SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

OCTOBER 31, 1957

THURSDAY

This Town— That World

This, as any fool can plainly see, is the election edition of the Floyd County Times. You will find the society page complete, and the editorials— if they get printed— elsewhere, and other news or departments in odd places. And you may find that staff tomorrow or the nearest psychiatrist's office.

FLOYD COUNTY'S TRAGEDY
What do you write in a column like this at a time when politics is religion to so many? We try not to be too serious here, but when you get to thinking about Floyd County politics you find mighty little that's funny about it.

The older we get, the more dismayed we become at what our peculiar brand of politics is doing to our people. We're talking about this kind of politics that becomes a personal vendetta between individuals, breeding malice, outright hatred, filling man's hearts with the complete anti-spirit of love of God and fellow-man.

When you hear a citizen who by ordinary standards is a "good man," even a leader in movements for good, mouth invectives at the mention of another so-called good citizen's name, you cannot, if you stop to think, escape the conclusion that Floyd county has gone a long way down the road.

HOT ELECTION NEARING END

State, County and Local Races Up in Nov. 5 Poll; 27,228 Ballots Printed

Floyd County's longest and perhaps its most hectic political campaign will be climaxed next Tuesday with the voters of the county writing its final check on the ballots at the 62 voting precincts of the county.

The ballot has everything to command the interest of the voter—the statewide race for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, two Constitutional amendments and the issue of a health tax for Floyd county, legislative and magisterial races on the regular ballot, and on a special ballot four candidates for the unexpired term for State Senator.

In addition to these two ballots, voters in incorporated towns will have a city ballot to deal with, and in Prestonsburg the city ballot will have the question of a bond issue to finance construction of a municipal swimming pool also to decide.

All these contests have provided a political situation that has been interesting to the observer and trying to the candidate and their supporters.

Every county and district office is at stake except that of circuit judge, commonwealth's attorney and county attorney.

For this Nov. 5 election a total of 27,228 ballots have been printed. This represents the total registration, plus the required by state law.

COAL PRICES SHOW DROP

Read's Production Sags To 50% Capacity, Said; Export Market Declining

"The coal business is bad right now," one large Floyd county operator said this week after noting that prices and demand had been sliding for six weeks. Most producers credit the sliding overseas demand for limited production in the Big Sandy field but others view the lessened domestic and industrial market as causes of the slump.

B. F. Reed, head of the Turner-Elliott Coal Company, Drift, said his mines, which included the truck operators, from whom he buys a dozen or so about 90% production. He said he is hopeful that the market will improve but added that he had nothing to bet on his hopes. "It depends a great deal upon the export market," he added.

THIRD PIPELINE BLAST IN COUNTY REPORTED

JOHN'S CREEK LINE REPAIRED UNDER GUARD

Union Denies Supply Of Gas to Threatened; Injunction is Issued

BULLETIN— A third pipeline blast was reported Wednesday night in the Turkey Creek section, near Maytown. A section of 12-inch line was torn out, it was said.

The 16-inch pipeline on Johns Creek was repaired Tuesday at Kentucky West Virginia workmen were protected by a 11 troopers of the State Police.

Officials of the local union who are striking workers of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company being held Tuesday that the reported firing of shots over the heads of other workers on broken or blasted pipeline, as well as reports of line blowing, are nothing more than reports of a union.

"We're in the position to know about these reports except to hear them," Lawrence Katerberg, secretary of Local Union 1640 of the Chemical & Atomic Workers International Union, said it stays here in Prestonsburg, in the strip of the local union, where told our men we sanction only peaceful picketing.

Mr. Katerberg added that the first in a series of shots were fired Monday over the heads of workmen attempting to repair a leak in the company line on Johns Creek was when the United Press called him Monday night.

In Ashland W. C. Bonhott, vice-president of Kentucky West Virginia, said the 12 to 15 men who were sent to the scene on Johns Creek, Pike county, at a Saturday night blast which tore apart the company's 16-inch pipeline were greeted by one-the-head gun fire. He did not identify the gunman. The repair work was not effected.

As a result of the blast the line on Johns Creek and Prestonsburg and Prestonsburg (See Story No. 4, Page 3)

FLOYD'S DOCTOR NEEDS ONE OF STATE'S WORST

Kentucky's need for doctors, on the decline in ratio to population since 1910, has dropped until the state can thank Mississippi and only seven other states for crowding it away from the bottom position.

The state, standing in fourth place in respect to the indicated need of at least one physician to 1,000 population, has actually one doctor to each of 1,139 people. The United States ratio is 787 to one. Floyd county's situation is one of the worst in the state, it was determined by a local survey. The county, with an exception, has no physicians practicing at the McDowell Memorial hospital, has only 12 physicians in general practice in the state. Here, approximately one doctor to each 4,880 persons. This is not quite as bad as the ratio of one doctor to 1,000 of the McDowell institution contributes heavily to medical service for miners.

Kentucky's overall average physician needs is little indication, though, of the need in the eastern section of the state. Here are the counties of Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Lawrence, Elliott, Mag. B. F. Reed, head of the Turner-Elliott Coal Company, Drift, said his mines, which included the truck operators, from whom he buys a dozen or so about 90% production. He said he is hopeful that the market will improve but added that he had nothing to bet on his hopes. "It depends a great deal upon the export market," he added.

TRUCK WRECK KILLS DRIVER

John Weddington, 31, Dies As Gravel-Laden Vehicle Leaves Road Near Martin

John W. Weddington, 30, of Banner, was killed Saturday afternoon when his gravel-laden truck left the highway between Martin and Martin. His body was found 35 feet from the truck where it had been thrown by the vehicle when it went into the roadside ditch.

The truck had followed the ditchline for 100 feet before it stopped. It was thought that Weddington was thrown from the cab of the truck as it charged along the roadside. Although Weddington was picked up by two men who were passing and was rushed to a hospital, he was said to have died before he was found. His neck was broken and he had suffered a crushed chest and fractured skull.

Weddington, a truck driver for the Burnett Construction Company, was on his way to work at the time of the accident. He was a son of the late Grant Weddington, a well-known local businessman and a member of the local church.

Weddington was married to Calene Osborne Weddington, who survives. Surviving also is a son, John Alex Weddington, at home.

Brothers and sisters surviving are Grant Weddington, Jr., Detroit, Alex Weddington, Mrs. Susan Akers and Mrs. Grace Welch, all of Banner, Mrs. Jesse Burchett, 1186 S. Main, and Mrs. Kate Conn, Cattletown, Mrs. Maxine Weddington, Mrs. Missie Oleson, 211 E. Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Lucy June Giles, Georgetown, Ky.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Burchett, 1186 S. Main, with burial in the local cemetery. Burial was held with military honors accorded by the Walter Karr Bowling Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at Prestonsburg under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

HEALTH ISSUE UP FOR VOTE

Floyd, One of 13, Slated To Decide Issue; 17 Other Counties Have OK'd Funds

Floyd county is one of 13 in the state which will vote Nov. 5 on establishing a public health tax.

Legislation providing for the establishment of a county tax district authorizing the levy of taxes for health purposes was adopted by the 1957 state legislature. The law permits any county not containing a city of the first class to create a health district and levy an annual tax of up to 50 cents per $100 of assessed property valuation. Since 1954, 21 counties have placed the question on the ballot, and 17 of these counties have passed the issue.

Floyd county's health tax cannot exceed 30¢ per $100 property valuation. The health and civic leaders are almost unanimous in support of the issue.

Funds raised by the tax can be used only within the county where they are collected and must be used for public health purposes, including salaries and expenses of health department personnel, operating costs of the health department, and the purchase of supplies. County health departments which are not now tax supported are financed by appropriations from fiscal courts, school boards, and community and civic organizations. The public health tax is designed to provide increased and more efficient services to the health department.

Each year when the health department budget is planned, a tax rate will be decided upon not to exceed the specified maximum. The county boards of health control and administer the funds for the health department. The county board of health can also raise money to aid in the county health tax. Other counties voting on the tax this year, with the maximum tax rate which can be levied in the county, follow: Floyd, 50¢; Hancock, 50¢; Fleming, 50¢; Hancock, 50¢; Harlan, 50¢; Jackson, 50¢; Martin, 50¢; Madison, 50¢; Meigs, 50¢; Owen, 50¢; Scott, 10¢; Union, 60¢.

Two Injured Here In Traffic Mishap

Willie George and John Clifton, of the lower Dewey Lake section, suffered injuries here Tuesday when George passed three cars in a no-passing zone and collided with the auto of Mrs. James Earl Walker. The lower section of town was affected for a time as a result of the truck running into a hydrant.

Mrs. Allen and two children were injured but their car was damaged considerably. Clifton was fined for the traffic infraction.

SENATE SEAT BALLOT SET

Four Candidates Named In Controversial Race To Fill Unexpired Term

The printing of ballots for the special election Nov. 5 to name a State Senator from this district to fill the vacancy created by the death of Senator Doug Hays began Tuesday after Secretary of State Thomas Walker refused to permit Talmadge Martin, of Wayland, to withdraw from the race.

Senatorial candidate lineup on the ballot will be in the following order: Fonce Howell, first, on the Democratic ticket; Talmadge Martin, second, on the "Freedom Party" ticket; Burnis Martin, "Right to Vote" ticket; Bernis Blackburn, "Right to Vote" Party.

Mrs. Stovall said the order of the candidates' appearance was determined by alphabetical order of the candidates' names. Talmadge Martin was second on the ballot because of his name.

The third party action resulted in no judgment favoring the incumbent. The ballot asked a total of $102,000.

PLANT CHANGE 75% FINISHED

$350,000 Improvement, $350,000 Depreciation Unit Underway by UFG

Modernization of United Fuel Gas Company's Beaver Creek compressor station near Maytown, is approximately 75 per cent complete. H. O. Grady, supervisory engineer, said the new equipment will be in operation in November.

The work is being done at a cost of approximately $350,000. In addition, a depreciation unit costing approximately $350,000 is under construction at Beaver Creek. Depreciation is being collected on the gas stream, the depreciation plant is expected to be completed in December.

Approximately 150 workers are employed on the two projects. This number includes about 140 who are working for the contractor, J. F. Fritchard and Company of Kansas City, Mo., and 10 United Fuel personnel.

Grady said normal operations at the compressor station are continuing while the modernization is in progress. Changes being made are: 1. Conversion of nine 1,000-horsepower gas pumping units from single stage to two-stage operation for increased flexibility and efficiency.

Replacement of present piping with new piping and the present cooling system with modern aerial gas and water jacket cooling equipment. Grady said the cooling system and gas piping now in service were installed between 1927 and 1931.

Compressed gas and engine jacket cooling of the station's nine engines now cooled by an open water system which requires substantial daily additions of water from Beaver Creek. The decline of the water table in the area sometimes results in a curtailment of operations during dry seasons.

The new aerial gas and water jacket cooling system will need only a minimum amount of water and will be cooled by an open water system which requires substantial daily additions of water from Beaver Creek. The decline of the water table in the area sometimes results in a curtailment of operations during dry seasons.

DAMAGE SUIT WINS $42,000

Verdict Climaxes Plea For $102,000 In Traffic Death of Mrs. Hall Here

One of the heaviest verdicts in a damage suit here in years was handed down last Thursday by a jury of the Floyd circuit court, awarding to Hargis Hall, administrator of his wife's estate, $42,000 damages against the Van-House Lumber Company.

The suit was the outgrowth of the death here last May 14 of Mrs. Frances Patrick Hall, 27, wife of Hargis Hall, McDowell track mine operator, when the auto in which she was riding and a truck of the lumber company collided.

Trail of the case lasted two days and was not held in the Hall suit against the lumber company but also a third-party action against Vanhousco against Hargis and Delmar Hall, doing business as the Hall Brothers Coal Company, and Leonard Anderson, driver of the Vanhousco truck.

Mrs. Hall, an expectant mother, had been driven by Anderson to Fairsville and was returning home when the tragedy occurred a short distance above the Ball Alley coupe house. The Hall suit, filed by W. W. Burdett and Bert T. Combs, alleged negligence on the part of Vanhousco Lumber Company and its driver, Tommie Kendrick. The suit as to Kendrick was later dismissed without prejudice, however, the negligence on the part of the company and its agent caused the death of Mrs. Hall, the action alleged.

The third party action resulted in no judgment favoring the incumbent. The jury awarded a total of $102,000.

Purgation Board Acks Check of Voters November 5

The Floyd County Purgation Board this week urged an election officers their duty next Tuesday's election of checking the voting record of each voter. This is important and has state election law, since checking of the voting record by poll officials will enable the purgation board to do its work.

State law provides that if a voter fails to vote in two consecutive years he or she may be purged from the registration books.

POLIO STRIKES FOURTH CHILD

Reynolds Infant Is Third From Mad Cr.; All Below Usual Age, Without Shot

The third polio case reported from one section of Mad Creek and the fourth reported in the county in the last few weeks was brought to the Children's Hospital here Tuesday, then transferred to Motuor, Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, 27, of Mad Creek, who is recovering from the disease. The child's legs have been affected.

The third party action resulted in no judgment favoring the incumbent. The jury awarded a total of $102,000.

SECOND SHOT KILLS WOMAN FLEEING AUTO

Brown Later Drives Five Miles to Home, Yarns Gun on Self

A Floyd county man went berserk Monday afternoon, shot and killed his wife on a highway, fled five miles to his home in Eastern and there ended his life with a shotgun blast through his chest.

The woman, Mrs. Clara Brown, was driving her car when she was shot. She was killed instantly.

The man, J. C. Brown, was a member of the local church and was a well-known community worker.

