of the head and neck where clippers are used in barber shops, strongly suggests that the transfer of the infection most often takes place in barber shops. The early fungus in girls are usually found along the part of the head where the hair is parted. This would suggest that the girls get their infection from contaminated combs, mostly in the home, since girls under puberty rarely patronize barber shops and beauty parlors. Of course, it may be transferred by the interchange of caps, combs, toys or other articles which may become contaminated.

While the transfer of the fungus may take place in picture shows from the backs of seats. It is felt that if the seats in picture shows were a significant factor in its transmission, the disease would be more equally divided between boys and girls, since boys and girls attend picture shows in approximately equal numbers. Further, it is felt that if school were the place where a significant amount of it was transmitted, boys and girls would also be more equally infected since boys and girls attend school in approximately equal numbers. Further studies have been made in which infectious material was not found on the backs of picture show seats to any appreciable extent, nor has it been found that there is opportunity for the transfer of any appreciable amount of infection in schools.

Hence, it is my opinion, and I think this opinion is pretty well borne out by the literature on the subject, that the transmission of ringworm of the scalp takes place largely in two places: first, and most important of which is in barber shops and, second, is in the home. In barber shops it is transferred largely by clippers and infected combs, whereas in the home it is transferred largely by the family comb and hair brush.

I think children with ringworm of the scalp should be permitted to continue in school but I think they should be required to wear tight-fitting caps which will prevent dead hair and infected scales from dropping from the lesions. A proper cap would be a tight-fitting linen cap with elastic around the periphery so as to make it stay on the head in such a fashion as to adequately cover the scalp. The cap fashioned from the top of a female stocking would serve the purpose quite nicely. Such caps should be kept clean by washing as often as necessary. Even though such caps are worn, it would be preferable to clip all the hair off of the scalp as closely as possible. All children with ringworm infection of the scalp should be placed under the care of a physician or clinic, and kept there until the lesions are all healed.

As indicated above, ringworm of the scalp is hard to cure. With the best known treatment it requires from one to several months to effect a cure. Infected hairs may be removed from lesions by plucking the hairs by hand or by x-ray epilation. After the hairs are removed there are ointments which aid in gradually killing the fungus thus aiding the lesions to heal. Where the disease is widespread in a community it may be necessary to establish a treatment clinic. Establishment of such clinics would have to be determined by the local board of health and the local medical society.

Marshal Claims Man Named in Postoffice Break; Another Held

Johnny Mulkey, of the Betsy Layne-Tram section, was removed from the county jail here Tuesday by a deputy U.S. marshal and taken before a U.S. Commissioner for arrangement on a charge of breaking and entering the postoffice at Jus-tell. Mulkey was jailed here Saturday.

Authorities said Gene Meade, who was jailed here last week, charged with breaking and entering a small restaurant at Betsy Layne, had also been implicated in the postoffice break. The charge against Mulkey did not develop until after Meade had been jailed.

Only a small amount of money was taken from the postoffice. Mike Smith, who was arrested with Meade in the restaurant break, has not been connected with the Justell rob-

LOOKS more like knifin' than cookin' going on? Well, it's both. The lady, you see, has an electric range. She has simply set the dials for the heat she wants and the automatic timer will do the rest.
She won't even have to peek to see how things are doing. From the time she flips the switch, her time's her own...

to knit, to rest, to shop, to visit friends.
Sootless... flameless... fumeless...
electric cooking keeps things shiny bright and the kitchen fresh, clean, and cool.
Everything about an electric range makes it easy and safe, thrifty and sure. Ever-thing about an electric range says YOU ought to have one!

him, he'll save himself from misanthropy by getting with the other boys, hearing some tales of war and some other tales so far from woful that he'll decide the narrators are gifted liars and that get a laugh out of the whole thing.

"Not long ago, a dozen anglers forlornly around the board at Star Point Fishing Camp on Dale Hollow Lake. At least three of the fickle dame hasn't smiled at group hadn't a thing to write of... "Sixteen bass and a crappie. But, boy, was it hot! Had to pull out in my shirt sleeves and Ten started I've caught a cold. Lake was awful nice and quiet, though," he added, dead-pan.

