Grows Big Corn Crop Without Cultivation

On a field that was never cultivated and only chopped out twice with hoes, Milford Napier, of Harrison county, produced 17 1/2 bushels of corn per acre. There were 18,865 plants in the thickly planted crop. Farm Agent Allen C. Davis notes that the Napier used 200 pounds of commercial fertilizer broadcast, and 400 pounds of nitrate of soda sidedressed, besides several loads of stable manure. He turned under a cover crop of balbo ray and crimson clover. Napier had planned to use a weed-killer on his field, but the corn was up and growing before he had a chance to put it on.

A year's profit of $388 on a flock of 100 hens was reported by Mrs. R. L. Swauger, of Lawson, Breathitt county.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Behind the exodus of thousands of hunters to the fields and woods each fall there is a tradition established by such men as Daniel Boone, Davy Crockett and Kit Carson. They set a mighty example for American sportsmen that is alive today. But 'old Dan' was the master of them all. Where Boone walked and hunted, later followed a nation. A hunter's instinct sent him over the mountains where he hacked out the Wilderness Road so that others might come and hunt too. It comes almost as a surprise to realize that Boone was not a legend but a living man. Generations of American sportsmen have reared around the campfire the exploits of Boone of Kentucky exactly as Englishmen used to tell of the deeds of Robin Hood.

And first and last he was a hunter strong for game preservation. To his day no Boone hated a hunter who killed more than he took away.

The habits of the Great Hunter changed little as he grew older, according to Moran Tabor, noted historical writer. Beaver trapping was always a special pleasure. Deer hunting, when he was hit by the salt lick at moonrise, was something he never tired of.

His rifle, the historic, revolutionary "Long Rifle," which was fired by a flintlock, is said to have weighed 40 or 50 pounds, and the barrel alone measured over four feet in length.

The last days of Daniel Boone make a picture to warm the heart of every sportsman. An early riser, he would sniff the air and take down the rifle. Then, in the company of his aged bound, he was off to the woods. Even a short time before his death, at 86, there was little his family could do about keeping him home.

What was his recipe for a happy life? "All you need," he declared, "is a good gun, a good horse and a good wife."

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

A little shop talk, if you don't mind. It is mostly about a leadership educational program being conducted by Maurice D. Bennett, executive director of the Committee for Kentucky. Mr. Bennett's job is to discuss with the head of every organized civic group in each community the possibility of setting aside one meeting for a discussion of each of our reports on conditions throughout the state by a member of the particular group. One may make a study of the report on education; another, health, and so on. He begins with Somerset, then London, then Monticello, and Stearns.

So far, the reception to this idea every community," says President Harry W. Schacter in a letter to me, "has been tremendous." This proves, as I have insisted often in this column, that community betterment work is about two per cent outside encouragement and 98 per cent local effort.

Mr. Schacter wants to know how I would like the idea of using stories about communities. Mr. Schacter writes to inquire if I like to use community progress reports furnished by Mr. Bennett. Why, that's my meat.

Now I feel a bit of encouragement to your weekly reporter, in a letter from President Schacter. The thing that will hearten you particularly is the tremendous acceptance of your column in the communities. In each community, Mr. Bennett polled a number of people and asked them two questions. The first, whether they had heard of the Committee for Kentucky, and the second, whether they read your column. Practically everybody in every community had read your column and, I am glad to say, the majority of the people in the community had heard of the Committee for Kentucky.

Our Part of the Discussion

The two school boards, City and County, have at least discussed a settlement of the school situation here.

The parties to this discussion are, presumably, the school board in relation to the schoolchildren of the community. Then it should follow that some good will result from their talks.

THE TIMES may be annoyed by the fact that the matter of the school situation is being discussed in a somewhat casual manner. It is not a matter of life and death, but it is a matter of the future of the county.

But the City Board attempts to improve conditions by placing the administration of the last three years of high school altogether in county hands while keeping for its own the first year and the grade school. The partnership continues to exist, with the county having broader powers and the community promised no physical improvements, such as more tools and necessary facilities.

It was a greatly simplified affair the trouble never did become apparent. The trouble never did become apparent. The trouble never did become apparent.

THE ARNOLD FUNERAL HOME

Wishes to express its deepest appreciation to each of you for helping make a dream come true by attending the opening of the new home of our fondest dreams. The recital was lovely and each one who was on the program, we thank you. The donors of the beautiful flowers, you have our heartfelt thanks. The friendship you have shown us we count among our treasured possessions. We value your friendship and will spare no effort in the future to continue to serve you to the best of our ability.

Life is sweet, just of the friends we have made, And the things which in company we share; We want to live on, not because of ourselves, But because of the people who are here. It's giving and doing for somebody else— On that all life's splendor depends, And the joy of this world, when you've summed it all up, Is found in the making of friends.

