Mrs. Sullivan Named D. of A. District Deputy

At the annual 48th state session, Deputies of America, held in Lexington, June 18-20, Mrs. Martha Sullivan, widow of Wheeler Wright, was appointed district deputy for District No. 6. She succeeded Big fellow-townsman, Thelma Antonio who has been deputy for the past two years. Those attending the first session from District 6 were Mrs. Thelma Antonio, Martha Sullivan, Lida Waller, Lora McKinnin, all of Wheelwright; Mrs. Hattie Williams, Wayland, and Mrs. Bessie Stafford of Panasville.

A bus is scheduled to go to the home of the dead at 11:30 a. m. July 29, which is Kentucky Day. Anyone wishing to go should contact Thelma Antonio, Wheelwright, Ky. Bus will leave Martin, July 28, at 5 a. m. had 10 days to protest against it. But the court didn't act on it until Saturday when it rejected the assessment.

Backed by Assistant Attorney General Hal Williams, Havel said the court's action was late, void, and illegal because it didn't act within 10 days after receiving the final certification of the assessment from the State.

Havel also said Judge Miller advised him the court will go into special session to rescind for its records last Saturday's rejection and to adopt a budget for the 1951-52 fiscal year which began yesterday.

The acting commissioner said he thinks the courts action Saturday stemmed from a belief that the assessments are the State's appraisal. He said the appraisal data simply didn't guide for the county tax commissioner to make his own assessment.

Congressman Perkins joined other officials and various civic groups including the Preston-Burg-Floyd Chamber of Commerce, in protesting abandonment of the dam.

The district Corps of Engineers chief explained that, except for Dam No. 1 at Cattleblains which is in a fairly safe operating condition, the locks and dams are in "extremely poor condition," their lock gates not valued in such poor condition that they are impractical.

Congressman Perkins estimated that a saving of $2,000 annually over a six-year period will result from the discontinuance of Lock and Dam No. 1 alone.

Krewee gave this as the history of locks and dams on the Big Sandy and its tributaries.

The original project for navigation in the Big Sandy river basin was adopted by the act of June 18, 1892 which appropriated $12,000 for the removal of rocks, snags, and other obstructions from the main stem and its tributaries.

The project was further modified by the act of June 12, 1902 to provide for the construction of one lock and dam on the Fork and one on Levisa Fork. These locks and dams Nos. 1 and 2, constructed under this authority, were completed in 1903.

The project was further modified by the act of June 12, 1902 to provide for the construction of one lock and dam on the Fork and one on Levisa Fork. These locks and dams on the forks were completed in 1910. The existing project authorizes a waterway with a minimum depth of 6 feet from the Ohio River to Louisa, a distance of 26.33 miles, and thence up Levisa Fork and the Fork for distances of 17.5 miles, respectively.

Friends and Fellow Citizens of Floyd County

I am seeking the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney because I want to be able to render some official service to our people. I believe that every man should devote a portion of his life to the community and territory in which he has spent his life.

I was reared and have lived all my life in Floyd county—practising law for over 30 years before County, State, and Federal Courts. I have always tried to be fair, just, honest and to practice a life of Christianity in public and personal life, and hope that I may be able to continue such as your Commonwealth's Attorney. I promise that when elected my office will always be open to all people for this same fair, just, accommodating service.

I was an overseas veteran in World War I and since have followed veteran affairs and organizations. I have tried to be of service to the veteran and have made it a policy never to charge a veteran for legal service performed in connection with his Veteran Administration affairs.

I have been and am going to be on the road from now until election day, trying to see each and every one of you. If I do not see you, it will be because of insufficient time before election and not neglect. I hope that all you who know me will make an effort to tell all your friends and associates about me and all those who do not know me make an effort to find out before election what kind of a man and lawyer that I am. I have lived among you all my life and know that, if given the facts in an election, you will not need persuasion or high pressure; but that you will take those facts and vote sincerely and honestly in accordance with your convictions.

CHAWZY PIPPLE These fishermen are a crazy breed. I met a friend, the other day, who looked like he had just his last friend. Old Doc Sunshine began probing after his troubles. No, it wasn't financial—business was good. The domestic situation was normal—the wife still put up with him. And his health was disgustingly good. The only trouble, as far as could be determined, was the dem- ed bass had gone on a strike from striking.

Then there was the other who came so hastily that he drowned out the roar of the outboard.

When I get up in the morning I'll get a big thrill— I'll cash off to Dewey And catch a bluegill!

