Floyd County Times

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.

Published Every Thursday by PRESTONSBURG PUBLISHING CO.
NORMAN ALLEN, Editor
For Year $2.00

Entered as second class matter June 14, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

NO "LITTLE STEEL FORMULA"

THE TIMES certainly is not one to deny that the laborer is worthy of his hire. But it does find grounds for criticism of the Congress in its claims that the salaries paid them and their predecessors are inadequate. Not so much do we criticize the claims that these salaries are inadequate as we object to the procedure whereby an officeholder may boost his salary while in office. The ideal way for such an increase to be made would be, if it could be arranged, for each member of Congress to be denied a vote in the matter till he was up for election. It may indeed be true that members of the Congress should be paid more. But the public wonders why, if these salaries are so sadly inadequate, the members of the Congress fought so hard and spent good hard cash to win these "reticence jobs."

Not till he was President and out of the Senate did Senator Truman, it will be observed, claim for Senators and Congressmen a need of higher pay. The Chief Executive shunned the responsibility of asking for a pay-raise while in the Congress, a post for which he fought as do all Representatives and Senators.

At an election not long ago the voters of Kentucky overwhelmingly defeated a Constitutional amendment which would have provided a lifting of the ceiling on Kentucky official salaries. THE TIMES opposed the amendment for two reasons: (a) the $10,000 limit has always been a prize which has never wanted for takers; (b) all the amendment did was to lift the ceiling, leaving only the sky the limit. In this case, we voters decided there should be some sort of stopping-place—a "Little Steel formula," say, to prevent a "Big Steel" in Kentucky.

To the Editor of The Times:

I am authorizing you to withdraw my name from your paper as a candidate for the office of justice since I am now on guard duty in Germany, have only 65 points and see no early opportunity to be a candidate for the office. My withdrawal is not intended to help any other candidate; it is made for the sole reason that I am too far away from home to be a candidate at this time. I appreciate the interest of my friends and relatives back home and hope to repay their kindness, some day.

JOE P. TACKETT

Commonwealth's Attorney

Like Father — 1918 — Like Son

FOUR-SONS OF WORLD WAR I VETERAN IN UNIFORM DURING PRESENT WAR

Joe P. Tackett, World War I veteran, and Mrs. Tackett, 20, who also saw signal corps service. Pvt. Tackett was a patient in army hospitals at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and at Danville, Ky. He was recently given a medical discharge and is now here with his wife and baby. Cpl. Bernard Tackett, 24, is in the advanced infantry training replacement center at Camp Livingston, La., after six months in the army. He was graduated from high school here last year. His brothers are also graduates of the local high school and all four were prominent in athletics.

While my volunteer campaign committee insisted upon reproducing the above clipping from a former issue of The Times, I am frank to say that the war record of me and my sons alone does not qualify me for the office I seek, it does show, however, that we are, to say the least, worthy and patriotic citizens. I'll not have these boys here this time to carry on in the campaign for me, nor even to vote for me, but I want that the fathers, mothers, wives and relatives of their comrades of confidence, did I say? Yes—confidence that we are, as a law-abiding citizen, coupled with a conscientious will to make for a Commonwealth's Attorney worthy in the fullest measure, is the sole and safest standard by which to judge the competency of men who seek public office. I have not sworn an oath in 28 years, have not tasted intoxicating liquor in 21 years and with God's blessing and divine aid I pledge you now a full devotion to the duties of this important office during the next six years. I shall work with our Circuit Judge, whoever he may be, to the end that all our citizens, men and women, get fair and equal recognition on juries. In the courthouse as well as in their homes, in human history women have never risen to a higher plane of noble and heroic service than they have during the present war. I tip my hat to their valor and the heroic valor of our boys in this war and shall everlastingly serve them in my humble way. Yours for a better world in which to live.

Howell for Representative-- Let's Look at the Record

1. For the old folks—the largest appropriation in the state's history.

2. For the teachers—the largest increase in salary for teachers and a proportional increase in the state education fund in which this county shares. Plus—a model teacher-tenure law (which I personally sponsored).

3. Roads—the largest appropriation for rural roads we have ever had and the completion of the Left Beaver Road (which is now under contract).

4. Institutions—I personally sponsored a resolution (which was finally passed over the Governor's veto) to investigate state prisons where there seems to have been a ceiling price set on the amount of the bribe necessary for a prisoner to secure his release. I am a member of the committee which is now doing this work, even though the Governor has threatened us with the state militia. We are trying to enter the state hospitals. Plus a modern tuberculosis hospital system for the Commonwealth.

For the Veterans—an amendment to our Constitution to the effect that no bill to alter the state flag, or the right to vote, plus a Ky. "G. I. Bill" of our own, guaranteeing returning service men and women all the rights and privileges granted them under the federal act.

6. For our industries—the defeat of a tax on both coal and natural gas. Neither of these was ever allowed to come to a vote on the floor of the House.

No representative in the Commonwealth can claim a greater record of achievement for his people. (Pol. adv.)

Pfc. Frasure Member Of Glider Infantry In Airborne Invasion

WITH THE 17TH AIRBORNE DIVISION, GERMANY—Pfc. Edwin P. Frasure, of Landley, Ky., flew with the 194th Glider Infantry, now part of Lt. Gen. Gow's Fifteenth Army, in the airborne invasion that secured the Wesel bridgehead across the Rhine.

