BLOOD QUOTA PLEA IS MADE

Regional Center Says Blood Borrowed; Unit To Be Here on May 14

When the bloodmobile from the Huntington blood center comes here Monday, May 14, an effort has been determined that before it is made for Prestonsburg and vicinity to reach the 125-pint quota for each call of the unit.

The reason for the extra effort is that the bloodmobile which is now in receipt of blood work that was produced in blood in this area had reached the Huntington center to meet hospital needs in the area served by the Huntington center.

Dr. P. C. Stone, medical director of the Huntington center, wired Dr. C. Francis, chairman of the First Class blood program, here.

It is the plan to have the bloodmobile come to this area for the production of blood in our regional blood center during the next month or two before it leaves from the Philadelphia blood center to meet our local blood needs.

The mobile unit will be at the Methodist Church here from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. May 14.

In 14 previous visits to Floyd county the bloodmobile has produced a total of 1,841 pints of blood, of which an excess of 100 pints were given.

Agreed Verdict of 15-Yrs. Given in Unusual Case With Relatives' Approval

Agreement by the defense and state in the case of Willie Smallwood, 71, charged with the murder of 16-year-old John Johnson at Riley's beach, here, was announced Monday in a courtroom with the jury and court. The jury was instructed to act with the agreement of relatives on both sides to give the verdict in 15 years (part of their term to be handed in a 21-yr. prison term).

Judge Edward P. Hill asked the jury to go back into deliberation and fix a verdict on the case as it was in the courtroom under the agreement. That time, the jury agreed with the state and the sentence of 15 years was read.

Fall from Cliff Fatal To Maytown Scout

Fourteen-year-old Mr. Morris Edmond Maggard, son of Mrs. and Mr. Arnold Maggard, of Langes, was fatally injured in a fall from a cliff before dawn Saturday morning while on a camping trip with other members of his Boy Scout troop at Maytown in the hills between the head of Turkey Creek and Westland.

The tragedy was the first to take place in the history of Eastern Kentucky since the invention of the automobile. His skull fractured in the fall from a 30-foot precipice about 3:30 a. m. Saturday, the youth died at St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, shortly after midnight. One of the plume's two engines conked out.

The plane, a six-passenger Lockheed, had been purchased recently by the Prestonsburg Elkhorn Coal Company, was badly damaged.

Miley Prater, 35-year-old Middle Creek truck mine operator, came here and surrendered to authorities Wednesday afternoon after he had shot and killed his brother-in-law, Grover Hicks, 30, an hour earlier.

Only one shot was fired, the bullet striking Hicks in his left arm, a short distance below the shoulder, and lodging near his heart. Hicks had refused to turn a lease of 50 acres of coal which Hicks owned, and had been dangerously wounded. He was dead on arrival at the Prestonsburg General Hospital.

Prater was arrested and in a state of near-collapse. Prater was jailed. He was released on $10,000 bond this morning with Riley and Cecil Hall had refused to turn a lease of 50 acres of the Hicks residence. Authorities here said the men had had previous trouble and that Prater had sought a peace warrant for Hicks after the latter had allegedly chased him from the tippie with a knife. The two effected a reconciliation at the courthouse here, however, and the warrant was not issued.

GRAND JURY INDICTS 105

Says Courts, Juries Too Lax; Whiskey Trade Is Unsuccessful

Noting the large number of criminal offenses—murders, robberies, attempted murders, store-burglaries and the like—the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court upon adjourning Saturday morning in its final report that "courts and juries heretofore have been too lax in such matters."

The report, signed by James C. Lafferty, foreman, pointed out that the grand jury in nine days' work had interviewed 118 witnesses and voted 105 indictments. "We have increased a number of witnesses regarding the selling and possessing of whiskey, and have found it practically impossible to secure indictments for some due to the fact that witnesses will not tell what they know," the report commented.

One case in particular drew comment from the grand jury. This was the case of a member of the grand jury who had interviewed 118 witnesses and voted 105 indictments. TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE
By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teacher's College Bowling Green, Ky.

