He would do a day's hard work and take his pay in five or six pounds of salt bacon, and go laughing home, happier than you or I would be with a twenty for our eight hours. Winter days, when there wasn't much to do and when the meal in the barrel ran low, Bud sat before a big fire in his cabin—you couldn't call it more than a cabin—and, shaking the roof with his roars of laughter, "wow with the younguns," and worry not one whit about the morrow.

Once when a stranger met him and asked about where a certain man lived, Bud answered, "Hell, mister, he don't live nowhere. Fellars like me and him—we just breathe." And he went off his way, laughing at the look on the face of the other.

Such men did not make American erats, and I would not prescribe his philosophy as relief from our "guilt load of care," but he had something most men would pay a lot for—the ability to accept life as he met it, and to meet it laughing.

Old Bud now owns the name part of this earth. Crosscut and Rockefeller and all the great of the earth own—approximately six feet.

WE ADD OUR BIT Churchmen, officials, private citizens have attested to the moral fitness of "Jack" May whose fight to return to the practice of law was won last week. We would like to add an attestation to this 72-year-old youngster's fighting spirit. Anybody who has an idea of giving up the battle can learn from him how to take it standing up and shouting till he or somebody else drops come back.

period to other homes. But after Bascom, the youngest of Samuel May's 16 children, married Annie Mayo and moved into it, he never moved out.

"The Weaning House," rich in family traditions, and with all its memories, is more than a place for mere day-to-day living. For its story dovetails into the story of a man's life, that of Bascom May, now a spry 85, and of his family.

He occupied the 8th milestone of his life, Monday of this week. Yet when you talk to him the story becomes a chapter in the May history for he will tell you, among other things of his brother, Solomon P. who was killed at Mt. Sterling in the Civil War. That is in itself a chapter of the family's history. Or there is the old brick house built by another Samuel May, father of the Confederate leader, Col. Andrew Jackson May. That house is approaching the century and a half mark and stands in lonely vigil on the rolling landscape of the May farm.

Bascom May was born in 1887, the son of Samuel and Mary Osborne May. The old record book of the family gives this name as Osborne, which is one of the many variants of the spelling. He was the youngest of 16 children. Solomon P., his eldest brother, had been a few years before Bascom was born, in the fighting around Mt. Sterling while serving under Col. Andrew J. May. Thus Bascom May probably has the distinction of being the only man living in this section who had a brother who was a Civil War soldier. Solomon P. May, born in 1844, was 17 years old when Union troops occupied Prestonsburg. Being a patriot of the South and an admirer of his relative, Col. Andrew J. May, the Confederate leader, Solomon was determined to evade the Union draft. So he entered into a conspiracy with his mother to outfit the Union soldiers from Prestonsburg if they ever come looking for him.

As part of the plan he took one of the most promising galled horses on the farm and hid it in the May Branch woods. Always it was hidden and saddled, awaiting the day when its young master would come to it in flight. In the darkness of night Solomon stole away to feed the horse.

One day, mother and son looked up the road to see three soldiers coming. Solomon retired to the inner rooms near the rear of the house while his mother stood in the doorway, leaning against the side of it while with her arm she touched the other side of the entrance—barring the lieutenant and two common soldiers.

"Why are you men here?" she demanded. "We have come for your son," the lieutenant replied. "We have come for your son," the lieutenant replied. "We have come for your son," the lieutenant replied.

"All right, mother, as quick as I can get my clothes together," he answered. That was the signal they had agreed upon for his exit from the house. The other signal for her to speak was when she saw him cross the point into the May Branch woods.

The three Union troopers stood waiting for Solomon to gather his clothes. The mother peered across the farm and watched anxiously the far-away point. At last she saw Solomon emerge from the woods, wave and disappear.

said to the soldiers. "But I don't think you will find Solomon".

Searching the house and realizing they had been tricked, the three went back to Prestonsburg. Solomon was arrested under Col. May. He was enrolled in Co. A, 10th Kentucky Infantry, C. S. A.

In the fighting around Mt. Sterling Solomon lost his life and was buried near where he fell. The bereaved father went there after the internecine struggle has ceased and bought a plot where he re-buried his son.

