Newest Princess Elkhorn Coal Operation

Tipple at Permele, No. 2 operation of the company, located downstream from David, scene of the firm's original mine. This mine has been in operation since 1944.

again by rail as far west as Iowa. Since the first year of production the province of Ontario and Quebec in eastern Canada have always used Patsy coal. Coal is also shipped each year up the St. Lawrence river to Newfoundland. Incidentally, one of the ships which carried this coal was torpedoed on its return voyage during the war. The nut slack grades make excellent industrial and special purpose fuel, and a wide market in this field of sales has also been developed.

The end of the war has made it possible for the company to complete its program on preparation. The No. 1 tipple has been so expanded that all types of stoker coal of excellent quality may now be produced. Prior to the recent installation of an additional high-speed vibrator and storage bin, sales were limited to commercial stokers through retail dealers, and to large steam plants and utilities. As the company constantly on the lookout for new uses for its coal, it is now making exhaustive tests on domestic or household sizes of stoker coal for home stokers. Further, even though the quality of the coal is good with low ash and sulphur, the washer has been put into use in order to provide a more clean and uniform coal for its customers.

Princess Elkhorn Coal Company has a laboratory at the mines equipped for testing coals. By direct communication with the laboratory at the mines the company can tell what each customer is getting before the coal is shipped and, therefore, can be sure that the product received by the customer is most suitable for his particular purpose.

It is now planned to relocate the laboratory in a new and modern building which will have facilities to make tests on the ash, sulphur and moisture content of coal. In addition to determining its fusion temperature. Screening analyses of the various grades of coal will be made. This service to its customers is another indication of the company's progressive attitude. Provides $1,500,000.

Princess Elkhorn company commenced operation in 1941, most of the road on Middle Creek was unimproved. A portion of this road amounted to about $350. A great many of these same people are now working for the company with an approximate income of $6,000 and over per year. Not only are the people of Middle Creek prospering in income, improved living and educational conditions and the teachers of the school are being reflected in Prestonsburg and Floyd county generally. The $1,500,000 investment has greatly added not only to miners' incomes but also to all business and industry in the area.

In planning the initial operation of the mines it was assumed that about one-third of the population would live in the new community of 100 modern houses built at David, and the remainder would live in the old houses of Middle Creek, and the remaining third would probably migrate to work in other communities and its neighboring communities. This plan has been fairly well adhered to except that since it has been impossible to build new houses during the war period and since employment has increased, more people are commencing from their homes. The need for better road facilities was presented, with the aid of local citizens, to the State Highway Department, and the state has agreed to build a three-mile section of road from Prestonsburg. It is hoped that next year the remaining middle three-mile section will be regraded and surfaced. The company is also hopeful that the hard road now ending at David will be extended the necessary four miles to John with the Letcher county road. This will give ready access to Royaton and Salvaverville. This plan is now being given consideration by the State Department of Highways.

A movie theater, constructed by the company, has been opened in the community church, of which the Rev. J. E. Durham is pastor. Collaborating with the Reverend Durham is Miss Blanche Garrett who is in charge of religious social work. Outstanding success has been achieved in attendance records. During the summer months as many as 150 attended Sunday School for Reverend Durham's famous blackboard lessons. Miss Garrett has an average attendance of 75 at the summer vacation Bible school. She was assisted in this by Mrs. Russell Harmon, 175 and Mrs. J. E. Durham. Miss Garrett also conducted several other very successful summer vacation Bible schools in neighboring communities on Middle Creek with excellent attendance records.

Modern School
The company has provided grounds for a baseball park, and last season the David baseball team, under the leadership of Russell Harmon, had a successful year and was supported enthusiastically by the community. Plans have been made to provide seating facilities for the spectators next season.

Has Scout Program
The company supports strongly all activities for youth training and is now building a rustic log cabin for its local Boy Scout troop, which is under the leadership of Otis Bussey. This cabin should be ready for occupancy by the first of the year. The troop, recently reorganized this year, and a successful winter season is expected.

The Women's Club sponsors three Girl Scout troops at David. Miss Blanche Garrett is leader of the senior troop which has 10 members between the ages of 14 and 18. Mrs. Harmon is leader of the junior troop which has 12 members between the ages of 11 and 13.

Five Years Without Fatality
The company, whose safety program is under the direction of Ballard Plummer, safety director, enjoys the distinction of having produced nearly three million tons of coal without a fatal accident over a period of the last four years. The management has always worked to keep employees safety conscious, and as a result the company has one of the lowest accident compensation rates in the Big Sandy field.

