. Davis and Nora Ann spent the week-end with the Clarks.

Civic, Professional Leaders Hail Hospital Promise at Banquet Here

Prestonsburg, Vicinity Suggested As Location Of District Sanitorium

Promise of immediate fulfillment of Eastern Kentucky's dream of a tuberculosis sanitorium was hailed here Friday night by civic and professional men and civic leaders.

At the same time business and professional men of Prestonsburg and vicinity, who gathered here for a luncheon at a suitable site for the Big Sandy district hospital which would serve a population of 270,000 in 18 communities.

County Attorney W. W. Burchett, who presided, appointed a committee composed of Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department, B. P. Coombs and J. D. Harkins, Sr., Prestonsburg attorneys, to suggest Prestonsburg to the Governor's looking commission as the logical site for the Big Sandy district hospital and suggested a survey of the advantages the town would offer to mines and industry. Burchett cited the industrial and financial resources of Floyd county, which include 4,000 producing gas wells, 26 major coal mines and $150,000 railroad tax income, fifth highest in the state among the counties.

Edward Harris, Victim At Home Near Lancer After Long Illness

James Edward Harris, 75 years old, died Monday at his home at Lancer following an illness of several months of pneumonia.

A son of the late K. P. and Lulu Harmon Harris, he was born in Virginia but spent practically all his life in this county, his parents moving here when he was a child. He had been a member of the Methodist Church for years.

Surviving are his widow Mrs. Jane Goble Harris, one son, Russell, and two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Kendrick and Mrs. Sallie Goble, all of Lancer. One brother John Harris, of Lancer, and three sisters, Mrs. Jane Clark, Auxier, Mrs. Mary Ward and Mrs. Ella Harris, both of Lancer, also survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Isaac Stratton and C. P. Conn officiating. Burial in the Harris cemetery on Brandy Keg was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

TIMES WINS KPA AWARD

Salvation Army Prize Received for Editorial On Religious Subject

THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES editorial, "For Germans and Americans Alike," was adjudged at the Kentucky Press Association meeting at Mammoth Cave, Ky., last week, the best editorial in the state. The award was received by the editor, J. B. Bennett, at the meeting.

The winning editorial appeared in THE TIMES edition of April 13 and was based on the story of an American army chaplain on the Italian front reading the Easter Message over a public address system to his own soldiers and to the enemy.

Headed the list of awards to Kentucky newspapers sponsored by the Kentucky Press Association was the Lyon County Herald, Edgewood, judged the "best all-around work" for 1944. Graham M. Prady, publisher of the paper, was awarded the Kentucky Post trophy for his achievement.

Bennett Boach, of the Shelter News, Shelbyville, was awarded the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times trophy for the best news story.

For the second time Peadar recorded his name on the Ben Cogle Memorial Cup when the Princeton Leader won first place in the contest for the best editorial page.

The Paris Kentuckian-Citizen was announced as having published the best editorial--"Bourbon County Bans L. S. Times," written by Mrs. Helen Hitchcock.

COURT TO BUY ROAD GRADER

WPB Approval Only Hicth As Rural Highway Dept. Assistance Promised

One of the 22 highway patrol graders released for sale over the nation will be purchased by Floyd county if its needs will qualify it for WPB priority rating message. For such purchase, it was announced following Monday's fiscal court session here.

The grader, which can be operated by one man, would cost the nation around $7,000 complete. A representative of the rural highway department promised that the department would pay half the cost of the machine, and the court quickly agreed to amend its contract with the rural highway administration to make this bid possible.

Officials predict that with the new equipment Floyd road surfaces can be kept smooth or level. The grader will also do light ditch work.

Members of the fiscal court expressed the belief that the county's need for improved roads in the coal fields will qualify it with the WPB for purchase of the machinery.

SON OF FORMER FLOYD COUNTY TEACHER, NATION'S YOUNGEST AIRCRAFT RADIOMAN

Probably the youngest person in the United States to be a licensed operator of an aircraft radio telephone is 12-year-old Ralph L. Fairchild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Fairchild, Cincinnati, O., and a Fairchild Sr. son.

