This Town— That World

WELL! H-m. Where did I see or hear this one? Anyway: There was the Kentucky woman visiting deep in the heart of Texas...

A LITTLE LATER I see by the papers that somebody in dear, old London has invented a refillable comb. When the teeth come out of the old one you just detach the back of the comb and insert a refill.

HIS VERSION On a recent fishing trip we heard a man telling about one of his party catching one three feet long. Everybody scoffed, and then he added, soberly, "I told the boys, 'We will first have a moment of prayer, then we'll put this thing aboard.'"

If I were building a church, I would work into the plan the biggest, finest and safest bomb shelter imaginable. With such facilities, and given time, the church would be certain to get some lifetime absences inside.

I wouldn't mind my ignorance as much if I could only be a little more fluent with it. (See Story No. 9, Page 4)

Kentucky All-American Family Is Title Achieved by Grigsbys

A Floyd county family of 10 - Mrs. and Mrs. E. P. Grigsby and their eight children of Martin - were named the All-American Kentucky Family, it was announced Saturday in New York. The Grigsbys - father, mother, six sons and two daughters - won the honor in the first annual contest in the long-planned all-American family search that was originally proposed by ex-President Hoover. They will compete with families from the other 47 states for the title, All-American family for 1957, at Miami Beach, Fla. May 28 to June 1. The Martin family learned of the contest through Wright Brothers, Jewelers, at which Martin store they secured an entry blank. Between that time and the date the questionnaire was filled out and mailed, the disastrous January flood struck Martin, inundating and almost ruining the Grigsby home and their two stores. The hit of the flood cleaned away the family filled out the questionnaire, and home are four five children at Mrs. Grigsby's so eager about the search they were dubious about us entering it. Mrs. Grigsby told them that muddy waters and mud need not change our characters and mode of living except to make us better people. (See Story No. 2, Page 3)

DEDICATION SERVICE HERE MARKS LONG STRUGGLE'S END FOR CHURCH

Climax of the dedication services at the Church of God, Sunday May 5, was the group singing participated in by the congregation, choral groups, and visiting ministers, several of other faiths. Left to right are Mrs. Fannie Louise Hampton, Tebb Hampton, Rev. Moses Kitchin, Rev. Roy Benton, Rev. Woodrow Fraley, Rev. M. Robert Regan, Rev. Clark T. Farley, Phyllis Boggs, Russell Rice, Joe Snively, and Nelson Baldrige. Holding book, front, is T. K. Neesley.

Recent dedication services at the First Church of God, North Prestonsburg, was the climax of four years of struggle on the part of a small congregation to build and pay for its church.

Ministers of other faiths came Sunday, May 5, to assist Rev. Moses Kitchin in the dedication ceremony. Groups came from other communities to join in the solemn occasion. Six ministers and several choral groups took part in the program.

The first service of the church was held at the courthouse here, March 21, 1952. Only nine persons were present then, but they gave a generous offering. At the recent dedication service the congregation could point with pride to the church structure costing, with lots, the sum of $12,686.48. It was paid in full.

It had not been easy for a small congregation to raise the necessary funds to buy expensive real estate, buy materials and hire labor, but consistent contributions from the members brought the total up through the years until May 1, 1953, when the first lot was bought for $2,500 and several hundred dollars were left in the treasury.

The footers to the building were poured by Rev. Charlie Rowe in June, 1953 but at a ground-breaking ceremony two weeks earlier generous offerings and pledges had been made.

The footer poured, Rev. Kitchin laid the first three blocks. Edward Music, Prestonsburg auto dealer, saw the minister at work, came over to the scene, said: "Moses, get a man to lay the blocks and I will pay for it." With this auspicious start and with subsequent contributions of free labor, the building made progress.

In July, that year, eight women of the church met and organized a missionary society. They took up an offering of $2.70, set dues at one cent a day. From them on those women baked, sewed, and asked for public contributions. Three and a half years after that they had accumulated over $2,000.

Today, 24 men attend the church regularly, growing from the small group of four members in the first congregation.

Attending the recent dedication services besides the pastor, Moses Kitchin, were Revs. Woodrow Fraley, Robert Regan, Roy Benton, Clark T. Farley and Willie Duty.

HOWARD ABLE TO GIVE CHANGE PEOPLE NEED

In last week's issue of the Floyd County Times, a former official of Knott county resorted to slinging mud against me. He seriously questioned my sincerity and doubted my ability to give the people the change they desire in the County Court Clerk's office.

Of course it's DuRan Moore's right and privilege to get any official or former official from his native county of Knott to campaign in his behalf, but I hope they stick to the facts and not resort to half-truths.

I think DuRan Moore should tell us whether or not he intends to employ this former Knott county official to work in the County Clerk's office, should he win a third term.

VOTE FOR A CHANGE

Vote For

RAY HOWARD

DEMOCRAT FOR

COUNTY COURT CLERK

(Pol. Adv.)

EIGHT REASONS WHY JOE P. TACKETT WILL WIN

1. He is SOBER, HONEST, FRIENDLY and ACCOMMODATING.
2. He has reared a large family and therefore, understands and LOVES YOUTH.

3. His record as County Attorney from 1930 to 1934 is OUTSTANDING, especially for the procurement of road rights of way and the building of roads. He knows, BY EXPERIENCE, how to deal with our Frankfort Officials in bringing the most road building possible to our county.

4. He is especially interested in getting more roads built up our creeks. He has a plan worked out whereby, under the Road Bond money, to be matched 9 to 1 by the Federal Government, he will be able to get more creek roads built during the next four years than we have ever had up to this time. His past experience along this line will prove a life saver for our people who live out in the rural sections of our county.

5. If his record as County Attorney four years, or as State Senator four years was bad, it, no doubt, would have long ago in this campaign been spread all over the pages of our papers. An examination of that record shows that during his four year term as County Attorney, no county official was paid more than the law allowed. Joe P. himself was paid $6,000.00 less than the law allowed. This means that he does not rely upon promises alone, but that he stands upon his record of achievement. His opponents say that they will do a good job of it.

6. He has been a faithful servant of the VETERANS of ALL Wars and their dependents during the 35 years he has practiced law among us and never charged them as much as a postage stamp. Will these COMRADES of his, or their families forget to repay him by voting for him? We are sure our people will prove grateful to him when they get in that BOOTH where they and their God only will know how they vote.

7. One thing we admire JOE P. for is that he has nothing to say about either of his opponents but the kindest words. No MUD-SLINGING by him. For the high plane campaign he has waged, he has endeared himself to the hearts of the people. He deserves the highest praise and consideration for his honest efforts to bring about a clean election. We long to see the aim of his efforts accomplished in Floyd county.

8. Although Joe P. is probably more widely related in Floyd county than either of his opponents, yet, he has not pitched his campaign on that alone. He has presented himself before the people on his HONESTY, SOBRIETY, FRIENDLINESS and QUALIFICATIONS. After all this is the measure of a man who seeks office. A man may have good kinfolks and yet be bad himself, or, he may have bad kinfolks and yet be good himself. We are not all perfect and none should claim to be, but, ALL should strive to be as perfect as it is possible to be.

world—the Biennial Coal Show. The show, which began Monday and lasts through Thursday of this week, is attracting more than 10,000 officials and operating men from the nation's coal fields.

He said that the company started its industrial engineering program in 1952, about two years after completing the mechanization program. He told the mining gathering that for the first two and a half years an effort was made to time study the cycle elements on all sections covering all existing conditions and equipment combinations. This period, he said, was introductory for training mine management leaders and the time study man. Following this the company moved into a period of collecting production standards data.

Lockin stated that the company is now experimenting with a procedure for studying work methods of the mining operations involved in the underground face cycle. The method, he said, is simply a process of graphically plotting work procedures for later analysis and the application of work economy principles. The company collects data from each workman at the mining face, data as to machine operation, charts the sequence of work of men and machines in detail and the time elements involved, and from these data attempts to develop more effective work methods in considering more efficient work methods. The industrial engineers go into such questions as: Are the best possible movements used to accomplish the task? Are tools in the most accessible place? Are tools in proper condition? Are controls in the best location? Is the right man doing the right job? Lockin said that while the methods study program was still in an experimental stage all evidence so far indicates that it is adaptable to mining and very useful in applying the principles of work economy resulting in reduced face costs.

VOTE FOR A QUALIFIED AND EXPERIENCED CORONER

JAMES J. CARTER

In my office at the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home hangs my diploma from the Cincinnati College of Embalming and my funeral directors and embalmers licenses, which were issued to me upon completion and passing of a State Board examination. These licenses and diploma are visual evidence of part of my qualifications. Factual evidence of the efficiency in which I have conducted the office may be obtained by checking my record as your Coroner. Ask anyone who has witnessed an inquest or an investigation I have conducted about my thoroughness. It is only natural and logical to assume that a person of my background and training in mortuary science would be better qualified to serve you as coroner than one not so trained or experienced.

I am a member of the following organizations: The Coroners Association of Kentucky, the Kentucky Sheriffs Association, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, the 40 & 8, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the Kentucky Peace Officers Association, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the Kiwanis Club, Eastern Kentucky Funeral Directors Association, Kentucky Funeral Directors Association, National Funeral Directors Association, and the Associated Funeral Directors Service. I also hold the Commission of Colonel on the staff of the Governor of Kentucky in the Honorable Order of Kentucky Colonels.

Many of you, my friends, have given me encouragement beyond expression, and have assured me of an overwhelming victory in my race for Coroner. I appreciate your coming in to see me at my office, tho I have been out campaigning when many of you have been in. I am grateful for your calling me by telephone inquiring if there is anything I would like for you to do. The answer is—YES—I would appreciate your continued support now and right down to the time the polls close.

Mr. Grigsby, a former mayor of Martin, is a native of Hazard. Mrs. Grigsby attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, later entering Morehead State College on a music scholarship, and it was at Morehead that she met Mr. Grigsby, who was in college on an athletic scholarship. Married during the Depression, they taught three years in the Floyd county schools, then embarked on a business career, starting a five-and-ten-cent store in Martin in what had been a chicken-house. That was 23 years ago.

Their children range in age from Pete, Jr., 22, who will be graduated from the University of Kentucky on May 27, in time to join his parents in Miami, to 11-year-old Margaret Lynn.

Pete, Jr. was an all-state basketball star in high school days and later entered the University of Kentucky on an athletic scholarship under Coach Adolph Rupp. He is married and has a baby daughter.

Charles, the second son, was graduated from Prestonsburg high school, where he played football and was an all-round athlete. Charles graduated from Eastern College in three years, and is now the youngest medical student in the Louisville School of Medicine. He plans to specialize in Internal Medicine. He is married.

David Lee, the third son, 18, had polio when he was two years old. He triumphed over his handicap, and when he was graduated from Martin high school, he was a first-string basketball player, participated in all sports and activities, and was an outstanding musician. He is now a music major freshman at the University of Kentucky, and is there on a music scholarship. He plays in the symphonic orchestra, for dances with the Charley Blair dance orchestra. He also is married.

Jerry Boer, at home is 16, he is a talented artist and musician. He only recently won two music contests in his saxophone, and was graded superior at the state music meet last week in Lexington. This Sunday he will be on television over WLAS, Louisville. He is also an athlete and active in school, civic and church functions.

Jan and Jan, the Grigsby twin boys, are 14. Jan is planning to be an accountant and scientist. Jan is an all-around athlete.

The two girls, Mariona Ann and Margaret Lynn, are 13 and 11. Mariona is studying piano and Margaret Lynn studies ballet and tap-dancing.

The Grigsbys are all members of the Marmon church, in which they are active. Pete, Jr. and Charles are now elders in their church; David Lee, Jerry, Van and Jan are aspiring to the same position.

BURNIS GETTING DESPERATE

My opponent infers over radio that I have been in office 26 years, and that I have a pension for life. This is not true and intended to DECEIVE YOU. The fact is I was County Judge eight years, the first four of which my salary was only $150.00 per month. I have been Circuit Judge twelve years, at the end of this year. That makes twenty years, Mr. Martin, not 26.

About the pension. I will be eligible for a pension of $200.00 per month when sixty years of age, provided I agree not to practice law and if I make myself eligible for Special Judge all over the State. I am fifty-two now.

Just thought I should clear up this intended DECEPTION. What sort of a Judge would a fellow make who continues to try to DECEIVE THE PEOPLE?

END OF THE TRAIL

Friend of mine lost a dog this week, and his experience brings to mind the time, too many years ago when I lost a hound that was worth—in my estimation—at least $150. I hunted for that dog so assiduously that I almost bayed on his trail.

Rock Fork, Pitts Fork, up and down Beaver Creek, on foot and mule-back the search went—always in vain.

The over-hill-over-dale quest ended on a Monday morning. That day, wearied of solitary frustration, I took along a cousin, and this cousin, for some reason, took along an order book for a management company which he represented.

That was the day we hit Wilson Creek and there the two of us went out of business, both as dog-chaser and tombstone agent. A woman was shelling peas, out on the front porch of her home at the mouth of the creek, and to her I addressed myself, launching into a detailed description of the missing hound.

You may have heard or read about somebody having been transfixed by a stare. Well, I got transfixed. Then she looked me up and down, and asked, "Young man, you know what I think about you?"

Callow youth that I was, I admitted that I didn't know, and for some reason asked her what she thought. Whereupon she did the transfixing act again and intoned—yes, that's the word—I think you've got precious little to do to be out on a Monday morning hunting an old hound when you should be working."

I was through with the interview. But the cousin at that juncture sang out, "Wouldn't want to buy a tombstone, would you?"

We didn't wait for further expressions of opinion.

Lady, if you're still alive and remember, try to think of us kindly.

John Steiner, Johnson City, Tenn.; Mr. Michael Ringenburg, Bethel, Ohio; Mrs. Thelma Stenson, Fayetteville, Tennessee, was the crafts specialist. Mr. Bowen Carter of the Department of Fish and Wildlife, Frankfort, Kentucky, directed the nature study.

This is the first camp of this nature to be held in the Kentucky Conference. According to Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Prestonsburg, this camp was held for the purpose of training the leadership of the Methodist Church in leading the young people to a greater understanding that "this is my Father's World and that each person can come to know that the spirit of Jesus must prevail in all experiences of life."

TIMES WANT ADS PAY— TRY THEM TODAY!

TO MY FRIENDS... ALL GOOD FLOYD COUNTIANS:

I am using this means to earnestly request your support (and vote, at the polls May 28th.) to reelect DURAN MOORE to the office of County Court Clerk. I can attest to his honesty and integrity both as a public official, and as an individual.

When DURAN MOORE first ran for public office, I promised him as follows: "I will support you so long as you perform your duties as a public official honestly and to the best of your ability; but I will oppose you just as strongly should you ever be guilty of any dishonest act while you are in public office."

Those of you who know me well, know of my deep conviction that only honest and qualified men should be elected to an office of public trust. I have never voted for (nor do I ever intend to) any candidate whom I knew had violated our trust in public office.