Funeral Services Held For Mine Mishap Victim

Funeral rites for Adis Pitts, 21-year-old war veteran who was killed last week in the Stephens Elkshorn Fuel Corporation mine at Manton, were conducted last Thursday from the home on Middle Creek of the son into a casket had, for several times before I left Fidelity and many times later regular floods came on July nights. I never had the nerve to tell Uncle Simmy, but I wish I had.

Nature itself seems to be full of portents and signs. "Et hit ain't natchel, hit's sign!" Corn husks, the fur of wild animals, rails, frogs, cicets, stoves, the thickness of a wild goose's breastbone, a pig's conduct when he picks up a hunk of a mouthful of hay preparatory to making himself a bed—my, how many signs there, if only we could agree on them! The poor old cocklebur got its dope mixed up in 1948. Maybe the corn-shuck test of Mark Twain is best after all: "If the shuck is thicker than usual, winter will be colder than summer; if it is thinner than usual, summer will be warmer than winter; if it is just ordinary or average, winter will be cold and summer hot." That seems good enough for anybody, weather prophets included.

It would destroy the whole fraternity of weather prophets, but I suggest a bureau of observation to prove or disprove the accepted weather signs. Why not plant, on adjacent plots, corn or potatoes or whatever is planted according to the moon, observing exactly the same procedure except one plot is planted in the dark, the other in the light of the moon? Then invite all the native weather prophets to be present as witnesses and make them swear to abide by the results? That would be cruel, of course; but it might teach some of the brethren who swear by their local prophecies a few things.

Why hot carry this into other spheres? Let's set up an experiment to test Fridays. Mrs. A., hard-boiled and modern, cuts out a dress on Friday and lays it away, sure that nothing more than usual will happen to her between then and the time of finishing the sewing except visits by hungry relatives and a few fist-and-stalk fights between Junior and her next door Mrs. B., skilled in the learning of her cautious, elders, cuts out her dress and works manfully to finish it before the week dies of old age. Even if relatives drop in, she sews away, sure that to stop would invite disaster to herself and her family. True, Mr. B.'s conduct with the signs. Why not plant, on adjacent plots, corn or potatoes or whatever is planted according to the moon, observing exactly the same procedure except one plot is planted in the dark, the other in the light of the moon? Then invite all the native weather prophets to be present as witnesses and make them swear to abide by the results? IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE? THAT IS, IF THERE'S ANY TETRACHLORIDE AND YOU'RE NOT CAREFUL IN USING IT!

Is there a bottle of carbon tetrachloride in the house? If there is, and you don't take care, there'll be a doctor in the house, too.

So says the State Department of Health in a bulletin warning householders of dangers associated with the common solvent used to clean clothing, furniture, etcetera. "We are warned:

Unless its use is safeguarded, the solvent, when inhaled into the air, may damage the lungs and can cause death. Two important characteristics of this chemical, and understood the reasons for caution in using it, the hazard could be eliminated."

Carbon tetrachloride is a colorless liquid with a faintly sweet, characteristic odor. It is used in industry for fire extinguishers, degreasing, etching, dry cleaning and synthetic rubber manufacture. In the vaporous state it is five and one-half times heavier than air. When these vapors are allowed to escape into the room they settle and tend to concentrate in the lower levels, especially in the breathing zone. Its primary mode of entrance to the body is by way of the lungs. The solvent can be absorbed through the skin, but very little is assimilated through the gastro-intestinal tract. The effects on the body are concentrated in the heart and kidneys. One single inhalation of high concentration may not be too injurious. Most of the harm arises from prolonged exposure to small amounts, which can cause a general breakdown of the functions of the organs involved.

The amount of tetrachloride that will produce systemic poisoning is the most susceptible period has never been determined. A safe maximum allowed concentration has been calculated from careful studies on animals. This computation was based on a uniform exposure of four hours per day. The American Congress of Governmental Industrial Hygienists has set the maximum safe working limit at 50 parts of the solvent vapor per million parts of air.

Most of the symptoms of overexposure are similar to those of other ailments—grogginess, irritation of the eyes, nose and throat, headache and vertigo. If the concentration is very high, these may be accompanied by nausea and vomiting, diarrhea and mental dullness. If a feeling of dizziness is experienced while the solvent is being used, you should leave the room at once. The damage has been done long before unconsciousness occurs.

Small repeated doses which can impair health and well being are much more common than fatal ones, and could be prevented easily by taking the proper precautions. The danger in the use of carbon tetrachloride lies in the fact that so few people realize what a small amount of it can be harmful to the person using it.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE
By GORDON WILSON, PH.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers College      Bowling Green, Ky.

