Cancer Misses Fatal To James AB Grifflay, Farmer of Johns Creek

James AB Grifflay, 69, of Thomas, Ky., died at his home at 210 a.m. July 5. Grifflay, the son of the late George and Tildie Sisco Grifflay, was a cancer victim. A farmer most of his life Grifflay is survived by his wife, Edicott May Roop Grifflay, five daughters, Marie Skeers, Lydia Dye, Dora Alice Dials, all of Wash, Indiana, Ruth Blamshipp, McCombs, and Mrs. Martha Jane Murphy, Thomas; seven sons, Henry Grifflay, Decala, Florida, Paul Grifflay, Lancer, Ester Grifflay, Wash, Indiana, Elmer Ellis, Moses, and George R. all of Thomas. One brother, Lindsey Grifflay, of Van Lear, and sister, Delly Birchfield, of Ashland, also survive him. The Hamner report took seven months to complete. It was released jointly by Finance Commissioner James W. Martin and Conservation Commissioner Laban P. Jackson. Martin said the two would make a joint statement on the report next week. The professional study of Kentucky's parks program, biggest and most successful in the Southeast, was requested by the Department of Conservation on recommendations of Dr. Martin. The study was to cost no more than $16,500. Jackson said last December three new State parks might result from the improvement program. The report said the big parks, the principal sources of income, should be protected and further developed, since they have already demonstrated their drawing power. The smaller parks should have more revenue-producing facilities to enable them to stand on their own feet without subsidization. "Investment in facilities which are definite drains on the program might well be limited to absolute need. "No new parks should be developed until the present program reaches an optimum degree of service, efficiency, and drawing power. Besides Kentucky Dam Village, Kentucky Lake, Cumberland Falls, and Dewey Lake, the total amounts recommended for each park are: Audubon Memorial, near Henderson, $22,250; Carter Caves, near Ashland, $273,750; General Butler, near Carrollton, $132,000; Lake Cumberland, near James, town, $334,500; Natural Bridge, near Stanton, $18,000; Pennington Forest, near Dawson Springs, $291,000; Columbus-Belmont, near Clinton, $140,000; Levi Jackson, near London, $23,000; Lincoln Homestead, near Springfield, $3,400; Perryville Battlefield, $23,500. Most of the recommendations were designed to improve food and lodging facilities, which account for two thirds of the total revenues. The only other large source of revenue is the sale of goods and souvenirs. The report also emphasized the importance of swimming and recommended the charging of fees for use of these facilities at all parks.

ed the place and found whiskey which was willingly surrendered without presentation of a search warrant. This time the deputies were seeking only a soft drink, having no search warrant. They told Reynolds, they reported to Collins, he is as good as he was the last time and to bring out what he had to drink. Reynolds brought out nine half-pints of whiskey and gave them, apparently by thinking they were going to search.

Other recent searches brought these results: Ernest Hunter, of Blue Moon, July 2, two gallons of moonshine and a car confiscated by deputies Joe Wheeler Lewis and John D. Martin; Emmett Vance, of Hi Hat, searched July 3 by Lewis, Patrick, Reed and Patton, seizing one-half gallon of moonshine and three half-pints of whiskey. He already had a case in Magistrate Edgar Howell's court, it was said. Vance was turned over to the United States Commissioner.

Dora Johnson, of Bypro, was raided June 28 and a quantity of beer, gin and whiskey was seized. Johnny Thornbury, of Melvin, was searched and 192 cans of beer taken. The Dewey Lake Association on Lanover was searched again, June 23, and a quantity of beer and whiskey confiscated. Ballard Moore, of Drift, was searched June 20 and 98 cans of beer seized as was Buddy Hall on Abner Park, near Wheelwright, where 144 cans of beer were found. A moonshine still was located by Deputy Sheriff Kelly Frasure near Goodloe Monday but the owner has not yet been named.

PRIME TARGET
See by the papers that they plan to ring Cincinnati with Nikes as protection against enemy attack. According to the story, oldtimers, back in World War II, had an idea his small town of a few hundred souls should be protected, somehow. Predicted, he did that "them Germans will bomb the daylight out of this place." Reminded that Hitler would not be interested in such a small speck on the map, he countered: "I gosh, she's the county-seat, ain't she?"

