Why Not Ashland?

REPRINTED elsewhere in this edition of The Times is an editorial feature in which the Ashland area is argued as a logical site for the new billion-dollar Atomic Energy Commission.

Joe Creason, who wrote that article, makes an excellent case for the Ashland area, and The Times makes no attempt to improve on his argument. We would, however, add this:

The Atomic Energy Commission not only needs a location—a established industrial area with adequate transportation facilities, fuel in abundance, a steel center, it also needs electric power, and all this above flood stage of the river; Ashland, and this section need this new industry.

Mr. Creason points out that a steam generating plant for electric power would be a necessity and that more than 700,000 tons of coal a year would be necessary to produce the peak load of 1,000,000 kilowatts of power needed for the plant.

What's more, this demand for coal could conceivably mean the canalization of the Big Sandy River which would stabilize the section's coal business, even if the world turned to peace.

Mr. Creason points out that a steam generating plant for electric power would be a necessity and that more than 700,000 tons of coal a year would be necessary to produce the peak load of 1,000,000 kilowatts of power needed for the plant.

Why Not Consider Ashland Area For Billion-Dollar Atomic Plant?

By JOE CREASON
In The Courier-Journal

Word coming out of Washington indicates that the Ohio river valley is the site for the new billion-dollar Atomic Energy Commission gaseous diffusion plant.

And since the Ohio twists and turns along some 664 miles of Kentucky's northern border, it seems safe to assume this state has a chance of landing the project.

Considering the peculiar requirements of such a project—plenty of coal and water, an adequate labor market, good transportation and a steel center—any one of the possible sites in Kentucky appear favorable.

Those locations are in the lower Green River country near General City, the upper Kentucky river area near Hazard, the center plateau section around Coal Run and the eastern Kentucky region centered around Ashland.

At the limited amount of investment in the Ashland area, the project AEC has listed, and beyond that it wishes to locate near an already established industrial center to avoid constructing a "government-owned and operated community."

Louisville and Cincinnati, the two largest metropolitan and industrial areas in the Ohio valley, have indicated in their various ways the desirability of having that industry located in the area.

Cincinnati has indicated indirectly that it would have no objection to the plant being located in an industrial area if it were placed on the Kentucky side of the river. There has been talk that the AEC is investigating a location in the Boone-Norton-Gallatin county triangle. That section would have the AEC advantage of being a metropolitan area and would offer good transportation.

Of the four Kentucky locations mentioned by word of mouth, the AEC must consider the appeal of the first three—Coal Run, Hazard, Corbin—unfortunate, don't fall in the class of established industrial communities.

However, the fourth—the Ashland area, does fit that description. Next to Louisville and Cincinnati, Ashland-Huntington, W. Va., section is the largest metropolitan area in the valley below Pittsburgh.

Directly, Ashland and the three-state area faunting out from it in a 15-mile radius can handle six strong reasons why it is the AEC:

1. Above-flood, river-side plant locations near an industrial-metropolitan area.
2. Adequate fuel, water, highway and air transportation facilities.
3. Availability in adequate quantities of coal and steel, the ingredients essential to produce the electric power such a plant would require.
4. Proximity to the Big Sandy valley steel and steel-making industry, the largest producers of high-grade steel.
5. Service from one of the nation's largest coal-handling, oil-refining and location within five miles of the world's largest coal freight assembly plant.
6. Location in an area traditionally linked with and experienced in heavy industry and the production of steel, chemicals and other products, indicating it has a large industrial community.

Ashland is unique in that it has more doctors than real estate salesmen or lawyers. It has a fine public school system, including a junior college. Marshall College is in Huntington, and Morehead, Ky., State College is less than 30 miles away—features the AEC has indicated are important in its plans.

Ashland is strategically located from a railroad standpoint. The main line of the Chesapeake & Ohio between Cincinnati and Washington and Richmond passes through the city. Furthermore, it is at the junction point of the divisions extending to Louisville and Detroit.

The C. & O. is the line serving the Big Sandy region. It has a large reserve of high grade coal. Every jump of coal mined in the section located by the Big Sandy and its Lewis River feeds based through and Clay Daniels, indicated on a cold check day, failed to agree.

Some 1,000,000 tons of coal a day—800,000 tons—may be the railroad's big assembly yard at Russell, five miles north. That yard is the largest in the world operated by one road, covering more than 100 acres with 183 miles of track and a capacity of 13,442 cars, which is an important point in Ashland's favor.

They say the plant would need 1,800,000 kilowatts of power. No location in the United States could provide that much power without added facilities being built.

