Cadillac

Wonderful Way to Start the Day!

Well, there he goes, backing out into the challenge of an October morning—and there's no denying that he's off to a wonderful start.

You see, he's at the wheel of a Golden Anniversary Cadillac—and there's no greater life to the spirits than the deep-throated whisper of a Cadillac engine.

It says inspiring things to the man at the wheel.

It tells him, first of all, that life must have gone rather nicely—to take him from where he was—to a place where he owns and enjoys a beautiful Cadillac. Pretty good precedent for a good day today!

It tells him, too—that wherever he drives in the day's activities—the Cadillac crest will pave the way for the respect of the people he encounters.

Yes—he feels pretty good as he turns into the highway, touches his toe to the sensitive throttle, and heads into the adventure of another day.

The miles go softly by... the occasional tick-tick of the electric clock reminds him that he's ahead of time for his first appointment... and he settles back—relaxed and at ease. Nice, nice going!

Many men have told us that the drive to work in a Cadillac is the finest part of the day. Their heads are clear and their minds at ease as they roll serenely along—a wonderful time to think and plan.

Of course, this is only an extra value that comes with a Cadillac; comes in addition to comfort and safety—and dependability and long life—and all the other wonderful things that make this magnificent car the Standard of the World.

Why not come in and see us—and arrange to enjoy them all yourself?

We'd be happy to see you—any time.

MAYTOWN

Every person in Maytown is cordially invited to attend the evangelistic services which begin Sunday morning, Oct. 26, and will continue nightly at 7 o'clock throughout Nov. 2. This evangelistic program will be conducted simultaneously in Methodist churches throughout Kentucky and Tennessee. A guest minister from Western Kentucky will be here for the meetings. The Maytown P.-T.A. held its first meeting of the school year, Tuesday, Oct. 7. Howard Raymond, president, presided in the absence of John Ison, John Crider gave the treasurer's report, reporting $449.18 in the treasury. This included $102 which was realized at the flower show. The members voted to give $100 to the Library and authorized Mr. Gardner to pay any and all old debts. A membership drive is to be made soon, and prizes will be awarded to the room selling most membership cards and to the room with the most parents present at the next meeting. It is hoped that the parents will get behind the P.-T.A. this year and help to make it a success. Those members present voted to help the band this year as their project, and money from the membership drive will go toward the purchase of a saxophone for the band. This instrument is too expensive for a parent to buy alone as the approximate cost is $250. The Maytown band rates high in the county now, and it is up to the parents and teachers to hold them there. The books given by graduates of the Maytown high school were on display in the library where the P.-T.A. met. There were 66 excellent books and $50.25 given by the graduates. Parents are urged to come out and visit the library to see the new books and reserve now up-to-date the library is kept.

The club received $70.12 on this year. The club concluded its library project by reporting 69 books were obtained from graduates, $59.25 was received from the graduates, and the club gave $40.75 of make $100 given to the library. The members rehearsed the skit to be given at the state convention. At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Talant led the group in a round table discussion on "Personalities in the News." Those present were Messrs. John Ison, Raymond Hopsen, Ed Stewart, David Reed, Frank Stewart, Theodore Gibson, Charles Patton, Edward Robinson Jones Talant and James Allen.

The Big Sandy Canal: An Issue 62 Years

(An Editorial from The Courier-Journal)

John Sherman Cooper is on familiar ground when he speaks to the people of Eastern Kentucky. A native of the mountains himself, he knows the mountain people and their needs. He speaks with old knowledge and deep concern of the threat of a declining coal market, the need for improved transportation and the opportunity for development of the area's natural resources. He is right when he points to the Big Sandy Canal proposal as an unparalleled opportunity for developing and improving the economy of the mountains. Mr. Cooper is on no less solid ground when he charges, as he did before a recent Paintsville audience, that the Democrats have neglected the development of Eastern Kentucky. Dewey Dam and Wolf Creek Dam are both located in Eastern Kentucky. Wolf Creek Dam and the resulting development of Cumberland Lake have brought untold benefit to Mr. Cooper's Boone county of Pulaski. Both these projects were proposed, approved and built under Democratic administrations, and largely through the efforts of Kentucky Democrats. Mr. Cooper might also dignify his campaign by admitting that both major parties have failed to capitalize on the opportunity presented by canalization of the Big Sandy River. Proposals to deepen the river into a channel, and thus enable Big Sandy coal producers to ship their coal by water, have been put before Congress periodically since 1890, but successive administrations and sessions of Congress, Democratic and Republican, have failed to approve the project. As a result, Big Sandy producers must pay high freight rates in order to get their coal to market. They often are forced to sell their product at a loss. The Blue Grass Homesteaders of Kenton county bought six tricycles for use as arphagones of the county.

The many friends of the Gibson family are thankful to learn that Theodore was not seriously wounded. Mrs. Shannon Gibson received a telegram last week informing her that he had been wounded in action in Korea. Although the family hasn't received full details, they do know that he isn't hospitalized. Mrs. Ed Sutton, chairman of the Gibson and Clifford Hicks were hostesses to a household shower honoring Mrs. Miles Gibson, Jr., nee, Alta Hicks, Saturday afternoon in the home economics room. Mrs. Hicks was the recipient of many useful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. George Patton, Kathy and Paul, Mrs. Lucy Patton, Glenda Raye, Marcella, and son, David, were visiting in Zionsville, Indiana, last week. Ed Sutton attended the C.I.O. convention in Louisville last week. Those attending morning church services, Sunday, enjoyed a talk by Chalmers Frazier, of Prestonsburg. Mrs. Susan was Misses Ed and all the churches throughout the county.

Mrs. Sid Bailey and son, Jimmie, Augusta, Virgil and Ronald, Rowe, and Lucresse Turner spent the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Richard Wolfe, of Columbus, Ohio. They were accompanied by Mrs. Wolfe's daughter, Susan, who will visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rowe, for a while. Jack Slone and Hillard Hicks, who are stationed with the army at Fort Knox, and Ray Halbert, who is stationed at Norfolk, Va., spent the week-end at home. Mrs. Robert L. Allen, of Wheelwright, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Stapleton. Mr. Allen and T. A. Combs are enjoying a hunting trip in New York. Glenn Ramey and Jimmie Hopsen were overnight guests of Jimmie's aunt in Prestonsburg, Saturday night. Mrs. Henry L. May accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Chaunce Osborne to Lexington last week-end. They visited their daughters, Miss Betty May, who is a student nurse at Good Samaritan hospital, and Holly Pave Osborne, a student at the University of Kentucky. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher May and daughter, Linda June, were business visitors in Lexington, Saturday. Bill Stapleton, who has been stationed at Camp Breckenridge, is spending this week with his parents. He is enroute to Camp Belvoir, Virginia. Joe Webb and Woodie Griffith, of Ashland, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Webb. Those from here attending church at the Canal Baptist church, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. James B. Click, Mrs. Amanda Patton, and Mrs. Julia Conley.

