THE DIF

The difference between that baby in Buckingham palace and the youngster at Joe Dooks' home is this. The royal baby, as a royal descendant, becomes King of England; the Dooks baby, by accident of duty, could become President of the United States.

PRIZEWINNERS

This column failed to report the election night of the Lions Club to Sheriff T. B. Sturgill and County Judge Alden Davidson. Dooks were the "prizes" won by failure to attend meetings. This week's winners: Johnny Burke, And he gets to be the duck three whole weeks.

LIGHT NEEDED ON THIS STREET

A badly needed piece of equipment in the Prestonburg schools is one of three lamps which shows up regularly. The infection is widespread this year, as last. And your best friend won't tell you you've got it, because he won't know till he's scrubbed hands with you till he has it himself.

FOR THE LIVING

This column sincerely trusts nobody wants to know after reading this what Town-World has against the florists, for we have nothing against them. Florists, it occurs to us are engaged in what should be a pleasant business, and a profitable one. Nor would be so crass as to be so miserly. Florists are not the sentiment of flowers. Buy more of them, send more of them to your loved ones, say we.

But we cannot deny you an idea expressed, not long ago, by a prominent man. This man suggested to his relatives and friends that when his days on this troublesome planet are ended they need not flowers but books. All that these books there are donated by his widow or other survivors to schools and libraries.

That this man, thinking of others than self, thought of a memorial that not only lives but which will never die as the printed word gives him later, not to wither, but to grow, as the flowers do, and from them to others, in the wide circle almost lost in infinity.

You, for the beauty of poetry rather than roses, the perfume of prose of good books instead of flowers that fade—then all these lastings preserved for the delectation of others and the enriching of others.

Sprinkler To Collect Taxes; Council Asks Power Service Here

The tax levy for Prestonburg, made by the City Council at its special meeting, Wednesday, has changed—78 cents per $100 valuation on all real estate and personal property and $1.50 poll tax.

A resolution adopted by the Council called on the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company to locate in Prestonburg a service man who will have an office at the police station. C. E. Friend was named to investigate the matter.

GAME REFUGE UP FOR SALE

Strip Mining Renders Pike Preserve Unfit, Division Head Says

Earl Wallace, director of the State Game and Fish Division, said Wednesday that strip mining operations are forcing the state to sell the 3,000-acre Flatwoods game refuge in Pike county.

He has asked the State Purchasing Department to advertise for sealed bids on the area. It has been a refuge for grouse, raccoon and quail.

Wallace said the state owns only the surface rights to the land. Mineral rights are owned by other parties. The state has been forced to sell the refuge because of strip mining operations.

Child, 2, Succumbs To Burns Suffered At Home Near Here

Burns suffered several days ago at the home of her parents, near Laaner, resulted in the death early Wednesday morning at the Prestonville hospital of two-year-old Genevieve Fannin.

The child was burned when her clothing caught fire from a niter lamp she had lighted while her mother was outside the room. Surviving besides the parents, are three brothers, Darwin, Mansford and Grover Lee.

The body was taken to Van Lear, former home of Mrs. Fannin, where the funeral was conducted Thursday from the school, the Rev. Paris Mastie and C. P. Coffey officiating. Burial in Van Lear cemetery was directed by the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home.

ROAD CHANGE PACT READY FOR SIGNING

Government To Pay $225,000 In Installments

Ready for approval of the Floyd local court is the contract with the federal government providing for relocation and reconstruction by the county of sections of road to be in the Johns Creek reservoir area for $225,000.

The parts of road to be relocated and rebuilt cover a distance of approximately 2 1/2 miles in all and are below the minimum 65-foot elevation necessary to place them above waters of the lake to be formed by the Denny dam. The work, the contract specifies, is to be completed within a year from date of signing the contract.

All monies paid by the federal government to the county for this purpose are to be placed in a special fund for use on this project only. A minimum investment of $50,000, including duties, will be provided, with at least a light gravel or stone surface.

The federal government will pay the $225,000 in three installments—$100,000 soon after the contract is officially cleared; $100,000 approximately 30 days after the completion of an extensive building and mine development project on Wilson Creek where the coal company purchased 155 acres of land from the state.

A new school, bath house and supply house, all-metal buildings, have been erected on the tract. The coal produced from the new portal will be hauled through the mountain for loading over the company's Stephens Branch tipples.

Mrs. Mandt said approximately 65 per cent of the coal being produced by Stephens Eikhorn is from the Wilson Creek acreage.

Fenton Jones Victim Of Heart Condition; Rites in W. Virginia

Fenton P. Jones, 48-year-old drift mine employee succumbed Saturday night to a heart condition from which he had suffered for some time.

