Miss Branham Becomes Bride of Mr. Simmons

By candlelight in an open church ceremony in Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, Miss. Margerite Branham, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Branham, of Prestonsburg, became the bride of Mr. Paul W. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons, Prestonsburg, on June 4, at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Everett L. Branham, now of Huntington, W. Va., but formerly of Prestonsburg, officiated. The bride, Miss Margerite Branham, wore a gown of white permanent finish organza covered with small embroidered flowers. Narrow bands of pink or lace trimmed the elbow-length sleeves and the sweetheart neckline. The large full skirt swept low in the back resting low on the floor. The fingertip veil of illusion tulle fell from a small Juliet cap of the material. She carried a white prayer book to which was attached an orchid with a cascade of white satin streamers.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Louise Branham, pianist, and a sister of the bride, played traditional wedding music, and Miss Faye Branham, also a sister of the bride, sang "From This Day Forward," "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "Always."

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, chose for her nuptials a gown of white permanent finish organza covered with small embroidered flowers. Narrow bands of pink or lace trimmed the elbow-length sleeves and the sweetheart neckline. The large full skirt swept low in the back resting low on the floor. The fingertip veil of illusion tulle fell from a small Juliet cap of the material. She carried a white prayer book to which was attached an orchid with a cascade of white satin streamers.

ward rather than down, Mr. Raney said the truckers have another reason for unity. "Every rail mine in Floyd county will be happy to see you closed," he declared. "They say you are responsible for the car shortage and that you have taken some of their best miners."

"You can't take a cut on your coal, pay your men a dollar more on the day and pay 10 cents more royalty for the welfare fund and stay in business," Raney continued. "And if you don't take a cut you will lose your mine and work men at less than the contract scale will find his mine closed!"

John W. Hodges, secretary of the Pike County Truck Mine Operators association, declaring that a monopoly had been formed in the coal industry by the buyer that is "worse than Teapot Dome," Mr. Coleman, president of the Pike group, reminded Floyd county producers that they must load clean coal if they are to operate in competition with rail mines equipped to wash and otherwise clean their product. Mr. Raney, at the request of Mr. Carter, came back to add his support to Mr. Coleman.

Although truck mine operators were glum about the situation as it now stands, they were told their unions refused to sell at the offered price will quickly bring an increase. In fact, Mr. Raney said, Consolidation, Elk Horn and the Reed interests have made offers of increases ranging up to 40 cents a ton. He advised against scattered operators accepting these small increases and returning to work, pointing out that such weakness divided the small operators.

League Managers Remain Coy About Publicizing Results

All Big Sandy Baseball League managers, except Wayland's, declined to give out reports on this week about reporting results and box scores of week-end games, but the grapevine had it that Harold, Wayland, Elk Horn City, Weiksbury and Paintsville were winners.

Wayland defeated Preonsburg at Wayland, 10 to 5, with loose base-running and Preonsburg's inability to hit in the clutch making the victory comparatively easy. DeCoursey was Wayland's big gun on the attack.

Seventy-five Harold edged the Pikeville VFW, 7 to 6, Elk Horn City stamped Garret, 10-1, Weiksbury and Van Lear defeated the Preonsburg-Wayland score, with the Floyd coustans winning, and Paintsville was reported the winner over Clark Creek.

Elk Horn City holds a tenuous margin on the first-place spot, with Harold and Wayland in second and C. Patton, B. Ford, respectively. Official league standings are unavailable because of the district and state tournaments at Pikeville and EK-

Who's a Lem Lubber?—Nobody Loves Lem

Are you a Lem Lubber? That's the $64 question in beating this year. You may be one and not even know it. It's another one of those things that even your best friends may feel reluctant to tell you about—although they'll tell everyone else.

Lem Lubber is the cartoon creation of the Outboard Boating Club of America and, what Lem doesn't know about boating would fill volumes. Lem Lubbers are the small-boaters' plague and veteran boaters would rather spend the afternoon in drydock than associate with them. It's surprising how many foolish things a Lem Lubber can do in an afternoon of boating. They overload and overpower boats... stay out in storms... smoke while refueling outboard motors... hog the right-of-way... speed near beaches... show off and make a lot of noise. Lem Lubbers don't even respect fishermen and fish lines as often as they can.