"WE and THEY"

The son of an African chief that I once knew always referred to American Negroes and Negroes generally as "they" rather than "we." I was never sure whether he felt superior to his American kinsmen or merely regarded himself as a stranger in a strange land. His feeling, if it were the first of these, is identical with that of many people any kinship with their own. It has taken five to ten generations of American people to develop a sincere desire to know our historical backgrounds rather than a glorified story that always gives the laurels to our ancestors. Most people who have never taken the trouble to track down our customs and beliefs imagine that prejudices and superstitions and quaint habits are distinctive only of the very ignorant or the newer nationalities that have come to America. I can recall when, in learned circles, there was a hitting of eyebrows when a scholar mentioned American folklore as something to be thought of as compared with the folklore of some foreign country. Partly because of this glorifying our ancestors and partly because of the knowledge that our own genuine backgrounds than does many a nation of Europe that we regard as slow or poor or primitive. So long as scholarship is devoted mainly to queer people of some corner of the world, just so long will we fail to see the value of our own. It is well to know that the Negroes of the Sea Islands of South Carolina and Georgia have this or that belief; some excellent work has been done there. But it is work done by outsiders, who could not possibly understand the folk attitudes of those primitive Negroes, so little removed yet from slavery conditions. If a Negro, reared there, as Zora Neale Hurston was reared in Florida, could interpret the Sea Island folklore, there would be some chance of the interpretation's being approximately correct. Most folklore journals of other years were made up almost wholly of such specious titles as "Folklore of the West" or "How the Indians Explain the World." These are vital studies and should be made, but they are not the only folklore studies that would repay one for making. Most of our folk attitudes are still to be "dated," and we are not primitive living in some remote corner of the universe.

SPRING BRINGS TO LIFE OLD KENTUCKY LEGENDS

By JOE CREASON, in The Courier-Journal

Come spring, and the legends and local-color stories with which every corner of Kentucky abounds begin to pop out like dew-dropped blossoms. Generally, these stories are as romantic and fanciful as anything ever told in the state...

But there is little reason to trace them a grade back to a factual basis. As they stand they are fantastic and imaginative, an added touch of flavor to the colorful regional history of Kentucky.

The legend claimed by the latest issue of Kentucky is built around the fabulous silver mine John Swift discovered some time after 1760.

Legend has it that Swift left Virginia in 1760 and headed west. Somewhere in Eastern Kentucky's mountains he found a silver lode which he worked a year. Then, loaded with ore, he returned home. He visited the mine several times after that, always alone.

Swift's glory points to a region around Paint Creek in Johnson county, as the place he set up camp. However, nearly every county in Eastern and Southeastern Kentucky has a tradition linking itself with the story.

From time to time, myths have been created, each reputedly being the original Swift chart. But the mine has remained buried somewhere in the timbered hills to this good day.

Perhaps the most romantic legend is the Indian story of the formation of Redfoot Lake, a 25-mile-long body of water in West Tennessee that extends inland into Pulaski county, Kentucky.

According to science, Redfoot was formed by a series of earthquakes on Oct. 31 and early 1812. The tremors caused a large section of bank to sink, and forced the Mississippi River to flow upstream for several hours. Water from the river thus filled the depression.

However, according to legend, Redfoot was formed differently. One, the Indian story goes, Chickasaw tribe lived on the Kentucky border near the Mississippi. The chief's name was Kalopin, or Redfoot.

Nearly lived a Choctaw tribe whose chief had a beautiful daughter to whom Kalopin longed to marry. But the princess refused him.

Kalopin plotted to steal away the princess, despite a vision warning him that if he took her, the earth would rock in anger. For days he resisted, then one night kidnaped her.

During the wedding ceremony, the earth did rock in anger. The land where Kalopin's village stood disappeared, and the mighty Mississippi sent its waters rolling into the depression.

The Indians claim that on the day the lake which they give the chief's name, still lie the bodies of Kalopin and his bride.

Judges of the Seventh district Woman's Club music contest, held recently at Betsy Layne, were 100 per cent correct when they adjudged 16-year-old Vicki Jenkins, the outstanding contestant. For Miss Jarrich, daughter of a Jenkins miner, went on from there to win the state contest sponsored at Louisville by the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

Eagles Here Planning Letter-Writing Work In Truth Campaign

W. V. Bunting, Freedom director of Prestonsburg Aerie No. 2862, Fraternal Order of Eagles, announced this week that the Eagles here will embark on a letter-writing project to people of foreign lands in cooperation with the "Campaign of Truth," as outlined by the Common Council of American Unity.

