Asked why he didn't observe February 22 as a holiday one book-pusher said: "Let George do it."

HAPPY-THAT'S US
Happily we report that the bill which would have had a second vote to sell fireworks was defeated in the Kentucky Senate. We are equally happy to report that the Floyd County Board has agreed to the bill to start with.

THERE'S HOPE FOR TURNS YET
The generalists like in this section of the state have shown their family style on January's election day and at least one legislator has expressed dismay that the new laws will be getting the day in May has turned T-Gas.

STRAIGHT-UP
Straitlaced Rep. Harry C. Wood, Whitehouse attorney, row in the Senate last week to vote his content.

I am not agreed to anything the Governor has done to see that what the military leader has done to me I am agreed to what the Legislature has done to the tariff crop. I want to see that Governor Chandler vote that dangerous bill on the grounds that it will drive Kentucky agriculture into chaos and result in a sharp decline in the production of turkeys.

WE DO NOT AGREE WITH REPRESENTATIVE CHANDLER
Representative Chandler, however, our guests have managed to adapt themselves to daylight saving time, and this encourages us to believe that we will be able to get around to finishing up about the first week in August, as usual.

THEY FOUND ME AT LAST
I took around on the bank and came up with a parcel of literature from a company advertising a Health Builder. The thing that interests me about the literature is addressed to me at Heavensville where I have not received mail for 25 years.

Wonder how come? It could be that I was back then with little else to do I mailed a coupon to...

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION
By E. B. May, Jr.

No Thinking of shoes of any kind causing flat feet as backward as treating tuberculous by shutting the patient up in a dark arched room. All feet are weak at first and whether they strengthen or not depends upon the exercise of good foot function. Probably the world's worst record of flat feet was compiled by soldiers in military service in World War I. These young men had not worn tennis shoes because they were not popular yet and because their parents were so sure that children must wear stiff shoes to "strengthen their ankles."

When tennis shoes did become popular among the children they were blamed for causing flat feet. The fact was that the stiff shoes were causing flat feet by forcing the foot into a position which was not natural. Blaming tennis shoes for causing flat feet is as wrong as blaming flat shoes for causing flat feet.

Shepherd-Sample Vows Exchanged in New York

Mr. and Mrs. Brady Shepherd announced the marriage of their daughter, Katherine Jean, to Mr. Howard Douglas Sample, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sample, Rochester, N. Y., on February 18. The double-ring ceremony united the couple at 10 a.m. in the Westminster Street Methodist Church in Rochester, N. Y. The Rev. Bowing officiating. Nuptial music preceded the entrance of the bride and her bridesmaids. The bride was escorted in marriage by her father. The attendances were Mrs. Josephine Blackburn, aunt of the bride, and her fiancée, Mr. Paul Sheffer.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of pink satin, with very full skirt and a skirt of narrow nylon tulle to hemline. The fitted bodice had a draped nylon sash over it. The wide bertha was jeweled with pearls and diamonds. She carried a white Bible with a silver brooch of pink camellias. White satin shoes and small satin hat with veil of illusion completed her bridal attire.

Miss Blackburn wore a light blue sheer dress with accompanying corsage of pink camellias.

The bride's mother wore a black and white tulle accessories and pink camellias. The groom's mother wore a brown suit with pink accessories and pink camellias.

After the ceremony a bridal luncheon was served at the home of the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Backman. Mrs. Sample is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school. Mr. Sample was graduated from Rochester, N. Y., high school. They will return to their apartment at 97 Line street, Rochester, after a honeymoon in New York and Washington, D. C. FOX-GASSING WORK BEGUN

Ermination at Dens Begins on Abbott Cr.; Rabies Cases Reported

Fox dens on Abbott Creek were gassed this week under the direction of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources in an effort to destroy the rabid animals.

The gassing program, initiated two weeks ago, is being conducted in the Abbott and Middle Creek sections. Foxes usually hole up to whelp at this time of year and it is an auspicious time to exterminate them, conservation officers say.

A presumably rabid fox was found by Coert Handschke, Salt Lick Creek farmer, Monday morning in his barn when he went to feed it. It attacked Handschke but he was able to load it off and kill it with a plank before he was bitten. Handschke did not know whether his miles were bitten or not. The animal's head was nearly destroyed when killed and was not sent to Lexington for analysis.