Coal mined by Princess Elkhorn Coal Company have been marketed scientifically under the trade name of Patsy Elkhorn Coals over a wide territory and for a variety of uses to assure maximum potential working time to its employees. In addition to having several hundred re-entrained throughout Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, North Carolina and South Carolina, large quantities are shipped to the Great Lakes ports for re-shipment by boat to Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. This coal is then shipped

Unique Water System

From the beginning of the operation water had to be transported from Prestonsburg by truck at a cost in excess of $200,000 yearly in order to make up for scarcity of drinkable surface water available. This scarcity was caused by unusual geological conditions throughout the area, as only 50 feet under the surface all of the many wells put down by the company produced water of an undrinkable nature. A solution of this problem was found when G. J. Stollins contacted the American Cripplehead Corporation and interested them in using this community as an experimental location for a purifying plant which would take the salt out of the water as a result of chemical reaction similar to a process used by that company in purifying sugar. This is the first type of purification system which is operated under the direction of George Burke, preparative engineer. The consumption of water has greatly increased, and the company is now planning to double its present capacity of its purification plant.

Personnel Director Appointed

In June of this year Max C. Burns was appointed personnel director at David. Mr. Burns, in explaining the duties of his job, stated that his work is entirely of a service nature. His office is a clearing house for applicants for jobs, and his duties are varied to the extent of the demands posed upon him by management. He is now in charge of the development of the scholarship program and will be participating more extensively in other welfare programs as they progress.

Grounds for Ball Park

The company has provided grounds for a baseball park, and last season the David baseball team, under the leadership of Russell Harmon, had a successful year and was supported enthusiastically by the community. Plans have been made to provide seating facilities for the spectators next season.

Lots of folks have decided there's only one refrigerator for them—a Servel. For they've learned there's no noise, no worry with the Gas Refrigerator. A tiny gas flame takes the place of moving parts in its freezing system. So there's no machinery to get noisy or wear out—ever. Now Servels are coming off the line every day. But the demand is so great that some folks may have to wait a bit. If you can't get yours right away, remember—Servel is worth waiting for. It stays silent, lasts longer.

One important feature of Princess Elkhorn's program is its expansion of its scholarship plan by means of which children of its employees are given the opportunity of college education. Princess Elkhorn is now sponsoring four scholarships to Pikeville College from Prestonsburg high school. These scholarships provide a one-year course at Pikeville College, and several children have already qualified and have greatly benefited by their efforts.

The purpose of the new plan is to provide employees' children with a chance for higher education which might not otherwise be available to them. Our scholarships so far have been limited to students from Prestonsburg high school, a letter from the company's employee states: "The plan we now want to work out for the school year beginning in September, 1947, will be extended to children of our employees, regardless of what school they attend, and instead of four scholarships we hope to offer the following: 1. Scholarships for two boys and two girls each upon graduation from the eighth grade to be used in either Highland Institute or Stuart Robinson high school. 2. The scholarship to Highland Institute amounts to $1500 per person and includes tuition, room and board for one school year. The scholarship to Stuart Robinson High School amounts to $1810 per person and includes tuition, room and board for one school year. 3. If the student satisfactorily completes his first year's work, and his return to the school is recommended by the school principal, the student will automatically receive the amount necessary to cover the second year's expense. The same procedure holds good for the third year also. The plan, therefore, would give each student the opportunity to win a three-year scholarship which provides an excellent high school training.

Two girls, upon graduation from high school, will receive scholarships to Pikeville College. These scholarships will be good for two school years, providing, of course, the student meets the requirements of the college. The tuition, including room and board, to Pikeville College is $3780 per year, and the scholarships will carry a total for the two years of approximately $7560 per person.

Two boys, upon graduation from high school, will win scholarships in mining engineering for four years at University of Kentucky, and at some other university with an accredited course in mining engineering. The details of these scholarships have not yet been fully worked out, but we are considering the following plans: (a) Certain universities permit students to attend college for a two-month period and then allow them to work three months. Princess Elkhorn Coal Company plans to employ such students for their three months' work, paying them wages for the time worked and directing their work in such a manner as to give them general experience in all branches of our business. These scholarships would normally take six years to complete rather than the usual four years.

(b) The company will provide work for the students during the summer vacation, offering them the same type of training as Plan One, and under Plan Two the students will go to school for four winters and should receive their degrees in mining engineering at the end of the fourth year. Details of the manner in which the selection of students will be made have to be worked out. Students receiving these scholarships will be selected on the basis of competitive tests after having been recommended by the principal of their school, or by their teachers, and under either Plan One or Plan Two the mining engineering students will be expected to use a large part of their wages while working to apply toward this schooling, and if they cannot make enough during the working periods, Princess Elkhorn will make available to them the additional funds necessary to complete their course.

It is hoped that the boys taking up the study of mining engineering will eventually become a part of the company's own organization. "The coal industry is in great need of young men with mining engineering training, and if your boy will apply himself properly in school there is no doubt about his being able to hold down a good job with our company or with some other coal company," the company's letter explains.

If all eight of these proposed scholarships are filled each year, it will mean that there will be 24 students in school on scholarships at the end of the third year. Hitherto, the company has sent three or four children each year to Pikeville College. The program now announced is being expanded so that, in addition to sending students to Pikeville College, grade school graduates will have an opportunity to attend boarding high schools in the area, and some employees will have an opportunity to enter mining engineering universities.

