THURSDAY

This Town—That World

THAT-AGE AGE
Other day as a plane left a vapor trail high in the sky a boy diverted his father's attention from the furrow he was plowing behind a mule, "Look!" he said, pointing upward.
"Shore, shore," rejoined the father, "Another one of them jets Giddap, Maudie!"

CASUALTY REPORT
Some months ago when the weather was cooler and the old nerves were less taut and I had time to muse around a bit, I had an idea I would offer to finance all anti-robbers shots candidates might require in this county after starting sleeping dogs into and den violence. I didn't venture into to print with the idea, and I'm glad I didn't. For the latest casualty report says that two more candidates have suffered dog bites recently.
One of them remarked that he hadn't heard how the dog is getting along after biting him.

OF TIME AND TAXES
It's an unpleasant subject, and this isn't calculated to make the subject more pleasant, but I must pass on to you our latest finding on taxes in the dear dead days.
It is a yellowed record, entitled, "A Report of the Trustees of Prestonsburg for the Year 1919." And the first annotation reads: "May 1st. To tax laid by said trustees $32."
Can you in this tax-laden year 1937 imagine? But look on the same sheet is a report of the aforementioned trustees for the very next year, 1919, and already taxes are on their way upward. It reads: "May 23. To taxes laid by Board of Trustees $130.92."
Tempus fugit—and does the do-re-me.

MEET HONORS COUNTY MEN IN SCOUTING

Branham and Elliott Among Those Earning Council Recognition

Approximately one hundred and fifty Scout Leaders and their wives attended an Annual Council Appreciation Dinner held in Grundy, Virginia Friday May 3 sponsored by the Lanesboro Pike Council, Boy Scouts of America, and heard Dean Joseph C. Smiddy, Clinch Valley College, talk on the subject "Onward for God and My Country." Smiddy said that character is more important than material things in the progress of humanity.

Three outstanding Scout Leaders received the Silver Beaver Award: Ernest M. Wood, of Pikeville, who has had a background of years in Scouting, and as district chairman of the Pike district saw Scouting enjoy an increase of 29% in membership and a membership of 370 Scouts. G. O. Thornton, Jenkins, chairman of the 100 Club for the Council, during whose tenure the membership of the 100 Club increased from 100 members to 110 members. J. N. Dowdall, Appalachian Va, who has been active in Scouting and community activities for 23 years.

FLOYD ROAD BIDS SOUGHT

Ky. Highway Department To Surface 17,416 Miles; Other Projects Studied

Bids will be accepted until May 24 by the Department of Highways at Frankfort for the surfacing of 17,416 miles of Floyd county roads. It was noted this week the surfacing is to either bituminous concrete Class C-3 or tarmac or bituminous Class C-1.

It was also stated that J. B. Wells, Jr., rural highway commissioner, had notified Clyde A. Adams that a survey was being conducted on the gap between the two ends of projected road on the Buck's Branch-Spurlock road and that this work was being contemplated on the near future. Five and one-half miles of this road is to be let for surfacing this month, 37 miles on Spurlock and 1.8 mile on Bucks Branch.

Surfacing upon which bids are asked by May 24, besides the Buck's Branch-Spurlock road from one mile south of Martin to the north city limits of Garrett, a distance of 10,736 miles; through the town of Garrett, 6 mile; from Garrett to the Knott county line, 7 mile; from inside city limits of Wayland to its south limits, 2 mile; Lacey to Wayland, 2,467 miles; city limits of Wayland to north city limits, a distance of 233 miles; and from the south city limits of Wayland to the Knott county line, 2,475 miles.

Notice to prospective contractors appears in The Times this week.

On School Attendance; Board To Ask Bus Bids; Decision At May Meet

The Floyd County Board of Education at its May meeting Tuesday entered into agreements with neighboring counties on the matter of non-residents attending Floyd schools or of Floyd pupils attending schools of these other counties.

As provided by the new state law, the agreement specifies that the county where the students attend school shall receive the average daily attendance plus Floyd county, however, did not agree on the two or three Floyd pupils who are attending the Martins School in Pike county, holding that school bus service is provided by Floyd schools for these pupils.

MARTIN, KENTUCKY

THE MEASURE OF A MAGISTRATE

You measure a man in public life by his record, by his performance while in office. Ellis Martin, like every man seeking public office, must be measured by this yardstick. Since Ellis Martin offers no accounting of his eight years in office I want to measure his performance.

1. He voted for Floyd county to buy the Weeksbury Water Works. This worn-out system was sold to a group of promoters for $500 and Ellis Martin voted to buy it with our tax money for $22,500. The whole deal was part of a huge scheme to buy a lot of worn out systems to make a group of promoters a lot of money. Ellis Martin should tell the voters of Magisterial District 3 who got the huge profits and who engineered the scheme.

2. Ellis Martin's record on road building is the dreariest in the county. Our district needs roads, not promises. He has done nothing on a road program. Eight years of promises are enough.

3. No officer will run my court when I am your Magistrate. Officers, plaintiffs and defendants will ALL be treated alike with no favoritism. I will conduct the court trials with complete impartiality and fairness.

4. Ellis Martin expects to win only if he succeeds in slating on election day with his favorite candidates. He has them all picked out as his public record reveals. He will attempt to slate in the Circuit Judge's race, in the County Judge's race, the Sheriff's and others. He has maneuvered elections before but this is one time the people will select a Magistrate, and not from a hand-picked slate on election day.

I pledge you to protect your tax money. There will be no water works deals. There will be roads built and a safe, sensible administration of our financial affairs. I pledge you my every effort to make you a magistrate that is not a mere shadow of somebody else.

If elected I pledge my every effort to unload the Weeksbury Water Works back on the promoters who made such huge profits from the deal and let them have the responsibility of the suits now against our County in Federal Court.

Sincerely,

JOHN CAUDILL

Democratic Candidate for Magistrate, District 3

Board of Commissioners
Prestonsburg Gas & Water System
Prestonsburg, Kentucky

Gentlemen:

We have examined the books and records of the Prestonsburg Gas & Water System for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1956. We have accepted the classification and respective costs of Fixed Assets as set out in audit reports for prior years and verified the additions during the current year. In all other respects our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards applicable in the circumstances and included such tests and verifications of the records and supporting data as we deemed appropriate in the circumstances, except we did not verify the inventory of materials and supplies, and did not confirm accounts receivable.

In our opinion, subject to exception noted in the preceding paragraph, the accompanying combined balance sheet and related statement of income and surplus fairly presents the financial condition of the Prestonsburg Gas & Water System at September 30, 1956, and the results of its operation for the fiscal year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis with that of preceding years.

Respectfully submitted,

NAT H. HAGER

LUM DEROSSETT FOR JAILER

Minnie and I have raised 11 children, 6 boys and 5 girls. They are all grown, have good jobs and are respectable citizens in our community. Minnie was the daughter of T. J. Sizemore, an old Civil War soldier. Also all six of my boys served in our Country in the military service with distinction. I have been able to raise them all to be useful citizens and it has not been necessary for me or any of them to carry sloop from the jail. We have got 4 fat hogs ready to butcher and will barbecue them on May 29th. All of our friends are welcome to come and help themselves. We think we deserve more than the sloop from the jail and ask your support for the office of jailer.

Your friend,

MORE RURAL ROADS

by
JOE P. TACKETT

Rural roads have too long been neglected in Floyd County and I propose to our people that as your County Attorney I shall at all times work unceasingly to get our share, and if possible, more than our share of the vast sums of money the state will have during the next few years to spend in the building of these creek roads.

As your County Attorney from 1930 to 1934, I had the pleasure of securing rights-of-way for and a large percentage of the road contracts for many of our present roads, among which were the Right Beaver roads from Maytown to Lacey, the Left Beaver road on both the upper and lower ends, a part of the Mud Creek road and the Middle Creek road. It took constant hard work and many trips to Frankfort appearing before the Highway Commission to get these benefits for our County.

I learned then that by never quitting road contracts could be gotten, and in the matter of our Rural Road program for the next four years I pledge that my efforts will be doubled and my constant concentrated efforts can and will bring to Floyd county a new era of Creek Road building. With my past experience I KNOW I can do a better job along this line than either of my opponents. Not that they would not try, but the simple fact that they have had no experience doing these things.

Our Rural Highway Commission is going to have plenty of money with which to build Rural Roads. This is the result of the Bond Money which the State will have to spend on 611 miles of our National Defense Roads in Kentucky. All our state funds which would otherwise be used on this 641 miles of Defense Roads will be released for construction of Rural Roads. This doesn't mean, however, that our Rural Highway Commission will force the construction of these creek roads upon us. It must be remembered, and I fully realize, that every county in the state will be pulling at the Rural Highway Commission for roads in their rural sections, and in order to get our share we must keep continually after them. They would not, of course, come up here and voluntarily hunt for some rural road that needs to be built. It will be up to our Fiscal Court and County Attorney to ever be on the alert and not only asking them for these roads. It shall be my policy to, at all times, be on the alert and not only meekly asking for them, but to persistently demand and insist that we get our share of them.

I am personally acquainted with our Rural Highway Commissioner and he and I are the best of friends. With this friendship and the fact that he is a Paintsville man, I submit to the voters that I WILL be able to get more people out of the mud and onto our main highways that all three of my opponents could if they were all trying. Upon my program for Rural Roads, I submit very humbly my bid for the opportunity to do for our people what they have been entitled to for 10, these many years. If you have faith in my ability and sincerity of purpose, then I beg of you your vote and actual and aggressive support.

Sincerely yours,

JOE P. TACKETT

Dana Attorney Succumbs At Home of Paralysis; Was Former Magistrate

T. D. (Jim Bob) Akers, 77, died Sunday at 7:30 p. m., at his home at Dana. He was a victim of paralysis and has been ill ten years, seriously so three weeks.
Mr. Akers was admitted to the Floyd county bar in 1912 and practiced, chiefly, in the Justice of Peace courts until 1940 when he retired due to impaired health. He served as magistrate in District No. 4 from 1922 to 1926.
He was a son of William and Melissa Tipton Akers and was married to Jamie Dugas. Surviving sons are David Akers, of Price, Mrs. Marie Kirby, Columbus, S. C.; Mrs. Malva Howell, of Hi Hat, Mrs. Novella Compton, of Betsy Layne, Miss Alka May Akers, of Lancer, Mrs. Tody Tackett, of Betsy Layne, Mrs. Knodel Boyd, of Dana. Two surviving sisters are Mrs. Fannie Layne, of Harwood, and Mrs. Oma Robinette, of Pikeville.
Funeral rites were conducted at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Knodel Boyd, at Dana, Wednesday. Burial was made in the Conn cemetery on Prater Creek under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

EXPECT LARGEST ATTENDANCE AT DEWEY LAKE SCOUT CAMP

The Lonsome Pine Council, anticipates one of the largest camp attendances since Camp Shawnee, the new camp on Dewey Lake, was built in 1952.
Attendance has shown an increase each year since the new camp was constructed. Virgil P. Kilkensner, Whiteburg, is chairman of the Council Camping and Activities committee. At an executive board meeting held in Jenkins recently, Mr. Kilkensner urged that all Scout Leaders promote attendance to Camp.
The following schedule was announced: June 10 to 22, first week of camp; June 23 to 29, second week; June 30 to July 6, third week; July 7 to 9, pre-Jamboree training; July 14 to 20, Explorer week; July 21 to 27, fifth week of camp; July 9 to 22, Fourth National Jamboree. Scout Executive Dean announced that Jim Owens, district executive, Prestonsburg, will be camp director during the 1957 season. Mr. Owens has had a background of more than 12 years' experience in camp, six years as a Scout, three years as a volunteer Scoutmaster and three years as a professional Owens was assistant camp director during the 1956 season.
Joe Elliott will again serve as program director, giving supervision and guidance to the teaching of scouting skills, including use of Scout axe and knife, rope work, tent pitching, first aid, cooking, Aquatics program, emphasis on swimming, life saving, boating and canoeing will again have an important place in the camp program.

Walleye Fingerling Released in Dewey As Experiment, Said

Fifty thousand walleye fingerlings were released in Dewey Lake this week by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.
Introduction of walleye to the impoundment is being made as an experiment, in the hope that this species will thrive there and provide additional sport for anglers.
Minor Clark, of the Fish & Game Division, said a few months ago that the lake would be restocked this year with black bass, but this has not yet been done.

DEBTS, DEBTS, DEBTS!

THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY HAVE BEEN FOOLED LONG ENOUGH!

If you check The Floyd Times last week you will find an article written by Henry Stumbo, the present County Judge, in which he made an attempt to fool the Taxpayers and Good people of this county. He outlined in detail what the bonded indebtedness of Floyd County was at the time he took office and what it is now.

In all my experience I have never known a candidate to become so desperate as to resort to such foolishness as what is detailed in this article. Many years ago this county was bonded for an enormous sum of money and when the bonds were issued a certain amount with interest was due and payable in each year thereafter. The first thing that is set up in the budget is the amount of money it requires to pay the bonds and interest that are due in that year. In other words, the bonds and interest that are paid are not done by the County Judge or any one else; it is automatic, and I am amazed that any County Judge would claim credit for this. The bonds and interest have been paid as they come due by all County Judges and the Fiscal Court since they were issued.

JUST WHAT WILL PEOPLE RESORT TO IN ELECTIONS TO TRY TO MISLEAD AND FOOL THE PEOPLE? What the people of this county are interested in now is to what has become of the rest of the money. I mean hard-earned money that has been paid by the Taxpayers of this county. What benefits have they received? The Order Book of the Floyd Fiscal Court is in the County Clerk's Office and is a Public Record. It would open the eyes of the people if they would take the time to go to the Clerk's office and turn through this book, page by page, and just see where your money has been going.

I will ask Mr. Stumbo to tell the people how much the outstanding debt is for Floyd county and tell the people how many county warrants the people and the banks have that are drawing interest, also how many claims has he got on his books not paid.

