7 Counties Wait Coal Tax Ruling Floyd Could Lose $200,000 If Rebate On Seam Location

Awaiting by Floyd and six other coal-producing counties is a promised Court of Appeals ruling on the controversy involving coal severance tax rebates.

State Finance Commissioner William E. Scent said last week that an early decision has been promised by the chief justice of the court. The decision could affect plans of the several counties for use of their coal tax money.

A comprehensive plan for Floyd county's use of the funds has not yet been made and will probably not be made until the exact amount of the rebate is known.

At issue is whether the coal tax rebates should go to counties where the coal seams lie or those in which the mine openings are located.

Franklin Circuit Judge Squire Williams has agreed with County Attorney Ed Hancock that the rebates should go to the county where the coal seam lies.

If the appellate court sustains Judge Williams, Floyd county will lose approximately $200,000 of the $1,293,771 severance tax originally scheduled to it as a rebate.

Other counties awaiting the decision are Clay, Leitcher, Martin, Perry, Hopkins and Webster.

Arrest Follows Sugar Cube Sale

Timothy Caudill, of Paintsville entered a plea of guilty to a charge of possession of an unknown substance in Prestonburg Police Judge Tom Lafferty's court this week and paid a fine which totalled $257.

Caudill was arrested here Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Doug Lewis and City Policemen Ralph Thornberry and Otis Truist after he was reportedly observed selling sugar cubes soaked in what preliminary tests identified as some form of amphetamine on a downtown street corner. Thirty sugar cubes were found on Caudill, it was reported.

Positive identification of the drug awaits analysis of samples sent to the state police laboratory at Frankfort.

In an arrest by State Troopers Weedman and Shelton Friday, Leroy Johnson and Rodney Thornberry were charged with trafficking in controlled substances. Thornberry was also charged with driving while under the influence of a controlled substance. Details concerning the arrest were unavailable Tuesday.

A liquor raid Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Doug Lewis and State Trooper Castle resulted in the arrest of Bill Scarborough after the officers found five

VISIT BY CAMERA TO OLD PLAYGROUND . . . Most whose early years were spent in the Prestonburg area have, in all likelihood, spent a fair share of that time exploring and playing around the so-called Three-Story Cave area situated high on a ridge overlooking the Big Sandy river and south Prestonburg. Photo shows one of the many chambers cut into huge masses of sandstone through the ages by the action of wind and water.

This Town...That World

For several days now I have been wondering where in tunket the redbirds have gone. Hasn't been one around in a week. Now it all becomes quite clear. It not crystal. We were out of birdseed, a few days, and these feathered friends, like some other birds I know, moved on to another handout.

OH, BROTHER!
A New York City judge, name of John Carro, recently dismissed charges against two muggers because police chased them and drew guns to stop them and make the arrest. Although the woman who was robbed identified the two and her wallet was recovered, the judge in a mighty effort to hand down a landmark decision ruled that the cops had no right to use weapons because it denied the muggers "freedom of movement."

No wonder New York City and the rest of the country is in what is known as a fix!

THE LAST ROSE?
While the younger folk were yelling their fool heads off, gleefully hailing the season's first snow last Thursday and Friday, I was bemoaning the fate of a rosebush which was in gorgeous bloom at our backyard. The full-size blooms seemed to be drooping earward, but most beautifully tragic of the flowers was the tiny bud, that was peaking its fair head, barely out, unafraid and unbowed, as if it were so young it didn't know any of the terrors of a cold, cruel world.

Calderon To Appear Here Thursday

Javier Calderon, Bolivian guitarist, acclaimed by world-renowned musicians, Pablo Casals and Andres Segovia, with whom he studied, will appear here at Pike auditorium, Prestonburg Community College, at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. This is the second presentation of the current Eastern Kentucky Concert Series season.

Area Counties Form Travel Organization

The Kentucky Highlands Association, an organization of 31 Eastern Kentucky counties, has recently been formed to stimulate the local economy via tourism.

Focus of attention will be on the scenic attractions, uniqueness of the region as a family vacation area, as well as the hospitality of the people of Eastern Kentucky. Kentucky Highlands is the largest area travel-oriented organization in the state.

Five Area Development Districts consisting of Big Sandy, FIVCO, Gateway, Kentucky River, and Cumberland Valley, are part of the Association. Each district is eventually planning a Welcome Center, with the first now open to the public at 130 Memorial Drive, Hazard. These centers will provide information, maps, brochures, and data concerning travel, vacations, and upcoming events within the 31-county area. All of these districts will be actively engaged in the promotion of the region as a recreational, historic, and economical family vacation area.

Heading the association is Seldon Short, of Vaucluse, who pointed out that "tourism represents a $600 million industry in Kentucky, and there are approximately 11 state parks or shrines in Eastern Kentucky with facilities to equate the best in the country. Time has come for us to get involved." Mr. Short said he believes the various regional festivals in Eastern Kentucky, West Liberty's Sorghum, Mountain Laurel Festival, Pineville, Mt. Sterling's Court Day, Johnson County's Apple, Corbin's Nibbing and others, bring hundreds of people into the area, and the Highlands Association will aid in the promotion of these festivals while encouraging and initiating additional events in Eastern Kentucky.

Big Sandy CAP To Get $36,200 Federal Funds

The Big Sandy Community Action Program has been awarded $36,200 in federal funds to provide community food and nutrition and energy crisis programs, it was announced last week by Governor Carroll and C. Leslie Davy, secretary of the Department for Human Resources.

The Big Sandy CAP grant was the largest any made to the nine Eastern Kentucky Community Action agencies.

Other individual agency awards: Bell-Whitley Community Action Agency, Pineville, $17,500; Boone Development Council, Manchester, $12,000; Harlan County Community Action Agency, Harlan, $10,000; Knox County Economic Opportunity Council, Barbourville, $9,000; Lake Cumberland Community Services Organization, Somerset, $3,312; Leslie, Knott, Leitcher, Perry Community Action Council Inc., Hazard, $23,400; Middle Kentucky River Area Development Council, Jackson, $12,000; Northeast Kentucky Area Development Council, Olive Hill, $9,000.

Community food and nutrition programs provide funds for the emergency purchase of food stamps, food pantries and feeding programs for

3 Under Bond To Grand Jury After Hearing

Three of four persons accused of the shooting of Tavis (Bo) Neeley on Sall Lick Creek Nov. 5 remained under $5,000 bond to answer to January grand jury action after a county court hearing here last Thursday, and the charge against Bennie Blackburn, who had been held in jail after his son, Ronnie, had been seriously wounded, was dropped.

The Blackburn case ended when the wounded youth said he was wounded accidentally and that his father had not intended to shoot him.

Under bond in the Neeley shooting are Melvin and Carlos Hoover, brothers-in-law of Neeley, and Carl Edward Whittaker. The charge of aiding and abetting in the shooting which will be lodged against Mrs. Maudie Hoover was dropped.

Tavis Neeley and his brother, Russell, testified at the hearing. The former said he had told an attorney during the day preceding the shooting of the boundaries of a strip of land over which a dispute had arisen and that Whittaker had threatened, "If you step in this yard, I'll blow your brains out." The brothers' testimony occurred in claiming that they had driven up Patton Fork of Raccoon and were almost lost the Hoover home when three shotgun blasts were fired.

Tavis Neeley was struck in his back, neck and arm and his brother, who was driving the car, was struck in the arm and hand.

Lake Water in Fast Getaway

With the level of Dewey Lake dropping a foot a day as a result of the Corps of Engineers drawdown operation which began November 10, the volume of water flowing through the spillway at Dewey Dam is enough to cause water to spray high into the air. The drawdown, which will drop the water level a total of 20 feet, is being done to facilitate dredging and dock renovation work in the vicinity of the state park boat dock facility at Brandy Keg Cove.

C. J. Claims Enforcement Here Is Lax

Nevard Wells, supervisor of the Prestonburg district, Division of Reclamation, joined W. Warner Ford, the division's chief engineer, this week in terming charges made in a Courier-Journal news-story last Sunday as "unfair."

The newspaper, in an article written by Stephen Ford, alleged that state strip-mine reclamation laws are often loosely enforced by the Prestonburg district office and that violations sometimes go uncorrected for months.

Mr. Wells commented in a telephone conversation with The Times:

"I would like for people to look at our jobs. We have nothing to hide. I know we have some bad ones (reclamation jobs), but there's an awful lot of good ones."

The district supervisor pointed out that the office here, with only 26 inspectors, attempted last year to cover an area of boom coal mining, all the way from Lewis county to and including Pike county, the nation's top coal producer. With Pike county now in a separate district the office here now has 15 inspectors, he said.

Ernest Croot, an inspector, said, "I can't see where the law is loosely enforced."

Bob Whittaker, another inspector, referred to the Courier-Journal report on the B. F. Holbrook Coal Company operation in Magoffin county. The

Health Care Jobs Regained By 5 Dismissed

Five members of the staff of Big Sandy Health Care whose services with the agency had been terminated by its executive director, Roger Marshall, were reinstated at last Thursday's meeting of the board of directors.

Mr. Marshall explained that the cut in the administrative force was made in an effort to keep the agency in line, economically, with its ability to render health services.

