New Candy Plan Slims Down Figure

Miss M. M. Harlan, 2241 Broadway, Prestonsburg, Ky., has lost 51 pounds in 1946 by following the new candy plan. She weighed 175 lbs. Nov. 15, 1945. Last month she weighed 124 lbs. with the help of the new candy plan. Her experience says it may be the same for those who are reluctant to diet. Very few diet plans show results of 51 lbs. in 1946.

In dietician's terms, conducted by medical doctors, this new diet plan is a new method of eating. It is a new plan to eat the same food, but in a different way. It is a new plan to eat the same food, but in a different way. It is a new plan to eat the same food, but in a different way.

IF YOU THINK A WATCH IS COMPLICATED

LOOK AT THIS TELEPHONE JOB

Providing more and better telephone service is a time-consuming, painstaking job. Much of the equipment is as complicated as a fine watch.

Thousands of tiny telephone connections must be soldered together, each in its precise place. Banks of delicate electrical relays set up. Miles of wiring laced into intricate switchboards. Cables laid. Poles erected. Wires strung. And sometimes a whole new building constructed.

"Get the job done!" That's our slogan. And that's exactly what we are doing as fast as we can get scarce materials and then install the equipment.

Telephone folks are working for you night and day, hustling along with the Telephone Company's program to improve service.

PROGRESS... Despite shortages!

In Kentucky during 1946, the Telephone Company installed more facilities than at any other time in history. 34,000 miles of exchange wire, 518 miles of long distance circuits, and 35,303 telephones were added. 76 local and long distance central office additions were made and the number of employees increased 30 per cent.

Watch telephone service grow, for as it grows so does its value to you. That's because you can reach so many more people!

Commission Reports Reduction in Rates To Utility Customers

A reduction of $1,352,793.50 annually in utility rates in Kentucky was effected and the construction of 8,212 miles of additional electric distribution lines was authorized by the Public Service Commission in 1946, according to a report to Governor Willis by Charles E. Whitte, chairman of the commission.

Of the new construction authorized, 80 miles are in Floyd county, according to the report.

There were 12 separate rate adjustments during the year. Five increases and seven were reductions, but the increases aggregated $48,325,000 while the reductions total $1,187,075. All of the seven reductions reported were for electric service and affected 142,291 customers, of whom 86 per cent were domestic customers. The average annual savings to each customer was $3.35.

The $212 miles of new construction authorized extends to 13 counties and is designed to serve 50,000 new customers to whom no existing electric distribution system is accessible," the report sets forth. "Preliminary surveys have been completed for all of the extensions authorized, several hundred miles have already been built and energized, and the construction of others is proceeding as rapidly as materials become available."

Seeks Descendants To Settle Estate

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 23 (Sp.)—The brothers and sisters of the late James Nevill Stuart who would be quite aged if still living, and therefore more likely their children, are being sought throughout Ohio and Kentucky to claim a $10,000 estate of which they obviously never heard. This was revealed here today when W. C. Cox, probate judge at 309 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, took charge of the search.

"Stuart, who was about 60 years old, was reported to have died either in Ohio or Kentucky," Mr. Cox said. "He talked about his boys both states to friends. He left no clue, however, as to the exact location from which he came. His middle name, Nevill, is unusual and is believed to be a family name, or perhaps the maiden name of his mother. If his brothers or sisters are dead without living descendants, then we want to contact former relatives who may claim the estate."

Notice to Taxpayers

On and after March 1 there will be a 6 per cent penalty on all unpaid tax bills. To save this extra cent, taxes must be paid by that date. TROY B. STURGILL, Sheriff, Floyd county, Ky.

Former P'Burg Child Writes Prize Poem

Laura V. May, sixth grade pupil in the First district school, Covington, won a prize in recent competition with other pupils in a poetry-writing contest. The winner is a daughter of Mrs. Woody Ellis May, of Covington, and Colonel May, of Prestonsburg. Her poem, "Make Believe," follows:

Did you ever visit Wonderland, Where you see flowers popping up And bluebirds on the wing? There are houses made of boxes And chipmunks made of seeds, While a horseshoe stands for a golden gate And toothpicks are used for weeds. A little brown stick attached to wheat Is good for a broom in hand, And guess what's used to tidy your hair? Lead pencils are used for combs. I know you'll want to go to this land Where all the world just lies; So just close your eyes and go to sleep And wake up with a big surprise.

ON SEA DUTY Vernon Bailey, seaman first class, son of Mrs. Mary Bailey, of Wheelwright, is serving aboard the destroyer USS H. J. Ellison. Bailey, who attended Wheelwright high school, entered the naval service Feb. 16, 1944, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

State Insurance Head Starts Fight on Boost of Auto Liability Rate

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 17—A petition to prevent a rise in automobile liability insurance rates pending a hearing before him was filed in circuit court here today by State Insurance Director Harry G. Wilson. Circuit Court Clerk Kelly C. Smith said he expected to sign an order tomorrow restraining the insurance companies from charging more for liability policies. It will be effective until Circuit Judge W. B. Artery can hold a hearing and either dismiss it or grant an injunction.

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters announced the increase would become effective today in 27 states including Kentucky, and in the District of Columbia and Alaska. The new rates include a 30 per cent increase for private passenger cars and 40 per cent for commercial vehicles insured for property damage. A heavy increase in traffic accidents and greater cost of settling such claims was given as the cause.