Since it was Bascom May's 85th birthday, Monday, his people were gathering for the occasion. His son Joe from Atlanta assisted in recalling the other chapters of May history. There was Thomas May, Bascom's grandfather, who was born in Shelby Creek, near the mouth of Robinson Creek in Pike county. He came there with his father John (1760-?) "He was red-headed," volunteered Bascom as the story unfolded. It seems that Thomas (1787-1879) was a thrifty lad who, although in love with Dorcas Patton (1790-1822) on Beaver creek wasted no time in courting. But there came a day when he cut his foot with an ax, while at work on a mill wheel. Realizing that it would be some time before he would work again, he told his father: "I'm going over on Beaver to see if I can talk. Mary into marrying me while my foot hurts." And, riding away, he returned in a few days with his bride.

But it is in Samuel May and his large family that we became interested as the story was unfolded. There were 10 children.

Solomon, born April 16th, 1844, Thomas about 10 o'clock in the morning" was the eldest of Samuel and Mary Osborne May's children. Dorcas was born in 1846. David, born in 1847, lived to be 90. Elizabeth was born in 1849; Mary, 1852; Thomas, 1855; Martha, in 1857; Samuel, 1859, William Harvey, 1862.

All are dead.

Samuel May was a self-educated man. An old book is extant in the family that sets out arithmetical problems of his own construction and their solving.

"He was a farmer, blacksmith, cobbler, preacher and surveyor," his only surviving child recalls. When his children grew into adulthood and married, he either gave them a farm or $3,000 in cash. That money came out of the soil or from stock raised on the farm.

and non-com. are out for the morning, probably for the first time since I have the whole place to myself. I'm all riled back in a swivel chair and will be polished off a sandwich and a coke. We have a snazzy bar truck which runs steady around the field and it sure is a handy thing. A little snack around 10 in the morning helps alot, especially when you've had your breakfast at 4:30!" . . . Cpl. Harry Gene Preflatish, from Barbui's Point, Hawaii: "I've been on so many of these islands. Johnson is too small. Kavaljar is the worst place open for Commies. Guam is too hot. Okinawa has rotten chow. Philippines have mosquitoes as big as flies. Japan is nice. Korea is either too cold or too hot, too muddy or too dusty. That's the romantic Pacific. I'm ready for the Atlantic now."

Board of Bar Commissioners refused to accept it, recommended disbarment and the Circuit Court of Appeals, however, refused to go along with this recommendation, saying May was "disabled" from practice rather than disbarred.

Last December 12, Mr. May applied to the Court of Appeals for restoration of his rights to practice law. The request was turned over to the Board of Bar Commissioners for investigation and a recommendation.

On April 16, the commissioners refused to agree to the former Congressman's restoration. They recommended his application be refused on the ground that restoration of a lawyer to citizenship after a felony conviction, or his pardon, does not restore his good character and make him fit to practice law.

"We readily agree it does not," the Appellate Court said, again overruling the recommendation of the Commission.

"But the fact that one has transgressed does not forever place him beyond the pale of respectability, such a conviction of morals is not in keeping with Christian principles."

The high court said the sole question was whether his conduct since his conviction five years ago, and his release from prison two years ago, "has been such as to prove he is now a man of good moral character and entitled to confidence."

The high court said it could not follow a rule so strict that it could close forever the door of opportunity in the face of one convicted of crime.

"Even wrongdoers convicted of crime are given another chance. Here it is admitted that Mr. May's conduct since his conviction and disqualification has been exemplary and he is entitled to public confidence."

Judge Bert T. Combs, Prestonsburg, disqualified himself from sitting on the question.

Castle's car at first forced a 1941 Chevrolet driven by Estill Reed, of Betsy Layne vicinity, from the highway, then rammed into a Pontiac driven by Anderson. After hitting the Anderson car the auto driven by Castle turned turtle and reportedly skidded 50 feet on its top before stopping.

Castle was driving at high speed, it was said.

