9 DEAD IN VAN LEAR MINE BLAST

DISTRICT OFFICES WILL DIRECT WORK UNDER PWA SETUP

Area and Local Offices To Be Eliminated Under WPA

PLANS OUTLINED

It is expected the county and area offices of the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration will be closed within a period of 90 days when the entire setup is expected to give way to the new Works Progress Administration with district offices at Madisonville, Danville, London, Paintsville, Lexington and Louisville.

From 60 to 90 employees, selected mostly from the personnel of the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration, will be used in carrying on the work of the Works Progress Administration in each of the six districts. Each district will be in charge of a director, responsible to state headquarters.

Work of transferring worthwhile projects from the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration to the Works Progress Administration began several days ago and is progressing in proportion to the energy of various local governmental units throughout the state.

All projects must be sponsored by local governmental units, likewise, they must be of a highly constructive and permanent nature. Wherein it is possible the sponsor must assist in financing the project. Ability of the sponsor to finance is to be gauged solely upon a sworn statement of financial condition.

Federal funds for direct relief and other activities of the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration are nearing an end. Consequently, sponsors of projects who are slow in getting them in may find the bulk of the present employable relief load in a given locality on their own shoulders.

The government, under P. W. A., will offer employment to workables and no more. A fair "Security Wage" will be paid and local governmental units will be required to care for non-workables and indigents.

DRIFT WINS OVER PRESTONSBURG, 3-0

Prestonsburg athletes Sunday tried the big switch from softball to regular, old-fashioned baseball. And they found the ball and game both harder and the score against them.

Drift defeated Prestonsburg, 3 to 0, in a well-played game. Adrian Collins twirled excellent ball for P'burg, though the extent of his pitching till Sunday consisted of the underslung method of delivering a soft ball. Drift played fine defensive ball throughout. Dickerson's outfield play was a feature of Prestonsburg's game.

"That baseball Sunday looked like a pee-jib and the reg-wagon tongue after we had ular baseball bat felt like a played only soft ball this season," one local player said.

Misses Dora and Naomi Goble returned last week from Richmond, where they have been attending summer school.

TWO BOLDMEN MEN ARE ARRESTED FOR DYNAMITING FISH

Two Boldman were taken into custody recently and are charged with the dynamiting of fish near Boldman.

The men, Ed Daniels and Lonnie Goodman, were arrested by Game Warden Lawrence Branham on warrants secured after an investigation of the dynamiting the previous day. Branham went to Boldman to make the arrests, but was told there that the men had been informed of the warrants and had started hitch-hiking to Jenkins. He later found them in Pikeville.

felony in Kentucky and carrying dynamiting of fish is now a ries a penitentiary penalty.

CONVICT, WITNESS IN MURDER CASE, TELLS DEATH PLOT

Conley's Story of Hicks Slaying Resulted in Life Term for Bolen

TEACHER INDICTED

Estill Conley, 22 years old, who was convicted and given a life sentence at a past term of the Knott circuit court in the murder and robbery of Hence Hicks, aged Knott county farmer, Saturday threw bombshell into the defense of his accomplice, Elisha Bolen, 19, when called as a witness in the trial of Bolen for the crime.

Conley told what is purported to be the full story of the aged farmer's assassination, naming Bolen as the man who fired a rifle bullet into the farmer's head. Bolen, too, was given a life penitentiary term. Circuit Judge John W. Caudill passed sentence on the two Wednesday.

Bolen suggested that the two take a .22-calibre rifle across the hill to the Hicks farm on Ball Fork and trade it to Hicks, Conley said. When they saw the aged man at work, Bolen said, Conley's story continued, "Let's kill the old and take his money."

Thereupon Bolen from behind a large rock nearby fired a bullet through Hicks' head, ran to the body, removed Hicks' money and gave Conley $43, the confession stated.

It was said that the fact that had not Conley, whom the jury held to be equally guilty, already been given a penitentiary sentence, both would have been condemned to death. Two jurors held out for the chair.

Seland Cook, veteran Floyd county teacher, was indicted this week by the Knott grand jury, charged with murder in the slaying from ambush of Bill Cook recently. Three witnesses told the grand jury. The Times learned, that the accused man had tried to hire a resident of his community to kill Cook. The teacher's son already had been indicted for the murder of Cook, and both are held in jail without bond. Their trial, jointly, has been docketed for July 24.

Barksdale Cook, a son of Bill Cook, was convicted in circuit court here two years ago for the slaying of Ralph Cook, Seland's son. Seland himself was seriously wounded when his son was killed.

MINER SUFFERS SKULL FRACTURE TO SPONSOR FAIR FOR THIS SECTION

In Fight at Drift Saturday; Fraley Jailed Here Monday

Warnie Moseley, Drift miner, is in the Beaver Valley hospital where he is believed to have little or no chance of recovery from the effects of a crushed skull suffered Saturday afternoon in a fight at the Drift railway station with Robert Fraley, a fellow-workman.

Fraley is in jail here awaiting examining trial. He also was battered about the head, and his injuries are said to have been inflicted by a son of Moseley. Fraley was arrested Monday at the home of a relative at Winchester, near here, by Sheriff M. T. Stumbo and Deputy Sheriff W. A. Wills.

According to the report received here, the fight followed an argument between the two men over a check. One report says Moseley accused Fraley of giving him a bad check; another, that Fraley accused Moseley of signing the name of Moseley's brother, former secretary of the Drift United Mine Workers' Local to a check. Fraley swung a heavy piece of steel against Moseley's head, badly crushing the skull. Fraley was struck over his eye by a piece of "bone."

Moseley is a son of the Rev. Thomas Moseley, veteran Baptist minister, and is about 40 years old. He is married and has five children. Fraley is about 30 years old.

NOTED ARCTIC EXPLORER SPEAKER AT MOREHEAD

Morehead, Ky., July 9—Vilhjalmur Steffansson, celebrated explorer, delivered a series of 10 lectures at the Morehead State Teachers' College last week. He expounded many of the common theories in regard to the temperature, animal life and the Eskimos of the Northern region. He stated that the Arctic teemed with animals and plants of all kinds and that the temperature was milder than that of Northern Canada.

