This Town— That World

The election is over—and now Armistice day. Such things!

The Solid South, if any, is badly cracked. Not mentally. Republicans will emphasize.

Democrats around here say mare's milk is too weak. Mule Stupeler is an strong demand.

WELL, GOODIE!

Things will improve, now that the election is over. For one thing, a body can now go home shed his shoes, find a comfortable seat, and sit his eyes in his characteristic vacant stare on his television set and not be shaken out of his mental vacuum by the sight of a baby in its birthday suit flashing out from the screen and the sound of somebody yapping about Bernie or some other joker who needs all the votes he can get.

Sometimes newspaper advertising during political scraps gets mighty mighty low, but for sheer assinineity I'll thank television's contribution to the general confusion against anything man has yet conceived.

HIS OUR PRESIDENT

The United States is the greatest nation on earth. It can take a national election in stride and the people come up well, maybe, not smiling, but accepting the verdict calmly and, as good Americans, loyal to their government and its leadership.

AND MORE TROUBLE

To get away from politics and such troubles, and to pick up new ones, I am just now reminded that my home telephone number will be changed again within the next few days. And I had just reached the point where I knew the one I had.

DEER REFUGE IS NOT OPEN

Conservation Supervisor Warns Dewey Lake Area Still Protected Section

The Dewey Lake refuge is definitely not open for hunting. John R. Redwine, seventh district conservation supervisor, said this week Redwine pointed this out to sportsmen, fearing a few might think the deer hunting season applied to the refuge here. Only the three counties of Breathitt, Knott and Perry are open in this section to deer hunters. Nov. 8-13, Redwine said. In Robinson forest there several thousand acres is overstocked with deer, and the state is allowing hunters to kill one buck each in order to decrease the population. It is the first official deer season in Eastern Kentucky in 25 years, Redwine said.

Permits to hunt in the three-county area will cost $5, in addition to a state-wide hunting license.

The deer population is increasing. In Lawrence, Marlinton and Johnson counties, it was pointed out, several of those in Lawrence drifting in from West Virginia. Deer have fared well in the Dewey Lake refuge, but opening of that area to hunters is an event of the future.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
SAYS SHERIFF WAS RIGHT
Editor, The Times:
There's something wrong. Why would any man not want to pay our Sheriff his money for stamps he used in sending out tax notices because he put the little slip of paper "Stuck with Ike," in the letter—when this is the best and greatest advice our Sheriff could give to any man on business affairs? Our Sheriff will be able to wear an extra star in his crown in the judgment for telling mankind the best thing to do. I voted one time for two of these men who did not want to pay the Sheriff, and they are real good men, but are both misinformed and can't see far-off as our Sheriff, Mr. Collins, wanted them to see.

So US O K anyway. Sheriff Ike is in by a landslide. I am a friend to the greatest people on earth—Ike and the people of Floyd County, Ky. Our boys are at home and not in a bloody police action. Stuck with Ike!

ANOTHER OPINION ON COURT DONATIONS
Editor, The Times:
To avoid any misinformation according to the two items on page one of last week's Floyd County Times, I quote from a letter dated July 16, 1956, written by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollifield:
Dear Sir:
I have your letter of July 12, 1956 with respect to the validity of a contract or agreement between the Fiscal Court of your county and your Volunteer Fire Department. We call your attention to the provisions of Section 75-020 of Kentucky Revised Statutes which provides as follows:
"Any fire protection district created as provided in KRS 75-010 and any fire protection district or fire prevention district hereafter created pursuant to present or future law and any municipal corporation, volunteer fire protection unit, may through its governing body make and receive contracts with any other fire protection district, fire prevention district, fire department, volunteer fire department, fire protection unit, or fire prevention unit, whether within the same county or within an adjoining county in an area adjacent to the boundary line of the county, for the furnishing or receiving of fire protection services for all property within the confines of the area included and covered by the contract or contract, where such fire protection is not otherwise provided by some division of government or governmental agency. Similar contracts may be made and entered into between any and an adjoining county or between any county and any one or more municipalities or districts, departments or units of the chartering county or any of the other cities in the county or within an adjoining county in an area adjacent to the boundary line between the counties. The personnel and equipment of a contracting party in going to and returning from a fire, or in answering and responding to a false fire alarm or call, and while endeavoring to maintain within the area covered by the contract, shall be deemed and hereby is declared to be engaged in the exercise of a governmental function."
"Under the provisions of the emphasized parts of this section which relate to fire, fire departments, Section 75-050 Kentucky Revised Statutes, your county Fiscal Court can give enter into agreement and make appropriations to voluntary fire units and other county fire protection units which are adjacent to the county boundary for fire protection to the property of the county when it has no fire protection facilities of its own, and no contract for fire protection of its county property with any municipality of the county or a municipality of another county adjacent to its county boundary."
"All opinions of this department heretofore based upon Section 75-050, Kentucky Revised Statutes, are hereby withdrawn, and this opinion based upon said section as amended and as it is disclosed in the 1950 Legislative Reorganization Act. Kentucky Revised Statutes is substituted in lieu of the former opinions of this department."
What a shame that anyone would try to take advantage of those who try to protect their property and property of others in fire protection!
Betsy Layne Volunteer Fire Dept. is the best rural fire-fighting equipment in the state. To date the cost of the department is between eight and ten thousand dollars; county donations two thousand; Betsy Layne and nearby communities thirty-five hundred, and the firemen who have put their effort into this department have paid the balance. Yet someone whose share of the $500 donated each year by the county amounts to less than one mill or one-tenth of one cent would try to say we obtained illegal donations from the Fiscal Court. I feel sure now that they understand they will feel differently.
In case of fire day or night, call Betsy Layne 303 or 640. There will be no charge, however. Any donations to the Department will be gratefully appreciated.

