This Town— That World

Eastern Kentucky and the weather are a lot alike. Everybody talks about both and do nothing about either.

At Pikeville Saturday, Lieutenant Governor Waterfield was high in his praise of the "patience and courage of Eastern Kentucky's people." We're willing to accept the "courtesy and our patience ceases to be a virtue."

THE UNARMED SERPENT
To get to serious matters, let me tell you about the coral snake the youngsters turned up with at our place last week. These two are the boys who show up with odd specimens of fauna and flora and fossils and such-like items, including the jawbones of long-dead mules.

AN UNBANKED FAILURE
For want of something better to do on a steamy-hot day, I did a few pages of bookkeeping and other morning reading about what Lana Turner said she found when she visited her husband's club.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

On May 28 the Democrats went to the polls to decide whom they would select to be their nominees for the various district and county offices. Under the law the primary system is our way of deciding who shall be nominated and be placed under the Rooster to be voted for at the general election in November.

The voters selected me as your nominee for County Judge. For this I am most grateful. I ran on my record as a county official and will continue to do so. I tried to do and did make a clean-cut campaign, saying nothing harmful about anyone.

I hope and feel sure that the Democrats can and will see fit to give me their united support this fall, and I welcome the support of any Republicans who may like my way of handling the county's business.

Thanking you again for your support, I am,
 Sincerely yours,
HENRY STUMBO

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

An old Floyd county educational custom was the annual gathering of teachers at Prestonsburg for a week of work in the theory and practice of teaching. Many noted educators of the day were speakers at these meetings. The courthouse was a favorite place for these gatherings for many years.

Here, shown at the courthouse in the nineties of the last century, are many teachers who were active in their profession six decades ago. Identified are D. O. Harmon, Agnellia Harman, Sam Spradlin, Walter Harris, Lee Roberts, Nell (Martin) Roberts, Nell (Davidson) May, German Vance, J. N. Harris, Albert Stephens, H. F. Patton, Maude (Langley) Spurlock, Cora Mayo, Nora (Dingus) Powers, Will Powers, Winnie (Fitzpatrick) Johns, James Spradlin, Prof. and Mrs. W. M. Byington.

These teachers were the vanguard of educational progress in this county and many afterwards made their mark in other professions or in business.

Floyd Co. Home Agent At Equipment Workshop; Electricity, Gas Studied

Dixie Trap, Floyd county home agent, attended the Equipment Workshop, June 12-14 in Lexington. How to buy equipment and use of equipment, both electrical and gas, were studied.

The first two day's sessions concerned choosing electrical appliances, reading meters and figuring bills, a comparison cost of electricity, natural and LP gas, and using equipment efficiently. The third day's session was held in the Home Economics Building at University of Kentucky. There the home agents had a review of basic principles in selecting equipment and brought up to date on the safety features and what's new in gas equipment.

This information can be used by the homemaker to stretch the dollar and to buy equipment fitting her situation. Also there is a need for appliance service men. Extension would like to see the Homemakers include equipment buying in their program.

To The Voters Of District No. 1

My sincerest thanks to you that supported me in the primary, and to my worthy opponents, Mr. Wilcox and Mr. Hammonds, I am proud to say, are gentlemen of the highest esteem. To you both Democrats and Republicans alike, I am indeed grateful for the encouragement you have offered me in the coming November election. And with your help we shall have representation for the next four years.

Again thanks a million,

AKERS THANKS VOTERS

I want to thank the people of Floyd county for the confidence they have shown in me for the past sixteen years. I hope the future years will hold nothing to cause you to lose this trust in me.

Yours for a better Floyd county,
CLIVE AKERS

Of the 32 counties composing the region to be served by the committee, only Clay, Carter, Greenup, Lewis, Owsen, Powell and Wolfe were not represented at the Pikeville meeting.

Mr. Reed as master of ceremonies remarked that this is the first time "Eastern Kentucky has been recognized as an important part of the United States." Putting Mr. Reed added, "No, it isn't the first time. In time of war our manpower is recognized, and we supply some of the world's finest coal."

David A. Grossman, director of the Eastern Kentucky Flood Rehabilitation Study made at the direction of Governor Chandler, reported to the committee on the regional situation and submitted recommendations for future action.

The area's big need, he pointed out, is 85,000 new jobs. "Twenty thousand fewer men are employed in Eastern Kentucky than five years ago; one out of five is working and for every one who is employed there are four dependent on him," he said.

Recommendations made by Grossman include flood damage protection, general rehabilitation and economic development.

Protection against floods, he pointed out, is not to be achieved by any single technique. Dams, floodwalls and similar structures will solve only part of the problem, affording protection to only about one-fourth of the area. "We cannot second-guess the Corps of Engineers who say some of the dams are not feasible because their cost is out of proportion to the benefit to be obtained," the speaker said.

Better methods of weather forecasting, including use of radar within the next year or two; flood-plain zoning—that is, the restricting of building to keep new homes and business away from areas that cannot be protected; conservation, erosion control, opening of stream channels—these were mentioned as measures to be considered.

Discussing economic development, Grossman said, "To attract industry, the community itself must be attractive to industry. Many have not been attractive." In this connection he suggested community planning for which technical and professional aid is, or will be made available; new sites found or created for industry; scientific methods of growing and harvesting forest, modernized agriculture and development of the tourist business.

Of highway and other transportation needs of the area, Grossman said these will not be recommended till it is proved that area improvements demand improved transportation.

Eastern Kentucky agriculture, he said, cannot, in general, hold out to 50,000 farmers of the area hope of modern living standards with farms retaining small in size as they are. Small-scale, intensive farming was recommended.

The forest income can be tripled, and much can be done in this field, the speaker pointed out. Large forest acreage is needed for the practise of scientific methods.

attractive in men and about the characteristics she thinks a clerk should possess. More or less unconsciously, I was ticking off each requirement as I read, to see how I stacked up as an ideal husband in La Turner's book, and I regret to report that I am not her "ideal of the red-blooded American boy."

