This Town-- That World

NOT ALL DEAD
This is not an old chestnut, nor did anybody pull 'em out of the fire. The handful of crows in E. Brown brought to this city Tuesday grew on a tree in his yard here. The tree is about five years old and has been unscathed by the birds which devastated this section's chestnut tree growth, several years ago.

GRAND SUFFRAGE
Why Bill Crawford has to Shanghai the anti-Roosevelt attendance committee as well as ever known of the club invariably has a program I-ener. First it was the David T. Acker who sent the way in formal mood, then it was Kathryn Prager's five boys' group and last Thursday evening it was Edith James, Mrs. Claude P. Stephens, Laura Virginia Roberts with their husbands. Now I know what they mean when a melody is described as "haunting."

ANOTHER CANDIDATE
Election campaign time always has its crop of candidates and new candidates are being named. It is not as if we are not already well supplied. A few years ago there was a campaign running its course and the candidates were named. It seems that every old office-seeker was a doctor. Placards heralded their candidates, handbills and newspaper ads had their names in the public mind. Even the children were aware that the doctors were racing with something besides the stethoscope.
Finally came the afternoon when Dr. Pepper truck rumbled up a country road and a youngster wanted to know "Whose Doc Pepper run for?"

THE GREEN-EYED MONSTER'S GOT ME
The bitterest season has been hectic activity on our street. My youngsters and the Johnsons have been across the street had themselves time, armed with nets, snaring the creatures, darning them in a solution when had "varicidiosis" as part of the cure.

MINOR CASES GROW SERIOUS

Alter Probe of Drunks; Auto and Wire Thefts Alleged by Officers
Two men arrested in autos on Floyd highways within the week on rather routine charges were accused of more serious crimes.
"One Eugene Mullins of Letcher county was nabbed Saturday at Allen by Deputy Sheriff Frank Parsons and Ransie Marcus it appeared that his only offenses were drunk driving and driving without an operator's license. A subsequent look into his car disclosed the fact that it was well-laden with copper wire. As a result, he was released to the sheriff of Letcher county.
Several days earlier, Deputy Sheriff Ransie Marcus, Frank Crum and F. Simpson, who were in Stamford sleeping it off in a car, near the end of the Cliff bridge. Investigation showed the car had been stolen from Frank Adams, of Prestonsburg.
Others arrested during the week on major offenses:
Odis Hays, reckless driving, jailed by Deputy Sheriff Scott Compton, Ed Ambury and Jim Burchfield; Bohard Little, possessing untaxed liquor, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson; Clarence Mullins, drunk driving, and Keen Goodman, possessing moonshine whiskey, both arrested by Deputy Sheriff Compton; and James Ransie Marcus and J. Hall, Woodrow Crum, contributing to juvenile delinquency, arrested by Deputy Frank Parsons.

HENRY HELD NOT GUILTY OF ROBBERY

Alibi He Was Elsewhere Night of Jan. 13 Gets Support of Witnesses

Willis Clay Henry of Mt. Sterling, produced an irrefutable alibi to win an acquittal Saturday at the hands of a jury of the Floyd Circuit Court in a charge of armed robbery and unlawful imprisonment in the holdup of D. C. Stephens, Prestonsburg dental laboratory owner, last January 13.

The jury deliberated little more than half an hour before adjudging Henry not guilty.

Against the testimony of Stephens, Mrs. E. D. Stephens, his wife, Mrs. E. D. Stephens, and his secretary, Liss Hazel Green, alleging that Henry was in Prestonsburg on the night of January 13, when the $200.00 was reported to be taken, was that of the defendant and others contending that Henry was not in Prestonsburg that night but was in Kermit, W. Va.

Stephens testified that Henry had approached him with a story of a "man" (whom he got talking and proposed that they buy it, Stephens investing $300.00 in the deal. The plan was to sell the gold through Mr. Stephens' contact with a "big" in the public mind. Even the children were aware that the doctors were racing with something besides the stethoscope.

Finally came the afternoon when Dr. Pepper truck rumbled up a country road and a youngster wanted to know "Whose Doc Pepper run for?"

COURT ORDER FORBIDS ADS

On County Property Approves Sign Prohibits Resentment

The Floyd fiscal court, on recommendation of County Judge Henry Hambo, Friday ordered the Jailer Guy Horn, to cause to be removed any political advertisements on the courthouse or county property and to prevent the posting thereon of any such advertisements in the future.

Only Republican advertisements had been posted when the action was taken.

At the same time the office of Magistrate J. E. Harris had been selected as Floyd County Democratic headquarters. Another location for the headquarters was selected, however, and the move to the courthouse was made this morning.

Republican signs referring to the "cash in Washington" and "Floyd County" were removed, a week ago, on order of Jailer Guy Horn. The sign was taken across the street to Republican headquarters after removed from there by the Republicans on their own initiative.

KIDNAP CASE JURY 'HANGS'

Second Trial of Blonde Set for November 7th In Circuit Court Here

A circuit court jury floundered in trying out the provisions of the new law, Coleman said that in many counties he found that registration boards of the members of the county boards of registration and purgation co-operative, but that in some counties there had been prejudice and resentment against the new law.

As an exception to co-operation in carrying out the provisions of the new law, Coleman cited heavily Democratic Logan county, the home of Lt. Gov. Emerson Beauchamp, Col. J. C. B. Reed, of Drift, and the 1950 federal census showed a population of only 23,353. And the last time it was held, it was 23,353.

OFFICIALS SIGN BOND FOR 12

Perkins and Meade Among Those Signing For Accused UMWA Men

Among those joining Pike and Letcher county officials Wednesday at Pikeville in signing bonds of $1,500 each for 12 men charged with molesting miners last May were Congressman Carl D. Perkins and Sheriff A. B. Meade, of this county.

