October's bright, blue, smoky weather!

THIS YEAR'S BAMBI ARE MANY

If there is a more worth seeing, I think there is. "Bambi" is it. The film is rather ancient now, but its story and its message are as new as the latest fashions. In this film the magic of Walt Disney shows the peace and the happiness of the wild things in the principal domain. Then man, the destroyer, comes, and death-fire, the hunter's gun. The serpent comes to Eden.

Last week, in less dramatic form because the human eye happily could not encompass all the tragedy and desolation that filled the hills and woods, "Bambi" was re-written, here in our hills. The wild things did not speak in the principal domain. Then man, the destroyer, comes, and death-fire, the hunter's gun. The serpent comes to Eden.

ACCUSED MAN IS RETURNED

For Psychiatric Tests; Period of Observation Scheduled At Lexington

Gröver Pratt, of Garrett, accused slayer of Phyllis Ann Sears, 18, of Melton, was returned to his home this morning. Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, for a 35-day period of psychiatric observation and possible treatment to the institution issued Monday from the Floyd circuit court.

The statement signed by Dr. George P. Archer and Dr. J. D. Adams in connection with the petition for committal made by Pratt's brother, John Pratt, simply stated, "Court had patient sent to Eastern State Hospital for evaluation. Staff requested 35-day committal."

Pratt is not under bond. When his case was called for examination, early last week, he waived the case to the grand jury without preliminary hearing and was remanded to jail until the next day. At the time the case was up for examining trial defendant's counsel contended he was not in physical or mental condition to undergo such a hearing.

He allegedly fired seven bullets from a .22-caliber rifle into Mrs. Sears' body, the night of Oct. 3, at the time she was in her lap. She died at Williamson Memorial hospital, two days later.

He Dared To Do What Others Did Not Dare To Dream

The Floyd County Times cannot, in good conscience, refrain from supporting Governor Bert Combs and those who stand with him for a greater, better Eastern Kentucky as well as a greater Kentucky as a whole. To fail to recognize the monumental advances made in the areas of highways, education, tourism and other phases of industry, would be for us to close our eyes to those things of which we have long dreamed—some things of which we did not even dream.

Who believed, four years ago, that Eastern Kentucky would today be linked with Central Kentucky by a great, new highway such as the Mountain Parkway? Who then considered a college to serve this area of Kentucky more than a mere pipe dream?

Who thought it possible to make such giant strides on the long way back from the bottom rungs of the educational ladder? And would any but the most credulous have believed that Jenny Wiley State Park would become anything but a park in name only, that it would have a modern lodge, vacation cottages, become a tourist attraction that evokes the spontaneous admiration of the thousands who visit it?

This newspaper, admittedly local in scope, has for many years pleaded the cause of Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky. Can it now neglect to express its gratitude when these better things have come to this area, when more has been done in four short years for the area than in all the 150 long years that went before?

In these four years Bert Combs has dared to do what others did not dare to dream.

We wish for Kentucky, and Eastern Kentucky in particular, four more years of the same kind of progress. We think that progress can be achieved through the election of Edward T. Breathitt as successor to his friend, Governor Combs.

Prior to the main program, Mrs. J. T. Spillman spoke briefly on "National Bible Week," pointing out the need for the Bible in the home and in the training of children. She emphasized that children should be taught to study the Bible now "for what they do now is indicative of what they will be doing in the years ahead."

A business meeting following the program, the club's corresponding secretary, Mrs. Glenn Paek, reported that Mrs. Neil Ferguson, a federation chairman of the Student Loan Fund, had advised her that of the 20 students aided by the fund in the Seventh district, 12 had been sponsored by the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland club. She also reported that all but either paid their loans or were making satisfactory payments.

The club president, Mrs. S. M. Martin, announced that November 15-18 had been set for entertaining the daughter clubs of Wheeling, W. Va., and Saltersville.

Three new members were welcomed. Mrs. William H. Mullins, formerly a member of the David Wilson's Club, and Mrs. Charles Scott, of Garrett.

A social course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Milton Trusty, Jr., Mrs. Charles Hornsby, and Mrs. Ellen Hornsby.

HOMEcoming FRIDAY

The local Black Cats will close their football season this Friday night at 8 on the local gridiron when they meet arch-rival Paintsville in a homecoming tilt. Benefits from both schools will be on hand to add to the festivities in connection with the game. At that time, the football captains will crown the queen, who will be one of these five candidates: LaDonna Blackburn, Bernadette Burdett, Tillie Hager or Ann Lafferty. Following the game, a sock hop will be staged for present and former students. The winner of the annual Paintsville-Prestonsburg contest is considered to have a most successful season, regardless of prior season games. Prestonsburg has a not too impressive 3-4 record against Paintsville. A Class A school, have not met too many formidable foes but has a 7-1 record.