She said a husband should be intelligent, have a sense of humor, be thoughtful and considerate, possess faithfulness and be observing. Maybe I would have got a D out of the course if she had stopped there. But she didn't.

She said the ideal husband should have elan.

And there was where I flunked. Allen ain't got no elan.

TIPS TO THE GALS

Speaking of husband and wives and why I do, I do not know where's the warning of a newspaper wife gave in addressing the ladies of the Idaho Press Association.

"If you read 'Blondie' in the comic strip you know that Dagwood frequently says, mournfully, 'Oh, when I think of all the poor, unsuspecting bachelors who are getting married this spring that's always good for a laugh. And it should be, ridiculous as it is. We girls know that the really tragic thing is the number of poor, unsuspecting females who are about to marry newspaper men."

Of course, when you fell in love with him, he was merely a student of journalism—with hair yet—and a girl could daydream of being Mrs. Ed Sullivan or Mrs. Walter Winchell, or even Marion Davies.

"But unfortunately, every reporter, news editor, advertising manager or printer's devil has a compelling urge one day to publish his own weekly newspaper. And the day he does, lady, you've had it!"

WELL DONE!

Mrs. Aileen Hall, wife of Walter Hall, of Mare Creek, is the author of a little volume of poems which I read with a great deal of pleasure over the week-end. This is a work expression of deep spiritual concentration, and in it Mrs. Hall says beautifully in verse what I have been trying on occasion to say in plodding prose.

Remember that many spices and condiments intensify with cooking, so add them with a light hand.

the fiscal court and $600 a year as clerk of the juvenile court.

County Judge, $450 a month as quarterly court judge; stenographer, $25 a month.

County Attorney, $3,000 a year, plus fees not to exceed $7,200; stenographer, $125 a month.

Circuit Judge, $6,000 a month, Commonwealth's Attorney, $1,200 a year.

Clerk of Tax Commissioner, $1,800 a year.

Budgeted for the county agricultural extension department was a total of $6,400 for the coming year. This was broken down into $2,400 for secretary travel, $500 for County Agent, $500 for Home Agent and $500 for each of the two assistant county agents plus $500 for miscellaneous office expense.

The appropriation for Soil Conservation Work in the county was set at $270.

The court voted appropriations of $500 each for the Betty Layne fire department and Jerry Wiley district, Boy Scouts of America.

It was noted that as of June 8, 1951 persons had been certified to receive surplus commodities for the month of June.

In the contract entered into with the Highway Department for rural road funds aid these routes were listed for limited maintenance only:

- Little Creek, Little Abbott, Toler Creek, Frazier's Creek, Turkey Branch, Lippert, Arkansas, John Creek, Spruick on both Middle Creek and Left Beaver, Buck's Branch, Whitaker, Goose Creek, Doty Branch, Tinker Fork, Eddy and Hite. These were marked for traffic-bound macadam.
- Marked for regular routine maintenance are these roads: East Point-Cliff-Auxier, Weeks-Lane-Fark, Salt Lick-Cox, Creek-Buffalo, Frazier's Creek, Brush Creek, Branham's Creek, Lower Bull, Rough and Tough, Betty Layne, Mireed, Arkansas, Johns Creek, Buffalo, Stephens Branch, road to Allen Y, streets under the Bucky, Henry's Branch, Pike - Floyd Hollow, streets in Langley, Banner bridge, Bosco-Low Gap, Lower Burton, Laneer streets, Harold streets. These projects are listed for traffic-bound macadam except for the following: P. O., Betty Layne, Garrett and Langley streets, Allen Y, Frazier's Creek and Pike-Floyd Hollow, which are to be paved or to receive bluminous surfacing.

A maximum of $27,000 was set by the Highway Department for the funds it will spend on materials for the level bridge. All other expense is to be the county's.

At last week's meeting of the court Kirby Ison, representative of the State Revenue Department, recommended to the court that the tax settlement with Sheriff Gorman Callahan not be made until delinquent taxes are reduced to at least 10% of the total of taxes certified to him for collection.

The court postponed the settlement 45 days.

A fiscal court order which had not been entered till recently was the employment of C. Kimer Combs, Prestonsburg attorney, to assist the County Attorney in the defense of the court in the federal court suit filed by U. A. Benderman. His fee was set at $1,500.

The fiscal court, recessed through that the order had not been entered through oversight.

then to our own groups. I had been assigned the C-group which was scheduled for discussion at the Guignol Theatre. My second thought was that the day was held in Pence Hall. This class was interesting because it was about every 4-H members dream. 4-H National Club Congress! My last class for the day was held in the Biological Science Building. It was the boys speech contest from which I learned some of my own speech faults. We also made a tour of this building.

Wednesday afternoon we had a picnic at Coldstream Farm while it rained. We had fun, anyway. We were entertained later with not only one dance but two. Thursday morning C-group had discussion again at Guignol Theatre. That afternoon my class was "H Week with Our Neighbors."

"That night we had the style show which gave members with clothing projects many helpful hints. Some awards were also presented that night. On Friday we were getting ready to go home by telling our friends good-bye while still meeting as one class. With Junior Week drawing to a close we attended assembly. This assembly was sort of special because the boys speech contest winners were recognized as IFYE hosts."

"It's pretty hard to express into words what I got out of 4-H Week at Lexington," writes Paul B. Osborne.

"First of all, I got the joy of meeting hundreds of other 4-H'ers, and becoming friends with many of them. Second, I got to sleep in a real college dormitory. That was personally a thrill for me.

"Some more of my individual thrills were seeing Frank Dickey, University of Kentucky president. Another was learning to bowl. The benefits I got out of the classes will help me in many ways to come. Seeing and using the election voting machine was very rewarding."

