STEPHENS' LOSS IN RACE FOR AUDITOR SMALLEST IN STATE

Final Returns Necessary to Determine Victor; Chandler Carries Jefferson

Henry Stephens, Jr., of Prestonsburg, lost the runner-up position in the race for State Auditor in the recent primary by the smallest margin any candidate lost in this election. He trailed D. A. Mr. Stephens made an excellent showing in this, his first state-wide race, and has gained political prestige throughout Kentucky by the large vote he polled.

JOBLESS TEACHERS SLATED FOR POSTS

To Get Training for Filling State Emergency Education Needs

Four hundred additional unemployed and needy teachers will be placed in training immediately in Kentucky preparatory to conducting educational projects after completing their courses of training, Homer W. Nichols, director of special education of the State Department of Education, announced at Frankfort Monday.

More than 800 teachers, Nichols said, already have been declared eligible for employment this year in the emergency education field and are now in training at Western Kentucky Teachers' College, Eastern Kentucky Teachers' College, Morehead College, Murray College, Kentucky State Industrial College, University of Louisville, University of Kentucky, Louisville Municipal University and Union College.

The teachers now in training, Nichols said, will be ready to enter upon their duties as emergency teachers in the fields of adult and nursery education shortly after September 1.

The four hundred additional teachers, Nichols explained, will be selected by school superintendents and will be approved by relief workers for a two-weeks course in two of the state educational institutions. The two-weeks training course will start next month. Superintendents will be asked to notify needy unemployed teachers to register with local relief workers in each county. A list of those declared eligible for employment will be forwarded to nearest employment office. Local superintendents will select various teachers for the various projects under their supervision from the eligible list.

Mrs. F. E. Suder and children of Wichita, Kansas, are guests here of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Singer, and Mr. Singer.

Mrs. B. C. Burks and daughter, Miss Lola, of Betsy Layne, were visitors in Prestonsburg Wednesday.

Miss Mary Catherine Cox, of Cincinnati, is the houseguest of Attorney and Mrs. B. F. Combs and sons.

Original Mountain Opera Written By Floyd Countain NBC-WJZ Network Feature

Special to The Times
New York City.—The "Call of the Cumberlands," an opera laid in the hills of Kentucky and written and composed by a Kentucky mountaineer, will be presented to NBC-WJZ network listeners Saturday, August 24, at 4 p. m. EST. Probably the first "folk" opera ever written in this country, it forsakes the usual theme of a blood-feud and tells the story of a young mountaineer who had a "callin'" to go out to the "level land" and "make a doctor."

After various experiences he returns to his sweetheart; is shot after thrashing a bully who wanted to marry her too, and the opera closes with the wounded doctor trying to save his dying enemy.

The author is Harrison Elliott, 23 years old, of Floyd county, whose musical experience consists chiefly of play-

Mrs. Anna Burchett, 77 years old, widow of the late James Polk Harris and one of Floyd county's most deeply revered women, succumbed Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock at the home of her niece, Mrs. Flora Sizemore. Mrs. Harris' death, following a four-year illness of senility was not unexpected, but her passing brings deep grief to a host of friends and relatives in this section.

Mrs. Harris, a daughter of the late Richard and Rebecca Wilhelm Merritt, was born in Virginia, but came with her parents to this county when 12 years old. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since girlhood and lived the life of a devoted Christian.

Malmberg, of the Presbyterian Church, officiating; assisted by Dr. Josef Nordenhaug, of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, the Rev. G. W. Rose and the Rev. John Laferty. They expect to gather September 2 in Pikeville in a celebration which is intended to express their pride in Mr. Hammond. It was said here this week by Joe Hobson, commander of Floyd Post, that if a sufficient number of veterans from this county will make the trip to Pikeville a bus may be chartered.

FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS IN COUNTY APPROVED BY WPA

Two Projects Provide for Expenditure of $109,000; Officials Told

Two Floyd county farm-to-market roads were approved Monday by the Works Progress Administration for construction, Congressman A. J. May has notified Magistrate Jim Clark.

Congressman May's telegram Monday to Magistrate Clark follows:

"Works Administration approved Abbott Creek, $72,000, and Bosco, $37,000; farm-to-market roads, today."

It is understood by officials that the appropriations made provide for stone surfacing of these roads. Specifications given to date provide for a 16-foot roadbed, with a sandstone base and a two-inch top surface of limestone chips.

Though to date there has been slight right-of-way difficulties on both roads, these projects are expected to be under construction soon, it was said here Tuesday. The fiscal court meets August 22, when steps will be taken to meet the demands of the federal government in order to receive the benefits of these roads and the work entailed in their construction.

PREPARE CONTEST ACTION FOR PETRY

Premature or Belated Voting At Jack's Creek Precinct Alleged

An election contest suit was in preparation as this was written Thursday morning by Hill and Hobson, Prestonsburg law firm, for Mel Petry, contesting the nomination of J. J. Hatcher, Democrat, for Representative from this county.

In the Jack's Creek case it is alleged that either on the election day or the day before

MALARIA FOUND NEAR GREENUP

Greenup, Ky., Aug. 10—Four cases of malaria were reported in Greenup county this week by the health department. These are the first definitely diagnosed cases to be reported here in many years. Blood from each patient was examined by the state health laboratories at Louisville, and malarial parasites found in each instance.

