TAKE A TIP
Chambers of Commerce civic clubs, school builders and all other groups are asked to take a leaf from the book of Princeton, Ky., and to cherish it as treasured as you would a rock from a gold mine or a diamond from an old sweetheart's hair.

What Western Kentucky town set itself up as a center of superb exchange of advertising ideas through the hospitality and conduct of its citizens which the YW basketball team from this county played in the town during their stay?

The boys from this county returned here to tell everybody how nice those Princeton business men, club members and ordinary citizens were to them. You didn't have to wear a basketball uniform, or a pin or a button, to meet those hospitable and friendly they say were a stranger, the boys said, and they'd walk across the street to shake your hand and introduce themselves. Free cigarettes, soft drinks, reduced rates on rooms and meals—best of all, friendly words from friendly Kentucky boys—were some of those hospitable and friendly they say were a stranger, the boys said, and they'd walk across the street to shake your hand and introduce themselves.

It's the kind of advertising Princeton and every other community needs. You can write about "our beautiful city, our friendly people" all over black and white and you can create loud and long on the same theme, and it will not mean a thing unless the community acts the part. BARTER GROUP GETS ACCLAIM

Near-Filled House Sees Play; Provides Sponsors Profit On Artists Series

The near-capacity house which saw the Barter Theatre production here Monday evening of "The Snow-Over" and the enthusiastic response of all who saw the production, caused members of the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, sponsor of the Artists Series here to plan the continuance of the series through the 1933-34 season.

The Barter Players are certain to be included in the next series, it was said. This group served heavily last year with "The Pursuit of Happiness" and this week's play drew even greater acclaim.

The 1933-34 Artists Series will offer at least two attractive plays and possibly three as heretofore. Monday evening's attraction showed the Junior Woman's Club to be a small margin of profit on the series, concluded by the Barter Theatre's appearance.

STORE CLERKS RESUME WORK

"Back To Work, And No Known Hours In Wage Working Hours," Is Said

Store soda fountain and service station of the Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates (Koppers) which have been strikebound for the last three weeks, resumed work Wednesday morning, and the labor trouble there was reported at end.

"The pickets simply went back to work, and there was no known change in wages, hours or working conditions," a report from Weebury's store reported.

The strike ended, Monday night, after a week of business quickly depicted its stop so that it remained closed Thursday, while its inventory was being restocked.

About 15 workers were idled by the strike in which recognition of a United Construction Workers local was reportedly sought.

COOK TO GO TO PIKEVILLE

Principal Here Gets 11-Month Work Offer From Pikeville High

John M. Verkamp, superintendent of Pikeville schools, announced Friday the employment of Lein Cook, principal of Prestonsburg high school, to succeed Arthur H. Lenz as principal of Pikeville high school. At the same time Mr. Cook was named to the Pikeville post, York announced that Charles F. Pugh, assistant county at Princeton high school, had been hired as coach of the Pikeville high school football team to succeed Andy Lonzburg.

Both Lenz and Lonzburg resigned. Mr. Cook had not signed the Pikeville contract, early this week, but the offer of summer employment there is expected to tip the scales in favor of Pikeville.

"Due to the fact that the County Board of Education would not offer the salary of $2,000 a year, which principals are given in Floyd county, I feel that I cannot afford to refuse a place where such employment is expected to tip the scales in favor of Pikeville."

Principal of the high school here only since the beginning of the current year, Mr. Cook was for 10 years superintendent of the Berkeleyville (Ky.) schools. He is a graduate of Western State College, Bowling Green, and has received the M. A. degree in administrative supervision.

Assistant H. Frasier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, who described Cook as "an excellent man and school administrator," said the city Board of Education met in an adjourned session.

RED CROSS FUNDS MOUNT

Extra Effort Is Needed To Reach Quota; Halfway Mark Passed With $4,500

A bit of extra effort and Floyd county may attain its Red Cross quota of $7,000, it was said here this week by Miss Ella Nell White, executive secretary of Floyd chapter, as the annual fund had reached a total of $4,500.

The total as of now stands has been reached without any reports from the various communities, although many are liberal contributors, it was pointed out. There is a possibility that Floyd county may become the first Eastern Kentucky county to meet its full quota.

NEXT WEEK'S MUSIC EVENT MAY BE BEST

Bnds, Singers, Floats, Scrool Beauty Queens To Feature Festival

Retiring beauties of Floyd county's nine high schools have already been selected, the musicians of those schools are rehearsing and will rehearse some more, the colorful floats have been planned and are a-building—and the symphony of music, color and beauty thus arranged is more than 100 events.

The Music Festival, which really came into its own last year and became a permanent event in Floyd county, is being planned and carried out by Mr. Elliott, and the music instructors in the various high schools, cooperation of county and city school authorities.

Last year, a crowd of an estimated 5,000 persons gathered here for the last day of the festival, the gala day of instrumentalists and vocalists, school floats and beauty queens is expected to attract an even greater gathering.

The festival, in fact, will be a three-day event this year, beginning with rehearsal on Thursday, and ending on Saturday. Not until the following day, however, will the festival swing in full action. Then all vocal and instrumental solo events will be held at Martin, in the school and hotel at Martin, in the school and hotel at Martin.

