LAFERTY RELEASED AS HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDING FILED

Bond of Garrett Man Held in Sexton Death is $15,000

HAYWOOD FREED

Hiram Laferty, Garrett officer who has been held in jail here since the death on Dec. 11 of Kermit Sexton, whom he shot at Garrett in November, gained liberty Monday through the medium of a habeas corpus proceeding brought by his attorneys. He executed $15,000 bond, with W. A. Dingus, James H. Wills, Cal Clark and Alex Banks as bondsmen. The bond requires his answer to the grand jury which convenes here Monday.

W. M. Sexton, father of Laferty's victim, stated last week that his son did not die of pneumonia. A weakened and poisoned system as a result of the gunshot wound caused the young man's death, he claims. On the other hand, attorneys for Laferty hold to the theory that the proof will show that Sexton died from pneumonia.

Charley Haywood, who was jailed here two weeks ago on a charge of slaying John K. Pitts on Middle Creek, was released Dec. 26 under $10,000 bond when relatives of Pitts appeared and joined with others in becoming sureties for his appearance in court here. Haywood's sureties are Lurany Pitts, Wm Haywood, Lewis Miller, Hery Stephens, Jr., Mexico Pitts, Jr., J. L. Pitts.

Instead of "escaping into the hills" following the shooting of Pitts, a The Times stated recently, Haywood remained at his home about three months, gathered corn, worked on the county highway and moved his family into another home. Mr. Haywood said last week Pitts died 10 months after being shot, his death, Mr. Haywood claims, being the result of tuberculosis, not of the gunshot wound. The shooting, Mr. Haywood said, resulted from a drunken brawl between Charley Haywood and the victim's brother in November, 1932.

Betty Jo, three years old, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Harris, died at the Wells hospital, Paintsville, Dec. 26, a victim of pneumonia following whooping cough. COUNTERFEIT CURRENCY BEING DISTRIBUTED IN PRESTONSBURG, FOUND

First information that counterfeit currency is being distributed in this section was obtained Monday when Lon S. Moles, C. & O. agent here, received notice from the Huntington National Bank that a ten-dollar bill listed in his office's remittance of December 27 for the railway company was spurious.

Later, The Times learned, a counterfeit bill for $20 turned up at a local bank. Mr. Moles said that the bill taken in by the C. & O. office here had been turned over to the secret service for investigation.

MOTHER OF COUNTY AGENT ISBELL DIES

County Agent S. L. Isbell has returned from Wingo, Ky., where he spent a part of the Christmas vacation. Besides County Agent Isbell, she is survived by one other son, two brothers and one sister. Mrs. Isbell had been a member of the Missionary Baptist Church 37 years, and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. All Expected to Recover; Reported Christmas Turbance

With the exception of battle at Harold, was singularly devoid of violence in this county. At Harold three were shot, none fatally.

At the time of Mrs. Hart's death her husband lay seriously ill in a Paintsville hospital. The Harts came to this county from Pennsylvania and moved to Wayland with, or soon after, the founding of the town as a mining center. Mr. Hart has been coal inspector for the Elk Horn Coal Corporation for several years. The deceased was a devout member of the M. E. Church, South.

Mrs. Hart is survived by her husband, four children and one son.

American inventive genius must be able to supply this need. The time undoubtedly will come when some device or plan will be evolved which actually PREVENTS accidents without regard for the will of the motorist.

Until that time comes accidents will continue to increase. As the speed of trains is stepped up and the number of crossings multiplied, the spectre of sudden death will hover where rails and highway meet.

Safety education is not enough. The federal government, the state and the municipality must act. Kentucky and other states with an increasing number of reported crossing deaths may well give serious thought to this safety issue.—Safety Research Bureau.

Maytown Girl, Favrite

Miss Opal May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank May, sophomore at Morris-Harvey College, Barboursville, W. Va., was recently voted the most popular girl there. The honor is usually won by a senior girl, also by a West Virginian, but Miss May's selection came as no surprise to her host of friends. She was voted the most popular girl in Maytown several years ago, has long been acclaimed the leader of the younger set here, and was runner-up in the Morris-Harvey election last year, although only a freshman. She wears her crown modestly and carries with it a list of other distinctions both here and in college.