One of the five dropped from the payroll has returned to work. Marshall said notices to the others are being given this week.

Big Sandy Health Care, the director reported, has signed contracts with the Southern Labor Union and the United Mine Workers of America to provide health services to its members, and has gained a commitment from Dr. Y. C. Dingra to begin work early in January, at the hospital clinic which currently is without a doctor. In the other clinic, at Wheelwright, Dr. Gordon Young has been in service for the last few months.

Mr. Marshall reported that the health agency last month set a new earned income record, that the number of patient in October was almost a record and that both clinics are receiving increasing numbers of patients.

2 of 3 Groups At Med Center Vote for Union

Two of three employee groups at Highlands Regional Medical Center, near here, voted last Thursday in a NLRB-supervised election to join union.

Only the registered nurses voted to remain non-union. The vote of this group was 8 to 5 against unionization.

Service and maintenance personnel voted 95-49 for union representation, and licensed practical nurses cast a 38 to 16 vote for the union.

The two employee groups at Highlands become, as a result of the balloting, the first members of Local 1190, National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, in Kentucky. It was said.

Dan Stewart, organizer for the union, was quoted as saying that negotiations will be begun soon on a contract between the workers and the hospital.

Opposed Appropriation

Magistrate Leroy Akers emphasized this week the point that the vote on the appropriation of $12,000 to the Floyd County Humane Society by the Floyd fiscal court was recorded incorrectly. Magistrate Akers said that he was joined in voting against the appropriation by Magistrate Kenneth Roberts.

NOW IS THE TIME

Old John was suffering from an attack of bronchitis. His life was not in danger, but he felt painfully weak and ill. The doctor made the necessary inquiries and, after promising to get some medicine ready when called for, he was about to say "Good-by" when the wife of the sick man inquired, "When must John take the medicine, sir?"

Dingus' Work Featured In County Library Art Display

A painting and ceramic exhibit by artist Ralph Waldo Dingus is currently on display at the Floyd County Library and will continue through December 5. The display includes examples of work in oil, watercolors, charcoal drawings and ceramic sculpture.

Anyway, It's Unidentified

If it wasn't a genuine UFO, it nevertheless remains an unidentified flying object, this glowing, iridescent sphere which hung in the western skies Sunday night and held center stage for a dozen known viewers in Allen and Cow Creek and possibly many more who are yet to report.

Girl Scout News

Attending the Cadette Leader Training, Oct. 16, at the Floyd County Library, were Leaders Mary Hinchman, Troop 228, Allen; Diane Hays, Troop 634, Drift, with Field Director Sandy Patton, of Langley, in charge.

An International Workshop was held, Oct. 20, at the Floyd Co. Library. Attending were Wilma Castle and Barbara Mandeville, of Johnson county, Judy Hackworth, Elmira Nelson, Amanda Hall, Barbara Mosley, Cheryl Hill, Nancy Roberts, Mary Hinchman, Lila Ratliff, Lila DeRossett, and Field Director Sandy Patton, all from Floyd county.

A Brownie Girl Scout Leader Training was held for new leaders at the Martin Methodist church, Oct. 23. Mrs. Judy Spencer, Langley Brownie Troop, Mrs. Lila Ratliff, Allen Brownie Troop No. 894, Mrs. Janice Hall, Mullins Brownie Troop and Mrs. Lila F. DeRossett, Service Unit Chairman attended.

Represented in the red, white, blue parade Oct. 25, were Prestonsburg Brownie Troop 966, West Prestonburg Brownie Troop 498, Allen Brownie Troop 894, Auxier Brownie Troop 740, D. Dowell Brownie Troop 841, Wayland Brownie Troop; Allen Jr. Troop 227; Langley Jr. Troop 256; Wayland Jr. Troop 864; Drift Jr. Troop 634; Prestonsburg Jr. Troop 665; and Prestonsburg Jr. Troop 499; Prestonsburg Jr. Troop, Martin Jr. Troop; Goble-Roberts Jr. Troop 991; Drift Cadette Troop 634; Auxier Cadette Troop 125; and Wayland Cadette Troop 867. Two junior troops served as hostess at the courthouse for the Kentucky educational television program, "Bert F. Combs, Distinguished Kentuckian". They were Auxier Jr. Troop 65, Leader Mrs. Eula Ferguson, and Martin Jr. Troop, Leader Mrs. Laz Conley.

A Christmas workshop was held at Camp Chatterawha, Nov. 3. Plenty of Christmas desserts, with recipe swapping were enjoyed. Each person also brought crafts and taught the others the "how to." Those leaders enjoying the day were Field Director Sandy Patton and Mrs. Betty May of Langley. Officers were from Pikeville and John's Creek. Field Director Sandy Patton conducted Badge workshop, Nov. 1, in Paintsville, and Nov. 8, in Pikeville. Only two people from Floyd Co. attended. They were Kim DeRossett, Cadette Troop 228, and Mrs. Lila F. DeRossett, Service Unit Chairman, Nov. 8, at the Pikeville Christian Church. Any Junior or Cadette troop could find this training beneficial.

Mrs. Dolores Smith, fund raising chairman, Allen, P. O. Box 127, Ky. 41601, asks that anyone wishing to contribute to the fund drive, please make checks payable to Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, and send to her.

The Floyd County Girl Scout Song Festival will be held, November 22, at the Drift Community Center, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Bring a song, a smile, and a pleasant attitude. Hosting the event are the Junior and Cadette troops of Drift. Cookie orders have been placed with Mrs. Dorothy Harris, Dot's Fabric Shop, at Allen, where they will be delivered Jan. 5. A different factory, Southern Biscuit of Knoxville, Tenn., will be baking our five flavors this year: peanut butter, sandwich cream, thin minis, shortbread, and peanut butter patties. They will be $1.25 per box. Training for all cookie chairman will be Nov. 25, 7 p.m., Floyd County Library.

Mrs. Novella F. Froman, of the Community Development Program, was guest speaker at the Nov. 6 Service Unit meeting, Allen Methodist Church. The subject was "Community Pride." She also presented a display of beautiful Christmas crafts made from natural materials. Mrs. Betty May, Junior Troop 256 showed crafts of plastic that she and her troop have made. Mrs. Eula Ferguson, Jr. Troop 65, brought the stuffed animals that her troop has been making for a service project. Mrs. Judith Hackworth, Brownie Troop 498, showed markers and pin cushions that some of her troop have made. Attending this session were Field Director Sandy Patton, Mrs. Betty May of Langley, Mrs. Eula Ferguson, Mrs. Oleta Fleener, Miss Pam Goldman, of Auxier, Mrs. Nancy Roberts, Mrs. Amanda Hall, of Goble-Roberts, Mrs. Novella F. Froman, of Wayland, Mrs. Diantha Hodges, of Drift, Mrs. Elmira Nelson, Mrs. Lorraine Prater, Mrs. Judy Hackworth, West Prestonburg, Mrs. Carolyn D. Owens, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Mary Hinchman and Service Unit Chairman, Lila F. DeRossett, of Allen.

Wayland Junior Troop 864, Leader Novella F. Froman, enjoyed a beautiful week-end, Nov. 7 thru 9, camping at Camp Chatterawha. Camping at Chatterawha during October 27, was Allen Junior Troop 227, Leader, Margaret Tackett and Asst. Leader Bonnie Spencer. Mothers helping were Mrs. Mary Jo Waugh, Mrs. Joyce Eversly, and Carolyn Tackett. The nurse attending was Mrs. Tackett's sister, Mrs. Thursa Sloan.

Cadette Troop 228, Allen, is planning a rummage and bake sale, Nov. 28, in Allen. They are making Christmas crafts to sell. The proceeds from this sale will be used to finance a service project they have planned for December.

Four troops from Floyd County received the Golden Trefol Award, Nov. 6, for meeting all standards of the Girl Scout organization. Field Director Sandy Patton presented these awards to Mrs. Nancy Roberts, Brownie Troop 19, Mrs. Janice Prater, Brownie Troop 498, Mrs. Mary Hinchman, Cadette Troop 228, and Mrs. Eula Ferguson, Junior Troop 65.

In Memory of the Old Banner Schoolhouse
I'm thinking of our dear, old schoolhouse where we once loved to run and play with our dear friends and dear old schoolmates. Most of whom have gone away.

Then we were so very happy. When we were so very young. Many were the games we played there. Many were the songs we sung.

But alas! Those days have vanished. There have fallen many tears. But we always will remember. All those happy, vanished years.

Honored in Own Country

BY BILLEN PRICE-STACY

Trying to cut-talk or out-write Jesse Stuart when he has something to say is like trying to stem the fall of leaves in autumn. When Kentucky's great man of literature and land is enthused, he goes all the way—looming his words in his lectures and using a strong pen in his books, stories and poems.

He stands tall in states other than Kentucky and countries other than the United States, but he is not without honor in his native land.

Stuart speaks throughout the Commonwealth, has a special room at Murray State University, a school bearing his name, recently was awarded an honorary degree from Morehead State University and clearly is the star of any gathering of writers.