A report received here Wednesday said that a rabid dog had bitten three persons at Wheelwright, but details could not be procured. A cat, that had bitten a person at Wheelwright, was found to be rabid two weeks ago when an analysis was made by the state laboratory at Lexington.

Neighboring Johnson county was disturbed about the rabid fox situation there to hold a meeting of farmers, health officials and others at the courthouse and make plans to control the gradually increasing incidence of rabies in foxes and livestock. Five foxes and three dogs within the last two weeks have been diagnosed as rabid. Dr. Paul H. Hall, chairman of the Johnson county Health Department said. Three persons are taking anti-rabies treatment, he added. Lawrence county, one of the worst hit in Eastern Kentucky, is now going in to the fourth month of the epidemic. Extermination by gassing started this week. Health officer Tom Ball says that one person was bitten last week by a rabid fox and four head of livestock died last week from the disease. A total of approximately 50 persons have been bitten or exposed to rabies and 25 head of cattle have died since the rabid animals invaded the county, Ball says.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has declared the existence of an emergency and opened the season on red foxes until Nov. 15. Neighboring counties in which the ban on killing red foxes was lifted, besides Floyd are Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Magoffin, Perry and Pickens.

The tragedy. In all major points the statements concurred.

Officers quoted Donald Lee (Buddy) Robinson, step-grandson of the victim, as saying the three men drove off after he told them they had hit Collins. He said he yelled and the car stopped, that he then said his grandfather had been hurt. "We'd better get away from here," one of the men in car then said, the boy claimed.

Questioned by County Attorney John Conley, they said they left the bus station here early in the evening, drove "real slow," talking, going directly toward the town and toward the school. "I thought we hit something," Stone had a couple of drinks," they passed an oncoming car, they thought the object they had struck might have been a dog.

Coroner James J. Carter said blood where the man was hit was on the surface part of the highway, about two feet from the edge. He also said Collins fell seven or eight feet from the road surface.

Collins' right temple was crushed and there was a compound fracture of his right leg. He was dead on arrival of an ambulance.

A carpenter and well-known in Prestonsburg, Mr. Collins was a son of Sherman and Louise Bowling Collins. He was a native of Oil Springs, Johnson county, but had resided in the vicinity of Prestonsburg most of his life. He was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church and was a past noble grand of Prestonsburg Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

His surviving are his widow, Mrs. Betty Jean Robinson Collins, two daughters, Sarah Ann Collins and Mrs. Jack Poe, both of West Prestonsburg, one son, Farley Gibson of Michigan, three brothers, Henry, Nelson and Howard Collins, all of Prestonsburg, and two sisters, Mrs. Lottina Morgan Prestonsburg and Mrs. Edna Dixon of Estill.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the auspices of the Order of Odd Fellows, with the Rev. Sam P. Henshaw officiating. Burial in West Prestonsburg cemetery was under the direction of the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home.

New Jersey is producing and shipping more than 100,000 gallons of the Golden State.

The girl he said had been in contact with her father from a last night. She became her mother in the girls presence had told a bus driver her child was missing. "That she actually is in order to save a few cents on the fare."

Judge Stumbo and Mr. Burckett also discussed the part juvenile court plays in delinquency cases and the problem that face a juvenile court judge in this county. With a trained worker available the judge is confronted with a choice of one or two steps.

Dismiss the charge against the juvenile and send him home possibly to commit a more serious crime; 2. Convert the juvenile and prohibit him from returning to school until he can find employment later, now that court records are demanded by many employers; 3. Convert him and send him to the state reform school for a post-graduate course in crime.

God-fearing parents, church, parental supervision of children, an honest public opinion, deeper interest of churches and school in the problem—these were among the possible solutions discussed.

The Rev. McMillen expected that the Rev. St. Michael's, who were asked the cause of delinquency cases, "It is from a lack of supervision by the parents. He also quoted two noted jurists who have the church the No. 1 spot in preventing as well as eradicating juvenile delinquency.

Thus discussed as possible contributors to juvenile delinquency locally were drive-in theatres and lack of control of parking at night at Dewey Lake. Poolroom gambling was cited as a cause of delinquency among boys.

