This Town— That World

The people have spoken. Now if we can get what they said recorded.

You will recall that Lincoln pleaded that the people "bind up the nation's wounds" after the Civil War was past. Is there a Floyd county Lincoln to speak now that our own little "civil war" is over?

THE CITY SLICKER COMES VISITING

The Chicago Tribune recently published a "piece" written by one Norma Lee Browning that has brought my blood pressure back up to or past normal. It is headed, "A Trip to Appalachia: Visit to Distant Ages" and it drips its dirt all over Eastern Kentucky, in particular.

For instance: This woman who came visiting us and who partook of our hospitality as a "piece" written by one Norma Lee Browning that has brought my blood pressure back up to or past normal. It is headed, "A Trip to Appalachia: Visit to Distant Ages" and it drips its dirt all over Eastern Kentucky, in particular.

We try to take the charitable view on matters such as this but an article of this sort is so manifestly unfair that we become almost inarticulate with disgust. Wonder where the Browning woman visited in Eastern Kentucky? Wonder what she was looking for when she came?

If I were a Norma Lee Browning, which, thank God, I am not, I would make a trip to Chicago, and I would head straight for Skid Row and never leave it till I returned home. Then I would sit me down to a typewriter and I would write:

"The city of Chicago is one drunken orgy, a den of the world's riff-raff, one gigantic accumula-

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT SET

100 Student-Musicians In Presentation Tuesday; To Feature Arnett Score

Prestonsburg High school will present its band and chorus with approximately 100 student musicians participating in a concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 4, at the grade school auditorium here.

The concert will feature an original composition for a girl's trio by Miss Louisa Arnett, daughter of Mrs. Joe Arnett, West Prestonsburg.

One of her original numbers is a composition for a quartet rendered in the state high school music festival at the University of Kentucky. Last season, received a rating of "excellent" from the judges.

The band, composed of about 30 concert pieces, will be directed by the direction of Jesse Elliott. Floyd county high schools band director.

The 80-voice chorus is actually a three-part group composed of a boys girls club, a girls girls club and a mixed chorus and can perform as separate units or as a whole. They will be under the direction of Mrs. Charles Harwood, instructor of choral music at the school.

The girls' club and the mixed chorus were rated "superior" for their separate performances in the state music festival.

UF ANNOUNCES WARCO PLANS

Gas Company To Spend $1,350,000 On Changes To Modernize Station

To modernize its Beaver Creek compressor station, at Warco, one mile northeast of Maytown, the United Fuel Gas Company is spending a substantial sum of money which will cost approximately $1,350,000, it was announced in Charleston, W. Va., early this week.

H. O. Grady, supervisory engineer, said the following changes are being planned for the station:

1. Convert seven 1,000-horsepower gas pumping units from single stage to two-stage operation for increased operating flexibility and efficiency.

2. Replace the present piping with new piping and the present cooling system with modern aerial gas and jacket water cooling equipment.

Grady said the cooling system and gas piping were originally installed from 1927 to 1931.

Compressed gas and engine jackets of the station's nine engines are now cooled with an open water system which requires substantial daily additions of raw water from Beaver Creek.

Grady said the station is one of the water table in the area, (See Story No. 8, Page 3)

Inland Steel Designates Three Flood Graduates To Get College Benefits

The Inland Steel Scholarship Committee has awarded three scholarships to Floyd county high school students who are being recognized as the closest of the present school year.

Two-year scholarships to Pikeville College, valued at $25 a month, were awarded to Miss Barbara Dammron and Curtis Leon Bryant, Miss Dammron, a graduate of the Wheelwright high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dammron, of Wheelwright.

Miss Bryant is employed at the Inland Steel Price Mine No. 1 as a timberman.

WAS IN RACE BUT SHE LOST

Candidate for Jailer Raided While Voting For Her, Others Done

All candidates for public office had their votes Tuesday but none had been counted to compare with Mrs. Dora Johnson, of Byro, Democratic candidate for jailer.

John Sheriff's deputies raided Mrs. Johnson's home at the polls for her and 23 other candidates for jailer was going on, and they confiscated 72 cans of beer and three half-pints of whiskey. She lost the election.

On the whole, primary election day was comparatively quiet, despite the unusual presence of armed forces placed on votes and "election liquor" in sufficient volume to satisfy the voters.

Except for the snatching of Bert Hamilton at Teabery, violence was negligible. Hamilton was stabbed by Sheriff's deputy, Deputy Sheriff John Wheeler Lewis, said Lewis said that when he arrived at the polls, he saw a man in a neighboring county, Hamilton, in the Methodist hospital, Pikeville. He is described as "prety bad."

Officers arrested 34 for drunkenness on election day. The raids reported by the Sheriff, in which Deputies Wheeler Lewis, Sheriff's deputy, and John D. Martin took part.

POUND DAM AUTHORIZED

Big Sandy Tributary Reservoir To Affect 4 Counties in East Ky.

Army Secretary Wilber M. Bruker has approved the Pound River flood-control dam and reservoir in Virginia for "active program" by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Pound drains through the Lynchburg basin, and its downstream flow affects Pike, Floyd, Johnson, and Lawrence counties, Virginia.

Bruker's action places the Pound dam on the list of authorized river projects for which the engineers will later ask Congress to appropriate planning and construction money.

The action substitutes the Pound project for the Clintwood, Va., reservoir, which had been on the list of authorized projects.

Under the terms of the 1938 authorization, the Army secretary was given discretionary authority to make the substitution if it proved feasible.

THE WOMAN STAGES UPSET

Owens' Landslide Sweep For Appeals Court Clerk Termed Chandler Deceit

"The Woman" staged the biggest political upset in Kentucky's primary election, this week.

Miss Doris Owens' apparent landslide sweep of the state over Administration-backed June A. Oster for the unpaid clerk of the Court of Appeals term was seen as a major defeat for Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, Miss Owens, a novice at the political game and without formal organization, had, with 60 per cent of the state's vote, substituted Mrs. Owens, 110, for Oster.

Studer failed to carry Goodwood Chandler's home county, Woodford, and he lost the Governor's home county, Madison.

He also failed to carry his own home county, Gallatin.

Although the defeated candidate had conceded the election late Wednesday, the Governor apparently had no intention of conceding it. He said he was "surprised" at the result and conceded that Mrs. Owens had been paid "a great tribute" by the people of the state.