Walter Brugh's team won 20-0 last year and from that team he has quarterback Bobby Porter, halfback D. B. Kaeze and Jim Allen as the main weapons in last season's victory. Paintsville has one more game with Mt. Sterling, next week, while the Black Cats will begin basketball practice in full force.

On the basketball scene, the Wayland Wrens won the area's first game of the 1963-64 season last Saturday night as they belted Salterville, 100-84. This Saturday night, Wayland will visit Maytown and in another Saturday night game Martin goes to McDowell. Friday night, Martin will open its home season against the Besay Layne Bobcats.

WEEK-END TO RING DOWN CURTAIN ON GRID SEASON

This week-end will mark the Tigers' leading scorer, scored the end of the high school football season for the majority of the schools in the area. Paintsville's Jenkins and Elk Horn City still have a stake in the playoffs and league title.

The Cavaliers have already swept visiting Matewan, West Virginia, Saturday night. The win earned Beltry's season's record afternoon. Raymond Ricketts Hazard conated to a 49-0 half-eleven will also wear the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference crown.

Jenkins added to its prestige by dumping previously unbeaten Paintsville, 19-7, ending an 18-game winning streak for the Johnson county Tigers. Senior quarterback Phil Greer passed 13 yards to halfback Haskew Hayes for one touchdown. Jerry Conley accounted for the spot 52 yards for another and halfback Robert Collins added the last Cavalier marker on a pass two-yard plunge. D. B. Kaeze, the

For themselves." He noted that his Democratic opponent, Edward T. "Red" Breathitt, had promised jobs if elected governor. Saying that Breathitt had as "right-hand man" of Governor T. Conroy for 2 1/2 years. Nunn said that Breathitt "doesn't deserve your vote if he let the people of Eastern Kentucky remain jobless, starving and on welfare during that 2 1/2 years. If he has the secret of new jobs why didn't he let the Government do it?"

The Republican said he would complete the Mountain Parkway and said he would work to link it with Interstate 64 with a road from Campion to Grayson. He said this would "open up this entire area and promote new industry and a great tourist industry."

Nunn said Breathitt was distributing "disgraceful" handbills promising to increase welfare checks by $10 a month and asking the Republicans would cut them if elected.

"Let me promise you this, I will never use your very life's subsistence in order to try to control a political campaign."

The Republican candidate said his welfare program would be based on the cost of living and more state funds would be used to match federal money available for such programs.

STATEMENT OF MAYOR ARCHER ON BEHALF OF THE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT TICKET FOR CITY COUNCILMEN OF PRESTONSBURG.

As Mayor I wish to state that the claims by some of the opponents of the present City Council are rather ridiculous when they say that the present City Administration has not accomplished very much.

These loose statements of the opponents of the Community Development Ticket must be answered if for no other reason than to present the record to the people of Prestonsburg of what has actually been accomplished by T. J. (Jody) Fannin, Winston (Sonnet) Ford, Jr., E. B. Leslie, E. B. (Burrion) May, Jr., Tom O. McGuire, Byron Nunery, H. G. Salisbury, Jr., Clifford Wright.

Outlined below are the steps that were taken to equip this City to meet the challenge of growing and progressing, which steps MUST be taken by every town which hopes to compete for economic growth and to take advantage of any and all economic opportunities that may come our way:

(1) Recertification of the Workable Program until September 1, 1964. This certification had been allowed to expire for lack of payment of $750.00 to the Government. It was by this means that our low-rent housing was obtained and is now a reality—without it the housing project would have been lost.

(2) Adopted Future Land-Use Plan and Zoning with Codes. This program has enabled us to help obtain a new Courthouse and to be in position to acquire two new municipal off-street parking lots. Parking facilities are essential to prepare our town as a college community and to assist business in our community. Our overall planning will be completed in 1975.

(3) Improvement of our Fire Department. We have purchased and paid two of five installations on a new fire truck, which kept our City in 7th class rather than 9th class which is a saving to our citizens of 20% on fire insurance premiums. We have modernized and rebuilt our fire station to accommodate our three fire trucks. We now have a full-time Fire Chief, full-time Assistant Fire Chief, and an adequate number of volunteer firemen.

(4) Two New Accelerated Public Works Grant Applications Pending. Application for APW Ky. 216 GL will provide for bringing our water and gas systems into first class condition. It will provide for water line extensions necessary to reduce the rates charged for fire insurance in the City.

Application for APW Ky. 251 GL will provide for paving, storm sewers, curbs and gutter for all streets in Prestonsburg.