He was shot in the chest and died shortly after the shooting.

The police are investigating the case and have not yet determined the motive for the shooting.

The woman's death was a tragedy for the community.

THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES

Official Organ for Floyd County, Kentucky

Published Every Thursday by Prestonsburg Publishing Company

NORMAN ALLEN, Editor

Subscription Rates: In Kentucky, per year, $3.00 • Outside Kentucky, $3.50

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Will Sordid History Repeat Itself?

Last June 13—after the primary election orgy of vote-buying and vote-selling—THE TIMES published an editorial, which asked the question, "Was the Price Too High?"

In that editorial we concluded that the election may have been worth holding as a part of the democratic processes of government but offered the opinion that "the sacrifice of decent principles is an awesome price to pay."

We refer to that editorial now by way of warning Floyd county's citizens of the possibility that the sordid history of that primary election may be repeated next Tuesday.

The last grand jury that was convened here was instructed by Circuit Judge Hill as to the conduct of the past election, and the judge at that time expressed the hope that, some day, Floyd countians would expend some energy and time and money, if necessary, in the good cause of putting a halt to the disgusting business of buying human rights at chattels.

Are there left a remnant of us who will not otherwise be engaged on election day—engaged, say, in making this evidence rather than gathering it—so put into action such a plan? Perhaps the time is too short.

At any rate, we can think. And let us please do so. Let us as voters begin marvelling now at the miracle of economics which will constrain a man to gamble $10,000 on an office that can legally pay him for four years work no more than $30,000—a net of only $5,000 a year, and that net uncertain at the time he makes the gamble.

Don't Miss These on Your Ballot

Unless the voters take their time in voting next Tuesday, they may not express their opinion on three of the most important issues appearing on the ballot.

These three issues, at the right side of the ballot, are the two constitutional amendments and the Floyd county health tax which will permit the Floyd County Health Department to expand and to extend its services for the good of the county and its people.

We speak strictly from the local angle, and strictly in behalf of Floyd county and her children, when we peculiarly urge every voter to vote "Yes" on the health tax.

TRUSTY, THE BEWITCHED HOUND BARKEE AT STALKS AND BUSHES

By HENRY P. SCALF

The story of the bewitched dog, Trusty, and his long-stemmed, howling on a moonlight 'coon hunt would have been just one of the many legends of the past that were slipping away into the vastness of time remembered things but for Halloween and a long horseback ride through the forest.

The day was one of those rare events of late October when earth and sky blend to create a quiet, peaceful mood that evokes pleasant memories. Long shadows of the trees forested the dark, threw their silhouettes into the road. Frequent gusts of wind whirled the leaves and the path became as dark in early evening as it would be at twilight in one of those misty mornings when the sun failed to intrude upon one's head set upon a pumpkin goblin, the yellow replica of the moon's face, the most beautiful and mysterious of all things.

It was the Jack-o'-Lantern that started Uncle Tom's reminiscing of Trusty and the baffled influence an old woman had on the best 'coon dog he had ever owned. It may have told the story just to make away the length of the journey up Buffalo Creek. He didn't say the story was true, neither did he indicate it was an apocryphal invention influenced by the weariness of Halloween. Occasionally, as he talked, a quick flicker of amusement brightened his face. He may have been inwardly smiling to himself at the naïveté of the young man, then the story was undoubtedly true, for Tom told it solemnly and in matter-of-fact tones, and the road was a mosaic of shadowy splashes on autumn leaves.

It was fifty years ago, Uncle Tom said, back in the eighties when he was first married and lived on a farm down Buffalo Creek in the Salford Settlement. He talked to make a living in the day, took seasonal recreation at night with Trusty on a 'coon hunt. Companion always on these nocturnal trips was Uncle Jackie, aged better than 100, whose perplexity was his quiescent wit. Beley, who thought 'coon hunting was a waste of time and the cause of her husband's "fit" attacks.

It was a moonlight night when he saw Trusty, the best 'coon dog in these parts. You could see his eyes in the moonlight, and he was out again across the field to a fence where the dog was fiercely circling a bush—a paw-paw bush.

Tom threw the bloody axe on his shoulder, returned to Jackie who was sitting on a fence, began to upbraid the old man for living with a witch. They went home, doleful, in the moonlight, angry and not speaking.

Next day was "mild day" and Tom shouldered his "turn" of work, walked down the creek, again crossed the fence, entered the path that descended by Uncle Jackie's cabin. He saw Beley in the doorway, looking her pipe, calmly looking out at the road and the bent form of Jackie chopping wood.

His anger rose up quickly. It was Beley who had caused him to kill the dog. She had bewitched it. Had she said the dog would bark up cornstalks and bushes? Hadn't she said they would find no 'coons?

Nothing newer 58 FORD COMING NOV 7

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. It is the most dramatic and most glowing test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford proved over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Nile, the Amu, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and passed at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturiers at the famous fashion salons where it "captured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world.

It was Tom who saw Trusty first, because Jackie was old and had difficulty in keeping up. In a moment they stood side by side, pausing at the strangeness of a dog barking up a cornstalk not over four feet high. At the top of the stalk only the outside brack of an ear of corn hung, for the grain had been gathered days before. Trusty circled

NOW WHO'S TRYING TO CONFUSE THE VOTERS?

We, the undersigned voters wish to let it be known that we are actively supporting Burnis Martin for State Senator in the special election of November 5, 1957 and further state that Talmadge Martin, our brother and son, is somewhat afflicted and does not understand what Jerry Fonce Howell was trying to get him to do, by putting pressure on him.

MARION MARTIN
LEE MARTIN

To Thema Stovall,
Secretary of State of Kentucky.

I hereby respectfully request that my name as a candidate in the 29th Senatorial District be stricken and withdrawn—and a certification to that effect be sent to the clerks of the counties of Martin, Knott and Floyd stating same.

TALMADGE MARTIN

Subscribed and sworn to by Talmadge Martin before me this 28th day of October, 1957.
My commission exp. 4-15-61.

Burnis Martin,
Notary Public of Ky.

15 miles above the source of some of this gas the Tuller Fuel Gas Company is taking from Kentucky West Virginia lines, near Maytown, approximately one and three-fourths million cubic feet of gas per hour.

The first pipeline break came last Thursday night on the mountain side of the head of Ivy Creek, it was said; the second, Saturday night, on Johns Creek. The gas company official said the break was apparently caused by a dynamite explosion.

Some striking workers said the line is under heavy pressure, that the pipe is old and that this pressure could have caused the two breaks.

Bonhoff said that as a result of each incident a section of line about 20 feet in length was blown out and that there has been heavy loss of gas. He said the gas flow was cut off on other side of the Saturday night break but that when the repair crew arrived on the scene Monday morning, the gas was still escaping. He said somebody apparently had turned on the gas again on one side of the break.

The gas company was granted a restraining order Sunday morning against the local union; its president, Frank Branham; its vice-president, Charlie Patton; Lawrence Ketterhagen, secretary-treasurer; Jesse LaFertt, recording secretary; and Ted Blackburn, Will Lowe, Robert Holbrooks, Hazel Ratliff, Mose Runyon, Clyde Taylor, Jr., John Reed and Fred Gust, Jr., individually, and as representatives of all members of the local union.

The restraining order enjoined the defendants from: 1. Threatening, coercing, intimidating or otherwise interfering with employees not on strike in the performance of their work, including the changing of charts and maintenance of wells and pipelines. 2. Following or otherwise being in the presence of employees of the gas company who are not on strike or such workers as are engaged in work for the company, peaceful picketing excepted.

The order of Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill specified that, since no disturbance has resulted from picketing the offices and compressor stations of the company, the order shall in no way prevent a reasonable number of pickets from peacefully picketing these points. It also pointed out that interference with repair of the ruptured gas line has created such an emergency as to require remedial action by the company. The order also to prevent any person from interfering with repair of the line.

The gas company has admitted its activities supporting its claims in petition: it was claimed that the conduct of the local union and its members has been such that they have by coercion, intimidation, threats and violence prevented the gas company from maintaining its wells, pipelines and other facilities through the work of supervisory employees who are not on strike; that their interference has been such that it has created a situation whereby the company is unable to repair facilities which have been damaged by blasting, creating an emergency which is reasonably calculated to deprive the citizens of Prestonsburg and Paintsville from a supply of gas, that the company is suffering great and irreparable injury and will continue to do so unless a restraining order was granted without notice of hearing.

The strike, which involves 283 service employees of the gas company, came at midnight, Oct. 19 after the company and union employees had failed to agree on a new contract to supplant the old pact which expired Oct. 15.

Mr. Bonhoff said the gas company has contacted the Kentucky State Police and the office of Governor Chandler about the strike situation.

Union pickets were withdrawn Tuesday night from all points under picket. Asked the reason for the move, a union representative said, "Maybe it was because it had been rumored we couldn't hold our men together without having them on picket lines; maybe it was because the company had spread the rumor that the gas supply was threatened, or it could have been to show the company we can sit as long as it can." In a joint statement Harry L. Drenner, the union's district director, and Frank Branham, local union president, said that all members of the union have been urged to comply to the fullest degree with all provisions of the restraining order issued by Judge Hill last Sunday.

"We are convinced that our members have and will continue to abide by the law," the statement added.

Pharmacist of Quarter-Century Ago Becomes Mystery Man Here This Week

Fred Wilhoit, 52, well known here a quarter of a century ago when he was working as a pharmacist at Hughes Drug Company, became a mystery man last week for several days.

Wilhoit left here 25 years ago and returned only a few days ago to work for the May Sign Company as a painter. He began staying with Mr. and Mrs. Granville Spradlin, of Middle Creek road, having known them as friends friends when he was originally a Prestonsburg resident.

Suddenly, without warning, Mr. Wilhoit was stricken with a serious illness and while in a semi-conscious condition was rushed to the Veterans hospital at Huntington. It was urged to notify relatives if he had any but no one seemed to recall where he had come or where his people resided.

Russell May, his employer, embarked upon a series of long distance telephone calls over a period of several days to run down Wilhoit's relatives. He had to start from "scratch" since not a shred of information existed in the man's effects.

Especially after many repeated and long distance calls, it was discovered that Wilhoit had at one time been in Toledo, O. Several calls to points in that city got a line on the mystery man's relatives. A call to Cincinnati resulted in a talk with the man's mother. His other relatives were located easily after that in Maysville, Ky.

May who didn't say so but he probably will make out a personal card on the next out-of-town man who goes to work for him.

He added that about 300 acres of the land would be planted in trees next spring.

By terms of the lease, Kentucky will retain water rights necessary for recreation at the lake and for industrial purposes below the dam. Jackson pointed out that a pulp mill could be ideally situated below the damsite.

The conservation camp at Dewey Lake is one of four recommended by Jackson. All would serve only children from Kentucky Village.

The state already has a similar camp for dependent children at Kentucky Dam Village in Western Kentucky.

Central City was long known as Morehead's Horse Mill, having been built on land once owned by C. S. Morehead, who operated a gristmill propelled by horsepower. After a railroad was built in 1870, the name was changed.

Nearly 15 per cent of the American household food dollar goes for milk, coffee, tea, and soft drinks—80 per cent for fresh fluid milk, 20 per cent for coffee, 10 per cent for soft drinks, and 4 per cent for tea.

TO ALL VETERANS OF FLOYD COUNTY

Believing that the Nominees of the Democratic Party would be for the best interests of the Veterans, we are asking that all veterans of this County vote in the election next Tuesday, an election that is just as important to every citizen as is a National or State-wide election.

The veterans that have served their country in its Wars in the past have an equal duty to serve it in the present by helping to choose the County and State officials. It has been proven in the past that the Democratic officials of our County have been friends of the Veterans and let us remember our friends by voting Democratic on both ballots.

GRAVE OF PATRIOT MARKED BY D.A.R. CHAPTER, SUNDAY

By GERALD GRIFFIN
 Courier-Journal East Kentucky Branch

Descendants of a Revolutionary War patriot took part Sunday in the unveiling of a marker at his grave in an ancient country cemetery a mile and a half from Oil Springs, Johnson county.

Identified only by his crudely carved initials on a slab of fieldstone for the past 117 years, the last resting place of Capt. Henry Connelley now has a polished granite marker. It was dedicated by the Harman Station Chapter, Daughters of The American Revolution.

Occupying the grave in Rice cemetery are the bones of a man who fought the British in North Carolina from 1777 through 1781. Then he founded the prominent Connelley family of Eastern Kentucky. Many of his descendants now spell their name Conley.

D.A.R. chapters in recent years have marked graves of many Revolutionary War soldiers in the Kentucky mountains. But little was known of their military exploits except through stories handed down by word of mouth through the generations.

But it is different in the case of Captain Connelley. He wrote his own war story in an affidavit submitted to a Floyd County justice of the peace, Squire James Davis, on August 15, 1833, when the veteran cavalryman was 81 years old.

He made the statement in applying for a Revolutionary War pension, which he enjoyed for seven years until his death in 1840. The pension was only $150 a year.

Mrs. C. C. Williams, Paintsville, regent of the Harman Station chapter, presided at the unveiling ceremony. J. K. Wells, also of Paintsville, delivered the address.

The captain's biography was read by a descendant, Mrs. Bacon R. Moore, Harrodsburg. Two other descendants unveiled the marker. They are Carolyn Lorraine Christmas and Betsy Jo Venters, both of Pikeville.

The Rev. Carroll W. Caudill, Ashland, delivered the invocation, Mrs. H. G. Hartzberg, Paintsville, pronounced the benediction. She is chaplain of the D.A.R. chapter.