PIKE BALLOTS UNDER ATTACK

Suit Is Filed Monday Seeking To Void March Vote In Local Option

Pikeville, Ky., April 24—A taxpayer's suit to invalidate results of a local option election in which Pikeville voted for liquor last March was filed today in the circuit court.

The petition names chairman Roy Conway and members J. Ervin Sanders and Frank Soot of the county board of commissioners, Commissioners and Pike county.

It charges that 11 ballots which were thrown into the election were "other valuable considerations" for their vote.

The petition, filed by A. B. Parson, John Ford and William Rowe, Sr., charges that the county board of commissioners voted to accept 15 persons voted with no attempt at secrecy or in violation of various election laws.

The local option election was held March 23 by direction of County Judge Ervin B. Pruitt after it was held at Martin, in the school and hotel at Martin.

He described the installation as follows: Double track was considered but it was felt that single track with five main lines would furnish sufficient transportation without delay to the trips. The new main line, which is 4 1/2 miles long, extends from an assembly yard underground to the Price portal. All coal from the working sections is brought to the assembly yard where it is made up into trips.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

McIntyre, Martin Face Charges In Hall Slaying; Mallet Case Is Re-Set

Last of the murder cases docketed for the April circuit court session is scheduled to begin today (Thursday) with the trial of G. V. McIntyre and Luther Martin in the slaying of Mrs. Christina Mallet of Frank Hill.

When the case of Brown Mallet, charged with the murder of Fred Taylor at Weathersville, was set for trial, he failed to answer for trial and Judge Edward P. Hill directed that his $15,000 bond be forfeited. He is charged with the slaying of Taylor. His trial was re-docketed for May 10.

The court term continued to move slowly with constant new arrivals. Two men were given pen terms during the week, however. Troy King was given a 100-day term for slaying a man and given a five-year sentence, and Trent Woods' guilty plea to a charge of breaking and entering during the week.

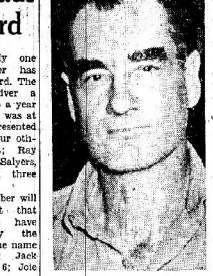

The May term of court, which will be a mixture of civil and criminal cases, begins Monday.

Whiskey Found in House, Man Tried and Sentenced on the Spot

Floyd officers headed by Sheriff A. E. Meade had trouble locating whiskey during a raid on four places at Garrett last Thursday, but when it was found there was no delay in getting a conviction.

Magistrate M. C. Wright accompanied the officers to Garrett, and when they found seven half-pints and 31 "empties" in a building occupied by Manley Taylor the magistrate forthwith set out court on the premises and gave Taylor trial.

As a result Taylor is in jail now serving a 90-day term. He was fined $50.

At Martin several persons were trapped inside a service station at the upper limits of the town, but while officers sought entrance whiskey was smuggled out a rear window.

13 LAND SUITS ARE DOCKETED IN U. S. COURT

To Acquire 10,854 Acres Of Land on John-Creek; Continue Anti-Trust Case

Thirteen condemnation suits involving 10,854 acres of land, the acquisition of which is necessary for completion of the Johns Creek reservoir project, are on the docket of the U. S. district court which convened at Pikeville, Monday.

Although the Appropriations committee of the House of Representatives recently received an additional appropriation of the U. S. Corps of Engineers asked to complete the Floyd county project, control thereof, it is believed trial of these suits will proceed.

Unless the appropriation is made, the reservoir cannot be operated to capacity and cannot serve the full purpose for which it was planned, engineers say.

Largest of the suits on the federal docket, is the $180,000 anti-trust action filed by Kenneth, Cecil and Buell Williams, operators of the Royal Theatre at Paintsville, against film companies and W. T. Cain, operator of the Sipp Theatre at Paintsville.

Hearing of the case was continued till the September term.

Film companies named defendants in the suit, which was prosecuted by J. D. Barkins, St. Prestonsburg attorney, are Universal Film Exchanges, Inc., United Artists, Warner Brothers, Famous Players, 20th Century-Fox, Loews and RKO.

The petition alleges that Cain has been given a "virtual monopoly" on first-run films while the plaintiffs have been restricted to the showing of second-run films.

Cincinnati, O., April 25—George P. Leatherman, superintendent of the power and mechanical department of the Electric Company, when asked by the American Mining Congress local convention here today, said that the haulage system used to transport coal from the mines to a newly constructed preparation plant at Price, Ky.

Leatherman said that the company, about three years ago, increased its holdings by about 10,000 acres of coal land adjacent to the Wheelwright mine. To operate in this new territory, he said, it was decided to build a new modern coal preparation plant at a point which would be center to all of the present and future mine workings.

The site selected is at Price, Ky., and to reach this location it was necessary to construct a 4 1/2-mile haulage tunnel through the property.

He said the mining audience that the company desired to use and transportation since it was believed to be best suited to conditions. Accordingly, the haulage system was made, using 90-foot rail laid on crocheted ties.

