County still paying Southern's bond

by SHELDON COMPTON
STAFF WRITER

PRESTONSBURG — An old itch has resurfaced for county leaders and it came during a special-called session Tuesday morning.

During the meeting, Floyd Judge-Executive R.D. "Doc" Marshall offered for approval a twice-annual bond payment of more than $54,000 on behalf of Southern Water and Sewer District.

The utility company went before the fiscal court this past May and explained that they could not make the payments, forcing county leaders to stand in for the obligation or risk residents losing water.

The payment, totaling $54,151, was made during that meeting and Southern Water representatives told the court they would soon be able to make the payments on their own.

"That's what they told us then," Magistrate Donny Daniels said Tuesday. "I remember them saying that they would be able to pay."

One point of much concern for Daniels, as well as Magistrates Ronnie Akers, Jackie Edford Owens and John Goble, was that Southern Water recently implemented a rate increase.

Now, county leaders are now wondering why the utility company can still not afford to make its own bond payment.

At the time the problem was first brought up, Floyd County Attorney Keith Bartley called it a classic "Catch-22" situation.

County OKs payments to drug program

by SHELDON COMPTON
STAFF WRITER

PRESTONSBURG — Funding efforts from the county continued for the Westcare drug policy program this week.

The Floyd County Fiscal Court approved payments to see the program continue and also authorized Judge-Executive R.D. "Doc" Marshall to sign agreements to move forward with future work.

Fiscal court members agreed to make payments of $13,807.66 and $16,348.78 for the two quarters Westcare submitted for payment.

Started in the fall of 2004, Westcare opened a substance abuse treatment facility in Pike County in August of the following year. Shortly afterwards, the Floyd County Detention Center partnered with the program to help inmates with alcohol and substance abuse.

The program itself blends several aspects of treatment

More candidates file for May primary

by SHELDON COMPTON
STAFF WRITER

PRESTONSBURG — Three more candidates filed to run for office in the election next year, including two incumbents and one challenger.

Early Monday morning, District 2 Magistrate Jackie Edford Owens filed to defend his position on the fiscal court. And this defense hits a little close to home as his only challenger, at this point, is his niece, Marie Martin Holbrook.

Owens, who had originally planned to file after the first of the year along with the other sitting magistrates, said his decision to do so now was in response to some early talk

KSP launches Thanksgiving holiday enforcement

FRANKFORT — Thanksgiving is the most dangerous holiday of the year for motorists, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. This includes the four-day holiday driving period surrounding that date when heavy traffic, weather and long-distance road trips combine to create severe travel conditions. Often, family celebrations include alcohol, which later evolves into impaired driving. Add that to heavy holiday traffic, and you have a recipe for disaster.

Last year, traffic crashes across Kentucky claimed the lives of 14 people during the Thanksgiving travel period including 1,253 traffic crashes with 736 injuries during that time frame.

The number of Americans traveling away from home for Thanksgiving will be up slightly this year from 2008, according to a report from the AAA Auto Club.

"The Thanksgiving holiday weekend is traditionally one of the most traveled weekends of the year," said KSP Commissioner Rodney Brewer. "To ensure we all make it to our destinations safely, troopers will be on Kentucky roadways looking for unsafe driving practices including safety belt and impaired driving violations."

"It's the simple, common sense things that can make a crucial difference such as wearing a seat belt, reducing your speed and avoiding driving after consuming alcohol or drugs," notes Brewer.

The official 2009 Thanksgiving holiday enforcement period begins at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 25, and extends through 11:59 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 29.

Kentucky has a zero tolerance policy regarding driving while impaired by alcohol. Operating a vehicle with a blood alcohol level of .08 will result in an immediate arrest, says Lt. David L. Judge, Commander of the Highway Safety Branch.

The AAA Auto Club indicates that between 4,000 and 8,000 crashes related to distracted driving occur daily in the United States.

"With heightened enforcement, troopers will keep a close eye out for aggressive and distracted drivers, as well. Heavy traffic conditions create added driving challenges requiring drivers to be cognizant of what is happening around them," he adds.

Through Nov. 22, Kentucky has recorded 687 highway fatalities in 2009. This is a decrease of 33 fatalities for the same time period in 2008. "Even though fatalities have decreased, we must remain vigilant in bringing awareness to all drivers, the importance of exercising safe driving habits," said Judge. "These needless deaths are tragic and preventable."

An additional focus this holiday season is promoting awareness between motorists and truck drivers about sharing the road. Lieutenant Colonel Mitch Bailey, Division Director for KSP Commercial Vehicle Enforcement, encourages motorists and truck drivers to respect each other on the road.

"Trucks need extra time and more space to change lanes or come to a complete stop," said Bailey. "Giving trucks the room they need can prevent crashes and save lives. With increased holiday traffic, sharing the road safely is every driver's responsibility."

KSP urges all motorists to protect themselves and their fellow travelers by following basic safe driving tips:

- Don't drink and drive.
- Kentucky has a zero tolerance policy regarding driving while impaired by alcohol.
- Operating a vehicle with a blood alcohol level of .08 will result in an immediate arrest even for first time offenders.
- Motorists can also be arrested for lower levels if they are under 21 years of age or operating a commercial vehicle.

■ Buckle up. Kentucky law requires drivers to wear seat belts and assure that all occupants in their vehicle are properly restrained. No warnings will be issued to drivers found not wearing a safety belt. They will receive a citation.

■ Use approved child restraints. According to Kentucky law, all children 40 inches in height or less must be buckled into a child safety restraint seat that meets federal standards. Children under age seven and between 40 - 50 inches tall must be in a booster seat.

The back seat is the safest place for children to sit, especially in vehicles equipped with passenger-side air bags. Infants and toddlers should never ride in the front seat of a vehicle with a passenger-side air bag. Parents should always be sure that their child's safety seat has been properly installed in the vehicle according to the manufacturer's instructions.

■ Obey speed limits. Excessive speed reduces your ability to avoid a crash, extends your vehicle's stopping distance and increases the severity of a crash when it occurs.

■ Get enough sleep. Sleep deprivation and fatigue can cause lapses in attention, slowed awareness and impaired judgment.

■ Don't tailgate. Use the three-second rule to determine if you are following a vehicle too closely. To do this, first select a fixed object on the road ahead such as a sign, tree or overpass. When the vehicle ahead of you passes the object, slowly count "one-one thousand, two-one thousand, three-one thousand." If you reach the object before completing the count, you are following too closely.

■ Don't cut off semi-trucks. Large trucks require more space to slow down in order to avoid colliding with your vehicle.

■ Avoid aggressive driving behaviors such as passing on the shoulder of the road, changing lanes without signaling, violating traffic signals and weaving in and out of traffic.

■ Expect the unexpected. Watch traffic around you and be prepared to react. Scan the road ahead for potential hazards.

■ Watch for road debris such as tire treads, garbage, lumber, gravel, tree limbs, mufflers and exhaust parts.

■ Avoid or minimize in-car distractions such as cell phone use, changing CDs, eating or other activities that can remove your attention from the road.

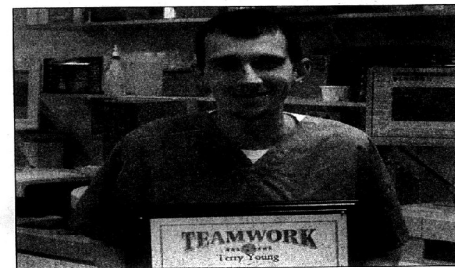

■ Take frequent breaks to keep alert during long distance trips.