In District ABC Finals; Adkins Stars on Mound And at Bat in Victory

Wayland's team of the Big Sandy Baseball League, won the district ABC championship at Drift Sunday, after some by defeating Price of the same league, 6 to 2.

The championship trophy was awarded the Wayland team by Bill Henry, Mt. Sterling, Kentucky ABC commissioner. Former Governor A. B. Chandler was unable to be present for the post-game ceremonies. Certificates were also awarded to 16 members of the all-star team.

Wayland will play in the state tournament which will start at Mt. Sterling July 7 and last through July 14. Winner of the state meet will go to Wichita to compete for the national amateur baseball championship.

Adkins, Wayland pitcher, hurled and batted his team to victory in the title pinning. Price to five runs with a homer with two on in the seventh. G. Hall, who pitched for Price until the eighth, was the losing pitcher. He was followed by Edward.

BETSY LAYNE

STUMBO CLUB SPEAKER

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, June 18, at the home of Mrs. O. J. Williams. Mrs. Arthur Van Kammen was program leader, with a program in the Legislation Department, the topic being "Legislation in the State". The objective of this program was to study pending legislation on the state level and to become articulate concerning it. The club was happy to have Ted Stumbo, State Representative from this district as speaker on the subject. Mrs. Van Kammen introduced the speaker, who gave a discussion on recent Senate and House bills. At the end of the discussion, questions concerning specific bills were asked and Mr. Stumbo clarified points concerning these bills that were not clear to members. The club members were very appreciative of this fine discussion of state legislation by Mr. Stumbo, and, as a result of this talk, they feel they have become more familiar with state legislation.

Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, club president, presided at the business session. Mrs. Hardwick briefly discussed parliamentary procedure, giving the members a refresher course in the current parliamentary procedure used in club meetings.

Mrs. O. J. Williams, the club's delegate to the General Federation of Women's Clubs' 61st Convention held in Minneapolis last month, gave a report on this National Convention. Mrs. Williams gave a brief outline of the train trip to Minneapolis, pointing out the points of interest along the route from Louisville to Minneapolis. The highlight of the Convention was the election of Miss Gales Clifford, of the office of 3rd. Vice-President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. This is the first national office held by a Kentucky woman in 25 years. Mrs. Williams gave a brief resume of the campaign and election and noted that voting machines were used.

Miss Alice Williams next gave a report on the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs Convention in Covington-Cincinnati, June 4-6. The club had two delegates, Mrs. Hardwick, the club president and Mrs. Williams attending the convention. The report was concluded by the presentation of the 1947 honor certificate awarded the club for the convention for fulfilling all the requirements of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. The press book, program and materials pertaining to the State Convention were displayed in connection with the General Federation Convention display.

The meeting was closed with plans being made to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the club, with a tea and reception honoring charter members, mother club and other district clubs.

A solid plate was served the following members: Mesdames Beecher Hardwick, T. J. Chandler, Edward Lykins, W. P. Howell, Glenn Blackburn, Arthur Van Kammen, Elizabeth Pritchard, Miss Alice Williams, guest Miss Carol Wright and the hostess, Mrs. Williams. The next regular meeting will be July 17, 1952 at the home of Mrs. E. P. Davis, with Mrs R. L. Anderson, program leader, with a program in the American Home Department, Religious Division.

WAYLAND

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

Annabelle Fahn and Bonnie Adkins.

It was agreed that the club meet only once each month during the remaining summer months. This meeting is to be the first Monday of each month.

Since Mrs. Charles Adkins is leaving, the vice-president, Miss Faye Petty, will now become president and arrangements were made to fill the vice-president's office but this will not be final until the next meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Wright was hostess to a watermelon party on the lawn at her home. Refreshments were served to one guest, Miss Joyce Terry and the following members: Mesdames David Sloan, A. N. Belevy, Jack Hammit, Charles Adkins, Curtis Tutts, Henry Fults, Ralph Wright, and Misses Annabelle Fahn, Faye Petty and Bonnie Adkins.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