"Each and every 4-H Club member should have a goal set to attend 4-H Week. It is a great and rewarding experience," said Claudena Lowe.

"At 4-H Week we make new friends and have fun with both the old and new club members. The demonstrations and speeches taught us things to take back to our clubs and counties."

"This was my third year to attend 4-H Week and each year I enjoy all the activities more and more. I have given two demonstrations at 4-H Week and it is one of the greatest highlights in my 4-H work."

That absentee voters who voted at the Clerk's office were campaigned with at the very time of voting, were helped to vote, and that the contestee or his deputies observed for whom the votes were cast, that the ballots were folded by them, placed in the two envelopes and then placed in the ballot box, location of which was unknown to the voter in most instances.

The suit alleges that the contestant went to the Clerk's office and advised against campaigning or interfering with the voters, and observing how the ballots were cast, and that he was told by the wife of the contestee, in substance, that such voting would be conducted in the way contestee desired and not as contestant desired. The petition also says the Circuit Judge went to the Clerk's home and advised him as to certain precautions.

The Clerk, it was alleged, appointed extra deputies who with other friends and supporters of the contestee took large numbers of applications for absentee ballots, procured people to sign applications for such ballots, signed voters' names themselves, had many such ballots verified in blank by deputy clerks and filled in the names of purported absentee voters or verified same after voters signed same and out of the clerk's presence. These deputy clerk appointees, the Meade petition contends, received such absentee ballots and paraphernalia from the Clerk and (or) from the postoffice, delivered them to purported absentee voters, voted them and helped them vote for contestee and advised the people it was not necessary to be absent on election day to apply for an absentee ballot and told them it would save them the trouble of going to the polls. It is contended by the contestant that most of the absentee voters were not absent from the county and did not intend to be.

The contestant's suit also claims that examination of outer envelopes containing absentee ballots revealed that 221 of them did not bear the name and address of the voter.

Last Services for Isaac Held at Ashcamp, June 9; Father of Floyd Woman

Funeral services were held Sunday, June 9, at Ashcamp, Pike county, at the home, for Cranes Isaac, 75, who died unexpectedly at home the preceding Thursday. Mr. Isaac was the father of Mrs. Della H. Jenkins, of Garrett.

Mr. Isaac was a native of Knott county but had lived at Ashcamp for the last 18 years. He was a retired lumberman and a member of the Regular Baptist church.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Jenkins, include his wife, Mrs. Winnie Isaac; four sons, T. M. (Milkie) Isaac, Yudaunt Mich, Millard Isaac and Linville Isaac, both of Lima, O.; Raymond Isaac, of Topmost; three other daughters, Mrs. Edna Grace Harris, of Topmost, Mrs. Letraaka Childers of Lima, Mrs. Avie Wells, Cromona, Letcher county; three sisters, Mrs. Hilda Caudill, of Topmost, Mrs. Sophie Burke, of Bevataville, and Mrs. Eliza Cook, of McDowell.

The Rev. Delbert Sanders, Shade Stanifer, Isaac Sanders and Mitchell Smith officiated at the last rites. Burial was made in the Childers cemetery at Ashcamp.

Adam, Abel, Achan And Action

Men are fighting me and the Lord is not pleased.

Here is Bible quote: Adam created (Gen. 1:27), blessed (1:28), placed in garden, his dislodging and punishment, hides from God (Gen. 3:8), his death (3:20), first Adam all die (1 Cor. 15:45). So it is written the first man Adam was made a living soul; the second man Adam, Bible, myself and laws of our Constitution of U. S. A. I lived it the hard way.

On primary election day I robbed myself in my conquering color, true blue and pure white; I renewed my Christian faith and literature 1951 for Bert T. Combs' work for James Carter 1952, Henry C. Hale 1953, John Sherman Cooper 1954; my pledge to Billy Graham whom I told in written words in 1954 I would pray day and night, I would fight sin with both hands and would help hold the home front; I read the Seven Consecrations and the Magic Potential in Man, by Thomas Wyatt 1955. Faith against Life's Storms, by Oral Roberts 1957, Three Minutes a Day, by the Christophers, and then studied my words and actions among leaders in Floyd county. I am sure thrilled with my works of faith and action.

My beloved son, Sgt. Roy Hall, was killed in action in the service of our country. My youngest son, Chief of Police Levi Hall, was murdered in this town, and his so-called friends are the worst nuisance I have had to deal with. By the help of God I owe no man and I will die at my post. Say nothing, do nothing, be nothing—fool's work; or know something, do something, be something—wise woman. Acts 5:30-39. And now I say unto you, refrain from these men and let them alone, for if this counsel or this work be of men it will come to nought. But it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it, lest haply you be found to fight against God.

Look, Listen and Live—or Dine, Dance and Die.
Sincerely and prayerfully,
EVA MEADE HALL

FOOD NOTES

By Dale Trapp
Home Demonstration Agent

Whether you can or freeze is a matter of preference. You probably like some vegetables better canned and others better frozen. Regardless of what you like best, many of the rules are the same:

1. Preserve only fresh vegetables or fruits.
2. Have food, jars, packaging material and everything used for canning or freezing CLEAN.
3. Work quickly to preserve freshness.
4. For canning prevent spoilage by heating food hot enough to make bacteria and organisms harmless. For freezing, blanch the proper length of time.
5. Follow up-to-date instructions and timetables. Both available in Extension Office.

All common vegetables except tomatoes are low acid and must be processed in pressure canner. The satisfactory way to blanch vegetables is in boiling water. For each pound of prepared vegetables, use one gallon of boiling water. Put vegetables in basket and lower into boiling water; cover and start counting time immediately. Then cool quickly.

Which you choose will be determined by the kind of vegetable or fruit you have, your equipment, and your family preferences. For a good quality product, keep in mind the above points.