■ Be extra cautious around large trucks. They have large "blind spots" and much longer stopping distances than passenger cars.

■ Three out of four crashes happen within 25 miles of home at speeds of 45 miles per hour or less. About 40 percent of all fatal crashes occur on roads where the speed limit is 30 miles per hour or less.

Citizens can contribute to highway safety during the holiday period by reporting stragglers, impaired or speeding drivers to the KSP toll-free hotline at 1-800-222-5555. Callers will remain anonymous and should give a description of the vehicle, location, direction of travel and license number, if possible.

Highlands Regional Medical Center has announced that Terry Young, an employee in the laboratory, has been named November's Employee of the Month. Terry has been at HRMC for close to three years. HRMC's Director of Radiology, Melissa Biery, cited numerous traits consistently exhibited by Young in earning the honor. "Terry is a prime example of what courtesy, attitude, respect and enthusiasm are all about. Terry Young works 12-hour shifts at night, but always comes to work ready to make an invaluable contribution," Biery said. "His laboratory results are thorough and excellent, which impacts the efficiency of other departments within the hospital. The personnel in those departments routinely tell us how well Terry carries out his job." Biery went on to say that Young maintains a "can-do attitude" reflected in his willingness to try new technologies for the hospital's progress, and that "he adapts to any problems which may arise and overcomes them with absolute class. That's the result of having care for the patients we serve as well as his co-workers. I am pleased that he has been named Employee of the Month."

Guest View - Renounce 'Pray for Obama' trend

Christians and Jews, it is time to take a stand and defend the book of psalms from a disgusting new trend.

A new slogan is quickly making the rounds on bumper stickers, T-shirts, teddy bears and as an Internet meme. It says: "Pray for Obama: Psalm 109:8."

Instead, pray for any item with that slogan to end up in a landfill. Pray, and then confront those who display and distribute the slogan. With compassion and tact, tell them it makes mockery of Judeo-Christian scriptures and values.

It's great to pray for the president. People of all faiths, regardless of political persuasion, should pray that President Barack Obama succeeds in ways that lead to more freedom, peace and prosperity — and less government — for the United States. It's fine to distrust Obama, to dislike his politics and oppose him as a politician while hoping for the best.

What nobody should do is promote the message of Psalm 109:8, in a political context. The psalm says: "Let his days be few; and let another take his office."

Sure, "his days be few" could mean one term, and it's fine to pray for that. But the scripture continues: "Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow. Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg; let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places. Let the extortioner catch all that he hath; and let the strangers spoil his labor. Let there be none to extend mercy unto him; neither let there be any to favor his fatherless children. Let his posterity be cut off; and in the generation following let their name be blotted out ..."

Not much in the Hebrew Bible is cuddly and soft. It's fire and brimstone. Psalm 109 conveys the prayer of an individual who has come under the attack of a wicked enemy without a cause: "In return for my love they are my adversaries; but I am all prayer." — Psalm 109:4. The individual confesses the kind of personal weakness that could lead to such anger: "For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me; I am gone like the shadow when it lengtheneth; I am shaken off as the locust." — Psalm 109:22,23. "Help me O LORD my God; save me according to Thy mercy." — Psalm 109:26.

The psalm paints a dark and maudlin picture of human pain and weakness, manifest in anger, pain, vengeance and surrender. It's not something a person of faith should use out of context, or as a pithy political jab.

One purveyor of Psalm 109 items is CafePress.com, a retailer of avant-garde apparel that features bold slogans: "Jesus was a social activist liberal"; "Jesus saves, but Jews invest wisely"; "What would Jesus do? First, he would be Jewish."

The company briefly discontinued the Psalm 109 items out of concern they advocate violence. The decision was quickly overturned, and a company spokeswoman told ThinkProgress "we have determined that it is fair political commentary."

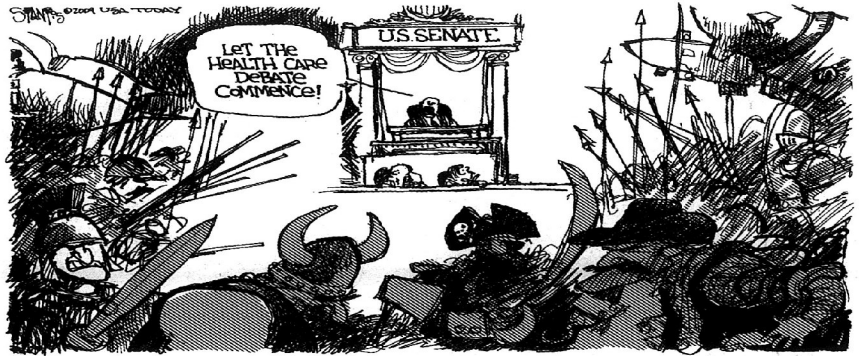

Legal? Absolutely. Fair commentary? Not really. Idiotic? Absolutely. It's a message that asks us to pray for the widowing, orphaning and long-term suffering of President Obama's wife and kids. It's appropriate for contemporary political discourse only among savages. Though it probably won't cause violence, it will most certainly cast new aspersions on Christians and Jews and their scriptures.

Americans routinely question why peaceful Muslims do not express more outrage when minority factions of Islam spread hatred and terror. The silence, or perceived silence, of peaceful Muslims harms their culture's reputation.

Christians and Jews who fail to renounce "Pray for Obama: Psalm 109:8" will do themselves no favors. It's a scripture of personal desperation in response to horrific suffering. Its misuse as a political statement is nothing less than a message of violence.

Genuinely faithful Christians and Jews should be noticeably disgraced, no matter how much they may want a new president in 2012.

— Colorado Springs Gazette

Guest Column

House week in review

by REP. HUBERT COLLINS

Kentucky just can't seem to get away from budget cuts.

After being required to fill a nearly $1 billion hole in last year's budget with federal stimulus dollars, state fund transfers and Kentucky's fifth round of budget cuts since 2007, state lawmakers had hoped we were done making painful cuts. We followed the financial reports and heard about a turnaround in the national economy, increasing consumer confidence, rising home sales. We were hopeful.

Now we will have to hope for better days ahead, because the turnaround we wanted has not come quickly enough to Kentucky. State officials expect more budget cuts—possibly as deep as six percent for some agencies—will be needed to address an approximately $160 million shortfall in the state budget this fiscal year. Within the next week, most state agencies have been asked to provide the state Budget Director's Office with plans explaining how a possible six-percent cut would affect their programs and workforce. Several other agencies, including state universities, funding for K-12 education, prosecutors and public defenders, Medicaid and mental health, would be exempt from possible cuts as in past budget cycles.

The possible cuts are not a complete surprise. An independent group of economists that makes economic forecasts for the state each year told us months ago that Kentucky's economic growth was not as strong as growth of the national economy. Still, we held on to the hope that the economy would improve. It could improve yet—the same group of economists meets again in December to revise its forecast—but state budget officials are not counting on any miracles.

What the budget shortfall we now face tells us is the economy hasn't improved much at all—at least not to the point that state General Fund revenues for the first quarter of fiscal year 2010 exceeded General Fund revenue from the first quarter of FY 2009.

General Fund receipts for the first quarter of FY 2010 were down across the board compared to receipts from FY 2009, with the exception of revenues from cigarette sales and a slight rise in lottery receipts. Those funds helped, but they could not do what the Budget Director's Office described as preserving "positive General Fund growth in the first quarter."

A summary of the FY 2010 first-quarter revenue report released last month by the State Budget Director's Office spells out the revenue decrease in stark percentages, beginning with a 5.6 percent decrease in overall General Fund receipts over the past three months. The decrease was the third consecutive quarterly decline in the fund, the report states, while revenue in the state Road Fund fell by 3 percent—the sixth consecutive quarterly decline for that fund.