These applications have cleared the Atlanta office and are now in Washington for final approval.

(5) Land Ownership-Tax Equalization. This program has accomplished front-footage maps with photographs of all improvements and card index references to each piece of property in the City. In order to complete our tax equalization program, all that needs to be done is to have the improvements evaluated.

COMBS URGES CITIZENS AID
In Health Progress; Conference Stresses Health Service Needs

Active lay citizen participation was stressed by Governor Bert T. Combs last Thursday as he urged approximately 200 delegates to the 11th annual Kentucky Health Conference at Jenny Wiley State Park to strive for the development of better community health programs.

The conference theme stressed the importance of adequate health services and facilities for area and community development in Eastern Kentucky. Prior to Governor Combs' address, speakers had noted that, while Eastern Kentucky's medical services have improved in the last 10 years, the area generally still suffers from a serious shortage of doctors, dentists and pharmacists.

"There has been a tendency for citizens to leave health and medical programs to the doctor and professional health workers," Governor Combs told the gathering.

"Of course, that's a mistake," he continued. "I think you will find the better community health programs have active lay citizens' participation."

Adequate health facilities were labeled a prerequisite to industrial development by Dr. G. W. Schneider, Lexington, chairman of the Kentucky Development Council.

"Industry is not willing to move into a community unless their key employees are willing to live there," Dr. Schneider said.

GIANT MINE PLANS TOLD
Bethlehem To Develop 1150-Acre Pike Tract; C. & O. Building Spar

The giant Bethlehem Mines Corporation—one of the three largest mining firms in Eastern Kentucky—announced plans Friday for developing a "multimillion dollar" underground coal mine and preparation plant in southwestern Pike county.

The modern plant and mine will be located on a 1150-acre tract of land on Pikeon Fork of Elkhorst Creek within nine miles of Jenkins, in Letcher county.

Announcement of the new operation was made by D. A. Zeiser, Jenkins, superintendent of the Elkhorst division of Bethlehem mines.

No details of production and employment were disclosed by the company.

Bethlehem Mine Corporation is a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel Company.

The mine firm operates three mines along the borders of Pike and Letcher counties in the vicinity of Jenkins. It employs about 88 miners.

Zeiser said the new mine, to be known as Bethlehem Pike No. 28, will begin operations soon.

It will produce a metallurgical coal that can be reduced to coke for the production of iron, presumably at the national company's blast furnaces in Baltimore, Buffalo and Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Announcement of the new mine had been expected here since earlier this year when the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway started construction of a five-mile, $4 million spur from Jenkins to the mine site.

One of the features of the new plant will be a railroad yard capable of handling 300 cars, Zeiser said. The yard will include six parallel tracks, each a little more than a third of a mile long.

Mutual Benefit Life
Our Definition of Disability. Nobody knows when or how severely accident or sickness will strike—rob you of income and your way of life. That is why Mutual Benefit Life has pioneered a unique disability contract. Disability is defined in terms of loss of earned income. This definition avoids uncertainties and litigation which might occur if disability were defined as "inability to pursue any gainful occupation." It also lets a man rehabilitate himself as he wishes for whatever work he can do to give him a sense of usefulness and added income. Our disability contract is just one of the MBL "Seven Significant Benefits."

For these reasons I urge you to re-elect to the City Council the Community Development Ticket—

100-YEAR-OLD GOULD FIDDLE... One of the interesting exhibits at the recent Floyd County Fair was a 100-year-old gourd "fiddle" with a cedar bow made by the late Bruce Shepherd of the Middle Creek section. He taught himself to play it and afterward instructed his son, Dewey, who has been playing (another instrument) for 48 years at political gatherings and wherever a crowd assembled and demanded it. Dewey Shepherd is shown playing the improvised fiddle.

(Continued from Page One) frigate caused the additional label, or if indeed the birds were saying in their own language some of the things Bambi put into words in the picture. How many hundreds or thousands did not escape we cannot say. These could fly, but a giant poplar—a yellow poplar, the kind so valued in the days when the forests of the region were raped—could not. And those nearby saw the fire hit dead tree branches at its base, then race up the trunk and sear the bark, burn deep wherever it touched. And so did a tree which was possibly seventy feet and which had been from seventy-five to a hundred years in the rising.

Multiply these incidents by a thousand, or by ten thousand, and you begin to sum up some of the tragic cost of the carelessness, the willfulness and the maliciousness of human beings.