Galatin county homesteaders have obtained 410 gladiolus bulbs for planting this year. In Anderson county, a total of 250 tons of hay had been bought to Oct. 1 through the PMA program. James Patterson of Harrison has produced more than 200 bushels of Kenbar barley for four acres.

Mr. Cooper recalls that he visited the Big Sandy area as a member of a house subcommittee investigating the canal project during the Republican 80th Congress. He should also add, however, that the 80th Congress failed to approve canalization of the Big Sandy, just as the Democratic 79th Congress had failed to approve it. He could also point to the vigorous fight for approval of the canal made by Democratic Senator Garrett Withers the year before. It was the recent efforts of Congressman Carl Perkins. In fact, though the Congressional Record contains repeated speeches and proposals in support of the canal project by Democratic Representatives Wilburn and Clements and Democratic Representatives Perkins, Chief, Underwood, Bates, Gregory and Spence, it does not list any similar effort by Mr. Cooper when he was a member of the Senate. While we regret the failure of these many efforts to achieve the much-needed canalization of the Big Sandy, it should be noted that the refusal of the recent Congress to approve the canal project was largely due to an adverse recommendation by the Army Corps of Engineers.

From 1929 to 1950 the Engineers gave the Big Sandy canal project a highly favorable recommendation, repeatedly listed it among the most economically feasible projects in the nation; that is, one offering the greatest dollar return for dollars spent. In 1950, however, the Engineers' report was unfavorable, citing the increased cost of construction and the declining market for coal as reasons for their opinion that the canal was no longer economically feasible. Representative Carl Perkins, a Democrat, demanded a rehearing and tried tirelessly to persuade the Engineers of their error. On January 24, 1951, however, the Engineers issued another report, supporting their decision of the year before and ending, at least for the immediate future, the chances of the canal project. We believe the Engineers will find, upon careful study, that the canal is of tremendous value not only to the Big Sandy region, but to the entire nation, which needs the Big Sandy's coal reserve in time of critical defense demands for steel and coal production. We trust that Mr. Cooper, instead of blaming the Democrats for neglect, will join them in the future effort to bring this needed development to Kentucky. (Pol. Adv.)

BETSY LAYNE

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Albert Greenwald.

The program was presented by Mrs. R. L. Anderson, who had as her topic, "Our Neighbors in Other Lands." This program emphasized literature, music and art in foreign lands.

Art in the Far East was discussed, with the point being made that Oriental artists strive to depict the spirit and the inner meaning of his subject. An interesting feature of this topic was the showing of a work by an Oriental artist at work, noting his position on the floor instead of at an easel. Mrs. Anderson then discussed the fact that Brazil was represented in the National Academy of Fine Arts. Depicted was the folk music of many lands. Spain led the nation in the number of new services.

Kentucky leads the nation in its member-education program.

In 1953, 3% of the farms in Kentucky were receiving central station power. In 1951, 83% of the farms in Kentucky were receiving central station power.

In 1953, the number of farms in Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence and Martin counties receiving central power was less than 1%. In 1951, through the efforts of REA, approximately 80% of the farms in this area have access to central station power.

Big Sandy RECO, along with 17 others in Kentucky, have gone together to organize THE EAST KENTUCKY COOP at Winchester to generate and transmit their own power. The tentative date set for generating these lines is September 1, 1954.

The Extension Division of the University of Kentucky is urging farmers to use lights in their tobacco stripping rooms. The added light enables the farmer to do a better job of sorting his tobacco. Big Sandy RECO is ready and anxious to assist the farmers and County Agents in making this project a success.

Big Sandy RECO feels the farmer can have greater returns for his money if he will use electricity to brood his chickens and pigs.

To the Older People of Floyd County:

Are They Asking For a Mortgage on Your Home?

Many people have given up the old-age pensions rather than give the government a mortgage on their homes. Had it not been for the older generation Eastern Kentucky would not be developed as it is today. Certainly the younger generation would not have tried to take out a living from our hillside farms like their fathers did.

Our fathers developed this great county. They built their homes and raised their families here. They saved for their old age. Through no fault of their own but because of today's high prices (inflation) they now find their little savings gone.

I feel we of the younger generation owe something to our elders, and I will work to get the mortgage law repealed when you elect me to Congress.

The often troublesome and sometimes downright vicious Louisa Bulldogs never had a chance Saturday night in their encounter here with the Prestonburg Black Cats, leaving the field, bearing the scars of a 40-0 clashing.

This was the game in which every member of the Prestonburg squad got a workout, and they all gave a good account of themselves. It was the sort of game in which several individuals on the winning team look good, but if you picked one of the stars had to be Lowell Hughes.

Anytime a 14-year-old freshman lags the ball for two touchdowns, gains 40 yards in 11 running plays and otherwise dispersal himself by gathering in several passes, he's feature material. And that's what Lowell Hughes did Saturday night.

In the backfield Dixon also shone in scoring two touchdowns, both of which were scored on passes from Delmer Hughes but which required some brilliant broken-field running. Hill, who turned in such an exceptional game against Pikeville, and Chaffins scored the other two touchdowns for Prestonburg. Delmer Hughes, passer and punter, and often a runner, kicked four extra points in six attempts.

D. Hughes started off the game throwing the ball around, first to Dixon for 14 and then a pass play to Dixon good for 41 yards and the first touchdown. After taking the ball on downs then, Dixon was off on a 33-yard run. When the passing game bogged down, Hughes hit Ousley for 10 yards on four running plays, one for 21 yards and the last for nine yards and the t.d.

The third marker was gained by the aerial route with Hughes hitting Ousley for 10 yards, Arthur Lowell for 23 and finally Hill for the 41 yards on this drive, with the first touchdown.