The famous House of David ball team aggregation from Illinois trounced the Maytown independents here Friday evening by a seven-point margin which could easily have been much greater, since the visitors played all around the locals who were minus their star forward, Wm. Messer. A large crowd was expected to be interesting.

mixture of medicinal Plant Juices, known as Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to the public here in this city at Hughes Drug Store. Following is this widely-known man's statement:

"For years I had almost suffered death with rheumatism," said Mr. Etherington. "I had rheumatism all over me. It was in my arms, then it would go into my hips. I also had it very bad in my knees and ankles and at times I could hardly walk without limping, and often I was bedfast for days at a time."

"I thought I would never find anything to help me, for I had tried medicine upon medicine, but finally I got Indo-Vin. It proved to be just what I needed and when I started to take it all of that rheumatism seemed to go right out of me and my hip and leg that was so stiff and painful has limbered up now and I don't have any rheumatism at all. In fact, I haven't got a single pain anywhere. You don't know how wonderful it is to be free of those awful rheumatic pains. This medicine is the most wonderful thing I EVER heard of, and I gladly endorse it."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in Prestonsburg at HUGHES DRUG STORE

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IN DEFENSE OF BEAUTY

To the Floyd County Times: Your paper recently stated that there was a possibility of there being moved into this section a mill for sawing only dogwood timber to be used in certain kinds of weaving and other purposes for which the small timber could be used. I wonder if our farmers and mountain people have thought of the beauty we would be robbing our hills of if we should consent to having the dogwoods cut from them. What would spring be in the hills without the beauty of the dogwood blooms?

To rob our hills of this beauty would be extracting the charm and serene tranquillity they possess for not only we who dwell among them year in and year out, but for tourists who come to our mountains to view their scenic beauty.

I trust that farmers for a few scant dollars will not suffer our forests to be robbed of the coloring of their foliage. We want our children to grow up to love our mountains, to know that within a tree exists real life.

I feel that our property-owners are too far-sighted to submit to a slaughter of this kind in our own hills that would render our flowering dogwood extinct.

Take from our hills the dogwood, the redbud and the rhododendron and we for all time to come mar the beauty of our hills and rob our future generation of the beauties they would never be able to know.

McDOWELL IN OVERTIME LOSS TO BROWNSVILLE

McDowell, Ky., Dec. 31—In a thrilling overtime match, the Brownsville high school basketball team from Western Kentucky defeated the McDowell high school team Saturday night in the McDowell gym by the score of 23 to 22.

This was the third game on consecutive nights for the visitors to Eastern Kentucky. They lost to the Martin high school team on both Thursday and Friday nights, losing the latter game by one point.

Brownsville's whirlwind beginning gave them a comfortable lead of 13 to 6 at the end of the first half. When the third quarter ended, their lead had been cut to 17 to 15, and the close of the fourth quarter saw the two teams deadlocked at 19-19.

In the hectic overtime period McDowell scored first on a free pitch by Hall. Then Skaggs shook himself loose for a crip, giving Brownsville a one-point lead. Shortly afterward, L. Stumbo, McDowell pivot man, got away for a crip, again giving McDowell the lead. With less than a minute to go, Webb sank a goal from mid-court, winning the game for Brownsville, 23-22.

Ramsey, McDowell guard, carried off scoring honors with 9 points. Webb, Brownsville guard, was close behind, with 8 points to his credit.

You pay for doing without a telephone a nickel at a time. Instead of calling the grocer or druggist, you have to make a trip. If you must get in touch with a friend, you have to go in person or send a message. And in bad weather, such trips are none too pleasant.

Let the telephone go to work for you right away. Just get in touch with the telephone business office, or any telephone employe you know. Then make a check, if you like, and you will find your telephone more than pays its way in convenience, comfort and protection.