SUCH IGNORANCE! The ignorance of some of our better informed citizens is appalling. There, for instance, was the educator who didn't know what a duff-berry is. One thought a rough-neck was a wrestling hold, and yet another thought maybe the one who said "frow" just couldn't pronounce correctly the word, "frown." And now comes one who doesn't know what a "rat-house" is, or was. Such abysmal ignorance is appalling. There, for instance, was the educator who didn't know what a duff-berry is. One thought a rough-neck was a wrestling hold, and yet another thought maybe the one who said "frow" just couldn't pronounce correctly the word, "frown." And now comes one who doesn't know what a "rat-house" is, or was. The rat-house was occupied by a rat, of course. In the "old" days, back when the liquor illegally purveyed was almost always "moonshine." These, the rat-house and the rat, were well-known. Vestiges of these houses remained at one or two places in the county as late as thirty years ago. One such was in a tree. This is how it worked: The thimby one would go to the rat-house and scratch or meow. Down would come a box at the end of a rope. Into the box would go the buyer's money, then back down would come the whiskey—and nobody had seen B'r'er Rat, the seller. Why all the secrecy? The modern reader may inquire. Maybe it was because men in these days respected the sanctity of their oath and wanted it to be true when their sworn they did not know who sold them their bottle.

we took this big V8 and put it in the '64 Chevy II...

WOW!

A pretty potent mixture. The car's the same size. As trim and easy to handle as ever. But now you can have a full-grown V8 in it. A Turbo-Fire 283 that turns out 195 hp. It's the kind of machine that doesn't take much coaxing to set in motion. Especially when you consider it has over 60% more power than the Chevy II that won North America's toughest rally last spring—the Shell "4,000." And for '64 we've also added a choice of a 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission... we'd like to suggest a more memorable way. Drop down to your dealer's and drive one.

Maytown High School Plans Education Week

Observance, Nov. 10-16

Maytown high school has planned to observe American Education Week.

Sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the U. S. Office of Education, American Education Week is designed to spotlight what the schools are doing, and to remind citizens that good schools are their responsibility too.

Nationwide, some 30 million parents are expected to visit their schools during the week of November 10-16.

The local committee is starting work immediately to plan observances during the week.

Air Force Commendation Medal Presented Sgt. Romie Osborne

THE SIZE OF THE MAN is of no importance when it comes to outstanding achievements. T-Sgt. Romie G. Osborne is an example of this as Brigadier General James H. Isbell, Commander, 2AFB, Andrews AFB, Washington, pins on the Air Force Commendation Medal.

T-Sgt. Romie G. Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rhomer Osborne, of Eastern, Ky., was presented the Air Force Commendation Medal last Thursday by Brigadier General James H. Isbell, commander, Second Air Force Reserve Region located at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C. Sergeant Osborne is reserve coordinator with the 248th Air Force Reserve Sector, Clinton County Air Force Base, Wilmington, Ohio. As reserve coordinator, he travels the states of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, coordinating reserve affairs with the various recruiting offices.

General Isbell also presented Sgt. Osborne a certificate accompanying the Air Force Commendation Medal which read: "Technical Sergeant Romie G. Osborne distinguished himself by meritorious service while serving as Personnel and Administrative Advisor to the 8378th Air Force Reserve Recovery Group, from 6 November, 1961 to 31 July, 1962. During this period, Sergeant Osborne demonstrated outstanding initiative, resourcefulness, and knowledge by instituting personnel and administrative policies and procedures which greatly contributed to the efficiency and effectiveness of the 8378th Air Force Reserve-Recovery Group's mission. By his constant devotion to duty and directness of purpose, Sergeant Osborne has reflected the highest credit upon himself, the Continental Air Command, and the United States Air Force."

Presentation of the award was made during the General's brief visit to Clinton County AFB, where he was given a briefing by the 248th AFRS, 302d Troop Car Wg and 8378 Navigation Squadron.

Sgt. Osborne is a graduate of Maytown high school and is also a Kentucky Colonel. He is married to the former Mary Amburgey. They reside at 1935 Woodsette Road, Columbus, Ohio with their two daughters, Sandra Lynn and Deborah Elizabeth.

DRIVER-TRAINING PROGRAM INITIATED

All Floyd county high schools are expected to have instructors in driving by next year and this is the first to initiate a driver-training program. It is said by Superintendent Charles F. Clark, Garrettsville, and Prestonsburg high schools have instructors this year, it is noted. Floyd county car dealers are cooperating in the program. Shown here is Robert DeRossett.

Allen auto dealer, giving the keys Friday to a new Comod to Garrettsville High School Principal Burnice Gearhart. Superintendent Clark and Frank DeRossett, of the Allen agency, and early promoter of the program, are interested onlookers. Multi-Colvin Motor Company, Prestonsburg, will donate new Chevrolet to Wheelwright and Prestonsburg as soon as the cars arrive at the end of the month, it is announced.