When a number of Kentucky authors and artists were guests at the annual fall meeting of the Kentucky Audio-Visual Association at Jony Wiley State Resort Park, Stuart was surrounded by admirers while others stood patiently in a long line awaiting their opportunity to talk with him and buy his books. He looked vigorous and well despite six days in the hospital since a first heart attack several years ago.

This writer first met Stuart in the 1960's when he, together with his beloved Naomi Deane, were guests at Morehead State University. Following his lecture, the two joined a group of aspiring writers outside on the sidewalk steps and there held his audience until early morning as he talked with his heart about things near and dear.

"Write with your heart, not your head," he said then and in later talks. Since his heart is a big one he embraces Naomi Deane with his lyrics, kisses his hills and hollows with his words and writes indelibly his feelings about man and humanity. There is no mistaking his philosophy. He knows full well that man must earn his living, share it with his fellowman when there's genuine need and instill in man a will to persevere.

He has had his dark days. They helped him set his values.

Still, he could not have so ordered his life without his Naomi Deane. Once he holds no sympathy with aspiring writers who feel a need for material tools and convenience. He wrote his first poems on scraps of anything that would hold words, including leaves.

His constant companion has been Mrs. Stuart. He continues to use round, rich, soft but strong words to lyricize his feelings about Naomi Deane, brown-eyed and even more lovely in maturity. Their life together is one of the era's great love stories and for the most part is yet unwritten.

"Write with your heart."
In reading and rereading a Stuart poem, the reader has no trouble hearing the rasp of corn blades in a dry wind or spring's green song in the season of rebirth.

Neighboring West Virginia long ago acknowledged Kentucky's man of literature. In 1962 Marshall University at Huntington awarded Stuart an honorary degree. On Nov. 18, Marshall will further honor the famed Eastern Kentuckian with "Jesse Stuart Day" and will unveil a valuable collection of Stuart first editions and special editions.

In announcing the event honoring Stuart, whose 46th book, "The World of Jesse Stuart," has been nominated for a Pulitzer Prize in poetry, MU President Robert Hayes said, "We are fortunate to have one of America's outstanding writers living in our area." He added that Stuart was being honored not only for his "great literary contributions, but also for the inspiration he has provided hundreds of young writers."

The author will speak at Marshall's 11 a.m. convocation and be guest of honor at a luncheon. He then will participate in the unveiling of the book collection at MU's James E. Morrow Library.

Stuart was born 68 years ago in a log cabin and continues to live on a 1,000-acre farm nearby. His beautiful, though rustic, home encloses a log cabin as one of its rooms. Long ago in his hollows and among his people he learned the values of life and knew he was rich in things that matter.

"If I can make it, anyone can." He

Home Is Where the Tops Are: A 40-Year Loyalty Continues

By RICHARD HALLICKS
In The Hilltopper, Western
Kentucky University publication

Estill "Eck" Branham had a trunkful of belongings and $35 in his pocket when he arrived on Western's campus in 1935. Branham, fresh from Prestonsburg High School in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, had come to the Hill to play football at the urging of a Louisville sports writer and the legendary E. A. Diddle, who was the athletic director here at the time.

"I didn't really know where I was going. I'd been talking to Miss Margaretta University, and then this reporter from the Courier-Journal asked me about Western," he recalled. "Hell, I'd never even heard of Western."

Branham's trip from Prestonsburg to Western probably was a good indication of what college life would be like in the ensuing weeks.

"My brother and I carried my footlocker up to the bus station in Prestonsburg, and then I hitchhiked to school. I couldn't afford the bus."

The first two weeks I was here, we slept on wire cots in the old gym, Branham said.

As Branham remembers it, there wasn't a whole lot of money involved in Western's football program in the mid-30s. In fact, there wasn't a whole lot of money involved in anything on campus.

"Back then, they could just give you a job—they didn't have any scholarships. But you know it only cost $35 per semester to go to school here then. They finally put new vision glasses and silverware. That's what I did all year," he said.

Under the direction of now coach Carl "Sweede" Anderson, Branham worked into the wingback spot in the Hilltoppers' singling formation, and eventually wound up sharing quarterback duties with Willard Sheeps.

"We didn't have many players on the squad. I was a wingback and I played halfback offense. We played Eastern, Murray and those Tennessee teams," Branham said.

Although the money and scope of the grid program here have increased and widened considerably since Branham wore the red and grey Western colors, he contends that "We enjoyed it more that they do now."

"I shot, I knew every body on the Hill. It was like a big family here," he said.

Branham recalls with crystal clarity some of his experiences with the head of that family, Henry Hardin Cherry.

"I remember when we went to Eastern in 1934. They had us 9-0 at the half. During halftime, we went around the side of the stadium for a 'habe' tree to talk things out and there was of 'Die Cherry.' He talked to us, man, we started crying. We came back on that field and won that game 47-9."

Cherry seemed to have that sort of influence on the Hilltoppers when the chaplain told him Cherry wanted to see him personally in his office.

"I was scared to death. I didn't know what I'd done. I knocked on the door, and he said, 'Gerrit, come in.' Branham said, affecting a deep growling tone to his voice.

"According to Branham, Cherry then said, "What about the 1936 Murray game?"

"Well, I hope we win," Branham stammered.

Cherry then slammed his fists down on his desk and shouted, "Don't say that! Don't say that! We will win that game, we're not just hoping for it."

Branham smiled as he recalled the scene, and said, "I left that office and I knew we were gonna win. We did by a score of 14-0, and we weren't even supposed to."

Branham said he also has fond memories of Diddle. "Mr. Diddle was a close friend. I did a lot of running around the country, recruiting with him after I left school," he said.

"The thing that sold me when I first got here, he had a picture of me under the glass on his desk. I thought, 'Golly, they must think I'm really tough,'" Branham said.

Branham lettered in the '34, '35 and '36 seasons. He gave up his old farm in 1937 to the name "Pony and Circumstance," but his ties to Western athletics have remained strong over the 40 years since he played the Hilltopper offense from the single-wing formation.

After 30 years of coaching on the gridiron, Branham bought a 350-acre farm "three miles from Western, and if I want to, I can walk to practice," he said smiling.

Now, he spends his time "livin' on the farm, raisin' cattle and watchin' football games. I go to about every place they play," he said.

(Editor's note: "Eck" Branham, is a son of the late John Branham and for the last 25 years has been director of the annual East-West all-star football game.)

Prestonsburg Basketball Squad, Cheerleaders

A practically all-new lineup of players will see action as Prestonsburg high school begins its 1975-'76 basketball season next week in the annual Jenny Wiley Tournament which begins Wednesday, Nov. 26 at the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse. This year's Blackcats include, from left to right—Greg Dixon, Billy Reynolds, David LeMaster, Gary Shepherd, Grady Stephens, Jeff Burchett, Jim Patton, Randy Gearheart, Mike Dixon, Tim Crisp, Rick Morgan and David Harmon. Varsity cheerleaders are, (l. to r.)—Bambi Steffey, Beth Martin, Paula Martin, Susan Wells, Kim Alexander, Margie Jaggars, Nina Fannin and Lona Goble. Head coach of the Blackcats is Fred Setzer with Ronnie Robinson, assistant and freshman coach.

McDowell Girls Gain Tom Wiley Meet Finals Second Year in a Row

The McDowell "Daredevil Girls" will meet the Allen Central "Rebellees" Monday night in the championship game of the second annual Tom Wiley Invitational at Prestonsburg. The McDowell team is the defending champions, having defeated Sheldon Clark last year in the finals, 50-55.

McDowell, led by all-star Geri Grigsby's 85 points in the two games, defeated Paintsville, 63-45 and Betsy Layne 65-62, en route to the finals. Allen Central defeated Virgie, Johnson Central and Prestonsburg to reach the finals. McDowell, now 4-0, defeated Allen Central, earlier this season, 82-40.

Prestonsburg and Betsy Layne met in a consolation game, Monday night.

Scoring:
McDowell—Grigsby 44, Roberts 4, Carter 7, Reid, Martin 4, Humphrey 4, Paintsville—Austin 8, Hewlett 13, Stanford 5, Vickers 4, Cyrus 7, Trimble 2, Kyfe 1, Belcher 2, Belhasen 1, Miller 2.
McDowell—Grigsby 41, Roberts 10, Reid 3, Martin 2, Humphrey 4, Howell 6, Carter 2.
Betsy Layne—Hamilton 19, Hall 8, Martin 12, Stumbo 14, Clark 16, Tackett 2.

Boosters Club Honors Players At Its First Grid Banquet

Most valuable Blackcat football players were named Saturday night at the first annual football banquet held by the Prestonsburg Boosters Club.

Leslie "Bear" May received the Most Valuable Player award and was announced.

Just received the best offensive lineman: Mike Dixon, best defensive lineman: Alvin Hall, best defensive back, and Greg Dixon, best offensive back. The Scholarship award went to Sam Isbell, II, and the Specialty award to Bobby Osborn.

Wanted: A Puddle Fit for a Queen

Dopatch has its Sadies Hawkins Day, West Liberty has its Sorghum Festival, Atlantic City its Miss America pageant, Prestonsburg its Turkey Bowl, and this year a Turkey Bowl queen will be crowned—with what, is yet to be announced.