Then back to the ground for the fourth. Lowell, Hughes and Chaffins teamed up on this drive, with the former securing 19 yards to score. The fifth touchdown followed the runs of a 41 and 13 yards by Chaffins, 10 by L. Hughes, and a 21 yard pass from D. Hughes to Dixon which covered 31 yards and crossed the Louisa goal line.

Almost an entire second-string team was on the field when the Cats scored their final touchdown. This one was scored by hand with Chaffins and Shepherd carrying the ball 53 yards on seven plays.

But all that is past. Now for the big game Saturday night, when the Cats meet the undefeated Pirates of Belfry high school in a game which is expected to have a vital bearing on Conference standing. If Prestonburg wins this one, the two teams coming from the Louisa leadership. Jenkins three weeks ago by the matter of an extra point.

Wounded Man's Wife Is Held Under Bond; Claims Self-Defense

Woodrow (Pop) Green was taken to a Huntington, W. Va., hospital Wednesday morning for treatment of a bullet wound in his leg, and by wife, Della Prater Green, was placed under $1,000 bond to answer charges of shooting and wounding. Green was shot in the thigh at the Green home on the Middle Creek road, about 1 a.m., Tuesday, Mrs. Green admitted firing the shot, but she told authorities she did not know the bullet had hit her husband until after daybreak when he called for a glass of water and then rising from his chair to walk, fell to the floor. It was not determined if Green's leg was broken before he was taken to Huntington.

Mrs. Green told Commonwealth's Detective Alex L. Davidson she fired on her husband after he had threatened her and had seized a pop bottle. Chief of Police Bpp Lafayette said he was called to West Prestonburg Monday night when Mrs. Green was reported to have struck her husband on the head with a bottle.

'If You Will Pardon Me,' Cooper Said To Ohioan, 'I'll Vote As I See Fit'

Kentuckian Had Early Brush With Taft But Now Men Are Friends

JOHN SHERMAN COOPER

An event that occurred on the floor of the United States Senate in 1947 gives insight into the character and integrity of John Sherman Cooper, a man thousands of Kentuckians want to re-elect to the Senate this year.

Several of Cooper's early votes did not please members of his own party. Finally, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio rose from his seat and addressed Cooper.

"Are you Democrat or a Republican?" Taft asked. "When are you going to begin to vote with us?"

Cooper answered him in a calm voice. "If you will pardon me, the Kentuckian said, 'I shall vote as I see fit; after all, I represent my people in Kentucky who have sent me here to look after their interests.'"

After this first brush, Cooper and Taft became friends. Although not in agreement on some issues that confronted the 80th Congress, they respected and understood each other.

He is rugged man. Voters are captivated by Cooper's friendly smile, his warm handshake, his durable self-reliance and his personal charm, yet they know that he is a rugged man, too.

For example, he was the first American delegate to the United Nations to obtain an official U.N. condemnation of the Russians for their activities in China.

As a United Nations delegate, Cooper represented the United States in the discussions on the German, Yulenslav, Libian and Chinese questions.

In 1950 he attended three meetings of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in London and Brussels and was the adviser upon the strengthening of the defenses of the United States and the European area. This action moved the way for Dwight D. Eisenhower's SHARP week-end.

Champion Of Farmers

Cooper served in the United States Senate in 1947 and 1948.

of a mountain-country Republican family, was elected to the state legislature when he was 26 years old. He introduced in the Kentucky legislature an act to limit the use of injunctions in labor disputes. Three years before, the United States Congress passed its first legislation protecting the rights of labor.

Two years after he left the legislature, Cooper was elected State circuit judge. He later was elected judge and, in 1933, unsuccessfully sought his party's nomination for governor.

Cooper attended Centre College, Danville, got his bachelor's degree from Yale University and his law degree from Harvard. He played football and basketball at Centre and Yale and was captain of the Yale basketball team for two years.

Entered Army At 41

When he was 41 years old, he entered the Army as a private and served 20 months with Gen. George Patton's Third Army in Europe, being discharged in 1946 as a captain and Bronze Star medalist.

Immediately after the war, Cooper was placed in charge of the reorganization of the German courts in Bavaria and worked upon the reorganization of displaced persons. He received a commendation for his success in preventing the forced return to Russia of thousands of persons who did not want to return.

Cooper was named the "Outstanding Citizen of Kentucky" in 1949 by the Kentucky Press Association and "Man of the Year" by the news staff of Radio Station WHAS. The same honors had been voted the year before by Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

Cooper served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky from 1935 to 1942. He is now a trustee of the Green River College. He is a member of the Somerset Rotary Club, UPW and American Legion. He is of the Baptist Educational Congress, a Baptist and a former member of the Young Men's Christian Association, and a former teacher of the Public Schools of the Baptist church in Somerset. (Pol. ## TO MY FRIENDS, THE VOTERS OF THE 5th EDUCATIONAL DIVISION:

In seeking your support in my race for County Board Membership I want to present you my complete views on the whole situation as I see it.

It is my sincere belief that a Board member should be above all political ties. And one who would not have to depend on the support of anyone who would expect favors for that support. The present method for Superintendents-to-be is that of getting the members HE NEEDS in the board membership and keeping them there. Everyone knows that this practice has been going on in our county for years.

I do not have a Superintendent-to-be backing my attempts to place my services at the disposal of the people whose children I want to help. Neither are there any people who would seek personal gain supporting me, because I would not accept such aid.

Shortly after I came out with my platform the County Board met and reportedly acted upon one of the objectives that I had proposed—that of paying the teachers by check. But they missed the real point. (Teachers like everyone else are entitled to their pay upon completion of their work period.) The Board meets on the following month to agree to pay teachers for the work they have done during the past month. For example: Our schools started on September 2, and the month ended on the 26th. Our present County Board met on the first Tuesday in October which fell on the 7th and agreed to pay the salaries that the Superintendent had prepared. How many of us have to wait 37 days between paydays? And this says nothing about the amount paid which is too little to mention here.

I would like to ask the people of Rosco, and the parents who send their children there, one question. What made the County Board wait until this year to build the school there that you have needed for years? It seems to go back to the old political game: When a certain voting area is doubtful, in the minds of the politicians, they have always managed to put in a road or bridge in that area and now only now are you getting it. Will the assumption now be that (you are satisfied and will cast your vote for those who have ignored you up until now?) I don't think that you, as intelligent people, will be swayed by this undermined gesture that is so obvious.