It is in this vein that I ask your support in reelecting DuRan Moore to the office of County Clerk. I commend him to you most highly as being efficient, honest and well-qualified to serve as again as our County Court Clerk. Whenever rumors have arisen questioning his honesty, I have examined his books and financial records in the Clerk's office—and have always found them to be in good order. At his request I have checked his private business transactions, and (regardless of campaign charges to the contrary by his opposition) I can sum up my findings with this statement of truth: "I wish I HAD the money he OWES!" He and Kathleen are having the same difficulties common to us, paying off the mortgage on their home and providing clothing and food for their children.

Now, I hold no animosity toward his opponents; but at least one of them has been using some campaigning tactics that border on the ridiculous: Example 1—Opponent to voter: "Elect ME to the Clerk's office, and if you get involved in anything—just call me up, and you won't even have to come to Court!" I ask you, what manner of chicanery is this? He is either a Liar; or, he expects to be elected to ALL the county offices at the SAME TIME. The second alternative is impossible, since he is not a candidate for any other office except the one I am urging you to help DuRan Moore win.

Example 2—DuRan's opponent to voters in various areas of our county: "You should support me instead of DuRan Moore because HE WAS BORN OUTSIDE OF FLOYD COUNTY!" I believe every decent citizen will agree that the greatness of our Floyd county is due certainly, in large part, to the effort and toil of the many, many good people who were born IN Floyd county; AND also, due in no less degree to the labors of the hundreds and hundreds of good people, born ELSEWHERE, who moved here, raised their families, established businesses, lived their lives, attended church and helped build our schools. THIS is the combination that made our County great; just as it has made ours a great FLOYD county.

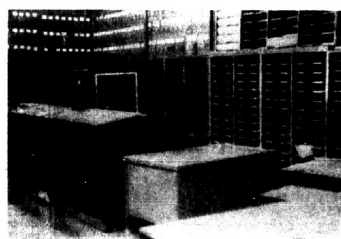

I once heard this simple truth from the pulpit: "While none of us had an iota of control over WHERE we were born, or WHO we were born, or WHY. All of us can choose for ourselves a better place in the Hereafter, if we conduct our lives in accordance with the 'golden rule'". ANY candidate who attempts to gain votes on the premise that he was born INSIDE or OUTSIDE a boundary-line, should give the above some sober thought.

These examples of 'belt-buckle' campaigning are cited to warn unwary voters of what they can expect (in mild form) from some candidates when the chips are down, and they are losing ground.

DuRan Moore's ONE fault (if you could call it that) is that he is too modest. There are countless men and women, members of Girl Scout Troops, etc. that will attest to his many acts of charity (which he never mentions to gain votes, regardless of how often his opposition refers to its own).

Few people know of the admirable job DuRan did during the recent flood, in removing the priceless documents and records and deeds from the flooded Clerk's office. He moved them to the tops of the tables and desks, and as the flood-waters crept nearer—moved them again to a high dry place, and kept them guarded day and night.

Those records belong to the people of Floyd county. The deeds, marriage records and countless other documents are invaluable and irreplaceable. He didn't HAVE TO keep them from being destroyed by the flood. There was no LEGAL obligation requiring him to convey our records to a safe place. He could have been away; or at home; or Office files emptied of records during flood.

Records in county courtroom upstairs where they were carried by Mr. Moore.

trying to salvage something from his own flooded store. No, he didn't have to, but HE SAVED YOUR AND MY RECORDS WORTH COUNTLESS MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

In the military, for such an act they give a citation and a medal for "action above and beyond the call of duty." By performing this service, DuRan Moore made his mark that placed him among those dedicated public officials, that are truly governed by the dictum that "a public office IS a public trust."

I mention the above, because I know that most of you will never hear of it from DuRan Moore. It is only ONE of the MANY reasons why I feel we should reelect him to the office of County Clerk. DuRan Moore has been (and will continue to be) a good Clerk, an efficient and honest County Clerk. His honesty is reflected in his savings, which I happen to know are but pitifully little more now than when he was first elected to public office.

I hope sincerely my every friend, all good Floyd countians, will join me in reelecting DURAN MOORE to the office of County Court Clerk.

LAST STAGECOACH TO PRESTONSBURG...

And Owner Sets "Fare" For Four At $600 For Trip of Two Miles

Along about midnight last Thursday four young Prestonsburg bookworms, homeward bound, aboard their mechanized four-wheeled steed espied the T. J. Derossett "spree" along U. S. 23 about a mile south of town.

Now the Derossett spread is a unique layout of the "old West" in a modern setting. It consists, among other things, of a corral with a riding track around it and an honest-to-goodness stagecoach built on an exact small scale, yet large enough to accommodate children as passengers. The layout also quarters some ponies, horses and mules.

Over the corral fence bounded the four in high spirits into the realm of the Old West. One of them ventured astride a mule for a ride. The mule apparently didn't like the look, a sudden turn and the rider tumbled to the ground. The mule apparently didn't like the look, a sudden turn and the rider tumbled to the ground. The mule apparently didn't like the look, a sudden turn and the rider tumbled to the ground.

Back on the scene, the four under-look episode number two and the action witnessed immediately thereafter caused those who saw what they thought they saw to doubt their eyes.

The four took a special fancy to the little stagecoach and tied it with a rope to the back of the car and started whoooping it up toward town.

Going only a short distance, they met the patrol car driven by Policeman Potter. Spying them, he quickly turned in mid-road and gave chase.

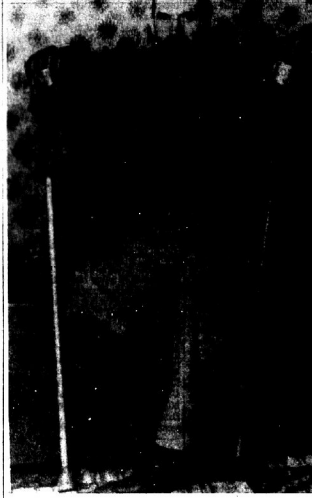

The boys gunned their car to high speed, and the sturdy stagecoach not only kept pace but, according to Policeman Potter, almost passed up the car as it swayed back and forth in the chase. It was however, a very unmodern, unpaved bit of road that proved its undoing.

With the law at their heels, the pursued made a quick high-speed turn at Francis Wholesale into a rutted side street. While sparks flying from the rims against the pavement, the stage also negotiated the turn but the moment it hit the dirt it began to come apart.

The boys kept on with the wreckage in tow.

The policeman overshoot the turn and as he backed up to continue the pursuit, a nightwatchman at a nearby garage rushed out pointing and yelling: "It went thataway! It went thataway! I don't know what it was but I saw it go thataway with balls of fire shooting out behind it."

HAYES METAL PRODUCTS

PAUL E. HAYES

At the outbreak of World War II, my brother, PAUL HAYES was teaching Math and Science at Whitesburg high school. I was at that time a boatswain on a huge 140,000 bbl. ocean-going tanker. On one of my visits home I was a little over-zealous in painting my adventurous life at sea.

"LITTLE PAUL", as he was known in our family of fourteen, had spent all of his life in school; had straight A's all through McDowell high school and graduated with honors from Morehead State Teachers College.

I will never forget how shocked I was then when Paul told me he was resigning and going with my next trip, but we in the family loved and trusted PAUL so much that none of us could say No to him, most of all me. Altho we barely had enough money to get back to N. Y., we were beginning to get pretty hungry when we got back to the ship. I signed PAUL on as an ordinary seaman. We sailed for ARUBA. While we were at sea Hitler had set up his deadly submarine blockade near the coast of Virginia in an attempt to block off shipments to N. E. United States and Europe. Cape Hatteras was fast becoming known as the graveyard of ships; it seemed every few minutes as we were approaching this area, we were getting radio reports of sub sightings and ships being torpedoed. There I had "LITTLE PAUL" riding 140,000 bbls. of high test gasoline into this "Hellcat" and I was scared stiff. I resolved before God, if we got through, I would get PAUL into something else.

We came into Baltimore. Paul and I went up to the recruiting office for the Army Air Force, and we both enlisted as cadets. After a few months, I was released from the Air Force and ordered back to sea. Paul went on to become a CAPTAIN in the Eighth Air Force, stationed in England, that later contributed to the back-breaking, block-busting process that reduced the German industry to rubble.

Paul with his savings and my father, W. P. Hayes, by mortgaging the home property built the building now known as HAYES METAL PRODUCTS.

After recuperating from losing one of my legs, I came home. Paul confided in me that his ambitions were to become an Attorney, but that he had to stay home and work off the mortgage. As I didn't have anything else to do, I took over Paul's part of the business and furnished him an allowance to go to the University of Kentucky where he finished his law training. Shortly after passing his bar exam, he was elected your State Representative in which he was instrumental in passing legislation beneficial to Floyd county; among which was legislation making Floyd county a separate judicial district.

Supporters of Big Sandy canalization will always remember Paul Hayes, as he was the only legislator who was able to pass a resolution urging the U. S. Congress to canalize the Big Sandy River.

Paul became a referee and later chairman of "as Workmen's Compensation Board, where he won acclaim from both labor and management due to his fair and impartial handling of cases.

Paul has always assisted me and given me information on any projects developed by my Company.

SINCE PAUL HAS BEEN SO INSTRUMENTAL IN GETTING INDUSTRY started at this plant, I am sure he would be very instrumental in doing it for the county as a whole.

The casting of your vote for Paul E. Hayes as County Attorney would be cast in the interest of the development of Floyd county, both industrially and financially.

Carter is Appointed To Convention Committee Of National Association

Coroner James J. Carter, of Prestonsburg, has been appointed to the National Coroner Convention committee. It was announced this week. Besides his serving the local office of Coroner, Mr. Carter has been active in the interest of the office of coroner from a statewide and national basis. It was stated by Dr. W. W. Shepherd, Campbellsville, Ky., convention host of the National Coroner Association.

Coroner Carter is a member of the Board of Directors for the Coroner Association of Kentucky. He has been an active member of the legislative committee studying coroner laws, and has met with groups of outstanding legal men and legislators to help form the recently enacted new progressive coroner laws, the first in 60 years for Kentucky. It was a group of men, including James J. Carter, which made possible these new laws, Dr. Shepherd said.

The National Association in its meeting in Seattle, Washington reviewed progress made by various states in laws and decided to hold its convention in Kentucky, due mainly to progressive coroner law changes, as Kentucky headed the states in new legislation for 1956. So the responsibility of some of the procedure and planning the entire program, moderation of speaking sessions, entertainment of guests from the entire United States and Canada will be given to Carter, who is the first real medical legal scientific seminar held in Kentucky.

Has the Ballot No Sanctity?

How you cast your vote is your own business, strictly your own, and that is why our laws provide for a SECRET ballot.

In the voting place the lowliest voter is supposed to be sovereign in his own right—answerable to his own conscience and to God.

But, as the following affidavits bear witness, that is not the thinking or the practise of some. The ballot, these voters tell us under oath, was not secret. And these voters were not left to exercise their ballot as they pleased, without interference. Read the following affidavits of the many which could be obtained and decide for yourselves how secret the voters rights are considered by some.

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF FLOYD

The Affiant, George Alley, says that he is a citizen and resident of Floyd county, Kentucky and that after being duly sworn states as follows: that on May 13, 1957, he went to the office of the County Clerk of Floyd County whereupon he made application to vote by absentee ballot due to the fact that he would be out of his voting precinct, and out of the Commonwealth of Kentucky on election day.

That a deputy clerk of said court, Kathleen Moore, issued this affiant a ballot and directed him to a rear room in the back of said clerk's office, where absentee ballots are customarily voted; that said deputy clerk, Kathleen Moore, who is the wife of Duftan Moore, a candidate for re-election to the office of County Clerk, accompanied this affiant to said room; at that time the said deputy clerk closed the door and remained in that office with this affiant while he was attempting to vote his ballot.

That during the time which this affiant and the said Kathleen Moore, were in the rear room of the clerk's office, Mrs. Moore continually talked to this affiant concerning her husband's opposition in the clerk's race; that in addition thereto she attempted to take this affiant's ballot and look at it before he had an opportunity to place it in an envelope and seal it.

That the conduct on the part of the deputy clerk, Mrs. Moore, was annoying to this affiant and such conduct violated this affiant's right to cast a secret ballot.

S/ GEORGE G. ALLEY

Subscribed and sworn to before me by George Alley to be his free act and deed, this 13th day of May, 1957.

STATE OF KENTUCKY COUNTY OF FLOYD

The Affiant, William Crace, states that he is a citizen of Floyd county, Kentucky, and resides in Prestonsburg, Kentucky; and after being first duly sworn states as follows: that on May 13, 1957, he went to the office of the County Clerk of Floyd county whereupon he made application to vote by absentee ballot due to the fact that he would be out of his voting precinct, and out of the Commonwealth of Kentucky on election day.

That a deputy clerk of said court, Kathleen Moore, issued this affiant a ballot and directed him to a rear room in the back of said clerk's office, where absentee ballots are customarily voted; that said deputy clerk, Kathleen Moore, who is the wife of Duftan Moore, a candidate for re-election to the office of County Clerk, accompanied this affiant to said room. At that time the said deputy clerk closed the door and remained in that office with this affiant while he was attempting to vote his ballot.

That during the time which this affiant and the said Kathleen Moore were in the rear room of the clerk's office, Mrs. Moore continually talked to this affiant concerning her husband's opposition in the clerk's race; her statements on this occasion were to the effect that her husband, Duftan Moore, needed the office and that one member of his opposition, Banner Meade, had plenty of money and that he did not need the office.

After this affiant had voted his ballot he handed the ballot directly to the deputy clerk, Mrs. Moore; he states that he was not furnished an envelope in which to place his ballot.

That the conduct on the part of the deputy clerk, Mrs. Moore, was annoying to this affiant and violated his rights of casting a secret ballot.

S/ WILLIAM CRACE

Subscribed and sworn to before me by William Crace to be his free act and deed, this 13th day of May, 1957.

BILLIE HARRIS
 Notary Public, Floyd County, Ky.
 Com. Exp. 4-4-60.

Every candidate is entitled to a fair deal from the County Court Clerk. Are the tactics shown in these affidavits fair?

I asked Mrs. Moore to permit the voters to go into the room alone and she refused to do so.

Do you want a County Court Clerk in office who will violate the secrecy of the ballot to get a vote?

Telephone Talk
by H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

SPRINGTIME IS SPRUCE-UP TIME! And folks all over town are talking about the way those smart color telephones bring the breath of spring (and a lot of convenience) to their homes. Soft colors like ivory, yellow and beige are mighty popular, probably because of the feminine influence in our homes. Six other shades to choose from, too — gay as a spring garden — for contrast or harmony with room decorations. But take a tip from me. Most of all, you'll like the many, many steps extra phones will save around your home. If you'll give our Business Office a ring, we'll give you the full story on how to make yours a "well-telephoned" home, at low cost.

"IT'S A GIRL!" When there's a "blessed event" in the family the happy Dad just can't wait to get to the phone to share the good news. And when baby comes home, the same phone helps so many ways. It goes to the drug store, department stores, doctor's office. And it's like that with all of us. Just think how often the telephone eases your mind... buys things you need... makes life easier and more pleasant every day. These days you take your phone for granted, and we want you to. In days to come you'll see lots of exciting new things... telephone TV, for instance... that will make your phone even more a part of pleasant living.

