Coondog Field Trials

THE NEWEST AND FASTEST GROWING MIDWEST SPORT

Coondog field trials, the newest sport in the Midwest, has been growing in popularity the past few years, chiefly because it has a distinct advantage over other kinds of dog trials in that it may be conducted completely.

By Greg ...

The trials are carefully trained and handled since the prize money is substantial and rivalry between owners is keen and exciting. Trials started even on a local level, will frequently draw entries from surrounding states, and the local spectators and the local coondog owners will be very interested in the results.

may be fast but won't have the power to follow the track.

The heats are run over a course running from a pile to two piles. Some trials have cash prizes for each heat, while in the smaller runs, heat winners are usually awarded trophies. Every week-end from early spring until late fall, while the hunting season is closed, coondog fans gather to pit their dogs against each other and for success in selecting good owners. The trials have an appeal for young and old alike and many times the family makes a day of it. Luncheon and refreshments are as much a part of the trial as the running of the heats. Between

Selection of a dog in the pool requires skill and judgment.

Before each heat, the entries are "checked off" with the spectators, as well as the handlers, before the dog enters the "line" and to "tree". The handler whose dog enters the pool first will not meet the price had on his dog and some spectators cheer with money on someone else's dog.

Records are maintained by considerable recreational clubs, clubs groups and several national associations. The field "The American Coondog", "Pill City" and "Mountain Murders".

In addition to trials staged by coondog clubs, many organizations utilize this new sport as a money raising project, taking a percentage to cover expenses with the remainder for profits. On the average, 25% of the money had on each heat is returned by the winners. It is never wise to make up the purse for the last winners.

Dogs have numbers pinned on their sides for quick and accurate identification by the judges.

Prizes at coondog field trials are awarded on the basis of 11—the first dog to run between two flags placed at a given distance from the tree in which the live cone is placed; and 2—the first dog to hit up the tree at the cone.

GRID SEASON OPENS FRIDAY

ces for supplying this deficiency seem to be influencing a shift of some of the projected steel-making capacity toward the Atlantic and Gulf coastal areas, which are more accessible from other sources of metallurgical coal than from the Big Sandy.

"Another factor mentioned in your letter that has caused the further deterioration of the competitive position of water-borne coal from the Big Sandy area in the regions served by the inland waterway system is the rise in carrier service costs. While the costs of providing railroad service has practically doubled, according to the testimony of these carriers, and the general level of rail rates has risen about 67 percent since pre-war days, the railroads have not taken advantage of the permissive increases to raise the rates on coal commensurately. Rail rates on coal to upper Mississippi points have risen less than 20 per cent and to the Chicago area less than 33 per cent. It is the same period. The reason is that a commodity of low intrinsic value such as coal cannot bear an increase of the order of the general rise in rates without a consequent discouragement of long-haul movement, and the railroads have therefore had to shift the increased burden of their revenue needs to their less sensitive traffic.

"The coal-carrying barge-lines, on the other hand, have also experienced increases in operating costs, which they must meet out of their revenues from coal having no other traffic upon which the burden might be shifted. The increase in carrier costs and charges have resulted not in an increase, but in a narrowing of the margin of potential benefits on the curtailed volume of traffic found to be prospective under existing conditions.

"None of the developments mentioned in your letter have been found sufficiently favorable to reverse the unfavorable ratio of benefits to costs compiled in the report of 20 December 1950. All of such factors have had to be most carefully considered by the Corps of Engineers in measuring the long-term justification of pending navigation improvements with particular regard to the national aspects of the public benefits sought. The factual support for our conclusions and recommendations is constantly being subjected to critical scrutiny, not only by the various interested organizations and agencies, but also by the Bureau of the Budget and the Committee of Congress responsible for the necessary authorizations and appropriations. It is believed that the merits of the proposed Big Sandy Improvement have been fairly and properly evaluated."

