RUN-OFF PRIMARY CERTAIN

RHEA FAR SHORT OF MAJORITY IN GOVERNOR RACE

Chandler Carries Floyd 114 Votes; Representative 'Boss-Race' Feature

Vote counting as this was written Thursday morning, was almost, if not altogether, completed throughout the state, and immediately thereafter the digging of political trenches and the grinding of politicians' loins began.

For, returns available at this time, indicate that a run off primary is a certainty.

Wednesday night, Thomas S. Rhea, on the face of incomplete returns, was leading A. B. 'Happy' Chandler by approximately 12,000 votes in the state. Rhea's headquarters predicted an even larger majority. On the other hand, the Chandler camp expressed certainty of overtaking Rhea. At any rate, neither is given a shadow of a chance of attaining a majority of the vote east Saturday in the five man gubernatorial Democratic primary.

Chandler led Rhea in this county 114 votes.

King Swope, meanwhile, will view the proceedings between now and September 7 with more than casual interest, for he is the Republican nominee for Governor without the arduous task of going thru another primary.

In other state races, only one Democratic candidate was expected to escape the run off, and that is Garth K. Ferguson, apparent Commissioner of Agriculture nominee, who had only one opponent, P. O. Minor.

With 3,191 of the state's 4,219 precincts reported Wednesday, Henry Stephens, Jr., of Prestonsburg, was trailing Ernest E. Shannon and D. A. Logan for the Democratic nomination for State Auditor, but was within striking distance of the leaders and has a good chance of being in the run off primary.

George Glenn Hatcher, of Ashland, native Floyd county man, may oppose W. B. O'Connell for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, in the second primary. Dr. B. F. Wright, of Whitesburg, was trailing Keen Johnson and J. E. Wise in the race for Lieutenant Governor. Francis M. Burke and B. M. Vincent are almost certain opponents for Attorney General in September. Bert W. Cornett, of Ashland, held a sizeable lead in a field of 11 candidates for the Republican nomination for Railroad Commissioner from this district, while J. N. Kennard was the Democratic leader for the same office.

In Floyd county the Democratic race for Representative was the closest staged in years, J. J. Hatcher nosing out Mell Petry, U. M. W. A. protegee, by

COPPERHEAD WITH LEGS

Mr. McCoy Howard, of Haymond Shoe Shop, brought to our place Sunday a large copperhead snake which he states he killed a short distance from Lakeside Dairy. Strange as it may seem the snake had two legs with five toenails on each leg. The reptile was about 30 inches long. —Neon News, Neon, Ky.

WE WERE MISTAKEN—FAIRCHILD WAS FIRST FLOYD COUNTY PILOT

When The Times stated last week that Dr. J. T. Cottrell is the first native Floyd county to become a licensed airplane pilot, we were in error.

Frank M. Fairchild, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Den Fairchild, of Allen, holds this honor—if we are not wrong again.

Mr. Fairchild, now head of the Aeronautical Science Department of the Cincinnati Public Schools, has not been without a pilot's license since 1927. He began his aviation career in Chicago in 1924 and is a flying member of the National Aeronautical Association.

In addition to his aviation activities as a flier, Mr. Fairchild has a commercial radio operator's license permitting him to operate any commercial radio station and to serve as radio operator on any airplane in the United States or on expeditions. He also owns and operates the licensed aeronautical experimental station W8NLU in Cincinnati.

FORMER TOMCAT STAR IS KILLED

Allen Estep Fatally Hurt Friday, En Route To Visit Former Floyd Boy

En route to Paintsville Friday afternoon to visit Ray "Tuffy" Griffith, former Floyd county boy and well-known boxer in this section, Allen Estep, former Ashland high school football star who turned pugilist, was killed in a head-on collision of his motorcycle and an automobile.

Young Estep died as he was being removed from a car in front of the Louisa General hospital at Louisa, as the result of a broken back and skull injuries.

Emory Pickren, who made his home with Estep and his mother in Ashland, and who was following Estep on another motorcycle, said the only explanation he could make of the tragedy was that his companion failed to lean his motorcycle enough to make the curve less than a mile south of Louisa. Wetzel Coleman, Durbin, Boyd county, was the driver of the auto with which Estep's machine collided. He escaped injury. Pickren suffered slight injuries when his motorcycle struck Estep's machine, catapulting him through the air. Surviving the victim are his mother, one brother and four sisters.