ANOTHER DOPESTER WRONG

ALONG about October 1, 1948, one of the janitors at Western said that an infallible sign would prove that fall would be late: cocklebur were far from being ripe at that time. A little over two weeks later we had the heaviest frost and freeze for October 11 since 1888. I have not had an opportunity to hear the explanation, though I did listen today. Dr. Gallup explain why he failed to hit the bulls-eye. You see, the matter of being a prophet, with or without statistics, is a hard job. Uncle Simmon Knight, our Fidelity weather prophet, always declared that rains did not fall on July night, but my old lady knows Uncle Simmy's weather wagon into a casket had, for several times before I left Fidelity and many times later regular floods came on July nights. I never had the nerve to tell Uncle Simmy, but I wish I had.

Nature itself seems to be full of portents and signs. "Et hit ain't natchel, hit's sign!" Corn husks, the fur of wild animals, rails, frogs, cicets, stoves, the thickness of a wild goose's breastbone, a pig's conduct when he picks up a hunk of a mouthful of hay preparatory to making himself a bed—my, how many signs there, if only we could agree on them! The poor old cocklebur got its dope mixed up in 1948. Maybe the corn-shuck test of Mark Twain is best after all: "If the shuck is thicker than usual, winter will be colder than summer; if it is thinner than usual, summer will be warmer than winter; if it is just ordinary or average, winter will be cold and summer hot." That seems good enough for anybody, weather prophets included.

It would destroy the whole fraternity of weather prophets, but I suggest a bureau of observation to prove or disprove the accepted weather signs. Why not plant, on adjacent plots, corn or potatoes or whatever is planted according to the moon, observing exactly the same procedure except one plot is planted in the dark, the other in the light of the moon? Then invite all the native weather prophets to be present as witnesses and make them swear to abide by the results? That would be cruel, of course; but it might teach some of the brethren who swear by their local prophecies a few things.

Why hot carry this into other spheres? Let's set up an experiment to test Fridays. Mrs. A., hard-boiled and modern, cuts out a dress on Friday and lays it away, sure that nothing more than usual will happen to her between then and the time of finishing the sewing except visits by hungry relatives and a few fist-and-stalk fights between Junior and her next door Mrs. B., skilled in the learning of her cautious, elders, cuts out her dress and works manfully to finish it before the week dies of old age. Even if relatives drop in, she sews away, sure that to stop would invite disaster to herself and her family. True, Mr. B.'s conduct with the signs. Why not plant, on adjacent plots, corn or potatoes or whatever is planted according to the moon, observing exactly the same procedure except one plot is planted in the dark, the other in the light of the moon? Then invite all the native weather prophets to be present as witnesses and make them swear to abide by the results? That would be cruel, of course; but it might teach some of the brethren who swear by their local prophecies a few things.

Legal Ruling Re-iterated On C. & O. Liquor Sale In Dry Pike County

Belief that Kentucky law allowing salaried to sell drinks in dry territory is unconstitutional was reiterated by the Attorney General's office recently.

Assistant Attorney General William F. Simpson wrote that he and Attorney General A. E. Funk felt the statute violates the state constitution by discriminating in favor of one class of business. Licenses issued under the law specify liquor and beer may be sold only while trains are in motion.

Simpson's letter went to Graves County Attorney Farland Robbins who asked about a recent opinion that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway was violating the law by serving drinks on its trains in dry Pike County.

Simpson said that opinion was given under the impression that C. & O. had no license of any kind for the sale of alcoholic beverages. However, the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board records show the road has a statewide license for its trains.

Simpson wrote Robbins in the letter made public that he was aware of the Kentucky railroad license law, but he added, as to the law itself:

"However, you are advised that the Attorney General and the writer are of the opinion that the provision of said statute create class legislation, and we seriously doubt the validity thereof and believe that the Court of Appeals would hold said statute to be null and void. It called upon to pass upon this question as far as we know the Court of Appeals has never been called upon to rule upon said statute."

Jr. Chamber of Commerce Elects 1949 Officers In Meeting Tuesday

H. D. Fitzpatrick Jr. was elected president of the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Jaycees' annual election of officers Tuesday evening. He succeeds Marvin Music.

Other officers named: Wm. J. Dingus, first vice-president; Thomas Hereford, Jr., second vice-president; William Young, treasurer; Maxie Davidson, secretary; Paul C. Combs, alternate secretary; Ray Howard, sergeant-at-arms.

These officers and the following comprise the new board of directors: state directors—H. D. Fitzpatrick, Marvin Music, Billy Sturgis, local directors—Dr. Edward B. Leslie, Dr. George P. Archer, Wm. K. Arnold, Fred Francis, C. Kilmer Combs, Gordon Gill.

A Jaycee banquet on Jan. 25 was planned at the meeting.