Others signing as bondsmen to insure appearance of the 12 at the criminal term of U.S. district court which will convene Oct. 13 at Pikeville were Commonwealth Attorney J. A. Runyon, of Pike county; Mrs. Jessie Arnold, Pike County Court Clerk, and Circuit Clerk Charles W. Meade, of this county.

Purgation Failure Cause Discussed; Board Named

The biggest hindrance to effective functioning of purgation boards is "a lack of knowledge," said Harris W. Coleman, one of the framers of the new registration and purgation law, when he made a tour of western Kentucky counties to observe the workings of county boards. Coleman said that in many counties he found that registration boards which had not been purged of unqualified names since the old Purgation Law went into effect, in 1938.

A deal completed last Thursday after several weeks' negotiations transferred ownership of the Utilities Elkhorn Coal Company holdings at Martin and gave promise that the side workings will be in operation again within a few days, providing a potential of employment for 150 men.

The transaction involved purchase by C. D. and B. F. Reed, of Drift, of the St. Clair, Cleveland, O., of the equipment and supplies of the coal company and 2,700 acres of coal, approximately 70 acres of land and improvements of the property lying on Buck's Branch of the Beaver Creek Consolidation Coal Company.

Among those involved in the deal was not stated, John Bowman, of Pikeville, headed the Utilities Elkhorn Coal Company. Its mine on Buck's Branch had been idle since May 29, with the result that upwards of 150 men had lost employment.

ALL WOULD SHUN STRIKE

Reed Tells Kivianians But Shutdown Possible; Cites Sully's Problems

There may be a coal strike, but it is not the kind of strike that either management nor labor wants. This did B. F. Reed, of the executive Reed mining industry in this county, report to the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club last Thursday evening, a few hours after he had returned from Washington and a look-in on the situation brewing there between negotiators for the two groups.

Asked to give the club his views of the situation, Mr. Reed reminded the Kiwanians, "Contrary to what has been said in the newspapers, Mr. Lewis has never made any definite demands. He has spoken mildly of needed improvements, of more need for the welfare fund and of a shorter work week. He has stated exactly what he wants."

He spoke of the conciliatory attitude of John E. Lewis, the United Mine Workers' chief. The scowling, hostile Lewis hadn't been in those Washington conferences as of late Wednesday. Mr. Reed said that he has talked with Lewis and has been very courteous. He recognized the fact that we in the South are in trouble." He added that he expects the UMWA leader to get together as he talks progress, however.

In the South, the speaker said, there is some sentiment, but by no means all.

FISCAL COURT HIRES AUDITOR TO STUDY PAY

Of County Officials Over Minimum Period To Cover Five Years

The fiscal court at its meeting Friday concluded its order authorizing the County Judge to employ an auditor to make an accounting of county officials' pay over a period of five years and then, acting as a group, accepted the proposal submitted by the William Cotton Company, Louisville accounting firm, to audit the county officials.

The Louisville firm's offer was to audit the offices at a fee ranging from $1,000 to $1,200 for each year of the audit. This was explained as a proposal to audit all of the offices for a period, say, of five years for a fee which would be at least $5,000 or at most $2,200. The offer was considered the best submitted, one or two others asking a fee of $50 a day, plus expenses, for the time covered by the audit. This type of proposal was not considered definite enough for the court to accept. The audit would be of the cost of a single year of the cost of an audit would entail.

Work on the audit, it was said yesterday, is scheduled to begin today.

The court's order called for a period of at least five years, and such additional period of time the court may deem necessary of expense.

NEW DOCTORS FOR HOSPITAL

Announced This Week As Our Lady of Way Organizing New Staff

Two new doctors have been added to the staff of Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin, and the hospital is forming a new medical staff, it was announced Wednesday by Sister Mary Edgar, superintendent of the institution.

Dr. John J. Sherman at the hospital are Dr. Joseph Allan Offen, Boston; Mass; Surgeon and gynecologist; and Dr. Joseph Crowley, Brattleboro, Vt., forming a new medical staff, who will be the nominal head of the hospital.

Added to the hospital medical staff are Dr. Rutledge, Dr. J. C. Preston and Dr. Gene Combs, radiologist, all of Pikeville.

Dr. John J. Sherman, who has been surgeon at the hospital during recent months, is going further advanced work in the field of surgery, in Pennsylvania. Sister Edgar expressed the hope that he will return to the hospital on conclusion of this work. Dr. R. R. Stratton, who was called to military service, will return to the hospital upon the termination of his medical service with the armed forces.

Dr. J. C. Offen and Dr. Crowley have the full approval of the American Medical Association, it was said. Dr. Offen received his degree in medicine from the University of Virginia, served his internship at Boston City hospital and received advanced training with hospitals equipped with the University of Harvard, Johns Hopkins and Yale. He also was a surgical resident at Newington Veterans administration hospital.

Dr. Crowley, a graduate of Tufts was chief of pediatrics and also was radiologist at two Brattleboro, Vt. hospitals for several years. He has purchased the W. S. Jones property in Martin and has moved his family there.

Patricia Van See, eight years of age, died at St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, Wednesday, Sept. 10, of an undiagnosed illness.

UMWA Welfare Settlements Millionth Hospital Bill

A check for the millionth hospital and doctor bill was mailed Tuesday by United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund to the hospital. The fund is the cover cost of the birth of twin boys at the Beckley, West Virginia hospital August 16. The parents are Mrs. M. J. Gies and her husband, Charles Gies, of R.F.D. No. 1, Scarbro, West Virginia.

The check was for $447 and went to the Beckley institution to pay for hospitalization and physicians' fees for the twins. The fund has paid out more than $800,000 to meet the one million hospital and medical bills submitted under present Fund regulations beginning July 1, 1950.

The twins, Darrell Gay and Harold Ray, born to eight the number of children in the hill country household of war veteran Gies and his wife, who reside in a mountainous community 18 miles north of Beckley. The infants weighed five pounds and eight ounces each at birth.

