KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY
Downout way farmers are hiring truckmen to put water in wells, cisterns and stock-watering troughs. Expensive? I ought to know. I did it for five years. And it taught me a lesson that tens of thousands of Kentucky farmers haven't learned as yet.

No, I'm not exactly right about that. Practically all farmers have actually felt the need of an abundant all-year supply of livestock water, but always their worries cease with the first big rains in late fall or early winter and they promptly forget all about it. And next year they run short of water again, letting their cattle drink vile, stagnant pond water or their hogs try to keep alive on puddle water they wallow in. They are cattle dying on the hogs die, the farmer wonders why and pities himself as a victim of bad luck.

Good water is just as essential to the health of an animal as it is to the health of a human being, and every time I see animals drinking foul water I think their owners ought to have to take a few swigs of it themselves.

Having worked on 12 ponds for a period of 10 years, I may be able to pass along some simple suggestions as to methods. Our first job was deepening an old pond. This we did with dump scrapers. We broke the ground with a two-horse plow. With three dump scrapers working, one of them pulled by a light tractor, the other two by horses, we went down three plow depths a day in a pond 120 feet by 40 feet. The pond was on level ground, and we used a metal barrel roof as a water-shed. At that time farm labor was $125 a day. Deepening the pond to a total of 10 feet cost around $15. At the present time a dragline is the best method of doing over old ponds. Small ponds can be deepened with dump scrapers pulled by horses or fenses drawn by tractors if there is not much soft mud and water to contend with. Three men with two dump scrapers and a plow can make a good water hole in two weeks. No matter how small a pond should hold eight feet of water in wet months, a minimum of four feet in severe droughts. The deeper, the better.

We deepened and widened other ponds with a dragline. One reason for this was that the ponds had water in them and no other kind of machinery could be used. On these big jobs, a bulldozer knocked down and packed piles of loose dirt left by the dragline.

The neatest and cheapest pond job was done with a hand-dug pond pulled by a 45-hp. quarter-horse tractor.

Before throwing up a dam the ground for the full length of it should be cored to remove all kemp soil and possible roots. The trench should be 2 by 3-feet deep and wide. A small pond requires from one to two acres of watershed. A large pond 3 to 4 acres of shed. A large metal barn roof will put as much water in a pond as two acres of sloping ground.

When hiring contractors to do pond work a farmer should have a written understanding—a letter from the contractor—that the farmer shall pay for actual hours put in the farmer checking work time by his watch, with no pay during breakdowns or for expense of moving the machinery.

Autumn is pond-digging time.

TEACHERS MUST HAVE WASSERMAN, T.B. TESTS

The State Health Department and the State Board of Education now requires all teachers to have a Wasserman and tuberculin test as part of their physical examination. It was announced this week.

Teachers planning to take these tests may see their own physician or go to their local health department.

Farm Pond Survey Shows Good Results

A preliminary survey of farm ponds stocked during the 1947-48 cal year shows good results. J. T. Cox, superintendent of farm ponds, reports that the survey is far from complete enough tests have been made to reveal that good results were obtained in most all cases. Tests have been made in ponds in nine counties and will be continued over every section of the state, to reveal every section of the state, to be restocked in a majority of the ponds bass up to two pounds and cream as large as seven ounces were found. While in some of the efforts of the Division's stocking program have been largely nullified by tampering by pond owners. It was found that some ponds have been drained since stocking, and in others additional fish had been added by the owners. This tended to offset the balance as worked out by the Division and these ponds were far inferior to those not tampered with, it was pointed out. The Division has worked out a ratio of stocking that is saving dividends, and interference with this system by the farm owner is detrimental to the good of the state. He declared that inferior ponds after stocking were the result of four factors. These are: (1) ponds illegally stocked; (2) additional fish placed in ponds; (3) winter kill of fish due to freezes in ponds too shallow, and (4) death of fish in dry weather by water becoming too low.

The survey showed that growth of fish was doubled in ponds where fertilizer had been added. For rapid growth of fish, the Division has found that fertilizer is a decisive factor. Proof of this was found in the recent surveys, it was pointed out.

The tests were made by actual fishing and by using a 30-foot minnow seine to determine the results of the stocking. After the fish were captured scale samples were taken to determine the age and rate of growth. The minnow seine was used to determine the rate of reproduction in the ponds.

In the ponds that had not been tampered with, it was found that reproduction of both the bass and cream was excellent and the rate of growth above par. The Division recommends stocking 100 bass fry or fingerlings and 20 adult bream to each acre of water. This ratio has proved to be the right balance as evidenced by the rapid growth and reproduction in these ponds.