Mr. Jones' death followed by a year his removal from Coalwood, W. Va., to Drott, and during his residence in the country he became widely and favorably known. He was a member of the Christian Church, of Wheelwright Masonic lodge and of the Local Order of Moose, Welch, W. Va.

Surviving are his widow, three sons and one daughter, Howard A. Jones, Mesa, Ariz., Newell Jones, Coalwood, W. Va., Richard and Elizabeth Jones, of Drott. Three brothers and one sister also survive: Reuben Jones, Raderford, W. Va., James Jones, Newport News, Va., F. T. Jones, of Drott, and Mrs. H. L. Ford, Kodak, Ky.

The body was taken by the Ryan Funeral Home to Coalwood, W. Va., where funeral rites were conducted from the Community Church, the Revs. W. B. Peck and R. N. Loney officiating. Burial was made in Veterans Memorial cemetery, Raderford, W. Va., under auspices of the Masonic order.

Deputy, State Police Find Whiskey; Alleged Owner Among Selectees

Deputy Sheriff Hilard Mitchell and state patrolmen found six quarts of whiskey Wednesday in Clark's restaurant and poolroom at Wheelwright Junction but did not make an arrest when the only person in charge of the poolroom where the liquor allegedly was located was a 14-year-old boy.

The poolroom officers were told, was leased to one "Bo" Johnson but Johnson was in Ashland at the time for an army examination.

Today, officers prepared to return to Wheelwright Junction to serve a warrant on Johnson.

A warrant was also issued today for the capture on a liquor possession charge of Buster Mullins who was arrested at his place of business on Ashby Fork, along with several others, Saturday night by Deputy Sheriffs Hilard Mitchell, Lee Case, Grant Ales and Matt Johnson as drunk. Mullins was also booked at the jail for liquor possession. Deputy Sheriff Mitchell said there were 22 half-pints of whiskey in the building and that Mullins had a can of beer in his hand when he entered the place.

FHA Director Cites Changes In National Housing Act

Rocco R. Dalton, state director of the Federal Housing Administration, Louisville, this week announced important amendments to the National Housing Act with respect to insured mortgage financing in connection with the construction of residential units.

A new provision has been added for a maximum mortgage of $8,000 for a term not to exceed 30 years where the property is appraised for mortgage insurance at the time of construction. The dwelling on the property must be a single-family residence and the percentage of loan to valuation for an owner-occupied may be as much as 85 per cent of the appraised value, but not to exceed $8,000. A brief outline of the changes follows:

1. On valuations up to and not exceeding $7,000 where the property is appraised for mortgage insurance prior to beginning of construction the term of the loan can be for as long as 25 years and the amount of the loan not to exceed 90 per cent of the appraised value. The mortgage must be the owner-occupied and the rate of interest not to exceed 4 1/2 per cent.
2. On valuations exceeding $7,000 but not exceeding $11,000 where the property is appraised for mortgage insurance prior to beginning of construction the maximum term of the loan shall remain at 20 years. In either case, the maximum loan obtainable is 80 per cent of the valuation and the interest rate not to exceed 4 1/2 per cent.

Court of Appeals Holds Forfeiture Of Property Valid

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 16—Forfeiture under local-option laws of a lot and two buildings owned by Austin Beavin in Cloverport was upheld by the Court of Appeals today.

The opinion stated Beavin was sentenced to jail for 30 days and fined $50 on pleading guilty to illegal possession of liquor at his place.

In upholding forfeiture of the property, the opinion eliminated the lower court's ruling that neither Beavin nor his agent could bid for the property at the sheriff's sale.

Floyd County To Get $489,441 from State For Aged, Unemployed

The divisions now composing the Department of Economic Security will disburse $3,326,000 during the first full year of their operation within the Department—$16,233,000 by the Bureau of Employment Security and $2,460,000 by the Bureau of Social Services, Vevo E. Barnes, commissioner, announced this week.

Of this amount, a total of $189,441 will be disbursed to Floyd County by the Bureau of Social Services, $141,780 as unemployment insurance.

Prior to July 1, the divisions of child welfare and public assistance were in the Department of Welfare. The Unemployment Insurance Division was an independent agency while the employment service was in the Department of Industrial Relations. All four programs are financed under the federal Social Security Act. The 1948 Kentucky Legislature grouped all of these state programs under one department.

At present there is approximately $112,000,000 in the Unemployment Insurance trust fund available for the payment of benefits to Kentucky's 564,000 insured workers should they become unemployed, Mr. Barnes said. He explained that this amount represents the state's employer reserve accounts of 13,700 employers which accounts for approximately $89,000,000, and the pooled account which is composed of employer contributions, interest and penalties, amounting to approximately $23,000,000. This fund, which is invested with the federal treasury in Washington, is earnings over $200,000 in interest annually, he said.