Without the Fund's assistance, the Gies family would have had to rely on the very limited medical resources of that area at a time of crisis.

The 34-year-old father has been a member of the United Mine Workers and has worked in the coal fields for 15 years, in addition to his three years' service in the Army in World War I. He hopes to be a member of the Christian Colliery Company, Maben, West Virginia.

The young miner and his wife are parents of still another pair of twins—Brenda Kaye and Linda Faye—born in 1949. The six older Gies children range in ages from 12 to 10 years. It was the frame Miss Gies availed themselves of the medical services offered by the United Mine Workers' Welfare and Retirement Fund.

Since infant mortality in some major coal mining areas is far above the national average, the fund hopes to reduce the toll on its program of building new hospitals in areas of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia where facilities have been declared "n." (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

dent. It also provided that the auditing firm start work immediately and complete the job "with reasonable dispatch."

William Cotton & Company, it was said, is one of the state's largest firms of its kind and is widely represented by its former firm name of Cotton & Baker.

Naming of an auditing firm by the court is not expected to deter audit plans by the Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers League. The League this week was raising funds to finance an independent audit of one official and to institute suit to collect from him any funds he may be due the county, it was learned.

Registered letters were mailed Wednesday by the League to each of the members of the Floyd County Board of Education and to County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner, a calling to their attention that Troy B. Sturgill, former tax collector, is due the board a certain sum and ask that it be collected.

The League also requested a detailed statement of the joint sponsorship by Floyd and Knott counties of the Wayland and Lackey schools. "We have information that leads us to believe that Floyd county taxpayers are bearing more than their proportionate part of the expense of these schools," the League wrote.

Johnstone was born in South Carolina and moved with his family in 1904 to a farm in Jessamine county, Kentucky. He attended the University of Kentucky where he received his Bachelor of Science in 1916. From 1917 to 1922 he was agricultural adviser to the Brazilian government.

Slayer of Blackburn Draws 10-Year Term Despite Defense Plea

Jay Meredith, Callettsburg, slayer of Harold "Hobby" Blackburn on April 23 received a 10-year sentence last Friday afternoon in the Boyd circuit court. The shotgun victim was a son of Dodge Blackburn, formerly of the Johns Creek section of this county, said to be the defendant.

Several defense witnesses testified that Meredith had received repeated threats on his life from Blackburn. Meredith told the court he shot Blackburn "to keep from getting shot."

Other witnesses told of threats by Blackburn to kill Meredith if Meredith interfered with his plan to set up a bootlegging and gambling joint in a room of the Kory Corner Tavern located on the ground floor beneath Meredith's apartment, and under lease to Meredith and his brother, Haskell Meredith.

Meredith said he had been objecting to Blackburn about the place because of noise which would come from such an establishment.

He said he talked with Blackburn about 30 minutes before the shooting. Blackburn had been drinking, he said, and became angry. Blackburn, he continued, went to his car and got a pistol from it.

Meredith said he then went to his apartment upstairs and shortly afterward heard a pounding below. He said he decided to go and protest against the noise to his brother. He took a shotgun from its case, loaded it and went down.

"When I first knocked on the door no one answered," he said. "I knocked again and Jesse Hamilton, a carpenter, opened the door and came out around me as I went in."

"I saw my brother first, then saw Bobby behind him. He had a pistol in his right hand and a can of beer in his left. I fired to knock the gun from his hand."

Robert Meredith, another brother of the convicted man, Nathan Murphy and Charlie Ross, all of Callettsburg, testified they had heard Blackburn make threats about killing Jay Meredith.

deal. He testified $10,000 of the sum taken represented his savings and that the remainder was borrowed from Lawrence Edwards, of Pikeville. The loan was secured by mortgage dated Dec. 16, last year, and recorded in February of this year, it was testified.

Henry's testimony, heard on the last day of trial, contended it was Stephens, not he, who proposed the sale of the home. He produced a letter from the Prestonsburg man which suggested that they buy gold bullion. Henry said he first agreed to the transaction, then backed out on it "because it looked shady."

Reiterating his denial that he robbed Stephens, Henry told the jury that he spent the night of Jan. 13 in the Liberty hotel which he owns at Kermit, W. Va. He said he operated, as a regular business routine, his liquor store in Mt. Sterling, Monday till Friday afternoon, and then went to Kermit for a week-end of gambling, returning to Mt. Sterling on Monday.

Henry's alibi that he spent the night of January 13 in Kermit, W. Va., was corroborated by testimony of several persons.

Frank S. Dorio, Huntington, W. Va., a restaurant-equipment dealer who once was an assistant football coach to Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, told of meeting Henry in Kermit that night. Dorio said he talked with Henry about some equipment for the hotel restaurant.

Police Chief Oscar Kirk of Kermit told the jury that he visited the hotel on his tour shortly after 10 p.m. and that Henry asked him to buy him some cigars at a store further down the street. Kirk said he later delivered the cigars.

Kate Kirk, a Kermit business man and taxicab inspector for the State of West Virginia, said he had coffee with Henry in the hotel restaurant about 10 p.m.

About eight persons testified in Henry's behalf.

Special Judge R. C. Littleton of Grayson gave the jury two choices in returning a verdict—guilty or not guilty of the charge of armed robbery and unlawful imprisonment.

If the verdict were guilty, the judge said, the sentence could only be 10 to 15 years in prison and a fine of $2,500 in Federal court on a liquor charge.

The jury for the trial was empaneled last Thursday, and the Commonwealth began questioning its witnesses Friday. Both Stephens and Henry were represented by a battery of lawyers.

Ratliff, former Pike county deputy sheriffs.

Four others, Carson Hibbits, Joseph Davis, Harry Radcliff, and Bob Newton, are field workers employed by District 30, all stationed in Pikeville.