Former Floyd Man In Wreck Fatal to Jewell

Glenn Prater, 23 years old, a son of Dennis Prater, of Abbott Creek, narrowly escaped death in Ceredo, W. Va., last week when the truck which he was driving plunged over an embankment, fatally injuring Edward A. Jewell, 46, of Ashland.

Prater and Ray Sparks, 22, Ashland, escaped by jumping from the cab of the truck. They sustained only minor hurts. Jewell died of a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Brownlow Calhoun left a few days ago for Camp Benjamin Harrison, Ind., where he entered the citizens' Military Training Camp.

NAMED HEAD OF COUNTY RELIEF

Miss Prater Named Personnel Head; District WPA Set-Up Made

Miss Edna Prater has been appointed county relief worker, to head the personnel of the Floyd county relief office, it was announced this week. Principal work of the local office, it was said, will be to take care of direct relief cases separate from the work of the recently organized Works Progress Administration.

The WPA set-up for a district office in Paintsville is well under way, and F. W. Clay, who has been connected with the local office for some time as F. E. R. A. engineer, has been transferred to the district office as assistant engineer for the W. P. A.

Personnel of the local office is expected to be decreased gradually, and already three clerks and four home visitors have been dismissed, it was said this week.

Miss Prater, present head of the local office, is a graduate of Caney Junior College, also a student at the University of Colorado, has had during the recent summer session of Berea College a course in Social Service and has had a year's experience as a home visitor in this county.

ODD FELLOWS HOSTS AT PICNIC AT ALLEN

Floyd county Odd Fellows were hosts to a picnic Sunday at the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club at Allen. A large and singularly orderly crowd attended.

Congressman A. J. May, home from Washington for a brief visit, was guest speaker. Circuit Judge John W. Caudill, of Prestonsburg, and Paul C. Hager, of Paintsville, were other speakers on an interesting program.

FUGITIVE SLAYER NABBED MONDAY

Bondsman Leaves To Return Bradley Here From Michigan

Cal Clarke left Prestonsburg Wednesday for Lansing, Mich., to return to this county Curtis Bradley, who is wanted in this county for murder, and who jumped the $10,000 bond which Mr. Clarke, N. O. Allen and M. C. Wright signed for him when he was indicted by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court. He is charged with the murder of a son of Willis Conley, postmaster at Garrett.

When Bradley's case was called for trial at the last term of the Floyd circuit court, it was found that he was missing. Not until Monday were his whereabouts known.

He was arrested Monday at a logging camp 16 miles north of Newberry, Mich. He admitted his identity when arrested, officers said.

KNOTT ELECTION OFFICERS TAKEN

On Warrant Charging Primary Fraud in Lower Beaver Precinct

Four election officers who presided at the polls in Lower Beaver precinct, Knott county, Saturday were arrested at Hindman Tuesday, charged with committing fraud.

Those arrested were J. Bates, George Hall and two men named Caudill whose first names were unavailable.

The warrant for the four was sworn out by a woman, it was said, who stated that she was voted at the precinct when, in fact, she was in Hindman on the day of the election.

The precinct gave Thomas S. Rhea for Governor and Joe P. Tackett for State Senator overwhelming majorities. In the Senatorial race, according to J. B. Wicker, one of the candidates, Mr. Tackett received 333 votes, Mr. Wicker four and B. M. James one. Mr. Wicker said that, in reality, only a small crowd appeared during the day to vote. He added that the precinct had in the past given him majorities.

Knott county, with its vote count complete, gave J. B. Wicker a majority of 165 over Joe P. Tackett, his nearest opponent. A. B. Chandler gained a similar lead over Thomas S. Rhea for Governor.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S CLINIC TO BE HELD IN PRESTONSBURG SEPT. 5

Miss Vera P'Pool, field worker for the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission, in Prestonsburg this week announced that a crippled children's clinic will be held here September 5.

Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin counties will take advantage of this clinical aid to their cripples, and the health departments of these counties, as usual, will assist in finding crippled children in need of treatment.

