ARCHER IS CONFIDENT SEWER JOB TO BE LET

BIDS EXCEED JOB ESTIMATE BY $59,000

City Ability To Build Increased by U. S. Aid; February Letting Seen

Mayor George P. Archer expressed confidence Tuesday afternoon that a contract will be awarded soon for construction of a modern sewer system and a sewage disposal plant, although the bids exceeded the engineers' estimate of the overall project.

The low bid offers on the two divisions of construction proposed totaled $1,029,649.78, which is $59,000 above estimated cost. But a reduction of $32,000 as the result of an alternate bid reduces the amount above the estimate to $27,049.78.

The low bidder: On Contract IV (sewer lines, Purgess-Lanham, Tenn., Dyersburg, Tennessee), $386,024.78.

On Contract V (sewage disposal plant and pumping station, Purgess-Lanham, Tenn., Dyersburg, Tennessee), $643,625.00.

Six construction firms offered bids: Aron Construction Company, Plant and pumping station, $1,029,649.78.

The contract on the work may not be officially awarded till next month. Work is expected to begin soon thereafter.

THREE VALLEY TOWNS ASK POLLUTION BAN

Three Big Sandy towns, Prestonsburg, Paintsville and Louisa, were complaining this week to the Kentucky Water Control Board, saying that the pollution in the Clinch River is increasing.

This Town... That World

Is it true that the only way to understand a college president is to start off with the phrase, "I am a different breed of cat, as someone has previously said?" (See editorial this week.)

LOOK-ALIVE!

A fellow on TV, the other night said he had a whole week's worth of blessings—and only then found that he had left out the greatest of all—that he was there to "look-alive!"

JUST YOU WAIT!

A visitor to this office, earlier in the week, expressed a desire to see something more in the paper than my old, sad, and weary experiences as a fisherman.

The "Old Pros" on the Firing Line

The Council on Public Higher Education, composed largely of those "old pros," the college presidents, is making it as hard as possible for Governor Combs to carry through his dream of a system of community colleges in Kentucky...

THE ORLANDO BROWN HOUSE in Frankfort was built in 1835 for the staggering sum of $5,000.

mean to say that Lexington, with at least seven colleges within a radius of 25 miles of Main and Limestone, could better serve Kentucky education with the addition of an extension center in downtown Lexington...

WHICH WAY? (Continued editorial) Prestonsburg is at a crossroads. One way leads to hope and progress and the other into the swamp of failure and despair...

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE (Continued) Last night I was the guest of two living legends in a fine home... it is doing its job in the shape of a "Time" magazine...

"The great tragedy is we've misinterpreted the junior-college movement. It was calculated to ease pressure on the senior colleges. But it has appealed more to local pride—the desire to get a mental factory or a shirt factory—than on whether there's a real need."

"This Council has never advocated any one of the community colleges that is being built." (To which we add that it is quite possible the Council as such did not advocate the community-college system, but neither did the individual members stand up and speak against it at the time they should have spoken, if at all.)

AUTO AND TRUCK TAGS FOR SALE BY CLERKS

Automobile and truck license plates for 1963 were on sale at county clerks' offices in Kentucky, beginning January 1.

Vehicle owners have until midnight, March 1, 1963, to acquire and place the plates on their automobile or truck. For renewal of registration the owner should present a 1962 registration certificate to the county court clerk of his county.

If the 1962 registration certificate has been lost, a duplicate can be secured for 50 cents from the county clerk's office. The cost for the plate for passenger cars and farm trucks is $4.50, plus a 50 cent clerk's fee.

The cost of commercial and farm hire truck plates is based on a scale depending upon the gross weight of the vehicle and the heaviest load to be carried during the coming registration year. Trailer tags of all types will also be on sale at the offices of the county clerks.

The 1963 license plates have a blue background with white numerals—the reverse of the colors for 1962. The Department said that while 1962 registrations have not been finally tabulated, they will approximate 1,025,000 passenger cars and 250,000 trucks.

Phone Rate Reduction Scheduled January 21; No 10-Mile Change Made

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 5 (AP)—Reduced telephone rates on most in-state toll calls will go into effect January 21 and will save Kentuckians about $19,000 each year, the State Public Service Commission has announced.

Lower rates offered by Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company apply only to person-to-person calls made at nights and on Sundays. P.S.C. Chairman J. David Francis said. Reductions will range from five cents to 70 cents on the initial rate to 70 cents on the pending on the distance. No changes were made on the over-time rates.

The new rate schedule will bring tolls on in-state long distance calls "in line with calls to out-of-state parties. In the past, the Kentucky telephone user paid more to talk with a Covington party than he did to call across the state line to Cincinnati.