A spokesman for the group said, "This is an open competition for any lady from 16 to 60. All contestants will dress in turkey costume, and the halftime festivities will feature the Turkey Bowl Queen competition. All those brave, gutsy females will line up for a 20-yard dash before making a graceful dive into the mud and across the 50-yard line. The gal who emerges and is judged to be the muddiest will be proclaimed Miss Turkey Bowl of 1975."

Eat your heart out, Miss America!

Before presenting the awards, Coach Philip Haywood, who led the Blackcats to their most successful season in several years with seven wins, four losses (two of the latter by one-point), introduced members of the varsity team with a personal comment on each player. He recognized the managers, fitness statisticians and volunteer assistants, Tony Burchett, Johnny Heine, Greg Spradlin, Tommy Howell and Mitchell Kalos.

Team members, represented by Chuck Higgins, presented Coach Haywood and Assistant Coach Honnie Robinson gifts of appreciation.

The Rev. W. D. Jagers was master of ceremonies, and Principal Ronald Hager made the opening remarks, introducing freshman coaches, Leo Whit and Dennis Walker, who presented members of the freshman team.

More, Rabbits But Fewer Quail Is Kentucky Hunting Prospect

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 13.—Kentucky's upland game and fur-bearing hunting seasons open Nov. 20, and hunters can expect a slightly higher population of rabbits in most sections of the commonwealth but fewer quail than in past years, according to a survey conducted by the game management division of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The survey, which utilizes sightings of quail and rabbits made by cooperating rural mail carriers during June, July and August shows that statewide the rabbit population is up, both when compared to last year and the average of the 15 years this survey has been conducted.

Only in the Pennyroyal and western coal regions of the state were rabbit populations below those of last year. The hills of Bluegrass region showed the greatest gain in rabbit numbers, according to the survey.

On the statewide level, quail populations are slightly lower than the numbers indicated by both last year's survey and by the 15-year average. The best quail populations are in the western portions of the state, followed by the central Kentucky regions and then Eastern Kentucky.

Seasonal variations in small game populations are to be expected, according to Jim Durell, assistant director of the Department of Fish and Wildlife's game management division. Weather is perhaps the single most important cause of these fluctuations, Durell says, and the long dry spells last summer are probably responsible for the indicated decrease in quail populations.

The second part of the squirrel season also opens Nov. 20, as does the season on grouse. Squirrels should be easier to find than in the August through October season, since they will now be concentrated around mast-producing trees.

The squirrel season will run through Dec. 31, while the last day of the fur-bearing and rabbit season is Jan. 31 and for quail and grouse Feb. 29. No small game hunting will be allowed during the gun deer season (Dec. 6 through Dec. 10) except on selected wildlife management areas.

A new regulation this year makes it illegal for hunters to have shotgun slugs or buckshot in their possession while hunting small game, according to R. W. Garrison, assistant director of the Department of Fish and Wildlife's law enforcement division.

Garrison also reminds hunters to make sure their shotguns are "plugged" to hold no more than three shells, to ask permission before hunting on private land and to make sure they have their hunting licenses with them.

WORD OF THANKS

We, the family of Wesley Campbell, wish to take this opportunity to try to express our gratitude for your expressions of love and understanding during this time of deep family sorrow. Your friendship and help in so many ways has helped ease our burden and has given us hope that we will find peace and joy through the time we have to stay on this earth and strength in the Friend that sticks closer than a brother, the Lord Jesus. No day will pass without our remembering how we loved and how he shared his love with people he worked with and met each day. No day will ever pass without our remembering the many expressions of love and friendship from each of you to us. Our main hope is that you not forget the main Friend, Jesus Christ, who made this all possible and that His love will give us a closer walk in the right direction through the loss of our friend, husband and dad. Our love to you all.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of George Symon, Sr. who was killed in the mines at Manton, Ky., December 8, 1941, the same year Pearl Harbor was bombed, and Bessie Symon who died Dec. 27, 1950.

Winter is here, snow on the ground. It soon will be Christmastime in our coal mining town. The warmth of Christmas relieves the cold chill.

As we remember, the Of Coal Miner on the hill, This Of Coal Miner and his wife, Gave all for their fellowman, Brightening our lives, giving to Each of us a helping hand, George, A shining example of life worth living, For they filled their lives With the love of giving. So joy and happiness were Their's to be had, But we lost our Mommie and Dad, Well, another winter is here, Snow will be on the ground, Again it's Christmastime, In our Coal Mining Town, And warmth of Christmas, Relieves the cold chill, As we all remember the Of Coal Miner and his wife on the hill, By daughter, MRS. VINCENT ADAMS, Martin, Ky.

Don't Wait Until It's Too Late— Stop the Ku Klux Klan Now!

You've all heard of the Ku Klux Klan rallies in Charleston, W. Va., Harlan, Louisville, Huntington, Boston and in the South. David Duke Grand Dragon of the Klan has announced that the KKK will make Kentucky its main focus for a membership drive in November. Now is the time to act to stop this racist, fascist organization. Let's not wait until they move in with their soft sell line about "cleaning up the community" to cover the violence and anti Black and anti worker views they really stand for! Join the Mountain Workers Unity Organization to stop the Klan NOW!

Look What the Klan Has Stood For Over the Years. The KKK has stood for dividing working and poor people and weakening their fight for justice and a better life. In 1903, 30%, and 40% of the KKK killed, lynched, and terrorized Black people throughout the country, but especially in the South. Now they are still trying to divide Black and white and promote open terrorism against the Black community. This has been their main role in the Boston and Louisville busing issues. The Black community in Huntington feels that the Klan is behind the murder of a Black teenager there recently. Not so many years ago here in Floyd County the Klan burned a cross in Troy but were into the river by shotgun fire when people there defended their community. When the Wheelwright school was integrated, the Klan again burned crosses, broke windows, and urged people to attack the Black community.

The KKK has been consistently anti-union and has been the tool of the coal operators and the chamber of commerce as they have tried to turn white workers against black workers to weaken the union movement. UMWA President Arnold Miller has called the KKK an "anti-union organization that has always opposed the rights of working men and women." When John L. Lewis started the CIO in the 1930's, the union organizers they sent into the South were tarred and feathered, beaten and killed by the KKK. In recent weeks the Klan has reportedly burned crosses in front of UMWA members homes and threatened a number of people in Harlan County. Their rally in Harlan was mainly attended by scabs and operators. The KKK has tried to divide by calling people of Italian, East-European, Jewish, or Catholic background enemies, un-American, communist. In their filthy literature and in their deeds they violate and oppose the most basic rights of working people.

Why Is the Ku Klux Klan Starting to Move Again? The KKK works for the rich and their servants who control the country. With the economic crisis brought on the greed of the monopolies, the government and the rich are worried that poor and working people are going to organize and stand up for themselves. We are facing prices rising much faster than wages, unemployment, cut backs in all services, the danger of a new world war, and daily attacks on our basic rights and freedoms, the last thing the rich want now is for us to get together. So, they promote and defend groups like the KKK to divide people and keep the weak, to attack black people so as to use them for scapegoats and make that extra buck off low wages and high prices.

Defend Our Communities. Let's stand together to serve notice to the KKK and all other such organizations that they will not be allowed in Floyd County. The Mountain Workers Unity Organization stands firmly against the Klan and for the interests of all working and poor people, black and white, men and women. Join Jay Lee Hamilton, President, Mountain Workers Unity Organization, for information or if you want to indicate support of this work write: Mountain Workers Unity Organization, Box 243, Hat, Kentucky, or call 478-5389, 587-2612 or 452-4248. Coughlin-Smilley Vows Said at Chatham, Ky. In Open Church Rites

A wedding ceremony solemnized the afternoon of October 18 at St Paul Lutheran Church at Chatham, Ky. officiated Miss Carolyn Coughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coughlin, of Augusta, Ky., and Mr. John Smilley, son of Mrs. Orala Smilley and the late V. A. Smilley, of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

The Rev. John Seraphine officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The tradition of open church was observed. Mrs. Elizabeth Parker was at the organ to play a program of wedding music and to accompany the soloists Miss Susan Grannis, of Lexington, Ky.

The altar was adorned with vases containing white chrysanthemums and coral tinted carnations lighted candles decorated with greenery stood on each side of the altar. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fitted gown of white bridal satin with long fitted sleeves, Regembroidered Alencon lace accented by seed pearls trimmed the front bodice. The sleeve edges and dress hemlines were trimmed with lace. The skirt flared softly with a detachable chapel length train. Her long veil of English illusion fell from a cap trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses and white ball pom poms accented with ribbon.

Miss Cindy Aitkin, of Lexington, roommate of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Gary Coughlin, sister-in-law of the bride, of Seaford, Del. The flower girl was Michelle Coughlin, niece of the bride. All attendants were attired in coral knit dresses. The gowns were identical in design with empire waists, V-necklines and short sleeves. Their headpieces were made of buns of white and coral ribbons and baby's breath. They carried a single white rose tinted coral.