"The lake had been a terror, that day, and other fishermen had come in, frozen. After that, the whole gang had to go to the dock and count 16 bass and one crappie before they would believe his story.

Another guy who had been beset, all afternoon, by bullheaded catfish, was asked about his catch. He demurely replied, "I got me a new reel and I didn't want to fool with any of them old wild bass."

Yet another, a great sea-captain-looking fellow from Shelbyville, regarding the boys with how he learned every time they took a look overboard, "I take a look and, I tell you," he said the man from Shelbyville, "it almost break my heart. I have cast all day long and I have fished with minnows, and I have caught nothing. And they, these poops—they are catching fish on flap-jacks!"

Another guy reminisced about the past summer when he and a friend were camping down the lake. It seems that while the narrator was outside, his friend, sleeping in the tent, came afloat of a horde of yellow jackets. He didn't tear the tent down getting out. He merely announced: "I've either been hit up by a snake or somebody's sittin' nighty deuce smart with me!"

After an hour of this, and more which escapes the memory, everybody decided life was worth living after all. So back, on the morrow, full of the hope that springs eternal in the human breast.

Or is the fisherman's breast human?

The army slashed its 20,000-man January draft call in half this week and warned that the proposed budget for next year isn't big enough to build the 900,000-man army authorized by Congress.

The armed forces asked for $25,000,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1. President Truman set a $15,000,000,000 ceiling on defense spending.

Of this total, $20,000,000,000 must be spent on stock-piling strategic raw materials. The balance of $14,400,000,000 will be split among the armed forces. The army is expected to get around $3,000,000,000.

It was learned Tuesday that the army figures it will have to limit its strength to 877,000 officers and men if it stays within the five billion budget. This is 223,000 (24.8 per cent) less than the 900,000 authorized by Congress last summer.

Mrs. Stephens, Victim At Hospital of Diabetes

Funeral rites for Mrs. Malinda Yates Stephens, 71 years old, of Stephens Branch, who died Nov. 23 at the Fairview hospital, were conducted from the Stephens Branch school last Thursday. She was a victim of diabetes.

The victim was the widow of W. Stephens, well-known Floyd county man who died in 1945. She had been a member of the United Baptist Church for many years and was one of the county's best women.

Surviving are seven children, Marvin Stephens, of Ashland, Mrs. Cassie Mrs. Gertrude Wells, Mrs. Bertha Roberts, Alton Stephens, of Martin, Albert Stephens and Mrs. Alice Ostep.

Officiating at the funeral were the Revs. Ira Fields and Isaac Stratton. Burial was made in the Stephens cemetery near Dinwiddie.

Full Enrollment Of Schools, Aft Of Jr Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross drive now under way in this county has for its goal 100 per cent enrollment of the county's schools. Mrs. Wynne Bradley, drive chairman, said here this week.

Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, is offering to the school making the largest contribution to success of the drive in proportion to enrollment a free trip to camp next year, Mrs. Bradley said. The enrollment drive offers every boy and girl in the county, through the schools, an opportunity to pledge themselves to aid in meeting the needs of their communities, their country and the children of other nations, it was explained.

The Junior Red Cross serves in military and civilian hospitals, providing entertainment programs, holiday favors and articles of clothing, and furniture made in members' classes in schools.

Two Hospitalized After Close Calls In Fall, Gas Blast

Two men are recovering at the Prestonsburg General Hospital after close brushes with death.

J. E. Barshers, employe of the Dixie Tank & Bridge Company, fell 20 feet from the City Waterworks reservoir on the hill overlooking Prestonsburg Saturday, plunging into a few inches of water at the bottom of the big tank. His fall was partially broken and he escaped serious injury or possible death by falling, belly-buster style. He suffered a laceration under his chin, an injured knee and abrasions about the face. The injured man was removed from the water through an opening near the bottom of the reservoir.