Prominent Floyd Farmer Heart Attack Victim At His Home Tuesday

Alex Martin, 69 years old, well-known Galveston farmer, succumbed to a heart attack at his home Tuesday.

Mr. Martin was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Martin and was a lifelong resident of the Galveston community. He was a member of the Baptist Church, and was widely related in this section and had many friends.

His wife, the former Eliza Osborne, preceded him in death. He is survived by two sons and one daughter: Gilbert and Creed Martin, both of Galveston, Mrs. Hattie Cuppett, of Pennsylvania; and by four brothers and one sister, Jake and Hiram Martin, both of Galveston, Joe Martin, Betsy Layne, A. J. Martin, of Allen, and Mrs. Kathleen Newman, of Gretna.

Funeral rites were held today (Thursday) from the home, with burial in the family cemetery under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

More than 2,000 pounds of chloroform dust was used to fight grasshoppers in Boyle county in 1948.

New Mining Machine Digs Two Tons of Coal a Minute

Pittsburg, Dec. 16—A revolutionary continuous mining machine—designed to dig coal at the rate of two tons a minute—is being ripped out bituminous coal in near-by commercial operation.

The $500,000 machine was developed by the Joy Manufacturing Company and purchased by the Pittsburgh Coal Company. It was given a public unveiling yesterday in the new Mathies mine, some 13 miles south of Pittsburgh. Several other machines are in use elsewhere.

The Joy continuous miner substitutes one continuous operation for the usual cutting, drilling, blasting and loading activities. It works like this:

The 34-inch high, 25-foot-long machine has a ripper bar, or head, at the front which tears coal upward from the working face and discharges it into a conveyor on the machine's back. The coal is carried to a hopper car in the rear and then to shuttle cars.

The machine is mounted on caterpillar treads and can turn to the right or left. The ripper bar and conveyor each swing in a 45-degree arc so the machine can mine around a corner.

Commenting on the machine's operation, President J. D. A. Morrow

Rites Held for Victim Of German Poison Plot

of Joy, said: "The actual speed with which coal can be mined varies with the characteristics of each seam and of every mine in that seam. It also varies with the efficiency of the transportation system, hauling coal away from the mine."

Calling initial results "convincing," Morrow added: "This new machine will revolutionize the mining of coal and various other minerals."

He said the most immediate benefits will be improved safety and reduced mining costs. Morrow declared elimination of blasting is one of the great safety contributions, since mine roofs are not disturbed by the shock of explosions.

A company statement said the machine "is suitable for mining coal in most of the coal seams which today may be mined by established mechanical methods," adding:

"The miner already has proved successful in Colorado Laramie lignite seam, the Pittsburgh seam, the Preppert seam, and the Illinois No. 6 seam."

Different size models allow the device to be used in seams of varying thickness. The 34-inch model handles seams from 4 to 60 inches, while the 48-inch-high machine is adapted to seams from 54 to 96 inches in thickness.

Conservation Officers' Powers Very Similar To That of Sheriffs

Frankfort, Ky. (Sp.)—A conservation officer of the Division of Game and Fish has a legal right to enter upon the farm or property of any person to call for and inspect the licenses of hunters, Earl Wallace, director of the Division, declared recently. His announcement was made in answer to questions by farm owners who inquired whether conservation officers have "legal right" to enter upon or trespass upon their property.

Mr. Wallace declared that the powers of a conservation officer are similar to those of a sheriff or his deputies in entering property to fulfill his sworn duties, and further pointed out that a conservation officer is vested with power to deputize help in the carrying out of his law enforcement regulations.

The director cited subsection 2 of chapter 150.000 of Kentucky Revised Statutes which states: "Conservation officers and other officers charged with the enforcement of the Game and Fish laws shall have the authority to call for and inspect the license or badge of any person engaged in any activity where a license is required under this chapter."

"This makes it clear," the director declared, "that a conservation officer may call on a hunter at any place to produce his license."

In referring to recent impositions of officers by hunters Mr. Wallace cited subsection 3, 150.000, of the statutes, which says: "No person shall refuse or obstruct or interfere with or threaten or attempt to intimidate or in any other manner interfere with any officer in the discharge of his duties under provisions of this chapter."

Penalty for violation of this subsection is set out in Section 2 of chapter 150.000 which states: "Any person who violates any of the provisions of subsection 3 of 150.000 shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $200 or imprisoned for not more than six months or both."

Mr. Wallace pointed out that a farm owner or members of his family who live on the farm or a resident lessee of the farm may hunt on that property without a hunting license, but that they are at all times subject to questions by conservation officers who seek to determine their identity and the location of the farm in Kentucky who has resided in another state for more than one year and is not a legal resident of Kentucky, who is determined to have a non-resident hunting license before he may hunt on his property, the director explained, while the owner or property who lives in Kentucky but not on his farm may legally hunt on a land without a license. However, he said, the hunters must comply with regulations of the Game and Fish Statutes and must not hunt out of season.