My platform is Clear and Unmistakable and will function year after year and not just upon special occasions. This I will do as long as you are willing for me to serve you and your children.

- I shall offer as my platform the following proposals:
1. County Board meetings open to the public.
  2. School buildings in A-1 condition.
  3. Teachers' pay according to that prescribed by leading educational leaders.
  4. Teachers paid upon completion of their school month and by check to the teachers themselves.
  5. Immediate erection of fire escapes wherever they are needed.
  6. School bus schedules that will get the children to and from school quickly and safely.
  7. Cooperative planning for the creation of a centralized vocational center to which we can send our youth that usually drop out of school before they have received their diplomas. Many of our young people are unable to go on to college and need to learn some trade that will enable them to make a living after they leave school and are ready to begin their life's work.
  8. Promote better health safeguards in our schools.

Furthermore, I shall seek information from you, the voters, on what you think our schools need and together we can gain all the objectives that can only be gotten through sincerity and determined effort.

YOU CAN BE SURE THAT a vote for me is a vote for the future of all the children in our county.

TO MY MANY RELATIVES AND FRIENDS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I have not been able to see all of the good people of Floyd county personally because of the great size of the Seventh District. To those of you that I have been unable to see, I want to tell you something of myself.

I am the son of the late Cal Clark and Hettie Clives Clark. I married Judy Salisbury, daughter of the late J. P. (Jim) Salisbury and Chadie Halbert Salisbury. Through my family I am closely related to the Hall, Estep, Martin, and Derossert families. Through my wife's family we are closely related to the Halbert, Sizemore, Stumbo, and Allen families.

Your support and influence will be greatly appreciated in the coming election on November 1.

Maryville Pastor at Methodist Church Featuring Laymen's Meet Participation; Youth Rally to Spearhead Kickoff

The United Evangelical Missions begin in Prestonsburg and Floyd county churches Sunday.

At the Methodist Church in Prestonsburg, the guest evangelist-minister will be the Rev. Mark M. Moore, pastor of the Methodist Church, Morristown, Tenn. Dr. Moore is a graduate of the University of Tennessee and Garrett Biblical Institute, of Chicago, and did graduate work at Northwestern University. He is a well-known pastor and author. Dr. Moore will preach his first sermon here Sunday morning at 10 a.m. For the Big Sandy Methodist churches, the initial meeting is a great Youth Rally at Mayo Memorial Church, Pointsville, at 7:30 Sunday night. That meeting will be one of 22 throughout Kentucky and Tennessee, at which it is estimated that over 15,000 youths will be in attendance.

Prestonsburg and Floyd county Methodists are only a part of a program in which over 600 Methodist churches will participate, including nearly 30,000 Methodist people in Kentucky and Tennessee. An outstanding feature of the united evangelistic effort is the lay participation. Over 10,000 laymen have been enlisted to engage in what is called Personal Evangelism, in which the method of Jesus, "sending out the seventy, two by two," is inaugurated. These will make personal approaches and solicitations for Christian enlightenment, a number of teams being in operation while others are at the services at the Methodist Church here, when the whole campaign is ended on Nov. 23, to win over 15,000 persons in commitment to Christ. This estimate is on the basis of other such efforts in recent months.

The slogan of the movement is "Give God a Chance." Leaders of the movement, according to a statement by Dr. Gertrude M. Haggard, "This estimate is on the basis of other such efforts in recent months."

"We have our own ideas about who will be elected President of these United States, come Tuesday after next; also about who should be elected. About one matter, we are quite cheerful, and that is this: We believe that both Presidential candidates are men of the highest type and that this country is fortunate in having the assurance that one such will be the next leader of the country."

TUNE TO WHICH HE MARCHED AS REBEL-BOY WAS FAVORITE OF FAMOUS FEUD-LEADER, HATFIELD'S DAUGHTER-IN-LAW REMEMBERS

"Devil Anse" Hatfield's daughter wanted to hear "Dixie" played on the piano when he visited in his own town and she was 8 years old, at their home, W. V. Boone, his daughter-in-law recalls in a killing mood for her with the family but after talking with the McGraws was over.

"The end-of-the-world and Lind" she said "Anse had a habit of going to see his daughter when we went to milk together he would sit and at the eyes you knew I would stand in with him, for I was afraid of him. He was extra nice to me."

"Devil Anse" must have liked his daughter-in-law that "settled" with him, for he visited her and her husband, Sheriff Johnson, rather often. Whenever he did there was the medicinal plant of "Devil's Fire" Anse was a Confederate veteran and had marched to the tune in his younger and younger days.

She recalls her father's inclination to acquire pets. He had two bears he kept as pets. One died and the other became so tame that it was necessary to kill it. He kept owls and bees and was wont to acquire strange and sunny kinds of animals and fowl as pets.

He liked to hunt wild birds. Once when he found a tree filled with honey he asked Tommison, who was at that time sheriff of Logan county, and Sadio to help him cut it. She remembers well that journey to the hill in 1917 to get the honey.

It was four years before he died.

She says Walter married Tommison Hatfield in 1917 at Charleston. Her husband was elected sheriff of Logan county in 1924 and served four years. Prior to that, he had served as deputy under Don Chaffin Sadio was often in the Hatfield home when those bees were harvested for thousands of dollars one of them the Governor of the state. And when she is not recalling the "feud" she remembers that the Hatfield table was a "standing table" where food was always bounteous.

Tommy's first name was shortened by his father, and Sadio separated and she remarried Melvin Clark of this county. She and Tommison had four sons of their own, two in Logan county, West Virginia and Floyd county, Kentucky. Her former husband was a factory worker in Cleveland, a long way from his native mountain haunts.

The four sons of Tommison and Hatfield are: Tommison Samuel Hat-

field, Zach Anderson Hatfield, Henry Dewey Hatfield, who was named for Governor Semour and Governor Harry D. Hatfield, and Billy Grant Hatfield. All except the latter, who is employed in Detroit, are residents of Cleveland, O.

One cold night in the winter of late 1929 "Devil Anse" went to Logan to spend the night. With him was Tommison and his wife. They stayed at the Aracoma Hotel and the rooms being too warm, they stepped down to the street for a short walk. When they came out into the walk, Sadio noted that the old feud leader's shirt was unbuttoned. She called his attention to it and buttoned it up for him.