"When the people speak, I hear no other voice," he added.

The Administration also lost key leaders in the House and Senate. Of those losses he said, "If the news are losing want to blame me I'll take the blame—I'm used to being the goat."

Four of the main appeals to the voters was made through during the many years she had been an aide to the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

In the first nine precincts of the county she was tabulated, "The Woman" had a 2 to 1 lead and the county is expected to give her a substantial majority. On the basis of incomplete returns she was leading in every Congressional district in the state.

FLOOD LOSS, REGIONAL PROBLEMS REHEWED IN REPORT TO CHANDLER

The five days between January 27 and February 1, 1957, over 12 inches of rain fell on parts of the southern area of Eastern Kentucky, a flood rehabilitation study by the state Department of Economic Development presented to Gov. A. B. Chandler, Tuesday.

This enormous quantity of water, running off the hills of the region, inundated the major drainage basins, flooded streams and valleys beyond flood stage." The interim report, submitted last week, continues: "Floods and reservoirs were available to slow this torrent and it rubbed down on three river valleys of the region."

The study, directed by Gov. A. B. Chandler after a visit to the flood-stricken area in early February, is divided into five sections, four of them being an analytical diagnosis of certain problems. The study reports that in 1956, 142 problems, the flood pattern and damage, economic prospects of Eastern Kentucky, and the action needed to prevent a recurrence of the disaster.

13,779 BALLOTS CAST IN TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

Vote Result May Be Days Distant Yet

The election is not over in Floyd county, and it may not be for several days yet.

Tuesday, there were 61 centers of interest in the heated primary as the voters streamed to that many voting places in the county. As this is written, there is only one center of interest—the circuit courtroom, here where the tabulation of returns is slowly being made and periodically watched by candidates and their friends.

Several Democratic races may not be decided till the last precinct is counted elsewhere.

One vote apart were Grover C. Holloman, incumbent, and James W. Howard for the Democratic nomination for Magistrate in District No. 1. Counts of the absentee vote will decide this race.

A total of 13,779 ballots were cast in the primary, on a crisp, sunny day. The voting, on the whole, was orderly.

The absentee ballots were not counted Friday, as planned by Sheriff Ernest Collins, and these may provide the biggest rubs of the entire election. At Lackey precinct, said L. C. (Chick) Frasier in an affidavit, his ballot had already been issued when he went to the polls and asked for his ballot. Mr. Frasier stated that he had applied for an absentee ballot and had not authorized anybody to do so. He said later that the absentee ballot had been issued in that precinct and that persons in whose names they had appeared at the election.

At about precinct election officers failed to sign the first 19 ballots issued, it was said.

Three important assets, though, were counted with precincts not completed. He said counted and uncounted precincts are made in the tabulating system, we'll not get through counting by Saturday night. County Clerk Duffan Moore said. Others predicted the counting may run into next Tuesday or Wednesday. If it does, it will be the longest "count" in the history of Floyd county elections.

The County Clerk also commented on the tabulating system, which he said was not completed. On my recent visit to that so-called center of culture and industrial enterprise I found its principal businesses nothing but bars and flop-joints; its residents, ragged, bleary-eyed derelicts who shambled about in a drunken stupor, oblivious even of the sun and sky overhead. 2 Americans remind you IT'S MINUTE MAN MONTH

Two Americans who are celebrating Minute Man Month. Pretty typical citizens—maybe just like you or your next door neighbor—who started investing in America's future in 1941. How about you? What they did you can do, too. Start planning for your future with United States Savings Bonds.

"Back in May, 1941, my wife and I were just starting out. Money was pretty hard to come by, but we tried in our small way to help our country through Defense Bonds. Then war came and I was drafted. Since we were a 'family' now, each month I had a little bit of my pay salted away in War Bonds for the future. When the war ended, a friend and I opened a service station. And those Bonds we'd been saving helped buy our first house. My War Bonds were changed to Savings Bonds, but to me they still spelled 'future' and I started right in having a certain amount taken out of my pay check each month. Kind of figured here was a good way to make sure my kids get to college. And they'll graduate, too—because of U. S. Savings Bonds."

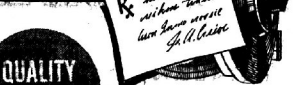

"It's easy for me to recall May, 1941, for that was the time I finally persuaded my husband to start thinking about our retirement. Defense Bonds seemed to just fit the bill. They helped our country and they helped us. During the war we kept building our 'Florida Bonus' with War Bonds. Actually the Payroll Savings Plan made it easy. We never missed the money and finally two years ago we retired to sunny Florida. Now we're having the time of our lives just loafing in the sun and spending lots of time with our children and grandchildren."

The Clintonwood project is now advanced. Originally proposed, it would have been built several miles upstream from the site now chosen for the Pound reservoir.

Another dam and reservoir have been proposed on the Russell Fork near Haysi, Va.

The proposed Fishtrap dam is on the Levis Fork of Big Sandy. Representative Carl D. Perkins, Hindman, has asked Congress to appropriate $250,000 for planning the Fishtrap and Pound reservoirs during the fiscal year that begins July 1.

At present, the budget contains no money for this work. Senator Cooper and Morton, members of the House of Representatives. State officials, and others have asked for planning money for Fishtrap and a restudy of other Big Sandy Valley flood control works.

Recently, the Corps of Engineers determined the benefit ratio of the pound to be $1.07 for each $1 of construction cost. The ratio is $1.18 to $1 for the Fishtrap expenditure.

The Pound dam would be 95 feet high and 500 feet long. Estimated cost would be $8,000,000. The Fishtrap dam would be 161 feet high and 900 feet long. Its estimated cost is $28,300,000.

acute water shortages are experienced during dry seasons. This sometimes results in curtailed operations.

Installation of the modern aerial gas and jacket water cooling equipment, which will require only a minimum amount of make-up water from a stream, will insure adequate cooling for continuous operation.

Sudan grass, a drought-resistant, palatable forage grass, may be a lifesaver for dairymen looking for forage for dairy cattle.

When tobacco setting time arrives—about the end of May—farmers should follow several simple, proved practices, says Russell Hunt, Agricultural Extension Service tobacco specialist.

Seed Sudan right after corn planting is finished, usually at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds per acre. Fields can be pastured generally about six weeks after seeding.