The director stated that conservation officers have been instructed duties and in return expect like treatment from the hunters. He stated that the officers receive compensation from 98 per cent of the hunters, but it is the other two per cent who persist in threatening and intimidating or carrying out their duties and their deputies. Mr. Wallace declared that unless interfere with this two per cent he had the conservation officers will be instructed to use force in making inspections of licenses and arrests.

Own Your Beer, Cool And Drink It Yourself, Safe Way in Dry Section

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 15—Ohio county's Veterans of Foreign Wars post today was told its second plan to handle beer legally in the dry town was illegal. Ohio county is dry.

James James, commander of the V.F.W. post at Beaver Dam, said the attorney general told the veterans could designate one member to be keeper of the beer cooler and distribute the beer without charge.

James said the attorney general William P. Simpson replied that the plan would be illegal and cited the law: "No person in dry territory shall sell, barter, loan, give, procure, or furnish another, or keep or transport for sale, barter, or loan, directly or indirectly, any alcoholic beverage."

On October 22, Simpson struck down the post's plan to allow the vets to buy their own beer, put it in the clubhouse cooler, and pay five cents per bottle for it when they wanted a drink. The five cents would have covered the cost of cooling. Otto C. Martin, Commonwealth's Attorney at Hartford, sought approval of this plan.

Simpson said it appears the only legal way for the members to meet this situation in legally dry Ohio county is for each to acquire his own beer in a lawful manner, store it in a private locker, cool it himself, and personally consume it.

"If the various brands of beer for a large number of members is placed in a common locker, it probably would become mixed and confused," Simpson said. "One would probably drink the beer belonging to another, or might loan or borrow beer from another. This would be a violation of the statute." The opinion sent by James was requested by State Sen. Ivor Carter B. Embury, Beaver Dam Republican.

Return of Portion Of Sheriff's Fees Held Necessary

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 28—Belief that Martin county Sheriff James Keller must refund 8 per cent of his fees for collecting school taxes was expressed today by Assistant Attorney General W. Owen Keller.

J. M. Johnson, of Intex, county school superintendent, wrote that the Sheriff was paid 4 per cent for the 1946-47 and 1947-48 fiscal year collection. He said Shelby Kash, an auditor of the State Education Department, discovered the payments last September 24.

Keller explained that prior to 1946 the maximum fee was 1 per cent for school tax collections. The 1946 Legislature raised the limit to 4 per cent in a first case from Franklin county, but the Court of Appeals held that sheriff in office when the change was made could not benefit by it. Present sheriffs were elected in 1945 and took office before the change became effective.

INDEPENDENT BALL TOURNEY OK'D SUNDAY

Six Basketball League Teams Hold Drawings For Meet, Jan. 21-22

Plans were formulated for a four-team independent basketball tournament to be held by the Floyd County Independent Basketball League in a meeting at First Sunday of league officials and team managers at the home of Alvin Reed, league secretary-treasurer.

The tournament will be held Jan. 21-22 at the Martin high school gym. The participating teams will be the Hawks, the Ramblers, the Wheelwrights and the Maroons.

Each team will play 40 games during the regular season with one night game and one Sunday game each week. All but Wheelwright already have lighted parks and Hawks are in process of having lights installed.

Franchise rights represent a $1,000 entry fee for each member to jackpot a $500 treasury to defeat six teams of league operation. A large portion of this expenditure is allotted to hiring six umpires at $15 per game each.

The league's present board of directors is made up of league vice-president W. M. Parker, Wayland, Moore (8) ... F. ... Reed (18) ... C. ... Castle (10) ... Newman (18) ... G. ... Crager (3) ... Turner (20) ... G. ... Hopper (2) ... Substitutions: McDowell - Hall, Wayland-Spradlin (3), Prater (2).
Referee—Looney.

Ramblers Meet Defeats By Betsy Layne Team And Cleveland Clowns

The Prestonburg VFW Ramblers met two reversals the past week in meeting Betsy Layne here Thursday night and Cleveland Clowns here Monday night.

Last Thursday the Betsy Laynes held the Ramblers to a under-managed 50-43. In an independent league scheduled game, Betsy Layne led, 24-21, at the half before pulling away to a final decisive victory.

Martin Bows To Hindman But Tramples Garrett In Recent Encounters

Coach Denzil Halbert's Martin high school basketball team returned to brilliant form Friday night in the Garrett game after a few days previously, losing to Hindman, 39-28, at Hindman for their second loss of the season. Coach Pearl Combs' Yellow Jackets avenged an earlier season loss 29-23 against the hands of the Fish at Martin.