The Division urged pond owners who have had their ponds stocked to refrain from adding additional fish and to keep seines out of these bodies of water if there is any problem confronting the pond owner, the Division is ready to offer its advice, so that the balance as established by the Division and found to be the best, will not be upset. During the fiscal year 1947-48 2473 ponds were stocked, totaling 2172 acres of land. Since July 1 of this year more than 600 additional ponds have been stocked.

Lexington—Earl Jones, Jr. charged with starting a $100,000 fire here last June, was adjudged sane by physicians who have had him under observation.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Colleges and universities have attracted nearly 60 per cent of the World War II veterans who are enrolled in educational institutions under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16. Veterans Administration reported this week.

The remaining 40 per cent are taking courses in high schools, trade schools and other educational institutions below the college level. Recent statistics show a total of 1,627,800 veterans were training in educational institutions under the G. I. Bill. Of these, 982,297, or 59 per cent were in colleges and universities. At the same time, 121,071 disabled veterans were in school under Public Law 16. College students numbered 62,023, or 49 per cent of the Public Law 16 trainees.

The number of living veterans of World War I in the Veterans Administration disability compensation and pension rolls has decreased steadily during the past year. VA announced recently. The total dropped from a peak of 2,238,000 in May, 1947, to 2,238,000 on June 1, 1948.

Many U.S. government life insurance policies held by World War I veterans list the names of deceased beneficiaries and should be revised to include new or contingent beneficiaries. Veterans Administration Branch Office officials in Columbus, Ohio, advised this week. World War I veterans desiring information concerning their government insurance policies should consult their nearest VA office.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- Q. I want to obtain a G.I. farm loan to buy some farming equipment. However, I don't live on my farm. Am I eligible for such a loan?
- A. Yes, if you actually conduct farming operations.
- Q. I received a pension as a Spanish-American War veteran's widow. I remarried and my second husband is now dead. Am I eligible for a pension again as a widow of the Spanish-American War veteran?
- A. Yes, if you meet the other requirements of the law and regulations.
- Q. I applied at a bank for a G.I. business loan, but I was turned down. What should I do?
- A. First consider whether your proposition is a sound one. If so, try another lender. The fact that one lender is not interested does not indicate that another may not be.

SPAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY
PRESTONBURG, KENTUCKY

SEPTEMBER 23, 1948

This Town-- That World

THE DICEST AND I AGREE

For several months now I have been reading GUIDEPPOSTS, a small pamphlet distributed by the Rev. J. D. Durham, of Paducah, with the financial backing of the Princess Ekiloh Coal Company. GUIDEPPOSTS doesn't bluff me any more with a lot of cliche material or threats of hell but chaimed me with its literary excellence and the high inspirational quality of its articles, material which could not do otherwise than make of the reader a wiser, if not a better, retaining a more thoughtful man or woman.

All this while I have been thinking how favorably these articles by naturally known men and women compare with the more inspiring and featerful found in READERS DIGEST. So it was with something like smug satisfaction that I ran across in the October DICEST Grace Perkins Oberster's article on GUIDEPPOSTS mentioned in the credit line.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY
Downour way farmers are hiring tractors to put water in wells, gutters and stock-watering troughs. Expensive? I ought to know. I did it for five years. And I thought me a lesson that tens of thousands of Kentucky farmers haven't learned as yet.

No, I'm not exactly right about that. Practically all farmers have actually felt the need of an abundant all-year supply of livestock water, but always their worries cease with the first big rains in late fall or early winter and they promptly forget all about it. And next year they run short of water again, letting their cattle drink vile, stagnant pond water or their hogs try to keep alive on puddle water they wallow in. Then if cattle or hogs die or the hogs die, the farmer wonders why and blames himself as a victim of bad luck.

Good water is just as essential to the health of an animal as it is to the health of a human being, and every time I see animals drinking foul water, I think that their owners ought to have to take a few swigs of it themselves.

Having worked on 12 ponds for a period of 10 years, I may be able to pass along some simple suggestions as to methods. Our first job was deepening an old pond. This we did with dump scrapers. We broke the ground with a two-horse plow. With three dump scrapers working, one of them pulled by a light tractor, the other two by harnes, we went down three plow depths a day in a pond 120 feet by 40 feet. The pond was on level ground, and we used a metal barn roof as a water-sheaf. At that time farm labor was $1.25 a day. Depending the pond to a total of 10 feet cost around $15. At the present time a dragline is the best method of doing over old ponds. Small ponds can be deepened with dump scrapers pulled by horses or harnes drawn by tractor. If there is not much soft mud and water to contend with. Three men with two dump scrapers and a plow can make a good water hole in two weeks. No matter how small, a pond should hold eight feet of water in wet months, a minimum of four feet in severe drouths. The deeper, the better.

We deepened and widened other ponds with a dragline. One reason for this was that the ponds had water in them and no other kind of machinery could be used. On three big jobs a bulldozer knocked down and packed piles of logs dirt left by the dragline.