Mr. Bunting said that the letters "campaign is a part of the Aerie's anti-Communist program. Letters are vital links between Americans and the citizens of foreign countries, and they can do much to counter-balance vicious Soviet propaganda about our country."

There are approximately 400,000,000 letters sent abroad each year. Mr. Bunting said that the letters from Eagles will be based on three ideas: to describe in simple terms the American way of life; take into account the vicious Communist lies about our country; and evidence offered to disprove the lies; and finally, to express an interest in conditions abroad.

The week of May 19-25 has been set aside as "Letters from America Week." Eagle Aeries throughout the country will devote the entire month of May to setting up the letter-writing project.

SWEET CORN

Sweet corn is a crop with which our citizens may be taken, and even at least one must wait 90 days for its maturity, and every day helps. If the chance were to fall, only small seed expense has been at stake.

As a seed crop, it is benefited by high phosphorus, whether in stable manure and superphosphate or in 4-12-0 complete fertilizer.

In home-tended gardens, the rows may be as close as 20 inches, the seed sown 10 to 12 inches in solid rows or in hills of 3 or 4 seeds, 30 inches apart.

Covering should be a half-inch for the first planting, chestnut for the late plantings. The chestnut may be made to combat cold and wet land; thereafter, planting should be level.

As to varieties, there is always Early Adams, not particularly good, extremely quick, just a few days slower than a really fine yellow sort, Golden Cross 85 days.

For canning and freezing, this is an advantage, as the job can be done in one operation. For the table, the really fine corn, Golden Cross and Ichief, that hold their color longer, may be used.

For early planting, the old time favorite white corn, Golden Cross, coming in just as the Golden Rush is done. Thereafter, a 2-week planting schedule should be observed until about August 1, to have continuous corn all summer.

A criticism of Golden Cross Bananas is that it goes starting in just a few days. For canning and freezing, this is an advantage, as the job can be done in one operation.

For early planting, the old time favorite white corn, Golden Cross, coming in just as the Golden Rush is done. Thereafter, a 2-week planting schedule should be observed until about August 1, to have continuous corn all summer.

No early pests bother sweet corn. In early, the European Corn Borer and the Corn Earworm may come.

TOMATOES

Tomatoes are a fruit crop, and so need phosphorus in their fertilizers. The chestnut may be made to combat cold and wet land; thereafter, planting should be level.

The victim was a member of the Methodist Church and of the Maytown 4-H Club as well as the Boy Scouts and was a favorite with all who knew him. He was in the grade of the Maytown consolidated school when he was arrested.

Surviving besides his parents, Arnold and Edna, Steve Matzard, an five brothers and sisters, Paul, Charles, Duane, Amy, Linda, Sue and Larry Arnold, the former from the Maytown Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon was marked by a gathering of hundreds of sorrowful relatives and friends of the family.

Approximately 700 Boy Scouts representing troops from all sections of the county attended the funeral and formed lines on either side of the highway as the funeral procession left the church.

Agents of the prosecutive division was the Reverend C. F. Allen, a former pastor of the church who was contacted by Boy Scout leader H. H. He urged the community to continue its work in Scoutland and suggested that the troop be reformed in the Maytown area.

Boy Scouts were honorary pallbearers. Active pallbearers were A. R. Cassady, Charles Tinsley, Johnny Ison, Raymond Hopsan, Therman Clark and Taylor Bennett. Burial was made in the 24 square cemetery near Hindman under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

BOYD COUNTY MAN KILLED

By Cab Company Owner; Relatives Say Blackburn From John's-Cr. Family

Harold Blackburn, 30-year-old owner of the Red Barn Restaurant, Catlettsburg, who was shot and killed Wednesday night, last week, at Catlettsburg, was a son of John Henry (Dodge) Blackburn, a former resident of the Johns Creek section, relatives here said.

Police Chief Ray Castle of Catlettsburg said Jay Meredith, 33, owner of the Gate City Cab Company, has been charged with the murder.

Haskel Meredith, a brother of Jay, who witnessed the shooting, told Castle that as far as he knew, there was no ill feeling between Blackburn and Jay Meredith.