"Devil Anse" went home with a cold. He was sick a week, speechless in the last days. But before he lost his ability to talk he asked his daughter-in-law to cut his hair and trim his beard. "The barbers might cut my ears," he said. Before he died she was called to the dying man's bedside. But the old feudist who at one time was the most feared individual in the wilds of Logan and Pike counties was at death's door. What he had wanted to say was never known, for he could only move his lips.

When Anse died there was never such a funeral in Logan county. There were thousands, some say 5,000 people. The railway company ordered two extra coaches on the train out of Logan and these coaches, too, were jammed with humanity. "Uncle" Dyke Garrett, who had served in the ranks of the Logan Wildcats with Captain Anse, presided the funeral. He did a good job of it, too, for Anse had been converted and baptized long before.

COURT DENIES DISMISS MOVE

In Case of Thirteen Accused of Molesting Non-Union Employees

A motion to dismiss the case against 13 men charged with interfering with non-union miners was denied in federal court at Pikeville last week, and the trial was postponed till Dec. 29.

Among the defendants in the case are two former Pike county deputy sheriffs.

The federal grand jury which went into session October 13, returned 37 indictments during the day, most of them for minor liquor violations.

Among the indictments was one of five counts against John W. Moore and Algie Fonso Belcher, alleged operators of a liquor store at Elkhorn City, the one legally set up in Pike county.

The indictment charges them with engaging in business of a wholesale liquor dealer without exhibiting a sign as required by law, failing to keep daily records of sales of distilled spirits, and purchasing for resale at wholesale, distilled spirits without having a basic permit.

At the opening session of court Ex-Congressman J. May, Prestonsburg, introduced to the court a newly licensed attorney, Hollie Conley.

At the Gallatin county fair, home-makers exhibited electrified lamps and shades they had made.

The Elkhorn and Knappa 4-H Clubs gathered about 10 bushels of yellow poplar tree seed for the state nursery, receiving $25.

BAND VISITS SCHOOLS
The Maytown band spent Monday, Oct. 13, visiting four schools: Open Fork, Johnson school, Little Point and Spurlin Branch. The band enjoyed playing for these schools and leading them in several songs. At two of the schools, they were joined by several members of the Auxier Band. They think this is an excellent plan to show cooperation and good spirit between the schools. Mr. Elliott, Floyd county music supervisor, accompanied some songs with the Auto Harp. Mrs. Patrick, music teacher, went with the band.

The Daughters of America initiated a large group into their organization last Thursday evening. The Wheelwright Lodge helped in the initiation. After the meeting refreshments were enjoyed.

Miss Ethel Hayes, who is employed in Cincinnati, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hayes. She was accompanied by Mrs. Edith Wise and daughter, Rosemary, who live in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonze Patton, of MacArthur, Ohio, and Mrs. Amy Green were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jim B. Chick recently.

TO THE TAX LEAGUE MEMBERSHIP:

Two of your members, to-wit, Stacey Salisbury and Polk Saunders, recently called at my office in Hindman and requested that I pay back $2,400.00, which their figures showed that Floyd county paid me during the time that I served Floyd county as Commonwealth's Attorney.

This was certainly a surprise to me. Floyd county has paid the Commonwealth's Attorney for many years above and in addition to that compensation allowed to him by the Commonwealth.

Section 98 of the Constitution of Kentucky reads in part as follows:

"The compensation of the Commonwealth's Attorney shall be by salary and such percentage of fines and forfeitures as may be fixed by law, and such salary shall be uniform in so far as the same shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and not to exceed the sum of $500 per annum; but any county may make additional compensation, to be paid by said county."

Section 69.010 of Kentucky Revised Statutes, which was the statutory law during the first 4 1/2 years that I was honored to be your Commonwealth's Attorney, reads in part as follows:

"Each Commonwealth's Attorney shall receive an annual salary of $500, to be paid out of the State Treasury, in addition thereto and in lieu of all taxed fees and perquisites he shall be allowed the sum of $4,500 per annum out of the fines and forfeitures rendered in favor of the Commonwealth in the several courts in his district to be paid monthly out of the fines and forfeitures collected and paid into the State Treasury for any one year, BUT THE FISCAL COURT OF ANY COUNTY MAY ALLOW THE COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY FOR THAT COUNTY ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION AS IT DEEMS PROPER, TO BE PAID AS OTHER CLAIMS AGAINST THE COUNTY ARE PAID."

When I took office as Commonwealth's Attorney in Floyd county the Floyd fiscal court had been paying the Commonwealth's Attorney $1,500 per year under the above law.

During the first few months that I served in Floyd county as Commonwealth's Attorney the matter of paying me was discussed by me and members of the fiscal court. They were newly elected, as I was, or three of them had been re-elected. They desired to do the right thing. They felt that I should be treated as Commonwealth's Attorneys had been treated in the past. I felt the same about it. I was at your service in the investigation and prosecution of crime at all times. This I would have done at my own expense if the court had not been willing to help.

I have never desired to be unfair, or selfish, or unfaithful in any trust given to me by the people. I wanted to do justice to everyone when I was in Floyd county. You of course realize that I was required to be out certain expenses in order to adequately carry on the duties of the office. It was necessary for me to be away from home. It was necessary for me to help investigate crime, and to visit the scene of all major crimes; we had a lot of that after the war. I attended the Circuit Court and the examining courts, and at times I was called upon to attend other courts outside Floyd county in order to serve the citizens of Floyd county. I worked hard and tried to do a good job.

When I was elected County Judge, here, Knott county had been paying the Commonwealth's Attorney $600 per year. This was cut to $300 per year. The war was on, and many people were away. There was not much crime, and not much expense to the attorney. Some members of our Knott fiscal court wanted to cut out this payment entirely, but in view of the above cited law, and the precedent set years previous by our court, and according to my sense of fairness to the then Commonwealth's Attorney and his willingness to come into our county at any time and go into any part of the county and investigate a crime, and for the good of better law enforcement to the people, I felt that we should continue to at least pay him enough to take care of his expenses. Therefore, the fiscal court of Knott county voted to pay him $300 per year for that purpose.