For the sake of smallboaters who might think they have a case of Lubberism, it has been suggested they thumb through the colorful Lem Lubber folder. It lists a good many points on courtesy and common sense boating. Failure to comply with a single suggestion puts you on the warning line. Identification with any two violations makes you a Lem Lubber, but good.

Lem Lubber folders are free to all boaters at the C. H. Smith Motor Co., Prestonsburg.

Take a look at Lem and see if he looks like you!

Kentucky Dam State Park, Newest In State System, Open to Public

Housing accommodations for those who want to enjoy a vacation on beautiful Kentucky Lake, inspect the huge $115,000,000 Kentucky Dam, fish in the wide reaches of the lake or in the swift waters below the dam, or engage in many of the water sports that are available are provided at Kentucky Dam State Park, newest park in the state system.

The accommodations were made available quickly because on July 1 the Tennessee Valley Authority turned over to the Kentucky Division of Parks the village it built at Gilbertsville during construction of Kentucky Dam.

The state has moved swiftly to convert some of the buildings into lodges for overnight visitors and to furnish cottages for vacationists. Each of the cottages has two bedrooms, a living room, kitchenette and bath. The community building of the TVA village has become the dining room, sandwich and souvenir shop and commissary in the new park. A large auditorium is available for recreational facilities. The TVA also built a beach on Kentucky Lake, an extensive picnic area overlooking the lake and gigantic Kentucky Dam, tennis courts, softball diamond, and a golf course, which is not now in operation. There's even an excellent airport in the new park.

Under an agreement between the state and TVA, the park site, consisting of 900 acres of improved grounds, go to the state for only $1. Thirty-eight cottages, the auditorium, community building, auditorium, tennis building, personnel building and several smaller structures cost the state only $30,000.

Harold Fisher, formerly superintendent at Cumberland Falls State Park, is superintendent of the new Kentucky Dam State Park. The postoffice address is Gilbertsville, Kentucky.

Twenty miles "down" Kentucky Lake from the dam, the state has another new park under construction, Kentucky Lake State Park. At present there is a public boat dock, swimming beach and picnic facilities. For the future a lodge and vacation cabins are scheduled. A bathhouse, public shelters, rest rooms, recreation stand and other facilities are under construction.

Meanwhile, the Tennessee Valley Authority reports that Kentucky Lake has gone far ahead of other lakes in the TVA system in attracting visitors. In May alone, the TVA estimated that 111,000 persons visited Kentucky Dam.

Elk Horn City, the host to the state meet, Newport, Covington, Brownsville and Corbin were seeded to the state tournament.

Bell Costs Jenkins Toll

Jack (For Whom the Bell Tolls) Bell, who got his walking papers a few weeks ago from the Pikeville team of the Kentucky & West Virginia League, was back in the stew.

He ran afoul of George M. Trautman, minor leagues' president, because he had signed to the Jenkins team of the Mountain State high school boy. Don Clayton, under the alias of Joe Sadder.

Trautman fired an "airmail" Bell's explanation that the alias was used because he feared the name Clayton could be intentionally mispronounced so as to embarrass the young player. He wanted to know how the name Clayton could be more embarrassingly twisted than Sadder could be. Bell's explanation that he signed the high school boy to a contract in violation of the high school rule was equally unsatisfactory. He said he was unacquainted to signing ball players. Trautman pointed out Bell only last year had acted as a manager in Clarksville and, therefore, could not plead ignorance.

Result of the investigation: the Jenkins ball club was fined $200 by Trautman, and the alleged violation of the high school rule was referred to the office of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler. If Trautman's action is upheld, said Chandler, the automatic fine of $500 will be assessed for signing Clayton before he was eligible for a professional contract.

"What action I will take toward Bell, and possibly other officials of the Jenkins club, committing the fraudulent act of knowingly signing a player under an assumed name will not be announced until I have investigated the case thoroughly," Chandler added.

On top of all that, the Jenkins club last week was fined $50 by Virgil Q. Wacks, president of the Mountain State League, for its negligence in an alleged attack on umpire Roy "Red" Russell of Knoxville. Wacks said Russell reported he was attacked by two intoxicated men, the night of July 3, as he left the baseball park at Jenkins.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Veterans students who graduated this year and have moved from the area served by the Veterans Administration Branch Office to which they have been mailing their G.I. insurance premium payments should notify VA immediately of their new permanent address.