The Civilized Jungle

Politics is a jungle. It is a jungle wherein the shadows are predominant, where the dappplings of sunlight are few. There the law of fang and claw still rules.

It is a jungle wherein the lion's roar and the chirp of the tiny things build up to bedlam, until the hearer does not know where danger lies or whither to go for safety.

Stealth is there in that jungle, and cunning. Back in the shadowy places forms move, each stalking his prey or moving to defend himself or scurrying for safety.

This is the primeval, and the law is the primordial Survival of the Fittest. The rule of life here is, move quickly, strike quickly before you are stricken, forget friendships, bury animosities if need be—but survive. And count the cost later.

This is the jungle where the outside world is little considered. This is the battle for survival, and there is no time to think of others. You coil, you crouch, you strike—or you run. Instinct dictates much, reason, some, unselfishness, never.

The owl and the rattler occupy the same den, even as in this jungle of politics there are strange bedfellows.

Yes, politics is a jungle, and any who ventures therein does so at great risk. He may lose his way, his sense of direction, his perspective, his faith in the guide.

Man can emerge from the jungle fastness, and the jungle can be tamed. But new tools for his clearing must be found. Perhaps new hands.

How To Stop Senseless Slaughter

What can be done about America's mad race to the graveyard in automobiles? The Governor of Connecticut has given one answer, and it may indeed be the answer.

Governor Ribicoff became so disturbed over the horror of death on the highways that he could not with a clear conscience sit idly by and do nothing. So, first of all, he ascertained that the major cause of highway fatalities is nothing but speed and more speed.

Governor Ribicoff did not waste time talking, as so many do, about the need for less horsepower. He went into action. Already he had seen dramatic attempts made to impress on motorists the urgent need for every safety precaution; he had seen even the comic warning given—and had seen all fail.

So, two or three days before Christmas, 1955, at a time when he knew thousands would be thronging Connecticut highways for Christmas parties, family reunions and other seasonal gatherings, he made his move.

He set a sensible speed limit, instructed every officer in the state to arrest any and all who exceeded that speed limit, and set the hard-and-fast rule that there would be no "fines" that every driver would pay the same penalty: suspension of driver's license for thirty days on the first offense, suspension for sixty days on the second offense, and denial of driving rights for an unlimited period for the third.

And, better still, he stuck to his guns. Inside of two weeks an old friend who got caught informed him that he never expected it to vote for him again. The verdict poured down on his head. But the man Ribicoff, convinced by frightful loss of life that he was right, was not moved as lesser men are. The arrests continued; more and more drivers got "stuck."

And gradually the thinking of the people changed. The results began to be apparent. Church leaders took up the battle in his support. His mail changed from criticism to praise.

Best of all were the findings at the end of 1956, the first year the slower speed limits were enforced in Connecticut. During those twelve months 10,346 drivers' licenses had been suspended. Fifty thousand more cars and trucks were licensed in the state that year and 90,000 more drivers' licenses were issued.

The state's motor vehicle drivers covered 390,000,000 more miles of road that year than during the preceding twelve months.

While all this was going on the United States as a whole had its worst year in the whole disgraceful history of highway carnage. Its death rate was up 5 per cent.

Yet Connecticut's was down exactly 11.7 per cent. That meant 38 people were living at the end of 1956 who would have been in their graves had not Governor Ribicoff taken his courageous stand.

Those figures also mean that, had every Governor in every state of the nation had the same courage and had taken the same action, 10,000 persons who met death in 1956 on the country's highways would today be living.

What are 38 lives worth? What are 10,000 worth—or even one? Are they worth a little criticism from the unthinking, a little effort on the part of those whose effort would mean something?

Writing in GUIDEPOSTS, Governor Ribicoff says, "Attack the problem of killing on the highways through your churches—for if this is not God's work, then I do not know what it is."

He adds that at the last Governor's conference he laid his program before the other 47 Governors. He does not add that these others have done little or nothing about it.

If the people want lives saved and a crazy, senseless massacre stopped, they should write their Governor, and insist that the Ribicoff Plan be put into effect as quickly as possible.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SCENE OF ANOTHER CRISIS

No doubt you people in Floyd county have read of the disaster, a flash flood, that hit this town, Lanesburg, Texas, the night of May 12, 1957. Following continuous rains, a dike broke and many of the homes were swept away by a wall of water.

Since I spent some six weeks in your fine city with the Red Cross in February and March this year and know first-hand what your town and county suffered, I thought you might like to know that the situation here is a very similar one to what happened to you good people. Again I am working with a community with the Red Cross in an effort to mend the homes as we did in Floyd county. I am reminded here so much of Floyd county in that the people here are giving us the same fine cooperation that you people did in Floyd county.

The people here have suffered very much, the same as you did, and just like you the merchants are digging out, getting back into business or establishing temporary quarters, and making a come-back to have a going community again. Homes are being moved back onto their foundations, being repaired or rebuilt, and re-furnished and many of them with the assistance of the Red Cross.

We are moving into the rehabilitation period very rapidly and last Friday had our first advisory committee meeting. As in Floyd county we have an excellent committee here, and without the assistance of the community leaders we could not do an adequate job. We expect that over one quarter million dollars will be spent here by the Red Cross, and I know that you people there are glad to know they are having a part in assisting their neighbors in Texas as your people have always supported Red Cross.

I hope that you will publicly express to our many friends in Prestonsburg and Floyd county our warmest regards and best wishes. We have two workers here that was in Prestonsburg, Mrs. Frances Turner and Mrs. Inez Welmer, and just yesterday Mr. Dan Bachman, who was first to arrive in Prestonsburg during the flood, came in to assist with the job here. All these send their regards to their many friends there.

We shall not forget the fine treatment our organization and staff received in your county. J. B. Green, Jr., Area Director, ABC Disaster Operations, Lanesburg, Texas.

THE BATTLE OF MIDDLE CREEK

Col. James A. Garfield, later President of the United States, wrested control of the Big Sandy from the Confederates at the Battle of Middle Creek, Jan. 10, 1862. Confederate General Humphrey Marshall mounted cannon on top of the knoll shown in the center of the picture.

Garfield's troops, consisting mostly of Ohioans, waded across the creek in a frontal drive while other groups executed a flank attack on the left. Marshall was forced to retreat up Spurling Fork and later to Martin's Mill on Beaver Creek.