- How much does the Sheriff owe on the 1946 audit?
Answer: $2,993.78.
- Is Floyd county's tax rate one of the lowest in the state?
Answer: It is one of the highest based on per capita income.
- What does the statute say to do with tax collected for a specific purpose?
Answer: The statutes say and the courts have consistently held that tax levied for a specific purpose must be used for that purpose and no other.
- What will become of the $55,000 collected to build the hospital?
Answer: It cannot be used for any other purpose. Any other use is contrary to statute.
- What does the Tax Payers League want to do with this money?
They want to return it to the taxpayers if a hospital cannot be built with it.
- Who would do the clerical work to return this hospital tax money to the taxpayers?
Answer: The Tax Payers League will do the clerical work free of charge if the fiscal court and those with authority will permit.
- Does a Sheriff receive $1.00 for serving a delinquent tax notice?
Answer: He does not. He has already received pay for that under Chapter 134 of Kentucky Revised Statutes.
- If you procure a warrant of arrest in a misdemeanor case can the Sheriff require you to pay the arresting fee in advance?
He cannot. See your lawyer.
- What did the members of the fiscal court do when the Sheriff's settlement for 1946 came up short and there were many other discrepancies the audit showed?
Answer: Our understanding is that it got twisted up in politics and the taxpayers' dollar was gobbled up.
- Why did the present members of the fiscal court hire a supervisor at $225.00 per month when the county only has two employees and a big deficit against the county of $45,000 or $50,000, or maybe into the $60,000? Do you have to hire a foreman over two men when you are already in debt? Couldn't the Magistrates or the County Judge supervise this work and save this money?
Answer: This is one for somebody else to explain.
- Why do members draw their per diem pay for attending fiscal court when they are not even there?
Answer: This is one for somebody else to explain.
- Why is the fiscal court allowing claims against the county to Troy Sturgill three years after he is out of office? What did they pay Troy Sturgill for the years of 1950, 1951, and how much are they going to pay him for the year 1952?
Answer: You, Mr. Tax Payer, ask the members of the fiscal court. Maybe they will try to explain it to you.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT NO. 1:

Several people have asked me why I want to be Constable and I admit that's a fair question. So I will try to explain.

To start with, I'll admit the office isn't important and that it has no excuse for being. But we have it, and somebody must be selected to fill it. So the best idea is to select the most harmless sort of person you can get for the place.

I am a member of the Presbyterian Church, and if I am to be a Christian, I can't afford to make money by giving protection to a moneyed few who would like to make more money by breaking the law. Now can I go out and try to take up cases against youngsters in order to make what folks call "coffee money."

As a member of the church, I have no use for a gun on my hip. And there's another reason for not needing a gun. You see, my eyesight is so badly impaired that I couldn't see to use a gun effectively, even if I wanted one.

Convinced that the office of Constable isn't needed, I certainly would not have any deputies to do something I wouldn't do myself. Still, that doesn't answer the question: why I go to the office? You wonder: if he is a Christian and will not carry a gun or get out and try to make arrests, what does he want with the office? The truth is—and this is no appeal for sympathy—my sight is so far gone that I am unable to earn what I need for a living. And so, if I am elected constable, maybe our Magistrate and County Judge will be kind enough to give me some civil papers to serve, and in that way only will I benefit one cent from the office. But that little bit can be terribly important to a fellow when circumstances beyond his control make him unable to earn a living as he would prefer to do, by working at a regular job.

I will appreciate the help of the Democratic voters at the coming primary. Sincerely,
Jewell D. "Stinky" Flapatriek

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMA Y

Father's Day brought to mind my own white-haired father, who will be seventy-eight in August. Nothing describes him better than the words of a friend who said, "He is in his presence is like being on holy ground." All the material possessions of the world do not compare with the privilege of having him and his lovely parents. Gave a simple home but we were rich in family love, and six children had fun that plenty of kids nowadays know nothing of.

Folks here in Waco are about ready to have the water analyzed. Must be something wrong with it, Bill Allen, Ghormley, grows up not long ago and sold the Boss a cat before you could say, "Jack Robinson."

He said he was not stopping till he had good every man at the plant here, since this is the only place he could find working now.

Edgar May answered that it is the only place with suckers working, and thought he was the biggest one till John R. Blackburn up and caught a Buckard, the same day.

