COUNTY MEN IN SHOOTING JOHNSON COUNTY

Expected To Die,
Harrington and Tackett
Under Arrest

ARE FROM DRIFT

Three Floyd county men, residents of Drift, were in the Johnson county jail Sunday morning, held in connection with the probably fatal shooting of Estill Butcher, 25 years old of Greasy Creek, Johnson county, early Saturday night.

Little hope was held for the wounded man following an emergency operation at the Paintsville hospital, Paintsville by Dr P. B. Hall, a bullet from a .45-calibre revolver entered his body about two inches below his heart, ranged downward and passed thru a kidney and the spleen.

Clyde Harrington and Liss Tackett, two of those involved in the case, were arrested at a Paintsville hospital, whether they had gone for treatment of injuries sustained in an auto wreck as they and the third man, Homer Harrington, fled from the scene of the shooting. The latter, who is quoted as, confessing to the shooting, made his way on up the Mayo Trail in the direction of Prestonsburg and was captured at Jim Coburn's place in the Cannel Coal gap, Johnson county, by Sheriff M. T. Stumbo and Deputy Sheriff J. D. Fitzpatrick. He was lodged in jail here and held for Johnson county authorities.

The fugitive was traced by the Floyd county officers thru information given by motorists from whom Harrington had sought rides. His nose had been broken in the auto wreck and his appearance had made him a conspicuous figure.

The wounded man is quoted as having made a statement before Magistrate Claude Buckingham of Paintsville, alleging that he was shot while he and Liss Tackett were fighting. He said, this report continues, that he had done nothing to Harrington. The latter claims, however, that Butcher was advancing upon him, armed with a knife.

ROAD SURFACING TO AUXIER O.K.'D

One hundred and fifty-six men will be placed at work within the next few days on stone surfacing of the road from the Mayo Trail to Auxier, it was said this week upon approval of this relief project by Perry A. Rowe, director of works for the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration. Working in three crews, this means that approximately 450 men will find work on the project two days of each week. Amount to be spent on this road is $15,539.

Other projects on which applications have been forwarded to Louisville for approval are within the next few days. Last week W. Clay, county work supervisor, said it was highly probable that 1800 men will be at work in this county within the next month on relief projects.

Among those from Prestonsburg who attended the funeral at Bosco Tuesday of F. P. Allen were O. H. and E. A. Stumbo, John Allen, R. R. Allen, Norman Allen and Rev. A. L. Allen, who is a juror in court here.

UNITED MINE WORKERS GIVE FUND TO SCHOOL

Glo, Ky., Feb. 25 (Spl.)—United Mine Workers of America, located here, recently donated to the Glo school $73.33. This fund, which is dedicated to the benefit of the 203 students attending the school, will pay all indebtedness against the school and leave more than $40 with which to purchase needed supplies, John E. Jenkins, principal, said.

MAYTOWN GIRL IS SPELLING CHAMP

Lora Allen Wins County Bee
Here Saturday; To Represent
Floyd at Louisville

Lora Allen, 13-year-old daughter of Henry Allen, and an eighth grade student in the Maytown consolidated school, is new spelling champion of Floyd county. This honor, the right to represent Floyd county in the state spelling finals at Louisville, and prizes to be given by the Floyd county board of education were all won in the county spelling bee held at the graded school building here Saturday. Lora is a pupil of Mrs. Jane Combs.

Spelling representatives of nine county schools entered the competition. For a time it seemed probable that Wesley Prichard, of Garrett, last year's champion, again would cop the spelling crown, but the best he could do was stage a neat orthographical duel with the eventual champion. He lost when he omitted an "r" from "transferred." Miss Allen not only spelled this word correctly, but successively negotiated "intelligibly."

Names of spellers, the schools each represented, the words they misspelled and the manner in which they spelled them follow:

Shirley Salisbury, McDowell, 'remedy,' 'remedie'; Sophia Zemo, Betsy Layne, 'overdue,' 'overdoe'; Evelyn Conley, Martin, 'session,' 'cession'; Linda Stephens, Prestonsburg, 'argument,' 'argumennt'; Siltania Jones, Betsy Layne, 'suburb,' 'suberb'; Boyd Alvin Reed, Drift, 'peculiar,' 'piculiar'; Wesley Prichard, Garrett, 'transferred,' 'transfered'.

The champion and runner-up will receive cash awards of $10 and $5, respectively. In addition to the cash prizes, Miss Allen will receive through the courtesy of Harcourt and Company a gold pin emblematic of her title. Judges were Mrs. H. F. King, Prestonsburg; H. H. Vincent, principal of the Martin consolidated school, and Jesse Elliott, of the Betsy Layne school faculty.