AROUND THE TRACK WITH GRANDPA
I have always heard about the joy of grandchildren, and I agree that they are wonderful. But did you ever try chasing one down hill, then uphill, then have to make a quick turn as he darted around you and somehow get those two left feet of yours entangled?
I rode herd on our One-Man Demolition Squad for a while on a recent afternoon, and felt right spry for a time. But on the fifth lap around the track I got a bit wounded and began thumping between gauges for breath, to use a switch. In fact, I armed myself with a reasonable facsimile of such a weapon and made threatening gestures. This served to drive the rampaging youngster back to safer ground, so I tossed it away. Then here he goes again, with Gramps in hot pursuit, vowing I'll have his cars for this one.
And what does the innocent—oh, dear—baby do?
He reaches over and hands my switch back to me. Then he gives the stern, old disciplinary a fleeting glimpse of his stern as he sails off downhill again.
To top it all, a friend who also has a grandchild reminds me that we just live for our grandchildren. Which is alright. But what I mind is dying for them.

Kit Carson, the West's greatest trailmaker and Indian fighter, was born in Madison county in 1810.

Halloween Vandals Captured by Sheriffs; Search on For Others

Vandalism on Halloween and the preceding night at the new high school building here resulted in the capture by deputy sheriffs of two high school boys and a search for a third, Otis D. Spurluck, principal of the school, said this week.

Two deputy sheriffs who had been employed to stay inside the building to protect the property identified two of the boys. The youths denied they were guilty.

On the first night, "Tack-Tack," the flag rope on the school grounds was torn down, highway signs were collected and deposited on the grounds, and fresh concrete was poured at the front entrance to the school.

Next night, according to officers, two boys knocked out a door-glass and broke in the wooden panel of a door, using a piece of file and a highway sign. They also broke out an overhead light. It was said.

The officers were blocked from immediate pursuit of the boys when they ran into a crash door which had been left locked.

"Under the provisions of the emphasized parts of this section, which repeals amendments and re-enacts Section 15.060, Kentucky Revised Statutes, your county Fiscal Court can now enter into agreements with and make appropriations to volunteer fire units and other county or volunteer fire protection units adjacent to the county boundary for fire protection to the property of the county when it has no fire protection facilities of its own and no contract for fire protection of its county property within any municipality of the county or a municipality of another county adjacent to its county boundary."

The volunteer fire department of Betsy Layne, sponsored by the Men's Club, has received fiscal court help under this provision as it serves a fire district extending from Boldman to Tel. It was said it was also said here this week that the Girl Scouts have never received any fiscal court contributions.

It's a dear bargain when you carry automobile insurance in a company that isn't licensed in every state in the country and that can't serve you wherever you go.

We have a hunch you'd rather BUY FROM AN AGENT who places your insurance in companies that have facilities all over the country so that you can have "home town" treatment no matter where you may be.

That's how this Agency conducts its business.

NEXT TO TOP HONOR TAKEN

By Gas Company's Fleet In 25th Safety Contest; 1,332,346 Miles Covered

National honors for outstanding driver safety performance were won by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company as a result of participation in the 25th annual National Fleet Safety Contest, conducted by the National Safety Council.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company fleet of 75 vehicles was awarded second place in the Gas Industry Division of the contest at ceremonies in the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago, October 25.

The award was based on the company's performance from July 1955 through June 1956, a period during which it operated 1,332,346 miles and achieved the outstanding accident rate of only 0.67 accidents per 100,000 miles of operation.

Under contest rules, all accidents except those occurring when parked, must be counted. Before winners are finally determined, their records are personally inspected by an auditor appointed by the National Safety Council.

More than 1,800 fleets operating in excess of 220,000 vehicles and traveling 4,867,000,000 miles competed in the contest, largest of its kind in the world.

Newest Buick Yet

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new? Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true — gospel true.

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense. We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to sassy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability — a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up — engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow® — so instant in the starting range — so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in Drive® — that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all — and how catching this excitement can be.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick Buick today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Wildcat and Century optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Fire, Engulfing Valley's Forest, Fought by United Community

By HENRY F. SCALF
The first evidence that a big fire was loose came one night in late October when most of the farmers and loggers of the watershed area of Buffalo, Mare Creek and Coney were thinking of retiring for the night. The first observer saw a faint glow on the Buffalo ridge. It emanated from the Clark Branch where it heads against the creek.

It had been dry for weeks, the creek beds as dusty as the beaten road. To drop a match or bottle down the fire outside to boil water for the family was to risk a wood-land conflagration. If there was a sudden puff of wind no amount of hurried effort could stamp out the multiple little fires in the fence corners and at the edges of the woods. The wind-borne sparks would light a blaze that would engulf fields and fences for miles.

The residents of the watershed area who gazed at the incipient glow over the Buffalo Fork ridge in late 1914 gave little thought to either timber or game preservation. The objects of their concern were the fences enclosing the hill pastures and fields. Those long, zig-zag lines of split rail stretched north and south from escape and guarded their crops from stray animals.