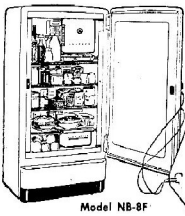

The track switching is by automatic electric control. A further advantage is provided by the combination between motor and trip distributors by having each haulage locomotive equipped with a remote control system. A permanent mine telegraph system is installed at each passing track.

And now the women have taken over in the field of oratory!

First prize of $25 was won by Miss Sylvia Newsome, Baby Layton school, on her discussion of "A Well-Developed Personality." Miss Newsome, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Magistrates' Road Supervision Declared Opening Way to Graft

Frankfort, Ky., April 24 — The system to supervise local road work was attacked today as opening the way for graft.

Franklin County Attorney J. S. Shaver wrote that Trimble county circuit court has refused to appoint a county road engineer or supervisor and that the magistrates "seen determined to arrange so their sons and near relatives can work on the roads."

Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hoffield replied the county road laws could not be changed by the circuit but he declared such action by a Fiscal Court should warn the taxpayers that "fraud and nepotism and waste of tax funds are demonstrated."

Hoffield declared grand juries in such counties should investigate any transaction of such officials and their employees, and return indictments where corruption is discovered. Hoffield declared a 1960 legislative amendment to the county road laws was responsible for the condition.

In response to a query, Assistant Attorney General M. B. Ferguson said the 1950 amendment did not change a condition that has existed for years. Ferguson, who drew up the amendment, said 1946 law keeps magistrates from being paid for supervising local road construction and maintenance but did not prevent their serving as road committees without pay.

This was not changed, Ferguson said, adding that the 1950 amendment enabled two or more counties jointly to employ a qualified road engineer, and also added the classification "road supervisor" to that of road engineer. He said the purpose of that was to enable counties to hire practical road men when they could not get men who qualified as road engineers.

Ferguson said those changes were intended to improve the road-work system in counties and added, "We didn't try to revolutionize things; let one try but to improve conditions gradually."

Shaver said the County Judge wanted a qualified road engineer, but the magistrates refused to authorize employing one. The County Judge and the magistrates composed the Fiscal Court.

Hoffield, in bringing the 1950 amendment for the situation, expressed the view it was skillfully drawn and said he doubted that the General Assembly which passed it, or its sponsor, Representative Elias Jacobs, Brooksville Democrat, realized the effect it would have.

In denouncing the system under which the magistrates can name themselves to supervise road work in their districts, Hoffield said: "When a Fiscal Court refuses to employ a qualified road engineer or supervisor and appoints their respective members a committee to supervise road work, they all know that no one of them could or would attempt to pass an examination re-

Retired Farmer Dies On Johns Creek at 95; Funeral Held, Sunday

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Sunday for Adam Harmon, 95, retired farmer and one of the oldest living Floyd countyans, who died at 10:45 p. m. Friday at his home on Johns Creek, near Auxier, after a short illness of five days. Informal of old age was given as the cause of death.

Prior to his late occupation as a farmer he was one of the oldest of the North-East Coal Co. at Auxier. He was stable boss for the mining company.

Workmen's Compensation Bill For County Road Workers

A fiscal court cannot place county road workers under the Workmen's Compensation Law was the opinion expressed in Frankfort a few days ago.

That opinion has been given by T. H. Deane, Brownsville county attorney of Edmonson county, in a ruling by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Ferguson. The ruling permits the state and municipal corporations, such as utility boards, to put their employees under the Workmen's Compensation act. But Hoffield declared that law cannot be stretched far enough to include county employees.

Deane said Edmonson county plans to hire five or six men to grade some rural roads. Edmonson fiscal court is not required to take out insurance policies on these workers, but it can elect to do so, Hoffield said.

"The purchase of such policies would be very economical, and would grant a high degree of confidence in the employees," he said. Companies or governmental agencies coming under the Workmen's Compensation Law are required to pay damages to workers injured during their employment and pay benefits to the families of employees killed while working.

Hoffield also advised Edmonson county the Edmonson road crew cannot be worked more than hours a day and five days a week. The road laborers must be paid at the rate that prevails for that type of work in Edmonson and surrounding counties, he added.

RESERVE LACK MAY HURT UK

Bryant Tells Athletic Banquet; 22 Boys Awarded 1949-50 Letters

"Lack of reserves may hurt the University of Kentucky Wildcats in this fall's football campaign," Paul "Burr" Bryant, Wildcat grid mentor, told assembled athletes, coaches and sports fans here Thursday night at the annual Prestonsburg high school athletic award dinner. "But, even at a good SEC record."

Bryant discussed each of his team members individually, his prospects among the freshmen and sophomores and the future of the Wildcats as a whole.

He described big Bob Gain as a "player with the most natural ability and easiest to work with that I've ever seen." He had quite a bit of praise for other members of the blue-and-white squad. Speaking highly of Perrell, UK quarterback, he was awarded the "Pats" award for pushing him for his position. Fucci, who alternated some with Perrell last year, has been converted to a fullback.

Speaking of the woeful lack of reserves, he stated that the weakest spot was a fullback. "Should I ever get hurt seriously, I'm afraid I would be up against a problem unless some of the younger fellows show surprising developments in this department."