RABIES OR BABIES?

The State Health Department recently sent out a press release reporting alarm over the occurrence of rabies in the Commonwealth and advising persons bitten by animals to follow certain safety procedure. One public service minded central Kentucky newspaper used the release editorially. Because of a typographical error, the newspaper editorial carried a dandy headline: "Babies Cause of Concern in State."

HEARING PROGRAM

Projecting the results of a 11-county study to the rest of the state, the Kentucky Health Department finds that more than 60,000 children in the Commonwealth have some hearing loss and are in need of medical and educational attention. The agency urges a statewide hearing conservation program.

To my 518 friends who went to the polls on May 28th and voted for me of their own free will, and were not threatened with their jobs:

I wish to thank each of you from the bottom of my heart, and I would like to shake each of your hands for the good fight you put up for me. Although we lost, we made a clean fight and did a good job with all the money against us that could be spent and job pressure a plenty.

Miss Price Earns Place On Dean's Honor List As Junior at Berea

Berea, Ky., June 13 (Sp.)—Miss Carolyn Price, of Wayland, a junior at Berea College, is on the Dean's Honor List for scholastic achievement during the second semester, 1956-57.

To attain the Dean's List a student must have all B's or better or a 2.4 quality point standing out of a possible 3.0 for the semester under consideration regardless of grade distribution.

Miss Price, a French major, was one of seven of the college students to be awarded prize French books by the French government for good attainment in French.

She has been a member of various campus clubs and organizations including the following: Colopoliath Club, French Club, and the Young Democrats' Club. Carolyn served as a class officer during her freshman and sophomore years at Berea. Miss Price is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Price of Wayland.

State Restricts Contract Mowing

Frankfort, June 17 (Sp.)—Much more weed and grass rights-of-way will be done by the state's own forces, officials have announced.

Commissioner Robert Humphreys said the new plan is expected to save about $300,000 a year. Mowing under contract with private operators last year cost about $700,000.

Humphreys reported no contract mowing had been performed this year. He said many projects owned by the department had been out of repair but were put back in working order during the winter.

Director W. A. Tinscher of the Division of Equipment said the department has 285 mowers but at least that many would be necessary for it to do all the mowing.

Society Has Burr Pistol

Charles F. Hinds Secretary-Treasurer of Kentucky Historical Society

The pistol used by Aaron Burr in his duel with Alexander Hamilton in Weehawken, N. J., July 11, 1804, is on display in the senate chamber of the Old State House, Frankfort, headquarters of the Kentucky Historical Society.

The weapon, a converted percussion lock with an 11-inch barrel, fires a two-ounce ball through a .60 bore. It is in excellent firing condition.

For 15 years prior to the duel, Hamilton pressed forward a violent and unrelenting attack on his number-one political adversary, Burr. Burr, for the most part, reacted to Hamilton's "attacks" with equanimity and dignity. The campaign of 1804 for governor of New York, however, was an exceptionally bitter one between Hamilton and Burr. Soon after his defeat, Burr called for satisfaction from Hamilton for having allegedly made such statements as Burr is "dangerous man and one who ought not to be trusted with the reins of government."

When Hamilton equivocated, Burr challenged his political opponent to a duel. Hamilton, in his first evasive, finally consented. Each man fired a shot. Burr was unscathed. Hamilton received a mortal wound and died the following day.

Burr's second marked the pistols used in the duel and gave both to the famous Col. James Bowie. Bowie carried them as personal weapons in his belt. The Hamilton one while swimming in a Louisiana bayou. Later he gave the Burr pistol to Carr, superintendent of the U. S. Arsenal in Baltimore. Carr gave it to Thomas F. Marshall of Kentucky. It went next to Thomas' brother Edward C. From Eastward, the pistol descended to his son, Louis Marshall, a Versailles banker. When Louis died, his widow inherited the Burr pistol and in 1927 presented it to the Society. The Bank of the Manhattan Company of New York City owns a brace of duelling pistols which it claims is the Hamilton-Burr pair. When asked for evidence, a reply in 1949 from O. G. Alexander, vice-president of the bank, only succeeded in convincing the society even more that Kentucky owns the pistol with which Hamilton received his fatal wound from Burr.

INTERESTING MILK FACTS. Production of nonfat dry milk last year totaled 1,484 million lbs. in the highest on records, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Increasing the proportion of milk in the diet should add to the length of life," said Dr. H. C. Sherman, Emeritus Professor of Chemistry, Columbia University.

Milk is one of the best food investments at any price. There is no waste in it as every drop can be used, and the cost is low in proportion to the food value. One quart of milk weighs 2 1/2 pounds. To make a pound of butter, 3 7/8 quarts of milk are required, and 1 1/2 quarts for a pound of cheese. One quart of milk is required for a pound of evaporated milk, and 3/4 quart for a pound of white milk powder.

Homogenized milk has had the butterfat mechanically broken up and set in a uniform dispersion in the milk. There is no cream line, as the fat globules are held in suspension, producing a uniform flavor and better curd. Homogenized milk was first successfully sold in Ottawa, Ont., in 1927, but was not commercially introduced in the United States until 1932.

In vitamin D milk, the milk has been fortified with vitamin D, the vitamin that has the special property of preventing rickets. Vitamin D is added by exposure of milk to ultraviolet light, or by introducing a vitamin D concentrate.

Milk is outstandingly important for the mineral calcium, for vitamin B, riboflavin, and for high-quality protein.

SOURCE BOOK ON EAST KENTUCKY

A new book to be published soon, titled "Pioneer Families of Eastern and Southern Kentucky," has promise of being a genuine contribution to the historical and genealogical lore of the section. It is by William C. Kooze, A. B., M. A., Washington, D. C., and will come off the press in early summer.