Farmers went to bed that night worrying about the murrain, wondering how many hours or days would elapse before the fire would be extinguished. Many got up in the night, started at the demarcation between light and dark, and brighter. Few slept well that night.

Deaf came and men went to their usual tasks, unless they lived in the Clark Branch section. Jim Henry Burchett owned several hundred acres of land there, almost completely surrounded by those split-rail fences, many of them made of yellow poplar by his father years ago. Those rails were "light as a feather" now and had become leaves. Burchett gathered up a tenant or two called to his sons and neighbors and with rakes, pitch-forks, hoes and an odd assortment of farm tools, climbed the hill. They did not know how many of them would not return, except for water or food, for days.

They climbed the hill, struck out in Indian file, throwing the leaves from a wide swath. Slowly they worked toward the ridge crest. Reaching that, they dropped their tools and rolled up dead tree branches and topped decaying logs aside. An elderly man lagged behind the leading group and tried the north side. The blaze erupted quickly, moved downhill the burned area becoming a protective shield against "wildcat" fires in the rear of the men ahead. But you can "back fire a fire" just so far, because inevitably you near other property lines and the blaze you set to protect yourself will destroy a neighbor's fences, maybe a barn or other building. The Burchett crew stopped this procedure after a few hundred feet, began to clear out a ring toward the bottom so as to seal off the burning woods. Having done this, they reclaimed the mountain, moved the ring east along the ridge crest again. Their work was nearing an end as they expected to quit somewhere up Buffalo, near the Boyd farm.

Suddenly one of the lead men looked up at the smoke-filled air, stared intently toward the valley bottom. Others stopped their tasks, looked and listened. They could see a deep gray billow of smoke rising and mushrooming below them. There were faint noises, from crackling wood as it burned, all coming up under them from far down the mountain-side. "Great God!" a man exclaimed. "They've raked a ring around their fences and are fitting above it. They'll burn us up!"

Slow moving action for a moment, as became fierce effort now as each man dug in at his work. The ring moved slowly and men, emitting fumes behind him, ahead to another. Suddenly a billow of smoke swept across the ridge and in a moment there was heard the rattle of a mighty fire that created a propelling wind as it expanded and heated the air. No one spoke, they none looked up. They raked and chopped and dug. The ring was moving faster now and in a few moments they were far enough east of the on-rushing fire to stop. When they did there was a great wall of red flame that swept up and died on the ridge.

Landowners from farther up Buff. Fork Creek now joined the Burchett crew and some of the latter set home to eat and bring back food and water to the others. A man went down to the road, walked up the creek, seeking help and begging the farmers to take a ring around their hill fences. Twilight came, and a man reappeared on the mountain with water and food, sitting down on the ridge, leaning against split rails, they ate. There was no water, which to wash. Men rubbed smoke-filled, red eyes with grimy hands.

After dark, relief came. Men had agreed in the bottom that the men from Clark Branch had raked a ring up the ridge to their section.

There must have been some giant explosion. Flames were sweeping up the mountain, carried by the wind. Each paused to watch, glomping through the flames and smoking at giant trees that soon toppled with showering balls of fire. Swiftly the red wall moved toward the crest of the mountain, the noise of exploding rocks at times like distant thunder.

It was the miracle of the curving ridge and that saved them from continued effort. No one can anticipate its vagaries in a section rimmed by mountain forest fire. It shuttled, blowing almost at right angles to its former course. The fire came to a sudden stop in its mad sweep around the steep sides of the hill. Almost simultaneously with the change of wind every man sank to the ground. Now and then a squirrel and a raccoon or two, scampered by, feeling the halo heat behind. Down the bottom, Bob Sealf and two young boys had been recruited, started the long climb up Bedstead mountain. Each carried a miscellaneous assortment of food-filled buckets and jars of water. Bob had two jars in each hand, carried his shoulders. His left hand carried a bucket, he swung a lantern with his right. The two youngsters tagged along, stumbling in the path, enjoying the adventure of dark places and sudden falls.

Bob and the two boys found the men asleep, curled up in grotesque and awkward positions in the leeward. All scrambled fiercely when they saw the boys. Now and then a leavering dog, chased the boys from the gulping jars. The two boys scampered about on the outer side of the group, chased each other in the deep leaves. One heard an animal squeak, saw a chipmunk scurry and dying.

"You know I think it's going to rain," said Bob, peering at the sky. "No such luck," a man rejoined. They all stared through the tree tops. There was a cloud scudding hurriedly from the west. "West winds bring rain," a man affirmed quietly. "Yes," said Bob, "but it's going to rain!" The clouds thickened and from the outer ring a man observed quietly. "This is one that ain't going around."

Bob Sealf sat propped against a tree, humming a bit in a hoarse voice. "Sing us a song, Bob," a Buffalo neighbor urged. Others added to the request. "Bob fumbled slowly in his pockets, brought out a tuning fork. He always carried it with him, sang at parties and star" satheries. He tapped the fork against a stone, listened to the vibrations. "What are you going to sing, Bob?" a man asked. There was no reply. The old singing master was listening to the fork.

Slowly the deep bass notes of "Rock of Ages" wafted on the mountain. Many joined in a moment, others hummed the ancient tune for all knew the words. The song ended and no one spoke, until the magic of the old hymn faded a bit. "You know what I think?" one said. "I think we are going to get wet."