The neatest and cheapest new pond job was done with a hydraulic clamp pulled by a 45-h.p. tractor. Before throwing up a dam—the ground for the full length of it should be corded to remove all top soil and possible roots. The trench should be 2 to 3-feet deep and wide. A small pond requires from one to two acres of watershed. A large pond 2 to 4 acres of watershed. A large metal barn roof will put as much water in a pond as two acres of sloping ground.

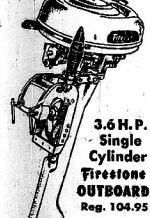

When hiring contractors to do pond work a farmer should have a written understanding—a letter from the contractor—that the farmer shall pay for each hour the farmer checker work time by his watch, with no pay during breakdowns or for expense of moving the machinery.

Autumn is pond-digging time. TEACHERS MUST HAVE WASHINGTON, T. B. TESTS The State Health Department and the State Board of Education now requires all teachers to have a Washington tuberculosis test as part of their physical examination. It was announced this week.

Teachers planning to take these tests may see them in physicians or go to their local health department.

Farm Pond Survey Shows Good Results

A preliminary survey of farm ponds stocked during the 1947-48 fiscal year shows good results. J. T. Cox, superintendent of Farm Ponds, reports. Although the survey is far from complete enough tests have been made to reveal that good results were obtained in most all ponds. Tests have been made in ponds in nine counties and will be continued to reach every section of the state, it was revealed. In a majority of the ponds bass up to two pounds and stream as large as seven ounces were found, while in some the efforts of the Division's stocking program have been largely nullified by tampering by pond owners. It was found that some ponds have been seized since stocking, and in others additional fish had been added by the owners. This tended to offset the balance as worked out by the Division and these ponds were far inferior to those not tampered with, it was pointed out. The Division has worked out a ratio of stocking that is paying dividends, and interference with this by the farm owner is detrimental to the fish. Cox stated he declared that inferior ponds after stocking were the result of four causes: (1) additional fish placed in ponds; (2) additional fish placed in ponds; (3) winter kill of fish due to frozen in ponds too shallow, and (4) death of fish in dry weather by water becoming too low.

The survey showed that growth of fish was doubled in ponds where fertilizers had been added. For rapid growth of fish, the Division has found that fertilizer is a decisive factor. Proof of this was found in the recent surveys, it was pointed out.

The tests were made by actual fishing and by using a 30-foot minnow seine to determine the results of the stocking. After the fish were captured scale samples were taken to determine the age and the rate of growth. The minnow seine was used to determine the rate of reproduction in the ponds.

In the ponds that had not been tampered with, it was found that reproduction of both the bass and bream was excellent and the rate of growth above par. The Division recommends stocking 100 bass fry or fingerlings and 30 adult bream to each acre of water. This ratio has proved to be the right balance as evidenced by the rapid growth and reproduction in these ponds. The Division urged pond owners who have had their ponds stocked to refrain from adding additional fish and to keep owners out of these bodies of water. If there is any problem confronting the pond owner, the Division is ready to offer its advice, so that the balance as established by the Division and found to be the best, will not be upset. During the fiscal year 1947-48 2,473 ponds were stocked, totaling 2,072 acres of land. Since July 1 of this year more than 600 additional ponds have been stocked.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Colleges and universities have attracted nearly 60 per cent of the World War II veterans who are enrolled in educational institutions under the G.I. Bill and Public Law 16, Veterans Administration reported this week.

The remaining 40 per cent are taking courses in high schools, trade schools and other educational institutions below the college level. Recent statistics show a total of 1,832,780 veterans were training in educational institutions under the G.I. Bill. Of these, 892,297, or 59 per cent were in colleges and universities. At the same time, 121,071 disabled veterans were in school under Public Law 16. College students numbered 65,652, or 59 per cent of the Public Law 16 trainees.

The number of living veterans on Veterans Administration disability compensation and pension rolls has decreased steadily during the past year. VA announced recently. The total dropped from a peak of 9,328,000 in May, 1947, to 2,289,000 on June 1, 1948.

Many U.S. government life insurance policies held by World War I veterans list the names of deceased beneficiaries and should be revised to include new or contingent beneficiaries. Veterans Administration Branch Office officials in Columbus, Ohio, advised this week. World War I veterans desiring information concerning their government insurance policies should consult their nearest VA office.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I want to obtain a G.I. farm loan to buy some farming equipment. However, I don't live on my farm. Am I eligible for such a loan?
A. Yes, if you actually conduct farming operations.

Q. I received a pension as a Spanish-American War veteran's widow. I remarried and my second husband is now dead. Am I eligible for a pension again as a widow of the Spanish-American War veteran?
A. Yes, if you meet the other requirements of the law and regulations.