The book is in two volumes, the first on the leading families of the area and the second volume a compilation of public records. Families treated in the first volume from this county are Brown, Cecil, Witten, Conley or Connelley, Fitzpatrick, Graham, Hackett, Wager, Harkins, Harris, Hyton or Hilton, Jacobs, Johns, Locke, Layne, Leslie, Martin, Mayo, Morris, Porter, Preston, Stratton, Turner, Wedington, and others. Many other genealogies of Big Sandy families are in the book. In addition it contains numerous biographies of prominent men, many now living.

HARGIS FAMILY

R. Lee Stewart of Morehead has at last completed his research on the Hargis family and contributed a summary of findings to this column. His manuscript is quoted here in its entirety.

"Of the old and influential families who have been identified with the history of America and the public affairs of the United States, through 300 years of continuous citizenship none takes precedence over the Hargis family.

"The family record in this country is traced back to a period long antedating the Revolution to the year 1640, when five brothers of that name came over from England to make their home in this new land where freedom was to be had.

"The name Hargis has been intimately connected with the early history of the States of Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia, and Kentucky.

"In 1773 several members of the family including John Hargis, his brothers William and White, and their families were with Daniel Boone on his second expedition into Kentucky, where on Powell's River in Wise county, Virginia, they were attacked by the Indians, in which White Hargis was killed and his wife, daughter and two sons were captured by Indians and taken prisoners into Kentucky and Ohio.

"Later William Hargis escaped and returned to Eastern Virginia, where he moved, and afterwards again turned west and settled in Christian county, Kentucky.

"John Hargis, a son of Thomas Hargis and Elizabeth Whiteside Hargis, became separated from the rest of the family moved to Russell county, Virginia, settling near where Lebanon now stands. He was one of the first settlers of said county where his descendants still live. He was a patriot in the Revolution. Later he purchased land in the county with land office treasury warrants, which were issued for his services.

The Kentucky Historical Society was founded in Frankfort, in 1836.

Hardwood Pulp Cutting Yields Good Cord Price

Kentuckians can improve their forests by reaping a crop of hardwood pulp if a market exists fairly close by, says J. A. Newman, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service forester.

In 1953, about 32,700 cords of pulpwood were produced in the state, double the reported 1952 production.

Newman cited a recent demonstration, cut on a Lee county farm as an example. A general improvement cut yielded a 4 1/2 cords of pulpwood per acre with a roadside value of $63, he said. The cut was to improve spacing and growing conditions in the stand, plus removal of inferior or cheaper species of pulpwood such as red maple and hickory. Damaged or poor quality red and white oak was removed where it interfered with crop trees. Approximately 6,000 board feet of hardwood saw timber per acre was left after cutting.

Newman noted that all hardwood pulp purchased in Kentucky must be sold with the bark removed. Payments average about $19 per unit (4 feet by 5 feet by 8 feet) delivered at yards, he says. Hardwood pulp buying has been considerably curtailed this year in the state, but some markets still exist.

It's a dear bargain to buy insurance from the "sell 'em and forget 'em" agent who doesn't bother keeping a professional eye on your constantly changing insurance requirements.

We have a hunch you'd rather BUY FROM AN AGENT who takes a personal interest in you and your family, who takes the time to review your needs periodically so that you never have too little—or too much—insurance.

That's how this Agency conducts its business.

at 1.000 gauge readings.

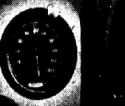

Here's the scientific way to measure the actual pulling power a truck can deliver to its rear wheels. All three low-priced trucks were hooked up, one by one, to a special dynamometer truck. Each was comparably equipped and test-loaded.

"C" pulls 1400 lbs. pull
at 1.000 gauge readings.

Super-sensitive gauges inside the dynamometer truck register the maximum pull of each truck at 10 m.p.h. Insets in photos above show actual gauge readings in each case. To convert those readings into pounds, simply multiply them by three.

"D" pulls 1400 lbs. pull
at 1.000 gauge readings.

The results are conclusive evidence that Dodge Power Giants give you a third more pulling power than either of the "other two" low-priced makes. And this is just one of a series of tests that prove Dodge is the best truck of the low-priced three.

Your Dodge truck dealer has proof that Dodge leads in many ways. Come in... see other certified test-photo sequences... and take a demonstration ride!

Official Talk State Service For Recreation

Frankfort, June 17 (Sp.) — At a special meeting, leading recreation officials have discussed possible formation of a new State consultant service to promote local recreation programs in interested communities throughout Kentucky.

To improve recreation on a local level, the group recommended to Conservation Commissioner Lehan Jackson and Economic Development Commissioner George Hubley that a governor's study group for recreation be set up.

Some reasons for the program are: increase in population; more interest in recreation and vacations; more time for these activities; increase in mental health and related problems; numerous recreation facilities available; and an asset in attracting new industry to Kentucky.

A coordinated state effort encompassing at least a dozen different agencies would be initiated, if approved by Gov. A. B. Chandler, Jackson and Hubley.

MATTOWN

W. S. C. S. MEETS

The Mattown W. S. C. S. held its regular monthly meeting at the church last Tuesday evening. Mesdames Henry L. May and Arnold Cassidy were hostesses and Mrs. H. M. Wiley was in charge of the program. An impressive installation service was given for the new officers inducted at this meeting. The president, Mrs. George Patton, presided.

The various committees gave their reports. Mrs. James Allen reported that so far the 20 chairs for the primary Sunday School class have been secured, but it is hoped to have these in the near future. Each member gave her contribution for the kitchen fund. Mesdames Henry L. May and Arnold Cassidy are to take an inventory of the kitchen and purchase needed articles with this donation.

Mesdames Henry L. May, James Allen and Lucy Patton were appointed to make new lists of church members and church leaders and church cleaners for this coming year.