Raising his own company of horsemen, Connelley entered the service as a captain in the North Carolina Militia July 7, 1777, according to his detailed pension application. It lists the colonels and generals under whom he served.

Among the celebrated battles he fought in were those of the Cowpens and Guilford Courthouse. He was wounded at the Battle of Colonel's Mill.

The captain raised his company originally to "keep down" the notorious and daring Tory raider, Colonel Fanning. He was creating havoc in North Carolina by murdering patriots and burning their homes. Fanning has been described as the Quaid of the Revolution.

Connelley's light-horse troop opposed the northward passage of Lord Cornwallis through North Carolina, serving under General Morgan. But his day of greatest glory was at the Battle of the Cowpens.

The Americans won and the captain recalled in his affidavit that they took a "great many military stores, cannon, baggage and 500 or 700 British and Tory prisoners."

"This applicant," Connelley declared, "commanded a company in the center.

But he was greatly humiliated at the Battle of Guilford Courthouse, which the Americans lost. There, he admitted, he "had the mortification to see my men fly at the approach of the enemy." However, he said, "This applicant remained and continued to fight until the Americans were thrown into disorder and confusion and defeated."

"I was in that battle," he declared, referring to Guilford Courthouse, "and all my men broke very near at the first charge, in a panic, and fled, and many even went home."

After his battle wounds, the captain recuperated for a while, then went into Virginia where he raised another company. He was leading this troop toward Little York (the Battle of Yorktown) when Cornwallis surrendered and the Revolutionary War was ended.

Born in Chester county, Pa., May 2, 1765, Connelley moved with his father to North Carolina as a youth.

After the war he pioneered in what now is Johnson county, Kentucky, on historic Little Paint Creek. He moved to Rowan county in 1830 but returned to Johnson county a short time later.

Although he received but a manager's pension, his widow, Temperance Connelley, was allowed $600 a year.

A new punch-card form of Series B U. S. Savings Bonds issued beginning with October, 1957, will enable the Treasury Department to save around $20,000 a year in printing costs alone.

Lee Fitzpatrick, 80, Succumbs at His Home Near W. Prestonsburg

Lee Fitzpatrick, 80 years old, member of a well-known Floyd county family, died Wednesday at 7 a.m. at his home on the Middle Creek road, near West Prestonsburg. Death was caused by uremia.

A son of Isaac and Anna Stueber Fitzpatrick, he was a native of Middle Creek. A farmer, he spent his entire life in that section. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Maude Fitzpatrick, one brother, Henry Fitzpatrick, of Russell, and one sister, Mrs. Rhoda Stumbo, of the Middle Creek Road.

The funeral will be held at the Freewill Baptist Church here at 10 a.m. Friday. The Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial will be made under direction of the Moore Funeral Home.

THIS MAN AND HIS FAMILY DESERVES YOUR SUPPORT

Reading that statement at the top of this advertisement you may ask—Why?

The answers are many. For some of the answers ask those who know V. A. Smiley best. Let them tell you about him, his wife and 16 fine children. Let them tell you of the daily walks of this humble man, of his hard work; of the days he works even when he is physically unable to work if he considered his own comfort and welfare; of his unassuming honesty, of his family's brave outlook on life even when the going is toughest.

Nobody can deny that Varney Smiley deserves a helping hand from all who believe that goodness and honesty should be honored and recognized. He is not begging for charity, although he is a poor man and the demands on the little he has are great — he merely asks from the people of his home county help that will cost them nothing.

These folks here pictured—Varney Smiley and his wife and children—are the kind of people who make America great. Theirs is a courage you cannot help but admire. All who know them know how they face up to their problems courageously, never complaining; all know of their conduct day after day, year after year.

V. A. Smiley will make Floyd county a Jailor as good as any Floyd county in all its long history has had—if you, the people, will let him.

Don't forget V. A. Smiley for Jailor—don't forget those who depend upon him—on election day, Nov. 5th.

Here's a good reason Kentucky certified seeds are available to the farmer: Certified wheat seed, it has been found, averages less than common wheat; common wheat may run as high as 125 weed seeds per pound, the USDA says. The data was compiled from drill box samples taken at random from more than 1,000 locations.

'WAYWARD BUS' CAUSES DRIVERS TO QUIT WORK

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 30 — A meandering bus driver is blamed for the Scott-Nickels Bus Company strike, now in its second day.

It seems he took the high road instead of the low one, or maybe it's the other way around. But the owner of the company, Dr. J. E. Johnson, said one thing's certain: Henry Hackney, about 45, a driver with 14 years' experience, "crossed over the bridge" to Kentucky when he shouldn't have and drove into Williamson by way of Kentucky's Blackberry Creek Road, completely ignoring the patrons on the schedule route, U. S. 49 in West Virginia.

The Blackberry road is better because construction work is under way on U. S. 49, but the franchise doesn't permit such doings, Johnson said.

As a result, Hackney was discharged, as Johnson put it, a "multiplicity of reasons." That incidentally, Hackney's apparent liking for Blackberry Creek road may have something to do with some boulders tumbling down the mountainside last summer on U. S. 49. They demolished his bus and several patrons were shaken up.

used to get behind the wheels of their buses Tuesday.

Since Scott-Nickels is the only bus line in the area, some 15,000 patrons have been inconvenienced on the West Virginia and Kentucky sides.

Many have organized car pools and many more are hitchhiking into this trading community for the Tug River Valley area.

Officials of the bus company and of Local 197 of the United Construction Workers, representing the bus drivers, are to meet Thursday.

Incidentally, Hackney's apparent liking for Blackberry Creek road may have something to do with some boulders tumbling down the mountainside last summer on U. S. 49. They demolished his bus and several patrons were shaken up.

Virginia Firm's Bid On Park Improvements Tentatively Accepted

The Interstate Park Commission voted tentative acceptance Wednesday of a bid submitted by a Virginia firm for construction of roads, picnic areas, and guardrails at the park.

The bid, $33,400, was submitted by Roger Brothers Construction Company, Grundy, Va., last month, but the commission set it aside because of confusion in the specifications. The bid was $7,000 greater than the estimated cost.

The commission authorized Chairman K. J. Day to award the contract upon approval by the Finance department of Kentucky and Virginia.

The bids of Brown Construction Company, Whitesburg, Ky., for construction of a 26,700-gallon reservoir was also accepted pending approval by the two states.

Brown's bid was $58,738.44, compared with an estimated cost of $46,650.

Lee Moore, 83, Victim At Son-in-Law's Home; Burial Made On Rock Flk.

Lee Moore, 83, who died at the home of his son-in-law, Simon Hunter, at Mounds, Tuesday, will be buried Friday in the Chaffin cemetery on Rock Fork Creek, near Garrett. Mr. Moore died of dropsy.

A son of John Moore, he was a native of Knott county. Surviving him are three daughters, Mrs. Hunter, of Mounds, Mrs. Elsie Tuttle, of Mounds, and Mrs. Ella Chaffin, of Mounds; one brother, Sumner Moore, of Pyramid, and two sisters, Mrs. Seville Nolen, of Pyramid, and Mrs. Rhoda Coburn, whose address was unavailable. He also leaves 21 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites will be conducted from the Ball Branch Baptist Church by the Rev. Banner Mann, D.D., and Bert Howard. Burial will be under direction of the Turner-Ryan Funeral Home.

An Appeal to Reason

The people who elect one of their fellow-citizens to public office expect not only honest, efficient service in that office but they also naturally expect that official to be willing and able to use his influence in behalf of the people and their communities as a service OUTSIDE the routine duties of office.

In this election of a State Senator to represent our district you, the people, naturally expect whomever you elect to be willing and able not only to introduce legislation and vote intelligently on this bill or that, BUT ALSO TO BE ABLE TO USE HIS INFLUENCE AT FRANKFORT TO GET THINGS DONE—to get roads built, for instance.

So we ask you—Which of the candidates for State Senator would you think could get more done for Floyd county, or Knott county, or Martin county?

We know you are sensible people, and so we believe you will agree that that man would be JERRY FONCE HOWELL.

We make that statement without thought of casting any reflection on the ability of his opponent, Burnis Martin. We make it because the facts cannot be denied. They are these:

1. JERRY FONCE HOWELL has had previous experience in the State Legislature. He served a term as House Majority Leader. He is the DEMOCRATIC nominee, and is a man of goodwill. He has the influence, friendly relations and cooperative attitude necessary to get cooperation in Frankfort. HE CAN AND WILL GET THINGS DONE.

2. His opponent has had no legislative experience. He is a bitter foe for personal reasons of the Administration. He is a sharp-tongued critic, pledged to go to Frankfort and "make it hot" for the Administration. HE CAN AND WILL GET NOTHING DONE!

In view of these facts, and regardless of how you feel personally toward the Administration, Governor Chandler, Harry Lee Waterfield or anybody else, do you think we can afford to elect Burnis Martin for purely selfish, vengeful reasons?

A great road-building program is ready to start in Kentucky. Can we of this Senatorial district afford to "cut off our noses to spite our faces" by electing somebody merely to be a thorn in the Administration's side and fighting, slashing, criticizing, utterly fail to help us get the full consideration that we deserve and must have on roads, parks and other improvements?

Can we afford to waste two years, just to give one man time to vent his personal spite?

We ask you as good citizens who are interested in better roads, better schools and a better Eastern Kentucky to vote on November 5 for a man who is sound, who is interested only in doing a good job, in and out of the Legislature, for us all at a time of great opportunity.

That man is JERRY FONCE HOWELL, the DEMOCRATIC candidate for State Senator. We submit that a vote for him is a vote for your own interests and for the best interests of the section of Kentucky that means most to us all.

Cooper Says Money For School Lunches Is Being Increased

Sheriff Gorman Collins received the following telegram Tuesday from U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper:

"I have just been advised by the Department of Education that they are raising to the maximum the distribution of free school lunch money, which should be an increase of approximately 25 per cent. I am also advised that surplus corn meal is being distributed into your area to assist families on subsistence. Reorganization of the division of food distribution at Atlanta is contacting county school superintendent in relation to assistance needed. Martin Carter, Washington director of this service, is arriving in Kentucky Nov. 12 to make overall survey."

Hill Is Named Chairman Of Floyd Library Board, Succeeding Supt. Turner

County Superintendent V. O. Turner resigned from the chairmanship of the Floyd County Library Board at its meeting Monday evening at the clubhouse in Wayland of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club.

Representative Lon C. Hill, a moving force in the Bookmobile program since its inception in the county, was named his successor by unanimous vote.

Mr. Turner resigned the chairmanship because he was recently named chairman of the Regional Library Board which represents Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Morgan counties.

YOUR CLERK

PROTECTS

THE VOTERS

It is the duty of your County Court Clerk to carefully follow the absentee voting law in permitting persons to vote as absentees. As a deputy clerk, I have tried to be very careful about this. Even so, others trying to abuse the law have attempted to sneer me for protecting the integrity of the ballot.

For example, Samuel Hollified came to the clerk's office on October 29, 1937, and made the required affidavit that he expected to be absent from the county on election day. As required by law, I issued him his absentee ballot and provided a place where he could vote in privacy. He wanted to take the ballot out of the office for some purpose, and I told him the law would not permit that. He left without voting and soon came back saying he would vote the ballot in the office as required by law.

I again provided a private place for him to vote the ballot, and he voted for the candidates of his choice. As required by law, he placed the ballot in a sealed envelope in my presence, signed the envelope and I acknowledged his signature. I then deposited the ballot in the box in my presence. I did not see how he voted, do not know how he voted and did not interfere in any way with his voting as an absentee.

It has come to my attention that certain persons are trying to smear me and my husband for protecting the rights of the voters and upholding the election laws. I am making this affidavit so you will know the truth and not be influenced by false and slanderous rumors.

FARMERS GET FORESTRY AID

Floyd Plants 168 Acres In Tree Seedlings; State Seeds 11,500,000 Acres

Lexington, Ky. — Kentucky farmers were told Thursday they could order trees for forestry or erosion-control planting next year under the Government's cost-sharing program.

Kentucky plantings in the agricultural conservation program this year total more than 6,000,000 seedlings.

Roy C. Gray, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said county committees had been authorized to approve requests for trees to be planted after next January 1.

He asked the county committees to place forestry plantings high on priority lists of cost-sharing practices.

The program carries no limitation on the number of trees a farmer can plant because county committees determine the amount they can allot from their conservation funds.

Some counties use up to 25 percent of their conservation money for trees.

The county groups issue purchase orders for seedlings from the State Division of Forestry.

Nursery stocks are limited, approximately 8,000,000 seedlings being available in Kentucky with some coming from outside the state. Plantings mostly are pine.

The cost of most species is $7 a thousand with the farmer receiving cost-sharing for establishing three plantings at the rate of $18 a thousand in most counties.

A.S.C. officials reported plantings are heavier in Eastern Kentucky, several counties planting more than 50 acres of young trees.

County-by-county figures for this year aren't available, but 1956 plantings included 289 acres in Boone county, 221 in Johnson, 186 in Pike, 168 in Floyd, and 136 in Harlan.

The cost-sharing program, emphasized since 1954 in conservation practices, has averaged about 5,000 acres yearly in the state.

Kentucky has about 11,500,000 acres in woodlands, with a goal set at increasing the total 10 percent in the next 25 years.

The seedlings would be suitable for pulpwood in 12 to 15 years.

State Department of Health. Thirty-five counties now have more than 100 cases, it was noted. In the Eastern part of the state Pike county had 1,428 cases Tuesday. Knox county in the southeastern part had 3,120 cases. In seven days the state has been stricken with 51,487 cases.

