Now, the hard part

Now, the hard part Thursday's House vote on the Ciliton economic program is abuge political test for the Presiden. If he fails to muster enough Democratic support—by find-ing ways to make new taxes more paltable and spending restrainst credible—bit administration will have all the authority of a deflated balloon. If 's also a big test for members of Congress and, by extension, their constituents. Bewaining the unac-terptable deficits that Clinton inherited is easy. Pos-turing about waster draws cheap applause. Now comes the hard part—doing something. Clinton proposes a combination of higher taxes and budget trimming. Critics say there are too many of the former and nor enough of the latter—as critics always do. Skeptics worry than new morey will set off a spending fremy. It's fair, indeed, to insist on discipline and account-ability. ability

But the bottom line is that these are the only deficit-reduction tools available. And in applying them, Congress and the President must find a bal-ance that doesn't penalize those who are already tax, based on heat content of fuels and other energy sources. Companies in the coal and oil business don't like it but have less reason to complain now that they have won relief in the form of partial exemptions or fairer collection mechanisms. They should be grateful they escaped a carbon tax, which would have fallen more heavily on this region. In addition to raising money, an energy tax should encourage energy conservation, Yes, middle class families will pay a little more for fuel and other products, but an expanded each income call will offer the should be an each the should be an each with the end of the should be an each of the should ready the should be an each of the should be and products, but an expanded each income call will offer on its shokeromings, this plan takes accu-rate aim at the nation's overarching problem. "Gender equity"

"Gender equity" If women make up 54 percent of the student body at XYZ University, should they receive 54 percent of the athletic scholarships? A National Collegiate Ath-letic Association task force has suggested just that simplistic approach to achieve "gender equity" in college sports. The task force's recommendation should be re-jected by the full NCAA. At present, the average Division I school spends $849,000 annually on athletic scholarships for men and $373,000 for women. Sextam? Not necessarily. In America's high schools, 3.4 million boys play school sports in companison to 1.9 million girls. Colleges could — should — do better by girls. But must they confect ascual mix nonexistant in sports claswhere?

The committee also erred in failing to appreciate the special status of football, which can take up to 85 scholarships. Because there is no women's sport vith such a large roster, the pigskin alone accounts for much of the sexual guil. To achieve pristing gender parity, the practical choices are to give scores of new scholarships in such emerging women's sports as archery badmin-ton and squash on else to whack the number of football. But most colleges can ill-afford either option. The only money-maker in most programs is football. Degrading it by axing scholarships ulti-mately means less money for everyone, including women archers. - The Daily Independent, Ashland

A victory for sense

A victory for sense This week, the Senate confirmed Roberta Achtenberg as assistant housing secretary for fair housing and equal opportunity in the Department of Housing and Urban Development. That was news for only one reason, she's gay. If you walk upright and don't drag your knuckles, that shouldn't houter you. Achtenberg's sexual pref-erence has as much to do with how well she'll do her-job as the color of her grandmother's hair. But unfortunately, some members of the Senate don't think so.

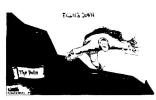

But unfortunately, some memores of the senate don't think so. The majority of the debate over Achtenberg's confirmation centered on the fact that she is a les-bian. The debate raged for three days. Senators voting against her said Achtenberg will be a threat to traditional families. They suggested that she might discriminate against heterosexuals—a chaim that seems pultifully desperate at best.

But in the end, common sense and justice pre-valled. The Senate confirmed Achtenberg by a vote of 58-31. Kenutoky Senator Wendell Ford was in the majority, despite a heavy campaign by a conserva-tive religious group to influence hum otherwise. Progress on the issue is slow, but Achtenberg's endforction a close class they the information is the applicant. TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS: On or about June 17, 1993, the above-named city will request the Kentucky Housing Corporation to release federal funds under Title II of the National Affordable Housing Act for the following project: Weeksbury Area Rehabilitation Project, in which approximately 15 substandard homes (occupied by persons meeting HUD low income criteria) will be rehabilitated/reconstructed and brought up to BOCA standards. A maximum of $20,000 per unit and aggregate of $300,000 will be expended. It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the guality of the human environment and, accordingly, the above-named city has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

CONCURBENT NOTICE

NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT EFFECT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

The reasons for the decision, pursuant to Part 58.16(s(3)), are: 1) No public agency or individual has presented any data which indicates there are any negative environmental impacts to result from this project; 2) all environmental impact issues raised during environmental assessment have been resolved or will be addressed during project implementation; and 3) All NEPA requirements can be met without preparation of an Environmental impact Statement.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by the above-named city which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public axamination and copying, upon request, in the office of the project coordinator, Mr. Eric Ratiff, Big Sandy Area Development District, 100 Resource Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653, during normal office hours.