In-and-Outer Garrett Pastes Vico, 58-39; Beaten By Martin

Garrett, Ky. Jan. 10 (Sp.)—Garrett's in-and-outer, Black Devils had one of their good nights last Tuesday evening as they defeated the Vico high school five, 58 to 39, but suffered a large at home Friday night. P. Flash surged ahead in the last four minutes of the game to get the contest by a 49-39 score.

At Vico, the Devils were held to a minor score for the first quarter and had only a four-point margin at the half. In the third quarter, however, they blasted the Maroons for a score of 29-12 and again scored, and won, going away. Jack Patrick was top offensive man of the game with 28 points.

It was the Martin game the Devils held an 8-7 lead at the end of the first quarter, but Martin was in front, 20-17, at the half. Garrett came back in the third period to take a 32-31 edge, but in closing minutes of the game the Flash beat back the third period lead. Garrett floor play with four minutes remaining, the score was knotted at 35-31, but in the last 10 minutes scored 14 points to the losers' four.

B. Taylor and C. Lafferty, Martin forwards, led the attack with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Garrett's record now stands at seven wins and eight losses. Three of the games lost, however, were dropped by two points and one by other by three, all in closing minutes of play. Martin is the only team to hold two victories over the Devils in other losses were at the hands of Betsy Layne, Wayland, McDowell, Wheelwright, Hindman and Meade Memorial.

Maytown Team Looms Large On Regional Net Horizon

Flashing power to spare, the Maytown high school Wildrats are serving notice to all contenders and basketball "champs-to-be" that they are definitely no small factor in the coming season for favorites in either the district or the Fifteenth region.

Saturday night the Maytown Wildrats zipped past the Betsy Layne Bobcats, 46-41. Before tangling with Maytown in this encounter, the Betsy Layne Boys had stacked up an enviable record which included a defeat of the Martin Purple Flash and an overtime one-point loss to the powerful Wheelwright Maroons.

Betsy Layne was in the lead only once during the game and that was early in the first quarter. Boyd came forward and Davis led the Maytown center, 18 points each while Jones, another Wildcat forward, and Patton, Wildcat center, scored 14 markers apiece.

With the Maytown first five playing only half of the game against Maytown in the night before, the Hawks and Patton wildcat center, scored 14 markers apiece.

To the Voters and Good Citizens of Floyd County:

After being prevailed upon by many of the best citizens of Floyd county to make the race for Sheriff, I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination at the August primary.

Four years ago I announced for the office of Mayor in a district No. 2 (Rt. Beaver) and decisively won the nomination and the election. For this I have tried to be thankful and ever grateful to the people of my district. I have tried to deal out justice between man and man. I have tried to build roads where the most people would be served, and I have tried to do my best to help all my people.

If nominated and elected as your Sheriff, I promise the best administration in my power to give. You will have honest, sober deputies who are recommended and wanted by the good people of each community. I invite you to inquire into my record as a public official. It is my hope that we have served the public only deserve to serve again when we can stand on the record that we have made and on the public opinion which we have earned. Your support and influence will be deeply appreciated.

(Pol. adv.) JOHN MAY

You're asking for more and more electric power . . . and GETTING IT from Kentucky and West Virginia POWER COMPANY

Here's what your electric company did in '48 . . .

DEMANDS for electricity upon the system were greater last year than ever before in the company's history—twice what they were in 1939—yet with minor exceptions there was no curtailment of service—every customer got all the power he needed.

Here are a few figures that show how this company's management and 546 skilled employees spent their busiest year ever in their service:

465,112,057 KILOWATTHOURS delivered—last year our customers required 10% more electricity than in 1947 and twice as much as in the prewar year of 1939.

10,093 NEW CUSTOMERS added—$750 of them in rural areas. Total customers served now at an all-time high of 68,691.

718 MILES of new rural line built in 1948.

875 MILES of transmission and distribution line built in 1948. Our lines now extend 4,772 miles, reach 185 communities.

$321,900 spent for the coal we used last year. Our coal bill was 42% higher in 1948 than in '47. Coal cost at three times as much per ton as in 1939.

During and since the war this company and five others associated with it in the Central System of the American Gas and Electric Company have built new plants as fast as we could get delivery of the equipment.

1,323,000 HORSEPOWER of new plant capacity has been added to the system since 1939. We have doubled our capacity in less than ten years. The companies in the system are continuing to build more and more plants.

1,106,000 HORSEPOWER of new plants are now under construction and the last unit is scheduled for completion by the end of 1951.

Our expenses last year—like yours—continued to rise. On the average, materials and supplies we bought were twice as high as in 1939. But improved production methods and your greater demand for power have enabled us—thus far—to hold our charges for electricity at prewar levels.