JUDGE CANNOT VOID PERMITS

For Running Roadhouse After Liquor Conviction, Attorney General Rules

County Judge Henry Stumbo is without authority to revoke a roadhouse permit on the sole ground that the owner or manager has been convicted of violation of the local option law...

Commenting on the opinion, Judge Stumbo said: 'Although I do not have the right to close these places because of a conviction on a liquor charge, any citizen, the Sheriff or the County Attorney can file a petition to close such a place and upon a hearing I will close it all where to evidence justifies action of that sort.'

The opinion from the office of the Attorney General was written by William F. Simpson, assistant, who said that although violation of the local option law does not give the County Judge the right to close the place of the person convicted on that charge...

Thirteen—Unlucky Number, Also Disgraceful

Two of the three men in the automobile which killed an elderly man here this week have admitted they had been "drinking a little."

Of course the driver did not intend to kill the old man. But the old man is dead, and that is what matters.

One wonders if many auto victims do not lie uncomförtably close to the doors of officers and officials who fail to crack down on drinking drivers as well as drunk officers.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the President of the United States as Executive Order 10467 has designated the period February 17 through 25, 1956, as National Brotherhood Week...

WHEREAS this is the twenty-third consecutive annual observance of Brotherhood Week sponsored by the National Conference of Christian and Jews...

WHEREAS in the churches and in our 1800 communities of this county citizens are joining together to promote the ideals of justice, unity, understanding and cooperation in civic matters...

NOW THEREFORE I, Harry Sandberg, Mayor of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, do hereby, proclaim the period February 19-25, 1956, as BROTHERHOOD WEEK and call on all our citizens...

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of Prestonsburg, Kentucky to be affixed this 14th day of February, 1956.

Aged Lackey Woman Succumbs At Martin; Rites Held Wednesday

On the overall transportation cost for coal shipped to market, it is held.

Elk Horn Coal Corporation, which last year closed its Wayland operation, is one of the sections' largest owners of coal lands.

A spokesman other than Mr. Goldsmith said that construction of the Greenup dam and of other river improvements to the north on the Ohio River will mean improved possibilities in the future of moving coal by river to Pittsburg.

Revenue stamps on the deed filed at the office of the Boyd County Clerk at Catlettsburg indicated the site sold for $60,000.

The tract lies west of the Ashland Oil & Refining Co's Cumberland Terminal and is near the west city limits of Ashland.

SMITH NAMED DRIVE HEAD

Floyd's Red Cross Quota Set at $9,300; Renewal of Blood Program, Hope

Blaine Smith, of Prestonsburg, has been named chairman of Floyd Chapter's 1956 campaign for funds for the American Red Cross. It was announced this week.

The Red Cross fund goal in the county this year is $9,300—$900 more than the 1955 goal. Over the nation the amount needed to meet a year of unusually heavy disaster exposures is $250,000,000, which is $4,000,000 above the 1955 quota.

Mr. Smith, the new drive chairman for the county, moved here from Wheelwright where he was for years connected with the inland steel company.

The 1956 fund-raising drive will be Floyd Chapter's last attempt to get back into the Red Cross blood drive. In the future during the coming drive will mean that the Chapter will forget the matter. Miss Ella White, executive secretary of the chapter, said.

To become eligible for blood program participation, the chapter would have to raise $1,000 in addition to the quota of $9,300.

"During the past 75 years the American people, through the Red Cross, have assisted their neighbors in about 6,000 disaster relief operations."

Mr. Smith, who is a member of the American Legion, said that the chapter would have to raise $1,000 in addition to the quota of $9,300.

The biggest single item in the ARC budget is $25,588,800 for the traditional services to members of the armed forces and their families here and abroad, and for the millions who are war veterans and their dependents.

Second largest item is $12,696,400 to pay the cost of collecting funds for civilian and national defense needs, and for research in new uses of blood products. Countless lives have been saved by the 46,000,000 units collected since the program began in 1948.

A sum of $22,800 is budgeted for disaster relief operations in the coming year, this being based on a 10-year average. However, much more may be needed as was the case during the current fiscal year when more than $20,000,000 was spent assisting disaster victims.