Miss Zena Dare Daniels and Fletcher Combs spent Thursday in Huntington.

BEREA COLLEGE PRESIDENT SPEAKER SUNDAY AT ALLEN

Re-union of Floyd county students, alumni and friends of Berea College at the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club, near Allen, Sunday afternoon was marked by the appearance of Dr. William J. Hutchins, famed president of the college.

In a brief address Dr. Hutchins told of the work of the college, of the opportunities it offers youth, and of his dreams of even greater service. "Berea College," Dr. Hutchins said, "seeks to instill in its students the teachings and principles which will enable them, whether rich or poor, to have a fuller, richer view of life and to live and enjoy life more deeply."

Approximately 25 Berea students were among those attending the meeting. Dr.

Floyd County Invited to Participate in Eastern Kentucky Exhibit

The Paintsville Kiwanis Club recently voted to sponsor an Eastern Kentucky Fair in Paintsville this fall. Tentative plans are under way and a committee has been named to take charge of the details. Members of the Johnson County Post, American Legion, and the Paintsville Rotary Club will participate in the project.

At a recent meeting of agricultural agents from Floyd, Pike, Magoffin, Lawrence, Morgan and Johnson counties, plans for the fair were discussed. All the agents present expressed themselves in favor of the plan and promised their support.

The exact date for the fair will be decided as soon as information concerning dates for other fairs can be learned. It is thought that the Eastern Kentucky Fair will be some time during the last half of September.

The Kiwanis Club will give away a car during the week and it is planned to raise a part of the funds through this method. All 4-H clubs will be invited to participate in the event and it is also planned to have them assist in the sale of tickets.

A wide list of prizes will be offered and it is on the program to offer free entertainment during the entire six days that the fair will be held. Fireworks and free acts will be presented by the fair committee.

Exhibits from 10 counties in Eastern Kentucky will be invited. These counties are Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, Pike, Lawrence, Morgan, Knott, Menifee and Elliott.

Mrs. J. D. Thomas is in Louisville, where she is visiting Miss Mary Sanders, who is recovering from a recent illness.

Jailer B. L. Sturgill and Circuit Clerk Troy B. Sturgill have returned from Frankfort, where they went Tuesday on business.

COMMENCEMENT FOR BIBLE SCHOOL FRIDAY ENDING 2-WEEK COURSE

Vacation Bible School students, coming out of two weeks' of study in the Christian cooperative school, will Friday morning show their wares, get their certificates and join parents and friends in a closing hour of worship.

The commencement exercises will be held in the high school auditorium at 10:30 o'clock. All parents and interested friends are invited to the assembly, in order they may see something of what the children have learned and done during the session.

Average daily attendance at the school stood at 93 Wednesday, the eighth day. Juniors led, with an average mark of 34; primaries and intermediates ran 25 to the day; and beginners came for an average of nine. Unhappily, average daily attendance has run far under enrollment.

TO SEEK PAVING PROJECTS HERE, GROUP INFORMED

Minimum Cost To Property Owners Seen by Mayor in Outlining Plan

MEETING HELD

A plan whereby all unsurfaced streets of Prestonsburg may be paved at a minimum cost to property-owners was unfolded by Mayor A. C. Carter at a meeting of citizens in the garage of the Mayor here Friday afternoon.

According to available information, paving of streets may be procured from the Works Progress Administration at an outlay to citizens of only costs of engineering and supervision. Citizens representing seven unpaved streets here attended the meeting and assured Mayor Carter they were ready to bear the costs necessary to obtaining these projects which are calculated to render Prestonsburg the greatest service ever obtained by the town in any one year.

R. E. Thomas has been named by Mayor Carter to work up specifications for the various projects. Some of these were forwarded to the WPA headquarters Monday, and Mr. Thomas promised that the others would be submitted this week. Employment may be furnished more than 175 men.

It was said this week that present plans provide for starting all seven projects simultaneously, not leaving one or more projects idle and subject to never being completed while work goes ahead on others. Where sewers have not been laid, it is possible that sewage work will be done.

CONN-CLARK NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED TUESDAY

Marriage of Miss Nora Conn and Mr. Bob Clark was solemnized at the home here of W. W. Hamilton on Tuesday, July 16, the Rev. Robert A. Potter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiating.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Melvin Conn, of Printer. Mr. Clark is a son of John Clark, of Pikeville. Both have been employes of the Pikeville relief office, and are well-known in this section.

RESCUERS' EFFORTS TO SAVE ENTOMBED MINERS ARE FUTILE

Cause of Disaster, Worst in Eastern Kentucky Mining History, Not Stated

TWO ESCAPE

Thursday morning saw nine men, all dead, removed from No. 5 mine of the Consolidation Coal Company, Van Lear, in which they were trapped by an explosion at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

They died in the worst mine disaster in the history of Eastern Kentucky coal mining. Cause of the explosion had not been definitely placed Wednesday night, and a statement was unavailable at that time from mine officials.

The dead: William Kretzer, 42, and Chas. Kretzer, 50, brothers; James Vaughan, 40; Frank Tutzy, 45; Hantes Gould, 60; Deerwood Litz, 28; Roy Murray, 38; Virgil Clay, 23; Shirlev Hereford, 35.

With two out of the 11 men inside the mine escaping and taking to the outside the story of their nine fellow-workers being imprisoned two miles back under the mountain, company officials immediately began a relentless drive to rescue the men. Rescue squads from Jenkins and other mine camps throughout this section hurried to the scene to join rescue workers at the Van Lear mines in attempting to reach the doomed men.

Tons of rock formed an impenetrable barrier to freedom for the imprisoned men, and this barrier was negotiated, foot by foot, by would-be rescuers equipped with oxygen tanks. As early as Wednesday afternoon, it was conceded that little less than a miracle could save the men.

As Wednesday night dragged on, several hundred persons gathered near the mine in which the men were entombed. On through the night they remained, a strangely quiet, tragic group in the orderly bustle of activity connected with rescue work. A little group of relatives huddled against the wire cable stretched across the area surrounding the mine opening to keep back the crowd. The death watch they kept in dry-eyed silence, their gaze fixed upon the mine mouth from which they hoped against hope to see their husbands, fathers or brothers emerge alive.