FINAL GAMES HAVE NET FANS GUESSING

Dope for District Tourney
Further Juggled; Regional Starts Here March 7

Though all the returns are from the closing games of the regular season which were played Saturday night by Floyd county basketball teams, those at hand have fans guessing.

Maytown's rather barren 19 to 15 victory over Wheelwright, a team that Martin earlier in the season massacred, gives rise to the question: Is Maytown going stale just as the tournament is ready to start or has Wheelwright, a potentially strong outfit, fin-

HELD AT HAZARD IN HICKS MURDER

Conley and Bolen Denied
Bond, Third Under $5,000
Bond; Probe Begins
Monday

Two Knott county men are held in the Perry county jail at Hazard for safekeeping, and denied bond, as suspects in the murder and robbery of Hence Hicks, aged farmer, on Ball Fork, Knott county, recently. A third is at liberty under $5,000 bond.

Estill Conley and Elisha Bolen are in jail. Silas father of the former, is at liberty under bond following examining trial held at Hindman recently. All other suspects in the case have been released.

The grand jury of the Knott circuit court will begin an investigation of the Hicks murder Monday. Circuit Judge Caudill advised Knott authorities to employ a detective for work on the case because of its many mysterious angles, but to date none has been hired, it was said here Tuesday.

Hicks, a former resident of Garrett, this county, was found dead on his farm three weeks ago. He had been shot in the back of his head with a bullet from a .22-calibre rifle. Those held are said to have been in possession of money following his death, whereas they had been almost devoid of funds prior to Hicks' murder. The aged farmer is reported to have carried on his person $4,000 in cash.

Arnold Resigns Office Of Police Judge Here

Ill health and pressing business demands this week led Judge E. P. Arnold, for 12 years judge of the Prestonsburg police court, to hand his resignation to the city council. His resignation became effective Thursday, February 28.

During his long tenure of office Judge Arnold's official conduct has been such that he has gained and held the friendship of almost every person ever brought before his court and also the high esteem of other citizens of this place. The height of his popularity was unmistakable in the last election here of a police judge by popular vote when he won a decisive victory over strong opposition.

His successor is expected to be named within the next few days.

In retiring as police judge, Judge Arnold this week issued the following statement: "To the Citizens of Prestonsburg and Floyd County: "After having served you as

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION MEETS AT BETSY LAYNE

Betsy Layne, Ky., Feb. 25—The February meeting of the Sandy Valley Young People's Union was held on the evening of Saturday, Feb. 24, at Betsy Layne, Ky. Van Lear, Garrett, Pikeville and Betsy Layne. ## 3 WAYLAND WOMEN WILL BENEFICIARIES

Receive $500 Each from Estate of Mrs. Nannie R.
Burchett

When the will of the late Mrs. Nannie R. Burchett, former Wayland woman who died recently in Louisa, was probated in the Lawrence county court, her three brothers, who were granted bequests of only $1 each, asked Judge Fyffe to suspend administration of the estate until a ruling could be obtained from the Lawrence circuit court. Their request was refused.

Terms of the will bequeath $500 each to three Floyd women. Beneficiaries are Mrs. Josephine Stone Ison (or Newsome), Miss Hester Prater and Mrs. John Kazee, all of wayland. Mrs. Burchett's brothers are James, of Cincinnati; John, of Harold; Thomas, Los Angeles, California. Other cash bequests totaled $4,500.

Mrs. Burchett was the widow of Robert Burchett, former Louisa merchant. They had no children. Mrs. Burchett resided at Wayland for several years following his death.

MAN BRUISED AS TRUCK WRECKED

F. A. Hamaker, 34 years old, was injured recently when the truck he was operating for the East Kentucky Beverage Company went over a hill near Shelbyana. He was taken to the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, where his injuries were reported not serious.

BRIDE IS 66, GROOM HER ELDER BY YEAR

Marriage license was obtained here Saturday morning by Mrs. Martha Stone, 65 years old, of Knott county, and Noah Hall, 66, of Drift. This was Mr. Hall's third matrimonial venture, and he is the father of six children. The bride is the mother of five children by a former marriage. The newlyweds will reside at Drift, they announce.

PROMINENT FLOYD MAN IS CLAIMED

F. P. Allen Dies Near Pomeroy, Ohio, Victim of Pneumonia

F. P. (Chick) Allen, well-known Floyd county man and a member of one of this section's oldest and largest families, succumbed Sunday morning to pneumonia at the home of his son, Hobart Allen, near Pomeroy, O. He was about 82 years old.