Monday afternoon, near Bonanza, Bruce Spardian suffered burns when a gas storage tank exploded. After leaving one of several tanks open several minutes, he struck a match. Flames shot over him and end of a tank disappeared with a terrific bang heard for some distance along Abbot Creek.

Spardian's ear was badly burned and part of the ear is missing. He was also burned about the face and head. His shoulder was badly bruised.

Heart Attack Held Lidster Death Cause At Jack's Creek Home

A heart attack is believed to have caused the sudden death at his home at Berryville, Thanksgiving Day, of W. D. Lidster, miner. He had hunched hogs during the holiday and had returned home only a short time before he was stricken.

Mr. Lidster was a native of Indiana. He is survived by his widow and 10 sons and daughters. Mrs. Clancy McCoy, Yeager, Ky., Juanita, W. D. J., Betty Jean, Thomas, Mae, Luther, Mary Ruth, Lorens and Fay, all at home. Two brothers and two sisters also survive.

Funeral rites were conducted

Monday from the residence, the Revs. Jerry Hill and Mack McCloud officiating, and burial was made in Jack's Creek cemetery, the Ryan Funeral Home directing.

Power Company Installs Two-Way Radio As Aid In Emergency Service

The Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company has installed about 250 two-way radio sets, equipped with a 250-watt transmitter and 18 of its motor vehicles equipped to receive and transmit radio messages. In an effort to improve service through this section, it was announced last week.

The PM transmitter is located at top Ditty's Knob, highest point in the Pleixville area. "Radio communication" between the station and vehicles dispersed over the eight-county area served by the company will make possible, it was said, immediate attention to customers' needs.

The Prestonsburg City Council recently called on the power company to locate here a service man.

Sarah Clay Stephens, Owner
Phone 6381 Prestonsburg, Ky.

Last season, the Wheelwright baseball club had on its roster a young collegian whose job it was to prevent runs but who is more expert at making them.

For the youngster, Don Noel, at Wheelwright was a baseball pitcher at the University of Louisville he is a distance runner—and a darned good one.

In fact, he is undefeated this year in four cross-country events, and on Thanksgiving Day he showed his heels to a pack of 15 runners over a 3,000-meter course, almost setting a record for the distance.

Five thousand meters is approximately three miles, and, brother, Noel ran it in 16 minutes and 20 and a half seconds, which is only six seconds of a second back of a record set eight years ago.

When he finished, last Thursday, he was more than a hundred yards ahead of Purdue University's Donald Hurlbert, No. 2 man.

Noel is a Junior at the University of Louisville. He spent all of last summer at Wheelwright and is well-known in Eastern Kentucky baseball circles. In running circles, he's too fast for most of us to become acquainted with him.

Black Cats To Open Season with Auxier Here Saturday Night

The Prestonsburg Blackcats will enter hardwood competition for the first time this season when they encounter the Auxier Hornets, here, next Saturday night.

As for Prestonsburg, it will be its initial contest under the supervision of Ted Bennett, former Eastern gridiron star, who will be after his first Big Sandy net victory. The Cats have a more-than-adequate starting quartet, but limited experience of its substitutes will handicap the Cats in future fray.

Auxier, as in previous years, is not too deep in talent, but Coach Herbert Martin entertains high hopes of victory.

The first game will get under way just after the conclusion of the second team fray; the second team game will start at 7:00.

The probable line-up for Prestonsburg is as follows: Boyd and Hill Martin in forward positions; center, Willis and George or Lafferty at guards.

After combining a seed crop from a 18½-acre field of fescue, Luther Heppel, of Lyon county, harvested 1½ tons of hay per acre.

3 FROM FLOYD HELP BEARS

Start Winning Streak; Pikeville College Five Swamps Sue Bennett

Pikeville, Ky., Nov. 30.—Height and hard work are paying off for the Pikeville College guards, who beat Sue Bennett in a home game. Pikeville's first junior college conference win—Saturday night, 7 to 41.