Next thing they knew Earl Fraasur and George A. May, Jr. had both believed all Bill could say about the mouth and snout for one aquer.

What's more, the men all claim their cars are as good as Bill said, while we wives are threatening to go to the moon.

It really was good news when Brother Mason Moore called to say that Bill Gilchrist was recently awarded as a result of the Pension Board and wants folks to know that he was responsible for his situation. It is hard to tell who is happiest, Mason, Bill or others who worked to put on the pension.

The men folks win on this one. A magazine that's such an article on the pension, wrote for me some information on the award. We put down that Mr. Dev Starnis, said that was the same traffic jam at the history of the county. Started a letter to the post office, and "kiddo" hit was the same traffic jam as we had at the Better Half, who allies claims spellin' hasn't his forte. He said shore hot wuz-jam, like you cut at blackberry time when there is any, so we let it be, till we seen er' frien' an' she says, "ain't zakes no, that hit wuz jam, like er' don't jam, that I cut ter know, so we wuz lucked er' B on ter the tail end of jam and sent er' off.

Next day we wuz laughin' bout hit ter the Burchmans, Zellis, and his beautiful wife, Iva Mae, an' he said, "shucks, that Edgar May was right in the first place, that his wuz plain ole j-a-m. Come home, got Brother Webster, and shore nif, pon my soul of us womenfolks wanted wrong. The Times editor is such a good speller himself he allies teches mine as they come past his desk.

Like to see Mr. Harry Conley and Mr. John Stephens an' some other young fellows in Blue-Black days like us explain some of us "mister's larin'", and spell er' out one night, who think we know so much. That ort to draw a crowd, all right.

There ets a lively youngster here on the Warco hill, called Paul Donald Hagard; and according to his mother, when he is not into one thing, he is into two since spring arrived the curiosity of this three-year-old gets the better of him.

When an article is missed or mislaid, doombody starts yelling for him, to quit him. Lately he has become somewhat wary of being falsely accused on a few occasions. The other day Libby Ree called, "Come here, Paul Donald." He reported, "I'm not a-come, for I've never ask me some more questions."

SALISBURY, DENTIST-BUDDY HAVE 'OFFICE' IN EUROPE WHEREVER TENT CAN BE PITCHED

Special to The Times — Two itinerant army dentists, traveling by truck and setting up shop wherever they can pitch a tent, are caring for the dental needs of small, scattered units in Europe.

They are Capt. Jack D. Salisbury, of Prestonsburg, Ky., whose wife, Margaret, lives at 119 E. Third street, Frankfort, Ky., and Lt. Theodore F. Fowler, Rochester, Mass.

For the last few weeks the two men have been operating at Campigny, France, taking care of the men from the 37th Chemical Battalion and the 33th Chemical Battalion Company.

"We've been treating 15 to 20 men a day," Salisbury reported.

The unit's headquarters is at Yverdon, home for the 77th Dental Service Detachment. The detachment keeps most of its 15 dentists and their equipment at the clinic at Yverdon, but it can put six completely mobile units on the road.

The field-dentists and prosthetists, who work in the field, need a permanent base, however.

Capt. Salisbury admits his patients aren't quite as comfortable in the unit's tent as they might be in an office in the United States.

"But the dental work is as good as they can get anywhere," he says. "We can't make dentures in the field, but we can do everything else, including extractions."

The completeness of their equipment hasn't kept the dentists from improving, however. Because there is an engineer in dental field, the unit has a mobile dental field idea of using an inverted electric light reflector and attaching a drain hose to it. The 19th Chemical Battalion, which makes dentures, need a permanent base, however.

TOMATOES

Because tomatoes are so important, this column considers them with concern. Up to now, two weeks before this will be printed, Lexington has been having a most confusing season. There have been short times of midsummer weather, hot and dry; then, rain spells with winds much too cool for tomatoes to thrive, that kind of season that prevents the coming of late blight that ruined so many tomatoes in 1950.

Some signs of late blight have been seen in Northern Kentucky, but that may be so elsewhere, but everywhere there always is the likelihood that "growing nights" and drier weather may come to wipe blight from developing further.