Suffering from asthma and heart disease for the past few years, Mr. Allen and his wife had gone to their son's home in Ohio several months ago. There his health showed improvement, but a recent attack of influenza, followed by pneumonia, proved fatal. His hundreds of friends in this section deeply regret his passing.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Allen, he was born and reared near what is now Northern. Following his marriage to Miss Mary Greer, he moved to Hindman, Ky. There he engaged in the mercantile business, was deputy sheriff during his father-in-law's term of office as sheriff while the famous Hall-Wright feud was in progress and played a prominent part in the organization of Knott county, formerly a section of Floyd county. He was a good citizen and held the friendship of all who knew him.

Besides his widow, Mr. Allen is survived by the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Ida Whittaker, Wilmore, Ky.; Mrs. Hattie Martin, Hueysville; Robert Allen, Akron, O.; Farlee Allen, Akron, Ohio; Hobart Allen, Pomeroy, O.; Chester Allen, Hueysville. Two brothers and two sisters also survive: G. J. and D. M. Allen, of Hueysville; Mrs. Mintie Webb, Lackey, and Mrs. Ballard Gearheart, Palisades, Colorado.

The body was returned Sunday night to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martin, at Hueysville. Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Revs. Campbell and A. L. Allen officiating. Burial was made in the Bosco cemetery.

CORN-HOG SIGN-UP PUSHED IN STATE

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 28.—The 1935 corn-hog sign-up is under way throughout the state, according to reports of officials at the College of Agriculture. Public meetings are being held in all counties, to acquaint farmers with provisions of the contract.

C. D. Phillips, state director of the program, called attention to the fact signers this year must produce 25 per cent of their corn and hog bases. Last year they were permitted to reduce 100 per cent.

Ruling on Low Bases—If a farmer has a good corn base, but has a hog base which is

GUFFEY ACQUITTAL ENDS MAJOR CASES OF CIRCUIT COURT

Knott Court Term Starts
Monday; Ten Murder
Cases on Docket

MARTIN CASE HEAD

With the acquittal Friday of Robert Guffey, who was placed on trial Thursday for the slaying of Jay Hamilton, former Floyd county patrolman, at Betsy Layne recently, the major trials of the Floyd circuit court for this session were completed.

Guffey claimed that he shot Hamilton in self-defense. The attempted shooting of Guffey by Hamilton a few months ago was an item of testimony. Though the Commonwealth could produce no eyewitnesses, it sought to supply evidence showing that Guffey had threatened Hamilton's life and had asked Hamilton to take a walk with him.

As the present court session drew toward its close, civil cases occupied the waning docket. Case of Ballard Martin vs. the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, a suit alleging damages to have been done to land flooded as a result of improper drainage, was being heard as this was written Tuesday.

Monday, a four-weeks court session starts at Hindman. This is to be a mixed session, the first half to be devoted to the hearing of criminal cases, with the exception of the Hence Hicks case, which is to be investigated by the grand jury which convenes Monday, are on the docket. Circuit Judge John W. Caudill said this week.

GRANT NEW TRIAL FOR UNION HEAD

New trial was granted Tony Compton, former president of the United Mine Workers local at Henry Clay 36 hours after his conviction in the Pike circuit court last week on a charge of banding and confederating.

Mr. Compton was represented by Attorneys Joe P. Tackett and Edward L. Allen, of Prestonsburg. When the case was called, a motion for a change of venue was asked by defense counsel.

Judge Fields, however, overruled the motion and a special panel of jurors was called.

The Commonwealth contended that Compton had instructed a group of miners, following a strike, to go to the tippie of the Edgewater Coal Company mine at Henry Clay. It was contended that Mr. Compton instructed these miners to be armed and the prosecution also alleges that Compton was armed at the time these strikers visited the tippie.

Witnesses for the defense testified that they were at the tippie on the morning of the trouble and stated that Compton was unarmed, told all miners to leave the scene and advised company workers that neither he nor any members of the union wanted any trouble with them.

FLOYD COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION AUDIT REPORT

From July 1, 1930 to June 30, 1934

September 13, 1934
Ballard Hunter, Sup't and Members of the Board of Education of Floyd County, Ky.
Prestonsburg, Ky.
Gentlemen:

Pursuant to an order entered by your board on August 6, 1934, I have made a detailed audit of your records from July 1, 1932, to June 1, 1934,
and made a preliminary report on same to your Board on September 3, 1934; and your further order of September 3rd, instructing me to make a detailed audit of the period July 1, 1930 to June 30, 1932 and combine the two reports.