Castle quoted Haskel Meredith as saying he and Blackburn were talking in a storage room of his Kozz Korner tavern when someone knocked at the door.

Meredith said he called for the knocker to come in. His brother, he told Castle, stepped in the door and shot Blackburn.

The chief said Blackburn died about 30 minutes later in an Ashland hospital. His wife and two children survive.

Castle said he would continue his investigation in an attempt to establish a motive.

"Dodge" Blackburn moved to Boyd county about 30 years ago, relatives said. He lives on Route 1, Catlettsburg.

Meredith has been named in willful murder indictment said has been tried under $15,000 bond pending trial May 12.

William Johnson, center, Kentucky Utilities Company farm service adviser is shown with Future Farmers, Billy Joe Bradley, Bigliron, (left) and Fred Williams of Frenshburg, whose respective F.F.A. chapters won "silver emblem" ratings at the Eastern Kentucky F.F.A. field day held April 3, at Oil Springs high school.

Seven Future Farmers chapters in the Eastern Kentucky F.F.A. District received merit certificates entitling them to cash awards from Kentucky Utilities Company for earning top "gold emblem" ratings at the field day Saturday, April 3, at Oil Springs high school. Future Farmers from this county took part in the field day competition.

"Gold emblem" winners were Boyd county, M. Kell, Oil Springs; Sandy Hook, Oakley county; Pittsford and Johns Creek.

William Johnson, K. U. farm service adviser in the company's Bluegrass Division, presented each "gold emblem" chapter with a certificate entitling them to approximately $13 at the 610 Eastern District headquarters. The electric company contributes some $1,200 in cash awards for district and state "gold emblem" chapters. This is the second year for the K.U.-F.F.A. award plan.

Chapters were judged on the basis of their studies in crop development contests and field day competition. The "gold emblem" rating is the highest followed by "silver emblem," "bronze emblem," honorable mention and participation designations went to Betsy Lane, Rockwell county; Buckhorn, East Flat Gap, Morgan county; Prestonsburg and Saltersville.

The utility company also contributed the rating ribbons given to chapters and individuals entering the various contests.

Over 500 F.F.A. members teachers and guests representing 15 counties and 26 Future Farmers chapters took part in the field day activities.

In farm achievement contests were: First prize winners, tobacco, Thomas Murray, Flat Caps; hay crops, Darrell Exrman, Grayson county; corn, Bob McGlothlin, Boyd county; home improvement, Bob Dixon, Boyd county; R.E.A., D. G. Cole, Owsley county; soil and water conservation, Bob McGlothlin, Boyd county; farm shop, Edgi Vincox, Oil Springs; dairy, John E. Ross, Boyd county; hogs, Jerry Ringo, Frenshburg, bcof, Paul Lemaster, Oil Springs; sheep, Cetus Blankenship, Boyd county; poultry, Paul Lemaster, Oil Springs; livestock cooperative, John Ross, Boyd county; farm underwriters, Sammie Stampfer, Lee county.

Chapters winning individual contests were treasurer's and secretary's books, Betsy Lane, scrapbook, Oil Springs; newsletter, Virginia; chapter meeting, Oil Springs; chapter music, Betsy Lane and "community day" day, Oil Springs.

Fred Williams of Frenshburg won the impromptu speaking contest. Jerry Ringo of Frenshburg the public speaking contest, and Arnold Collins, Betsy Lane, won the individual vocal award. Other first place music awards were novelty, Steve Hays, Morgan county; vocal, Justin Turner, Maytown; and piano, Wallace Williams, Frenshburg.

Morgan Men Confess They Beat Aged Man To Death in Elliott

SANDY HOOK, KY., (The Morgan counties, who have admitted beating to death an old-age pensioner and robbing him of $800, waived preliminary hearing on a murder charge here today.

The robbery victim, 84-year-old Sam Howard, died Saturday of pneumonia and blood clots caused by his injuries here today.

State Police Detective Arch Thompson said prisoners Harrison Patrick, 28, and Wayne McKenzie, 41, both of West Liberty, were brought here from Lawrence county jail for a hearing.

After they had waived to the Elliott county grand jury, he said, they were returned to Lawrence county. No bond was set.