Holder of the Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman's Badge for actions during the airborne drive through southern France, Pfc. Frasure soared with the 17th airborne division over the English Channel to France in the successful counter-attack that stopped the Nazi push through Belgium last winter in the battle of the "Bulge." By landing on fields not previously secured by parachutes, the 194th set new precedents in airborne tactics during the Rhine invasion.

An automatic rifleman with the 194th, Pfc. Frasure entered the service at Ft. Thomas, Ky., in 1942 and went through basic training in Georgia, later joining an airborne battalion stationed in Panama. After service with airborne units in North Africa, Sicily and Italy, he joined the 17th division in England. His wife is a resident of Landley.

Former School Head Completes Army Course

Lexington, Va., June 7—Among the graduates of the 21st Educational and 11th Physical Reconditioning Courses at the School for Personnel Services, Lexington, this week was Pvt. Curtis Owens, former principal of the Garrett, Ky., consolidated school.

The term, "reconditioning," as used by the Surgeon General, denotes those activities beyond the scope of the usual medical and surgical treatment carried on in Army Service Forces station, regional, general and convalescent hospitals to prepare our sick and wounded soldiers for return to duty or to civilian life.

Pvt. Owens, by virtue of his graduation, is qualified to fill a key position in the reconditioning program in one of the many army hospitals.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

In reading The Floyd County Times, I saw what my dad, Rev. Alex Stephens, said to the good people of Floyd county in regard to our Burial Society. Alex was a candidate for County Court Clerk. I appeal to my soldier friends, and fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters and sweethearts to get on the bandwagon. I and my brother, Cpl. William Stephens, a marine in the Pacific, can't be home with Dad and Mother and my little son, Billy, but hope some day to be back to sweet Floyd county. Yes, friends, go out with Dad and Mother, or rain or shine, August 4 and prove what you think of us servicemen by electing Jarvis Allen to serve old Floyd county as Clerk.

Sergeant Braves Threat of Flames, Wins Silver Star

Sgt. Earl J. Daniels, who climbed aboard a gasoline-soaked tank under enemy fire in an effort to save a wounded comrade and, finding it impossible to remove the wounded man without blowing the tank under fire to secure assistance, has been awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Silver Star for valor for gallantry on a previous occasion.

The tank driven by the Kentucky sergeant had received several hits by enemy tank fire. The commander gave orders to abandon the damaged vehicle. Just as Daniels leaped on the ground another shell struck the tank, wounding the bow gunner.

Although the vehicle was still under fire, Daniels remounted and attempted to open the bow gunner's hatch, which was locked. He then climbed atop the tank and entered the hull, which was in imminent danger of exploding. Daniels dismounted and drove the tank to a point of comparative safety where he secured the assistance of another soldier and succeeded in extricating the bow gunner. Shortly afterwards, Daniels was killed by the man the Kentuckian had so valiantly tried to save.

The son of Mrs. Robert Daniels of Wheelwright, Daniels was employed at Wheelwright before entering the service three years ago. He has been overseas 30 months.

Ellen Cunningham—"This certainly is a hospital— you can imagine with 12,000 patients here. Our living quarters are wonderful and the food is simply out of this world—broiled steak every Saturday and chicken twice a week. Not bad, eh?" Pvt. 1680 Hours in Action, Is Record of Cruiser In Pacific Warfare As of March 12, the U.S.S. Salt Lake City, on which Frank Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Leslie, of Emma, is a boatswain's mate, had been for 70 days and nights at sea with the enemy in Pacific waters—dueling with Jap ships or shore batteries or assisting in invasion.

The famous cruiser's battle log starts with Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. Her next action was the Marshalls and Gilberts raid, Feb. 1, 1942, then Wake Island, Feb. 24, 1942 and Marcus Island, March 4 of that year. The Salt Lake City was on the Tokyo raid when Doolittle's carrier-based planes took off, April 18, 1942; at Guadalcanal, August 7 and 8. The Savo Island battle Oct. 11 and 12 was the ship's last 1942 action.

Action at Komandorsky March 28 started the cruiser off for 1943, then action of Kiska August 2 after having gone north for President Roosevelt's Alaskan visit. The Kiska invasion August 12 was next, and after that south to Tarawa Nov. 19-21.

Wotje was the first 1944 action. Jan. 28; Taros, on Jan. 30-31; then to Wotje, Feb. 2, 8, 10, 14, 16, 17 and 18th. The Yap raid followed on March 24 and Wake Island on Sept. 24 and on Feb. 10 began the action which culminated in the invasion of that island, the Salt Lake City being steadily engaged until March 12.

After that, the record has not been released. Writing his parents on May 19, Boatswain's Mate 1/c Leslie wrote: "In every busy day which leaves me no time to write, I am well and O.K. in a very way and there is nothing wrong which a few hours' sleep won't remedy."

Canning Sugar Supply To Be Adequate, Says OPA District Director

Canning sugar will be available to everyone needing it for actual canning purposes, but in amounts generally less than requested, E. Reed Wilson, Lexington OPA district director, announced last week. The maximum amount available under the present quota will not exceed 10 pounds per person.

Each board has been given a revised quota of canning sugar based on a uniform percentage of the amount issued last year.

To achieve an equitable distribution of the small available sugar supply, it is essential that districts in any case be exceeded.

"Nothing contained herein affects anything other than canning sugar allotments," Mr. Wilson explained.

"In the meantime, boards may process applications. We realize the board's work has its limitations and the applications should be entered with them gradually," he said.