Mesdames Thomas Patrick, James Talbot, George Patton and Raymond Hopson are in charge of the refreshments for the dedication service which will be held July 7. The motion was made and carried that the meeting time be changed to 7:30.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. Arnold Maggard and daughters, with Mrs. Maggard as leader. Mrs. Henry L. May closed the program with prayer. Refreshments were served the 24 members and guests, Eugene Cooney.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiselhard, of New Albany, Indiana, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patton and children are visiting relatives in Zanesville, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cassidy spent last week-end with her daughter, Mrs. Wesley Nipp, and family in Grayson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dixon and daughter, Susan, of Miami, Florida spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Viola Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon motored on to New York for a week's vacation, leaving Susan with her grandmother.

Glenna Payne and Carleen Howard, Billy Joe and Clara Bradley, Charlene Maggard and Sidney Rathbun are attending summer school at Pikeville, College.

Mrs. J. J. Smith and children, of Kenoa, W. Va., spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Mildred Hicks, Sandra, Joan and Danny, were visitors in Bristol, Tenn., last week.

Bonnie Sue Patrick left last week for Waverly, Ohio where she will be employed for the summer at the Goodyear atomic plant as a junior laboratory assistant in the Inorganic Analytical Chemistry department.

CLUB TO SPONSOR CLINIC
The Mattown Woman's Club will sponsor a pre-school clinic July 9 in the Mattown lunchroom. Parents of children who will start school this September are urged to bring them in for physical examinations at this time. If their wish to bring their babies for a check-up, they may do so. Shots also will be given for whooping cough, tetanus, diphtheria, typhoid, small pox and polio. The clinic will be open at 10 a.m. and close at 3 p.m.

Washington Had Tax Troubles, Too
ALEXANDRIA, Va. — George Washington had his tax troubles just like any other citizen. An old record book turned up recently showed that the country's first president was nine pounds delinquent in his local taxes for the year 1784.

However, the records showed he paid the tax in 1785 plus 15 pounds more assessed that year against his estate, which was valued at 1,200 pounds.

Assistant City Manager Eugene Barnwell discovered the old tax book while making a survey of city records from 1785 to 1832. The leather-covered volume with its faded quill pen entries will be preserved.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Paintsville, Ky. . . . Plaintiff
vs. NOTICE OF SALE
Noah Newsome and Gertrude Newsome Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court refiled and entered at the June term, 1957, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder at public auction, on the 8th day of July 1957, at 10 o'clock, A.M., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying in Floyd county, Kentucky, on Abner Fork of Left Beaver Creek containing 10 acres, more or less, First Tract, beginning on State Highway at culvert; thence to a locust tree marked; to a straight line on up the hill to a forked locust bush; thence a straight line on up the hill to tract No. 1; thence a straight line up the hill to a chestnut oak marked; thence a straight line up the hill to a black oak marked at J. P. McCoy's line; thence down the point with said line to State Highway; thence down the back of State Highway to the center of a point to include all of said boundary in No. 1.

Tract No. 2. Beginning on a locust tree marked; thence to a corner of Levi Johnson's line; thence up the hollow to opposite a black walnut; thence right up the hollow to a locust bush near the hollow; thence running up the hill to a locust marked; thence a straight line to the center of a point to Bill Sears line thence down the center with said Sears line to J. P. McCoy's line; thence down the hill with said line to a white oak stump; thence around the hill with Levi Johnson's line to a forked locust bush; thence on up the hill with said line to the beginning, so as to include all of said land in boundary No. 2.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a judgment against the defendants in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $1055.68 with interest from Feb. 24, 1953, and the cost of this action.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of this notice and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 17th day of June 1957.

Outstanding Youthful Historians Honored On Daniel Boone Day

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer Kentucky Historical Society

Frankfort (Special) — William M. Boden, Hopkinsville, and Dianne Byars, Mayfield, Kentucky's outstanding boy and girl historians, were honored on Daniel-Boone Day—June 7—at the Old State House, Frankfort.

Boone Day was celebrated for the 53rd consecutive year and for the 72nd in the history of the Kentucky Historical Society. Since 1879, Boone has been the patron saint of the society and his day the most important of the year for members and friends.

John R. Sower, Frankfort, received an award for finding the oldest grave in Kentucky.

In the old graveyard at White Sulphur on the road from Frankfort to Georgetown, nine-year-old John found the grave of Susanna Gough who was born in 1746 and died Jan. 13, 1795.

Three historical writing awards were given to promising young historians by the Frankfort Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution. They were presented by the regent, Mrs. John Hopkins.

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield presided over the presentation of awards. The "Outstanding Boy Historian" award was given by the Kentucky Press Association and presented by Gilbert Young, Frankfort. The "Outstanding Girl" award was given by the Kentucky Bar Association and presented by Ben Fowler, Frankfort. The "Oldest Grave" award was presented by Mrs. E. C. O'Rear II in memory of her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Hume Offutt, Frankfort.

Other features of the program were the unveiling of the Matthew Jouett portrait of Gideon Shryock and the principal address by Dr. Hamilton Tapp on the subject of Marling's and Ruddle's Stations in the American Revolution.

June 7 is the traditional day on which Daniel Boone ascended Pilot Knob in Powell county and first saw central Kentucky.

The first Boone Day meeting was held, however, not June 7, but Feb. 11, then thought to have been the birth date of Boone. When historians later agreed that Boone was born Nov. 2, members of the society voted to eliminate further disagreements by changing the date to the one John Filson recorded as the day on which Boone first saw "the beautiful level of Kentucky". And that is how Boone Day came to be celebrated June 7.

500 Ky. Widows May Lose Money, Says VA Manager

More than 500 Kentucky widows stand to lose money unless they apply for increased compensation payments within the next two weeks, Ray R. Adams, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Louisville, has announced.