SHORT, SHORT-STORY BY A SHORT GUY
It may be that our family has a budding fiction writer in our youngest—perhaps another Mickey Spillane (ugh!). The other night, he hid himself off to the typewriter, and shortly thereafter turned up with this masterpiece:

THE DEAD FEMALE
My name is Simeo Sweeney. I'm a cop. I look for no mighty men like Rat Masterson that s'wo I'm after. Combs & Combs point out that the firm is but seeking the collection of an attorney fee properly due. Some of the members of the magistrates group have paid their assessment to the organization's officers, it was said.

The letter from Troy Savage said in part, "it seems the easiest way to handle this is for the group to designate some one of the members to collect an additional $100 from each of the group and pay Mr. Combs. We cannot accept the payments piecemeal because of the rule that a release of one of several persons jointly sound is a release of all..."

It added five of the persons named had indicated a willingness to pay $100.

The letter said a reasonable time would be allowed before suit is brought.

great damage in the flood had volunteered the $1 contribution.

"That woman's contribution recalled the story of the widow's mite," Miss White said. "The trouble seems to be that there are not enough people like her."

Miss White noted the recent successful drive of the Red Cross in Floyd county to reach its goal for the first time since World War II. She recalled, too, that this county raised $42,000 in one of the war years, with coal miners contributing a day's work each.

Cameron wired its thanks for assistance to Jack Mandt, chairman of the Pikeville-for-Cameron Relief committee.

"In view of your own disaster this humanitarian gesture is greatly appreciated, the telegram said. "We thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

Paintsville was making some effort to raise contributions for Cameron, it was said this week, but to what extent it was not learned.

Kentucky Has Exact Replica Of Liberty Bell

By Charles F. Hinds
 Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

Frankfort, July 8 (Sp1) — At the conclusion of a war bond drive, May 15-July 4, 1950, Kentucky received from the U. S. Treasury Department an exact replica of the Liberty Bell. The original hangs in the tower of Independence Hall, Philadelphia. The replica, one of 53 donated to the United States by the French iron and bronze industries, was brought into the front hall of the Old State House in Frankfort with great difficulty. It measures 7 feet and 6 inches in circumference around the crown and 12 feet around the lip and weighs about 2,000 lbs. It is suspended under a thick wooden yoke supported by iron uprights. The bell rests for safety upon two horizontal iron bars.

Three assumptions about the original do not stand the test of historical criticism:
 (1) That it was rung on July 4, 1776, (2) that it was rung so hard that it cracked, and (3) that it was known very early as the Liberty Bell.
 In 1756, the Philadelphia Assembly authorized erection of a bell in its state house tower. The bell, ordered from England, was defective and was recast by John Pas and Charles Stow, Jr., Philadelphia. They added their names and reversed the order of lines which appeared originally around the crown. "By order of the Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania for the State House in Philadelphia" and "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land to all the inhabitants thereof. Lev. XXV:10."

The bell was first officially rung Aug. 27, 1753, to convene the Assembly. It was rung July 8, 1763, at the end of the French and Indian War and figured in events following the Stamp Act of 1765.

PINE CREST, CHILDREN'S HOME NEAR MOREHEAD, IS DEDICATED

Dedication services for Pine Crest, Kentucky Baptists' newest children home, which was built, equipped, and furnished at a cost of $400,000 were held at Morehead, Kentucky at 2:00 p.m. (Central Daylight Time) Tuesday, with Joseph Ober, president of the Kentucky Baptist Board of Child Care, presiding. The new home is located on Kentucky 32 (Flemingburg Road) two miles north of Morehead.
 The Rev. Harold Waincoat, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pikeville, delivered the dedicatory address. Others who participated in the dedication included Rev. M. L. Ader, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Olive Hill, Rev. J. C. Baizek, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Morehead, Dr. W. C. Boone, executive secretary-treasurer of the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky.
 The Goodridge Cottage chorus, a group of 18 girls from Spring Meadows, another Kentucky Baptist Home for children at Middletown, sang several numbers during the service. All the buildings at Pine Crest were opened for inspection, both before and after the dedication.