Background of Company
Princess Elkhorn Coal Company was incorporated in December, 1940. Harry LaViers, of Paintsville, was elected president; G. J. Stollins, Malvern, W. Va., was elected executive vice-president, and David L. Francis, formerly of Pikeville and now residing at David, was elected vice-president and general manager. In April of this year Mr. LaViers resigned as president, and the presidency of South-East Coal Company, as which time Mr. Francis, who had been serving as lieutenant-commander in the navy until January of this year, was elected president. In June of this year, William Crawford, who resides at David, was made general manager. Russell Harmon, who resides at David, was made president of the company since its inception and was elected director. He also is trustee for the school.

The company commenced shipping coal in April, 1941, from the lease hold situated about 10 miles from Prestonsburg on the left fork of Middle Creek. Mine No. 1 received full operation by September, 1941, and employed approximately 230 men. Since then production facilities have been expanded, and a new mine, No. 2, was put into operation in the spring of 1944. No. 1 mine now employs approximately 300 men, and No. 2 mine approximately 175 men. Monthly production at both mines has reached a maximum of 90,000 tons. The mines are completely mechanized, using loading machines, shuttle cars, duckbill shaker conveyors and low-rein cutting machines. The coal is then shipped

Library Here, Topic At Club Meeting

The Prestonsburg Woman's Club held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. W. P. Mayo with plans for a public library figuring prominently in the discussion. Mrs. A. C. Harlow presided in the absence of Miss Alice Harris.

The City Council has approved an appropriation of $25 per month for a librarian here, and Mayor E. P. Arnold has asked that a library board be appointed, club members were told. Other available help includes 1,000 books which the state library will give. A room in the city hall is being considered for the library.

Margery Branham was appointed to meet with the Guild of the Methodist Church to arrange for a community Christmas tree. Mrs. W. P. Mayo was in charge of the program on music and art. Each member submitted what she considered an artistic decoration for the interior of the home. A display of the articles was made and the good and bad points were brought out by Mrs. Mayo, who also gave interesting points on flower arrangements. Miss Polly Allen favored the club with two piano solos and Mrs. Wayne Bradley rendered a vocal solo. Eleven members were present. Mrs. J. D. Mayo and Mrs. Shaw were co-hostesses.

Merrill Faces Trial On Forgery Charge; Idaho Claims Hall

John Merrill, 22 years old, of the Left Beaver Creek section, who had been held in jail here, was charged Tuesday by Huntington, W. Va., authorities to answer to a check forgery charge there. He was accused of passing a forged check for $35 at a Huntington shoe store.

Bert T. Hall, who was arrested here Oct. 21, was returned last week to Pocatello, Idaho to answer burglary charges. He allegedly looted a home there and shipped the "take" by express to West Prestonsburg where the shipment was claimed by Deputy Sheriff Harold Cann. Held in Chicago for Floyd county authorities is George Conn, of Drift, who is wanted on a charge of carnal knowledge of a female under the age of 16.

Prestonsburg Cadets Lose To College Bears

The Prestonsburg Cadets ventured to Pikeville to play the Pikeville College Bears, last Thursday, a game which was hoped to be a runaway for the Bears but which turned out to be a hard-fought, brilliantly played game.

The game was only a few minutes old when the Cadets took the lead and, despite the Bears' ability to put three full teams on the floor, the Cadets managed to hang on and were leading at half-time by a 21-17 score.

The Bears took the lead within a few minutes after the second half started and from then on steadily pulled away, the final score being 33-35. The Cadets' offensive was sparked by Blackburn, who scored 15 points to carry off high point honors for the night. Crain was the mainstay on defense and Junior Tackett's deceptive dribbling kept the Bears in stitches all game. The Bears were led by Newsome and Williamson who scored 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Although the Bears won the game by an 18-point margin, fans agreed that this was due to the Bears' superior numbers and to the fact that the Cadets with only eight men have had only one regular practice game.

The Cadets play host to the Bears early in December and hope to gain revenge for last week's defeat.

Line-ups:

Bears (3)	Pos.	Cadets (35)
Mullins (7)	F.	Mellen (7)
Newsome (11)	F.	Blackburn (15)
Williamson (10)	C.	D. Sammons (4)

Belfry was stopped on the Prestonsburg 10 to begin the fourth quarter. Blackburn picked up five yards and Porter quick-kicked to midfield. Crain intercepted a Pirate pass and that touched off another Prestonsburg touchdown. march, Fanning going over from six yards out. The conversion a tempo failure, leaving the final score: Prestonsburg 19, Belfry 0.

Outstanding was the play of Howard Burchett, who turned in the best after-noon's work at end to be played by any Prestonsburg in years. Also tough on the defense were Hagewood, Woods and Crain on the line, Hall and Blackburn in the backfield.

And now for that game here Friday with their traditional athletic rivals, the championship Paintsville Tigers.

All commodities except food, clothing, medicines, fuel, etc. would be kept from the trains.

Another government official speaking privately said he feared the possibility of a general demonstration by union members if Lewis didn't have to, in view of the miners' traditional slogan, "No contract, no work."

President Truman, who personally directed the legal strategy against Lewis, and his cabinet say there is a contract—the one Lewis signed with Secretary of the Interior Krug last spring—and that Lewis cannot open it at his convenience.