The driving training program is a contribution to highway safety, educators and safety engineers say. Last year 13,262 students were killed on the nation's highways and thousands of others were crippled. States that have driver-training laws have fewer student accidents, it is said.

WATER POLLUTION AMONG CONGRESS TOPICS TALKED

Frankfort, Ky., October 25 (Sp.)— Nearly 500 people attended Kentucky's third annual Conservation Congress in Louisville, where a variety of experts devoted most of their discussions to the problems of water conservation and waste.

John Charles Dale, host of television's "What's My Line," in the main address at the recognition banquet, strongly urged legislation before Congress to reorganize federal administration of water pollution.

Already passed by the Senate, the proposed legislation would transfer authority over comprehensive water pollution programs from the Public Health Service to a new assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Dale explained.

Dale said the move would lead to a serious drop in morale among technical people who identify themselves strongly with the Health Service.

He also touched on the larger theme of the conference, saying that the population and the need for pollution control, resource development and conservation are growing much faster than public awareness of the problems.

State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlock, in his opening address at the Congress, said, "Proper development of our water resources is one of Kentucky's most pressing problems, and a great deal of effort is being put forth to solve it."

Matlock pointed out that wastewater in his department has helped organize 22 small watershed projects and assisted in the initiation of Kentucky's new small lakes development program, which is building lakes "across the width and breadth of the state."

Matlock was re-elected chairman of the Natural Resources Development Commission, which sponsors the Congress, during the two-day meet. Jewell Graham, Lewisburg, president of the Kentucky Soil Conservation Districts, was elected vice chairman, and Mrs. John B. Roberts, Lexington, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Attendance at the annual meeting of 5,230 persons in 1961. In 1960, the aggregate was 5,339.350. This year, as last year, July was the biggest month. Attendance in July totaled 1,143,158, as compared to 1,261,850 in the same month last year.

August, with 2,618,779, was the second-largest attendance month this year, and June, with 1,411,273, the third-largest.

The more than 150,000 persons visiting state parks and shrines on the Fourth of July this year established another record.

FEDERAL, STATE FUNDS TO PAY FOR 7 LAKES

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 24 (Sp.) — Utilizing Accelerated Public Works funds from the Small Lakes Committee and other state agencies, the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is engineering construction of seven lakes in various sections of Kentucky, encompassing 767 acres of new habitat waters at a cost of $1,250,000.

Minor Clark, commissioner of the Department, has announced.

Some of the lakes are in the building stages, one is almost completed and others have been approved by APW and state agencies and will be started soon, Clark explained.

Two of the lakes are located in Harlan county; one in Martin, another in Clay county, near Manchester; Madison county, one in Boone county, and so is Anderson, while the seventh will be built in Pulaski county.

In addition to these lakes, the Department has the approval for the use of APW funds in construction of a water supply public access area at Camp Wallace in Wayne county.

One of the largest lakes in the chain is under construction on Cranks Creek in Harlan county. This 200-acre lake is due to be completed in the spring of 1964 and the total cost will be $500,000. This is built by APW funds in cooperation with the Small Lakes Committee under the direction of the Department of Fish and Wildlife.

Approval has been given for the construction of another 200-acre lake in Madison county but actual work has been held up pending acquisition of land. This lake will be constructed on Taylor Fork at a cost of $300,000 using APW and Small Lakes Committee funds in cooperation with the Department of Fish and Wildlife.

In Anderson county work on a dam that will impound 165 acres of water is almost completed and the lake will be impounded this fall and winter. The lake will be on Beaver

VENTERS GETS PRISON TERM

Pike Insurance Man Enters Plea of Guilty, 2 from Floyd Contested

Walter P. Venters, Pikeville insurance man, was sentenced to terms of a year and a day on each of five counts of grand fraud after his recent trial in U. S. district court at Pikeville, and the Cumberland Insurance Agency, Inc., of Pikeville, which he represented, was fined $100 on the same charge.

Venters, president of the insurance agency, pleaded guilty to each count, as did the agency itself.

The indictment against Venters and the agency charged that the Cumberland Insurance Agency formerly was agent for the Stone-wall Insurance Co., Mobile, Alabama, an agency granted by the Paul B. Bromley Co., Louisville. Because of financial difficulties encountered by the Pikeville insurance firm, however, its authority to act as agent for Stone-wall was revoked in late 1959. Despite this, the indictment alleged, the Cumberland agency continued to represent Stone-wall, later mailed invoices on Stone-wall Insurance Company policies to the Pike County Board of Education and the Veterans Administration, Louisville. So it was, it was charged, that Cumberland received premium payments on Stone-wall policies to which it was not entitled.