However, early blight is going its usual pace, that form of blight that turns the leaves brown before they drop off. While it moves more slowly than the "bad" blight, it is finally quite as deadly to tomatoes, and needs stopping.

Fortunately there is a group of coppers—Copper-A, C-O-C-S and Basic Copper Sulfate, but with a special-spray and a pair of rakes—Dithane Z-78 and Par-zo-2—that are effective against early blight, leaf mold and leafspot, but serve as a guarantee against the coming of late blight as well. These come concentrated, 45 percent to 72 percent, and 60 percent. Use the rakes, respectively 2 level tablespoons per gallon of water, and 1½ tablespoons.

As early blight is here now, spraying should start now. Better would have been when the first fruits were the size of a garden pea, or certainly before they had reached half-size. But now will do.

To ward tomatoes against hot and dry weather, mid-biting winds, and under cool and moist conditions, a much may slow tomatoes somewhat, but the end product is still a substantial plenty of tomatoes with less rotting that occurs when the fruit lies on bare ground. The much becomes lumps for next year's garden and a heavy match this year, stops weeds.

NEW SYSTEM ON CONTRACTS

Announced by Carlin;
Finds Now Encumbered
For Only Year At Time

A new system of road contracts, whereby money for projects takes more than a year to complete is encumbered for only a year at a time, has been inaugurated by the State Department of Highways.

Highway Commissioner William B. Carlin, in announcing the new procedure, said it will allow more of the current road fund to remain free for new construction.

Formerly, projects that took more than a year's construction had to have the entire amount laid aside at the time the contract was awarded. Under the new system, only enough is encumbered to take care of the work that can be completed during each year. The rest is encumbered against the anticipated funds of subsequent years.

"A project that calls for an outlay of a million dollars over two years but which will require only half that much during the first year will have only the smaller amount encumbered for it when the contract is awarded," Carlin explained. "The remainder will be charged against the second-year fund."

"That means that the rest of the fund for the initial year, that would have been encumbered formerly, will have only the smaller amount encumbered for it when the contract is awarded," Carlin explained. "The remainder will be charged against the second-year fund."

"That means that the rest of the fund for the initial year, that would have been encumbered formerly, will have only the smaller amount encumbered for it when the contract is awarded," Carlin explained. "The remainder will be charged against the second-year fund."

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

The controversy over the marriage or marriages of John Hager, the Hessian soldier known over the years as King George III's soldier, has been who discovered in the Hager descendants have been found in the marriage dates as there seemed to be a discrepancy. The following letter came to the editor from Mrs. Dore Wild, a descendant of Cinderella, W. Va. She has been serving to disseminate the following on a reading, published in this newspaper.

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 30, 1952

I want to thank you very much for your interesting and prompt reply to my Hager query in D.A.B. magazine. I do wish I could have been as prompt to thank you. But I do not have the time to do so. The first of the Hager family was your father-in-law, who was recently returned. The floor inside our small slot was helped with the floor and very welcome reply to my request.

I know this book on the Hager family of Johnson county, Ky., and that it was the first of the Hager family. Revolutionary soldier, John Hager, who was married in 1785 and that his oldest son, John Hager, was born about 1785 in Virginia, was about 22 years older than the youngest child Nancy born in Kentucky June 2, 1808 and the first of the Hager family in Kentucky as James was 22 years old when they arrived in Kentucky in 1805 and Dan was a year or so later. It is very significant to me that this Nancy was the only child in that part of the state of Kentucky they arrived in that she had to them in the state of Kentucky, the rest having been born in Virginia.

One source says that this oldest son John moved up to Cincinnati, Ind. in 1810, was a wholesaler, and that when Nancy was 14 years old she came up to Cincinnati from Kentucky to help at her brother's house. There she met a friend of her brother's, Andrew Hazwood, born in Illinois, England, 1770, making him 19 years older than Nancy.

Five-Year Road Plan Told U.S. 23 Group At Portsmouth, Ohio

The Five-Year Plan of the Highway Department to spend $5,660,400 on U.S. 23 includes 67.5 miles of improvement.