Lewis obviously is out for more pay. The company accepted guess is that he wants pay for a 40-hour week equivalent to what the miners now get for a 54-hour week. The top now is $75.25.

The Washington Evening Star reported that another demand is an increase to 40 cents in the present benefit on every ton of coal for the union's welfare and retirement fund. This would double the annual income from this fund to $50,000,000.

There is now, according to the UMW, about $13,500,000 in the UMW treasury. However, the UMW has never had a strike benefit for the simple reason there are so many miners that the fund would promptly vanish if an attempt were made to spread it around among 400,000 workers and their dependents.

TO THE PUBLIC:
As Christmas approaches, one naturally thinks of their neighbors and wonders particularly about families that have had sickness.
A neighbor of mine, Theodore Hollock, has been sick for months. He is still in poor health and unable to work. There is nobody to help his family except his wife who works every day. They have two children. I hope the people of Prestonsburg and vicinity, at least, will feel like helping the family through Christmas.

1 OF THREE UNQUALIFIED
Emergency Teacher Numbers Increase Over Last Year
Only two out of three Kentucky teachers are properly qualified and some are not even high school graduates.
This was one of several unfavorable facts considered this week by the board of directors of the Kentucky Education Association.
The emergency teachers number 5,700 out of 18,000, compared to 5,500 last year. An emergency teacher is one called in to keep the schools open who is not regularly qualified to teach.
Some are excellent teachers, Adron Doran, of Wingo, president of the K. E. A., and chairman of the board, for example. He explained they had lost their qualifications because of failure for five years to engage in teaching. Others are college graduates, but did not earn sufficient credits in educational subjects.
Some are excellent teachers, Adron Doran, of Wingo, president of the K. E. A., and chairman of the board, for example. He explained they had lost their qualifications because of failure for five years to engage in teaching. Others are college graduates, but did not earn sufficient credits in educational subjects.
But these are the exceptions. Doran said, blame for the situation was placed on the fact that living wages are increasing and teachers' salaries, particularly in rural areas for 1944-45 was $800 a year for 12-100 teachers.
No figure was available for this year, but it was estimated the average salary for all Kentucky teachers last year. Doran said it was difficult to hold teachers in view of increases in living costs.
What is the solution? Doran and other K. E. A. officials said they do not have the answer.
But they are preparing for some sort of action. To that end a series of conferences have been arranged jointly by J. F. Williams, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Doran.
The conferences on School Problems will be attended by school administrators, principals, school officers, superintendents and representative classroom teachers. One of these meetings will be held in Ashland Dec. 10.

Resolutions of Respect

In memory of Brother W. R. Goble who died November 5, 1946. Once again death has summoned a Brother Odd Fellow, and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery, and as his reward has received the plaudit, "well done" from the Supreme Master.

AND WHEREAS, the all wise and merciful Master of the universe has called our beloved and respected brother home, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the charter of Prestonsburg Lodge No. 293, I.O.O.F. of Prestonsburg, Ky., in testimony of his loss, be draped in mourning for 30 days and that we tender to the family of our deceased brother our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

EDUCATIONAL CULTURE

EDUCATION is now, I sometimes think, pretty largely an individual thing, not alone graduate work but much of undergraduate and even high school. Everybody has a book and an individual task. Everybody has a radio and a telephone. Why call up somebody on the party line to ask about the weather when you can find out every 15 minutes of the day if you know how to turn the dial on your radio? And while you are talking, you might miss the perfectly side-splitting program of Somebody-or-other and also prevent the fellow at the other end of the line from hearing the same program or one of his own pets.

When books were scarce and newspapers were almost non-existent, reading took on a more communal aspect. Sometimes a book was actually worn out from use, not hard use, but constant use, and it usually was, it might be badly torn or dog-eared before the precious volume finally disappeared as kindling. No one dreamed of burning up a story magazine, even the pulp-paper ones that came to some homes. After every member of the family had read the entire contents, including the advertisements, the magazine was passed on to people who were less fortunate, or it was folded carefully and kept in a file with other things too dear to burn.

No one household had many books, but nearly every one of any pretensions at all had some books, so that any wide reader could find a rather representative group of books merely by passing on his own and accepting others from the neighbors. Abraham Lincoln walked miles to return or to borrow books would have seemed perfectly normal in Pidelty, as just that sort of thing took place regularly. Novels, histories, books of poems, travel books, biographies, and even ancient classics found their way around, the fingerprints showing that they had been read, whether understood or not.

The old custom of reading aloud was decidedly communal. Many people could not read well enough to enjoy the painful work; it was easy to sit and smoke or dream and listen to some good reader. Often there would be interruptions and comments that were in no sense poor. Children were not the only ones who loved to hear reading done; the older inhabitants listened with joy, often to the re-reading of their favorites. As I have said long ago, my memories of winter get mixed up with the sonorous lines of "Evangeline" or the thrilling events of some of Mary Jane Helmes' tearful novels, because I heard my older sister read as Mother turned the spinning wheel. When some of my friends have told me that they took turns reading "Passing Institutions" aloud, I have been glad, for probably many of the essays of this column were written with oral reading in mind. Certainly I could never have thought of some of the cadences, good or bad, if I had not unconsciously or consciously said the sentence half aloud as I typed.