They are widows whose husbands died of service-connected causes before this year, and who may have the higher payments dated back to January 1 if they apply by July 1, Adams said.

He added that all Kentucky widows eligible for the increased benefit have been notified and that many of them already have made application.

Widows who have not made application for the higher payments are urged to contact the nearest Veterans Administration office or the Regional office at 1405 West Broadway in Louisville.

State Requests Road Equipment

Frankfort, June 17 (Sp.)—An effort to reduce the severe shortage of engineering equipment in the State Department of Highways was made in a recent letter from Director W. A. Tinscher of the equipment division.

The letter was an aftermath of an inspection by a representative of the State Department of Highways of government-owned equipment at the Granite City, Ill., engineering depot.

In the letter to the district engineer of the Bureau of Public Roads, Tinscher listed units of equipment at the depot that "we would like to have and can use."

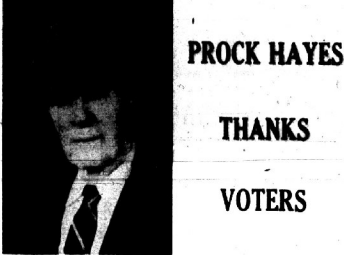

The letter was an aftermath of an inspection by a representative of the State Department of Highways of government-owned equipment at the Granite City, Ill., engineering depot.

As yet, nothing has been heard from the request for the surplus government equipment, Tinscher said. "But we should be hearing something soon," he added.

PROCK HAYES THANKS VOTERS

I take this means to sincerely thank the Democratic voters of Floyd county for their show of confidence in nominating me to the office of Mayor. For past support and for any further expressed influence in my behalf during the coming final election, I shall feel forever grateful, and will do my utmost to render the good citizens of Floyd county the best service possible.

To my honorable opponents I feel a deep respect and bear no ill will to anyone, a feeling which I hope sincerely is mutual. To those who were unable to help me I wish to say that the privilege of voting a choice is an act of freedom which we enjoy in this great country we live in.

I invite all of the good citizens of Floyd county to join me in the November campaign in working for the improvement of the county government to which I shall devote all my time and effort if elected.

Thinking each and every one for their support in the primary election and desiring the joining of forces for the coming election, I am

MANY FLOYD ELIGIBLES MAY LOSE SS BENEFITS

More than one hundred thousand severely disabled people in counties all over the nation will receive their first social security disability insurance checks August 1, 1957. Thomas B. Thompson, district manager of the Pikeville social security office, announced last week.

But many other eligible disabled workers 50 to 65 years of age, some of them do not living in Floyd county, have so far failed to make application to their social security offices. Those who have been disabled for work for a long time must apply before June 30, Mr. Thompson pointed out, or they will lose their rights to these new benefit payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least 5 years and who has been disabled for 6 months or more would get touch with their social security office right away, the social security district manager said.

If he is under 50 years of age, he may be eligible to have his social security record frozen to protect his future right to disability payments, and also his and his family's rights to old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

Unfortunately there is a lot of misunderstanding. "Thompson said, 'as to how disabled a workman has to be to get social security disability insurance benefits or to have his social security record frozen. The rules in the social security law for deciding whether a person is 'disabled' are different from the rules in some other government and private disability programs."

To be found "disabled" under the social security law, he said, a worker must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes him unable "to engage in any substantial gainful activity."

It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which shows up in the medical evidence, including X-ray reports, special tests. It must have lasted for at least six months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time.

In general, he said, "substantial gainful activity" means the performance of a substantial amount of work with reasonable regularity in employment or self-employment. A person does not have to be completely helpless, or equally under the social security disability provisions, Thompson emphasized. Consideration is given to the kind of physical or mental condition which both medical and non-medical.

Loss of hearing is, of course, given to the severity of his condition as shown by the medical evidence. This evidence must show that the person has a condition which makes him unable to perform significant functions such as reading, handling, objects, hearing, speaking, understanding or reasoning, so that he cannot with his training, education and work experience engage in any kind of substantial gainful activity.

Loss of two limbs, 2. Progressive disease which has resulted in the physical loss or atrophy of a limb; such as, diabetes, multiple sclerosis or Burger's disease.

3. Disease of heart, lungs or blood vessels which has resulted in major loss of heart or lung reserve as evidenced by x-ray, electrocardiogram or other objective findings so that, despite medical treatment, it produces breathlessness, pain or fatigue on slight exertion, such as walking several blocks, using public transportation or doing small chores.

4. Cancer which is inoperable and progressive.

5. Damage to the brain or brain abnormality which has resulted in severe loss of judgment, intellect, orientation or memory.

6. Mental disease (e.g., psychosis or severe psychoneurosis) requiring continued institutionalization or constant supervision of the affected individual.

7. Loss or diminution of vision to the extent that the affected individual has central visual acuity of no better than 20/300 in the better eye after best correction, or has an equivalent contraction of his visual fields.

8. Permanent and total loss of speech.

9. Total deafness uncorrectible by a hearing aid.

Thompson said most individuals with serious disabilities are unable to work. There are cases, however, where a person with such a severe disability is working or able to work because of his special knowledge and skills. He would not be entitled to benefits, the district manager said, because he would be able to engage in substantial gainful activity.

A person might work occasionally or intermittently and this would not necessarily mean that he was able to engage in substantial gainful activity. Both the nature of the work and the amount of money he earned would have to be considered.

On the other hand, some persons with conditions somewhat less severe than the ones listed above might be found unable to engage in substantial gainful activity because of the actual facts in their cases. If a person's condition coupled with his work background, his lack of education, training and other physical and mental resources does in fact prevent him from working, he would have a disability which prevents him from engaging in substantial gainful activity, and would therefore be found eligible under his social security disability provisions.

Farm Accident Deaths Heaviest Among Youth

A plea to farm mothers of young children for greater "safety consciousness" has been made as a result of study of accidents on farms (excluding the farm home) by the National Office of Vital Statistics.