FORD PRESENTS ANOTHER ADVANCE IN TRUCK ENGINEERING

Forward Load Distribution

Obtained by mounting front springs ahead of axle and moving V-8 engine forward. This places more load ahead of rear axle, more weight on front end.

THE important fact to remember about the new Ford V-8 Truck for 1935 is not merely that it gives you new money-saving features—but that these features have been added to a truck whose economy, performance, stamina have already been proved.

For 1935, Ford gives you an entirely new development—Forward Load Distribution. This makes possible more uniform tire and brake wear—better brake action—improved operation and wear throughout the truck. In addition, with more space between the cab and rear axle, the 1935 Ford V-8 permits acute angle turns with full-width semi-trailers.

No matter how efficiently you are now doing your hauling, these and the other features of the 1935 Ford V-8 are important advantages to consider. They are matched by no other truck in America today, regardless of price.

Test this new Ford V-8 Truck yourself. Your nearest Ford dealer will let you do this... on your own job, under your own load, with your own driver!

4-H Club Members' Income $20,240,000 in 1934; Better Year in Prospect

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 28.—Achievements of rural boys and girls in 4-H clubs reached a new peak in 1934, announces G. L. Noble, managing director of the National Committee on boys' and girls' club work.

Livestock, crops and handicraft work of the approximately 920,000 club members in 1934 will total in value about $20,240,000, according to careful estimates. Prizes won in local, state and national exhibitions and contests provided by hundreds of individuals, business firms and civic, educational and agricultural groups reach nearly $1,000,000. These include over 35,000 educational trips and scholarships valued at $10 to $400. All of these have been effective and wholesome incentives.

The new year, with assured higher price levels for farm products, a drought of record severity passed, less exactions on 4-H leadership for crop control and relief, and a better complexion in the rural field, promises greater 4-H gains. Club leaders and members throughout the nation for some months have been hotly contesting for the largest single prize ever to be awarded, a $10,000 completely furnished and landscaped building, gift of Sears, Roebuck to the county showing the most progress in 4-H work in 1934. Additional prizes of $3,000 will be awarded three other sectional winning counties in the contest.

Farm groups are receiving the active co-operation of civic, fraternal, church and other groups in the counties in preparing entries in the contest which is conducted by the National 4-H Committee in co-operation with extension agents and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A non-profit corporation is to be set up in the winning counties to administer the awards. The building presentation is to be a gala 4-H event to take place early next summer.

NOTICE

The National Re-employment Service, District No. 11, with headquarters in Pikeville, desires that all persons seeking employment be registered, especially coal miners who can pass the required mine examination. Also waitresses, department store clerks, variety store clerks, stenographers, typists, and those skilled in their line of work. From time to time opportunities develop for such workers, and it has been necessary to obtain them elsewhere, however, they should have come from the 11th district.

BUREAU OF MINES NEGLECTED, CLAIM

Washington, D. C., Jan. 1.—Charges that the Federal government has neglected during almost 20 years to capitalize the economic power of the mining industry for the sake of national welfare were made today in a report issued by a special committee of the American Mining Congress.

In the drive for industrial recovery during recent years, the report states, the Government's major contact with mining has been through a small bureau which this year has a working fund smaller than those appropriated for 110 other federal agencies.

"Charged with protecting lives and aiding conservation of natural resources, the report declares, 'the United States Bureau of Mines has been neglected despite the fact that it serves an industry which pays federal income taxes at the rate of more than one hundred million dollars annually.'

While money cascades from the federal treasury into the laps of other industries, services essential to operation of the nation's second industry—and services which only the national government can render—are being grossly curtailed. Rendition of these services is compulsory under dictates of laws enacted by Congress."

The Bureau of Mines, it is stated, today has less money than at any time during the past 17 years for use in protecting miners, conserving natural resources, providing industries that use raw materials with vital information, and promoting national defense. The sums of money made available annually to the bureau by Congress have decreased each year since 1928, according to statistical tables presented.