And then there were many places where literature was discussed. At school we heard a lot about some of the things we read; sometimes the neighborhood literary society, which met at homes through the winter months, discussed some genuine literature; and around the fire when neighbors came to sit till bedtime the books that everybody knew got many a re-telling and discussion. We did not live in a vacuum; everything we did had a neighborhood or communal significance. In that way there were hundreds of things that even bookless people knew, though they probably did not think of themselves as lovers of books or what books contained. Aside from discussions about disputed passages in the Bible there was always an astonishing breadth of view about these round-the-fire book or story reviews. Viewed from the vantage point of forty years, there were entirely too many communal things but too few that our individual lives seem pretty selfish, our culture tedious, our interests narrow.

May Is Among Those Eligible To Legislator Pension Pay

Of the 121 present members of Congress who won't go back to Washington next year for one reason or another, only 28 will be able to start drawing pensions immediately when their checks as lawmakers quit coming.

Thirty-three others—now too young to qualify as soon as they reach 62.

But notice of the remaining 59 "time clocks" is eligible under the Congressional Reorganization Act passed in the closing days of the last session. The 59 who are here until January 2 to decide whether they want to accept the retirement pay.

The principal requirement is six years of Congressional service, not necessarily consecutive. The pensions vary according to the length of service, up to the time of retirement, and the amount contributed.

No one can receive a pension while still in Congress or while holding any federal position. Neither can anyone receive it until he becomes 62 years of age.

Generally speaking, members participating must contribute six per cent annually of their congressional salaries and may not draw in excess of three-fourths of their pay at the time of retirement. Payments are computed on the basis of two and one-half per cent of annual pay for each year of service.

The 18 retiring House members with enough service and age to start receiving payments next year include Congressman A. J. May, Prestonsburg.

Thirty other House members who won't be back next year have the required six years of service and aren't 62. They include O'Neal of Kentucky.

For some of the eligibles, annual benefits for the rest of their lives will exceed the entire amount of payments, since the law requires a minimum contribution of only $2,716 to cover the last five years of service.

For example, by paying the $2,716, 71-year-old Rep. Summers, with 34 years of House service, can draw $8,182 a year, if he signs up. And Rep. May, also 71 with 18 years in Congress, can draw $3,376 annually. Each could increase the benefits by paying contributions for the entire length of their service. Summers could draw $7,500 annually if he paid in $4,786. May could draw $3,958 by paying $8,463.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR MRS. MARTIN
Mrs. Troy D. Martin, nee Mary Gibson, was complemented with a miscellaneous shower Friday evening in the Methodist Church. Long tables were used for display of the many gifts. About 40 guests were served a salad course by the hostess, Madeline Brady Shepherd. Dove Vaughan, Butler Spivey, Cecil Kendrick and John B. Kendrick.

A Lesson
In Conservation

We were sitting on Bill Whetter's porch the other night, chatting over a glass of beer—when the talk turned to forest preservation, soil erosion, and other things that affect a farming community.

Joe Cunningham speaks up: "It's all right to worry about conserving our natural resources," he says, "but there's a far greater realization when it comes to conservation—that of preserving our democratic way of life, our sense of personal freedom, our respect for one another's rights."

NEWS FOR THE VETERAN
 National Service Life Insurance for World War II veterans of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky are now located at the Veterans Administration Branch Office No. 6, 52 South Starling Street, Columbus, Ohio, VA officials announced recently.
 With the transfer of over 1,700,000 NSLI accounts from the New York office to Columbus, World War II vets in the three-state area will now send their premium payments to the Columbus Branch Office address. As a matter of convenience veterans (or their dependents) can pay insurance premiums at the nearest VA pay-station.
 The correct procedure for all Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky veterans to follow in paying their insurance premiums was outlined by VA officials as follows:
 1. World War II Vets: These holding NSLI policies (for World War II vets) use the nearest VA collection office or mail check or money order to Collections Division, Veterans Administration, Branch No. 6, 52 So. Starling Street, Columbus, Ohio.
 2. World War I Vets: Those holding United States government Life Insurance policies (for World War I vets) send premiums to Veterans Administration, Collections Division, Washington 25, D. C.
 3. Military Personnel: All military personnel on active duty status, including veterans who have re-enlisted, may have their premiums deducted through Army Finance channels, or mail premiums to Veterans Administration, Collections Division, 346 Broadway, New York 13, New York.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q. I understand that term insurance which has lapsed can be reinstated before Feb. 1, 1947 by paying two premiums without interest and submitting a statement as to the insured's health. What is necessary to reinstate a lapsed converted policy?
 A. A lapsed converted policy may be reinstated at any time by payment of all monthly premiums in arrears, with interest at their several due dates at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, and by submission of insurability satisfactory to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs.
 Q. Can I change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of my National Service Insurance without letting the beneficiaries know anything about it?
 A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his NSLI at any time without their knowledge or consent by notifying the Veterans Administration. For further information the veteran should consult the nearest Veterans Administration office.
 Q. How can I arrange to have my National Service Life Insurance premiums deducted from the disability compensation checks I receive from the Veterans Administration?
 A. You can do this if you will go to any Veterans Administration office and fill out a form authorizing the VA to make deductions from your compensation payments.
 For further information get in touch with the nearest Veterans Administration office. Ed L. McKinney, Contact Representative, is in charge of the local contact office which is located in the U.S. Employment Service office, First avenue, Prestonsburg, Ky.