Following Bryant's address, Prestonsburg coaches "Doc" Perrell and Gervis Martin presented letters to the school athletes who earned them during the 1949-50 football and basketball season of the school year.

Those receiving letters for football and basketball were Don Willis, Eddie Hill, Jerry Hager, William Hunsley, Clyde Lafferty and Walter Caudill. Those receiving basketball letters were Doug Hyden, Jack Crawford, Homer Jenney, Jimmy Mayo, Sidney Hall, Tom Spradlin, Bill Jim Compton, Kenneth DeRasset, Morris Isbell, Claude Hopson, and Joe Isbell and William G. Spradlin, managers. Those receiving basketball letters were Junior Hunley, Donald Workman, "Blue" Childers and Glen Dixon.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

BY EWING GALLOWAY

On frequent trips across the Ohio to the Evansville stockyards I get a view of about 10 miles of river, and four times out of five I see from one to three tons of one to 20 kegs of iron shot pushed by steamboats, most of them by diesel. It hasn't been long since the traffic on the Ohio was so light the tolls didn't pay the salaries of the lockmasters, much less meet maintenance costs and pay a dividend on the 50 dams that give the stream a minimum nine-foot stage.

The canalization story, which concerns the future industrial and commercial growth of Kentucky very often goes back more than a century. In 1814 Zedek Cramer wrote in 'The Navigator': "A large canal around the falls (at Louisville) would be of immense advantage to the Ohio trade. . . There has been some talk of commencing what is called the 'Cincinnati and Ohio' interest. . . The undertaking is not easily to be found out. It can scarcely be supposed to be the lack of public spirit in the Kentuckians or their legislators."

How modern "jarring and clashing interests" sound! Further along in his article Cramer says: "This is certainly an important national concern, but the people must begin to act first. It must be done by grants of money from the state, aided by subscriptions from the people."

The Louisville and Portland Canal Company was organized in 1826 and the federal government took a large block of the stock. The canal was finished late in 1830. It was a highly successful utility to profit that Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania boatmen complained of the rates for half a century.

The last three decades of the 19th century were railroad building years. Also, the Engineering Corps had a tough struggle to maintain a four-foot minimum stage in the Ohio. I can remember when, in the 1890's, packets had to be steered with the utmost skill to make the trip between Henderson and Louisville. Harder than that, the whole nation got a case of speed fever, and wanted railroads for both freight and passenger transportation. Every town and city clamored for railroads, and some of them got more than they needed in some instances there were two railroads where there should have been only one. So steam-boating let out. Boats rotted on the mudbanks of the river—all but a few packets and two or three fancy showboats.

World War I started an upward turn in Ohio river shipping. Railroad tracks and rolling stock had run down at the heel during the war. River transportation had gained considerably, and then from 1922 to 1925 it increased from five million to 10 million tons. By 1947 traffic had reached 41,295,700 tons.

Some of the towns today are around 20 barges pushed by powerful diesel-powered boats. Some towns are 1,200 feet long. The near future will see a multi-decked barge 600 feet long, carrying 600 motor cars of average size.

We read in R. E. Banta's exhaustive book, 'The Ohio,' that the cost of shipping oil by barge from Baton Rouge to Pittsburgh is $6.62 per ton as compared with $12.62 per ton by rail.

That the great highroad of marine transportation may mean much to Kentucky's business future is obvious, of course. It gives us low rates to the South and makes New Orleans our seaport.

Sheriff Can Have Police Radio In Car If County Owns It, Says Ruling

Frankfort, Ky., April 24 (Sp.)—A sheriff can install a police radio in the car he drives if the county owns the car, but not otherwise. Assistant Attorney General E. D. Reed, Jr., said last week in giving a ruling to Montgomery County Attorney Henry H. Bramlett, of Mount Sterling.

Bramlett wrote that the city contemplates putting in a two-way radio system for its police cars. He added that if the sheriff was entitled to one, the county might share the cost of the station.

Kentucky statutes limit use of sets operating on police radio frequencies to publicly owned cars, Reed explained.

Adams was Wampler's landlord on a 180-acre farm. Police said he allowed Wampler, his wife and nine children, to occupy the main house on the farm while he was away in Floyd county on mining business. Adams reclaimed the house but Wampler allegedly refused to move. Adams and his family then moved into a three-room tenant house less than 50 feet away.

On the night of Aug. 1, 1949, Wampler was killed by two shots fired through a window as he moved toward the Adams' house.

Adams was arrested, tried and convicted. However, the State Court of Appeals reversed the verdict on the ground that the jury was not given manslaughter as one of the possible verdicts in its instructions.

Grandmother, 86, Who Started Painting Last Autumn, To Exhibit

Among artists whose work is exhibited in the University of Kentucky's current Central Kentucky Art Show is Mrs. J. J. Porter of Winchester, mother of Paul Porter, former O.P.A. chief. Mrs. Porter, now 86, took up painting only last September when a grandson gave her some paints and brushes. Since then she has completed 20 oil paintings, mostly landscapes, one of which was selected by Artist Raiston Thompson of Cincinnati for exhibition in U.K.'s annual Bluegrass painters art show. Mrs. Porter, who has six great-grandchildren, says she took up painting "so my children would have some reason for being proud of me."