A seventh grade pupil at Mt. Washington school in Cincinnati, the youth recently received a radio license through his act as a result of his ambition to operate an aircraft transmitter while flying with his father.

The youngster's father, a former Floyd county teacher, is evening principal at Central Vocational high school, Cincinnati, and commander of the Lantern and Civilian patrol, an auxiliary of the army air forces. An aviation enthusiast for years, he has taught aeronautics in the Cincinnati schools.

Except for assistance from his science and mathematics teacher, young Fairchild did all the work himself necessary to qualify for license. His mother is the former Mrs. Mercedes Piggman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Piggman, Ives, Knott county.

WRITS ACCUSE OFFICER; MINE STRIKE ENDED

Grand Jury To Hear Miner's Allegations; Strikers Are Fined

The Prince's Elkhorn Coal Company strike at Daviess ended Sunday, all but three or four miners were back at work--and yet the alleged grievances which caused the company's 170 workers to quit May 29 were unsettled.

Prior to the return to work action was taken by Roy Hammons, the miner whose arrest led to the strike against Special Officer Elton Kendrick who struck Hammons with a revolver while making the arrest. Hammons swore out Hammons named the officer on assault and battery and false arrest charges. Kendrick executed $500 bond on each count and waived the case to the grand jury.

At Friday's pay-day, checks of miners were $20 short, this amount being each 10 days of the strike--having been deducted in size from each striker. The strike had been declared unauthorized by UMWA officials and remainder in fines due by a portion of the miners will be collected at the next pay-day.

The return to work followed a conference of miners' representatives with Caddy, district UMWA president in Lexington, Friday. Caddy is said to have told the men to return to work, repeating the last condition which he had by telegram a few days earlier.

Meanwhile, Kendrick remains special officer at Daviess. The miners' union has not indicated.

"Twenty more will come out in this case," Hammons told THE TIMES Sunday.

MISSING MAN FOUND HANGED

Daniels Creek Resident Believed Suicide; Body Found After 3 Days

Missing since Tuesday morning, last week, a 42-year-old George Hunt was found last Thursday hanged from a tree, a few hundred feet from the Daniels Creek home of his brother-in-law, Cleveland Lewis.

Authorities held that he was a suicide.

Hunt apparently died of a broken neck. A chain around his neck had broken in the family garage, a branch of a beech tree and its length was said to have permitted his feet to touch the ground. No brother-in-law of his was present, although one neighbor quoted Hunt as saying he intended to hang himself.

Hunt was never married. He was a son of the late James and Melinda Crum Hunt. He is survived by two brothers and two sisters, John Hunt, of the Daniels Creek home; Mrs. Julia Garrett, Ives; and Mrs. Sallie Adams, Detroit, Michigan. Funeral rites were postponed Friday at the residence in the family home at the mouth of Daniels Creek. The Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating, and burial was made under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Begin Week's Service At Katy Friend

A week's service will begin June 17 at the Katy Friend school and will be conducted by the Rev. Marshall Cook and the Rev. Roy Bowen. This service will continue till June 23, when the Floyd County Prewell Bright's Conference will convene at the same place. Everyone's service will be a part of the service.

Hospital Would Serve Population of 270,000 In Eighteen Counties

Representative W. G. Biggers, an original sponsor of the bill, and Representative Jerry F. Howell were cheered when they arrived from Frankfurt in the midst of the meetings.

Dr. Carl Norfesi, Somerset, who came here with Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, representing the Kentucky Medical Society committee on the bill, said, "Through the fine persistence of our governing bodies today, this occasion has changed from an appeal to a jubilee meeting. We have assurance from both the Governor and the Legislature that next week will provide the appropriations requirements. On June 13 the Governor appoints his commission to select the sites for the five sanatoria."

Dr. E. M. Howard, Harlan, president of the State Board of Health, said, "It is a rare tribute to the medical profession, for the Legislature and the Governor and get complete action on this bill, motivated only for the interest of humanity. His doctors could so direct to the Legislature and Governor and get complete action on this bill, motivated only for the interest of humanity. His doctors could so direct to the Legislature and Governor and get complete action on this bill, motivated only for the interest of humanity."