In addition to this amount, there is in the Unemployment Insurance administrative fund, approximately $496,000 available and partially earmarked for the erection of an office building which the department sorely needs, Barnes added.

Worker contributions, which until July 1, 1942, were the principal source of income to the pooled account, are no longer collected. The special by 1942 state Legislature of that provision of the Unemployment Insurance law requiring worker contributions has resulted in a savings for Kentucky workers of approximately $30,000,000 since July 1, 1942, he said.

This exemption of workers was sponsored by Jerry F. Rowell of Gearheart, this county, who at the time was a state Representative. In the Department's Bureau of Social Services the Division of Public Assistance during August, 1948, paid an average old age assistance check of $17.61 to more than 32,500 recipients. During this same month an average of $14.80 per child was paid for aid to dependent children. These benefits were available to about 30,600 children in Kentucky.

"Aid to the needy blind during this period averaged $18.58 for the 1,550 recipients under this program. It was possible to pay these amounts which approximate the average payments during the previous fiscal year, because Governor Clement transferred $37,000 from his emergency fund to the Department. For the month of October, 1948, and for the rest of the quarter the average old age assistance checks will be increased to $20.30; aid to dependent children checks to $18.66; and aid to the needy blind checks to $22 per month. But for the fact that it was necessary to absorb a deficit incurred by the previous administration, this additional amount would have been available for expenditure during the present fiscal year. This would have resulted in an average old age assistance payment of approximately $24," Barnes explained.

In addition to the above services and programs of the Department the Division of Child Welfare renders services in various forms to between 2,800 and 3,500 children each month, he concluded.

Robert Skillman and Wathan Ross of Breckinridge county have built modern milking parlors in their expansion program.

Social Security Pay To Floyd Countians Is $12,957 Monthly

Figures released by Horace Godbey, manager of the Ashland office of the Social Security Administration, show that a total of $97,827 is being paid monthly to maintenance beneficiaries to 4,422 people in the 13 counties of this area by the federal government for disability and survivors insurance. These figures are for July 31, 1948, as disclosed in a report for the end of the fiscal year.

The area of the Ashland office includes the following counties: Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Floyd, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Lewis, Magoffin, Martin, Mercer, Pleas and Rowan. In Floyd County there are 83 persons receiving a total of $12,957 each month.

The Boone Memorial at David

DANIEL BOONE, IN COMPANY WITH WILLIAM HILL SPENT THE WINTER OF 1767-68 HUNTING AND EXPLORING THE UPPER WATERS OF THE BIG SANDY RIVER. THEY WERE FORCED TO MAKE CAMP NEAR THIS SPOT DURING THE SEVERE WINTER MONTHS CLOSE TO THE SALT LICK WHICH FLOWED FROM A SPRING JUST ABOVE HERE. GAME WAS PLENTIFUL AND THE TWO HUNTERS HAD ONLY TO WAIT IN THEIR LITTLE SHACK FOR THE DEER AND OTHER ANIMALS TO COME TO LICK THE SALT. THIS THEIR SCARCITY SUPPLY OF AMMUNITION AND FOOD WAS CONSERVED AND THIS SALT LICK PROBABLY PLAYED AN IMPORTANT PART IN SAVING THE LIVES OF THE WOODSMEN.

ANOTHER FAMOUS AMERICAN, THE GREAT ORATOR AND STATES-MAN HENRY CLAY, IN PARTNERSHIP WITH JOHN C. BRICKENRIDGE, WAS THE FIRST OWNER OF A GREAT BOUNDARY OF THIS LAND, AND THE AREA SURROUNDING THE SALT LICK FOR A VERY SMALL SON TO MEN WHO REALIZING THE COMMERCIAL IMPORTANCE OF THE SALT DEPOSIT, BEGAN EXPLOITING IT IN 1795. FROM THEN ON UNTIL AFTER THE CIVIL WAR, SALT WAS MADE AND SOLD. RESIDENTS IN THE AREA WOULD BRING THEIR FAMILIES AND CAMP HERE FOR WEEKS UNTIL THEY HAD MADE THEIR OWN YEAR'S SUPPLY. SHORTLY AFTER THE CIVIL WAR THE SALT LICK WAS ABANDONED, BUT THE LEGEND OF DANIEL BOONE LIVES ON.

Hatton-Adams Vows Solemnized on Oct. 29

Several sportsmen from this vicinity attended a shooting match at Eastern this week-end and with profitable results.
At "long haul" the Junior class has triumphed over its "The Hatched Husband." Production was delayed because of the water being off and several other things. It was well-attended and was a success financially.