Q. I applied at a bank for a G.I. business loan, but I was turned down. What should I do?
A. First consider whether your proposition is a sound one. If so, try another lender. The fact that one lender is not interested does not indicate that another may not be.

RUPTURE
Expert Coming
To Paintsville Again

GEO. L. HOWE

Well-known expert of Indianapolis, Ind., and ex-U. S. Army Medical Corpsman, will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Howard Hotel, Paintsville, Thursday, Sept. 30, from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture, and in the same day as efficient as when you were ruptured.

The Howe Rupture Shield has no leg straps; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible, and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under treatment, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited. Do not overlook this opportunity if you want gratifying results. Mailing address P. O. Box 5282 E. Michigan St. Station, Indianapolis 1, Ind.

$500 Scholarships For Engr. Students

Eighteen scholarships will be offered selected first-year engineering students at the University of Kentucky by the Kentucky Department of Highways, Commissioner Garrett L. Withers announced last week. The scholarships, valued at $500 each, will be supplemented by summer employment within the department for the entire period of the student's education.

The plan is being advanced for the purpose of encouraging young engineers to become interested in the department, Mr. Withers said. "In the past we have been unable to attract enough graduates to enter our field of engineering. The department's engineering problems are increasing every day, and we are rapidly approaching the time when additional engineers will be a necessity."

The scholarship committee of the University will be asked to select two students each from the nine highway districts. The selection will be made upon a competitive basis, and students will be classed as employees of the department. The program has been developed in accordance with the laws of the state by Assistant Attorney General Carl D. Perkins.

Dean D. V. Terrell, of the College of Engineering at the University, and State Highway Engineer Dwight H. Bray have been principals in working out the details of the scholarships.

Interested graduates of accredited high schools may obtain applications forms by writing the personnel department of the University of Kentucky or through any district office of the Department of Highways.

The student engineers will be regularly enrolled in the freshman year in the College of Engineering, University of Kentucky, and will be associated with the state highway research laboratory which is located on the university campus.

The student engineering employees will be selected from among accredited high school graduates in each district by competitive examination (time and place to be announced at an early date). The personnel department of the University of Kentucky will conduct the examinations and recommend those best qualified for employment.

Student engineers will receive pay at the rate of $80 a month during the freshman year and will pay his own expenses at the University. At the end of the first school year, or about June 1, he will be transferred to field office or laboratory work on a full-time basis at which time he will receive the regular rate paid other highway employees for similar positions. This will continue until the beginning of the winter semester or about Feb. 1 when he will return to the University to leave without pay.

He will spend four years working in the summer and fall semester and going to school during the winter semester, which will bring him to the end of the Junior year. He will then work in the summer and return to school for the fall and winter semesters to complete his Senior year.

During the six-year period he will have completed the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering and have three years of diversified highway engineering experience to his credit.

The Caravan Turned Too Soon

THIS Kentucky Conservation Caravan, venturing as far into Eastern Kentucky only as Morgan county, is turning back too soon, according to the Big Sandy section is classified, primarily, as a mining area, it has many farmers and many farm resources which will mean much to its people in Kentucky if preserved.

No section in Kentucky more sorely needs education in soil and water conservation, reforestation and similar measures than the Big Sandy.

The Big Sandy and its creeks and hollows have much good bottom land left. Its hills were created for more than the gutting process that is mining; these could become beautiful forest and pasture-land. But, unless something is done to halt the waste of the soil and the timber and grasses, this section, one day, will become a mountain barren.

The water table in Floyd county, for instance, is dangerously low. Streams which once flowed, the year round, dry up now within a matter of a few days of drouth. The theory has been ventured that the hills, honeycombed by mines and gas wells, are drained of their water. Hunters from Floyd county could not believe their eyes when, on a recent trip to Lawrence county, less than fifty miles away, they found their crickets with water and lively minnows in cool woodland pools.

At that very time in Floyd county, only the larger streams had water and along the smaller water course farmers were digging deep into the sand of their creek beds for water or were drawing from drilled wells for their livestock.

And when the rains do come and there is water again in this county, the streams run a turbid yellow as the section's best soil washes away—lost forever. Thus we stand and watch the farms float by.

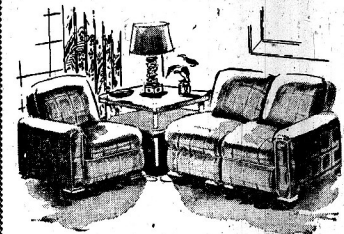

No, that conservation caravan should not have turned its back on Floyd county and the Big Sandy. Our need to be made to know things, our need to be shown things, is too great.