Thompson said Patrick and McKenzie are being held in Lewis for sockstealing. They are allowed no visitors, not even relatives he said.

The detective said the men admitted drugging to Howard's home about five miles from here, April 5 in a borrowed car. They told the nearly blind Howard they wore his nephews.

Thompson said Patrick, who had lived near Howard, knew he carried his money in a purse attached to his belt because "the didn't believe in banks." The detective said the men left Howard for dead, but he regained consciousness and summoned neighbors with a farm bell.

Howard identified his assailants as his nephews, but a neighbor had seen the men leaving in the car and remembered part of the license number, Thompson said.

Both were arrested April 12, Patrick in Paris, Ky., and McKenzie in West Liberty.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals heard arguments on whether it should reconsider a decision which holds radio and television station facilities are subject to ad valorem taxation since the equipment used does not come within the legal definition of manufacturing machinery—a commodity that is exempt. BETSY LAYNE CHAPTER BY ORVILLE HALL, REPORTER

The Betsy Layne FFA Chapter has undertaken an all-out drive to round up the steel and other scrap in the community to put it to work according to an announcement by Howard Branham, president of the Betsy Layne Chapter. This drive will continue until May 10.

It is a part of a concerted drive in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Ohio planned jointly by the State Supervisor of Agricultural Education, and the Republic Steel Corporation of Cleveland to help meet the critical scrap shortage which threatens to slow down the steel mills of the country. As an incentive, the Republic Steel Corporation has offered an award of $50 to each of the four chapters doing the best job of scrap collection in this state. The money raised from the sale of the scrap collected will be used to finance a trip to the State FFA Convention.

Chapter President Branham says that getting in all of this scrap will serve many useful purposes: It will get scrap moving to the steel mills that are using half a ton of steel for every ton of steel they are producing; it will help insure enough steel for farm needs; inflation will be checked through providing more things for people to buy; farmsteads will be cleaned up; it will develop the habit of conserving an important national resource; and it will help the FFA boys to finance their chapter projects.

Irvine Suters has been appointed chairman of the Scrap Drive Committee. He asks that anyone in the community with scrap to pick up, contact some member of the Betsy Layne FFA. President Branham states that a survey shows that the state has no better, useful averages over 500 pounds per farm each year. Other surveys show that there are quantities of obsolete, broken and worn-out equipment and other junk steel in rural areas. Intensive drives in some communities have turned up surprising tonnages.

Our local chapter of Future Farmers of America has organized a softball team this year and games have been scheduled as follows:

- April 18—Johns Creek FFA—Home
 - April 22—Virgie FFA—Away
 - April 25—Fung FFA—Home
 - April 29—Johns Creek FFA—Away
 - May 6—Prestonsburg FFA—Away
 - May 9—Virgie FFA—Home

R. L. HALL & SON
MARE CREEK, KY.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

What one individual, or two or three, think of me doesn't concern me greatly as long as my conscience is clear. But for my standing in the county as a whole to be under attack is a thing which is disturbing. From what you have read in this newspaper, you would infer that this job of being Magistrate has been a financial windfall for me. On the contrary, it has been a liability, in that I have made no attempt to make it a paying office by trying to persuade every erring boy and collect a bit of money in fines; and the time the office has required has kept me away from my regular business affairs at which I could have earned much more.

You have been told that I received the State $1,844.35. I say, and the record will bear me out, that for the year 1951 I received $2,075.00 and that for 1952 to the present time, Monday, April 28, 1952, I have received $18,533.24—total of $42,483.25. That total is almost exactly one-fourth the amount I was reported to have received.

The people were told my family had drawn heavily on the public treasury. I tell the people there has never been one cent dishonestly or fraudulently taken by me from the county, the state or anybody else. My son worked and earned some money from the county, it is true, but I was making proposition for my son for the truck for which I had paid $1,500 was wrecked on the road, and only the tires were salvaged.

The public is told I am subject to indictment and dismissal from office, among other things, because I am a member to the county. This may be true, technically speaking, but not as a matter of justice. In the first place, there was no scandalous in this transaction. If there had been, it would never have been openly listed for all to see in any manner. It could easily have been listed otherwise if I had deliberately and knowingly committed an unlawful act for the purpose of personal gain. In the next place, this matter was bought at a time when I was not at my place of business, and certainly not on my order. The money, it should be remembered, cannot always buy anything it wants or needs on credit.