TELEPHONE TIPS—Your out-of-town calls go through twice as fast when you give the operator the number of the person you're calling... Your telephone cord will never tangle again once you get a handy, stretchy spring cord... You solve shopping problems fast when you check the Yellow Pages first for the product or service you need.

We Need Roads

Over and over again it is being said that one of the chief issues in this campaign is the need of roads to serve our rural people. It is they who have been chiefly neglected through the years. It is their children who have waded the mud to school and church. They are the forgotten ones in the matter of roads.

I am aware of their needs and have consistently pledged my every effort, six days each week, to do something for them. They are entitled to farm-to-market roads, roads to school and church. A Magistrate dedicated to their needs can do much to correct an age-old need.

I have yet to hear of any of my opponents pledging six days of work a week to the office of Magistrate. Too many people seek an office as a sideline to another job. I am retired and am free to work for the people of this Magisterial District. That a public official should devote full time to an office is no hardship on an elected official and the public is entitled to no less.

Give me your support and I will devote my time to you and your needs.

Sincerely,
R. T. ALLEN

STUDIES OF SCIENTISTS HERE SHOW FEWER HOOKWORM INFESTATIONS

Scientists attached to the Cumberland Field Station at Wayland, Prestonsburg, expected to stay ten years and study intestinal borne diseases in the area. They will leave July 1 but only three years but in these years they found many things, several being unexpected discoveries.

For one thing they found that Eastern Kentucky is beset by intestinal parasites but that hookworm isn't as prevalent as former students had asserted. Another discovery of importance, and a rather surprising one, was a bacterial causative agent, the Manchester strain of Shigella flexneri 6, which had been isolated in Manchester, England a long time ago. It had never been reported in the United States before.

Now, preparing to end their work here, the scientists have published results of studies and issued progress reports. One treatment study, written by F. O. Achely, D.N. Wysham and E. C. Hemphill, was published in the American Journal of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene in September and the other report, "Current Status of Intestinal Parasitism of Man in Eastern Kentucky," written by Achely, Hemphill and D. W. Hunt, appeared in the Journal of Parasitology, in October. A progress report of the station's work was issued recently.

It is from the scientific language and the multitude of accompanying graphs that the story of the station's work is gleaned. One finding, depicted by a graph, shows the diarrhea morbidity rate in the under four years of age group of children and the relationship existing between the illness and sanitary facilities. From homes with hot water and flush toilets come only about 38 percent of the intestinal illness. Where there is cold water only inside the building over 60 percent of the age group were afflicted with diarrhea at one time or other, and where homes had water supply on the outside there was a morbidity rate of 95 percent.

The reports talk of helminths, Shigella, and ascaris in plain language, those are worms. In fact, residents of this section for want of a better name for street use, referred to the institution as the "worm hospital." To gather information on "worms," trained personnel visited various communities in Floyd and Letcher, took study specimens, brought them back to the refrigerated rooms of the station where they were afterwards examined microscopically.

There had been other studies of intestinal borne diseases in Eastern Kentucky, many several decades ago, and these findings had been accepted as scientifically accurate until the Cumberland Field Station went to work. The U. S. Army, in 1910, found a significant proportion of recruits from this section with hookworm. The Army's findings were reported in 1945. The Rockefeller Foundation in 1912-14 studied the incidence of hookworm here. Others made studies and it was stated and accepted generally that one-fifth of the population of the state was burdened with one or more intestinal parasites.

Hookworms are on the decline here, the station scientists found. "An extremely low prevalence of hookworm such as noted during 1955 in the populations studied was rather unexpected," Achely, et al, said in the Journal of Parasitology. "Among earlier observations the report of the Rockefeller Foundation stated that 37 per cent of 79,000 individuals examined in Kentucky during 1912-14 were positive. The highest rates occurred in the eastern part of the state."

Prevalence of ascaris (that's another genera name for pinworms, roundworms, etc) was shown by the study here to exist in 30 per cent of the individuals studied. The workers here are under the impression that the prevalence of ascaris is not declining.

The scientists of the Cumberland Field Station found not only ascaris but also pinworms in infected water. Water samples were taken from seven Floyd and Letcher county communities. Let the station Progress Report explain:

"Exploratory collections of 19-liter samples of drinking water were made from taps on several public water supply systems and also from one private well in Floyd county, Kentucky. Each of the samples was passed through a continuous centrifuge rotating at 2000 rpm. Rate of flow was adjusted so that approximately four hours were required for a 19-liter quantity to be processed. The total sediment collected was then examined microscopically and types as well as numbers of all organisms present were noted. The rotifers and nematodes found in the samples were free-living forms."

Nematodes are identified as thread-like worms, rotifers as microscopic worms which move in a rotary manner and look like wheels revolving rapidly.

The table accompanying the section on water examinations shows Wayland with the highest number of nematodes; Weebury had the lowest number of nematodes but the highest number of rotifers. Prestonsburg had the largest number of grams of sediment, Wayland the lowest. Leathertown community had the second highest number of nematodes per sample and two rotifers. Weebury and Wheelwright were the only communities showing rotifers.

Samples of soil were taken by the personnel of the station from dooryards in selected communities from June to October last year. Jacks Creek dooryards yielded the greatest number of helminth (worm) eggs. Mud Creek came second with Weebury third.

The scientists found heavy human infestations with certain types of parasites. Quote: "Enterobiasis is estimated to affect three-fourths of the population including all ages and occurs in an even higher proportion in the children of the region."

Quote again: "Previous reports have shown that ascariasis is widespread in Eastern Kentucky. One-third of individuals of all ages have been found infected at the time of examination and the prevalence in children is twice as high. Children with symptoms of roundworm infections, such as cough and abdominal pain with distention and diarrhea, are observed almost daily."

The Progress Report gives typical case histories, one fatal.

"A heavy infection with trichuriasis was fatal for a white girl, age 4 years, this past spring. Upon admission to a hospital the child was very ill with abdominal pain and it was stated that she had had no bowel movement for 5 days. It was also reported 2 roundworms had been vomited the day bowel movement ceased. The history recorded frequent colds, weight below normal and chronic nonproductive cough of several months duration. Most prominent laboratory findings showed giardiasis and a very heavy whipworm infection with an egg count of 215. The patient showed apparent improvement after treatment with vitamins, anthelmintics, and antibiotic during a stay of three weeks in the hospital. She was discharged but was readmitted very ill 9 days later with a markedly distended abdomen. Her condition was considered so serious that she was transferred to a metropolitan hospital, 80 miles distant. Despite efforts, which included surgery, the patient died. At autopsy, multiple intestinal perforations and ulcers were noted accompanying peritonitis due to whipworms."

I REST MY CASE... YOU ARE THE JUDGE

To serve as a county official in any capacity is not a duty but a privilege. It is a privilege conferred upon us by the tax-paying public. None of us should abuse that privilege by asking for public office an unreasonable number of years. President Roosevelt once assured us that there was no indispensable man. Therefore I beg of you to act on that principle and share our public privileges to hold office in the county of our birth.

To The Republican Voters Of Magisterial Dist. No. 1

How will you judge the merits of the man you choose to be your next nominee for Justice of the Peace?

Will you select one that is respected by all who know him both Democrats and Republicans alike; one who has been selected as a leader in veterans affairs; is now commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5893, Prestonsburg, Ky., member of American Legion; one who has been selected as a Union Leader by his Local Union, and is now a member of the Executive Board, Grievance and Negotiating Committee, a member of all Masonic bodies, a business man who is known by all that have had dealings with him to be just, fair and honest; one who will be fair and impartial with offenders of the laws that are brought before him; one who will have regular office hours and be available at all times, day or night; one who will put our entire District on an equal basis, and one who will guarantee that our road equipment will be used to build and maintain our much-neglected roads for his entire term of office and not just before the elections, as seems to be a common practice?

You may wonder why he has not seen each of you in his campaign, but if you will take a little time and stop by Cow Creek and see the enormous loss he suffered in the recent flood, and the progress he is making in rehabilitating his property and small business, you will be justly rewarded in seeing the type of man he is.

This is his first time to ask for public office and he is not accustomed to the age-old political practice of back-slapping, hand-shaking and promising everything beyond reason. So don't be misled by those using this campaign strategy.

You may rest assured if you nominate and elect him that he will conduct his office with respect at all times, and furthermore he will be the Magistrate, as he is not tied with any faction. He will never have to answer to the courts for the mistake of our tax money.

He is the son of the late Bertram Lee Porter and Margery Harris Porter; married to Malta Sue May, daughter of the late Calab Sherman May and Martha Louise Music May. They have one daughter, Madelyn Sue, 15, a sophomore in Prestonsburg high school. His kindered by blood and marriage are too numerous to mention.

So when you go to the polls on May 28, to exercise your rights as God-fearing citizens, give serious consideration and cast your VOTE for a man whom you will be proud to point out to others and say, "That's My Magistrate."

The man to vote for is Bert N. Porter

About $35,000,000 will be spent by Kentucky farmers for fertilizer this season—and of that amount, about $1,000,000 can be saved by using higher analysis fertilizers, says George Corder, UK Agricultural Extension Service soil specialist.

FAST GROWTH PREDICTED
Toronto—Canadian Finance Minister Walter E. Harris believes Canada's economy will expand faster than the United States'. But, he told a meeting here, the threat of inflation is greater in Canada than south of the border.

MOVES MADE TOWARD LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

The second step toward effecting a community improvement organization was taken at a meeting here last week, when representatives from several of Prestonsburg's civic and service clubs met to discuss the needs of Prestonsburg and how they might be most effectively met.

Among the clubs represented were the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Prestonsburg Woman's Club, Kiwanis Club, Junior Women's Club, Flood Control Association, Kiwanians, and the Inter-Club Youth Center. John O. Hardin, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, acted as temporary chairman. He cited the need of a community-wide organization to coordinate the planning and the projects of the service clubs already working for community improvement, noting that much has been and is being accomplished by individual clubs but there is an urgent need to act together if the more real and apparent needs of the community are to be met.

He introduced Mrs. R. V. May who was closely connected with the Scrapbook which the Prestonsburg Woman's Club entered in the 1956 Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Community Development Contest. Mrs. May said that the Club was pleased to report that out of a possible 1,000 points, Prestonsburg received 795—and this without any overall planning or coordination of effort. To fill this void in planning and effort, the presidents of some six of the town's civic clubs had met first on April 25 with A. H. Jopp and Rufus Thomas, industrial Development chairman for the Kentucky Power Co. At this meeting J. O. Hardin was elected temporary chairman, Prestonsburg Improvement Association. The next meeting was scheduled for May 6. The Eastern Kentucky contest is open to all towns up to 10,000 population, in 18 counties of the area. In 1956, 15 of the 29 towns which were eligible for the program adopted it, and 12 of the 15 submitted progress reports in the form of scrapbooks. The towns are divided into three groups, according to population, and Prestonsburg is in Group 2001 to 10,000. There are cash awards of $150, $100 and $50.00 to the first, second and third place winners in each of the three groups. In 1956, Group III awards went to Fainville, Hazard and Louisa. Due to delay occasioned by the flood, Prestonsburg's scrap book was not entered in the Eastern Kentucky contest but was submitted in the state-wide contest. The Eastern Kentucky program is sponsored by the Kentucky Power Co. and local banks throughout Eastern Kentucky, including the First National Bank and the Bank Josephine of Prestonsburg.

Mrs. May stressed the point that, regardless of cash awards, much is to be gained by community-wide participation in such a program. The fields of activity cover many phases of community activity—Civic Improvement, Education, Main Street Modernization, Tourist Promotion, Rural Development, and Industrial Development. When set out in one scrap book, Prestonsburg's record for 1956 was very impressive. Under Civic Improvement, the City Council and the Water Commission made great strides in securing a new water and sewer system; new health center was under way; efforts were made by the Local Council of Church Women to rid the town of bootleggers and salacious literature. Perhaps the greatest progress was in the field of Education, formal, extra-curricular, and recreational, continued improvement to the new high school building and grounds; a new sidewalk to the building; a new gymnasium under way; merger of the county and city school systems; free polo, crippled-children's and other health services to school children supported by local clubs; financial assistance to Key Club and 4-H Club contest; new playgrounds; a well-equipped Youth Center with a paid director and an Inter-Club Board of Directors; two public playgrounds provided by local club action; informed school safety-patrol; a Little League summer program and year-round Boy Scout and Girl Scout activities. For adults there was the Family Artist Series, a class in flower arranging and the crafts; a Bookmobile which provided library service to both the town and the county; a church kindergarten and a church with 12 mission Sunday schools. In Main Street Modernization there was an unprecedented number of business buildings completed or improved during 1956 (the spirit and vigor with which Prestonsburg has attacked the devastation left by the flood are counted on to make this a banner category in 1957). Under Tourist Promotion were placed the efforts to improve Dewey Lake State Park such as the October all-day meeting in which all clubs participated; the Dewey Lake folders provided by the Jaycees to business houses for mail enclosures; efforts to secure and beautify better highways; new and improved motels and restaurant facilities.

The town's service clubs supported Rural Development in many ways: financial assistance for a survey of an aromatic tobacco program; assistance in developing a profitable strawberry program; the Floyd county fair; 4-H Club programs such as the Corn Derby in the area of Industrial Development there was a local contractor's pipeline job for the Eastern Kentucky contest but a local bit-retipping plant expansion. All this and more added up to the community's 795 points.

Homer Wright, president of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, who participated in a similar program in Louisiana a few years ago, warned against overreliance on industrial development and urged adoption of the full program. He particularly advocated a survey of the town from the viewpoint of the visitor seeing it for the first time; the public buildings and parks; the vacant lot, the highway approaches, the public conveyance terminals, and streets within the town. Marvin Music, president of the Floyd County Flood Control Association, spoke of the urgent need to secure the long sought flood-gate which would protect us from all but the most disastrous floods. He added that the lack of such protection was an insurmountable obstacle in attracting new industry to this area.

Mrs. Hardin appointed Gordon Moore publicity chairman and discussed the importance of newspaper and radio cooperation in the program under consideration. He also appointed the presidents of participating clubs as a committee to select a nominee for general chairman; to be ready to report at the next meeting. Members of this committee are Mrs. Joyce Short Allen, chairman, Homer Wright, J. O. Hardin, Marvin Music, Mrs. Harold Dorsey, and Mrs. Homer Wright. Besides the election of a general chairman, the next meeting will provide for the appointment of a steering committee and after a detailed survey of the needs of the town is made, projects will be selected and project chairmen named. The meeting will be May 20 at the B & W Cafe, 7:45 p.m. and all citizens interested in the community are urged to attend.

Imprisoned Veterans Ineligible To Receive Pay For Sentence Time

Veterans imprisoned after conviction of a felony or a misdemeanor will not be entitled to Veterans Administration pensions for that part of their sentence which exceeds 60 days, VA announces.