Mrs. Gloria Friend Hatton was united in marriage on Oct. 29 to Mr. Howard Adams of Philadelphia. The ceremony was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church here by Rev. Lynn Rankin, of the Pikeville Presbyterian Church, officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. J. C. Spaulin, was attended by her maid-of-honor, Miss Alice Gray Burke. The groom's attendant was his brother, Mr. Richard Adams, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Marjorie Wilson sang, "Thine Alone," and a duet, "At Daytime," was sung by Mrs. Wm. Thomas Ardler and Miss Marian Mayo Salisbury, accompanied by Miss Elsie Williams at the piano. The altar was flanked with greenery of magnolia leaves and white gladioli, with cathedral chandelier holding white candles at either end of the altar.

Carrying a prayer book with a purple cover surrounded by white roses, the bride was attired in a street-length grey crepe dress with grey hat and matching accessories. Miss Burke, her maid-of-honor, wore a wine wool dress with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of gold mums. Little Kay Hatton, daughter of Mrs. Adams, was ring bearer.

The wedding, a wedding breakfast followed by the ceremony, was held at the Brown hotel. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Adams, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spaulin, Kay Hatton, Misses Alma Collins, Alice Gray Burke, Elsie Williams, Marian Wilson, Mrs. Wm. Thomas Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Belvidere Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins, Mrs. E. R. Burke, Mrs. Osa P. Logan. Immediately after the breakfast, the bride and groom left for a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains, New York.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. Harris, Jr. of Lancaster, are residing in the home of Mrs. Cecil Kendrick on Court street. Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick are permanent guests in the home of her mother, Mrs. Amma Carter, who has been a shut-in for months.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Schu moved into the Dewey Lester home on Graham street recently, having spent the summer months in the Paul Francis apartment on Third avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Webb, who resided in the Lester home, are temporarily located at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rimmer, on Maple avenue.

ACCEPTS TEACHING POSITION

Miss Ernestine Brown has accepted a position as teacher in the school at Beys Layne.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

Along the Ashland-Cool Grove bridge a big neon sign tells motorists from distant places that they can visit Ashland over a free bridge. The sign features a map of the Ashland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

State authorities assure us that roadside signs directing strangers to the Kentucky Dam will be set up in the near future, and that the attention of travelers will be directed to all but forgotten Mammoth Cave. Illustrated literature glorifying the state's many scenic attractions is being sent to hotels and filling stations all over the nation.

Let me take you 35 years into the past and a distance of 2,500 miles. It was the train from Portland, Oregon, to San Francisco. Soon after the train crossed the line into the Golden State I began to see huge and high up on mountainsides. They were so high I wondered how the sign builders ever got the material up there. One sign would be a hundred feet high, another a million board feet of lumber annually. Another proclaimed the production of hundreds of thousands of sheep. And so on.

I don't know when California started publicizing itself. In all probability there was no advertising among the Forty-niners. Anyway, there are about three million people in the state now who could be classed as first-rate press agents. And after hearing Californians blarney their state for a century, Kentucky is just now beginning to realize what publicity means.
What did California have? Some gold mines and timber were her chief assets. The land that now helps to feed a very large part of the country's population was desert and had to be irrigated with canal water. The desert land needed people from this side of the Sierra Nevada mountains to work it. And the bally-wood got them out from Kentucky and other states where fertility was high, water fell from clouds, and markets were 2,000 miles closer. California became famous through advertising. Capital, brains, ambition, courage, the assets California had were used from year to year that had better natural resources than the Pacific coast could naturally offer.
During the century California has been getting richer and richer. Kentucky has been lagging behind the more progressive states. And one of the main reasons is that our people just haven't realized the value of nationwide publicity. But, thank goodness, we are waking up.

Knott Native Dies Of Heart Ailment
A heart ailment from which she had suffered for three years resulted last Thursday in the death at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dewey Burns, Norton, Ky., of Mrs. Emma-ine Stone Watts, 74 years old, a native of Hollybush, Knott county. Surviving, besides her husband, are four daughters, Mrs. Hager Wicker, of Glo. Mrs. Bob Logan and Mrs. Clint Campbell, both of Cornettsville, Ky., and Mrs. Burns, of Norton; four step-sons, Corbett Watts, Danville, Ill., Clay Watts, Ashland, Vannell Watts, Viper, Ky., and Coty Watts, Moulse. One brother, Cleveland Stone, of May, Ky., and two sisters, Mrs. L. D. Stone, Hollybush, and Miss Frankie Stone, of May, also survive. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Bell Branch Baptist Church at Moulse, the Rev. Earl Howard officiating. Burial in the First cemetery there was directed by the Baker Funeral Home.