I also notice in the paper where my opponent is making an appeal to the young voters, I myself have never heard of any outstanding thing he has done for the young people, but like us all I suppose he has been good to them, but that is nothing more than what any of us should do and I know I have also tried my best to do good for all people young and old alike. It will not be long now until this Election is over and I am making this promise to the people that if you elect my County Judge that I will do my best to serve you in the manner that you deserved to be served. "IN OTHER WORDS I WILL BE YOUR SERVANT."

Yours Respectfully,
BILL COOLEY

New Building Dedicational For 112-Year-Old Church

Dedication of the new building erected to house the Old Beaver Regular Baptist church at Drift will be made Sunday, May 19. It was noted this week. The construction of a new building had been under way some time. The Old Beaver church was organized in 1845 and families prominent in the congregation since then have been the Turners, Mosleys, Spencers, Moores, Martins, Sizemores, and others, according to State Senator Doug Hays, of McDowell.

Elders Frank Hopkins and George Higgins will be the principal speakers. The public is invited to attend.

money and labor. He was 70 years old Tuesday, and the rewards of life are many, but his most cherished rewards are the respect of his neighbors and the contentment he enjoys on his farm.

Life began for Hans at Petersborg, Denmark, in 1887 on a farm. He went to school there, attended an uncle and three brothers leave for America. These were his home, continually of the new, new land beyond the sea. Hans bore his yearning until he was a man, strong and eager for adventure. He landed in New York City, headed for Minnesota to see two of his brothers.

He worked on a Minnesota farm two years. When he thought he had saved enough money he decided to try for sunny Florida, Alabama, and bought a truck farm. It was here that he acquired a neighbor, Mrs. Emma Caldwell Fouts, former Floyd county, who came to Alabama, via Los Angeles. Mrs. Fouts liked Hans and thought of her next neighbor, Maxie Layne, back in Kentucky. She induced Hans to write her, and a big romance. There were pictures exchanged and letters, of ten.

World War I caught Hans at France, but he carried a picture of the Kentucky girl he had never seen. He had a French artist paint the picture, and it hangs in the living room at Tram today, a romantic souvenir of war and the years.

Discharged in Georgia, with no actual combat service, Hans came immediately to Kentucky to see his promised bride. Married in a few days, the bridal couple moved to the Fruitdale farm.

Tiring of the Alabama truck farm, he sold out, went to Akron, Ohio for a while. In 1924, he came to Tram, went to work in the mines and farmed. He and Maxie had one son, Hans Christian, Jr., named for the famed Danish writer—to reach manhood and marry. He was killed in an auto accident ten years ago. Today, childless and a bit lonely, they show you pictures of the grandson in New York.

While at Tram he became interested in union affairs on a local basis, was named secretary-treasurer by the miners' union. Many were the problems his fellow miners brought him, and wise and considered was his advice. Hans had by now earned the full measure of respect from his neighbors and fellow workmen.

Inevitably came retirement and just as inevitably did Hans remember his youth. Like his earlier yearning for America while he was a youth in Petersborg, he now was filled with a great nostalgia for Denmark. His parents were dead but there were other relatives, many unseen.

He went over on the ill-fated Stockholm, which later collided with the Andria Doria, but his trip was uneventful. It was the reception at Copenhagen that thrilled him. Banked against the rail were scores of relatives. They seized his luggage, shook his hands until he escaped back on the ship and shot a picture. These were not cold, reserved Norwegians, as we might surmise. These were warm and friendly relatives welcoming him home after nearly half a century of absence.

"It was one big picnic and party right after another," Hans relates in his still accented English. He shows you the photographic evidence in pictures galore.

He found Denmark little harmed by the German occupation, since little actual fighting, except aerial combat, took place there. He likes to compare the two countries, remarks that his native land preserves the old as it advances with the modern age. The old schoolhouse he attended in his youth is now a renovated and fine institution. The old churches are still intact, but have been cared for and will survive for generations. Denmark of today is the Denmark of half a century ago, but, of course, has been modernized while retaining the fine features of its past.

As a climax to the big adventure of returning to visit his homeland, Hans brought his sister Karen back to America for an extended stay. They went to visit relatives in Minnesota and New York City. One brother from Minnesota came to Tram and traveled with them.

Hans Rasmussen closes the recital of his life history, which he relates so hesitantly and modestly, with a hort, emphatic statement.

"I have no regrets about coming to America. But I'm proud I came from Denmark, and I'm proud I'm an American citizen."

HOSPITAL DEVOTED TO EYE DISEASES IS 125 YEARS OLD
Philadelphia — Wills Eye Hospital, believed to be the oldest institution in the Western Hemisphere devoted exclusively to the care and treatment of diseases of the eye, is observing its 125th anniversary. Founded in 1832 by James Wills, a Quaker merchant, with a bequest of $100,000, the famous hospital has treated more than 2,000,000 patients. An eighth of those have undergone surgery.

Cadillac

Third Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say. And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families. For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene. And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

MY FRIENDS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

May I ask you to please give my brother, DURAN MOORE your kind consideration in his race for County Clerk.

He is a good young man and I feel that those of you who have had business transacted at the County Clerk's office during his service to us realize that he and Kathleen and his fine help of assistant clerks have been doing a good job.

He has a heart of service and tries to run the office for the welfare and benefit of the people. We all have our important records on file there. He works for the orderly preservation of those records. During flood or storm or disaster, we can rest assured that DuRan will be on the job, day or night, taking care of those things we have filed and recorded in the Clerk's Office and entrusted to him.

He tries to see that we all benefit by reason of his service. Good helpers in the office with reasonable pay who give to us good and kind and courteous and efficient service has been his desire, and these things will continue to guide his actions as County Court Clerk in the future if you good people will help re-elect him.

Please vote for DuRan if not obligated to some one else. He needs your help. He will repay your kindness.

We understand the pleasure of helping those with whom we come in contact through our daily walks. We have experienced a long and hard struggle through this life. DuRan was raised mostly on a small hillside farm. He rode a mule five miles to high school. Bus had not reached our community at that time. He finished. I did not. I quit out during the last year to drive a mule team and later a truck so that I could help our family. We had a brother in law school at that time.

I appreciate my many good friends. Let us all work for the benefit and welfare of our good county and state.

Your friend,
MASON MOORE

Campaigning for County Attorney has been a rewarding experience for my wife, Lucille, and I. We have been visiting with Floyd county-people almost continuously for the past two months. We expect to keep coming to see you, not only during the remainder of the campaign, but also for the next few years. We have made and renewed friendships which we hope will endure through the years, regardless of politics or elections. The courtesy and friendliness of those whom we have visited has convinced me more than ever that the people of my native Floyd county are the finest on earth.

It is the good people of Floyd county upon whom we are depending for our strength in this race. So I am carrying my campaign to the good people of this county with the utmost faith and confidence that you will exercise your vote for the best interest of Floyd County.

In THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES I have placed before the people a specific, thought-out, program of action to take care of all the duties of the County Attorney, and bring about needed reforms in County government. I have not just told you I would do a good job; I have given you a platform you can put your teeth into. The third part of this program is in this issue of the paper.

I have not and will not indulge in mud-slinging, against my opponents or their families, as has been done to me and my family in this campaign. I will match my professional standing as an attorney against any of my opponents, and both Lucille and I will do the same so far as our personal lives are concerned. I am glad to stand on my own merits.

I was elected State Representative in 1949 from Floyd District 3 and 4 by an overwhelming majority.

I HAVE NEVER HELD A COUNTY OFFICE. NOR HAVE I BEFORE RUN FOR ONE. Not one of my opponents can make this statement.

Many of you have seen me in court, you know whether or not I am a qualified lawyer. Many of you have come to me for help, you have received it at my hands. Many of you have met my wife, Lucille, and I, and you know whether or not we are friendly and can meet and mix with people, as your County Attorney will be expected to do.

If I have pleased you in these ways, I ask you to ignore big slate talks, campaign rumors, and elect me your County Attorney.

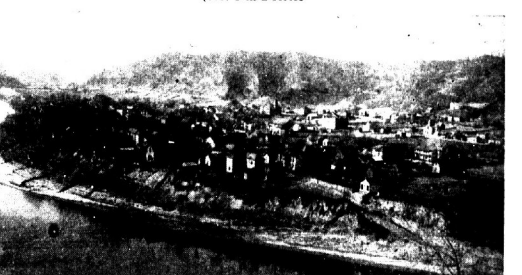

I can assure you that when you need me, I'll be there for YOU.

South Prestonsburg half a century ago, showing the Upper Landing for steamboats which was patronized by many residents of the town and numerous merchants from the country who had their merchandise unloaded there.

In the picture at the center of town is seen the Eastern Kentucky Normal College, later the Prestonsburg Baptist Institute, conducted by Prof. Walter N. Blyington, and the Presbyterian church. At the top of the bank is the office of Dr. Charles C. Lillian. Also shown are the homes of James Salisbury, now the residence of Curtis May, and the A. J. Davidson house, now the home of Frank Layne. The barn on the river bank was Tom Burchett's livery stable.

Prestonsburg has grown from a small village of 50 years ago to a modern town with all the conveniences of good living. The First National Bank, founded in 1901, has grown too with the years and with Prestonsburg and Floyd county.

COUNTY CLERK

Many people over the county are asking for a change.. The voters of this county can make that change by voting for me for County Court Clerk.

The people who know me know that if elected, I will conduct an honest and efficient office above everything else. I will see that the county treasury receives all the money that it is due.

As for my two opponents one is no better than the other nor is one any worse than the other. I do know that I am going to put out every effort to beat them both in the coming May 28 Democratic primary and I can do it with the help of the honest and stable voters of this county. Your help and vote will be very greatly appreciated.

NOTE: I am the son of F. P. "Chick" Howard and Nora Allen Howard. My grandparents were Reps Allen and "Aunt" Martha Allen of Lackey, Ky., and Dan Howard and Martha Handshoe Howard, of Lackey and West Prestonsburg, Ky.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED

Four years ago, at the eleventh hour, there appeared a so-called "slate" of candidates that had been secretly printed and distributed overnight wherever such a maneuver would do the most damage.

It should have been evident, but was not in the minds of some, that this was another election trick, conceived and executed to create dissension and to stir up certain candidates and their friends.

I trust this cheap trick will not be undertaken again, but it may be. So this is to warn the voters and candidates alike that talk of "slates" and appearance of printed "slates" in a primary election can be nothing but a means of creating confusion. If anybody who knows elections and election strategy will only stop to think, they will quickly realize that a slate is a hard and fast agreement between any group of candidates is not only impractical but impossible as well in a primary election such as Floyd County's.

Do not be deceived by trickery and false propoganda, please. Study the situation and the motives behind such schemes, and you will know them for what they are.

Re-Elect James J. Carter Coroner

I have been campaigning for the office of Coroner on my own record, running my own race, doing my own campaigning, backed by no outside source or organization. I owe no obligation to anyone or anything, other than upholding the laws and duties of the Coroner. You know you have a Coroner in office now who is Reliable, Dependable, Efficient, Available, Honest, Sober, Experienced and Qualified.

Most of you are familiar with my record, but for those who aren't—here are the facts: I was born in Floyd county and spent all my life here, except for college years and Army service in World War II. After graduating from Prestonsburg high school and taking two years Pre-financial study at Eastern State Teachers College, I entered the Cincinnati College of Embalming and graduated with honors. In World War II I served with the United States Army Medical Department as a Surgical Technician in the operating room. On my return to the State I took a refresher course at the Kentucky School of Embalming at Louisville, Kentucky. I took the State Board examination for Funeral Directors and Embalmers and passed with high honors.

Perhaps some of you are wondering what bearing all these facts have to do with my race for Coroner. Just this: I feel I have the background of experience, knowledge and education that qualifies me as your Coroner. I have the interest of you and your loved ones at heart, for I am one of you—you are my friends of years standing.

Since you, my many friends, elected me as your Coroner I have constantly tried to give you my very best service. I have fulfilled all my duties here in the county and have tried to increase my knowledge of the office even further by attending all state conventions, at present I am on the Legislative Committee of the Coroners Association of Kentucky.

The office of Coroner is important—to you and to me. We never know when it will need the services of a qualified Coroner. This is an office of dignity and respect, knowledge and experience. Together we can keep it so.

I wish I could visit every home in Floyd county, but since this isn't possible in the short time left to campaign, I am appealing to my many friends to talk to their friends and ask them to vote for and support me in the coming election.

I will serve you in the future as I have in the past.

Linden Is Promoted To Corporal Rating

Promotion of three Kentucky state troopers to the rank of corporal was announced in Frankfort last week by Director of State Police Paul M. Smith.

Elevated to corporal's rating, according to Smith, were: John A. Linden, 35, Prestonsburg; Eugene Roach, 43, Hartford; and June Thompson, 42, Webbville.

Smith said the three men have been serving as license examiners and will now have duties as examining field supervisors.

THANKS FELLOWS!

We must at this point stop to pay a sincere sort of compliment to the candidates seeking office by and urge, they have been gentlemen about the matter of trying to defeat somebody or several somebodies for office, and have left off the mudslinging.

The fellows apparently have decided all must live together after the election is over, also that vilification no longer sets well with the voters. Thus they pay the good sense of the voters high compliment.

And they make everything so much more pleasant for us. Thanks!

5 out of 10 Smaller Cars wear a Pontiac Price Tag —yet none give you Any of Pontiac's Advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR!

Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging haft and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why! Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the most docile package of might you ever had the pleasure of bossing. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic... this is driving the smaller jobs can't possibly equal.

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac's Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Stream V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete fact-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac... there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!

So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

On the contrary, of those who are never paroled because of bad prison records 80 out of every 100 return to prison as lawbreakers, he said.

For the first time since 1948, the speaker pointed out, there has been a decline in the prison population at LaGrange, despite the crime increase. The state prison there had 2,400 inmates a year ago. Now it has 1,900. It is equipped to handle only 1,200.

In the last year, he added, the number of parole officers in Kentucky has been increased from 32 to 53, giving every circuit judge in the state at least one such aide.