 There are 29 children residing at Pine Crest, the home having admitted the first children on January 21. At present, Pine Crest has a capacity of 50. It is expected to be completely full by September, according to Sam Ed Bradley, superintendent of Pine Crest as well as the parent Home, Spring Meadows at Middletown. Mrs. Virginia E. Fields, who was assistant superintendent at Spring Meadows from 1944 to 1956, is the resident director of the new home.
 The school plant includes a large administration building, which houses the offices, library, central kitchen and dining room, clinic and is bed infirmary as well as living quarters for the resident director and six staff members, and two cottages, one for boys and one for girls. Six additional cottages are expected to be added later which would increase the capacity of the home to approximately 200.
 Kentucky Baptists operate two other Homes for children, Spring

Meadows at Middletown which was founded in 1869 and Glen Dale white was established at Glendale in 1915. Each of these homes care for more than 200 children. All three homes are governed by the Kentucky Baptist Board of Child Care.

Capitol Notebook

Frankfort, July 8 (Sp1) — "Farming is regarded to be one of the most hazardous of occupations," says State Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler.
 The State Health Department reports that in 1955 Kentucky had 79 farm fatalities and 2,068 accidents.
 "Careless use of farm machinery," Butler says, "presents the number one hazard—representing 38 per cent of all accidents."
 Twenty-five per cent of all fatal farm accidents involve youths under 18, Butler points out. He adds:
 "I urge that we develop a set of safety rules for our farms and see that each member of our family, as well as our employees, adopt them."
 All this in the interest of Farm Safety Week, July 21-27.

RECOLLECTIONS
 I recall "grave houses" which Kentucky mountain folk erected over and around graves for their relatives. The shelters were generally log and clapboard—L. G. Kingsport, Tenn.
 I recall this sign on a hotel wall in Pikeville: "To live a long life, reside in Pikeville—the only city on the map where an undertaker ever failed in business."
 A. B. Pikeville.

RAIN CHECKS NOT NEEDED
 "WILDERNESS ROAD," the outdoor play at Berea, has been rained out only three times in 116 performances. Actually, there were 23 rainy days (not evenings) during the drama season last year. But this did not stop the performance, which does not begin until 8:15 (C.D.T.) in the evening.

DIRECTOR HONORED
 Speaking of "Wilderness Road," its director, Samuel Selden, was presented a Kentucky Colomel's commission after the play's opening 1957 performance by Conservation Commissioner Laban Jackson, in behalf of Gov. A. B. Chandler.

ALERT OFFICER
 By advertising that he had two Piranha—South American man-eating fish—on display, a Frankfort man has learned how alert is Frank Phipps, enforcement officer for the State Fish & Wildlife Resources Department.
 The advertiser was visited by Phipps and warned that the deadly fish are prohibited in Kentucky, even for display in aquariums.
 Phipps explained that the fish possibly could infect Kentucky's fishing streams and lakes, destroy other fish and become a hazard to persons and animals that ventured into the waters.

Thomas Advises War Orphans On College Aid

Frankfort, July 7 — Now is the time for young persons to take action if they plan to attend school or college this fall under the War Orphans Education program, Director E. R. Thomas of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board advises.
 The program is for sons and daughters of war veterans who died of injuries or diseases resulting from their military service in World War I, World War II, or the Korean conflict. Generally, war orphans students must be between 18 and 23 years of age.
 It will be better to arrange admittance now for these two reasons, Thomas said. First, students will have plenty of time to select the college of their choice. Many colleges are now crowded and delay in applying may result in not being able to enter the desired school. Second, a month or more is required for the Veterans Administration to process and approve an application for schooling.
 War Orphan students may receive up to 36 months of schooling through institutions of higher learning. They are paid up to $110 a month for each month of school.
 In addition to the educational benefits provided by the Veterans Administration for war orphans, students who attend colleges or universities supported by the state of Kentucky are entitled to certain benefits provided by the Commonwealth.
 Representatives of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board will assist war orphans in applying for these benefits.

Floyd County Historical Notes

HAMMON FAMILY

Over a year ago Frances Landreth, Four Old Landreth Drive, Alexandria, Virginia, visited Paintsville and Prestonsburg to do research on her Hammon family. She was particularly interested in Wilson P. Hammon and his ancestry.