"They poked up their tools wearily and prepared to leave. Bob and the two boys retrieved the buckets and jars. The first rain drops splashed the dry leaves. "You know," a man said proudly, "nary a farmer lost a rail of fence." "Not a rail has burned," a companion agreed. As he spoke, a native pheasant rushed across the bench and disappeared in the darkness. "You know, though somehow I think these big fires make the hunter bad."

They were now, some going back along the flat to take the ridge home others moved cautiously in the pale light down the steep slope of Bedstead Mountain when they looked it seemed as if

Doctors To Offer Free Diabetes Tests, Week of November 11

Lives of over 800 diabetic Kentuckians have been saved for happy, normal living as a result of the free diabetes tests offered by physicians members of the Kentucky State Medical Association. It was reported this week by Charles Moore, M.D., Louisville, K.S.M.A. Diabetes Committee chairman, as an announced plan for the state's sixth annual diabetes decision drive to be held from November 11 to 17.

During the drive, which is held as a part of National Diabetes Week in cooperation with the American Diabetes Association, covered a doctor of medicine, hospital or laboratory in the state is asked to give a free urine sugar test to all persons requesting it.

"Approximately 160,000 diabetic tests have been given free during the drives since they began in 1951," Dr. Moore said. "The tests re-assured the great majority of these people that they did not have diabetes. Slightly more than one out of 50 were advised to have further checks made because the individual test showed they might have the disease."

Some of the persons whose subsequent tests showed they definitely had diabetes included people who had previously been diagnosed as diabetics. "After exclusion of these, it was found that 806 new cases of diabetes had been discovered during the week of November 11 to 17."

Ground hay is not recommended for dairy cow ration. A fat test of milk dropped sharply when cows were on all ground roughage. Apparently the ground hay moves too fast through the cow's system.

E.K.M.C. MEETING
Officials of the ten-team Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference will hold their annual fall meeting in Pikeville, Sunday, November 18, at 1:30 p.m. The main topic will be the selection of the All-Conference football team, awarding the championship to Pikeville and scheduling the basketball games for loop contests.

CAMPBELL NAMED HEAD
"Copper-John" Campbell, Wayland's basketball coach for the past nine years, has been elected president of the Floyd County Coaches Association for the 1956-57 school year.

COLEMAN GONE AGAIN
"King Kelly" enrolled at Eastern State College in September to cast his basketball fortunes with the Maroons, who were counting on him as a freshman guard, but last Monday the ex-Wayland all-time scoring great packed his clothes and left the Richmond campus.

WE GOOFED
In last week's column we stated that the 1957 58th district tournament will be held in the Betsy Layne gym, but this is incorrect for the present. It is Auxier's turn for the tournament under the rotation method used by the Floyd county school system.

NOVEMBER 24th
In answer to several queries the Kentucky-Tennessee football game is set for Knoxville, Saturday, November 24th. And tickets are still available at the U. K. ticket office, or at least they were last week.

SCHOOLS SET FOR NET PLAY

1956-57 Hardwood Slate In Region Is Under Way; Wayland Defends Title

The majority of non-playing football schools in the 18th region have already opened their 1956-57 basketball seasons and the remaining few will hit the hardwood next week-end.

Coached changes have been plentiful in Pike county, will enter competition for the first time, and another Palmer-Dunbar in this county, has given up the sport.

Beyp Layne, runner-up in the 18th district last season, has already recorded an 85-69 win over Heller in its remodeled gymnasium and Prestonsburg, gymless for the past four years, will have to wait another season for its 4,000-seat $25,000 structure.

Warfield is sitting out a suspension from the Kentucky High School Athletic Association until January 1, and three early season tournaments are scheduled to get under way soon.

John Creek tent in Pike county expects to have its new gymnasium ready for season games, and Mullins high will use the Pikeville College floor for its home games.

The nine-team Floyd county pre-season tournament will open in Maytown November 27, and end through December 1. "Copper-John" Campbell's Wayland Wasps are defending champions of the pre-season affairs as well as the 58th district and the 18th region.

On the coaching scene, the 58th district had the biggest turnover. Ira Adams has replaced Claude Mills at their. Paul Watts is the new manager at Louisa. Johnny Marston fill in for Clyde Copley, who has been elevated to the principalship, an d'Van Lee has Howard Ramey for the departed Billy Conley.

In the 60th District, Shelby Linville, the ex-U. K. forward, has moved over to Sandy Hook from Prestonsburg to fill the shoes of Tom Atkins. At Oil Springs Rusty Yates was head after "Herran" Bolin moved to Millersburg Military Institute.

The 99th district had three changes. Prestonsburg and Auxier high switched coaches, with Jack Prost Wells moving in from Auxier and Bill Goebel, Jr. going to Auxier. Wells team at Auxier last year won 18 games, the greatest number in the school's history.

In addition to handling football and baseball Wilbur "Shorty" Jamerson will also be the basketball tutor at Wheelwright high. He succeeds Hugh Miller.

Belfry will have a new mentor in Jim Hutchinson, ex-Lafayette and Transylvania College ace, since Zeb Blankenship has moved down-state.

TIGERS TO TAKE 9-1 SLATE INTO FRIDAY'S BOWL GAME

The eyes of Central and Eastern Kentucky high school football fans will center on Paintsville, Friday night, where two of Kentucky's leading prep teams, Madison-Miodel and Paintsville, will clash in the sixth annual Big Sandy Bowl.