Washington, Sept. 23—Corner Macdonald issued a certificate confirming that the death of Miss Elizabeth Hynes, 50, society editor of the "Times-Herald," was due to natural causes.

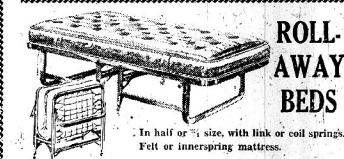

Roanoke, Va.—All his life, Creed Taylor Adkins had told his family he'd like to be a hunter. "One Tuesday," he said, "I want to go home." Tuesday was his 100th birthday. His children gave him a birthday party and friends and relatives came from five states to attend the celebration. A few minutes after the last guest had departed, Adkins died.

HELPS IN HEART TROUBLE

"No drug will enable you to carry on as you did before," Dr. Charles Miner Cooper, well-known San Francisco physician, wrote a heart patient some years ago. "But let me outline a regime which will help immensely if, after complete physical, mental and emotional rest, it is followed conscientiously."
Dr. Cooper's letter, now considered a West Coast classic, is reprinted in The Reader's Digest for September. Its advice, held to be sound not only for heart patients but for those in good health, may be summarized in six stipulations:
1. Bring your weight down to normal for your height and age, and do it slowly, not by reducing drugs but by modifying your diet and by graduated exercise.
2. Cut down extent and speed of physical activity. Don't run for trains or hurry upstairs or try to park a car in a tight place. Also refrain from physical effort just after eating.
3. Do mental tasks only when your mind is fresh. Stop them when mentally fatigued.
4. Curb emotional reactions. Blood pressure can jump 60 points almost instantly after an outburst of anger.
5. Try to be cheerful under all circumstances. Low moods can often be lifted by concentration on a pleasant thought.
6. If you're a smoker, stop smoking.

Bertie slapped me and said, "Dry your mouth!" This bit of testimony was elicited when County Attorney W. W. Burchett asked her how her eye was blackened.

On cross-examination by B. M. James for the defense she denied that she had thrown a jar of marmalade at her father.

Asked by County Attorney Burchett about a hammer with which the aged man said he was struck, the girl said she did not see it.

Her brother, James, 13, corroborated her story except that he denied seeing a knife in his father's possession. He said his father and Hall had had "two or three packages" a week or two before last week's encounter.

Truman with his childish lip attracted the spectators' interest during his testimony. He said he saw no knife. He referred to his father as "John" and said he "started to raise up off the floor and Bertie told him to lay back down and then Bertie asked him in the face, 'One time, Bertie, throw an apple butter jug at John and bursted it against the wall.'"

The six-year-old Robert told of seeing Hall kick his father twice. Mrs. B. F. Elliott, of Harold, a half-sister of the victim, testified that the injured man who is in the Martin hospital told of Hall hitting him with a hammer. She said she had been very feeble for some time and could not enter or leave an auto without help.

Mrs. Elliott said that, although she does not know her half-brother's exact age, she is certain he is older than 79—probably 81 or 82. He had been a lifelong resident of the Mud Creek section and was highly regarded there.

'Happy' Chandler To Dedicate Wayland Park Friday Night

A. B. "Happy" Chandler, high commissioner of baseball, will return Friday evening to this county, once his happy hunting grounds in the days when he was a political power in Kentucky, to make the dedicatory speech and throw out the first ball at the formal exercises and baseball game which will dedicate Lions Park, Wayland's new athletic field.

Friday evening date at Wayland. The new park, lighted and otherwise equipped at a cost of $20,000 has a seating capacity of 1,500. Gates to the athletic field will be opened at 6 p.m., with the program beginning at 7. Commissioner Chandler's speech dedicating the field to the youth of Wayland and the Beaver Creek section will be the feature of this program.

The baseball game between Wheelwright, of the Mountaineer League, and Wayland, one of the top-ranking teams of the Big Sandy league, will begin immediately after Commissioner Chandler's speech.

When Castle, off on a 40-yard jaunt, stepped out of bounds. Wayland's football team, organized only last year, has caught the fancy of fans in the upper Beaver Creek area, with the result that school officials have decided to place the sport on a permanent basis. The Wasps were kicked around during their first year of competition, but already this season have earned the healthy respect of their opposition. They provided the first major upset of the 1948 season two weeks ago when they held Paintsville high to a 6-6 tie.

Emmerson Warf, former Eastern State athlete and Wayland's first full-time football coach, now, expecting too much of his young squad this season, but indicates the Wasps should be a contender in 1949.

A dozen boys with some game experience make up the nucleus of this year's squad. They include Doug Castle and Will Craft, co-captains, Harry Hayward, Carter Berkeley and Tramble Evans, backs; Wallace Hall and Bill Ridner, tackles; Jack Spradlin and Bob Berkeley, ends; Bruce and Richard Fraley, brothers, guards; and Doug Hayward, center.