Banking was a non-existent business in Big Sandy prior to the Civil War and for three decades afterwards, most of the banking affairs of the residents being transacted at Cattlettsburg or Mt. Sterling. The establishment of the First National Bank at Prestonsburg in 1904 greatly facilitated commercial transactions in this area.

internal injuries. He was injured when his Plymouth car and a truck of the Brown Produce Co., Prestonsburg, crashed almost head-on just after the truck had rounded the curve there. Burley Lowe, driver of the truck, said the crash took place in fog at 8 a.m. and that he did not see the car until it was in the tragedy. He added that Hall's auto was across the mid-road stripe by about 19 inches. Lowe suffered minor injuries. The car was almost demolished, and the truck is damaged beyond repair. It was said.

Vanhose was pinned by the door of his auto when it overturned on the Warren curve, and it was said he was probably choked to death by pressure of the door on his throat. His other visible injury was a cut over his eye. The car wrecked when the driver lost control of it on the curve. His brother, Willard, suffered a head injury but was released from a hospital after first-aid treatment.

George Hall was dead on arrival at the UNWA Memorial hospital at Hamilton, O. He was en route to Gto when he was killed. He was a son of the late Edward and Elsie Maud Vanhose. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Helen Vanhose, Hamilton, O. three children, Julia Ann, Debra Kay and Janet Leigh, three brothers and seven sisters: Randall Vanhose, of Ohio, Billy and Willard Vanhose, both of Hamilton, O., Mrs. Hazel Cooper, Mrs. Ruth Cecil and Mrs. Mary Caldwell, all of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Virginia Sizemore and Miss Lucille Vanhose, both of Franklin, O., Mrs. Doug Burkett, of Allen, and Mrs. Vertie Owsley, Miamisburg, Ohio.

The body was taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Burnett, and funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) from the Martin branch Freewill Baptist Church, the Revs. Green Boyd and William Amburgey officiating. Burial was made in Union cemetery at Eastern under direction of the Turner-Ryan Funeral Home. George Hall was a son of Mrs. Josie Hopkins Hall Lewis and the late Simpson Hall, and was a former employee of the Rafter Construction Company here. Surviving, besides his mother and his step-father, Jack Lewis, of Martin, are two brothers and three sisters. Arund and Melvin Hall, both of Martin. Mrs. Shaie Hall, Georgetown, O., Mrs. Ethel Clifton, Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Ruth Spaulock, of Pritter. His funeral was conducted at 10 a.m. Monday from the Freewill Baptist Church at Martin by the Rev. M. C. Wright. Burial in the Martin cemetery was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home. Everett Hall, third of the wreck victims, was a son of Elijah and Linda Gayheart, Hall, of Knott county. He leaves his wife, several children, brothers and sisters. Julian H. Golden and J. C. Helgen, general co-chairmen of the 25th edition of the Festival, say everything is ready for the gala celebration.

Eighteen of the loveliest co-eds in the colleges of Kentucky begin competition Thursday night for the crown of laurel. Gov. E. Chandler will officially crown the new queen Friday afternoon.

Golden said for the first time in several years the reigning queen will not attend the festival. Mrs. Frank Wilson II, the former Miss Booker Andrews, is in North Africa with her husband in the U. S. Air Force.

Coronation of the new queen will be at Laurel Cove. A concert by the University of Kentucky band will be included in the activities of the afternoon.

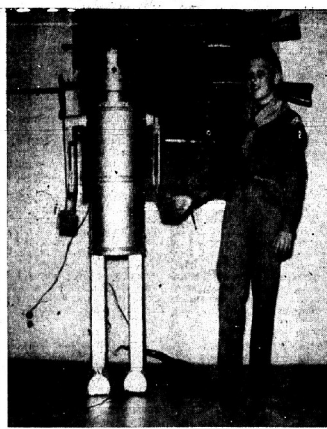

Friday morning at 10 o'clock a parade of floats, bands and other marching units will proceed through downtown Pineville. Friday at 9 p.m. a grand ball will be given in honor of the new queen at the Pineville High School gymnasium. Buddy Blair and his orchestra will furnish music for the evening.

Gizmo Gimnick, fearful appearing robot constructed of tin cans, excited no little interest at the recent Morehead Science Conference.

Mr. Gimnick is here shown extending a metallic hand to his maker and master, Stephen Lee Meade, Prestonsburg fifth grade school pupil.

The monster talks (via an intercom system), moves its arms, and exhibits red glaring eyes. It is operated by a small electrical motor.

Dr. Wilson Wyatt, of the University of Tennessee, in commenting on the Meade boy's exhibit, said, "He showed a great deal of ability and ingenuity in constructing Gizmo." The robot was introduced on a panel discussion along with other "important" guests.

Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee Meade, of Prestonsburg.

DETAIL PLANS FOR EAST KY.

Flood Control, Economy Under Study by Planners; Need of 65,000 Jobs Seen

Frankfort, May 30—A vast plan for controlling floods and improving the economy of Eastern Kentucky was detailed here in a meeting of State department heads.

A six-week study prepared by a staff of professional community planners recruited from six states calls for a program that first would lessen flood danger, then lay the foundation for economic development and expansion of industry to provide an estimated 65,000 jobs now needed in the mountain region.

An interim report submitted to the department heads suggested that Eastern Kentucky could achieve these goals through regional organizations and coordinating the activity with a single organization.

A final report on the problem is expected in mid-summer which will recommend model legislation to Federal, State and local governments and private groups.

Pointing out the many problems which must be solved to attain the best results the report stated, "This approach must be based on an understanding that it may take 20 or 30 years of sustained effort before a desirable balance between population and resources is achieved. There is no easy short-cut solution."

Economic Development Commissioner George W. Hixley, Jr. in submitting the interim report to Gov. A. B. Chandler said, "this report is being submitted to State and local officials and other interested persons in the expectation that their comments and criticisms will enable us to prepare a comprehensive and final report by mid-summer."

WHAT ARE THEY UP TO? I know you've seen 'em around town—those neat, businesslike telephone trucks. Wonder what they do? Well, our folks who install and repair home and business phones use the smaller ones. The big trucks serve our linemen and cable crews, who not only install new lines but constantly check existing ones to be sure they're in good condition. You see, preventing trouble is a big part of our job—testing wires, cables and equipment and replacing if needed to avoid breakdown. It all adds up to the telephone service you can depend on, every hour of the day, every day of the year.