THE WEEK IN OPA

Sugar for Home Canning
 The Lexington District OPA office announced this week that the 1944 allotment of sugar for home canning may now be obtained in one issuance. Hereafter, the canning sugar has been divided into two parts and the allotment was issued in two portions.

Those consumers who have already obtained their first portion may obtain the remainder without delay.

Price Method for Soft Drink Bottlers
 The OPA has provided that bottlers of soft drinks who did not sell to retailers during July, 1941, may determine their maximum prices to wholesalers in the same manner as bottlers who did have retail sales in that period, the Lexington District Office announced this week.

This action, effective June 12, corrects an omission in the regulation on soft drinks, which failed to make explicit provision for prices by these bottlers.

This provision will result in similar maximum prices to wholesalers for soft drink bottlers, regardless of whether they sold to retailers during July, 1941.

Shoe Rationing to Continue
 Shoe rationing will continue in this country until there is a marked improvement in the supply situation, the War Production Board and Office of Price Administration said in a joint statement.

There is no indication that any such increased supply of shoes will be available for civilians during the remaining months of this year, the agencies reported.

The OPA also has announced that ration certificates for the purchase of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes will be good indefinitely. Formerly, consumers had to use rubber footwear certificates within 30 days of issue, and dealers within one year.

Buy Your Heating Stove Now
 In order to encourage persons eligible to buy coal and wood heating stoves to purchase them now, the OPA has provided that War Price and Rationing Boards may issue ration certificates for such stoves to eligible applicants without regard to quota restrictions.

Generally, an eligible applicant is one who has no stove to heat essential living or working quarters, or whose stove is beyond repair within a reasonable time or at a reasonable cost.

This rule applies only to coal-wood stoves.

An odd lot release of three per cent men's shoes, three per cent youth's and boy's sizes one to six, and five per cent women's shoes will be effective June 15 for sale from distributors to dealers and from July 10 to July 29 inclusive, from dealers to consumers, Irwin N. Lee, commodity rationing officer of the Lexington District OPA office, announced this week.

The percentage of shoes to be sold is based on the number of pairs inventoried on the September, 1943 inventory, Mr. Lee said. "There must also be a record kept of the shoes acquired from a supplier and all shoes that are sold to a consumer under this release and same to be attached to the September 30 inventory. When shoes are advertised under this release, it must be stated that they are sold under OPA odd lot release, ration free July 10, 1944 to July 29, 1944. The prices of shoes sold under this release cannot be in excess of 25 per cent above the price paid by the owner of the establishment for such shoes.

Those seeking further information concerning this release were advised to call or write the Lexington District office.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I can't think of anything else you'll need for your Victory garden, Judge... you've got pretty nearly everything." "I think so, too, John. Ever get your asparagus patch going?" "I gave that up last year, Judge. Tried it six years in a row with no luck. Just haven't got the right soil, I guess?" "Well, I think you're wise, John... no use keeping on trying things you know won't work. Just like prohibition. State-wide prohibition has been tried in this country seventy-two times in the last ninety years. It has been adopted forty-seven times in the past thirty-three years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Same thing was tried in eight provinces in Canada and in Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia but it was an admitted failure and universally abandoned. "The reason is prohibition does not prohibit. All you get is bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor, plus no end of crime and corruption."

Prestonsburg Marine Is Flying Paymaster In South Pacific

Special to The Times SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC-Delayed-Marine Private First Class Robert C. Branham, of Prestonsburg, Ky., is attached to a paymaster office staff which has flown thousands of miles between islands and bases in this area to deliver monthly cash and checks to fellow Leathernecks. Located on a forward island base in this area, the paymaster office is manned by Marine Second Lieutenant Albert P. Binohart, of Yalukina, Wash., and seven Leathernecks, enlisted men, of which the 20-year-old Prestonsburg resident is one. The staff, moving along the path of conquest, originally paid the marines in the New Caledonia P.I.J. area, then in the Guadalcanal-Tulagi sector. Most recently, the flying pay crew has been assigned to the Munda-to-Bougainville chain.

Pfc. Branham takes a regular turn accompanying Lieut. Binohart on the monthly aerial circuit, and sees approximately $200,000 in cash and checks delivered to marines, many of them just on the edge of combat zones.