No change was made in the 36-cent rate which covers calls made in a 10-mile radius. Southern Bell will make up the loss of revenue partly through bookkeeping transaction which will transfer money from intrastate to interstate operations.

The Kentucky Division of Fire Prevention's Bureau of General Inspection assigns specially trained personnel to work with school officials. This has resulted in better understanding between officials and inspectors, which is reflected in the tremendous advances that have been made in school fire safety.

NEW APPROACH IN TEACHING 'YOUNG'

Just for the fun of it. That's why youngsters are learning their lessons today in a number of elementary schools in Kentucky. The reason is a new approach being tried by the schools in teaching young students—an approach aimed at helping the slow-starter in the classroom. FOUR STATE LODGES CLOSE AT YEAR'S END

Frankfort, Jan. 2 (Spl.)—Although Kentucky State Parks had a record-breaking attendance in 1962 with 8 million visitors—over 2 1/2 times the population of Kentucky—four lodges closed January 1 and will open as soon as possible in the spring, the Kentucky Department of Parks has announced.

Parks Commissioner Edward V. Fox said that three new park lodges at Rough River, Lake Cumberland and Carter Caves parks, along with Kenlake Hotel in Kentucky Lake State Park, have been closed because present attendance does not justify their operation during this part of the year.

"We still have good geographic distribution with lodges at Kenlake, Kentucky Lake Village near Paducah and Western Kentucky," Jenny Wiley, near Prestonsburg, for Eastern Kentucky; Cumberland Falls, near Corbin, for Southern Kentucky and General Butler near Carrollton for Northern Kentucky," Fox said.

Fox explained that Kenlake Hotel, which has been kept open in the winter in past years, was closed because the new lodge at Kentucky Lake Village is adequately serving the Kentucky Lake area during the winter months.

On the basis of the big gain in attendance, it was decided at the end of the regular tourist season to try to have all the lodges open in the hope that a mild winter would warrant holding them open all winter, Fox said.

"The winter developing into anything but a mild one," Fox said, "we are closing these four facilities until early spring."

He added that a program of winter recreation is being developed and when this program is more complete, attendance may make it feasible to keep all the lodges open all year.

Best docks at Lake Cumberland, Rough River and Kentucky Lake parks remain open to serve fishermen. Sandwiches and coffee are served at these docks, Fox said.

"Good reaction to the new facilities and improvements in the parks has actually exceeded our hopes," Fox said.

Fox said, in explaining the attendance record, that hundreds of letters in praise of the parks have been received during the year.

"The creation of the best state parks system in the nation has had a real impact on visitors and played a vital role in helping bring over 20 million out-of-state visitors who spent more than $193 million in Kentucky last year," he added.

Eastern State Awarded Grant by Atomic Group To Purchase Equipment

Richmond, Ky., Jan. 7 (Special)—Eastern Kentucky State College has been awarded a grant of $15,000 by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission for the purchase of nuclear equipment for use by the Department of Physics.

President Robert R. Martin made the announcement upon receiving notification from Russell S. Poor, director of the division of nuclear education and training, Washington.

The award includes funds for the fabrication of a one-curie plutonium-beryllium neutron source. A separate agreement provides for the loan of the quantity of plutonium contained in the source.

The remainder of the funds are to be used for other nuclear equipment at the discretion of the physics department, Dr. J. G. Black, head of the department, said.

The grant terminates one year from the date of acceptance unless an extension is requested and justified by the grantee and approved by the AEC.

The staff of the physics department plans to organize a well equipped laboratory covering ten to 12 carefully-selected experiments for advanced physics students, and others, Dr. W. H. Suedegar and Professor C. A. Barry will assist in the planning for the course and purchase of the equipment.

Dr. Suedegar formerly served with the radiation section of the Bureau of Standards and assisted with studies at the Enkivok tests in the Pacific.

He worked in the development of the Van de Graaff nuclear accelerator at the University of Kentucky, Black, who has worked part-time at the U. S. Naval Ordnance laboratory at Silver Springs, Maryland, for 14 years, has served in the Nuclear Research Department of the railroad the past three years.

Learn The Truth About THE CATHOLIC CHURCH By Mail...At No Cost!

You can easily investigate Catholic faith and worship in the privacy of your home. Just send us your name and address and advise that you want to know what the Catholic Church really teaches... what Catholics really believe. We will send you an interesting course of instruction which is short, yet complete. We will send you a book explaining Catholic faith and worship... written in an easy-to-understand form. There are six short sheets which you can make and we will check and return to you. This will enable you to determine how well you understand the book. It will give you quick and authentic answers on any point you do not understand.