The Hammon family was one of Floyd county's earliest settlers, coming here to help found Harman's station, near the mouth of Johns Creek, with Matthias Harman in 1791.

Quoting from a story on the Hammon family in the Licking Valley Courier (West Liberty, Ky.) by Georgia Franklin Taylor, dated at article unavailable: "John Hammon... was seven years old when he came to Kentucky (in 1791). He was born in 1784. We know the date of his birth from the census report of Morgan county for 1858 which gives his age as 66 and shows that he was born in Virginia. John was the son of Philip Hammon of Albemarle county, Virginia. Philip Hammon fought in the Revolution and his father was William Hammon. John's mother married James Evans who was born in Morgan town, Pennsylvania, daughter of Eliza Hammon and Catherine Evans. The article ends here for Morgan county is in West Virginia, was Virginia then. H.P.S. The 1850 census of Morgan county shows Margaret's age as 62. She died in Morgan county in 1835. The tax record of 1799 shows the Evans living in Fayette county."

John Hammon and Margaret Evans were married in 1803 or 1804. No record of their marriage has been found since most of the Floyd county records up to 1808 were destroyed when the courthouse burned at that date. Their first child Mary (Polly) was born in 1805.

"John Hammon was sworn in as magistrate in 1808. He moved to what later became Morgan county in 1808. The following are from the minute books of the South Fork church at Malone, Morgan county, Kentucky:

"Second Saturday June 1809 Church met. After singing and prayer Bro. William Wells, moderator presided over the business. Bro. John and Sister Nan McGuire received by letter. Sister Mary Lane received by letter. Brother John and Margot Hammon received by letter."

"In 1822 when Morgan county was formed from parts of Floyd and Bath counties John Hammon was one of the twelve magistrates appointed by Gov. Adair for the new county.

"The 1850 Morgan county census shows that he was the second largest landowner in the county at that time. His real estate was valued at $4,000.00. He was also slave holder. When he died in 1854 he left no will and consequently the settlement of his estate was a long drawn out affair.

"John and Margaret Hammon have children: Mary (Polly), James Hammons, born 1806; Jilson Hammon, born 1808; Elizabeth Hammon born 1811; Wiley Hammon, a daughter who married A. Prater; Andrew L. Hammon, born 1819.

Sixty-four from Floyd Enroll at Morehead

Morehead, Ky., July 8 (Sp.)—Sixty-four students are enrolled from Floyd county in summer school at Morehead State College, President Adron Doran said today.

A total of 1,657 students have enrolled at Morehead from 51 Kentucky counties: Alabama, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

The enrollment figure does not include summer workshops such as the sixth annual Writers' Workshop to be held from July 22 to August 2.

Census to Collect Facts On Multiple Job-Holders

Special questions, designed to provide information on the number of persons who have more than one job, will be asked in the July Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Robert A. Yerkes of the Census Bureau's regional field office at Cincinnati, Ohio which will participate in the survey.

Similar questions asked in the Current Population Survey last year revealed that an estimated 3.7 million persons, or about one in 18 of all employed persons, held more than one job during the week of July 8-14, 1955, the period covered by the survey. The group designated as multiple job-holders include wage and salary workers with more than one employer during the survey week, as well as persons on the payroll of an employer who also self-employed or working without pay in a family enterprise.

An estimated one million persons held both farm and nonfarm jobs concurrently, the survey revealed. About three in five of this group had a primary job in nonfarm work. Most of the remainder were self-employed farmers with a secondary job off the farm. Extra jobs held by farm wage workers usually were other farm jobs.

The special questions on secondary jobs will be in addition to the regular monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment. Current Population Survey information will be collected locally during the week of July 15 by Mrs. Wilma Tauboe, of Malone, Ky.

OWENS WINS BY 128,323

Defeats June L. Suter In Seven Out of Eight Congressional Districts

Frankfort, Ky., July 10 — Miss Doris Owens, Wickliffe, won the Democratic nomination for clerk of the Court of Appeals by a majority of 128,323 votes in the May 29 primary.

She defeated Chandler-backed June L. Suter, Warsaw, by an official count of 228,703 to 130,448. She will oppose Republican Charles Malcolm Greene, Corbin, in November. He had no opposition at the primary.