BREXER RABBIT GETS CATCHED

We had heard of the fellow look- ing for a cow on a cast of his plug toward the shore, and of said cow departing in a trolley for some other cow, taking the plug and the cow- erner's bait, leader, line and tem- per. We have seen, and have taken part in some, shall we say, unortho- dox events in the pursuit of angling.

But it was left up to Circuit Judge P. Hill to catch a rabbit with an artificial bait. Did it, he pur- 100. Saw the bunny sitting on the bank, over at Dewey, the other afternoon, took aim and fired. The hook caught Brexer Rabbit in the ear, and the rabbit was landed.

Judge Hill freed the rabbit, there in the boat, and after his catch and rested a spell and thought matters over he decided to do a bit of landing himself. A short swim, and he lit out for the nearest beach- pit.

When Carl Horn's name, not mine, was announced at the Fish Fry at the home of the Floyd County Fish and Game Club's fishing contest an estimated 1,500 persons didn't faint.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to all our friends who offered their kind assistance during the last ill- ness and upon the death of our dear mother, Elizabeth Meade, we thank the Rev. Isaac Stratton and Burd T. Coon for their conso- lating words which helped us to bear our burden of bereavement. We also thank the Earl Shuffert Funeral Home for its courteous and efficient services.

CHILD IS VICTIM

Five-year-old Billy Everett Scott, son of Everett Scott and the former Bertha Gibson, died at Estill last Thursday. Surviving is one sister, Phyllis Ann. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday by the Rev. Dillard Reed and the Reverend Lucas, and burial was made in the Chandler cemetery at Lackey, the Cox & Hopkins Funeral Home directing.

Given good leadership by officers of their own race, the South Koreans are capable fighters, Ward said. He expressed the belief, however, that some of their leaders aren't over-capable. "Three times they ran off and left us, just dropped their guns and ran," he said.

The South Korean people, as a whole, he said, bear up under the hardships of war with admirable fortitude work hard, accept things as they come and look on America with real friendliness.

Nov. 26, Sgt. Ward is an army veteran of almost eight years. He spent 32 months with the U. S. forces in Newfoundland before going to the European theatre in World War II, six months before the fighting there ended. In Europe he was with the Second armored division, the same outfit from which his present battalion stemmed, and in all he spent 34 months there. He re-enlisted in February, 1949.

He will return to Ft. Knox, Ky., July 7, for re-assignment, on conclusion of his furlough which he is spending here with his mother, Mrs. Lily Ward.

HALE CITES LABOR RECORD

Says Labor Must Support
 Tried and Experienced Candidate

Henry C. Hale, Middle Creek, Pa., state candidate for State Representative 96th District, stated this week that "Labor must elect a tried and tested candidate and experience is what their objectives are to be accomplished in the 1952 General Assembly."

Hale went on to say that the majority of State Representatives in the General Assembly are from farming districts and are naturally anti-labor. In addition, he pointed out that management has a very powerful lobby in Frankfort interested in deferring labor legislation. Hale, who has represented the 96th Legislative District in the House of Representatives in the 1948 and 1950 General Assembly, cited his own labor record as one that merited the support of the labor lobby in Magisterial District 2.

Representative Hale pointed out that in the field of Workmen's Compensation, the 1948 and 1950 Assemblies merely increased the benefits over the rates which were passed in 1946. He cited the following examples of legislation which he had sponsored and supported in the field of Workmen's Compensation:

Temporary total disability increased from $18 a week in 1946 to $24 a week in 1950; maximum compensation, from $8,000 in 1946 to $10,000 in 1950; partial permanent disability, from $12 a week in 1946 to $21 a week in 1950; and death benefits increased from $6,000 to $8,500.

In addition, Hale pointed out that medical allowances were required workmen receive had been increased from $400.00 in 1946, to $200.00 in 1950.

In the field of unemployment benefits, Hale stated that he had sponsored and supported bills raising the rate from the $10.00 level in 1946, to $24.00 per week, in 1950.

Hale stated that in 1948 when he was serving in the Legislature, he worked hard to pass the Mine Safety Bill, which passed the House at that time, but failed to pass the Senate. He wanted to see the passage of the Rock-Dusting Bill, in 1948, and stated that in the field of mine safety he worked hard in the 1950 Assembly to pass the Mine Safety Bill, which was defeated because of the strong coal operators' lobby in Frankfort. He stated that "I will try over to pass the Mine Safety Bill in Kentucky, we must concentrate upon those persons who cannot be swayed by the influence of management." He urged the voters in the 96th District not to listen to promises, but to vote for untied candidates, but to elect a man to the Office of State Representative whose record clearly demonstrates that he has worked hard for labor and will continue to do so.