Each day, of course, our problem of meeting rising construction and operating costs becomes more difficult. But we shall continue, as in '48, to bring you the best possible electric service at the lowest possible rates that will enable us to continue to expand and maintain our service to you.

Dr. Marvin Randall paid the school a visit Jan. 4 to investigate the spread of ringworm. The school is free of any cases. Parents and children, however, are urged to cooperate with the school and practice strict personal hygiene. The hat should be shampooed at least once a week, followed by a listerine rinse (1 tablespoon of listerine to one qt. of water).

Paris Conley and Herbert Prater, attendance officers, visited the school, Jan. 8 and 7.

Mrs. Callie Granham, county health co-ordinator and former Allen teacher, visited the school, January 5.

Ten film strips on Life in Other Lands have recently been added to the school's library of films. The following lands are brought into the classroom on film: Alaska, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, South America, Hawaiian Islands, Australia, China, India and Russia. Ten portfolios of documentary pictures and text material are available for use with each of the film strips. The pictures, text material and film strips dramatically bring to the class the absorbing story of life in each of the 10 lands. The school now has a total of 24 film strips.

BELLE E. KISER HATLIER KISER 1-6-31-pd.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I believe that the time has come in Floyd county for the voters to work and elect a working man for our Jailer. After all, it is the working man that pays all the bills. The only time the politicians are for the working man is on election day.

I am a crippled man, having lost a leg several years ago. I am a member of Local Union No. 7996, Drift, Ky. I am a resident of Arkansas Creek and am known all over Floyd county as a "One-Legged Horse-swapper" Johnny Conn.

I am a Christian man and trying to lead a good life and all the citizens know that they will be treated fairly if I am nominated and elected.

I call upon the good Christian people and the working people to elect a good working man a chance by nominating and electing the Jailer of Floyd county. I am 50 years old and I will try and see all the voters that I possibly can between now and the primary election, but being a crippled man, I may not get to see all and I take this method of asking for your support and influence.

Subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

JOHNNY CONN Arkansas Creek, Martin, Ky. 11-pd.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

The security of our homes, our fortunes, our liberty and our contentment depend entirely upon the kind of men and women we elect to public office.

Realizing the above as the chief cornerstone to four years of prosperity, during which time you, the people, will be calling upon the Sheriff of our county to provide good, honest, sober and law-abiding men as deputies in the various communities throughout the county, I am hereby declaring myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the office of Sheriff of Floyd county, subject to the will of the Democrats at the August, 1949 primary.

I make you the one and all-important promise now that if you nominate and elect me, I will give you every ounce of energy at my command for the next four years to the end that we may have better government and have it more abundantly than ever before. This promise, when fulfilled as I pledge it will be, will make a good officer and a better county in which to live.

Eagerly soliciting your active support I beg to remain as always,

Yours for service, BILL HALL Betsy Layne, Ky. 12-16-41-pd.

Says Vocational Education Facilities Here Little Used

By MAX HUBBS
Vocational education is not doing the job of interesting the students that it should. The Prestonsburg vocational education facilities are as good as, or better than, those of the average school of this type anywhere but is not being used more than 10 per cent of what it should be doing.

The school now has welding and machine shop classes in the shop and also teach the related theory classes that go along with them, such as shop mathematics, blueprint reading, factors and variables of metals; and effect of heat on such metals; also to co-ordinate the school to local industry needs the incident concerning coal mining are taught. This class is called "coal mining science" and covers such subjects as ventilation, timbering, and haulage. But many other factors concerning coal mining. Most of these subjects are not expected to make a boy capable of handling a specific job in the mines but the knowledge of these things, before he goes inside, will enable him to handle the "know-how" much more rapidly and will thus reduce the "break-in" time when starting a new employe. The end result is to be a safer, more efficient and better employe for any company in a position to hire inexperienced people.

The welding equipment, the machine shop equipment, the housing space, light, ventilation and instructors are all very satisfactory for effective training. The school also has most of the equipment necessary for teaching sheet metal and they also have had some very good equipment for teaching woodwork.

The sheetmetal and remains of the woodwork equipment are being scrapped. This is a shame. There are many boys right now who would and should take such a course if it was pushed and the boys wanting effective training. The school also has most of the equipment necessary for teaching sheet metal and they also have had some very good equipment for teaching woodwork.

Our educational system throughout the nation has been 50 years behind. Other towns, cities and states are doing things to change for the present need. We are still clinging along. The old idea of teaching ordinary academic courses and forgetting the handcrafts, home

Tested and Proved...

ON THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST PROVING GROUND!

Mile after mile they put it through its paces... proved its speed, its acceleration, its economy!

Proved on the toughest grades... the new Chevrolet takes hills in its stride. Its power will thrill you.