I submit herewith a complete report combining the two periods with comparative Balance Sheets, statements of the School Fund for the various years and necessary supporting schedules.

Schedule A (Balance Sheets)

The Balance Sheet of June 30, 1930, is taken from the records in your office and is used as a starting point.

Schedule H (Bonded Indebtedness).

Attention is called to the fact that practically no provision is being made for Sinking Funds to take care of these various bond issues.

Schedule I (Warrants (Outstanding)).

I found many of the stubs in the warrant book marked paid but the warrants were still outstanding and I could not find where they had been paid.
I also found three stubs missing entirely and very few of the warrants issued have been authorized directly by the minutes of the Board.

Schedule J (Accounts Payable).

These accounts are (as furnished me by your present superintendent and have not been verified. In this connection there is due your board 12 notes of $200 each, payable annually, commencing in 1934, from the Prestonsburg Board of Education; this does not affect the Balance Sheet of June 30, 1934, as the amount is now included in the cost of buildings.

Schedule K (Checks outstanding).

This schedule really needs no
the teachers' fund which appears to be overdrawn; if practically enough money should be transferred from the general fund to take care of this overdraft.

Schedules L and M (Difference allowed and paid).

This schedule really needs no
explanation and is not set up to question the legality of the claims paid, but the fact remains that these payments should all have been authorized by the board in their minutes.

I believe the balance of the schedules are self-explanatory but particular attention is called to the necessity of having the minutes showing claims allowed correspond exactly with the payrolls and warrants issued.

I certify that, in my opinion,
subject to the above comments, the accompanying balance sheets, statements of school fund and supporting schedules, fairly reflect the financial transactions of the Board for the period named and the condition of the various funds as of June 30, 1934.

Respectfully submitted,
ALFRED D. ROBERTS,
Public Accountant

UNIQUE STUDENT ORGANIZATION OFFERS "BARGAINS IN BRAINS"

Proceeding on the premise that the American public likes to strike a good bargain, a group of students in the College of Commerce, University of Kentucky, organized in October 1931 the Commerce Employment Association, for the purpose of placing their wares, namely, their own talents, assets and abilities, before the business world, with the idea of obtaining jobs.

That was in 1931, when jobs were scarce and young America was leaving college with small chance of securing the bright and shining job which had been his goal since his freshman year. This organization, formed out of a combination of youthful ingenuity and despair, is, as far as is known, the only student maintained organization of its kind in the United States.

The organ of the group, through which the students have "sold" themselves to business, is called "Bargains in Brains," a small pamphlet published annually by students in the College of Commerce, containing the photographs, history, scholastic attainments and qualifications of students in the graduating class.

"Bargains in Brains" was sent to a list of 3,010 business concerns last year, and since its organization in 1931 there are at present only two colleges of Commerce graduates out of jobs. A total of 172 men have been placed in positions since the founding of the organization and only four have failed to come up to expectations, either resigning or failing.

All but three of the students who were graduated Monday, January 28, have already been placed in positions through the work of this student organization and one of these graduates will go with the Bank of Manhattan in New York City. Positions already obtained include practically "54 varieties" of jobs.

Mrs. W. B. Huff, of Louisa, is the guest here of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Goble.

EDITION FEATURES BIG SANDY VALLEY

The winter edition of the Kentucky Progress Magazine is labeled Big Sandy edition and in its pages Kentuckians are guided through one of the most romantic and prosperous regions of the state. The hill-framed valley of the Big Sandy river has not heretofore been the subject of an entire number of the Kentucky Progress Magazine and much of the delightful material offered will come in the nature of a great surprise to Kentuckians who do not fully realize the wealth of natural resources and scenic beauty in that valley.

Two of the contributors to this number are authors of new books that are meeting with popular and artistic success throughout the country. Jesse Stuart, the young Eastern Kentuckian whose book, "Man With a Bull-Tongue Plow," is one of the most important volumes of poetry published this season, contributes an article, "Kentucky Mountain People," which will be read with great interest. Harlan Hatcher, whose book, "Patterns of Wolfpen," is laid near Pikeville, writes of the beauty of that section of the Big Sandy valley.

E. W. Donaldson and J. C. Neekamp write of the industrial development and raw resources. Dr. Willard Rouse Jillson writes of the geologic history. Judge S. S. Willis tells of the campaign of General Garfield in the Big Sandy. Jean Thomas writes of the old arts and crafts that are still practised. E. W. Stowers explains just what and where the "Breaks" are. President Frank McClelland, of Pikeville College, writes of the progress of education in the region.