Looking only at the General Fund, we see in the report that the first quarter ended with a lack of revenue from individual income and sales taxes—revenue sources that make up about 3/4 of the state's General Fund revenue. Revenue from individual income tax and the sales tax, which depends on employment and wage growth, decreased by 7.1 percent and 7.7 percent, respectively.

I would like those revenues to pick up by the end of this fiscal year, but new budget projections from the Budget Director's Office that predict FY 2010 will end with a $160 million shortfall make such a swift turnaround unlikely. Instead we are told in the report that the depth of the current recession makes "a clean, robust and immediate recovery appear(s) rather unlikely."

For business, this means a continued slump in production and employment. For state agencies, it could mean more budget cuts for agencies that have, in some cases, already had their budgets cut by almost 20 percent since early 2008.

Is there any good news in all this? A little. The Budget Director's Office tells us that the nation is expected to experience gross domestic product growth of 0.5 percent in the final three quarters of the fiscal year, ending a recent decline in national production. That will unfortunately come after a continued slide in employment that will likely cost the nation another 3 million jobs by next summer, but life will begin to look up and Kentucky's economy, as well as the nation's, will continue to recover.

"Production will eventually increase, excess capacity will be worked through, and higher sustained demand for goods and services will trigger a period of employment and business investment," the Budget Director's Office reports. It just will not happen during the last three quarters of FY 2010.

I will keep you informed of all proposals on how to handle the current shortfall, whether it be using a portion of the $485 million left in federal stimulus funds to reduce the deficit or some other method. And I will keep hoping for a better forecast in December. Either way, we must be prepared.

Let me take a moment to wish you and yours a wonderful Thanksgiving and the best of holiday seasons, and thank you for allowing me to serve you in Frankfort.

BSCTC provides career fair for dislocated, unemployed workers

PAINTSVILLE — Big Sandy Community and Technical College hosted a "Careers in Transitions Service Fair" Friday in the BSCTC Mayo Campus Auditorium.

The Service Fair encompassed agencies from local communities and encouraged all attendees to delve into meaningful discussions about the needs, challenges, and the possibilities of retraining prospective workforce candidates. Additionally, the Service Fair solidified and forged stronger community partnerships with area agencies, which provides valuable resources and prospective employment to potential students.

Lisa Stumbo, of BSCTC student affairs, who organized the event, remarked, "The Service Fair strengthens and builds the partnerships between Big Sandy and the local service agencies to provide potential students valuable resources needed to receive additional training or transition into a new career. This enables students a better chance of finding employment close to home, while utilizing the skills learned through BSCTC programs, degrees and certificates."

BSCTC's purpose was to offer realistic, educational and training opportunities to men and women recently affected by unemployment. Many prospective candidates visiting the Service Fair revealed they had experienced high unemployment rates due to the recession, resulting in difficulties in finding suitable employment in Eastern Kentucky.

Big Sandy's goal was to enlighten prospective students to the possibilities of learning new skills though the Technical Programs offered at Big Sandy. Several BSCTC Program Representatives were available and provided educational materials while explaining the many instructive endeavors and training programs available through BSCTC.

Big Sandy Technical Programs provide intuitive, educational opportunities to prospective students. Participating programs included Nursing, Respiratory, Diesel, Automotive Tech, Business, Air Conditioning Tech, Coal Academy, Computer Aided Drafting and Design, and Cosmetology. Additionally, Big Sandy Area Community Action Program, Financial Aid, Ready to Work Program, Vocational Rehabilitation, and the Office of Employment and Training provided resources and information to prospective candidates.

Billie Jean Cole, BSCTC associate dean of student affairs remarked, "The goal of the BSCTC Careers in Transitions Service Fair was to ensure that all attendees departed the event with a goal in mind for their future — hence a direction or path to a new beginning in life."

The event was coordinated by Lisa Stumbo, BSCTC student affairs.

Drivers beware: Deer on roads in record numbers

State highway maintenance workers in Johnson County have removed as many as 10 deer a day from state roads, mostly U.S. 23, during the past three or four weeks.

"It's mating season and it's also hunting season," said Keith Hill of District 12's Paintsville Section office. "We've had deer hit by vehicles and not killed and we've had to get the sheriff's office to come and shoot them. People need to be really careful from now until about the second week in December."

Hill said deer typically try to cross roads at dawn and dusk, when it's harder for drivers to see because the sky is still dark or turning dark and there may be low-lying fog.

Deer season started Nov. 13. But deer started showing up as roadkill a few weeks before. Lawrence County's Todd Moran reports several a day on U.S. 23 and Route 32.

Floyd County's maintenance crews say Route 80, Route 122, and Route 7 seem to be the hot spots for deer this year, while in Knott County they come to Route 80 and Route 15 more than other roads.

This year is a "bumper year" for deer, Keith Hill said, because the state repopulated the animals a few years ago. Some people claim that the deer habit has been changed, with utility and mining roads forcing animals out of their normal hunting areas and closer to civilization.

Whatever the reason, motorists need to be careful. Letcher, Martin, and Pike counties have also picked up more than the usual number of deer this fall. Stevie Stone, superintendent at the Phelps Maintenance facility, said deer totaled two motorists' cars on Upper Johns Creek just last week. The biggest problem, however, seems to be in Johnson, where one day last week a state pickup truck was seen with nine deer carcasses at one time.

"We bury them," Hill said, "but that's not the problem. Deer can do tremendous damage to a vehicle and people need to be cautious. Headlights blind them for a few seconds and then they often jump right at your truck. It's not that you hit the deer, usually the deer hits you, so it's hard to get out of their way. We just want people to realize there are more out there than usual right now. Everyone needs to be alert and drive a little more slowly, especially at daybreak and twilight."

Bears hold off Mid-Continent

TIMES STAFF REPORT

PIKEVILLE — Pikeville College ripped the nets for 61.9 percent shooting from the arc and edged Mid-Continent University 87-81 Saturday night in the finale of the BB&T Classic.

Pikeville improved to 4-0 on the season thanks to their guard shooting the lights out. That, along with 75 percent shooting from the arc, helped the Bears overcome 21 turnovers for the win.

The Bears pulled out to a big lead in the latter portions of the second half, and when senior Josh Samarco hit one of his five three-point shots with 5:05 remaining, the lead had ballooned to 78-62.

But Mid-Continent, and its coach, former Kentucky Wildcat Winston Bennett, wasn't through. A 15-4 charge pulled the Cougars back, and when junior Darrell Cook nailed a three with 42 seconds left, the lead had dwindled to 82-77.

That was as close as they would get, however. Pikeville hit 7-of-8 from the line in the final minute, and junior guard Justin Hicks sank all four of his tries in the final 17 seconds to ice the win for the home team.

Mid-Continent (4-3) shot 51.6 percent from the floor and held a 34-28 rebounding advantage in the loss. The Cougars had three players in double figures, paced by senior Kenny Thomas with 24 and a game-high nine rebounds. Senior Donovan Willis followed with 18 while senior Aaron Pearson tossed in 15 while handing out four assists and recording four steals.

Pikeville had four players in double figures, paced by senior Jonathan Clark's 24 to go with nine assists and five rebounds. Hicks followed with 21, hitting 5-of-7 from the arc while handing out four assists.

Samarco was 6-of-8 from the arc to finish with 18, while senior Maurice Thomas tossed in 14.

Cumberlands 80, Miami-Hamilton 25; Senior guard Travis Harvey had 22 and was the only Patriot in double figures in the easy win.