Member of the Marine Corps since April 9, 1943, when he enlisted, Pfc. Branham, previously attended Prestonsburg high school for three years and was employed by the Moresell Supply Co. He has been overseas since December 11, 1943.

Pfc. Branham's wife is the former Miss Zenna Wells, of Prestonsburg. His mother, Mrs. Fanny Branham, is a war worker at Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Cpl. Walter Hutchins, former ward mate in the 20th General hospital, upon Assam, India, of Pfc. Norman Osborne, writes Pfc. Osborne's mother, Mrs. Susie Osborne, Elite, saying that when he left the hospital more than a month ago to be moved to Coral Gables, Fla., Osborne was ready to report for duty. Pfc. Osborne was wounded in the Burma fighting.

Former Floyd Countian Bags Seven Zeros, Thrice Decorated

S/Sgt. Addison D. Burroughs, formerly of Maytown, now of Dayton, Ohio, is convalescing in the Billings General Hospital, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., following service from Australian bases. Sgt. Burroughs was an engineer-gunner on a B-25 bomber, a member of an advance medium bomber group. He was in 10 missions over Rabaul, got four Zeros during these bombing missions, two more in the landing at Cape Gloucester, and bagged a seventh Zero while on patrol duty. He was awarded the Presidential Citation, the Purple Heart, and the Air Medal. He was severely wounded, receiving a broken thigh, but expects to be out again soon. Sg. Burroughs, better known as A. D., to his Floyd county friends, has visited Maytown friends and schoolmates several times in recent years.

Cpl. Andy Tackett, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tackett, of Heaver, is an aerial photographer in the southwest Pacific. His over-2000-hour service dates back to Nov. 1942, and during the h a t several numerous flights over Japan in the lightning-fast American planes used for reconnaissance.

A Floyd father and son met in strange surroundings recently. The meeting took place May 17 in Honolulu where Pvt. James Arthur Baldrige, 19, of the marine corps, joined his father, James A. Baldrige, formerly of Bonanza, who is with the civilian signal corps in Honolulu.

RATIONING came over on The Mayflower

They Rationed Everything

The Pilgrims knew they were ill-prepared for one of the cruellest winters that resolute men, women and children ever had to face. Forseeing trials that would challenge their endurance, they treasured their scanty store of food and rationed every helping.

But, when a Spring and Summer of strenuous labor rewarded them with an abundant harvest, the Pilgrims were grateful-but not alone for food. They felt they were well on their way toward an established home in a new world, bright with freedom, security and a promising future for their children. America's goal has never changed. And for such a goal rationing is a small price to contribute. "Food Fights For Freedom".

What ration points bring to our tables today would have seemed like banquets to generations of our forefathers-but you have Budweiser, too, to make simple wartime meals taste better.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.) Editor:

Hello, Noble! What's the matter—has the best affected and some of the Democratic "while back and finished up on Willis you accused me of being a Socialist. Now you're after me for not criticizing the Democrats. You didn't by any chance fall on your head when you were a baby, did you? Since when is it so important enough to appoint Mr. Dewey's campaign manager? No, it wasn't me that "dressed" the Hoover khaki—it was Mr. Dewey who set him up in a New York office and advertised him as the next Secretary of State. Oh, yeah—that's not a ghost of a chance for any one who caters to the Hoover isolationism and you've gone to quoting the Bible on me. Which reminds me, I had a chance to see Hoover in 1932 in which the speaker compared Hoover to Christ—about him being food administrator and feeding the multitude, etc. The only resemblance I see is that Christ was crucified between two thieves and Hoover sat in the Cabinet between two members of the Hoover family and the Teapot Dome? I still say it's the New Deal against the old steel. You know yourself, Noble, that during the 12 years of Republican rule every organizer for the U.M.W. of A. was arrested on his arrival on Beaver Creek. The Republicans had the majority in Congress. If they had any feeling for the working man, why didn't they pass some laws like the Wagner Labor Relations Law, Social Security, and need bank deposits, etc.? They say now they believe in any man belonging to the organization of his choice. Yeah, after the New Deal had passed a few labor laws and the miners organized, they are for it! What a change of heart in 12 years! Personally I don't believe they've changed, do you? Just what has any political party to offer any working man that has the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers Association, Mr. Weir, Mr. Avery of Montgomery Ward and all the bunch of labor lawyer-made group met with Mr. Dewey and Mr. Hoover two weeks ago in New York, according to the A.P. Maybe I shouldn't feel so badly toward Mr. Hoover, after all. He gave me the nickname, "Shikepoke." With people everywhere starving and getting their hands on tanks and machine guns to drive the soldiers out of Washington, Mr. Hoover said "Prosperity is just around the corner." I don't see any more money peeping around the corners for that Hoover prosperity, hence the name Shikepoke. Regardless of your political affiliation or mine, we've got to admit that FDR did more for labor than any other man ever to sit in the White House. You know, Noble, you and I argue and change one man's vote—me even mine or yours. But this is America—the greatest country in the world. If you feel that from 28 to 32 when a man could take a contract at $125 a ton on a whole section of a mine—then hire his leaders at $1 a day, charge them a cent for money down or bring your tools—you went in at 5 a.m., and out at 8 p.m.—if you are of the opinion that is right, then you could be a good vote for Hoover or Dewey, whichever gets the nomination. Remember the New Deal did away with the above contract. I wouldn't see a mine contractor's vote even if I could. A man should vote his feelings and the will of the moment. Washington freed the colonies, Lincoln freed the negroes and Roosevelt freed the working man. So, being a working man, I'll string along with FDR. Miners told me this week that they worked six days a week in 1930 and had to eat in a soup kitchen. No, Noble, I'm sorry to inform you that it wasn't I, who dragged out the Hoover ghost, it was Col. McCormick of Chicago and Deluded Dewey from New York. I see you read the Bible, so read the 11th verse of the 4th chapter of the book of Deuteronomy: "For the poor shall never cease out of the land, therefore I command thee saying, Thou shalt open unto him the wide door, and to thy poor, and to thy needy in the land." From the above it seems you've been following a false prophet. The Bible says there'll always be poverty. So just how was Mr. Hoover going to do away with it as he said he would? Now, Noble, don't you get over political arguments. The Bible says, "Reprieve not a scorer lest he hiss thee; Rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee." Just talking plain, everyday facts, don't you think just a few months ago of Willis has turned the state of Kentucky to FDR without a doubt? SHIKEPOKE.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Anderson county collected 1,000 pounds of grease for salvage in one month.

SHERIFF'S SALE

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT T. N. Newsome, Complainant vs. J. S. Decker and some, Defendants

By virtue of Execution No. 9423 which was issued from the Floyd Circuit Court Clerk's office on Jan. 26, 1944; judgment Oct. 28, 1943, in the above-styled cause I or one of my deputies will on Monday, June 15, 1944, at 1 o'clock p. m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, will offer for sale at the courthouse door, Prestonsburg, Ky., to satisfy the above judgment, the following described property, to wit: One tract or parcel of land lying and being on the waters of Big Mud Creek, Floyd County, Ky., described as follows:

"Bounded on the East by Big Mud Creek; on the South by lands of John W. Hall estate; on the West by lands of Willard Hamilton; on the South by lands of Willard Hamilton; tract containing 20 acres more or less. Leveled on as the land of John Tackett."

THE speed at which American industry responded to the country's demand for the production of war materials astonished the world and most of all the Axis nations. When they planned treacherous war on unprepared nations—blitzkrieg or "lightning war" as they call it, they underestimated one important thing—the thunderbolt of electricity. They underestimated the electric power industry. They underestimated the electric power industry. They underestimated the electric power industry. They underestimated the electric power industry.

Think of it! More power in the United States than the Axis nations and their satellites combined and over 80% of it produced by business managed electric companies. Kentucky and West Virginia POWER COMPANY Certainly! ELECTRICITY IS CHEAP But it must be conserved for War

Hall, Ship Torpedoed, Home on 30-Day Leave

Fireman I/c Radford Hall arrived home a few days ago after an over-seas voyage during which his ship, a destroyer escort, was torpedoed.

Although he and others were not picked up for four hours, Hall came through in good shape.