Approximately $8,000 was involved, Venters is serving his sentence concurrently.

Two Floyd counties were convicted of moonshining—Earl Vanderpool, Sr., of Russellville on counts of distilling, possessing an unlicensed still, making mash and possessor distilled spirits, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently; Elmer Hall, of Bledsoe, distiller, possessor an unlicensed still and making mash for distillation, four months on each count, to run concurrently.

Others listed as convicted on moonshining charges:

Thomas Fleming and Joseph Ricky Fleming, both of McBoobis, two counts, one year and one day on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Clifford Hall, of Dema, four counts, distilling, possessor unlicensed still, making mash and possessor distilled spirits in unlicensed containers; 18 months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

James West, of Pikeville, four counts, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Ernie Thacker, of Raccoon, three counts, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

James Willie Williams, of Tomahawk, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

John D. Burgess, Robert Lee Burgess and Ervin Rowens, all of Pikeville, one year and one day on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Charles J. Counts, of Salersville, two counts, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Denise Perkins, of Salersville, four months.

Thomas Robinson, of Pikeville, four counts, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Larry Daniels, of New, three counts, four months on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

William Marion Osborne, of Owenfork, convicted on four counts, two years on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Grover David Powers, of Van Lear, was convicted of knowingly transporting a stolen motor vehicle in interstate commerce; one year and one day sentence suspended and then probation.

Walker Brown and Creed Mullins, both of Pike county, Ohio, convicted of knowingly transporting a stolen motor vehicle in interstate commerce, one year and one day.

John Thomas Gabbard, of Stanton, convicted on three counts of making false entries in records of postoffice department, one year and one day on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week a Confederate cavalry battalion under command of Lt. Col. Clarence J. Prentice was defeated at Salersville, Madison county, by the 14th and 28th Kentucky Union Infantry regiments, commanded respectively by Lt. Col. Orlando Bowen, Jr., Lt. Col. Stephen M. Ferguson, fifty of the Rebel troopers were captured.

Clarence J. Prentice was a son of the editor of the Louisville Journal, George D. Prentice, who had distinguished himself under Brig. Gen. J. H. Morgan, had been killed in a battle at Augusta, Kentucky, September 18, 1862.

By order of the military governor of Kentucky, Brig. Gen. Jeremiah T. Boyle, all corn which Kentucky distillers had purchased was being turned over to the Union Army Quartermaster. The distillers were warned not to buy any more corn.

In Louisville, Federal soldiers began picking up all "contrabands" and sending them to Lebanon to work on a road. Contrabands were fugitive slaves or slaves unable to prove they were not fugitives, as by producing passes from their masters.

W. A. Gunn, of Lexington, engineer of a new military road being constructed by the Federal government, reported that he had been robbed of $200 in cash and a watch worth about $200 by guerrillas who raided Danville while he was at a hotel there. He said the outlaws first inquired about his politics; when he replied that he was a Union man, he was robbed. They then questioned a man from Harrodsburg. Having seen what happened to Gunn, he declared he was a Confederate. The guerrillas robbed him, too.

Nine mounted bushwhackers (another name for guerrillas) visited the farm of a man named Kirkpatrick in Lincoln county unable to find money they thought he had hidden, they compelled him to mount his own horse and ride away with them. When they had not obtained money from the farm, Kirkpatrick persuaded them to return to his house for supper, promising them whiskey as well as food. He sent one member of the household to sum-

BUTLER SAYS DROPOUTS CAN BEGIN OVER

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 29 (Sp.)—Any Kentuckian who quit before high school graduation now can pick up where he or she left off.

Wendell P. Butler, state superintendent of public instruction, has pointed out the advantages of the state's adult education program.

"It not only provides a high school certificate for yesterday's dropouts," he said, "it also means employment for those unable to find jobs without one and promotion for those already employed."

"Our academic instruction is on an accelerated, non-credit basis in which each person can progress at his own rate, determined by his ability, formal schooling, time for study, and desire for learning," Butler added.

Persons who quit school can resume studies at whatever level they choose. C. F. Esham, director of the Division of Adult Education in the Department of Education, advised.

"This is an upgraded type of program for persons 18 years old or older with the rate of progress determined by the student's class level."

Esham continued, "No specific amount of hours are required, and the student can advance as fast as he is capable."

"For instance, a student can advance from the sixth grade to the ninth grade in the same semester. Our exceptional adults can complete requirements in one semester to qualify for the General Educational Development test."

This G.E.D. test, administered only at the University of Kentucky or at state colleges qualifies adults for high school certificates.