All nine of the victims were married, Clay a groom of only a few months. The others left widows and children. All had worked at Van Lear for several years. The mine hitherto, had been singularly free from accidents.

Had the mine been running Wednesday, it is possible that scores would have died in the explosion. From 350 to 400 men work in the mine, which is one of the largest in this section.

Bodies of the victims were being taken Thursday morning to Paintsville, where they were prepared for burial. Franklin Moore, undertaker, connected here with E. P. Arnold, was called to Paintsville to assist in the care of the bodies.

The two who escaped were Anse Wilson, 55-year-old water purifier and Police Judge

WE HAVE HOPE

If the street-paving plan Mayor A. C. Caster outlined Friday at Prestonsburg citizens works out as planned, an improvement such as Prestonsburg never before has witnessed will result. That does not exclude the paving of the Mayo Trail through Prestonsburg last year, or the paving of the main streets years ago.

This statement is made in consideration of the low outlay to which property-owners will be subjected in receiving these benefits, and also the urgent need for paved streets and sewers in various parts of Prestonsburg.

As long as these streets remain unpaved, some of them without sewers, Highland the upper part of a cataract pouring down on the remainder of the town on the occasion of every rainstorm, property-owners in these sections of town cannot but feel that they have been neglected and are living under conditions with which they should not be afflicted. The town has no money with which to effect improvements. Therefore—now is the time to get this work done.

If work is begun simultaneously, as promised, on these streets, none given preference, all treated impartially and for the common good, the town may expect improvement. Otherwise, we will have the time-worn, disgusting spectacle of a few influential citizens on one street receiving "the cream of the crop" and the others begging for crumbs.

FLOYD COUNTIANS IN GREENUP

Jesse Stuart, Greenup countian who rose to fame almost overnight with his volume of poetry, "The Man with the Bull-Tongue Plow," wrote recently in The Greenup News:

It is interesting to note the counties that Greenup county officials are from: Joe Bates, County Court Clerk, Knott; J. R. Shepherd, County Judge, Floyd county; J. B. Setser, Circuit Court Clerk, Floyd County; Fred Maynard, Superintendent of Schools, Pike county; Woots Allen, Jailor, Floyd county; Mrs. Mary Scott, Representative, Carter, county; Jake Fisher, Sheriff, Greenup; Green Howard, Deputy Sheriff, Magoffin; Clabe Baker, Tax Assessor, Greenup; Lovel H. Liles, Prosecuting Attorney, Lewis; Harve Baker, Circuit Judge, Lewis; Fiscal Court members: Jake Coburn, Floyd; L. B. Wells, Floyd; Lonnie Fannin, Lawrence. Let's give it to Floyd county. They Win! Oh, yes, Miles "Mutt" Conley, Head O' Beaver, Floyd county.

Six native Floyd men now officials of a county other than their own.

Why have these Floyd countians achieved this unusual prominence in another county? It is interesting to ponder probable answers to this question. What would have been their lot, had they remained here? Would they have been given a chance by the vote of their home people? Would some of the group failed of attaining the status of even an ordinary citizen, had they remained in their original environment?

Whatever the answers to these questions, these men have so conducted themselves as to redound to themselves and their native county highest credit. The Times congratulates each of them.

ROADS IF WE WILL HAVE THEM

Roads are in the making—if we will have them.

Not dirt roads but rock-surfaced highways, traversable the year round.

All depends, officials say, upon the willingness of land-owners along these routes to give the right-of-way necessary to road construction. The county, members of the fiscal court have told The Times, cannot buy right-of-way; it is the business, then of the landholders, the court holds.

But it is a sad business when an entire community is denied a good road because of one property-owner's refusal to give right-of-way. The Works Progress Administration will furnish labor and materials; the county is required only to furnish supervision and right-of-way. And, since the land-owners must supply the right-of-way, that leaves the county providing only supervision.

It is true that no community, in dire need of a good road, deserves such an improvement unless its citizens are willing to co-operate; but the fault of one man, or even two is not the fault of the entire community.

In view of this, it seems reasonable to hold that the fiscal court should stretch a point and help out when only a matter of a few yards of right-of-way form an impassable barrier between the people and a year-round highway. To us, it would seem that the fiscal court's investment in behalf of the citizens of a few hundred dollars of right-of-way in return for the $30,000 or more spent on a single project would be good business.

THE SAME COUNTRY

By ROBERT V. FLEMING
Vice President, American Bankers Association

There is a growing appreciation, both on the part of the people and the Government, of the earnest and sincere efforts being made by bankers to aid in recovery. It is desirable that we miss no opportunity to foster public understanding of the bankers' problems. We are living in an age of complex and upset economic conditions. Our affairs are closely inter-related not only within the confines of our own borders but extend to other countries throughout the world.

R. V. FLEMING

The Greatest Difficulty

I think the greatest difficulty we have to overcome in America today is due to our impatience with the progress we are making towards recovery. We must realize that while the Government can help by directing some measures for relief and recovery, we must help ourselves by doing our share to give impetus to the Government's efforts. We have the same country and basically the same businesses, factories and people we had prior to the depression, and business initiative must step forward if real recovery is to be achieved.

The theory we often hear expressed that banks create business activity is wrong. Banking can only make a supplementary contribution to business activity. Bankers have the facilities and the desire to extend credit, but business must initiate activity by seeking the credit which is readily available to all worthy borrowers.

Let it be said for business, however, that business men are as eager as bankers to contribute towards recovery. I think some of the trouble lies in the fact that too many legislative measures have been proposed for reform which leave an uncertainty in the minds of business leaders as to their eventual outcome and effect. Consequently, they hesitate to expand until the probable effects of such legislation are known.

MAKING IT HARDER FOR BANK ROBBERS

Mechanical Devices That Impede the Work of Bandits Described by Bankers Association Official.

The impediments which the hard working bank robber now meets in plying his trade among small as well as large banks are described by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager American Bankers Association in charge of its Protective Department, in an article in "Banking" published by his organization.