JEST AMONG US

BY JACK WILD

Did you happen to hear me on Radio Station WHAS the other morning? Gary Robertson, Sunday editor of the Courier-Journal, was showing Paul Hughes Jr., Slively Gazette editor, and me through the handsome new C-J color studios and Gley Gregg's kitchen. On our way out, to give us a look at some other features of the mammoth building that is shared by the Louisville newspapers and WHAS, he opened a door and led us into a large corridor. The only thing was, it wasn't a corridor. It was a WHAS studio where some morning program "Coffee Call" maybe—was on the air. If you heard a scuffle of feet and a clanking of door smacks spang in the middle of the program, that was us, backing out of there fast. So, in a modest way to be sure, I made my radio debut in the Falls City.

This might be a good place to mention another mistake in which I was involved. In a recent Jest Among Us column there appeared this complimentary item: "Two nicely named Kentucky hamlets—Summer Shade and Fountain Run, both in Barren county." I then received a letter from Clarence Martin, editor of the Tri-County News, challenging the veracity of my statement. Barren county, indeed, whole No. Fountain Run, he said, happens to be in Monroe county, and Summer Shade happens to be in Metcalfe county. Shucks, folks, I knew all along they weren't in Barren county. The trouble was, my secretary, for some reason, couldn't read what I wrote and changed counties on me. What I said was that they were both in Warren county.

RAMBLING: One Wednesday morning long ago I wrote that if I had a lucky day, Thursday must be it. . . . Next day I received by mail a genuine 16-pound country ham from Fred Hughard down in Liberty, Casey county. . . . Students and teachers of Spanish grilling in the University of Kentucky's third summer session in Mexico, June 18-August 12, will have a chance to visit such tourist attractions as Cuzco, Pisco, Popocatepetl, and Interoceanic. . . . And that's saying a good deal, in any language.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

BY EWING GALLOWAY

At the last big meeting of the Committee for Kentucky, a few days before that truly great organization wound up its job of telling Kentuckians about Kentucky's shortcomings and outlining the way to progress, the best speech, in my opinion, was that of James S. Gatewood, chairman of the Montgomery Recreational Association. It was the story of how a small group of civic leaders got a recreation center whose present layout involves $20,000. I asked Mr. Gatewood to put the story if a letter. The letter is too good to be boiled down to one column. You will get more of it in installments.

"Thank you for your letter of interest in our move here to make this a better community. We are proud of this movement for several reasons, principally because we accomplished our end without receiving any tax money or public funds from our city, state or Uncle Sam. Our funds have been raised through outright donations or money raising events. . . . I would like to see a similar organization in your city. . . . It is a privilege to be a part of a special group, but yet to have managed to hold our functions within the light of a democratic, civic endeavor.

"Wholesome recreation is our aim. Three years ago we started stumping around in the dark and now we have a 7-acre park with bath house, swimming pool and septic tank, city water and electricity on the grounds. Any other community could probably have the same thing in the same way if a small determined group (and I guarantee you it will be small) was willing to persevere without pay during the arduous months and years it takes to earn something down the throats of their neighbors that those neighbors want and do community can find an organization that is willing to undertake more hard work than it ever dreamed it would have to tackle. . . . Of course, the easy way is to simply hold out your hand for public funds, if available, and then say that you want and open the gates. It is usually associated with a certain measure of local politics, and our board doesn't relish that. From our investigation it appears probably 95 per cent of the communities that have a recreation project of any size usefulness have been subsidized by taxes. We, however, are not hold accountable to any governmental body. We are chartered simply as an organization, whose profits, if any, must revert to the furtherance of our aims, without any possibility of being sidetracked into private pockets. . . . We have what we figure to be a money-making business and we intend to expand into year-round program with unlimited facilities for keeping our youth moving in the right direction."

Agriculture Department Asks Aid of Newspapers To Fight Chicks' Disease

In an effort to keep before the public the importance of purchasing chickens of good quality and free of disease, the State Department of Agriculture is again asking the newspapers of Kentucky to carry articles for them regarding this all important matter.

The Kentucky Department of Agriculture urges each "would-be" buyer of baby chicks to be certain they are buying from a hatcheryman or dealer that has a state permit to do so. This permit is given only to those handling the best quality chicks and to those abiding by the laws governing the sale of baby chicks. One of the outstanding laws is that all chicks sold in the State of Kentucky must be from a pulchrum tested flock with less than 2 percent reactors. . . . The citizens of Kentucky are asked to refuse any chicks shipped to them C.O.D. without their first ordering them. To accept them on this condition would in most cases be a risk to the receptor. . . . To ship C.O.D. without having an order is against the Postal Regulations and the Department of Agriculture would like to know of those who are shipping under this condition.

A thing of this character is not only taking advantage of the consumer, but it is also creating a market for the local hatchery and dealer.