Thomas Cyrus of Wheeling, W. Va. served as best man with James Gilkey of Carlingville, Ill. and Gary Coughlin, brother of the bride, serving as ushers. Master Ed Foster, nephew of the bride, of Augusta, was the ringbearer.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Augusta. After a wedding trip to New Orleans and Florida the couple will reside in Lexington. The bride is a graduate of Augusta High School and the University of Kentucky where she received a double degree in nursing and respiratory therapy. She is employed at Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington.

The groom graduated from Prestonsburg High School and the University of Kentucky where he received a degree in civil engineering. He is currently employed with the Division of Water Resources in Lexington.

H.R.M.C. AUXILIARY MEETS The Highlands Regional Medical Center Auxiliary met Sunday afternoon in the hospital cafeteria with Mosaleete Patton, vice-president, presiding. The auxiliary voted unanimously to donate to the center a mobilizer, a delicately decorated table with which gently transfers a patient from a bed to stretcher to operating table or where he must be moved. It is especially valuable in caring for the seriously ill or critically injured patient.

To finance this and other hospital-oriented projects the auxiliary maintains a gift shop at the center. In addition to this they voted recently to sell Benson fruit cakes, which have now arrived. Anyone interested in purchasing a fruit cake should call Mrs. Sarah Goble at the H.R.M.C. (886-8511). The public is also cordially invited to visit the gift shop where many attractive Christmas gifts can be selected.

Officers for the coming year were elected and they included: President, Garnet Fairchild; Vice-president, Clara Hayslett; Secretary, Mosaleete Patton, and Treasurer, Sarah Goble. Those members attending the Auxiliary meeting Sunday were Mosaleete Patton, Clara Hampton, Lois Ann May, Thelma Waller, Lucy Biggs, Jean Burke, Olena Hamilton, Garnet Fairchild, Sarah S. Goble, Grace Derowest, Flossie Akers, Kathryn S. Frazier, Joyce Lafferty, and Dinah Hall.

Johnson County May Use Courthouse 3rd Floor

Johnson fiscal court, meeting in its second session in two days last week opened by declaring a resolution "in respectful recognition of the service of Judge Bill Ward, offices are to be closed and flags flown at half-staff until the day following the judge's burial."

Funeral services for the judge were held Sunday. The former auto dealer, also a judge from 1957 to 1961, died last Wednesday of a heart attack in a Frankfort hospital. He had suffered from heart trouble and a malignancy during the past two years he was in office.

The court also conducted a hearing to establish its proposal for completion of office space on the third floor of the courthouse. Tentative plans call for several offices on that floor, plus addition of an elevator to serve all three floors.

Commissioner Otto Baldrige said renovation of the courthouse would be done in two phases: third floor completion and any other work deemed necessary, then perhaps upgrading the second floor. A possibility exists some second floor offices will be moved to the third floor, once the work is done.

TO BE CLOSED TEMPORARILY
The Floyd County Maternity and Infant Care Project will be closed Monday, November 24, through Friday, November 28. Clinic services will resume Monday, December 1.

By LARRY BURKE

We have all heard of the wonderful way Luther Burbank, the California botanist, succeeded in freeing flowers and fruits from their original host spines. He grew a walnut without tannin, and freed it from its disagreeable taste, developed a dahlia with a pleasant instead of a disagreeable odor, produced plums and apricots without stones, and evolved thornless cacti.

Can man be freed of all his faults of constitution, habit and training? They do it every day.

These changes are brought on without the skillfulness and knowledge of men like Burbank. It is the result of the individual efforts and the search for strength to overcome. How? By earnestly and honestly seeking this strange and wonderful strength can always be found.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER "God helps those who help themselves."

Energy Commission Gets First Briefing

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's Energy Resources Advisory Commission, a 42-member group formed to advise on all aspects of the state's energy policy, received its initial briefing Friday on the Commonwealth's energy outlook, the new Department of Energy, and a preview of its own responsibilities.

John Stapleton, deputy commissioner of the Energy Department, told the gathering "it would be folly for us to ignore the evidence that we are facing a major energy problem. The volumes of documents, both government and private, are pervasive in their assessment that the problem is real—it is serious and it will be with us for many more years. Those who promise quick and easy solutions don't know the facts."

Development Cabinet Secretary William L. Short told the group it would be their responsibility to provide advice and guidance on energy policy from a wide variety of viewpoints. Short serves as ex-officio chairman of the commission, which includes representatives of gas, oil and coal distributors and producers; the electrical industry; agriculture and transportation; manufacturing and retail commerce; environmental groups, finance; research; consumer groups and state officials. The body will be required to meet at least quarterly.

The commission received an overview of the state Energy Department from Energy Commissioner Damon Harrison who told the group his agencies main concern will be solutions to "short run" energy problems, those expected to be faced between now and 1985. Harrison said, "This is the period when the ability to develop new supplies is limited—when changes in our life styles are possible but restricted—when industrial processes can be changed, but only moderately. It is the period when we must learn to stretch the impact of existing energy through conservation."

Harrison said the "most pressing problem at hand" is the Columbia Gas situation, but "we feel that this can again be handled through the pooling arrangement of last year with minimum adverse effect unless the winter is very severe."

In the event of a severe winter, problems could be expected in other areas as well, Harrison told the group. He said that although some new state legislation may be required to carry out the department's mandate, "we intend to keep this to a minimum for the 1976 session of the General Assembly. However, intensive evaluation of needed change will be made prior to the 1978 sessions. Harrison said the advisory group would be "kept fully informed about the Energy Department's legislative recommendations."

Stapleton told the commission that the urgency of action on energy problems has been "masked" by three key factors. He said the downturn in the economy and effective energy conservation have substantially lessened the demand for energy since the Arab oil embargo. Secondly, he told the gathering abnormally warm winters for the past two years, "have kept us from going over the brink." And, disappearance of critical shortages and long lines at gas stations since the lifting of the embargo are making the need for action invisible, he said.

He said, "We are heading into this winter with many uncertainties and maybe less tools to cope with potential problems. We were very pleased to get through this past winter without major problems. We had the prospects of a severe winter, strikes within the coal and oil industries, and the possibility of another oil embargo. Any one of these could have brought about another critical situation. I hope we are as fortunate this coming winter."

Stapleton made six points on the uncertainties of the Kentucky energy situation as follows:

The demand for energy forms could spurt upward rapidly as the economy recovers more fully. A considerable increase in natural gas curtailments by most suppliers is placing greater demands for alternate fuels which historically have been petroleum products. Many industries have no alternatives or have not installed standby facilities. Natural gas curtailments from interstate sources are expected to increase from 8 to 20 per cent this year. This situation is expected to worsen over the next two years. There is still the major consideration about the severity of the winter—the odds for another warm one may be too much to expect. There are already indications that the relatively plentiful fuel supplies of petroleum products we have had during the past few months are lessening. Companies are again reporting allocation actions (not surpluses) indicating the present supply-demand situation is worsening. Shortages of some fuels are being reported in some sectors of the nation. There is uncertainty if we will have a national policy for managing any shortfall—the Mandatory Petroleum Allocation Program which has been in effect since the fall of 1973 due to expire on November 15. This has not yet been extended. On a positive note Kentucky is fortunate to be in a position of having electricity generated from coal.

During afternoon sessions the commission was briefed on the activities of the Advisory Commission on Electric Utility Rates and Regulation, and again heard from Development Secretary Short on facets of its own internal organization.

The advisory commission will be divided into four committees dealing with energy planning, energy management and conservation, energy supply and allocation and energy production.

Top Issues Facing Kentucky Legislature

Unification of Public Employees: To force state and local governments to sign union contracts, force employees to join or pay fees. Increase cost of government, give union bosses more political power.

Public School District Equalization: Give poor counties same funds per pupil, to point as rich counties. Relax 1965 property tax rollback law for 106 school districts. Cost state $36 million.

Coal Severance Tax Distribution: Last year $274 returned to coal producing counties, 1/3 of severance tax revenues exceeding budget. Coal counties want higher percentage next session.

Farm Land Tax Assessment: This bill would base taxes on agricultural income producing potential of the farm land, instead of present system based on selling price of comparable land.

Property Tax Rollback: Provides for local option to be determined by referendum as to question of following rollback law which would lower property tax rates at 1965 level. Prefiled.

Minimum Wage: To raise state minimum wage to $2.25 June 76 and to $2.30 January 1977. Business grossing less than $95,000 would pay $1.50.

Fiscal Analysis of All Bills Introduced: Proposed legislation which would effect state revenues would be sent to LRC for study of how much it would cost or generate. Summary of fiscal analysis added to bottom of bill. Prefiled.

State Budget: By June 30, 1976 there should be a surplus of $13 million making yearly state revenue over $1 billion mark for first time in history. This year corporation taxes soared 40 percent above estimates.

Strikebreaker: A perennial bill, unions continue to push for it. Would prohibit a person or corporation from replacing striking employees.

High Priority Bill for Unions: Would require a hearing and findings prior to issuance of a temporary restraining or enjoining order against strikers.

Limit Hours Employee Works: Proposal would limit work hours of employees to 10 hours per day or 60 hours per week. Unions want it to supersede existing contract agreements.