No further environmental review of such project is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of federal

All interested agencies, groups, and persons who disagree with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by Mountain Housing Opportunities Corporation, Such written comments should be received by Mountain Housing Opportunities Corporation, 100 Resource Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653, on orbefore the close of business June 16, 1993. All such comments so received will be considered and the city will not request the release of faderal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified on the proceeding sontence.

somence. Mountain Housing Opportunities Corp. will undertake the project described above with Kentucky Housing Corporation (HUD) funds under Title II of the National Affordable Housing Act. Mountain Housing Opportunities Corp. is certifying to the state that MHOC and Mr. John Pinson, in his driftical capacity as president of MHOC, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the faderal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval. Mountain Housing Opportunities Corp. may use the Kentucky Housing Corporation funds and the State and HUD will have satisfied their responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The State will accept an obligation to its approval only if it is on one of the following houses.

(a) The certification was not in fact executed by the city's Certifying Officer.
 (b) MHOC has failed to make one of the two findings pursuant to S58.41 or to make the written determination decision required by S557.47.5.85.30 vs 36.46 for the project, as applicable.
 (c) MHOC has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at Subparts F and G for the preparation and completion of an EA.

of an EA. (d) No opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Histonc Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the National Register of Historic Places, or found to be eligible for such itsning by the Secretary of the Interior, in accordance with 36 CFR Part 800. (e) Objections have been made by a federal agency.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to the Kentucky Housing Corporation, 1231 Louisville Road, Frankfort, KY 40601.

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by the State. No objection received after July 1, 1993 will be considered by the State.

Signed: Mr. John Pinson, President, Mountain Housing Opportunities Corporation, 100 Resource Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653; certifying officer.

The Bear Hollow home of Bill and Malta Arms is located in Floyd County, not Johnson County, Judge Stephen N. Frazier ruled last Thursday. A survey prepared by an engineer for Johnson County, stated that the Arms residence clearly lies in Floyd County. All admitted not taking respirable-dust samples as required by the Fed-real Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977. The individuals each face up to a year in prison and a $100,000 fine on each count, and the com-panies could be fined $500,000 each. Higers. All Sparky did was finish second in the National League West. Now we have one Jim Bowden that is a ripe old man at the age of 32-years old and he has the re-semblance of Wagner. As the baseball world knows Bowden showed some of his au-thority by firing the ever popular Tony Perez as manager of the broken down Big Red Machine. I have always been a Perez fan. I think that he has shown a lot of loyalty to the Reds organization as a player, coach and now as a manager. I think the wrong man got fired. Had Bowden had enough sense, maybe by then the fans would have fired Perez. A manager cannot win consis-tently if they do not have talent on a ball club. Now the Reds have some talent in players like Barry Jarkin, Chris Sabo and Jose Rijo. The rest are a joke. They are only human beings disguising them-selves as major league players. The pitching staff (outside of Rijo) is terrible. Don't be waiting for John Smilley to come around and start winning, it won't hap-pen. Belcher is through as well as be unshaven Tom Browning. Betsy Layne Center bridges the generation gap

When the Betsy Layne Senior Citi-is Center opened its doors in 1988, zens Center opened its doors in 1988, it promised to be a community meet-ing place that also offered needed services for older adults. So far it has lived up to that promise. Although its initial location, a building on the grounds of the old Betsy Layne High School, was temporary, the center quickly become a fixture in the com-munity. zens Center opened its doors it promised to be a communi

In 1989, the center was relocated to a prefab building just off Route 23 near the Betsy Layne fire department building. With the move came the gradual expansion services and ac-tivities for residents in an area that includes Allen, Banner, Prater and Mud Creek, as well as Betsy Layne. The center is not just for older adults. The center offers programs that residents from youth to old age can take part in. New activities on the agenda include line dancing every Tuesday from 6 to 8 p.m., and "skimpy school" held every Monday night. "The 'skinny school' is a duet pro-gram set up for the public," center director Teresa Campbell said. This fall the center hopes to bridge the generation gap by starting an "adopt-a-grandparent" program in which students from Betsy Layne High School volunteer to keep in contact with shut-ins who are Meals On Wheels clients. "The students will call, write letters and visit their 'adopted grandparent." Campbell said. Martin Senior Citizens Center :

"A good place to communicate"

by Geoff Belcher Staff Writer

Attention older Floyd Countians: the Martin Senior Citizens Center is not, repeat, not a nursing home and it isn't a place to wither and grow old. Ifanything, atleastaccording to those who know it best, it's a place to celebrate and cnyby IIfe, providing a shining beacon for those twilight veats. years.

years. The center was first formed in May 1978, organized in downtown Martin with the help of the Big Sandy Area Development District by a group of seniors who were tired of having to travel to Prestonsburg every woek just to congregate with their peers. When the center first started, it cattered to seniors from a star away as Betsy Layne, Mud Creek, Garrett and McDowell, although the continuing expansion of the senior citizens pro-gram has now provided centers in gram has now provided centers in most of the county's larger commu-

Although the center was a huge success, catering to several patrons every day, the facility was located in the flood plain and was frequently half-submerged whenever the Big Sandy overran its banks. So in 1982, then-director Dee Burchett and the seniors moved the center's facilities for higher ground, the Town Plaza Center.