During the year 1946, the first year I was Commonwealth's Attorney, and after I had served for several months, I went before the Floyd fiscal court, and suggested to them that $50.00 per month, or $600.00 per year, would reasonably take care of my expenses during the time that I was required to work for the people of Floyd county, and that if the members of the court were satisfied to allow me that amount that I would be perfectly satisfied. You see that Floyd county is nearly three times larger in population than Knott county, and ordinarily has three times as much work for the Commonwealth's Attorney to do. I didn't want any more. I wanted to be consistent with what I had stood for as Knott County Judge.

If I had asked for more, I feel sure that it would have been agreeable with your court. The members appeared to feel that I was very fair about the matter. They unanimously agreed to allow me $600 per year as above related, and did pay me from time to time by vouchers and checks out of the county treasury for four years and eleven months in the sum total of $2,950.00.

Do you honestly and sincerely believe that they did wrong, or that I did wrong?

I understand that the Floyd fiscal court is now paying $1,200.00 per year. Of course, all salaries have been raised by a Constitutional Amendment and the Legislature; it is strictly legal. The cost of living is up. He is capable and in my judgment will work hard and do a good job. He deserves it.

But the point is that the gentleman who served just before me received $1,500.00. I received, at my own request, $600.00. The gentleman for the term just after me is receiving $1,200 per year. Does this appear unfair on my part, or on the part of the members of the fiscal court who allowed that amount to me?

I am the only Commonwealth's Attorney out of the last four such that Knott county has had that said Knott county did not pay anything.

You see, my compensation wasn't raised during my term, but was actually lowered. All officers have been allowed necessary expenses to conduct their offices. If it were otherwise, some could not have operated.

In the case of Commonwealth et al. vs. Coleman County Attorney, 245 Ky. 673, our Court of Appeals said: "Of course a salary to him of five thousand dollars per year, and his reasonable necessary expenses can not be touched by anyone." This was a case wherein the state and a county were lawing with each other and the said County Attorney Coleman over which was entitled to the excess fees collected by the County Attorney.

In the case of Manning vs. Sims, 308 Ky. 587, the Court held that the allowance of reasonable expenses incurred by public officers in the discharge of their official duties is neither a salary, compensation, nor an emolument of their office within the meaning of the (then) five thousand dollar limitation as provided by Section 246 of the Constitution.

I feel that the fiscal court of your county was both legally and morally justified in allowing and paying me as above set out. I feel that I earned every dime they paid me. I hope that others will try as hard and be as true to the faith put in them in whatever responsibility that comes to them whether they be a public official or a member of some organization formed to do good among men.

I have served as a public official for nearly 15 years. During that time I have come in contact with many public officials. I have worked with two different groups of your county officers. I have always found most officers ready to help anyone and eager to do a good job; and in what association I have had with them, I always found them honest. You know, I think honesty is the first qualification of any official, and furthermore, I don't want anyone anywhere in any position for any purpose, who is not honest, fair in his judgment, and sincere in purpose. A person in your organization, who doesn't have those qualities will do you and the people harm instead of good. I believe in upholding the right wherever you find it, as well as destroying that which is wrong.

Maybe sometimes it is just a little harder to do the job than it is to look on and tell the other fellow how it should be done. I feel sure that you can do some worthwhile work in your county. There is always room for improvement.

Good citizenship always makes for good government. I hope your work is very successful and all for the benefit of the good people of your county.

We all love and respect our great American institutions, but sometimes, some of us might be just a little too ready to jump to conclusions, and abuse our right of freedom of speech before we look into the situation and find out the truth.

Very truly yours,

Something for Us All

THOSE of us who look across the hills and far away for something good, out of the perverse nature of things and out of our own cynical natures write off the Passion Pageant which already has distinguished the town of Martin and which could make Floyd county better and more favorably known than any other part of the Commonwealth. The tremendous possibilities of the Pageant were hinted by the great crowds which gathered on two occasions for the initial presentation of the Pageant last year. The bare statistics for that initial performance show this event drew the largest crowd, had the largest cast and more scenes than any other pageant at its outset.

Last year, the Pageant was almost entirely a one-community venture. While some of us doubted, others worked—and succeeded. This year the community of Martin is naturally the center of interest, but surely all parts of the county will join in the continuance of a monumental work so well begun.

This work is now under way. It is a tremendous undertaking, and long months of preparation are necessary for the climactic effort of next Easter.

The value of the production is difficult to assess. Its spiritual significance, of course, comes first. The Easter story of the death, burial and resurrection of Christ is at once the inspiration and the hope of Christendom. Then there is the cultural value of the Pageant, based as it is on the Bible, the masterpiece of literary masterpieces. These values have already become so well recognized by others that Dr. H. L. Posovan, president of the University of Kentucky, has accepted an invitation to speak at the coming presentation; and the first presentation drew visitors from out states.

Turning to the materialistic side, one could enumerate the influx of visitors which surely will result from the Pageant; the money visitors spend for food, gasoline and the like. We have long talked of tourist attractions. This is one, a great one.

The Mountain Passion Pageant Club has only recently been formed. A membership drive throughout the county will continue through November. A dollar for a membership is cheap to any public-spirited citizen who believes in promoting the good and the beautiful in Floyd county.

This is not an appeal for money for this enterprise. It, rather, is an appeal to the finer instincts of Floyd county's people.

TELLS A STORY...

Every month our employee magazine contains one or more pages of pictures of telephone employees who have been promoted to management. That speaks well of employee opportunity in the telephone business.

Management jobs at Southern Bell are filled by promotions through the ranks. Last year there were 819 promotions to supervisory positions. There were also 5,834 promotions to higher non-supervisory jobs, and 615 promotions to higher management positions.

This policy of opportunity and recognition for the individual employee means good management and better telephone service for you. Coupled with good pay, fair treatment and one of industry's best employee benefit programs, it explains why more than half of the employees we had 20 years ago are still with the Company.

Eighth District: Democrat: W. D. Seaf, Republican: James S. Golden, Pineville.

Judge of Court of Appeals, Fifth Appellate District: Democrat: James W. Cammack, Oxenton, Republican: James W. Cammack, Oxenton (unopposed).

Interest in the coming election appears high on the part of servicemen seeking absentee ballots being received at the Secretary of State's office.

Personnel of the office now handle requests of upwards of 100 ballots a day for absentee ballots—all of which are transmitted to the County Clerk where the voter is a resident. All requests must be in the hands of County Clerks by 10 days before the November election and the ballot returned by the voter to the clerk by election day, O'Connell said.