Present plans provide for holding the clinic in the Prestonsburg high school building.

COOK DRAWS LIFE IN KNOTT SLAYING

Court Adjourns at Hindman, To Convene Here Sept. 2.

Clyde Cook was given a life sentence last week in the Knott circuit court for the murder of Bill Cook, Left Beaver Creek merchant, in Knott county two months ago. It was the last criminal case of the July term at Hindman.

Reports, via the "grapevine route," stated 10 jurors held out for hours for the death penalty. Cook will accept his sentence without appeal, it is believed. His father, Seland Cook, will be given trial at a later term for the same offense.

Circuit court adjourned at Hindman Friday, and Judge John W. Caudill will be at leisure, comparatively speaking, until the convening of the Floyd court term September 2. The jury list for this term is expected to be released in time for publication in the next issue of The Times.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF LETCHER, NATIVE OF KNOTT, DIES AUGUST 7

David Hays, 63 years old, former county attorney of Letcher county, and youngest son of Captain Anderson Hays, of Knott county, died at his home near Whitesburg last Thursday following several months' ill health. He had suffered from liver and kidney trouble.

Mr. Hays moved to Whitesburg about 40 years ago, and in a surprisingly short time rose to the leadership of the Letcher county bar. Without making a campaign he was nominated and elected for County Attorney. "To say the least," says The Whitesburg Eagle, "twenty years ago Dave Hays was not only the most popular and powerful attorney in Letcher county but almost equally powerful and well-known throughout the state."

He leaves his widow, three sons and two daughters.

HAMMOND NAMED STATE COMMANDER

Paintsville Man Honored At Lexington Legion Convention Last Week

James Hammond, of Paintsville, was elected Department Commander of the American Legion for the state of Kentucky on the closing day of the state convention of the Legion at Lexington last week. The race throughout was between Hammond and George Biggerstaff, of Harrodsburg who withdrew at the last minute and moved to make the election of Hammond unanimous.

Mr. Hammond, manager of the United Pipe and Supply Company, Paintsville, is very popular in this section, and has been very active in Legion work. He was District Commander of the Tenth District during 1933-34, and under his guidance this district took first place in membership in the entire state.

This is the first time in the history of the Legion in Kentucky that the State Commander has been elected from the old Tenth District.

SURFACING OF ROAD TO GOLF COURSE IS BEGUN

Gravel surfacing of the road from Allen to the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club near there has been started as a part of a program to make the grounds more accessible to the public as well as club members it was announced this week by officials of the club. Arrival of a power driven grass cutting machine is expected within the next few days.

The course is becoming a favorite spot for picnics and other social events because of its general attractiveness and central location. Ladies' Day is observed each Wednesday afternoon when six tables of bridge are in play at the clubhouse, and it is planned to sponsor Saturday night dances at the clubhouse, it is said. Construction of a swimming pool is another project being considered by the club.

RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

Congressman A. J. May returned Sunday to Washington after a two-day visit at home over the election. Mrs. May, who accompanied him home, did not return to Washington. They were accompanied here by Mrs. D. C. Herndon, Miss Maurine Mayo and A. J. May, Jr.

LACKEY MINER IS IN JAIL HERE FOR SLAYING OF SLONE

Pennington Says He Fired in Self-Defense; Lackey Killing Scene

Liquor — and, perhaps, a woman — and not the election was the cause of Floyd county's only killing Saturday, it was said Monday by officials following an investigation into the slaying at Lackey of Craynor Slope, 25 years old.

Wesley Pennington, 57 year-old miner who is in jail here, charged with the killing, claims he shot Slope in self-defense. Both men were drinking and jealousy also may have had a part in the trouble, it was said. He was brought to jail here by Policeman Epp Laferty, of Lackey.

Slope was shot in his chest and died within a few minutes. Pennington fired but one shot from a .32-calibre automatic pistol, it was said. The shooting took place at Floyd Napier's restaurant.

The victim was a son of "Windy" Bill Slope, of Estill. Besides his parents, he is survived by several brothers and sisters. His burial was conducted Monday at Estill.