The others, reported to be members of the union, are Sherman Maggard, Pike county, and Carl Conley, T. N. Fleming and M. B. Bloomer, all of Letcher county.

In signing one of the bonds Commonwealth's Attorney Runyon commented, "Persons interested in the prosecution of this case also have an interest in a civil suit in Virginia against the U.M.W."

The indictment charged all 14 defendants with "conspiring to injure and intimidate citizens in the free exercise of constitutional rights, conspiring to violate a law of the United States, and subjecting an inhabitant of a state to deprive him of his rights under the color of law."

The "color of law" refers to the four defendants who were county officers at the time of the Cumberland Mountain incident. The site is on U. S. 23 in Letcher county, near the Virginia line.

In detail, the three-count indictment charges the defendants and "others unknown" with threatening nonunion miners working in Virginia in an attempt to force them to join the U.M.W.A.

It charges that they beat one of the nonunion men "with fists and feet in an effort to force him to join their union."

10,000 Bond Is Asked For Release of Conley

Mont Conley, charged with the cutting and wounding of Buford Owens, was placed in the Knott County jail last week in lieu of a $10,000 bond to await grand jury action. The alleged attack upon Owens took place on a bridge at the mouth of Tarry Fork on Jones Park near the home of Owens and Conley, Sunday Aug. 2. The bond was required by Judge Merit Stone of Knott, after the preliminary hearing.

Owens testified that he was just sitting on the railing of the bridge with "Rusty" Stone when Conley came along, stepped upon the railing, hit his arm around Owens' neck and began stabbing him with a knife in the neck. On cross-examination Owens admitted making certain statements while in the hospital to the effect that he "stomped" and "beat" Conley but denied actually having done so.

Conley did not take the stand in his behalf. Attorneys representing Conley on this charge are Messrs. Dan T. Martin and Clark Pratt, of Hurman, Judge Stone having fixed Conley under a $5,000 fence bond.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D. Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"Across the Creek"

Scattered all over the state are little streams that we drive across today on the highway, frequently not even noticing the flow of water. But there was a time when some of the smallest of these had an importance all out of proportion to their size. They were often the boundaries between communities seemingly as important as legal state lines. People on one side of the creek went in one direction to a school or church or a school house; on the other side they took a different direction. Sometimes a hostility grew up between those on one side of the creek and those on the other side that was so hostile that it seemed ridiculous or even impossible to the younger one who live now. "North of the creek" or "south of the creek" sounded like saying "God's chosen people" or "the unredeemable." Among older people there may still be found some strange proverbs that should have died a generation ago.

Such small barriers as a small creek meant much to people when I lived there. Social lines were often drawn at the ford or the bridge that crossed the creek. People who actually there were people on the two sides of the creek who never saw each other through a long life; myself included.

Only the children of the creek, knowing all the people whose houses I could see from the hill above our house, I knew people farther away on our side of the creek than I did on the small stream and its marshy bottom formed a barrier that I seldom crossed. Sometimes people from that side and people from our side met at the county seat and got acquainted, but some never were so fortunate as to break through the barrier.

Only the children of the creek, knowing all the people whose houses I could see from the hill above our house, I knew people farther away on our side of the creek than I did on the small stream and its marshy bottom formed a barrier that I seldom crossed.

of the name, and then mourning them.

I couldn't see it, but they could, and were quite happy, and so that was that. Even the smallest was waiting his tongue around long, scientific names about which he knew nothing and was cared less.

Well, this went on through the hot season, till either the battles quit fluttering or were all caught. This didn't stop them. They merely turned to a new field: caterpillars.

Oh, brother! If those jays upstairs ever come an un-catchall-light and those weird worms escape over the house, I'll be moving out without taking time to pack.

One of the things they've got imprisoned up there is a lovely, lovely pack-saddle. They may call it by some other name, and I have on occasion called it something less complimentary, but most of us know the stinging worm as a pack-saddle. The kids tell me it'll make a beautiful mite. I shall not sit up nights to see.

Yes, we have a blessed event at our house, almost every day. And more are on the way, to join the Cloudless Sulphurs, Variegated Flat-tails, Red Admirals, Weevils, Painted Ladies, etc., all already have gone into what I call "the pickin'" and from there to the mounting board.

If I seem a bit greener than usual, these days, put it down to jealousy. Yes, I'm jealous of the dervies and virgins. The things have robbed me of my No. 1 fishing partner.

Black Cats Defeat Irvine High For Second Victory of Season

PORTER PASS TO BARKER

In Early Curtain Raiser Aids Morehead to Win In Game With Evansville

The aerial accuracy of "Chunkin' Charlie" Porter, of Prestonsburg, coupled with a recovered fumble and Sonny Adkins' dazzling rungs gave Morehead a victory in the season curtain-raiser with Evansville Saturday night in Morehead's Jay Stadium.

Just minutes before the first half touchdown pass to End Harold Barker, of Cattertsburg, who stepped into the end zone unopposed, Clarence Payne, 300-pound freshman from Ashland, then kicked the first of his two extra points.

In the second half, Morehead's hard-charging line showed the results of good instruction by Coaches Johnson and Radjman by finishing the double stripe for the second and last Morehead T.D. Payne again split the uprights for the 14th point.

Ed Reed, a junior and first-stringer, from Dayton, Ky., will be out of action possibly for the remainder of the season due to an ankle tendon injury received in the Evansville game. Irwin Spencer of Louisville, defensive and offensive tackle, and Louis Tolle, returning letterman from Cynthiana, are temporarily out of action with the Eagles squad. Spencer is in the hospital with appendicitis and Tolle is suffering from a torn ligament in his left knee.

Message In Words of great importance to the people of Floyd county from Curtis Clark, Republican candidate for Congress.