Kentucky Schoolchildren Distributing Leaflets To Aid Polio Fight

Kentucky schools are distributing 750,000 leaflets on precautions to take to guard against infantile paralysis. The first shipments went out this week to rural schools from the Kentucky Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The four-page leaflet is called "A Message About Polio" and was compiled to help allay fear and panic during a possible polio epidemic and give a comprehensive list of suggestions of what to do if polio strikes in a community. . . . Declaring that the threat of infantile paralysis is of particular concern as summer approaches, Earl James McGrath, U. S. Commissioner of Education, said of the suggestions:

"The reliable data in the leaflet, the common-sense precautions, the assurance of medical care will bolster morale should epidemics occur. Fear can be as infectious as polio itself and as harmful, unless people are given the guidance and reassurance they need. If the National Foundation's leaflet is given every pupil to take home, I believe there will be far less anxiety and confusion about this disease."

Howard C. Orr, executive director of the Kentucky Chapter said additional copies of the leaflets would be distributed through various clubs and organizations throughout the state.

Can't Impose Taxi Fees, Says Attorney General

FRANKFORT, KY. — Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman has advised a Morehead attorney that Morehead cannot legally impose license fees on taxicabs.

Herdman cited Kentucky Revised Statutes, Section 281.570 which prohibits cities from imposing license fees and taxes on motor vehicles operating under a contract carrier permit from the state. Taxicabs are licensed by the state.

TWENTY-YEAR TEACHERS' CLUB

On March 31, at a dinner honoring veteran teachers of Floyd county, the teachers formed themselves into a group of people to be known as the "Twenty-Year Teachers Club." The purpose of this club is to keep in touch with each other for friendship's sake, if for no other reason; to furnish some social as well as educational life for the teachers in this age group, with the present twenty-year or more teachers becoming charter members, and as the years pass and more teachers fall into this group they will be welcomed and initiated.

This is not to be a political group, nor is it to be used as a money-making project. Our chief aim will be to work for the welfare of all teachers and Floyd county schools, giving of our help and advice cheerfully and willingly; to visit and cheer our sick members, help them in any way possible; giving of our services to the various educational meetings, meeting with and taking part in divisional and state meetings, arriving at all times for better conditions in our schools, talking with our local, state and national representatives only to acquaint them with our conditions and needs, and by our experience help and advise them to have laws passed which will benefit all school people in general.

Officers and committees were selected to plan and promote this club to become beneficial to the public in general. The motto for this club is: "There is a power that makes us brothers. We cannot live our life alone. For all that you put into the lives of others. Comes back into our own!"

Ky. Operators License Head Warns Against Boys Under Age Operating Motor Bikes

After July 31, it will be illegal for one under 16 years of age to operate a motor bike on any public highway in Kentucky. This was notified by Paul Boyd, supervisor of Operators License Section, Department of Revenue, in calling attention to changes in Kentucky's motor vehicle operators license laws made by the 60 session of the Legislature. The former provision for a special license to operate motor bikes and scooters by those under 16 years of age has been repealed. Those over 16 may obtain a regular operators license, good for operating any motor vehicle.

Another major change in the operators license law was the elimination of the free extension privilege for licenses of military personnel. This was also repealed. The 1950 Legislature when the war emergency was declared ended as far as the Commonwealth of Kentucky is concerned.

Price Supports Declared Off For Chickens and Turkeys

Frankfort, Ky. (Sp.)—It was announced here that the United States Department of Agriculture has announced there will be no price support program for chickens and turkeys, including commercial broilers. Price supports are not mandatory under provisions of the Agriculture Act of 1949.

The decision was reached by the secretary, it was said, after considering the perishability of the commodity, its importance to national economy, and the ability of the department to dispose of stocks acquired through price support operation.

Folk Dances and Games In Preparation for Pike College May Festival

(Special to The Times)

An elaborate program of folk dances and games on the theme "Sings Through the Ages" is in preparation for the 1950 May Festival at Pikesville College on Thursday, May 4, following the coronation of Jane Crawford of Danville as May Queen. President A. A. Page of the College, announced this week.

Betsy Ann Martin, of Gary, the three other girl attendants to the queen and the four boys, including Al Snyder of Besay Layne, will serve as their escorts, make up the court. They, as well as the queen and the May Prince, Bill Conley, will wear a colorful exhibition in their honor. Dr. Page said.

Two acts from the era of nymphs and fauns and two depicting the influence of spring during the middle ages, featuring old Scotch and Irish dances, will be staged by the four rooms of the college teacher-training school. A quartet by college students, and various folk dances, drill and games by groups of students in the college and the Academy, ending with two simultaneous Maypole dances, will complete the program.

Two Floyd Students To Sing With Chorus

Toby Wells, of Wayland, and Sam Paul Combs, of Besay Layne, will sing over radio station WLSL, Pikesville, as members of the Pikesville College Academy mixed chorus, next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. President A. A. Page of the College announced this week.

The group of 21 girls and 18 boys, which was rated "superior" in the recent Pikesville regional music festival, will be featured on the College Concert Hour, a program which is presented every two weeks by WLSL.