There is no writing to do... and nobody calls on you unless you request it. Nobody knows, in fact, that you are inquiring into Catholic teaching. Thousands of people are taking the course and learning for the first time wonderful truths about the Church established by Christ Himself.

We know that many people would like to learn all about the Catholic Church—but hesitate to make personal inquiries. This offer is made to them to get authentic Catholic information and study it in the privacy of their own homes.

You will find in this course answers to the questions which confuse non-Catholics. You will discover that Catholic belief and practice are not what they are so often misrepresented to be. And if it is true that the Catholic Church is Christ's Church... as we maintain... you owe it to yourself to get the facts. This you can readily do through this short course of instruction... without cost or obligation... and in the privacy of your own home. As Catholic laymen, who treasure our Faith, we invite you to understand it and, we hope, to share it. Write today, giving your name and address and stating that you want the course of Catholic instruction by mail. The book and simple test sheets will be mailed to you immediately. Nobody will call on you or urge you to join the Catholic Church. If you wish... while taking the course... to ask any questions which puzzle you, we will answer them promptly without any cost or obligation to you. Send a postcard or letter now—TODAY! Assembly To Study State Redistricting

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 2 (Spl.)—The Kentucky General Assembly will meet January 28 in special session to consider reapportionment of the state's legislative districts and the possibility of changing the date of the primary election.

The date for the beginning of the special session was set in a proclamation issued by Gov. Bert Coombs. The legislators will convene at 1 p.m. on that day. The two topics to be considered were listed in the Governor's proclamation summoning the Assembly to meet.

The Governor early in December told a federal court in Louisville that he would call the special session. Three federal judges, who were about to hear a suit filed by the City of Louisville to force legislative reapportionment, continued the case and said they would wait to see what action the General Assembly takes.

The present 100 House and 38 Senate seats in the General Assembly will expire on the 28th of Coombs. The suit by the City of Louisville has been a snarl of population to the urban areas and that legislative districts should be changed to reflect this population shift.

Three proposals for redistricting House seats and three proposals for redistricting Senate seats are ready for consideration by the State lawmakers. All six proposals were prepared by the bipartisan Governor's Commission on Reapportionment.

The Assembly could adopt two of the six plans—one for House and one for Senate seats—or could draft its own plans.

Regarding the question of changing the date of the primary election (set for May 28 under the present law), Coombs' proclamation said: "It may be impossible for the General Assembly to enact a reapportionment bill prior to the filing deadline for the May primary, at which time members of the General Assembly will be nominated."

Legislative candidates are required by law to file at least 45 days before the primary in counties and 65 days before in districts.

"It may be necessary to change the primary election date in order that reapportionment may be accomplished before the legislative filing deadline," the proclamation

Telephone Talk

By GUY HISLE
Your Telephone Manager

THE BELL SEAL IS ONE OF AMERICA'S MOST FAMILIAR TRADE MARKS. The original seal was developed by Angus Hibbard, the Bell System's first general manager, and included the words "Long Distance Telephone" inside the outline of a bell which was enclosed in a rectangle. Eventually the wording was changed to "Local and Long Distance Telephone," and still later a double circle replaced the rectangle. The seal, as it now appears, dates from 1939. You'll see this familiar guide to good service on company buildings, on public telephones and in advertising.

GOOD BUSINESS SUGGESTION: Do you use printed stationery for either business or personal correspondence? If so, may we suggest you include your area code and telephone number in the letterhead. If you own your own business, belong to clubs and organizations, or do a great deal of personal correspondence, it's a good idea to give folks your phone number as well as your address.

LONG DISTANCE IS A BARGAIN ANY TIME OF DAY... but it's an especially good buy after 6:00 p.m. on weekdays or any time on Sundays and holidays, when bargain rates are in effect. Also remember that rates are lowest if you call station-to-station. A long distance call is the next best thing to being there.

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED TO THE familiar fleet of green trucks and vans driven by your telephone company installer-repairman. The new compact van is a complete service shop on wheels, an important part of the fast, efficient service that's always available when you need it.

DID YOU KNOW THAT about 40 per cent of all overseas calls are with Pan American countries? About 30 per cent go to the Pacific and 25 per cent are with European countries. The rest are to scattered countries and ships at sea.

PLAYS FEATURES HOLIDAYS AT ALICE LLOYD COLLEGE

During the week and a half preceding Christmas vacation, students at Alice Lloyd College presented two performances of a Shakespearean play, the traditional Christmas pageant, a series of nine-chorus concerts, a Latin play, a French program with original play—all this in addition to regular classroom work.