Never has a number of the magazine been more elaborately illustrated. A dramatic picture of the impressive "Breaks" is used for the cover and throughout there are scores of fascinating pictures

IN THE new Ford V-8, you get the proved V-8 engine—and, in addition, new features that give you a car that meets every 1935 driving need.

A single ride will show you how completely the new Ford V-8 does this.

Wherever you sit in this new car—at the wheel or in the rear—you will enjoy "front seat riding comfort."

It required a major engineering development—the Full-floating Springbase with Comfort Zone Seating—to accomplish this. But the new Ford V-8—all the way through—is a car of major developments.

The new clutch enables you to start and shift gears with hardly noticeable foot pressure. The mechanical brakes, likewise, are new in design—easier to apply, yet stronger, longer-lived, surer-holding.

The car is longer, wider, with more room for passengers and baggage. It is distinguished inside and out—with luxurious upholstery and instrument panel—beautiful streamlining. Everything needed for safety is included—welded all-steel body, low center of gravity, strong axle construction. In addition, Ford provides large, sure-traction tires and safety glass all around at no extra cost.

Whatever you want in a car—comfort, safety, speed, power, size, style, dependability, economy—the Ford V-8 for 1935 gives it to you in full measure. Be sure to see it at your nearest Ford dealer's.

FLOYD BOY AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS IN MARINE RADIO CLASS

Wilburn Miller, of the United States Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller, Betsy Layne, was recently graduated from the radio school of the signal company at Quantico, Va., ahead of schedule and awarded highest honors in the class, it was announced recently at the district office, Municipal Building, Macon, Ga., where he was accepted for service on March 3, 1934.

He was assigned to duty with the marine attachment aboard the cruiser Chester, shortly after graduation, where he will perform the duties of a radio operator. The Chester is now in Pacific waters for the annual fleet maneuvers. Prior to his acceptance he resided with his parents and was graduated from Betsy Layne high school.

RESUME OF FISH, GAME CLUB WORK

Calling recently for renewals of old memberships and inviting enrollment of new members, officials of the Floyd County Fish and Game Club reviewed the work of the club since its organization less than a year ago.

This resume of the year's activities show the following achievements:

Procuring approval of Congressman A. J. May to secure fish from federal hatcheries for re-stocking Johns Creek, Beaver Creek and the Big Sandy river next spring, if the water analysis of these streams is favorable. The club also has the promise of fish from the state hatchery.

A ton of buckwheat sowed as food for game this winter. Planting the buckwheat has created goodwill between the club and farmers and has gone far to preserve game.

Hatching and distribution of pheasants, several of which are full grown. Continuation of the work started, it was predicted, will result in a plentiful supply of pheasants.

Procuring the promise of more quail for re-stocking. One of the aims of the club is to procure some squirrels, rabbits, foxes and raccoons for this purpose. Quail and rabbits are now reported as being fairly plentiful.

Hiring of a game warden who has given game much protection, and who will be retained as long as funds permit and he continues the capable service he has hitherto given.

Club dues are $1 a year. Unless funds are available for the protection of fish and game, neither the federal government nor the state will aid in re-stocking the county's fields and streams, it is pointed out.

CONSTIPATION Can be Helped!

(Use what Doctors do)

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help, it all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara and these are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Your druggist has it, ask for—

Now Relieve Your Cold "Quick as You Caught It"

For Amazingly Fast Results Remember Directions in These Simple Pictures

1. Take a BAYER Aspirin Tablet. Make sure you get the BAYER Tablets you ask for.

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

3. Repeat the treatment in 2 hours. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

The simple method pictured here is the way many doctors now treat colds and the aches and pains colds bring with them!

It is recognized as a safe, sure, QUICK way. For it will relieve an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, be sure that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve (disintegrate) almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle. Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets disintegrate with speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness.

BAYER Aspirin prices have been decisively reduced on all sizes, so there's no point now in accepting other than the real Bayer article you want.

FEEL TIRED, ACHY—"ALL WORN OUT?"

Get Rid of Poisons That Make You Ill

IS a constant backache keeping you miserable? Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; attacks of dizziness, rheumatic pains, swollen feet and ankles? Do you feel tired, nervous—all unstrung?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits poisons to stay in the blood and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They help the kidneys cleanse the blood of health-destroying poisonous waste. Doan's Pills are used and recommended the world over. Get them from any druggist.

Corn-Hog Sign-Up Pushed In State

small because of some abnormal condition existing during one or both of the base years, then he may apply for permission to increase his hog production. He would, of course, receive no hog payments.