All 11 Pats played at least 10 minutes and everybody scored as they dominated the glass 51-17, allowing the Harriers only two offensive rebounds in the win.

Coach Don Butcher's club improved to 6-1 with the win. Hamilton, 0-9, was led by freshman Joey O'Neal's six. Butcher is a Pike County native.

Prestonsburg senior quarterback Michael Burchett passed for 254 yards and three touchdowns Friday night as the Blackcats defeated Corbin.

Lady Eagles drop two games in West Virginia

TIMES STAFF REPORT

MONTGOMERY, W.Va. — The Alice Lloyd College Lady Eagles competed in the challenging West Virginia Tech University Classic against two members of the Mid-South Conference — West Virginia Tech and familiar foe Pikeville College. Alice Lloyd came up short in each of the two matchups.

In game one, Alice Lloyd faced the home squad. Both clubs played well in the first 20 minutes, but West Virginia Tech slowly built an eight-point lead near the end of the half. ALC stormed back, and with 1:16 remaining, two Sarah Burchell free throws put the Lady Eagles on top 31-30. Three late West Virginia Tech free throws, however, gave the host team a 33-31 lead at intermission.

The game remained close through the first 10 minutes of the second half, but sparked by the inside play of Shyla Jones, West Virginia Tech went on a 22-13 run to take a 59-50 lead at the 2:01 mark. The Lady Eagles refused to quit, and they roared back with a 13-4 run of their own to knot the score at 63 with 1:36 remaining.

Neither team could break the tie until ALC junior guard Bree Frazier connected on a tough shot to give her club a 65-63 lead with only :07 left. On the ensuing possession, West Virginia Tech quickly raced up the floor and misfired on a desperation shot. The rebound was controlled by West Virginia Tech's Ashley Blaney and her buzzer-beater forced overtime.

In overtime, Alice Lloyd crept out to a three-point lead. However, fueled by two consecutive three from guard Kerin Roache, West Virginia Tech regained the lead. The Lady Bears then connected on their free throws to preserve the victory.

For ALC (2-5), three players reached double figures in the scoring column. Junior Nicole Lutes led the Lady Eagles with a game-high 21 points. Sophomore Gemma Greer finished with 17 points and tied Burchell with a team-high eight rebounds. Frazier added 12 points and a game-high eight assists.

For WVT (3-1), Style Harper led the way with a team-high 20 points. Roach and Jones added 18 and 17 points, respectively.

Pikeville College defeated the Lady Eagles 93-57 in another matchup played as part of the West Virginia Tech Classic.

Patterson, Wall receive player of the week honors

TIMES STAFF REPORT

CANCON, Mexico — University of Kentucky men's basketball players Patrick Patterson and John Wall were named the SEC Player and Freshman of the Week as announced by the league office on Monday. In addition, Wall was named the ESPN.com National Player of the Week.

Wall, a 6-1 guard from Raleigh, N.C., received the league's freshman of the week honor and national player of the week honor after hitting the game-winning shot with 0.5 seconds left to lead Kentucky to a 73-70 win over Miami University in his season debut. Wall averaged 20.3 points, 2.3 assists, 1.0 rebounds, and 0.7 steals in three games last week. He finished with 19 points and had five assists against the RedHawks. He followed that with a 21 point effort against Sam Houston State and then recorded a double-double with 21 points and 11 assists against Rider, the first double-double in points and assists for the Wildcats since Cliff Hawkins in the 2004 season. His 11 assists are the most by a Wildcat since Rayon Rondo in the 2006 season and the third most by a Wildcat freshman in UK history.

Patterson, a 6-9 forward from Huntington, W.Va., was named the SEC Player of the Week after he averaged 18.7 points and 12.3 rebounds in wins over Miami University, Sam Houston State and Rider. He scored 19 points and tied his career-high with 18 rebounds in the win over Rider. On the week, he recorded his 2nd and 24th double-doubles of his career which is tied with Pat Riley for 10th on UK's all-time double-double list. Patterson moved to 46th on UK's all-time scoring list with 1,096 points and recorded his 22nd career 20-point game against Sam Houston State. He hit his first career three-pointer against Miami and then hit another against Sam Houston State.

Wall's national recognition is the first of its kind this season for the Cats, while the league honors were the second and third for UK this year. Wall became the fifth Wildcat to earn SEC Freshman of the Week honors since the SEC started the award in the 2006 season and the second this season after Eric Bledsoe won the award last week.

Patterson received his fifth career weekly honor. He was named SEC Player of the Week once last season and received the league's freshman of the week honor three times in 2008.

Pikeville College to become tobacco-free campus

PIKEVILLE — To promote the health and well-being of students, faculty and staff and visitors to campus, President Paul Patton announced last week Pikeville College's plans to become a tobacco-free campus by the fall of 2010.

The college's initiative coincided with the American Cancer Society's "Great American Smokeout" on Nov. 19. The new policy has been endorsed by the Pikeville College Board of Trustees and the faculty.

Beginning in January, smoking will be prohibited in all partially enclosed areas such as covered walkways, breezeways and walkways between buildings and exterior stairways and landings. Smoking is currently prohibited in all Pikeville College buildings, including residence halls.

"Pikeville College, like colleges and universities across the nation, has made the choice to become a tobacco-free campus," said Patton. "We believe this policy will promote wellness and provide our students and employees with a safe and healthy environment."

Research findings show that tobacco use in general, including smoking and breathing secondhand smoke, constitutes a significant health hazard. In addition to causing direct health hazards, smoking contributes to institutional costs in other ways, including fire damage, cleaning and maintenance costs, and costs associated with employee absenteeism, health care, and medical insurance.

Statistics show that more than 400,000 Americans die each year as a result of smoking. Countless more suffer physical impairments because of their addiction to tobacco. Recognizing this, Pikeville College is offering programs to help students, faculty and staff stop using tobacco products.

House Speaker Stumbo addressed the Kentucky Youth Assembly Friday morning. To his left, in the white shirt, is Jacob Taylor, a Rowan County student, and behind him is Ashton Harvin, of Rockcastle County, who had been chosen governor.

Stumbo revisits history in appearance before Ky. Youth Assembly

FRANKFORT — Forty-five years after he led the House as a member of the Kentucky Youth Assembly, House Speaker Greg Stumbo returned Friday morning to address this year's delegates, becoming the first graduate to hold the same title as an adult.

"I've come full circle," he told the full House chamber, following an introduction by state Rep. Tanya Pullin, a Greenup County legislator who is also a graduate of the program. He encouraged the students to look for ways to serve the public and added that "you are the ones who will fill this chamber in the years ahead."

Kentucky Youth Assembly began in 1946 and, with some modifications, still operates under the Constitution students adopted in 1949. Those who attend learn about all three branches of government, and can serve as governor, a legislator, a justice and also a lobbyist as well as a member of the media.

Following his morning remarks, Speaker Stumbo met with students from James D. Adams Middle School. In the afternoon, he also spoke with students from Allen Central Middle School.

Highway workers complete extensive training; now 'Roads Scholars,' Masters

CUMBERLAND FALLS — Seven veteran maintenance specialists, with Highway District 12 of the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet are now Road Scholars. Six of the seven completed additional courses to earn their Road Master diplomas.

Those earning both the Road Master and Road Scholar certifications are Randy Kender, Highway Equipment Operator IV, Pike County; Lance Lamb, HEO IV who works all seven counties in the district; Johnny Lawson, HEO IV working Floyd, Johnson, Martin, and Lawrence counties; Andrew Lovern, HEO IV, Pike County; Garland Rogers, HEO IV, Floyd County; and Vince Williams, HEO IV, Floyd County. In addition, Ricky LeMaster, HEO IV, Johnson County, earned the Road Scholar certification and has only one class to finish for the Road Master diploma program.