Floyd 4-H Club Council To Meet at Allen School

The Floyd County 4-H Club Council will meet Friday, Feb. 24 at the Allen grade school at 7:30 p.m. Plans will be made for carrying out the Spring Rally Program, which will be held March 17. Also the Robuck strawberry project has been deferred to Floyd county again this year, and plans must be made for selecting club members who are to receive plants.

ter, Mrs. Tom Blankenship, at Gordon Ford, near West Liberty. One of her husband's shots struck Thomas in the leg.

Jealousy is believed to have been the motive for the shooting. Sheriff Aaron Adams, of Morgan county, quoted Endicot as saying he had warned Thomas earlier Saturday that he did not want to see them together again.

The woman and Thomas apparently had driven to the Blankenship home together in the cab. Sheriff Adams said Endicot told him his wife had been "keeping company" with Thomas.

The Endicotts at one time operated a restaurant in Prestonsburg. The husband is a man of about 55. Both the husband and wife are natives of the level section.

The shooting victim was a daughter of Mrs. Maggie Lewis, of Banner, and the late George Lewis. Surviving are one son, Denise Lewis, and four daughters, Dorothy and Arminia Lewis, both of Morgan county, Mrs. Barbara Foley, Dayton, O., Mrs. Eugene Blackburn, of Detroit, four brothers and five sisters.

Mark Lewis, of Ivel, Rudolph Lewis, of Banner, Wheeler Lewis, of Mare Creek, Harold Lewis, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Martha Ingram, Jackson, Ky., Mrs. Verma MacRichmond, of Ivel, Bonnie and Amy Lewis, both of Mare Creek and Mrs. Mary Wright, West Prestonsburg.

The body was taken to the home at Ivel of her brother, Mark Lewis, where funeral rites were conducted Tuesday by the Rev. Isaac Stratton. Burial in the family cemetery was made under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

HEAVY VOLUME IS FEATURE OF LEGISLATURE'S WORK

Kentucky's General Assembly turned out a much heavier volume of work during the first 33 legislative days of its recent session than for any comparable period in 1954. A study by the Legislative Research Commission disclosed today.

The records show this to be a study compared with 20 in the working legislative session, rather than one given in the adjournment," said Lieut. Gov. Harry Lee Wackerell, commission chairman. It has attempted to turn out its work with reasonable dispatch and meet the practical necessities upon a General Assembly to submit and discuss bills.

During the 1955 session 709 bills were offered during the period in

How Much Debt Can You Afford?

(From The Reader's Digest)

Is your debt higher than you can afford? To assess your debt capacity or the soundness of your debt, and check it with the rules of professional credit men as set forth in March Reader's Digest article condensed from Changing Times.

First, list your debts or prospective debts. Forget your mortgage. Re-pay charge accounts, business loans, monthly items such as utility bills, but include payments on personal loans, installment plans, car home-maintenance and improvement loans. Then consider these yardsticks by which credit men determine safe ratios of debt to income:

1. Total debt should not exceed 29 per cent of annual income. A family with $4000 in take-home pay should limit its debt to about $1190.

2. The total you owe should not exceed the amount that you produce every month. Income could pay off in 18 months. By this yardstick the debt limit of the same $4000-a-month would be $40 times 18, or $720.

3. Your debt should total no more than one-third of your annual disposable income. Income tax and interest on food, clothing and shelter. If the $4000-a-year family spends $1300 on these essential, disposable income is $2700. Debt limit by this yardstick is $810.

The three yardsticks thus yield a conservative debt range of roughly $800 to $1190—near the $1000 mark the conservative for the $4000 family. Young men with pressing needs and prospective higher earnings must stretch the limit. Those with unusually high rent or mortgage obligations should play safe.

Credit experts warn that installment payments exceeding 25 percent of monthly take-home are limit loads. The risk should be spread by owing no single creditor more than ten percent of monthly income. Car payments, however, are noted. Car loan payments may easily be 15 to 30 percent of monthly salary.

Use your charge account for a convenience, not as a device to spend next month's income before you get it. Credit's real use is for emergencies or necessary equipment—a new refrigerator rather than a fur coat.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

COLEMAN GETS DAILY SPACE
It is quite interesting to watch the daily newspaper sports-writers comment about the scoring feats of Wayland's Kelly Coleman. Virtually all of them devote a great deal of space to his play, but all write with some reservation, such as: "In this modern day of basketball, with the emphasis on offense, Coleman is undoubtedly the greatest of the era. Another says: "It's hard to make a comparison with players of five years ago, because of rule changes."