Said Representative Hale, "A vote for me now will mean a vote for you in the 1952 legislature."

Hale stated that at a later time he will discuss his record relative to education, welfare and other matters of interest to Floyd county.

Signed Campaign Committee for HENRY C. HALE for Representative.

Owsley, Eight Others
 Working for College
 To Pay Term Expenses

Pikeville, Ky., June 25 (Sp.)—Nine young men, including one from Floyd county, are working for Pikeville Junior College this summer, looking forward to entering classes there this fall. By working during the summer and from 10 to 14 hours per week during the school months, they will be able to pay all their expenses at Pikeville.

Four of the boys are working on the college farm on near-by John's Creek. Included among these are the Floyd cousins, Bill F. Owsley, Betty Layne, two Leitch cousins, Steve Adams, Jeremiah, and David Ison Ison, and Bady Munes, of Brantley in Martin county.

The other five, all from Martin county, are working on the college campus. These five include Hayes Harmon, James Billy Howard, E. B. Levey, Billy Paul Douglas Hinkle, Sidham; Billy Lee Mills, Warfield, and Donald Lee Patrick, Beauty.

Recent changes in the draft law appear to allow draft-eligible college men to complete a full year's work, regardless of when they enter school, President A. A. Page of Pikeville Junior College said this week.

"Selective Service regulations in the past have provided that a college student's induction be postponed until the end of the school year in May or June," Dr. Page said. "The new law, however, is interpreted in the latest Federal Security Agency bulletin, signed by Earl J. McGrath, U. S. Commissioner of Education, to mean that a full-time student can complete one year's work before being inducted."

"It is clearly in the national interest that those who have the ability to do so continue their formal schooling when they are told where, when and how they can serve their nation best," the Pikeville president quoted McGrath as saying recently.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, National Director of the Selective Service System, has made it clear that when a student is deferred, he is deferred because his record seems to justify making a waiver on him—a waiver that will prove more valuable to his country after he completes his education than if he were not to complete it," Dr. Page said.

"The military effort, today more than ever dependent upon invention, science and technology, without highly trained personnel would shortly become a complete failure," McGrath said in a recent speech. "Our strength must grow from a more highly trained and adaptable fighting force and from the superiority of our equipment, both of which result from higher education."

"Both the military services and essential civilian activities animals require thousands of young men and women possessing the knowledge and the skills which only higher education provides. If the number of young men and women attending our institutions of higher learning should fall significantly, the result would be disastrous. Social structure itself, our industry, and our free political institutions all depend upon the advanced education of a large and increasing percentage of American youth."

At home on the Range with the GENE AUTRY'S

... of course, it's ELECTRIC!

GENE AUTRY, star of his own television and screen productions, also sharing over CBS radio.

"Inside the oven or on top of the range, food cooked electrically is 'tops' with us," says Mrs. Gene Autry. "My husband calls our Electric Range 'civilized cooking,' with its perfect temperature control and clean heat. And I like the way it keeps my pots and pans clean—the way they hug the top of the heating elements, there's practically no heat wasted into the kitchen."

For any kind of meal, an Electric Range is thrifty to use. Food waste is cut down because you get uniformly good results. And you're not tied down to continual pot watching, because this modern range does the watching for you.

Find out for yourself—at your dealer's!

8 good reasons why you need an Electric Range

Butter cooking results

- It's clean - It's easy to use
- It's thrifty - It's cool - It's fast
- It's automatic - It's modern

Veal Chops California
Gene Autry's ideal meal

- 1/2 cup uncooked prunes
- 1/2 cup fat or salad oil
- 1 cup slowly chopped onion
- 1/2 cup canned mushrooms
- 4 cups water
- 1 cup tomato sauce
- 4 large veal chops
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper

Cook prunes 10 minutes in about 1/2 cup of water. Remove pits. Cut prunes into medium-sized pieces. Heat fat or salad oil in frying pan. Sauté onion and mushrooms 3 minutes. Add tomato sauce; cook 5 minutes longer. Add prunes, chops, salt, pepper and 2 cups water. Cover; simmer 1 hour. Add remaining water as needed. Yield 4 servings.