The Bears take on Lindsey Wilson Friday night in a game which is sure to see fireworks, as the L-W boys have already won two conference contests, dropping Lee Junior, 46-27, and edging Cumberland, 49-45.

Combining its defense, its state championship and this is the first game they have lost since Lindsey Wilson beat them early last season. The Pikeville team, coached by Bill Houchin, have amassed 355 points in their opponents' 161 ½ follows: Pikeville 94, Alma 44, Pikeville 92, Mayo Vocational 44, Pikeville 91, Kentucky Christian 32, Pikeville 77, Sue Bennett 47.

Jack Wells, 6-foot, 11½-inch forward from Auxier, is on the first team and has shown excellent spirit under adverse conditions. He is good on defensive play and on getting rebounds and has played in all the games so far. Al Snyder, forward from Betsy Layne, has also seen action and shows great promise.

Hubbard Francis, Prestonsburg, has shown great improvement at the forward position during the past week. Coach Houchin says the Bears are rapidly getting into shape and show improvement with each game. Clarence Mills, of Inez, looks very good at the pivot position and is high scorer, with 70 points in his first four games. Andy Benick, tallest man on the squad, measures 6 foot four and is a good point-maker and rebounder.

Other members of the second squad besides Snyder and Francis are Warren Stapleton, Elkhorn City, who plays center; Tommy Elawick and Rudy Rutherford, both from Pikeville, play the guard positions. Other members of the squad are Bill Hall, forward from Dorton; Bill Ray, center from Inez; Tommy Hill, Bel-fry; and Jess Brewer, Warfield, guards.

Individually brilliant as ball-handlers, great shots from either the floor or the four corners, these feminine exponents of the game also contribute an eye-filling quality which attracts fans wherever they appear. Two members of the team, Margie Arends and "Peaches" Hatcher, are professional models in New Orleans when not on the basketball circuit.

Wichita, Kansas, Nov. 30 (Sp.)—The National Baseball Congress today announced that Marvin Music, of Prestonsburg, had been named district commissioner to supervise one of the sanctioned district tournaments throughout Kentucky to qualify teams into the annual state tournament at Pikeville which starts July 15.

The Prestonsburg tourney, under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be scheduled the last week in June.

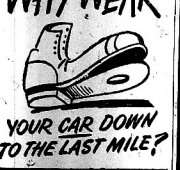

Record Crowd Watches Betsy Layne Defeat Martin, 38 to 26

Betsy Layne, Ky., Nov. 29 (Sp.)—The largest crowd ever to witness a regular-season basketball game in the Betsy Layne gym saw the Betsy Layne Bobcats defeat the Martin high school Purple Flash Friday night, 38 to 26, in one of the finest exhibitions seen here in years.

For a time the teams appeared evenly matched, but toward the end of the game the Bobcats drew away. Crum and David were outstanding decisively for the winners, and Meade's eye for the basket was a big contributor to the Betsy Layne scoring.

The Bob Cats go to Oil Springs Tuesday night, play host to Johns Creek Friday night, then away for a game with the strong Meade Memorial six Saturday night. To date, the Akers-coached Cats have won four of their six games, trouncing Maytown, Garrett, Oil Springs and Martin while losing to McDowell and Wheelwright.

Miss Libby Roe Max, of Langley, has a story, 'Christmas at Our House,' in the December issue of the Baptist magazine, HOME LIFE. It gives a jolly account of the holidays in the May household, mentioning the following persons, known to Floyd country: Mr. and Mrs. Steve Clark and daughters, of Whitesville; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Martin, Jr., of Prestonsburg; Harry Martin, of Drift; Mrs. W. A. Stewart Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chumley and son, Larry, of West Liberty; Miss Holie Payne Osborne, of Eastern; Miss Henna Hensley and her small brother, Stanley, of Warco.

The 15-year-old author, a junior in Maytown high school, gives much credit to her English instructor, Miss Blanche Dugas, who has taken interest in the writing of her pupils. Miss May is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May, of Warco, near Maytown.

In Bell county, 20,000 jars of fruits and vegetables were canned at the Bell county cannery.