The speaker also discussed plans of the Department of Welfare, with the help of the Division of Probation and Parole, to offer to communities, their civic, school and church groups a program designed to curb juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Ryle is a graduate of Eastern State College where he took his A. B. degree and his Theological degree from the College of the Bible at Lexington. He has for several years held important positions in the Christian Churches in Kentucky and was pastor of the First Christian Church at Stanford, at which time he was a member of the State Parole Board.

We Need Roads!

Many roads up our creeks and in many other places for that matter in this county are relics of the bygone past. Some were built by the cooperative effort of citizens seeking access to town or a better road. These roads have needed rebuilding for years and years and the residents along them have been pleaded for a generation for roads.

These people have children to educate, their families want access to churches and the highways. They pay taxes, want to participate in the good things of life like everybody else. They have been neglected and ignored.

I propose to build them roads and extend to them an opportunity to reach churches, schools and town over a road that serves their needs. With better rural living we will have a better country.

Roads are but one of the problems of this county but it is one of prime importance to many people. With a full-time magistrate looking after your interest six days a week much can be accomplished.

I pledge you full time, six days a week at your service as Magistrate. I will give you that and you are entitled to no less.

Let's change things a bit. Let's serve more people with roads and exact more service from the Magistrate's office.

Sincerely,
R. T. ALLEN

P'BURG SPLITS DOUBLE BILL

Merchants Stage Rally To Win Nightcap, 5 to 2, After Dropping First Tilt

The Prestonsburg Merchants divided a doubleheader last Sunday with an all-Negro team at Blaine, leaving the Prestonsburg team a 2 and 1 record in the still-young Eastern Kentucky Baseball League season.

Blaine won the first game, 6-3, as they nicked three Prestonsburg batters, Sullivan, Nelson and Childers for eight hits, punching their blows for two runs in the third and three in the fifth. The game went only seven innings. Sullivan was the losing pitcher. Clark went all the way for Blaine, holding Prestonsburg to five safeties, two of which were triples by Ellis and Blackburn. The Merchants got off to a good start with two runs in the first inning but scored only one time thereafter.

Campbell went the full seven innings for the Merchants to take the nightcap, 5-2, holding Blaine to six hits and scoreless except in the fourth and fifth rounds. E. Hughes was the losing moundman. At that, Prestonsburg had to come from behind, arousing in the seventh to score four runs, with Wilcox contributing a home run. Campbell struck out six while walking three.

The Merchants play Allen here next Sunday.

Four Girls from Floyd Sing in College Recital

Pikeville, Ky., May 7—Four young Floyd county women took part in a brief recital by the Pikeville college choir, presented at the college's daily chapel exercises Thursday.

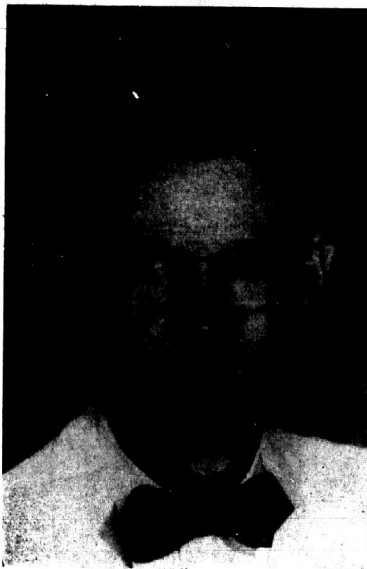

The 20-voice choir, under the direction of Forrest E. Albert, head of Pikeville's music department, sang two of the selections they will use in the school's annual spring concert May 23. The numbers varied from Beethoven's "In the Holy Hour of Evening" to the Kentucky Mountain song, "Madam, I Have Come a-Courtin'," arranged by Transylvania College's Lewis Henry Horton.

Among the choir members are Shelby Jean Calton, Martin; Patricia Ann Light, Betty Layne, and Mary Lou Miller and Ruth Ann Rowe, both of Prestonsburg.

JARVIS ALLEN For COUNTY ATTORNEY

THANK YOU!

I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks and appreciation for the fine support which I am receiving in my campaign for the democratic nomination for County Attorney.

As most of you know, I have planned for a long time to make this race but my announcement was delayed because of illness which appeared to make it impossible for me to be able to campaign actively. However, God has been kind to me and my health has improved to such an extent that I decided to go ahead and make the race. Even though I got a late start your warm response has encouraged me. I am grateful to the many fine people who have volunteered their support and their encouragement. I am grateful to all of you who are actively campaigning for me in your localities. Such support indicates that you good people approve my record of public service, my reputation as an attorney, and the type of campaign I am conducting.

I am in this race to WIN!

With confidence in the right, as God gives me to see the right, with the assistance and encouragement of such fine friends, I shall win this race, God willing.

Your friend,

JARVIS ALLEN

FORMER BIG SANDIAN RECALLS YOUTH HERE

By Ernest G. Mitchell
Just a stone's throw out of the little village of Harold, I became the first child of a sizeable group of youngsters born unto Robert L. and Josephine Mitchell. Just a short distance from the village is a stream which empties into Big Sandy River. This stream is called Big Mud Creek. It stretches back into a fourteen-foot-long gorge, and drains all the mountain terrain around and about along the main creek, from its mouth to its head, are many, many other deep gorges which are drained by smaller tributaries of Big Mud Creek.

Here amidst the network of these mountain streams, nestled between the mountains, I lived up the first nineteen years of my life. What a life! So remote and un- known in the rest of the world it is here, scattered among the hills, that a few of my remaining generation make their home to this day. It is here that many of the first of this generation lie sleeping. It is here in these mountains—so green with foliage and so redolent with thousands of wild flowers—that one of the dearest persons I have ever known is still among the living, although very old. He is the last of my grandparents, "Grandpa Akers."

During those childhood days when I use to scamper through dense forests, picking wild flowers, tasting wild grapes, chasing butterflies, or just listening to the musical notes of the many songbirds, little did I know my proximity to God. Had I known then the scriptural passage of the Old Testament, which reads, "Be still and know that I am God," my concept of this beautiful setting would have been complete. For many were the times when I set so silently in the shaded forests and drank in the intangible beauty of His creation.

Estatic were the moments when I stood atop one of the highest peaks, my hunting gun at my side, and started dreamingly out over the jigsaw-puzzle-patterned earth toward the horizon where the sky seemed to kiss the earth with turquoise lips.

Recently I learned that the Big Sandy Valley was a favorite hunting ground of the Shawnee and Cherokee Indians and for this reason this particular section of Kentucky was the last to be settled by the early settlers. Perhaps

Horticulturist Gives Shrub Pruning Tips; General Rule Noted

All flowering shrubs should be pruned soon after they have finished blooming.

That is a general rule which every home owner would do well to follow, says N. R. Elliott, professor of landscape horticulture at the University of Kentucky. Such a plan encourages new growth, foliage is fuller, there is more and better bloom, and the natural shape of the plant is never destroyed, says Elliott.

He recommends the following re-annual plan by which a shrub will have an entirely new top every four to five years:

Within two inches of the ground or the crown of the plant, cut out about one-fourth to one-third of the old, dark brown or black canes. Carefully work the canes through the top of the plant without injuring other branches.

By following this simple plan, the cause are not too large for easy removal, and there will never be an unattractive period when the shrub looks "butchered," with stubby stems.

All varieties of spirea and forsythia, Mock orange, weigela, beauty bush and beauty-berry are some of the flowering shrubs popular in Kentucky, and all may be success- fully pruned in this way, Elliott said.

"Shrubs pruned correctly will last from 15 to 25 years, the older they get the better looking they become," said Mr. Elliott.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS
HENRY STUMBO
COUNTY JUDGE

When Judge Stumbo took office Bonded Indebtedness of the county was $522,000.00
Bonds retired during past 7½ years $48,000.00

Outstanding bonds now $ 54,000.00

During the past 3½ years the tax rate has been reduced 20c on the per hundred valuation.

This huge reduction has been made in the county's indebtedness at a time when the road building and right of way expenses were the greatest of all times.

By 1960 under the administration of Judge Stumbo all the bonds will be retired and Floyd county will be debt free.

All of this has been accomplished without any increase in the tax rate.

Get Floyd county out of debt and keep it out—Continue the Road Building Program.

LET'S TAKE THE HIGHWAY

This is the third in a series of articles by Paul E. Hayes on his plan of action as your next County Attorney. Two articles published earlier discussed investigation of Crime and Criminal Prosecution and Sound Management of the County's Financial Affairs.

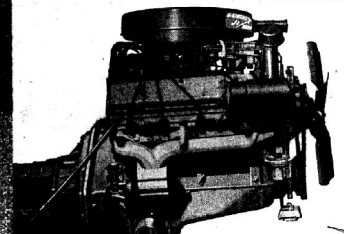

THE LAW: Your County Attorney has a great deal to do with roads, highways, and bridges. He is a member of the county budget commission which sets aside money for such purposes. He is advisor to the fiscal court and County Judge, and he is responsible for obtaining right of way for county roads and state highways.

PLAN OF ACTION OF PAUL E. HAYES:

1. As your County Attorney I will seek to have a program of regular, not "spotty" maintenance for our county roads and bridges.
2. I will constantly work to transfer county roads into the state highway system. The more roads the state maintains, the less expense the county has.
3. In obtaining road right of way, and in condemnation matters I shall be fair and will try to do justice to both the county and the landowner, and will attempt compromise in all cases.
4. I will always seek Floyd County's share of state road money. Many of you know that during the last eight years, I have voluntarily gone to Frankfort with other Floyd countians and we have gotten state aid for many roads including roads on Bull Creek, Abbott Creek, Buckingham, Jacks Creek, Minnie-Sizemore, Hi Hat-Harold, and many others.

J-2 ROCKET!

ECONOMY WHEN YOU WANT IT!
Here's the secret of its greater gas mileage. In the J-2 Rocket a single two-barrel carburetor serves the engine, at peak efficiency, for all your ordinary power needs.

You choose your own kind of performance—you're in economy range up to 3/4 throttle. Yet you enjoy famous Rocket action all the way.

POWER WHEN YOU NEED IT!
All three carburetors (six barrels) go into action, automatically, whenever the occasion demands. Push your foot to the floor, and you have extra safety power on tap to whisk you up the steepest grade, or out of the path of danger. Here's alert action for added safety in any driving situation!

OLDSMOBILE NOW OFFERS YOU THE MOST EXCITING NEW ENGINE DEVELOPMENT SINCE THE FIRST HIGH-COMPRESSION POWER PLANT!

Greater economy for all normal driving! A greater reserve of extra safety power for the exceptional situation! That's why Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine is like two engines in one. And you, the driver, are in complete control of how you want to travel. For practically all driving needs you enjoy the fuel-saving economy of a single carburetor. Or, a touch of the accelerator past the three-quarters mark will bring two additional carburetors into use. This gives you gas-saving power over a 50 percent broader operating range plus a reassuring reserve of power that means added safety. If you have not already tried the J-2 Rocket, your nearby Oldsmobile Dealer invites you to come in for a drive soon. He has just got in a J-2 test. You'll find it is a totally new and wonderful driving experience.

Revival in Progress At Martin Church

Evangelist Sam S. Grigaby, of Ibsen Baptist Church, Leesburg, Florida, is preaching in the revival which began at the First Baptist Church, Martin, Monday evening.

The Rev. Grigaby was converted six years ago under the ministry of Dr. Billy Graham, and has traveled with him for several months.

Cloy M. Deane, Jr., pastor, said this week the services will continue through May 16 at 7:30, nightly with prayer services at 7:15. Everyone is invited to attend these services. Clarence King will lead the music. Miss Sandra Moore is the pianist.

Our service is marked by our high standards of integrity and sympathetic attention to all details in accordance with the family's wishes.

One call to us, and our thoughtful staff takes care of all arrangements at time of sorrow. Our reverent services are a lasting, beautiful memory.

To The People of Floyd County:

The problem of law enforcement in your county is becoming more and more acute each day. The number of good deputies and the territory they are able to cover is limited. They are the fellows you call when trouble occurs and the ones you talk about when things are running smoothly.

They are the ones who put in twelve to eighteen hours day and night in order that you may sleep. They're the ones you give credit for all the bad things that happen. They're like unto a doctor when the bills are to be paid. We have a good but small number of officers policing your county. They are few because of the qualifications they must have. Many have been rejected and many relieved of their duties because of outside activities and because the recommendations of the people in their communities have not been favorable enough to justify their appointment or their retention. There has been a strong effort to maintain a force with a high degree of integrity, honesty, and character. A great problem in getting officers whom you, the people, want to act. The ones who want to act very seldom qualify; therefore, the sheriff's office is always understaffed with competent men to justify the tax.

The lawless element, or the underworld element of our county, is well organized and well entrenched. Through their activities and tainted money they have people who will go along with them to promote and help them to continue their ill-formed practice of extracting tainted dollars that take the food from your children's mouths and the clothes from their backs, and to foster trouble and heart-break in the homes of our people. You may sneer and scoff, but this underworld group who practically controls our county has the political backing that stifles and kills any effort to stop the wheels of justice.

Law enforcement is the duty of every citizen and the business of all our people. The policeman who walks his beat on a lonely street; the man who goes to the mines to labor; and more so than any one else, your elected county officials sworn to the job—all are responsible for law enforcement in everyday life.

Without the cooperation of the citizens and the judicial enforcement there can come a time when the underworld will completely control and dominate the lives of each and every one of you. It is happening here. It is happening here! There has been very little if any cooperation from the three parties mentioned. Therefore, law enforcement is at a standstill and considered as a joke.

It is alleged that many candidates in this field today are trading future leniency in different branches of our county government for the election support of these groups. It is also alleged that the underworld is encouraged to continue their filthy rackets of bootlegging, gambling, whiskey running, or what have you. It is rumored that everything is off until after the election—Then what?

There have been hundreds of search warrants issued and prosecuted; much contraband confiscated in cars, homes, and business places. This I know from inspection of the records. It is a sad and shameful record—one for which we can all share the blame and shame. Why? The same old faces are still at the same old stands, dishing out misery for our sons and daughters and all our loved ones. This is happening, that a few may live in luxury and that our sons may be delivered to their homes in an ambulance or hearse; or our daughters be ravished and destroyed. Once searched, these places are back in business within an hour. What is the reason for this? Do they have no fear of retribution from the law or the courts? Do they have no fear of our judges or prosecutors? Do they have no respect for either? You as citizens have either a respect or fear of our county government for just plain don't care. Where do you stand?