An interesting sidelight on the recent celebration of the anniversary of Morgan's invasion in various towns of Southern Indiana and Ohio is a letter from Maj. William J. Davis, commander of scouts of General Morgan's cavalry, reproduced in The Filson Club History Quarterly for July, with accompanying comment by Otto A. Rothert. The letter is one of about 150 written by this soldier to his sweet heart, Miss Frances Cunningham, of Springfield, Ky., which were acquired by the Filson Club about a year ago.

Major Davis was a scholar, a South Carolinian, and in 1863 had been stationed in Springfield with 300 Union prisoners taken when Morgan captured Lebanon. There he met Miss Cunningham. Shortly thereafter he went with Morgan on his last raid and was taken prisoner. His first letter is from the military prison in Louisville and it describes some of the movements of Morgan's men and the behavior of the Indiana Home Guards and other troops.

On their way north, while nearing Shepherdsville, Morgan told Major Davis of his plan to cross the river at Brandenburg and he ordered Davis to go toward Louisville and create a diversion. Davis destroyed railroad tracks and telegraph lines 30 miles south of Louisville, then skirted the city with the idea of crossing the Ohio at Twelve Mile Island. He and 35 men had crossed when the first of three Union gunboats came up from Louisville and divided his force.

Major Davis' letter humorously describes the precipitate surrender of Home Guards at various towns, and then tells of an engagement with the 73d Indiana Volunteers and a detachment of the Fifth United States Regulars, who attacked from ambush while the cavalrymen were crossing a small creek near Pekin, Ind. The Home Guards rallied by the hundreds. The Confederates retreated to the woods. Davis' horse ran against a fallen tree and threw him. The cavalrymen, supposing their commander killed, fled or surrendered. Major Davis was taken prisoner and later transferred from Louisville to Johnson's Island, Ohio.

Major Davis married the young lady of his choice after the war and they moved to Louisville, where he became a member of the school board and an author and writer on scientific subjects. Major and Mrs. Davis celebrated their golden wedding here in 1916. She died in 1921 and he in 1925, and both are buried in Cave Hill.—The Courier Journal.

What is the yardstick
for a cigarette...

Take mildness for one thing—how does it measure up for mildness?
Chesterfields are milder—not flat or insipid, of course, but with a pleasing flavor.
Then take taste for another thing—
does it have plenty of taste?
Chesterfields taste better—not strong
but just right.
In other words, They Satisfy—
that's my yardstick for a cigarette.

This Be The Saga Of An
'Idioter' Of 'The Weakly'

This is the story of the trials and tribulations of a country newspaper editor. It tells the story of the weekly that is truly a "weakly." The yarn is being published below in the hope that readers of The Times will find its humor as refreshing as we found it.
Don't quit it until you reach the poem, "He Has Went,"
which is calculated to unbalance the sanest sort of person.

The article, written by Douglas Malloch, was recently re printed in The Publishers'
Auxiliary. It follows:
Once upon a time I was in the newspaper business, but I escaped. I have edited, I have known what it is to dictate the policy of a weekly newspaper with a guaranteed circulation of 97, not counting the postmaster, who read the copy of somebody else in calling for his mail. I have burned the midnight oil writing burning editorials and wrestled after wards with an Army press. I have set type standing and stood typesetting long enough at a stretch to test the endurance of a camel. I have been editor, reporter, compositor, proof reader, pressman and
devil-rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief. I have dodged bullets, paper bills and chased the butterfly of popularity and the elusive dollar. I have kept warm with hardwood, eaten rancid butter and imbibed hard cider taken on subscription. I have praised pudgy babies and slapped strong-breathed country country politicians on the back while hunting for the infrequent subscriber. I have lived in mortal terror and a back at the foot days while prominent citizens were thirsting for revenge.

Instead of subscriptions I accumulated gray hairs and subscriptions accounts and female enemies. Instead of being decorated with medals I was snowballed by the schoolboys and I was blackballed by the debating society. In place of being robed in fine raiment I was garmented in $7 ready-mades taken on an advertising account. Instead of being followed by applauding multitudes into the high altitudes and showered with platitudes
I was chased through dark alleys by street curs and bunted
by disrespectful William goats.
I found that about the only reward for running a country
weekly is an inner conscousness
and a whack at the audt
for general's tax list occasionally. The inner conscousness is a good thing, but I will not say that the tax list is not better, for it yields all the way from $957 up. On the other hand, one cannot find a bank
in the country that will cash
the inner conscousness.