Among lads without previous experience who are already seeing a lot of action are Earl Hayward, a back, and Joe Bradley, Mickey Cooper, Orville Watkins and Dennis Crager, linemen.

Other boys who show promise include Freddie Ridner, Tom Meadows and Emmet Ridner, backs; and Linemen Ed Martin, Orlis Brown, Dean Osley and Gramble Smith.

Coach Warf has indicated Wayland will apply for admission as a football member of the Big Sandy conference next year.

IT'S HAROLD W'KSBURY

For Big Sandy Title Playoffs; Mountaineer Series Near Decision

It will be Harold W. Weeksbury who will be Harold W. Weeksbury of the Big Sandy Baseball League championship play-offs.

Harold won his place in the final series Tuesday night by defeating Wayland, 10 to 6, in the third game of their off-season competition. Wayland won the first game, 10 to 6, and Harold took the second in 10 innings, 11 to 8. All games were played under the lights of Lions Field, Wayland.

Weeksbury won a final berth by defeating Elkhorn City two straight 8 to 1 and 6 to 5. Elkhorn City, not up to full strength, was no match for the Floyd team.

Date for beginning of the final series had not been announced Wednesday.

Harold, who was the right hand of the series, Pikeville won the first game, 14 to 3, and dropped the second, 8 to 5. Omar eliminated Wheelwright, by beating two straight, 26 to 0 and 7 to 2.

Unless the champions of the two leagues meet later, the two championship playoffs will end Eastern Kentucky baseball for the year.

3 Tie for Medalist Honors; Fraley 'Hot' For Playoff Round

Play for medalist honors at the River Valley Golf and Country Club, Allen, preparatory to the club tournament which starts Saturday afternoon, resulted last week-end in a three-way tie at 72 for 18 holes between Ray Fraley, Willard Adkins and John S. Hampton, all of Wayland and Gio, and the subsequent playoff has developed out of high caliber.

With an 18-hole playoff agreed to, Fraley burned up the course Sunday afternoon with a 32 for the first nine. Adkins scored a 35 and Hampton 36. The final nine holes will probably be played today (Thursday), Wayland.

Qualifying rounds end Friday. The tournament will be composed of 18 holes, with prizes for winners in each flight, it was announced.

Prestonsburg Falls to Everts, 46-19, for Season's First Loss

Too much Everts and not enough Prestonsburg night brought Prestonsburg high school's Black Cats a 46-19 defeat in their second football game of the young season.

The Cats met Everts, a possible state championship outfit, in the Harlan counties' own backyard and, except for early minutes of play, were never a threat.

Prestonsburg took the kickoff and tore the huge Everts line to shreds with a drive which did not stop till "Sam" Branham was across for a touchdown.

Everts came back to tie the game up at 6-6 on the second play after getting the ball. Glenn Steele went around Prestonsburg's right end for 62 yards to score. A blocked Black Cat punt resulted in Everts' second marker, with "Banty" Bryant scoring the first of his five touchdowns for the evening.

Everts made it 20-6 in the second quarter in this period the Black Cats were topped on a go-ahead surge when the ball was fumbled on the Harlan team's 15. A 50-yard run by Steele, with Bryant going over from the 20, netted another touchdown for the winners in that quarter.

Everts made it 29-6 in the second quarter in this period the Black Cats were topped on a go-ahead surge when the ball was fumbled on the Harlan team's 15. A 50-yard run by Steele, with Bryant going over from the 20, netted another touchdown for the winners in that quarter.

Soon thereafter Branham's pass was taken in a sensational fashion by Gene Boyd. Prestonsburg fumbled, who snatched the ball from three Everts defenses men for a gain of 40 yards and a touchdown. The half ended, 29-12.

Branham scored, midway the third period, after a 47-yard drive. But the Prestonsburg line, sadly outplayed, could not contain the Everts offensive and lightning thrash of Bryant and Steele.

Inexperience and lack of the will to win were blamed for the Cats' setback. The boys came out of the tussle in fair physical condition but they have far to go to be "ups" for their game at Russell Friday.

The only laugh Prestonsburg fans got out of this Everts massacre was the published statement of an 84 to 9 score, and Pikeville lost to Everts 30-0 to the effect that Prestonsburg averages 190 pounds to the 94 of decision over Raceland which man and that poor, little Everts one sports writer called a gift, since would face a team of behemoths. Cox, Raceland backfield ace, debutant, say fans who saw the two line-ups stepped out of bounds when the elephants were in the ether he saw he would crash into a lambs line lined up against each other. ### Asks Disabled Vets To Submit Proof Of Dependency

Veterans with disability ratings of 60 per cent or more who have dependents are advised by Veterans Administration to submit promptly to VA documentary evidence of dependency so that they may qualify for increased compensation under Public Law 477 of the Eightieth Congress.