The pushing granite blocks of this "torture trail" PROVED Chevrolet's ability to absorb punishment!

At the General Motors Proving Ground there are men who are experts at ruining cars! "Find the flaws... get the facts" is their motto. And so, when Chevrolet for 1949 was delivered to their "tender" mercy, they put it through its paces so vigorously and so thoroughly that there was no chance for basic weaknesses to go undetected. What a break for the buyer...

instead of an experimental or untried car, he gets a car that has PROVED economy, PROVED stamina, PROVED comfort, PROVED handling-ease! Only Chevrolet, in the low-priced field, has passed through the rigors of the "World's Toughest Proving Ground" and came to you thoroughly TESTED, thoroughly PROVED and thoroughly APPROVED!

Paintsville Man Crushed Under One-Ton Boulder

Paintsville, Ky., Dec. 30—James Castle, 25, was killed today when a large boulder fell on him while he was digging coal for use in his home.

Cliff Melvin, a Paintsville restaurant operator, told police he helped remove the boulder, which weighed a ton or more, from Castle's body.

The accident occurred about five miles south of here near Sycamore school, where Castle was digging in an abandoned coal vein. He left home early in the day. When he failed to return for lunch, his brother and father began searching. They found the body and stopped Melvin and his wife to ask help.

Enterprise Association Plans Year's Work

Enterprise Association of Baptist Churches in six counties of North-eastern Kentucky met here last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. L. W. Benedict, superintendent of the local group.

Plans were formed at the meeting for the work of the Association. The first quarterly meeting will be held January 23 at the Baptist Church, Paintsville. The guest-speaker, Miss Anna Frances Todd, a missionary from Columbia, South Carolina, will tell of her work in the mission field there. She resides at Richmond, Ky.

Out-of-town guests were Messrs. E. L. Howerton, Pikeville, A. B. Cokern, Shubbs, Eyd Ison, Pikeville, Escam Chandler, Paintsville, Fred Martin, Salyersville, A. O. Allison, Prater, Dolmar Lockhart, and J. P. Ryan, Pinson Park, A. J. Davidson, of Prestonsburg. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Benedict, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Susan A. Norton.

Miss Francis, Mr. Wiggins Wed at Cookeville, Tenn.

At 8 p.m., Dec. 16, the Methodist Church, Cookeville, Tenn., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Betty Mayo Francis, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Francis, of Lexington, Ky., and the late William C. Francis to Mr. Roy Tilman Wiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Wiggins, of Cookeville. Presiding at the ceremony was Mrs. Louis Johnson, organist, and John Garland Francis, brother of the bride, who gave the bride away. "Because" and "Because" The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Merle Pedigo, of Nashville, Tennessee, brother-in-law of the groom.

The church was decorated for the angelight service. The altar was banked with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and greenery. Tall tapers burned from silver candelabrae.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Ellis A. Bailey, of Cookeville, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with imported lace yoke and sleeves ending in bell points over her hands. Her full skirt ended in a train and her veil of net was fastened with rhinestone clips. Her hair was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids surrounded by baby's breath and tied with white satin shower streamers.

Miss Annie Francis, of Lexington, Ky., sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a gown of pink-brocaded satin with matching mitts and carried a French bouquet of tallman roses tied with green satin streamers. The bridesmaids were Miss Jessie Bales and Miss Jean Billings, of Cookeville. Ushers were O. C. Masters, Jr., and James Anderson, both of Cookeville. Mr. Donald Carmack, of Gallatin, Tenn., served as best man.

For the occasion, Mrs. Francis, mother of the bride, chose a light blue wool dressmaker suit with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was red roses. Mr. Wiggins, the groom's mother, was attired in navy blue and wore a corsage of red roses. Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis A. Bailey on Hillman Road.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I wish to ask you to consider my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk of our county.

I am a citizen and resident of Martin, Ky., and have resided there since my return from three years of service in the army of the United States during World War II.

My father, Marcon Moore was born and raised on Left Beaver Creek, near McDowell, Ky.

In education and experience, I feel that I am qualified to serve the people of this county as their Clerk. I realize that the duties of the office are many, that the responsibilities are great and that the opportunities for serving the people are numerous. I am more than willing to work hard as your Clerk in order to help the people of our county feel that the office of County Court Clerk belongs to them and is at their service at all times. I will try hard to serve you well.

If nominated and elected, my sole ambition will be to conduct myself and the office of Clerk in such a way that the good people of Floyd county will be proud of my work.

(Pol. adv.) DURAN MOORE

To the Democratic Voters Of Floyd County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for Judge of Floyd County. I am the son of Clif Hall and a grandson of the late Elder Henry Hall. I have lived all my life on Left Beaver Creek, have worked all my life for my living. If nominated and elected, I promise clean and courteous service.