FRIEND OF MINE SAYS breakfast in bed is his idea of really living it up. Let's face it—that's a luxury few of us can ever indulge. But having a bedside phone—even without the breakfast—is good living that's both practical and inexpensive. My friend was a bit surprised when I recommended him an extra phone for the bedroom costs about four cents a day. Saves running 'round the house at night or when you want to relax. Looks pretty too, in one's bedroom. And smart decorator colors. And easy, the lady of the house would welcome a handy wall telephone for her kitchen. Why not call our Business Office for more information?

DIID YOU KNOW . . .
North America has 16% of the world's land area, 7% of its people—but over 60% of its telephones.

Your telephone can be connected to over 60 million others in the U. S. and about 40 million in 110 foreign countries or areas.

School Children To State Capitol

Frankfort, May 30 — If school days are happy days, then the closing days of this term have been the happiest.

This has been proven by the joyous laughter which filled the corridors of the State Capitol here as hundreds of students, representing many sections of the Commonwealth visited the building recently.

"There have been as many as eight or nine schools registering here in one day, during the past weeks," E. C. Walker, tourist guide, reported.

Walker conducted the tours through the Capitol which includes visits to the executive offices of Gov. A. B. Chandler and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield as well as the offices of other members of the cabinet.

The children are shown the Senate and House of Representatives chambers and are given history lessons as depicted by the pictures and statues in the dome of the building.

Miss Hayes Awarded Endowed Scholarship At Lexington College

Miss Carol Ann Hayes, Hughesville, has been awarded an endowed scholarship to Transylvania College. It was announced this week by Dr. E. S. Alderson, director of admission at the Lexington school.

Miss Hayes is a graduate of Wayland high school and will be one of 18 to be graduated June 2 from Sue Bennett Junior College, London, Ky. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hayes of Hughesville.

In high school and Junior college, Miss Hayes has been active on school papers, literary societies, band and chorus, and YWCA.

The Floyd county student plans to study a liberal arts course at the historic Lexington school and then pursue a career in interior decorating.

FOOD NOTES
 By DIXIE TRAPP

Tribute will be given during June to MILK, June being Dairy Month. When you consider everything derived from milk, you will be ready to join the salute.

Milk is one of the easiest and best ways to get high value in a meal. There are fresh milks, cultured milks and the concentrated milks.

Various terms you will find on fresh milk labels are regular, homogenized, vitamin D milk, skim milk and chocolate flavored milk or milk drink. Regular is milk in which the cream rises to the top. Homogenized has the fat globules broken up and evenly distributed throughout the milk. Vitamin D milk has the vitamin D added to improve its nutritional level. Skim milk has no fat or vitamin A. Chocolate-flavored milk is whole milk to which chocolate syrup or cocoa is added and the chocolate-flavored milk drink uses skim milk.

Cultured or fermented milks are buttermilk and yogurt. These have their milk sugar changed to lactic acid.

Concentrated milks are: evaporated—over one half of the water is removed; condensed—concentrated milk with a large amount of sugar added to preserve it; and dry milk.

Smart shopping helps you drink more milk. Carry your own usually costs less than home delivered. Buy in large containers. Different forms, such as skim milk or buttermilk usually costs less per a quart than whole milk. Non-fat dry milk is even more economical. For best quality, milk needs 30's and a D Cool, Clean, Covered and Dink Milk is a well stocked storehouse of vitamins. It is our most nearly perfect food. Adults should have one pint daily and children one quart daily. Everyone should drink milk of one kind or another.

Capitol Notebook

Speaking editorially, the Puchan Sun-Democrat declares that Kentucky's "point system" for drivers of motor vehicles "is needed."

The newspapers says the program of State Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill "hit at the persons whose driving records were the worst, the ones who amassed several offenses. The stop sign numbers can kill a pedestrian just as quickly as a drunken driver."

The "point-system" has been ruled illegal by Franklin Circuit Court. The ruling is going before the Court of Appeals.

The Sun-Democrat concluded: "If the courts rule that Mr. Sturgill does not have the authority to continue his program, we hope the State Legislature will give it to him."

TRUMAN AND THE POPE

In his book, "Kentucky Tradition," Lawrence Thompson tells of a Catholic priest turning the backwoods of Kentucky who stopped at the home of a Baptist minister for the night.

The priest was astonished to see over the minister's mantelpiece a lifesize portrait of Pope Pius XII. The good father commented about this anomaly and the minister denied the portrait was the Pope's. The priest carried a small picture of the Pope and proved his point by showing it to the minister.

Whereupon the Baptist exclaimed: "That just goes to show you what some people will tell you to sell you something. The fellow who sold me that picture said it was Harry Truman in full mammoth regalia."

DEVOTED TO KENTUCKY

The June issue of Scenic South, publication of Standard Oil Company is devoted largely to Kentucky. It shows a scene from the drama, "Wilderness Road," at Berea; views of the "Wee House" in the Woods; Ashland, home of Jean Thomas, Kentucky's famed "Traipsin' Woman"; some sights at Carter Caves and Kentucky Lake State Parks; and some Kentucky River pictures.

RECOLLECTIONS

I recall when I went to school we had a five-month term. The boys sat on one side of the building and the girls on another. There was a recitation bench up front. There was no water within in one-fourth mile of the school. Two boys would go after water; another would ask to pass the water to the class. One dipper was used by all. The last day of school was usually about Christmas, Santa would bring a treat. Myrtle Corns, Tolleboro, Ky.

I recall seeing a farmer traveling the Buksville Road to and from Glasgow in a covered wagon. On cold days he would have a heating stove in the wagon and the pipe run out. The smoke rolled out as he traveled on—Mrs. J. W. Davidson, Glasgow.

Escapes Decline At Kentucky Village

Frankfort, May 30—The number of escapes from Kentucky Village near Lexington has been reduced drastically, according to Robert Hammond, superintendent of the institution.

He said that prior to 1956 when he became superintendent, escapes averaged 35 a month, but since that time they have totalled 16.

Hammond said his program attempts to rehabilitate the delinquents in his care. The program offers vocational and academic school education, expert guidance, a recreational schedule and strict rules of behavior, he said.

The present population at Kentucky Village is 423, he said, with about 100 of these being girls. The institution is staffed by 130 employees.