The Road Scholar program, part of the UK Transportation Center, a division of the university's College of Engineering, requires courses in work zone management, drainage, safety improvements, traffic management through signals, signs, and markings; managing people, and risk management. Students also take courses in hot-mix asphalt highway construction, construction of concrete and cement, communications, and customer service.

The Road Master program requires classes in snow and ice removal, environmental awareness, leadership skills, and advanced communications. Students also choose three classes from AA's Defensive Driving class, road construction and drainage plan reading, computer skills, erosion and sediment control, hazard materials awareness, roadside/vegetation management, and small bridges construction and maintenance.

In a ceremony held at Cumberland Falls State Resort Park on Thursday, November 12, District 12's graduates heard from Chuck Knowles, Deputy State Highway Engineer, who encouraged them to continue finding "ways to broaden your knowledge and skills, and make yourself more valuable to the (Transportation) Cabinet."

Chief District Engineer Kevin Damron was on hand to personally congratulate each D-12 graduate, as were Cathy Dye, program coordinator for the district; and Darold Slone and Sam Hale, engineering branch managers.

"These men have proved that they are committed to excellence in their work," Damron said. "Safety is our number one priority, and the additional education that these men have chosen to pursue shows that they care about doing a good job for the district, the Cabinet, and the taxpayers - who are their family members, friends, and neighbors."

Randy Kender has worked for the state for 17 years. He installs road signs and thermoplastic (striping) and also helps with snow and ice removal.

Lance Lamb has been on the job four years with the state. He recently transferred to the district's Roadside Environmental Section, where he supervises contract mowing and tree cutting as well as snow and ice equipment calibration.

Johnny Lawson, a 19-year veteran on the job, operates equipment for the sign crew. He also operates and trains others on the district's slope mowers and works during snow and ice removal.

Ricky LeMaster has been with the state 14 years. Besides operating a loader, he is a member of Johnson County's snow and ice team.

Andy Lovern is a sign crew member as well as a maintenance specialist. During his 14 years with the state he has worked during floods, snow and ice removal, and routinely takes care of sign installation and maintenance, thermoplastic striping and painting.

Garland Rogers has been with the state 10 years. He operates a snow plow, grader, loader, backhoe, and other road maintenance equipment. He appeared in the district's first in-house training video, demonstrating all the checks that must be made on a snow plow before it is deemed road-worthy.

Vince Williams, a 15-year employee, also operates all the road maintenance equipment, including a snow plow, grader, backhoe, low boy, and loader. His duties, in addition to a regular snow and ice route each winter, include ditchline and culvert installation and maintenance and asphalt patching and repair.

Highway District 12's seven counties are: Lawrence, Johnson, Martin, Floyd, Knott, Pike, and Letcher. The district headquarters is in Pikeville. Section offices, each headed by a licensed professional engineer, are located in Whitesburg, Pikeville, Prestonsburg, and Staffordsville.

State reminds Kentuckians to practice food safety for Thanksgiving

For many, Thanksgiving means a home-cooked feast with family and friends. In light of this holiday tradition, the Kentucky Department for Public Health (DPH) reminds Kentuckians that food safety should also be a part of the celebration.

Here are a few simple food safety tips to avoid getting sick during the holiday season:

- Wash hands - Wash hands for 20 seconds with soap and water and dry your hands with a paper towel following restroom use, before preparing foods, after handling raw meat or before eating. Clean hands will help prevent the spread of potentially illness-causing microorganisms.

- Clean - Wash and sanitize food-contact surfaces often. To sanitize utensils, immerse for 30 seconds in clean, hot water at 170 degrees Fahrenheit, or immerse for at least one minute in a clean solution containing at least 50 parts per million of chlorine (one teaspoon of 5.25 percent household bleach per gallon of water). Bacteria can spread and get onto cutting boards, knives and countertops. Wash fruits and vegetables before preparing.

- Thaw properly - Proper methods for thawing a turkey include: thawing in a refrigerator with a temperature of 41 degrees Fahrenheit or less (allow 3-4 days for thawing); placing under cool running water at a temperature of 75 degrees Fahrenheit or less; or thawing in a microwave and cooking the turkey immediately.
- Take temperatures -

Cook at 325 degrees Fahrenheit until the internal temperature of the turkey reaches at least 165 degrees Fahrenheit. Cooked, hot foods should be kept at 140 degrees Fahrenheit or warmer. Be sure to use a food thermometer to check temperatures.

- Keep it cold - Cold foods should be kept at 41 degrees Fahrenheit or less. After the turkey is served, immediately slice and refrigerate on shallow platters. Use refrigerated turkey and stuffing within three to four days. Use gravy within one to two days. If freezing leftovers, use within two to six months for best quality.

- Transport safely - Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold.
- Reheat - Leftover turkey and stuffing should be stored separately in shallow dishes or platters. Rapidly reheat leftovers to a minimum internal temperature of 165 degrees Fahrenheit.

"Remember the two-hour rule: Do not leave perishable food out at room temperature for more than two hours," said DPH Commissioner William D. Hacker, M.D.

Program

and prevention, including assessments, counseling, treatment and prevention such as anger management and parenting classes as well as relapse prevention education.

From January to December 2008, 155 inmates were housed at the Floyd County Detention Center. Of those, 54 percent were directly connected to drug-related charges. Further, a closer look at the statistics reveals that some 95 percent of those inmates were indirectly connected to drug-related charges.

This past May, the county gave more than $32,000 to continue funding the program. The funds approved Tuesday are not currently in hand, according to court records, but will be transferred when the money becomes available.

Marshall has said the move to keep the program funded has been because the treatments are working, adding earlier this year that proof could be found in the number of graduates who have already gone through the program.

"It is a very, very worthwhile program," said Marshall. "I hope it will be improved and be around for a long time," Marshall said in May. "I've attended every graduation they've had, and I'll tell you it is working."

Prestonsburg began to show signs of the approaching holidays this week. Workers placed Christmas decorations on poles throughout the city on Monday and Tuesday.

Southern

Stacy Marshall said Tuesday he felt that now that the rate increase had been put in place, Southern Water would be able by next quarter to make the payment.

"It can't come soon enough for some on the court. 'They've got us over a barrel here,'" continued Daniels. "I don't like this court and our residents to be held hostage by rate increases."

Akers said people in his

district are being forced to either pay their water bills or buy medicine. He wanted a motion Tuesday to see the rate increase dropped, but will have to wait to present the idea again in regular session.

"We just watched them buy three new vehicles for about $70,000," Akers added. "I don't see why they couldn't use that to make their bond payment."

Teeth

healthy community and a safe environment for all.

"Oral health disease exacerbates other diseases, including heart disease, diabetes and premature births," Snider said. "Prevention is much more effective than remediation. In the classroom, children with painful toothaches have difficulty concentrating on school work. Oral disease is an important cause of school absences. There is no charge to families for the services of the Floyd County school-based oral health screening program."

Along with providing oral health services, the committee hopes to increase the public and overall public awareness of the burden of oral health disease.

The committee also works with Family Resource Center directors in the county. The directors obtain parental consent for the students and arrange treatment for oral health-related issues.

Election

from his niece.

"I just wanted to file so people would know that I'm running for magistrate," Owens said.

Another high profile filing came when Prestonsburg Police Det. Steve Little filed Monday to run against Sheriff John K. Blackburn.