"Protective equipment will minimize if not prevent loss," Mr. Baum says, "such as the silent automatic type of alarm, approved tear gas systems, several styles of handit resisting enclosures and timelocks, or safes equipped with timelocks, which can be set for intervals of a few minutes.

"The silent automatic alarms operate in the beginning of a holdup and through actions carried out by the bank employees in obedience to the bandit's own commands. They are adaptable to the smaller banks which continue to be easiest targets for bank robbery.

Tear Gas Systems

"Tear gas systems have their advantages as self-contained protective units where outside aid is inconvenient or too remote from the bank to be effective. One objection to the use of tear gas in preventing holdup is the need of pressing a lever or button to discharge it. Although this necessary action seems too much to expect of the victims in a crisis where their lives are in jeopardy, the fact remains that tear gas systems have defeated bank robbery. Its deterrent value is also important.

"Different styles of handit resisting enclosures are available. The lock manufacturers also produce timelocks which can be set to open at intervals of five minutes or longer. These locks are especially adapted for attachment to small safes or chests for safeguarding surplus funds while the bank is open for business."

Stock of Central Banks Usually Privately Owned

Of all the central banks at present existing there are only four whose stock is owned by the government. The newest central bank is that of Canada, which opened its doors only a few months ago after a most exhaustive study had been made of the experience of all nations with the result that the stock of the Bank of Canada is privately owned.

Agriculture and Industry

Returns for the first quarter of 1935 for industrial corporations publishing quarterly reports show net profits 21 per cent more than for the same in 1934. The total farm value of all important crops, exclusive of livestock, rose in 1934 to $4,782,423,000, as compared with $4,114,265,000 in the previous year and $2,882,195,000 in 1932.

BIG SANDY COAL RATE IS ATTACKED

Court Asked to Enjoin Enforcement of ICC Decision

A three-judge federal court was asked Tuesday to enjoin the interstate Commerce Commission from enforcing an order fixing the Big Sandy freight rate at the same level as in the Logan, W. Va., area on coal intended for transshipment by river.

The present rate from the Big Sandy to Catlettsburg is 87 cents and from Logan to Huntington 78 cents.

Counsel for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, which asked the injunction, argued that a lower rate in the Logan section was established because much of the coal handled by river from Huntington was delivered direct to the tipples and that in the Big Sandy the coal had to be shifted and handled more often because there were no tipples at Catlettsburg.

The commission order was handed down on the petition of the Northeast Kentucky Coal Bureau, which asserted the existing difference caused "tremendous losses" to Big Sandy operators.

KNOTT COUNTY MAN IS GRANTED PARDON

Frankfort, Ky., July 15—Governor Ruby Laffoon today remitted the state's portion of a $450 fine and pardoned a 120-day jail sentence given Ervin Coburn in Knott county in March, 1932.

The Governor said clemency was asked for Coburn by County Judge E. M. Moore and Commonwealth's Attorney C. P. Stephens.

OPPENHEIMER SELLS STORE HERE TO J. H. PATTON LAST WEEK

Chas. Oppenheimer and Son last week sold their store here to J. H. Patton, who Friday assumed charge of the business.

Amount involved in the transaction was not revealed. Oppenheimer and Son is one of Prestonsburg's oldest mercantile firms. Mr. Patton formerly was connected with the Midland Store here.

BAILEY P. WOOTON IN ADDRESS HERE

Attorney General Baley P. Wooton addressed the voters here Friday afternoon in behalf of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Mr. Wooton emphasized the alleged extravagance of the present state administration, and promised, if elected, strict economy in the conduct of the state's business. A resident of Hazard, Mr. Wooton made a strong appeal for the votes of the mountain section.

The speaker was introduced by Douglas Hays, of McDowell.

Greatness and Humility

I believe that the first test of a truly great man is his humility. I do not mean by humility doubt of his own power, hesitation of speaking his opinions, but a right understanding of the relation of what he can do and say to the rest of the world's doings and sayings.—Charles Spurgeon.

Helps to Better Faith

Every noble act of devotion to truth, every pure life unstained with evil, every word of pity, every instance of forgiving goodness, helps us to a better faith in that divine and eternal goodness which has no variableness or shadow of turning.—Dr. J. F. Clarke.

Try It Yourself

Whatever may be said of the philosophy of Coleridge, his proof of the truth of Christianity was most simple and conclusive. It consisted in the words, "Try it for yourself."

PUROL TEAM WINS FIRST-HALF TITLE

The Purol team won the race for the first-half championship of the local softball league, going away and under wraps.

Despite a startling 4-2 upset at the hands of the Warfield team Friday afternoon, the Purol outfit finished first without being pressed. The Modern Drug team evidently will hold second honors. There are but two or three games yet to be played before the second championship lap begins.

Sunday was a field day for the "Big Warfield" team at the new Warfield diamond at Winchester, near here, three games being won by this organization, with only three runs being scored against them during the day. Rose, regular Purol pitcher, twirled the morning game, which was won 5-1 by the "Big Warfielders" over the Warfield team of the Prestonsburg softball league. Sandige pitched for the Prestonsburg team. In the afternoon, Rose came back to twirl Warfield to a 4-2 triumph over the Burton Explosives, which was represented on the mound by Leslie.

A fast game of softball is being played here, as was evidenced recently by a 9 to 6 victory for the Prestonsburg All-Stars over the Huntington Purol team, champions of Cabell county, W. Va.

The Ashland Daily Independent recently was in error, scorebook of the local Warfield team shows, when that paper stated that the Ashland Warfield team defeated the local company team, 4 to 3. The score, this record shows, should have read: Prestons-7 19 tf burg 4; Ashland, 3. And in The Independent it was not told that in a second game on the same day Prestonsburg won, 10 to 3.

The same thing, "only worse," happened to the Charleston team here July 7 when it lost to Warfield, 13 to 0. Warfield will go to Ashland and Charleston for rethny games soon. Warfield, to date, has won 12 and lost 4.

WAYLAND TWIRLER PITCHES SHUTOUT

Delbarton, W. Va., July 16—Cecil "Flint" Johnson, Wayland, Ky., southpaw, Blanked Williamson with four hits here Sunday in a baseball game witnessed by 3,000.