The pilot program in adult education, helped by state funds, started two years ago. Classes are offered nights in public school facilities, making almost no additional equipment necessary, because the classrooms, libraries, shops and such already are in use.

Main cost is for instruction, as certified teachers are employed. Local superintendents supervise the program, and local school districts help some financially.

Cost of the classes is paid by the adults attending and averages from $10 to $25, depending upon enrollment and how much time is needed to complete the class. The classes are set up for 16 weeks of four hours each. If that much time is needed.

From 12 school districts the first year, the program has grown to 22 districts now. A total of 5,001 adults were taught in the first two years, and the current enrollment is nearly 9,200.

The 1964 Legislature will be asked to make an appropriation for the next two years, Esham said. The estimated cost, based on average 18,400 adults per year, would mean less than $14 per semester for each adult.

"It costs much more than that now just to maintain these uneducated adults on public assistance, unemployment insurance and commodities," Esham pointed out.

GIBSON FAMILY

We conclude the history of the Gibson family as submitted to us by Mrs. Mary P. Hanna, 210 S. High School Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. The original manuscript was prepared by Elmer Hayden, of New York and Texas. Mrs. Hanna excepts the original for readers of this column.

"Great difficulty has been met in determining the names of the children of Archibald and Vesalia Gibson. It is the same as we find in Wilkes county census of 1790 there were undoubtedly daughters who married and stayed in North Carolina. There is also the great confusion caused by the use of family names in the various family branches. Besides those who might have stayed behind in North Carolina we have reason to believe that Archibald had Nicholas, Zachariah, John B., Elizabeth, Jesse, Absolom, Archie, James, William, Rachel and Elizabeth. Various members of the family commenced to arrive in the West and Perry counties, Kentucky, as early as 1818.

"Probably the first to arrive in Indiana was James who bought land at the present site of Jamesstown, February 13, 1838. The village was probably named after him or James Madock, a partner of John B. Gibson. The Gibson family is definitely connected with the village of Jamesstown and local histories seem to assume that they were residents there. As a matter of fact they were mostly landholders in Hendricks county immediately south of Jamesstown which is Boone county. Most of the records of the family are at Danville, county seat of Hendricks county.

"Of the above sons of Archibald Gibson, Nicholas probably stayed behind in Perry county, Kentucky, living near Prestonsburg, Ky. Most of the Kentucky marriages of this family took place at Prestonsburg. Absolom and Archie went to Texas. Absolom probably going directly from Kentucky and Archie from Indiana. At least we know that Archie was known to grandchildren of Archibald in Indiana, while Absolom was not. Jesse lived in Indiana and probably went to Texas after 1850. Archie went in 1838 and was in the Texas army during the Mexican War. He was alive in childhood and off in action. The rest of the family moved to Indiana beginning with James in 1828 and ending with Elizabeth in 1831. Elizabeth Gibson, this would indicate that he came between 1828 and 1831. Jesse James once married Miss Johnson March 9, 1833. A later deed gives her name as Mary. They sold out their land in 1839 and went to no further record of them at Danville.

"Zachariah Gibson was known to have had a daughter in Jamesstown. Nothing else is known about him except that he owned land in Perry county, Kentucky. James and William Gibson, sons of Archibald, settled just outside Jamesstown. James was married November 18, 1829, by Stephen Harper at Prestonsburg, Kentucky. The name of his wife was not recorded but had records show her name as Sally. William was probably a younger son and very likely the same who married Lavina (probably Lavina Fritchett in Hendricks county, July 1, 1833. Due to the use of pet and nicknames, there is frequent confusion as the wife of William appears in a later deed as Arada.

"Rachel Gibson, a daughter of Archibald, married Absolom Dent in Hendricks county, January 26, 1839. Absolom was one of the appraisers of the estate of Ezekiel Gibson, his brother-in-law who died in Clinton county, Indiana, and bought land from his father-in-law, Archibald Gibson, March 1, 1838, in Hendricks county. Elizabeth Gibson, another daughter of Archibald, married a cousin named Joseph or Josephus, or Josiah Gibson at Clinton county, Indiana. This marriage record has not been found but descendants of this couple are known. Elizabeth was the last survivor of her generation and lived at Jamesstown until 1895. She was said to have been so large that she went sideways through a door and died (Continued on Page 6)

Food Stamp Permit Of Floyd Store Revoked

The food stamp program authorization number issued to Neval Jones' Grocery, of Lacey, Ky., was permanently revoked recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

According to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, Mrs. Neval Jones, owner of the store, had previously withdrawn from the food stamp program. She surrendered the store's authorization card, which identified it as one authorized to participate in the federal food stamp program.