NEWSPRINT USE GROWS

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Apparent total consumption of newsprint in the United States in October was 498,950 tons, an increase of 45,546 tons over October, 1947. The Newsprint Association of Canada reported today. Approximately 75 per cent of newsprint used in the United States is made in Canada.

if you will write or otherwise contact him at Prestonsburg. Though you may not think so, there are children in this county who will be pleased with anything you will give.

What goes on here?
Referer makes first down—or did he really just miss it? Field judge bleats out the nearest tackle—or was it clipping? If the officials call 'em—and play too—what kind of a game is that?
You wouldn't stand for that sort of thing on a football field—but it happens every day in the electric light and power business. Government not only regulates the electric companies—but is in competition with them at the same time!
The catch is that government sets up two different sets of rules. The government's electric agencies pay little or no interest on the money they borrow, and pay no Federal taxes—but electric companies do, and expect to. When government-run electric power business can't make ends meet—it gets a handout of tax money from the U. S. Treasury. Who foots the bill? American taxpayers—of which you are one.
If government can get into the light and power business this way—it can get into any other business the same way.
In sixty-odd years, the self-supporting electric companies have built for America the most and the best electric service in the world. While costs of everything else are way up (including the costs of making and delivering electricity) electric service is still the best bargain in the American family's budget. . . it does so much, and costs so little.
This is a good reason for the thousands of people who work in power companies, and for the millions of people who invest savings in them.
Don't you think these men and women deserve a fair break?
The answer is yours to make, for government money is your money.

Long Runs Feature Cats' Win In Game With Paintsville Hi

For three and nine-tenths quarters of their annual football game the Prestonsburg Black Cats and the Paintsville Tigers fought on even terms here last Friday night, with the Tigers apparently on the way to providing a major Big Sandy Conference upset with a tie game.

Then, with the clock ticking inexorably toward the close of the contest, the Cats spread across the field in a razzle-dazzle line-up. It was now or never—at least, not till 1949—for a touchdown scoring play. Quarterback Eddie Hill took the ball from center, quickly flipped it out into the flat to Durham, right end. To the accompaniment of a roar from the Prestonsburg fans composing larger part of the crowd, Durham raced, untouched, 30 yards for the winning touchdown.

Prestonsburg VFW Drops Two Straight

The Prestonsburg team lost again Thursday night to Garrett, 54 to 41. Adrian Blackburn led in scoring with 17 points. "Greasy" Hughes led the winners with 15 points.

Prestonsburg's VFW basketball team dropped their first game last Wednesday night in their first encounter of the season with the Wayland Independents. Wayland won, 50 to 41.

Prestonsburg played without the services of Adrian Blackburn, one of the team's highest scorers. His brother, Tommy, led both teams in point-making with 17 but his teammates failed to produce space with DeCoursey, Campbell and Hicks, Wayland's big guns.

LIONS ENLARGE WAYLAND GYM

$7,000 Expenditure Increases Capacity; Church Aid Planned

Wayland high school's gymnasium, enlarged and its seating arrangement re-modeled as a Wayland Lions Club project, is now the largest in Floyd county with room for the "comfortable" seating of 1,500 fans, club officials said this week.

The work was done at an outlay of approximately $7,000. Dressing rooms and showers were torn out and moved into the addition to the rear of the gym, leaving additional room for seats. Seats on the floor level have been banked.

The Lions Club there has suggested the gym as a logical site for the county basketball tournament. Wheelwright is due to be host to teams of the county this year, but the gym there is admittedly inadequate to accommodate the huge crowds attending this annual athletic event and so the tournament is being held at Wayland.

The gym improvement completed, the Lions Club at Wayland is now beginning to turn to another undertaking. Now planned is a full basement for the Wayland Methodist church, the only church in the town proper. The work is planned as a club enterprise, inasmuch as the church serves as a community church. Help from the American Legion, and other organizations will be sought. A Lions Club official said.

Football Troubles—Hah! Look What Basketball Holds for Benedett

Ted Benedett, Prestonsburg Black Cat athletic mentor, thought he had trouble enough when he faced the task of rebuilding the school's football eleven this year after the team's ranks had been decimated by graduation.

But he hadn't considered the basketball season too seriously then. Now, with practice for the net set-up beginning, he is learning all over again the real meaning of trouble.

He starts the season with only Willie and Boyd as regulars back from last year, with Paul Harmon who saw some first-team action on hands, hands, of last year's second team, is a fourth player.

But where that fifth man for a starting line-up is, where all those others named "Benedett" reserves—that's what's puzzling Benedett. "Some new talent will be discovered, that's certain. But how much, and how soon?"

FRATERNITY NAMES CRAFT—Hazel H. Craft, son of H. H. Craft, of Wayland, has been elected intramural athletics manager of Epsilon Phi Zeta of Lambda Chi College fraternity at the University of Kentucky. Craft, a senior in the College of Engineering, is studying electrical engineering.