We have laws; good laws that are all of teeth. These laws are to protect the innocent and to punish the guilty. These laws, to be effective and to protect persons, must be enforced by all of your elected county officials. They took an oath and have a moral obligation to each and every citizen. It is their job to see that justice is done.

I want to quote, verbatim, section 242-310.

RENTING OF PROPERTY, OR HIRING VEHICLE FOR TRANSPORTATION IN VIOLATION OF LAWS, OR FORFEITURE (1) Any person, knowingly or intentionally renting or permitting the use of or using any premises, or part thereof, or any vehicle for the purpose of unlawfully selling or transporting or possessing intoxicating liquors in dry territory, shall be guilty of a nuisance and of a violation of this chapter.

For high food value at a reasonable price, choose the leaner, less tender meat cuts. They will be made tender and flavorful when moist heat is used, such as in simmering, braising, stewing, pot roasting and in the pressure cooker.

I further maintain that an action in equity in the name of the state should be instigated by our county attorney and our Commonwealth's Attorney in every case from this day forward. Now is the time to show what you will do—or not do—if you are re-elected.

TO THE VOTERS AND TAXPAYERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

When it comes time to cast your vote for a candidate for County Judge, there are a number of things that you should take into consideration. The County Judge is the presiding officer of the Fiscal Court, and as such is in charge of the finances of the County. For this job you want a man that has the proper training and experience in business to properly look after the interests of Floyd County. There is one candidate for this office that is qualified for this job and has demonstrated by the way he has handled his own business that he is a good business man. That man is Dewey Roberts.

You want a man that has the time to devote to the duties of his office—a man that is not engaged in the coal business to take him away from the duties of his office. The County Judge should be in his office and on the job every day in the week every week in the year. If should not be necessary for a long wait or a return trip to transact business with the chief business officer of the county. If you want a man that will be on the job every day and will have nothing else to do except look after the business of your county—vote for Dewey Roberts for County Judge.

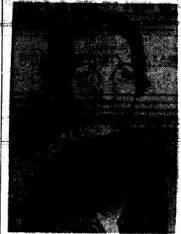

If you want a County Judge that will look after the taxpayers money and will make sure that none of it is spent illegally and that the County receives full value for every penny that is spent; a man that will publish a complete audit in the County Newspaper each year showing to whom, for what purpose and the amount of each and every cent of money spent by the County, then elect Dewey Roberts. He will do these things.

If you want a man who has the ability, energy and "know how" to keep your roads and bridges in repair and to build more and better roads in all parts of the County, Dewey Roberts is that man.

If you want a County Judge that will be on the job and can and will look you in the eye and discuss your problems with you, and will not be looking after some other business when you want to see him; a man that will be working every day for the interest of you and Floyd County, then elect Dewey Roberts County Judge. You will always be proud you did.

To My Friends and Relatives of Dist. No. 1

I have decided to run for Constable. I fully realize it isn't a very high or profitable office, but we have it just the same. Legally and lawfully. I also know someone will be elected. For the last several years some people have made a joke and mockery out of small offices. (Just to have a little fun) such as Judge Bush and others, but I think it is high time that we quit joking around on matters like that. Ask yourself one question—Is it safe to turn loose on the streets, and in the country with a big pistol? We never want to elect a man that might be unsafe among our people. Do you think it wise to ignore the facts and just elect anyone? No, no, I think you should elect a man that exercises a reasonable judgment to deal with his fellowmen, treating him as he would want to be treated. I don't believe in abuse in any respect. I will work as I have always done, pulling you over, shaking you down, and possibly arresting you on some fake charge. I don't doubt but what I will be nominated, and I don't intend to make a living alone by constabulary. I will work as I have always done. I have been working for Ford Motor in Michigan for the last four years, but I have moved back to the old home place where I was born and raised. I am appealing to all my friends and relatives to vote for me, as I have never in all my life voted against one of my relative and regardless of the outcome of this election, I never will. I have always tried to make a habit of voting for some local boy or man in county-wide elections. That's why I am always on the loser side. I was on the loser side in the last Governor's race, but I would do the same thing again if there was a local boy involved. I volunteered for the army right after war broke out in World War II and was in combat for several months. I have decorations for meritorious achievement against the enemy, and also for gallantry in action. (I represented my home on the battlefield.) Would it be asking too awfully much to represent you all as your Constable?

Thanking you all in advance,
Respectfully

ELECT

DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT 97

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Denzil Halbert, your candidate for Representative, is a native-born Floyd citizen, having been born at Printer on Left Beaver Creek, the son of Wess Halbert and Ada Martin Halbert, grandsons of the late John D. and Mary Dingus Halbert and Jobie and Julianne Martin. My grandparents were among Floyd county's first settlers.

I am 34 years old, married to Lorraine Slade, the daughter of E. C. and Lula Elliott Slade, and we have four children—two boys and two girls. I graduated from Kentucky Wesleyan College in 1947 after having my education interrupted by thirty-nine months of service in World War II. Fourteen of my thirty-nine months of service were spent overseas in North Africa, China, Burma, and India.

For the past 10 years I have taught school and coached all athletic teams at Martin high school. I have served on the Board of the Council of Martin, Kentucky, six years and at present I am serving my second year as Mayor of Martin, 1, being in the Masons, Shrine, American Legion, Anvets, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

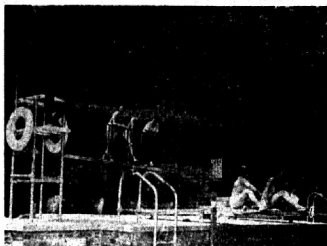

My platform consists of four points, namely:

1. Maximum Foundation School Program.
 2. Equal distribution of road money.
 3. Beneficial laws for veterans, widows, and dependents.
 4. Secure flood control and water impoundment projects.
- Now is the time for the people of Floyd county to elect officers who will serve everyone. Don't be satisfied with the second best available; vote for a candidate who is BEST qualified by experience and education to represent you at Frankfort.
- I entered this race with the sole intention of winning and that I will do, so contrary to all other beliefs with the help of YOU who want the best I will win.

Yours, in service,
DENZIL HALBERT

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

For the past three years, five men from 10,000 people living in and around Prestonsburg have been directly responsible for the inauguration and continuation of the Prestonsburg Little League. They have worked hard and done an excellent job. Their only compensation has been the progress of Prestonsburg's youth on the baseball field and its physical and mental growth of the youths themselves. Other rewards to these men have been an untold number of hours of fun and relaxation for the city's boys.

There is no doubt in anyone's mind that the Little League program has played a tremendous part in curbing the city's delinquency, but how many parents do you know who have even given this a thought? How many of these parents have ever contributed in any minor way to the Little League?

Now the League is dead or fast dying unless the parents take over. It's time for parents to come to the front, to take some leadership action and initiative, not sit back and let George do it or praise George for what a good job he's doing.

George is exhausted, he played the part in true Hollywood style, and he's ready to box out of the picture and let the audience take over. Now, it's up to the audience (city parents).

At this late date, Mayor Harry Sandage has agreed to see that the office of the League charter is paid. If he personally has to stand the expense. This is a very generous offer from a man who has no sons of his own, but a great number of sons in behalf of the city's Little Leaguers. How many parents of Little Leaguers would donate $500 each every two weeks to the league to see their own play on a Little League team?

The answer is now on the parents of the city's youngsters. If they want their sons to play on a Little League team. Let's see how they react. Four sponsors are needed, one for each team, thirty men who can donate from 2 to 4 hours each week. These men would serve as managers care for equipment, scheduling, financing, etc.

If the response is great enough to interest parents, Sandage, Maudie Harmon and Frank Heinze will direct a meeting to re-organize a Little League. If the response is negligible, the city's fathers have failed their sons.

Now is the time, not next week, not tomorrow, to call the Mayor, Mr. Harmon, or Mr. Heinze, who have no boys, and tell him that you will help, that you want your son to play Little League baseball this summer, not sit on the street corners.

Delmar Hughes Cited At U. of K. Honors Day

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Hughes were in Lexington recently visiting their son, John Delmar Hughes, and family. While there they attended the Air Force Reserve Officers Cadets Honors Day program at the University of Kentucky.

John Delmar Hughes won two major awards. The Meritt Prize as the outstanding cadet in Air Sciences four, and the reserve officers prize for contributing most toward success of the R.O.T.C. Program at the University.

SPORTS AFIELD

Sleeping is an important part of camping. In fact, says Col. Townsend Whelen, Camping Editor of Sports Afield Magazine, one third of every extended camping trip is spent in bed. Since most of the other two thirds is taken up with vigorous exercise, is it any wonder that the camp bed looms as a most essential item?

This is Col. Whelen's formula for sound outdoor sleep. First, a camper should be insulated from the camp and dirty ground. Modern city men need something soft and comfortable to lie on. Also, the bed must be protected from the wind. Most modern sleeping bags have ample warmth for ordinary camping if these other conditions are met.

Be sure to smooth the ground on which you are going to make your bed. If you are going to use a tent that has a ground cloth, do this before you pitch the tent. The ground space should be covered an area 7 feet by 30 inches. Over this spread a light, waterproof sheet.

Col. Whelen suggested using a short air mattress, about 4 feet long by 25 inches wide. Such a size is absolutely ample, costs less than a full-length mattress, and a camper will never notice that he has nothing under him from his knees down. On top of this goes the sleeping bag with the front of the bag at the head of the mattress.

A good bag is not waterproof and must not be so or the body vapors will condense inside and make it unbearably cold. It is most comfortable and warm to sleep in pajamas, as at home; cotton for summer, flannel for cold weather.

PRESTONSBURG, MARTIN IN TOURNAMENT FINALS

Prestonsburg and Martin advanced in the Floyd county high school district baseball tournament at Drift Monday afternoon with easy victories over Maytown and Auxier.

In the opening game of the five-team field, Prestonsburg, behind the nine-hit hurling of right-handers Wayne Dixon and Paul Hughes, eliminated inexperienced Maytown, 25-7.

Martin moved in the tournament finals on Vernon Allen's three-hit performance while his mates posted an 8-2 decision over Auxier.

Dixon paced Prestonsburg's 17-hit attack with a home run, double and two singles in driving in five runs. Rightfielder C. Dolson blasted two triples and a single which drove in four runs. Buford Crager, J. Harris and Paul Hughes each had two safe dimes.

Denzil Halbert's Martin Purple Flash took advantage of two Auxier errors in the bottom of the fourth inning to break a 0-0 tie and register a 5-0 lead. Although out hit, S. S. Martin added three more runs in the sixth on four walks, two errors and a single by Billy Hale.

Senior Rightfielder James Buford Crager and firstbaseman Charles Harris combined lead pitching and hitting to lead the Prestonsburg Purple Flash to a 14-4 semi-final victory over Wheelwright in the Floyd county district baseball tournament at Drift Tuesday afternoon.
Crager, using excellent control and a good curve ball, limited the defending district champions to four hits and had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning when second baseman J. Sward drove a clean single to left field.
Harris sent Prestonsburg into a 2-1 second inning lead with a long triple to right with Dotson and Joe Harris on base. The Blackcat firstbaser led the fray with a two-run strike in the sixth.

Prize Bass Taken At Dale Hollow

Frankfort, May 6 (Sp.)—The prize-winning smallmouth bass in the 1956 Field and Stream magazine national fishing contest was caught in Dale Hollow Lake on Kentucky's southern border.

The fish, weighing 7 pounds 4 ounces, was caught by Chester Longenbich Nov. 2 while using a Bomber Gimmick, the magazine said. Longenbich's home town was not identified by the publication.

In 1952, 10 of the top small-mouth bass caught in southeastern United States came from this lake.

CORDELL MARTIN ASKS SUPPORT FOR DURAN MOORE For COUNTY CLERK

TO MY RELATIVES AND FRIENDS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As the day of election draws near, I take this opportunity to solicit the support of my relatives and friends for DURAN MOORE FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK.

As many of you know, I married his sister, Mattie, and of course as all of you who know me best, know I am always interested in the advancement of my relatives and friends, as well as the advancement of our people of Eastern Kentucky.

By way of introduction to some of my relatives who may not know me, I am the son of Bob Martin, and Mary Hall Martin. My grandparents were Alamander (Squint) Martin and Evelyn Hall Martin, of Drift, Ky., on my mother's side, and Billie Hall and Ritter Boleyn Hall, of Hall, Ky., on my mother's side, and I have been always proud of my heritage, because I have felt that they were people who believed in the better things of life, who believed that any person with a clean heart and sublime faith in God could achieve that in this world which would be worthwhile to his county and community.

In asking you to support DURAN MOORE FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK, I am not appealing necessarily for you to vote for him strictly on a kinship basis, because that would be selfish on my part, but I ask for your support for him on the record that he has made as your Clerk. DuRan has been kind, efficient with his work, considerate of others, helpful to all classes of people, whether with money or without money, honest with all with whom he has dealt, efficient in the preservation of all your records in the County Court Clerk's Office, even to the extent of carrying out and preserving the records in the Clerk's office during the flood, and wading the water to his neck to get these records in a safe place so that they may be preserved.

Of course, DuRan would not ask you in this case to give him credit for going beyond the call of his official duty, and neither would he ask you to elect him as your County Court Clerk upon his war record in the jungles of the South Pacific, on Okinawa, on the Philippines, the Solomon Islands, during his 34 months of service in World War II, but we, as citizens and kinsmen, must be fair, and we must elect him upon the Record he has made as COUNTY COURT CLERK OF FLOYD COUNTY, which I feel has been one of service to the fine citizenry of Floyd county.

One of his opponents says, "If you want a Change, elect him". As he has made no indication of what kind of Change he would make in the management of the Clerk's Office, or what the voters could expect of his CHANGE, I feel sure that the people would be better off with the type service they are getting. He further stated that some of the candidates for Clerk had been sued, but he did not add that the Court of Appeals of Kentucky had dismissed these cases.