With a handpicked team behind him which clouted 17 hits and scored 8 runs, Johnson coasted to victory.

Freddy Hensley's home run featured the winning attack. He is regarded as one of the best prospects in these parts. A shortstop, Freddy stands close to 6 feet and weight 175 pounds.

The Favor of Other Men Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow low skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you. But don't take salts, mineral waters, pills, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Sometimes you'll help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 24¢ at drug stores. Refuse "something just as good", for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. ©1935, C.M. Co.

Those on trial today are Pharaoh Johnson, president of the P. W. Johnson Construction Company; William Dow Johnson, and Orville E. Setters, Ashland. They are alleged to have used fraudulent methods in obtaining the $189,900 contract for the new postoffice at Portsmouth, O., when they undertook the Roche, Connell and Lamb Construction Company, of Cincinnati, by $2,840.

The entire morning was taken up in the selection of the jury and the statement of the case by attorneys. Only three witnesses had been heard this afternoon when court was adjourned.

Harold Kelly, Washington, chief clerk of the Mailing Department, Bureau of Procurement, Department of Construction, testified that the Johnsons bid on the postoffice was not received until several days after November 30, 1934, the deadline for opening the bids, testified that the Johnson bid was not present when the time came for opening the bids. He was on the stand when court adjourned.

Ben Williamson, Ashland, former United States Senator, a character witness for the defendants, was allowed to testify out of turn. All jurors not acting in the case now on trial were excused by Judge Ford until September 3, when the Floyd county relief fraud cases are slated for trial.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Helm and son, Jesse Murrill, of Fairmont, W. Va., are guests of friends here. The Reverend Helm is a former pastor of the M. E. Church, South, here.

Founding of Washington Was Begun Back in 1787

While various proposals for a separate national district had been made soon after the Revolution, it was not until the Constitution was adopted in 1787 that the first real step was taken. A clause in the Constitution gave congress certain powers of legislation over a district, not exceeding ten miles square, which should become the seat of the government. A bill for this purpose was passed in 1790, the site of the capital being Washington's own choice.

The first permanent settlement by white men on this site had been made at about the close of the Seventeenth century, by Irish and Scotch settlers. Maryland and Virginia ceded land for the capital city, but in 1846 the Virginia portion was given back to that state. The commissioners appointed to purchase the land required for government purposes found that there were 19 original proprietors but only four principal landowners, Daniel Carroll, David Burnes, Samuel Davidson and Notley Young. Burnes was the most stubborn of these but gave in when threatened with the power of the government to force a sale. By the terms of the sale, announced in 1791, the owners agreed to convey to the government free of cost such portions of the farms as were needed for streets, parks, etc., and to sell land for public buildings and improvements at $125 per acre.

Abandon Centuries-Old Tower

Camrai, France, has decided that it no longer needs a watchman in St. Martin's belfry day and night, and has discharged the last of the vigilant men. The move is also to reduce expenses. For hundreds of years men have watched from the 180-foot tower and sounded the alarm in case of fire. Nowadays the residents telephone the fire department and the blaze may be out before the watchman sees it. The famous belfry was shelled and destroyed in the World war, but after the armistice it was rebuilt and the big bell hung, only to fall and crack when the tower caught on fire. The bell was recast and hung again, with a new bell to take the place of one melted by Germans. Of late years the watchman did not ring the bell, but telephoned the fire department.

Birds Migrate to Southwest

Herr Postings, keeper of the light at Windenburg, on the shores of the Baltic near Memel, has found that birds migrate from the northeast to the southwest. To learn this he caught and ringed 7,685 in the last two years. Of this number only 74 were heard of again but, he says, this is enough to determine the route. Herr Postings rings birds as a hobby. He spreads a large net to catch those attracted by the glare of the light, rings them and sends them on their way. Last year he ringed 6,008 starlings. As fast as one netful was ringed and released another netful arrived. They began to arrive in June each year, old and young feathered travelers coming together.

Eddie Cantor Wonders What Fast Automobile Drivers Think About pointed my way than with a drunken or reckless driver. At least you've got a chance to reason with a guy holding a gun.

"If every person drove his car as if his horn were out of order, there could never be an accident. And how much safer every individual would be if people drove with the thought that the other fellow in the other car was going to do something wrong.

Curbing Reckless Drivers "Early in the spring, one of my radio fans sent me a little poem. If I had my way it would be handed to every applicant for a driver's license. Here it is:

Here lies the body of William Jay, Who died maintaining his right of way. He was right as he sped along, But he's just as dead As if he'd been wrong.

"Too many automobile drivers today, stop, look and listen only because there's something wrong with their engines. They should have more faith in signs. One motor vehicle authority I know recently submitted a unique and promising plan for curbing reckless driving. He would compel speedsters to sit in their automobiles, parked in a public square, with loud radio speakers broadcasting: 'Here are reckless drivers who have no respect for their own lives or anyone else's.'"

"Make no mistake, it would bring desirable results. But the tragedies caused by reckless drivers have given me a thought that provides a more drastic penalty. Pass it on to the lawmakers in your community: Every person who has been given three tickets for speeding—making him a third offender—should not only have his license revoked, but he should not be permitted to drive a car again for the rest of his natural life.

"Wouldn't you feel safer?"

MISS THELMA GEARHART, MR. H. B. FRALIC WED

An announcement which occasioned much interest in Huntington, W. Va., due to the popularity of the couple is that of the marriage of Miss Thelma Gearhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gearhart, of Huntington, W. Va., and John H. Fralic, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Fralic, of the U. S. Veterans' hospital there.

The ceremony was performed Tuesday night, June 25, at 8 o'clock in Barboursville, W. Va., by Rev. John W. Hollister, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, there in the presence of Miss Mildred Brookover and Ramon Woodall, both of Hamlin. The wedding came as a surprise to the many friends of the couple in Huntington and Hamlin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Creed Gearhart who lived in Louisa (before moving to Huntington). She is a graduate of Marshall College and a member of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority. Recently she has been in New Rochelle, N. Y., as dietician in a hospital. — Big Sandy News-Recorder.