The report stresses the point that true economic recovery cannot be effected until full and productive governmental attention is devoted to "the industry which serves virtually all 'heavy industries.'"

Continuing, the report declares: "The mining industry does not seek a 'dole' from the federal treasury; it does not request 'benefit payments' in the meaning of that phrase as it has come to apply to other industries; nor does it ask to be subsidized. Rather, it simply raises the point that the federal government should not overlook its obligation to render services which long have been acknowledged to be vital and which can be rendered only by an agency outside the industry itself."

The Bureau of Mines was forced by a particularly severe appropriations cut more than a year ago to discharge 32 per cent of its full-time employees and 45 per cent of its part-time employees, or 35 per cent of its entire working staff. Since that major cut in working force took place, other employees have been discharged for lack of funds. Meanwhile, the number of persons on the federal payroll has been increased by approximately 100,000 persons.

FOOTBALL SEMI-CENTENNIAL—Grantland Rice, chairman of the committee which selects the so-called Walter Camp all-America football team, will announce the 50th annual selections for this "official" team in Collier's Weekly in a few days. Fifty years ago Walter Camp, famous Yale coach, originated the all-America idea, which continues since his death as a memorial to him, the Father of Modern football.

"At the same time, emergency units, such as RFC and NRA, like many 'old-time' agencies, have been forced almost entirely to depend upon the Bureau of Mines for basic information relating to mining.

"Valuable laboratory equipment, which at this moment should be serving in the effort to solve vexing and vital problems, stands idle because lack of funds has forced the discharge of trained men, who long made productive use of it.

"Nine of the bureau's eleven specially-designed railway cars utilized in placing mine-rescue crews and equipment with rapidity at scenes of mine disasters and used to provide miners and mine executives with first-aid and mine-rescue training, have been forced out of service.

"In some cases, technicians who have experience and abilities which stand unmatched have been forced to do common labor because the Bureau's station staffs have been depleted beyond all reason. By the same token, unskilled men have had to assume tasks involving responsibilities above those they should be expected to face. "Among the activities which have been and continue to be seriously affected by the pinch of 'economy' are many which have high humanitarian and economic importance. The following branches of the bureau's work are included in this group:

"Studies of falls of roof and coal in mines; investigations of explosions and explosives; first-aid training; chemical and metallurgical research; utilization of waste gas; ventilation research; development of respiratory protective devices, and economic studies.

"In short, the federal government—while it spends thousands of millions of dollars—is willing to spend only one of those millions for the governmental unit which is charged with the advancement and welfare of the industry that is the source from which has come one-half of the national wealth."

Sanitary Program Under Way

Our sanitary program, un- der the supervision of M. V. Clark, county sanitary inspec- tor, is progressing nicely. We are at present completing the sanitation of the North-East Coal Company camp at Aux- ier. This project was started last winter, and was about half completed. There remains about 75 toilets to be built to complete this project.

The concrete type of sanitary toilet is being built, with labor being furnished by the relief office. With the completion of this project, other projects will be started on both Right and Left Beaver Creeks. There are a number of coal camps that are in need of sanitation, and will be sanitized. The only requirement to secure this free service is to furnish ma- terials on the ground. All la- bor and supervisors will be furnished from relief rolls. If you are interested in having your camp or home sanitized, see Mr. Clark or Dr. Rans- dell.

Inspect Dairies

Dr. Ransdell and M. V. Clark inspected the dairies in the Prestonsburg vicinity Friday and Saturday. The dairies of this county are inspected once a month by the health depart- ment, and anything found that does not meet the re- quirements of the State Board of Health is at once remedied.

All our dairies have made decided improvements in their premises, barns, milkhouses and milking equipment. Sam Music's dairy was inspected Saturday morning and every- thing was found in tip-top shape. His dairy was given a Grade "A" raw milk rating.

Sam is a splendid fellow and has striven hard for the past two years to gain this Grade "A" rating. He has made his improvements, a little at a time, as he could spare the money until he has made all improvements necessary for a Grade "A" rating. What he has done every other dairy in Floyd county can do, and we hope in the near future to have every dairy in the county a Grade "A."