Yet, other players are adjudged by today's rules and standards with no mention of the play ten years ago. We are playing by today's rules, and we must judge that player on the same the way it is played now, not five or ten years back. The player in question is playing now, not then.

It is our contention that Coleman is the greatest all-around player in Kentucky high school circles today (without any reservation). His record proves it as far as his high school efforts are concerned. If he possesses his play in college, we will make his future actions on that basis, not with some college player of five years ago.

REGIONAL RATINGS
Elsewhere on the sport pages of this issue of the paper, the Regional ratings of last week's district tournament are listed. These ratings are based on our system and the point differences are what we believe the favorite team will win by. They are not designed for any purpose other than to supply the comparative basis of one team's ability versus another.

HOT AFTER MILLS
One of Kentucky's most sought-after basketball players is Derius "Doc" Mills of the Danville, Ky. high school. He has some far in his efforts of land him as to offer position in Hills, Harlan, or DeB. He is the football job at that school next season. If Mills enrolls at the college to further his basketball education.

HIGH WATER POSTONES POISONING OPERATION
The proposed poisoning operation of Deery Lake set for Monday and Tuesday has been postponed by the Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife until the high water recedes. Rumor has it that the lake is to be lowered again with the possibility of more fish escaping that is, the few that might be left in the reservoir.

'Nary a Hair on Sheep's Back' Would Have Been Harmed

By George Reynolds
(In The Lexington Herald)

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 19—Here's a little story that got lost in the shuffle of that last frantic session Saturday of the 1956 regular General Assembly.

"I'm I now, you probably didn't know that the House voted unanimously, if somewhat irrevocably, to repeal the statute dog law. Don't get alarmed until you read the rest of the story.

It concerns John Reed, a rather small and very quiet young man who came down to Frankfort from Canada (in Pike county) with one big idea in mind. And it's about Rep. John Reed's one hour of glory.

Because he wants the public to know about it, and with no disrespect intended, here is the story: John Reed introduced only four bills during the session. One of them was his heart's desire, and the other three never reached first base, but he didn't complain. His one idea was to repeal the dog law.

The bill would allow every home in the state to own one dog without buying a license for it. It was the tradition of the mountain counties, where strict control of dogs always has been viewed as something alien to the season.

Reed plugged for his bill. He got 15 other representatives to co-sponsor it. He fought it through the Ways and Means committee and got it reported and read twice. As long ago as Feb. 6 it was in the Orders of the Day from whence it could be called for a vote at any time.

Reed was very pleased for a while, but somehow a vote never was called on his bill. He strung along with administration bills and voted for his colleagues' proposals. Still nothing happened to HB200.

Then, one dark day, it went back to committee—this time the powerful Rules Committee—and there it lingered. Slowly, Rep. Reed became embittered. Nothing was being done about his bill, he couldn't get a vote until it was reported again.

Early last week Rep. Reed's patience wore out. Solemnly, he two solid days, he sat quietly in his seat until his name was called on the roll. Just as solemnly, he voted "NO" on each and every measure.

Well, a vote's a vote, and so Mr. Speaker, Reed's strategy finally agreed to bring Reed's bill out of committee. Once again it was in the Orders of the Day, and all day Thursday and Friday Rep. Reed could be counted on for a solid "NO" when his name was called.

The actual deadline for passage of HB 200 passed Thursday, because the Senate couldn't act on it after that. But Morgan pronounced Reed a day in court, so to speak, and Reed was happy.

Come Saturday, though, and there was a great long list of bills on the OD board. With one exception they were Senate bills. At the very end, in heavy chalk, was written HB200. Hour after hour, Senate bills came up and got their votes. Reed became impatient quickly. Finally, he got desperate again, and the "NO" votes started again. Morgan surrendered quickly. He said he'd promised Reed he could make a speech on HB 200. He yielded the floor to the gentleman from Pike. Reed left his desk and walked slowly to a microphone out in an aisle. Here's the bulk of what he said:

"I think this is the best bill for the benefit of Kentucky, for the livestock, and for the dog law. Lots of counties don't want the dog law. Last year Pike county didn't turn in but $20 of claims, but other counties had up to $3,000. Pike county don't have hardly no sheep. This bill would harm nary hair on a sheep's back.