'MISSING LINK' BIDS SOUGHT

Proposed Work Would Complete New Route, David to Northern

Actually, he said, Government policies on industrial affairs are regulated by big-business interests "whose spokesmen run the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Economic Stabilization Agency in the manner of a corporation dictatorship."

"There is no voice of labor in Government today. Labor has been given some office-boy jobs as window dressing."
"Discussing wage-and-price-fixing he said the Federal Government has a duty to encourage normal collective bargaining. But, he added, it has no right or authority to attempt to regulate the wages and working conditions of free Americans by "the slide-rule method" that are now being used in Washington.

"In our free system, labor and management are best fitted to work out between themselves the day-to-day problems of labor-management relations."

Summing up I.A.M.W. accomplishments, Kennedy said it is the only union in America that has secured industry-wide collective-bargaining agreements with basic minimum-wage rates and hours of work for all its members. He said it was the first union to bar Communists from membership in its own ranks. Including Kennedy was Sam Caddy, Sr., Lexington, president of District 30. Other speakers on the program were Congressman Carl D. Perkins, Dr. M. D. Flannery, Pikeville, president of the Pike County Medical Association; Sam Caddy, Jr., Lexington, secretary-treasurer of District 30.

HERE'S WHY Johnny Mantz PICKS JETFIRE POWER!

Johnny Mantz, world-famous race driver, who's driven just about every kind of car ever made and won many of racing's top honors, has this to say about his Nash Ambassador: "I chose a Nash Ambassador for personal and stock-car racing use because I firmly believe Airflyte Construction and handling ease make it the safest car on the highway. Speed and performance I proved that when I drove an Ambassador 102.46 m.p.h. over El Mirage Dry Lake. Its Jetfire Engine is one of the finest ever put into any car! But, above and beyond its record performance and economy are such features as Coil Spring riding ease, Airline Reclining Seat, Twin Beds and Weather Eye Conditioned Air. Nash wins on every count—and I can recommend it to anyone who wants a truly fine car."

NEW TEACHER NEEDS CITED

Higher Qualifications To Render Necessary Development of 3,000

Development of approximately 3,000 teachers is seen as a necessity by the KEA to prevent the closing of many Kentucky schools for lack of qualified instructors.

This was pointed out in a recent leadership conference of the Kentucky Education Association at Eastern State College, Richmond.

The KEA conference recommended that the practice of issuing elementary certificates be discontinued after July 1, 1953. After September 1, 1953 the four-year program for elementary teacher preparation be discontinued.

To avoid having to close elementary schools after July of that year because of an anticipated shortage of 3,000 teachers, the leadership conference urged the "bright" high school graduates of 1951 to consider teaching as a profession and to enter college this fall so that they may complete the two-year program in time to teach in the fall of 1953.

Teachers who qualify under this program before September, 1953 may continue teaching by having a provisional certificate renewed on the basis of teaching experience and thereafter every three years upon completion of 16 semester hours of college work until the degree is earned.

Magoffin Soldier Dies In Wreck in Louisiana; One Held During Probe

Army and civilian authorities were investigating this week a highway crash near Opelousas, La., in which one Camp Polk soldier was killed and another injured.

A third soldier was in St. Landry jail at Opelousas pending outcome of the investigation.

Sgt. Kearnie Lemaster, Salyersville, was killed in the accident, which occurred about three miles west of Camp Polk. Police officials said he suffered a crushed skull.

A Sergeant Parago, of Barfield Heights, Ohio, is in Camp Polk hospital with a broken arm and chest injury.

Camp Polk identified the killed soldier as Sgt. Calvin Birtok, who was in the car at the time of the accident, but was not injured.

Parago was quoted by Camp Polk officials as saying the three soldiers were hitchhiking from Opelousas to Camp Polk and were picked up by an unidentified man. Parago said he took over the wheel after the driver said he was sleepy.

Parago said a car with bright lights "seemed to be coming right at us" and he swerved and put on the brakes. "The next thing I knew I woke up in the hospital."

He said the original driver disappeared after the accident.