The new law provides additional allowances for such disabled veterans who have a wife, children or dependent parents. The married veteran may receive up to $24 extra, with added amounts for additional dependents.

Veterans whose claims are re-opened in their VA claims folders as of Sept. 1, 1948 will have until Dec. 1 to file the evidence. These awards will be retroactive to Sept. 1, the effective date of the law, otherwise the effective date of the increase will be the date of receipt of the evidence.

As to the veteran's wife and children, certified copies of public or church records usually are the best and most easily obtained evidence. If for any reason the veteran cannot get these, he should submit the best evidence available, such as sworn statements of responsible persons. For parents, proof of dependency in the form of sworn statements as to income and property ownership are required.

Veterans may obtain assistance in connection with the filing of their claims at any VA office, or from service organizations and state agencies.

Club Leader Asks Members To Vote

Wheelwright, Ky., Sept. 16 (Sp.)—The new year for the Wheelwright Woman's Club began September 13 in the club's new rooms in the Municipal building.

The president, Mrs. Stephen W. Clark, opened the first meeting of the year with the promise that resolutions are over children are going back to school, the long summer months are past and many months of interesting activity are just ahead. She called upon club members to study the resolutions adopted at the national convention last May in Portland, Oregon, to get out November 2 and vote their convictions and to support the programs planned for the year by the Wheelwright Woman's Club in this way a deeper appreciation of the finer things our clubs are working for may be had, she explained. The program for the evening was in charge of the department of Fine Arts, and Mrs. Wayne Ratliff introduced Mrs. Pace who gave a review of the book, "In The Steps," by Dr. Charles M. Sheldon. Mrs. Stephen Clark read Oliver Wendell Holmes' poem, "The Chambered Nautilus."

Three new members were welcomed into the club: Mesdames R. B. Anderson, G. B. Hall and E. E. Hopkins.

Plans were made for the entertainment of the Ladies-Coronet Woman's Club in October, when they will be guests of the Wheelwright women for a dinner and evening of entertainment. Prof. Thomas Young, of the Morehead Art department, will be present at the time to give a puppet show. Committees were appointed to assist with the casting and production of "Fun for You," a four-star production of the Empire Producing Company of Kennerly, Mo., which will be given in Wheelwright, Sept. 27 and 28.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames J. W. Butler, Arthur Brudbury and Robert Aitrie.

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

Building a new country was not easy. But there were men and women willing to turn their backs on a safe life, and their faces toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying "an even break." Free enterprise is the basic American principle of vision and personal initiative. Just give an American an even break — a chance to get ahead — and he'll go on from there.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its own citizens, the American ideal of an even break is destroyed. For government in business grants itself special privileges that are denied to people in business.

Take government-owned power systems, for example. They pay few, if any, taxes; often get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed power companies are on their own. They pay their full share of taxes, fair interest on the money they borrow. It's a tribute to American self-reliance that tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over 4/5 of the enormous amount of electric power this country depends on . . . at the lowest possible cost.

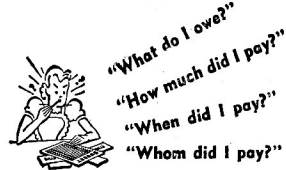

There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened. And businessmen can do the job better than bureaucrats.

Wheelwright Club To Present Play, September 27-28

Wheelwright, Ky., Sept. 21 (Sp.)—The community show-up of a large cast ranging in age from three to 83 years will open a two-night run September 27 and 28 at Wheelwright high school under sponsorship of the Wheelwright Women's Club. "Fun For You" is said to be a hilarious hook-up of home town headliners impersonating famous radio, stage and screen stars. It is an impersonation of celebrities who supposedly put on a continuous broadcast. It is as if the audience were attending a broadcast from one of the studios in Radio City or Hollywood. At times they are asked to participate as part of the program. This is a new idea in home talent show technique for it brings in audience participation with characters on the stage.

Wayne Ratliff will impersonate Harry Von Zell, the radio announcer who gives the continuity that introduces each scene. The high spot of comedy in the show is an impersonation of the late dance program, C. R. Tankersley will impersonate Uncle Ezra in this scene; Roger Wells will have the part of Joe Kelly, general master of ceremonies; Chick Conley is to impersonate the Duke of Paducah, and Miss Ruby, Conley will be the gal from Grinderville, Minnie Pearl.

In this scene old-time dancing and hillbilly and western music will be featured. The string band which will furnish the music for the square dance will be in charge of Bill Hall. The caller for the square dance will be George Osborne and the dancers are called "The Hay Loft Hoopers." Creed Oneys as the singing commercial appears at various times throughout the show in such well-known rhyming commercials as "All Purpose Oil" and "Chiquita Bananas."

