This Town... That World

It's strange, but more black eyes result from falls in the back than from blows in front.

THE PROCLAMATION STILL STANDS
Christmas has been commercialized till you might say it has been crucified on a cross. The spirit of giving is smothered by the spirit of getting. Christ has so effectively been taken out of Christmas that even the atheists do not complain to the courts when the children are forbidden to pray.

Yet, beneath all the price tags and the lines and the numbers, remains something indefinably great about the season and the day itself. This is no mere holiday.

A Presidential proclamation calls us to Thanksgiving. But what is needed to remind us of the day which, in our imperfect way, we recognize as the birthday of Jesus Christ. For the original proclamation still stands. It reads:

"For unto us is born this day in the city of David a saviour, which is Christ the Lord, and in the glory to be in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

SIGNS OF THE TIMES?
These are strange days, you might say. Here in Prestonsburg, at the home of Ira Cash, strawberry plants bloom and bear red berries, outside in the cold, with snow on the ground, and in Buffalo a dog at the home of Harve Spears has been crowned. We are told that this dog "been sounding off in the most approved rooster fashion, shortly before the November election, and has been at it ever since. Some think he's celebrating, but others say the dog does his crowing stunt only in reply to the crow of a rooster. If that is so, we are told, he does an almost perfect imitation.

Most think about this crowing dog, they say, is when this rooster blasts off at "early chicken-crow," the dog chimes in, and from there on it's an in-bolby duet that rings the well-known welkin and keeps everybody awake.

WE DISAGREE
My son was reading to me, the other night, a piece by a psychologist who declared that a horse has it all over a dog for intelligence. Added, this fellow did, that as a matter of fact, most of his friend is only a notch above a rat in the matter of intelligence, and he maintains that about the only gray matter that has it in the color of its fur.

I beg to differ with the learned psychologist. If a horse is smarter than a dog, how come one has never been able to bed down on the master's pillow?

MORE ABOUT DOGS
Now this column is going to the dogs. We are talking about a conversation he had with an Alabamian at Tom Burchett's, and told of a Kentucky visiting this fellow. The fellow said the dog ventured into the brush up came a bird; one shot, and the Kentuckian downed it. Another shot, and down it went. This continued till the Kentucky boy had bagged his limit without moving.

BREATHITT ASSUMES OFFICE OF GOVERNOR

FLOYD FLOAT HAS PLACE IN PARADE

Edward T. Breathitt was inaugurated as Governor of Kentucky to succeed Bert T. Combs, of Prestonsburg. Thousands, among whom was a large contingent of Floyd county, witnessed the cold for several hours to view the parade and hear the incoming chief executive's address.

The new Governor told the crowd that "this is not a day of cavillation, or of triumph, or of unseemly rejoicing. This is a day of soul-searching and a day of obligation. It is a day of prayer and a day of action. Breathitt and the new lieutenant-governor, Harry Lee Waterfield, were sworn in by Hopkins Christian Church, Judge Ira D. Smith. A big salute from a battalion of the National Guard shattered the hush following the ceremony. Colorful floats, military units and bands added to the pageantry of the event. Floyd county's float, constructed by symbolically depicting educational leaders' appreciation of Combs and trust in the pledges of Breathitt, occupied third place in the long parade. The first and second places being that of Hopkinsville, and that of the late Van Buren Newberry. Besides his mother, (See Story No. 5, Page 8)

Drifter Loots Lancer Home Of $192 Cash, Takes Bath, Then Goes On Buying Soap

A juvenile drifter from Nashville, Tennessee, looted the Lancer residence of a cool $192 in cash and was cool enough to bring burglary to a halt by carrying her into a bath before leaving the house. Officers jailed within the week the youth, who said he is 17, always when he took a bath. Hubert Puckett, early last Friday afternoon. There he helped through dresser drawers, hopped through a window, and hid in the mezzanine finding a coat in cash.

PICK HALE KSA HEAD

Floyd County Sheriff Henry C. Hale was elected president of the Kentucky Sheriff's Association at the Association's annual conference held in Lexington last week. Early contention for the post faded, and Sheriff Hale was elected without opposition. His term ends in March of 1964. Five items of proposed legislation were studied by the Association group. Items of proposed legislation were studied by the Association group. Items of proposed legislation were studied by the Association group.

The delegates discussed sudden deaths in infants, photography driving and drinking, and identification and investigation of suicides. Elected vice-presidents were D. Y. Purdie, McCracken county; Harold Cowley, Harlan county; and Lawrence Waterfield, Ohio county. William T. Pendleton, Daviess county, was elected secretary. Pendleton is the Dick Vermillion of the Whitley county, secretary. New directors are Joe James, Simpson county; Charles Keece, Pike county; George Hall, Boyd county; Joe Campbell, Pulaski county; Al Landrum, Hopkins county; and C. C. Hall, Harrison county.

AGED PASTOR DIES TUESDAY

Former Minister Here Succumbs At Lexington; Burial Set At Wilmore
The Rev. William Baxter Garlick, a Methodist minister, died Tuesday at a hospital in Lexington, at the age of 77. In failing health five years, he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage at his home in Flemingsburg two weeks ago.

He was pastor of the First Methodist Church here for eight years. He held other pastories at Corinth, Germantown, Jackson, Walton, Benson, Curry, Law, and Lexington. He was also pastor of the First Methodist Church in Danville, Covington and Flemingsburg, Kentucky, and Cairo, Illinois. He retired in 1958 at the age of 65. He was buried at the Wilmore cemetery where he had lived for 15 years.

A native of Carroll county, he was a son of W. L. and Emma Winburn Garlick, and was educated at Asbury College, Wilmore, Kentucky. He was a member of the Kentucky Methodist Conference in 1908. Prior to leaving Prestonsburg, he was pastor of the First Methodist Church. Also surviving are five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The body will be in state at Flemingsburg on Friday until the funeral at 11 a. m. at the Flemingsburg Methodist Church which he formerly served as pastor. Burial will be made at Wilmore.

COMBS PICKS 7 FOR BOARD

Naming of Floyd Men In Advisory Capacity Announced This Week
Governor Bert T. Combs, on the last day of his term of office, will name seven Floyd county men to the advisory board for the Prestonsburg Community College. The appointments were made last night by Governor Combs. Oswald, president of the University of Kentucky, will be on the college here will be supervised by the University of Kentucky. Advisory board members named by Governor Combs are: R. V. May and Marvin Smith of Prestonsburg, and Dr. Joe Taylor, Holden of Martin, four-year terms; Dr. Claude L. Allen, of Martin, and H. D. Fitzpatrick, of Prestonsburg, for two-year terms. (See Story No. 4, Page 8)

PERKINS TAKES HOUSE AMEND TRAINING LAW

The U. S. House of Representatives was urged Monday by one of its members, Carl D. Perkins D. Ky., to amend the provisions of the Manpower Development and Training Act so as to fit the provisions of the bill more closely to the needs of the long-term unemployed. Perkins said. Perkins also stressed the importance of other features of the bill which he believes will help the unemployed. Perkins has tried to get the U. S. Department of Labor which administers the law, with the assistance of the office of Education, to establish pilot training projects throughout Eastern Kentucky which would furnish compensation to the long-term unemployed bread-winners while they received extensive education and skilled training. (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

CORPS ASKS COUNTY HELP

Army Engineers Ask Responsibility of Court Be Assumed on Projects
The Huntington district office, U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, has asked the Floyd fiscal court to assume certain responsibilities which should be assumed by clearing jobs proposed for Right Beaver Creek. The projects on which surveys have been made, the court was told, are:

1. From the upper limits of Waytill to lower limits of Huesville (Booser).
2. From the lower limits of Waytill to a point below Waro.
3. From the lower limits of Waytill to a point below Waro.
4. From the lower limits of Waytill to a point below Waro.
5. From the lower limits of Waytill to a point below Waro.

MISSION ASKS BASKET FUND

Annual Christmas Aid Appeal for Poor Made; Rev. Martin Is Head
Engaged primarily in evangelism by means of church work, the Cumberland Mountain Mission is asking for a fund to help support the support of families blessed with good incomes and ready work to provide food for one poor family at Christmas time. Each basket entails the expenditure of $10. Baskets of food, preferably, food in tins, to avoid breakage—cash contributions for the purchase of such baskets are being sought after a careful survey has revealed a great need. "The appeals are coming in, and they are heart-breaking," said the report this week from the Cumberland Mountain Mission, which has its headquarters at Martin. Those heading the work are Rev. John H. Martin, each appeal for help is carefully checked and that only those who deserve help get it.

LAND SALE HALT ASKED

Keathley and Spradlin Are Named Defendants By Martin City Group
The City of Martin and its Planning and Zoning Commission last Friday filed suit in circuit court here asking that two owners of a subdivision within the range of the Commission's "Master Plan" for development of Martin be enjoined from executing or delivering deeds in lots in that particular tract of land. At the same time the court was asked to enjoin County Clerk C. H. Robinson from recording such deeds. Landowner-defendants are Lawrence Keathley and G. C. Spradlin. The suit was filed by the Martin City Group.

12 Liquor Cases Set For Trial on Monday

Doctored for trial in the Floyd quarterly court Monday are 12 persons charged with liquor law violations. The cases are: Maynard, Red Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stone, Ralph Barrett, Harold Yates, Tommy Hatfield, Ernest Campbell, Zed Mack Tackett, Bobby Joe Combs, Junior Wells and Bonnie Brannan. Trial will be held at 10 o'clock on Monday. District Attorney Thomas Lafferty is set for December 23.

Area Council Sets Pointville Meeting

The Boy Scouts Area Council has set for Monday, December 16, at 6 p. m. at the Pointville Community Club O. P. T. Pointville will be handling reservations. Many important matters have taken place since our last meeting. Don't say, "These events are all quiet here," but have a tremendous effect on our area as well as all of Appalachia. This makes the Council's program work even more important.

MAJOR CONSTRUCTION JOBS SEEN IN COUNTY

Suit Asks Oil Firm Relocate Gas Lines On Mountain Parkway
The State Highway Department filed suit Monday in Franklin circuit court to require the Middle Creek Oil and Gas Company to remove and relocate certain gas lines along the Salversville-Prestonsburg road right-of-way. The department asked for declaration of rights in the matter and, if upheld, that the company be required to remove and relocate the facilities at its own expense.

MISHAP KILLS WAR II VET

Sleeping Pill Overdose Fatal To Langley Man; Burial Made At Lebanon
Ralph Owen, 36-year-old Navy veteran of World War II and disabled miner of Langley, died of an overdose of sleeping pills administered accidentally. It is said Mr. Owen, who had suffered from arthritis since an injury in the mines several weeks ago, died from an overdose of sleeping pills administered accidentally. He was a son of Kendall and Hester Stone Owens, of Leno, Kentucky, and the late Mrs. Mary Owens, also surviving. Surviving sons and daughters are Everett, Joseph, Lema Sue, Prilla, and the late Mrs. Mary Owens, also surviving. ## Kentucky Baptists Plan Foreign Mission Study; Fund Goal Announced

Women in 1,200 Kentucky Baptist churches will study the December 9-13 as a week of prayer and study for foreign missions, according to Mrs. George T. Foy, executive secretary of the Women's Missionary Union of Kentucky. The women of the churches, as well as the children and young people, will assemble each day to pray for Baptist mission work in 33 countries of the world.

In addition to study and prayer the women will make their annual Christmas offering for foreign missions. The Kentucky goal for this year is $103,000. United States have an overall goal of $1,850,000. This offering has been made annually since 1838, and has been increasing at the rate of about 15 per cent each year. These funds, plus receipts from the cooperative program each month during the year, support the work in 33 countries carried on by the Foreign Mission Board, Richmond, Virginia.

Pike County Supervisor Acquitted On Charges Of Teacher Intimidation

Walter T. Brown, supervisor of instruction for Pike county schools, was cleared Wednesday of charges that he intimidated two teachers.

The verdict was directed by Special Judge W. D. Sparks, Louisiana, under laws which he said should have, at most, subjected Brown to a contempt charge at the time of the alleged intimidation.

Brown was indicted by a special grand jury in September which also indicted Claude H. Farley, superintendent of Pike schools, on charges of misfeasance and presenting a false claim.

The trial of Farley also before Sparks, was set tentatively for January 3 but motions to quash the indictments are pending.

The court was concerned mainly with the testimony of Tina Branham, 36, a teacher at Light-house elementary school, who said Brown suggested that Branham "might be hurt" by his testimony before the March grand jury.

Brown denied that he made any such statement.

The other teacher, Lawrence Parsons, testified that Brown threatened to get him fired because Parsons was working for the election of a school-board member other than the candidate favored by Farley.

That alleged offense occurred in 1958. The statute of limitations ruled out prosecution, Judge Sparks said.

Funeral Services Held For Harry J. Gregory, Victim of Auto Wreck

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday at 1 p.m. from the Martin high school auditorium for Harry James Gregory, 36, of Martin, who was killed Wednesday, December 4, in an auto collision on the Axler road.

Survivors are the victim's parents, Harry and Wanda Rudder Gregory, of Martin; one sister, Linda May Gregory, and three brothers, David, William and Ronnie Gregory, all at home.

Rev. Lee Sloat officiated at the funeral services and burial was made in the Dignus cemetery at Danford under the direction of Ryan Funeral Home.

INSURANCE BENEFITS UP

New York, N. Y.—Kentucky families received $37.1 million in life insurance death payments in the first nine months of this year, compared with $32 million in the same period of last year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported.

First Gasoline Station Opened Fifty Years Ago By Gulf Oil Corporation

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30—A highly polished "Chalmers touring car" rolled up to an intersection in this city's East Liberty section and its driver eased it to a stop in front of a strange-looking building which bore a sign reading "Supreme Auto Oil."

The date was December 1, 1913—exactly 50 years ago. It was the day "the world's first drive-in gasoline station" went into operation.

Business wasn't what you would call booming that first day. In fact, only 30 gallons of gasoline were sold. The next day, 32 gallons and by the first Saturday the output had jumped to 350 gallons.

Word spread quickly that something new had come to the infant world of the horseless carriage.

At the time, there were only about 10,000 car owners in the Pittsburgh district. But this innovation—a gas station—caught the fancy of the driver.

Prior to the appearance of this first station, gasoline for automobiles and trucks had been sold at livery stables and garages. The practice was to fill hand-pumps fuel into cans of either one-gallon or five-gallon capacity. The cans were provided by the motorist. He in turn, would pour the gasoline into his car's tank by filtering it through a chemist or some other heavy cloth "for purity's sake."

Not long after its inception, the world's first drive-in station began to offer other services. There came free crankcase service, the filling of radiators and the pumping of air into tires. Flats were fixed and accessories were available.

The gasoline station, in effect, became a service station. Attendants worked eight-hour shifts and the station was open around the clock.

There were other "firsts." Among them were the opening of public rest rooms in the station, a no-tipping policy that carried over to today and the offering of free road maps.

The latter was the brain child of a Pittsburgh advertising man, William R. Akin. He was a motoring enthusiast who admitted he constantly got lost whenever he drove beyond city limits.

While having his car serviced one day in the spring of 1914 at the world's first gas station, he conceived the idea of having maps printed that would show the main roads that existed in his area.

The next morning, Akin stopped into the general office of the oil company with his map idea. He got an O.K. and maps were mailed to all motorists in the district.

The same oil firm now gives away about 10,000,000 road maps annually.

Historical Notes

John Peters. Among the sons of Isaac Smith were: Ezekiel, Benjamin and William. The latter born in 1774 and married Susanna Dinges, February 2, 1802. Sold at Cincinnati, England, went to Texas before the war for its independence, was captured by the Mexicans and kept prisoner for five years. His son, French C. Smith, a man of talent and brilliancy, followed his son to Texas and became a prominent figure in that state, having been the Whig candidate for Governor, but was defeated by General Sam Houston, the Democratic candidate by a large majority. Benjamin Smith lived in the county of Mercer and had several sons—among them Theodore, who went West—Thomas, and Allen. Dr. French Smith, of Bluefield, and Judge Charles W. Smith, of Princeton, West Virginia, are the grandsons of Benjamin Smith.

Captain William Smith married a Mrs. Neal, whose maiden name was Dinges, a daughter of Peter Dinges, a Revolutionary soldier, who served in Telfer's Battalion of Montgomery county Artillery in Lafayette's Corps at the Battle of Yorktown.

Captain William Smith lived to about the age of 84. John B. Smith is a son of Benjamin Smith and was a brave and devoted Confederate soldier.

CLARK COLVIN, MERCY
Mrs. Paul R. Holbrook, 2255 Ridge Avenue, Columbus 4, Ohio, asks information on the six Kentucky families of Clark, Percie, Colvin, O'Bryan, Coffee and Bowen of Bowen.

"I am trying to locate any county histories, family histories, daily journals or diaries of early settlers or anything that might help me. I was born in Johnson county but left there at an early age so know very little of the area. I have heard that my people lived in Johnson, Floyd, Morgan and Meroz counties."

Mrs. Holbrook expects to be in this section in the near future to do research. In the meantime, can any of the readers help her?

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET, DEC. 3

Mrs. Ray Howard was hostess to members of the Presbyterian Women's Association at her home on Arnold Avenue, December 3. Mrs. Ernest Osborne, president, read the Christmas message from the Mission Book of Prayer, which included the poem, "What Moves" by Betty Jean Moore. Special prayers were said for missionaries in Pakistan, the Pacific area, Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska. "The Least Coin" offering, which will be sent to the Philippines and New Zealand, was dedicated by Miss Daisy Miller. A letter from Thailand, thanking the women for the boxes of sewing material received from the Christmas fund, was read. The Christmas program was presented by Miss Mary E. Powers, assisted by Miss Earle Flowers, who read Bible passages concerning the birth of Christ. Hymns were played by Mrs. Frank H. Laverne.

Mrs. Osborne installed the following officers for the incoming two years: President, Mrs. Allan Bowser, vice-president, Mrs. Frank H. Laverne, secretary, Mrs. Holly Stutz, treasurer, Mrs. F. L. Henze, Executive Department, Mrs. Ernest Osborne, Program Department, Miss Mary E. Powers, Missionary Education secretary, Mrs. Ray Howard, literature secretary, Mrs. T. W. Chisholm, Social Education secretary, Mrs. Fred James, National and Ecumenical Relations Missions secretary, Miss Daisy Miller, World Service secretary, Mrs. Fred James, Christmas Flowers secretary, Mrs. Earle Flowers, Serving and Flowers, Mrs. Foulley White, Local Flowers secretary, Mrs. Fred James, Flowering secretary, Mrs. W. C. Rimmer, Nominating committee member and Circle chairman, Miss Daisy Miller, Chairman, Mrs. Fred James, Secretary, Mrs. W. C. Rimmer, Mrs. Ernest Osborne, co-chairman.

Mrs. Howard served a delicious coffee and candy. Meeting present were Mrs. James Ernest Osborne, Earle Flowers, Mrs. F. L. Henze, Daisy Miller, Fred James, Alan Bowser, W. C. Rimmer, Ray Howard, T. W. Chisholm, Frank H. Laverne, Holly Stutz, Everett Sowards, Ralph Davis, Miss Daisy Miller, Miss Mary E. Powers.

The January meeting will be at the Church on January 7, with Mrs. James Goble as hostess. Mrs. F. L. Henze will accept the program, "Be What You Are" and will be the study topic for the coming year.

KTA Asks Purchase Of Christmas Seals; Provisional Figures Told

Postmen over Kentucky and the nation are carrying heavier mailbags this week as Christmas Seals are delivered to thousands of homes. The seals mark the start of the annual campaign to raise funds to battle tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

"We hope that every Kentuckian will invest in a healthy future by contributing for Christmas Seals this year," says Dr. Asa Barnes, president of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association. He added that increased funds are needed in this year's campaign "because this will be an action year—one in which we expect to make substantial gains in our efforts to get Kentucky out of the 'critical' list of states with a high incidence of tuberculosis."

Provisional figures released by the U. S. Public Health Service showed that 1,543 new, active cases of TB were reported in the state last year for the second highest rate in the nation.

"Although this high case rate very likely reflects the intensive case-finding programs now being undertaken in Kentucky, the urgency of high gear action against the disease is apparent," Barnes said.

Columnist Ann Landers who is national honorary chairman of the 1963 Christmas Seal campaign, also urged Kentuckians to support the fund drive "because tuberculosis can bring... death to your family. Unless we all strike out at tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases now, they may strike close to home—and our love and concern may be too late."

During fiscal year 1962-63, a record number of 23,000 patients needed direct services from the Kentucky Department of Mental Health, Commissioner Harold I. McPheeters said today in outlining his annual report to Governor Bert T. Combs.

In the year ending last June 30, the Department treated 20,000 patients in its four mental hospitals—Central State in Anchorage, Eastern State in Lexington, Kentucky State in Danville and Western State in Hopkinsville. In addition, some 4,800 received post-hospital services; 1,449 were served by the state's two institutions for the retarded; Frankfort State Hospital and school for the newly-acquired Outwood State Hospital and school in Dawson Springs; and 3,000 children and adults were seen in the state's 17 community mental health centers.

Concerning the four mental hospitals last year, Dr. McPheeters wrote:

"The Department registered its greatest number of admissions to the hospitals, recorded the largest number of patients on leave from the hospitals at the end of a fiscal year. In 1962, the hospitals had the smallest number of resident patients since record-keeping started in 1932 and it offered more follow-up services to more released patients than ever before."

In other news of his Department's accomplishments, Dr. McPheeters mentioned the establishment of new programs in the mental hospitals which are planning to provide vocational, educational and social services necessary for patients' rehabilitation; the $4 million complex of new buildings under construction at Central State Hospital; and the steps taken by the Division of Mental Retardation to establish a master file, destined to include information on all of Kentucky's mentally retarded.

"Without question the biggest event of the year in our relationship to the hospitals was the acquisition by the state of Outwood state hospital and school... considered an ideal for the treatment and rehabilitation of the retarded."

SCHOLARSHIP STUDY
The University of Kentucky Press publishes the results of scholarly study and research with particular emphasis on works by members of the University faculty and studies of Kentucky by other scholars. young ones how to hunt and capture birds and small rodents.

The red fox is called "the most wily and cunning of the animals"; it lives by its wits and seems to delight in matching its skill and cunning against a pack of hounds. It knows that its body scent will drive hounds mad for the chase. So it will leave a strong scent trail, and then deliberately make it disappear, to fool the dogs. It will literally often run to a stream and wade for several yards, to throw the hounds off scent. It takes a delight in being chased by a pack of yelping hounds and has been known to sit on its haunches—and literally chortle as their foolish and frantic efforts to catch up with it. It will run in circles to fool the hounds, or jump upon the top of a stone wall to throw them off the scent. Its bark is a short yapping, much like that of a puppy. Sometimes it will yowl on moonlit nights. Such a noble and handsome animal is highly regarded as a most worthy opponent by old-fashioned foxhunters; so most of them will refuse to shoot a red fox, because they want to keep plenty of them for the fun of the fox chase.

By selective breeding, the red fox has been made to produce a strain of silver foxes, highly prized for their fur.

Anthology Featuring Native Poets' Work Set for Publication

The first anthology of the work of native Kentucky poets will be published in January, according to the announcement of THE FRIENDS OF KENTUCKY LIBRARIES, Louisville, a literary organization of which Mrs. Garnet Bale, Elizabethtown, Ky., is secretary. The volume will feature the work of native Kentucky poets, and the organization has been busy this past year compiling and selecting the work to be included in the volume, which will be ready for distribution the first part of February. Among the regional writers to be included in the volume are Sylvia Trent Auxier and Truda McCoy, both of Pikeville, Lillian D. Chaffins, of Miga, and Rufus M. Reed, of Loxley, Ky.

P.T.A. MEETING CANCELLED

The Prestonsburg Grade School Parent-Teacher Association has cancelled its meeting tonight (Thursday). It is announced. The next meeting is scheduled January 9.

HAS SIGHT RESTORED—Dr. H. E. Midkiff, Prestonsburg optometrist, fits glasses Monday for Tommy Vinson, former Wayland mine worker, who had his sight restored by surgery at Louisville, November 8. Surgery was sponsored by the Prestonsburg Lions Club through the facilities of Kentucky Lions Eye Foundation. Vinson was partially blind for 10 years, totally so one year preceding the operation.

Finally, when he walked into the brush, whence the birds had come, he made a startling discovery about how well-trained the Alabama dog was.

"You know," the visitor told Crum, "that dog had those birds holed up, and was better than me, one at a time, so that Kentucky boy could shoot 'em down!"

AND MORE
Folger Judge Watt Hale betters that one. Tells of the old squirrel-dog which had lost most of its teeth, was full of hearing and sight and was so badly crippled by rheumatism and the wounds of various battles that he no longer could climb the hills.

"But," says Watt, "that didn't keep him from being a good squirrel dog. He could stand in the bottom, throw his voice and tree squirrels three benches up the hillside."

By the way, do you agree with me that some of these TV forecasts must have been pre-recorded?

Construction of the college building here is under way but is not expected to be completed in time for classwork before the fall term, 1965. Foundation work has been completed by the contractors, Astor Meade and W. R. Kendrick, but winter weather is expected to slow the undertaking.

He revealed that he had appointed Lieutenant Governor Waterfield as chairman of the Economic Development Commission to succeed Wilson Watt, the retiring Lieutenant Governor. Waterfield said he had asked Combs to serve as special adviser on Appalachian problems. He reiterated his promise to add $5 million to the rural highway fund and to increase funds for education.

ple permitting them to have training with training allowance at age 17. Perkins said that this provision was particularly important and significant especially now that the bill contained adequate safeguards against encouraging young people to drop out of school to secure its benefits.

Congressman Perkins was acting chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee on October 18 when the bill broadening and extending the Manpower Development and Training Act was reported to the House of Representatives.

Perkins emphasized that the hope in many of the economically depressed areas of the country, particularly in Eastern Kentucky, is to attract and develop new commercial and industrial enterprises. These efforts will be aided materially if our labor surplus is well trained in modern technical skills. Up until the present time the Manpower Development and Training Act has been able to recruit and train those unemployed persons who had already attained a comparatively high level of education. "This is why," said Perkins, "that we must have these amendments so that training courses can be lengthened in order to furnish unemployed persons with the income and the time to be trained and educated for the new and better paying jobs of modern times."

Perkins said that nobody in Washington was pretending that the Manpower Development and Training Act, even with the supplementary amendments, furnished a complete solution to the unemployment problems of Eastern Kentucky. "The economic problems of Eastern Kentucky will show marked improvements," said Perkins, "when modern roads and highways, flood control reservoirs as well as such programs as the Manpower Development and Training Act are undertaken on a large scale through every county of the area."

Mrs. Sarah DeLong, 81, Of Johns Creek Section Dies of 2-Week Illness

Mrs. Sarah DeLong, 81, resident of Johns Creek, died in a Paintsville hospital at 8:30 a.m., Sunday, December 1, after an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. DeLong was born at Van Lear January 8, 1882, the daughter of the late Thomas and Nancy Music Sammons. She had made her home at Johns Creek for the past fifty-one years and was a member of the Church of Christ.

Her husband, Ben DeLong, preceded her in death, April 19, 1958.

Survivors include three sons, Curtis, Mitchell and Willie DeLong, all of Johns Creek; three daughters, Mrs. Nancy Stewart, Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. Ruby Boyd, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Audrey Dearfield, Delbarton, W. Va.; three brothers, John and Tom Sammons, Mealy, Martin Sammons, Thelma, two sisters, Nerve Franklin, Concord; Martha Davis, Huntington, W. Va.; half-sister, Mrs. Menzie Hartman, Baltimore, Md. Also surviving are thirty-three grandchildren, fifty great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 3, at the Philadelphia Church of Christ at Johns Creek with Herschel Short and S. C. Honeycutt as officiating ministers. Burial was in the DeLong cemetery at Johns Creek.

Warfare has indicated privately he would not be adverse to becoming Senate pro-tem president. His friend and neighbor, 70-year-old Alvin Kitzel, Sports Democrat, now holds that position.

Ware also appears willing to serve another term as floor leader if it seems best for the party. Should Ware become president-pro-tem, the field of would-be successors is wide.

A reliable source said the latest and strongest prospect is Senator Martin "Mike" Duff, of Louisville.

Also in the running are Shelby Kincaid, of Lexington, Tom Garrett, of Paducah, and Casper "Cap" Gardner, of Owensboro, regarded as a dark horse.

Senator Durham Howard, Pineville Democrat, is expected to continue as minority leader. The G.O.P. has increased its Senate representation from nine to 13.

Lieutenant Governor-elect Harry Lee Waterfield automatically becomes Senate president.

Registration for the pre-legislative conference is scheduled Sunday afternoon.

Breathitt will give the welcoming address Monday morning and a host of state officials will spend the next two days explaining finances and their roles in government. The legislative caucus will be held Tuesday afternoon.

The pre-legislative sessions began in 1949 during the administration of Boyle Clements. They were discontinued by Governor A. B. Chandler, then resumed by Governor Bert T. Combs.

The family of Mrs. Elizabeth White wish to express their sincere appreciation to all friends and relatives who assisted in any way to lighten our hearts in our deep sorrow. Thanks very much for the lovely floral tributes, delicious food and car service at a time when our need was great. Especially do we thank the ministers, Rev. Ira McMillen and Rev. W. D. Jagers, for their comforting words, the Baptist Choir for the beautiful music, and the Floyd Funeral Home for its efficient services. These kindnesses will not be forgotten.

KY. LAKE MEET TO PICK NEW LEGISLATIVE LEADERS

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 9 — Key leadership posts in House and Senate may be at stake next week during a pre-legislative conference at Kentucky Dam Village State Park.

After the 100 House and 38 Senate members finish their meetings Monday and Tuesday, they will organize unofficially. Actual selections will be made at a formal meeting when the regular session starts in January.

The only lawmaker apparently certain of staying at an important post is highly respected Representative R. P. Molones, of Lexington, the House majority leader.

There has been much discussion and political jockeying in connection with other plums.

A key vacancy was left by House Speaker Harry King Lowman, Ashland Democrat, when he lost his November bid for reelection.

Under active consideration is Representative Shelby McCallum, Benton Democrat, a close friend and business associate of Governor-elect Edward T. Breathitt.

Also mentioned are Richard Fyrrine, Madisonville Democrat; Julian Carroll, Paducah Democrat; and John Swinford, Cynthiana Democrat, a close friend and post now held by Wayne Henderson, Centertown Republican.

The Republicans have increased their House strength from 26 to 37.

In the Senate, attention is focused on majority leader—a position now held by James Ware, of Covington.

Ware has indicated privately he would not be adverse to becoming Senate pro-tem president. His friend and neighbor, 70-year-old Alvin Kitzel, Sports Democrat, now holds that position.

Ware also appears willing to serve another term as floor leader if it seems best for the party. Should Ware become president-pro-tem, the field of would-be successors is wide.

LAST MINUTE GIFT BUYING???

If so, we have the perfect solution to make... Why not give the gift that keeps on giving, 365 days a year? Of course we mean a handy additional telephone for your loved ones. An extension, a pretty Frigidaire phone, a musical bell chime instead of your telephone ringing, a chime, or a decorative color telephone of your choice, will remind the lucky person of your love and thoughtfulness the whole year long.

We gift wrap and deliver, without any charge of course, and will install each item either before or after Christmas—at your convenience. Come in and see it today at your local business office in Prestonsburg or call us at 926-0011.

THE BIG DAY IS ALMOST HERE. Plans are well under way for parties, dinners, presents, surprises of all kinds. And most of them mean lots of work for the lady of the house. May we suggest a very personal way to celebrate Christmas. No work... not much time required... very little cost. Telephone calls to friends and relatives near and far. Send your good wishes over the miles by telephone. The sound of voices we love is the very nicest kind of gift to give or to receive.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL would be interested in the things going on at Abilities, Inc., a manufacturing company near New York City. Every one of over 400 employees is handicapped in some way. The company originally started ten years ago with four employees with just one good leg and five arms among them! A big part of the work they do is for Western Electric, supplier of Bell System communications equipment. Mr. Bell's interest in helping the handicapped grew out of his work with deaf people. And out of this grew his interest in the whole field of communications.

MYSTERY. A woman in New Orleans couldn't understand why her friends complained that she often picked up her phone when it rang and then didn't answer. So she kept an eye on the phone. Scams that a cat whose naps were being disturbed had learned to knock the receiver off the hook with his paw, then take up his nap where he'd left off. The problem was solved when the bell chime was installed. Now the cat purrs when the chime chimes. Both lady and cat are enjoying the new sound of their telephone.

Your friends at Southern Bell hope you and your family have the Merriest Christmas and the Happiest New Year ever!

LOUISA SITE OF MEETING

Area Baptists To Meet Tonight; Rally To Hear Education Fund Plan

The largest gathering of Baptists in their history of denominational work in the Northeastern section of Kentucky is expected for the regional rally being held for the CHRISTIAN EDUCATION ADVANCEMENT phase of the cooperative program of the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

The meeting in this region is scheduled at the Louisa Baptist Church at Louisa tonight (Thursday). Pastors, deacons, department leaders, and members of congregations of 88 churches in the Enterprise, Greenup, Pike, and Red River Associations have been invited to attend this meeting to learn of the capital needs of Baptist institutions of Christian education in Kentucky.

Included in the CHRISTIAN EDUCATION ADVANCEMENT program are seven Baptist Colleges and schools, seven Baptist Student Union Centers and two camps, sites at Cadmore. Among these colleges and schools are Cumberland College, Oneida Institute, and Clear Creek Baptist School which are located in the eastern section of Kentucky.

Leading Baptists from throughout this section of Kentucky will be present to speak to the large gathering of church groups, according to the Rev. Ira McMillen, chairman of the statewide program and pastor of the Unity Baptist Church, and the Rev. James Grayson, Assistant pastor for chairman and host pastor for the program.

Scheduled for major presentations on the program of the rally are Dr. D. M. Akridge, president of Clear Creek Baptist School; Arthur J. Pointe, regional men's chairman, of Ashland; Mike Sloane, BSU Director at Morehead College; Rev. W. D. Jeagers, of Prestonsburg, and pastor chairman of Enterprise Association; Rev. W. W. Thompson, of Jackson, and pastor chairman of Red River Association; Dr. Verlin C. Kruechitz, statewide pastor chairman; Cecil V. Cook, Jr., of Louisa, campaign director, and Ira McMillen, Jr., who will present the suggested Association and church goals in the $200,000 capital funds campaign.

PECAN CROP LARGER

This year's pecan crop is 66 percent larger than the five-year average, the state's pecan growers say. In 1963, they expect the crop will be emphasized in December. The Southeast has produced large crops of high quality pecans, too, peanut products also will be plentiful. You can choose among various varieties and sizes of apples for eating out-of-hand and for cooking; those sold in transparent bags will be the best bargain.

CAREERS IN HORTICULTURE IS MAJOR THEME

Lexington, Ky.—Careers in the horticultural field is the major theme this week at the 29th annual meeting of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association now in session in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Sixteen Kentucky 4-H Club boys and girls are among those attending this national event.

BEEF PRICED ATTRACTIVELY

You'll find generous supplies of beef at attractive prices this month. USDA reports that fed beef prices in October were $4.29 a hundredweight below prices a year earlier and may decline further before the end of the year. Plenty of pork will be available and prices are expected to remain low throughout the month. An abundance of the quality turkeys also is available for holiday cooking.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go—6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*! And if that makes you think this is one irisky car, you've got the right idea. You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park. With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps. And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too. Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price! Like to hear more? BLACK PLASTIC FILM

 Lexington, Ky. — Fall-planted, spring-flowering bulbs can be covered with a sheet of black plastic film as soon as they have been planted and watered in, according to Earl H. New, UK Extension horticulture specialist. This makes a satisfactory mulch since most spring-flowering bulbs that are newly planted need little mulching for winter protection in Kentucky.

WARD HOLDS ROADS POST
 Commissioner Will Retain Highway Job

Henry Ward, Kentucky's commissioner of highways, will not be among the top-level appointive officials to be transferred to a new Administration takes the reins at Frankfort.

Prior to his inauguration Tuesday, Governor Edward T. Breathitt announced that he would reappoint Ward, and Ward already has said he would accept renewal of his tenure as highways chief.

Breathitt had said frequently during his campaign that he would ask Ward to continue in the post he has held since 1960.

"The program Henry Ward has conducted for the past three years has already drawn national recognition," Breathitt said. "His efforts as highway commissioner during the next four years will have my strong support as Governor."

Ward said he took the job originally "because of the challenge it offered to contribute to the state and I'm keeping it because of the challenge. I hope to serve as long as I have the conviction that I'm doing a satisfactory job."

Ward said that after talking with Breathitt earlier this month, he is convinced that Breathitt "is completely sincere about doing something worthwhile for Kentucky, both in highways and in other important areas."

Ward said that "continuity of direction is vital for the success of a highway program and that such continuity" has been sadly lacking during most of the history of the Kentucky Highway Department.

He added that he has drawn "considerable personal pleasure" from the opportunity to run the Highway Department under outgoing Governor Bert T. Combs.

Ward, a resident of Louisville, is a McCracken county native. For many years he was a Paducah newspaperman and a state legislator. He also has been state conservation commissioner and general manager of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce.

MAYTOWN'S TALENT OUTSTANDING PLAYER

Seven years have passed since Wayland's fabulous "King-Kelly" Coleman established several new Kentucky high school basketball scoring records which still stand, but Maytown's sensational Bob Talent has Eastern Kentucky fans scurrying to the record books.

Talent, now a senior at Maytown high, has played six games this far in the 1963-64 season and this is what he has contributed to his team's effort.

In the opening game against Wayland, he scored 46 points and grabbed 22 rebounds; second game against Hettler, 39 points and 23 rebounds; third game against Garrett, 38 points and 16 rebounds; fourth game against Wheeler, 42 points, 23 rebounds; fifth game against Betsy Layne, 40 points, 23 rebounds; and sixth game against McDowell in the first round of the Floyd county tournament here last Wednesday, 39 points and 17 rebounds.

In six games against teams that have averaged a 23 point mark, he has totaled 259 points for 41.2 per game scoring mark and a rebounding number of 23 per game.

Talent, unlike Coleman, who had four other outstanding players with him at Wayland, is one of 13 players who came on to basketball at Maytown, although he has been a regular all four seasons. Two of the team's starters are sophomores and two are freshmen.

In his freshman year, while playing with older brother, Bill, who now starts on the varsity for Prestonsburg College in Clinton, South Carolina, Bob averaged 10.1. Then in his sophomore year he spurted to a 22.1 average and last year was the area's highest individual scorer with 29.3 points per game slate for 27 contests.

Talent can play either forward or guard equally well, but Coach Eugene Frauvre feels that he helps the team more at a guard position. He is possibly the reacher's best shot, with a shooting percentage of 69.7, and is adept at passing off to teammates, with three and four players guard him.

His best shot is a jumping one-hander, from outside the foul line, but if a defensive player comes out to stop him he is fast enough to go around him for a driving crisp shot.

The six-foot-two-inch, 17-year-old youth is considered by many major league baseball scouts as an outstanding prospect. He is a pitcher on the Wildcat nine and has spent the past four summers playing baseball in a Miami-Florida amateur league.

His academic achievements are almost certain to earn him the place of valedictorian of his class. He has made all "A's" in his studies. His first two six week's grades were A's in such courses as Chemistry, Advanced American Government, English IV, Foundations of Advanced Math.

Coach Adolph Rupp of the University of Kentucky has already reserved a 1964-65 scholarship for the agile youngster, and he has been a frequent visitor to U. of K.'s athletic events over the past two seasons.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Talent, of Langley. His father was an all-K. A. C. basketball forward at Morehead State College in the late '30's and early '40's.

KNOTT NEEDY ARE AIDED

By Food Stamp Plan; Horn Reports $683,222 In Coupons Are Issued

Hindman, Ky.—The U. S. Department of Agriculture's pilot food stamp program for needy families in Knott county recently began its second year.

Knott county joined the federal food stamp program on December 3, 1962. It is one of three eastern Kentucky counties participating in the pilot food stamp program. Floyd county began its project on June 1, 1961, and the Perry county program opened on March 1, 1963.

The three projects are parts of an overall program of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service to test out another means of using the nation's agricultural abundance to improve the diets of low-income families by increasing their food purchasing power.

Carl Horn, representative of the Agricultural Marketing Service supervising the eastern Kentucky food stamp projects, reports that $683,222 worth of food stamp coupons were issued to eligible Knott families during the 12-month period by the Kentucky Department of Economic Security. The state agency assists the Agricultural Marketing Service in administering the food stamp program in Kentucky.

Of the total amount received by the participants were required to buy $230,036 worth of coupons, Horn said. They received the remainder free of charge. The bonus coupons are given to the families to help them buy more and better food at retail grocery stores—the purpose of the food stamp program.

Horn said the participating families are required to purchase an amount of coupons about equal to what they had been spending for food in the past. The program actually results in increased food purchases.

Miss Sara Lee Horn, field social service supervisor for the Kentucky Department of Economic Security in Knott county, said 4,893 persons, or about 886 families, purchased food stamp coupons in the county during November. This was 26 persons less than in October, and down 1,219 from the 5,874 persons who received coupons in February—the highest participation in any month since the project began in Knott county.

Ralph E. Wells, field social service supervisor for the Department of Economic Security in Perry county, said 5,386 persons in Perry county received food coupons in November.

In Floyd county, 5,424 persons participated in the food stamp program last month, according to Mrs. Nell L. Howell, social service supervisor for that county.

Henry Hall Hanged at Pikeville

The second and last man hanged in the history of Pike County, Ky., was Henry Hall, who went to the gallows in 1894 for the murder of a brother in a card game at Elkhorn City. Hall was executed at the mouth of Ferguson's Creek, across the river and opposite the town of Pikeville.

Pike County's first hanging was that of Ellison (Cotton Top) Mounts who was executed in 1889 at French Hollow in North Pikeville for the murder of Allifair McCoy in the Hatfield-McCoy feud.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our regional past in recognition of our historic heritage.

Commission Approves Fish Giggling from Boat In State's Large Lakes

Frankfort, Ky.—Fish giggling from a boat in lakes of 500 acres or more for the regular giggling season from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. was approved by the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission at its recent meeting here. Giggling from a boat is illegal when it is approved by the commission that this action is destined to facilitate the taking of more rough fish. Harvest of game fish, by means of illegal in all waters.

The closing of all private in Salt River from Highway 249 at Ven-Brown to the Bonds Mills Dam was authorized, while on the other hand giggling will now be permitted in season in the tributaries on the Middle Park of the Kentucky River from Bookhorn Lake upstream. Sections of Tug Park which lie within Kentucky were opened for commercial fishing. Marrowbone Creek in Cumberland county was ordered closed.

Effective January 1, 1965, all licenses for muscelling in Kentucky lakes or streams will be issued from the Department of Fishes at Frankfort. This action was taken so that the Department may have a better check on muscelling operations. The Commission also barred the use of wire in the construction of all nets and decreased the size of commercial fisherman in open Kentucky waters from three and one-half inches to three inches. This complies with a mesh size recommended by a committee on commercial fishing from Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and TVA.

Effective February 1, the size limit on black bass taken from Greenway Lake will be eliminated. Previously, bass under 12 inches could not be taken from the body of water.

For the state-owned lakes, Malone, Beshears and Guist Creek, the Commission set a spring season from June 1 through September 10 in only the main channels of the lakes, the hours from 6 a.m. until 6 p.m.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Times:

MEMORIES OF CHRISTMAS
 As Christmas nears many of us have thoughts which revert to the holidays of our childhood. Vividly I can remember on that Christmas morning when I was seven—the glad faces of my dad and mother when they awoke me to show me what Santa had brought. There, by the warm coal fire, was the little red wagon I wanted. It was filled with candy, oranges, bananas, nuts, roman candles and firecrackers. Christmas then were more simple, but people seemed more happy, for then they were not bombarded through the medium of radio and T.V. with bombastic materialism.

Memory of the remote past and of the dear ones forever departed from us in this life, give us courage and will to lead a better life, that we may meet them in eternity, and with Jesus, whose birthday draws near.

In Memory of A Loved One, T. E. Martin, Who Passed Away February 1, 1965.

I have lost my life companion, A life linked to my own; And every day I miss him more As I go through life alone.

It won't be long till Christmas day, A day that used to be so good and sweet; Little did I know that one day I would be giving you a bunch of flowers, Instead of a Christmas cake.

If all the world was mine to give, I would give it all and more. To see the face I love so dear, Come smiling through the door. I sit alone and think Of your smiling face I long to view.

Our boy is all I have to love, My treasures are so few; I hope some day to meet you, Somewhere beyond the blue. In the sweet life and bye We shall meet on that beautiful shore.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

This Saturday night, the Martin Purple Flash basketball team will play host to the Maytown Wildcats in Martin's annual homecoming game. The game will be preceded by a parade at 2 p.m., which will start from the high school building.

Immediately preceding the homecoming game, the cheerleaders, the managers, and the Purple Flash team of 1963 will be honored. The coronation of Miss Purple Flash 1964 also will take place at that time.

Miss Purple Flash of 1964 is Miss Frankie Hall, a freshman. She will be escorted by basketball captain, David Mayo. The first attendant is Miss Patty Mae Clark, and she will be escorted by Hershel Hale. The second attendant is Miss Joy Dean Cole, a junior, and her escort will be Alton Paton.

The senior class will sponsor a spaghetti dinner from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. It also will sponsor a homecoming dance immediately following the basketball game.

E. B. May, Jr., 15th regional basketball clinic director for the Kentucky High School Athletic Association, will conduct a clinic for coaches and officials in the Morgan county high school gymnasium on Thursday night, December 12, at 7:30 p.m. All 60th district coaches and officials are asked to attend, along with any interested fans.

Coaches and principals in the 59th district have indicated they are interested in organizing a coaches' and officials' organization. Organizers in the 15th regional representative on the K.H.S.A. Board of Control, has asked that all coaches, principals and officials meet with him at the Gold Room of the Paintsville Country Club at 7 p.m., December 19.

The Prestonsburg Blackcats will meet the Farfield Reddevils in the local gym, at 8 p.m., Friday, with the "Klitten" game set for 6:30.

Pairings for the Wheelwright Invitational were announced Sunday and the teams and players participating read like a "goodie" list Santa Claus might have just received.

Two 1963 state tournament pairings will be, on hand, and so will Wheelwright, which figures to be one of the best in the mountains this winter.

Best mountain team missing from the event is Paintsville, who will compete in the Ashland Invitational during this same week.

Sweet Sixteen members vying for the Wheelwright championship are Decatur County and Garrett, both in the lower bracket.

First round pairings look like this:

UPPER BRACKET, DEC. 25 7 p.m.—Martin vs. McDowell; 8:30—Virgie vs. Wheelwright.

LOWER BRACKET, DEC. 26 2 p.m.—Betsy Layne vs. Garrett; 8:30—Breathitt County vs. Wayland.

Semifinals are scheduled Dec. 27, with the lower bracket elimination set at 7 o'clock and the upper bracket battle to immediately follow. The championship box is carded at 4 p.m., Dec. 28.

The tournament has a long list of prospective college prospects and the talent seeking from major universities are expected to be frequent during the entire tournament.

Who are the best players? Broomey Williams (Wayland), Keith Lawson and Jimmy Cox (Garrett), Tommy Hall (Betsy Layne), Larry Hall (Martin), Shawn Howell (McDowell), Jim Rollins and Danny Ray Hall (Wheelwright), and James Turner and Eugene Turner (Breathitt County).

All are seniors, a fact which should make college scouts that much more intent on officials' tournament.

Officials named to work the meet are Sid Meade, South Branch; D. D. Sullivan, Lexington; E. B. May, Prestonsburg; Paul Boyles, Russell; and Goble Ritt, Whitesburg.

Admission per session is $125 for adults and 75 cents for high school and elementary students.

Charles "Chuck" May, Prestonsburg high senior, tackled, secured a football grant-in-aid and scholarship with the University of Kentucky, last Saturday. The 210-pounder is also expected to be one of the state's leading shot-putters this spring. He is the son of popular football and basketball official, E. B. May, Jr., Prestonsburg.

Floyd County Pre-Season Tournament notes: Wheelwright high, in addition to winning the tournament, also copped the team free-throw trophy with 25 of 32 successful attempts. Maytown high won the cheerleading trophy.

The tournament grossed $3000 and netted $2000 for the Floyd County Annual. All teams and persons connected with the affair donated their time, excepting the officials. Prestonsburg high served as host, however, the school does not receive a remuneration.

Three Floyd County teams were listed in the top 2 high school basketball teams in the first state-wide ratings Tuesday morning. Martin ranked third by the fourth team, Wheelwright 24th, and McDowell 24th.

The ratings are based on scores that Dr. Leutenow has received to date. Most coaches see that winning scores are related to him, but when one loses, they are not as anxious to get scores to him.

PRE-SEASON TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONSHIP IS COPPED BY WHEELWRIGHT TROJANS

The Wheelwright Trojans have now assumed the role of co-regional favorite by copping the championship of the 25th annual Floyd county pre-season tournament. Don Wallen's charges led over tough Wayland, 73-56, in Prestonsburg, Saturday night, and McDowell grabbed the third place title with an easy 75-57 conquest over tough Wayland.

Danny Ray Hall, a senior jumpin' ace, although only 5-11, canned 27 points and 63 Jim Rollins, 19 as the Trojans jumped ahead 18-12, at the close of the first period and 33-21 at halftime. Wayland came to life in the third period and narrowed the game to 10 points but the strain of playing their third consecutive game in three nights began to tell in the final period.

Wayland's ace scorer, senior Broyles Williams, was limited to 10 points and Danny Sanford to 12.

Wheelwright had advanced to the finals by tripping Martin in the first round and slipping McDowell by 67-61 in a tightly contested Friday night semi-final game. Wayland gained the final night with an opening win over Prestonsburg, and eliminated Betsy Layne, 78-71, in the semifinals.

✓ 1963 Box Score: FORD'S TOTAL PERFORMANCE TOUGHNESS DOMINATES THE COMPETITION WORLD!

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program cars have ever faced... full-scale open competition on the rally and racing circuits of the world. This is the dramatic way to show that Ford's heavy, changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record.

STOCK CAR RACING: 24-2 margin for Ford Ford is king of NASCAR competition and Ford Motor Company has the NASCAR Achievement Award to prove it in the 52 season, special Ford entries won every single one of 150 miles or longer, scored nearly twice as many points as any other manufacturer and dependability in two other major stock car racing associations (MCA and MARC). Ford drivers have won 19 of the 1963 championships.	SPORTS CAR ROAD RACING: Ford V8 power is the new king Now the date with its special fuel-injection engine engaged at the wheel year after year, Cobra won the coveted Manufacturers Trophy in SCCA Class A Production competition by 50 with a margin no other U.S. or foreign—were ever in sight and in the two major tests this fall, the Laguna Seca and Riverside ones, the new King Cobras ousted out the "oldsters" cars from all over the world.	RALLY COMPETITION: Manufacturers' Champions Products of Ford Motor Company and its world-wide dealer network, the 1963 Mustangs of the World Rally Championship. Ford's rally cars began when two specially equipped Falcons, 7000, started the rally in the rugged world in the brutal 2500-mile Monte Carlo Rally. Other special Falcons V-8 triumphed in Holland's famed Tulle Rally, and ran away with the Manufacturers' Rally in the 400-mile Trans Canada Rally.	INDIANAPOLIS: Ford ends an era Advanced Ford engineering awarded president in the classic Indianapolis 500. The victory was a sign that version of the Falcon V-8 design as a letter class finished second and the next time in the Mustangs 7000, it ended the reign of the traditional "rally" racing car by leading every foot of the way from start to finish.	PERFORMANCE &amp; ECONOMY —New Impulse in Ford The Wildcat Economy Run underscored Falcon's year-long reputation for fuel economy. Falcon scored first in Class B (medium-weight) category and the Ford Mustang, which won with overall wins in Classes A and B for best performance (economy, acceleration and braking).

✓ 1964 Result: TOTAL PERFORMANCE INSPIRES THE TOUGHEST, SMARTEST CARS FORD EVER BUILT!

Fords have changed—and that's the real reason behind Ford's racing successes. We're filling cars in our history. The things we've learned from the specially equipped cars we enter in open competition have helped make them that way.

The inherent qualities that make the victorious racing car—road-holding, braking, durability, precision control, resistance to vibration, also make a car safer, sturdier, and smoother for highway use.

But prove it to yourself. Take the wheel of any new Ford. Examine it on the road. It will show you the kind of total performance no one else can match.