Little, an eight-year veteran with the city police department and a nine-year veteran with the sheriff's office as a deputy, said his focus if elected would be to "cut off the pipeline" to the drug problem in Floyd County.

"Everybody knows the number one problem is drugs and I just think the sheriff's office needs to be able to work with other agencies to find ways to deter the problem," Little said. "I arrest a lot of people for drugs, but unless we go after these doctors who are blatantly giving people drugs, it's not going to do any good."

Little said other aspects he would give attention to would be better policing efforts in individual communities by assigning officers to these particular neighborhoods and also a increase in day camps for kids to provide them with positive role models, as well as education for both school-age kids and their parents.

The third filing Monday came from another incumbent, District 1 Constable Mike Hall, of Prestonsburg.

EVERYBODY'S SCIENCE

Nature's secret assassins

by SANDY MILLER HAYS AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH SERVICE

Whoever coined the phrase "It's a jungle out there" wasn't talking just about ... well, the jungle.

We all know about little fish being eaten by bigger fish, insects going after plants, and sometimes even campers becoming campfires for grizzlies. But did you realize that plants are actually out there poisoning each other?

Before you decide to hide under your bed for the foreseeable future, let me offer some reassurance: This "plant assassin" situation can be a positive thing! And it involves some quite surprising players -- such as sweetpotatoes.

No, I'm not about to advise you to give up sweetpotatoes; far from it, in fact. Sweetpotatoes are one of Nature's treasure chests, packed with health-boosting carotenoids, vitamin C, potassium and fiber.

They're also packed with high levels of protective phenolic compounds called "caffeoylquinic acids" (don't worry, there won't be a spelling test later!). These compounds, known for their antioxidant activity, are found in lots of plants, although the levels vary widely.

A group of Agricultural Research Service (ARS) scientists set out recently to measure the caffeoylquinic acid levels in sweetpotatoes. They evaluated the levels of four different types of caffeoylquinic acids in just 16 sweetpotato varieties from the United States, Brazil and Africa. They also studied the levels of these acids in big-root morningglory, which is an annoying weedy sweetpotato relative with roots that can weigh more than 60 pounds.

The team found measurable amounts of all four types of caffeoylquinic acid in all the sweetpotatoes they tested, with the highest levels just below the potatoes' skin. Levels were intermediate in the sweetpotato's interior, and lowest in the skin.

Even better, the scientists found that three of the compounds they tested helped protect the sweetpotato against a fungus called Rhizopus soft rot, which infects sweetpotatoes by invading through breaks in the potato's peel. All of the caffeoylquinic acids helped the sweetpotatoes fight back against plant-infecting bacteria, and one inhibited another infectious plant fungus called Fusarium solanum.

Even though the study only looked at 16 sweetpotato varieties, there was a big variation in the caffeoylquinic levels found in the study. The scientists' thinking is that if they spread their search in bigger sweetpotato germplasm collections, they're likely to find varieties that have even higher levels of these beneficial acids -- and an even greater capacity for sweetpotatoes to protect themselves against bacteria and fungi that aim to literally snatch the food from our mouths!

Another plant that's up to something naughty -- but nice in fields is rye -- yes, as in "a pocketful of ..."

Organic farmers are big fans of rye because it suppresses weeds without herbicides. ARS scientists say the "how" is simple enough: If rye is planted in the fields in the fall or winter, then cut down and flattened in those fields in the spring, the rye stalks block sunlight and prevent weed seeds in the soil from getting the light they need to germinate. Rye's root systems also capture nutrients in the soil and help hold soil in place so it doesn't run off in the first (or second or third) good rainfall.

But rye's ability to stop weeds seemed to be more than just mechanical (smothering the seeds), so the ARS scientists investigated further.

They raised rye in test plots, killed it with herbicide, and then either buried it shallowly in the soil or left it lying on top. Then they planted pigweed and lettuce in that soil and took soil samples weekly. Finally, they extracted organic material from the

GUESTS OF HONOR

Fifth annual Bert T. Combs Dinner draws top names

by JARRID DEATON
FEATURES WRITER

PRESTONSBURG -- The Floyd County Democratic Woman's Club recently brought in big guests for the fifth annual Bert Combs Dinner held at the Wilkinson-Stumbo Convention at Jenny Wiley State Park in Prestonsburg earlier this month.

Over 100 people attended the event, including Speaker of the House Greg Stumbo, who served as master of ceremonies, Chief Justice Sara Combs, U.S. Senate candidate Jack Conway, Sen. Johnny Ray Turner, Rep. Hubert Collins and Floyd County Clerk Chris Waugh. Leo Haggarty also appeared at the event on behalf of Lt. Gov. Daniel Mongiardo.

Entertainment at the event was provided by Marlene VanHoose, a local singer.

The event also included a silent auction to help raise money to be used to support programs sponsored by the Democratic Woman's Club, including a $1,000 scholarship for a high school senior in Floyd County, the local Shop-With-a-Cop program, Sheriff John K. Blackburn's D.A.R.E. program, the East Kentucky Science Center and the Mountain Arts Center.

"The club members, patrons and sponsors make this annual event possible," said Charlotte George, president of the Floyd County Democratic Woman's Club.

The Bert Combs Dinner is held in honor of Bert T. Combs, the former governor of Kentucky who served as city attorney in Prestonsburg before embarking on his major political career.

The Democratic Woman's Club of Kentucky began on in 1927 in Louisville. The club's goal was to promote the principals of the Democratic Party in all communities throughout the state in order to reach every voter before election day.

Ten Years Ago

(Nov. 19, 21 and 24, 1999)

Forest fires continue to burn across eastern Kentucky, with no relief in sight, prompting the governor to declare a state of emergency in response to the outbreak.

Prestonsburg Community College's Student Government Association will host its first community Thanksgiving dinner on Tuesday, November 23.

Attorney Ned Pillersdorf, representing former Floyd County Board of Education attorney Jerry Patton, says in a letter that allegations board members made during the meeting, last week, were false, and that they should reconsider their decision to sue their former barrister. Last week, the board voted to bring a malpractice suit against Patton for what the board called his failure to deal with an arbitration suit brought by EJA Cogeny Corporation.

Two out-of-state fugitives were apprehended by local police officers over the past couple of weeks. James E. Miller, 42, of Warsaw, Indiana, was arrested by Sergeant Shawn Roop, of the Floyd County Sheriff's Department and charged with second-degree escape, resisting arrest, fleeing or evading a police officer, obstructing government operations and two counts of fugitive from justice, one misdemeanor, one felony. Kentucky State Police Trooper John Hunt arrested Michael Pallotta, 29, of Clearwater, Florida, a fugitive from justice, at a traffic stop, Monday afternoon.

Timothy Wayne Hall, 37, of Galveston, accused of multiple drug and weapons charges, was mysteriously released and admitted to a Hazard psychiatric ward, despite being held on a stiff cash bond.

An early Thursday morning traffic stop in Martin netted two arrests by Floyd County Deputy Herman Morris, Thomas E. Shepherd, 25, and Billy J. Shepherd, 26, brothers, of Martin, were arrested yesterday after both tried to get away from Morris, Martin City officers, and a motor vehicle from justice, one misdemeanor, one felony. The brothers were charged with obstructing justice, menacing, and domestic terrorism, when they attempted to kill deputy Morris, enforcement officer, Mark Duddleson, and Martin police officers, Dennis Hutchinson and Robbie Nickels, drinking in a public place, possession of drug paraphernalia, failure to wear a seat belt, possession of marijuana, theft by unlawful taking, over $300, and resisting arrest.