In the brief time that I was in the newspaper business I found out several things. I found there were things a man had to use in the business that no other occupation demanded. I discovered that a man had to have patent insides, to begin with. I finally got mine educated so I could go without a meal for four days. I fund that a shooting stick was a handy thing to have around the pressroom, and I kept one in my desk that had six chambers. Gasoline I found was a good thing with which to clean up type. I mistook half a pint of it for water one day and tried to boil it and it cleaned up the whole place.
Just a Galley Slave
I never quite understood the significance of the title of galley until I had corrected a few miles of them. Then I decided that the galley slave I had read about in history enjoyed a comparative snap. There were other things about the place that took on a deeper meaning as I became better acquainted with them. That word "pi" struck me as rather a foolish one at first, but I discovered that a pi was no pudding. "Font" was another. I never knew what that meant until the office cat pulled down
two cases one day and baptzied herself with 75 pounds of six point italic.
I had a small boy working about the place for a while and he gave me an insight into many things. At his suggestion I bought a two pound font of labor saving rule. After that the boy would put in half a day filling the local grocer's ad with borders and flourishes

and thereby escape washing up the rollers. Then there was the composing stick. That boy would take a composing stick and one of my editorials on "Flow the Ship Subsidy Will Benefit the Farmer," and compose some most wonderful compositions of his own. I had to let the boy go finally.
After I had been in charge of the Weekly Wahoo a few days I found it was a good deal more weakly than I had anticipated. The guaranteed circulation of 97 I found was there all right, but fully 29 were exchanges and many of the other subscribers I would have been glad to exchange for almost anything. We addressed the paper with yellow labels torn off a sheet pasted on one side. I early discovered that a good many of these labels read something like this:
Job Simpkins Apr. 1847
CROSSROADS P. O., Mich.

By compromising with the delinquents I managed to get most of these old subscribers cleaned up. Job came into the office one day and agreed to give me $2.75 worth of hardwood if I would give him a receipt to date and for a year in advance, and I agreed.
The Epic of Ezra
There was another subscriber named Ezra Lane whose unreceipted bill had lain around the place ever since he came back from the war. Ezra came in one day and said as soon as he got his stumps blasted he would haul in enough potatoes to pay up the account and stop the gol darned paper. I was quite hopeful, but I found out that Ezra was flimflamming me
when he made that promise,
for the next week he ws accidentally blasted off the subscription list.

BREAKS OF THE SANDY

Citizens of Kentucky and other states who have not made a trip through Pike county and through the Breaks into Virginia, have missed a treat which they will long regret should they pass to the great beyond without viewing this piece of natural scenery. From Elkhorn City on up to the highest point which is located in Virginia, there is a rough country road. There is a plan on foot however, to pave this piece of road so that it can easily be traveled.

In passing up these mountain sides one has the pleasure of viewing the Russell Fork of the Big Sandy as it rushes down through sandstone cliffs which rises perpendicularly on each side. When one reaches the summit, passing through a virgin forest of enormous white oaks and poplars, and on out to the brink where a sheer drop of some two thousand feet down to the stream bed which looks like a bluish ribbon passing through a heavily foliated mountain side. This spot and stream might be well called the Grand Canyon of Eastern America, where thousands of tourists might spend their vacations drinking in the health giving ozone which is found only in spots of this nature.

By all means a federal or state park should be established in this section where native wildlife may be restored to its natural haunts, while the fast flowing streams of this section should be restored to their productive state as they were at one time.

Streams in this locality are free from sulphur pollution abounding in natural food for fish life. — Kentucky Game and Fish Commission.

A TRIBUTE

So seldom in this life is it possible to find a man who does a good deed and then attempts to keep it from the general public that we cannot but pause a moment to pay tribute to such a man—not only to his recitence but to the deed as well.