V. O. Turner, county superintendent of schools, said this week that he was "scraping the bottom of the barrel for substitute teachers" to take the place of regularly employed teachers who are ill.

Maytown consolidated school has eight teachers ill but seven have returned to work. One is yet hospitalized. One to five teachers are ill, or have been ill, with the flu in each of the larger schools, Turner added.

The Prestonsburg school system, while having many cases, may pull through without closing. Last week the lowest grades were stricken but the disease had attacked the upper grades by this week. Not many adult cases of flu, comparatively speaking, have yet been reported here, it has been noted.

A breakdown on reported Asian flu cases in this county and the doctor or hospital treating the patients follows: Prestonsburg General, 150 cases; Dr. J. A. Stumbo, 150 cases; Beaver Valley, 90 cases; Our Lady of the Way hospital, 30; McDowell Memorial hospital, seven cases; Dr. J. H. Allen, five and Dr. A. J. Davidson, 10.

DRIFT WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Drift Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Estill Hall, with Mrs. Ray Henrich as co-hostess. Nineteen members were present. Ten members attended the district meeting at Whitesburg. The Drift Club won third prize for its year book.

Reports on the workshops held at the district meeting were given by Mrs. Wm. Hoffman on Press and Publicity and Miss Myrtle Rakes on the Community Achievement contest.

The Youth Conservation committee is planning to open the Youth Center every Wednesday night. Program was in charge of the International Relations Committee. Films taken by I. E. Reed on his trip to Europe this past summer were shown and enjoyed.

Right subscriptions for the G. F. W. C. magazine were taken. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Wm. Hoffman, Nov. 4.

HENRY STEPHENS

Democratic Nominee
For Circuit Clerk

I wish to say to the people of Floyd County and assure they already know that I made a hard fought, vigorous campaign in the Primary to get the nomination for the office I sought, while my opponent lolled around in the sunshine at ease and received his nomination as a free gift, without any effort or expense. He didn't seek the advice of his people, but the Big Chief and his lieutenants. I want the people to know that I have been making the same effort now that I made in the Primary to be elected on November 5.

I have known my opponent for approximately thirty years or more and have worked with him in the First National Bank here in Prestonsburg for almost twenty years and you may be assured that I know more about Dick than many of you. I have never made any derogatory statement about my opponent until this week when I had the information from John Kelse Harris, an ex-magistrate that Dick had stated to him that I had been recently drinking again when he knew well and good that this statement was false and untrue, since he sees me and I see him almost everyday. It has been many years now since I have used any intoxicants of any kind. Knowing Dick as I do, I didn't think for one minute that he would make a false accusation against me but nevertheless has. It has always hurt and pains me to lose confidence in a friend and fellow man. The Bible says that "He who is guilty of the least is guilty of the whole," and you are well aware of what it says about liars and if you don't read it for yourself.

I am sure you readers of the Times have noticed the names of the endorsements Dick has been receiving, many of which if not all were prepared and written by him and paid for by him for their publication.

Many of these endorsements are misleading in that they do not tell the motive or reason behind them. Take the following one for instance, which I will endeavor to explain more fully: No doubt you saw the endorsement last week of Rev. L. P. Tussey, in which he not only endorsed Dick but Gorman Collins, Park Dings and Joyce Short Allen and I think you are entitled to know the facts as for as it affects me, L. P. is a cousin of mine and a nephew by marriage of Robert Slone.

Robert Slone is also a cousin of mine and attended school under me, but in later years he married a daughter of Wm. Haywood, and Wm. Haywood married a first cousin of my father, Robert Slone became a candidate for Magistrate on the Republican ticket about the year 1929, and was elected to that office. My brother Jim who had married Virgie Ousley, a daughter of Sam Ousley, who had a large family, all Democrats and through the influence of my brother Jim, a great number of them supported Robert Slone for the office but, later after Robert had been in office for a short time, it seems that his position went to his head, and he began not only using his office in making arrests and trying people who he had help to apprehend. My brother drank a great deal and so help to apprehend. On about February 11, 1931, while my brother and Jobe Haywood were riding a mule up Spurlock Creek, they met Robert Slone and Joe E. Reffitt and during some kind of an encounter my brother the only one I had was shot and killed by Robert Slone while on his mule. On the first trial Robert Slone received a verdict of guilty fixing his penalty at life.

Now back to the endorsement of Dick Sperlock and others as heretofore stated. One week ago last Saturday Robert Slone came to Bob Francis store with Rev. L. P. Tussey and bought a new suit of clothes for L. P. and on the following Monday Robert and L. P. went to the office of the Times and Robert wrote out the endorsement referred to and which L. P. signed and for which Robert Slone paid, then and there. I have nothing against L. P. for signing this statement as he has the right to do, and I hope after the election is over he will continue to be my friend. I have used every effort possible to tell the plain, unvarnished truth and I know the people who are well acquainted with me will believe what I have stated. I hope when this election is over there will be no contests. There will be none on my part. When you cast your vote for those whom you believe to be truthful and you will do the deed for yourself. All of which I respectfully submit for your consideration.

I am faithfully yours,
HENRY STEPHENS

Howard and Music Cited By Kentucky State Police For Part in 1948 Action

State Police Lt. Homer Howard and Trooper Benjamin Music were cited recently for "outrage and fortitude in accord with the highest traditions of the State Police."

The action for which the two were cited was the 1948 incident near Hager Hill in which Lt. Howard was seriously wounded and two persons whom the troopers were attempting to arrest were killed in an exchange of shots.

The awards program was not initiated till last year, this accounting for the fact that the officers' citations were so long delayed. The citations were presented to the two men by Paul M. Smith, State Police director, and James E. Bassett, deputy commissioner of public safety.

Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Jobie Click, of Martin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Lou Click, to Mr. Emanuel M. Poulou, New York City. Miss Click, now residing in New York, is employed as a hair stylist, and Mr. Poulou is an electric engineer. The wedding will take place, it was announced, at Christmas at Martin.

Native of County Is Fatally Injured By Auto in Virginia

Miss Rebecca Jane Merritt, 62, a resident of Norfolk, Va., but a Floyd county native, was fatally injured Wednesday of last week when she was hit by an automobile as she was crossing a street near home. The accident occurred at 5:10 a.m., but she lived until 8 a.m., dying in a hospital there. Miss Merritt, who was never married, had been living in Norfolk for several years. She was a daughter of the late Taylor and Elizabeth DeKostert Merritt of this county. Four brothers survive: Mill Merritt, Hickory, Va.; W. J. Merritt, and H. L. Merritt, both of Norfolk; and E. P. Merritt, of Emma.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m., Saturday at the Free Will Baptist Church at Cow Creek, the Rev. Bill Amburgey officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery on Cow Creek under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

George Evans, of Wayland, a heavy buyer of truck mine coal, and who had been completely shut-down for four days, resumed work Tuesday of last week. His operations will be back to normal by next week, he believes.

Evans pointed out the export market has lost from 40c to 75c per ton in the last three months and the market in this country is depressed. He was a bit optimistic about the future, particularly his own mine. He said he had one of the best work records in the field and has hopes it will continue. The conditions into which truck mining had sunk was affecting trucks all over the county, it was found this week by a limited survey of the situation. All mines in the Cow Creek area, including Music and Spradlin who employ 25 men, were down as of Wednesday. Music and Spradlin expect to resume work in a few days, however.

Coal loaded by truckers connected with the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association has been declining for several weeks, according to reports by that organization. As of this time last year the truck operators had loaded 5213 cars of 50 tons each but the production this year was only 5379 cars.

Production for the week ending Oct. 29 was only 1122 cars, much less than in preceding weeks. While the overall production of the members of the Big-Sandy-Elkhorn field operators was running 13% percent over last year at this time the tonnage produced by them was sliding severely. The week ending October 13 production was 5396 cars but by the next week ending October 19 it was down to 4041 for a drop of 554 cars of 50 tons each.

Mr. Howell told The Times however, in a telephone conversation Wednesday morning immediately after reading the statement in The Courier-Journal that he would state under oath that he never saw Talmadge Martin in his life until Martin had filed for State Senator, and that Martin then was pointed out to him.

At the same time, Lon C. Hill, P. Hill and H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. denied that they had signed the petition of Bennie Blackburn for Senator. The names of all three men were said to be on the Blackburn petition.

A humorous sidelight to the filing of the Blackburn petition was noted this week. The typewritten petition was originally headed, "The Right to Bolt Party", but this had been crossed out and "The Right to Work Party" written in.

Burns Martin said the filing of Talmadge Martin as a candidate for the office is an obvious attempt to confuse the voters by a similarity of names.

The ruling which went into effect October 15, would affect seven of 12 participating hospitals.

The information was contained in a letter from Dr. Asa Barnes, Louisville, area medical administrator of the union's welfare and retirement fund.

Not affected are the U.M.W. hospitals in Eastern Kentucky. These are located at Harlan, Hazard, McDowell, Whitesburg, Pikeville, and South Williamson.

Private and community hospitals deleted from the participating list are the Mount Mary hospital, Hazard; the Prestonburg General hospital, and the West Liberty hospital. The fund, according to Dr. Barnes' notice, no longer will pay for any services provided at these hospitals.

Neither will the fund pay for maternity cases at the Methodist hospital at Pikeville nor maternity or pediatric cases at Our Lady of the Way hospital at Martin. The latter hospital will be limited to general medical and surgical cases.

Only maternity cases at the Paintsville clinic will be paid for by the fund. Emergency medical and surgical cases only will be paid for at Sharon Heights Hospital at Jenkins.

Participating non-union hospitals not affected by the ruling are Our Lady of Bellefonte, a Catholic hospital at Ashland, and the Paintsville hospital.

There's a new form of Series E Savings Bond on sale beginning with October. Hold it up to the light and you'll see a pattern of small holes punched in the left end. MOST ACTIVE MONTHS FOR HURRICANES NAMED
 September, August and October have proved to be the most active months for hurricanes, according to records compiled by the Navy's Hurricane Hunters. Since 1880, approximately 174 have occurred in September, 148 in August, and 133 in October. July, November and June are next in frequency in that order.

Luke Prater, 74, Dies At Pikeville Hospital; Burial Made At Paulsby
 Luke Prater, 74, Pikeville, died Saturday at 5 p.m. at the Miners Memorial hospital of Pikeville. He was the father of Mrs. James Broglin, of Wheelwright. His wife died several years ago.
 Mr. Prater, a retired miner, succumbed to a heart condition complicated by influenza. He was a member of the F.O.C.P. and of the Christian church for 35 years.
 Surviving besides Mrs. Broglin, are a daughter, Mrs. Arlie Wright, and a son, Everett Prater, both of Pikeville. A sister, Mrs. Malcolm Kinney, of Shebana, also survives as do eight grandchildren.
 Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, the Rev. E.W. Dammron officiating. Burial was made in the Keel cemetery at Paulsby, near Pikeville, under the direction of Baker Funeral Home.

MANY DEATHS PREVENTABLE

Accident Fatalities In Floyd Co. Reviewed By Statistical Group

Special to The Times
NEW YORK, Oct. 31—Of particular interest at this time, because of the forthcoming National Safety Congress in Chicago, is the annual report of accidental deaths and injuries in Floyd county.
 The matter is the subject of special reports, recently issued by the National Office of Vital Statistics and by the National Safety Council. They show the extent of the toll for the 12 months ending January, 1958.
 Taken into account, for all parts of the country, are accidents caused by motor vehicles, those due to falls in the home, fires, explosions, occupational mishaps, transportation accidents on railroads and airplanes, drownings, shootings and the rest.
 Among residents of Floyd county, the Federal survey shows, the number of deaths caused by accidents was 28 in the year. Of them, auto accidents were responsible for 12. The toll was higher, in proportion to population, than that found in most of the United States. The local rate was 58.3 fatal accidents per 100,000 people. Nationally, it averaged 52.9 per 100,000.
 It was lower, however, than the record in the East-South-Central States, which was 61.9 per 100,000. In the state of Kentucky, it was 58.1 per 100,000.
 While the loss of life is the most tragic part of the accident picture, it falls, by far, to tell the whole story. The data shows that for every one killed, there are some 101 others injured through accidents.
 For the United States as a whole, the death toll reached 95,000 and the number of injured, 9,600,000 in the past year.
 The cost of these accidents, states the National Safety Council, was a stupendous $11.2 billion. This includes wages lost, medical expenses, overhead cost of insurance, interrupted production schedules, time lost by workers other than those injured and property damage.
 Floyd county's share of this cost, if it were assumed to be in direct proportion to the number of accidents, would be $3,000,000.

Mrs. Arrella Sealf, 79, In Victim At Pikeville; Was Native Of Mare Cr.
 Mrs. Arrella McGuire Sealf, 79, of Pikeville, died Tuesday at 1:22 p.m. at home. Although she had been in failing health for several years she was seriously ill only a short time. Cardiac embolus and hypertension were given as the cause of death.
 Mrs. Sealf was a native of Mare Creek, this county, the daughter of Frank and Jane Stratton McGuire and had resided at Pikeville 48 years. Her husband, Mitchell Sealf, preceded her in death in 1953. She was a member of the Preswitt Baptist church.
 Surviving sons and daughters are John Sealf and Mrs. Rebecca Layne, both of Pikeville, Robert Sealf, Akron, Ohio, Roland Sealf, Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. Minnie Robinson, also of Pikeville, Joe Sealf, Phelps, Ky., and Mrs. Max Marvel, Detroit. Twenty grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren also survive. She had no surviving brothers or sisters.
 Funeral rites will be conducted Friday, at 2 p.m. from the Preswitt Baptist church at Guilmare, Pike county, the Rev. Johnny Conley, and Rev. James Seales, pastor of the Pikeville Christian church, officiating. Burial will be made in the Scott cemetery at Guilmare under the direction of the Baker Funeral Home.