The Shakespearean play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," was produced by a cast and technical crew of 43 students under the direction of James Hunter Herr of the English Department.

The cast included: Laune Ambarger, James Casebolt, Margie Casdill, Vernon Condit, Joe Beverage, Lovitrous Gibson, Annemann Grender, Malcolm Hall, Trends Pfo Johnson, Alf Gean Jones, Kathal Moran, Dornie Moseley, Harold Moseley, David Plemann, Tommy Waddell, Roy Williams, Clarence Woods, of Knott county; Benny Bailey, John Campbell, Nancy Engle, Harold Patrick, of Perry county.

MORGAN TREE NURSERY PLANS DELIVERY JOB

Approximately 7,000,000 tree seedlings are being prepared for shipment to Eastern Kentucky from the State Division of Forestry's newest seedling nursery near Woodburn—officially the Morgan County Tree Nursery—is expected eventually to produce about 25 million seedlings a year, according to Jack Rhody who heads the State Forestry Division's nursery operations. Before the Morgan county nursery was established, the Forestry Division was finding it necessary to buy seedlings from cut-of-shade sources to meet the growing needs of Eastern Kentucky tree farmers and conservation groups.

With the February seedling shipping season approaching, the tempo of activity at the nursery is speeding up. While only three men are assigned to handle chores most of the year, some 40 workers are needed during the shipping season to take care of the careful packing of the several million seedlings and the other work in getting the seedlings to their destinations in all parts of Eastern Kentucky.

The seedlings are priced at $8 per thousand and are delivered by the State Forestry Division whenever there are enough shipments for a specific area to justify it. Otherwise, the seedlings are shipped by parcel post or railway express.

Orders are being accepted now at the Morgan County Tree Nursery for seedlings to be shipped about February. Forestry Division officials urge that orders be placed as soon as possible so that plans for the shipping can be worked out.

Number of Businesses Rise in Floyd County

There are seven more businesses in Floyd county than there were last year, according to Byron N. Morris, manager of the Charleston (W. Va.) office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc.

Based on facts upon a physical count of the January, 1963 edition of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book, Mr. Morris pointed out that in 1962, 530 businesses were listed in the county and today 537 businesses are listed.

This is one of six counties in the 46-county reporting area of the Charleston office that showed a gain in business population. Mr. Morris noted there was a leveling-off of the business attrition that has been noted the past few years. Of the remaining 40 counties, a majority showed only small losses or remained steady.

EASTERN KENTUCKY STRIP MINING

Coal mining, that began in this section with feeble efforts of local and Ohio promoters near Abbott Creek early in the last century, has progressed through several phases in its century and a half of development. The first mines shipped coal by barge to Cincinnati and Covington and following the Civil War and before the building of the railway these coal barges were a common sight on the Big Sandy and other Eastern Kentucky rivers.

The entrance of the railway into Eastern Kentucky radically altered the method of coal shipment. Modern highways, too, gave rise to the truck mining industry. Today, in many areas, mining of coal by stripping away the overburden of rock and earth, features the industry.

Shown here is the United Electric Company operation at Evanston, Breathitt county, Kentucky, in 1947. A 13-foot coal seam was removed after stripping away a mountain top. The operation was nearing its end when this picture was made.

The First National Bank presents these pictures in recognition of our historic heritage.

MENTALLY RETARDED NEEDS COMMUNITY PROBLEM, SAID

What are some of the special needs of the mentally retarded which can be provided by their home communities? In addition to special programs such as kindergarten and classes for the retarded who can profit from education and vocational training there are other needs.

For instance, the retarded need an over-all community program providing such services as day-care centers, sheltered workshops, recreational activities and clinics. The program has to account for all degrees of retardation and all ages. It must have continuity, since the needs of the retarded person shift as he moves from pre-school age to teen-age and from there to adulthood into senior citizen age.

The community needs are not fenced in by geographical boundaries, because when it becomes necessary to place a retarded person in an institution—either for a short time or for an indefinite period—the community is morally obligated to work with the institution in a social service program.

This means, among other things, working with the family to help it shoulder its responsibility. Community planning, to be effective, must operate on the premise that the family is the community's most important resource. If the family of a retarded person is not vitally involved in both the planning and the carrying out of a program this can in turn produce added community problems.

Clinical personnel who know how to study and plan for the retarded should be available to every community. We know that small communities, especially small rural towns, cannot provide these services, although clinics can operate on a regional basis. The staffs of these clinics can provide the doctors, social workers, psychologists and sometimes psychiatrists necessary for