That man is J. M. Feltner, State 4 H Club Leader for this section of Kentucky. At the close of the third annual 4 H Club camp at Fish Trap it became known that in the building of the camp that Mr. Feltner advanced $400 of his own personal funds toward the erection of the buildings at the camp. This fact and the additional fact that he kept the matter more or less secret is something which should not go unnoticed and without praise. Mr. Feltner is a field worker and has hundreds of 4 H clubs under his direction. His home is in another part of the state, but he was so interested in the camp in Johnson county and the boys and girls of this section that he gave not only of his own time, but of his personal funds as well. This is an example for a great many of us who are citizens of this section of Kentucky, to emulate. They are our boys and girls who get the benefits from this camp and this training. The generosity and interest of J. M. Feltner surely puts us to shame.

The Paintsville Herald wants to go on record as thanking Mr. Feltner in behalf of this section of Eastern Kentucky for all that he has done and in our own small way attempt to pay to him the tribute that he deserves.—Paintsville Herald.

INSURANCE MEN SOW LESPEDEZA

(By JAMES SPEED)

"Listen to that rain," a farmer remarked at the Cross Roads Store. "Sounds good, don't it? The drought last summer was drying up my cows; but a field of lespe-deza for pasture kept them going." "Cows do like lespe-deza hay, too," a second farmer volunteered. "Put three acres of soybean hay into my loft. Well, last week, I put some of that fine soybean hay and a little lespe-deza hay in a rack. Do you know, the cows never touched the soy bean hay until all of the lespe-deza was cleaned up."

"I believe in lespe-deza, too," the storekeeper added. "But I got a letter from the district manager of a big insurance company. He sent it when I wrote and asked if they were using lespe-deza on the farms they owned. Let me read the letter: 'It is generally known in central Tennessee that large holders of land or multiple holders as they are called in this day, are depending largely on this crop, lespe-deza, for building back many completely worn-out farms. Perhaps you would be interested to know that at the soil erosion test farms now being conducted by the Government that fields thoroughly seeded to lespe-deza show practically no erosion and practically no sediment in the bottom of their tanks after extremely hard rains, whereas areas not seeded to lespe-deza lose several tons of soil with each such rain. No doubt multiple holders of land at this time are thoroughly familiar with this phase of farming and this phase of conservation and are applying this information perhaps far more religiously than is the case with the average small operator. It is generally known that such a holding company operating in Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama has seeded at this time approximately 30,000 acres of lespe-deza on several hundred of their farms, this being about one-third of the total cultivatable land on the farms. The use of lespe-deza on such farms has already made a marked improvement in the yield of crops. It has maintained and lifted real estate prices and has furnished hay and pasture on farms which had never grown sufficient feeds. This has been accomplished without the necessity of either fertilizer or lime and at a very reasonable cost. Lespe-deza is known as the 'Alfalfa of the South' and the crop is correctly named.' 'I'll say that's convincing coming from a big business that's run right," the storekeeper announced emphatically.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go. If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. CAUDILL PROMISES POLL INVESTIGATION

Judge Supervises Post-Election Activities; Says No Stuffed Boxes

After personally supervising the checking of stub books, opening of ballot boxes and the counting of the Floyd county vote in Saturday's primary, Circuit Judge John W. Caudill said Thursday that there were no stuffed ballot boxes and that, if any election stealing was done, it had been done by election officers.

Commenting upon his activities in connection with the vote count, Judge Caudill said: "I personally supervised checking of the stub books as these stubs were brought in by the election officers in order to see that they were properly signed and that the stubs bore the names of voters. I also watched the unlocking of the boxes and removal of the ballots, so that the number of ballots could be checked with the stub books before the vote was tabulated."

"I made this personal inspection for the purpose of ascertaining if there was any crooked work done and, if so, whether it was done by county officials or election officers. I am convinced that if there was any fraud committed it was done by election officials."

Commenting upon criticism of the conduct of the election in five or six precincts, Judge Caudill promised a grand jury investigation if witnesses are produced before the grand jury.

"If misconduct of elections is ever stopped," he said, citizens in the various precincts will have to take a leading part. The only way this can be done is by the citizens who are interested in fair elections getting together and have somebody remain at the polls throughout election day and count the number who go in to vote.

"If there is any precinct in the county where the citizens feel that the election was not fairly conducted by the election officers, and if they wish to have anybody before the grand jury for an investigation of the election, they may do so by sending the names of the ones they want before the grand jury to the County Attorney or Commonwealth's Attorney. The grand jury will be instructed to investigate the conduct of every election officer and also of those who worked on the outside in conjunction with election officers, where a conspiracy was formed to perpetrate a fraud on the voters as well as on certain candidates."