The health officer was in Byrro Tuesday with Dr. Os- borne, visiting a crippled child and making arrangements to get a case of tuberculosis into the state sanitarium in Louis- ville. Arrangements have been perfected whereby a patient can now be taken care of in the state tuberculosis sanita- rium for $1 per day. That in- cludes everything. Any one knowing of some one with tuberculosis should tell them that they can be treated for $1 per day.

Smallpox Scare Fades

What was reported to be an epidemic of smallpox in the Salisbury school last week, af- ter investigation by the health officer, turned out to be chick- enpox. The family was immedi- ately quarantined, and no spread is anticipated from this source. Several communi- ties have reported smallpox in the past few weeks and all outbreaks after investigation turned out to be chickenpox.

Chickenpox and smallpox, in some stages, resemble each other very much, and in some cases differential diagnoses are difficult to make by a physi- cian. I have seen two epidem- ics of smallpox gain consider- able headway because they had been wrongly diagnosed as chickenpox. Teachers and parents should watch this very closely and either have a physi- cian or call the health officer to see all these cases. The ideal thing to do is to have each member of your family and every pupil in school vac- cinated against smallpox and then have nothing to fear.

Diphtheria at Auxier

Diphtheria was reported in Auxier Christmas Day, with one death. The health officer went immediately to Auxier and the family and all con- tacts were quarantined. A house-to-house canvass was made and all children that had not previously been im- munized against diphtheria were given the immunizing treatment. No new cases have been reported, and no spread is anticipated.

Due to the fact that the case was in the house next to the schoolhouse, school, which was scheduled to reopen on January 2, has been postponed until Monday, January 7.

Mad Dogs on Christmas Spree

Mad dogs seem to have been "taking Christmas" the past week. Four people, all from widely separated parts of the county, have come in for treatment. The heads of the dogs sent to the laboratory have all been reported posi- tive.

One case was from Johns Creek, one from Abbott, one from Cow Creek and one from East Point.

Rabies is entirely too preva- lent in this county. There are many things contributing to this menace, chiefly too many dogs, the failure of people to confine or destroy dogs that are known to have been bit- ten by rabid dogs, and failure to report these conditions to the health officer.

15 Schools visited

The following schools were visited by members of the health department this week, and the children were immu- nized against typhoid, diph- theria and smallpox: Spewing Camp, Gearheart, Pitts Fork, Conley, Tram, Emma, Rosen- wald, Daniels Creek, Estill, Glo, Steele's Creek, Wayland and Lackey.

MRS. SALISBURY IS HONOREE AT PARTY

Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick and Miss Maurine Mayo entertain- ed to bridge at the home of the former on Friday evening, honoring Mrs. Homer Salis- bury, of Cave City, Ky., a guest of relatives here over the holidays. Eight tables were in play, with Mrs. J. R. Hurt being awarded high score prize and Mrs. C. L. Hutsin- piller, of Ashland, receiving visiting high score trophy.

The home was beautifully decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season, and at a late hour refreshments were served to the following guests:

FLOYD COUNTY COUPLES IN DOUBLE WEDDING AT LOUISA CHRISTMAS DAY

The Louisa M. E. Church, South, was the setting for dou- ble weddings Dec. 25 at 2 p. m. when Miss Elizabeth Mayo, of Allen, and Mr. Ellis A. Bail- ey, of Martin, were married shortly before Miss Frances Addis, of Ligon, and Mr. Wheeler Turner, of Martin, also took the vows of matri- mony.

The church was beautifully decorated, and music from both the organ and piano preceded the ceremonies in which the single ring service was used. The Rev. J. W. Wor- thington officiated in both in- stances, and only immediate families and a few close friends were present.

Mrs. Bailey wore blue rosh- anara with touches of white, accessories in black. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Mayo, a student of Eastern Kentucky Normal at Rich- mond, and one of the county's most successful teachers, lo- cated at Wheelwright at pres- ent. Mr. Bailey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayborne Bail- ey, of Martin, a graduate of Otterbein College, Wester- ville, O., and an employe of the state highway department.