A JOB WELL DONE BRINGS A BETTER ONE

J. S. Murphey, who for many months has efficiently served as area administrator for the KERA in this section, has been rewarded with an appointment to the directorship of the labor relations department of the Works Progress Department in 30 counties in Western Kentucky.

During the time he served Mr. Murphey acted in an impartial manner in the execution of his duties. In the maintenance of his office force his watchword was "competence" and he placed this requirement above all others. He kept his administration free from political influences and opposed politicians who attempted to force appointments for political reasons. Much of his opposition to political interference provoked enemies and would have jeopardized his position had it not been for the hundreds who rightly benefited.

Mr. Murphey's friends and associates will feel his absence but will be compensated by knowing that a job well done here led to one better. — Pike County News.

VICIOUS WHISPERS

RUMORS, wrote Shakespeare, "is a pipe blown by surmises, jealousies, conjectures. So one or another of American Presidents have found, and that an evil report, however baselessly set afloat, is hard to overtake with fact. A "whispering campaign" of slanderous or insinuating stories passed from a loose tongue to a suspicious ear and often enlarged in repetition has been a recurrent abuse in American politics.

The injustice and tragedy that can be wrought by such irresponsible and vicious gossiping was exemplified poignantly enough one would think, in the campaign which SU UN in one of the first instances—in the campaign which is generally held to have cost the life of the wife of Gen. Andrew Jackson. It began even earlier with the false imputation of atheism to Jefferson, and has continued since in the times of Van Buren, Garfield, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, to crop out in the "poison pen" books against President Hoover.

News reports in the last few days have brought into the open a similar circulation of rumors purporting to deal with the physical condition and mental stability of President Roosevelt. These have been promptly labeled absurd by Washington correspondents, including those of anti-administration papers, who have opportunity to question and observe the President at least.

However heartily one may disavow with a man on questions of political judgment, it is certainly a graceless business to be led by this to impugn his rationality instead of arguing out the issues on their merits. Those who insist upon the grandeur of man and the supremacy of mental powers over evil circumstance should surely disbelieve that eventual disaster must eventually follow an infirmity long since overcome. And those who recognize the mesmeric tendency of reiterated fears, suspicions and dark predictions ought certainly to be the last to lend themselves to a mass suggestion that would add to the burdens of their Chief Magistrate.

Rather 'tis it the true part of all citizens to pray that divine support and guidance may continually surround all officials in whose the common welfare lies. — Christian Science Monitor.

OUR GREATEST MENACE

A popular radio program daily broadcasts a list of citizens aged 90 years or older and of couples who have been married 50 years or longer. Though names are not given, only the residences being stated, it is interesting to hear Kentucky mentioned.

The Kentucky Progress Commission is desirous of obtaining a listing of all Kentuckians eligible to this honor by way of the air. In order that "onagenarians and those who have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary may be listed. Progress Commission requested this newspaper to ask its readers to file either with this office or that of the Kentucky Progress Commission, Frankfort, names of these persons. These names, ages and dates will be published in The Times and also forwarded to the Kentucky Progress Commission, which in turn will send this data to the broadcasting station for use in its program.

What a "piker" war really is in destroying human life! How much more effective are a few million automobiles in the hands of AVERAGE AMERICAN DRIVERS. Here are some figures for comparison:

American soldiers killed during our 19 months' participation in the World War, 37-541.

American citizens killed in automobile accidents during the past 19 months, 55,000.

Pike county is contributing more than her share of these fatalities. Seldom does a week-end pass without the ambulance being called out to gather up the mangled remains of a victim of someone's carelessness in an automobile.

Accidents don't happen—they are caused! The fact of the matter is that cars and tires and brakes are better and safer than the roads—and the roads are better and safer than the drivers.

The results of the past week-end—two dead and a score injured—are enough to shake us out of our lethargy.

It is time our officers enforce the law to the limit on all drivers who, either from lack of common sense or utter disregard for the rights of others, refuse to operate their cars in a safe and sane manner. — Pike County News.

300 STRIKERS GO BACK TO WORK

Walkout Called Ten Days Ago As Job Refused

Three hundred striking miners employed at a Hardy mine of the Fordson Coal Company returned to work July 8 after being out a week.

Mine union officials called a walkout when an impromptu meeting of the union was held in an effort to get the company to agree to return J. N. Crawford, a coal loader who had been ill for several months, to his old job.

It was contended that almost a year ago Mr. Crawford became ill because of bad air and it was necessary to take him from the mine. It was also said that he was off the job for approximately four weeks and then was pronounced able to return to his work. It was stated Mr. Crawford worked a few days and again became ill and was off for approximately nine and one-half months. A few days ago he was reported to have appeared at the mines and was examined by the company doctor and was again pronounced able to return to work. It was reported, however, that mine officials told him that there were no vacancies but that his application would be preferred to all others when other men were about to be hired.

F. C. Owens, secretary of the Hardy local, stated that the men were called out when no place was found for Crawford. The miners returned to work, however, without Mr. Crawford receiving his old position.

It is reported that Fordson mines have never signed the Appalachian agreement, but are paying a higher wage scale than any other mine in the field.

The catalog for the 4-H club Bluegrass district fair is off the press, with $1,400 raised for premiums and expenses.

Union county farmers delivered 3,000 pounds of wool to the Wool Growers' Association at Henderson.

Due to heavy rains, many Russell county farmers were unable to plant corn, and so 900 acres of soy beans were seeded as a substitute.

More than 100 persons went on the Garrard county 4-H calf club tour to see the 60 calves on feed in the county.

Mrs. Anna Haynes has one of the largest turkey flocks in Meade county, with 800 of the big birds.

About 50 acres of early tomatoes will be marketed cooperatively by Jefferson county farmers.

Thirteen calves have been added to the number being fattened by Wayne county 4-H club members.

About 60 persons attended demonstrations of bean beetle control in Magoffin county last month.

Madison county farmers made a tour to see purebred and fat cattle herds, and to observe results of different methods of handling.

Mrs. Nutt House, of Nicholas county, has made good profits from 250 purebred pullets.

Approximately 2,500 pullets are being vaccinated in Grayson county to prevent chicken-pox or roup.