Stephen C. Hanson, extolling the virtues of eastern Kentucky rural mountains, the newly-elected chief executive officer of Appalachian Regional Healthcare (ARH) was at the McDowell facility on Tuesday as part of his visit to each of the nine facilities in the medical chain.

Ricky Joe Stone, 38, of Harold, showed his good nature by stopping to lend a helping hand to a stranded motorist in Pikeville, Friday night. As thanks for his troubles, he was choked until unconscious, robbed and left lying beside the highway for dead.

Gary R. Roberts, 49, of Pike County, employed by Austin Power Co. of Martin, was killed when his explosives-filled truck overturned in Lawrence County, Friday.

Ralph B. Davis, 30, a Prestonsburg native, has joined the Floyd County Times staff as managing editor. He took over the position on November 8, replacing Janice Shepherd, who has retired.

Once again, police in the Big Sandy Valley are searching for an armed robber who held up a convenience store, this time in Pike County. At 10 p.m., Friday, an attendant at a Shelbiana Coleman Oil Gas Station was closing the store when he was approached by a white male wearing a purple ski mask. The suspect pointed a sharp instrument at the clerk and demanded the store's money.

Amid charges that some members were being political, the Floyd County Board of Education twice voted down the proposal to purchase the old Bank Josephine building to be used as a central office—making three times the issue has been turned down—during Monday night's regularly scheduled meeting at Betsy Layne High School.

The case of a Floyd County teen accused of attempted rape has been sent to a grand jury for possible prosecution. Richard E. Martin, 18, of Left Fork of Abbott Creek, is charged with attempting to rape a Prestonsburg High School student. The crime reportedly happened inside the school on February 23.

U.S. Rep. Hal Rogers announced, Tuesday, that the Mountain Arts Center in Prestonsburg, will receive an $100,000 grant for educational programs. The money was included in the budget for the U.S. Department of Education. "The Mountain Arts Center has made its mark as a cultural center, a top-quality performing arts facility, and an important resource for education," Rogers said in announcing the appropriation.

Koree Thompson, 24, of Volga, who led police on an election night chase is now facing stiffer charges. Already in custody at the jail, he is charged with trafficking in marijuana less than eight ounces.

The Floyd County Sheriff's Department will be in full force over the holiday weekend on county roads, according to Sheriff John K. Blackburn. Road blocks and patrols will be set up across the county in an effort to keep Floyd County roads safe for travelers.

Kentucky State Police arrested Michelle May, 30, of McAndrews, charging her with the death of Sabrina Bartram, 37, of McVeigh, following a fight, Saturday, when Bartram pulled a knife and stabbed May multiple times in the chest and abdomen.

Larry Workman and Steve Radcliff of the Army Corps of Engineers met with Martin City officials, Monday evening, with a new plan for the city flood project. The $65 million project is expected to take 6 to 8 years to complete, at a potential cost of a $250,000 a year to the city.

A dedication ceremony for the section of new KY 80, from Martin to Water Gap, will be held Friday. Governor Julian Carroll and Transportation Secretary Calvin Grayson will join local officials for the dedication of the first of the resource recovery road projects. Local residents are still expressing concerns over the danger of flooding in the Left Beaver communities caused by the road construction, although highway engineers insist their fears are groundless.

Jo Ann, 6-year-old daughter of Silas and Polly Stone of the Stonecoal section of Garrett, died Sunday night at Our Lady of the Way Hospital of injuries suffered earlier that evening when she was struck by a car at Garrett.

Two Floyd Countians are being considered for key state government posts by governor-elect John Y. Brown: William B. Sturgill, formerly of Prestonsburg, for Secretary of Energy, and Grady Stumbo, McDowell native, for Secretary of the Department of Human Resources.

Highlands unveils new website

PRESTONSBURG - While a hospital's reputation is largely earned by patients and their families receiving quality services on-site, our community also demands information be readily available at the click of a computer mouse. In order to provide timely information regarding services offered and health issues of interest to the community, Highlands Regional Medical Center has unveiled its new website, located at www.hrmc.org.

"In today's world, it's not always convenient for an individual to call our hospital or make a personal visit to gain a comfort level with our comprehensive services," Stephanie Damron, director of marketing explained. "Once on our home page, it's easy to find information on how we can better serve you." A visit to the website includes changing lead stories of interest and events, currently highlighting a number of articles on the H1N1 flu epidemic sweeping across the nation. Additionally, users may offer their opinions and thoughts in web polls or easily navigate to specific areas of hospital expertise ranging from Obstetrics and Pharmacy to Highlands Health System, the Center for Autism, Home Health and more.

If family members or friends cannot visit the hospital, they can now send their loved ones an e-card via the new website. Guest service staff will print the card and deliver it right to the patient's room. Employment opportunities, newsletters and physician referral resources are also available for users to search as needed. Also, Highlands Health System is connected with the community via social media opportunities such as Facebook and Twitter.

soil and measured the levels of compounds called "benzoxazinoids" that were released from the rye.

The scientists aren't ready to give those benzoxazinoids sole star billing, but they say the early results indicate the compounds affect soil chemistry in ways that boost rye's weed-killing power, and are definitely worth a second look.

As the levels of the benzoxazinoids began to dwindle in the soil, the weeds were able to gain ground. But while the benzoxazinoids were in full bloom - about a week after the rye was killed - the weed seeds kept a low profile.

The scientists say more studies are needed to figure out how to best utilize the benzoxazinoids - but it sounds

Forty Years Ago (December 4, 1969)

The salary schedule approved by the Floyd County Board of Education for teaching personnel during the current school year ranges from a low of $2,035 to high of $7,810.
Men born September 14 were sent to the top of the list of the draft-eligible by the lottery held in Washington. The draw of birth dates provided a list which applies to every man who is at least 19, but not yet 26 years of age as of December 31 this year. The induction call from this county for December demanded only seven from both boards.

Tuesday, traditional day for elections, will end, next week, one of the most vitriolic campaigns in years. The principals in the United Mine Workers of America are W.A. (Tony) Boyle, incumbent president of the UMWA, and the challenger Joseph (Jock) Yablonski.

Carl R. Horn, representative of Agriculture, Food and Nutrition Service, said, this week, that USDA food programs help approximately 189,000 needy persons in Kentucky each week. Floyd County's bonus coupons per month total about $40,000.

Juvenile crime is one of the area's biggest problems says the report drafted for the Kentucky Crime Commissioner by James R. Allen, Prestonsburg attorney-executive director of the Regional Crime Council, serving Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Magoffin and Martin counties. There died: David Akers, 84, native of Prater Creek, at Nova; Ohio; Dolly Mosley, 82, of Minnie, at McDowell Hospital; Artie Hall, enroute to McDowell Hospital; W.R. (Bill) Ford, 85, at his home at Auxier; Rodney R. Griffith, formerly of this section, at his home in Ypsilanti, Michigan; Arthur McDowell, 72, of Wayland, at McDowell Hospital; Wayne D. ### Fifty Years Ago (December 3, 1959)

A giant-size coal operation involving two Floyd County men has been opened on Sasafiras and Yellow Creeks, Knott County, to supply TVA six million tons of coal within the next 10 years. The H.B. Rammer Construction company of Prestonsburg, will, during that period, gross $18,900,000, or 90 percent of the $21,000,000 contract price of the coal delivered to a TVA plant.

A heavy cloying snow wrought havoc last week-end with power and communications lines in Floyd and surrounding counties. All areas in this county served by REA suffered from power failure, which in spots, lasted as long as 30 hours.