Likewise, a farmer with a good hog base finds himself with a small corn base, due to some abnormal condition, may be permitted to increase his corn production. He would receive no corn payments.

This ruling will be of special interest to farmers who are moving from one farm to another, and thereby changing their bases, or who suffered crop losses from drought, or who for some unusual reason were unable to raise many hogs in base years.

Buying Pigs—Contract signers may buy an unlimited number of pigs to feed, stocker and breeding hogs, from both signers and non-contract signers. When buying pigs, the purchaser must keep a record of the date and place of each purchase, the number of pigs bought, the average weight at the time of purchase and method used in distinguishing feeder pigs from pigs farrowed on the farm, and the name and address of the seller or person who delivered the pigs.

No adjustment payment will be made to corn-hog contract signers on feeder pigs they have purchased, but the farmer who actually produced the pigs may be entitled to payments if he qualifies and signs a 1935 contract.

Small Production Exempt—In the 1935 corn-hog contract, as in last year's contract, a farmer who grew less than an average of 10 acres of corn for grain in the base years, 1932 and 1933, can plant the same acreage of corn in 1935 that he planted in the base years, if he wishes to receive hog payments.

THE NARRATIVE

CHAPTER I.—David Ransdell, approaching New York on the liner Europa, receives a succession of radiograms offering him $1,000, finally $20,000, for an exclusive newspaper interview divulging the mission that brings him from South Africa. Ransdell, noted aviator, has been secretly commissioned at Capetown by Lord Rhondin and Professor Bronson, the astronomer, to fly across the Mediterranean to the fast liner, with a large traveling case containing photographic plates. His instructions are to deliver them to Dr. Cole Hendron, in New York. Tony Drake calls at the Hendron apartment. Ransdell arrives and Eve Hendron, with whom Tony is deeply in love, introduces Tony to Ransdell.

CHAPTER II.—New York newspapers publish a statement made by Hendron and concurred in by sixty of the world's greatest scientists. The prepared statement says that Professor Bronson has discovered two planets, which must have broken away from another star or sun and traveled through interstellar space for an incalculable time, until they came to a region of the heavens which brought them at last under the attraction of the sun. The statement ends: "Their previous course, consequently, has been modified by the sun, and as a result, they are now approaching us." "The result of the inevitable collision must be the end of the earth. The approaching bodies are referred to as Bronson Alpha and Bronson Beta, the latter being the smaller—about the size of the earth."

CHAPTER III.—"It's going to be doomsday, isn't it?" Tony Drake asks Eve. "No, Tony—more than doomsday. Even after doomsday," she tells him. She explains that the first time the Bronson bodies approach the earth they will not hit it, but the second time, one, Bronson Beta, will pass, and the other will hit the earth and demolish it. To avert means of transferring to Bronson Beta, so much like the earth, is what is occupying the minds of the members of the League of the Last Days.

CHAPTER IV.—Hendron tells Tony he is to be a member of the selected crew of the projected Space Ship which Hendron plans to build, with the idea of landing on Bronson Beta, and the scientist advises him to gain a knowledge of agriculture and proficiency in manual arts and elementary mechanics. Tony rounds up suitable men and women to build the ship at a cantonment Hendron established in northern Michigan.

CHAPTER V

Brighter and brighter, and higher and higher, each night the strange stars stood in the southern skies. Indeed, one ceased to resemble a star at all and appeared, instead, as a small full moon which grew balefully each night; and now the other also showed a disc even to the naked eye.

Each night, also, they altered position slightly, relatively to each other. For the gravitational control of the larger—Bronson Alpha—swung the smaller, Bronson Beta, about it in an orbit like that of the moon about the earth.

Their plain approach paralyzed enterprise on the earth. Throughout the civilized world two professions above all others adhered most universally to their calling: day and night, in the face of famine, blood, fire, disaster and every conceivable form of human anguish, doctors and surgeons clung steadfast to their high calling; and day and night amid the weltering change of conditions and in the glut of fabulous alarms and reports, the men who gathered news and printed it, labored to fulfill their purposes.

Tony saw more of the world's activities than most of its citizens at this time. He had scarcely returned from his first tour of the eastern cities when he was sent out again, this time to the Middle and Far West. That journey was arduous because of the increasing difficulties of travel. The railroads were moving the Pacific and the Atlantic civilizations inland, and passenger trains ran on uneasy schedules. He saw the vast accumulation of freight in the mid-western depots. He saw the horizon-filling settlements being prepared. He saw the breath-taking reaches of prairie which had been put under cultivation to feed the new horde in the high flat country north and west of Kansas.