V.A. officials in Columbus, O., said that a veteran's government insurance records are kept in the VA branch office supervising the area in which he maintains his permanent address.

The sooner the veteran notifies VA of his change in residence, the sooner VA can transfer his insurance records to the VA branch office having jurisdiction over the area in which he will reside.

When advising VA of his new address, the veteran should identify himself fully, including his government insurance certificate number, former address and new address. Changes in address may be noted on the space provided for such changes on the flap of the regular VA remittance envelope.

Correspondence courses at government expense are available to World War II veterans under the education and training provisions of the GI Bill. Veterans Administration officials in Columbus, O., announced this week.

Although no subsistence allowance is paid by VA, eligible veterans may take correspondence courses through approved institutions, with one-fourth of the enrollment time charged against their period of eligibility. Total cost of the course is limited to $500.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q. Do I have any recourse to civil courts if I do not like VA's decision on my claim for disability compensation?

A. No. The law specifically provides that the decision of the Administration of Veterans Affairs in such matters is final and conclusive.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and receive disability compensation. If I take a three-hour-a-day job, will my compensation be discontinued?

A. So long as your disability remains compensable, it will be continued. The fact that you are employed does not bar payment of compensation. If you are disabled as a result of a service-connected condition.

Q. I lost the use of my legs in line of duty during World War I and would like to know if I can get a car from the government?

A. Under existing law, the authority to furnish automobiles to eligible amputees is limited to World War II veterans.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

As a rule I don't like to look my writings in the face when they appear in print. Reading my own stuff in cold type makes me feel I had a chance to do a good job and muted it. But a piece I wrote for the Henderson Sunday Gleaner recently is an exception. A reader thought the essay ought to be given state-wide circulation. So I'm repeating myself, as it were.

"We've just got to have a new high school building in Henderson," one of the town's younger citizens remarked to me the other day. He argued convincingly, emphasizing the fact that the old buildings are unworkable and a city like Henderson, he felt that a new building was the town's biggest school need. Which was, of course, true. When the city needs most is better classroom instruction. Enlightened boards of education, able superintendents, first-class teachers are the first essentials. I'd say up-to-date buildings come fourth.

Fine buildings certainly don't necessarily make a good school. Human factors are about 95 per cent in making a school successful. Don't get me wrong. If Henderson needs a modern high school building it's the award at the Sandy Valley Five Service. Franklin W. Moore announced this week.

COME AND GET IT!

The bedspread, grand prize at the Fourth of July celebration, was won by Leonard Akers who may claim the award at the Sandy Valley Five Service. Franklin W. Moore announced this week.

REPUBLICANS!

Was endorsed by the unanimous vote of every county in the Seventh Congressional district at the Republican convention held at Inez in June. (Pol. adv.)

KENTUCKY FARMERS!

We Have a Vitally Important Stake in the Senatorial Race

We have an opportunity to support a man for public office in the August primary who has fought farmers' battles in Washington for more than two decades. We refer to the Honorable Virgil Chapman, of Paris, who has represented the 6th District in Congress for 22 years and is now a candidate for U. S. Senator.

This in 1933—When the AAA act was introduced in 1933, with a base period that would have precluded Burley tobacco from benefits, VIRGIL CHAPMAN was a leader in remedying the defect and including Burley in the AAA program.

This in 1936—When in 1936 the Supreme Court declared AAA of 1933 unconstitutional, VIRGIL CHAPMAN introduced the bill that resulted in full payments to farmers who had fulfilled their production-adjustment contracts.

This in 1938—In 1938, VIRGIL CHAPMAN was one of the leaders in the campaign for the enactment of the existing AAA act, which provided the basis for the entire farm program. He introduced several subsequent amendments to improve the act.

This in 1943—When the Price Control Act of October 2, 1943, authorized ceilings on farm products, VIRGIL CHAPMAN drafted the 47-word amendment establishing the price formula for Burley tobacco, and led the fight for its proper interpretation, that increased the return to Burley growers on the 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945 crops in the amount of $227,609,600.