TOMATO BLIGHT

Whether or not tomato plants will perish from blight will depend on the spraying they have been given. There has been "blight weather" here throughout the season and low temperatures. There is the rule that if the average day-and-night temperatures is much below 70 degrees, blight can flourish.
Many gardeners have started tomato seed for plants for a late crop. If blight weather prevails, those seedlings are as subject to blight attack as are the main plantings. Weekly sprays for tomato blight should be given, or the seedlings kept well covered with dust of the same name.
Thus there will be healthy plants to set, and it may be that by setting time drier and warmer weather will have come, to lessen danger

OLD GRADS OF PIKEVILLE COLLEGE SEND THEM TO SCHOOL, TOO, REGISTRATION SHOWS

Pikeville, Ky., July 2 (Sp.)—Alumni of Pikeville Junior College and Pikeville College Academy have a way of sending their sons and daughters back there to school, registration figures released this week show.

More than 50 students at the two schools this year, including nine members of the college's spring graduating class and three 1951 academy graduates, are children of graduates and former students of the two schools. Twelve other "alumni children" were enrolled in the college and 27 in the Academy during the spring semester, according to President A. A. Page of the schools.

Mary Austin Ford, Prestonsburg, is the only member of the recent graduating class whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Ford, had both attended the school. Mrs. Ford was Miss Mary E. Anzier when she and Mr. Ford were enrolled at Pikeville.

One other young Floyd county woman in the class is the daughter of a former student. Mrs. Clayton Burchett, Endicott, the mother of Dorothy E. Burchett, attended the College as Miss Beth Daniels.

Floyd county was represented in the graduating class of the Academy by Toby Jo Spradlin, Prestonsburg. Her mother, Mrs. Glenn C. Spradlin, was Miss Dora Webb when she graduated from the Academy and later attended the college. The current summer enrollment

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH
BY EWING GALLOWAY

After wisely advising cattle raisers to cull old cows, inferior young stuff and venerable bulls from their beef herds in late summer, which is good counsel any year, our country agricultural agent, Arthur A. Williams, remarks in the Henderson Gleaner that the fall culling of cattle prices may cause some farmers to reduce their herds.

Failure to cull old cows from my beef herd has been costly, shortly after. In the last five years I have lost 8 old cows that would have brought me at least $150 apiece if I had sold them in early fall. I held on to them because they raised a calf apiece every year. In the future I'm going to be smarter.

Also I have kept sows too long. Government efforts to depress beef prices should not cause farmers in Kentucky to reduce their beef herds. Prices may go down considerably, but over the long stretch beef cattle produced on grass will be profitable.

My own opinion is that the roll-back will drop as a failure if it drives feeders out of business there won't be any prime grain fed beef for government bureaucrats. A. M. Bush, Vandenberg county Washington correspondent who love succulent steaks but get mad at farmers when steak dinners cost four or five dollars.

Rollbacks or no rollbacks most grass cattle raisers are in the business to stay. Raising up their grass to grow grain would be disastrous indeed. In the past we have seen prices of livestock drop below the cost of feed, yet farmers have kept right on raising cattle, sheep and hogs.

Speaking of hogs, I learned a long time ago from two old corn-and-hog farmer friends that if you are not prepared to stay in the hog business, don't get into it at all. The in-and-out, who jumps in when prices are high and gets out when prices drop, doesn't make money.

So why shouldn't we apply the same philosophy to grass cattle on our steadily increasing pastures.

A. M. Bush, Vandenberg county agent, came across the river the other day to get a story for the Evansville Courier about our blue-grass seed harvesting, and after I had shown him all our cattle and pastures, he remarked, "You have much more grass than cattle."

"May it always be like that," I replied.

Jest Among Us
By Jack Wren

If you don't mind, I'd like to reminisce a bit about my college days. Maybe the pickle I found myself in will help some modern youngsters make up his mind.

Like so many other young people who go to college, when I arrived on the campus I hadn't much idea what my life's work was going to be. Should I be a merchant, an engineer, a teacher, a farmer, a pharmacist, a musician? Shucks, I didn't know. But September came and registration day at UK, and there I was, at last, ready to enter college along with a thousand or so other bright-eyed, fuzzy-minded freshmen. When it was time to classify, to pick the courses that would be needed, I mumbled something about wanting to be a lawyer. I haven't the faintest notion why.

So I was put in line with the other pre-law students and felt relieved that I was in SOMEWHERE and got ready to prepare to become an attorney, a judge, or perhaps a senator. It might have happened, if some of my high school buddies hadn't spotted me. "Whatcha doing over there, Jack?" they asked. "Come on and take pre-med with us." And I did. From lawyer to doctor. Just like that.