Both are splendid young peo- ple whose countless friends wish them much happiness.

Mrs. Turner was gowned in black and white. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Addis, of Ligon, a gradu- ate of Eastern Kentucky Normal at Richmond, and a member of the high school faculty at Wheelwright. Mr. Turner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Turner, of Northern, a graduate of Martin high school, and is employed on the Martin water works project. The youthful couple is well- known and greatly beloved and showers of congratulations are being received by them.

Both couples immediately after the ceremony left for Cincinnati, Huntington and Ashland to spend the remain- der of the week.

GLO GRADE SCHOOL

(Last week's correspondence)

Ballard Hunter, superinten- dent of Floyd county schools, spoke on the value of a Par- ent-Teacher Association Mon- day evening before a crowd of boys in the Glo grade school, has been doing splendid work in building school spirit among the student body. Principal J. of 100. Mr. Hunter stressed the value of a teacher and par- ent understanding of children. Concrete examples were given which expressed the speaker's aim in explaining the value of a P-T. A. He was introduced by John Warix, Floyd county truant officer, who explained the school law on attendance.

Mr. Hunter and Mr. Warix have both visited the Glo grade school many times in the execution of their duties and have given many good suggestions, which have built a splendid school and a good attendance record.

(The Spirit Club, which boasts of a membership of 31 E. Jenkins, the club's sponsor, gives it great praise in the remarkable improvement of the student body. Officers for this year are: Charles Roop, pres- ident; Glen Fannin, vice-pres- ident; Maurice Cleveland, secretary and treasurer; Paul Roop, sergeant-at-arms.

1934 A. D.

By Rev. Josef Nordenhaug

What will people think of the year 1934 A. D. a hundred years from now? Of course, we don't know exactly. But it we knew we would have a pretty fair picture of what things of importance happen- ed in the past year. Father Time is a very reliable judge in these matters. We are dis- qualified as judges because we are too close to ourselves. In order to rightly estimate the things of lasting value we must allow time enough to see whether they last or not.

Father Time has very deter- mined notions about values. What we in our ephemeral en- thusiasm put a high price on, Father Time would not pay a nickel a dozen for. And on the other hand, he will esti- mate some things in great fig- ures which we may have con- sidered altogether worthless. Our newspapers never carried as much as a notice on the back page about it, but Father Time will put it in the head- lines of history.

By studying the past we can easily discover that Father Time follows a fundamental principle when he puts his tag on the years. He is always picking out that which is morally right for the place of honor. Although that which is morally wrong often will have evil effects upon many gener- ations, in the end evil will suffer defeat. Take for instance the case of the ancient Roman Empire. For centuries it seem- ed outwardly prosperous de- spite the fact that the rulers and the people alike were morally rotten and pleasure- mad. But finally an "uncivil- ized" people swept down up- on Rome and when Father Time was through taking in- ventory there was nothing but ashes left. And on this point history always repeats itself.

But after all, that is encour- aging. It revives in us the hope that right will ultimately triumph on earth and that God has Father Time employed in His service. Here is a true basis for optimism.

It is too late now to revise the year 1934. But 1935 is here. Let us resolve to make that a year in which we as in- dividuals, as a community and as a nation shall endeavor to build on a foundation that shall be able to stand the test of time.

He who builds on Christ, builds on such a foundation.

Happy New Year!