Judgment Is Upheld In Howes Meade Case
 A U. S. District Court judgment in a suit by C. Edward Goldberg, Arlington, Va., against W. Howes Meade, Lexington, has been upheld by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. Meade, former resident of Paintsville, is an ex-Congressman from the Seventh Kentucky district.
 Goldberg had sued Meade for installments due on a note negotiated in June, 1954 in connection with Meade's operation of Tele-Phone, Inc., of Middleboro and Winchester, Judge H. Church Ford found that Meade was indebted to Goldberg and his associates for equipment installments on the note totaling $21,000, plus interest and future installments as they were to accrue.
 The United States has 277 soil conservation districts, 93 percent of the farm in districts, 18 states and two territories completely covered and about 14,000 volunteer workers serving as elected supervisors, says the Soil Conservation Service.

Appeal To Young Voters Of Floyd County

As President of the Floyd County Young Democrats I want to take this method of contacting the young voters of Floyd County. I especially would like to impress upon the minds of the young people who are voting for their first time, that this is your first chance to cast your vote for what your fathers and forefathers have fought to preserve, the right to vote freely and un molested without fear of losing your rights.

You have registered to vote on the Democrat ticket. Therefore, it is your duty to vote the straight Democrat ticket. We hear the same old story every year: "We should never stick to the Party, they say we should vote for the man. My young friends, our forefathers that I mentioned, had this in mind when they formed our system for casting votes, they knew that when you vote for the man that you are doing away with the party system. By doing away with the party system you are making way for men like Caesar, Napoleon, Hitler and Stalin to gain power through a combined false effort.

You ask yourselves what does this have to do with Floyd County Elections? Remember, the habits you form when you are young may someday become the guide for the nation. So, you see, our forefathers were not so dumb, they knew human nature and how it worked. Therefore, they gave us our chance to VOTE FOR THE MAN by way of the Primary Election. Thus we retain our idea of voting for the man and by voting our party through final elections.

For these reasons I urge you as new Democrats and future leaders of our great party to vote the straight Democrat Ticket and retain our forefathers' belief in the future of our country.

FRED JAMES, PRESIDENT, FLOYD COUNTY YOUNG DEMOCRATS.

Our service is marked by our high standards of integrity and sympathetic attention to all details in accordance with the family's wishes.

One call to us, and our thoughtful staff takes care of all arrangements at time of sorrow. Our reverent services are a lasting, beautiful memory.

Prestonsburg Senior Reorganization
 The Prestonsburg Senior club held its re-organization meeting October 22. The following officers were elected: President, Daniel Smith, vice-president, Judy Haeger, secretary, Holly Bee Hall; reporter, Jack Howard. Song leaders and other committees will be appointed later.

Mrs. Virginia Turner replaces Mrs. Frankie Best as leader for the club this year.
 The club will meet the second Tuesday of each month at 12:15.

4-H Council Meeting
 The Floyd County 4-H Council held its October meeting in the Allen lunch room. This meeting was primarily for the purpose of establishing goals and objectives for 1957-58. Some of the goals set up are: Have 33 clubs with 1,000 active members and 80 local leaders; 90 4-H'ers from this county attend camp and 300 members attend County Rally Day; 720 projects completed and turned in; 500 4-H entries in the County Fair; 1 judging team for State Fair; 8 new members to start purebred pig projects and to new 1/4 acre straw-berry projects.
 The next regular meeting of the council is November 23 at Allen.

NEW PIG CHAIN MEMBERS
 The Floyd County 4-H Council voted Randolph Hicks of the Maytown Club, a new member of the Pig Chain. Randolph will receive a sow pig from Rhoda Ann Gresham. Seven more members will be added this year. Any 4-H Club members may apply and these applications are considered by the 4-H Council. Those interested in applying this year should get their applications in within the next week. Blank may be had by contacting the Extension Office.

A California scientist has developed and field-tested (on 20,000 birds) a new type vaccine against Newcastle disease. The vaccine reportedly holds off the disease 13 weeks for the first injection, 53 weeks on the second. It can be given chicks of any age, does not spread the disease to unvaccinated or partially susceptible chickens, does not produce symptoms of Newcastle itself, and does not cause failure of other latent diseases the chickens may be carrying.

Sgt. Charlie Vance Completes Training

Vilbeck, Germany — Sgt. Charlie Vance, son of Mrs. Jane Vance, of McDowell, Ky., recently completed the armored crewman course at the Seventh Army Tank Training Center in Germany.

The four-week course included advanced classroom and practical training in tank gunnery, communications, tactics and maintenance.

Sergeant Vance is regularly assigned as a tank commander in Company D of the 3d Armored Division's 69th Armor. He entered the Army in 1944 and arrived in Germany on this tour of duty in September 1955. His wife, Madge, is with him in Germany.

The first six months of 1957 milk production was 6.3 billion pounds, a new record for the six-month period. Old record was 6.2 billion pounds.

Capitol Notebook

Frankfort, Oct. 31—Three Kentucky State mental hospitals have won praises from the National Association for Mental Health.

The October 31 A. M. E. Reporter says:

"Behind the red brick walls of today's mental hospital there is nothing, yes—but there is also great reaching out for life and for the ordinary things of living. More and more frequently nowadays we hear cozier-warming stories like those from three Kentucky hospitals."

Then the publication cites:

Organization of a Boy Scout troop at Central State Hospital, Lexington. Formation of a Free Club at Central State with guest speakers from major newspapers of the area. A coffee hour with the president for new patients at Central.

Completion of an eight-week cooking course by 14 women patients at Western State hospital, Hopkinsville. They call themselves the Merry Homemakers and now constitute one of the regular homemakers groups of the area under direction of the county agent.

A program at Eastern State hospital, Lexington, giving carefully selected patients "passes" to go to the city to window shop or attend movies.

Kernan-Martin Betrothal Told

Mrs. Marguerite Kernan, of Willow Bend Road, Canisteo, New York, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Eileen Janet Kernan, of Grethel, Ky., to Elmer G. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Martin, Amba, Ky.

Miss Kernan is a graduate of Calhoun Central School, Annot- Ogden School of Nursing, Elmira, New York, and Baptist Bible Seminary, Johnson City, New York. She has been a Christian worker in Kentucky for seven years, and has also done part-time nursing at the Pikeville Methodist hospital.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of Betsy Layne high school, Caney Junior College, and University of Kentucky. He received his Master of Arts in Education this summer and is now head teacher of the Harold commo-graded school, a December wedding is planned.

Keeneland Race Course, Lexington, occupies about 150 acres of the Old Keene Place, founded on a tract of approximately 3,000 acres granted by Patrick Henry, then governor of Virginia, to his son-in-law, Rev. James Keene.

BERT COMBS ENDORSES HOWELL FOR SENATOR

Mr. Robert Wellman, Chairman
Floyd County Democratic Campaign Committee
Prestonsburg, Kentucky

Dear Bob:—

You have requested that I state my position in regard to the coming November Election and especially in regard to the Senatorial contest. I am glad to take this opportunity to make my position clear.

I have always believed in our Two-Party System, and as you know, the Democratic Party is the party of my choice. That being so, I believe that when the nominees of the Democratic Party are duly selected, either by primary or by some other method authorized by party rules, it is the duty of good Democrats to support the nominees so selected. Consequently, it is my intention to give my full support to all of the Democratic nominees at the coming election, including the Democratic nominee on the separate ballot in the Senatorial race.

Very truly yours,
BERT COMBS

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

As this campaign draws to a close, our hearts and thoughts are concentrating on choosing the officials to represent us in our local government.

Kathleen and I are very grateful for the kindness and the long hours of work so many of our friends and relatives have shown us during this campaign. We shall continue to strive hard to be worthy of your faith in us.

As your County Court Clerk, I have made your office a place where you were welcome and where you were efficiently and courteously served.

As you go to the polls on November 5, may God be your guide in selecting your officials.

WELL-LAID PLANS PLANS AND ORGANIZATION

for production of the "Stephen the Story" at Bardonia are proceeding apace. Ted Crook writes us from that city.

Developments to date include:

The Chamber of Commerce has organized a drama association to stage the story, to be written by Paul Green.

An amphitheater is to be built by the State at My Old Kentucky Home.

A campaign to raise $50,000 as a sustaining fund gives every evidence of reaching its goal.

The first performance is scheduled for July 4, Foster's birthday.

LOGROLLING

INCIDENTALLY, all this is requiring a lot of logrolling—everybody helping everybody else—in the figurative sense.

But some genuine logrolling took place at My Old Kentucky Home recently, sponsored by the Nelson County Homemakers.

A group of Kentucky's first belles participated in laying the logs of hospitality house at the State shrine. The log house came from the Old State Fairgrounds, Louisville. It will be used as a mail-order store that will feature Kentucky-made items.

Ladies helting the timber included Mrs. A. B. Chandler, wife of the governor; Mrs. Harry Lee Waterfield, wife of the lieutenant governor; Mrs. Thelma Stovall, secretary of state; Miss Mary Louise Post, auditor and Mrs. John Whitesides, president-elect of the homemakers.

MORE ON LAFAYETTE

SOME KENTUCKY recently celebrated the visit of Marquis de Lafayette to the Commonwealth in 1824, several bits of Lafayette lore have come to our attention.

Corrine R. Whitehead writes from Eddyville that the French here visited the old brick house of Mr. Henry Lady near Eddyville. When he departed, the letter says, he took 12 barrels of dirt to France to fill his grave.

The old house, built long before 1800, still stands, but is abandoned, the letter says. Lady added there, so the story goes, in about 1800 and took up 840 acres of land. Slaves presumably built the house.

Former Floyd Student Sophomore Class Prexy At Pikeville College

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Oct. 31 (Sp.)—Jimmie "Tex" Thompson, a former Floyd countian who is now a resident of Palm Beach, Florida, has been elected president of Pikeville College's sophomore class.

Thompson, the son of James Thompson and Mrs. William Embury, is a Wayland native and a 1951 graduate of Martin high school, where his principal extracurricular interest was baseball. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said. He served a four-year hitch in the U. S. Air Force from 1951 to 1955, serving in the European and Korean theaters of operations and rising to the rank of staff sergeant. He held a Commendation Medal and a Korean Presidential Unit Citation.

One of the baseball pitchers who helped the Pikeville Bears post a record of seven wins and one defeat against other college teams last spring, Thompson is now a sportswriter on The Record, student newspaper of the college.

LOOK DOWN THAT MUDDY ROAD HANG YOUR HEAD IN SHAME!

The campaign is now coming to an end and I have used every means to acquaint you with the facts. Facts regarding my accomplishments as your sheriff for the past four years. I have told you of the arrests we have made, the whiskey we have seized, the drunken drivers we have taken off our highways. I have told you what happened to many of these cases in our courts—my job as your Sheriff has not been easy—but I have done my best. I now have 10 lawsuits pending against me—all, I maintain, sponsored by my opposition in the Courthouse.

I have traveled up every creek and hollow in this county and honestly, friends, I am ashamed at the conditions of our roads. Many are no better now than they were 50 years ago. Our county equipment is being used for all kinds of private uses. Some of our county employees have grown stale on the job, their only concern is payday and their chief duty is to run the grader over our roads just before every election. I have promised you without any ifs, ands, or buts to remedy this situation. I will take Floyd county out of the Gas and Water business and put us in the middle of the biggest road building project Eastern Kentucky has ever seen. Do you want me to do it? The decision is yours to make. Henry has had eight years as Judge, 12 as Magistrate and failed. Failed the men and women and the school children at Tinker Fork, Frazure Creek, Mink Branch, Mud Creek, Spurlock Fork, Bill Hall Branch, Tolers Creek, Spider John Hall Branch, Bayes Branch, John's Creek, Mare Creek, Tom's Creek, just to mention a few of these creeks that have no roads. If you can go over these roads without hanging your head in Shame—then you are capable of voting against me. But I'm begging you now to

FOOD NOTES

By Dixie T. Higgins
Home Demonstration Agent

Beef chunk is not only one of the best buys in meat, but it is also one of the most flavorful when it is well prepared. Being a tough cut, it must be tenderized with long slow moist cooking, as in a pot roast, or put through the grinder.

Poof specialists at the University of Kentucky have made use of the latter method in this recipe:

Beef Quickie
1 1/2 c uncooked rice
1 lb. chuck beef, ground
1 T. shortening
1 T. salt
1/2 c chopped onion
1/2 c chopped green pepper
2/3 c tomatoes
1/8 t pepper

While the rice is cooking (will make 1 cup), brown the ground beef in the fat, stirring it occasionally over-medium heat. When well browned, add onion and green pepper for light browning. Add tomatoes, cooked rice and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly for 30 to 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. The longer cooking period will develop flavor. Serves 4 to 6.

Menu: Beef quickie, green beans, pear and cottage cheese salad, corn muffins, butter, and pineapple sherbet with cookies.

NOTICE

The Floyd County Board of Education will accept bids up to 1:00 o'clock EST, November 16, 1957 on the Harold, Prater Creek and Drift Bluffs projects. Plans and specifications may be obtained from the office of the Superintendent of Schools. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

Since it is just a few days until the election, when you will go to the polls and select your county officials for the next four years, I make this appeal to you.

I need not tell you how important the Sheriff's office is to you and your children. It is with this thought I wish to remind you, be sure you know who you are voting for.

I have stated before, and I now repeat, that no man or group of men control my thinking or actions—nor will I when elected your Sheriff, have to have someone run the office for me.