As one final word and my last advice to you as voters, I want to conclude with what one of my cousins recently told me about supporting DuRan. She said, "We have got it good enough in the County Court Clerk's Office, and I for one want to leave Good Enough Alone."

It is my sincere advice to you as your relative and friend, and as a professional man, a lawyer, to leave GOOD ENOUGH ALONE, to keep DURAN MOORE AS YOUR COUNTY COURT CLERK OF FLOYD COUNTY, to work for him, to support him, to VOTE FOR HIM as your next County Court Clerk—and to reward him for his efficiency, his honesty, his integrity, and his ability to get your job done as County Court Clerk.

Thanks again for all these favors as your KINSMAN, YOUR FRIEND, AND ONE WHO IS EXTREMELY INTERESTED IN YOU AND YOUR WELFARE.

Yours,

CORDELL MARTIN

Cooperative Effort Pays Off

The USDA's vets say that if present intensified cooperative efforts continue, bovine brucellosis can be reduced in five years to only 1 percent of its present figure.

out in the crisp, morning air to hear the beckoning voices of his beloved hunting dogs as they opened the way at Brakes-ock to some far distant hunting area, where the tall oaks and scaly bickeries are still alert and have not yet been disturbed by the gray squirrel as he searches for a tasty nut at breakfast time. Awesome, indeed, is it to sit quietly among the towering monarchs of a foliage-laden canopy just dawn breaking its debut, and watch God's little creatures—so unique in custom and habit, so precise in keeping with the laws of the forest—as they go happily about greeting the birth of a new day. Then, thrilling, too, is it to be startled by a faint barking over yonder hill; and, with pride, you make for the goal; for you know your keen-scented, tail-wagging friend has triumphantly won his chase.

So unlike the world in which I live today, there were no glum, morose arrangements for the so-called "live-it-up" way of life. There were no intriguing theaters for movie going, there were no swanky night clubs for night life; and there were no colorful soda fountains for teen-age rendezvous. My fun came from my engagement with the intricate challenges of Mother Nature. There were times when I could have been seen plunging from the top of a giant boulder into a crystal-clear pool of water, which were found in many of the larger streams. There again, I may have been seen dangling from the end of a long grapevine, swinging far out over a steep slope and looking down at the earth far below me, daring thrill surging through my boyish heart. Or, perhaps it would have been exciting to see me leaning forward in my tiny cowboy saddle sitting astride my cherished pony, his mane sweeping the wind like streamers, as he raced wildly over the rough country roads. Occasionally, I could have been seen sitting calmly beneath a shadowy maple, a sprig of green grass protruding from the corner of my mouth, just dreaming—dreaming of a world beyond the surroundings of my boyish habitat.

But, as it were the end of a fabulous dream, or as it were a voice saying "goodnight" at the end of a glorious day, so came the time when I should say farewell to that small portion of God's "footstool" which had, for nineteen unparalleled years nourished the pretty care of my youth. Yes, farewell to a land where the blue streams bubbled and trickled over the stones as they wound themselves through the enchantment of overhanging willows; where the cowbells chimed in the evenings high upon the green knolls; where the sickles and the scythes chirped a goodnight melody and the shrill notes of the whip-poor-will pierced the quiet night. Yes, where the spirit of the Creator was spread, like the dawn itself, over the wide hills; and with communion with God was ever ready and welcome. Now, as I look back into the sanctity of this gem-like setting of hills and handwork, I am reminded of the Psalmist when he said, "How excellent is thy name in all the earth," when I consider the work of thy fingers."

Prizes Are Offered Ky.-Ind. Farmers

Kentucky and Southern Indiana farmers can win prizes totaling $1,000 in the third annual Tom Wallace Farm Forestry Awards competition, designed to recognize outstanding forestry programs.

A grand award of $500 will be given to the farmer who has carried out the most complete woodland plan. His accomplishments may be the result of several years' effort or of the current year alone. The program should include protecting and improving established woods areas, planting new tree seedlings and coordinating all woods operations under a management plan.

Second prize will be $200. Certificates will be presented to the ten farmers whose programs rate honorable mention.

An award of $300 is offered to the landowner who makes the greatest improvement on his woodland during the contest year—October 1, 1956 to September 30, 1957. Second improvement prize is $100.

In addition to the cash grants, five winners and their families will be guests of honor next spring with all expenses paid at the Farm Awards Luncheon in Louisville.

Here they will meet with top entrants in four other farm incentive contests sponsored by the Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WEH&S, Inc.

Tom Wallace Farm Forestry Awards are named in honor of the editor emeritus of The Times and an active conservationist.

Any farmer in Kentucky or 27 counties in Southern Indiana may enter the contest. Ineligible are industrial or investment holdings which are not part of an operating farm, landowners who do not reside on or operate the farm and winners of the grand and second prizes in the 1955 or 1956 contests.

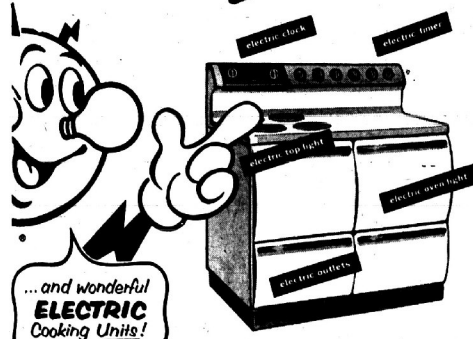

However, previous winners of the improvement prizes are eligible. Entries must be submitted by September 30. Contest blanks may be obtained from foresters, soil conservationists, county agents or by writing the Promotion Department of the newspapers.

Average meat consumption per person in the United States was 161 pounds in 1955, or 10 percent greater than it averaged from 1946 to 1950.

If You Want a Commonwealth's Attorney

FLOYD COUNTY VOTERS:

Here are some of the reasons you should go to the polls and vote for Claude P. Stephens, for Commonwealth's Attorney.

1. He is experienced, having served as County Attorney, Commonwealth's Attorney and United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky.
2. He has the ability and courage to do the job, as shown by the way he handled the different offices he held. If you don't know this, ask some of the older citizens.
3. He will restore law and order and see to it that all other officers of the county and state do likewise.
4. Graft and corruption will not be tolerated by him.
5. It will not be necessary to employ special attorneys to represent the county or state in any litigation.
6. Can not be bought or bluffed. He is not answerable for his conduct to any man or set of men. He belongs to no faction, clique or ring.
7. Young voters, ask your fathers and grandfathers the kind of man Claude P. Stephens has always been.
8. You won't have to employ a lawyer to help him prosecute cases in which you are interested.
9. He promises to examine the Fiscal Court orders after each meeting of the Fiscal Court to see if your tax money has been legally spent, and appeal the case to the Circuit Court when necessary.
10. The time calls for the election of men of his caliber. THEREFORE, DON'T LET YOUR COUNTY DOWN BY FAILING TO GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE FOR HIM ON MAY 28.

Post of Accountant Open at Signal Depot

The Board of U. S. Civil Service examiners at the Lexington Signal Depot Lexington, Kentucky, has announced an examination for the position of accountant, at the beginning salary of $5,440 a year, to fill current vacancies at that installation. Applicants will be rated on the basis of experience and training; a written test will be required of those who do not offer at least 24 semester hours in accounting subjects in a resident school above high school level. Full information may be obtained from the executive secretary, Board of Civil Service Examiners, Lexington, Signal Depot. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Danville Named As Capital City In Emergency

Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.)—Danville will be surveyed as a possible center for location of state government in the event of an enemy attack, J. S. Lindsay, Kentucky's civil defense administrator, has announced. This is a part of the civil defense program for the state and will be under the direction of the Bureau of Government Research of the University of Kentucky. Danville Police Chief Tom Clark, director of civil defense, Boyle county, will conduct the survey. Survey of Danville is part of the plan to maintain vital state government operations in the event of an enemy attack on Frankfort and for the reestablishment of normal government operations in the emergency period, Lindsay said. State officials and personnel would be moved there. In determining the suitability of the Danville area as a relocation center for state government, survey will be made of available office and housing space, communication, transportation, parking facilities, storage space for vital records, food supply, feeding facilities, environment sanitation, medical facilities, and other resources and facilities which could be available for the important role state government would play in the whole survival program, Lindsay added.

Benedict, of Ashland, former pastor of the sponsoring church, Irene Memorial Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, making the principal address. The Kentucky Baptist Missionary Women's Union liberally contributed to construction cost of the chapel, and Mrs. George Ferguson, Louisville, secretary of that group, was a speaker at the dedication.

Road Committee Approves Plans For Highways

Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.)—An $85,000,000 Kentucky road improvement program has won approval of Gov. A. B. Chandler's Citizens Advisory Committee on Highways without a dissenting vote. The committee endorsed the program, to be financed with federal and state funds, which had been presented to it by state officials a week earlier. The plan is to be carried out between now and July 1, 1958, in the first phase of an unprecedented 13-year Kentucky highway building program. The $85,000,000 outlay covers proposed superhighway and other federal-aid road construction but not certain rural work which will be additional. The plan can be expanded, officials said, if the $100,000,000 road bond issue is finally upheld by the Court of Appeals and the bonds are sold. Joseph J. Leary, committee member and attorney in the lawsuit testing validity of the bond issue approved by Kentucky voters last November, said his guess is that the Court of Appeals would hand down a decision late in June before its summer recess. Leary said if the issue is approved he's confident the bonds would sell even though the interest rate cannot exceed 3 percent. Finance Commissioner James W. Martin, also a committee member, reported three syndicates are in formation to bid on the bonds if they are offered. The advisory committee elected Lawrence W. Hager, Sr., Owensboro publisher, vice-chairman; Glet Weiman, Lexington, managing director of the Blue Grass Automobile Club, secretary; and Malcolm Patterson, Frankfort, public relations director for the state highway department, assistant secretary. John Fred Williams, Ashland industrialist, was named chairman by Chandler when the 30-member committee was appointed recently. The committee approved appointment of nine sub-committees by Chairman Williams before next general meeting here at 1:30 p.m. CDT, May 20.

Judge 'Bleeds' Errant Driver

Oklahoma City, May 4—Traffic Judge James Demopolos sentenced an 18-year-old chronic traffic-law violator to spend 2 hours a night for 30 days in the emergency room of Mercy hospital. James Mix was brought before him with a record of nine traffic accidents on d40 driving citations. The judge also told the youth to give a pint of his blood to the Red Cross. "That will be symbolic of the blood that could have been spilled on the highway," he said.

Boss Clive Has Started His Drive!

Boss Clive has now revealed the tactics by which he expects to coerce the good people of Floyd County into keeping him in office for a full 20 years:

Does he explain why he has neglected his office for the past 16 years? Not at all! Does he explain why it has been necessary to pay extra for work done in his office which should have been done by him? Not at all! Does he explain why taxes are so high in Floyd county and why the county's credit is so bad it can't buy a keg of nails on time? Not at all! Does he apologize for devoting his time to his coal business when he should have been looking after his office? Not at all! No—his strategy is quite different.

Boss Clive has already had three good Floyd County citizens fired from their jobs on the Highway for no reason except they were not strong enough for him in this election. If you doubt the truth of this statement we suggest you talk to men themselves. They are Bert Nichols, of Wayland, Frank Warrick, of Prestonsburg and Andy Conley of Garrett.

Boss Clive has set out to make every Highway employee in the county not only to work for him in the election but also to display a Clive Akers sticker on his automobile. If you doubt this you have only to look at the vehicles parked around the state Highway garage at Allen.

Boss Clive has already forced every Highway employee in the county to donate to the campaign "Kitty." He will now be calling on many of the big taxpayers to "kick in" some money or take the consequences.

BOSS CLIVE IS THE BIG "APPLE KNOCKER" IN FLOYD COUNTY. STAND BACK FOLKS: GIVE HIM ROOM: BOSS CLIVE HAS STARTED HIS DRIVE.

If you believe in honesty in public affairs; if you believe in fair and equal assessment for all property. If you believe in giving the little man a chance to live too, vote for Manis Conley, your next Tax Commissioner.

Two States Burial Boone's

Burial Place
By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer,
Kentucky Historical Society
Every Kentucky school boy knows where Daniel Boone is buried in Frankfort, Ky. But Missouri boys don't know what to believe.

The story of Boone's death and the Kentucky delegation who came 25 years later to take the old pioneer home has been told again and again, each time taking on a new twist of fancy.

First, there was a John Jones who died in 1919 or thereabouts. He was a great grandson of Boone and, supposedly, the son of the doctor who administered to the Indian fighter in his declining years. Just before he died at 91 Jones expressed "some doubts" that the Kentuckians had Boone.

David Gardyne, who lived at Marthasville, Mo., many years after Boone found his first resting place, said that when Boone was buried in Warren county in 1820, he was interred either at the foot or the head of Rebecca. This, according to the story, was because one side of this woman's grave was not suitable for burial and the other already occupied by anonymous bones. Gardyne says when the bones were dug up the delegation didn't know the burial circumstances and took the bones of Rebecca and a stranger.

An old slave who lived near Marthasville, Jefferson Calloway, told Gardyne "many facts" about the burial. Gardyne interviewed Jefferson's son, Alonzo, on his death bed. Alonzo, also a former slave, who said that he had helped to dig up Daniel in 1845, declared "They didn't get Boone."

For 16 years following Boone's death, no marker was placed at his grave, according to John S. Wyatt. Wyatt said that in 1836 he took to Nathan Boone's to get the son to take him to the graves of his mother and father. But Nathan was sick, so little Susan Byron was sent instead with the stone cutter. Susan hesitated, Wyatt said, but finally went to the site of two unmarked graves and said: "I believe this is where grandmother and grandfather are buried."

And what do the Kentuckians have to show for their belief in the last resting place of Daniel Boone?

They have some original letters and newspaper clippings in the archives of the Kentucky Historical Society in Missouri, still living in 1845, not only consented to the removal, but was present when the coffins were dug out of the soil.

Capitol Notebook

Frankfort, May 6 (Sp.) — All of you who have been taking many individual slaps at mosquitoes, take heart.