Public Law 85-24, effective June 1, 1957, prohibits such payments. Pension payments are made only to wartime veterans or their eligible dependents for disability or death not connected with the veterans' service.

Not affected by the new law are compensation payments made to veterans or their survivors for disability or death incurred as a result of either wartime or peacetime service, VA emphasizes.

Impriisonment periods of less than 61 days, or of any length before actual conviction, will not stop pension payments, VA said. To prevent hardships, the law provides that VA may pay pension to the eligible wife or children of a veteran who forfeits his own pension during imprisonment.

VA pension being received by a veteran's widow is forfeited for her period of imprisonment greater than 60 days. However, if she has eligible children, payment may be made on their behalf, VA pointed out.

The 60-day rule also applies, VA said, to any part of a pension being paid on behalf of a child under similar circumstances.

Enforcement of the new law will be carried out by VA with the cooperation of federal, state, county, and city law enforcement and penal authorities.

PROCK HAYES

Has Been

A Good Jailer

Re-elect him for another 4 years. When a County Official stands for re-election he must stand or fall on his record of service to the people.

Prock Hayes as your jailer has a record of service to the people of Floyd county of which he and his many friends can be justly proud. The record does not have to be checked in county record books, it can be seen. We have seen the cleanliness of the courthouse and grounds, the upkeep of the jail and the manner of Prock's service to the county. Many of us have eaten at the jail, we know the quality of the food and the fine manner in which it is prepared.

Naturally, no one enjoys being in jail, but those who have known that the prisoners have been treated with all courtesy due them, and most of all have lived in clean surroundings with good, sufficient food. As it should be, no special favors, nor partiality has been shown to any prisoners. In addition, Prock Hayes, has been very faithful in attending court and has been helpful to the Court and to all the people with whom he has come into contact.

All in all, we think Prock Hayes has made the best jailer we have ever had.

We recommend him for another four years. Re-elect Prock Hayes jailer.

COUNTY COURT CLERK

Why Carter Wants to be Coroner

A man may run for office for many different reasons but James J. Carter seeks reelection because it is good business for his funeral home. He can exercise the duties of that office in many ways to influence a funeral to be directed by him. That's why so many funeral directors are Coroners over the state.

He is a member of the Kentucky Coroners Association that has been lobbying so successfully at Frankfort the last few years to have a salary attached to the office. The law, now on the books, and it was promoted by Carter's association, designates a minimum salary with the office but does not set a maximum salary. Carter is seeking reelection and if he is successful he may, if the Fiscal Court concurs, receive a salary larger than any other official.

This is part of the strategy of the Coroners Association that has set out to milk the taxpayers for an office that has little duties. But over and above these considerations if a man is a funeral director, as Carter is, he will get this salary and most of the time a funeral after an inquest. These facts show why Carter is making a tremendous effort to be reelected.

Daryus Montgomery will not accept any salary above the minimum and will give the public the opportunity to call the funeral home of their choice.

(Pol. Adv.)

This is not propaganda.

This is not election talk . . .

Your present Tax Commissioner is doing business with two big companies whose property he assesses.

HE HAS BEEN LEASING FROM ONE AND SELLING COAL TO ANOTHER.

The lease is worth money and the coal order is worth money.

You judge for yourself whether he is in position to assess their property at its actual value.

When one taxpayer is assessed too low, others must be assessed too high to make up the difference.

Remember—If you elect Mr. Akers to his twentieth consecutive year in office you will put your stamp of approval on this sort of conduct. You will put your stamp of approval on favoritism and discrimination by a public official—and what's more you will put your stamp of approval on an official who does business with the Big Boy and soaks it to the little man.

If you want a Tax Commissioner who will consider the office as a public trust instead of a political weapon to use against his fellow citizens now is the time to do something about it.

 A recent letter from Vernon B. Tate, attorney-at-law, Wise, Virginia, relative to Dr. M. B.  "In the book, written by Charles A. Johnson, who was Clerk for Wise County, Virginia, for many years is a lot of information about these old trials and murders. In his book, page 288, there is a paragraph about E. Hall of Floyd County, Ky., which reads:

MY FRIENDS OF FLOYD COUNTY:
 May I ask you to please give my brother, DURAN MOORE your kind consideration in his race for County Court Clerk.
 He is a good young man and I feel that those of you who have had business transacted at the County Clerk's office during his service to us realize that he and Kathleen and his fine help of assistant clerks have been doing a good job.
 He has a heart of service and tries to run the office for the welfare and benefit of the people. We all have our important records on file there. He works for the orderly preservation of those records. During flood or storm or disaster, we can rest assured that DuRan will be on the job, day or night, taking care of those things we have filed and recorded in the Clerk's Office and entrusted to him.
 He tries to see that we all benefit by reason of his service. Good helpers in the office with reasonable pay who give to us good and kind and courteous and efficient service has been his desire, and these things will continue to guide his actions as County Court Clerk in the future if you good people will help re-elect him.
 Please vote for DuRan if not obligated to some one else. He needs your help. He will repay your kindness.
 We understand the pleasure of helping those with whom we come in contact through our daily work. We have experienced a long and hard struggle through this life. DuRan was raised mostly on a small hillside farm. He rode a mule five miles to high school. Bus had not reached our community at that time. He finished. I did not. I quit out during the last year to drive a mule team and later a truck so that I could help our family. We had a brother in law school at that time.
 I appreciate my many good friends. Let us all work for the benefit and welfare of our good county and state.
 Your friend,
 MASON MOORE

OLD STATE HOUSE AT CAPITAL KENTUCKY'S PRIZE SHOW PIECE

By Charles F. Hinds
 (Secretary - Treasurer, Historical Society)
 The Old State House, Capitol of Kentucky, 1823-1909, home of the Kentucky Historical Society since 1920, is Kentucky's prized show-piece.
 Designed and constructed by Gideon Shryock, Kentucky's greatest architect, the building is "the first considerable example of Greek revival in the West," says Rexford Newcomb, authority on Kentucky architecture.
 The Old Capitol is a two-story, neoclassic building inspired by the temple of Athena Polias at Pierre in Iowa, celebrated for chaste lines and beautiful proportion. The portico alone, however, is faithful to its model. Shryock was too much of an artist to be a mere copyist. No Greek temple had a rotunda and a staircase like those in the Old State House. The spirit is definitely Greek, but the function is modern.
 The outside is constructed of a limestone known as "Kentucky marble," quarried from the banks of the Kentucky river and cut into blocks by a sawmill invented for that purpose by Joel Scott, keeper of the State penitentiary.
 Inside the building, the marble, self-supporting staircase is built to such line perfection that to move the keystone-one tenth of an inch would cause the entire stairway to collapse.
 The first floor formerly housed the office and library of the State government and Court of Appeals. The rooms of the historical society, the former House and Senate with coorooms are on the second floor. The office of the historical museum is in the Senate cooroom. The House cooroom is the Confederate room planned and supported by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.
 Visitors to the House are attracted to a row of battle-scarred flags overhead which were carried in various wars by Kentucky colorbearers. Featured also are the lining of George Washington's fur coat worn at Valley Forge, a large wall-sized painting of Lafayette by Matthew Jouett, an Estill county moonshine still, and several hundred pioneer items.

 Mr. McCowan was a son of William and Rhine Akers McCowan. He was a retired miner and had been a member of the Regular Baptist church 35 years. His wife, Peggy Gearhart McCowan, survives.
 Surviving sons and daughters are Clark McCowan, Dayton, O.; John McCowan, Detroit, Bert McCowan, Chillicothe, O.; Mrs. Henry Stumbo, Prestonsburg, Mrs. James Ward, Springfield, O.; Mrs. Ernest Judd, Waverly, O.; and Mrs. Virgil Tuttle, New Washington, O. Twenty Candidates Contribute to Fund To Remove Placards
 Twenty candidates have responded to an appeal of three Floyd county Kiwanis clubs for funds to remove campaign signs after the election, according to Alvin Reel, of the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club of Wheelwright.
 Reed, in releasing the names of candidates who are contributing to the Boy Scouts to remove the signs, urges anew the remaining candidates to contribute to the work.
 "The signs, particularly after an extended period of weathering, clutter up our county-side and towns, making it unattractive to visitors and residents alike. We feel it would be a civic service to remove them," he said.
 Contributing to the fund for removal are J. Crit Wells, Edward P. Hill, Claude P. Stephens, Robert Wellman, Hershell Warren, Allen Stone, Guy Horn, Jim Hale, Oak Mullins, Roy Cook, Clive Akers, James Carter, Hansford Honeycutt, R. F. Moscrip, Albert Cole, Roy Wright, Charles Compton and Lewis Wilcox. Denzil Hubert, Has. Stone, The Kiwanis clubs, besides the Wheelwright group, are the Martin and Prestonsburg clubs.

I have decided to run for Constable. I fully realize it isn't a very high or profitable office, but we have it just the same, Legally and Lawfully. I also know someone will be elected. For the last several years some people have made a joke and mockery out of small offices (Just to have a little fun) such as Judge Bush and others, but I think it is high time that we quit joking around on matters like that. Ask yourself one question—Is he safe to turn loose on the streets, and in the country with a big pistol? We never want to elect a man that might be unsafe among our people. Do you think it is wise to ignore the facts and just elect anyone? No, no, I think you should elect a man that exercises a reasonable judgment to deal with his fellow-men, treating him as he would want to be treated. I don't believe in abuse in any respect. I don't believe in meddling, deceiving, just like Poppey, I am what I am and can't be anything else. When I am your Constable, you can go out for a little drive or a little recreation. You won't have to keep an eye out for fear of me pulling you over, shaking you down, and possibly arresting you on some false charge. I don't doubt but what I will be nominated and I don't intend to make a thing alone by contesting. I will work as I have always done. I have been working for Ferd Major in Michigan for the last four years, but I have moved back to the old home place where I was born and raised. I am appealing to all my friends and relatives to vote for me, as I have never in all my life voted against one of my relatives and regardless of the outcome of this election, I never will. I have always tried to make a habit of voting for some local boy or man in county-wide elections. That's why I am always on the loser side. I was on the loser side in the last Governor's race but I would do the same thing again if there was a local boy involved. I volunteered for the army right after war broke out in World War II and was in combat for several months. I have decorations for meritorious achievement against the enemy, and also for gallantry in action. (I represented my home on the battlefield) Would it be asking too awfully much to represent you all as your Constable?

FIFTH INFANTRY
Washington, May 10.—The Army today announced it is disbanding the Fifth Infantry Division stationed at Fort Ord, Cal. This will leave the Army with 41 divisions.

The Army said the move will have little effect on the military strength at Fort Ord because most of the troops of the Fifth Division will be absorbed by the Replacement Training Center to be activated at the post and by the Combat Developments Experimentation Center already established there.

The change, effective June 1, was described as part of the overall reorganization of the Army under the "pentomic" concept of the future atomic warfare.

District Eleven Nurses In Meeting at Pikeville; Panel Program, Feature

District No. 11 of the Kentucky State Association of Registered Nurses were guests of the professional nurses staff of Pikeville Memorial hospital, May 9, at their regular staff meeting. The program consisted of a panel discussion of the Community Team Approach to Maternal and Infant Health.

Basis of the discussion was that although maternal and infant deaths have drastically reduced in the past 40 years, the profession cannot be complacent as it reviews the progress of the past. Fifty percent of all maternal deaths that occur could still be prevented if the full benefits of modern knowledge were available to all mothers. Death among babies in the early weeks of life have not been reduced to any appreciable extent. Prematurity is now the leading cause of infant death. About eight per cent of the babies born each year are premature and over half the babies who die during the first month are prematurely born infants.

"What can we as professional nurses do about these basic facts?" was the basic question asked. The nurse cannot function alone. She must work with others of the Health Team, including professional workers in community agencies outside the hospital; through knowledge and understanding of community resources, the professional nurse can best render comprehensive nursing care—these were some of the answers heard.

The panel participants stressed the need for early and continued medical supervision, during pregnancy and early infancy. Parent classes and adequate diet for the promotion of better maternal and infant health were stressed.

Dr. Edward J. Rusti, health officer, Pike County Health Department, took the role of the official agency in promoting better maternal and infant health. Dr. Jack R. Pierce, Pikeville Memorial hospital, took the role of the obstetrician on the Community Health Team. Dr. H. E. Bessinger, Pike County Medical Society, the role of the family physician. Miss Betty Souther, nutrition consultant, state Health Department, the role of the public health nutritionist; Mrs. Sophia Shockey, Pikeville Memorial hospital, the role of the professional nurse; Mr. George Harg, Pikeville Memorial hospital, the role of the parent; Miss Doris Peoples, Pikeville Memorial hospital, the role of the public health nurse. A short business meeting of the District Nurses Association followed, with Miss Josephine Hatfield, president, presiding.

The Army said the move will have little effect on the military strength at Fort Ord because most of the troops of the Fifth Division will be absorbed by the Replacement Training Center to be activated at the post and by the Combat Developments Experimentation Center already established there.

CORDELL MARTIN ASKS SUPPORT FOR DURAN MOORE FOR COUNTY CLERK

TO MY RELATIVES AND FRIENDS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As the day of election draws near, I take this opportunity to solicit the support of my relatives and friends for DURAN MOORE for COUNTY COURT CLERK.

As many of you know, I married his sister, Mattie, and of course as all of you who know me best, know I am always interested in the advancement of my relatives and friends, as well as the advancement of our people of Eastern Kentucky.

By way of introduction to some of my relatives who may not know me, I am the son of Bob Martin, and Mary Hall Martin. My grandparents were Alamander (Squint) Martin and Evelyn Hall Martin, of Drift, Ky., on my mother's side, and Billie Hall and Ritter Boleyn Hall, of Hall, Ky., on my father's side, and I have been always proud of my heritage, because I have felt that they were people who believed in the better things of life, who believed that any person with a clean heart and sublime faith in God could achieve things in this world which would be worthwhile to his county and community.

In asking you to support DURAN MOORE FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK, I am not appealing necessarily for you to vote for him strictly on a kinship basis, because that would be selfish on my part, but I ask for your support for him on the record that he has made as your Clerk. DuRan has been kind, efficient with his work, considerate of others, helpful to all classes of people, whether with money or without money, honest with all with whom he has dealt, efficient in the preservation of all your records in the County Court Clerk's Office, even to the extent of carrying out and preserving the records in the Clerk's office during the flood, and wading the water to his neck to get these records in a safe place so that they may be preserved.

Of course, DuRan would not ask you in this case to give him credit for going beyond the call of his official duty, and neither would he ask you to elect him as your County Court Clerk upon his war record in the jungles of the South Pacific, on Okinawa, on the Philippines, the Solomon Islands, during his 34 months of service in World War II, but we, as citizens and kinsmen, must be fair, and we must elect him upon the Record he has made as COUNTY COURT CLERK OF FLOYD COUNTY, which I feel has been one of service to the fine citizenry of Floyd county.