This is a good law, the one which requires an official to sell materials to the division of government, he expends, since some could otherwise take advantage of the people and through fraud make a fortune.

I may have made mistakes, but whatever mistakes I have made have been errors in judgment and not a deliberate attempt to waste the taxpayers' money. Speaking of mistakes: For one thing, I signed the order raising the salary of the Commonwealth's Attorney from $600 to $1,200 a year. I also voted to pay a telephone bill.

Sometime ago, the Commonwealth's Attorney stated in the Floyd County Times that he wanted the county officials to get their house in order. He excluded the Magistrates.

But when I didn't vote to suit him on the matter of hiring a Commonwealth Detective he threatened me with grand jury action.

My vote against the Commonwealth Detective was not cast out of any personal feeling against anybody. I did so because I felt it was a waste of public funds to pay him a larger salary for doing work which could be performed by the peace officers and others of constituted authority. That was what I thought, and I had a right to express my opinion.

I differed on a previous occasion or two with some of our officials on matters of pay. These other gentlemen recognized my right to differ with them; there was no bickering, and quarreling, and we are friends. But this matter of the Commonwealth's Detective came up just before the organization meeting of the Taxpayers' League was held, and although the Commonwealth's Attorney was one of these instrumental in calling the meeting, he did not go upstairs in the courthouse to attend it. Instead, he spent the time checking on me. Was his only interest that of getting one man hired as Commonwealth's Detective?

Let me in passing say that I am for the audit asked by the Taxpayers' League. If my house is not in order, this audit will show it, and I want it put in order while I am here. Yes, I remember the old story about the Handwriting on the Wall, and I thank God that I don't have to call in an interpreter to read what is going with the taxpayers' money.

Not long ago, I announced my intention to resign as Magistrate on July 15. The office has not become more attractive to me since that time. I know I will not succeed in getting for my district and for the county the roads they need. I know the office will have many headaches for me in the future, as it has in the past. I know that I often will feel like I have failed the people, for there was a time when I honestly thought I could do a lot of fine things for them.

Yet I shall not quit the office under fire. Many have urged me to remain on the fiscal court, expressing confidence that I will do the best job possible. For these reasons I have decided to continue in office.

And while I am in office I shall never use its power to strike out at any individual because we do not happen to agree on every detail.

J. E. HARRIS, J.P.P.C. (Advertisement)

MAY LOSE ACCREDITATION

Unless enrollment is increased in 114 high schools in the State, rights of accreditation are faced by those schools. According to Wendell P. Butler, Superintendent of Public Instruction, the schools lack the required enrollment of 100 pupils, teacher-pupil ratio of one teacher for each twenty pupils also must be maintained.

POLLUTION HIT BY NEW RULE

To Grant New Permits Only If Waste Treated, Handled Satisfactorily

From now on municipalities and industries employing wastes into Kentucky's streams and rivers will be granted new permits only if they can show that they have adequate waste treatment facilities and a history of satisfactory operation.

The new policy was formed at a recent meeting of the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission in Frankfort. Previously, permits were issued for one year periods with the understanding that the town or industry discharging waste into streams would work toward a solution of its pollution problems.

The Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission, formed in 1950, works as a member of the Ohio Valley Compact to abate existing pollution of streams and to prevent new pollution. Henry Ward, Commissioner of the Department of Conservation, is chairman of the Control Commission and Bruce Underwood, M. D., State Health Commissioner is secretary. Headquarters are at the Kentucky State Department of Health, 620 South Third Street, Louisville, Kentucky.