I want to take this opportunity to pledge to you, the people of Floyd county, that I will work faithfully, honestly, efficiently and soberly for the next four years, when elected your Sheriff.

I do not condone immorality, and no man in Floyd county has ever questioned my honesty or sincerity or integrity.

It is with these qualifications and pledges that I urge each of you to go to the polls on Nov. 5. Vote for and elect me as your Sheriff.

D. P. (Perk) DINGUS.

"EARTH'S BUT A DESERT DREAM"

I have just come from a program in which a young man, still less than half my age, testified that the earth is a dreary place, that the world is rapidly going to the devil, that it isn't safe to be on the streets or in love. That is great news. She must read the scandal sheets and believe every word of them. Or she must not read at all or maybe only printed stuff that agrees with her brand of religion.

for some poor tenant farmer whose entire stock of earthly belongings had burned up in a fire. We chopped wood for the old maids up the creek and took in food for them to hold them together rather than sending them to the county farm.

AN OPEN LETTER TO JERRY FONCE HOWELL:

I notice in the paper that Happy Lee Waterfield has told you that the Administration needs you in the Senate as Floor Leader because of your ability as a leader.

I am a poor man with a wife and nine children, seven of them and one grandchild, together with my wife and myself, live in a three room house on the head of Prater Creek, in the same neighborhood where you grew up.

Now COUSIN! I am a disabled veteran of World War II, with this large family, among which are two sets of twins and surely, with my loyalty to your CROWD, I was entitled to keep this road job.

You say to us that Happy Lee needs you and boast about how close you are to his Administration. Now OLD COUSIN! If you are so close and powerful with the Frankfort CLIQUE, answer me this. Why, out of the millions of dollars that have been spent for roads within the past year, is it that our good old county of Floyd has seen no new roads being built when other local counties are getting their share?

School Amendment Gets Education Groups' O.K.

An impressive list of groups devoted to the cause of public education in Kentucky is backing the School Superintendent's Amendment to be voted on November 5, according to William C. Embry, Louisville, chairman of the Non-Partisan Committee for the School Amendment. "Nearly every day we learn of additional group endorsements," the chairman said. "This amendment has become a statewide topic of discussion with parent-teacher, school board and community groups, and the more it is discussed the better it seems to look to the people who are always working for educational progress in Kentucky."

Basically the amendment sets up a constitutional State Board of Education of nine members who will appoint a Commissioner of Education. This position will supplant that of the Superintendent of Public Education, now an elective post. "More and more people are becoming willing to trust our courts to dispose of any technicalities in this amendment if we can win those major advantages," Embry said. He gave a partial list of endorsing groups as follows:

Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, Kentucky Council For Education, Kentucky School Boards Association, Kentucky Education Association and all eleven district Associations, Kentucky Association of School Administrators, Department of Classroom Teachers, KCA, State Board of Education, Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education, State Department of Education, Advisory Council on Public Education in Kentucky, Associations of School Superintendents and of Secondary School Principals of Central Kentucky, and many local groups.

WOMAN'S CLUB NEWS

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's club held its regular program meeting, October 18, at the club house at Watland. The meeting was opened by the vice-president, Mrs. L. B. Price. The program leader, Patricia DeCoursey, gave a very interesting program on "Religions of the World." She discussed the following: Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Mohammedanism, Judaism, and Christianity. In closing her program, she read a beautiful prayer, and asked that each person be faithful in prayer.

A brief business session was held. The club vote to support the Health Tax 100% in the November election.

The ways and means committee discussed plans for a Stock Hop to be given October 23 in the Watland gym. It was decided that the basement of the club house would be offered as a base for the Bookmobile's library. This is the club's community achievement for the contest.

Mrs. Crit Wells gave the highlights of the convention held in Whitesburg, October 19. Those attending from this club were Mrs. Crit Wells, Mrs. Ellen Hornsby, Mrs. Estill Higgins, Mrs. M. M. Collins. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by hostesses, Mrs. Estill Higgins and Ellen Hornsby, to the following guests and members: Mrs. L. B. Price, Mrs. C. D. Francis, Mrs. J. E. Miller, Mrs. Charles Hornsby, Mrs. Glenn Pack, Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. Delbert Sloan, Mrs. Lucy Scott, Mrs. Mable Sloan, Mrs. M. M. Collins, Mrs. Crit Wells, Mrs. Milton Trusty.

O.E.S. Meeting Scheduled. Wayland Star chapter No. 434, O. E. S., will hold its regular meeting November 7. Initiation is planned. The candidate is Mrs. Burette Moore.

The worthy matron, Patricia DeCoursey, attended the "Cathedral Session" of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, held in Louisville, Oct. 21, 22, 23, and she will give her report on it.

Every member is urged to attend this meeting. There will not be further notices of the meeting.

The Willing Workers Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Earl Castle at Ball, Tuesday, Mrs. J. T. Spillman, the president, presided. The lesson project was on Buying Costs and Suits. Mrs. Spillman and Mrs. Dixie Higgins taught the lesson.

An interesting film was shown on Pull Clubbing. The meeting was combined with the sewing group from the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland woman's club. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. T. Spillman. A buffet luncheon was served to the following: Medames J. T. Spillman, Thelma Turner, Johnnie Wells, Crit Wells, M. M. Collins, Ellen Hornsby, Glen Pack, Delbert Sloan, Milton Trusty, Sip Hatcher, Lucy Scott, Oliver Sloan, Dixie Higgins, and Mrs. Castle.

CARTER FOR CORONER

FRIENDS AND VOTERS

The Coroner's office is one in which experience and qualifications count. Certainly this is one of the most important offices in your county. Remember when you cast your vote that you are voting for the best interest of your friends, yourself, and your family. You know you have a coroner who is qualified by education and experience who has served you well and will continue to do so. My past record speaks for itself. No matter where or at what hour you may need the services of a coroner, you know I'm available and capable of performing my duties. I will serve you in the future as I have in the past.

Sincerely,
JAMES J. CARTER

FLOYD COUNTY FAIR PRIZE WINNERS

To The People

Of Floyd County

I promised you before the Primary that if you would elect me your Tax Commissioner I would:

1. Keep the Tax Commissioner's office open for your convenience and stay in the office myself as much as reasonably possible;
2. Give individual attention to the assessment of every tax payer;
3. Come and look at your property myself when requested to do so;
4. Assess all property on an equal basis and play no favorites;
5. Devote all my time to the job and do my level best to make you a good Tax Commissioner.

You were good enough to vote for me in the Primary and for your kindness, I will always be grateful. Now, before the November election I want to renew the pledges I made to you before the Primary and to humbly ask for your support on November 5. Again I promise that I will do my very best to make you a good Tax Commissioner and I will always be grateful for your confidence in me and for your friendship.

Sincerely,
MANIS CONLEY

DEMOCRATS and REPUBLICANS

Reward Good Citizenship
With Your Vote

I am 70 years old and have been a strong Democrat all my life. I have only a few times departed from my political convictions in state or national elections. In county and local races, however, when practically every deed in the lives of all candidates are known to almost every voter, the important thing is to vote for the best citizen. The very least that we voters can do to encourage and reward good citizenship and good morals is to vote for those candidates who have lived good, clean lives.

My son-in-law, Richard (Dick) Spurlock, is the Republican nominee for Circuit Court Clerk. He did not ask for my advice before getting into this race. I did not encourage him to get into politics, nor did I try to discourage him: in his own quiet, determined way he made up his own mind.

His lifetime honesty, sincerity and friendliness has earned him many good steadfast friends in both parties. He has made many other friends while campaigning all over Floyd County this summer and fall. Reports from all sections of the county are very favorable and I believe Richard Spurlock has a better than even chance to win. He will make the people of Floyd County a good Circuit Court Clerk.

I would like to ask all my friends and relatives, who are interested in good government and good citizenship to vote for RICHARD SPURLOCK in the coming election.

Gen. William O. Butler, Mexican, 1812 War Hero Honored with Park Name

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

The 800-acre General Butler State Park, located near Carrollton, was named for the pioneer of the Mexican War, General William Orlando Butler, Kentucky hero of the War of 1812 and War with Mexico. The Butler home, removed and re-opened to the public in 1935, is located within the well-equipped park.

The Kentucky Historical Society has on display in the Old State House at Frankfort two important museum relics associated with the military career of General William Orlando Butler—the sword presented him by the legislature for heroism at Monterey and epaulettes worn by General Santa Anna, commander of the Mexican army, said to have been personally confiscated by General Butler and his nephew and military aid, Lt. John Russell Butler.

General Butler was born in Jessamine county in 1791 to Percival Butler, first adjutant-general of Kentucky, and to Mildred Hawkins Butler, sister-in-law of Colonel John Todd, ill-fated commander of the pioneers at Blue Licks (1812). The Butlers were descended from Thomas Butler of Ireland, who emigrated to the colonies prior to the American Revolution. Thomas had five officer sons in the American army. Butler county is named for Richard, the eldest.

The fourth son of old Thomas was Percival, father of General William Orlando Butler. Percival served as adjutant-general under the first four Kentucky governors.

The 1796 Percival moved from Jessamine County to the mouth of the Kentucky River and near present Carrollton, and established the Butler estate, now location of the State park. The old home was torn down in 1925 and replaced by the present structure.

General Butler was a lawyer, congressman, and twice vice-president in 1848. In the War of 1812, he quickly rose from private to major on the staff of Andrew Jackson who was disappointed when Butler resigned to complete legal studies. But in the Mexican War Butler returned to the army as major-general of volunteers, distinguishing himself in the battle of Monterey.

On February 16, 1848, General Butler received the appointment as commander of all American forces in Mexico, serving until shortly before retirement. He died in 1859 and was buried in the Butler family graveyard.

MRS. MOORE MAKES STATEMENT

DuRan Moore is my husband, we have two small children, I am a member of the Baptist Church, and October 2, we were married 13 years.

After DuRan came home from overseas, he borrowed the money and built us a home which is still carrying a G. I. Mortgage. Together we have worked and planned for the things that everyday life requires for a home and the rearing of children.

Our greatest desire as a mother and father is that we may be able to educate and guide our children in a manner that would be pleasing to God. Our greatest desire as custodian of your County Court Clerk's office is that we may ever be kind and courteous to you. We know your records are in our trust and that trust we have safeguarded even through flood and unjust attacks by those who would seek to injure our hearts and character for their own political gains.

Because you have given DuRan your vote showing your confidence in his ability, I have had the privilege of helping to serve you as a Deputy Clerk.

DuRan and I have tried very hard to run your Clerk's office so as to give efficient and courteous service, and to make you feel welcome in the Clerk's office. I think everyone will agree that we have worked hard and that the office is capably and efficiently run.

DuRan has never campaigned on a low mud-slinging level. He does not believe this is the way to build a better community in which to rear your children and ours, a community in which we can fellowship with our fellowman before, during, and after election. It is my firm belief that a candidate who campaigns or allows anyone to campaign in their behalf on a low level, injuring the feelings of their opponents and spreading false and malicious untruths, is committing a sin against God, is demoralizing our Christian Nation and is not worthy to be trusted with the important deeds and records of your County Court Clerk's office.

I have never publicly made a statement in the paper, but the article in last week's Times about the absentee ballots was false and the excerpts were taken from a case in Monroe County and were intentionally misleading and slanderous; therefore in justice to myself and my family I feel compelled to make this statement.

I PERSONALLY issued upon the sworn affidavit of the absentee voter his ballot for the recent primary. DuRan was busy campaigning and naturally could not be in the office. Because I was familiar with the absentee voting law, it was my DUTY to issue these ballots. The law is complicated and hard to administer, but I did my best to follow the law and I was kind and considerate of every voter.

After the Primary the false rumors were spread. I will always be thankful that neither the Two Special Judges, nor the Court of Appeals, nor the Grand Jury here in Floyd County found any fault with the handling of the absentee ballots by the Clerk's office. I would also like to point out that DuRan did not receive any big majority of the absentee votes. Several other candidates received about the same number as did DuRan, namely: Judge Hill, Hollie Conley, and James Carter.

I would like for DuRan's opponent to give you voters some reason for you to vote for her and to show her qualifications, because I do not feel that because she is a woman entitles her to your vote.

DuRAN not only has proven to you his qualifications for your clerk, but he also has a WOMAN and two small CHILDREN needing your help.

DuRan and I both came from large families. We both know the meaning of hard work. Along with many of you, we suffered financial loss during the recent flood and owe obligations which make it necessary for us both to work. Because of this DuRan needs your vote.

PLEASE GO TO THE POLLS ON NOVEMBER 5, and vote for DURAN, he needs your help and has proven that he is qualified to serve you.

Your friend,
Kathleen Moore.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in the city of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, on the general election day on November 5, 1967, to determine whether or not the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, shall incur an indebtedness of not exceeding $175,000, and in no event to exceed the amount of existing indebtedness of said City, a greater sum than allowed by the Constitution and laws of Kentucky necessary for the use of same. If authorized, said bonds, with interest, shall be paid off within a period of twenty-eight years from the date of issue and the city Council of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, shall levy and collect whatever annual tax upon all property subject to taxation within said City as is necessary to pay the interest on said indebtedness as it falls due and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of principal thereof within the period of twenty-eight years, to be paid to be paid each year not to exceed $14,000.

The question to be placed upon the ballot in order for the voters to vote on said question shall be in substantially the following form: "Are you in favor of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, incurring an indebtedness of not exceeding $175,000 for the purpose of constructing a swimming pool and apparatus necessary for the use of same?" Immediately following such question shall be two squares, under each of which shall be printed the word "Yes," and under the other of which shall be printed the word "No," and each voter to vote on such question.