One of his opponents says, "If you want a Change, elect him". As he has made no indication of what kind of Change he would make in the management of the Clerk's Office, or what the voters could expect of his CHANGE, I feel sure that the people would be better off with the type service they are getting. He further stated that some of the candidates for Clerk had been sued, but he did not add that the Court of Appeals of Kentucky had dismissed these cases.

As one final word and my last advice to you as voters, I want to conclude with what one of my cousins recently told me about supporting DuRan. She said, "We have got it good enough in the County Court Clerk's Office, and I for one want to leave Good Enough Alone."

It is my sincere advice to you as your relative and friend, and as a professional man, a lawyer, to leave GOOD ENOUGH ALONE, to keep DURAN MOORE AS YOUR COUNTY COURT CLERK OF FLOYD COUNTY, to work for him, to support him, to VOTE FOR HIM as your next County Court Clerk—and to reward him for his efficiency, his honesty, his integrity, and his ability to get your job done as County Court Clerk.

Thanks again for all these favors as your KINSMAN, YOUR FRIEND, AND ONE WHO IS EXTREMELY INTERESTED IN YOU AND YOUR WELFARE.

Yours,

CORDELL MARTIN

DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT 97

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Denzil Halbert, your candidate for Representative, is a native born Floyd countian, having been born at Printer on Left Beaver Creek, the son of West Halbert and Ada Martin Halbert, grandsons of the late John D. and Mary Dingus Halbert and Jodie and Julianne Martin. My grandparents were among Floyd county's first settlers.

I am 34 years old, married to Loraine Slade, the daughter of E. C. and Lula Elliott Slade, and we have four children—two boys and two girls. I graduated from Kentucky Wesleyan College in 1947 after having my education interrupted by thirty-nine months of service in World War II. Fourteen of my thirty-nine months of service were spent overseas in North Africa, China, Burma, and India. For the past 10 years I have taught school and coached all athletic teams at Martin high school. I have served on the City Council of Martin, Kentucky, six years and at present I am serving my second year as Mayor of Martin. I belong to the Masons, Shrine, American Legion, Amvets, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

My platform consists of four points, namely:

1. Maximum Foundation School Program.
2. Equal distribution of road money.
3. Beneficial laws for veterans, widows, and dependents.
4. Secure food control and water impoundment projects.

Now is the time for the people of Floyd county to elect officers who will serve everyone. Don't be satisfied with the second best available; vote for a candidate who is BEST qualified by experience and education to represent you at Frankfort.

I entered this race with the sole intention of winning and that I will do so contrary to all other beliefs with the help of YOU who want the best I will win.

Yours, in service,
DENZIL HALBERT

Some vegetables require different soil types than others and when possible, the proper soil types should be selected for each vegetable crop. Light, sandy soils produce vegetables earlier than heavier soils; however, the heavier soils generally give the highest yields. Farmers who grow for the early market may select light soil for the higher prices, Singletary notes.

An Appeal To The Voters

Since my announcement some time ago for Jailer of Floyd county I have been so deeply impressed I want to thank each and everyone of you from the bottom of my heart for the courage you have given me in this campaign. I realize it is you, the voters, who are the ones to make the choice, and I believe the way you have responded you will give me the nomination.

They say I can't win by not being well known by the people of Floyd county. I want you, the voters, to check the background of each candidate. Weigh them in the balance and if I meet your approval, then cast your vote for me. I am not a politician and am not sponsored by any group. I have been a member of the Regular Baptist Church for over 25 years.

I am at present employed at Stephens Elkhorn Coal Co., as a tipple man, a job I have had since 1945. So you know I am a laboring man, have worked hard all my life. I am 65 years old and have never asked for public office at the courthouse.

Not knowing what may be published, I want you to all know I am in this race to win and will not let you down. As I have said before, I will put my wholehearted attention to the welfare and care of those placed in the custody of the Jailer, and you fathers and mothers who have sons who are unfortunate enough to be brought to jail I want to say they will not be deprived of their rights and privileges as prisoners but will be treated with impartial treatment. I earnestly beg you to give me the nomination and elect me as your next Jailer and I will put forth with all the strength and energy in my body to make you one of the best Jailers you have ever had.

The best of good-will to all of you.

FARM NOTES

BY RABBIT M. JONES

There are some new hybrid corn varieties on the market, which should prove valuable to the farmer in the county.

Ky. 105—A new yellow hybrid, that is superior to the older hybrid in yielding ability and resistance to stalk breakage. Over a four year test period it has yielded 16 percent more and had 50 percent less stalk breakage than Ky. 103.

Ky. 106—Found to be a higher producer than either U. S. 13 or Ky. 103 over a four year period. Possesses more resistance to southern corn leaf blight than U. S. 13.

Ky. 108 A—There probably won't be any seed available this year, but shows promise of being superior to other hybrids.

Ky. 224—This new white hybrid has an excellent performance record in Kentucky during a four year testing period. It has out yielded Ky. 203 102 bushels per acre through the four year test.

Before a variety is released by the University of Kentucky Experiment Station it is thoroughly tested. A variety must meet hybrid standards for yield, standing ability, ear placement, and growth habits. Whenever you buy a Kentucky certified hybrid you know it has many years of research behind it.

There are also many commercial hybrids on the market that have proven adapted to our conditions. When buying seed corn, buy top quality seed, and preferably a certified variety that has been produced in this section of the country.

VARIETY TEST

This year the University of Kentucky is planning on establishing a corn variety test on the farm of Jimmy Green on Middle Creek. There will be 20 different varieties including open-pollinated, commercial hybrid and Kentucky hybrids. The purpose of this test is to find out which one gives the highest yields under East Kentucky conditions. We, of the Extension Staff, are very anxious to see the results of this test.

BANGS DISEASE

Brucellosis, also called Bangs disease, has driven more cattlemen out of business than any other disease. Infected cows produce 20 percent less milk than healthy cows. Calf crop from infected cows are about 15 percent less. More important than the loss of production from affected animals, is the danger to the owner and family of contracting the disease themselves.

Cattlemen are urged by the State Livestock Improvement Association to fight this disease by having your cattle tested by a licensed veterinarian. Those interested in having testing done, can contact me at the County Agent's office, and a state veterinarian will be brought to the county when enough have asked for his help.

STRAWBERRIES

New seedlings of strawberries are now blooming. All blooms should be picked off this year. This will cause the plants to put out more runners, which will mean a bigger crop next year. It is not necessary to pinch out each bloom, if the complete bloom stalk is removed, it will take much less time.

RIFE BERRIES

Several of the old Blakemore patches have already had a few ripe berries. These are the berries that escaped the frost that hit a few weeks ago. The majority of patches probably won't be ripening until May 18 or 20.

DRIFT

BY RABBIT M. JONES

The Drift Woman's Club met May 6 at the home of Mrs. Ben Martin. The president, Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, presided.

A motion was made and passed to donate to the cancer fund. The club voted to donate $5.00 to the General Federation of Women's Club headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The club also voted to send a delegate to the state convention in Louisville.

The president asked for volunteers to help with the pre-school children's Orientation Day program to be held at the Drift school. The club voted to serve refreshments to the children.

A discussion was held concerning the time and place of the anniversary dinner and installation of new officers, May 20.

New members were voted on and the corresponding secretary was asked to inform them.

Members present were: Mesdames LeRoy Jones, Howard Stukler, G. W. Showers, William Hoffman, Delmer Hall, Harold Parks, Lloyd Stumbo, B. F. Reed, B. A. Reed, Glen Ward, Ivan Reed, H. D. Hewlett, Joe C. Moore, W. L. Reed, Ben Martin, C. J. Cahill, Bobby Hall and Misses Ruby Akers, and Myrtle Baker.

Rutgers University researchers say dairymen might do well to let young stock and dry cows graze freely in pastures before killing the pest. The cows, says the chief researcher, like garlic even better than grass.

Milk production per cow in the U. S. is steadily increasing. There were 3 per cent less farm workers in late March than for the same time a year ago, the USDA reports.

Be careful of using chick-size feeders in your poultry operation; as chickens grow, the smaller feeders can cause loss of feed.

AN ENVIABLE PUBLIC RECORD

Few people ever asked for office upon a more outstanding record of public service than Bill Biggers, a candidate for the Legislature from the 96th Legislative District. Educators, public health authorities and many others have for years pointed to the accomplishments of Bill Biggers when he was in the Legislature and represented the people of the 96th District.

We, the friends of Bill Biggers, submit his record with pride, solicit your support with us for a man who has done much for us and Kentucky.

1. He sponsored laws favorable to labor when he was in the Legislature, fought for the rights of the United Mine Workers in the 1941-1946 legislatures. He wrote and introduced the Rock Dusting Bill that has saved the lives of hundreds of miners.

2. He co-sponsored with another legislator in the 1944 General Assembly the bill to give Kentucky five T. B. hospitals that brought Kentucky a long stride forward in caring for and curing tuberculosis. His legislative efforts have saved the lives of many of our young people who were afflicted with tuberculosis.

3. He is a parliamentarian with state-wide recognition who has been called upon at various times to preside at meetings requiring tact, fairness and ability. This ability and his wide experience in the field of legislation will add materially to his usefulness in the Legislature.

4. He is a friend of education and the teachers. A few days ago a prominent college president while in Prestonsburg took time and opportunity to praise the record of Bill Biggers on education. He will do much to advance education in the next legislature.

Bill Biggers has lived in Prestonsburg for a quarter of a century and has endeared himself to hundreds of people in sorrow for when death struck a family whether friend or not he always came, offered his services and aided in every way, either with consolation or personal service, to the bereaved ones. To all alike he has been a good neighbor and friend.

We submit our candidate, Bill Biggers for the Legislature, upon his record of public service and upon his demonstrated ability. We ask your vote upon these things and because of his qualities of mind and heart make him a friend of the people in all the different walks of life.

His election will mean much to our district and to Kentucky.

Voters of the 97th District:

DO YOU WANT A PART-TIME REPRESENTATIVE IN OFFICE?

If Not, Elect Ann B. Hall Who Will Devote Fulltime Honest Service

When we asked Ann B. Hall just what she felt we needed in the way of Educational Legislation she said, "Really, I think the Minimum Foundation Program is an improvement over what we did have but it is inadequate. I would like to see us have the Maximum rather than the Minimum in every school in our state. The teacher should have an adequate retirement rather than a mere pittance; they should have survivors benefits, (equal to Social Security survivors benefits); they should have salaries equal to those paid teachers in other states. In fact, I will be in favor of and support any and all legislation favorable to Education."

We also approached Ann on the subject of the Veterans Bonus. She said: "I'm working on that, too. I have written to the Governors of ten different states who have paid their bonus, asking what source of revenue they used to pay their bonus." She wrote to states who had something in common with our state, such as industry, racing, etc. After receiving replies from these ten Governors she feels there is no reason why Kentucky cannot pay her veterans a bonus. The poorest states in the U. S. have paid their Veterans. So veterans, if you are interested in someone who has your interests at heart, then get busy and elect Ann B. Hall. She is the one woman in our county who has the reputation of getting a job done, once she sets out to do it.

Ann B. Hall has always supported labor and will continue to do so. As for roads, after walking mile after mile up hollows, through creek roads, Ann says she certainly knows where roads are needed most and if elected she will do all in her power to get something done about it.

If it's honest representation you want, with some one with the courage and ability, one who does not have three or four other jobs on their mind, then VOTE FOR AND ELECT ANN B. HALL FOR REPRESENTATIVE in your 97th District.

Respectfully,
WOMEN FOR ANN HALL WHO SEE THE NEED FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT.

Johnson Plans New Courthouse; Magoffin Worries

While the problem of raising funds to build a new courthouse at Salersville was perplexing Magoffin county citizens neighboring Johnson county was awarding a contract to raise its old building preparatory to rebuilding. The Magoffin courthouse built upon Feb. 22. The Johnson county structure had been outmoded for years and was in much disrepair.

County Judge J. E. Radcliffe, Paintsville, said the contract to tear down the Johnson courthouse and remove the debris has been awarded to W. D. Johnson Construction Co. for $2,600. Work on the new building will begin in late June.

Magoffin county has been holding court in the American Legion building, and prospects to raise funds are dim, county officials say.

Attempts were made to procure a small Business Administration loan but this failed as the county could not provide any collateral. Revenue bonds are out. It is said as the Court of Appeals ruled them out for courthouse building several years ago. The scheme to raise money from revenue bonds provided that a holding company erect the building and rent it to the county but the top state tribunal in the old decision has held a county cannot rent from itself.

There's been talk of a county bond issue in the November election, but community leaders say that while it's possible it's not probable.

The problem is that while the county has sufficient income from oil-production taxes, the voted bond issue can only be 2 per cent of the assessed valuation and that would not be high enough to float the courthouse bond issue, an official explained.

Before the 65-year-old courthouse burned down, plans had been drawn for a new building.

But this presents another problem, although not as big as the money situation. The plans incorporated use of part of the old courthouse. Since that's no longer possible, new plans or a revision of the other ones would be necessary.

This doesn't cause too much concern now because it would be putting the cart before the horse. The money must be found first.

Reaches 19 Billion For New Record

New York—Merchandise exported from the United States last year reached a record high of 19 billion dollars—about 21 per cent above the 1965 value and some 21 per cent above the previous record, $15,800,000, set in 1953.

The 1965 total is all the more remarkable in the light of a more than 50 per cent drop in shipments of military goods.

Imports last year climbed less than exports; at $12,000,000,000 they were about 10 per cent above the 1965 figure. The trade surplus of $6,400,000,000 exceeded that of any year since 1947, when Government aid was greater.

By 1960 under the administration of Judge Stumbo all the bonds will be retired and Floyd county will be debt free.

This is a call for the many thousands of veterans of World War I and World War II and their dependents, who have called upon Joe P. for help, to now come to his aid.

For the past 35 years Joe P. has been the man to whom practically all Floyd County Veterans and their dependents have turned for aid in filing their claims for pensions or compensation, or for allowances or other help for their dependents.

For the past 10 or 12 years Joe P. has allowed Roy M. Now he needs your help, not your money, not your time, but your vote. Not because of the many accommodations he has done for you but so he can also serve you in an official capacity as your County Attorney. Let's all show Joe P. we're with him and for him.

When Joe P. finally answers that last call and goes to meet his maker, he will be remembered by many as an outstanding attorney, by others as a personal friend and by many as a fellow Christian. But to us veterans, we will remember him most as a comrade who was ALWAYS THE VETERAN'S FRIEND AND ATTORNEY. The man who never turned down a comrade's plea for help.

Now let's show Joe P. our appreciation by electing him our County Attorney for the next four years.

Tigers Win Track Crown Jenkins E. K. M. C. Titlist

In the annual track meet for all eastern Kentucky schools at Elkhorn City last Friday, Paintsville, a newcomer in the sport, grabbed the regional championship with 37 points in a 16-school field.

Paintsville won the E. K. M. C. title, since the hurdle events, both won by Paintsville, did not count in the conference race, and was second in the regional with 33 points. Other schools scoring were by positions: Elkhorn City 27, Belton 21, Fleming 19, Pikeville 12, Whitesburg 10, Flat Gap 9, Johns Creek 6, Prestonsburg 5, M. C. Napier 2.