The State is taking a big wide slap. It's war—aerial war—upon the nesting places of the pest. A special plane has begun a spraying offensive over 37,000 infested acres of Hopkins, Marshall, Graves, Fulton, Muhlenberg, Webster and Henderson counties.

Targets are the salt and marsh and Culex mosquitoes. Ben J. Butler, commissioner, and his deputy, Manell Vinson, of the Department of Agriculture, which is waging the war, say the Culex transmits sleeping sickness and the salt marsh is a potential carrier. At least 142 cases of the disease were recorded in western Kentucky last year.

Oil is used to form a film on water and cut off the air of the larvae or wigglers. DDT will kill the adult mosquitoes on contact. So, when a mosquito bites, just sing while you slap.

You've made us yelp. But the State will help. So little stinger, why toil? Your fate—DDT and oil. To guard our health. The Commonwealth. The little wigglers will foil.

ARTISTIC HOBBY
Some state employees have become proficient in ceramics as a hobby.

Miss Frances Marshall, assistant secretary of state, tells us that when the National Secretaries Association meets in the capital city May 17-19, samples of this art will be on display in the form of ash trays.

They were made and glazed with the association's emblem by members of the organization's Frankfort chapter, hosts for the convokers, Mrs. Ruth Shoemaker's ceramics studio, which overlooks the Capitol.

State employees making the trays are Mrs. Marshall, Callie Hurd, attorney general's office; Shirley Shipp, governor's office; James Wheat, economic security department, and Joyce Thompson, revenue department.

RECOLLECTIONS
I recall my mother wearing a band of copper wire on her arm to help her rheumatism.—Mrs. F. Britton, Muskegon, Mich., formerly Versailles, Ky.

I recall the barrels of apples, packed in dry leaves, we had in the cellar in winter.—Mrs. Katie V. Baily, Burgin.

I recall the expression "quarrel with your bread and butter." I think it means to fuss at the person who feeds you.—James Thomas, Covington.

CULTURAL EXCHANGE
Wonder how Kentucky government looks through the eyes of a man from Pakistan?

Twelve citizens of that nation visited the state capital recently. Wonder if there's any element of state administration in Pakistan that helped them understand government here just a little?

The 12—educators, public health specialists, agriculturalists and home economists—came to Frankfort as guests of James W. White, director of the University of Kentucky's farm extension service.

Some aspects of Kentucky government were described to them by Commissioner Ben Butler, agriculture, Laban Jackson, conservation and G. M. Pedley, public relations. The guests also visited the education department and offices of the governor and lieutenant governor.

The visitors apparently enjoyed the trip. Cultural exchange between peoples is a good thing and should be interesting between Kentucky and Pakistan.

Will Replace Laurel Queen
Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.) — Miss Janene Carole Simpson, a junior at the University of Louisville and "Miss Kentucky of 1956," will reign as queen of the Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival until the 1957 Queen is selected.

Miss Simpson will replace the former Booker Andrews of the University of Kentucky, who is in Africa with her husband, a member of the U. S. Army.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simpson, Louisville, Miss Simpson is a former resident of Pineville and a graduate of Bell County high school. While a senior at Bell High, she was the school's candidate for the title of Mountain Laurel Festival "Princess and Queen" and has won beauty titles. This year, Miss Simpson, was one of the attendants to the Derby Queen in Louisville.

The festival will be held May 30-June 1.

Highway Deaths Decrease in April

Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.) — Traffic fatalities during April dipped 15.3 percent below the figure recorded for April of last year, according to Kentucky's Commissioner of Public Safety, Don S. Sturgill.

"This reduction marks the first time this year that one month's fatalities have fallen below the same month last year," Sturgill said.

He added that the reduction is "something we anticipated in view of the fact that the State's accident rate has fallen monthly in 1957. When accidents are reduced, it just naturally follows that fatalities must go down."

It was reported last month that statewide accidents were down 12 percent.

"With the point system keeping more drivers alert to the need for safe driving, we expect the accident rate, and thus the death rate, to continue a decline, resulting in 100 fewer deaths this year," the commissioner said.

Mosquito, the cause of western rashes for years, can be ground up and included in cattle feed, Texas researchers have found. Ground mosquito bodies, containing vitamin A, the material has a pleasant odor; and it adds wet to standard cattle rations.

HENRY STEPHENS
Circuit Court Clerk

Well, the Primary is coming to a close. Only a few more days and it will be over, and since this is an open season on candidates for office, a lot of shooting with ballots will take place soon and, since this is an Atomic age, a lot will be mortally wounded on the political battlefield, maybe never to arise again, and no candidate is expecting it to be a casualty. There are approximately 167 candidates, with only about 17 to be nominated on the Democratic ticket.

I have done more work during this campaign than I ever have done before, and if I can't win under present conditions, I will never try again. I have never seen conditions brighter or more favorable in my race than they are at this time, and I have no doubt that it will continue to increase. Into any community I go, I find that I am considered one of the leading candidates for office, and that there is no question about the outcome.

During my life I have aided and assisted many people who are now considered quite wealthy, and this condition prevails throughout the county, and many of them are doing political battle for me in this race, and will continue until the end—all of which I deeply appreciate. I have the endorsement upon the records of the Circuit Court by the State Examiner and Inspector as being one of the best Clerks in the State of Kentucky. You can't go wrong when you support and vote for me. I will do the job the way it should be done, and I will render the service you demand. Remember me on Democratic Primary election day, May 28th, 1957. For the many good deeds I have done for others, I will do for you. Stick with Henry and he will stick with you.

With best wishes and an honest deal for all.

DEAR FRIENDS AND FELLOW VOTERS:

When I came back to the United States from over there, I knew that here in America I had a right to take my wife and settle down, make a home, witness the birth of my first child, cast my first vote and even run for office in a neighboring county to my place of birth. You know that I traveled halfway around the world during World War II. I saw a lot of places and after it was all over, I selected Martin, Ky., as my home. I am sorry that either of my opponents wish to question my right to have done this. I have meant to have worked no hardships upon anyone. I guess that Kathleen and I just had Floyd county in our blood.

You know, her grandfather was Copper John Campbell, son of Daniel Campbell and Louise Branham Campbell; that he was born and raised on Bull Creek in Floyd county; that he married Liza Wicker and moved over in Knott county, raised a large family and that most of his children moved back to Floyd county; my grandfather, William (Wid) Moore, was born and raised on Left Beaver above McDowell. He was married to Susan Mosley, who was born and raised in the same section of Floyd county. That is where my father, Marson Moore, was born and raised. He migrated across the county line and married my mother, Minnie Jones. Mother's paternal grandfather and grandmother, Jonathan Jones and Elizabeth Draugh Jones, moved all the way from North Carolina to Knott county, and her maternal grandfather and grandmother, Nelson Craft and Eliza Reynolds Craft, moved from Letcher county to Knott county.

So on and on it goes here in America. God has been kind to us. We have a lot to be thankful for in this country. You know we can just work and live wherever we like best. I am proud that I chose Floyd county. I love it and I love the people who work and live here. The native-born Floyd county people as well as those like myself, who migrated from other counties and other states—we all make up one big, fine Floyd county.

Kathleen and I have many fine friends and relatives throughout Floyd county. We appreciate your kindness to us during this campaign.

We appreciate the fact that so many people are working hard for me in this race for the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk.

I feel that you have always felt free to come to the office since I have been there and transact business and visit with us. We have been glad to serve you and be of help to you. We will be glad to help you in the future. Our every act and desire will be for your best interests. We have tried to save you time and money, and we will do so in the future. I am very grateful to everyone of you and will always do my very best both in office and out.

Please give me your kind consideration. I will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence and I will do my best to make you happy that you helped me. May God be with us all, now and forevermore in the future.

RAMON
for
CORONER

Knowing my qualifications for and being familiar with the duties of the office of Coroner I do not hesitate to ask the Democrats of Floyd county to nominate me for that important office.

I have been employed at the Beaver Valley Hospital for the last 10 years as medical and X-ray technician, served in the army overseas during the second World War. Am 34 years old, married, have one child, own my home at Allen, Kentucky, and am a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Centrally located and available day or night to render services of that office.

I respectfully ask that on May 23th you go to the polls and vote for the nomination of Ramon Childers for Coroner.

TEAGUE TELLS KY. TB NEEDS

Beds, Clinics and Nurses Necessary, Teague Says, For Tuberculosis Fight

State Health Commissioner Dr. Russell E. Teague says Kentucky needs more beds, clinics and public health nurses to cope with the tuberculosis problem in Kentucky. The commissioner's comments were in an annual report released yesterday by the Kentucky Tuberculosis Assn.

The report said the rate of new cases of TB in Kentucky so far this year is 10 per cent higher than in 1956.

It estimated there are now 12,000 active cases in Kentucky, although only 7,000 are known. The remaining apparently are unaware they have the disease.

The report said the death rate from the disease in Kentucky is the second highest among the states and the case rate is the third highest.

Dr. Teague said the state should have 3,200 hospital beds for TB patients instead of the present 1,600. Many known active cases, he said, "are running around every day spreading the disease."

He added because of a shortage of outpatient clinics, only about 20 per cent of TB cases in Kentucky receives proper treatment.

Tiny Must Go Court Orders

Chicago, May 4 — A lawyer, protesting demands that his client make support payments to his estranged wife, told a judge:

"My client has no objection to supporting the family, but the court should know the family has acquired a boarder, a monkey named Tiny, who really belongs in a zoo or with an organ grinder."

Judge Harry G. Hershenson ruled that the husband, Earl Kopka, must give his wife $50 a week in temporary support.

He also ordered Mrs. Kopka to get rid of the monkey.

Butler Warns Against Migrant Paint Sprayers

Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.)—Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler has warned property owners that this is the season when migrant paint spraying contractors will be contacting them to have their barns and houses sprayed.

Butler said his office has already received several complaints from property owners that had work done by such contractors.

He pointed out the dangers of having this work done by persons or firms that are not well-known in the community. While they may use metallic paint in the job, this paint is often cut so thin with kerosene that it washes away after a few hard rains, Butler said.

He suggested that persons considering having buildings painted should contact local painters or dealers of this type of work. Such people will remain in the community and guarantee the materials they use, Butler added.

Jeff Davis Memorial Celebration, June 3

Frankfort, May 2 — Jefferson Davis Memorial Day will be celebrated Monday, June 3, in Jefferson Davis State Park, at Fairview. It was announced recently by Mrs. Ben Kilgore, director of Kentucky's state parks and Mrs. L. D. Johnson, superintendent at Jefferson Davis.

The public is invited to attend the program. Among those expected to attend are Gov. A. B. Chandler, G. R. Gregg, the Davis monument designer, Mrs. Margaret Bell, who took part in the dedication ceremonies of the impressive monument 27 years ago, Mr. Laban Jackson, commissioner of conservation, Mrs. Kilgore, UDC officials and members, and many others.

Also invited is Jeff Davis, of Colorado, grandson of the former president of the Confederacy.

A band and color guard will be present. Many women in the area will wear dresses of the Civil War period and ride in horse-drawn carriages to the birthplace of the former Confederate President.

The 22-acre park is open throughout the year for visitors. It is located on U. S. 68 and Kentucky Highway 80, a few miles east of Hopkinsville.

DISEASE TOLL STILL HEAVY

Dr. Howard Points at Progress Made But Not Enough To Meet Perils

Despite progress made during the past four years, far too many Kentuckians still die unnecessarily, especially children, from such diseases as diphtheria, polio, tetanus, typhoid and whooping cough.

This was expressed today by Dr. C. C. Howard, M. D., Glasgow, chairman of the Kentucky State Medical Association Public Health Committee, as part of the statewide observance this week of "Immunization Week in Kentucky". This educational effort has been conducted by the medical association each year since 1954. He emphasized the importance of immunizing preschool age children, but also called for a total immunization inventory by all members of every family.

Provisional figures for 1956 show a 70% reduction in deaths due to diphtheria, typhoid, smallpox, polio, tetanus and whooping cough in Kentucky since 1953, Dr. Howard said. "But the unnecessary death toll still remains too high."

"The need for a continuous campaign to see that our people have the protection of immunizations against these killers is shown by the fact that deaths from typhoid increased by five over last year, despite an over-all lower death rate in these cases."

"The effectiveness of the Salk Vaccine has reduced polio deaths, but there are still many persons who have not availed themselves of this protection. The medical profession urges all persons to take the Salk vaccine, especially those under 40," Dr. Howard continued.

"Even more important than polio, however, is the problem created by the failure of parents to have their children immunized early against diphtheria and whooping cough. Since most of the deaths from these diseases occur under the age of five and two years, respectively, it is extremely important that pre-school age youngsters be immunized."

GRATEFUL To the Red Cross

At this time, upon the eve of a drive by the Red Cross to procure funds in this county it is but proper that we evaluate correctly what that organization meant to us in the aftermath of the recent flood.

We are deeply grateful to the Red Cross for its aid. To that unselfish organization there can be never enough praise offered for its work here. But there is something else that dictates, besides generous gratitude that we contribute liberally to the Red Cross drive. That is our own self-interest as there will be other times of disaster, either here or somewhere else in the land where suffering and distress will need to be relieved. In the event of such need, and God grant it never happen again, but if it does the Red Cross will stand stalwart with us as it did two months ago.

I, like you, saw such human suffering after the flood. Homes were washed away, people were hungry and wet, many who had few worldly goods even before the flood were looking forward to a bleak future. Everywhere was mud, wrecked homes, and businesses.

It was then the Red Cross came to our valley, bringing the first ray of hope and cheer since the inundation. They gave our people food, clothing, bedding, and furniture. It repaired our homes and businesses. It spent $45,000 in Floyd county alone. From the depths of our heart we are grateful.

The Red Cross now wants the small sum of $10,145 from Floyd county in its annual drive for funds. If we contribute the full quota, and I'm sure we can and will, that sum would be but one-fortieth of what it spent here in six weeks of this year.

Let us remember gratefully and contribute cheerfully.

Sincerely,
J. S. REYNOLDS,
Allen, Ky.

National Speech Meet Scheduled at Lexington

Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.) — The Commonwealth will be host to the "National Forensic League" with membership comprising more than 400 high schools, in June.