This and other facts relative to improvement of U.S. 23 were revealed last Friday in Portsmouth at a meeting of U.S. 23 Association directors.

One of the projects of particular interest, because it will be the biggest improvement, is the completion of the new river route from Catelettsburg to Louisa.

Included in the five-year plan are: Russell, Paintsville and Pikeville to provide more speed travel by eliminating the necessity of going through these cities.

The highway from the Lawrence county line to Paintsville is soon to be resurfaced, as will also the 19.6 miles from the mouth of Shelby to Dorton. Plans are ready for the improvement of the route to Pound Gap from Jenkins to the Virginia line.

Attending the meeting were A. Joe Asher, of Jenkins, president; Directors Carl Fitzpatrick, Jenkins; Kelly J. Day, Pikeville; Mayor John B. Wells, Jr., Paintsville; T. R. Richards, Russell; Jerome P. Shepherd, Greenup; Carl G. Motion, Fullerton; Stanford E. Harvey, South Portsmouth; and J. T. Norris, Ashland; and the following guests: Lon S. Rogers, Pikeville; W. P. Hardin, South Portsmouth; Dr. M. W. Meadows, Fullerton; Archie Potter, Greenup; and Calvin Clark and John P. Irwin, of Portsmouth.

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become during recent years.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be considered, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

It has to offer great and distinguishing beauty... luxurious comfort... brilliant, masterful performance... and wonderful prestige.

And, of course, in order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would also have to offer—extraordinary economy!

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

WATER TREATMENT MAY CURE NEAR-DEAD OIL SPRINGS FIELD

The story of how a dead or dying oil field has been revived to all original productivity by water pressure was told recently by Dick Boyd, of the Huntington (W. Va.) office of the Associated Press. Mr. Boyd's story follows:
They're talking about oil in Oil Springs again.

This Masoffin county community, now between Paintsville and Salysville, is hoping with cautious optimism that it will become the center of a good producing field again.

Experienced oilmen aren't saying that it will or it won't, but even they are grinning, and oilmen as a rule don't grin easy. The reason for their optimism is the water pressure method of oil recovery. Several of these "injection wells" already have been sunk and the oilmen describe the results as "going to" excellent.

The Oil Springs field embraced several thousand acres of rugged terrain near the Johnson county line on Litteral Fork of Mine Fork, which empties into the Licking river. The Bedrock Petroleum Company, Huntington, W. Va., was the pioneer in the area. Maurice G. Powers, Bedrock, remembers the early days clearly.

"It was on June 20, 1918," he said, "that we struck the old Mill Wheeler No. 1." "It was 833 feet deep—into the Weir sand."

"Yes, it was good oil—Somerset grade—about 90 barrels a day." That started it. Other oil companies entered the field, and they were through some 2,000 wells had been put down. Bedrock itself, drilled more than 300 of them, and most of them made money. Services rose within "spitball" distance of each other.

In the 1920's, however, oil supply fell far above the demand in the nation, prices eased, and then came the crowning blow.

The great East Texas field blew in, glutting the market with a Niagara of crude and sending prices ressing down to 10 cents a barrel in that field.
Oil Springs prices, Powers recalled, dipped to 35 cents a barrel and production in the field waned. That was in 1929. Eventually the Oil Springs production came from "stripping"—like the stripings from a milked cow—and few wells produced more than a barrel a day.

That's what Oil Springs production has amounted to until recent years.
Three years ago Joe Slagel, of the Cumberland Oil Company, Cleveland, O., came here to take a look at the field. Slagel's father had been active in the original boom. Young Joe made an engineering investigation, liked what he saw, and today credited by Powers with doing more than any other man to restore production in the field.
Another prime mover in the "secondary recovery" project is H. W. Patterson, Buffalo, N. Y., an independent operator and an expert in the water press method.
Patterson is doing some work for Bedrock and the Ashland Oil & Refining Company. Other leaseholders include the Brunard Oil Company, Oil City, Pa., and the Petroleum Exploration Company, Sistersville, W. Va.