"Being it's this late, I know I can't get my bill plumb through. It makes me remember the other day when a teller was telling me he'd been up here for 30 years. I told him I had, too, and he said he thought this was my first time. I told him, 'Yes, but I spent it all in one term.' This bill would just give every home in Kentucky one tax-free dog."

At this point, someone asked what kind of dog that was.

"Any kind," said Reed. "Be it female or he-dog."

Speaker Thomas P. Fitzpatrick then interrupted to ask, "What if you don't want any dog?"

Reed looked up at him and, with solemnity replied, "That's just up to you."

Then Reed asked, "Mr. Speaker, would I have a right for to make a move here?"

Fitzpatrick: "You have the floor." Reed: "Then I want for to make a move for to put my bill 200 on the line for passage."

Fitzpatrick: "I believe a voice vote is in order. All those in favor of House Bill 200 vote 'aye'."

From the floor, from the press section, from the galleries resounded a tremendous roaring: "AYE." The representative from Pike grinned broadly and took his seat.

P.S.—The dog law remains intact; the House could have passed the bill even on the required roll call, and the Senate could not have acted. But whenever you hear someone around Frankfort shout, "Nary a hair on a sheep's back," you'll know what he's talking about.

13 Fatalities Recorded Last Month in Mines; One Killed in Flood

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 23 (Sp.)—Thirteen fatal accidents mine and mines and four in truck mines were recorded in Kentucky coal mines during January. It was reported by John H. Plunk, head of the Department of Mines and Minerals.

Four mine fatalities included two each in Harlan, Malesburg, Perry and Lake counties and one in Letcher. While truck mine fatalities included one each in Bell, Floyd, Johnson and Leslie counties.

Plunk declared that "many of the accidents in 1935 as a result of a lull in the industry is off to a minimum start so far as coal production and number of mines operating is concerned, but the safety program has fallen far behind as evidenced by a sharp increase in fatal accidents."

One fatality is noted to make both sides of the picture a pleasing one," Plunk said in a message to the coal-mining industry. "The first qualification is being concerned with the value of life."

He says that the highest rate ever before occurred in any field. By overlooking just one accident, it is possible that our efforts could be reduced to more than a million dollars. This accident could have meant thousands of dollars loss of members or extra life, any of which would have added some one of a priceless possession."

Plunk announced that examinations by mine inspectors will be held at the Mineral Industries Building on the University campus, Lexington, February 24-25 and March 2-3.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
 (CV 565)
 Henry Clay, Adm'r. Plaintiff vs: NOTICE OF SALE
 Ovie Gunnick, et al., Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the January term, 1935, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder at public auction on the 27th day of February, 1936, at 1 o'clock P. M., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Living and better on Tom's Branch of Buffalo Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky, Tract No. 1, Beginning on a beech tree at the branch; thence straight up the hill to a dogwood and rock on top of the hill; thence heading on Christy Gubler line runs to a black pine on the top of the knob a straight line down the hill to two beeches at the foot of the hill across the beeches and up the other side to a yellow oak; thence down the ridge heading on the ridge line to two sourwoods; thence a straight line to two sourwoods; thence a straight line down the hill to the beginning.

Tract No. 2, Beginning on a beech tree at the Rock Spring near the ridge line; thence straight up the hill with Perry Setzer's line to an oak tree and sawto; thence running up the ridge line to the center of a former line of Jeff Clary, thence with said line to the branch; said line to the branch; thence down Tom's Branch with its meanders to the beginning Rock Spring.

This is excluded from tract No. 2 above the following two tracts: Beginning on a beech tree at the Rock Spring near the branch; thence straight up the hill with Perry Setzer's line to an oak tree and sawto; thence running up the ridge with the center to a black oak marked with a knife on four sides; thence down the point to a hickory tree; thence down the hill to a beech tree; straight down the hill to a hickory; thence down the hill to an apple tree standing in the bottom; thence a straight line to the branch; thence down the branch with its meanders to a planted stone near the branch; thence up a branch with its meanders to a planted stone near the branch; thence a straight line to a stone in the side of the hill; thence a straight line to the beginning beech.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 6th day of February, 1936.

