ANIMAL FRIENDS
An article in Reader's Digest by J. Frank Dobie, famous Texas author-lecturer, telling of the strange comradely of different animals, and their desire, for instance--recalls the friendship of a pig and a pup on our farm a few weeks ago. Our first knowledge that the two were hobnobbing came one winter morning, when neither had turned up as usual for breakfast. At last the two were found out in the shop house, huddled together in a straw bed, morning away. The strange bed-fellows during the day often had their little spats, particularly the pig worried the pup nibbling at his ears or hocks just when the pig wanted to follow the more peaceful pursuit of rooting around in the pen. But, come nightfall, and the two would calmly take off together for the nearby sleeping quarters.

This beautifully platonic friendship, however, developed, one day into something decidedly platonic. That was just before Christmas and the two, mixing for some time, were found inside the car, together and under other Christmas delicacies.

GOT THEIR GOAT
Speaking of animal friendships reminds us that only this week a goat owned by Gora Porter at Dwell, sought to attach himself to a herd of cows in a neighboring pasture. With disastrous results to several cows which frightened the goat with it, it crashed through a wire fence.

More Than Money Is Needed

EVERYBODY is agreed that Kentucky must have more money for its schools—money with which to equip schools and to pay qualified teachers salaries attractive enough to keep them in the teaching profession, in Kentucky.

All the federal aid offered should be accepted and that must be augmented by increased state funds. These are matters to be handled by state and federal authorities.

Your Best Investment — War Bonds and Stamps!

SNOW GOOSE FLOUR

SNOWY WHITE
 AND Smooth as Silk!

You'll like to work with SNOW GOOSE, the flour you hear so much about, because it is "smooth as silk" and snowy white... a grand, wholesome flour to help you bake biscuits and pastries that are sure to please your family. Try a sack of SNOW GOOSE next time you need flour.

But there is one duty, aside from tax-paying, that rests solely with the folks at home; and unless it is performed faithfully no amount of money will achieve better educational opportunity for Kentucky's school children.

This duty, an onerous one, is that of school officials to weed out with an inexorable honesty and an inflexible will the unfit who are now teaching in the schools.

Wartime conditions have made the teacher crop a lean one, naturally, and so those inclined to supplant ill-equipped and unsuited teachers with instructors of ability and a true zeal for their profession are hampered at this time. But will they undertake that hard, and in many cases unpopular, task when conditions do return to normal?

More important to the children even than money for their schools is an honest effort by those charged with the duty of employing only capable, earnest teachers to do just that—to lift from the schools the lagging weight of faculty drones, to rid the schools of the pernicious, almost sinful, burden of family politics that is known as nepotism.

Will these school authorities brave the wrath of the unfit and their friends and relatives, that the children may have their rightful opportunity and that the taxpayers' money may not be wasted?

Unless they do, all the millions appropriated by both state and federal governments will avail nothing. Fine school buildings and modern equipment will be mere monuments to futility and moral cowardice, if those who are charged with this stern but just duty fail us.

VANCE ARMENTROUT... Editorial Writer for The Courier-Journal, cast aside a legal career to become a newspaper man... but he still holds license to practice law in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Ohio, where he passed the bar examinations after graduating from Ohio State. Instead, he worked on newspapers in all three states, and was State Editor of the Associated Press when he joined The Courier-Journal as Frankfort correspondent later joining the Bureau there when Judge Bingham bought the paper.

A militant writer in behalf of clean government, ArmentROUT has locked horns with many a careless state official. He was once incarcerated for an hour in the capitol city bastille, by a legislative committee, because he would not reveal the identity of an irate contributor to the paper's "Point of View" column. One of his early tasks was a survey of state institutions, and he took an active part in reorganizing the state school system.

With this rich background of state experience, Vance was brought back to Louisville in 1926 to serve on the paper's editorial staff. Some of his keenly analytical contributions are contained in a handbook still found in many libraries. He was President of the Kentucky State Press Association in 1943.