IT IS TIME TO MAKE JELLY

Every housewife wants a supply of deliciously flavored, tender jelly on her storeroom shelves for winter use, observes Miss Florence Imlay of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. The fruits in season now or later best suited for jelly making are crab apples, sour apples, sour plums and under-ripe grapes.

A good jelly is clear, sparkling, transparent, contains no sediment or crystals and has the natural color and flavor of the fruit. It is tender but firm and holds its shape, but is quivery when removed from the glass.

All fruit juices should be tested for pectin as the amount of sugar to use depends upon the proportion of pectin in the juice. The following method is an easy, simple way of testing fruit juices for pectin.

Add 1-2 tablespoon of sugar and 1-4 tablespoon of epsom salts to 1 tablespoon of cooked fruit juice. Stir the mixture until the salts are dissolved and let stand for five minutes. If the jelly sets into a good jelly-like mass in this time, it indicates that the juice contains a sufficient amount of pectin to make a good jelly.

It is very important to cook the juice ardently and to remove the jelly from the stove at the right moment. If it is cooked too long, it is tough and leathery and if cooked too slowly or too short a time, the jelly will be syrupy.

JUDGE HALL

GETS U. S. POST

District Commissioner Replaces Fred Atkinson in Office Here

Judge J. Melvin Hall, Democrat, former county judge and for many years a prominent figure in Johnson county school work, has been named to the post of U. S. Commissioner with headquarters in the post-office building here. Judge Hall replaces Judge Fred Atkinson, who has held the post for the past several years.

One of the best known men in this section, Judge Hall is the only Democrat elected to the office of county judge in this county in half a century. His honesty, integrity and fairness to all parties has made him one of the best liked citizens in this part of the state by both Democrats and Republicans. — Paintsville News.

Founding of Washington Was Begun Back in 1787

While various proposals for a separate national district had been made soon after the Revolution, it was not until the Constitution was adopted in 1787 that the first real step was taken. A clause in the Constitution gave Congress certain powers of legislation over a district, not exceeding ten miles square, which should become the seat of the government. A bill for this purpose was passed in 1790, the site of the capital being Washington's own choice.

The first permanent settlement by white men on this site had been made at about the close of the Seventeenth century, by Irish and Scotch settlers. Maryland and Virginia ceded land for the capital city, but in 1846 the Virginia portion was given back to that state. The commissioners appointed to purchase the land required for government purposes found that there were 19 original proprietors but only four principal landowners, Daniel Carroll, David Burnes, Samuel Davidson and Notley Young. Burnes was the most stubborn of these but gave in when threatened with the power of the government to force a sale. By the terms of the sale, announced in 1791, the owners agreed to convey to the government free of cost such portions of the farms as were needed for streets, parks, etc., and to sell land for public buildings and improvements at $125 per acre.

Abandon Centuries-Old Tower

Camrai, France, has decided that it no longer needs a watchman in St. Martin's belfry day and night, and has discharged the last of the vigilant men. The move is also to reduce expenses. For hundreds of years men have watched from the 180-foot tower and sounded the alarm in case of fire. Nowadays the residents telephone the fire department and the blaze may be out before the watchman sees it. The famous belfry was shelled and destroyed in the World war, but after the armistice it was rebuilt and the big bell rehung, only to fall and crack when the tower caught on fire. The bell was recast and hung again, with a new bell to take the place of one melted by Germans. Of late years the watchman did not ring the bell, but telephoned the fire department.

MOB FEAR CAUSES REMOVAL OF NEGRO

56-Year Old Negro Barber Charged in Louisa Case

John Reid, 56, Louisa negro charged with carnally knowing a female under the age of 16, was removed from the Lawrence county jail at Louisa and placed in the Boyd county jail at Catlettsburg Wednesday.

He was taken to Catlettsburg by Sheriff George Smith and Deputies Berry and Wilson of Lawrence county who spirited him from Louisa by auto. They said they had met no trouble, but a large crowd was collecting and they took no chances. He was taken from the Lawrence jail through a rear exit.

