Floyd County Times

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.

Published Every Thursday by

PRESTONSBURG PUBLISHING CO.

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

For Year $2.00

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

WAKE UP—FLOYD COUNTY!

WAKE UP, KENTUCKY!—a program dedicated by WHAS, Louisville, to helping Kentucky regain her true greatness—have you heard it?

WHAS, the radio station of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, recently inaugurated this feature to present a dramatic review of facts as reported by the Committee for Kentucky. Yes, we agree, it is entertaining and worthwhile, particularly to worthwhile Kentuckians.

But did you know that in Floyd County a movement of the same type—though, unhappily, with little financial support, was conceived here at home and started, though with less of the dramatic about it, weeks before the WHAS program was begun? The Floyd County Club is that idea conceived and now being perpetuated by a relatively few public-spirited citizens.

The skeptical among us have been wondering, What is this Floyd County Club and what is it for? Why not ask, what is behind this "Wake Up, Kentucky" program? Verily, a prophet is not without honor in his own country.

Not suspicious of every move or organization, THE TIMES has an idea that The Floyd County Club merely wants to help Floyd County—merely to live up to its name. Some suspect that it has its foundations in politics, that it is a build-up for a big push for Prohibition. Some express other fears.

Why such fears? If they are well-grounded, why are all Floyd county citizens invited to attend the club's meetings, to join and work with the club? There are no stated qualifications for membership, other than that you be a resident or a former resident of Floyd county and that you are interested in the county's advancement, educationally, morally and industrially.

THE TIMES would not give a line of space to any group it thought seeking by subterfuge to force an issue on the people of this county other than the indisputable truth that Floyd county is one of the finest sections of Kentucky, that its people are among the best of a great state and that they and their county should wake up, along with all Kentucky.

Further Particulars, Please!

OPponents of locks and dams for the Big Sandy seek to sway public sentiment in their direction with the argument that canalization will increase the danger of flood if a nine-foot stage is maintained in the river.

Now, THE TIMES, which is an advocate of river improvement with little knowledge of engineering problems, would question the truth of such propaganda.

Correct us if we're wrong, but we've always understood that these dams could be opened and closed at will. For all our paucity of technical knowledge about engineering, we are reasonably certain there must be some way of permitting a boat to get through a lock to the stage below or above.

Then is it possible for a flash flood, such as described to terrify our good citizens, to be so flashy as to overrun the men who would be charged with the duty of opening the dams when necessary?

The Big Sandy in Floyd county has never risen so fast as to be in "flash-flood." In this county we have our flash floods, but these affect the smaller streams. And we presume the same condition prevails in other counties. The headwaters of Right and Left Beaver Creeks in particular are sometimes hard hit, but the crisis has never arisen from these sources that could not be prepared for ere the waters flow a matter of twenty-three miles down into our Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy.

And, furthermore—would it not seem reasonable to believe that the army engineers who have approved canalization of the stream and who have had nationwide experience in flood control, would have considered such a dire exigency?

If we are wrong, we shall appreciate further particulars of the impending disaster.

Once Before They Were Within 260 Miles of Japan And Now They're There

ABOARD THE USS BENHAM
 TOKYO Bay (Delayed)—Two Floyd County Ky. navy men veterans of 19 months on Pacific battlefronts, are among the thousands of sailors now sight-seeing in the devastated cities of Tokyo and Yokohama.

They are Fedy Prater, 20, seaman first class, and James H. Osborne, 20, seaman first class.

Both participated in the invasion of the Marianas, Palau, Philippines, from June and August. Their ship operated with fast carrier task forces in the first Philippines strikes last September, the January sweep of the China Sea and the first raids on Tokyo in January.

During the December raids on Okinawa the Benham approached to within 200 miles of Japan while operating singly on a routine mission. This was a new record for surface ships at that time.

Prater and Osborne wear the American theatre ribbon, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with seven stars, and the Navy and Marine Corps ribbons with two stars.

Osborne was employed by the Turner Coal Mining Co., Drift, Ky., before joining the navy July 30, 1942.

Prater, son of John H. Prater, of Hippo, was formerly employed by the Cleveland Electric and Gas Co. and plans to return to his former position when he leaves the navy. He enlisted Aug. 20, 1943.

ON-THE-FARM TRAINING UNDER THE G. I. BILL In meeting the needs of a very large number of veterans a well defined program for on-the-farm training is being developed.

In order to be properly rehabilitated into farming the veteran must develop his abilities and enable him to deal successfully with problems arising out of: (1) Producing crops; (2) Producing livestock; (3) Conserving soil and other natural resources; (4) Estimating and maintaining a farm home and its surroundings; (5) Providing a farm and home with supplies and equipment; (6) Marketing farm activities for the common good.

Two plans of training have been devised and put into action at the present time. Under the first plan the veteran is in training on his employer's farm, where he receives a job training, plus a minimum of 200 hours of institutional training, which is shown for those who are Vocational Agriculture teachers will use in visiting the veteran and farm trainer for purpose of co-ordinating the institutional instruction and its application with training on the farm.

The Veterans Administration allows up to be used for such an amount $60 the first year and $30 the second year. $10 per year shop supplies. Purchases of books in the amount of $20 is also provided. In addition to these amounts the veteran will receive the subsistence allowance provided by the G. I. Bill. $50 for a veteran without dependents and $75 for a veteran with dependents.

Application for this training under the G. I. Bill may be made through the Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board.

Veteran Says Prayer Our Greatest Weapon U.S.S. McClelland (Destroyer) 1935 Tokyo Bay Yokosuka, Harbor Pilgrim Hall, Church, Prestonsburg, Ky. Dear Friends: Well, it has been upon my mind for quite some time that I should express some of the thanks that I owe all of you. At present we are sitting here in Tokyo Bay. Yesterday we received something that our crew has longed for so long. We got our orders to go back home. I feel with all my heart that this is the happiest group of boys I have ever seen in all my life. My reason for writing to you is something that happened. Quite a while ago I received from you a letter and inside I also found a white handkerchief. You asked me to keep it close or with me as much as possible. Well, I think it was just a short time after I along with many other boys aboard with me were surprised to see the most destructive and most horrible battle the Pacific has ever known—Okinawa. After we were attacked by Japanese planes the first day then I thought of that handkerchief. I got it and kept it with me for the other 70 days we were there. It seemed as if God was with us every day and night we were there. I don't think there was a single day passed by but what there were enemy planes over us and we were firing at them and trying to sink us and they couldn't. But we came through without a single guy getting killed on our ship. Although it wasn't anything surprising to see them take our enemy floating around in the water. Yes, I saw plenty of that. I was the only one on my ship that received a handkerchief from you but I feel that you have helped all of us. I still have it and I hope I can keep it forever. Since I have been away from the U.S. I have won four battle stars and ribbons but without the prayers you Christians said for us back there I know we couldn't have come thru with all of this. Your prayers were the greatest weapons of this war. I am coming back to you and now we are sitting here waiting for the news of this triumph. I'm in a right now. As soon as it is over we'll be starting for the U.S. I want all of you to know how happy I am to be able to come back home again in good health. I really love you and your prayers that you've said for us and I'm sure they're the reason we were coming back. I'll never stop hoping to be back in the States soon. A happy veteran of the Pacific War, WALLACE FRAZIER, Gearhart, Ky.