Aside from the "Bowl" game itself, the Paintsville team, members of the League, sponsors of the gala post-season attraction, has also scheduled parties, band festivals, beauty contests and other pageantry throughout the day.

Both participating teams have won nine games, but the Tigers dropped a 12-7 decision to Pikeville, three weeks ago. Roy Kidd's eleven moved through the Central Kentucky Conference for its first league championship.

Madison Model has jumped over Cynthiana, 25-14; Frankfort 13-7; Mt. Sterling, 40-0; Irvine 39-20; Danville, 19-4; Lancaster, 39-0; Nicholasville, 40-0; Elkhorn, 44-6; and Versailles, 27-19. The Purples have racked up 265 points for 31.5 points per game, and has limited the opposition to 72 points.

Paintsville, enjoying its best season in seven years, is making its first appearance in the Bowl. Walter Brugh in his first season at head coach has seen his charges overrun McKel, 32-0; Whitesburg 32-14; M. C. Napier 42-0; Elkhorn City, 53-0; and Prestonsburg, 24-0.

The Tigers have piled up 298 makes, good for a 29.8 per game average, and have held the opposition to 56 points. This both teams appear about even "paper-wise" on offense and defense.

Each team has a center who is a halfback. Allen Hughes of Madison-Miodel and Frankie Patton of the Tigers. Patton, the leading ever in all Eastern Kentucky, has recorded 21 touchdowns and 100 extra points for a total of 136. The five-foot, five-inch senior weighs 150 pounds and is lightning fast.

In addition to Patton, Brugh will start Jim Wells, a 5-5, 155-pound

Pikeville Wins EKMC Title; Paintsville Mauls P'burg

Pikeville's Panthers successfully defended their Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference high school football crown by dropping Jenkins 19-0 in their final loop game last week-end.

Bobby Phillips' team finished league play with five wins and more, while the nearest rival Paintsville trailed by five points under the Dickinson system of rating which the conference uses in selecting a champ.

Pikeville has one regular game left next Friday night with the Corbin Redhounds at Corbin.

In other season finish, Hazard and Fleming battled to a 7-7 tie; Frankie Patton, who scored three touchdowns, and three extra points, and the Paintsville Tigers mauled Prestonsburg 34-6 in their first meeting; and Williamson, West Virginia, outlasted Belfry, 26-20.

Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs set halfback Aubrey Combs over from the three-yard line in the third period to tie Fleming, 7-7.

By virtue of the tie, Hazard nosed out Fleming for third spot in the final league standings.

Allstate halfback H. L. Justice, quarterback Larry Phillips and Buddy Elkins each registered a six-point game in Pikeville's eighth year. They have lost one and tied one.

Paintsville's Bow-bound Tigers completely mastered their archrivals in their 21st meeting as Patton, quarterback Jim Conley and defensive whiz Jim Cyrus were the stars. In winning by the most convincing margin in the past ten years, Paintsville broke a seven-year drought against the Blackcats, who closed their first losing season since 1950 in winning three, losing 5 and tying one.

Following an exchange of fumbles in the first three minutes, the Tigers went to work as sophomore fullback Joe Napier and Patton reeled off 46 yards in 6 plays to the two-yard stripe from which point, Patton dived over. Jim Wells plunged for the point after and a 7-0 lead.

On the ensuing kick-off, end and Paul Sheets recovered the first of three Prestonsburg fumbles on the Blackcat 20. Conley then snuffed a 15-yard aerial to Wells on the five, and Patton jumped for a 14-0 Tiger margin.

The Blackcats came soaring back midway the second period on a 13-play, 63-yard march spearheaded by the passing of freshman quarterback James Aiken to Lowell McKeown, who teamed for four completions and a 30-yard six-pointer in the drive.

Then on the first play after the kick-off, J. Conley zipped around end for a 61-yard trek and a 20-6 halftime lead.

In the final half the Tigers added insult to injury as Patton and Wells scored on runs of 10 and 9 yards on the first play after the kick-off, J. Conley zipped around end for a 61-yard trek and a 20-6 halftime lead.

Friday, three of the loop's ten teams will be involved in "post-season" Bowl games.

Peak years for grouse hunting are those ending in 1 and 2, and the bad years are those ending in 6 and 7.

Paintsville's Bow-bound Tigers completely mastered their archrivals in their 21st meeting as Patton, quarterback Jim Conley and defensive whiz Jim Cyrus were the stars. In winning by the most convincing margin in the past ten years, Paintsville broke a seven-year drought against the Blackcats, who closed their first losing season since 1950 in winning three, losing 5 and tying one.

Following an exchange of fumbles in the first three minutes, the Tigers went to work as sophomore fullback Joe Napier and Patton reeled off 46 yards in 6 plays to the two-yard stripe from which point, Patton dived over. Jim Wells plunged for the point after and a 7-0 lead.

On the ensuing kick-off, end and Paul Sheets recovered the first of three Prestonsburg fumbles on the Blackcat 20. Conley then snuffed a 15-yard aerial to Wells on the five, and Patton jumped for a 14-0 Tiger margin.