Louisa, Aug. 7.—John Reid, 56, negro, who was arrested by Louisa police Tuesday night, when a thirteen year old white girl of this city testified that he was the father of a baby born to her here Sunday, was whisked away to another county at noon today by Sheriff G. F. Smith and deputies, following threats of mob violence.

The order to remove the negro, who is proprietor of a barber shop in the "Italy" section of Louisa to another county, was made by County Judge L. D. Fyffe at noon upon an affidavit of City Patrolman R. A. Wilson that mob violence was threatening. The negro was immediately taken from the county jail, and rushed away.

Reid was taken into custody yesterday at his home by Chief of Police Pat Brown and Patrolman R. A. Wilson on a warrant issued by Police Judge H. G. Stanfield charging him with having carnal knowledge of a girl under 16 years of age.

The young mother, Bessie Berry, 13, who gave birth Sunday to a baby, made an affidavit that Reid was the father of her daughter. For two days, she had declined to comment on the birth of the child but later was said to have told Louisa officers that Reid forced his attentions upon her in his home where she sometimes did housework and washed towels for his barber shop. Reid's wife is dead. Officials today said the charge against Reid may be changed to rape.

The youthful mother is the daughter of Mrs. Minnie Berry. Her father has been dead for a number of years and the family is said to be on relief rolls. Last year she was a pupil in the fifth grade at the Louisa graded school and the city school census shows that she is 13 years of age.

Kentucky Survey Shows Many Industries Booming

1 Retail trade throughout the United States showed substantial gains over the corresponding week last year, according to Department of Commerce reports from 33 trade centers received by its Louisville district office. Leading department stores in New York City showed average gains over the 1934 period of 10 per cent. Manufacturers reported improved sales in ag-steeel, wool, paper boxes and ricultural machinery, iron and slsteel, wool, paper boxes and silk with worsted yarn. Much of the increased buying over the country resulted from mid-summer activities in agricultural areas and the continued upswing in building.

The Louisville office reported: Due to heated temperatures, summer wearing apparel-sales are up as high as 30 per cent with general increases in retail trade up from 10 to 20 per cent over same period a year ago, due principally to increasing orders for hardware, paint, electrical appliances and building material. Declines shown for groceries, dry goods and notions. Copious rains with hot weather following have been fine for tobacco in dark district of Kentucky, and burley section is also showing much improvement. Plants in dark district while generally small, are responding nicely to favorable weather and the crop is progressing satisfactorily. Wheat yields are disappointing in most sections of the district as threshing progresses; much of grain said to be small and shriveled and light in weight, with straw very heavy. Hog market at various country sales best since 1931. Louisville agency for extensive peach growers expect to market 200 cars this season, declaring size and quality extra good. At recognition of Kentucky Real Estate Association at Lexington last week, forecast was made of great increase in home building. "We are going to see one of the greatest revivals of home building this country has ever known." Simultaneous with announcement of new liberalized land sales plan, it is reported that Federal Land Bank of Louisville has sold 470 farms in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee for $1,750,000 so far in 1935. The new plan includes a reduction to 4 1-2 per cent in the interest rate on deferred payments on the purchase price of bank owned farms. Kaufman-Strass Company, large Louisville department store, announces $50,000 reconstruction program to employ 200 men, contemplating rearrangement of departments and modernization. State Department of Agriculture preparing action to obtain grant of $150,000 for construction of administration building, swimming pool and recreation hall at Kentucky State Fair grounds. Boilers being installed at new Ripy distillery at Tyrone, Ky., and work will begin in early fall; new work on new warehouse started at Hoffman distillery. Permit is reported for construction of $135,- Mengel Company, Louisville, box specialties manufacturers, report unfilled orders running 33 1-3 per cent above same period a year ago; company has accomplished bond reduction to amount of $500,000 since first of year; cash position excellent with more than $600,000 on hand and no bank loans. Mammoth Cave Operating Committee reports profit of $30,000 from operation of cave which will be applied toward purchase of additional acreage in area to build up tract from 32,000 acres, already acquired, to 48,000 acres. For third consecutive week attendance at Indiana six tobacco loose leaf auction sales houses at Carrollton, Ky., were sold for $75,150.