"While the law requires absentee ballots to be handled through County Court Clerks' offices, most military personnel use the army blanks that are addressed to the Secretary of State and are then forwarded to the county clerk by this office," said Charles K. O'Connell, Secretary of State.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Times:
"To live democratically you must vote," say the Girl Scouts.

Do you remember the last time you voted? You had listened to all of the facts, rumors, accusations, etc. from both sides. There was a camaraderie as you stood in line with your neighbor waiting your turn. Many you hadn't seen since the election before, and you were happy that they were there too.

"Then—"you're next". The door close and you're on your own alone and free. Your heart gives an extra beat as you carefully study your ballot. No one could influence you further, no one could know your decision. You, just you, one single citizen, in privacy, in freedom, and with no possibility of coercion, you came out of the booth and put your ballot in the box and you felt strong and satisfied that you had had your say. At that moment you felt the strength of America. Your heart went out to those in certain lands who, if allowed a vote at all, must vote as they are told.

But you are free to vote, and to vote for the candidate of your free choice—to take part in self-government. That is the privilege of U. S. citizens. If you do not vote, you feel a part of America's future. There is really no feeling like it.

If this feeling has been yours in the past, it can be yours again on Nov. 2 together we shall decide the course our country is to take and to influence other nations during the coming years. So vote—vote that we, the Girl Scouts of America, can truly say, "Government of the people, by the people, for the people" shall not perish from the earth. "Make Democracy Live."

Girl Scouts will be available to help handicapped voters on election day. There will be detour plans published in The Times.

Mrs. Cook Appears On Foreign Languages Program at Morehead

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 15 (Sp.)—Mrs. Cora T. Cook, Prestonsburg high school language teacher, took part in the second Mountain Interstate Foreign Languages Conference at Morehead, Oct. 17 and 18.
Mrs. Cook addressed a seminar on the teaching of modern languages on the first afternoon of the conference. "Romance Languages Can Be Romantic," was her topic.
Five states—Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina—were represented at the conference, according to Mrs. Beth Bracy, chairman of the conference, and instructor Spanish at Pikeville Junior College.

Mrs. Mary I. Spillman, German instructor at Pikeville, also spoke at the modern-language seminar on the subject, "And Why Not for Fun?"
The "foster father" of the conference, Dr. Jonah W. D. Skiles, head of the Department of Ancient Languages of the University of Kentucky, spoke twice. He addressed the group on "The Foundations of Western Civilization," and presented a summation of the conference just before its close.

A front page of the paper stated this week that the City Board of Education of Ashland had been notified that high school youngsters caught shoplifting would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. That is as it should be. But what a pity when youngsters organize for crime to the extent that it becomes a racket. Only recently one Floyd county teacher remarked that a group from one school here once returned from a skip day thrilled with loot they had removed from the dime stores while on their trip. And then we wonder what is wrong with youth today. And parents say, "We have to let our kids go with the crowd, you know." And plenty of them are doing just that. If the crowd robs a bank at 4 in the morning we have to let our kids go with them. If they jump over the fence, a gate below, pull a sheep, like sheep, ours must keep pace with the gang, we say; otherwise, the little darlings may develop an inferiority complex, according to some experts, and that would be too bad!

Local Committeemen Discuss Farm Plans Possible for 1953

The community committeemen of the PMA met in the local office here Saturday, Oct. 11, to discuss farm matters, chief of which was a discussion of farm practices for the next year.
Lack of interest in the preliminary farm plan discussion was evident when only 12 committeemen out of the total of 24 appeared. Left Beaver community was not represented by Bill Pruitt, of the Abbott Creek community, who died recently, was represented by an alternate.

Alex Spradlin, secretary of the PMA, pointed out that the farm plans for 1953 are not made in the office here but are formulated on the farm between the farmer and his local committeemen. "The ultimate decision as to the practices to be followed is a matter for the farmer to decide," he added.

Study of the Kentucky 1953 ACP Handbook Outline here will be followed by the local committeemen contacting individual farmers on the next few plans.

He was born Feb. 14, 1892, the only known body buried in the Breaks.
Fred and Rutha Tackett attended church on the head of Mud Creek. A large crowd was present.

It's high time parents, teachers and juvenile authorities cease being swayed by foolishness. America needs to return to the old-time mode of discipline and child-rearing in the home, in the schools and in the nation, with a little old-fashioned remedy applied now and then where it will do the most good.
In reality, there is nothing wrong with our young folks except they are being brought up for the most part by a generation of fathers and mothers who have practically forgotten God. We have discarded former conventions and sane standards of conduct till it is a miracle that delinquency is not much higher. The only way to avoid being lured is to keep as far as possible from the fire, and instead be surrounded with temptation constantly, and the majority of parents do not even bother to get the right example of going to God's house and putting Him first.

A word concerning the Passion Pageant, which has been buzzing again. Board of Directors meet Sunday at 3 p.m., in the school building. Associate directors, coaches, and any one else invited to attend. Anyone wishing to take part in the 1953 performance should notify some parent-teacher immediately. Most rules remain the same as those of last year. Everyone is requested to be at the hill in costume on Sunday, Nov. 2, at 2 p.m., for more pictures. Standby can serve for absences.

Women over the county who read this column are asked to ransack their cupboards for remnants of velvet, satin, ribbon, lace, fringe, braids and similar items that can be used by the costume makers for turbans, etc., any size or length okay. Mail them to Mrs. Wade Mahood, Martin. This kindness will be appreciated immensely. Please repeat this request to those who might respond, for it will be a big help.

Pageant postcards will be on sale before Nov. 1, with the April 19th date of the Pageant listed. Any store, high school senior, group or interested persons wishing to sell them may order from Dr. Wade Mahood, at cost, $3 per 100, and sell them and retain profit. These retail for five cents each. Christmas cards will likewise be available soon, and parties selling them retain all profit. The sole purpose is not to commercialize the pageant but to advertise it, hence the pageant itself seeks no profit from the sale of these cards.

In Clark Anniversary

Chalmers H. Frazier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, and Miss Charlotte Salisbury, also of Prestonsburg, have been appointed to the state-wide committee for the celebration of the George Rogers Clark Bicentennial Anniversary. They will serve as co-ordinators for the programs that will be held during the week of November 19 by the organizations in this county.