Town Plaza, with an apartment complex catering to older Kentuck-ians, provided a uniquely suitable location, allowing the senior center's many clients easier access to its ser-vices and making it far easier to con-tinue food delivery to the home-bound. bound bound. Iris Chapman, director of the cen-ter since 1989, said Wednesday that the center now provides home food delivery to 25 clients every day, but even more congregate at the center itself for good food and good times with good friends. Among those good times are the many trips the seniors group takes throughout the year, including visits to Natural Bridge, the Breaks Inter-state Park and, most recently, to Renfro Valley, Twelve of the center's patrons went on the Renfro Valley trip, Chapman said, ranging in age from 65- to 89-year-old.

"It was kind of a Mother's Day trip for themselves," Chapman said. Although park and museum tours are fairly popular with the center's clients, Chapman said, the most re-quested junket is to county's cultural center, the Prestonsburg Wal-Mart store bus," said Evans with a chuckle. The center is more than a place to find the face of a friend, though. It is a place to keep them active and healthy. The various activities keep them on their feet, said Jonah Hall, who will be 86 in July. He autributes the center for his agility because of the certerise and walking activities it offers. Seniors can also eat a well-bal-anced meal at the center daily. They also eat more when eating with a companion. Seniors don't do "much cooking," said Hager White, whose husband Rainley White was one of the first members of the center. The center began about twenty years ago when Ed Music looked down on a valley of weeds and saw the beauty and potential for a senior citizens center there. Folks told him he was crazy, said Evans, but he visitalized it and made it happen. Music, Dr. George Archer and Judge Henry Stumbo went to Washington and gained founding for the building of Kentucky's first senior citizens center. center

The Prestonsburg center provides various services for the elderly, in-cluding visitation programs, trans-portation, telephone reassurance, health promotions and hot meals. The center feeds approximately 50 se-niors per day, plus 35 others through the home delivered meals program. Clients range in age from 60 to 100, and the center has a waiting list to become enrolled in the program. To feed that many people and to keep the center open and active re-quires a lot of funding. The budget is around $78,000. The center receives assistance through the Big S and y Ag-ing Services, the county, the city and Archer Park, but budget cuts have sliced deep into center funding. To offset budget cuts, the center has numerous fundraising activities, including food booths at festivals, pie sales, knife sales, and sales and Smokey Mountain Wrestling exhibi-tions. They have sold quitis, afthans and even turkeys. Area businesses also sponsor monthly birthday par-ties for the seniors.

ties for the seniors. The Prestonsburg Senior Citizens Center has won various awards for its commitment to area seniors. In 1990, it received the first award of an an-nual competition sponsored by the center also was awarded $500 from the Kentucky Division of Aging. The center also was awarded $500 from the Kentucky Association of Electric Cooperatives. It has won mammogram awards and awards for its window displays.

Evan visualizes the center as a lofty tree, tall and sturdy, standing in an open field with its roots running deepand its limbs reaching out, bring-ing services into the seniors center. The strength of the tree comes from its roots, said Evans, which runs deep into the community, the city, the county and the state. The leaves of the tree fall into the lives of the senior citizens, enhancing their condition and bringing joy into their hearts.

Never too old for a good time at Senior Games

Sports Editor Noone will really know how much Ben Gay or Absorbine Jr. was used after the Big Sandy Games, held last Friday atthe Spill way at Dewey Dam. But, there were two facts estab-lished; you're never to old to compete and everyone had a good time. All five of Floyd County's Senico Citizens' Centers competed in the games and just being around our se-niors was very enjoyable. The centers from Marini, Betsy Layne, Wheelwright, Wayland and Prestonsburg took part and it seemed the softball toss was held on the softball flotd as you enter the spill-way area. A line of 100 feet was hild down and divided into five foot in-crements.

Directly in front of the platform were chars that seated those citizens that just wanted to enjoy the event. Many of the seniors took part in a good round of "Hokey Pokey" under the direction of Kelver Stither and the Hilbhily Dancers Some, Instead, put the left footin when the caller called for the right foot. Directly behind the first picnic shelter, where the Prestonsburg Senior Citizens camped out, the casting contest was conducted. I heard one concest was conducted. I neard one dear lady, Edna Franklin from the Martin Center, confess that she had never "experienced easting before". But with some professional help from one of the game directors, it wasn't long until she was whipping that lure out in the field and smiling all the time.

A new event was being held just to the left of the casting crew. A game called (in my language) "lawn bowl-ing." Now, it could be known by a ing." Now, it could be known by a more proper name but that it exactly what it looked like to me -- bowling on the lawn. You see, they have this course all marked off in two sections. Some-one, who knows who, tosses this little ping pong ball (dua'sright, ping pong ball) out into one of the sectioned off areas. Then each contestant "bowls"

this ball down into the area where that little 'ping pong' ball lies. The idea is to get your bowling ball the closet to the 'ping pong' ball. Whew! I'm glad 1 don't have to cover that sport on a regular basis. Confused, I moved on to the next event which was the football toss. I understood the object of this event, I had watched Aaron Tucker toss the footbalt all season and I had no prob-lem with the event.

On a stand was a piece of plywood with a big circle cut out. Each contest that was suppose to toss the football through the hole and score points. Sounds easy! Right? Wrong! It wasn't an easy task for some of the ladies who were trying to hold on to their pocketbooks, sort drinks and other items and throw the football also.