HOTELS for LIVESTOCK
 The central livestock market is as American as the "hot dog." No other country has the like of it. European sellers and buyers haggle over individual animals. In South America most of the dealing is done right on the estancias, where the livestock is raised. But here in the leading livestock nation of the world, for 75 years central markets have played a big part in the job of moving meat toward dinner tables of the United States.
 When a carload of livestock rolls off the prairies or out of the mountains into one of the 65 or more great central markets, the animals are "greeted" and "registered" at the unloading dock, much as travelers are received and registered in hotels. From there they are sent to their "rooms"—the pens assigned to the commission man to whom the owner has shipped his animals. There these hogs, cattle, calves and lambs are rested and given food and drink.
 Just as hotels compete for guests, so these central markets compete with each other for the business of accommodating the 88 million head of livestock which come in each year. Thousands of livestock buyers and other buyers bid against each other and the sale is made to the highest bidder. With 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers active in livestock

Things Are NOT Always as They Seem

 The mechanical device pictured above shoots the ball marked A and at the same instant drops the ball marked B straight down. It certainly looks as if B will hit the ground first, since ball A has so much farther to go. But the fact is that they will both strike the ground at precisely the same instant.
 In our business, too, things are not always as they seem. On September 1, 1946, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported that in the entire country there were 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storage—that is a lot of pounds. But actually it is the lowest on record for that date... and compares with 628 million a year ago and a 631-million average for 1941-1945. Here in America we eat about 50 million pounds of meat a day, so the September 1 supply of meat in cold storage was barely enough to feed us for seven days.

Thanksgiving
 In this Thanksgiving month, the people of our nation—and of many other nations—owe a debt of gratitude to the ranchers and farmers of America. All through the year, in spite of its tremendous requirements, our people ate well. And in spite of sharing with the earth's hungry, our people are still eating well. Today, to be sure, not all the meat they would like to have... but plenty of nutritious food to keep them well and strong. That is because for long years millions of farm and ranch men, women and children have kept the food supply up, working harder than ever before, overcoming shortages of help and machinery and many other obstacles. Yes, Americans may well offer thanks this month to all those who produce our food.

PREPARATION OF CORN FOR CATTLE FEEDING
 by P. S. Shearer
 Iowa State College
 How should Corn Belt cattle feeders prepare corn to get best results from their feeding? As ear corn, shelled corn, corn-and-cob meal, or ground shelled corn? The following may be helpful in deciding: 1. Are hogs following the cattle? If not, the evidence seems clear that grinding either the whole ear or shelled corn will pay. Feeding ear corn is especially wasteful if hogs are not following the cattle, or if lots are naudy and the hogs have little chance to scrape corn brown out of the bunks or passed through the stiers.
 2. Is the corn hard or soft? Corn varieties differ greatly in hardness of kernel. Grinding hard corn is recommended, whereas grinding might not be needed with softer corn.
 3. What will the preparation cost? Costs of shelling and grinding differ from farm to farm due to labor, power and other charges. If the cost exceeds the gains derived, preparation doesn't pay.
 4. Will an experienced, careful feeder do the feeding? Corn-and-cob meal is rated as a safer preparation in the hands of inexperienced feeders than either shelled or ground shelled corn.
 Corn is a good cattle feed any way it may be prepared and one will not go far wrong with any of the standard preparations. Even our damaged, moldy corn surprised many with its feeding value this past winter.

 Yield: 6 servings

1 tablespoon melted butter	1/2 cup sifted flour
4 tart cooking apples	2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup sugar	1/2 cup nuts
1/2 teaspoon vanilla	1/2 cup chopped raisins or dates

SPREAD
 When visiting with livestock producers on farms or ranches, great meetings, the subject of "spread" often comes up for discussion. Then I give them an explanation of the difference between the price they get for livestock and the price meat packers receive for the meat we eat.
 To me it is a source of continual surprise that the spread is not greater than it is. During my years of experience in the livestock-meat industry, I have learned about spread. What Swift & Company have been paying farmers and ranchers approximately 76c on the average, out of every dollar we receive from those to whom we sell, for all products we process and handle, including hides, manure, and all by-products. That leaves us 24c over the cost of processing and marketing.
 Out of the 24c comes the cost of buying livestock and other agricultural products. The cost of preparation and refrigeration. The cost of loading them into cars and trucks. The cost of transporting them to our branch houses or to retailers. The cost of branch house operation and of selling and delivering the products to the retail dealers. In addition, we have taxes to pay; plus insurance and all the other necessary costs of doing business. When all these expenses have been paid, we make a profit, which over a period of years has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the 6 1/2 billion pounds of products we handle annually.
 There is no other business in the country that does so much for so little.