Along the Pacific coast he observed the preparations being made for the withdrawal from the western ocean. Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, were digging up their roots. Millionaires drove eastward in great limousines with their most priceless treasures heaped around them.

Tony's work was varied. He continued to send back by ones and twos those scientists whose counsel Hendron desired, and the flower of the young men and women who might be useful in the event of a great cataclysm.

Hendron's own ideas were still uncrystallized; he felt with increasing intensity the need for gathering together the best brains, the healthiest bodies and the stanchest hearts that could be found. He had a variety of plans. He had founded two stations in the United States and was in the process of equipping them for all emergencies. Under the best conditions, the personality of his group might divide into two parts and move to those stations, there to remain until the first crisis passed so that afterward they could emerge as leaders in the final effort against doom.

Under the pressure of the impending destruction, his scientists had pushed their experiments in obtaining power from atomic disintegration to a point where the power of the atom could be utilized, within limits, as a propulsive force.

Hendron had thereupon succeeded in bombarding the surface of the moon with a projectile that was, in its essentials, a small rocket. He had settled the problems of hull composition, insulation and aeration, which would arise in such a vessel, if made in a size to be occupied by men. He had devised rockets which could be directed. He had constructed a rocket with vents at both ends so that a discharge in the opposite direction would break its fall. Several such rockets he actually dispatched under remote control, hurdling many miles into the air, turning, descending part way under full force of their stern "engines," and checking their fall by forward discharges at the end of their flight, so that their actual landing had not destroyed even the delicate instruments they contained.

The chief problem that remained unsolved was a metal sufficiently resistant to the awful force Hendron employed. Even the experimental rockets often failed in their flight because the heat generated by the atomic combustion within them melted and blew away the walls intended to retain it. So, at the Hendron laboratories, the world's metallurgists concentrated their forces upon finding an alloy capable of withstanding the temperatures and pressures involved in employing atomic energy as a driving force.

Tony visited both of Hendron's stations. One was in Michigan and one in New Mexico. He brought back reports on the progress being made there in the construction of laboratories, machine shops and dormitories.

He found Hendron sleepless and icily calm in the midst of his multitudinous enterprises.

But Eve showed the strain more than her father, and during the first evening, when they spent together, she expressed her fear: "Father's greatest hope was that his ship would be successful. There is more information than has been given out about the Bronson bodies. We admit that they will come very close. Terribly close. We do not admit yet precisely how close."

"They were standing together on the balcony overlooking the brightly lighted and still noisy city. Their arms were locked together in defiance of their oath to the league."

"He'll succeed," Tony said. "He has succeeded, except that every rocket he builds is limited in the distance it can fly and the power it can use by the fact that its propulsive tubes melt. There isn't a metal nor an alloy in the world that will withstand that heat."

Tony did not answer. After a long silence she spoke again. "It's an awful thing, Tony. Look down there. Look down on the city. Think of the people. Look at the lights, and then imagine water, mountains of it. Water that would reach to here!"

Tony held her arm more tightly. "Don't torture yourself, Eve."

"I can't help it. Oh, Tony, just think of it!"

"Well, that's the way things have to be, Eve." He could not say any more. When Tony went down, the street was still filled with people. All the people were talking. They walked, but it did not seem to matter to them what direction they took or what chance company they shared.

The strange small moon, growing larger each night, shone palely in the sky.

Tony hailed a cab. His eyes settled on his shoes when he sat down. Into every thought darted the face of Eve as he had last seen it—a face growing hourly more haggard. He remembered the downcasting of her eyes.

When Tony arrived at his apartment he called a number in Greenwich, Connecticut, waited an abnormally long time, then asked a maid for Mrs. Drake. His voice was warm and calm. "Well, Mother, how are you?"

His mother's reply was controlled, but nerves stabbed through every word she said. "Tony, darling! I've tried and tried to reach you. Oh! I'm just an inch short of fainting. I thought something had happened to you."

"Sorry, Mother, I've been busy."

"I know. Come right out and tell me all about it."

"I can't."

There was a pause. "You can't put it in words?"

"No."

There was another long pause. Mrs. Drake's voice was lower, more tremulous—and yet it was not the voice of a hysterical or an unreasoning woman. "Tell me, Tony, how bad is it going to be?"

How could he tell her that for her, there was annihilation, but for himself some chance of escape? She would wish it for him, whatever happened to herself; but he could not accept it. A berth in the Space Ship, leaving her here! Leaving her millions of mothers—and children, too!