In all sincerity and with no idea of mud-slinging in this campaign for Congress, I ask you voters to bear with me as we discuss a few words that are loaded with great meaning to ourselves, our children and Floyd county.

TOLERANCE—The meaning of this word definitely applies to us citizens of Floyd county. It simply means "To have patience with others." Years have passed under the guidance of my Democratic opponent. You have voted for him, accepted him as your representative and depended upon him for aid to our county and its people in its great time of need.

HAS YOUR PATIENCE BEEN REWARDED? How much sincere effort has your present Democratic representative made to obtain the canalization of our Big Sandy river? Has your present representative put forth any effort to get us any new roads or to improve Route 23? How many in Floyd county are out of work? Look around your own community. Are there any new factories and industries in Floyd county that would employ our many jobless people? Has our Democratic representative really tried to have and to recommend that new industry and new factories come to our county?

Yes, we in Floyd county have truly practiced tolerance these past few years!

TOLERATE—this word means simply to ENDURE. How much longer can Floyd county and its good people hold out? Ladies and gentlemen, I humbly beg you to wake up and look around you and face the plain facts as they are today in our home county. Jobless men and women are abundant, families are being forced to leave their homes in search of work.

WHY is this happening to our rich county? How much longer can we in Floyd county endure the present situation?

TOLERATION—Friends, this word means the "Act of permitting to go on without interference, and the "Acceptance of something not entirely approved."

Do not let the meaning of this word apply to you. Haven't we in Floyd county been tolerant long enough? By working together, we can have new industry and new factories come to our county. We can have new roads and improved roads and more state and federal aid. This is your home. This is the county you love. This is the home of your children. Floyd county is where your people and friends live. Consider the facts, think seriously and wisely and then on election day vote as your conscience dictates.

By your vote you can banish the meaning of the word Tolerant as it now applies to us people in Floyd county. We are free people. We are not compelled to accept anything we do not approve of. By our vote we are permitted to interfere with those things we do not approve of.

Floyd county is my home. Being born and raised in this county, I am qualified to know the needs of our people. I know its people and I love its people.

Ladies and Gentlemen, if elected to represent you in Congress I will support all legislation for the benefit of veterans and pledge an unceasing fight for the rights of veterans of World War I, World War II and the present Korean War. I will fight for and plead for, without reservation, the canalization of the Big Sandy river. New and improved roads will be fought for, new industries and new factories and more aid from state and federal funds will be fought for with vigor and down-to-earth determination. I will support any reasonable law bringing security to our people past 60 years of age.

For these principles I pledge to fight unceasingly and unhesitatingly and unafraid.

We in Floyd county can and will accomplish these pledges by working together.

I humbly thank you. CURTIS CLARK, Republican Candidate for Congress

Last year the season opened on Dec. 1 and continued through Jan. 31. In addition to this the Commission voted for a legal season in which raccoon and opossum may be taken with dog only. This season opens on Oct. 21 and continues through November 19.

In extending the season on quail, rabbits and grouse it was pointed out that indications are that the supply of these species will be greater than for last season and that the additional days of hunting will not seriously affect the populations. The Commission also reminded that the changes will afford an extra eight days of hunting in January when usually some of the best hunting weather is experienced.

The recent appointees to the commission were sworn in by Acree Austin, Clerk of the Court and Appeals, those taking the oath were Dr. A. W. Bolt, F. Thomas, who was named to succeed himself; Tom Baker, Gaetz, who replaces Dave Sigler, Paducah, and Al Cockerill, Frankfort, who was named to succeed Robert Sparks of Lexington. Following the swearing in ceremonies the commission elected the following officers: Tom Theobald, Grayson, chairman; Noble Lawist, Franklin, vice chairman, and Roscoe Davis, Hazard, secretary.

Quotes from our men in the armed services: Marine Cpl. Harry Gene Prefrath: "Japan is hot as hell. My clothes are soaked with sweat before I get to the gate. Korea is, too. Next time someone tells me to go to h—, I'm going to tell him I've already been there" . . . Pvt. Frank Music of the army: "This base is strictly infantry. We surely have to go to leadership for eight weeks and then OOS for 22 weeks. In all, it'll take about a year before I get my bars and assignment, but golly, I'll get it if it takes a decade!"

Marine Cpl. Donald Hohl, of San Francisco: "The weather here has been wonderful for the past week. After today I don't care, as long as I can leave for a while. I leave for home tomorrow and, boy, will I be glad when I get there. Sure has been a long time" . . . A/2c Billy Smith, from Fort Worth, Texas: "Tell all my friends hello and tell all my enemies to go to h—!"

Our Own Perplexing Problem

THE TIMES is walking a tight-rope, these days. For these are days when a movement begun by the Floyd County Taxpayers League has created a situation in which The Times finds itself hard-pressed to do justice to all concerned.

Certainly this newspaper is anxious that the Taxpayers League succeed in its broad aims, which are described as non-partisan and unprejudiced, with the aim of a good job. It wants the League to continue to work not only now but also for years to come in a representative way of the better instincts of the county's best citizens.

For this reason we are inclined to publicize the workings of the League and to give space to views of persons who are, or who profess to be, interested in its work.

On the other hand, The Times has always had a dislike for any semblance of partiality or unbalancedness which may affect any individual or the exclusion of all others.

As matters now stand, one man is the target of every action and practically every verbal barb that is hurled. If he alone were guilty, or if he alone were responsible, or if he alone were to be the only one to whom guilt belongs, we should not fear that, for all the good intentions of many, an injustice is being done.

But, just now, this is an individual status alone. Others who may belong in the roles of defendants are at least temporarily excluded. The necessities of the spotlight of public opinion throws, if he is guilty, others are guilty.

While time passes and we mark time for future actions, should we be an "innocent party" to the pilfering of one individual? How far can we publicize—as is our duty—a matter of great public interest and not surrender our aim of seeking to avoid working an injustice between one individual and another?