Thus, at least one steam plant would have to be built. More than

State Revenue Ahead Of Receipts Last Year

Frankfort, Ky. — Total State revenue for the first three-quarters of the current fiscal year is 17 per cent ahead of revenue collected during the same period last year, according to a report released by the Departments of Revenue and Finance.

The report—covering collections from all sources for the nine months ending March 31—showed that tax revenue is up 17 per cent or nearly $5,000,000. Every major class of taxes is up except license and privilege taxes, which are more than one per cent behind last year.

Most of the slump in this class is caused by a $2,000,000, or 41 per cent, decrease in the tax on production of distilled spirits. Receipts in this tax were inflated last year when whiskey production was increased in anticipation of production curtailment as a defense measure.

The motor vehicle usage tax is down 14 per cent and whiskey consumption taxes are off about 12 per cent.

Individual income payments increased about $2,850,000 and corporation taxes gained more than $2,000,000.

General Fund collections are up 9.2 per cent during the period but declines were shown in the Road and Agency Funds. Tax receipts are up in all three funds but a decline in Federal money caused the Road Fund to slip.

General Fund receipts for the first three-quarters stood at about $49,800,000.

Man 72; Wife 69 Ailing for Years' Now Back on Job

An old couple, living on the farm made the statement a few days ago that for years they hadn't known what it was to be free from pain. The man said that his back and legs would ache so much that he would cramp and gasp for breath. He said that everything he would eat soured on his stomach and caused gassy bloating. His wife said that he had headaches, was weak, felt worn out and terribly nervous so that she couldn't sleep. They said after reading about New HI-VITA Tonic and trying it, that they never would believe that HI-VITA could help them both so much. At present, they are a healthy and happy couple, relieved of their sufferings and busy at their chores on the farm, all the other different folks. HI-VITA Tonic is the new mixture of nature's finest juices combined with blood building iron and nerve-strengthening vitamins B-1, B-2, B-6 and Nicotin. It has brought blessed relief to many people who had never been really helped before by any medicine. Taken shortly before meals it mixes with your food and aids digestion thus eliminating gas and flat. Don't go on suffering, get New HI-VITA Tonic at W. A. ROSE DRUG STORE.

Says Community Needs Wide Sanitation Changes

The first and foremost need of attention as regarding sanitation is that of fecal waste disposal. How many people in Prestonsburg actually know how poor their facilities for sewage disposal really are? Is it because they do not want to know or do not wish to be reminded of it? It is easy if we happen to live in a section of the community that has fairly good sewage disposal to think about those sections that do not have—not even any means of disposal at all.

Let us now look at some of the conditions that we now have in our town. Let us start with the southern part of town. Beginning with the Swamp City section and running south to the southeasternmost limits of the town there are many homes and business places that do not have any access to a public sewer at all. These people are paying a monthly sewer tax and have been for years.

Now let us see what the means of disposal for these Prestonsburg taxpayers are. They all have access to the city water supply so no doubt they all want to have bathrooms and many of them have made every possible effort to get the sewer disconnected of their own. These efforts have included individual septic tanks and combined efforts in constructing common sewer lines running to the river. Those who are not financially able have to resort to earth pit privies with other liquid waste being thrown out on the surface in their back yards and in most cases running from their door into the front door of someone else.

Now let us consider the effectiveness from a sanitary standpoint of each of these types of disposal. 1. The septic tank with properly constructed disposal field is considered an approved means of disposal. Now let us take a look at what we mean by a septic tank with an approved disposal field. We do not need to describe a septic tank but there seems to be a gross misconception or misunderstanding as regards the disposal field. A septic tank is merely a means of liquidifying the solid waste so that it can be disposed of into the ground, where the final disposal of waste is by the aerobic bacteria of the soil. Now in order to get this adequately perfected there must be constructed a ditch 18 inches wide and 20 inches deep estimated to use a bathroom. This ditch line for a family of five persons. This ditch must have the lower portions of 18 inches filled with coarse gravel, cinders or rock and in the center of 18 square inches of material must be laid four inches from the end to end on a very gradual drain. This 18 square inches of space acts as a storage space for the waste until it can be seeped into the earth where the antibiotic bacteria will do the rest.

Now let us see what kind of soil we must have for this. Low swampy ground would already have its load of liquid waste so how could it take care of any more? We must have high ground and should have a loamy, porous type soil. Now as most everyone must know this section of the town is low clay type ground or either hillside where the waste has a tendency to make its way back to the surface of the ground. The liquid waste is by no means treated or purified when it comes from the septic tank. It is still dangerous sewage.