Many citizens of Kentucky joined in a movement to celebrate the 200th anniversary of Clark's birth. This movement was given state recognition when the Kentucky Legislature, in the last assembly, passed a resolution which directed Governor Wetherby to proclaim the George Rogers Clark Bicentennial Memorial Week including November 19 and to appoint a committee to plan and execute a program to memorialize the greatest of all Kentucky pioneers.

Statewide organizations, and their local affiliates in this county, such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Woman's clubs, patriotic groups, Parent-Teachers, and the schools, will join in commemorative programs during the week.

In Perry county, 35,000 pounds of fescue seed were sold to about 1,700 farmers in August and September.

NEIGHBOR STATES
SOCK BIG TRUCKS
FOR OVERLOADING

While Kentuckians know little of enforcement of their state's excellent laws governing highway freight-hauling, newspapers in neighboring states have recently published a plenty about efforts of highway police and other agencies to safeguard roads and the motorists who pay for them.

The North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles reports that in July, this year, its workers weighed 6,391 trucks, found 438 in violation of the state's weight load limit laws, and collected fines of $18,377.15.

The annual report of the Virginia Highway Department for the year ending June 30, 1951 says the state collected in that year $90,049 in fines against overloaded trucks. A total of 725,000 trucks were weighed. Virginia has 30 portable scales. Weighing is done by the state police. The money collected in fines goes to schools.

In West Virginia, the Division of Enforcement, State Road Commission, reported that from July, 1951, to March, 31, 1952, it caught 2,226 trucks hauling loads in excess of legal limits and collected $80,074.71 in fines and costs.

Indiana caught 700 big trucks violating the weight limits in April, and the Florida Supreme Court has held it is constitutional to seize trucks for violation of its weight and load limit.

The Ohio Highway Patrol, reporting for 1951, showed 7,703 arrests of truckers for overloading, with $21,238 collected in fines, one-half of which went to the highway maintenance fund, the remainder to the city or county in which the law was broken and the arrest made.

State highway officials throughout the nation, aware of the great damage done highways by overloaded boxcars using the roads, have moved strongly in recent months by greater efforts to enforce laws regulating the use of highways by freight trucks, widely called the worst hazard to the life of any type of highway.

"Free Enterprise" at its best

We read and hear a lot about the "free enterprise system" these days. It's the American way of life, and it's certainly the world's best.

But your neighborhood Standard Oil dealer, (who is an independent business man, operating his own business, employing his own help, paying his own taxes), has his own definition of free enterprise.

He's found from experience that the service station operator who has the enterprise to offer extra free services, is the one who winds up with the most customers. That's why, year after year more southern motorists patronize their neighborhood Standard Oil dealer.

PERRY COUNTY CONSOLIDAT'N

Of High Schools Promises New era in Progress; Buildings Cost $1,000,000

Hazard, Ky., Oct. 13.—A long-standing dream of better means of education in the mountain area has been realized with the opening of two new-equipped high school buildings.

Located at central points in Perry county, the two brick-steel structures replace seven old and inadequately equipped frame buildings. The new buildings which cost $1,000,000, offer the latest in educational facilities for the county's 1,000 high school students.

Consolidation of Perry county schools had long been discussed among educators and others interested in bettering education in the county system.

How to get the money was the big problem. But in 1949 the County School Board voted to float a $600,000 bond issue, with the remainder of the cost to be paid from county funds. The structures cost about $200,000 each.

Construction was started in the summer of 1950 and both schools were opened for the present term. They were dedicated recently by Dr. Lorman Gentry, University of Kentucky professor and president of the Kentucky Education Association, and Wendell H. Butler, State superintendent of public instruction. Both structures were designed by Henry A. Spalding, Hazard engineer, and his staff.

One of the schools at Letts Creek is named for M. C. Napier, who retired in July, 1951, after 35 years in Perry county school administration.

It has an enrollment of about 650, and consolidates high schools at Reasman, First Creek, Combs and Hardbury.

The other, at Jeff, was named for C. D. Coon, Education Board member who was killed in a school-bus wreck in 1945. With an enrollment of 350, it replaces schools at Waco and Viper. The names by which the schools were named were leaders in getting them built.

The old wooden buildings, now used as classrooms, are lighted by bare electric bulbs hanging from the ceiling and heated by coal stoves. They have no inside toilet facilities, telephones, separate library laboratory facilities and are badly run down. As high schools their four brick rooms were overcrowded.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"The Old School Path"

This article is being written for the old-timers who walked to school before the days of modern transportation. It began at a farm house, ran through woods, joined other paths, and finally reached a shabby little building, usually on the most unproductive land in the whole community. Along it thronged all the school generation, armed with dinner baskets or buckets and book satchels, and often walking uncomfortably in the shoes that had had a long summer's rest. And back over it in the afternoon came the same irregular hordes, with empty baskets or buckets and with shoes and stockings in their hands, another day of learning achieved.

Now, our school path must have been typical. It went up past the stockbarn, across a field to a tobacco barn, and then into the woods. Those woods extended for miles—rather thin, unimpressive woods; for they had all grown up since the Purchase area had ceased to be a prairie. But to a boy who had never seen anything else they seemed great enough. Along the way we might see squirrels or an opossum, or a rabbit. Birds would sing, too, though I knew the names of very few of them. The path crossed a wet-weather branch, and the water splashed as it swept over drifts of leaves and sparkled over shrubs of ferns. Just like the ones we took to school to help us learn to count. Sometimes we delayed our eager pursuit of knowledge long enough to construct mighty dams in the brook and then had to run all the rest of the way to keep from being late. In late fall there were some pretty sour wild grapes along the path, but who ever heard of a boy's passing up something to eat because it was sour? The hickory nuts were not too good, as most of the trees were pignuts, noted for their prickly kernels. But dogwood berries were on the old path hillsides and were ready-made ammunition for our poptans. And in some places there would be clumps of a woodland variety of goldenrod, and on the hillside the bluest blue asters I have ever seen.

Not far beyond our tobacco barn and the edge of the woods another school path joined ours, the avenue to learning for children who lived slightly up the creek from us. My first speechteacher lived on the farm.

A demonstration flock of 25 New Hampshire chickens owned by Ezra Lentz, of Marshall county, showed a net profit of $312 per bird, and an average production of more than 230 eggs.