Six new regional marks were broken with James Hill, Fleming senior, establishing new records in the shot put with a toss of 44 feet, 3 1/2 inches, and in the discus with a toss of 117 feet, 8 inches.

Charles Blackburn, Belton runner, broke his own mark in the mile run by speeding the distance in 5:01. He came within sixths of the 800-yard run in winning with ease, but his 2:07 time equaled the state high school mark.

Philip Estep chalked up a new record in the high hurdle at the Paintsville senior covered the 180 yards in 20 seconds. E. Moore and B. Rodgers (Elkhorn City) tied at 5 feet, 5 inches for the high jump record, and Paintsville's 880-yard relay team of Wells, Daniels, Kelly and football star Al Conley raced to a new mark in running the distance in 1:45.

State Insurance Plan Saves Taxpayers Money, According to Thurman

Frankfort, May 15—Substantial savings in the taxpayers dollars have been realized from adequately insuring state owned property according to Cad P. Thurman, commissioner of the Department of Insurance.

The State Fire and Tornado Insurance Fund is the agency within the Insurance Department charged with the responsibility of insuring all state owned property. Thurman said the State, in effect, is a self-insurer which doesn't insure property with an appraised value in excess of $200,000 on any one risk.

Present value placed on State property is approximately $120,000,000 of which $102,000,000 is reinsured in commercial companies, he said. This method of insuring was first used during the first term of Gov. Albert B. Chandler, Thurman said.

Claims paid since Jan. 1 by the Fund to state agencies, due to losses incurred by wind storm and fire, total $70,173.09, the Commissioner added. "The largest single claim, $56,427.91 was paid to the University of Kentucky and does not include an additional $105,000 paid for the fire in Frazer Hall, he said.

'Pharaoh' Is Cry Heard Thru Land As Locusts' eReturn Revive Memory Of Plague That Hit Ancient Egypt

Few other insects in America seem to have a strong liking for oak, hickory, apple, peach, pear and grape.

As in many other phases of nature, there is a balance maintained, and the locust has its natural enemies such as birds, insect mites which attack the eggs.

The life cycle of this insect is so bizarre and dramatic that it generates interest and stories wherever it appears. In many places it is regarded not only with interest, but with superstition and fear.

Early American colonists, having never seen the insect before and being familiar with Biblical stories of the locust plagues in Egypt, saw swarms of them when they came to this country and it is believed that is where the misnomer occurred in this country of calling the periodical cicada the 17 year locust. Actually the correct term locust is applied only to certain species of grasshoppers.

Fears that crops will be destroyed by the millions of locusts are pretty well unfounded, since the insect does not feed on foliage at all.

Another false belief is that the distinct black "W" toward the outer end of the front wings foretells the coming of a war.

Stories that the cicada will sting and that the poison from this sting will infect fruit and make it poisonous are also unfounded because it cannot sting.

But stories and fables concerning the locusts are not to be completely brushed off. The insects do a great deal of harm to trees, especially younger, transplanted trees in orchards or nurseries. Some damage often occurs among older trees also. This damage is caused by the egg-laying habits of the female of the species. In the egg laying the female punctures twigs and smaller limbs and these wounds give entrance for disease and make feeding grounds for insects that do damage to the trees.

Seventy or 80 species of trees harbor the eggs of the locusts and these for which the female

Five Floyd Students Help Stage 1st Prom At Pikeville College

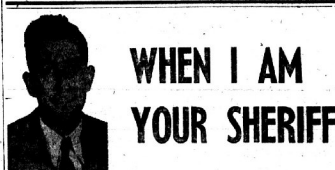

Pikeville, Ky., May 14 — Five Floyd county students, juniors at Pikeville College, helped with the arrangements for Pikeville's first junior-senior prom.

The Floyd countians were key members of committees on invitations, decorations and tickets for the event, which honored the college's first senior class, Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said.

The prom was held from 8 to 12 p.m. Saturday in the Pikeville College gymnasium. Part of the hardwood basketball floor, damaged in the January flood, was replaced before the occasion.

Floyd countians on prom committees were Lafaye Bamer, and Phila Mae Francis, both of Garrett, invitations; Robert L. Hatcher, Wayland, tickets, and Adrian E. Bentley and Jack D. Stevens, both of Easleyville, decorations.

Re-elect JAMES J. CARTER CORONER OF FLOYD COUNTY

I have been campaigning for the office of Coroner on my own record, running my own race, doing my own campaigning, backed by no outside source or organization. I owe no obligation to anyone or anything, other than upholding the law and duties of the Coroner's office. You know you have a Coroner in office now who is Reliable, Dependable, Efficient, Available, Honest, Sober, Experienced and Qualified.

Most of you are familiar with my record, but for those who aren't—here are the facts:

I was born in Floyd county and spent all my life here, except for college years and Army service in World War II. After graduating from Prestonsburg high school and taking two years Pre-Medical study at Eastern State Teachers College, I entered the Cincinnati College of Embalming and graduated with honors. In World War II I served with the United States Army Medical Department as a Surgical Technician in the operating room. On my return to the States I took a refresher course at the Kentucky School of Embalming at Louisville, Kentucky. I took the State Board examination for Funeral Directors and Embalmers and passed with high honors.

Perhaps some of you are wondering what bearing all these facts have to do with my race for Coroner. Just this: I feel I have the background of experience, knowledge, and education that qualifies me as your Coroner. I have the interest of you and your loved ones at heart, for I am one of you—you are my friends of years standing.

Since you, my many friends, elected me as your Coroner I have constantly tried to give you my very best service. I have fulfilled all my duties here in the county and have tried to increase my knowledge of the office even further by attending all state conventions. At present I am on the Legislative Committee for the Coroner's Association of Kentucky.

The office of Coroner is important—important to you and to me. We never know when it will be one of our loved ones who will need the services of a qualified Coroner. This is an office of dignity and respect, knowledge and experience. Together we can keep it so.

I wish I could visit every home in Floyd county, but this isn't possible in the short time left to campaign. I am appealing to my many friends to talk to their friends and ask them to vote for and support me in the coming election.

I will serve you in the future as I have in the past.

Floyd-Co. Students Appear in College May Day Festival

Pikeville, Ky., May 7—Twenty-three Floyd county students at Pikeville College appeared in Pikeville's May Festival Friday.

Some 250 students, from first-graders in Pikeville College's laboratory school to Pikeville's first seniors, participated in the festival at 8 p.m. Friday.

Titled "Lo, the Flood In Past," the festival papers depicted the initial cleanup in Pikeville after the flood of January 29-30. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said. Various groups will represent the frustrated faculty committee in charge, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and other volunteer workers who helped the community get back on its feet.

Floyd's May queen and king, Frances Rasmick, Ekman city, Ky., and Kenneth Smallwood, Sassafras, Ky., were presented as entertainment for the flood-stricken populace.

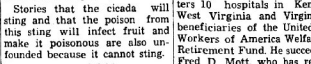

The production, one of the most heavily attended exhibitions at Pikeville each year, was staged in the college gymnasium, which was considerably damaged by the high water. Some parts of the hardwood basketball floor had been replaced in order to make it usable for the festival.

They Ann Bussay, David, Ky.; Wanda Stephens, Pyramid, Ky.; and Linda White, Prestonsburg, were among the traditional Maypole dancers. Elizabeth Sue Bingham, Cliff, Ky., portrayed one of Pikeville's faculty members in one scene of the festival. Others who took part are Frank Bailey, Garrett; Adrian E. Bentley, Huesville; Herd Con, Dana; Phyllis J. Hammonds, Davitt; Chancelor Henshaw, Langley; Sydney Ratliff, Langley; Lou Ann Colvin, Weeksbury; Gladys Marge Hall, Garrett; Glenora Pyle Howard, Langley; Patricia Ann Lykins, Betsy Layne; Mary Lou Miller, Prestonsburg; Joyce Pack, Garrett; Jim Reed, Jeff; Ruth Ann Rowe, Prestonsburg; Carl H. HENRY STEPHENS for Circuit Court Clerk

Mr. Henry Stephens
Prestonsburg,
Kentucky,
Dear Henry:

I received your welcome letter a few days ago and want to advise you that not only me but my whole family is very much interested in the outcome of the election and to see you win by a huge majority.

You should win as you have always been loyal to the Democratic Party; you are honest, dependable and reliable; you made a great record as circuit judge and also an outstanding record as circuit court clerk, and one of the greatest bankers that eastern Kentucky has ever produced.

With all the above mentioned accomplishments, not one time did you ever forget your friends and the little fellow who needed accommodations and advice which you so ably and willingly performed.

Yes, I will be in Kentucky a week before the election to do anything in my power for you in your deserving effort. You are interested to show this letter to any of my friends as it is very sincere and from the bottom of my heart.

Myrtle joins me in wishing you the best of everything.

Very truly yours,

HEALTH NOTES

By Floyd County Health Department

Everybody's Problem

"Thank goodness, TB isn't my problem."

That's what the man said. By that, he meant that he didn't have tuberculosis, nobody in his family had it, and no one he knew had it.

That's what he thought. The very next week a case of TB was discovered just down the block.

It was the mother of his youngster's best friend. And suddenly TB was his problem. His boy had been exposed to the disease. He didn't relax till every member of the family got a clean bill of health from the doctor.

Tuberculosis is everybody's problem. In one way or another it affects everybody. Everybody has among his family or circle of friends and acquaintances someone who either has the disease or whose body harbors the infection.

It is estimated that from one-fourth to a third of the American people have tubercle bacilli, the germs that cause TB, in their bodies. In most people, the germs are inactive and in no way affect their health. However, at any time the bacilli might be activated if the body's defense mechanisms are weakened. Then passive infection becomes active disease.

What does it feel like, this change over from infection to active disease? Usually, it does not feel like anything. Symptoms in the early stages of disease are either nonexistent or so slight as to go unnoticed. A person might go about his usual routine of life for some time quite unaware that an insidious disease is devouring the living tissue of his lungs. Meanwhile he may be spreading the disease to those about him.

It is this characteristic of tuberculosis which makes it more difficult to control than most contagious diseases. And it is this which makes TB everyone's problem, everyone's responsibility.

SCIENCE EDUCATION

Science teaching throughout the United States is poor only in comparison with the job to be done in the future, Dr. John Mayor, director of the science teaching improvement program for the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said recently at the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Mayor spoke by wire from the University of Arizona campus to about 100 teachers, principals, superintendents and supervisors attending a two-day science education workshop at UK.

West Virginian Thanks He Owns Powder Horn Carried By Boone

An elderly West Virginian thinks he has Daniel Boone's powder horn. It was found on the bank of the river, near Kermitt, over 50 years ago and with it was a note scribbled by W. H. Martin, "Bismark, Ky."

Hubert Cadie, Duck, W. Va., says the note, written with an indelible pencil on rough grained paper, dated Nov. 28, 1783, says: "D. Boone crossed today—powder wet. This horn is been in use 27 years" by D. Boone 1783. Jan. Presented by W. H. Martin, Bismark, Ky."

The Conservation Commissioner of West Virginia's educational department has made a photo of the note and is checking it for authenticity.

However, the note does not claim to have been written by Boone. It may have been a notation by some other sturdy pioneer of the day who was a Boone fan—and they were legion in those days. When Boone came to West Virginia, he was already a legend. There are many of Boone's manu-

Underground Mine Use Of AC Electric Power

Special to The Times

Cleveland, Ohio, May 14—Alternating-current electric power, long considered impracticable for operating underground mining equipment, is being used efficiently and economically in one of the first underground coal mines to use AC power exclusively, a Kentucky mine superintendent reported today at a session of the 1957 Coal Convention and Exposition of the American Mining Congress here.

Courtney C. Quirey, Sr., superintendent of the Pittsburgh & Midway Coal Mining Co.'s DeKovens mine, located at the Ohio River near Sturgis, said the mine began production last year, using AC power underground for all mining equipment and an all-conveyor-belt haulage system.

The room-and-pillar mining system is used with conventional mining equipment — roof drills, rubber-tired cutting machines, tractor-tread loaders, and cable-reel shuttle cars — although the company is planning to install two continuous miners, he said.

"A radical departure was made from the more or less general practice of using DS electric power underground," Quirey declared, because in recent years the adoption of hydraulic transmission of power has brought about rapid progress in the development of AC underground equipment.

He listed these advantages in use of AC power: Lower capital investment, smaller sub-stations, smaller and more flexible electric cables, more sensitive safety devices, less maintenance, and constant voltage.

CARPET MAY CONTAIN WOOL FROM 6 NATIONS

Boston — American-made carpets are really international. It is possible for one carpet to contain fibers from Argentina, New Zealand, Iran, India, Scotland, and North Africa. That is because wool produced in those countries stands wear better than American wool.

According to Cadie, he obtained the horn from H. D. Dye of Calhoun county three years ago, on an assumption that it was an authentic Boone powder horn. The horn was blocked with metal pegs and a piece of popular timber, hand carved to fit the end of the horn. It is claimed that it was originally a mormouth "buffalo horn" and the measurements are 16 inches in overall length. Rush Butcher of the Conservation Commission and an agriculture graduate says, "No one ever grew this horn." The powder horn is three inches in diameter on the large end, with a 1 1/4-inch hole for pouring powder.

The former owner, a resident of Calhoun county, kept the horn for 30 years, and let Dye have it in a trade which involved assorted guns and pocket knives.

LET'S TAKE THE HIGHWAY

This is the third in a series of articles by Paul E. Hayes on his plan of action as your next County Attorney. Two articles published earlier discussed investigation of Crime and Criminal Prosecution and Sound Management of the County's Financial Affairs.

THE LAW: Your County Attorney has a great deal to do with roads, highways, and bridges. He is a member of the county budget commission which sets aside money for such purposes. He is advisor to the fiscal court and County Judge, and he is responsible for obtaining right of way for county roads and state highways.

PLAN OF ACTION OF PAUL E. HAYES:

1. As your County Attorney I will seek to have a program of regular, not "spotty" maintenance for our county roads and bridges.
2. I will constantly work to transfer county roads into the state highway system. The more roads the state maintains, the less expense the county has.
3. In obtaining road right of way, and in condemnation matters I shall be fair and will try to do justice to both the county and the landowner, and will attempt compromise in all cases.
4. I will always seek Floyd County's share of state road money. Many of you know that during the last eight years, I have voluntarily gone to Frankfort with other Floyd countians and we have gotten state aid for many roads including roads on Bull Creek, Abbott Creek, Buckingham, Jacks Creek, Minnie-Sizemore, Hi Hat-Harold, and many others.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

TROY B. STURGILL FOR SHERIFF

As the campaign progresses, many questions are asked the voters concerning the Sheriff's race. These questions are important and I intend to answer them truthfully and honestly. I have always made my campaigns on this basis.

QUESTION: WHO HAS THE MOST EXPERIENCE TO BE SHERIFF?

ANSWER: I have had six years experience as your Sheriff and I am familiar with the great responsibilities of the Sheriff's office. It is most important that a man of experience be elected Sheriff. The job of Sheriff affects you, your family, and your property. It is vital that a man of experience and ability be in the Sheriff's office. Your Sheriff should be a FAIR, JUST and TEMPERATE man. I know that my experience makes it possible for me to be a good Sheriff and give the people the best service possible.