Late Justice To Be Honored

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Sp1) — The 100th anniversary of the birth of one of Kentucky's and the nation's most brilliant jurists will be observed at Louisville this month.
 The late U. S. Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis was born in that city Nov. 12, 1856.
 Chief Justice Earl Warren, Justice Stanley Reed, a Kentuckian, and former Justice Sherman Minton have been invited by the University of Louisville to attend the observance on Brandeis' birthday.
 The Kentuckian was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Woodrow Wilson and served 23 years.
 The centennial of Brandeis' birth has been honored by celebrations across the United States — several of them at the Harvard Law School and at Waltham, Mass., the site of Brandeis University.
 His relentless logic and vision distinguished the Supreme Court. Most of his pronouncements while on the high tribunal were written as minority opinions, but he lived to see many of his ideas become the law of the land.

Sawdust Mulch Is Best In UK Raspberry Test

Sawdust as a mulch produced the highest yield of Lathan raspberries in a UK Agricultural Experiment Station horticulture department test this year.
 The yield was 49.44 pints average per plot for the sawdust. Ground corn cobs as a mulch came close, producing 42.03 pints average. Straw produced 38.94 pints per plot and the unmulched plot, 34.50 pints, the testers said.
 The experiments noted that ample rainfall in the right period mid-June through July, "minimized the benefits, which usually come from a mulching practice."

The world's record bluebell was caught in Alabama in 1950, weight 4 pounds 12 ounces.

Honors Extended Three Kentuckians

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Sp1) — Three Kentuckians have been honored by the State Association of Rural Electric Co-operatives.
 Cited for their outstanding contributions to the rural electric co-operative program in Kentucky were the late Ben Kilgore, former executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation; Harry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times, and WHAS, and James B. Kelly, professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Kentucky.
 Mrs. Kilgore, director of Kentucky's State Parks, was presented the plaque paying recognition to her husband.

 Mr. Hicks said that all farmers who anticipate entering the 1957 Average Reserve or Conservation Reserve Programs should contact their local County ASC Office well ahead of their 1957 crop year farm planning operations so that they may secure all the benefits of the programs that are available.
 Tarpon average 60 pounds in weight, but 300-pounders are on record.

SHOP TALK

By Mrs. Eleanor Gesner Goble

"We have put the best ten years of our lives into the McLean County News and it is now a McLean county. We are much older, much graver, much slower and more worn-out than when we came here. The high ambition and hope we had when we came are burned out and gone. A little of it wrapped up in each paper you have read and cast away."

"We had hoped that the years of urgent day-and-night effort would find us nearer to our goal for McLean county and the McLean County News. Instead we find that indifference, selfishness and ugliness have defeated us many times. There is still a great deal to be done — we can find courage and strength for another ten years."

—McLean County News, Calhoun
"Newspapers get blamed a lot for the unfavorable publicity they give. I wonder if these folks who complain have ever stopped to think that it isn't the newspaper's fault, any more than it is the mirror's fault when you see something there that you don't like. A newspaper is a mirror of the community and the world. Usually a fellow should blame himself and not the newspaper when he gets in trouble."
—Corbin Daily Tribune

CONGRATULATIONS AND GOOD WISHES
The Providence Journal-Enterprise is now in its 55th year. Editor and Publisher J. L. Bravoy bought it in 1929. Three times it has been voted "best all-around weekly in Kentucky" by the Kentucky Press Association. The Providence Enterprise was established in 1902, consolidated with The Dixon Journal in 1943 — press day.

CHANGES OWNERSHIP
The Shelby News-Press has been bought by Leonard T. Bean, Elizabethtown. Mr. Bean owns the News-Publishing Company which publishes "Inside the Turret", a Fort Knox newspaper, which has its office and plant in Elizabethtown.

The Kentucky-Virginia Post, Whitesburg, has ceased publication.
Mrs. Overton Williams, Louisville, has subscribed to The Elizabethtown News for more than 80 years.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE
Editor Jack Hord of The News-Journal, Campbellsville, fussed society editor for "a new baby girl" presented herself to Linotype Operator Dick Shaw and wife, Carla, on a Tuesday.
"Is too hard on us all to have you or anybody off on Monday or Tuesday and nobody can even take time off on Wednesday," Editor Hord declared.

Guess whose Editor Hord's appendix decided it wanted out. Yep — the emergency operation was performed on Wednesday — press day.
And who pulled the "fowl" trick on Adair County News Editor Louis DeHoff, Columbia? While he was away one evening, a character or characters snuck a couple of hens and a duck into his basement. Next sun-up he waked to the tune of cackles and quacks — and he's getting the number of phone calls asking the price of eggs.

4-H NEWS

By ROBERT M. JONES Asst. County Agent

October 31 ends the 1956 club year, and to sum things up, the final act is the collection of project record books, and turning them into the county Extension office to be judged and recorded. Of the total enrollment of any one club it is usually expected you have read and cast away."

Mrs. Mitchell Dotson and her small club of eleven members at Rough and Tough did this year. Each member not only completed his project, but submitted a record book. This is certainly a commendable achievement for a club, especially since this was the first year they had done 4-H Club work in that school.

Mrs. Dotson is teaching Arnett school this year, and because of her excellent leadership it is expected that the Arnett school will do some outstanding work in their 4-H Club this year.

The effect of the expanded multi-million dollar highway program on the tourist industry will be discussed at the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Tourist and Travel Council meeting at London, Kentucky on November 27. Mike Layman, Somerset, Council Chairman, announced to day.