Two years later my chemistry, physics, and physiology professors decided that maybe I should have been a lawyer after all, so I switched to journalism. The journalism faculty was composed of "Uncle Enoch" Grehan, Vic Portmann, Miss Margie McLaughlin, and Niel Plummer, and we hit it off from the start. But those were depression years and there were no newspaper jobs to be had as graduation time drew near. Then a job came in that Uncle Enoch thought I could handle, a job teaching English and running the school paper in Kenton county. In order to get a teaching certificate, I needed twelve hours of education, so I completed my work at UK in the College of Education.

That's the sad story of one young fellow who couldn't decide what to make of himself. If there's a lesson in it, it's this: Start thinking when you're a freshman—in high school, not college—about the work you will do all your life, and keep headed in that direction. You see bits of scenery when you dicker around the campus as I did, but the going gets pretty rough.

Fast, Accurate Telephone Service is Vital to Civil Defense

Warnings of approaching planes, coming from air raid spotters or military radar screens, are flashed over networks of Long Distance and local telephone lines to Filter Centers.

Telephone reports are quickly charted on Filter Center Maps. Then Air Force interceptor planes are alerted. Rescue and relief work, too, are directed by telephone.

This is but one type of the many special telephone networks serving government and military forces to help protect our Nation.

This great and growing telephone system was built to serve America in peace. But it is just as ready to serve in any emergency.

The value of this nationwide telephone network was never greater—never clearer—than it is today.

Mrs. Betty Martin Wellman, of the County Department of Education, says the success of new movements in Floyd depends upon the cooperation of parents. Her own enthusiasm and excellent leadership have done much to increase interest in our county.

Years ago two women discussed their schools after an election. "One through here—I don't care what happens to the old school then," grinned one. The other, a model mother and citizen, said, "Mine have all been through a long time, but I don't feel that way. There'll always be other children coming on. I want our school to improve every year." Most of you will remember her. We called her "Granny Sue."

One likes to ponder what Mrs. Bill Martin, of Martin, when she suddenly decided to join the church a short time ago. "I made up my mind not to postpone it till I had an accident or sickness and needed God."

The tribute by Mrs. Worland to Mrs. Roberts is richly deserved. The former student of this beloved teacher said, "Girls who listen to Mrs. Roberts' Pyramide are pupils whose teachers offer more than mere lesson material."

The Gospel Story of T.B., as spread by our energetic public health nurse, Mrs. J. D. Mayo, will make a different picture of Floyd soon.

Friends who have heard Carter Berkeley preach are predicting a wonderful future for this boy, whose magnificent voice has also been featured in Cret's work. Carter is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Berkeley, of Wayland, and a sophomore at Ashbury College.

Do not miss "My Wife's a Polio," in the latest issue of Better Homes and Gardens, also "The Great Sorcery Swindle," in Look, June 5th. We were glad that Ronnie turned down fraternity bids, listing opposing these organizations for many reasons, particularly since young Virgil Williams, of our home community died the week after sustaining an injury in hazing during his initiation years ago.

The Fish Fry is a nice event, but we agree with members who hope it may be had on a week day instead of on the Sabbath. At times all of us are forgetful. We make a holiday of the Holy Day.

Mrs. Carlton Wrightson, of Wayland, left Monday to join Mr. Wrightson in Louisville, where they will make their home. In addition to being one of the most beautiful women of this section, Mary Louise and is a leader of the first magnitude. She will be sorely missed.

Friends regret to hear of the serious illness of the Stewart—"Shuff," a deaf mute from infancy, who has a good education, a keen intellect and many friends among all classes of people.

Give Your TRUCKS A "LIFT" . . . It will pay off Big!

Have you ever seen a "Gallionized" dump truck in action on farm jobs? There's nothing like it . . . as a time-saver . . . as a labor-saver. And that is why so many famous Gallion "Fulcrum Action" hydraulic hoists are being installed on farms the country over.

Remember too . . . only Gallion hoists have exclusive "Fulcrum Action" . . . the simplest . . . most effective lift action available. It pays to get the best. So why not ask your truck dealer or nearest Gallion distributor for a demonstration on your farm. It's yours for the asking.

For Commonwealth's Attorney

Democratic Primary August 4

During my previous six years as Commonwealth's Attorney I never failed in my duty to prosecute where the case deserved prosecution; and when it was clear to me that the evidence was insufficient I never shrank from my duty to request dismissal in open court, in the presence of all parties concerned.

I pledge you honest service, to the end that the law and justice may be upheld.

If nominated and elected, the rights of the humble and friendless will be protected as well as the rights of others.

Your Commonwealth's Attorney has the duty to perform of not persecuting as well as that of prosecuting. The law seeks nothing but justice. Every person accused is not a criminal, even as every person who escapes indictment is a shining example of virtue.