Miss Owens has been serving as interim clerk since January 14, four days after the death of Charles K. O'Connell. She was appointed to the post by the court.

A controversy followed between the high court and Governor Chandler over which of them had the power to appoint a clerk.

In a precedent-breaking ruling, the court declared it alone could name a clerk until the voters could fill the vacancy. Chandler, on the advice of his attorneys, dropped the matter, and announced he would try to unseat Miss Owens by nominating and electing Suter to the post.

Miss Owens defeated Suter in 89 counties. Suter defeated Miss Owens in 23 counties, and the two candidates tied in two counties.

Miss Owens carried seven of the eight Congressional districts. Suter won only in the heavily Republican Eighth District and there by a majority of only 2,500 votes.

The official vote by districts:

Districts	Owens	Suter
First.....	52,000	15,741
Second.....	40,473	21,533
Third.....	23,150	3,898
Fourth.....	26,304	20,327
Fifth.....	33,045	18,477
Sixth.....	40,103	22,167
Seventh.....	22,876	16,747
Eighth.....	7,925	10,512

State Has New Forestry Head

Frankfort, July 8 (Sp.)—Gene L. Butcher, Georgetown, is the new acting director of the State Division of Forestry.

Butcher is acting in place of Harold Newland who has been assigned special forestry duties in the Department of Conservation, Commissioner Laban Jackson said.

Butcher, a native of Bath county, received a master's degree in forestry at Duke University. For the past 15 years, he has been engaged with the division, except for time in the Armed Forces. He served in the Marine Corps in World War II and in the Korean emergency and was released from active duty as captain of the Marines.

Previous to experience with the division, he was on the staff of forest management at Duke University. Butcher is married to the former Emily Hall of Georgetown. They have two children, Gene, Jr., 7, and Millicent Ann, 3.

Jackson said the reorganization of the division with Butcher actively administering the agency and Newland handling an extensive program "should result in much more effective and expanded effort on the part of the Commonwealth to let Kentucky realize the true potential of its forests."

ALICE IN ALASKALAND—"White Alice" is the name of a defense communications system telephone folks are setting up in faraway Alaska for the Alaskan Air Command. For the first time, huge antennas will send and receive radio-telephone messages over 150 miles, bouncing them off a layer of air seven miles up. The first links are already in service. When completed, White Alice will help our defense forces spot enemy aircraft quicker, and will also bring telephone service to remote Alaskan areas. Telephone folks working on this top-o-the-world project are part of the same team that keeps your phone ringing right here in town and makes it possible for you to keep in touch with almost anyone, anywhere, any time.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY—Form the thrifty habit of calling station-to-station whenever you call Long Distance. This is the way to save up to 1/2 the cost of person-to-person calls. Most folks find that station-to-station calling usually meets their needs. That's when you call a telephone number instead of a particular person at the number.

Look how you save: You can call from Prestonsburg to Louisville station-to-station for just 7¢; the person-to-person rate is $1.40. Besides this hefty saving, you get special values when you call station-to-station during Bargain Hours between cities in Kentucky — nights after 8 and all day Sundays. Then you can talk four minutes for the price of two. Why not call somebody today?

A FEW PENNIES a day will provide you with the smart convenience of extra telephones—in your choice of colors—in your kitchen, bedroom or den—wherever you need them most.

New Regulation Now Effective

Frankfort, July 8 (Sp.) — All cattle being returned from stock yards or public sales barns and auctions or contagious diseases, affecting State veterinarians, Dr. Robert H. Singer, has reminded the Kentucky livestock industry.

Dr. Singer was referring to a recent regulation adopted by the State Board of Agriculture that requires blood testing and health inspection of all cattle being purchased for return to the farm. Animals "bought for immediate slaughter and sprayed heifers and steers are excepted from this regulation.

Also exempted are officially vaccinated calves between the ages of four through eight months) that have been vaccinated with Strain 19 Brucella abortus vaccine by an accredited veterinarian and cattle from certified brucellosis-free herds. Another category of cattle excluded from the test are officially vaccinated animals under 30 months of age when accompanied by a vaccination certificate.