Camp Polk authorities said the automobile in which the soldiers were riding was stolen from in front of the St. Landry Parish sheriff's office.

Lemaster is survived by his widow and two children, all of Salyersville.

MUSIC MOTOR CO., Inc. PRESTONSBURG, KY.

To the Citizens and Voters of Floyd County:

I had honestly intended to make the race for Commonwealth Attorney. It was my desire to make that race fairly and squarely, and on my merits, and not on the demerits of anyone. If I had been permitted to make that race, and if elected, it would have been a pleasure and my duty, to have fairly, conscientiously, earnestly and courageously labored to minimize crime in our county. This I would have done in the interest and welfare of the homes, schools and churches of all the people, irrespective of race, creed or color. But I am denied that right due to the failure of a duty of others. The lapse of memory of some compels me to abandon any desire. I shall not resort to any legal action, but continue as I have, for the past four years, to live under and by the law of liberty. Many men crave power, but I desire no power, except from the SHACKLES OF SIN. I would like that all mankind had that love—even to the giving of a life for another. But man's inhumanity to man has caused countless thousands to mourn. A couple or more weeks ago I was amazed that in the "Floyd County Times" indicating that any claimed defect in my papers was not even noticed until the filing date had passed. Upon noticing this I made inquiry of Mr. Allen, the Editor, and was advised that Mr. Duran Moore, present County Court Clerk, was the author of that statement. If Mr. Moore meant that I did not know or learn of any claimed defect in the papers, otherwise, I must of necessity say he is in error. He knew all about the claimed defect twenty-four hours or more before filing date had passed. I make this correction because so far as I ever recall, never did wrong, cheat or defraud a known brother, let alone issuing any mis-statement about any matter. If this is just so that the record will be kept straight. I want it definitely understood that I have no malice toward anyone, but charity for all. I know there are many who had promised to be for me and unquestionably many many others who would have supported me. For all of this I thank you, and I mean YOU and each of YOU. I shall cherish this memory. But I am running a race, and where the defects of others will not BAR me from the Ticket, thank GOD. On this ticket you will find peace, joy and happiness, and you will desire to have others. This ticket will win. I am not day-dreaming or wishful thinking, but keeping a promise to my LORD and MASTER. I am not boasting or bragging, but thankful to him who made it possible for me to be on this ticket. This is not good bye, but so long until we meet again. HARRY R. BURKE (Adv. 1)

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

There are no comparative statistics handy on Kentucky's rating among the 48 states in education. Since the tax limit was raised from 75 cents on each $100 assessed property to $1.50 it is reasonable to assume that we have moved up a notch or two from 47th place or second from the bottom. The first time the public got the picture of the schools of the state was when a committee of investigators for the Committee for Kentucky headed by Dean Maurice P. Seay of the University of Kentucky issued a report that made a lot of Kentuckians hang their heads in shame. Now the recently created Legislative Research Commission, headed by Director Arthur Lloyd, is out with a report that contains many enlightening facts and constructive recommendations. Says Mr. Lloyd's committee: "Only three out of every four children of school age in the state are actually attending public schools." About 55,000 of the 25 per cent (130,000) are supposed to be enrolled in parochial or private schools. "About 75,000," continues the report, "are not enrolled in any school." That means an average of 120 children in each of the 120 counties are not enrolled. Could anything be more shocking? I guess more than that number of children are not enrolled would be more disgraceful to Kentucky. I don't have a copy of the truancy law at my elbow, so I can't say just how responsible are county or district truancy officers. If the present law does not require school authorities to check on all children of school age it is high time something is done about it. Just a few more lines and I save further discussion of the report for future articles: "About 95 per cent of Kentucky's school buildings are inadequate or in bad condition. "Hand-washing facilities are deficient in 82.2 per cent. "Water supplies in 67.9 per cent are unsafe. "Water disposal in 74.1 per cent is substandard. "Walls are in bad condition in 71.8 per cent and floors in 58.9 per cent. Lighting is poor in 58.6 per cent and heating and ventilation poor in 57 per cent."