TO CLARIFY SCHOOL LAW

Age Limit for Children Entering School Offers Problem, Keller Admits

Frankfort, Ky., April 16—Parents who are eager to know how the new school-age law will affect their children may expect an interpretation before the coming school year.

Assistant Attorney General Owen Keller, counsel for the State, said the school-age law will be interpreted by A. N. Anderson, Hopkinsville, latest of many inquirers.

Keller explained that the attorney general's staff was occupied with many other laws which will affect Kentuckians before the opening of the school year.

As changed by the 1950 General Assembly, the law now limits entrance to the first grade of public schools to children who are at least six years old "by or before September 1" following the opening of the school year.

Adams on the docket are two $25,000 libel suits brought by former Constance W. Talmadge Jones, of Grapevine, against The Courier-Journal and the Ashland Publishing Company.

Jones charges the newspaper companies published "false and libelous statements" regarding the drowning of Junior Smith, 20, some time ago.

The former constable said stories carried in the papers stated that four shots were fired at young Smith in the river some time later.

The youth's body was found floating in the river some time later. Corner John George Call was quoted as saying no wounds were found on the body.

Named as defendants in a large personal injury suit growing out of the reported explosion of a barrel of combustible fuel are Charles P. Adams and other trustees of Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates General Department Stores. The suit, seeking $62,000 for injuries and $15,525.16 for funeral and other expenses, was brought by Roger Johnson, 14, suing by his father, Arlin Johnson, and by the father, individually.

The judgment was asked for permanent loss of sight of one eye, severe burns, and the alleged impairment of young Johnson's earning power.

Suing the C. & O. Railway Company are Charlie Newsome, $15,000 for property damage; Jack P. Greer, $4,000 property damage; Leon P. Pepprey, $3,864.95 personal injury; Ed- die W. Green, and Dollie Tackett, administrators, $50,000 personal injury and additional burial and funeral expenses for her husband. Another case is that of the Royal Kibbora Coal Company vs. the C. & O. vs. Douglas Hays.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTLING

In my creed there are more articles than in a woman's wardrobe. They all have a practical purpose, though, and still leave me a little room in case I should catch a fish.

Here's what mine contains in addition to whatever rods, lines, lures and leaders I am using on a particular trip: A very lightweight raincoat which is about as large as two folded handkerchiefs, a pair of long-nosed pliers with wire-cutting devices, a bit of ferrule cement, a tiny screwdriver, a bit of celohese tape, a quite small first-aid kit, a piece of cloth about two feet square, line dressing if fly fishing, some extra matches, a small piece of soap, spare hooks and a split shot, a coil of line, a host.

Most of these are safeguards against the occasional mischance that can ruin a fishing trip; the rest are practical aids for a day afield. The minute weight of the raincoat is little price to pay for its comfort when a storm breaks, and it's also a good thing to slip into if the day suddenly turns cold. The pliers make a good screwdriver, cut wire for leaders when o'ean fishing, or the sharps and barbs off hooks when necessary.

Ferrules and tip zudies are apt to work loose at the most inappropriate moments, hence the ferrule cement. The screwdriver keeps screws tight in the reels and saves the sharp blade of my pocket-knife. The celohese tape comes in handy for temporary rod repairs and other uses.

The square piece of old cloth has several fun tiffs. Dumped, it can be used to wrap fish for carrying in the creel. It's useful for wiping the hands after handling messy bait. It makes an improvised net for catching the biggame minnies. The piece of soap, rubbed over leaders that insist on coming when they shouldn't, sinks them, and sometimes it is nice to wash with.

With the extra hooks, line, sinkers in the form of split shot, and the other items mentioned, I can rig up a fishing outfit just in case I should break my rod, or lose my reel and line.

The home is important. No matter whether you are fishing with bait, artificial flies, plugs, spoons or salt-water equipment, you catch more fish with sharp hooks.

Threat of Grain Shortage Seen Imminent This Year

Farmers are being warned of the imminent danger of a grain shortage this year.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, 16 per cent less tonnage of feed grain is expected this year. With more livestock on farms, and with less favorable weather conditions, such dry areas to the west and northwest at present which may continue to spread, a shortage could easily develop. Seldom has there been more than seven successive years without extensive drought, it was said.

PRESTONSBURG SELECTED SITE FOR TOURNEY

Nine Eastern Kentucky Schools Okehed To Enter Meet Here, May 17-18

Prestonsburg high school has been selected as host to the Kentucky High School Athletic Association district baseball tournament here May 17-18, K.H.S.A.A. Commissioner Ted Sanford informed Leon Cook school principal, this week.

Selecting Prestonsburg for the second consecutive year, Sanford outlined nine schools for district participation. Of those named, it was stated here that Garrett, Martin, Prestonsburg, Wayland, Free and Meade Memorial have baseball teams afield. The remaining three, Betsy Layne, Auxier and Paintsville, have made no declaration here of having a baseball team in existence.

In order to qualify for participation in the tourney eliminations, K.H.S.A.A. rulings, a team must engage in inter-school contests as a season's minimum schedule.