The league will conduct its nationwide speech tournament at Lexington June 23-25. About 500 speech students and coaches are expected to attend, Glen Johnson, who coaches debating at Frankfort high school said.

Johnson, who is making arrangements for the national meet, said a student mock congress, held jointly with the tournament, probably will meet at Frankfort, Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield has been invited to present trophies at the meeting, Johnson added.

He said Richard Parmace and John Koskinen, both of Ashland high school, will represent Kentucky in the congress.

The speech tournament will be conducted on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

GOOD POINTS of a GOOD JUDGE

It is highly important that we all lay aside sympathy and exercise discretion in selecting a Circuit Judge. We have carefully considered the merits and qualifications of the two candidates, and have concluded that Judge Edward P. Hill merits our support for re-election for these reasons:

- (1) All agree he is HONEST.
- (2) He is ABLE.
- (3) He has had nearly 12 years experience.
- (4) He has the necessary patience.
- (5) He will not hold PREJUDICE.
- (6) He does not believe in REVENGE.
- (7) He will do his duty to enforce Liquor Laws.
- (8) He is strictly sober, a teetotaler for some time.
- (9) HE WILL OPPOSE ORGANIZED RUM RUNNING AND BOOTLEGGING.
- (10) He is the same every day.
- (11) He will listen to all and do right.
- (12) He conducts a dignified court, respected by the attorneys all over the State.

We pledge our HONOR, upon the truthfulness of these reasons. In the name of law and order, decency and justice we submit this recommendation for your consideration.

Love of Union Puts Henry Clay In Hall of Fame

Frankfort, May 5 (Sp.) — Henry Clay of Kentucky has been selected as one of five outstanding senators of the past whose portraits will hang in the U. S. Senate's Hall of Fame, according to an announcement by a special committee.

In selecting Clay, the committee said: "He is a political leader who put the nation's good above party, a spokesman for the West whose love for the Union outweighed sectional pressures. He required more respect and more respect as the responsible leader of the loyal but ardent opposition than many who occupied the White House."

Clay represented Kentucky in the Senate from 1811 to 1842 and from 1849 to 1850. Becoming a Senator at 29, he formulated and championed the "American System" based on a protective tariff. He advocated aggression in the War of 1812 and was one of the commissioners who concluded the peace. Clay is also closely identified with the "Great Compromise," movement of 1850, the last important adjustment before the conflict between North and South erupted into war.

In addition to his other political honors, Clay was speaker of the House of Representatives and Secretary of State but he failed in his ambitious to reach the Presidency for which he was a candidate three times.

From 1811 until his death in 1852, Clay lived at "Ashland," his home in Lexington, which is now preserved as one of the state's most interesting shrines. It is located two miles east of downtown area of U. S. Highway 25.

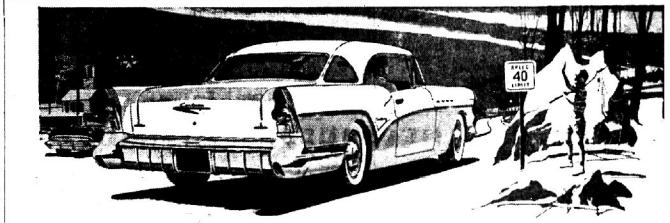

Set back from the street among trees planted by Clay, the two-story central part of the brick house is flanked by one-story wings. Beside the house is a thick pine grove and the path Clay liked to pace as he composed his speeches. Mrs. Clay's garden is behind the house.

Other portraits chosen to adorn the wall of the Senate reception room are those of Daniel Webster, Massachusetts; John C. Calhoun, Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin; and Robert Taft, Ohio.

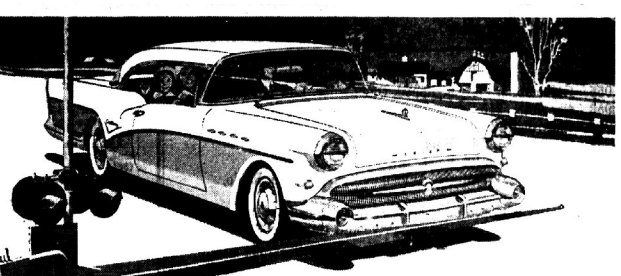

"The plain truth is that Americans, as a people, have never learned to love the law and respect it as an enduring resource. They have seen it only as a field for exploitation and a source of immediate financial return," Dr. Hugh H. Bennett said.

Parents Spoiling Teens by Apathy, Judge Asserts

Paw Paw, Mich., May 4 — Probate Judge William P. Wright urges parents of teenagers to "keep a firm hand on their car keys and their children."

Wright said most of the children appearing before him are not criminals, but "wayward through the acts or omissions of their parents."
"The lack of mature judgment is no greater now than it was in the horse and buggy days," he said. "But unlike the horse, which often showed more sense than its driver, he gas bugs you keep on going until stopped by his law of a ditch."

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

by GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"WHAT DO YOU KNOW?"

Just now I answered the telephone. It was one of my former students, a teacher in the grade who wanted to know some new approach to teaching plain grammar to youngsters. I gladly gave my advice, for I have never ceased to teach grammar, since the first day I started my professional career in 1917. And this former student of mine was eager to tell me how she found her pupils glad to know the names of things, to be asked to find nouns and verbs and adjectives. I thanked her for giving me a lift at the end of a tiresome day. I, too, have been trying to teach some of the basic principles of grammar, the "very bones of language," as this student of mine called them. And sometimes I find that many students, even from high schools that have big reputations, do not know a noun from a verb and look puzzled at me when I mention such strange things. But these same ones look puzzled at the mention of some state across the Mississippi River or in distant New England. I suppose that if I were to start out some day on some semi-primary subject like physiology, I would really get some story looks. Spelling in many parts of the world, is a losing game, a decadent art. I have found one student, just this year who cannot spell the name of his own county. Now, all this sounds like the ravings of an elderly man who teed the planks in the country school in a spelling match or who could name the states and tell their capitals and do a lot of other unnecessary work. Yes, you are about right. What I am leading up to is that knowledge for itself seems to be on the defensive. Fortunately, there are some who still cherish the acquisition of learning, even though not everybody like these can receive national attention because of highly-paid quiz shows. I know a good many people who have their heads stored with what the practical world thinks is foolish knowledge, but these keepers of the stores of knowledge have lots of fun with being able, say, to travel entirely across America and visit every state without crossing any state line twice. Or some of these freaks might be able to name our Presidents and give their dates of service, or (horrors!) name every English monarch from "William the Norman, then William his son," on down to "Elizabeth the Second, God bless her." So these are merely illustrations of what I mean by useless knowledge.

Personally, it has been lots of fun to major in such nonsense. I used to memorize the table of contents of my readers; that helped me, I suppose, to be able to name every one of the 130 people now in my classes. Useless information? Sure. Just this week I was asked to recommend a student whom I have known only on the campus but have never had in class. But we walked across the campus together many, many times. I came to know many things about him. I realize that I do not have very technical

Performance — Not Promises

HONEST

ATTENTION, YOUNG VOTERS!

We, the undersigned, students in the Floyd County School System, of voting age urge all other young people throughout the county to support Judge Stumbo for re-election to the office of Judge of Floyd County. We invite all voters to look into the record of Judge Stumbo. His administrations as our County Judge have been devoted to the best interests of the county and the people as a whole. His handling of juvenile matters, which is of particular significance to our age group, has been characterized by wisdom and understanding.

We do not have to rely on statements made during a political campaign to know that Judge Stumbo has the interest of us young people at heart. He went on record as far back as November 3, 1955 when, in a letter to the editor of the Floyd County Times, he solicited the support of voters to the passage of the Constitutional amendment granting 18 year olds the privilege to vote. His letter on that date is as follows:

"Editor, The Times:

This is to call to the attention of the people Constitutional Amendment No. 1 which is to be voted on at the election next Tuesday. A "Yes" vote means that we are in favor of permitting those who are 18 years old to vote.

All of us are mindful of the services by the youth who are 18 years old in the armed forces, and all should be grateful to them. I urge support of the amendment for the reason that I am convinced that any youth who is old enough to wear the uniform of the armed forces and undergo the hardships of a military life is certainly capable of stamping a ballot and doing it as well as those who are older.

May I urge the voters not to overlook Amendment No. 1 on the right-hand side of the ballot."

HENRY STUMBO,
County Judge."

We think that Judge Stumbo's consideration of us in 1955 merits our consideration now, for without Judge Stumbo and others like him we would not be privileged to cast our ballot in this election.

I have never been a hero but I did serve my country four years in the Army, two years of that in the South Sea Islands. I came home from the war I served my county faithfully for eight years as an officer and never hurt any one. I have taken many chances on my own life to keep from injuring or killing any one while serving as your officer. I feel quite well experienced and qualified to serve you as Sheriff, honestly and faithfully for the next four years if you will give me the chance.

I haven't any money to put in this election so when elected I will know it will be your honest vote and in return I will serve you honestly.

My wife is the former Marguerite White, daughter of Hughes and Elizabeth White. We have two sons.

I will have no deputies paid by commission.

TEN YEARS OF HIGHER FREIGHT RATES TOLD BY NATIONAL COAL ASSOCIATION

A steady 10-year advance in railroad freight rates on bituminous coal is hampering the coal industry's recovery from the post-war low point and threatening the ability of coal producers to keep their industry at the production peak demanded by national defense.

Between July, 1946, and December, 1956, an unended series of freight rate boosts authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission has added a maximum impost of $1.70 a ton to the cost of moving coal from the mine to the customer.

Coal industry spokesmen have protested constantly against inequitable treatment at the hands of the roads and the Commission. Coal is the biggest commodity hauled by the railroads and as a consequence the roads realize their greatest income from the movement of coal to market. Coal tonnage originated is greater than the tonnage of all other products of agriculture, animal and products, and products of forests combined, and is almost as much as the total originated tonnage of manufactures and miscellaneous traffic. In 1954, coal tonnage moved by rail was 76 per cent of coal production. In prior years the railroads' share of this transportation market was even greater. With coal output rising, this hauling job increases. The railroads must prepare to their part.

In 1956, for example, coal led all commodities in carloadings with a gain for the year of almost eight per cent over 1955. The rising trend is expected to continue in 1957, moreover, as a direct result of expanding export demand and rising consumption of coal by the electric utility and steel industries. Estimates of carloadings for the initial quarter of 1957, made by the Atlantic States and Midwest Shippers Advisory Boards, early in January, indicated substantial gains in coal loadings in both regions, ranging to more than eight per cent in the Atlantic States area.

The rising trend in coal carloadings emphasizes sharply one coal industry problem: shortage of railroad transport facilities. Had increased revenues realized over the past 10 years from higher freight rates on coal been applied to the railroads' hopper car fleet for coal movement, today's car shortage could perhaps have been averted, or at least alleviated. This shortage of coal cars is certainly not in the national interest. In the event of a national emergency, demand for coal will mushroom; with this expansion will come an unprecedented demand for cars to carry coal to defense industries, to electric utilities, and to other consumers.

In the past, the railroads have bought new transport equipment on a catch-as-catch-can basis. The American Railway Car Institute declares railway car building is traditionally "a feast or famine" industry unrelated to the need for cars. A change in this policy to a program of more orderly purchases is urged. The institute has stated, "will reduce the overall age of the freight car fleet" and "reduce the danger of recurring freight car shortages" while at the same time placing the roads "in a better competitive position to meet shippers' changing needs and thereby increase freight revenues." On January 1, 1956, the average age of hopper cars in service on the nation's railroads was 20.76 years, while the average of gondola cars was 17.45 years. It is hopper cars that are predominately used for the movement of coal from mine to market.

Still another argument for relief from a constantly growing burden of higher and still higher freight rates on coal is the impact of unrealistically high transport charges on the market for coal. High freight rates are paid by the coal consumer; when transportation rates by rail get too high, the consumer switches to a competitive fuel.

Fresh evidence of the part transport charges play in the market for fuel was furnished by the rise in oil prices after closing of the Suez Canal. As charges for oil rose, in the face of rising European demands, American consumers in the Eastern states switched to coal. In just the same fashion, coal in the past has lost to oil and gas through high transportation costs. Concerning this situation, the President's Cabinet Committee's Report on Energy Supplies and Resources, Policy stated in February, 1958:

"In order to maintain coal's vitality as an instrument of national defense by improving currently its ability to compete with other fuels, the railroads, by voluntary action, and, in the absence thereof, the Interstate Commerce Commission, by compulsory order, should adjust freight rates to the extent necessary to remove the excessive and disproportionate contribution that coal rates are making to meet the cost of other unprofitable services of the railroad industry."

But more than a year later, this recommendation of a Committee reporting directly to the President remains ignored, not only by the railroads, as may perhaps be natural, but by the Interstate Commerce Commission presumably charged with protection of the public interest.

Railroad attorneys repeatedly argue that increased rail revenue is essential to maintaining a strong rail transport system. It is the coal industry position, however, that further increases in freight rates on coal will only hamper coal's ability to compete with other fuels and force a reduction in production that will seriously affect the coal industry's ability to develop its mines, properties and labor forces in order to meet fully the expanded demand needed for coal in the years ahead. Higher freight rates, by reducing coal's sales, can be detrimental to the national defenses. In time of war, coal is needed more than ever.

Railroad management has only to glance around to see what excessively high freight rates on coal mean in terms of lost business. Competing forms of transportation quickly got the call. Too high a charge for rail haulage has prompted aluminum producers, electric utilities and other large consumers of coal to locate on the waterways, for instance. In Ohio, a 110-mile long pipeline has been built to carry coal from the mines at Gediz, O., to the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., generating station at Eastlake. Ohio Optimistic observers see in this pipeline a forerunner of a system of coal pipelines, especially in the high-consumption area of the East Coast.

There is still another strong argument against a constantly rising railroad freight charge on coal: passenger freight charges against the freight rate increase asked for, and granted, early in 1956, coal industry spokesmen pointed out that "with the exception of three war years, the railroads' passenger services have been operated at substantial deficits since 1930. Twenty-five years should be sufficient time for a reasonably efficient and prudent management to put an end to such a drain. Any prudent businessman, faced with such a situation, will either make the business profitable, or eliminate it. This is because the loss is out of his own pocket. The only reason this has not been done with the passenger deficit is that the railroads have been successful in shouldering the cost of this unprofitable service upon freight shippers."