A Day Worth Waiting For!

There are but few times in a man's life when he gets a thrill that matches the one he gets when he takes delivery of his first Cadillac.

We've watched it happen many, many times—and it never ceases to be a heart-warming experience.

You see—a man isn't simply buying a motor car when he gets his first Cadillac. He is marking a milestone in his life.

For years, he has been saying to himself that, some day, he would step up to a Cadillac.

All this time, he has seen it as something he wanted to do for his family... and as a sort of personal reward for the effort and planning that have gone into his own work.

And when you watch him slide over behind the wheel — well, it's a thrill just to be there. He's a proud and happy man as he turns the key in the ignition switch—and hears the deep-throated answer of the powerful engine.

If you are one who has been looking forward to a Cadillac—we think you would be well advised to come in and place your order now.

There's a little delay these days before a Cadillac can be delivered—and obviously, the sooner you place your order, the sooner you'll get your car.

And when the great day comes, you'll know at once that it was well worth waiting for—because all the things you've heard about a Cadillac are daddy true. It isn't just a motor car. It's a wonderful contribution to a wonderful way of life!

OPS NOTES

STILL ENFORCED

Although livestock slaughter quotas have been cancelled since August 1, OPS meat specialists Ben P. LaMaster, recorded Class 1 and 2 slaughters that they must keep records of their slaughter of each species of livestock.

When OPS amended distribution regulation No. 1 to eliminate the quota provision to conform with the Defense Production Act Amendment of 1951, the agency added an amendment setting forth the record keeping requirements.

Sections requiring that slaughtermen must be registered with OPS in order to engage in slaughtering operations continue to apply. LaMaster pointed out. Registered slaughtermen also are required to continue to stamp animal carcasses with their registration numbers and to keep records of their operation, he added.

PRICE CUTBACKS DELAYED

Price rollbacks on manufacturers' goods which were to begin in the middle of August have been delayed indefinitely, John R. Settle, OPS Business Analyst in the Louisville Office, notified Kentucky factory operators.

In a letter to 1,000 manufacturers, Settle relayed word from Washington that the effective dates of six major manufacturers' price regulations have been postponed in order to allow OPS time to study the changes in the Defense Production Act ordered by Congress late in July.

Rescued the general manufacturers' regulation, either price order, reflects the delay are machinery, cotton, textiles, shoes, apparel, and wood parts and furniture. They would have required rollbacks of some prices and permitted increases in others. Settle and he warned that the impact of the amendment to the law, inserted by Senator Capewhart, is uncertain at this time. It provides for the relaxation of overhead expense in arriving at ceiling cost.

OPS PROTESTS RISE IN FARES

Continuing its efforts to protect the value of the dollar and stop inflationary trends the Office of Price Stabilization has asked the Tennessee Commerce Commission to suspend proposed increases in round-trip rail fares pending a full public hearing.

The suspension is asked pending institution of an investigation to determine whether the proposed increase by the railroad is "reasonable, just and reasonable." Kentucky OPS District Director John W. Manning explained.

"The proposed increases in round-trip passenger fares published in the new tariffs appear to be arbitrary in nature and may be inflationary in effect," the OPS protested to the ICC, states.

STRATEGIC METALS EXEMPTED

The Office of Price Stabilization has exempted from price controls sales of raw asbestos, beryl ores, cobalt ores and metal, columbite-tantalite ores, natural graphite, kyanite and related ores, manganese ores and acid grade fluorapatite, the Kentucky District OPS reported.

Reason for this action is that the supply is largely imported and critically needed in the defense program. There is a critical shortage, but the cost of the defense program and cost of living are not expected to be materially affected as price controls are imposed on products made from these materials, OPS said.

4. Sales of domestic mercury are also exempted but the current market price is well below the level of prices under the general ceiling price regulation, the agency explained.