Dog Drives Car, Has Collision; Owner Fined $16

Memphis — The driver of the car that collided with Lester Lemmons. "I honked my horn. The car swerved and we hit. Then I saw it was a dog."

Clarence Campbell, owner of the other car, said Lemmons was right.

He said he left his car in parking gear with the dog in the front seat. He turned to see the car rolling away with the dog behind the wheel, where it evidently had dislodged the automatic shift with its paws.

Campbell was fined $16 for not setting his brakes.

Redwine, Son Hurt In Car-Truck Crash

John W. Redwine, of Sandy Hook, supervisor of the seventh conservation district, suffered arm and leg injuries and 400 stitches were required to close cuts suffered by his 14-year-old son, John, when the Redwine auto collided with a truck recently near Sandy Hook. Their car was a total loss.

Mr. Redwine, who has recovered sufficiently to resume work, said the wreck occurred when a truck pulled from a side road onto the highway.

Hazard in Perry county was named by men who served under Oliver Hazard Perry in the Battle of Lake Erie in 1813. Shortly after the close of the War between the States, natural gas was discovered in this region and in 1917 oil was found.

Now—see camera-eye proof Dodge trucks lead the low-priced 3!

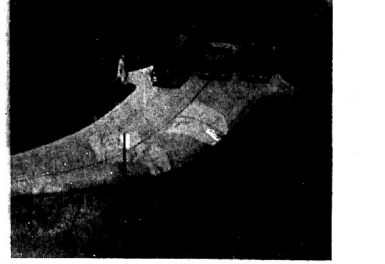

Actual road tests . . . like the one photographed at the right . . . prove beyond question that Dodge Power Giants outclass all three low-priced trucks.

See certified test results of the entire series — actual on-the-road photographs — at your own local Dodge dealer's. These tests, plus 15 minutes behind the wheel, will demonstrate to you that today's Dodge Power Giants lead the low-priced three in every measure by which you judge a truck.

You get the most V-8 power of the low-priced three . . . up to 232 horsepower. This gives you snappier performance to save valuable trip time . . . extra power to take steep climbs with less engine strain. And Dodge gives you extra payload capacity, too. For instance, the test pick-up shown hauls as much as 27% more than the other two low-priced trucks.

Check today's low Dodge prices. You'll find eleven Power Giant models, in the low-tonnage field alone, that are actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three. Why not see for yourself? Your dealer will gladly bring a Dodge right to your door.

THEY'RE OFF! Here's the start of a grueling hill-climb test. All three low-priced trucks were lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. At flag drop, test drivers floor gas pedals . . . the Dodge Power Giant leaps out in front.

DODGE THE WINNER BY FIVE LENGTHS—and still gaining! The Dodge Power Giant outdistanced both truck "C" and truck "B" from the start. This is just one of a complete series of actual road tests that prove Dodge the outstanding leader of the low-priced three.

PIKE COLLEGE ENDS SEASON

Bears Baseball Mark Is 7 Wins, 5 Defeats; Lose Two To Ft. Knox

Pikeville, Ky., May 27 (Sp.)—The Pikeville College Bears laid down their bats for the season after falling twice, 4-1 and 16-0, to the Fort Knox Tankers in their last scheduled baseball games last week-end at Drift, and Williamson.

The Bears' final season record stands at seven wins and five defeats, four by the Tankers and only one in a college game. They split with Concord College (Athens, W. Va.) winning 9-7 and losing 17-4, May 14.

Pikeville, victor over the Morehead Eagles and the Union Bulldogs twice each during the baseball season, will play next spring as a member of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, Coach Joe Butcher said.

The Tankers, with a lineup of professionals led by Bill White, hard-hitting first baseman of the New York Giants, dominated the Bears, inexperienced under lights, and scored in five of the nine innings Saturday night at Williamson. They had taken their third decision of the year over Pikeville at Drift the previous afternoon, 3-1, on two home runs, including one by White with a mate on base.

Hatting 10 hits off loser "Tex" Thompson Saturday, the Tankers tallied their first six runs before he was lifted in the sixth. Thompson had eight of Pikeville's 16 strikeouts, and gave up four of the seven Fort Knox walks.

BLACKCATS LOSE IN REGIONAL

The Prestonsburg Blackcats, victims of 11 errors, were eliminated in the first round of the eastern Kentucky regional high school baseball tournament last Friday as Breakers' Training of Morehead overcame a 4-1 third inning deficit to whip the locals 11-5.

Paul Hughes started and went the route for the Eagles, giving up 13 hits to the Cats as his teammates committed only two errors, both harmless.

Cats Drooped by Break in Regional Tournament; Close With 14-4 Record

Nine Break Training hits and 10 Prestonsburg errors were enough last Saturday to defeat a sleepy Prestonsburg Black Cat baseball team at Grayson, 11-5, to open his regional tournament.

The loss ended a very successful baseball season for the Cats, whose record is now 14-4. This game also meant the end of a high school career for Capt. Buford Crager, Bruce Howard, Reuben Tackett, Melvin Stewart and Ronald Strickler, all graduating seniors.

Paul Hughes started on the hill for the Cats and was doing splendidly until the 4th when the Baby Eagles scored seven runs on four hits, four errors and a base on balls. Pierce started and went the route for the Eagles, giving up 13 hits to the Cats as his teammates committed only two errors, both harmless.

Eleven-Year-Old Drift Boy Hurls No-Hitter in Little League Game

Eleven-year-old Harry Stumbo, showing early promise of adding to a family tradition and the prospect for brilliant baseball future on the mound, hurled a no-hit-no-run game Sunday while he and his teammates, the Drift Indians of the Drift Little League, defeated a Wheelwright team of youngsters, 6-0, in an exhibition game at Wheelwright.

Putting on quite an exhibition himself, the lad struck out 12 batters and walked three in six innings. "At the rate he was going," said Indiana manager Denver Lee Collier, "I believe he could have kept pitching an all-out-outside-pitching-innings wouldn't have bothered him."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stumbo, he is distant cousin of the well-known pitching duo, Kit and Buck Stumbo, of the widely-publicized all-Stumbo baseball team of a few years ago at Drift and "kin to all the rest of the baseball-playing Stumbos," declared Collier.

"The Indian boss was also high in the opinion of the performances of Harry's teammates, a lineup which includes three other Stumbos and is coached by Tom Stumbo, although Harry left them little to do except score runs, which they did in a handy fashion.