All cattle which were condemned on the test for brucellosis are slaughtered and ordered to be sold for immediate slaughter.

Each Kentucky stockyard must make available an accredited veterinarian to do this inspection and blood testing work on sales days.

English poet Lord Byron sang of Daniel Boone and referred to him in the long poem "Don Juan" as "General Boone, back-woodsman of Kentucky."

FARM NOTES

BY ROBERT M. JONES
County Agricultural Extension Agent

After a three-week stay in Lexington, it is good to be back in Floyd county. I've completed a short course in Agriculture Cooperatives. This way of doing business is increasing in popularity among farm people. With the increase in prices of farm supplies and decrease of some farm products, farmers are looking for ways of reducing costs. Cooperatives are operated on cost basis. That doesn't mean that there is no cost in their operation, but that the business operates without a profit to itself.

SIDE-DRESS CORN
Most of the corn in the county is looking good. The rainfall and warm weather we have been having have made ideal growing conditions. The vigorous growth of the corn is taking a large amount of plant food from the soil. Within the near future there probably will be signs of plant food deficiency showing up. The corn plant itself will tell you which plant food is lacking.

Nitrogen deficiency turns leaves a light green to yellow, beginning along the mid-vein in the lower leaves, progressing up the stalk. We usually call this "firing."

A lack of potash will cause yellowing along the edge of the leaves.

A short supply of phosphorous will cause the leaves to turn purple. Unless a large amount of nitrogen was applied at planting time, it will pay to side-dress with a nitrogen fertilizer now.

To side-dress apply 100-200 lbs. of a ammonium nitrate per acre. Scatter the fertilizer in the balk, then cultivate it in.

PEACH TREE BORER
Many of the peach trees are showing damage from the peach borer. These insect bore into the trunk of the tree, and causes the tree to produce a gummy substance. To control this insect, spray the tree trunks now, again the first of August and first of September with 50 percent DDT at the rate of six pounds in 100 gallons of water.

LAWN CARE
Most grasses are now approaching their dormant period. This will cause the weeds and wild grasses to grow that much more. The lawn will need to be clipped often enough to keep it even and to keep the weeds from going to seed. The weeds can also be controlled by using chemicals and digging up the individual plants.

Watering at this time of the year will only cause the weeds and grass to grow. The lawn grasses are dormant now and will not grow much before fall. Only the shaded area that is free of weeds should be watered through the hot summer months.

BULBS
Jonquil and tulip bulbs can be dug now if the tops have completely died down. The entire clump should be lifted and left to dry ten days in a shade. Then the dirt should be removed and stored in a cool, dry place until late September or October and then separated and planted.

TEAR ANALYSIS IS LIKELY
Cleveland—Recent research indicates the analysis of tears as an index of health may soon become as routine in a physical examination as a blood test is now. A relationship has been found between tears and glaucoma, arthritis and rheumatic fever.

An angry man is Sylvester T. Bly.

Who today was sold a piece of "blue sky."

He'd stepped in a showroom—out of the rain.

Was sold a new car before he could explain!

How he hated the styling—so high and square

And in new features it was really bare.

"I got a real bargain—the buy of my life—

But how do I ever convince my own wife?"

Moral: You're paying for a new car... make sure you get one!

When you buy a new car, put your money on tomorrow—not yesterday. Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field. Should you invest in high, box styling when Dodge offers the low, low look of tomorrow? Should you invest in outmoded coil springs when Dodge offers new Torsion-Aire Ride? Should you invest in an old-fashioned lever-type transmission when Dodge offers the ease of Push-Button Driving? In other things, too—engines, brakes, interiors—Dodge is years ahead. So put your money on tomorrow. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge!

80 PER CENT OF STEEL IS OPEN-HEARTH TYPE

Chicago—The first commercial successful open-heart steel furnace in the United States was built in 1870. This process permitted not only mass production but quality control in steelmaking. Its rise to importance was rapid by 1908 open-heart production exceeded Bessemer-steel output for the first time. In 1936 the open-heart method supplied about 80 per cent of the nation's steel.

Here's the scientific way to measure the actual pulling power a truck can deliver to its four wheels. All three low-priced trucks were hooked up, one by one, to a special dynamometer truck. Each was comparably equipped and test-loaded.