In opposing constantly rising freight rates on coal, the industry has repeatedly sought from the Interstate Commerce Commission an order to the railroads for a study of the real cost of carrying coal. Without such a cost study there is no way to determine whether or not any proposed rate raise is just, reasonable, or lawful. The railroads admit the necessary information is available, but it has never been isolated, analyzed or summarized. Isn't it about time, in justice not only to the shippers of coal, but to all other railroad shippers as well, that the ICC takes steps to make this study? Or shall the railroads be allowed to go on, without hindrance, charging passenger losses to shippers of freight?

Buyers of coal are extremely price conscious. Especially is this so among electric utilities of the nation. Witnesses on behalf of utility companies before an ICC hearing on a proposed freight rate increase in 1956 emphasized that exorbitant freight rates on coal were forcing a revolution in the location of new coal-fired electric generating plants either completely off-line, or with a minimum rail haul. The electric utility industry, consuming more coal than any other customers of the coal industry, finds the delivered cost of its coal to be three-fourths of the total cost of producing electricity and that rail rates for coal are 91 per cent of the value of the coal at the mine. Electric utility executives find that coal freight rates fail to reflect the changing pattern of transportation, the effect of competitive fuels, or the transmission of electricity by wire from generating plants located adjacent to coal mines.

It's the "with" that seems to make a Hamburger so much better when you're eating "out". And Hamburger "with" is more than relishes and pickles and onions.

It's the friendly lips of a roadside stand at night... the smiling counter man... the steaming rocky mug... the warm good smells... and the pleasure of listening to the juke box. It's the music that's the essential ingredient of a stop for food and refreshment. And the juke box plays them all... the old favorites and the new, giving you order that extra "with" that means so much enjoyment.

THE MAN FOR THE JOB!

TROY B. STURGILL FOR SHERIFF

In the past few weeks I have discussed the problems of law enforcement and what I intend to do as your Sheriff.

The responsibilities of the Sheriff's office are very great and most important. Your Sheriff is responsible for all law enforcement and the collection of taxes. There is no question that the tremendous responsibility of the Sheriff's office merits a man of EXPERIENCE AND ABILITY. It requires a man who can get along with the people and who is JUST, FAIR, TEMPERATE, and ABLE. Your Sheriff must be the Sheriff and accept the full responsibility for his administration.

The question asked in this campaign is: who would run the office if this man or that man were elected? One of the greatest tragedies of politics is that a man would let his name be used to run for office, so that a man or group of men could run the office for him. This is deceiving the people and will not be tolerated. The office of Sheriff is too important to be gained by this method and run by somebody the people did not elect. This is not good for Floyd county.

I will be your Sheriff and will use all my experience and ability to serve the people as they deserve.

The job of Sheriff involves you, your family, and your property, and is very personal to all the people. It has many great problems that must be handled by a man who knows these problems and understands the importance of the Sheriff's office. It would be a tragedy to have a man in the Sheriff's office who is run by somebody else, and worse, that does not understand the problems of law enforcement. Such a man as this could and might abuse this power and abuse the people.

My friends, I am seeking the office of Sheriff with the deep conviction that I can better serve the people of Floyd County because of my EXPERIENCE and ABILITY. We all know a man can profit by experience. I know I have. I am asking your support because I firmly believe the people must have administration of the Sheriff's office, by a man they elect, and not somebody behind the scenes. I ask you to elect me Sheriff so that I can put my EXPERIENCE and ABILITY to work and help make Floyd county a better place to raise our children.

Your Friend,

TROY B. STURGILL

Small budgets love big Fords

You don't have to be rich to enjoy fine-car luxury. The new kind of Ford is America's lowest-priced* big car... yet it offers the beauty, V-8 GO and luxury ride of cars costing far more!

If you love big-car performance you'll love our '57 Ford.

If you love thrif you'll love our '57 Ford. No car ever before has offered such perfect blending of big-car luxury and small-car price.

Once you take the wheel, you'll discover how the "Inner Ford" gives you the kind of ride you have experienced before only in cars costing far more. You'll find its advanced-design chassis and lower center of gravity let it corner as if it were on rails... that its engine is as responsive and nimble as a polo pony. Six or V-8 the going is great!

But even though this Ford handles like an expensive car, it's still priced Ford-low. In fact, model for model right across the board, the 1957 Ford is the lowest priced of the low-price three!

Ford is worth more at trade-in time. And when you go to trade your Ford, you'll find Ford's traditionally high resale value makes it worth more at that time, too.

Why not come in and Action Test this fun-lovin', budget-lovin' Ford? Why not come in and see it today?

In general, electric utilities find—and the railroads refuse to admit—that as freight rates on coal increase there is a substantial trend in the direction of lessened use of rail services.

But most importantly, coal producers must have a price level competitive with oil and natural gas, and which will permit a return sufficient to finance a healthy, productive industry.

Nothing upsets the competitive price relationship more than a continual rise in railroad freight rates.

The 19-year record of rising freight rates:

July 1, 1946, 6 to 8 cents per ton; Jan. 1, 1947, 15 to 30 cents per ton; Oct. 15, 1947, 10 cents; Jan. 5, 1948, 10 cents; May 6, 1948, 20 to 30 cents; Aug. 21, 1948, 40 to 60 cents; Jan. 11, 1949, 4 to 6 per cent; Sept. 1, 1949, 30 cents per ton (Eastern and Southern Territory); April 4, 1951, 8 cents; Aug. 26, 1951, 20 cents; May 2, 1952, 40 cents; March 6, 1956, 15 cents; Dec. 28, 1956, 10 cents.

These 13 increases total $1.70 per ton authorized increase over a 19-year span. From 1946 through 1956, the railroads realized increase per ton was $11.6. The realization per ton in 1946 was $2.27; in 1956 it was $3.43.

Soap consumption per person in the US is dropping rapidly—but the country's people are still clean. Synthetic detergents are increasing fast in general use.

HEALTH NOTES
By Floyd County Health Department
It can't possibly do you any good. It can't do you any harm either. It's a pill made of sugar, a capsule of starch, or a shot of salt water. No miracle drugs, no medicinal value at all. But it works! The pain is eased. The symptoms disappear.
This is the placebo—pronounced pla-see-bo. Its only purpose is to make people who are getting medicine. But in a remarkable number of cases it works just as well as medicine. The patient gets better in a result of the placebo effect. In a recent experiment placebos proved just about as effective as morphine in easing the severe pains following surgical operations.
In the old days, placebos were the refuge of the doctors who had pitifully few really effective medicines and diagnostic tests. Many families swore by their pink pills—pills whose only virtue was that they did no harm. As time went on, medicine advanced, the placebo was used chiefly in research. To test the power of a new drug, half a group would get the real medicine, half received the placebo. The difference in results was a measure of the drug's effectiveness. But scientists began to find high rates of "cure" with placebos. They proved effective against headaches, seasickness, cough, even the severe suffering of angina pectoris.
This does not mean that all the ailments apparently "cured" by placebos are imaginary. But it is known that mental attitude and suggestions have much to do with causing and curing sickness. If we confidently expect medication to make us feel better, it often will do so.
Don't feel gyped if you find your doctor prescribed a placebo for your illness. It may well give you a feeling of temporary relief. But perhaps even more important, it helps the doctor find out more about you and your illness.
Of course, the patient has to be unaware of this effort to help him psychologically rather than medically. But there is every evidence that the placebo often has the amazing effect of improving our mental attitude and thus our physical health.

INSURANCE VS. FLOODS SEEN BY THIS SUMMER

The federal flood insurance commissioner said recently he hopes to issue policies by early summer at rates between $1 and $2 for each $100 of coverage, depending upon types of flood risk.
Called before a Senate banking subcommittee to report progress on the program authorized by the 1st Congress, Commissioner Frank J. Meistrill also said it had been decided that action on the reinsurance and anticipatory-flood-loan features of the act will be deferred for at least a year.
The Flood Insurance and Loan Act was enacted by the last Congress to provide at marketable rates insurance not now available through private companies.
The act set up a $500,000,000 program of direct federal insurance, reinsurance, and loan guarantees under which the Government would absorb administrative costs and pay up to 40 per cent of estimated insurance premiums.
Meistrill said that since the program became law last August 7, his agency, in conjunction with the insurance industry and a federal interagency commission, has been struggling with the major problem of rates.
He said the rate study had been in a field "where there is little creditable knowledge and no precedent. We have been groping in a problem that private industry has not been able to solve, therefore we have been forced to make haste slowly."
Pressed as to when the program would become effective and what kind of rate, Meistrill said the effectiveness of the program depends upon Congressional appropriation of administrative funds.
Otherwise, he said, his agency is ready to put the insurance on the market by late spring or early summer.

MEADE ASKS YOUR SUPPORT ON HIS RECORD OF SERVICE

As a candidate for County Court Clerk, I have traveled over many parts of Floyd County. It has been a great pleasure to visit and talk with my many good friends. I am and shall always be grateful for the fine way I have been welcomed and received by the voters everywhere. I shall never forget your many expressions of confidence in me and my record as a public official and the many acts of kindness shown me in this election. With your help I will win, and hope to be able to repay each of you in some way for your support.

The voters are not so much interested in who the candidate is, but what kind of official he has made in the past and what he stands for in the future. They want a clerk keeping their records that will stay in the office and be ready and willing to serve them; one they can find in the office and talk with face to face when they go in, and one that can and will help them look up their records without charge.

Most of you know my background as a moral, religious and accommodating man that believes in dealing with his neighbors and friends according to the Golden Rule. In or out of public office, every act in my life has been guided by these principles.

My undivided attention will be given to the office. I will devote my full time to serving you as your County Court Clerk. When you come to the office you will find me there anxious to serve you faithfully and to the best of my ability. I will not be engaged in any outside activities and I will have nothing else to do except make you a good County Court Clerk and to safely and accurately keep the records involving you and your property.

Due to previous service as your Clerk, I am familiar with these records and how they should be kept. I will be able to help you in most of your problems, and to find the record or information you are looking for in this office. This service will be free and it will not be necessary for you to go to the expense of hiring outside help to do this for you.

In this campaign, like all others, you will hear rumors and untruths. Every kind of fanciful reason why you should vote against me will be given by the opposition. They will tell you that I am a rich man. This is far, far from the truth. Many of you know the facts of my early life, how I was raised and how hard I worked to get an education. To go into these details here would serve no useful purpose because I do not seek your vote and support on sympathy, but on the kind of public official I can and will make you.

I learned a long, long time ago that it "is more blessed to give than to receive." There are hundreds of people all over this county who know that I believe this with all my heart. I have always donated to worthy causes, given to the poor and helped people in distress. This practice I expect to continue so long as I live and have the means to help my fellow man.

I have always based my political career on service. I have worked hard when I worked as a public official. I have worked to serve all, not merely a few. In every situation I have tried to be helpful to the people, and to do all this in a quiet, efficient, courteous way.

On the basis of the kind of life I have lived and the public servant I have been I ask for your vote and your help in this election.

Your friend,
BANNER MEADE

Demonstrators Dyed In Dousing by Police

Bogota, Colombia, May 4 — Police broke up a student anti-Government demonstration in the center of Bogota today with tear gas and streams of dyed water.
The colored water apparently was used to mark the demonstrators for arrest if they remained in the street.

An Appeal To The Voters

Since my announcement some time ago for Jailer of Floyd County I have been so deeply impressed I want to thank each and everyone of you from the bottom of my heart for the courage you have given me in this campaign. I feel this is your campaign. I feel that the people who are the ones to make the choice, and I believe the way you have responded you will give me the nomination.

They say I can't win by not being well known by the people of Floyd County. I want you, the voters, to check the background of each candidate. Weigh them in the balance and if I meet your approval, then cast your vote for me. I am not a politician and am not sponsored by any group. I have been a member of the Regular Baptist Church for over 25 years.

I am at present employed at Stephens Elkhorn Coal Co., as a tippie man, a job I have had since 1943. So you know I am a laboring man, have worked hard all my life. I am 45 years old and have never asked for public office at the courthouse.

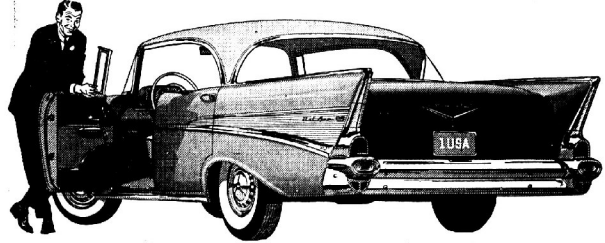

Not knowing what may be published, I want you to all know I am in this race to win, and will not let you down. As I have said before, I will put my whole heart and attention to the welfare and care of those placed in the custody of the Jailer, and you fathers and mothers who have sons who are unfortunate enough to be brought to jail I want to say they will not be deprived of their rights and privileges as prisoners but will be treated with impartial treatment. I earnestly beg you to give me the nomination and elect me as your next Jailer and I will put forth with all the strength and energy in my body to make you one of the best Jailers you have ever had.

The best of good-will to all of you.

Drive with care... everywhere!

come try
Chevrolet's new Triple-Turbine take-off!

Sweet, Smooth and Sassy—that's Chevy! Model illustrated, the Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Turboglide is the first and only triple-turbine transmission! You can feel the difference from your very first take-off! Just slip Turboglide into "D" for "Drive" and pay it no mind. There is no "Low" or other positions to worry about. For this is the automatic with triple turbines. One for quicksilver starts from a standstill. Another for cream-smooth cruising. And a third turbine for passing response that's safer all the way. In Gr (Grade Retarder) position Turboglide helps slow you down—saves your brakes on long, steep hills. When you team Turboglide with Chevy's new Positraction rear axle, you've really got it made! You have surer, safer control on any road surface. Try a sweet, smooth and sassy Chevrolet with these two new extra-cost options at your Chevrolet dealer's.