Agricultural Marketing Service officials stressed that the permanent revoking of the authorization number, KY-2-334, was on the basis of violations which otherwise would have warranted disqualification.

Mrs. Neval Jones is the legal owner of Neval Jones' Grocery, but it is operated as a joint venture with her husband, Agrol Jones, USDA said.

The action by the Agricultural Marketing Service is the third instance of a food retailer in Kentucky having his authorization number revoked permanently. It is the first instance in Knott county.

SUGAR INVENTORY TO BE HIGHER

Visible and invisible U. S. inventories of sugar at the end of this year will be much higher than the 3.75 million tons on hand a year ago, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Stocks will be increased not only because of the 599,000-ton cushion in this year's marketing quota over consumption, but also by sugar from the record-large sugarbeet and sugarcane crops now being harvested on the U. S. mainland.

Absentee Vote Law Upheld By Decision

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 24—The Court of Appeals Thursday upheld the state's 1962 restrictive absentee-ballot law. A brief order, signed by Chief Justice Milliken, reversed a ruling by Jefferson Circuit Judge Lawrence S. Grauman. The 1962 law limits absentee voting to members of the armed services and Merchant Marine, federal employees, and religious or welfare workers connected with the armed services, along with their wives and dependents, and full-time college students.

Weeksbury Couple Observes Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Blevins, of Weeksbury, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 20. They were married October 20, 1913, in Johnson county, and have resided in Floyd county for the past 49 years. The day of the anniversary celebration was spent in visiting and reminiscing with friends, neighbors, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

HISTORICAL NOTES

An especially large chair built for her use. There was one child by this marriage, William B. Gibson, born 1831, died January 26, 1897 at Jamestown. He was a member of the 51st Indiana Volunteers and married Hester L. Taylor and had John T. (d. inf.), Emma, Maude, b. 1875, d. 1881, and Jonathan B., b. 1878, February 11, 1883. Jonathan married Lula E. Colton October 27, 1887, and lived in 1930 at Indianapolis. He had Vane G., Helen T., Chester L., William L., Dorothy M., and Katherine, Hester, wife of William B., died in 1875 and he remarried to Nora Murphy and had Will C. and Myrtle W.

A bountiful table was spread, decorated with a three-tiered cake, created in gold and adorned with traditional golden anniversary emblems. The couple received many gifts appropriate to the occasion. At the close of the day, the group gathered for a prayer of thanksgiving for blessings enjoyed by the family. This prayer was offered by Carl Shover, brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Blevins.

to have been of age in 1843. The estate was settled in May, 1858, and a guardian appointed for the minor children. In 1846, Peter B. Kennedy was appointed as guardian in place of the first guardian who moved to Kentucky. The guardian was finally discharged June 12, 1851, by order of the court when all of the children were of age except Samuel and William who had been bound out to Nathan Kirk. We have only one birth date for this family, Samuel Preston Gibson was born August 31, 1831, probably at Jamestown, Indiana. With the exception of William the rest of the family was thought to have been born before that date, probably in Kentucky.

Ellison (Cotton Top) Mounts

The only man executed for murder in the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud was Ellison Mounts, nicknamed Cotton Top because his hair was snow white. He was hanged at Pikeville, Feb. 18, 1889, for participation in the New Year's, 1888, night attack on the home of Randolph McCoy, on Blackberry Creek, Pike county. Allfour McCoy and her brother, Calvin, were shot down as they fled the burning cabin and Sally McCoy, wife of the feud leader, Randolph McCoy, was critically injured but recovered. Mounts confessed to the crime before he was hanged.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of the regional past in recognition of our historic heritage.

Will Your Vote Count On November 5th??

In the May primary, 1963, you don't know whether your vote counted or not. Your duly appointed election officers were replaced in many precincts with people who don't respect your God-given right to vote and have your vote counted. These same election officers voted our people, our people who were not able to write, just the way they wanted to.

Insist on your election officers serving and protecting the only freedom we have left, the right to vote. The very people who are duly elected county officials, who are sworn to protect our rights, are the very ones who help perpetuate this fraud on our people. Go out and vote and make your vote count. Show the political hacks that you want a change. A change for a better Kentucky with Louie B. Nunn. Remember the absentee fraud and know it can happen here. It is your duty, not as a Democrat or a Republican but as a good citizen, to help preserve the freedom of the vote by reporting of buying and selling of votes . . . campaigning in polling places . . . voting people by judges who are able to read and write. It can happen here . . . it will happen here when we WILL lose our right to vote. For all election violations you see, call 886-3430.

We ask all ministers of the Gospel and Christian people to see that Floyd county has a honest election. The way to do this is to let your poll officials know that the good people will not tolerate a crooked election.