Grady Stumbo, shortstop and team captain, led the winning hitting attack with two safe swings in three times at bat. His triple in the fourth inning accounted for three runs sending infielder Tracy Stumbo, rightfielder Ronnie Stone and centerfielder Ronnie Carter across homeplate.

Catcher Rickie Sammons, who is credited with calling for the right pitches and contributing slush to the pitching performance of his hurling teammate, collected a double, a triple and scored one run in the fifth frame.

The loop is now being readied for his third year of operation there, he said. It is composed of the Indians along with three other teams listed with their manager as follows:

HEALTH NOTES By Floyd County Health Department

A PERSONAL PROBLEM
Tuberculosis is a public health problem. As a contagious disease, measures for its control are a part of the job of every community's health department. The care of patients is a public responsibility and is paid for by taxes. Doctors are required by law to report cases they discover.

Federal, state, and local health officials, private physicians, and the voluntary tuberculosis associations have been cooperating for many years in the fight against this disease. Yet in the final analysis, the control of tuberculosis is a personal problem. This is the paradox of tuberculosis.

If the disease could be prevented by purely public health measures such as spraying and draining marshes, by compulsory isolation or vaccination, the individual could pay his taxes and forget about TB. Unfortunately, no simple measure has yet been discovered that will prevent the spread of the disease. Progress has been made in discovering cases and getting them under treatment promptly. However, there remains a reservoir of undiscovered cases spreading the disease in every community, and an even larger reservoir of infected persons who are potential victims of tuberculosis.

A vaccine of limited effectiveness (BCG) is available, but is not advocated for general use. Until such time as an effective vaccine or other preventive is discovered, it will be up to the individual to protect himself from TB. This means you and me.

Poor general health lowers resistance to TB germs. So each of us must guard his personal health. The rules of good health we learned in school haven't changed: cleanliness, sleep, proper food, fresh air, and exercise. If we follow the rules we have a good chance of defeating any TB germs that attack us. Another important personal step we can take against TB is to have a regular physical checkup and a chest X-ray. If TB is discovered early, there's every chance that it will be cured.

COOPER URGES CUT RESTORED

Says Rural Development Is "Self Help" Program; Cites Work in Counties

Senator John Sherman Cooper has urged the Senate to restore funds cut by the House of Representatives from the Rural Development Program for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957.

The House had earlier cut the program by $2 million, or about 50 per cent below the Administration's request, and the House Appropriations Committee in effect urged that the program be discontinued.

Three Kentucky counties—Elbert, Butler and Metcalfe—are among the 57 counties throughout the United States participating in the program as pilot counties. Cooper told the Senate Appropriations Committee that reports from the three counties indicated "remarkable" progress is being made already.

Federal, State and local people are participating with a marked enthusiasm in the cause of broadly-based rural community programs," he said. "Their enthusiasm has spread out over adjoining counties. As one official told me, local initiative has been so stimulated that government agencies have to work to keep up, rather than vice versa."

Cooper expressed disappointment at the opposition to the program shown by the House. He noted that Rural Development was a "relief" program. Rather than provide direct grants and subsidies, as other programs do, he said "it seeks to concentrate the educational, research, planning and other service efforts of several government agencies in a local area as a way of utilizing all available local resources in a long-term effort for improvement."

"I know of no program in the Agriculture Department that holds as much promise of substantial returns, in human terms and economic terms alike, as does the Rural Development Program," Senator Cooper told the Committee.

Cooper also urged the Senate to restore funds cut by the House for agricultural research, state extension services, the Soil Conservation Service, state experiment stations, and for foreign agricultural attaches. He said the total appropriations requested for all these services amounted to less than 10 per cent of the Department's budget. But, he added, "these are the services which we can afford to support and improve, since they affect the daily operations and decisions of our farm people."

DOG DEDUCT

Baltimore — Richard Edelen of the Internal Revenue Service told about the woman with an unusual expense entry on her income tax return.

An asthma victim, she read where fellow sufferers had obtained relief by acquiring a Chihuahua as a house pet. She did the same, and it worked, and insisted the dog's cost was a legitimate medical expense.

TWO GREATEST KILLERS

New York—Heart disease and cancer were the two great killers in the United States in 1956, although the death rate from both of them dropped by about 3 per cent from the year before. The Institute of Life Insurance reported that heart and the associated circulatory diseases caused 87 per cent of the deaths among insurance policy-holders in this country last year, and cancer 10 per cent. Accidental deaths were third, with 6 per cent of total deaths.

HUNDREDS TO ATTEND 4-H WEEK AT U. OF K.

Lexington, Ky., May 27 (Sp.)—Hundreds of fresh-faced Kentucky 4-H youngsters will turn toward the University of Kentucky June 3 for the opening session of the 34th annual 4-H Week.

For one of girls 4-H youngsters the June 4-7 session will mean a trip to the National 4-H Club congress in Chicago next December. This covered prize goes to the dress reeve winner.

For a limited number of other boys and girls, the sessions will result in state champion titles. These championships will go to teams led by individuals. Competition will be in such work areas as soil and water conservation, public speaking, bread-making, dairy foods, seed, feed and fertilizer work; and many others. Money prizes, ranging from medals to pens and pencil sets, are offered.

But the 1,200 youngsters won't be on an all-work and no-play schedule. In between their work sessions, they'll participate in group singing, tours; swimming; picnics; games; and similar activities.

Only four speakers are scheduled during the week-long affair. One is Governor A. B. Chandler who will address the entire group at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, June 6, in Memorial Coliseum.

Dr. Frank Dickey, U.K. president, talks at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Coliseum. Dean Frank J. Walsh of the U. K. College of Agriculture will speak at the same time and place Friday, and on Tuesday night, at 8:30 o'clock, Dr. William H. Alexander, Oklahoma City, Okla., Christian church pastor and authority on youth work and mental health, will address the groups.

Another highlight of the program is election of officers of the state group for the coming year. This occurs Thursday morning, results will be announced Thursday night.

Outstanding youngsters at the state meeting will be honored, too, by several University organizations. The University 4-H Club will give a trophy to the outstanding club member attending; recognition will be paid to other outstanding youngsters by Farmhouse and Alpha Gamma Rho, both social agricultural fraternities. Alpha Zeta, men's honorary agricultural group, and Phi Upsilon Omicron, women's honorary home economics organization, will also honor winners.