District Home Agents Elect New Officers

The Town House Hotel, Hazard, served as the meeting place October 25 at 7:00 p.m. for the Big Sandy district of the Kentucky Home Demonstration Agents Association.

W. W. Mann, home agent in Pike county, was elected director; Dixie Trapp, home agent in Floyd county, is the new secretary; and Naomi Christian, Johnson county home agent, will serve as reporter.

The association's program of work for the year was planned and committees were appointed for the different activities for the year. Reorganization followed the adjournment of the business meeting.

Take a REAL Look at WHAT FOREST FIRES COST YOU!

1. TIMBER? Of course, this is a major loss. And last year alone almost 10 million acres were burned — an area larger than the states of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined — comprising enough board feet of lumber to build 50,000 five-room homes!
2. WATER? Yes, surprising as it may seem, forest fires destroy water! Tree leaves and natural humus of the forest act as sponges, soaking up water and releasing it gradually. In burned areas, most of the water is lost in flood runoff — endangering property and lives.
3. DOLLARS? It costs money to fight fires — especially those in remote areas. Last year the nation had to spend 70 million dollars to fight forest fires — 9 out of 10 of which were preventable.
4. RECREATION? Forest fires blacken our landscapes, clog and pollute good fishing streams, kill off wildlife and ruin beautiful vacation spots.

Remember — Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES
Repeat after me: I WILL BE CAREFUL!
5. THE CAUSE? 9 out of 10 forest fires — and last year we had an average of nearly 500 per day — are started by well-meaning but careless people who just plain didn't think. So please — any time you're out doors, be extra careful with matches, smokes — any fire. Use your ash tray when drinking. Drop your fire when camping. Make sure every spark is out — and out!

If your husband had to do this...

hed buy an electric clothes dryer

Hanging clothes up to dry may look easy to your husband but let him do it for awhile, and he'll start thinking about getting you an electric clothes dryer.

"There's no sense to doing a lot of unnecessary hard work," he'd probably say. "Why carry heavy baskets of clothes, and bend and stretch to hang each piece? With an electric clothes dryer you can dry clothes almost as fast as you wash them... just by tossing them in and turning a dial."

And you could tell him how much less ironing there would be, and how you wouldn't have to worry about bad weather spoiling your washday. Why not see your electric dealer today?

ADVICE TO WOMEN: Please let him think that getting an electric clothes dryer was his own idea. Then you'll both be happy.

Airlines Must Improve Service Official Says

Frankfort, Nov. 5 — Three major airlines were criticized in certain aspects of their commercial air service in Kentucky at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing held recently in Washington, D. C.

State Aeronautics Commissioner John A. Diskin told the board that American, Eastern and Trans World airlines could definitely improve air service in the Commonwealth from Standiford Field, Louisville, Greater Cincinnati, Airport in Boone county, and Blue Grass Field, Lexington.

During the "Great Lakes-Southeast Service" case, Diskin said limited or non-stop service should be increased from these key Kentucky airports to such cities as Cleveland, Detroit, Buffalo, Toledo, Fort Wayne, as well as dozen cities in the Southeast, including Knoxville, Atlanta and Miami.

Diskin asked for improved and more direct single-plane service from Ashland-Huntington, to such important cities as Chicago, Cleveland, Columbus and Detroit. At present, Ashland passengers must use connecting service at Cincinnati, Charleston, W. Va., or Pittsburgh.

Delta, Northwest, Capital and National have applied to enter Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Lexington's increasing industrial and commercial growth, evident by the new Reynolds, IBM, and Square D plant, will require substantial improvement in air service, Diskin pointed out to the C. A. B.

Europe Will See Television Film About Kentucky

Kentucky's government will be the subject of a television film to be shown by the British Broadcasting Co. and other European telecasters.

The film, one of a series called "Report on America" being produced by the National Broadcasting Co., will depict the Commonwealth's civic affairs as typically representative of state government in America.

NBC's producers of the film series for the United States Information Agency.

Gene Wyckoff, NBC television writer, visited Frankfort recently to arrange a film story and set up a shooting schedule for a camera crew which is expected to begin work Nov. 12.

Joseph C. Harsh, NBC commentator and Washington correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, will be the narrator on a 30-minute film.

Spoken sequences in the film will be translated into Polish, French, German, Italian, Spanish and other languages for widespread showing abroad under auspices of the Information Agency.

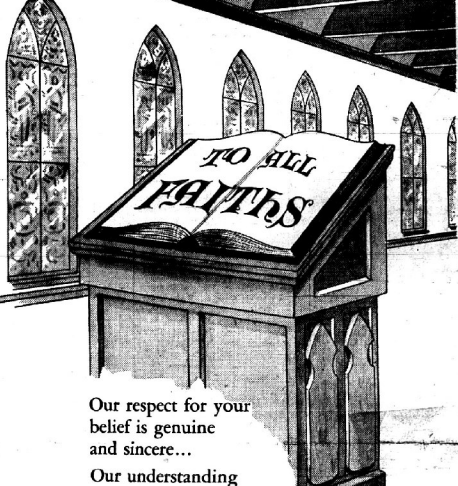

Producer and director of the series is London-born Don Cash, who lives in New York. "As an Englishman my aim is very simple," he says. "It is that all people of the world may understand and appreciate America and Americans as much as I do."

The "British press" and public have given the series warm welcome, NBC reports.