Insurance Director Wilson said a protest had been made to his office by the Kentucky Association of Insurance Agents. Wilson took the position the insurance companies lacked right to enforce the higher charges until a hearing on the proposed increases is held in his office. Wilson's petition was directed against the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters and an insurance concern, the U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Company, the latter the representative of the companies proposing to raise rates. The new rates should be held in abeyance until after a hearing is held on them here February 20, Wilson said.

MINOR TRAGEDIES NECESSARY TO PREVENT GREATER ONES

AN ALLERGY WE CHERISH

THE people of Kentucky have no allergy—they have, rather, an allergy—to machine politics.

The Democratic and Republican parties, please take notice.

In the last gubernatorial election the deus ex machina became the "sprag" in the flywheel and Lyter Donaldson and the Democratic party went down to defeat in a political era when the party should have been at its strongest in a traditionally Democratic state.

Although obviously a candidate with little popular appeal and with some mud from the highway department machine smudging his political countenance, Donaldson was the choice of the machine, which was represented by the Administration. The unorganized voter spoke his little piece in the primary, but his voice was lost in the clank and whirr of the gears.

So, tired of the Chandler-Johnson regime which smacked of a hierarchy as it offered Mr. Donaldson for the Succession, thousands of Democratic voters staged a quiet rebellion and upset the apple cart.

Not much is left now of that old machine, but here and there rusting parts lie about the Commonwealth. And there are some "plug" mechanics in the party who would pick up the pieces, wire them back together and get them running in time for the coming primary.

This newspaper doesn't go in for politics. Least of all, the machine brand. And that kind of thing is what we would advise the voters to slum. You can't blame any candidate for accepting support wherever he can find it, but you can keep an eye out for the Old Gang. It's not hard to recognize.

And it is certain that whomever it supports will be expected to "go along" as a machine man, and not necessarily as a man of the people.

REBBIKANS TO MEET Eighteen Pulaski county farmers and their families were awarded pins at the Farm and a call meeting Tuesday night when Home convention for having degrees will be conferred on a class of about more than 100 bushels of corn to the acre.

laws meant by "reasonable walking distance." County school boards generally have considered anything under 2 1/2 miles a reasonable walking distance.

The territory of the Shelbyville independent school district, created in 1871, comprises the city and outlying areas within a radius of three miles from the county courthouse. Generally, independent, or city school districts are limited to boundaries of the municipality, but a few, including Shelbyville and Versailles, extend beyond the city limits.

Tuesday's ruling, affirming Shelby circuit court, was given in a suit by six parents of 10 pupils residing some two or three miles south of Shelbyville, on Zardie Mill Pike.

The Shelby board of education contended the law requiring county school districts to furnish buses did not apply to the city, or independent districts. It also argued that county education have power of discretion to say what is a reasonable distance.

The board also stated that while 10 roads come into Shelbyville there are no crossroads connecting them within five miles of the town, thus making bus travel difficult. It also contended that its school-tax rate would have to be raised 30 cents to provide bus service and that it had been impossible to buy buses.

In his opinion Appellate Judge Eugene E. Siler said the state's recent school laws make no difference in the responsibility of county and city school boards for transporting pupils requiring that aid.

Combat Disabled Veterans May Enlist in Army

The War Department last month inaugurated a plan to enlist 5,000 physically handicapped combat veterans of World War II in the regular army. If the experiment is successful, quotas may be enlarged and the same opportunity may be offered to qualified non-combat disabled veterans.

Existing these disabled veterans will help satisfy the army's need for skilled manpower. The plan was not designed as a gesture to the handicapped, but simply with the desire to utilize the services of trained and generally trainable ex-soldiers.

Study of the development of special skills by partially disabled men has proven that, in many occupations, such men are as valuable as men unimpaired by any handicap.

The applicant must meet all the usual standards for enlistment and be physically fit, with the exception of the established physical qualifications. Medical officers will pass quickly on each man's physical condition. Generally, to be accepted, the combat disabled veteran must be capable of doing unaided for his own personal needs; he must be physically capable of performing useful service in the job for which he is selected; and his condition must be such that further hospitalization or time-loss from duty because of the combat-incurred disability may not be expected. In addition, he must possess, or be trainable in, certain critically needed skills. More than 100 critical military occupational specialties have been listed as open to the combat-disabled.

Full particulars may be obtained at the army recruiting station, Post-office Bldg., Prestonsburg.

Kenne-Skeans

Willard, O.—One of Willard's most popular young couples was united in marriage on Saturday, Feb. 1, in the Trinity Lutheran Church. The Rev. G. C. Heflinger performed the double ring ceremony at 8:30 for Miss Norma Kenne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Kenne, of Willard, formerly of Sandusky, and Robie Skeans, son of Mrs. Callie Skeans, of Prestonsburg, Ky.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white satin and net. It was fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, and long pointed sleeves; the net overskirt flowed from a deep-plunged bodice and formed a long train. Her veil was of finger tip length. She carried a white Bible and a shower bouquet of gardenias.

A rhinestone bracelet, gift of the groom, completed her costume. Mrs. Norene Kenne attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor and was in white satin and carried red carnations. Sandra Lou Kenne, five-year-old niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid and wore pink organza with a shoulder corsage of pink carnations. Norene Kenne, brother of the bride, was best man.

Miss Agnes Moore presented organ music preceding and during the ceremony. A reception followed in the brother's home for close friends and relatives, and a four-tier wedding cake adorned the bridal table.

The bride is a clerk in the local office of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company. Mr. Skeans is employed in Willard as section foreman for Western Union. He served in the army as communications sergeant for four years with the famed 82nd Airborne Division.

A milk company in Montgomery county reports an average daily increase of 10,000 pounds of whole milk for the last half of 1946 over the same period in 1945.