He is spending a 30-day leave here with his mother Mrs. Epp Laferty. His brother, Howard, also is in navy service.

HANDY DOSENT BOOK FROM ONE WHO DOESNT KNOW THE WAY

I doubt, if I could sell bread in a famine, but like most people who can't do a certain job, I have an idea how it should be done.

Follow them, my instructions on how to talk to a recalcitrant "customer" when you try to sell him a Bond during the Fifth War Loan drive.

PROSPECT: I'm sorry, I can't afford to buy just now.

ABIGAIL THEATRE Prestonsburg Sunday and Monday JUNE 18-19

YOU: But, sir, the boys feel that they can't afford to die right now. Life is all they have over there, that and the hope of coming back home to the old life and happy days.

YOU: You can afford a quart of liquor a week, you can waste your money on chasing around you.

YOU: To tell you the truth, I haven't the time to discuss Bonds with you today.

YOU: I know, sir, you are a busy man. It is nice to have a nice business at home where enemy bombs will not get at it or you or your family.

YOU: There is no time like the present, if I may remind you, sir. We're in this thing up to our necks. The boys are not being given time to think things over and to make sure.

YOU: I sincerely trust you are right. That is what millions of fighting men and their mothers and fathers are praying for—peace. But a victorious peace. Till that comes, and nobody knows how long it will be, every dime you and I and every other American can spend is needed.

YOU: Now, sir, I am not going to argue national finances, but you know that if these Bonds are no good, the money in your pocket or in your bank is no good.

YOU: But what if the government goes busted and these Bonds aren't redeemed?

YOU: Now, sir, I am not going to argue national finances, but you know that if these Bonds are no good, the money in your pocket or in your bank is no good.

Jake Sparlock Succumbs To Accidental Injuries At Columbus Hospital

Jake Sparlock, 67 years old, Portsmouth, O., former resident of West Prestonsburg and member of a well-known Floyd county family, died June 3 in a Columbus, O. hospital four weeks after sustaining fractured pelvis in an accident at Columbus.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Sparlock, he was born and reared on Le's Beaver Creek. He was married to Miss Ella Porter, of this county, and moved to Portsmouth about 20 years ago.

Besides his widow, Mr. Sparlock is survived by five daughters and three sons: Maxie, Stella, Maggie, Deanna, James and Earl Sparlock, all of Portsmouth, Ralph and Russell Sparlock with the army overseas. He also leaves one brother, B. M. Sparlock, West Prestonsburg, and one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Akers, of Oklahoma.

Funeral rites were held at Portsmouth and burial was made there.

General Kenney Tells Mother of Stephens Of Service Record

Word that her son, S/Sgt. Floyd G. Stephens, 26, veteran of more than 50 bombing missions in the southwest Pacific, has been awarded the Air Medal reached Mrs. Virginia R. Stephens of Allen, in a personal letter from Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, chief of air forces in that theater of action.

The award, Lt. Gen. Kenney's letter to Mrs. Stephens stated, was "in recognition of courageous service to his combat organization, his fellow American airmen his country, his home and you." He was cited while participating on aerial flights, bombing enemy installations, shipping and supply bases, from July 21 to Dec. 22, 1943.

When relatives last were told of S/Sgt. Stephens' bombing record, some time ago, he had been on 51 missions.

"I would like to tell you," Lt. Gen. Kenney wrote Mrs. Stephens, "how genuinely proud I am to have such men as your son in my command. You have every reason to share that pride and gratification."

said: "The sick and the dying want science but they also want kind and kindly understanding. We doctors said 'no' to the super-management idea. Our boys are in Europe now fighting to forever strangle this super-business."

"We shall all see another day after this war is over. We will see communities all over the state rise up and take care of themselves, as the cities have long since learned to do. Plenty of talent will come back from the war to these hills or their homeland to staff and operate your hospital," Dr. Howard said.

"I strolled with your mountain boys at Argonne and I know that they can once again stand on their own feet longest. I learned there why the sweetest apples grow on the side of a poor hill and why our finest people come from these mountains. So don't accept any quick makeshift in planning your hospital. The best and most enduring is yours for the making. Your own people will be its guiding influence."