Yes, one is a job of walking a tight-rope. We feel peculiarly. We get criticized from both sides. We grow tired.

Will the State Department Protest? THE TIMES has always expressed, and on occasion expressed, its profound dislike of intolerance and bigotry in all their forms. Its disapproval of this form of hatred has, in a word, amounted to intolerance of intolerance.

Americans. They are worshipping God according to the dictates of their consciences. They are free to convert others to their faith. Martyrs again preach in the streets of Rome. Americans, these, who face arrest and imprisonment in the name of their faith, as perverts are those who misguidedly oppose them with force.

These are American citizens—and what is our State Department doing to do about that? Will it protest to the Vatican and the Italian government against this show of hatred and intolerance? We shall see.

The Politicians Give Us An Idea

THIS IS wastebasket-filling season as the rival political camps tumbled their typewriters and pens to turn out reams of copy and cartoons by the score, also pictures and statistics and slogans—all to beat the drums for their favorite candidates and to beat into the earth their adversaries.

We eschew such material pretty consistently, but sometimes we happen upon something worth printing.

Such was the case this week when State Republican headquarters sent along a sizeable parcel of material favorable to their man Cooper. What interested us was this paragraph:

"The senatorial candidate closes out the week Saturday at Central City where he will appear at a public hearing called by the Green River Valley Citizens League. Officials of the League also have invited Senator Lupton, Senator Earle Clements and Albert Gore of Tennessee to attend and discuss plans for flood control and soil conservation in the Green River area."

Now do you begin to see wherein the Republican release was interesting? The Big Sandy Valley Association might follow the Green River group's example. Now would be a fine time for the Association to invite those who are Senators and who aspire to be, as well as the Seventh district Congressional candidates, to talk about Big Sandy.

We should want to know, at every propitious opportunity, about soil conservation, flood control and locks and dams for the Big Sandy.

Last week coal barges moving out of the Kentucky River by barge. This coal was, first of all, hauled by truck 25 miles from the mines to Beattyville, there loaded onto the barges, towed to Clay's Ferry, and from that point unloaded and shipped again by truck to Lexington.

This causes one to wonder if, maybe, we haven't been shooting too high, here on the Big Sandy. Perhaps we should temporarily abandon the plan for a system of locks and dams covering the whole river, with its forks, for a plan which would put back into operation the locks which once were operated and which could throw slack-water to within a few miles of Paintsville. Some dredging, maximum use of installations long ago built, a dock at Catlettsburg, and we might have a makeshift water transportation system by which this section could survive till the Corps of Engineers and the Congress as a whole are convinced that the products of this section—and we do not refer only to the coal—are vital to the country.

If Kentucky river operators can haul coal 29 miles to Beattyville by truck, Big Sandy operators should be able to do the same to a river port on the Big Sandy.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD BY WILLMAY

And it will be a beautiful one for all who attend the Mayflower Flower Show this Saturday in the gym. Bring your posies and enjoy seeing the arrangements by flower-lovers. Entries may range from gardenias to jimson weeds.

By the way, who changed precious baby's face to precocious baby face this column last week? Do not blame it on the writer, since that one was typed. The ones from Mississippi in the summer were penned, and a Philadelphia lawyer would have had a time figuring them out, but this past week had at least three errors not found in the carbon. Now that we are trying to teach English (emphasis on trying), such leaves a poor impression on our readers.

Thanks to the out-of-state reader for the nice letter of comment. And to Rev. Benedict, Charles Clark Alice Owens, Mrs. Jarvis Allen and others who have been kind enough to send me GOOD WORLD. The old noggin swells so we can barely get through the door when someone says it is not what they read. All of us enjoy hearing such, even if folks do not mean it!

We are pulling hard this week for Regina Mayo to be chosen as the first citizen of Kentucky on the 22nd when she attends the dinner in Lexington as our names. The honor and award would mean so much less to her than the joy that has come through a job well done. It is a direct any country would be if each community had just one individual with the vision and tirelessness of Mrs. Mayo!

Teaching in Martin last year with a grand principal and a fine faculty who pulled together was so wonderful that we did not think any other place could equal it, but we are just as happy in Wayland with another swell group who makes every newcomer welcome and at home. Mrs. Price has the patience of Job and the kindness of any saint to be named. To date we have put in some good time quizzing Thelma Daniels and Lottie Hatcher, two teachers who are synonymous with Wayland high. By asking them many questions we hope to give them a rest. We are just half as green as we actually are.

We agree with County Superintendent Turner, who says we need more school buildings of medium price in preference to fewer that cost a prohibitive sum and are the least wanted in elegance. Twenty-eight years ago we had him in Caesar or Cicero during his junior year of high school, and now he is our boss for a change.

Everyone is interested to learn that Palmer Hall plans to study medicine, according to reliable reports. He may prove life begins at forty.

A giant bouquet goes to our Times editor for his recent splendid editorial about locating new industries in this valley. He told why Portsmouth get the atomic plant and how two other communities will get two more plants in the near future. Portsmouth defeated Ashland because the former city went after the government plant one hundred percent strong. In many instances our failure to do such has been responsible for heavy loss to this section. Some of our best educated and most wealthy families are completely devoid of community interest, and pride; hence, limited progress. Take the Mountain Passon Pageant in Martin, for example; a comparatively few citizens there are doing all the work, and actually those who are doing the most are the busiest people. One hears every excuse for failure to help up Dr. Wade Mahood, a star performer, in past eighty and in there pulling all the time.

Ronnie and his wife are here for a short visit. They promise to make us grandparents in December. My father always said grandchildren are called that because they are grand. Our only protest is that it is a long, long time to wait. E.R. wants a girl. Libby hopes for a boy. Ronnie does not say (it's unnecessary). Edith and Mom do not care, just so it is a baby!