MANY INCOME TAX ERRORS ARE LISTED BY DIRECTOR

Many Kentucky taxpayers continue to make obvious errors on their income tax returns, which result in much additional work in processing such returns and the delay of refunds to the taxpayer, according to the director of the Internal Revenue Service, Wm. W. Gray, district director of Internal Revenue, this week listed the ten most common errors, all of which could be avoided by the use of ordinary care by taxpayers in the preparation of their returns. These are:

- (1) The name and/or address of the taxpayer are not clearly shown, and in many instances the address is omitted.
- (2) The return bears a printed signature and is not acceptable to the taxpayer fails to sign the return in any manner.
- (3) Many taxpayers fail to complete Items 12 through 18, page 1, Form 1040 dealing with the amount of tax, the amount of pre-payment credits from payments of estimated tax or withholding tax and the net amount due or overpaid.
- (4) Forms W-2 setting forth the amount of income and withholding tax are not attached to some returns.
- (5) The number of exemptions claimed in Item 4, in many instances does not agree with the number listed in Items 1, 2, and 3.
- (6) Many supporting schedules, such as Schedule "C" and Schedule "D" are received without the related tax return form. This will result in a delay in processing the return and if a refund is indicated will mean a delay in the receipt of such refund check by the taxpayer.
- (7) Many taxpayers are apparently of the opinion that they can file a return merely by submitting Forms W-2 (Statement of Income and Withholding Tax). This is not true, and it is necessary that we return such Forms to the taxpayer for the preparation of the proper income tax return.
- (8) Many delays in processing are caused by taxpayers failing to indicate the district director's office where payments were made on declaration of estimated tax. Any refund or credit reflected on returns of this type are delayed until verification of the error is completed, item 17 (b) is made.
- (9) Many taxpayers claim the wrong exemption, even though the spouse is filing a separate return. Experience shows that this usually occurs when one spouse makes less than $500. This results in a disallowance of the spouse's exemption. It is usually to the taxpayer's advantage in such instances to file a joint return.
- (10) Many errors are made by taxpayers in the amount of contributions and payments on deduction of estimated tax. This is a common error.

THE PROPOSED BANK AT MARTIN

All the capital stock has now been sold and practically every section of Floyd County is represented in this organization and all share holders are business and professional men and school people.

I am truly grateful for the great response I have received in this effort and I can assure each of you that you have made a wise investment and that within a few years you will have received in return all the money you shared in this proposition and that you will receive a steady income from your stock thereafter.

The capital now stands at $200,000.00, surplus $40,000.00 and undivided profits of $60,000.00, making a total of $300,000.00 which will become no doubt within a few years the largest bank in Floyd County. With this set up you will receive a dividend on your stock of 10 or 15 percent the first twelve months.

I wish to thank each of you who have so loyally aided me in this undertaking and I know you will never have cause to regret it.

I am sincerely yours,

It is the one that's going to town in a BIG way. And you'll know what we mean when you take its massive—by any yardstick you choose.

By the pound and inch, it's the biggest bundle of high-powered action and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest priced Series.

By the dollar sign, it's a value so big that Buick outsells every other car in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

But not till you've put this 1936 Buick SPECIAL to the road can you know what a big-time performer it really is.

You'll know it by the instant response and purring might of a 322 cubic-inch V8 engine that's been loosed to new peaks of power and compression.

You'll know it by the flash-away action of a new Variable Pitch Dynaflex* that stops up getaway and gas ruffage in normal situations—and zooms to full-power acceleration for a needed safety surge when you floor the pedal and switch the shift.

You'll know it by your complete mastery of a big car that handles like a dream—steers like a wish—and rides like a cloud in the blue.

BIG—that's the word for this Buick SPECIAL...

BIG—coming, going, or standing still...

BIG—in its stretch-out roominess—in its sweeping beauty—in its solid steadfastness...

BIG, most of all, in the way it makes your money talk...

Students Here Slated To Take Part Saturday In Regional Drama Event

Pikeville, Ky., Feb. 20 (Sp.)—Eastern Kentucky high school students from Floyd, Harlan, Letcher, Perry and Pike counties will take part in the Pikeville Regional Drama Festival on the campus of Pikeville College Saturday.