He has two more years on his present enlistment, having enlisted for three years. ### Army Seeks To Up Officer Corps 25,000

In the greatest peacetime expansion of its officer corps in history, the army is now seeking candidates for 25,000 regular army commissions in the grades of second and first lieutenant, captain and major. It was announced by Major General Edward P. Winter, last week.

This expansion is designed to bring the army's regular officer strength to 60,000 as authorized by Congress in August. It is the second within 12 months, an increase to 55,000 having been authorized in December. As emphasized by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, in his testimony before Congress last July, the authorized increase in the number of regular army commissions will permit the army to offer attractive careers to the most desirable and experienced wartime officers whose expensive training would otherwise be lost to the army when they revert to their civilian professions.

Former officers of the army of the United States who have served since Dec. 7, 1941, whether or not they previously applied during the Officer-Procurement Program conducted earlier this year, are eligible for appointments.

As was the case in the earlier expansion, a method has been established by which any candidate can determine in advance the rank in which he will be commissioned. Rank will be based either on length of actual commissioned service since Dec. 7, 1941, or on "constructive service," whichever is the greatest, the latter representing the number of years, months and days by which the age of the applicant exceeds 25 years. No former officer will be commissioned in grade higher than that held during the war.

All new applications must be forwarded by Dec. 31, and the supplemental applications of previous candidates by Nov. 30. The first of the new appointment lists will be announced about the middle of January.

Vets Jobless Benefits Still Showing Drop

Claims of Kentucky veterans for jobless benefits during the week ending Nov. 9 were 6,555 less than for the previous week, the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission reported this week. A total of 46,824 veterans' claims were handled during the week, compared with 52,17 for the week ending Nov. 2.

Claims of all types decreased, too, the commission said, reporting state claims totaling $8,722 for the week ending Nov. 2 as against $9,045 for the previous week. Interstate claims were down to 3,010 from 3,224 for the week covered in the report.

Floyd county reported a total of 277 state claims, 174 interstate, and 1,990 by veterans for a total of 2,470 for the week ending Nov. 9.

It is estimated that 2,000 acres in Spencer county were seeded to crimson clover and hairy vetch.

Two Dead, 64 are Homeless In Ashland Apartment Fire

Ashland, Ky., Nov. 17.—Fire swept through two frame apartment houses here early today, fatally burning two tenants and leaving 64 homeless. The fire started in the second floor of the adjoining two-story apartment buildings. None of the persons were injured seriously.

Fire Chief Burrle Henley identified the fatally burned victims as Arthur Henry Bolton, 67, house painter, and Mrs. Hilma Hall Rogers, 58.

George S. Kimblen, owner of one of the apartment buildings, said Bolton and Mrs. Rogers apparently were trapped by the flames. They had apartments on the first floor of one of the structures.

Kimblen estimated his loss at $60,000. There was no over-all estimate of the damage, which included virtually all the clothing, furniture and other household effects of the occupants.

Chief Henley, who said the origin of the fire had not been determined, gave credit to an attendant at a nearby filling station for turning in the alarm. The blaze broke out about 1:14 a.m.

Although the firemen concentrated on saving structures near the scene, one cottage and another house in the rear of the apartments also were destroyed.

The homeless families, numbering 64 persons, huddled about in small groups or found shelter with friends and relatives.

A five-month-old baby girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, was tossed to safety by her father from the second floor of the Kimblen apartment into the arms of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who occupied other rooms in the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson then saved themselves by jumping to a roof and climbing to the ground. Mrs. Katherine Bostic, 16-year-old sister of Mrs. Johnson, and wife of a navy man in service, was bruised and cut in jumping to the ground.

The fire made Ashland's acute housing shortage still more serious. Few of the families had any immediate prospect of finding new homes.

The Ashland Red Cross announced after an emergency meeting that housing and feeding would be provided temporarily in the Salvation Army headquarters.

Max Spray, former Ashland newspaper editor and now Eastern Region Red Cross information representative, who happened to be visiting in the city, said a Red Cross case worker would come here tomorrow from Alexandria, Virginia, to assist the homeless.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY
The new heading for my weekly column in this newspaper is "Kentucky on the March." It is moving toward better things, toward a place in the sun.

After 50 years of limping behind the more progressive states our Commonwealth has thrown away its walking cane.

Yes, we are going places. The progress made thus far by the Committee for Kentucky certainly has made a convert of me, and that is a notable accomplishment, because up to 11 months ago I was a chronic skeptic. I had always felt that Kentucky had too many lazy people, family tree leathers and bankroll sitters to ever get in step with the more progressive states until a new generation was born.

I diagnosed the state's ailment in incurable hookworm. In concrete results we have not startled the world as yet, but the groundwork for progress is done. Getting the old rural school tax (limit of 75 cents per $100 worth of assessed property, which kept our schools in poverty, raised to $1.50, was an achievement that made educational history. And it is only a first step in the Committee for Kentucky's march in behalf of better schools.