Hunters Big Factor Now In Fire Safety In Woods

Autumn weather produces fire hazards in woods, particularly in extended dry spells and with hunters roaming the forests. O. O. Davenport, UK Experiment Station forester, points out that dead leaves form a mat underfoot and are an excellent fire-starter or prolonger.

"Be careful while smoking in forests," he says; "drown or cover with earth all smoking or warming fires; extinguish all matches, cigarettes, pipe dottle or cigars."

"In Kentucky, these fire hazards increase daily from the dry weather and the fact several hunting seasons are near," he added.

Kentucky's Plan For Health Told By Gov. Chandler

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Sp1)—Kentucky is embarking upon a vast public health project, designed to put the state "second to none in the United States."

Announced recently by Gov. A. B. Chandler and Health Commissioner Russell Teague, the project includes:

1. A foundation program of public health services, which will cost about 4 1/2 million dollars annually when fully operative in four or five years. It will mean employment of 14 additional of ficers, 207 public health nurses, 32 sanitarians and other related personnel.
2. Construction of community health buildings in 76 counties lacking them. Estimated cost, four million dollars in a four-year period, with the state putting up one-fourth, the community one-fourth and the federal government half of the money.

(Floyd county's health building already is under construction and may be ready for occupancy in January.)

Chandler referred to the program as the third of major importance in his administration. He undertakes to elevate Kentucky. The others, he said, are financing the foundation program for education and the 100-million-dollar highway bond proposal.

Work is expected to start this year on health buildings in nine counties which have their share of funds available.

Counties and the cost of their buildings are: Franklin, $70,000; McLean, $5,000; Fayette, $120,000; Bracken, $100,000; $80,000; Kenton, $100,000; Magoffin, $50,000; Trimble, $50,000 and Letcher, $40,000.

Chandler said $25,000 would be allocated during each of four fiscal years, beginning this year, as the state's share of putting up the buildings. He added that he would contribute $75,000 from the governor's emergency fund to launch the health foundation program.

Health officials said $2,850,153 is being spent this fiscal year for the public health program. This includes $912,000 in local funds.

Road Department Will Reorganize By January 1st

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Sp1)—A thorough reorganization of the State Highway Department has been announced by Commissioner Bert Kiser.

He said the program, expected to be completed by Jan. 1, would save the State "a tremendous amount of money."

Reorganization plans were announced following a report by Griffenhagen and Associates. Its recommendations included:

1. Shifting of functions from highway districts to zones.
2. Relieving the commissioner from the necessity of dealing with visitors interested only in personnel and employment.
3. Employment of a high-level engineer to deal with urban highway development.

Martin Reports On Integration

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Sp1)—Kentucky "has made substantial progress in compliance with the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling" banning racial segregation in the nation's public schools, Dr. Robert Martin, state superintendent of public instruction, said recently.

A study by the Bureau of Instruction, State Department of Education, he said showed:

Ninety-two public school districts have integrated "white and Negro pupils and 17 districts have plans for integration. Sixty-eight districts have taken no action on integration."

Forty-four districts have no Negro children of school age. In the remaining 177 districts, there are 44,442 Negro and 801,183 white school children. In some of the districts that have adopted compulsory segregation, no Negro children have applied for admission to white schools.

Martin said his understanding of the court ruling is "that it is a law to be obeyed, but that compliance can only be by considering local conditions."

Your Social Security — 1956 Model

Questions and Answers by Cost Accountants

Do you know and understand your social security rights? As an individual you should know about your rights and benefits and how to make the most of them because they may be worth thousands of dollars to you and your family. Few people realize that this much money is involved.

This is the fourth in a series of articles containing questions and answers on the new 1956 Social Security law, prepared by the Louisville Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants as a public service in answering some of the questions on the latest changes in the Social Security laws.

Q. How does the 1956 law help disabled workers?

A. Disabled workers are the major beneficiaries of the new plan, which new system of coverage is provided for workers already disabled and those that will be disabled in the future. Thousands of disabled workers will benefit from the new changes.

Q. How old must a disabled worker be?

A. Under the 1956 law, a disabled worker can start collecting social security benefits at 50 years old or older. Under the old law he would have to wait until age 65.

Q. How large will the pension be for the disabled worker?

A. The same as if you had reached retirement age. The actual amount depends on earnings while covered by Social Security.

Q. How long will the pension continue?

A. As long as the worker is disabled. If the worker is still disabled at age 65, he will draw the pension for life.

Q. Do benefits start as soon as a worker is disabled?

A. No. He has to wait 6 months before he receives any benefits. Disabled workers draw benefits for the dependents of a disabled worker.

Q. When will payments to disabled workers start?

A. July, 1957.

Q. When can a presently disabled worker start his 6 months waiting period?

A. The waiting period cannot begin before January 1, 1957, no more than 6 months before you reach age 62.

Q. When is a worker considered disabled?

A. A worker must be totally disabled. It will be necessary to have a doctor's certificate for proof of disability. This will not be a simple procedure and no doubt will involve a lot of red tape.

New Health Center Is Opened At Jackson

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Sp1)—A new $38,000 community health center, built with state, local and federal funds, has been opened at Jackson, DeWitt county.

The one-story brick structure is modern throughout. After installation of all equipment, the building will be air conditioned and contain the latest clinical and medical equipment.

Under a new public health service program the state plans to help build similar centers in 76 counties which now lack them.

The Jackson building has a large auditorium which will be the center of social and civic activities in connection with the public health service.