At the present time there are a number of septic tanks that have been constructed in this section. Since there is no suitable ground for disposal fields there has not even been any effort made to construct any. The waste is being turned into the lower ground, making its way of course to the lowest sections, pooling and standing, which in dry weather can be observed as green scummy stagnant, liquid waste with a very disagreeable odor. Needless to say, dangerous as a cocked gun.

2. For those who have earth pit privies on high ground and are satisfied to do without bathrooms if they maintain deep earth pits and keep the pits dry tight there is very little danger, but many of these people again live in low, swampy ground and in this case the privy stands full of water that is, the pit does, and the fecal waste being liquid stands on top of the water.

NOTICE:
FLOYD COUNTY COURT
Marvin Music Plaintiff
Vs. NOTICE
Floyd County Defendant

Notice is hereby given that Marvin Music has filed a Petition in the Floyd County Court asking that an alley in West Prestonsburg be discontinued. Said alley is described as follows:

In West Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky and beginning on the Southwest corner of the Gulf Refining Company property fronting on Baldwin Street; thence a straight line perpendicular to Baldwin Street 100 feet North to property of Sandy Land and Development Co.; thence West 10 feet to the South 100 feet along the East line of the property of Marvin Music to Baldwin Street; thence East 10 feet to the beginning so as to include the alley set out in said boundary and being an alley 10 feet in width between the property of Marvin Music and the Gulf Refining Company.

and most of it is carried with this ground water over the top of the pit and onto the surface. Earth pit privies when properly constructed in or on high ground are an improved means of disposal but can never be maintained in warm weather without offensive odors. With the earth pit privy we still have the means of disposal of other liquid wastes—some instances by deep holes in the ground but is no good again in low swampy ground.

3. A number of families in this section have sunk together and, constructed common sewer lines to the river. They have solved their immediate problem but this waste is being poured out just above the city water plant which especially in the dry part of the year makes the intake of the raw water of our city water supply consist largely of raw sewage and this is not a very pleasant thought.

Now, while we have been talking about the southern section of our town only, so far, we have taken this section as an example. Most of the eastern section, the northern section, including all of Porter Addition and the greater part of West Prestonsburg can be considered in the same light and thought.

Now we all know that the only solution to this problem is to sever the whole town. We all know that the city does not have the money in its treasury to do this, but at the same time we all know that it is not impossible to get the money to do it. It is a problem for the people of Prestonsburg, and the immediate instigation of the move becomes the sole responsibility of the City Council.

Wallace & Clark Circus Coming to Prestonsburg

Wallace and Clark Wild Animal Circus will present a star-studded circus program, and a vast collection of wild animals—featuring that rare animal from the River Nile, a monstrous hippopotamus. Also, and over four tons.

A special invitation is extended to all to come to the show grounds early on May 8, watch the elephants help erect the huge tents, watch the circled city spring up, which is a demonstration of efficiency, and at 10 a.m. see the feeding and watering of all the wild animals, including the monstrous hippopotamus.

This well-known circus will be in Prestonsburg for one day only, giving two performances, afternoon and night, on May 8.

A new chemical raw material, vinyl toluene, derived in part from bituminous coal, is being used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber tires.

COURT LIMITS MONROE

MONROE ISSUE
The Kentucky Court of Appeals limited a Monroe County bond issue to $46,000 for hospital improvements, instead of the $60,000 sum approved by the Monroe circuit court, and criticized the lower court's judgment which was not upheld in Franklin circuit court to sustain the finding of the Department of Revenue that the $60,000 figure was the limit of bonds to be approved in view of the county's present debt commitments and available assessment resources.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A"

IN THE 1952

Mobilgas Economy Run

Ford's the Class "A" Winner for 3rd Consecutive Year!

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year... as in the past two years... Ford was first in gas economy over all other cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest test, a stock model Ford Six equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ten-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon.

This was a very special triumph for Ford's All-New Mileage Maker high-compression Six. For now, with its new design providing 101-horsepower and free-turning overhead valves, Ford is definitely pound-for-pound the most economical low-priced car to run! Yes... Ford's thrift was clearly proved by the 1,415-mile grind from Los Angeles to Sun Valley. And a very important factor contributing to this victory is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas.

*The AAAA Coach Board determined the winner by a "ten-mile per gallon" formula by testing 100 cars in each price class regardless of size and weight. Ten miles per gallon equals the car weight (including accessories) in tons, multiplied by number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons consumed.

"Test Drive" the Economy Winner Today!