IS IT REALLY REVENGE—OR ANOTHER STATE JOB?

For public consumption, "Hogback" Burnis Martin, professes to be a Democrat, pretends to fight for the "people's interests", and disclaim any desire for political revenge.

Such claims are necessary in order to fool the voters and mask the real motives behind his vicious campaign of smear and abuse.

Martin's real trouble is a state job for his brother Fred. During the present state administration brother Fred has held two good state jobs—as manager of Dewey Lake Boat Dock and with the Highway Department—and was dismissed from both of them.

Jerry Fonce Howell, the Democratic nominee for State Senator, had no part in the firing of Martin from his state jobs. He merely happens to be on good terms with high officials in Frankfort and, because of his experience and ability in the legislative field, was named by the senatorial committee of Floyd, Knott and Martin counties as the Democratic nominee.

Martin really wants revenge from Frankfort—not from Jerry Fonce Howell. But in order to get his revenge, or perhaps another job for Fred, he must fool the voters and discredit Howell. Do not be deceived by this self-seeking joker. For sincerity, honesty and ability vote for

Giant Elm Tree Marked Site of Religious Meet at Boonesboro, in 1775

Frankfort, Oct. 31 — The first religious service in Kentucky was celebrated May 28, 1775, under a giant elm tree near Boonesboro. Judge Richard Henderson records in his diary that the service was conducted by the Rev. John Lymb, minister of the Gospel.

Amplifying Henderson's description of the event, Professor George W. Rankin in his "History of Boonesboro" writes: "It was a religious event, absolutely unique."

"Most of the usual accessories of the service were wanting, from echoing church bells and long aisle to peeling organ. No women were there to join in litany or hymn and no children to list Amen. Dissenters as well as Episcopalians, through common danger, had drawn together and the chance for public worship was eagerly seized by the pioneers."

Rankin's account continues, "And so cut off from the whole civilized world the forerunners of a mighty West of many states knelt together in the sweet white clover, under that magnificent tree, the sole cathedral in a wilderness as vast and as solitary as the ocean. This was the first and perhaps the last time that prayers were ever recited on Kentucky soil for the King and Royal family of England." (The following year, the Virginia Convention expurged from the liturgy the words relating to the Royal Family.)

History records that the Reverend Lyth died in 1778 of a disease contracted with George Washington's army or because of the rigors of the hard winter. Some pioneers record that he was killed by Indians while in Kentucky.

The elm under which the first religious service was performed was blown down by a high wind in 1823.

Former Inland Chairman Heads Educational-TV Group Seeking Patrons

The recruiting of patrons for educational-television programs will be conducted by a new organization, it was announced in Chicago.

Edward L. Ryerson, former board chairman of Inland Steel Company, which operates mines at Wheelwright, will head the new group called O.N.S.E.T.—Organization for National Support of Educational Television.

Ryerson said O.N.S.E.T. was formed "in recognition of the fact that there should be an organization devoted to developing educational programs and to matching such programs with appropriate patrons."

The patrons, unlike commercial sponsors, will be accepted only by invitation. Ryerson said they will not exercise any influence over program content of educational-TV programs.

ADVANCING EDUCATION IN KENTUCKY

By ROBERT E. MARTIN
Superintendent of Public Instruction

On November 5 the voters of Kentucky will have an opportunity to approve a constitutional amendment which will have far-reaching effects on the progress of public education in this state. I refer to the School Amendment which will provide for a constitutional State Board of Education and a professional Commissioner of Education to guide the destinies of the common schools of the state.

There are four very valid reasons why the amendment is necessary:

1. It is necessary in order to provide a professional staff for the Department of Education which is chosen on the basis of professional competence and will be protected in their positions by a sound merit program. As it is now, career educators are many times reluctant to come to the Department of Education when they realize that as long as it is a political department they may be able to stay only four years.
2. The amendment will promote long range planning through continuity of leadership for continued improvement of education. Our educational program is a vast and complicated program. If we are to make the progress which we need to make for the boys and girls of the state, we are going to have to be able to plan beyond a four-year period.
3. The amendment will improve the educational program for Kentucky's children by strengthening local management and control of education. Some confused opponents of the amendment have spread the impression that the amendment would take from the school districts their rights and responsibilities for managing their school program. This notion is completely wrong as has been pointed out by the Attorney General and other legal authorities who have given study to the matter. On the contrary, by relaxing constitutional restrictions local people are given more authority over their schools than is now the case.
4. The amendment would remove education at the state level from involvement and participation in partisan political activities. Education and partisan politics do not mix to the advantage of either. An educational program must be carried on without regard to political parties and without regard to the political persuasion of parents, teachers, or boys and girls. A good start toward this ideal would be to remove the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction from seventh place on the partisan political ballot.

Contrary to what has been said, there is no misunderstanding concerning what the amendment will accomplish or how it will accomplish it. The only fault in the amendment is that it does not make clear when my term of office as Superintendent of Public Instruction will expire. When the amendment is adopted, I shall contend in the courts, and the Attorney General will defend me in my contention that my term of office will expire on January 1, 1960. I confidently expect this to be upheld by the courts.

This amendment is a matter concerned with the over-all improvement of education through the years and is far more important than any selfish personal consideration as to when my term of office would end. I urge all voters across the state to give very careful consideration to the amendment with a confident assurance that a vote "YES" will be a vote for educational progress and for better schools for boys and girls of this state.

Insurance Agents Will Get Benefit Of Recent Opinion

Frankfort, Oct. 31 — Local insurance agents stand to benefit financially because of a recent Attorney General opinion. C. F. Thurman, commissioner of Insurance, said.

The opinion, Thurman said, ruled that builder's risk, contract bonds and workmen's compensation coverages issued in connection with contracts awarded for the construction of projects for the State shall be placed with a licensed local agent who represents insurance companies authorized to do business in Kentucky. Thurman explained that the opinion gives the Commonwealth better control over coverages which it may require. It also means that the licensed local agent who receives the commission will assume responsibility for the protection of the interest of the State, he said.

In some instances prior to this time insurance coverages have been placed with non-resident agents, the commissioner said.

AN APPEAL TO DEMOCRATS

General Omar N. Bradley once said "If you will help run our government in the American way, then there will never be any danger of our government running America in the wrong way."

November 5th is the big day to help run your county government. By your vote you are helping to elect those officials who will be your chosen representatives. It's your Democratic county and those elected will be your public servants.

Don't feel your vote doesn't count—each Democratic vote not cast means a winning vote for the opposition. It is your duty as a citizen to vote—put the party in office that puts the people first—the Democratic party.

We of the Democratic Campaign Committee are proud of the unity shown by our candidates — campaigning as and for the Democratic ticket as a whole and not individually. In Unity there is strength, and the Democrats have both unity and strength. Let's show our strength as Democrats and all go to the polls November 5th.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the People of Floyd County

I wish to state that when Jerry Fonce Howell was a former State Representative from Floyd county he was at all times friendly to Labor's cause. The record speaks louder than words.

Mr. Howell supported and voted right on every bill introduced favoring all labor unions in Kentucky. When the United Mine Workers of America, which I then represented and lobbied for, introduced a Workmen's Compensation Bill calling for increased benefits, also a bill to improve the Kentucky State Mine Law, Mr. Howell, then acting as Floor Leader in the House of Representatives, did use his influence to bring the Miners' Bill out of committee and onto the floor for a vote.

Both bills passed the House of Representatives directly as the result of the support of both Harry Lee Waterfield and Jerry Fonce Howell.

Words can be spoken, and denied but the truth, supported by records, will stand, and the above-stated is both the truth and is backed by records.

Zero Temperature Retains Food Quality

Frozen foods that are kept at top quality should be stored at zero degrees temperature, according to research done at the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK foods specialist, notes that some foods, including most meats, poultry and vegetables, are frozen solid at about 26 degrees, but they keep best at a much lower temperature. In general, they lose as much quality in a few hours at 25 to 30 degrees as they would lose in months at zero degrees. Once the food has lost quality, there is no way of regaining it.

Miss Helton explained that researchers first analyze a newly frozen product for such quality factors as vitamin content, flavor, color and texture. Then they compare different methods of processing and storage temperatures to find which ones help the food to maintain its quality.

The best methods of processing and storage differ for various foods. Through research, manufacturers are learning when such special procedures as excluding air in packaging or fast freezing are important.

The frozen food industry has been cooperating with the USDA in these studies to help put frozen foods on the market at top quality and keep them there.

Potato flakes, a new form of dehydrated mashed potatoes, were very popular in a New York state consumer survey.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Bank Josephine Plaintiff,
vs. NOTICE OF SALE
Perry Martin and

Geneva Martin Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the October term, 1957, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 11th day of November 1957, at 10 o'clock a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Being and being on Right Beaver Creek in Floyd county, Kentucky, beginning at an elm tree running straight up the hill to a fence and with said fence to Robert Martin's line, thence with said fence around the hill to a cross fence; thence with said cross fence down the hill to a marked rock near Robert Martin's house, thence down the branch to the beginning.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a judgment against defendants in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $106.00 with interest thereon from Oct. 2, 1955, until paid, and the cost of this action.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or articles, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 21st day of October, 1957.

New Church Was Born At Cane Ridge Revival; Stone Led Awakening

The Cane Ridge Meeting House near Paris was built in 1791 by Presbyterians from North Carolina. It is famed now, however, as the parent church of the Christian denomination, otherwise known as the Disciples of Christ. A stone shelter has been built around the log meeting house, now a shrine.

After a majority of the congregation had migrated to Ohio in 1796, the Reverend Barton W. Stone became pastor at Cane Ridge. A "profound awakening" or religious revival was sweeping Kentucky. Stone traveled over the Commonwealth participating in several "meetings."

In August, 1801, Stone led a revival at Cane Ridge that was described as the "most remarkable religious assemblage ever known on the continent."

Between 10 and 20 thousand people assembled outside the church in torchlight to chant hymns, pray and listen to five or more men preach simultaneously. So impassioned were the exhortations that the people sobbed, shrieked and shouted until the whole throng reached a hysterical pitch of fervor.

Spasms seized many. They fell to the ground and lay there as if dead. Others jerked, danced, barked, laughed or sang. As these converts revived, they shouted joyously that they had been saved.

As the established churches did not welcome the converts dispassionately and Stone was in a dispute with his presbytery, he and his congregation at Cane Ridge withdrew in 1804 from the Presbyterian fellowship and organized an independent church which they named Christian. Similar splits and new churches followed all over the State. This movement was a new protestant sect in Kentucky.

A similar movement took place in Pennsylvania under Thomas and Alexander Campbell. Alexander came to Kentucky and organized the Disciples of Christ. Stone and Campbell merged their organizations in 1821.

Atom Not Threat To Gas Industry, Association Says

ST. LOUIS — The possibility that atomic energy might become a serious competitor of the natural-gas industry during the next 20 years was discounted at the recent convention of the American Gas Association.

Clare H. Zachry, of Dallas, retiring president of the association, cited estimates by the President's Materials Commission to support this view.

Zachry said the gas industry should be producing 27 per cent of the nation's total energy requirements—and atomic energy only 3 per cent—in 1975.

"The gas industry already has $20,000,000,000 in capital investments, he said, and must invest an additional $5,000,000,000 in the next three or four years to meet demands for gas."

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

THE TRUTH AND FACTS WILL PREVAIL WHEN THE FALSE WILL FADE AWAY

I have hesitated for a long time whether to speak what I am about to say, wondering if it would be worthwhile or not, and I certainly do not mean to injure the pride or feeling of anyone, but I have at last decided to state a few facts which I believe the public should know in order that they may not be misled by either myself or my opponent or any other who may be sponsoring his or my cause.

I have always believed the worth of any man or woman is measured by the success and the good deeds they have done for others and the standards they have set in a spiritual and moral way for others in life. I have continually used every possible effort at my command to treat every man and woman with due and kind consideration and render to all concerned the most, best, honest, qualified and efficient service possible, to which they are justly entitled and I will always pursue that course as long as I live. As you all know, I am the Democratic nominee for Circuit Clerk of this county and it is my wish and desire to enlist the support of both Republicans and Democrats alike in the coming November election, and I assure you that, regardless of your party affiliation, I will treat you all with the same kind, courteous consideration, and you may be assured that I will do just that.

I have helped many people here in Floyd county, many of whom now own their homes through and by my assistance. I was born and reared on a rough mountain farm and have been a hard worker all my life. I have been a farmer, coal miner, teacher, merchant, postmaster, Cashier and President of the First National Bank, and an Assistant Cashier of The First Guaranty Bank of Martin. I hope the people will remember the many good deeds I have done for them and desire to continue. You don't have to guess about my honesty or efficiency in or out of office and my qualification to render the kind of service you are entitled to.

My opponent talks at considerable length about his wonderful family life and the way he has lived. He has two children and so do I. While I only received a common school education both of my sons are graduates of the University of Kentucky. The youngest, Jim, has been in the Army about sixteen years, and is now a Lieutenant Colonel in the regular Army and while on maneuvers in Maryland a few months ago was stricken with a heart attack and is now confined in the Walter Reed Hospital. My other son, Edgar P. Stephens is now with me and is helping me in my campaign for the office I seek. I ought to know my opponent very, very well, since I have worked with him for about twenty years and I can assure that all that is presumed to glitter, is not gold.