REA APPROVES LOAN TO CO-OP
Big Sandy Cooperative In Federation To Get $15-Million on Plant
 Approval of a $15,717,000 loan to the East Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, of Winchester, Ky., was announced this week by the Rural Electrification Administration. This is in addition to earlier loans of $12,285,000.
 The cooperative is a re-federation of 19 Kentucky electric distribution cooperatives, whose service has been inadequate. Included in this group is the Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative. The loans follow years of effort by REA-financed co-ops to achieve better service and arrangements for their power supply.
 The loan, together with previous loans, will enable the East Kentucky co-op to supply the power requirements of all of its 19 members. The 19 cooperatives are serving, or have plans to serve, some 125,000 rural consumers, principally farmers, in 84 counties.
 The loan provides for construction of a 40,000-kilowatt steam generating unit and a total of 295 miles of transmission lines, with 150 existing structures and other related facilities.
 A generating plant with two 20,000-kilowatt units, and a 600-mile transmission network, financed with the earlier loans, are under construction. When construction is complete, East Kentucky will have a steam generating plant of 80,000 kilowatt capacity, and approximately 1,200 miles of transmission lines, including facilities now owned by member co-ops.
 It will also have an interconnection with TVA at Sumner Shado, Ky., which will provide emergency standby and maintenance power on a reciprocal basis. The interconnection will further enable the co-operative to purchase emergency power from TVA, or to sell any surplus energy it might have to TVA.
 The 60,000-kilowatt steam plant will be the largest single plant financed by the REA. The authorization of the first two units, and completion of the transmission line provided for in the earlier loans are expected to save the co-op $2,000,000 approved October 9, 1941 and $10,285,000 approved November 29, 1949. They provided funds for facilities to serve 44 load centers, or about 80 percent of the power requirements of 19 of East Kentucky's member cooperatives. The power requirements of the remaining co-ops members, and the remaining requirements of the first 12 will be served by facilities constructed with funds made available under today's loan. A total of 89 load centers will receive service.
 Inadequate electric service was engineering firm employed by East Kentucky, and in findings of the Kentucky Public Service Commission.
 Three utility companies contended that the East Kentucky system would duplicate existing power company lines, but the Commission found that there would be no duplication. Construction is proceeding under a certificate issued by the commission in December, 1950, although an appeal by the power companies is pending in Kentucky courts.
 In its decision granting a certificate of convenience and necessity to the cooperative, and the Commission said: "The record conclusively shows that if the proposed transmission facilities were constructed, they would not replace a single line now owned, operated and maintained by the utilities. All their transmission lines would still be necessary and useful in carrying the utilities' own load."
 The Commission cited the fact that one of the principal power suppliers in the area has indicated it is necessary to purchase approximately 25 percent of the energy sold by it from sources outside of Kentucky at higher cost than it can produce power for in Kentucky.
 "Since the applicant has shown to the satisfaction of the Commission," its report said, "that the service now rendered by the protesting utilities is not adequate, and since the record discloses that the utilities are now required and will be required under their proposed construction program to purchase power from without the state, the Commission is of the opinion that they have adequately shown that public convenience and necessity require the certificate be granted to construct the generating and transmission facilities.
 Substantial savings in power costs to East Kentucky will be made possible by today's loan, taking into account the latest proposals offered by the power company suppliers.
 The six member co-ops to receive initial service from East Kentucky's facilities under the loan are: Jackson County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, McKee; Made County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, Brandenburg; Licking Valley Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, West Liberty; Cumberland Valley Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, Corbin; Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, Paintsville; Grayson Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, Grayson.

CENSUS RISE IN FLOYD-CO.

In '55, '60 Foretold
By U. S. Census Dept.;
55,500 Seen in 1950

(Special to The Times)
New York, April 13—A look into the future of Floyd county, on the basis of state population forecasts made by the United States Census Bureau, indicates that there will be 55,250 people living in the county in 1955 and 58,500 in 1960.

The subject of future population comes to the fore at this time "because the demand for figures of this kind has been very considerable." While admittedly subject to considerable error, they are realistic enough, it is deemed, to serve as a guide to the business man, manufacturer and government official making per capita estimates for future needs.

The projection method was used to arrive at the figures. The Census Bureau, using three different procedures, came up with low, medium and high estimates for the populations of the various states and regions.

Their results, taking the medium figures, were then carried one step further to obtain county populations. This breakdown was made only for counties that have been changing in population at rates similar to those of their states.

Floyd county, it follows, will be 3.5 percent more populous in 1955 than it was in 1950, going to 55,250. The 1960 population, 58,500, is based on a 4.0 percent rise over 1950.

The state of Kentucky, estimates the Census Bureau, will have a population of 3,064,000 in 1955 and 3,127,000 five years later.