The committee's revelations have turned the spotlight on the deplorable condition of our welfare institutions and our public health services. It has given the public a liberal education in the matter of public health.

And local work for improvement in all these fields is beginning to yield results. The Committee for Kentucky has made great headway in organizing the state for civic betterment than ever made in one year in any state, city or county.

Our army of marchers numbers upward of 400 people. They include representative individuals and such representative state-wide organizations as: the Kentucky State Agents Association, Kentucky Branch of American Association of University Women, Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Kentucky Association of Colored Women, Kentucky Conference of Social Welfare, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, Kentucky Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, Kentucky Merchants Association, Kentucky Municipal League, Kentucky Neurological Association, Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association, Kentucky Press Association, Kentucky State Building and Construction Trades Council, Kentucky State Association of Labor, Kentucky State Medical Association, Kentucky State Dental Association, Kentucky State CIO, Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, Kentucky Vocational Association, Kentucky Workers Education Council, Kentucky Educational Association, Kentucky Retail Lumber Dealers, Kentucky Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, Kentucky School Boards Association, Kentucky Association of Deans of Women, Girl Scouts of Kentucky, Kentucky Library Association, Consumers League of Kentucky, Kentucky Drug Traders Association.

And the existing organizations in the Committee for Kentucky probably isn't much more than half gone.

And we must not overlook the support given by daily and weekly newspapers and most of the state's periodicals. The daily and weekly press demonstrated their faith in the movement for a better Kentucky when over 100 of them gave space to this column. Scores of papers are backing the Committee for Kentucky editorially.

Yes, Kentucky is on the march! H. S. Hall, of Pulaski county, stated that ammonia sulfate increased his barley yield 10 bushels per acre, then doubled the lespedeza following barley.

The election is over. The people have spoken. I wish to thank each and every one for giving to me the opportunity to serve my people. As I write this I can but feel humble as I realize the great indebtedness I owe to you all. I can only hope that you realize that my foremost desire is to serve you as best my abilities will permit me. It is my only way to repay you.

I want you people to call on me, to ask favors, to tell me how you desire me to vote on important issues, and to write me your problems. I ask that you call on me at any time I can be of service to you.

My job is to serve my country, and many changes are needed. We must get ourselves back on the track—the track that leads us to the freedom of action that is in this country love. We must remove from our country any taint of any ISM be it one leaning to the left or to the right. Our great constitution does not point either to the right or to the left.

I want to thank the veterans of the district for their support of a buddy. I am glad that I can be of service to you. We need much legislation for veterans and I will be constantly on the alert for your buddies.

I want to thank the miners and the laboring men and women for your support. You have elected a friend. You shoulder the burdens of the world and you need friends in Washington.

To business men and to industry I wish to say that free enterprise is, in my opinion, our very backbone. We must have more business in government and less government in business. We must reduce government spending and in turn lift part of the burden of taxes. We must provide for growth and expansion of privately owned business. We must encourage private business and discourage all leanings toward state socialism. We must all fight to protect the coal industry. We must fight for expanded markets. We must fight for our major industry just as the south fights for its cotton, the midwest for its wheat, and the east for its textiles.

Again I thank all of you, and REMEMBER I AM YOUR FRIEND,

'Improvished' Includes Intellectually Starved, Club Speaker Declares

Wheelwright, Ky. Nov. 18 (Sp.)—The Wheelwright Citizens Club met in Community Hall Monday evening with 28 members present. The meeting was opened by the sale and signing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Yale Rogers. A few minutes of silent meditation was observed in memory of Armistice Day. Twenty-five dollars was donated to the local Girl Scout drive for funds.

Every member came wearing something representing a book in observation of National Book Week. Art and much originality in the representation of books kept everyone busily engaged during the early part of the meeting trying to guess the books represented. A prize was given for the best and cleverest representation, won by Mrs. H. M. Wilkinson, Sr. for her lamp decoration of "The Green Years," written by Dr. A. J. Cronin. A prize was awarded Mrs. E. E. Conley for guessing the most books. Out of a possible 28 Mrs. Conley guessed 16.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. W. Turner, who spoke on "Improvished Children," stressing the plight of those not physically improvished but those suffering from lack of proper reading material. She called on club members to help the children of surrounding communities by influencing one or more to read a better book. Among books recommended for the wholesome, improving reading were: "Chicken Every Sunday," "Three Times I Cry," "Roughly Speaking," "Life With Patience," "Immortal Wife," "My Chinese Wife" and especially most of the biographies being written.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by Messrs. W. B. Garriot, and Stephen W. Clark and Hobart Smith. Mrs. Don A. Demmon, mother of George E. Leathersman, was a guest.

ATTEND MEETING
State Officers Mrs. C. P. Stephens, historian, and Mrs. Everett Sowards, recording secretary, of the Daughters of Colonial Wars, Mrs. E. P. Arnold, Mrs. Jo M. Davidson and Mrs. Ida Sargent attended the meeting at the Lafayette hotel Wednesday in Lexington.