Sally Hill and Johnny Cook of Floyd County high school students are to be seen in a production of "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams under the direction of Mrs. Cora Tarkenton, school teacher at Prestonsburg. The dramatic groups of from 1900 to five students each will present one-act plays or selections about one-act in length from longer plays. Those receiving highest ratings will be advanced to the State Dramatic Festival at Lexington later in the spring. Dr. A. A. Page, college president and festival manager, said: "The quality of the performances will be Mrs. Ruby Francis Hart, of the University of Kentucky extension division. The six schools entered in the festival, which will be in at 8 a. m. (EST) Saturday, are: Bell Co., Buchanan, Floyd County, Prestonsburg, Hazard and Whitesburg high schools and Pikeville College Academy."

Members of the Prestonsburg FFA Chapter this week are celebrating FFA Week, and various activities are scheduled in the observance, it was said by Eugene Gray, Chapter president. Membership in the FFA is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high schools.

The organization's activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in their studies toward successful estate holding in farming, Gray said.

Baker Heads The List Of Division Directors

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 20 (Sp.)—Thomas H. Baker, Frankfort, headed a list of new division directors in the Highway Department, incident to a reorganization within the agency, it was announced by Robert Humphreys, Commissioner of Highways. Baker is the new director of construction, and succeeded Cabell Owen, who resigned December 1 to enter private business.

Baker helped with a recent two-year, highway-need study sponsored by Automotive Safety Foundation on Kentucky's road problems. For seven years he was an engineer on various projects in Greece, Labrador, the Philippines, Australia, Brazil and Burma. He served with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers three years.

Other changes include J. A. Spears, Frankfort, as director of maintenance to replace W. J. Cline; R. M. Wray, acting director of the Traffic Division to replace Charles P. Brown; Dr. Thomas F. Leonard, Frankfort, as medical adviser in place of Dr. B. B. Baughman; Noel Patton, Owensboro, acting engineer of the Second district in place of Lamar Roney, who was transferred to the Division of Design; Paul Ellis, active engineer for Eighth district at Somerset, to replace H. H. Sandusky; David Peden, acting engineer at Bowling Green; to succeed T. D. Linton, now a traffic engineer here; and R. C. Pile, former engineer of the Fourth district at Elizabethtown, now on field assignment.

JUDGE HOGG DISSENTER IN NUN-TEACHER DECISION

Kentucky's Court of Appeals ruled last week that Roman Catholic Sisters may teach in the public school system of the state while clad in the garb of their religious order and that the doing so will not be in violation of the Constitution of the state.

The court's opinion—a six to one decision—prepared by Judge Porter Sims, Bowling Green, affirmed on all major points the ruling of Franklin Circuit Judge W. B. Arbery in the controversy and observed: "We find no provision of the Federal or state constitutions which are violated by sisters teaching while wearing religious garb, emblems, or insignia."

McDOWELL

The February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, was held last Thursday at 7:00 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The program consisted of talks by two speakers: Row Turner, forest ranger, and C. D. Jenkins, superintendent of McDowell Memorial hospital.

The senior class presented the highly musical comedy, "Kentucky Style" cast included: Mary Elizabeth Anderson, Velma Christine Elswick, Tex. Martin, Chesler Park, David Sanders, Nina Mary Caudill, Gary Branson, Roseanna Burton, Connie Turner, Carl Tuttle, Minnie Payne Lawson, Dewey Lee Hamilton, Mary Sue Horner, Josephine Moore, Gienetta Gio Moore, Neola Caudill, and Eulavene Hill.

The new forest ranger for Floyd and Magoffin counties, Mr. Turner, was the first speaker of the evening. He gave an interesting and educational talk on fire prevention and made the audience aware of the following facts:

1. The set up of the forest ranger system—local, state and national.
 2. The help given by the government in reforestation.
 3. Fire seasons.
 4. Proper method and time for burning brush.
 5. Loss to the county as the result of uncontrolled fires.
 6. Punishment for setting destructive fires.
 7. The aid given by the junior high school.
- Mr. Turner left with the school fire posters and blotters to be distributed among the children.
- The second speaker, Mr. Jenkins, gave an enlightening talk stressing the following points:
1. The set-up and control of the McDowell Welfare Fund.
 2. The location and size of the Welfare hospital.
 3. The equipment and services of the McDowell Memorial hospital.
 4. Date of opening which has been tentatively set for Wednesday, February 22.