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men
Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smel- ling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the de- cayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

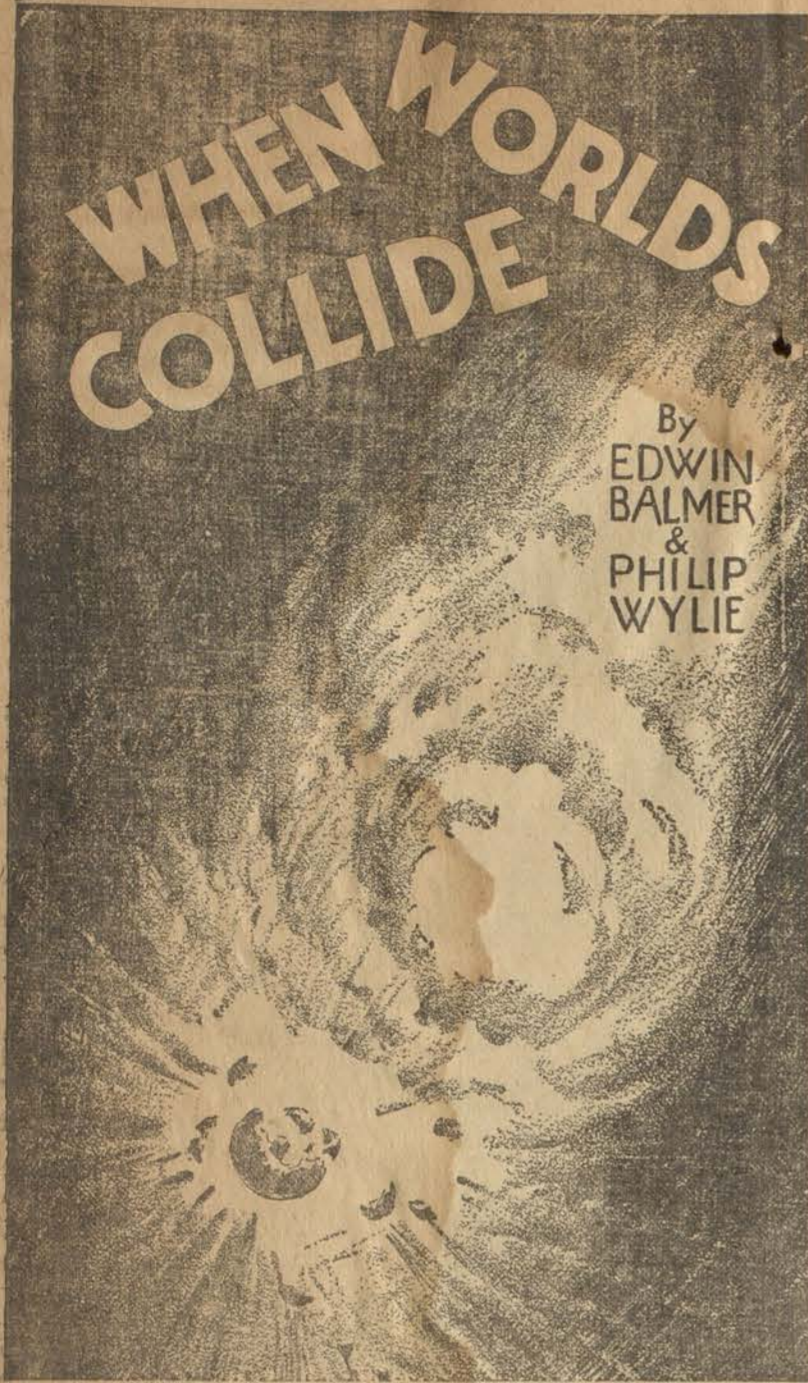

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 25¢ at drug stores.

Refuse "something just as good" for it may grip, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. ©1935, C.M. Co.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL RATING RE-APPROVED

In the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held in Atlanta, Ga., December 3 to Dec. 7, the Prestonsburg and Floyd county high school, Prestonsburg, was accredited with a clear record for the 1934-35 school year.

Of the 750 high schools of Kentucky, 148 are members of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In a recent report made by M. E. Ligon, chairman, state committee, the following statement was made:

"Kentucky is second in the number of schools accredited by the Association. The Association warned 23 schools and advised 32. In comparison with other states of the Association, Kentucky is first over a period of 12 years."

Rush Harris, who was injured several weeks ago when struck by a hit-and-run driver, was sufficiently recovered this week to return home from the Beaver Valley hospital.