The recovery method consists of drilling new wells near the old, injecting water to float the oil and then drawing it off the top.
And it works especially well in this field, which is shallow. The average depth of all wells ever drilled in the field is estimated by one expert at 1,100 feet.
How well it has worked or will work in the future is something the oilmen would rather not predict. But one who would not be quoted by name said guardedly that "we might get more oil out of here than they ever got before."
That might mean more than 4,000 barrels a day.
Meantime, Slagel, Patterson and others are minding their business and making no rash predictions.
Slagel, however, has set up headquarters on the L. C. Bailey farm, scene of the original stroke, as it has planned to be around for a while.

WHEN YOU TRY POWER STEERING... HERE'S WHERE TO COME FIRST!

Now you've heard about it and read about it. Now, if you haven't felt what Power Steering does for you, we invite you to try it first in a Chrysler New Yorker... where you will find full-time (not partial) Power Steering!

What happens is this... You handle the steering wheel in normal fashion. But 4/5 of all the work is done for you by hydraulic power, constantly at your command. Also, you turn the wheel 1/3 less distance now for every maneuver... so the feeling you get of utter control is as wonderful as it is new.

Even at a standstill you can turn the wheel easily. Now, parking is short of its troubles (and fatigue!)... and you can negotiate traffic, awkward drives, and garage doors precisely and with ease.

You can double the longest day's drive you've ever known... and up free from arm and shoulder strain. Rough roads, soft shoulders, snow, mud?... the power that helps you steer now prevents the car's wheels from "steering back" at you. The course you set is held, at any speed, till you want it changed. Yet, with this 5-times greater control, "wheel feel" is always the same.

Why not come try it? Learn for yourself why growing thousands of motorists say they'll never be without Full-time Power Steering from now on. Drive a Chrysler... and Learn the Difference!

Sunday morning, members of the First Baptist Church of Martin surprised Rev. and Mrs. Merle Wadley by honoring them on the occasion of their first anniversary in the pastorate here. A majority commented on the marvelous church growth that has taken place since the Wadleys came. Special music was rendered.

The children were presented gifts, while Rev. and Mrs. Wadley received corsages, bouquets, Stinson's painting, Head of Christ, and a three-tiered cake, surrounded with lilies and ferns and topped with one large lighted candle, from Christian friends. The church also gave them a three-weeks vacation with pay, plus $100 towards expenses.

THE CHILDREN'S LITTLE HILL BECOMES LITTLE HILL PARK

The Betty Layne 500 Club celebrated the opening of Little Hill Park to the public, June 6, with a picnic. Many of the children of the Betty Layne school campus. It contains 32 large trees and adds a picturesque scene to the school and campus. The grounds, the grill and the picnic table were paid for this year from the school activity fund, and the total cost was $220. A deed for the park was procured in the name of the Floyd County Board of Education. Several groups of school children enjoyed picnics at the park during the last week of school. Every person who attended a basketball game during the school year and every child who purchased tickets from the school, or had a card at school, contributed toward the fund that made it possible to establish the park.

For many years the children of the community have enjoyed playing under the large trees on what they called "The Little Hill." So their name for the spot was adopted when it became a park—Little Hill Park.

The public is invited to visit the park and to enjoy its accommodations.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son, Paul Edward Salyer, who passed away eight years ago, June 1, 1914. By M. S. Earl Salyer.

We have a son now in glory Whom our hearts doth long to see; How we loved his precious memory When with us he used to be.

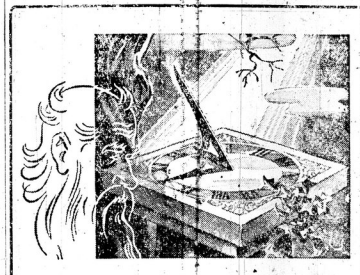

We think of you in silence, Paul Edward, and your name we so often recall; We need no aid to remember, Only your picture on the wall.

You are gone but not forgotten, Comes another year in our lonely hours; Thoughts of you are always near. Days of sadness will come over us, Friends will think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow that lies within our hearts. Father, Mother, two brothers and one sister.