QUESTION: WHO WILL RUN THE OFFICE?

ANSWER: This question has been asked many times during this campaign. It is a tragedy that any man would let his name be put on the ballot, so that if he wins, somebody else would run the office for him. That is deceiving the people and will not work. I served the people of Floyd county six years as Sheriff. I know that the man you elect as Sheriff must be the Sheriff and accept the full responsibility for his administration. I ASSURE you I will be your Sheriff and will use all my experience and ability to serve the people as they deserve.

QUESTION: WHO WILL BE THE DEPUTIES?

ANSWER: I have said all through this campaign that no living man has been promised a job as a Deputy Sheriff. I propose to give the people of each Magisterial District an opportunity to select an officer to look after Law Enforcement in their district. This man will be a respected man, sober, honest and fair. He will have close supervision and co-operation from the Sheriff's office. Each deputy will be paid a salary, to earn a good honest living for himself and his family. No deputy will collect fees, this will stop collection of fees by officers. In this way your Sheriff's office will be centralized and can serve the people speedily and efficiently.

I PLEDGE to you that no person has been promised a job as Deputy Sheriff and will not be until after I am elected.

QUESTION: WHO IS THE ONLY CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF THAT HAS OUTLINED HIS PROGRAM FOR THE PEOPLE?

ANSWER: I am the only one running for Sheriff that has given the people a program on what I intend to do as your Sheriff. In the past issues of this paper I have discussed the problems of Law Enforcement and what I will do to solve them. It is important that the people know what to expect of the Sheriff and his administration. I have an unbounding determination to be a good Sheriff and I will see to it that this program is carried out.

QUESTION: WHEN WILL THE RUMORS START?

ANSWER: The people know that many wild rumors will start now that the election is getting close. People don't pay much attention to them because it is usually desperate men, facing defeat, spreading rumors or malicious circulars. These rumors and circulars are all false, and usually unsigned. There is no lower way to campaign than to resort to false, malicious circulars. Men who ask for public office should be honorable men, who would not stoop to such political tactics. Do not be deceived by these last minute rumors or circulars!

My friends, these are my answers to vital questions in this campaign. I am seeking the office of Sheriff with the deep conviction that I can serve the people of Floyd county better because of my EXPERIENCE and ABILITY. I believe I have the background necessary to serve the people of Floyd county as they deserve. I want to put my EXPERIENCE and ABILITY TO WORK for all the people.

Your Friend,

TROY B. STURGILL

SUGAR DEALERS URGED TO STOP MOONSHINERS

"Don't be a sugar daddy to moonshiners!" This warning has been sent to wholesale and retail sugar dealers in Floyd and other counties of the state by the Treasury Department as part of a drive to stamp out moonshining. "You only need a bushel of grain, but you need a lot of sugar to make a gallon of moonshine," Lewis A. McCane, division supervisor, said. A recent raid on a still near Bowling Green uncovered 12,000 pounds of sugar at the still site and six fermenting tubs, each with a 500-gallon capacity. McCane said the drive was an effort to reduce the number of federal-liquor-law violations by preventing the illegal operation from starting.

McCane has sent out posters and "romic" books asking sugar dealers to refuse to sell sugar to "suspicious persons or known violators." Dealers are also asked to report any large purchases or other suspicious purchases and get a description of the buyer and the license number of his car. Should a sugar dealer not cooperate, the division can put the dealer "on demand." This means the dealer is required to submit to the division daily reports on all sugar sales. Failure to file the report violates a federal regulation.

There are values galore in poultry. Stewing chickens are one of these and this would be a good time to stock the freezer. Stewed chicken can be used in salads, with dumplings or how about Creamed Chicken Shortcake. With the cut-up cooked chicken ready in the refrigerator, this recipe would be a good one to make when a hurried meal is called for.

- Creamed Chicken Shortcake
 - 6 t. chicken fat
 - 6 t. flour
 - 1 t. salt
 - Dash of pepper
 - 1 1/2 c. chicken broth
 - 1 c. milk
 - 1 c. dried cooked chicken
 - 4 t. chopped pimento (optional)
- Blend flour, salt, and pepper with chicken fat. Combine milk and broth; heat. Add flour and fat mixture, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add chicken and pimento and cook until heated. Serve on shortcake circles. Top with dough-nut shaped biscuit the same size. Garnish center of ring with sprig of parsley.
- A menu you might try using the Creamed Chicken Shortcake as main dish would be lima beans, carrot raisin-salad, fruit cup, cookies, and milk.

- One welding machine gives you either AC or DC at the flip of a switch.

Veterans Are Advised On Insurance Problem Of Higher Premiums

Frankfort, May 15—Many World War II veterans in Kentucky who have national service life insurance on a term basis are beginning to feel the pinch of higher monthly premiums. Director R. R. Thomas of the State Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board has reported.

The second largest group of veterans is in the 35-39 age bracket. Thomas added, if their term insurance ends after age 40, the monthly premium will jump to $8.80 for a $10,000 policy and to $0 the premium for the same policy will be $12.70 a month, he said.

Thomas advised: "To avoid sharp increases when earning power may be sliding, veterans should consider stabilizing premium payments by converting the term insurance to one of the permanent plans. The cost will be slightly higher now but not increased with age. The permanent policies also carry the additional value of cash surrender, paid up insurance and loan.

Representatives of the Board will advise and assist Kentucky veterans with insurance problems. Thomas said.

Legislature To Consider Modern Drug, Food Laws In Ky. Says Waterfield

Frankfort, May 15 — Modern food and drug laws will be submitted to the General Assembly in January, Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield said at the National Association of Food and Drug Officials convention in Louisville, recently.

"Last Spring, Governor Chandler requested Dr. Teague, State health commissioner, to take steps to bring our food and drug laws up to date," Waterfield continued.

A state-wide committee appointed to study the problem recommended changes to modernize the present food and drug laws. The lieutenant governor told the group.

These recommendations will be submitted to the Legislative Research Commission where bills will be written for consideration of the General Assembly, Waterfield added.

"The production and distribution of food, drugs, and cosmetics is certainly a field in which government regulation is necessary," Waterfield said. "It is necessary because the people just don't—they can't have the knowledge necessary for their self-protection."

Far Too Many Kentuckians 'Still Die Unnecessarily', Doctor Howard Declares

Frankfort, May 15 — Despite progress made during the past 4 years, far too many Kentuckians still die unnecessarily, especially children, from such diseases as diphtheria, polio, tetanus, typhoid and whooping cough.

This view has been expressed by Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, chairman of the Kentucky State Medical Association Public Health Committee. He emphasized the importance of immunizing pre-school age children, but also called for a total immunization inventory by all members of every family.

"Provisional figures for 1956 show a 70 per cent reduction in deaths from diphtheria, typhoid, smallpox, polio, tetanus and whooping cough in Kentucky since 1953," Dr. Howard said. "But the unnecessary death toll still remains too high."

"The need for a continuous campaign to see that our people have the protection of immunization against these killers is shown by the fact that death from typhoid increased by five over last year, despite an over-all lower death rate from these causes."

"The effectiveness of the Salk vaccine has reduced polio deaths, but there are still many persons who have not availed themselves of this protection. The medical profession urges all persons to take the Salk vaccine, especially those under 40," Dr. Howard continued.

"Even more important than polio, however, is the problem created by the failure of parents to have their children immunized early against diphtheria and whooping cough. Since most of the deaths from these causes occur under the ages of five and two years, respectively, it is extremely important that pre-school age youngsters be immunized."

State Outdoor Writers To Name 'Man of Year'

Frankfort, May 15—Members of the Kentucky Outdoor Writers Association have been asked to select the State's "Man of the Year," according to J. T. Cox, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The person chosen will be presented the organization's annual award at the Kentucky Sportsmen's Banquet in Louisville, June 10. The group last year named Ronnie Rhody, public relations man in the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, for his outstanding contribution to Kentucky sportsmen.

Cox said the association's project to erect signs naming the various creeks and tributaries of Lake Cumberland for benefit of fishermen is underway. Approximately 40 markers have been ordered and will be placed in position as soon as they are received, he said.

YOU BE THE JUDGE

Campaigning for County Attorney has been a rewarding experience for my wife, Lucille, and I. We have been visiting with Floyd county people almost continuously for the past two months. We expect to keep coming to see you, not only during the remainder of the campaign, but also for the next four years. We have made and renewed friendships which we hope will endure through the years, regardless of politics or elections. The courtesy and friendliness of those whom we have visited has convinced me more than ever that the people of my native Floyd county are the finest on earth.

It is the good people of Floyd county upon whom we are depending for our strength in this race. So I am carrying my campaign to the good people of this county with the utmost faith and confidence that you will exercise your vote for the best interest of Floyd county.

IN THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES I have placed before the people a specific, thought-out, program of action to take care of all the duties of the County Attorney, and bring about needed reforms in County government. I have not just told you I would do a good job; I have given you a platform you can put your teeth into.

I have not and will not indulge in mud-slinging, against my opponents or their families, as has been done to me and my family in this campaign. I will match my professional standing as an attorney against any of my opponents, and both Lucille and I will do the same so far as our personal lives are concerned. I am glad to stand on my own merits.

I was elected State Representative in 1949 from Floyd Districts 3 and 4 by an overwhelming majority.

I HAVE NEVER HELD A COUNTY OFFICE, NOR HAVE I BEFORE RUN FOR ONE. Not one of my opponents can make this statement.

Many of you have seen me in court, you know whether or not I am a qualified lawyer. Many of you have come to me for help, you have received it at my hands. Many of you have met my wife, Lucille, and I, and you know whether or not we are friendly and can meet and mix with people, as your County Attorney will be expected to do.

If I have pleased you in these ways, I ask you to ignore big slate talks, campaign rumors, and elect me your County Attorney.

I can assure you that when you need me, I'll be there for YOU.

To Discuss Safety With Officials Here

Frank O. Parker, field representative of the Division of Accident Control, Kentucky Department of Public Safety, is now in Prestonsburg during this week to discuss further with local officials the establishing of a county-wide safety council.

On an earlier visit here, Mr. Parker told officials that the Division of Accident Control hopes to reach all citizens through locally organized safety councils, to help them reduce accidents in homes, on farms, in schools and industry, and on the highways.

In addition to discussions with officials, Mr. Parker will be prepared to speak before local service organizations, at their request, on behalf of a local safety program.

MOORE CLAIM NOT VERIFIED

Slayer's Story of Dope At Pen Uncorroborated By Grand Jury Probe

An investigation of statements concerning illicit drug traffic in the Kentucky State Penitentiary at Eddyville recently made by Virgil Moore, 23-year-old prisoner from Knott county, failed to corroborate his allegation, the Lyon county grand jury reported a few days ago.

Moore was sentenced to death January 10 in Lyon circuit court for the putty-knife assassination of K.S.P. Guard Lt. Owen Davenport, 59, in July, 1955.

During the trial, Moore testified that at least two other prisoners pled him with illicit drugs and ordered him to kill Davenport. There were reports that Davenport, who had gathered information on the operation of a prison drug ring, was the victim of an assassination plot.

Although the investigation, termed as "an exhaustive and far-reaching" probe, failed to substitute Moore's statements, the grand jury recommended that "other related phases of the entire matter" still under investigation should be followed through to their logical conclusion.

One detail that went unexplained during the Moore trial—the source of the murder weapon—may have been cleared up with the indictment today of David Brewer, K.S.P. inmate from Clay county, who is serving a life term for armed robbery. He was charged with giving Moore the knife used in the Davenport assassination. It was a putty knife that had been fashioned into a dagger with razor-sharp edges.

Brewer and Moore had been pals at Greendale House of Reform, now Kentucky Village, and later at the State reformatory near LaGrange, according to investigators. They said they have proof that Brewer gave Moore the knife shortly after the latter arrived at K.S.P. in June, 1955, from the Reformatory.

The grand jury also indicted another K.S.P. prisoner, Jerry Richard Taylor, 28, Jefferson county, on a charge of feloniously conspiring to give narcotics to a convict.

The indictment grew out of the seizure early in April of a quantity of drugs that had been smuggled into K.S.P. in a gallon can of rubber cement. The package was addressed to Taylor.

The University House planning committee also announced that the 22-room building for UK staff members and alumni is to be called Carnahan House in honor of the "man whose gifts have made it possible."

ATTENTION, YOUNG VOTERS!

We, the undersigned, students in the Floyd County School System, of voting age urge all other young people throughout the county to support Judge Henry Stumbo for re-election to the office of Judge of Floyd county. We invite all voters to look into the record of Judge Stumbo. His administrations as our County Judge have been devoted to the best interests of the county and the people as a whole. His handling of juvenile matters, which is of particular significance to our age group, has been characterized by wisdom and understanding.

We do not have to rely on statements made during a political campaign to know that Judge Stumbo has the interest of us young people at heart. He went on record as far back as November 3, 1955 when, in a letter to the editor of the Floyd County Times, he solicited the support of voters to the passage of the Constitutional amendment granting 18 year olds the privilege to vote. His letter on that date is as follows:

"Editor, The Times:

This is to call to the attention of the people Constitutional Amendment No. 1 which is to be voted on at the election next Tuesday. A "Yes" vote means that we are in favor of permitting those who are 18 years old to vote.

All of us are mindful of the services by the youths only 18 years old in the armed forces, and all should be grateful to them. I urge support of the amendment for the reason that I am convinced that any youth who is old enough to wear his county uniform, carry a gun and undergo the hardships and dangers of a military life is certainly capable of stamping a ballot and doing it as well as those who are older.

May I urge the voters not to overlook Amendment No. 1 on the right-hand side of the ballot."

HENRY STUMBO,
 County Judge."

We think that Judge Stumbo's consideration of us in 1955 merits our consideration now, for without Judge Stumbo and others like him we would not be privileged to cast our ballot in this election.

County Attorney

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

A CANDIDATE YOU CAN TRUST

In seeking the office of County Attorney, it is my hope that the voters of Floyd county will elect the candidate MOST SUITED TO THE TRUST of this important office. I sincerely believe I am that candidate, but it is for the voters to decide.

The eight years I have practiced law have not been easy. I have never had the opportunities my opponents have had. I have never held public office. I do believe, however, that I CAN DO MORE FOR FLOYD COUNTY AND CAN SERVE YOU BETTER. I seek the office upon my reputation as a man and upon my training and experience as a lawyer.

I am an overseas veteran of World War II, a former school teacher of Wheelwright and McDowell High Schools; a graduate of Morehead College and the University of Kentucky, College of Law.

I was born on Middle Creek, near West Prestonsburg, Kentucky, the son of Felix D. Wellman and Ella Harris Wellman. My father was a coal miner for many years. I am the grandson of Sanders Wellman and Narcissus Bradley Wellman, and of Bob Harris and Kate Leslie Harris. Grandfather Harris was an elected Sheriff of Floyd County. Many people will also remember his brothers, Joe Harris, Jim P. Harris and Add Harris.