Betsy Layne Upsets Favored Garrett, 38-35

By CARL HIGGINS

Garrett, Ky., Nov. 15—(AP)—Betsy Layne, a high school basketball player, defeated Garrett Saturday night, 38-35.

The score was very close throughout 12 points as the clock changed hands several times. During the final half the Bobcats held the lead as the Black Devils strove in vain to overcome the few points by which they were trailing. Betsy Layne led at half-time, 17-16.

Little Corbet Boelen led the losers with 12 points as he connected on several long set shots. He was closely followed by Betsy Layne's Crum who tallied the winning points during the latter part of the game.

As Martin Fives Win Over Maytown High Before Big Crowd

Martin high school's homecoming was an unclouded success Saturday as both basketball teams, first and second, won over their old rivals the Maytown Wildcats before a capacity crowd, and as the old grade gathered from over a wide section for a luncheon at which an alumni association was formed.

The Purple Flash defeated Maytown, one of the county's strongest foes, in surprisingly convincing fashion, 48 to 24. The second team defeated Maytown's reserves, 24 to 17.

The Martin team was led by McCarty, who scored 12 points, with E. C. and D. Latery, brothers, adding nine points each. Wendell Jones at forward position for the losers scored 12 points and Boyd was in the runner-up position in scoring with six points.

Martin's next game is Saturday night, with Hindman the foe.

The line-ups:

Many pastures provide poor feed for livestock because the soil lacks phosphorus. Phosphorus-deficient soil produces phosphorus-deficient feed. Phosphorus-rich soil reduces feed richer in both phosphorus and protein—and a bigger, more palatable growth. A generous application of our FOUR-LEAF Powdered Rock-phosphate will benefit your pastures—and the livestock grazed there—for years ahead. Investigate.

A Tribute and a Summons

MEMORIAL DAY OF THIS YEAR. General Omar Bradley was in Longmeadow, Massachusetts, to pay homage to Col. Edward G. Wilkin, a Congressional Medal of Honor soldier who fell in action on April 18, 1945 in Germany.

This soldier died as many thousands of other young men died. What General Bradley said at his grave could be said at the grave of any other of all those thousands. The stern warrior spirit of the dead and to the living in words so moving that THE TIMES re-prints them here as the march of world events daily produced occasion for thinking back to the soul-searing, tragic days of mortal combat between nations and forward to days when the price of freedom must continue to be eternal vigilance.

Solemnly spoke this soldier of America:

"Here on the long green meadows of this tranquil New England town we have come to do honor—not alone to one brave soldier—but to the generation of earnest young men who left their homes to defend them at Concord, Antietam, San Juan, the Argonne—and in the mowms of the trenches.

"For as long as free men have lived, worked, worshipped and reared their families, so the American people have their sons been summoned to arms against those who would covet or destroy their freedom. After generation they have been forced to quit these quiet homes in this peaceful valley to fight—and sometimes die—in conflicts visited upon them by issues remote from their everyday lives.

"From the chancelleries of London, Paris, Berlin—Rome, Tokyo and Moscow, those bitter struggles that have scarred the progress of all mankind eventually spanned the seas to invade the strong nations and warm kitchens of these colonial homes. And as these world struggles have wasted the youth and resources of nations, they have also left behind women and empty chairs in the houses on this green.

"It is easy for us who are living to honor the sacrifices of those who are dead. For it helps us to assume the guilt we should feel in their presence. Wars can be prevented just as surely as they are provoked and therefore we who fail to prevent them must share in guilt for the dead.

"I have not come here today to consecrate war and its evils for the sacrifices war has produced. For every man in whom war has inspired sacrifice, courage, and love, there are many more whom it has degraded with brutality, callousness, and greed.

"Rather we are gathered here to take comfort and strength from those of our dead who have already given this nation so much. We have come to learn—that we can—how men might live as charitably together in peace as they died for each other in war.

"We have come to ask why it is that our young men must spend their bodies against the Siegfried Line—why it is men cannot live as bravely as they die.

"In our hatred and renunciation of war, we must not forget that the regions of conflict flourish in the faults and failures of those who seek peace just as surely as they take shape from the diseases and designs of aggressors.

"While the American people have within themselves the moral strength, the power and wisdom to marshal their forces against aggression in whatever form it affects—we cannot feign innocence through indifference or neglect of struggles that bring on wars.

"We have suffered enough in two world wars to know that non-involvement in peace means certain involvement in war.

"Either we shall employ our strength, power, and conscience boldly and righteously in defense of human unity and freedom or we shall waste those resources for peace and default to the forces that breed new wars.