I have no reservation about asking both Republicans and Democrats to vote for me because I have never made any difference in them when it came to rendering service to them. I can assure you as well as my opponent that I will be the same Henry Stephens as I am now. I know most of the people of this county and I saw and cherished their enthusiasm in my behalf in the recent Primary and I was convinced then as I am now that they intend to elect me to the office I seek and I know of nothing that will prevent it, and the only question remaining is how big my majority will be. While I don't bet on elections the odds are three to one that I will win and even money that my majority will be over 1,000. I have taken every opportunity I have had in life to serve others and to help them when I could, when they were in need and I desire to continue doing the same thing.

It seems that my opponent desires to convey the thought in his article of last week that I have eaten the bread of wickedness and drunk the wine of violence and sin and that the good people of this county are concerned and will long remember. If I have to lie to get your vote, then I am not entitled to it. I admit my life has not been perfect, neither has his. He told Squire John Harris, I had been drinking or he feared I would and Harris told it was not true. It has been told around over this county that I am drinking, which is absolutely untrue. I haven't drunk any liquor, wine, beer or gin or used any kind of narcotics in seven years. It is not what a man has been, it is what he is now. I am a church member, and attend church and Sunday school as well.

My mother was Delilah Hale Stephens and my father Alex L. Stephens. They are both dead and buried on Middle Creek on the old Hale graveyard and they are not here to endorse me as Dick's father and mother. Dick has a wonderful mother and father, and I admire them very much and mine were not too bad.

Now we will get down to some of the endorsements which have been appearing on behalf of my opponent in The Floyd County Times and see what is behind them.

Penn Fitzpatrick, the father of the wife of Dick, is a fine Democrat and I am well aware that it pains him much to endorse a Republican but I can't expect otherwise. I well know that Penn already knows just about what the outcome will be.

There was an article in The Floyd County Times by Luther Baldrige of Allen endorsing Dick Spurlock and I know that Mr. Baldrige is a Democrat and rarely ever crosses his ticket and I know it will pain him this time, but since Bob Spurlock, a brother of Dick, married his daughter, there was not much else for him to do, and I do not blame him one iota and I still won't believe he will vote Republican unless he tells me so after the election.

There was another article in The Times under the name of Rev. Harold Sammons (commonly known as Polecat Sammons) in which he endorsed Dick and stated that he intended to make a campaign in his behalf. Now Mr. Sammons told me on the front of the courthouse here how strong he was for me and what he intended to do for me because I had done a lot for him, but the thing that got me was when he signed his name to that article as Reverend and knowing him as I do. On the 4th day of February, 1948, I personally loaned the Rev. Sammons money to go into the taxi business, and paid his expenses to Frankfort to get his permit and at this time he owes me approximately $160.00, which I know I will never get.

Polecat Sammons is now campaigning for Ervin Akers, going from place to place with a big sign on his car and a loud speaker and may before he gets through stir up a lot of political stink against Manis Conley. I have the evidence of this indebtedness in my pocket.

Now we come to Rev. L. P. Tussey, whose article appeared last week in which he endorsed Gorman Collins, Dick Spurlock, Joyce Short Allen and D. P. Dings, and about ten days before this article appeared in the paper, I saw L. P. near the barber shop of Frank Price, and I remember his wife was with him and it was then he asked me about my race and I advised him that I was doing all right and it was then he said, "You haven't got any race" and I thanked him and appreciated what he had said. Mr. Tussey's mother is a cousin of mine, and I like these people but I can't understand the sudden change. I have nothing against Mr. Tussey for endorsing my opponent and I hope that he will continue to be my friend. I recognize the right of anyone to change their minds as many of them do.

Now we come to another article by Doug Hobson, of Martin, who likewise endorsed my opponent, and now let's see what is wrong with him. I will tell you the facts, and here they are. His son sued W. J. Turner (Big Bill) for a large sum of damage in the Circuit Court while I was Judge and the case was brought to trial and his son lost here and the case was carried to the Court of Appeals and lost again. Now if I had been wrong, the case would have been reversed and a new trial granted.

Joe I. May, who now lives at Betsy Layne, is a son of Jeff May, and Joe I. was born and reared on Tolers Creek, and Joe has been a teacher, and an insurance man and a dealer in real estate. Joe is a staunch Republican and he is supporting me and you may ask him for what reason. It is all about the large sum of 2c, which was deducted by my opponent as tax on his own check to Joe, and everybody well knows that the giver of the check pays the 2c. Now how can you expect any accommodations or favors from a man so tight?

Yes, my opponent talks about my wife having a good job here in in Richmond's store and that we are living in tip-top condition and making plenty of money, which is unjust and untrue. She began working at Richmond's more than 25 years ago at $9.00 a week and paying $4.00 a week for board, and is now receiving around $100.00 per month or a little more. The matters I have stated are facts not mudslinging as some may call it and I regret that I was at last persuaded to answer some of the unjust charges against me. I would rather have avoided it.

Yes another one of Dick's henchman has been telling that I have killed three or four people, and this was stated by this supposed political Big Shot in the presence of Tom James, Riley Hall and Cecil Hall. I never hurt anybody or had a fight in my life. Let him who is without sin cast the first stone, and that stone has never been thrown yet and it has been about 2000 years. We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God. Remember those who try to deceive you in their smiling way was only for the purpose of getting your vote and thereafter they will know you not.

Truthfully and faithfully yours,

HENRY STEPHENS

UNCLE SAM COUNTS YOUR NOSE —AND KNOWS A LOT ABOUT YOU!

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — Uncle Sam not only "counts your nose" in his census taking but he also knows a lot about your nose and you. A recent publication released here is liberally filled with his "knows".

You probably didn't have any idea that there were 488,650,000 silver dollars in circulation last year. And chances are you'd never guess that in 1965 Americans' motor-vehicle travel totaled 698.1 billion miles.

Are you aware that on January 1, 1966, there were nearly 583,000,000 chickens in these United States? And that those chickens, or others like them, produced 61 billion eggs during the year?

These priceless facts and figures are revealed in a fascinating book with a deadly dull title: "Statistical Abstract of the United States, 1967".

It was compiled by the Census Bureau and, if it proves anything, it proves that the Census Bureau doesn't just count people—it counts everything.

For instance, it counted drive-in movies and found 220 of them in 1964, and 375 in 1965. It counted daily and Sunday newspapers and found 1,769 in 1967 and 1,761 last year (although total circulation had jumped from 51,900,000 to 57,000,000). It counted doctors and found 133 for every 100,000 Americans.

Most of the book's 1,045 pages are devoted to charts and figures, with little in the way of explanation.

For instance, it records that there were 760,000 full orphans (without either father or mother) in 1950, and that the number dropped steadily to 600,000 on July 1, 1965. How come this number dropped by more than a third in every 15-year period? The book doesn't say.

The Census Bureau would never say that a lot of wartime marriages went on the rocks. But its figures show that the peak year for divorces in this country was 1945, when there were 485,000. In 1965 there were 377,000.

In 1965, incidentally, California led the nation numerically with 41,866 divorces. Nevada was a close second in another category, however, with 407 divorces for every 100 population. New Jersey assumed to have the fewest with only 56 divorces for every 10,000.

Some states you might want to know that there are 10 persons for every square mile of area in the District of Columbia and that the world average is 52.

Rhode Island is the most heavily populated state, with 749 persons per square mile. Out in Nevada there are much more elbow room, with only 1 1/2 persons in the same area.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD COUNTY COURT

Bank Josephine Plaintiff
vs: NOTICE OF SALE
Frank Reed and
Maxie Reed Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd County Court rendered and entered the October term 1957, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 11th day of November 1957 at 10 o'clock a.m., some being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on Abernethy Fork of Left Beaver Creek, in Floyd County, Kentucky, beginning at a small poplar tree near the highway; thence running up the hollow with Bill Adams' line to a mulberry; thence straight across with the wire fence to the light post; thence off to the center of the hollow; thence down to the poplar tree, the place of beginning, being the same property conveyed to defendants by Bryan Johnson and wife under date of Sept. 6, 1951, recorded in Deed Book 148 page 697, Floyd County Clerk's Office.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a judgment against defendants in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $700.00 with interest from Oct. 25, 1955, until paid, and the further sum of $200.00 with interest from Oct. 1, 1955, until paid, and the cost of this action.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or securities, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retaining upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 21 day of October, 1957.

J. B. CLARKE,
Master Commissioner,
Floyd County Court.

The most crowded county is the Netherlands, with 838 persons per square mile. Japan has 624, South Korea 548, and the United Kingdom 544.

In the list of less dense places, Iowa has two persons per square mile and Canada four. Just incidentally, the figure for Russia is 23.

The Census Bureau learned that in 1955 total church membership in the United States was 100,162,529. Of these, 84,448,887 were Protestants and Roman Catholics. Smaller groups made up the balance.

It may help you on a quiz show some day to know that the production of smut has gone down from an average of 219,000,000 pounds in 1919-20 to 89,000,000 pounds last year. Over the same span cigarette production has jumped 500,000, from 41 billion to 413 billion.

And, among persons 18 or older, 25,000,000 men and 15,000,000 women smoke cigarettes regularly. If you hadn't read it here, you probably wouldn't know that:

U. S. commercial fishermen last year caught more than five billion pounds of fish.

The United States imported 16 1/2 pounds of coffee for every American last year, but only half a pound of tea.

More than 35 percent of all owner-operated farms carry a mortgage.

Health Chief Lists Safeguards on Asian Flu

FRANKFORT, Oct. 31 — Reporting that Asian influenza has reached epidemic stage in Kentucky, Dr. Russell E. Thomas, State health commissioner, is advising persons caring for flu patients to observe certain procedure:

- Isolate patient from rest of family to prevent them and to prevent patient from coming in contact with communicable germs.
- Keep patient's personal articles—bedclothes, wash cloths, towels and dishes—separate from those of other family members.
- Provide patient with disposable tissues and a paper cup in which to discard them. Burn used tissues.
- Persons caring for patient should wash hands after each service to the flu victim.
- Keep record of patient's temperature, number and date.
- Bathe patient with warm bath that is in the form of a hot and cold water bottle comforts muscles and eases and eases.
- Room should be free of drafts and maintain a temperature of 68 to 74 degrees.
- During acute stage of little appetite, serve fruit juices, cereals cooked with milk, toast, creamed corn, custards and other simple nourishing foods. Limit patient to fluids as tolerated if stomach upset occurs. Have enough food of this type on hand to last a week in case all the adult members of the family get sick simultaneously.
- Give convalescent patient time to regain strength. The flu is debilitating and leaves one liable to other infections or fatigue.

A safeguard in any illness is to call the physician. In order to prevent the Asian flu epidemic about an injection of influenza vaccine.

Boat Operators Foresee Refund in Gasoline Tax

CHICAGO — The nation's boating operators will have a chance to get a refund on the 2-cent refund fuel tax money from the Government this year.

The estimate was made by the Outboard Boating Club of America, a national association of boating enthusiasts and manufacturers and sellers of marine equipment.

The association estimated that about 250,000,000 gallons of gasoline were used from July 1, 1956 through June, 1957.

It was pointed out to members that the highway revenue act of 1956 raised federal excise taxes on gasoline from 2 1/2 cents a gallon, with the increase earmarked to help finance the new federal highway program.

However, the bill provided that the one-cent increase was refundable if the fuel was used otherwise than in a highway vehicle. This includes gasoline used by motorboats, the O.B.C. said.

At Port Harrod, now part of the Pioneer Memorial State Park at Harrodsburg, Ann McGitty operated the first spinning wheel in the west. Worse than the Flu
The Plum Island Animal Disease research laboratory now has purified, isolated and photographed the foot-and-mouth disease virus. It is spherical in shape, and about one-millionth of an inch in diameter, the smallest of any of the viruses affecting animals.

At Beltsville, Md., the USDA's research station, a four-year-old cow from the Holstein herd, has set a new butterfat record. During a 365-day lactation she produced 23,800 pounds of milk testing 4.9 per cent, or 1,176 pounds of butterfat. The cow's name is BDI Algodio Olive.

The total crop of improved, wild and seedling peans this year is estimated at 219 million pounds, or 31 percent less than last year, and 14 percent below average.

One county, 14 localities, and 19 individual premises in North and South Carolina now are regulated under a quarantine against which-weed, the deadly plant parasite.

If your doctor bills were high last year, maybe it was because you didn't remember the old saw, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." The Census Bureau figures the average American ate only 19 1/2 apples all year long.

However, he ate a record 103 1/2 pounds of meat, 8 1/4 pounds of which was beef. He also ate 365 eggs, and over the year he ate 9 pounds of butter and 3 pounds of oleomargarine.

The Census Bureau not only knows how Americans live, it knows how they die. Last year 686,186 died of heart trouble, 245,070 of cancer, 40,560 in traffic accidents, 53,090 in other accidents, 8,550 of ulcers, and 7,820 were victims of murder or homicide.

DO MORAL QUALIFICATIONS COUNT?

You, the voters of Floyd county, will be deciding in the very near future who will be serving as your Sheriff for the next four years. We who have known HERSHELL WARRENS throughout his life feel that we should submit a few points for your consideration.

HERSHELL was brought up in a Christian home, the son of God fearing parents. He was taught from early age that honesty and consideration for his fellow man are the most important virtues a man can possess. His daily best recommendations that could be given him are the votes of people in communities where he has lived and worked. You may remember the parts of our County.

There have been some so-called issues brought up which were intended to create doubt in your minds. It is our opinion that these were created and circulated by chronic lawless elements interested only in personal gain through the diversion of justice.

We feel that a man of honest guiding principles can do much for the good of Floyd County and our law abiding citizens. It is with humble belief in these principles that we ask your favorable consideration of HERSHELL WARRENS in this race.

Sincerely,
FRIENDS OF HERSHELL WARRENS