The records show that the largest number of accidental deaths occurred among the 15-to-19 year olds; the next largest number among children from 10 to 14 years old and those under 5 years.

Operation of farm machinery caused about a third of the accidental deaths. Next in order were fatalities from drownings, fires, burns, falls, animals, and firearms.

The number of drownings clearly shows that mothers need to see that children learn to swim and are given the rules of water safety, and that they don't go in water without adequate supervision. They can also be instructed in the use of firearms, say home management specialists at the University of Kentucky.

EAST LOSSES AGAIN
For the fifth consecutive year, the East team in the East-West football all-star basketball series has come out second best in the fray. In last week's action the East lost a 10-point decision at Whitesburg. Game within two points of winning in Lexington last Saturday night.

LOCAL TEAM BOUNCES BACK

Prestonsburg Merchants Take Roubidoux Bill From Allen, 3-1 and 9-2

The Prestonsburg Merchants bounced back from their 11-9 defeat June 9 at the hands of the Blaine team of the Big Sandy Baseball League to take both ends of a doubleheader Sunday from Allen in a league game 8-1 and 9-2. The twin bill, which was featured by stout Prestonsburg pitching throughout, was played at the Driit park.

In the first game Patton and Blackburn pooled their pitching efforts to hold Allen to three hits and a lone run. Campbell went all the way in the eighth to hold Allen to four hits, meanwhile striking out 10 and walking 6.

Next Sunday, the Merchants entertain Louisville here.

Last Sunday's box scores:

Maytown's Red Sox Defeat Martin, 15-0

Martin, Ky., June 14—The Maytown Red Sox today dumped the Martin Little Leaguers, 15-0.

Chris "Howdy" Roubidoux, of Maytown, struck out 15 and walked 9. While working his way in and out of trouble, with these walks and giving up only two hits, he clipped in a home run in the fourth inning.

Other home runs were hit by Bob Talant (who went five for five) in the first, and Bud Patton in the fifth.

RUPTURE
Expert Coming To Paintville Again

GEO. L. HOWE

Well-known expert of Indianapolis will personally demonstrate his method with an operation at the Howard Hotel, Paintville, Thursday, June 20, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Ask for Mr. Howe at desk.

Mr. Howe says the new method corrects the operation in remarkably short time on the lowest cost. Practically all cases of hernia, ruptures, and protrusions of the stomach and intestines are corrected. Each case is individually treated. No pain, no scars, no stitches, and the patient is able to return to his normal life in a few days.

The Howe operation should not be confused with the "old" operation. The Howe operation is a new method of repairing the rupture. It is a perfect fit and is guaranteed to hold for life.

Learn about this new method of repairing ruptures and protrusions of the stomach and intestines. Write for literature to: Geo. L. Howe, 1000 Broadway, New York 10, N.Y.

NEW FISH CALLER
Game and varmints long have been a part of the hunting picture. Duck, geese, moose, crow, fox, wolf and wildcat calls are all used with success.

Now you can "call" fish. Utah's Frank V. Birch, of Birchcraft, Inc., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has developed a "fish calling" was just a gag.

Mr. Birch is now marketing the Krafty Fish Caller.

It consists of a small waterproof case containing a flashlight battery and a high-pitch buzzer which sounds similar to a bee buzzing.

Lower the device in the water and the fish gather around. We saw it used in clear water. Bluegills were the first to come. Some ten bass showed up later.

Some of the buzz-attracted bluegills took the bait (red worms). Others ignored it.

Since no minnows were available, a true test couldn't be run on the bass. But the Krafty did attract fish, even if it didn't hypnotize all of them into biting.

If Mr. Birch's invention would attract the educated fish in Dewey Lake he would make a fortune overnight, as other means of taking the varmints are virtually nil.

SAFETY GOLD NOTE
The Professional Golfers Association is issuing a timely warning to all golfers not to take cover during storms. Already this season, more than a dozen golfers and caddies have been killed by lightning.

Recently in Scranton, Pa., lightning struck six men on the golf course, killing three and seriously injuring the other three.

Annual Barbecue Held by Kiwanis for Floyd Farmers

Approximately 80 members and guests attended the annual chicken barbecue held for Floyd county farmers by the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club last Thursday evening at the Smith farm near Allen, Ky.

The feast began at 6:15 p.m. with table festivities highlighted by an address by Floyd County Agent Bob Jones who discussed various phases of farming. To see good farming in Floyd county apply illustrated, the club members and their guests took a tour of the Smith farm.

Another bit of business with thoughts of rewarding food in the offing was handled in the business phase of the evening's activity, with the announcement of the winner in the Kiwanis attendance contest.

Woodrow Burchett's attendance team won with the average of 97.3, with Don Sullivan's team placing a close second with an average attendance of 96.7 while Glenn Anderson's team lost with a very good 92.6 average.

Prize for the winning team will be the pleasure of the annual family picnic in the near future at Dewey Lake state park at the expense of the losers with the Anderson team bearing two-thirds of the cost and doing the work while the second-place Sullivan team pays one-third of the cost. But does no work connected with the event, said Don Sullivan, club publicity chairman.

District Council Camp Set at Carter Caves

The 4-H District Council from Eastern Kentucky's Extension Districts 5a and 5b will assemble at Carter Caves, Carter county, July 12 for a week-end "family affair" camp.

About 60 persons are expected, E. E. Fish, district 4-H agent, said this week. The camp will be recreational in character, but will also include workshop activities.

One topic will be construction of a 4-H camp for the area, he said.

Counties involved are Floyd, Robertson, Mason, Nicholas, Bath, Fleming, Lewis, Greenup, Menifee, Morgan, Magoffin, Pike, Martin, Lawrence, Elliott, Carter, Boyd, Johnson and Rowan.