Among the animals native to Kentucky during pioneer days were the ox, bear, wolf, panther, and passenger pigeon.

WAYLAND

LACKEY-GARRETT CLUB MEETS

The Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club held its regular sewing meeting, Sept. 11, at the home of Mrs. Otto Martin, Wayland, with Mrs. S. M. Martin as co-hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Frank Rasmussen, the vice-president, Mrs. George E. Evans, presided. She welcomed the two new members, Mrs. Glenn Pack and Mrs. E. C. Brewer, courtly member. Mrs. J. C. Wells distributed the new year books.

Mrs. John Field brought forcefully before the club the need for highway safety signs to be placed at either approach to the school at Wayland and directly in front of it. The club voted to sponsor the project, agreeing to buy one sign and securing funds from other organizations and individuals for the others.

It was unanimously decided to present Mrs. Thomas Hatcher for district secretary at the annual Seventh district convention this fall. Mrs. J. C. Wells and Mrs. Otto Martin were appointed to work on the president's report, or skit, to be presented at the convention.

Groceries were brought by each club member to be donated to a needy family.

At the conclusion of the business session a dessert course was served by the hostesses to the following: Mesdames Felix Coburn, C. S. Hornsby, E. C. Blanton, H. J. Sherrman, Earl Castle, Willard Castle, John Field, George Evans, John Field, E. C. Brewer, Glenn Pack, E. J. L. B. Price, and Miss Marie Cook.

The next club meeting will be held Sept. 25, with Mrs. Gorman Collins and Mrs. D. C. Baldwin as hostesses.

Counties Should File Primary Claims Now

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 15 (Sp)—A request that county officials file expense statements for their counties for the August primary was made here today by Thomas P. Rogers, state director of Accounts and Control.

Only about 25 counties have filed, Rogers said, and he would like to have all claims in before the general election. In the past, some counties have waited until near the end of the fiscal year to file. Forms for filing are available here.

The state pays half the cost of all elections up to $20 a precinct, and itemized statements of cost must be filed before the counties can collect.

Family Famous As Frontiersmen Pioneered Settlement of Valley

Heinrich Adam Harman was born in Germany, on the Rhine, about the year 1700. He was the ancestor of all that hardy race of frontiersmen bearing his name that helped to people Southwest Virginia, North Carolina and Kentucky. He came to America, either in the year 1726 or 1727, and his name and the names of his children are proud legacies of our frontier story.

The name Harman is stamped upon the court records, in the military annals and interwoven with the economic development of Southwest Virginia, Southern West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky. The story of the family, as with that of many, begins with old Adam. The first written record is his obituary.

He made the entries in German and the first is of his marriage to Louisa Katrina, on the banks of the River Rhine. "I Heinrich Adam Herman, married Louisa Katrina, October 8, 1728, and have together begotten eleven children, and have lived in matrimony as true married folks should up to the year 1749 when my dear wife died March 10th and was buried the 21st, which fell on Monday. The blood of Christ cleanses us of all our sins. Amen."

"The old German Lutheran Bible is an invaluable record of the family of Heinrich Adam. It descended through generations of Harman until it came into the possession of the historian, John Newton Harman, Sr. of Tazewell, Va. It was sent to him by a branch of the Harman from Arkansas.

In 1728, possibly 1727, Heinrich Adam and Louisa came to America. Adam, the eldest son, had been born in Germany. They had stopped along the way and on the Isle of Man. A second son, Henry, Sr., was born. George was the first son born in America in 1773 but he died in 1769. The same year his mother died. Daniel was born in Pennsylvania, in 1729.

Mathias, the frontiersman who rescued Jennie Wiley, was born near Strasburg, Va., in 1738. It was Mathias who built the first cabin on the waters of Big Sandy in the year 1755. This was probably the second cabin built in the state of what is now Kentucky. Dr. Thomas Walker on his exploring trip to Kentucky in 1750 built the first cabin by only five years. Walker built his cabin near the present Booneville. Mathias Harman built his hunter's cabin at the mouth of Johns Creek. Another son of Heinrich Adam, or just plain Adam, as he began to be called, was Valentine. He settled on the Clinch river in 1771 but moved to Kentucky about 1774. He was a member of Henderson's legislature at Booneboro in May, 1775. This was the first legislative body in Kentucky.

To return to Adam. He settled in Pennsylvania and owned lands there. He came into the Valley of Virginia in 1735. He was residing on the Clinch river in 1749. The Ingles and Drapers settled at Drapers Meadows in 1748. This penetration of the western woods by Adam Harman resulted in the building of the first settlement of a permanent nature on the waters of the Mississippi River. The historian William Eley Connelley, upon being shown certain court records in regard to Adam and his whereabouts on the New gave it as his considered judgment that this was the first permanent settlement on the waters of the Mississippi.

In 1746 Adam and his brother Jacob were on a hunting expedition to the headwaters of the Clinch and Tug rivers. They were accompanied by George Draper and a hunter named McGary. In a fight with an overwhelming party of Shawnees, Draper and McGary were killed.

Wadell's Annals of Augusta county details an Indian robbery of Adam's cabin. This was in 1749. "A party of Indians robbed the house of Adam Harman, probably on the New River, of nine deer skins and one elk skin; the next day six Indians robbed the same house of 14 deer skins and one elk skin; and the day following a number of Indians came and took away 73 deer skins and six elk skins. This shows that Harman was a famous hunter. This is said to have been the first depredation by Indians on the whites west of the Allegheny."

This quotation from Wadell shows most certainly that Adam was a great hunter. It is interesting, too, that the famous Indian fighter and hunter was away from home, probably on a hunting trip.