Super-sensitive gauges inside the dynamometer truck register the maximum pull of each truck at 10 m.p.h. Insets in photos above show actual gauge readings in each case. To convert these readings into pounds, simply multiply them by three.

The results are conclusive evidence that Dodge Power Giants give you a third more pulling power than either of the "other two" low-priced trucks. And this is just one of a series of tests that prove Dodge is the best truck of the low-priced three.

HEALTH NOTES

Now that summer is really here to stay for a while, it is high time for us to fight the local fly problem, according to M. V. Clark, administrator for the Floyd County Health Department. Flies are a considerable menace to health, being carriers of various diseases, including typhoid and dysentery. Flies breed and feed in filth and garbage. Their hairy legs and bodies help them carry germs to the food on your table.

The best way to get rid of flies is to prevent them from breeding. Do this by:

- Wrap garbage before putting into garbage cans to prevent its spilling.
- Make sure the cans do not leak.
- Cover tightly all garbage cans and place on racks to keep dogs from knocking them over.
- Cover compost heaps, or spray them with earth.
- Spray open privies and sewers; cover them if possible.
- Bury dog droppings.
- Spray fields fertilized with animal manure.
- Wrap tightly or bury discarded food.

You may still be bothered by flies even after clean-up measures are taken. In addition to removing the above breeding places, spraying window screens and doorways with DDT will help keep down flies. But screening and spraying alone will not get rid of flies; successful fly control program is based on good sanitation.

SCIENTIFIC PERSONNEL LACK IS ACUTE, EDUCATOR THINKS

Education in Kentucky and in the United States has become increasingly disturbed in recent years over the apparent lack of skilled science personnel for the needs of industry and research.

We are living today in an age that has exerted tremendous demands for young people trained for science careers. These demands are reflected in critical shortages of skilled personnel in science and mathematics, but this is not an evidence of failure on the part of the public schools. On the contrary, according to a report of the Sub-committee on Research and Development of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, serious shortages of trained science personnel are an indication of the "startling success" of public education in the area of science teaching.

This report states that schools have done an excellent job of preparing skilled talent for the needs of science. The real problem as pointed out by Mr. John H. Meyer, Director of the National Science Foundation, is the lack of advancement for the Advancement of Science, is to focus new attention on science education if we are to continue to supply these people. In other words, the demand for young people trained for science careers has far outstripped the ability of the public schools to supply them.

As these demands increased, many good science teachers have been attracted to better paying jobs in science fields which has resulted in still a further need to concentrate on the improvement of science instruction in the public schools.

Recognizing the nature of this problem, the State Board of Education has authorized me to appoint a Science Study Committee composed of prominent lay and professional people to assist the Department of Education in studying ways for effecting overall improvements in science instruction in our public schools.

In addition to the naming of this committee, and closely related to its function, the National Science Foundation has awarded the State of Kentucky $9,000.00 for the purpose of conducting regional workshops in science teaching improvement at the State Colleges. These funds will make it possible for forty elementary and secondary teachers to attend each of five such workshops and these will culminate in a science teaching summer institute to be held on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

The proposed program of regional workshops will be under the direction of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification, Department of Education, and will be conducted by its-service consultants located on the State College Campuses. The grant was made to Kentucky by the National Science Foundation in recognition of significant progress in efforts to improve the quality of science teaching in our schools. The proposal submitted to the Foundation for the grant was the product of planning by the Kentucky Science Teachers' Association, the Council on Public Higher Education, and the Department of Education.

It is not easy to determine the exact date a cow will freshen," says Garland Bastin, specialist. "But numerous studies have been made on the subject and it is now possible to predict the date of calving with more accuracy than by using gestation charts usually based on a gestation period of 283 days."

Separate the cow from the rest of the herd during freshening and have an attendant nearby in case difficult calving occurs. It is also important to know when to turn the cow dry for the proper rest her body reserves, and proper period, usually 6 to 8 weeks are required for the cow to rebuild feeding in this dry period is important.