PRIVATE BRAND PRICES MADE UNIFORM

Retail prices of private brands grocery items have been made uniform in all stores that sell them by the Office of Price Stabilization, the Kentucky OPS office announced. Previously, it was explained, prices had varied due to the fact that the ceiling price regulations had made it practically impossible for the owner of a private brand to wholesale his brand to other retailers at prices that enable others to retail at the uniform price.

In the past private label merchandise has sold at the same price in all outlets. The change in the regulation now makes it possible for every retailer to sell these private label items at the same price.

Man Consumes Barrel OF BAKING SODA

One man told us he took baking soda for years. Claims he has used over a barrel of it for stomach gas, but got only temporary relief.

Recently he quit the soda habit and took CERTA-VIN. This new medicine is bringing REAL, lasting relief to many Prestonsburg gas victims because it is taken BEFORE (not after) meals and thus works with your food. It helps digest your meals faster, so your food doesn't lay there and ferment. Trail Blazer - with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath? We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full.

And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle?

Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

HIRE WALLACE FOR 4 YEARS

New Contract Ends Aug. 21, 1955; Absent from Meet

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 20—Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish, was re-hired for a four-year period at a meeting of the Game and Fish Commission today in the offices of the Division. Wallace's contract would have expired on Tuesday, August 21. He had headed the Division since its reorganization in 1944 under Civil Service regulations. By the Commission's action today Wallace's contract will expire on August 21, 1955. The Commission also named officers for a one-year term. Named as chairman was Dr. Joe F. Hill, 11400, who replaced Dallas Powers, Monticello, who served the past year in that capacity. Named vice chairman was Tom Theobald of Grayson, while Dave Sigler, Paducah, was elected secretary.

Powers, whose term expired with today's meeting, was sworn in for another four year term, having been recently appointed by Governor Lawrence Wetherby. Rozcoe Davis, Hazard, was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Commission created by the expiration of the term of D. W. Little, Whitesburg, was named president of the swearing-in ceremony.

HUNTING SEASON NOTES

Kentucky's quail and rabbit season will open on Nov. 20 and continue through Jan. 10. The Game & Fish Commission voted at a meeting in the office of Earl Wallace, Director of the Division of Game & Fish. These dates are the same as for last year and the bag limits also will be unchanged. Quail hunters may kill 10 a day with a possession limit of 20 after two or more days of hunting. Again the daily limit for rabbits will be eight with a possession limit of 16 after the second day of hunting.

The grouse or ruffed grouse hunting dates again open on Nov. 20 and continue through Dec. 15 with a bag limit of two or a possession limit of four. Hunting during the season for mink, muskrat, opossum, skunk, red fox and raccoon will be from Dec. 1 through Jan. 31, both dates inclusive, during which the animals may be taken with guns, traps, dogs, etc.

In addition a training season during which these animals may be taken with dogs only as provided from Nov. 1 through Nov. 30. The Commission explained that it is possible to extend the period in which furbearers may be taken with guns, traps, etc., for more than 60 days since the statutes limit the taking of these animals to a 60-day period in one season.

Regulation for waterfowl hunting made by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and have not yet been announced.

The dove season opens on Sept. 15 and continues through Oct. 15, with a bag and possession limit of eight. This is a reduction from 10 of last year, brought about by the decline in the dove population in Kentucky and other states this year. The decline, wildlife biologists claim, is a result of the severe cold weather of last winter and a disease that killed off a great number of doves.

Pikeville Junior College Begins Sixty-Third Year

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 5—Pikeville Junior College's sixty-third year will begin Tuesday, September 11, with registration of new students. President A. A. Page of the school announced today. Advance registrations indicate an enrollment about the size of last year's, it was said. Courses leading to the college's two-year diploma in teachers, pre-medical, business administration, scientific, home economics and general fields will again be offered. The teachers course of study, according to the Pikeville president, meets the requirements of the Kentucky Department of Education for the Provisional Elementary Certificate. The first regular certificate a new teacher can acquire.