Pay Time and One-Half Over Forty: To require restaurants, hotels, motels, and retail stores to pay time and 1/2 for all hours worked over 40 per week. Exempt under present law.

Prohibit Withholding Wages for Shortages: To amend present law and make it illegal for employer to withhold from any employee any part of wages agreed upon.

Prohibit Required Remittance of Gratuities: To prohibit restaurants, hotels, motel owners from requiring employees to remit gratuities.

Payment of Wages Upon Dismissal or Layoff: If an employee is terminated employer would have to pay him all wages immediately or no later than 3 days. Present law allows 14 days, or normal pay period.

Tip Credit Deleted: To require restaurants, hotels, motel owners to pay employees full minimum wage without any tip credit.

Statement on Deduction From Wages: To require all employers to furnish employees a written statement with regard to wage reductions.

Land Use Controls: Bill to set state standards on how to use land. Concept of government control of private property.

Ban Throwaway Bottles: Legislation to tax beverages to eliminate throwaway containers studied by LRC. Study to be ready for '76 session.

Restructure Public Service Commissions: Make seat rotation Commission full time job. Reduce panel from 5 to 3 members—an accountant, an engineer, an attorney, each paid $25,000.

Annexation of Municipalities: Would amend Kentucky statute permitting the annexation of unincorporated territories in which industrial plants are located.

New Car Lemon Bill: To require manufacturers to replace vehicles found to have a major defect, or refund purchase price.

Auto Title Law: Establish system in state government for accountability of automobile titles. Draft legislation being modeled after Ohio Law.

Unify Eminent Domain Laws: Could affect 80 agencies which have power to condemn private property. Bill would unify all sections of Kentucky statutes.

Central Licensing Board for 27 Occupations: Bring the 27 state licensing boards under a single roof for administrative purposes. Each Board to continue its identity and authority.

Repeat Whiskey Fair Trade Law: Present law on 33 repeat, 15 pct. wholesale mark up on alcoholic beverages other than beer. Bill would cover a minimum price, but not a minimum profit.

Repeat Milk Marketing Law: To repeal current laws prohibiting milk dealers from selling below cost. Would change composition of Milk Marketing Commission and deny them authority to set minimum retail prices.

Franchise Businesses: Proposal to unreasonably regulate franchise operations was considered by interim committees, but defeated. Expect proponents to modify bill to focus on petroleum industry during '76 session.

Eliminate Dupes: Government Inspections: Would prohibit any agency from conducting an inspection which duplicates that of another public or private agency.

Limit Corporate Farming: To limit agriculture expansion of corporation to not more than 20 pct over a 5 year period. Supported by organized labor.

Council on Environmental and Economic Development: Proposes creation of 15 member Advisory Board to help solve conflicts between economic development and environmental protection.

Small Claims Court: Proposal would make most records of government open for public inspection. Exemption for records of industry if information would give an unfair advantage to a competitor.

Consumer Education in Schools: In '76 session, legislation is anticipated to mandate the teaching of consumer education in elementary and secondary grades.

Abolish Holder-In-Due-Course Doctrine: To permit customer, who bought item on time payments to make a claim against the third party bank or loan company if the item proved faulty.

Regional Transit Authorities: Provides for formation of public transportation networks across state. Establishes eight regional transit authorities.

Home Rule For Cities: To grant to cities all powers which are not now or in the future, pre-empted by the state.

Municipal State Revision Commission: Proposes that '76 session create a commission to study all existing municipal laws and submit report to '78 session.

Medical Malpractice Insurance: Most doctors want some form of insurance pool to guarantee availability of malpractice insurance at reasonable rates.

Option Election for Liquor by the Drink: To allow local option election at the present level to permit liquor by the drink in restaurants of a resort hotel or motel.

Cost-of-Living Adjustment Factor For Workmen's Compensation: Proposes to attach a cost-of-living adjustment factor to all future benefits paid under workmen's compensation.

Increase Workmen's Compensation Benefits: Would increase workmen's compensation benefits for total disability from 55 pct. to 66 2/3 pct.

Workmen's Compensation Special Fund: To apportion contributions to the fund between the coal industry and other businesses to a fifty-fifty basis. Present formula is 75-25.

Unemployed Compensation to Transferred Spouse: Would pay unemployment compensation benefits to a spouse who voluntarily quit her job to accompany her husband to another city where he has been transferred or has acquired new employment.

Increase Weekly Unemployment Compensation Benefits: 1/4 pct. Proposes to increase the payment of unemployment benefits from 50 pct to 66 2/3 pct of the adjusted wage.

DRUG USE INCREASES
The National Institute on Drug Abuse has reported that drug use is up dramatically among high school seniors, steadily increasing overall, and that Americans are turning to drugs at an earlier age than ever before reported. The biggest jump noted by a recent study is in the use of marijuana. The survey showed that 61 pct. of the 16,000 high school seniors surveyed had tried illegal drugs by age 18.

Temco Agrees To Pay Damages

Temco Mining Co., of Paintsville, has agreed to pay the state $2,500 and to reclaim land affected by its strip-mining operation as a result of action taken by the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. The department had changed the company with strip-mining without a permit three miles from Flat Gap in Johnson county. The company also agreed to submit a safety plan to the department to insure the well-being of the public during the reclamation of the affected area. Mining was done close to Route No. 1092.

PCC Art Guild Meets; Sponsors Workshop

The Prestonsburg Community College Art Guild met November 13 for its monthly business meeting. Refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Sue May and Mrs. Vivian Hale Marvin. "Skip" Meade demonstrated to members of the guild how to save money on art supplies such as easels, palettes, etc., by making their own. The guild welcomed two new members from Pike county—Mrs. Irene Ritchie and her daughter, Mrs. Linda McGuire. Members of the guild and other artists in the community recently enjoyed workshops in drawing and watercolor, conducted by Joe Sartor and Doug Adams, of Morehead State University. Future workshops in oils, pastels, and watercolors are planned. At the next meeting, all members are invited to bring and exchange one of their art works with another member. This is part of the guild's Christmas program.

$10 Million Said Available For Work in 89 Counties

Frankfort, Ky.—Gov. Julian Carroll and Secretary C. Leslie Dawson, Department for Human Resources (DHR), announced last week that over $10 million in federal funds will continue job counseling and training programs in 89 Kentucky counties.

The allocation of $10,212,368 represents the federal Department of Labor's final adjustment of allocations to prime sponsors for programs under Title I of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of 1973.

The programs were created to "provide training and employment opportunities for the unemployed, underemployed and the economically disadvantaged."

The funding operates programs for a 15-month period from July 1, 1975 through Sept. 30, 1976, which includes the state's 1976 fiscal year, plus an additional quarter that reflects the change of the federal government's fiscal year from July 1 to Oct. 1.

The 89 counties are under the governor's prime sponsorship for manpower programs and are known as the "Balance of State."

Kentucky has four other prime sponsors: the Eastern Kentucky Centralized Employment Program (EK-Cler), which includes 22 counties; the area of Louisville-Jefferson county, the Bluegrass Employment and Training Program (seven counties) and Kenton county.

The money will pay for classroom training, such as vocational education, and subsidies to employers who provide on-the-job training or work experience.

Program operation is based upon recommendations to prime sponsors which are developed at the area development district level by local manpower planning councils. Monies go directly to service providers.

MORE THAN 12 MAJOR BANKS CUT PRIME RATES A QUARTER. NEW YORK—More than a dozen major commercial banks, including the nation's two biggest, lowered their prime rates by a quarter point to 7 1/2 per cent Friday, ending a four-month long climb in the borrowing rate. Leading the way were San Francisco's Bank of America, the No. 1 ranked bank, and New York's First National City Bank, No. 2 in size. Both said the reductions are effective Monday. The prime rate is the interest a bank charges on loans to top-rated business borrowers.

Study Seeks An Answer To Mine Deaths Increase

By PAULA ALEXANDER
 Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals is investigating this year's 42 mine fatalities in an attempt to discover why the figure has already more than doubled 1972's toll of 20 mine-related deaths.

Commissioner H. N. Kirkpatrick explained that this year's figures initially seem especially alarming when compared to the 1974 tally, since that figure is an all-time record low. That same year also produced a record high of 136 million tons of coal, a fact which makes 1974 even more impressive.

"Is the $64 question as to what was being done correctly in 1974 that is not being done today," Kirkpatrick stated. As the department is charged with maintaining the highest safety standards for Kentucky's 3,356 licensed mines (compared to 2,284 mines operating through Oct. 31, 1972), a staff member, Sam Johnson, has submitted a preliminary report analyzing each of the 1973 fatalities. His report is based on the 42 deaths through Oct. 31 of this year.

Despite several claims that the deaths are chiefly those of inexperienced miners, Johnson's findings show that the "average" victim was 34 and had 10 years of experience behind him. The report states that 17 victims did have less than five years of training but 12 had more than 15 years of mining skills. Moreover, three of those 12 miners had 30 years experience.

Kirkpatrick views these facts as evidence that a worker can become careless through "over-experience" just as easily as from inexperience. People find it hard to believe that disaster can happen to them, he said.