When the textile manufacturers were not making enough cotton to supply the needs of the war, VIRGIL CHAPMAN secured the production and distribution of the cotton.

Virgil Chapman, as a member of the committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, helped create REA. He conducted the hearing and reported the bill, and Mr. Chapman helped obtain a rule for its consideration and aided in voting it into law. Since then he has reported every appropriation for the extension of REA. He has supervised the Soil Conservation Program, TVA, Reciprocal Trade, farm tenancy legislation to promote ownership of farm homes and make the possession of such homes more secure, and many other measures benefiting Kentucky farmers.

When these three crops would have been materially curtailed.

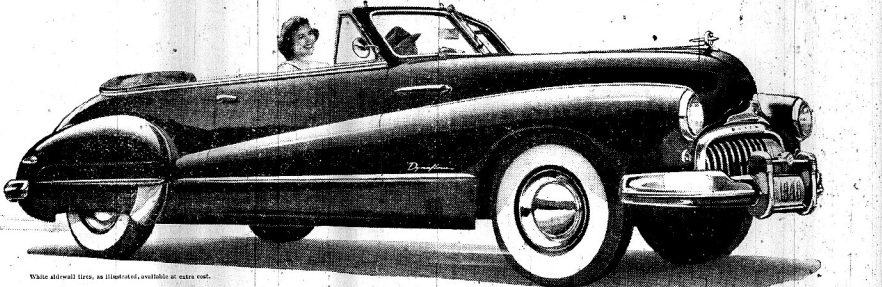

This in 1945—VIRGIL CHAPMAN aided Governor Earle C. Clements in having enacted the Clements bill which authorized quotas for dark and altreated tobacco and provided a support price formula which added 6 to 8 cents per pound to the farmers' return.

This in 1948—When the Allen bill was first introduced, its tobacco provisions would have wrecked the Burley and dark programs. VIRGIL CHAPMAN caused a hearing to be held for growers before the Senate Committee on Agriculture. Following this hearing Mr. Chapman led the fight that resulted in the retention of the parity and price-support formulas that have worked so successfully, and insured tobacco growers against disorderly declining markets.

VIRGIL CHAPMAN, as a member of the committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, helped create REA. He conducted the hearing and reported the bill, and Mr. Chapman helped obtain a rule for its consideration and aided in voting it into law. Since then he has reported every appropriation for the extension of REA. He has supervised the Soil Conservation Program, TVA, Reciprocal Trade, farm tenancy legislation to promote ownership of farm homes and make the possession of such homes more secure, and many other measures benefiting Kentucky farmers.

Wish you had Wings? Why bother!

You've been there, we know—trapped in the crawling snarl of a sunny week-end's traffic—tangled in the huffing, puffing push of a city's busiest rush hour.

And more than once you've wished for wings—so you could duck all this, dodge the jostle, the push, the stress and strain.

Well, look about you, good sir, for the long, sleek new Buicks with the word "Dynaflow" on their taper-thru fenders.

They've got the answer—to easy, open-road flight and to the spot where traffic's densest and the driving tension greatest.

With Dynaflow, you just sit there, press the gas treadle—and steer!

At a crawling 5 mph, you roll as smoothly, easily, lightly as at a winging 45.

At every opening left by a stalling, laboring neighbor, you have instant-quick power-gears to let you take advantage of it.

Upgrades? A little pressure on the gas treadle handles them. Stop signs? Your foot brake stops you, holds you—till you can feed the gas and go.

You forget shifting entirely—in fact, no gears ever shift as you drive—yet the moment any bottleneck breaks, you move—smoothly, swiftly up to boulevard speeds, pacing the pack.

Smoothly did we say? The word is hardly adequate. This velvety lift, this soaring power of power, this utter freedom from any break in your stride are things you need to experience to judge.

Why not try it out? Your dealer will do the best he can to arrange a trial—just as he'll take your order any time, whether or not you have a car to trade. See him—and you'll stop wishing for wings!

*Dynaflow Drive is optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

What's different about DYNAFLOW DRIVE?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious supercharger assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-building device on starting and accelerating. The result is the first to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and third gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manipulation of power ranges and direction.