HARBOUR KILLED IN FLOYD WRECK

Huntington Salesman, Former Orchestra Leader, Injured Near Here Tuesday

Lou Harbour, 41 years old, former Huntington, W. Va., orchestra leader and radio entertainer and a salesman in this section for the Edlis Barber and Beauty Company, was fatally injured at 6:40 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the base of Abbott mountain, opposite the home of S. W. Rice, when his car plunged over a 15-foot embankment.

Mr. Harbour was extricated from the wreckage within five minutes after the accident and died near East Point as he was being rushed toward Paintsville hospital for treatment. Chest injuries caused his death, it is held.

It is believed by residents of the neighborhood in which the tragedy took place that Mr. Harbour rounded his curve too rapidly and, confronted by another auto, cut back to his side of the highway and was never able to right his machine. The auto, a Marmon, left the road at the short bridge crossing toward S. W. Rice's home, hurtled 20 feet through the air, struck again on the side of the embankment and then plunged onto its side in the small stream bordering the highway.

The former musician was pinned beneath the machine, his head being caught beneath the rim of the top of the car and his right foot being pinned. He spoke only once before dying.

The theory that he was forced from the road was discounted here Wednesday by authorities following an investigation. Two men were arrested at Paintsville suspected with forcing Barbour from the highway, but no evidence to prove this contention has been uncovered.

The victim was driving toward Prestonsburg when tragedy overtook him. Aside from chest injuries, he was slightly cut and bruised about the head and body. The body was returned to Huntington Wednesday.

Scene of the wreck is within a few yards of where six other motor accidents have occurred. This, however, is the only fatality to occur there.

Mr. Barbour was widely known in this section. He had conducted his orchestra over various radio stations, at social functions through the Tri-State region and on one occasion played here. He was an accomplished pianist and at one time toured California as a professional musician and entertainer.

Surviving him are his widow and two children and his father. Funeral arrangements had not been completed Wednesday.

DEATH CLAIMS REV. J. T. POPE

Former Prestonsburg Pastor Dies at Richmond, Kentucky

The Rev. J. T. Pope died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Hagan, and Dr. Hagan, at Richmond, Ky., Thursday, June 27, from a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been in declining health for several years and a few months ago moved from his home in Springfield, Ky., to Richmond to spend his declining years.

Surviving Rev. Pope are his widow, three sons, Leslie, Willis and Brown Pope, and one daughter, Mrs. Nancy Hagan.

Funeral services were held at the residence in Richmond Friday and the body was taken to Corbin, Ky., a former home, for burial Saturday, a brief service being held at the grave there.

Rev. Pope was a retired Baptist minister, having been an active minister for many years. He also was a teacher for several years, having taught foreign languages in a theological seminary prior to taking up pastoral duties. He was a man of unusual intellect, a pleasing conversationalist, and possessed the happy faculty of making friends of all with whom he associated.

The Reverend Pope was a former pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, and Mrs. Pope during that time was a teacher in the Prestonsburg schools. His passing is deeply regretted by all who knew him.

COMMENCEMENT FOR BIBLE SCHOOL FRIDAY

The handwork departments will have various exhibits to display at the commencement, including dyed kerchiefs, daubed vases, luncheon sets, sewing boxes, napkin holders, and woodwork. The children will show the result of training in Bible memory and hymn study.

Sunday night at the union service of three Prestonsburg churches held in the Methodist Church students from the Bible school sang two of the hymns taught at the Bible school, "Holy, Holy, Holy," and "Fairest Lord Jesus." Dr. Josef Nordenhaug, Baptist minister, preached on the theme, "Letting Christ In." The next union service also will be at the Methodist Church Sunday night, with Robert A. Potter, Presbyterian minister, speaking upon "The Other Cross."

The Missionary Baptist, Pilgrim Holiness, Presbyterian and M. E. Church, South, are joining in the co-operative vacation church school, which is conducting its second annual session.

PAVING OF MAYO TRAIL PROMISED

Plan Calls for Less Than Four Miles of Paving in Johnson

Bids for hard surfacing approximately four miles of the Mayo Trail in Johnson county from the intersection of the Trail and the Garrett Highway will be let in Frankfort on July 31.

According to advertisement, surfacing will begin where the two roads connect at Turner Branch and will extend toward Louisa to Nippa and will cover 3.986 miles. It also is said that the work will begin as soon as possible after the contract is let.

According to the plans set out last spring, the work will be done as rapidly as possible and the road will be surfaced one-half at a time, thus permitting traffic to pass over it at all times.

This road has been the subject of considerable controversy for the past several years and is the only gap in a road which runs from Northern Michigan to Miami, Fla.

GETS 2 YEARS IN BOWLING KILLING

Erne Lytton, of Chestnut, Johnson county, was sentenced to two years in the state reformatory at Frankfort Wednesday in the Johnson circuit court for the slaying of Bradley Bowling, of Weeksbury, this county.

Bowling, a miner, was killed while visiting in the Chestnut section. Lytton is said to have admitted killing Bowling, but this report quotes him as claiming Bowling created a disturbance at the Lytton home, causing the shooting.

Miss Maurine Mayo and A. J. May, Jr., left Thursday for Washington, D. C., where they will spend several days, guests of Congressman and Mrs. A. J. May.

Mrs. Cora Sturgill, of Hindman, is the guest this week of her son, Circuit Clerk Troy B. Sturgill, and other relatives.

CHANGES URGED IN BANKING BILL

Business Men and Bankers Agree in Objecting to Political Control Over Banks.

AMENDMENTS ARE SUGGESTED

Political Domination of Federal Reserve Board Declared to Be Undesirable for Depositors as Well as Their Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Business men and bankers alike who have appeared before committees of Congress to present views regarding the Banking Act of 1935 have found common cause for criticism in those provisions which they agree would create the means for undesirable political control over the Federal Reserve System and thereby over individual banks throughout the United States. They have made the point that this undesirable condition would affect depositors in banks even more than the banks themselves.