There are breed differences in length of gestation periods. Brown Swiss are about 290 days, Guernseys average 283 days, and Ayrshire, Holsteins and Jerseys, about 278 days. A high percentage of cows will freshen within five days of the average for their respective breeds, Bastin notes; three-year-old cows carry their calves about a day less than the breed average, and two-year-olds, about two days less. Twins usually are dropped about four to five days earlier than the breed average.

Kentuckian Discovered Process, Bessemer Reaped Fame, Fortune

Frankfort, July 8 (Sp.) — The steel industry celebrates its 100th anniversary this year. Much of the credit goes to William Kelly of Edwinstown, whose process opened the door to the modern age of steel.

Kelly was first to discover the method of producing large quantities of steel economically. His process was to blow cold air through molten iron, producing a hot flame which burned out the impurities.

Although Kelly was first to discover the process, another man, Henry Bessemer, of England, reaped the fame and fortune. Neither man knew of the other's work but each developed the same process.

Bessemer's greater business insight gets the credit for his success. While Kelly went about his work quietly, Bessemer obtained patents in the United States and England and told other steelmakers about his work. This method of making steel soon became known as the "Bessemer Process."

When Kelly heard of Bessemer's American patent, he filed a claim to priority of invention. Kelly's was granted a patent in 1857. Kelly's patent was renewed in 1870 while Bessemer's was rejected by the U. S. Patent Office.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION

Railway building half a century ago was accomplished with mule or horse-drawn vehicles, graders and "dirt scoops." The drilling of holes in rock in which explosives were placed to blast down the road bed was done by hand. Labor was cheap, most workmen making $1.50 for ten hours but the work was welcomed by Big Sandians as it was the first steady industrial job to employ labor on a large scale.

Shown here is the grading of the C. & O. railway bed and the laying of the rails opposite Prestonsburg in 1902. H. Harris, Prestonsburg businessman and one of the founders of the First National Bank, is standing fourth from the right. He was one of the contractors on the road.

Two years after the railway entered Floyd County The First National Bank was founded. The changes wrought by the railway, a new bank, stores and other businesses, aided materially in the growth of Floyd County.

Ford wins the battle of the builds

• Sure! Many people buy Fords because of their long, low, whistle-collecting looks. Do you blame them? But believe it or not, it's not the looks that earn a Ford a No. 1 spot in America's heart. And that's just what Ford has earned. The real secret of Ford's success are the extra values that go into building a Ford. Let's look at a few of these features. Ford shares them only with a select number of America's most expensive cars. But you get them at low Ford prices.

1. Only Ford in its field offers a frame design that lets you ride with the frame side members for greater roominess, more smoothness and increased safety.
2. Only Ford in its field gives you a modern V-8 engine with rigid, deep-block design for smoother, quieter, longer-lived operation.
3. Only Ford in its field offers automatic variable-throttle springs that automatically adjust to give a smoother ride no matter how rough the road conditions.
4. Only Ford in its field offers new swept-back ball-joint front suspension that "rolls with the punch" on rough, bumpy roads.
5. Only Ford in its field offers as many as five strengthening steel cross members for a more rigid roof... greater quiet and safety.
6. Only Ford offers such a swinging car. A Ford Six beat all other cars in the 1957 Midland Economy Run in the miles-per-gallon department.
7. Only Ford in its field offers a frame with 3 ballbar cross members. There are 5 cross members in all... making the frame to withstand stress from all directions.
8. Only Ford, among all makes, electronically balances every V-8 engine while it's operating under its own power.
9. Only Ford in its field offers so much soundproofing for a quieter ride under all road and weather conditions.
10. Only Ford in its field offers such a well sealed body for greater freedom from dust and weather wherever you travel.
11. Only Ford in its field offers rear door check springs and two-position front door check for easier entrance and exit.

THEN...

...as NOW—

—motorists look to the sales leader to be first with the Best!

Since the then-duster days, Standard Oil products have been first in popularity in the Southern states where they are sold. This sales leadership is based on public confidence, and motorists' belief that Standard Oil products and service consistently meet the challenge of change.

Standard Oil dealers were first to provide road-maps, credit-cards and many on-the-road conveniences; first 30 years ago to offer motorists a "lead" gasoline, and first now to offer a gasoline of the type of SUPER CROWN EXTRA. That's why motorists "look to the sales leader to be first with the Best."