The water crept up, and there was nothing to stop it, although Prestonsburg's floodwall installation are complete and in working order. That was the situation last weekend after steady rains had brought a river crest of 30 feet at Pikeville.

An infectious hepatitis outbreak, with 14 cases reported to the Floyd County Health Department as positively diagnosed, has hit in three areas of the county.

The Floyd County Board of Education, at its Tuesday meeting, filed a $150,000 suit against the W.C. Snider Construction Company for damages to the Prestonsburg High School building incurred in the summer during construction of the Auxier-Prestonsburg Highway.

There died: Ethel Prater Adams, a former resident of the Middle Creek section of this county, at her home in Portsmouth, Ohio; Mannie Collins King, 86, Bevinsville, at the home of a daughter; Annie Mullins, 42, of Haverhill, Ohio, at her home. She was a native of Bevinsville; Gomer Moore, 60, of Hunter, at his home.

Sixty Years Ago (December 8, 1949)

Floyd County's small mines will not sign with the United Mine Workers of America in order to work five days a week, and make a "quick dollar," regardless of what those of other counties of the section do, officials of the Floyd County Truck Mine Association said here last weekend.

Wednesday's deadline for the filing of election contest suits passed without much action, but prior to that, one candidate alleged that Floyd teachers bribed voters at the November election.

With Layne and Hunter each carrying the ball for two touchdowns the Prestonsburg Blackcats drubbed the Van Lear Bank Mules, 26-0 Friday afternoon, on the local field.

Coal production, boosted in opening weeks of the European war to near-peak tonnage, is leveling off.

There died: Claude Turner, 26, of Garrett, Sunday, at his home of tuberculosis.

Anticipation high as Ohio Valley Gold and Silver Refinery opens for business Tuesday in Pikeville!

Been following the gold and silver market lately? Well if you have a jewelry box or lock box full of gold or a coffee can full of old coins you should be according to Ohio Valley Refinery spokesperson John Miller. "The gold and silver markets have not been this strong for over 30 years," said Miller. Typically when the U.S. dollar is weak and the economy is flat gold and silver markets soar. "That's good news if you are setting on a few gold necklaces or an old class ring," says Miller.

Starting Tuesday at 9am and every day this week through Saturday the Ohio Valley Refinery is setting up a satellite refinery right here in Pikeville at the Hampton Inn. During their 5 day stay anyone can bring gold, silver or platinum items and turn them in for immediate payment, explains John Miller. "Just about everybody has some amount of gold or silver just lying around collecting dust and this week anybody can sell theirs direct to our refinery. Typically selling direct to a refinery is reserved for larger wholesale customers like jewelry stores, pawn shops, and laboratories," says Miller. "We are changing how business is done" he explains "we want to do business with everybody so we took our business to the streets". "Our teams visits various cities around the country hosting 5 day events allowing the general public to take advantage of our services. The turnout has been overwhelming," says Miller. "Usually each day is busier than the previous day. It seems once people come to us and sell something they are so amazed what an old ring or gold coin is worth they go home and start digging around for more and telling relatives, friends and neighbors. It's like a feeding frenzy by the third day. People line up with everything from gold jewelry to sterling silver flatware sets to old coins. I think during this bad economy everybody can use extra money but most people say they are taking advantage of selling direct to our refinery because of the higher prices we pay".

During this special event anyone is welcome to bring all types of gold, silver and platinum to the refinery and turn it in for instant payment. The types of items they will accept include all gold jewelry, gold coins, gold ounces, dental gold, old coins made before 1965 including Silver Dollars, halves, quarters and dimes, anything marked "sterling" including flat ware sets, tea pots, silver bars, silver ounces and all industrial precious metals.

What should you expect if you go to the event to sell your gold and/or silver? Just gather up all gold silver and platinum in any form. If you are not sure if its gold or silver bring it in and they will test it for free. When you arrive at the event you will be asked to fill out a simple registration card and will be issued a number. Seating will be available. When your number is called you will be escorted to a table where your items will be examined, tested and sorted. This only takes a few minutes using their expertise and specialized equipment. Items will be counted and/or weighed. The value of the items will be determined based on up to the minute market prices. Live feeds will be available at the event displaying current market prices of all precious metals. If you choose to sell your items they will be bagged and tagged and you will be escorted to the cashier to collect your payment. Waiting time to sell your items may range from just a few minutes to 1 hour so bring something to read.

If you are the owner of a jewelry store, pawn shop, dentist office or a dealer you are encouraged to call ahead to make an appointment with the smelt master to discuss their special dealer programs. They can be reached at (606) 432-8181.

Ohio Valley Refinery will open for business Tuesday from 9am-6pm. The event continues everyday through Saturday. No appointment is needed.

Silver and Gold Coin Prices Up During Poor Economy.

Collectors and Enthusiasts in Pikeville with $2,000,000 to Purchase Yours!

By CHRISTINA BUTLER
STAFF WRITER

Got Coin? It might be just the time to cash in. This week starting Tuesday and continuing through Saturday the International Collectors Association in conjunction with the Ohio Valley Gold & Silver Refinery will be purchasing all types of silver and gold coins direct from the public. All types are welcome and the event is free.

Collectors will be on hand to identify and sort your coins. Then the quality or grade will be determined. The better the grade the more they are worth according to collectors I talked to. With the silver and gold markets high prices of older coins are too. Any coins minted before 1965 in the U.S. are 90% silver except nickels and pennies.

The coins worth is determined by the rarity and the grade. Old silver dollars are worth a great premium right now even well worn heavy circulated ones are bringing good premiums. Franklin and Kennedy halves, Washington quarters, Mercury and Roosevelt dimes are all worth many times the face value. While older types like Seated Liberty, Standing Liberties, and Barber coins are worth even more.

Gold coins are really worth a lot right now according to Brian Fades of the International Collectors Association. This country didn't start minting coins until 1792 says Fades. Before that people would trade goods using gold dust and nuggets. Some shop keepers would take more gold than needed to pay for items purchased. There was no uniform system of making change. The government opened the first mints and began distributing the coins in 1792. By the beginning of the 19th century coins and paper currency were wide spread and our monetary system was here to stay. In 1933 Roosevelt required all banking institutions to turn in all gold coins.

Once all banks turned in this gold the president raised the gold standard from $20.00 per ounce to $33.00 per ounce. This was his way of stimulating the economy during the great depression. However gold coins were never redistributed after the recall. Not all gold coins were turned in. Many folks during that time didn't completely trust the government and choose to keep their gold.

These gold coins are sought after collectors today and bring many times the face value. Any gold coins with the mint marks of C, D or O will bring nice premiums. Collectors at the event will be glad to show you where to look. Other types of coins will also be purchase including foreign coins, Indian head cents, two cent pieces, half dimes, three cent pieces and buffalo nickels to name a few.

Collectors warn people against trying to clean their coins as significant damage can be done and the coins value lessened.

Local Residents are ready to cash in!

International antique buyers in town this week and ready to stimulate economy!

Hundreds of phone calls from local residents this week to the corporate office of the Ohio Valley Gold and Silver Refinery pour in inquiring about items to be purchased all this week by the team of antique buyers that is on site with OVC&SR.

The team of buyers this week are purchasing a vast array of vintage items (see below) along with coins, gold jewelry, and sterling silver items the refinery deals in. It is a Local shot in the arm for our economy. The spokesperson for the event expects to spend in excess of $2,000,000 this week at the Hampton Inn paying local residents on the spot. The spokesperson for the company explained that these collectors are paying a collector price for vintage items. It's a great way for people to get a great value for their items.