This view has been stressed in criticisms by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the question of partisan control over banking was the central theme of a statement presented by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, who appeared before the Senate Subcommittee on Banking and Currency hearings here. Mr. Hecht declared that his organization is actuated by a desire to be helpful to Congress "in enacting effective and workable banking legislation in the interests of all our people." He said in part:

"If it is finally decided that it is necessary to carry this legislation through at this session, we are strongly of the opinion that special care should be taken to keep our credit control and banking mechanism free from any sort of political considerations.

"In making this statement I do not wish to appear to question the propriety of the Government's exerting a certain amount of control over banking operations so far as they affect the nation's currency and general monetary policy. Nor do we object to broad powers of supervision over the operation of our banking institutions because of the semi-public responsibilities they carry. But when it comes to such matters as the granting of credit and the making of investments by our banks, these are questions of business policies that surely should not be under the sole control of a board so constituted as to be dependent upon partisan or political considerations under any administration.

The Basis of Sound Credit
"The real conditions that create the necessity for the expansion or contraction of credit arise from the needs of agriculture, industry and trade themselves, wholly independent of the administrative policies of the party which happens to be in power. We feel that the financial requirements of the nation's business constitute a continuing economic process that is not related to political changes. The fundamental principles of sound credit do not vary with variations in public thought. All experience teaches that the quality of credit is sound only so long as it is based purely on the requirements of sound business. It is not sound when any other considerations or motives enter into its composition.

"The Banking Act would centralize in the Federal Reserve Board at Washington means aimed to control the supply of money in the country, which term includes the sum total of currency in circulation and demand deposits in the banks which become current through checks. The powers which it is proposed to give the Board are intended to enable it to influence the quantity of this deposit money through open market operations, the discount rate and reserve requirements.

The Need for Independence
"That is the reason why we are so strongly in favor of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it would be definitely removed from all political thought, influence and dictation. Its members should be free to study and to act in accordance with the needs and conditions of agriculture, industry and trade. The policies of the board should have no reference to the politics or the changes in politics of the national administration.

"In our studies of the bank bill, we have been strongly impressed with the fact that it would set up a situation under which the Federal Reserve Board and its policies might be subject to control from the political administration of the country. In saying this I do not charge that it is the intention of the present administration to bring about any undue control over the nation's banking mechanism. The point is that if the bill passed as now proposed, opportunity for control would be there for the use of the present or whatever future administration might be in power.

"Our criticisms of the bill are not aimed, therefore, at the motives of the present administration, but they are wholly impersonal and non-political and are aimed entirely at the basic principles involved."

Desirable Changes Proposed
Careful study by his organization, Mr. Hecht said, had resulted in a number of suggestions for constructive revisions in the bill which he submitted to Congress.

DISTRICT OFFICES WILL DIRECT WORK

George H. Goodman, Works Progress Administrator, has announced the names of six directors to be responsible to him for the new program now being launched in Kentucky to give jobs to those now on relief rolls. For district No. 5 headquarters, which are to be located at Paintsville, Arthur Gamble has been named director.

Each director, Mr. Goodman said, will be in absolute charge of his respective district of all Works Progress Administration affairs. The director will be responsible to Mr. Goodman, while he in turn will be responsible to Washington.

Distribution of surplus commodities to Kentucky relief clients will stop within 90 days, Mr. Goodman announces. Within that length of time, Mr. Goodman said, such commodities as are now in transit will have been handled and the commodity personnel disbanded.

Under the Works Progress Administration certain projects will be permitted to be sponsored by local governmental units to produce commodities. The products of such projects, Mr. Goodman said, will become the property of the sponsor to be distributed and utilized as he sees fit.

PLAN FORMATION OF CHURCH HERE

Permanent organization of the Church of Christ (or Christian Church) in Prestonsburg is one of the aims of the evangelistic party representing the Mountain State Evangelizing Board, which is conducting a series of meetings here, it was announced this week by the Rev. L. L. Elnton, Sebring, Ohio, minister in charge.

The Reverend Hinton reports that attendance is increasing nightly and that those with whom he is associated are much encouraged from the results of the services. The meeting-place is in a tent located near the high school building here. Delegations from many churches elsewhere in the county are expected to attend during the remainder of the meeting.

A "Sunshine Chorus" composed of children has been organized and its singing features the song service. Sermon subjects announced for the remainder of the week are:

Men's Night, Thursday—"Men Wanted;" Friday night—"Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out;" Saturday night—"Your Chickens Will Come Home to Roost;" Sunday morning—"The Silence of Jesus;" the Lord's Supper to be observed at this service; Sunday evening—"A Message from God."

of Van Lear, and Stanley Crane, fire boss. They were approximately half a mile from the others when the explosion came. After crawling through the smoke and dust to pure air, they made their way outside and reported the disaster. Wilson, interviewed by The Times Wednesday night, told of his experiences in the course of his conversation Mr. Wilson said, in part:

"I was lucky to be behind the other boys. An explosion landed to me like a swish, and I was a train of the popular steam. In the second I reached what had happened, and I ducked for cover behind a pile of rails. Slate and rock hailed about me. Then, when it was all over, I started for the outside. I crawled about 300 feet through smoke and dust till I reached good air. Mr. Crane was on ahead of me, that is, nearer the opening. "Is it good to be alive? You don't know how good it is. I only wish the others were here—they'd say the same."

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Diamond and sons, Ralph and Edgar, of Lamar, Mo., are houseguests here of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Archer.

"Squire" Dan Prater, of Ebersville, was a business visitor here this week.

Miss Welda Lanham, former nurse here with the Floyd county health department, spent the week-end with friends here. Miss Lanham is now located at Columbia, Ky., where she is health nurse.

Willard Hicks was injured and his car badly wrecked Tuesday on Middle Creek.

Nelson Howard, of Paintsville, was a business visitor in Prestonsburg Wednesday.

John Allen and O. H. Stumbo left this week on a campaign trip in behalf of Henry Stephens, Jr., candidate for state auditor. They are visiting various Western Kentucky counties.

Prof. W. B. Ward, veteran Eastern Kentucky educator, now a resident of Ft. Thomas, Ky., was in Prestonsburg Thursday and appeared before the teachers' meeting here, making an interesting address. Prof. Ward left Thursday evening for Jenkins.