Three new members of the faculty at Pikeville this fall include Walter Hambrick, basketball coach and physical education instructor; Charlotte A. Wright, critic-teacher in the college's teacher-training grade school; and Franziska Heinrich, instructor in piano. Hambrick, who produced three district champion teams during his five years in high-school work, was assistant coach at U. S. Navy State College last year. A U. S. Navy veteran, he was member of the Morehead basketball Baggies before his graduation there.

Miss Wright taught for one semester at the Training School several years ago, and has since been employed in colleges and schools in Kentucky, Tennessee, New Jersey, and Illinois. Miss Heinrich, a widely-known concert pianist, was head of the piano department at Blue Mountain College, Blue Mountain, Miss., until June, Dr. Page said.

POULTRY POINTERS

Now is the time to start housing your pullets. It is also time to prepare for maximum egg production during the months of high egg prices. The first thing to do is to get your house ready. That means you dispose of all your old hens. Never mix hens and pullets because the pullets will catch every disease germ the hens had. After the hens are gone, clean the house. Be sure to do a thorough cleaning job. Clean out the litter, sweep down the cobwebs, scrape the dried droppings down to the wood and sweep again. Wash first with water, then with hot water and lye, then spray with a good disinfectant. Be sure the surface is clean before you spray. No disinfectant is any good over caked dirt.

Check up on your equipment to be sure it is in good shape. Be sure you have enough feeders, waterers, and nests. A shortage in any of these can cut down on production.

If you bought January or February chicks this year, your hens are probably laying well by now. If you have such hens, watch egg production and feed consumption closely.

Southern States Co-op Elects Official Group At Meeting Held Here

Approximately 150 members of Southern States Cooperative, their families and other farm people in the Prestonsburg area heard reports of their cooperative's activities for the first 11 months of the 1950-51 fiscal year at a meeting held here, Aug. 6.

In addition to the report given by district manager Tommy Combs, members were elected to the Southern States Prestonsburg Advisory Board.

According to Mr. Combs, the more than 250,000 members of the Co-operative in its six-state operating territory put through their organization nearly $134,000,000 worth of purchasing and marketing volume during the fiscal year which ended June 30. The figure was estimated on the basis of the first 11 months of the year.

The report of local services was given by Ogden Stewart, manager of the Prestonsburg Farm & Home Store. Elected to the Southern States Advisory Board here were: Billie Merritt, Bonanza, and Wallace Calhoun, Prestonsburg. At an organization meeting following the membership meeting Homer Neeley was elected chairman of the Advisory Board. Elected to the Farm Home Advisory Committee were: Service and installed Pipe and Fittings and be on the lookout for neck molt. These are the warning signals that birds are going off feed, that they will drop in production and make up a complete molt. The remedy is to increase feed consumption by the use of pellets, wet mash, or both. To ignore these signals means that you'll be keeping chickens instead of chickens helping keep you. Early hatched birds can be real profit-makers, but feed consumption must be kept up for the birds to lay during the high-profit months.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SEPTEMBER

1. Check old wiring in the laying house or wire the house new.
2. A satisfactory and easy way to light the laying house is to use 15-watt bulbs.
3. Place lighting units 5'-6" from the floor and 10' apart on the center support, midway between the front of the house and the roosts. Roosts must be lighted.
4. This is a good time to put chicks in the brooder house to sell for fryers in November and December.

were: Mrs. G. G. Leslie, Emma; Mrs. Earl Moore, Prestonsburg; Mrs. John May, Lengler.

Winners of the "K-o-o-p Kwik Kontest" were: David Arnold Wyatt and George Wyatt, both of Bonanza; Earl Moore and Mrs. Earl Moore, both of Prestonsburg; Mrs. Lacey Goble, Emma. Chosen to represent the local board at the annual meeting in Richmond this November was Homer Neeley. The alternate chosen was Joe Hunter. Named to represent the local board at a district election this fall was Homer Neeley, with Billie Merritt as alternate.