"I had we buried today is partly the victim of your folly and the folly of all peace-loving peoples who sit back on their heels on the hills of the world. For at the very time those aggressors at whose hands he met his death conspired against the peace of the world, we blinded ourselves to their strength and by our shameful inaction countenanced their starting attack.

"Secure in distant and peaceful towns like these, clinging to comforts, refusing risks, seeking safety in refuge and refuge in words, we recanted power and conscience to side with those who sought peace at any price. Too late we discovered the price was too high and to keep our freedom we paid in the bodies of our young sons.

"If the United States ever again stoops to expedient to avoid the difficult decisions that come with leadership, the heavy burdens which with defense we shall once more run the dangers of all halfway measures and waste our strength and conscience as a weathervane rather than a force.

"If we cringe from the necessity of meeting issues boldly with principle, resolution and strength, then we will simply murmur along from crisis to crisis, fixating with expediency, seeking inoffensive solutions, drugging the nation with an illusion of security which under those conditions cannot exist. If we are to scamp for peace, we must fix our principles and policies to the change of each day, we shall place ourselves supinely and helplessly at the mercy of any aggressor who might play on our public opinion and decimate our forces at will.

"To live bravely by convictions from which the free peoples of this world can take courage, the American people must put their faith in stable long-range policies—political, economic and moral—policies that are not to be heated and cooled with the brightening and waning of tension.

"The United States has matured to world leadership; it is time we steered by the stars, not by the lights of each passing ship.

"On this Memorial Day, as we take leave of this brave soldier—Corporal Edward G. Wilkin, Army of the United States, Medal of Honor—we pay homage as he would have us do, to all his fallen comrades—to the strong and the weak; the leaders, the led; to all who perished where only God could witness their charity to their fellow men.

"Proudly—but reverently—sally we honor them. We pray they will ever rest in peace."

Opportunity and A Challenge

ONE thing Carl D. Perkins, the district's Congressman-elect, cannot neglect either as a public servant or as a success in the field of politics.

This matter which demands his attention without delay, is the canalization of the Big Sandy river.

It cannot be denied, Congressman W. Howard Hays, whom Mr. Perkins defeated at last week's polls, worked effectively toward this end. Mr. Meade picked up where Mr. Meade left off and this two, working at different times and separately, probably advanced the cause of canalization farther than the public realizes.

Within recent months Congressional committee leaders whose support is vital to the conversion of the Big Sandy to an important inland waterway have visited the section, seen for themselves the region's potential and what water transportation can mean to the valley and through the valley's rich resources, to the nation.

From that point on, it is Mr. Perkins' job to work as assiduously as did his predecessor.

The next Congress will be predominantly Democratic. It and the Administration are not unfriendly to waterways improvement. Neither the Congress nor the President will be frightened away from any other needed public improvement by the shipbuilders' "free competition."

All of which augurs well for the new Congressman's work to get ahead with locks and dams for the Big Sandy.

GARRETT

PONTIAC

Above everything else... a good car!

Pontiac has one manufacturing principle which takes precedence over all others: Pontiac must always be a good car! There is no other motor car quality which people value so much as goodness. That's why Pontiac engineers and production specialists spend so much time and energy and money to insure Pontiac quality. Pontiac cars must last long—and they must last well—and they must function through the years with a minimum of upkeep cost.

Owners have been quick to appreciate this. Some of the testimonials they send to the factory, and so almost impossible to attainment. Pontiac has many other outstanding virtues, of course. It is a wonderful performer. It is delightfully comfortable and easy to handle. It is a great beauty, and unusually distinctive in appearance. But its greatest virtue is goodness. This year, or any year, you just can't beat it for faithful performance.

Let rise in warm place until very light. Bake in moderately hot oven (300° F.) for 15-20 minutes.

ONE FARM VEHICLE YOU CAN COUNT ON IN ANY WEATHER

It takes much more than rough weather and bad roads to stop the 4-wheel-drive Universal Jeep. It keeps right on going—on or off the road, up steep grades, through mud, sand or snow. You will appreciate the all-around usefulness of the Jeep, too. When you buy a Jeep, you not only get a 4-wheel-drive tractor but you also get a vehicle that will haul and tow. Come in and let us show you.

FOR FIELD WORK. The Jeep operates almost any farm implement. Put it to work on your autumn chores and let it help with a thousand and one other jobs they're round. You will be surprised at how much the Jeep does and how little it costs per job.

FOR WINTER HAULING. Taking crops to market and bringing supplies out from town is all in a day's work to the Universal Jeep. It carries up to 1,200 pounds in its sturdy steel bed—and, it will tow 2 1/2 tons at highway speeds.

MEET THE Star Performer for '49!