But probably no one at all would be saved, Tony recollected almost with relief. Work on the Space Ship, in recent days, was not really advancing. They were held up from lack of a material to withstand the power that science now could loose from the atom. The idea of escape was probably only a fancy, anyway. So, thinking, Tony ended his talk, and put up the receiver.

Taxicabs had been sent for Tony and his party. They made their way immediately downtown to the big building which housed the Hendron laboratories. The cab had covered a few blocks when Tony realized that throughout its length and breadth Manhattan had been depopulated. Here and there a lone figure was visible—usually a figure in the uniform of a policeman or a soldier. Once he thought he caught sight of a man skulking in the shadows of a doorway. But he was not sure. And there were no women, no children.

After the sun had set, it was easy to appreciate why the last recalcitrant thousands of New York's populace had departed. The Bronson Bodies, on this night, rose in frightful majesty: a sphere of lustrous white larger than the moon, and a second sphere much smaller, but equally brilliant. Their awesome illumination flooded the city, rendered superfluous the street lights which, however, remained stubbornly burning.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

Don't Jump Out of Bed in the Morning 'Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of water, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent substitute. 25-cent drug stores. ©1931 C.M. Co.

Final Games Have Net Fans Guessing

(Continued from page 1) ally rounded into top form? Garrett and Lackey also are both reported as having lost to Betsy Layne recently. The figures are not at hand, but, if they did lose as reported, Prestonsburg's six-point victory over the Bobcats brings the Blackcats' tournament stock up a point or so.

In addition to this victory, the Blackcats toyed with the Paintsville Tigers here Saturday night, winning their second game of the season with the Tigers as easily as the Man on the Flying Trapeze is widely reported to have performed. Then, to cap the climax, Martin turned the tables on the Elkhorn City five, trouncing the Pike countians by a decisive score and evening the series with that team for the season.

After all scores are compared and mulled over, however, the two neighbors, Martin and Maytown, remain pre-tournament favorites. Will there be an upset? Well, play starts Thursday at Garrett. Saturday night, the tournament ends and then the second-guessers will have their inning.

And after that—the regional tournament here March 7, 8 and 9, with the best teams of each district in this section vying for the right to go to Lexington for the state tournament.

SUDDEN ATTACK FATAL TO JOHN PEZZAROSI

John Pezzarossi, well-known Lackey man, died Friday within a few minutes after suffering a heart attack or paralytic stroke. He was about 75 years old.

Mr. Pezzarossi, a native of Italy, came to America years ago and for a time resided in Tennessee, where he engaged in mining. Several years ago, he purchased a rough strip of hillside land below Lackey, and by sheer perseverance and unflagging industry converted what had been a rock cliff into a terraced garden spot.

He is survived by his widow and several children. The body was taken to Jellico, Tenn., for burial.

RELIEF GARDEN PLANS ARE WELL UNDER WAY

Plans are well under way by Dr. E. E. Pittman, (KERA garden director, for the raising of cabbage, tomato and other plants for subsistence gardens to be planted by relief clients this spring, it is announced.

County garden supervisors have been appointed in all counties and are now engaged in securing the necessary ground for plant beds. Garden supervisors are to receive the required seeds within the next 10 days, together with other necessary materials.

Dr. Pittman said the 1935 garden program was mapped out to include only those persons actually upon relief rolls in the state. Heretofore, he said, the program had been more expensive and seeds had been furnished to numerous border line cases. On the basis of seed for relief clients only, Dr. Pittman said, there will be approximately 108,000 relief relief gardens in Kentucky in 1935.

Those composing the board are: Lawrence Roberts, Mud Creek; Dick Clark, Prestonsburg and Johns Creek; W. M. Terry, Lackey, and T. Y. Martin, Prestonsburg and Banner. The board is being assisted by Tax Commissioner W. T. Hatther and son Thomas, George Pow and Jack Sellards. German Vance is clerk for the board.

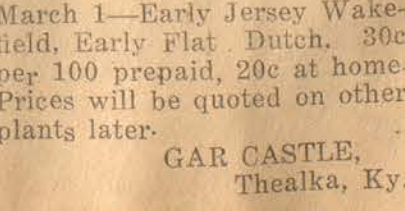

PLAN INCREASED TAX LEVY FOR PURCHASE OF FIRE EQUIPMENT

Martin, Ky., Feb. 25 (Spl.)—A tax increase on property here is proposed to raise funds for the purchase of firefighting equipment, and proponents of the plan argue that reduction in insurance rates to be gained thereby will save property-owners money. The equipment which the town plans to buy would supply Martin with one of the best owned by any small town in the state.