Variety is brought into the show by use of a quiz program in which Arthur Bradbury will impersonate Dr. IQ, and give silver dollars to those in the audience who answer his questions correctly and award candy bars to those who are not fortunate enough to give the correct answers.

Other big scenes in the production include Tom Brennen's Breakfast in Hollywood. Heading the cast in this scene will be John Rupe in the role of Tom Brennen. He will introduce the following men representing Hollywood glamour gals having breakfast in Hollywood: Steve Bededic, impersonating Mae West; Hubert Cantrell as Lana Turner; Harry P. Fields, masquerading as Gravel Gertie; and Junior Horne burlesquing Gypsy Rose Lee.

In this scene John Rupe as Tom Brennen not only introduces the men dressed as women to impersonate movie stars but he goes into the audience, tries on ladies' hats and awards a prize for the goofiest one present. So the women who plan to attend "Fun For You" are urged to wear the silliest military creations possible in order to win nylon hose and other gifts. Following the plot of the original Breakfast in Hollywood show this scene will include awarding a wishing ring, presenting a corage to the oldest lady present, and giving a gift to the person chosen as the Good Good Neighbor of Wheelwright community. Any resident of this community is eligible to vote for the Good Good Neighbor who should be some man or woman who has done outstanding charitable or civic work for individuals on the community at large. All letters nominating the Good Good Neighbor should be addressed to John Rupe and mailed Monday, Sept. 21. A committee will judge the letters received and the Good Good Neighbor will be notified so he or she may appear and be presented to the audience the night of the show.

The history of the nation will be portrayed in song in the final scene which is patterned after the "Treasury Star Parade" radio program. In this scene characters will appear in special costumes to form tableaux; pictures of patriotic hymns and songs are sung by Mrs. H.M. Wilkinson and also the female cast. This scene will feature the "Spirit of '76," the heroes of the north and south representing the Civil War era. World War I will be represented by a soldier and sailor and a Red Cross nurse, also heroes and heroines of World War II. This patriotic number comes to a stirring finish as the Girl Scouts present the parade of flags and the American Legion color guard presents the colors before the national anthem is sung and the bugle blows taps.

Court of Appeals Order Prohibits Tria in Perry

A Court of Appeals order was served Wednesday on Perry Circuit Judge Sam Ward prohibiting him from proceeding further in the case of Buster Fugate, 35, charged with the slaying of Wallace Ambury, 23, of Hindman.

Fugate had been indicted for murder in both Perry and Jefferson counties in connection with the fatal shooting of Ambury in Hazard July 15. Ambury died July 18 at Nichols hospital, Louisville.

The order was issued in a suit signed by Frank A. Ropke, Jefferson county Commonwealth's Attorney, asking the court to prohibit the trial of Fugate in Perry county. The suit claimed that a warrant from Jefferson county was issued but one from Perry county was served instead of it.

Fugate is being held in jail at Hazard. He also has been indicted by the Perry grand jury on a charge of malicious shooting and wounding in connection with the shooting of Jessie Combs. She was wounded at the same time Ambury was shot fatally.

Promises Enforcement Of School Bus Law

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 23—Commissioner of State Police Guthrie P. Crowe today announced a policy of vigorous enforcement of the law which requires motorists to stop at school buses when there is a school bus ahead either receiving or discharging school children.

The law requires motorists to come to a complete stop in such circumstances in residential or business districts, said Crowe, and only permit passage or school buses outside those districts provided the passing motorist drives cautiously and does not exceed 10 miles an hour in speed.

"Safety of our school children is of paramount concern," Crowe added. "We intend to enforce this law vigorously, without fear or favor. Safety of the public, as well as school children, requires it."

He added, too, that his force also intended to be on the lookout for drunken drivers as a menace to safety.

"It is our intention to handle the traffic problem as expeditiously as possible," he continued, "but it is also our function to protect the traveling public against those who would endanger the lives of others."

SEES ADVANTAGES IN FALL LITTERS

More pigs usually are saved in fall litters than in spring litters, says Grady Sellars, of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. The weather is more favorable, and there is good pasture for the pigs. Farmers who have movable farrowing houses should not locate them near woods, says Sellars. This is because foxes and other wild animals are hungry for pork. Locate the houses near other farm buildings, but on clear ground. Raising pigs on clean ground may save two bushels of corn per hog, Sellars claims. There should have been no hogs on the ground for three years. It may be used sooner if plowed. The importance of alfalfa, clover and other pasture is stressed by this college authority. Pasture plus corn and simple supplements, such as tankage or skim milk, give pigs a flying start.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT CLEANS ITSELF!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, leaving the dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not appreciably affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful... protects against rust, rot, and decay... gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont
