KY 80 Planning Costs $479,349

But State Has Trouble Finding Funds for Work

The state has spent, or has contracted to spend, almost half a million dollars for studies and planning of a route for a new, four-lane KY 80 from this county to Hazard but was said this week to be very uncertain about where it will get the estimated $75-150 million needed for its construction.

If built, the road would supplant the present 57 miles of narrow, twisting KY 80 between Allen and Hazard and would link the new, four-lane US 23 at Water Gap in this county with the Daniel Boone Parkway at Hazard.

State Representative W. J. Reynolds, of Allen, who is no stranger to Frankfort thinking, predicted this week that the money will be found and the road built. "Even though ARC money may not be available, federal 50-50 help is," he pointed out.

It was recalled here, too, that Governor Carroll in a campaign speech here with Senator Wendell Ford pledged that he "will complete the work Governor Ford began."

One of Ford's firmest pledges while he was governor was that KY 80 would be rebuilt, and planning studies were initiated before he left the office to become U.S. Senator.

The Courier-Journal in its Monday edition quoted Transportation Secretary (See Story No. 2, Page 4)

This Town ... That World

Labor Day has come and gone, the summer is ended, the thermometer and the calendar to the contrary. The younger set has gone back to school, and the older set sits. The days die to a requiem voiced by a zillion insects. There are more jays around the place than starlings. Change is in the air. And I can't warm to the thought of these hills soon in the glory-color of autumn for the chill that thoughts of leafless trees and dead grass and flowers and whistling winds bring in spite of myself. I expect no thanks for the information, but the great days of a long, hot summer will be only a bittersweet memory within another sixty days. Then we will have something else to gripe about.

PUTTING IT BLUNTLY

Perhaps lacking in the gentility department, an old woman once upon a time asked one of her brood who was complaining about the heat: "Which would you rather do—wipe the sweat off your face or a icicle off the end of your nose?"

Haven't seen Lenna Moore much, of late, but the last time he was in he was—I have his own word for it—a very happy man. His neighbors had finally decided to believe him.

Officers Probe Death of Crider, Gunshot Victim

State Police early this week were continuing their investigation of the shooting death in the Goble-Roberts Addition here early last Saturday morning of Harold Dean Crider, 27-year-old construction worker.

The blast of a 12-gauge shotgun in Crider's forehead caused instant death, it was held. His death was reported by his wife, Phyllis Foley Crider, shortly after 5 a.m.

The investigation seeks to determine if the wound was self-inflicted or if the shot was fired by another. State Detectives Fred Bailey and Dennis Williamson and Prestonsburg Policeman Darrel J. Conley were involved in the probe.

Coroner James J. Carter, who said he arrived at the Crider trailer-home around 6:45 a.m., said he found the victim dead, his body covered by a sheet from head to foot, with the exception of his left hand. The shotgun lay across a nightstand at the head of the bed in which the victim lay. The shot, Carter said, had been fired through the sheet covering Crider's head.

The coroner said Mrs. Crider told him she had touched nothing but her (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

To Head State Grocers

Douglas Brown, president of the Brown Produce Co., Prestonsburg, will be inaugurated president of the Kentucky Wholesale Grocers' Association at the closing session of the Association's 29th annual convention held at the Ramada Inn, Louisville, September 3-11.

Brown has been associated with his father, George D. Brown, and other members of his family in the wholesale food industry in the Eastern Kentucky area for the past 23 years. He will succeed Everett J. Freeland, of Mayfield, as president of K.W.G.A.

Strike Spreads, Tho Union Fined; Floyd Mines Hit

For the first time since District 30 of the United Mine Workers of America founded its annual Labor Day observance with a giant rally 10 years ago, the 1975 event, scheduled at Archer Park here, was called off.

Instead of a Labor Day crowd of several thousand miners, members of their families, friends and union officials, only a drawing for prizes advertised by the district was held.

No official reason for the cancellation was given, and an attempt to contact Squire Fellner, District 30 president, was unsuccessful. "Turnout and stress in the coalfields" as a consequence of a strike which began in West Virginia was one reason.

Another, which is unconfirmed, ran to the effect that word had come from District 17, in West Virginia, that the rally here would be picketed.

During last week hints to the effect that "there'll be trouble" were heard.

Whatever the real reason for the cancellation, UMW leaders left, after announcing there would be no rally, for Washington where they reportedly were attempting to iron out strike issues.

The strike, which began in West Virginia, has spread to half a dozen states, including Kentucky, and is (See Story No. 6, Page 4)

Damage Actions Asking $126,400

Two damage suits filed in circuit court last Wednesday seek to recover a total of $126,400.

In one of the actions Karen Risner, 15, suing Ey and in the name of her father, James Risner, names as defendant Ollie Watts, doing business as Watts Mobile Homes, and asks $100,000 damages for injuries received in a collision of a mobile home owned by the defendant and a car driven by her brother, Gary, and in which she was a passenger.

She claims that the November, 1974 wreck, near the forks of Middle Creek, resulted from the neglect and carelessness of the defendant. Involved in damages claimed are loss of earning power and permanent disfigurement.

In the second suit, Dave Bailey seeks to recover from the Highlands Hospital Corporation $26,400, claiming he failed to receive proper treatment when taken to the hospital emergency room after having been carried in a Maggoffin traffic accident. Dr. Rosalie Gaurano is named as co-defendant.

Reports of damage suits reflect only the claims of plaintiffs.

Ratliff, Wife Victims Of Domestic Tragedy

Charles F. (Chuck) Ratliff, 28, formerly of Wayland, died by his own hand last Wednesday morning after his wife, 26-year-old Connie Stigler Ratliff, had been shot to death in their home at 930 Grace Drive, Lexington.

Lexington police said circumstances of the tragedy indicated that Ratliff, a newspaper reporter, first shot his wife six times, then turned the weapon upon himself. Mrs. Ratliff was dead of six .32-caliber bullet wounds when police arrived at the home, shortly before 9:30 a.m. Her husband, who was shot one time in his head, died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 3:50 p.m.

Police said Ratliff had not been living at home after the couple had filed suit for divorce July 25, but that he had continued his work as a reporter for The Lexington Herald until the preceding Thursday when he resigned with the announced intention of going to Denver, Colorado. The police investigation disclosed that Ratliff, en route to his home, saw his wife's auto parked at another house and stopped there to inquire about this circumstance, then left. A co-worker of Mrs. Ratliff for the U. S. Postal Service in Lexington telephoned Mrs. Ratliff to tell her he was on his way home.

While they talked, this informant was quoted as saying, Mrs. Ratliff screamed, "Someone is breaking in," and dropped the phone. The caller then telephoned police, who found Mrs. Ratliff dead on the bedroom floor, and Mr. Ratliff in the living room, fatally wounded.

Missing Man's Body Is Found Beneath Truck

A two-day search for Hansford "Hammie" Burchett, 42, Ivel trucking company owner, who had been missing since the preceding Saturday, ended shortly after 10 a.m. last Wednesday when his body was found pinned beneath his truck on Cow mountain.

Burchett apparently had been dead since the time of the wreck, sometime Saturday afternoon. He and his family had regularly enjoyed week-end camping at Dewey Lake, and he had reportedly left home alone to prepare the campsite for the later arrival of Mrs. Burchett and others of the family. When they arrived that afternoon they found no trace of him, and inquiry revealed that he had perhaps been last seen when his red truck was sighted ascending the mountain.

The Floyd County Emergency & Rescue Squad dragged Dewey Lake in the German area, about 20 minutes after the second day's search began, the body was found.

The truck had left the highway and plunged more than 300 feet down the mountainside. Cause of the wreck is not known. There were no visible skid marks at the spot where the truck left the highway, approximately 100 yards from where the road crosses the mountain.

A native of Wonder on Buffalo Creek, the victim was a son of John and Myrtle Cecil Burchett and was the owner of the B & B Trucking Company. Survivors include his parents, his widow, Mrs. (See Story No. 8, Page 4)

Criteria Changes To Provide More Acute Care Beds

Programs for the treatment of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease which have been set up at the Highlands Medical Center here, the McDowell Regional Hospital and at the Mud Creek Health Project won approval of the State Comprehensive Health Planning Council last Wednesday.

Funded by grants from the Appalachian Regional Commission, the programs are primarily for coal miners but are not restricted to them. A similar respiratory clinic was approved for Muhlenberg Community Hospital, Greenville, Ky., and a fifth to be located at Harlan is expected to be approved later.

New criteria adopted by the Health Planning Council for allocating hospital beds for acute care could later solve a problem at Highlands Medical Center which, under Hill-Burton criteria, cannot use unneeded beds marked for extended care to meet the urgent need of more acute care beds.

Under the new criteria this area, which is Region 11, will get an increase of 18 acute care beds. How many of these, if any, will be given to Highlands Medical Center may not be determined before October, however.

Under the new system each of the 15 regions within the state will have responsibility for planning its own acute care.

Acute care patients are those who (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

Three Murder Trials Of Five Are Doubtful

The Floyd circuit court's September term opened Tuesday morning with five murder cases on the docket, but no more than two of the cases may be heard this month.

Three of these cases during the term remained in doubt this week:

1. Eddie Jones charged with the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Conley at Garrett. Continuance of the trial has been asked beyond the Sept. 8 trial date by his attorney, Jolt W. Brown, on charge of venue from this county, where he was indicted with others in the shotgun death of Mrs. Boone Deakin. The trial may not be held as scheduled unless witnesses in widely scattered federal prisons can be brought here, as requested by Sykes, to testify in his behalf.

2. Bobby Workman, whose trial was set for Sept. 11 in the slaying of James Chaffin. Extradition of the defendant from Michigan has not yet been made.

3. Robert Sykes, slated for trial Sept. 19 on charge of venue from this county, where he was indicted with others in the shotgun death of Mrs. Boone Deakin. The trial may not be held as scheduled unless witnesses in widely scattered federal prisons can be brought here, as requested by Sykes, to testify in his behalf.

More certain of trial are those of Tom Puckett for the slaying of Vernon Hopkins, set Sept. 11, and of Herbert Gene Sallsbury, whose case is docketed for Sept. 15. He is charged with the slaying of Crit Butler.

Fifty-eight cases in all were on the court docket when court opened, but others may be added through grand jury action this week.

A modern record was set by the court when only two child desecration cases appeared on the trial docket. For years this has been the most frequent offense appearing on the court docket here.

The docket includes the cases of 12 defendants charged with liquor law violations, four for narcotics, eight for grand larceny and one as an accessory after the fact.

After a grand jury of 10 men and two women had been empaneled Tuesday, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley reminded the jurors that they will have one murder case to investigate. Judge Conley especially emphasized the illegal dumping of refuse and the littering of roadsides, strongly urging indictments if evidence of violations could be produced.

"It's amazing to go to other places ... you don't see highways littered," he remarked.

Instruction of the grand jury to investigate violations of all types, he added that the court "will not stand for any harassment of any juror" and that what the jury does is its own business. Thomas Flanery, of Langley, was named foreman of the grand jury.

Strip-Mined Wastelands May Be New Industry Base

Top—A former spoilbank, now filled and ready for planting. Lower left—Mr. Wright and some of his hilltop "stands" of bees.

Lee Wright is extremely convincing when he talks of his ideas concerning a venture which he is certain could prove a significant economic boon to the area, provide jobs for the handicapped as well as the able-bodied, and utilize land rendered virtually useless by strip-mining.

And it all revolves around bees! About the time Wright retired from a long career with the Air Force and moved back with his wife, Jean, to this area and a home on the Auxier road, he bought six bee hives from a Maytown resident and decided to try his hand at apiculture, or bee raising.

"I more or less staggered into this," he said. "I learned almost entirely by trial and error, which is a really effective learning method when it comes to beekeeping, because when you do something wrong, the bees have a very definite and painful way of letting you know about it."

Wright soon acquired the knack involved in his new-found pursuit and was (See Story No. 5, Page 4)

Singers, Dancers, Craftsmen Highlight 10th Folk Festival

The tenth annual Highlands Folk Festival concluded at the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheatre Sunday afternoon, wrapping up three days dedicated to the expression of mountain culture and tradition in song, dance and the display of native crafts. Town Hall, Sr. (upper left), of Sarasota, Florida, formerly of Floyd county, delighted audiences with his singing, picking and homespun narrative. Hall was featured on both sacred and secular numbers. Dewey Thompson (upper right), of Sugar Loaf, Floyd county's premier chairmaker and woodcrafter, is shown at work on one of his lovely and durable chairs. An authentic-looking pipe and drum corps from Lexington played bagpipe tunes and featured Scottish Highland dances, forerunners of Appalachian folk dances.

Ky. State Trooper Pike Wound Victim

A Pike county constable faces a charge of reckless homicide in the shooting death yesterday of a Kentucky state trooper.

Trooper Bobby Allen McCoun Jr., 23, of Lawrenceburg, was wounded in the head about 3 p.m. when a revolver was fired accidentally, state police said.

Trooper McCoun had been handling the weapon in the Pike county jailer's office. He handed it back to Constable Arthur Cole and Cole, assuming the trooper had unloaded the revolver, pulled the trigger. McCoun was taken first to the Pikeville Methodist Hospital. He was to be airlifted to Lexington hospital, but died as he was being placed aboard a plane at the airport in Pikeville.

McCoun had been stationed at Pikeville since about March of this year, according to State Police Headquarters in Frankfort. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Allen McCoun Sr., Lawrenceburg.

Scott-Sizemore Vows Spoken

Miss Delores Anne Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ashland Scott, of Garrett, became the bride of Mr. Danny Craig Sizemore, son of Mr. Betty Sizemore, of Martin, and the late Billy Gene Sizemore, on Saturday, Aug. 2, at 7 p.m. at the Hayesville Church of Christ.

The minister, Fred Klaska, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with sprig candelabra. A small floral arrangement graced the piano. Miss Patricia Flanery, of Allen, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and on the piano rendered the traditional wedding marches for the professional and the recreational.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Danny Scott, wore a floor-length gown of white satin. The bodice, bordered with Chantilly lace framing the high neckline, was created with long sleeves and cuffed with lace. She wore a chapel-length veil of lace flowing into a full train, and carried a cascading bouquet of yellow roses and miniature carnations.

Mrs. Helen Griffith, of Lackey, Matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown of soft yellow crepe and floral print on a pale yellow background. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short tucked sleeves. She wore a white lace, wide-brimmed hat with long, yellow and white streamers, and carried a basket of yellow and white daisies.

Miss Scott chose as her bridesmaids, Miss Clydia Warrick, of Hayesville, and Miss Lavoni Gaye Scott, of Garrett. Miss Rhonda Sizemore, of Martin, served as junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns and headpieces identical to those of the matron of honor and each carried a small lace basket of yellow and white daisies with long yellow lace streamers. The flower girls, Tina and Tene Thorpe, of Prestonsburg, wore white dresses with long yellow lace streamers.

Terry Sizemore, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were David Hentzelman and Keith Hayes, both of Martin.

The mother of the bride wore a pale blue dress, fashioned with an empire waistline, oval neckline and long laced sleeves. She wore navy accessories and a corsage of blue tipped carnations. The groom's mother chose a floor-length blue floral print gown and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white and blue carnations.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the church. Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Versa Turner, all of Prestonsburg and Mrs. Eddie Stewart, of Amelia, Ohio. Mr. Sizemore is stationed at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Mrs. Sizemore is presently attending Prestonsburg Community College where she will graduate in May.

Stephens Is Injured In Paintsville Wreck

Houston Stephens suffered severe injuries last Wednesday when his car wrecked on the hill near the Starfire Motel, Paintsville, scene of numerous traffic accidents. His car hit a guardrail as he veered to avoid collision with another vehicle. An air bag was almost severed and will require plastic surgery. He was returned home, Sunday evening.

The injury followed his registration for another year of work at Prestonsburg Community College after being employed with the engineering department of a construction firm during the summer at Pennington Gap, Virginia.

Ruth, Four Firms Face U.S. Court

The United States is seeking $1,231,434.08 from four construction companies and an individual allegedly involved in a bid-rigging scheme on segments of Interstate 64 through Carter and Rowan counties and U. S. 80 in Boyd county.

The amount sought in a suit filed in U. S. District Court at Catlettsburg is double the amount actually involved. The suit, filed by Assistant U. S. Attorney James F. Cook, says $615,717.04 was paid to the defendants under fraudulent circumstances.

Named defendants were Jack E. Ruth, president of East Kentucky Paving Corp., Hot Mix Inc. of Nashville, Tenn., Hoover, Inc. of Nashville, East Kentucky Paving Corp. of Grayson and Standard Slag Co. of Youngstown, Ohio.

The suit alleges the defendants, along with other co-conspirators not named as defendants, conspired beginning in January, 1969, to inflate bids on the two federally-funded highway construction projects for personal gain.

The civil suit is a follow-up to criminal charges now pending against the four companies and four of their top officers: Ruth, Eph Hoover, Jr., president of Hoover Inc., John Jenkins, vice president of Hoover Inc., and Robert S. Jones, sales manager for Standard Slag.

The criminal charges allege the companies and the men conspired to defraud the government.

The criminal case is scheduled to go to trial before District Judge H. David Hermansdorfer today (Wednesday).

Couple Named in Slaying Of Johnson Co. Deputy Returned to Jail Here

A Johnson county couple accused of murder and conspiracy after a deputy sheriff had been shot and killed at Kez, remain in jail here after the wife failed to post the $50,000 bond required after arraignment last Saturday at Parisville and the husband had waived his case to the grand jury, the preceding day.

The accused woman, Mrs. Fern Preston, has been quoted by Sheriff Melvin as saying her husband, Johnny, killed Deputy Sheriff Robin Fairchild. The only known eyewitness to the shooting says Mrs. Preston fired the shot.

Fleming-Neon Pass Costs Wheelwright In Closing Minutes

Wheelwright High School had another football game won, last week-end—if the last 4 1/2 minutes could have been lost.

The Trojans were leading Fleming-Neon at that point, 24-21, but the Letcher countians then connected on a 33 yard scoring play to take the lead and win, 29-24.

Two long runs featured the Wheelwright attack. Dewey Jamerson scored the first touchdown of the game with an 88-yard dash, and Darrin Little added another marker on a run of 70 yards.

ERA—a Pandora's Box?

My apprehension grows as I observe that the Equal Rights Amendment is now only four states short of being ratified. I read an analysis of ERA from the Yale Law Journal, Volume 50, No. 5, April, 1971, and this amendment does not speak for me.

Under the guise of "equal pay for equal work," ERA will open the following Pandora's box upon us and our children:

1. Registration for the draft of women at age 18, subject to all military duties, including combat and the sharing of barracks and all military facilities by both sexes.

2. Complete integration of the sexes in prisons, school and public restrooms, college dormitories and hospital rooms.

3. Revocation of existing divorce laws, exempting husbands from paying alimony and making him eligible for child support if he gets the children.

4. Homosexuals will be allowed to marry their children.

5. All protective labor laws for women in industry will be abolished.

Naturally, proponents of ERA do not inform others that equal pay is guaranteed already by the Equal Opportunity Act of 1972.

If you do not want this in the future of your children, write to your state legislators and ask them to vote to rescind ERA in 1976.

Exceptional Children Project Gets $25,800 For Fiscal Year

Reo Johns, executive director of KEDR XI (formerly HOPES Region 11) announced that he has been notified that his agency's Project Lead has been refunded for fiscal year 1976 by Title VI-B, in the amount of $25,800.

Project Lead provides for a teacher-consultant and other services for exceptional children's units in Region 11. During the preceding two years of operation, the project has provided funds and leadership for the following services:

regional inservice for teachers and aides of exceptional children, dissemination of instructional materials from the University of Kentucky, purchase of supplemental instructional materials for Region 11 units, consultant services, workshops for the construction of teacher-made teaching aids, out-of-state visitations to exemplary programs, curriculum planning assistance, assistance with long-range planning for education of exceptional children, and publication of a regional brochure on exceptional children's programs.

Johns said that services provided under earlier grants to Project Lead will continue, but the primary thrust of the project for the fiscal year will be the attempt to develop a system of identification and evaluation of exceptional children who are not receiving educational services. Efforts will be made to involve school personnel, parents and the general public in an attempt to develop a system to find children and provide services to them.

Johns said that the main drawback to the placement of exceptional children is the lack of funds to screen children adequately. Effective teaching is expensive and school districts have neither the funds nor the personnel to carry on elaborate testing programs. The price of testing purchased from private agencies is too expensive to use in any but the most obvious cases.

"Hopefully, Project Lead will help to define a system that will be helpful to local schools," Johns cautioned, "but the only real answer to the problem is to provide more funds to local school districts for testing purposes."

Mrs. Audrey Pratt, of Paintsville, will continue as Teacher-Consultant for the project. She has served in this capacity since the beginning of the project in 1973.

Says No Garbage Pickup

I wish to register a complaint about the newly-formed Floyd County Sanitation Service. I have tried by phone and by mail, to have garbage pick-up at my home for three months without result. We had service when private haulers existed, but by county ordinance they have been eliminated. Every request I make for service is ignored, and the result is excessive garbage, drawing rats.

Appared Serves 2,000 Yearly

LEXINGTON, Ky.—"There's an abundance of lawyers in this state—for people of the right class," says a young Lexington attorney.

For those others who can't afford an attorney's services—there's the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund of Kentucky Inc.

Born in the last years of the War on Poverty and funded by the now-defunct Office of Economic Opportunity, the organization known as "Appared" has survived where many other poverty programs have died.

It has survived and grown because, according to director John Rosenberg, of Prestonsburg, "people in all areas felt that legal services for poor people are a necessity" as much as education or medical care are.

The corporation was founded in Charleston, W. Va., in 1970. The Kentucky office incorporated separately two years ago for funding purposes.

Rosenberg said, and is now financed mainly by a grant of about $300,000 per year from the Community Services Administration.

Ten attorneys staff three offices in Prestonsburg, Barboursville and Lexington, serving about 2,000 clients a year.

Appared tackles issues ranging from strip mining to water pollution to black lung disease, and handles individual civil cases involving pensions, disability benefits, welfare appeals and divorces.

Although its mandate is to serve the 49 Appalachian counties east of Lexington, Appared focuses on about 22 coal-producing counties in the far eastern part of the state, Rosenberg said.

Most of the cases relate in some way to the coal economy of the region, he said.

Legal services are provided free to those who qualify under federal poverty guidelines. An individual in the non-farm category (which most of Appared's clients are in) must earn no more than $2,990 a year. A family of six is allowed to earn $4,890, with an $820 increase for each additional family member.

The attorneys are "mostly young, mostly unmarried," according to J. T. Begley, who has been with the Lexington office for several years. Their work requires a great deal of travel, and the Lexington staff of two attorneys puts as many as 9,000 miles on the corporation's car in a ten-month period.

When Appared began operations five years ago, it was met with suspicion by the mountain people and skepticism by others that it would last, Begley said.

"Now it's established that we've done good things, that people can obtain high quality legal services," Begley said.

"People don't always agree with our lawsuits," Rosenberg said. "But if you handle it responsibly and win the case, then they know you were right to bring it."

"That has brought us credibility," he said.

VISITS HERE
Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Lucas, of Wabash, Ind., were here over the Labor Day holiday, visiting Mrs. Maude Shobe and other relatives. Mrs. Lucas, the former Opal Sloane, formerly resided here. Mr. Lucas visited relatives in Virginia over the week-end. They returned home Monday.

Perkins To Address Mental Health Board

Willis Haws, president of the District Eleven Mental Health Mental Retardation Board, Inc., announced this week that Congressman Carl D. Perkins will be guest speaker at the Board's annual meeting Friday, October 24, at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park near Prestonsburg.

The Board is a private, non-profit organization composed of 25 local representatives, five from each of the five counties served by the Board (Pike, Johnson, Floyd, Magoffin and Martin). Its task is to monitor the mental health, mental retardation, and drug and alcohol abuse services delivered by Mountain Comprehensive Care Center. Acting in a policy-making capacity, the Board also sets direction for the program's development, and it serves as the primary link between the program and the community, seeking to coordinate program and service development with community need.

In announcing Perkins' acceptance of the invitation, Mr. Haws remarked that the Congressman's presence at this year's meeting will be of particular significance in the light of the recent passage of the Community Mental Health Services Amendments of 1975 which were a part of the Health Services Act that was passed in a veto override during the July session of Congress.

"The future of our community mental health program as well as numerous others around the nation depended upon the passage of that Bill," Mr. Haws said, "and it is fitting that we here in our district who are concerned with the cause of mental health have the opportunity to be addressed at our annual meeting by one who played a direct and active part in bringing us that victory."

Planning Meeting For Oct. 25 Event Slated at Lodge

A meeting of all persons interested in planning and preparing for the annual Red, White and Blue Day here Saturday, Oct. 25, will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at May Lodge. It was announced this week.

Red, White and Blue Day will be the last major event of the season, and its success this year is necessary if it is to be a major factor in the county's observance next year of the nation's Bicentennial. It was pointed out.

Mrs. Marcella Bailey, of Langley, who initiated the patriotic observance, said help is needed particularly from Floyd county residents. Several units of the Armed Forces have indicated they will participate in this year's Red, White and Blue Day, and interest has been expressed by many from outside the county.

"But what we need so badly is help in making plans and preparing for the day by the people of this county where the celebration will be held," she added.

Idle Rate Here Over Ky. Average

Eastern Kentucky's unemployment rate continues to be higher than the state rate, according to statistics released Friday by the Department for Human Resources (DHR). In July, the state rate was 6.9 per cent but the area's rate was 7.5 per cent, or an estimated 19,500 unemployed persons.

Floyd county's unemployment rate was 7.4 per cent, higher than the state average but 1 per cent below the Eastern Kentucky average.

Robert MacDonald, chief statistician in DHR's Bureau for Manpower Services, explains that while coal mining has been "booming," the return of many former residents who have been laid off jobs in other states has contributed to Eastern Kentucky's unemployment problem.

The unemployment picture statewide is brighter than it was in June, when the state posted an 8.1 per cent rate. MacDonald credits the improvement to two factors: a decrease in unemployment claims and in-school youths who have dropped out of the labor force.

In Eastern Kentucky, Magoffin county has the highest rate (13.4 per cent) and Martin the lowest (3.2 per cent). Statewide, 63 counties have a 6.5 per cent or higher rate, ranging from a high of 16.1 in Powell county to the lowest rate of 3.1 per cent in Hopkins. Only seven of the state's counties did not have a lower rate in July than in June.

Following are the July unemployment rates for the Eastern Kentucky area:
Bath, 10.2; Bell, 9.3; Boyd, 5.3; Breathitt, 9.3; Carter, 10.1; Clay, 11.8; Elliott, 5.8; Floyd, 7.4; Greenup, 7.4; Harlan, 7.1; Jackson, 11.4; Johnson, 5.8; Knott, 7.2; Knox, 8.2; Laurel, 5.2; Lawrence, 6.1; Lee, 10.1; Leslie, 9.5; Letcher, 7.5; McCreary, 8.8; Magoffin, 13.4; Martin, 3.2; Menifee, 13.1; Montgomery, 7.7; Morgan, 8.7; Owsley, 11.1; Perry, 7.5; Pike, 4.8; Pulaski, 6.9; Rockcastle, 7.8; Rowan, 4.3; Wayne, 8.3; Whitley, 10.3; Wolfe, 10.9.

Blackcats Win Opener, 20-6 Over Breathitt; Pikeville Next

Prestonsburg's Blackcats started the football season of free Friday night with a 20-6 victory over Breathitt County. In this first game the Cats, with only three veteran players, scored three touchdowns and gained 360 yards on offense.

The first touchdown for Prestonsburg was scored by William O. Goebel, Jr. on a four-yard run, with a two-point conversion also scored on a run. Goebel scored again on a 35-yard run in the third quarter. The try for extra points failed in the fourth quarter. Tim Patrick scored on a 30-yard pass from Greg Dixon. Again the extra-point attempt failed. Breathitt County's lone f.d. was made on a 36-yard run in the fourth quarter. Coach Phillip Haywood said of the game: "We played a pretty good ball game. But we made a lot of mistakes." He added that Breathitt County played a better game than the score indicated.

This Friday night, the Blackcats face a tough Pikeville team at Pikeville where the going may be a little tougher.

Perry Headed For Mayoralty

Paintsville, Ky.—Paintsville will be due its third mayor in four months, when Mayor J. T. Newman plans to submit his resignation to city council.

Newman was appointed to the seat in July following the resignation of John E. Chandler. Chandler resigned during a confrontation with council concerning city finances. He had served one and a half years of his second four-year term.

Councilman Robert W. Marsh resigned last week, and assistant to the mayor Neil Hansen had announced earlier that he would resign at the end of the week.

Allan S. (Bud) Perry is expected to be the next mayor, both by being appointed to fill Newman's seat, and by being placed in a special election in November to fill Chandler's unexpired term. Perry was appointed to fill a council vacancy in July.

Perry said he did not know what council's plans for filling the seat are, but he said he would accept the appointment if asked.

A petition to have Perry's name placed on the ballot in November is being circulated by Chandler with Perry's knowledge and consent. Chandler said Perry is familiar with the city's programs and he knows "the people in Frankfort and Washington."

No candidates have filed for mayor or council seats. All council seats will be up for election in November, and Chandler's unexpired term is for more than one year. It must also be filled by election. Filing deadline is Sept. 10.

Perry is publisher of the Paintsville Herald and president of First Federal Savings & Loan. He also serves on the boards of the Highlands Regional Medical Center, the Paintsville Industrial Development Corp. and the Big Sandy Area Development District.

Hot Meals for Aged Goal of State Plan

Frankfort, Ky.—An additional 1,500 meals served daily to Kentucky's senior citizens is one goal of the new State Plan on Aging.

The plan, prepared by the Department for Human Resources' new Center for Aging and Community Services Development, outlines the use of Titles III and VII funds of the Older Americans' Act for fiscal year 1975-76.

Also set forth in the plan are the responsibilities of the Development Center which was created by executive order last June. "The reorganization of the aging program of the Department for Human Resources gives higher visibility and importance to services for the aged," said Secretary C. Leslie Dawson, head of the Department.

The Center, which is administratively located within the Department's Bureau for Social Services, is responsible for administration of Titles III and VII of the Older American's Act.

Currently, Title VII of the Act provides funds for the nutrition projects in Kentucky which serve 3,350 meals daily to senior citizens. During the year, the Department for Human Resources plans to contract for six more projects.

The federal government has allotted about $2 million to Kentucky for Title VII nutrition projects for 12 months.

"This means that virtually every area in the state will eventually have a hot meal program for the elderly," said Harold Mann, assistant director of the Center for Aging and Community Services Development.

Mann pointed out that individuals are not required to pay for the meals if they cannot afford it. If they can afford to pay, they may give a donation.

The plan proposes that all existing Title VII nutrition projects will get at least five per cent but no more than a 15 per cent increase on Older American Act funds. However, no projects would be continued or begun at less than $65,000.

Floyd Schools Show 250 Gain In Enrollment

At the first day of school last week Floyd county's school population stood at 9,233—a gain of 250 over the enrollment on the same day, a year earlier.

The increase was a sharp jump but was a continuation of the climb registered last school year, which had 50 more enrolled than for the preceding year.

More grade scholars enrolled this year, but the enrollment in the county's five high schools, overall, was down by 25 from the 1974-75 enrollment at the beginning of the term.

Only Betsy Layne and Wheelwright high schools show gains this year, and in neither of these more than five. The only elementary schools to lose enrollment are Home Branch, Prater, Drift and Stumbo. Heavies grade school gains were made at Betsy Layne and Clark.

The first day of enrollment for the last two years follows:

Why is this bear smiling?

You'd be smiling too, if people listened to you the way Americans have listened to Smokey.

Over 30 years ago, Smokey started asking people to help prevent forest fires.

Since that time, they've helped cut the number of careless fires in half, even though ten times as many people use the forests today as they did back in the 1940's.

So today, Smokey's saying thank you. And smiling a lot.

Let's help keep him that way.

Henry-Goble Vows Said

Miss Darlene Henry became the bride of Mr. James Dewey Goble on August 8, at the Chapel of Meditation, Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Dr. George Nordguen, university chaplain.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Henry, of Fairdale, Ky. Mr. Goble is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Goble, of Prestonsburg.

The bride wore a white floor-length dress of Quana, of the empire waistline style, with long sleeves and a scoop neck edged in white lace. The dress had a chaped train also trimmed with white lace. The bride wore a fingertip veil with a matching lace headpiece. Her flowers were an arrangement of orchids and baby's breath carried upon a white Bible.

Miss Kaye Glasscock, of Lebanon, Ky., served as maid of honor. The niece of the groom, Stephanie Reffett, of Prestonsburg, was the flower girl. The ringbearer was Master Bill Allen, of Fairdale, Ky., nephew of the bride.

Mr. Kimber McGuire, of Prestonsburg, served Mr. Goble as best man. Ushers were Mr. Gordon Freels and Mr. Jack Clark Hyden, both of Prestonsburg.

Miss Donna Henry, of Jackson, Ky., was the soloist. Her selections included "Color My World," "Time in a Bottle" and "The Wedding Song 'There Is Love'."

The mother of the bride wore a blue silk print street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid tied with white ribbon.

The mother of the groom wore a white silk floral print street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was a blue orchid tied with white ribbon. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Holiday Inn, Richmond.

After a Florida honeymoon, the couple returned to Richmond to live. Mr. Goble is doing graduate work at Eastern Kentucky University and Mrs. Goble is an undergraduate student.

Invest In Quality. For centuries Europeans have invested a substantial amount of their earnings in good "Works of Art" - hand crafted Silver, quality Furniture, fine Paintings and Porcelains - and they have proven to be one of the best investments yet! Since World War II "good" works of art have proven to be a better investment than most stocks and bonds in your lock box! Think about that - Please accept our invitation to visit and let us show you one of the largest and finest collections of Antique furniture and silver in the country. We do our own buying in the British Isles and import directly to Kentucky - with no middleman - so our prices are more reasonable than in the East. There is so much to see - including our Gallery of Limited Edition Porcelains from all the important studios in the world. Write for our illustrated catalogue, available for $2.00. We're located on I-64 between Lexington and Louisville and are open every day, except Sunday 9:00 a.m. - 5 p.m. Our letchstring on our front door is always out!

PCC Program Offers Variety Of Courses for Current Term

From tennis to karate, from personal development to the New Testament, the variety of courses being offered this year by the Community Service Program of Prestonsburg Community College.

Beginning Drawing and Composition will be taught by Thomas Whitaker. The class will meet in Room 106 of the Pike Technology Building, 6:30-8:30 p.m., Wednesdays, Sept. 17-Oct. 22. This is a basic art drawing class for adults and children 12 years of age who desire a course in fundamentals.

William Thomas, minister of the First Presbyterian Church here and the Drift Presbyterian Church, will be teaching Introduction to the New Testament. This course introduces the times, setting and writing of the New Testament. The class will meet in Room 208 of the Pike Technology Building, 7-8:30 p.m., Tuesdays, Sept. 9-Nov. 25.

Emphasizing self-confidence, self-discipline, and weight control, a basic karate course will be taught by Bill Tom Fannin, holder of a first degree black belt in Shorin Rye (Okinawan style). Classes will meet in the student center, 6-8 p.m., Mondays, Sept. 8-Dec. 1.

Things Women Should Know is a course emphasizing personal development for the homemaker, vocabulary building, note writing, fashioning, social skills and many other items helpful to women in their varied social, professional and personal circumstances. The class, taught by Carolyn Francis, will utilize professional expertise from the community. The meeting time is 7-8 p.m. on Thursdays, September 11 to November 13, in Room 105 of the Johnson Administration Building.

Those interested in learning to read braille may avail themselves of a new course, Basic Braille, which will be taught by Diantha Hodges. The class will teach the student to read first grade braille and to write it with a stylus and slate. It is appropriate for parents of the visually handicapped or those who work with them as well as for the blind themselves. Attention will be given to the particular student's abilities and needs. The class will meet on Thursdays, Sept. 11-Dec. 11, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in Room 104 of the Pike Technology Building.

Okey Jackson, who last year designed and constructed a downdraft pottery kiln for the Potters Guild at Prestonsburg Community College, will teach a ceramics class for beginning potters. The class will begin September 8, meeting each Monday evening from 6:30-9:30. In addition to the Monday evening sessions, there will be a Thursday evening practicum for those who desire it.

Mr. Jackson earned his B. S. in industrial arts at Berea College and his masters of fine arts at Claremont Graduate School (California) with a major in ceramics, with emphasis on raku, stoneware, porcelain and kiln construction.

While on a Claremont grade fellowship in 1967, Jackson distinguished himself by winning the Purchase Prize in the fifth annual Southern California exhibit, first awarded in the tenth annual Art Unlimited Festival in California, and was nominated for representation in prize-winning sculpture. After serving as Teaching Assistant in Ceramics at Berea College and Claremont Graduate School, Jackson taught at Potters Place, New Hampshire (1966-'68) and was Land Art Gallery Assistant at Scripps College (1967-'68). From 1968 to 1972, Jackson was chairman of the Board of Ceramics Department, Brooks Institute of Fine Arts, where he developed the ceramics program from its genesis. Since leaving California he has served as regional project coordinator for Mountain Comprehensive Care, Paintsville.

A course called Fundamentals of Tennis is now available to the absolute beginner through the Community Service Program. The instructor is Routine Chaffins of the PCC faculty. Classes will meet 5:30-6:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays from September 9 through October 9 at the Archer Park tennis courts in the student center at PCC in the event of rain. Each participant will be required to have a can of balls and a racket.

Further information on any course offered by the Community Service Program may be had by contacting James Ratcliff, coordinator, telephone 886-3863, extension 208.

A Plea for Help

Concerning three recent deaths in the Henderson family I am asking for help because my husband is disabled to work, and we live on a very small income. We have lost three children in the past 22 months, two of whom have passed away within the last seven months. We couldn't buy insurance on them because of an incurable disease.

Anyone who wants to aid and is able to donate a few dollars toward funeral expenses for the children, it would be greatly appreciated, and I am sure God will bless you for it.

Their mother,
MYRTIE HENDERSON

Immunization Required For School Children

Frankfort, Ky.—State law requires immunization of children entering school for the first time. According to Diane Cains, supervisor of school health programs in the Bureau of Pupil Personnel Services of the Kentucky Department of Education, all local boards of education require each child beginning school for the first time to have a medical examination within six months prior to entering school, or one month after he has been admitted to school. According to state law, each child must be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, pertussis and measles. All children must have a valid immunization certificate when they enroll in school. An up-to-date immunization certificate must be kept on file by the school for each child. The medical examination and immunizations may be given by the family's private physician or by the county health department personnel.

Repatriated, Collector of Antiques Says Was Always Headed Home

A native Floyd county woman who during her 39 years as a resident of Michigan became known as the owner of one of that state's finest collections of antiques, has returned home. She is Mrs. Josephine Hall Akers, wife of Homer Akers, and she now has her antique shop at Betsy Layne. The subject of several articles in Michigan newspapers, Mrs. Hall recalls that she has always had something nice to say about Kentucky when interviewed. "I suppose I was headed for home, all the time, and didn't know it," she says. That's what motivates Mrs. Akers. She enjoys sharing her knowledge of antiques and the beauty of the many Kentucky items she owns with others. There's a little bit of everything in Jo's Antiques. There are figurines, vases, china, trunks, paintings, wall hangings, jewelry, lamps and even a little furniture.

"Most of my antiques are more than 100 years old and are collector's items," said Mrs. Akers. She said she doesn't regard anything as "antique" unless it is more than 100 years old.

"And I do have any reproductions. I hate them and if I do have one it's because I'm blind or I've been taken," said Mrs. Akers who has been collecting antiques since she was 10 years old. She became acquainted with antique hunting when she spent summers with a widowed aunt who enjoyed collecting.

She has a special reason for studying the history of her antiques. "It is made of an antique is based on where it is made, who it is made by, and what it is made of. The price does not constitute the value of an item," she said.

Among the collector's items found in Mrs. Akers shop are an original John J. Audubon, a collection of Kashmir shawls much like the ones found in the Cleveland Art Museum; an oil of St. Cecilia painted by Mignard, the artist for King Louis XIV; a trunk made by the trunk maker for the Prince of Wales in 1842.

IN MEMORIAM In memory of Delzie Boyd, who passed away Sept. 5, 1972. It broke our hearts to lose him, But he did not go alone, For a part of us went with him, The day God called him home. The flowers we placed upon his grave May wither and decay, But love for him who sleeps beneath Will never fade away. His Wife and Children

Black Lung Law Reform Target of Scheduled Rally

Calling major reforms of the federal Black Lung compensation program "the UMW's No. 1 priority in Congress," United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller announced last Saturday that the union has scheduled a giant rally in Washington on September 17 in cooperation with coalfield Black Lung associations as part of an intensive lobbying effort in support of improvements in the Black Lung law.

"I've seen too many miners in the coalfields and hollows of Appalachia who are suffering from the deadly, choking effects of Black Lung, but who are unable to receive compensation that they are legally entitled to," said Miller, who himself suffers from Black Lung. "H. B. 3333, sponsored by Representative Carl Perkins (D-Ky.), would put an end to the bureaucratic red tape which has stood in the way of an effective compensation program mandated by Congress."

The union said that since the Department of Labor assumed responsibility for determining eligibility for Black Lung compensation, only 879 claims have been approved by the DOL out of nearly 50,000 filed. One of the main provisions of the Perkins Bill is an automatic granting of Black Lung benefits to any miner or his widow who worked at least 15 years underground in a mine.

"It's time to end the cruel, impossible eligibility standards used by the Department of Labor," said Miller. "The automatic 15 year rule would also eliminate the costly and time-consuming hearings and appeals process which has created a logjam of back claims."

Tri-Community Club Elects Its Officers

The Tri-Community Development Club, which consists of residents of the Wayland, Estill and Lackey area, met August 18 and elected officers and a board of directors. Elected were: Bill Waugh, president; Lois Collins, vice-president; Eletha Sweetnam, secretary; Stella Bentley, treasurer; Mike Froman, publicity chairman.

The board of directors consist of these officers and the following: Gary Martin, Teresa Miller, Marlene Robinson, Roscoe Bentley, Richard Bergman and Josephine Martin. The following committees were formed: Committee for Insurance (for future celebration), Publicity, Dance and Softball Tournament committees. Activities planned in the future include a rummage sale, September 4-5, a softball tournament, Sept. 6-7, and a Halloween celebration, October 31. Some of the proceeds from these projects will be going toward the purchase of a new fire truck. The board of directors will be looking into the possibility of forming a Youth Development Club.

The next scheduled meeting will be September 15, at 7 p.m. Those attending the August 25 meeting were Teresa Miller, Elmer Morrison, Butch Ring, Marlene Robinson, Eletha Sweetnam, Stella Bentley, Mary Lois Collins, Josephine Martin, Roscoe Bentley, Mae Cox, Betty Ritchie, Lola Hall, Mike Forman, Fatsy Murphy, Angel Bentley, Randy Bentley, Teresa Miller, Novella Froman, development assistant, and John Sparks, extension agent.

Now First Federal Offers THE SOCIAL SECURITY DIRECT DEPOSIT PLAN

...the convenient way to protect your checks

At First Federal, you can take advantage of a new service, the Social Security Direct Deposit Plan. Backed by the U.S. Government, it makes receiving your Social Security checks safe, easy and convenient...and your money is available the minute you need it.

Just sign authorization forms, available at either First Federal office, and the U.S. Treasury will send your Social Security checks directly to us. Upon receipt, we'll deposit the money in your savings account, where it will begin earning immediately. Even if you are ill or on vacation, you'll know that your checks will be safe. You'll never again have to worry about having them lost or stolen.

Equally important, whenever you need the money, it will be available immediately. You can withdraw cash from either First Federal office.

The Social Security Direct Deposit Plan is a completely voluntary program. You have complete control over your money...and you may start or stop the service whenever you wish. Come in and talk over the program's many benefits today.

ENJOY THESE ADVANTAGES WITH DIRECT DEPOSITING:

- Earn 5 1/4% per annum every day
- Protect checks from loss or theft
- Save time and gas
- Easy access to your money at any time; get cash at either office
- A preferred plan, recommended by the government

Council To Hold First Meet of Year

MR. SCHERER

A new year, a new face, and an interesting-rousing topic of discussion combine to boost the beginning activities of the Jenny Wiley Council. An affiliate of the International Reading Association, the council will launch its 1975-76 year at the Prestonsburg Regional Library Tuesday evening, September 9. The Clark Elementary School will host the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

President Nadine Hicks announced the guest speaker for the evening will be John (Jack) Scherer, Jr. Mr. Scherer is the county representative of the Addison Wesley Publishing Company and has worked extensively with school systems correlating programs and company materials.

Council membership information may be obtained by contacting Bertha Ratliff, telephone 377-2208. The public is cordially invited to attend.

ENTERTAINS HOUSEGUESTS

Martin—Mrs. Tina Stumbo, of Martin, entertained as houseguests over the Labor Day week-end Mrs. Geneva Hamilton, of Harold, Miss Sharon Sammons, Pikeville, Mrs. Audrey Gunnels and Anthony Gunnels, of Martin, H. C. Bailey, Lexington, and E. N. Rasmussen, Fort Wayne, Indiana. While visiting Mrs. Stumbo her guests enjoyed a cookout and attended the folk festival at Dewey Lake. Mrs. Stumbo has just returned from an extended tour of Florida.

Notice of Public Hearing

Notice is hereby given, upon recommendation of the Prestonsburg Planning Commission, that the City Council of the City of Prestonsburg will conduct a Public Hearing at the Ford Building, in the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, on September 18, 1975, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., for the purpose of hearing pertinent evidence concerning the following application:

Application of Adrian Shepherd, and recommendation of the Prestonsburg Planning Commission, for rezoning of an area of land beginning with the property line of Charles Hale, located on the southeast side of Harris Street, northeast to the right-of-way of the C. & O. Railway Co., from C-3 (Central Business) to R-2 (Residential Medium Density). The property being that of the Old Colonial House.

What To Do In September

By NEVILLE SHACKELFORD
(UK College of Agriculture)

In her beautiful descriptive poem of the same name, the American novelist and poet, Helen Hunt Jackson, calls September the month with "summer's best of weather and autumn's best of cheer."

Truly it is that and more. The month marks the transition period between summer and fall and possesses many of the characteristics of both wonderful seasons.

In the far South, it is one of the hottest months of the year and even in the northern tier of states, hot days are often frequent. The nights, however, are usually cool and there is often more than a touch of that nostalgic blue haze that marks the advent of that incredible season known as "Indian Summer."

September is a fairly busy month in rural Kentucky because it is the harvest period for many crops and the "storing up" period for many housewives. It is apple and shucky bean-drying time, pickle-making time, and watermelon-eating time. It is also apple-smoking time, potato digging time, grape jelly-making time, and time to store away other rich fruits of the wild, the field, and the garden.

In the Calendar of Charlemagne, that great Roman and Frankish king, September was called the "Harvest Month" and in Switzerland, as research reveals, it still is known by that name. The Anglo-Saxons, ever known for their self-sufficiency and personal independence, were more specific in their choice of a name and called September the "barley month."

Many months have undergone changes in their number of days, but calendar makers say that since old Roman times, September has always had 30 days. It has not, however, always been the ninth month. Before the calendar was revised by Julius Caesar, it was the seventh month and its name is from the Latin "septim," meaning seven. When the month was shifted in the Julian calendar the name was not changed.

Checking with the calendar on the wall, the only holiday of any great significance in September is Labor Day. This fact will give more time for the home-wear, farmer, and gardener to get some recommended jobs done around the old homestead.

According to University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service specialists, these are some of the many things that can be done in September with profit.

In the yard, many trees can be successfully planted. Broadleaf evergreens should be planted as soon as possible during the month. Birch, magnolia, redbuds, and tulip trees do best when planted in spring.

Clip hedges for the last time this year. Select vegetables for winter storage. Sow cover crops in the field and garden. Harvest apples, grapes, and nuts.

If needed, renovate the lawn, but first check with your county Extension agent for more information on the subject. Control broadleaf weeds but, as on the subject of lawn renovation, check first with your Extension agent.

September is a good month also in which to plant spring flowering bulbs, to plant peonies and daylilies, and to bring in cuttings of plants that will freeze out during the winter. And don't forget to water plants in dry weather.

Then for fall and winter house decorations, this is the month to gather the materials. Milkweed, foxglove, buttercup, sunflower, curly dock, hydrangea, okra, and many, many other plants, both wild and domesticated, which are excellent for drying, can be gathered during this month.

Like all other months, September is a great month in which to be alive. Do the jobs that must be done but by all means enjoy it.

Floyd Countians Accepted At Chase Law College

David H. Neely, of Prestonsburg, and Hershel R. Griffith, of Auxier, are among 75 first-year students accepted for the newly established day division of studies at Salmon P. Chase College of Law of Northern Kentucky State College, Covington.

Both are graduates of the University of Kentucky.

Founded in 1893, Chase College of Law is one of the oldest evening law schools in continuous existence in the nation. In 1972 it moved from Cincinnati to become part of Northern Kentucky State College.

Kentucky is the only state in the nation without an auto title law. An effort to get such a law passed by the 1974 General Assembly failed, but it will be renewed in the 1976 session.

Indian Sect Members' March Ends Protest

WASHINGTON—Some 230 supporters of an Indian sect called Ananda Marga marched from the Washington monument to the Capitol yesterday to protest alleged political persecution in India.

Only a handful of the marchers were Indian. Most, however, wore the bright orange shirts and white pants that mark members of the sect.

The march and rally on the Capitol steps signaled the end of a month-long vigil during which one Ananda Marga member said he fasted while telling tourists at the Capitol of the plight of India.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Rhoda Violet Hagans Hunt . . . PH

VS. NOTICE OF SALE

Paul Ray Hunt, Rose Hunt, Franklin Hunt, Katherine Hunt, Emogene H. Lafferty, Thom D. Lafferty, Burt Hunt, Charlene Hunt, Roy Lee Hunt, Sally Ann Hunt, Margie H. Crisp and Herman W. Crisp . . . Defs.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the February 5 term, 1975 in the above-styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 5th day of September, 1975 at 11 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of six months the following described property to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land that was conveyed the late Leo Hunt and Violet Hunt, his wife, by deed of March 29, 1971, from Henry and America Crider as recorded March 30, 1971, in Deed Book 204, page 364, in the Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, lying and being on the waters of Home Branch of Buffalo Creek in Floyd County, Kentuck, described more particularly as follows, viz:

Beginning at a planted stone near the old road, thence up to a steep to a marked rock, thence a straight line to a marked rock near a mulberry tree, thence across the branch to a marked rock on top of the point to Curtis Jervis's line, thence running with the Curtis Jervis line east to a marked rock near a mulberry tree; thence with the old county road down the road to the beginning, containing five acres, more or less, and including all improvements on the property, one trailer or mobile home.

This property is being sold to settle the estate of the late Leo Hunt.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 13th day of August, 1975.

Martin is State 4-H Champion

Jeffery Martin was recently named the 1974-75 state 4-H Club champion in the poultry project. He is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Martin, of Langley, and is a member of the Allen Central 4-H Club. He has been a 4-H member for nine years and in the poultry project for seven years.

Five additional Floyd County members received special recognition in the state project record judging.

Lance Blackburn was the second place winner in the conservation project, and Vicky Blackburn was second in the strawberry project. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Blackburn, Stanville, and both are members of the Betsy Layne High 4-H Club.

Deborah Refefft, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ermel Refefft, of Garrett, was third in the career exploration project.

Ann Flanery, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flanery, of Langley, was fourth in the citizenship project, and Teresa Huff, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Huff, of Eastern, was fourth in the safety project.

Jeffery Martin's poultry record will be judged in national competition in September.

Some Chemicals in School Labs Cause Cancer, Warning Given

Frankfort, Ky.—Department of Labor officials in Kentucky's Occupational Safety and Health program are notifying all Kentucky high schools and universities that certain chemicals used in some school laboratories can cause cancer if they are improperly used or stored.

Dr. J. Bradford Block, the department's medical consultant, said explanatory letters have been mailed to 350 high schools and 42 institutions of higher learning along with a list of cancer-causing chemicals that are commonly used in school laboratories.

Federal and state laws require these chemicals to be registered with the Department of Labor. Registration forms were sent with the letter, Dr. Block said. He added that so far none of the chemicals have been registered with the department, explaining that "probably the schools were not aware of this requirement."

Dr. Block urged immediate registration of the chemicals. He said registration will "allow the Department (of Labor) to better assess the extent of the use of these chemicals and will allow the department to provide the schools with more detailed information as to how each of them can be controlled."

"Students and their families should not overreact," Dr. Block said. "There is no significant risk associated with these chemicals when used under proper supervision and handled by responsible students. The real danger occurs when the chemicals are misused."

The research staff of the Kentucky Bureau of Corrections has estimated that it would cost more than $2 million to accommodate the increased inmate population which would result if the state legislature adopts a law requiring all prisoners to serve at least one-third of their sentence.

Community Projects Discussed at Meeting Of Abbott Creek Club

The Abbott Creek Community Development Club met August 20 in the new club building, with a fine crowd present.

After prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Tommy Hereford, welcomed were special guests, Miss Novella Froman, Floyd County Extension Office and Bill Bridges, Extension specialist, University of Kentucky.

Items of business follow: Discussion on hanging of "Reward" signs, received from NEKRCA and signs marking the tributaries of Abbott Creek.

Recreation equipment from the Big Sandy Community Action Program, approved and in progress.

Report on water district for Abbott, Little Paint and Bull Creeks, petitions signed and given to fiscal court.

Report on road repairs and fills; promises, no action.

Mr. Bridges reported on water districts in Perry and Breathitt counties.

Every family on Abbott Creek is urged to take part in the club. Its next meeting will be Sept. 16 at 7 p.m.

RETURN FROM ALABAMA

Mr. and Mrs. Azzie Tackett and daughter, Rita, returned to their home at East McDowell after a two-week visit with another daughter, Mrs. James M. Moore, and Mr. Moore, of Huntsville, Alabama.

Who cares? Because you benefit, we care.

We're proud.

For the third year in a row we are America's most efficient electric utility in power generation—an achievement based upon the use of the most advanced technology available today and the burning of coal.

At American Electric Power and all our operating companies, striving for greater efficiency is a never-ending process.

On the basis of latest industry reports, we managed to squeeze more electricity out of the fuel burned than any other electric power company in the U.S.A.

And the benefits are big.

If, for example, last year we were average instead of best, we would have had to burn 3 million more tons of America's coal. An expense of over $60,000,000 our customers would have borne.

Or, looked at another way... if we had been burning oil instead of coal, America's fuel saving would have been over 12,000,000 barrels!

That's conservation... pure conservation in keeping with Federal Energy Administration goals. When anyone conserves, all America benefits.

If every American will commit to conserve through the efficient use of energy... and if our government will make a full commitment to coal, our most plentiful fuel, America will have the basic ingredients for solving our energy problem:

Coal and conservation.

Together they can blunt the inflationary effect of cartel produced foreign oil prices.

Together they can further our country's magnificent production record, which will make possible a fuller life for every American—especially the less privileged.

Show you care.
Join the movement to coal and conservation.

Receives Assistantship

Donald L. Hall, formerly of McDowell, now of Williamson, W. Va., has accepted a graduate assistantship to complete his doctoral work in education at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va.

Mr. Hall has been the director of Counseling Services at Southern West Virginia Community College in Williamson for the past 2 1/2 years. He will begin his work at the University of Virginia, September 3, with his major field being counselor education. His minor areas of study will be educational research and educational psychology.

The assistantship will enable Mr. Hall to work with human potential groups while teaching, part-time, in the graduate school of Counselor Education. His work will last approximately two years. Mr. Hall received his B. A. degree at Marshall University and his Master's degree at Eastern Kentucky University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hall, of McDowell. His wife, Jeanne, will be serving as an official court reporter in the Charlottesville judicial system.

Community Chorus To Meet Sept. 8th

The Prestonsburg Community Chorus will meet Monday, September 8, at Prestonsburg Community College, Room J155, at 7 p.m., when the chorus will begin work on Handel's "The Messiah," which it will perform in December.

The chorus, which has been in existence 10 years, is composed of lay musicians. Anyone interested in singing good choral literature is eligible and is invited to join the group. According to Gus M. Kalos, director of the group, the chorus will need to add new voices this semester. Anyone interested in joining the group should attend the first meeting next Monday evening.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Floyd County Fiscal Court, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, Floyd County, at the office of the County Judge, on Wednesday, September 10, 1975, at 10:00 A.M., Daylight Savings Time, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud for turning of all materials, and labor, and performing all work as set forth by this Invitation for Bids, the instructions to Bidders, the General Conditions of the Contract, the specifications and Drawings, prepared by Forrest G. McCloskey, and Associates, Architect, Lexington, Kentucky, and Prestonsburg, Kentucky. The work to be bid upon: Floyd County Courthouse Annex and Detention Center, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Proposals will be received as follows: Proposal No. 1 to include entire Project. Plans, specifications, and contract documents may be examined at the following places: Builders Exchange of Knoxville Tennessee and Louisville, Kentucky; Dodge Corporation of Knoxville Tennessee, Louisville, and Lexington, Kentucky, and Cincinnati, Ohio; AGC office in Lexington, Kentucky, and at the office of Forrest G. McCloskey & Associates, Architect, 248 East Short Street, Lexington, Kentucky, and Forrest G. McCloskey & Associates, Pelphrey Building, Northlake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Distribution of the documents, not to exceed two (2) sets, may be secured from the Architect, Forrest G. McCloskey & Associates, (General Contractors & Major Subcontractors), upon payment of $25.00 per set, which payment will be refunded upon return of the plans, specifications and other documents in good condition, within ten (10) days after date of bid opening. If more than two sets of documents are requested, they may be obtained upon payment of the cost of printing, plus handling, which payment will not be subject to refund. All deposits on hand after expiration of the ten-day period, become the property of the Architect. Postage and other handling charges will be deducted from the refund.

All Subcontractors, material suppliers, and other interested parties, may obtain the necessary sheets required to estimate their work, upon payment of $2.00 per sheet of the drawings, which charge will include the corresponding section or sections of the specifications.

Bids must be accompanied by a bid bond payable to the Owner in an amount not less than five per cent (5 pct.) of the Base Bid.

Bids received after the scheduled closing time for the reception of the bids, will be returned, unopened, to the bidders.

Documents available, Friday, August 22, 1975, 8-30-3.

Check Insert

You can deposit your check directly ...

Do you have a checking or savings account in a bank, savings bank, savings and loan association or similar institution, or a Federal or State chartered credit union? Did you know you can have your check deposited directly in your account in one of these organizations? If you don't have an account now, you can open one and have your check deposited directly.

Direct deposit of your check has certain advantages. For example:

Even if you are away from home, your check would be deposited instead of sitting in your mailbox.

You don't have any problem in cashing your check because it goes directly into your account.

You don't have to stand in line to cash your check or to deposit it.

You don't have to worry about losing your check after you receive it or having it stolen from your mailbox.

The decision is yours. It's entirely up to you whether you want your check deposited directly.

(please see other side)

If you want your check to continue coming to your present address, don't do anything. It will keep on coming just as it has in the past.

But if you do want your check mailed to a financial organization or if your check already is mailed to one, this is what you should do:

Contact the financial organization where you now have or where you want to have an account and ask for a direct deposit form SF-1199.

(Completion of the form does not permit withdrawals from your account by anyone other than those authorized by you.)

If you want more information, get in touch with your financial organization or contact any social security office.

READ THESE FACTS ABOUT DIRECT DEPOSITS ...

- Why is there so much interest today in the direct deposit of social security checks?
 The Treasury Department has initiated a program to encourage the recipients of all recurring Federal payments to deposit these directly into a financial institution. Under this plan, an individual can have his check sent directly to his financial institution for deposit.
- How will I benefit from direct deposit of my social security check?
 It saves a special trip to the bank just to deposit your check. It eliminates worry about the check being lost or stolen in the mail. And, any time you are away from home or cannot come to the bank, your check is automatically deposited for you.
- Can I have it deposited to my savings account as well as my checking account?
 If you want a portion to go into the savings each month, ask your bank about an automatic transfer of a specified amount each month from checking into savings. By law your Social Security check must be directed to one specific account, either checking or savings.
- How do I sign up for this service?
 Simply complete the government form (SF-1199) available at any bank. Personnel at your commercial bank will be glad to help you complete the form.
- How do I get the information needed to complete the forms?
 All the Social Security information you will need is on your monthly check or in your initial awards letter from Social Security. If you need any assistance or have any questions, your bank will be glad to assist you.
- Do I send the form directly to social security?
 No, you should complete the top half of the form only and take it or mail it to your bank. They will complete the form, sending one copy to you and one to Social Security.
- After I sign up, when will the bank start receiving my check?
 It should take about a month for the form to be processed. At the start of the program, it could take slightly longer.

It's easy and safe and saves you a trip to the Bank each month.
 Your check will come right to us on checking or savings, or both.

Brother-Sister Found Crafts Club

Eddie Collins and her sister, Katie Collins Newsome, display some of their crafts.

A brother-and-sister team in the southern tip of the county that has, over the past years, been making handcrafts have joined together to organize their own "Craftsmen Club."

Katie Collins Newsome, of Buckingham, co-ordinator of the club, is an enthusiastic member in the world of arts and crafts. She has worked with handcraft projects for about 10 years. Her crafts include fabric flower arranging, picture making, wall hangings, nature crafts, punch and pull rugs, sewing and needlepoint.

Her brother, Eddie Collins, of Weeksbury, club treasurer, has been doing crafts since the age of 14. His handwork includes needlepoint, painting, crewel embroidery, quilting, basketweaving, knitting, rug hooking, embroidery, crocheting and more crafts.

Elise Collins of Weeksbury, is a member from which much of local heritage crafts is learned. She works in flower arranging, learning and preserving food, candle making and quilting.

Liza Newsome, of Melvin, a member in absentia, has been quilting for more than 40 years. Also added to her line of crafts are pieced throw pillows, fabric flower making, caning and preserving food, decoupage, antiques furniture and upholstery. Mrs. Newsome is currently in the UK Medical Center at Lexington suffering multiple injuries when struck by a car, August 12. She will be at the Center for an indefinite period, due to a series of operations.

An open invitation is extended to any who are interested in handcrafts to visit meetings of the club to observe projects currently in progress. The first meeting will be Monday, September 8, at the Weeksbury Community Center at 7 p.m.

Purpose of the club, according to its co-ordinator, is to preserve the Appalachian heritage pertaining to local handcrafts and to initiate community involvement. The club is non-profit.

The story is told of the great Dutch artist who was commissioned to paint the portrait of a famous man of his country.

After weeks of work the artist completed the painting. It was beautifully executed. Wonderful in detail, vibrant in color.

In the foreground of the picture the artist had painted some tulips. The flowers were so beautiful and colorful that those who viewed the painting never saw the portrait of the subject; they could not take their eyes beyond the tulips.

Sometimes we all tend to major in minors. In doing so we place importance on trivial matters and fail to see the entire picture. It is difficult in many instances to see beyond the "tulips."

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: Those who look beyond small things see more of the world.

State and Texas Firm Ask Coal Gasification Plant

Gov. Julian Carroll announced Wednesday that the Commonwealth of Kentucky and the Texas Gas Transmission Corporation have filed a statement of interest in a demonstration plant for the production of pipeline quality gas from coal.

The formal statement was filed in response to a request from the Federal Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA).

"The federal request specifies that the coal to be used in the demonstration facility is to have a high sulphur content. If the Kentucky bid for the plant is successful, it will be built in Western Kentucky where Texas Gas has extensive high sulphur coal reserves.

"We have every reason to believe that we will be successful in our bid to have this plant located in Kentucky," Gov. Carroll said. "The Texas Gas Transmission Corporation and our own research and demonstration staff people have been working together for the past several months in anticipation of this opportunity."

Gov. Carroll added, "As a result of this foresight, Kentucky is remarkably well-prepared to make this response."

The work that the state and Texas Gas have been doing on this project is part of a joint program to promote and evaluate advanced technology for the conversion of Kentucky coal into clean energy in the form of pipeline quality gas.

This program involves joint funding of the cost of preliminary engineering design, cost estimates and environmental studies. Under this agreement Kentucky is also committed to cost sharing in the construction of the demonstration plant if it is located in Kentucky.

Gov. Carroll pointed out that this demonstration plant will constitute a market for 6,200 tons of Kentucky coal per day and will produce 82,300 million cubic feet of pipeline quality gas per day.

On successful completion of the demonstration phase the plant is expected to be tripled in capacity. In its full commercial scale operation this facility could be expected to produce gas in amounts equivalent to half of the current consumption of gas in the whole state of Kentucky.

"This plant," the governor emphasized, "will not only convert high sulphur coal into clean-burning fuel, but the project itself involves a very clean process, complying fully with every requirement for the maintenance of a healthy environment."

The statement to ERDA cautions that the costs of such a demonstration plant is beyond the reach of private capital. Current estimates have placed these costs beyond a half a billion dollars.

The Kentucky statement urges that ERDA consider the federal government share of these costs at well above the usual 50 per cent formula normally followed in federally-funded demonstration projects.

Kentucky and Texas Gas are hopeful that the federal request for formal proposals will be issued within the next several months.

Gov. Carroll has urged ERDA on several occasions to speed up this process so that the plant can be constructed and in operation before the end of this decade.

It is estimated that this process will take about four years to complete.

PTA To Hold First Regular Meet of Term

This will be "Teacher Presentation Night". All teachers and parents are urged to attend.

Cannons Evidence Of Treasure Ship

KEY WEST, Fla.—Divers say five bronze cannon they found about 40 miles west of Key West are proof that they have located one of the richest treasure ships that ever sailed.

Both McHaley, vice president of Treasure Salvors Inc., said the cannon were spotted in 50 feet of water near the Marquesas Keys.

She said the guns once were mounted on the deck of the Neustra Senora de Atocha, a Spanish galleon laden with 47 tons of New World gold and silver when it was blown onto a reef by a 1622 hurricane. The value of the complete cargo is estimated at $10 million to $400 million.

"We've known since 1971 that we were working a wreck of the 1622 fleet," said Miss McHaley. "And we were convinced in 1973 that three silver bars we found were from the Atocha. But this is the copper."

Critics have long disputed that the Atocha is at the site.

If it is, they asked, where are the 900 other 50-pound silver bars that were aboard when it went down? And where are the ship's other cannon, which because of their bulk are usually among the first items found by treasure hunters?

The cannon will stay on the bottom while archaeological studies are made, Miss McHaley said.

Now there's a way to lower your income taxes ... while you build a fund for your retirement

If you're not yet covered by a retirement plan, you can now create one for yourself. Such a plan will help you make certain that you have the money to live the life you want to in retirement. And it will lower your income taxes NOW!

Under the new Federal pension laws, you can set aside up to $1,500 a year in an account with us... and deduct each contribution on your Federal income tax return. Interest earned on your deposits will compound tax free each year. You won't owe any taxes until payments from the account begin coming to you— usually, after you've retired.

Result: you can build a LARGER retirement fund in LESS TIME than it would take if the money you set aside was subject to tax each year.

Here's the best part: Creating such an account won't cost you a dime. There's no set-up charge, no commission, no termination or management fee. So why not fill out the attached coupon, write, phone, or stop by our offices today; learn more about the ways that such a plan can make YOUR future more financially secure.

Landowners Advised Of Trespass Changes

Frankfort, Ky., August 27 Squirrel hunting season has returned to Kentucky and many landowners are discovering a change in procedure dealing with hunters and fishermen on private land without permission.

Due to a change in Kentucky's penal code the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources no longer has jurisdiction over those hunting or fishing without permission on private land. The power of arrest has shifted to local peace officers. The change occurred with no prior knowledge of the department, which worked for passage of the former law in 1960.

Under the 1960 law, a conservation officer could arrest a person hunting or fishing without permission on written complaint of the landowner if the CO was already on the land. An arrest could also be made on the CO's initiative.

Under provisions of the new penal code, a landowner must swear a warrant to be served by a local peace officer, sheriff or state policeman. Conservation officers can no longer arrest those hunting and fishing without permission.

According to A. H. Henson, director of the department's Division of Law Enforcement, landowners should first record the license number from any unauthorized vehicle on his land. The landowner should then locate trespassers and ask that they leave. A warrant can then be obtained from the county judge for the arrest of the guilty parties.

Landowners can also contact a local peace officer. If the peace officer witnesses the trespass, no warrant is needed. Otherwise, a warrant must be obtained.

Under the former law on hunting and fishing without permission, a fine of not less than $15 or more than $100 was levied. The current penal code divides trespassing into three degrees. The two applicable to hunting and fishing trespass both carry a fine of no more than $250. A trespasser is also liable for damage he may cause while hunting or fishing without permission.

It is the legal responsibility of any person to obtain permission from the landowner before entering private property to hunt or fish. Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources Commissioner Arnold Mitchell says, "Good sportsmanship demands abiding by any restrictions a landowner may place on the sportsman and a respect for crops, fences and other private property. Without this, criminal and civil court action, and more closing of private lands to hunting will result."

Wonders of the Forest

To sit on an old, mossy log deep in summer woods and watch the "slanting sunbeams filter down through the green leaves to form a checkerboard pattern on the brown-leaf earth is a beautiful thing to see. And to sit quietly in late summer woods and listen to the soft lament of a lone cuckoo as he mourns the last flying of the summer, this is a mournful lament that stirs the heart and brings a feeling that summer is about to bow out and autumn is knocking at the door.

The rich black soil of the forest is also a fascination. We studied its composition and found it was made up of many ingredients: decayed animal and vegetable matter, decayed wood, dead bodies of millions of tiny creatures, also, fine rock dust made by the grinding process of erosion. In the soil of the forest there lives millions of tiny creatures. It is their home, where they work and rear offspring. One square foot of forest soil contains about one billion living organisms: from bacteria and molds to larvae and worms.

Did you ever estimate the number of plants and trees living on a small area of the forest, say, about half an acre? Such an area of good soil has about 100 trees, one thousand small shrubs and saplings, about 1000 million larvae of all kinds, one million earthworms, 200 trillion fungi and bacteria—all working and living in the soil and deriving their nourishment from it.

Another wonder we notice in the forest is the tiny hummingbird, which settles its lichenized nest on a horizontal limb, to keep it safe from the sharp eyes of predators. Last spring, we watched it hovering over flowers like a tiny, feathered helicopter, reaching down deep into the tubular corollas with its needle-sharp bill. Well, how does it get the nectar, way down deep? It has a soda straw tongue for sucking it out. Very soon now these beautiful little creatures will be zipping away toward Central America, making the long flight across the Gulf of Mexico in a few short hours, to spend the winter in Central America.

It is also a wonder to probe into the dead wood of an old hollowed-side beech to discover what kinds of creatures lives in the dead wood. You'll often find the wood honeycombed and full of galleries. Large carpenter ants make their home in the dead wood. They chew up the wood and make it ready for mixing with soil. In beetle wood we also find a large, black beetle which has horns and makes a harsh grating sound when disturbed. We identify it as a "beesbug," and its conical ways remind us of the old saying, "Crazy as a beesbug." The beesbug eats dead wood and helps to pulverize it for adding to the humus of the soil.

On and after publication of this notice I will not be responsible for any debt incurred by any person other than myself. BENJAMIN PRATER Huesville, Ky. 8-27-31-pd

Another wonder of August woods is their deep and profound sense of peace. It is a solemn stillness that creeps into the human heart and lulls it to a profound state of rest and a feeling of al-oneness with nature.

Wid Johnson

Wid Johnson, 73, retired Topmost miner, died last Tuesday at Highlands Regional Medical Center after an extended illness.

A son of the late Kalep and Angelina Hall Johnson, he was born at Millstone, Ky. January 7, 1902. Mr. Johnson was twice married—first to Diana Vance, who preceded him in death, and upon her death to Lily Hall Johnson, who survives.

Other survivors include three sons, Burnice Johnson, of New Washington, Ohio; John W. Johnson, of Clyde, Ohio; and Hermin Johnson, of Topmost, three daughters, Cordie Stone, of Topmost, Roba Blankenship, of Detroit, Mich.; Juanita Kilgore, of Clyde, O.; three brothers, Estill and George Johnson, both of Kite, and Calvin Johnson, of Denat; and three sisters, Zeta Bates, of Roxanna, Ky.; Lettie Bates, of Whitesburg; and Rosanna Thersberry, of Kite. Mr. Johnson also leaves 28 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday at 10 a. m. at the home with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was made in the Renee Hall Cemetery at Topmost under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Wiley Pennington

Wiley Pennington, 86, of Columbus, O., formerly of Mevin, died in a Columbus hospital last Wednesday, August 27, following an extended illness.

A retired miner, he was a member of LSWA, Local No. 8100 at H Hat. Born in Virginia, he was a son of the late Troy and Nancy Pope Pennington. His wife, Mrs. Bessie Honaker Pennington, preceded him in death.

Survivors include seven sons, Elza, Ellis, and Clarence Pennington, all of Romulus, Mich.; Hubert and Hershel Pennington, both of Lagon, Donald and Milford Pennington, both of Cleveland, O.; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma McCown, of Romulus, Mich.; Mrs. Ethel Littleton, of Columbus, O.; Mrs. Frances Stanley, of Hilliards, O.; 31 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a. m. Saturday, at the Free Pentecostal Church of God at Bypno by ministers of that church. Burial was made in the Newman cemetery at Hi Hat under direction of Merion Funeral Chapel.

The following grandsons of Mr. Pennington acted as pallbearers: Paul and Dennis McCown, Charles Stanley, Larry, Danny, Rodney, Darrell, and Clarence Pennington, Jr.

The Davis Bacon Act, enforced by the U. S. Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration, provides prevailing wage, fringe benefit and other labor standards protection for employees on construction contracts financed in whole or part by federal funds.

Obituaries

Jerry Lee Hamilton

Jerry Lee Hamilton, six-year-old son of Kindy Hamilton, of Harold, died Tuesday at the University of Kentucky Medical Center after a long illness.

Born June 18, 1969 in Delaware, Ohio, he is also survived by his great aunt with whom he lived for some time, and the paternal grandparents, Kelly and Dorothy Hamilton.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 11 a. m. at the home of Jimmy Rose with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was made in the Rose cemetery at Harold under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Earl Madison

Eighty-year-old Earl Madison died Thursday of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound at the home at Printer of George Meade where Mr. Madison had been residing. The victim was dead at the scene.

Mr. Madison was born in Medina, Ohio, September 20, 1886 and was preceded in death by his wife, Elizabeth Carroll Madison. He is survived by a son, LeRoy Madison, of Columbus, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Spurlock Church of Christ with Junior Kidd the officiating minister. Burial was made in the Trace Branch Cemetery at Spurlock under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

William Lester Northrop

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 o'clock this afternoon (Wednesday) at the Maytown Methodist Church for William Lester Northrop, 53, who died at his home at Langley early Monday morning after suffering an apparent heart attack. Officiating minister will be the Rev. John Huffman.

A self-employed carpenter, he was a member of the Teamsters Union, and was a son of Mrs. Maxine Ford Northrop and the late Frank Wesley Northrop. His wife, Mrs. Maxine Ford Northrop, preceded him in death.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Karen Northrop and Mrs. Mammya Hensley, both of Langley, and two grandchildren.

Burial will be made in the Leonard Allen cemetery at Langley under direction of Merion Funeral Chapel.

SWINDLERS GET $3.3 MILLION
PARIS—Police say three scrap metal dealers swindled a Parisian bank out of $5.3 million over two years by forming an independent corporation that then wrote overworn checks on the individual firms.

Mrs. Louranie Fields

Mrs. Louranie Fields, 80 years old, of Allen, died Tuesday at Highlands Regional Medical Center after an extended illness.

A daughter of the late Elige and Lucy Crisp Porter, she was born at Allen, February 28, 1895. Preceded in death by her husband, Ira Fields, she was a member of the United Baptist Church for 30 years.

Survivors include four sons, Claude Fields of Upland, Mich.; Alvin Fields, of Rockford, Ill.; Elmer and Larry Fields, both of Allen, a brother, Virgil Porter, of Allen, and two sisters, Martha Preston, of Louisa and Eunice Corl, of Kendallville, Indiana. Thirteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 10 a. m. at the Dwale United Baptist Church with Clinton Huff, Virgil Hunt and Ellis Cornett the officiating ministers. Burial was made in the Shepherd Cemetery at Dwale under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Charles V. Ormerod, III

He was a son of Charles V. Ormerod, Jr. and Helen Chandler Ormerod, of Prestonsburg, and was born at West Liberty March 17, 1959. He was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Surviving in addition to his parents, is a brother, Michael Ormerod, of Prestonsburg.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. last Wednesday from the St. James Episcopal Church here by Father Bruce Boss. Burial was in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under direction of the Floyd Funeral Home.

Flaming Torches

Or Dying Lamps

There is a terrible falling away from Righteousness. Repentance must begin at the house of God. What is needed is a prophet who can disturb the godly and the ungodly. Pray that God in these last, terrible moments of this dispensation will send us pleading prophets like Jeremiah and John the Baptist men who identify themselves with the sins of the nation. We must be flaming torches or dying lamps. It is not enough to have burnt but to be burning when Christ comes of thousands of churches today and probably hundreds of thousands of believers, the cry is true at this moment, "Our lamps are going out." Read Matthew 25:1-13 God's remedy for a sin-sick land is still the same - 2 Chronicles 7:14

Carroll Confident Coal Resources To Be Developed

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—More than 300 Kentucky business leaders heard praise for the state's energy programs and works of confidence in the development of the Commonwealth's coal resources at the governor's first Economic Growth Conference, held Aug. 27-28 here.
Kentucky has accomplished "some of the most far-reaching and effective energy planning" in the United States, Federal Energy Administrator Frank Zarb told conference participants. The nation's top-ranking energy official, Zarb called the state's energy research and development programs "an example to the rest of the country."

Optimism about Kentucky's economic development came from Gov. Julian Carroll, who told his audience that the state's vast coal reserves could stimulate growth. "There is more energy in the Appalachian Mountains than in the Middle East," Carroll said, adding that coal conversion processes producing oil, gas and char could serve as the basis for industrial development across the state.
The two-day conference brought members of the governor's Economic Development Commission together to discuss growth of Kentucky's economy. Seminars at the conference featured panel discussions with speakers from state and federal agencies and the business world.
U.S. Senators Walter "Dee" Huddleston and Wendell Ford headed a panel of the state's congressional delegation, which fielded questions on current issues from conference participants.
Huddleston and former Kentucky Gov. Earle C. Clements participated in a panel discussion on agricultural legislation, while a group of economists traced the relationship between the Kentucky and the national economy.
In a seminar on the national and state energy picture, Kentucky's "active program" of energy development was cited by Roger Saleeby, an official of Conoco Corp., who said he knew of no other state as involved in energy research.

Each month more than 40 per cent of the cases handled by the State Police Narcotics Section involved either trafficking or possession of marijuana.

Small Grants Made To Help Teaching About Environment

Frankfort, Ky.—A little money can go a long way toward educating Kentucky's young people about the environment. That is the philosophy behind a series of mini-grants presented to 31 Kentucky school districts by the Environmental Quality Commission (EQC).

Eight Eastern Kentucky school districts—Boyd, Elliott, Lawrence, Montgomery, Pike and Wayne counties and Fairview and Corbin independents—have received grants averaging $400, according to Bill Blankenship, environmental education consultant for the state Department of Education.

Blankenship said that though the grants are small, they are helping to start environmental education programs where none existed before. In districts that already have environmental education the funds are being used to help build and equip outdoor classrooms—natural sites near schools where students can observe and study the environment.

Some school districts, such as Wayne county's, are near natural sites that are suitable for environmental studies. Wayne County High School has initiated a student project to determine what effect, if any, strip mining has had on nearby Lake Cumberland and its tributaries.

An EQC mini-grant will supply chemicals for laboratory tests, field trips to streams and strip mines, as well as printed and audio-visual materials for study of the environment.

Pike county and Corbin independent schools will hold workshops to stimulate interest in environmental education and to help teachers carry out environmental education within a variety of subject areas.

Corbin has set aside part of the EQC grant for materials teachers might want to buy after attending the workshops.

The influence of the weather on the environment is a popular approach to environmental education in Eastern Kentucky. Four school districts—Lawrence, Elliott, Boyd and Montgomery counties—are using mini-grants to buy westervanes, thermometers, rain gauges, wind indicators and other weather-watching equipment.

Part of Montgomery county's grant will supply a bird blind, binoculars and a feeding station for each of three elementary schools. Fairview is also building bird watching stations, with bird houses, fencing and the like paid for by the EQC mini-grant. Parents and custodians will build the stations.

Originally, the mini-grants were part of a larger project funded with $10,000 by the EQC in December, 1974 "to develop an environmental ethic in the young people of Kentucky," according to Jackie Swigart, EQC chairman.

The grant sponsored a series of Department of Education workshops that trained environmental education coordinators to administer programs in school districts around the state. Money left after the workshops were held in the spring of 1975 was to be distributed as mini-grants to interested schools.

However, the mini-grant idea proved so popular, Blankenship said, that the requests far exceeded the amount left in the EQC grant.

The EQC awarded a subsequent grant of $5,000 to support environmental education projects proposed by school districts throughout Kentucky.

LOSING HAIR?

EBB'S HAIR SPECIALISTS

J. H. NORTON

WILL EXPLAIN HAIR PROBLEMS FREE
 AT PLANTATION MOTEL, RT. 23 and 460, FRIDAY
 SEPT. 5, 1975. HOURS: 1 P.M. TO 3:30 P.M.

J. H. Norton will be back in Prestonsburg, Kentucky again Friday, Sept. 5, 1975.

Now is the time to act on this great opportunity. Every man and woman now losing hair should take advantage of this FREE CONSULTATION.

GUARANTEED
 You will be given a written guarantee on a pro-rated basis from the beginning to the end.

CAN'T HELP
 Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which no method is effective. Ebb's Hair Specialists cannot help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure that is actually causing your hair loss?
 Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair on top of your head, and would like to stop hair loss and grow more hair—now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

FREE CONSULTATION
 Just take a few minutes of your time on Friday, Sept. 5, 1975, and go to the Plantation Motel, Rt. 23 and 460, Prestonsburg, Kentucky between 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. and ask the Desk Clerk for J. H. Norton room number.

Don't Put It Off
 There is no charge or obligation. All consultations are private, you will not be embarrassed in any way.