I am married to Betty Jean Martin, daughter of Sam Martin and Nora Newsome Martin, of McDowell on Left Beaver Creek. Betty's grandparents were Keen Martin and Martha Robinette Martin, and Wilce Newsome and Rhetta Hopkins Newsome. By blood and marriage I am widely related throughout our county.

Betty and I have two daughters—Elizabeth Lynn, 2½ years old, and Nora Lou, 5 months old. Our home is on U. S. Highway 23, near the mouth of Cow Creek.

MY PURPOSE IN BEING A CANDIDATE IS SIMPLY TO WIN. Every candidate, of course, will recommend himself highly. I am not skilled in deceit or self praise. I am not all things to all men. I'm just a plain country boy who'll do my best to make you the best County Attorney you ever had.

For COUNTY ATTORNEY

THANK YOU!

I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks and appreciation for the fine support which I am receiving in my campaign for the democratic nomination for County Attorney.

As most of you know, I have planned for a long time to make this race but my announcement was delayed because of illness which appeared to make it impossible for me to be able to campaign actively. However, God has been kind to me and my health has improved to such an extent that I decided to go ahead and make the race. Even though I got a late start your warm response has encouraged me. I am grateful to the many fine people who have volunteered their support and their encouragement. I am grateful to all of you who are actively campaigning for me in your localities. Such support indicates that you good people approve my record of public service, my reputation as an attorney, and the type of campaign I am conducting.

I am in this race to WIN!

With confidence in the right, as God gives me to see the right, with the assistance and encouragement of such fine friends, I shall win this race, God willing.

Your friend,

JARVIS ALLEN

DR. A. H. STEWART WAS SOLDIER, PHYSICIAN, AUTHOR, YOUTH LEADER

By HENRY F. SCALF
Dr. Alexander Hamilton Stewart was born in Perry county, Kentucky, Dec. 7, 1882, the son of Dr. Alexander Stewart and Nancy Mullins Stewart, his father a widely-known physician of the headstream tributaries of the North Fork of the Kentucky River. Dr. A. H. Stewart was named for his paternal great-grandfather, Alexander Stewart, a native of Scotland, who immigrated to the Eastern seaboard of America and married Katherine Sheets. They were the parents of William Stewart, native of Knox county, Ky., who married Polly Crane and the father of Dr. Jasper Stewart, who was born, Dec. 3, 1889, also in Knox county.

Dr. Alexander H. Stewart received his early education in Whitesburg (Ky.) Academy and at Abington high school, Temple Hill, Va., and engaged in the teaching profession for a few years. He was married, April 25, 1872, to Margaret Piggan, a native of Letcher county. Two sons, R. Lee Stewart and R. B. Stewart, were born to this union. Margaret Piggan Stewart died Jan. 25, 1878, and the disconsolate young man with his two sons, went back to the paternal roof for awhile. Soon, stirred by the name his father had earned as a mountain physician, he began, in 1876, at the age of 24, the study of the medical tomes in his father's library. The tutelage of Dr. Jasper Stewart ended in 1878 when Alexander entered the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati. He was graduated in 1882.

Returning to the mountains he hung out a shingle at Prestonsburg. The town was then a struggle village of 285 persons but he didn't have long to wait for calls. The worst small-pox epidemic in the history of the mountains had erupted in the autumn of 1883 in the vicinity of Salt Lick Creek, a tributary of Right Beaver Creek, near the present Hueysville. Merchant John Neal had gone from there to Portsmouth, O., to replenish his store shelves but had returned not only with goods but a strange new sickness his neighbors learned after repeated visits was small-pox.

Neal died in December, after visiting mountain-folk for miles around had been exposed. The disease, of unusual virulence, struck with appalling suddenness in scattered valleys around the area. Fifty-one died out of 102 who had the disease. Against this catastrophe engaging the near-pioneer community the herb dispensers and home- concocted remedies were of no avail. Dr. Stewart went to the scene and plunged into the fight to battle the disease.

The first funerals of the community were well attended, thus further spreading the scourge as mourners become ill while the last rites were said. Deaths increased and the graves, at first dug deep and to the conventional size, became smaller as the number of well persons able to labor decreased. Often the dead lay uncreased for, in the homes for several days and the rats ate the putrefying flesh.

In this community of Salt Lick, lying prostrate under the terror of the red scourge, Dr. Stewart labored, without pay or hope of reward, staggering to a bed in the wee hours of the morning, exhausted physically but with set lips and a determination to carry on. He appealed to the county officials for aid and two Paintsville physicians, Dr. I. H. Turner and Dr. W. T. Atkinson, came to his assistance after a request from Prestonsburg. Their appearance in the Beaver Creek community was made though when the plague was subsiding. Most of those marked for death had died and those who lived were marked with scars for life.

Dr. Stewart returned to Prestonsburg, continued his practice there for ten years. In 1887 he entered the campaign for the State Senate against John May, of Pike county. He carried the 33rd Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Floyd, Martin, Pike, Letcher, Perry, Knott, Leslie, Harlan and Clay, by 3,613 votes. He was re-elected in 1891 but served only two years as the new State Constitution was adopted and in a re-districting shuffle lots were drawn and he lost his seat.

Stories preserved today about Dr. Stewart while practicing and electioneering in Floyd county reveal how well-beloved he was by the people. Although a Republican he canvassed precincts in which he would normally have no hope of reward except that many would remember his ministrations while they were ill and there had been little talk of fees.

On one occasion while riding on Buffalo Fork of Johns Creek he saw a group of men hoeing corn. He drew rein and began to solicit their votes. Someone suggested that if he would help hoe out the corn patch they would vote for him. Stewart dismounted, pulled his coat, began to wield the hoe. Down the long rows he chopped, his helpers following in wonder that a distinguished physician could be so proficient, not knowing that he had been reared on a mountain farm and had chopped weeds from boyhood to early manhood. The corn field was finished and Stewart rode away. Oldsters of the community years later recount the incident and affirmed that the whole crew of laborers voted for him through everyone of them were Democrats.

Politically active, Dr. Stewart was named chairman for his party of the Tenth Congressional district in 1888 and served until 1892. For the two years of 1896-97 he was a physician and deputy warden at the Kentucky Reformatory at Frankfort. Successful efforts were made, under his supervision, to initiate sanitary reforms at the institution.

The Spanish-American War started while Dr. Stewart was at Frankfort and he, with his son, R. B., went back to the mountains and organized Company K, Kentucky Volunteer Infantry, of which he served as captain and his son as first lieutenant. The company was not sent to foreign service and they were discharged after ten months.

The lure of the Oklahoma prairie was great for many Eastern Kentuckians at the turn of the century and he migrated to that state in July 1901, settling at Lawton and opening the Green Tent Drug Store. The next year he moved to nearby Indianham, where he practiced medicine until 1910. His wife, Laura Hargis, whom he married March 2, 1892, having died in April, 1901, he married Miss Mattie Hampton, at the Keegan Hotel in Lawton, Feb. 28, 1907.

In 1910 he returned to Lawton, became active in Boy Scout work, fraternal activity and civic organizations. He was interested in writing and completed three volumes on youth work. At the time of his death he was laboring to finish a book on science.

Dr. Stewart retired from active practice in 1923 but retained many interests, chief of which was his civic affiliations. He was a delegate to an international Kiwanis convention.

He became seriously ill in late March, 1933, and died from paralysis at a Lawton hospital, April 6. His sons, R. Lee Stewart, of Morehead, and R. B. Stewart, of Lawton, were at his bedside. Interment was made in the Lawton cemetery.

Oklahoma newspapers carried front page stories of the pioneer resident's passing and regrets were voiced by various organizations, individuals and clubs.

Dr. Jasper Stewart, father of the distinguished Kentucky immigrant, died May 3, 1914, and his son, R. B., succumbed July 18, 1942 in Chicago. Dr. Lee Stewart, of Morehead was prominent as an officer in prohibition days but now spends his time in writing historical features for the Rowan County (Ky.) News.

NEW OIL, GAS ACTIVITY

An oil industry leader said in Pittsburgh last week the Appalachian area warrants "the attention of the courageous wild-catcher" seeking new gas and oil reserves.

L. L. Connelly, vice president of Warrens Petroleum Corp., Houston, Tex., and vice president for production of the American Petroleum Institute, made the statement at the eastern district meeting of the API.

Connelly said he finds the Appalachian area "very active and promising."

"According to predictions 4,800,000 feet of wells will be drilled during 1957 in the states of New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, including 59 wildcat wells," he said.

"During the past several years, the interest of operators has been re-directed to the wildest possibilities of this territory. The substantial gas reserves found in Clinton County of northern Pennsylvania, Fayette County of southwestern Pennsylvania, and Preston county, West Virginia, so I am told, are rich enough to warrant the attention of the courageous wild-catcher seeking other similar fields.

"The Appalachian province presents an outstanding number and degree of the stratigraphic changes that are looked for so diligently in the mid-continent oil producing areas. These include shelf areas, hinge lines, pinchouts, facial changes and possible reefs.

I am inclined to believe that the possibilities of this entire area are being overlooked in the overshadowing publicity given to the newer prospects in the Rocky Mountains, Gulf Coast and elsewhere.

"Some of the boldest pioneers in the history of the oil industry originated from this area. With the application of their spirit and careful study of available information, I feel confident there will be an exciting new day for this territory."

Furniture and Mattress
Manufacturers Quiz Coke
On Kentucky Regulations

Frankfort, May 15—Kentucky's Department of Industrial Relations is receiving numerous inquiries as to whether the State has statutes regulating manufacturing and labeling of mattresses and upholstered furniture, Commissioner Oscar Coke said today.

The State does have provisions as to materials used in mattresses, to safeguard health of users, Coke explained. The statutes are administered by the State Department of Health, he said.

Kentucky has no regulations regarding upholstered furniture although many States do have, the Commissioner added.

Inquiries coming to the Department indicate that furniture and mattress manufacturers in various southern states such as Georgia and North Carolina are shipping their products into Kentucky for the first time, Coke said.

Job Placements Increase
22.5 Per cent in Kentucky,

Frankfort, May 15 — The Department of Economic Security has reported a total of 3,345 non-agricultural jobs were filled by the agency's employment service during March.

This was a gain of 22.5 per cent over February, the department added.

The agency said the increase was "probably the result of additional hiring stimulated by the beginning of the spring season in several industries."

The department also reported. Specific aptitude and proficiency tests, which are given as part of the placement process, dropped by 19.2 per cent from 1,347 in February to 1,089 in March.

While closely related to placement activity, this type of testing does not always vary in accordance with the placement level as many instances tests are given for the purpose of building up a backlog of qualified workers.

New applications for jobs, probably reflecting a decline in Kentucky layoffs, dropped by 13.6 per cent from February to a March total of 9,531. New applications were 12.6 per cent lower than in March 1956. During March counseling interviews added to 2,333 with most of these given to high school seniors expecting to enter the labor market following spring graduation. Counseling was virtually unchanged from the previous month, but was 9.4 per cent lower than in March of last year.

Dean Bembower
Resigns Pike Post;
To Go To Ashland

Pikeville, Ky., May 7.—The resignation of the Rev. Philip Bembower, dean of Pikeville College, for the last four years has been announced.

Bembower will leave Pikeville late in August. Dr. A. A. Peare, college president, said. He has been dean of the school, a junior college for some 40 years, during the critical two-year expansion period leading up to the granting June 2 of Pikeville's first baccalaureate degrees.

The college dean, a Presbyterian minister since 1940, said that he will become minister of Christian education at the First Presbyterian Church of Ashland, Ky., September 1. He has been dean at Pikeville since September 1, 1953.

A Kentuckian in his boyhood, Bembower came back to Kentucky in 1950 to become director of the Upper Big Sandy Valley Large Parish of his church, and pastor at Canada, Ky. His earlier pastorates were at the Mount Calvary Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia and the First Presbyterian Church of Middle Point, Ohio. He was named to the Philadelphia post while a senior at Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J.

He holds the B. D. degree from Princeton Seminary and the A. B. degree from Wabash College, Wharton, Ill., and attended Ohio State University for two years. He and Mrs. Bembower have three children.

The son of missionaries to India, Bembower was born in Oakland, Cal., in 1923 while his parents were on furlough to the United States. His early life was spent in Guntur, Madras, India, where he first learned to talk in Telugu, an Indian language. He could not speak English until he was six years old shortly before his parents completed their term of service and returned to this country.

Bembower spent his youth in California, Ohio and Kentucky, where his father, an agriculturist, was at different times a student in the University of California, a schoolteacher and a county agricultural agent. During 1934-35 the elder Bembower was principal of Lincoln Institute, a Berea College-sponsored school in Simpsonville, Ky.

MEADE ASKS YOUR SUPPORT ON HIS RECORD OF SERVICE

As a candidate for County Court Clerk, I have traveled over many parts of Floyd County. It has been a great pleasure to visit and talk with my many good friends. I am and shall always be grateful for the fine way I have been welcomed and received by the voters everywhere. I shall never forget your many expressions of confidence in me and my record as a public official and the many acts of kindness shown me in this election. With your help I will win, and hope to be able to repay each of you in some way for your support.

The voters are not so much interested in who the candidate is, but what kind of official he has made in the past and what he stands for in the future. They want a clerk keeping their records that will stay in the office and be ready and willing to serve them; one they can find in the office and talk with face to face when they go in, and one that can and will help them look up their records without charge.

Most of you know my background as a moral, religious and accommodating man that believes in dealing with his neighbors and friends according to the Golden Rule. In or out of public office, every act in my life has been guided by these principles.

My undivided attention will be given to the office. I will devote my full time to serving you as your County Court Clerk. When you come to the office you will find me there anxious to serve you faithfully and to the best of my ability. I will not be engaged in any outside activities and I will have nothing else to do except make you a good County Court Clerk and to safely and accurately keep the records involving you and your property.

Due to previous service as your Clerk, I am familiar with these records and how they should be kept. I will be able to help you in most of your problems, and to find the record or information you are looking for in this office. This service will be free and it will not be necessary for you to go to the expense of hiring outside help to do this for you.

In this campaign, like all others, you will hear rumors and untruths. Every kind of fanciful reason why you should vote against me will be given by the opposition. They will tell you that I am a rich man. This is far, far from the truth. Many of you know the facts of my early life, how I was raised and how hard I worked to get an education. To go into these details here would serve no useful purpose because I do not seek your vote and support on sympathy, but on the kind of public official I can and will make you.

I learned a long, long time ago that it "is more blessed to give than to receive." There are hundreds of people all over this county who know that I believe this with all my heart. I have always donated to worthy causes, given to the poor and helped people in distress. This practice I expect to continue so long as I live and have the means to help my fellow man.

I have always based my political career on service. I have worked hard when I worked as a public official. I have worked to serve all, not merely a few. In every situation I have tried to be helpful to the people, and to do all this in a quiet, efficient, courteous way.

On the basis of the kind of life I have lived and the public servant I have been I ask for your vote and your help in this election.

Your friend,
BANNER MEADE