Schedule by days:

Alexander's talk, presentation of state champions, presentation of candidates for state officers.
 Wednesday: Dr. Dickey's talk at the Coliseum starts the day's program; Throughout the day, individual and team demonstrations in various fields—bread-making, dairy foods, soil and water management, public speaking, etc.—will be held. The evening session includes a picnic at Coldstream farm, vespers, and a "hop hop" at the Students Union's Blue Grass ballroom and the Coliseum.
 Thursday: Governor Chandler's talk opens the day's program; election of officers will be held at 11:30 a.m.; and team and individual demonstrations will be conducted. The style reeve winner will be picked and the winner at the evening program in the Coliseum. A talent show will be held and awards made.
 Friday: Dean Welch's talk opens the day-long session. In the morning classes will be offered in "Food-Paid" development, citizenship and "Our 4-H Home in Washington." In the afternoon tours of the Bluegrass will be held. The evening session in Memorial Coliseum features vespers, the parade of champions, presentations of Kentucky National Champions; a talk on citizenship by Dean W. L. Mathews of the U.K. College of Law, and a candlelight service.

Road Projects Readied For Committee, Said

Frankfort, May 30—A new list of proposed Kentucky road-improvement projects will be presented soon to the Governor's Advisory Committee on Highways.

The new projects will be in addition to the $85,000,000 federal-aid program approved April 29 by the committee for work during the 14-month period ending July 1, 1957. Engineers on the Kentucky Safety Foundation and the department are studying the proposed projects.

The list of new projects should be ready for submission to the advisory committee by the middle of June or, at the latest, July 1, said Dwight H. Bray, chief state highway engineer.

The A.S.F. is a non-profit national engineering organization serving as consultant to the department in mapping the expanded highway program. Bray suggested that the committee hold itself in readiness for a meeting to pass on the proposed new program as soon as the list is complete.

The $85,000,000 program's financing is independent of the state's $100,000,000 road bond issue voted by a 5 to 1 margin of last November's election. Money from the $85,000,000 plan, kicking off a proposed 13-year, unprecedented highway building program in Kentucky is already in hand or in sight.

Some proceeds from the proposed road bond issue would be used to help finance the second list of projects if the bond issue's legality is finally upheld by the Court of Appeals.

The court is to conduct a hearing early in June in the bond test case. Highway officials expressed hope the final decision would be handed down late in June before the court recesses for its summer vacation.

TAG VANDALS?
 Madison, Wis.—Climaxing a heated debate on the floor of the Wisconsin Legislature, Assemblyman Elmer Genzmer offered a tongue-in-cheek amendment to a bill which sets penalties for vandalism committed by children. Under Genzmer's proposal, a child would be exempt from damages if he wore a sign reading: "Beware of Wild Child."

Paintsville Boy Cops Prestonsburg JC Crown; Martin Lead Is Second

Harold Hilton Vanhose, an eighteen-year-old Paintsville high school golfer, won the annual Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament last week at the Paintsville Country Club. Vanhose had a very hard time defeating David Lee Butler and Billy Cleo Hale. Butler is from Paintsville and Hale is from Martin.

At the end of the 36 hole medal play tournament, Vanhose and Butler were tied for first place with Hale only one stroke behind in third place. On the 37th hole, Butler and Vanhose both panned the hole and on the 38th Vanhose had a birdie 3 and Butler had a bogie 5.

Vanhose will represent the Prestonsburg Jaycees in the Kentucky Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament at the Greenville, Kentucky Country Club July 13 and 14. The Kentucky winners will advance to the National Tournament at Columbus, Ohio in August.

Don Sullivan, local chairman, says he feels Prestonsburg will be well represented at the state meet for the 36 hole medal play-off. Anyone who can fire a 71 for 18 holes at Paintsville is tough. The Paintsville course and Greenville course are similar in size and terrain.

Vanhose will leave here July 12. He will stay at the Dan Dee Motel in Greenville.

Youth Panel Tells Men Parents Not Strict Enough With Children

The average parent is not strict enough with his children, a panel of three Key Club members told the club's sponsoring group, the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, at last Thursday's Kiwanis meeting.

The three Key Club boys ranged in age from 15 to 17 years, and their views on various topics presented to Kiwanians what was recognized as a challenge to the older clubmen.

Other views expressed by the club youths: The present generation is not too different from the past. It would be better to raise the driver's license age requirement to 17 rather than to drop it to 16.

The Youth Center here was not as successful as it should have been because its activities lacked diversity.

Veterans' Wives Due More Benefits, Thought

Frankfort, May 30—Many widows of Kentucky veterans have failed to apply to the Veterans Administration for increased death compensation which may be due them, Director R. R. Thomas of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board has reported.

He said the servicemen's and veterans' survivor benefits act provides such benefits will be paid retroactively to Jan. 1, if application is made by July 1.

Thomas added: The applicant will be advised by the VA whether it is better to receive benefits under the new law or to continue to receive benefits under the old.

All widows of veterans who died in service or as a result of service-connected disability should file before July 1. The board will assist widows in applying for this benefit.

smashing a triple, the game's longest hit, in the eighth inning, relieved Pikeville's second pitcher, Ray Bailey, with one out in the ninth. He disposed of the side with a walk, a single by White, and two strikeouts after Louis Culmore, St. Louis Cardinal third baseman, popped to Bailey, who had moved to short.

Being a former Bell High school star who was hitting .605 before the Tankers rolled in, scored the Bears' only run Friday with a homer in the seventh inning.

A single by Goebel Salyers in the third frame and a double by Pete Lewis in the seventh were Pikeville's only other hits.

Tanker pitcher Dan O'Connell, of the St. Louis Cards, who topped Thompson's no-hitter with a no-hitter in a previous meeting, allowed only two Pikeville hits Saturday, striking out 19 and walking six. Of the winners' 21 safeties, Lee Buz hit four on five official trips, and batted for runs, and Ted Pate and White each hit three for five.

Frank Buckhorn was the winning pitcher in Friday's game, fanned 11 and issued only one and allowing three hits. Jim Moss took the loss, as he also fanned 11 and issued only one base on balls, but gave up five hits. While, with a single and his home run, was the only Tanker to hit safely more than once.

Catchers for both games were Jim Reed, former K.M.I. star from Drift, for the Bears, and Jim Byrd, of the Washington Nationals, for Fort Knox.