With legions of friends in every section of Kentucky who consider him an authority on state matters, Vance is a favorite at newspaper gatherings where his reminiscences are found personally and historically colorful. The ArmentROUTs' living-room faces Cherokee Park, favorite hiking spot, where editorial ideas are developed daily over a four or five-mile course. Time magazine once credited him with getting his ideas on a roller coaster.

Webster says:—"Alarm—A call to arms for defense".

A Bell that rings for Liberty... Every Morning

Millions of alarms have rung since our people were forced by war to clench their friendly hands into hard-hitting fists. Some of the hands were dainty and beautifully manicured... some were wrinkled and tired... but, all proved equal to the biggest job that ever faced this or any other land.

Our nation has shown that it can produce the sinews of war on a scale never believed possible before. New found energy, ingenuity and skills have given our people self-reliance. They are determined to apply themselves to the task ahead until final victory is won.

Surely, the seasoned veteran and self-disciplined civilian, working together, will master whatever problems peacetime may present. The future for America and for all of us can be as bright as we wish to make it.

19th Combat Engineers, With Laferty a Member, Ask and Get Recognition

Pfc. ODE V. LAFERTY

Wherever Stars and Stripes reporters have gone—Tunisia, Sicily, Italy—they always run across the 19th combat engineer regiment. And, like all Jews who are proud of their outfits, the members of the 19th, when they are going to do a story on the 19th combat engineers?

The 19th, thus discussed in a story published in THE STARS AND STRIPES, is the unit to which Ode V. Laferty, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Laferty, of Lackey, is attached—and the 19th has done a good job of it in the long, slow, grinding campaign up the Italian "boot."

The 19th began its distinguished record in a landing at Oran in early November, 1942, since that time has fought through Tunisia, Sicily and Italy as infantry, has built roads, bridges, airfields, pillboxes, drained swamps, laid pipelines and operated in the Mediterranean theater to be authorized the Silver Star and has 250 chicks started.

The Hanley Homemakers' Club in Jessamine county has sent 90 packages of seed to the Oakridge Women's Institute, Gloucestershire, England.

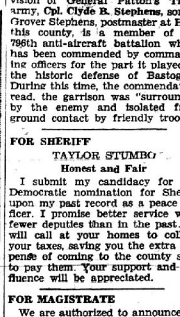

Mrs. W. E. Day of the Blair community in Harlan county has constructed an electric brooder and has 250 chicks started.

IT'S ALL IN THE WAY YOU LOOK AT IT!

Make you won't think us for reminding you of the H.C. of I. But it doesn't seem nearly so high when you look at it in the light of your electric bill!

Almost alone among household necessities, the price of electricity has not spiraled upward with war. In fact, official government figures show that the average price of electricity has actually dropped 3.2% since 1939!

That's especially good news now, but it continues a long-time trend. Electric prices have been coming down so steadily that the average American family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago.

If your bill is no smaller, it's because you're using more electricity to do more jobs than you did then. But the saving is there. It has been accomplished by America's light and power companies in spite of rising costs and taxes—out of huge war demands for service that were met without delay, shortage or rationing.

That was done by efficiency and experience and sound business management — by the same American enterprise which built our nation and on which its future depends.

Lackey-Garrett Club Opens Youth Center In Wayland School

Garrett, Ky., March 28 (Sp.)—A Youth Recreation Center, sponsored by the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club, opened Friday night in the Wayland grade school. Approximately 100 teen-age boys and girls from Wayland and nearby communities, as well as a number of parents and patrons, attended the opening session. Theatorium was devoted to dancing and a large room opening onto it was used for popular games.

The center will be open each Friday night from 8 till 11 o'clock until the end of the present school term. During the summer vacation, it will probably be open two or three nights weekly, if enough interested patrons can be found to supervise the recreation.

Plans for Youth Recreation Centers at both Wayland and Garrett were begun last November by the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club. For a time, it appeared that the idea would have to be abandoned for lack of a suitable location. After several proposed spots were found to be unavailable, the Wayland Center was made possible through co-operation of the Floyd County Board of Education and a vacant room in the Wayland grade school, provided it would pay a nominal fee for utilities and be responsible for care of the building during its use.