Looking ahead, a general leveling off in the population is forecast. The rate of growth, which was phenomenal in the early stages of the country, national development has now reached the point where it is increasing less rapidly. This is the fact, despite the decline in infant mortality and the greater longevity achieved through medical science.

Cpl. Sexton Rotated

WITH THE 25TH INFANTRY DIV IN KOREA — Cpl. Leonard Sexton Jr., Garrett, Ky., recently left the 14th Infantry Division on the Korean front for rotation to the United States.

Is Commissioned

Ensign Edmund A. Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Smith recently concluded a one-day visit at the home here of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smith, of Graham street.

He is currently stationed on the Aircraft Carrier, Sappah based at Norfolk.

Ky. Safety Conference
Seeks Public Interest;
Makes Recommendations

Frankfort, Ky. — All Kentuckians were asked to interest themselves with safety problems in Kentucky by delegates who attended the Third Annual Governor's Highway Safety Conference in Louisville early this month.

The conference requested that public officials, school officials and members of civic clubs, particularly parents, gain the mechanical skill and technical knowledge so that Kentucky may have her rightful place in the mechanical and industrial world of today.

The person submitting the second best entry in this contest will have the opportunity to study for one year at Mayo State Vocational School, tuition free. Mayo School, in cooperation with the Alumni Association, will make this second prize possible, according to Mr. J. L. Patton, Director.

Any high school senior, boy or girl, who will graduate this year (1952) may enter this contest by submitting a project produced by manual skill. Rules of the contest and official entry blanks may be obtained by writing to President, Mayo Alumni Association, Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, Ky.

Anna Mother's Day Program

Sunday, May 11, at the Church of God, Prestonsburg, Ky. Services will begin early and continue late. Dinner will be served at the church. If you will, bring a nice basket and made available to the public.

There will be special singing and plenty of Gospel preaching. All churches are invited. Bring your music and singers. There has been much poisonous gossip about the church. Come and see how we do.

GUY RORRER

Mayo State Alumni To Sponsor Contest

Mr. D. H. Sparks, President of the Alumni Association of Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, Kentucky, announced recently that the members of the Association voted in a recent meeting to sponsor a Project Contest. First prize for the best entry in this contest will be a full two-year course at Mayo State Vocational School with tuition and fees paid by the Alumni Association.

According to Mr. Sparks this contest is being inaugurated to stimulate interest in manual skills and technical training. He said, "According to a recent magazine article, fewer than 15% of the high school graduates attend college. This leaves a high percentage of our people unskilled and untrained for earning a living. Eastern Kentucky has furnished unskilled workers for too long. It is time for Kentuckians to gain the mechanical skill and technical knowledge so that Kentucky may have her rightful place in the mechanical and industrial world of today."

Any high school senior, boy or girl, who will graduate this year (1952) may enter this contest by submitting a project produced by manual skill. Rules of the contest and official entry blanks may be obtained by writing to President, Mayo Alumni Association, Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, Ky.

Hall Kentucky Farmers
In 1952 ACP Program
According to Wilson

Approximately half the farmers in Kentucky were enrolled in the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program as of April 11, R. O. Wilson, chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration state committee, said here today.

A total of 107,166 had signed 1952 conservation plans, listing the practices they expect to adopt this year, on that date, the state PMA chairman said.

Farmers are required to sign up each year in order to be eligible for ACP aid in the form of materials, services, or payments on the conservation practices carried out on their farms.

The number now enrolled in the 1952 ACP is about 64 percent of the total of 166,250 Kentucky farmers enrolled last year, Wilson said. April 30 is the last day to sign up for the 1952 program.

The prospective demand for farm products in 1952 and future years emphasizes the need for conserving and improving our land, Wilson said. Conservation farming is the most effective method of using our land for producing what is needed, and at the same time, maintaining and improving the productive capacity of our soil to assure the needed increased production for the future.

The 1952 ACP offers assistance to each farmer in carrying out conservation activities which will enable him to contribute most to increased and sustained agricultural production, the State PMA chairman declared.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST
IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145 1/4-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here in the FirePower V-8 engine is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF...

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done... not only in engine performance, but in power steering, power brakes, new shock absorbers, passenger comfort... to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"