Their First Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Meek, Jr. celebrated their first wedding anniversary on October 12.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Maytown Homemakers Club held the November meeting in the school lunchroom. The president, Helen Boyd, presided. A Thanksgiving devotional, "Count Our Blessings," was given by Alda Gibson. A financial report was given and cards were signed for three members who are in the hospital. Plans were made for the Christmas visit to Golden Years Rest Home to take each patient a gift of fruit and candy and to put games on each floor for their entertainment. Plans were made for the December meeting which will be a covered dish dinner and exchange of gifts. Those attending were Trilby May, Sue Osborne, Minnie Gearheart, Betty May, Helen Boyd, Kitty McCann, Imalee Spillman, Alda Gibson, Alice Hayes, Sandy Lowe, Bureta Moore, Gloria Allen, Frances Pitts and two guests, Louella Froman and Emma Collins. The lesson was on Nature's Creations, and a lovely display was shown on how to use the different things gathered from fields and hills.

Half-Year Study Shows State Crime Increases

Crime increased in Kentucky by 15.3 per cent during the first six months of 1975, according to figures compiled by the state police uniform crime reporting program last month.

Robbery and burglary offenses showed the greatest rise. A total of 1,351 robberies were reported during the period for a 20.1 per cent increase. This is compared to 1,291 for the same span a year ago. Burglary increased 18.3 per cent, from 12,291 offenses to 15,192.

Motor vehicle theft rose 15.3 per cent and total larceny figures were up 14.3 per cent. Aggravated assault and murder climbed 9 and 6.9 per cent respectively.

Rape, however, declined 19.9 per cent, from 286 cases to 237.

A county-by-county breakdown shows that Jefferson and Fayette counties, the state's most populous, reported the greatest number of major offenses and increases in every major crime—with the exception of rape, thus setting the statewide pace. The total number of larceny-theft offenses in Jefferson County was 8,492, or 1,326 more than a year ago.

That county experienced rises in burglary (4,394 to 5,182), aggravated assault (403 to 451), motor vehicle theft (1,945 to 2,268), robbery (810 to 817) and murder (45 to 58). Reported rape cases fell from 136 to 113.

Fayette County also followed the statewide trend. Its rape offenses totaled 15—compared to 25 the previous year. Total larceny and theft was up from 3,514 to 4,212. That county reported increases in burglary (1,438 to 1,995), auto theft (186 to 278), aggravated assault (475 to 230), robbery (166 to 210) and murder (5 to 10).

Consumer Comments

By EDW HANCOCK (Attorney General)

If you are planning to invest in a major appliance such as a refrigerator, dishwasher, dryer or freezer, make sure to investigate all the facts.

The Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel has found 10 factors which result in consumer dissatisfaction with a new major appliance. From these complaints they have compiled a list of guidelines to help you make a wise buy.

Be sure there is enough space in your home for the new appliance. Allow room for cleaning and servicing.

Consider the energy sources in your home. Check gas and electric lines to see if they are adequate. If your appliance requires water, be sure the supply is sufficient and adequate drainage is provided.

Think about the size of your family and future needs. Don't buy an appliance that is too large or too small for your needs.

Decide before you shop what brand, style, color and model you want and need.

If you invest in appliances with extra features, be sure that they are ones you need and will use.

Check the appliance for durability and look for high quality finish and trim. Also, consider whether the appliance is easy to maintain. Check the working components and see if it works as claimed by the seller. Ask for a demonstration.

Read the warranty before you buy—understand what it does and does not cover and for how long.

Look for seals which verify that performance and safety requirements have been met. The Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers (AHAM) shows verification of claims by manufacturers on the performance of refrigerator-freezers, humidifiers and room air-conditioners. The Underwriters Laboratories (UL) emblem on electrical appliances and the American Gas Association Laboratories (AGA) seal on gas appliances assure that certain safety standards set by the agency are being met in all units of that model and brand. Also, check consumer materials for further information on safety standards.

Don't forget to consider operating costs on various sizes and brands of

Sure, I Remember When

When the poor were too proud to take charity... When you weren't afraid to go out at night... When Protestants and Catholics thought enough of their benefits to argue about them... When ghettos were neighborhoods... When you knew that the law meant justice, and you felt a little shiver of awe at the sight of a policeman... When young fellows tried to join the Army or the Navy... When songs had a tune... When you wrote love notes... When criminals went to jail... When you could get away from it all for a while... When you bragged about your home state and your home town... When politicians proclaimed their patriotism... When clerks and repairmen tried to please you, or else... When a Sunday drive was an adventure, not an ordeal... When you had to be brave to fly... When you could always find someone willing and able, whenever you wanted something done... When the riots were unthinkable... When the clergy talked about religion... When you took it for granted that the law would be enforced, and your safety protected... When Christmas was merry, and Christ was kept in it.

Kentucky Afield

By Hope Carleton
Dept. of Fish and Wildlife

By JOHN WILSON

With the first part of Kentucky's split duck season opening Nov. 19, now is a good time to review some of this year's regulations.

Again this season, hunters will be using a point system to determine daily and possession limits on ducks. Although the basic framework is similar to last year's, some of the point values have been changed.

Under the point system, each species of duck is assigned a point value from 10 to 100. A hunter reaches his daily limit when the value of the last duck taken, added to the point values of those ducks already in his bag, reaches or exceeds 100 points.

This means that a hunter can return from the pond with more than 100 points worth of ducks and still be legal. If, for example, he takes a 35-point duck and six 10-point ducks (for a total of 95 points), he may still take another duck of any value, even a 100-point bird. So it's possible to have 195 points and still be legal.

But if he shoots the 100-point duck first, that's all for the day and anyone coming to hunt with a duck or ducks with a value of 100 points or over in his possession is in violation of the law.

The possession limit under the point system is the maximum number of ducks which could have been taken in two days. This year's point values are as follows: 100 points - canvasback and redhead; 90 points - hen mallard, black duck, wood duck and hooded merganser; 10 points - pintail, blue-winged, cinnamon and green-winged teal, gadwall, shoveler and scaup; and 35 points - drake mallard and all other species of ducks and mergansers. (Coots are assigned a point value of zero, but with a daily limit of 15 and a possession limit 30.)

The point system is designed to encourage selective shooting and the hunter who is proficient at on-the-wing identification is likely to come home with more ducks than the one who identifies the species after he shoots. But some type-of-species identification is necessary to avoid running afoul of both state and federal laws.

The first part of the season opens at noon (prevailing time) Nov. 19 and runs through Nov. 26, with the second part of the season from noon, Dec. 10 through Jan. 20, 1976. Duck hunters usually like to be in the blind well before daylight, so don't get over-anxious and forget about those noon shooting hours on the two opening days. Except for these two days, shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset (prevailing time).

For additional information about waterfowl hunting, write for the 1975-76 Waterfowl Hunting Guide (which also contains an in-hand identification guide). The address is: Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, Capital Plaza, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Special Legislative Session Indicated on Amendment 1

Gov. Julian Carroll has suggested that certain provisions of the newly passed Judicial Article Amendment to the Kentucky Constitution be dealt with during a special session of the General Assembly, following the upcoming regular session.

In a letter written to Kentucky Court of Appeals Chief Justice Scott Reed, who has also been serving as chairman of the Kentucky Judicial Council, Gov. Carroll congratulated Justice Reed and the Council on its early recognition of the magnitude of the transition to a uniform system of courts throughout the Commonwealth.

The governor has allocated state planning funds so that the Council could initiate and can continue its statutory role—to plan for the improvement of the courts system. Gov. Carroll feels the agency should continue to lead Kentucky's effort by helping in the preparation of legislation through which the constitutional amendment will be implemented.

To help in the orderly consideration of necessary court-related legislation, Gov. Carroll told Judge Reed that he will ask the members of the General Assembly to limit their work related to the Judicial Article in the upcoming session to the Circuit Court the new Court of Appeals, and the Supreme Court.

If the lawmakers agree, the Governor said, he will commit himself to call a special session of the Kentucky legislature to deal with the establishment of the new District Courts. He would call that special session prior to January 31, 1977. The District Courts do not begin until January, 1978.

Gov. Carroll believes that delaying action on that part of the amendment will give the Judicial Council the time it needs to fully examine and complete its District Courts legislative proposals.

Additionally, Gov. Carroll suggests creation of an advisory committee to be made up of members of such interested agencies and groups as the Kentucky Bar Association, KACO, Kentucky Municipal League, the Legislative Research Commission, the Office of Local Government, the Executive Department for Finance and Administration, the Justice Cabinet, the County Attorneys Association, the Commonwealth Attorneys Association, the Office of the Public Defender, the Circuit Clerks' Association, and the County Clerks' Association, and others.

The Governor feels this committee would encourage further participation and input with the Judicial Council's Office of Judicial Planning.

HAS TRAINING TESTS

Schofield Barracks, Hawaii—Pfc. Francis E. Bartlett, son of Troy Howell, East McDowell, Ky., recently completed annual training tests at Pohakuloa Training Area, Hawaii. Pfc. Bartlett is a clerk in Troop B, 3rd Squadron, 4th Cavalry, 25th Infantry Division, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. The 19-year-old soldier entered the Army in June, 1974, completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and was last stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a 1974 graduate of McDowell High School.

Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Osborn, all of Clarksville, O., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hasler, Mr. and Mrs. John Hasler and Mrs. Mary Robbette, of Dayton, O., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nofsger, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gray and son Randy, of Wilmington, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Lloyd McGarey, and Mr. McGarey, of Toppsent.

Health Notes

By DUNNA J. GRIFFITH

An outpost clinic will be held Monday, Nov. 24 by a health nurse at the Mud Creek Clinic at Craynor. Clinic hours will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., with the following services being available: Immunizations, TB skin tests, diabetes screening and blood pressures. The Floyd County Health Department urges all parents in the Mud Creek area to check their children's immunization records to make sure their "shots" are up to date and, if not, to take advantage of this free service.

Veneral disease is the No. 1 communicable disease in the nation. It is a "social" disease that is now epidemic but you can help fight veneral disease by learning something about it. Learn what the symptoms are, how serious it can be, and where someone who is infected can be treated.

Remember, minors in Kentucky can be tested and treated for V.D. without their parents' knowledge. Anyone who suspects they have been exposed to V.D. should get help from a private doctor or the Floyd County Health Department immediately.

Ohio Horse Show Winner

Debbie Turner, 14-year-old high school freshman, is shown above receiving the first-place ribbon after she and her horse, 10-year-old Deight's Ace, won the plantation class championship of the Ohio State Celebration Horse Show held in Columbus, O., October 11. This year, Miss Turner has also won in a Lawrenceburg show, the Franklin County Youth Show and the Novice class in the Ohio State Celebration. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashley, of Winchester, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Turner of Garrett.

Floyd ASC Ballots To Be Mailed Friday

Ballots for the 1976 Floyd County ASCS Committee election will be mailed Friday to eligible farmers in the county. Farmers will no longer elect community committees but will vote for one candidate from a slate of four. The candidate receiving the greatest number of votes in the county will be elected to the county committee for a three-year term. The candidates ranking second and third in the number of votes will be elected first and second alternates, respectively.

The slate of nominees is composed of Walter Akers, of Harold, J. P. "Pulk" Hill, Prestonsburg, Richard Shepherd, West Prestonsburg, and Jess Wallen, Prestonsburg.

Ballots must be returned to the county ASCS office by December 1. Counting of ballots will take place December 8 in the ASCS office here and will be open to the public.

Voting is open to all farmers.

Betsy Layne Homecoming

Betsy Layne—homecoming 1975 for Betsy Layne High School will be held Saturday, November 29 when the Bobcats will play Morgan County. It was announced this week by Russell M. Frazer, principal.

During the evening the players, managers, coaches and cheerleaders of the 1955 and 1965 squads will be honored. Highlighting the activities will be the crowning of the 1975 Homecoming queen.

Mrs. Foley Keeps Alive Spinning, Carding Arts

Mrs. Maud Foley demonstrates the art of spinning in the log cabin at 1975 Scotto county fair.

Eighty-six year old Maudie Foley, formerly of Thomas in the Johns Creek section, has brought back to Prestonsburg, Ohio and surrounding area what was almost a lost art there. For the last year she has been carding and spinning wool for various groups, including the Smithsonian coverlet display, school pupils from kindergarten to high school, and the Scotto county and Honeyfiddle fairs. And more recently on the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers' floating museum, the towboat Portmouth Floyd which was docked at Portsmouth.

As a practitioner of disappearing household arts Mrs. Foley's picture is in the Smithsonian Art Institute, Washington, D. C. She is scheduled for an interview soon by a Department of Health publication in Columbus, O. which will aim its story at proving that one doesn't quit just because of advancing years.

Mrs. Foley resides with her daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Purdy, at Portsmouth.

Attend Art Workshop

Adis Akers, Sue May, and Vivian Hale observe techniques of Doug Adams, of Morehead State University, at a recent watercolor workshop sponsored by the Prestonsburg Community College Art Guild and the Kentucky Arts Commission.

EDA Okehs Grant To Beattyville, Ky.

Approval of a $300,000 grant to help create immediate construction jobs at Beattyville, Lee County, was announced last week by Wilmer D. Mizell, assistant secretary of commerce for economic development.

The Lee County Public Service Corporation applied for the funds from the Economic Development Administration. The grant will help construct a county library, jail and fire station.

Lee county officials say they expect the project to provide jobs for 37 construction craftsmen and laborers. Work is expected to get under way within 90 days and be completed within one year.

The Lee County Public Service Corporation will provide $225,000 to complete the $525,000 total cost of the multi-purpose building.

METHODIST WOMEN MEET

The Allen United Methodist Women met at the church for their regular monthly meeting, November 11. Maude Snodgrass, president, opened the meeting with prayer. Elizabeth Bailey read the minutes of the last meeting and Tincy Crisp gave the treasurer's report. The group voted to order altar cloths for the church. The December meeting on December 9 will be a Pledge service and Christmas party. Each member will bring a covered dish for a "pot-luck" supper. Tincy Crisp will be in charge of the Pledge service and program. After the business meeting, Elizabeth Bailey was in charge of the devotional, entitled, "Finding Strength for Daily Living" and "Thankfulness for Our Blessings." Maude Snodgrass, hostess, served refreshments to Tincy Crisp, Jenn Martin, Kay Lemaster, Jewell Allen, and Elizabeth Bailey.

Says Criticism, If Constructive, To Be Welcome

Kentucky's chief environmental officer says he welcomes constructive criticism and the state needs more of it.

"Sometimes you get bodded down in the forest and you can't see the trees," said John Stanley Hoffman, secretary of the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. "Though occasionally it takes someone else to come in and say you need to start doing this."

The secretary was referring to a study released recently by the Center for Science in the Public Interest, which criticized Kentucky's enforcement of stripmine laws.

"I don't disagree with some of the things those fellows found," he said, "but I think probably we've begun solving some of the problems since they were here."

Hoffman said the young lawyers who conducted the study were given "free and open access" to departmental records, but that they had never asked for his views.

Among the criticisms leveled at Kentucky were: —That the fines levied by the state for violations of stripmine reclamation laws often amount to nothing more than a slap on the wrist for a coal operator.

—That mine inspectors are offered bribes by coal operators for not reporting violations.

—That Kentucky's mine inspectors are generally incompetent and overworked. Hoffman said the investigators appeared to show a lack of understanding of the legal process used in dealing with reclamation law violations. He said the state has settled many cases out of court for more money than it could have gotten in court.

He also said the center researchers appeared to have "glossed over" a more important fact, "the environmental measures which we made them take."

"We don't just lurch them and say see you around," he said.

"It's a question of a time accompanied by reclamation done in a certain manner within a specified time."

Regarding bribes, Hoffman said, "I've tried to follow up on all those rumors." He said he sent a lawyer to each reclamation district to inquire to read a personal memo from him advising inspectors that if anyone was found accepting or offering a bribe, their case would be turned over to the commonwealth's attorney.

Hoffman acknowledged that reclamation inspectors in many cases need more training and he cited the establishment of a training school last month as evidence that the state is trying to upgrade its inspectors. In addition he said the state will inaugurate a co-op program with graduates of Madisonville Community College's reclamation training course, and that the department has asked for funds to hire additional inspectors.

"I think we've made some accomplishments," he said, "but I don't think we ought to rest on our laurels and I don't intend to."

The Department of Commerce and Labor was created by an act of Congress (Act of Feb. 14, 1903, 32 Stat. 825), and its Secretary was made a member of the Cabinet, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a publication of the U. S. Labor Department.

Tom Mann, a lure maker in Eufaula, Alabama, has junkie bass for room mates. He has a $30,000 aquarium in his office, with light, oxygen and temperature controls. A bait octet hangs on the wall. He studies bass while he works. Then he wins enough bass tournaments to make it pay off. —SPORTS FIELD

The Way to Cook Fish is an excellent publication with numerous recipes and tips on the best ways to prepare fish. It is available from the Consumer Division of the Fisheries and Marine Service, Environment Canada, Ottawa, Ontario, Canada K1A-0H3.—SPORTS FIELD

KILL YOUR BUSINESS

Don't Advertise

Just pretend you don't have anything to advertise this week. Forget the thousands of items you have on the shelves of your store, or the service you have to offer . . . don't let potential customers know about them. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

Don't Advertise

Say you don't have the time to fix up an advertisement this week. Just let opportunity after opportunity to promote your business pass by—it will take less of your time. And you'll be less busy serving customers if they don't know what you have to offer. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

Don't Advertise

Assume everybody in the trade territory knows what you have for sale, that you've been in business so long you don't need to advertise since the customers will come to you without it. Forget that there are new potential customers coming into the community, that you have new and better products to offer. Forget that you have to keep reminding your established customers to trade with you. Forget you have Big City competition trying to attract more customers. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

Don't Advertise

Tell yourself it costs too much to advertise—that you don't get enough out of it. Overlook the fact that advertising is an investment in selling—not an expense. Be sure you don't provide for an adequate advertising budget for your firm. IT'S A GOOD WAY TO KILL YOUR BUSINESS!

If You Don't Want People To Know About It, Don't Advertise In