The Prestonsburg principal said that he was in the process of contacting the certified schools for verification of teams, eligibilities and intentions of participation in the district meet here. As soon as the replies are received, he said, he will set a date for the tournament drawings and completion of detailed arrangements with representatives of participating schools.

Along with his notification of the district meet site and dates, Sanford also named Grayson as a repeat site for the regional baseball meet there, May 25-26. Winners of the eastern Kentucky district will vie at Grayson for the regional title and the right to advance to the state tourney to be held in Louisville at a later date.

Ceylon has a food production program, particularly to increase its rice yield.

Five Louisa Bulldogs To Enroll at Marshall; Saluvato Is New Coach

Louisa, Ky., April 25 (Op.)—Five of Louisa high school's Bulldogs, graduate this year, have decided to enroll at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va. It was announced here this week. They were named as Junior Melton, right halfback, Jimmie Thacker, left halfback, Jack Curry, end, Bill Fugate, tackle, and George Tackett, tackle. Tom Fletcher, another Bulldog tackle, is expected to enroll at the University of Kentucky.

You're right if your answer is "cheap electricity." Part of the miracle of electric service today is its low cost. You've helped make electricity cheap, by using it for more and more jobs. So have the people of the business-managed electric companies, who long ago foresaw the need for low-cost electric service. Their skills, and experience, and sound business methods have made it today's best buy. What else can you buy that costs so little—and does so much?

JURYMEN RAP INSTITUTIONS

Name Greendale, Eastern; Ask Judges, Others To Be Careful of Commitments

Lexington, Ky., April 22—The Fayette grand jury this week charged that inmates were being sent to both Eastern and State Hospital and the Kentucky Houses of Reform by relatives to evade operation of the Duncan Park Children's Home and the county infirmary.

Judges or others who handle commitments should be very careful to see that the people who are committed are not committed through the desire of children or parents to evade supporting their parents or children," the jury reported.

The county infirmary was described by the jury as a fire hazard, more facilities were listed as needed at Eastern, evidences of sexual perversion were noted among inmates from youths who are habitual delinquents. The jury reported that boys who had committed no offense at all but were born feeble-minded and unable to care for themselves were committed to the houses of reform.

One case of a feeble-minded boy who was committed from Pike county was cited by the jury which said he had been exploited by sex perverts and now is kept in the infirmary under the influence of narcotics because of the lack of adequate medical care and lack of facilities.

The jury said it found "that no evil exists at Eastern State Hospital which adequate appropriations of money would not correct."

The grand jury said a study should be made of the state laws governing commitment of persons to the various institutions. The evils existing are brought about largely by present commitment laws now in effect, it stated.

Nearly 32,000,000 persons visited U. S. national parks in the 1949 travel year.

NEWSPAPERS ARE '49 TOP ADVERTISING

Figures Released Based On Survey of Publishers And Radio Trade Paper

New York, April 26—Newspapers retained in 1949 for the first time since 1941, their dollar leadership as a national advertising medium, the A.N.P.A. bureau of advertising, after a far-reaching survey, announced here.

National advertisers' dollar investment in newspaper space last year climbed to $445,015,000, setting a record high for the fourth successive year.

This gave the newspapers top spot over the magazines which have been the ranking national advertising medium since 1942.

Magazine expenditures by national advertisers were placed at $149,793,512, and radio and television combined at $376,400,729.

Radio, television and short newsprint advertising by an estimated $67,414,671.

The figures were reported by A.N.P.A. as measured by publishers' information bureau and by the trade paper, Broadcasting.

Harold S. Barber, director of the bureau, said the newspapers' latest gains were accepted as a challenge "to work still more closely with advertisers to help them make their newspaper-advertising a still more profitable investment."

Leading expenditures for 1949 by industry classifications on a national basis, as reported by A.N.P.A., were: grocery, $112,467,000; automobile, $68,858,000; alcoholics, $30,542,375,000; toilet requisites, $30,542,000; transportation, $20,048,000; and tobacco, $19,976,000.

Chandler Harper posted one of the most erratic rounds in golf history in the 1948 PGA when he shot a 41-29-20.

The Brooklyn Dodgers have not posted the better record this year. Every other major league team has finished last year this year.

David Woman's Club Ponders U. N. Question

The David Woman's Club met Wednesday night last week at the home of Mrs. Betty Fleiter to discuss this month's U. N. question, which was "How the U. N. Can Enforce the Human Rights Treaty".

The Rev. Father Nerbonne, of Martin, gave an enlightening talk before a large number of members, and a full discussion of the question followed. Each member was asked to vote as individuals and not as members of the club.

The question for discussion at the May meeting will be announced well ahead of the meeting date, so that members may be prepared for the discussion, it was said.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fleiter and Mrs. William Crawford.

Deus Dodson is the only rider to sweep Matzah's three big stakes—the McLeninn, Widener and Fleming—in one season; he did it in 1948.

Smallest and lightest member of the Pittsburgh Pirates is pitcher Vic Lombardi. He stands five feet, seven inches and weighs 153 pounds.

The PGA final match over has seen beyond two extra holes before a winner was found.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were

REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. Those railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1949, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good.

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the feather-bedding proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.