It was Adam and his two sons who rescued Mary Ingles after her escape from the Indians at Big Bone Lick in 1755. Mary Ingles had travelled hundreds of miles from Big Bone Lick in Kentucky, up the Ohio Valley, up the Kanawha and over onto the headwaters of the New in one of the greatest records of physical feats by women on the border. She and an old Dutch woman were the first white women to set foot on Big Sandy river. When Mary Ingles hailed to a man using an ax in a pioneer field Adam and his sons were on the alert for Indians. The fact that Adam had built his cabin here on the headwaters of the New saved Mary Ingles' life. Just as the building of Harman's Station in Blockhouse Bottom by his son Mathias, at the mouth of Johns Creek, saved the life of Jennie Wiley.

In 1750 we find Adam in Captain Robert Wade's Company. This of this military outfit seem to have been the protection of the border. Indians were prowling all over the western border of Virginia. Five of the savages came under Capt. Wade's notice and he passed on the news of their death upon them. Adam Harman with his son Daniel and eleven others were sent out to execute the Captain's orders. They intercepted the band at a ford two miles from Dunkard's Bottom. They killed four and a fifth was wounded. Epiles like this made the Harman name a terror to the savages.

Heinrich Adam Herman died on the New River in 1767. John Newton Harman, Sr., the historian, writes of him: "As a pioneer he was first among those who sought a home in the wilderness for himself and family and with his distinguished sons blazed the way for his descendants and others to enjoy the comforts and embellishments of civilized life. . . . Peace to their ashes." When old Adam Harman died his son Henry picked up the old Bible of his father and wrote in German: "My father, Adam Harman, died in the fall of the year 1767. The blood of Jesus Christ cleanses us of all sins. My Lord Jesus, yours forever."

It would require volumes to detail the story of the descendants of Adam Harman. His son Mathias built the first settlement on the Big Sandy when he erected Harman's Station at Blockhouse Bottom, near the mouth of Johns Creek. The descendants of Mathias were prominent in the coal development on the headwaters of Tug River. In Tazewell and near the ancestral seat of the family they were prominent. Other Harman emigrated westward and helped build new lands as their forefathers had built Southwest Virginia and Eastern Kentucky.

Daniel Harman, Sr., is the ancestor of the Eastern Kentucky branch. He was son of Adam and Louisa, born in Pennsylvania, as stated. He was present when his father and his uncle (or brother) Jacob when the fight occurred on Tug River and Draper and McGary were killed. He was present when his brother Valentine was killed by the Indians in 1757. He stated afterwards that he was standing within one foot of Valentine when he was killed. Daniel was taken prisoner but escaped.

Daniel married Anna Buehler in Rowan county, North Carolina. He lived there until 1778 when he moved back to Virginia, settling on the Clinch. He made a trip with Peter Harman down the Sandy in 1777. While on this trip they were attacked by a band of 40 Indians but escaped. He died either in late 1810, or early in January, 1820, and his will was probated in Tazewell county.

One of the children of Daniel, Sr., was another Daniel. For some reason he was called Col. Daniel. In 1808 or 1809 (others say 1797) he moved to Big Sandy, settling on Shelby Creek. He killed the last Indian slain on the waters of Big Sandy river. Tradition is that after he died he refused to allow the dead savage to be buried on bottom land. "Take him up on the hill and bury him. Don't waste good land with him," he is reported to have said. Tradition goes further to state that this was Black Wolf, one of the captors of Jennie Wiley. As to that we have no authority except tradition.

Daniel Harman married Rosannah Spurlock and to this union were born five sons: Adam, William, Aquilla, Dow and Mathias, according to John Newton Harman. This Aquilla was the father of Rev. Aquilla Harman who married Louise Keith, Feb. 16, 1858, and after her death married Cynthia Stratton. Aquilla, son of Col. Daniel, was referred to as Old Aquilla, to distinguish him from his son, Aquilla, Jr. The late Will (Square) Vaughan, of Prestonsburg, had distinct recollections of Old Aquilla and was probably the last person in Floyd county to have personal reminiscences about him.

Adam Harman wrote from Cadmus, Lawrence county, Kentucky, to Mrs. Anna Harman Stumbo in one of the finest examples of Spenserian hand on Dec. 3, 1828: "Your father's great-grandfather's name was Colonel Daniel Harman who emigrated from Tazewell county, Virginia, about the year 1797. (This is contrary to what John Newton Harman, Sr., says for his date is either 1806 or 1807). He settled near the mouth of Shelby Creek. . . . His wife's name was Rosannah Spurlock. They had six children, five boys, one girl, viz: Mathias, William, Adam, Aquilla, Dow and Rachel." John Newton Harman does not list Rachel, but we are inclined to believe this writer is correct.

Again on March 17, 1830, he wrote: "My father's name was Daniel J. Harman, born in Pike county, Feb. 23, 1822, died in Lawrence county, Ky., March 6, 1870. Your third great-uncle settled the Blockhouse Bottom and rescued Jennie Wiley. My grandfather's name was Adam Harman and he heard the report of the gun that killed the last Indian in Big Sandy valley."

Old Aquilla's children were Mathias, Robert, Adam, Richard and Aquilla, Jr. Aquilla, Jr., was the father of Daniel O. Harman, the Prestonsburg teacher, and the grandfather of Guy Horn, Floyd county jailer.

The Harman story is one of the best documented of family records emerging from early America, although some work remains to be done on the Eastern Kentucky branch. It is a proud story and is a saga of pioneer America.

Tuberculosis Hospitals May Train Internes

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 15 (SpL)—Kentucky's six state tuberculosis hospitals have been approved by the State Board of Health for medical internship training. It was announced today by Executive Director Joe D. Miller, of the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission.

The six hospitals—including the Hazelwood Sanatorium and the five comparatively new institutions at Paris, Ashland, Glasgow, Madisonville and London—are now operating at full capacity.

The approval for internship training should aid the state materially in procuring doctors with which to operate the institutions, Miller said.