You're invited to drive the New Hudson—the car that's nimble and rugged beyond anything you've known before!

"The modern design for '49"

Come in, try Hudson with the all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine (the most powerful American six built today) or the masterful Super-Eight. Both provide wonderfully alert power for a new type of motor car with an exclusive "step-down" design.

Millions say the New Hudson is the reigning beauty in the automobile parade—but you can't really know this great car until you drive it—and you're invited to do just that—now!

Hudson, with the new, 121 hp., high-compression Super-Six engine or the masterful Super-Eight, takes you away with new zip, and outstrips the field with staying power.

But amazingly alive engines aren't the whole story of this star performer for '49. Hudson has a new fuel-line road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway.

This all happens because—as is widely known—the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have. Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

This remarkable car has floors recessed down within a base frame (Hudson is the only car you step down into), enabling Hudson to build the lowest car on the highway, only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more than adequate head room.

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin to ride, and this gives you a new feeling of safe well-being! This feeling is further enhanced by the ease with which this car is operated, and by the quiet with which Hudson glides along.

Come in, let us show you why Hudson's great engines and fabulous "step-down" design principle put this car so far ahead of its rivals and on every conceivable kind of highway.

The many important advantages in Hudson's new "step-down" design are explained in a booklet available at the nearest Hudson dealer.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Veterans Administration this week reminded World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky that vocational advisement and guidance is available at 37 centers established by VA in cooperation with educational institutions and other agencies.

Advisement and guidance is voluntary for veterans who wish to study or train under the G.I. Bill, but is required for disabled veterans who wish vocational rehabilitation under provisions of the law.

Purpose of the program is to help veterans explore their interests, needs and abilities, as well as to provide them with information about schools, training and job opportunities.

Veterans' guidance centers in the three states are located at:

Ohio—Akron, University of Akron; Cleveland, Penn. College and John Carroll University; Delaware, Delaware College; Steubenville, Grant Junior High School; Toledo, University of Toledo; Wooster, College of Wooster; Youngstown, Youngstown College; Athens, Ohio University; University of Cincinnati; Dayton, University of Dayton; Oxford, Miami University; Portsmouth, Masonic Temple building; Zanesville, Richards building.

Michigan—Ann Arbor, University of Michigan; Detroit, Michigan Extension and Wayne University; East Lansing, Michigan State College; Grand Rapids, Grand Rapids Junior College; Highland Park, Francis Willard School; Hillsdale, Hillsdale College; Houghton, Michigan College of Mining and Metallurgy; Kalamazoo, Western Michigan College of Education; Marquette, Michigan College of Education; Mt. Pleasant, Central Michigan College of Education; Saginaw, Board of Commerce building; Sault St. Marie, Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Kentucky — Barbourville, Union College; Bowling Green, Western Kentucky State Teachers' College; Lexington, 508-16 West Main St., and Louisville, 117 West Shipp St., and Louisville Municipal College; Morehead, Morehead State Teachers' College; Murray, Murray State Teachers' College.

Hart county farmers harvested one of the best tobacco crops in years.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned Nora Prater and Henry Prater will on the 22nd day of November, 1948, file their amended petition in the Floyd County Court, seeking therein to cause the abandonment and discontinuance of a part of the county road leading from the new state highway or Middle Creek in front of the lands of Malcolm Adams, which is in Floyd county, Ky., and is more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a point where the north side of the right-of-way of the old county road leading across Nora Prater's land to Malcolm Adams' land intersects with the southern right-of-way line of the new highway leading up Right Middle Creek; thence in a westerly direction with the right-of-way line of said old county road to Middle Creek; thence down the north edge of Middle Creek to the southern boundary of said county road; thence an easterly direction with the southern right-of-way line of the old county road to the point where said line intersects with the southern boundary line of said state highway; thence in a northerly direction with said state highway line to the beginning.

And notice also is given that in said amended petition, which is in the case of Nora Prater, et al., vs. Malcolm Adams, the undersigned will further seek to establish and construct and open a new road from said state highway to the ford of Middle Creek, which is in Floyd county, Kentucky, and described as follows:

Beginning on the western or upper property line of Nora Prater at the point where it intersects with the southerly property line of the state highway; thence with said property line of Nora Prater in a southerly direction toward the creek to a willow stump; thence a straight line to the creek to a stake at the intersection of the upper boundary line of the ford and Middle Creek; thence down the creek 30 feet; thence in a northerly direction 30 feet from the line from said highway to the creek above described to the southern boundary line of said highway; thence with said southern boundary line to the highway in a western direction up to the beginning.

Notice is also given that at said time and place the undersigned will move the court to appoint two viewers to go upon the ground and report to the court as required by law. Of all of which you will take due notice.