Those suffering from the disease are Mrs. Fred Noway, Flatwoods; Robert Wike, of Wurtland, and Mrs. John Diedrick, Greenup.

Since malaria is transmitted by the anopheles mosquito, the health department is making an investigation to determine the prevalence of this type of mosquito in the county. The abundant rainfall and high mean temperature this summer have been favorable for development of mosquitoes.

DISTRICT WPA OFFICE OPENS

Headquarters Established at Paintsville for 17 Eastern Kentucky Counties

The Paintsville district office for the Progress Works Administration was formally opened Wednesday morning, last week, with Arthur Gamble, in charge. The new office is housed in the old Mayo College building, which has been completely remodeled for that purpose.

The new relief set-up divides the state into five districts and Paintsville is the headquarters for District Five which includes 17 counties in Eastern Kentucky. These counties are Floyd, Leslie, Letcher, Perry, Knott, Breathitt, Pike, Magoffin, Johnson, Martin, Lawrence, Elliott, Rowan, Carter, Greenup and Boyd.

The plan of the new PWA is to furnish employment to a part of the able-bodied men on relief. Chief activities will be in public works, such as road building, school construction, playgrounds and other public buildings and projects.

While the office has been opened, the personnel has not been formally appointed with few exceptions. L. H. Megadith has been named assistant director for the district and also is district engineer. E. M. Clay and S. A. Ballinger have been named assistant district engineers, while Frank C. Clay, of Paintsville, has been named assistant supervisor of the projects and planning. James B. McCauley, of Letcher county, has been named office manager. The clerical staff will be made up of workers from various parts of the district.

AMONG FARM LEADERS WHO HEAR DISCUSSION OF CORN-HOG PROBLEMS

County Agent S. L. Isbell and B. T. Frasure were among the 500 state farm leaders who met in Louisville Tuesday and heard Claude R. Wickard, Washington, D. C.; chief of the A. A. A. Corn-Hog Section, discuss amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, now in committee in Congress.

These amendments are designed, primarily, to meet questions raised by the Supreme Court in holding the N. R. A. unconstitutional, Mr. Wickard said. "We feel that the amendments so change the original act that there is no question now about the delegation of legislative authority," he explained.

CONTROL OF CREDIT A BASIC QUESTION

Economist Describes Conflict Between Opposing Social Viewpoints on Government Bank.

Agitation for government banking is a phase of the conflict between our present "personal competitive enterprise system" in America and the "compulsory state collective security system" of several European States, Virgil Jordan, President National Industrial Conference Board, says in an article in a recent issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

"They involve irreconcilable principles of human conduct and philosophy of life and the conflict between them is the key to the economic, social and political struggles of today," Mr. Jordan says.

The enterprise system of which the development of the United States has been the unparalleled example, depends for its motive power of progress upon the inexhaustible reservoir of energy in individual desire for personal advancement in prosperity, but it guarantees nothing to the individual save freedom of opportunity," the article says in part.

The collectivist security system, he says, "places all emphasis upon the maintenance of a minimum standard of living for the mass without regard to the creative power of the individual, quite simply the security system involves the modern form of the philosophy of the slave society." He continues:

A Sign of the Times
"The many-sided movement toward governmental banking, deposit insurance and currency management is the most direct and decisive expression of the universal instinctive search for security which is the sign of the times. In America our so-called social security legislation is an important indication of the drift away from the enterprise system toward a collectivist security system with concentration of authority in a central Federal government.

"The nationalization of credit is crucial and indispensable for complete state control of the complex industrial and business structure of this country. The drive toward government banking and monetary control is most determined because the relation of the state to credit goes to the root of the enterprise system. A collective security system is inconceivable without nationalization of credit. An enterprise system is inconceivable with it."

Under a collective security system, based on government banking the controls "lie solely in the hands of a few persons and depend upon their judgment, will or caprice," Mr. Jordan says, adding that it is they who must determine "upon the basis of some predetermined plan or upon pure political expediency of the moment, what lines of industry and even what individual enterprises shall have access to the credit reservoir." The state, he says, has the power of life and death over all enterprise that utilizes credit.

"Every government is an organ of party power and must respond to the will of the party that put it in power," the Jordan article says. "Under unchecked government operation it is an inescapable tendency of every currency to depreciate and for credit to expand. However much it may be in the interest of the nation, deflation is too dangerous politically for any government to undertake it deliberately.

"In the end government banking and currency management resolve themselves simply into the use of credit as a political instrument of power, and this instrument tends to be used in the long run for expropriation of the savings of the community."

THE FARM BUDGET

By DAN H. OTIS, Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

Inventories aid in the formation of a farm budget. Some banks, as well as the Farm Credit Administration, recommend outlining in advance the method of using production loans. Under this plan provision is made for monthly expenditures and funds are granted to the borrower in accordance with the budget plan. The budget helps to show how loans can be repaid.

With the accumulated data from previous inventories and budgets, budget making becomes easier and more accurate and valuable. As one branch of the farming plant requires more expenditure, such as for new machinery, fencing, livestock, etc., it may be necessary to limit other branches in order to meet these pressing requirements.

The budget helps to formulate a financial program. It is of special importance in arranging to meet special or large expenditures. If the income and expenditures are carefully budgeted it prevents the spending of money needed for interest and taxes before the time of their payment arrives. It helps to provide a reserve.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association feels that this type of work is so important that special emphasis has been placed upon the field of farm inventories, budgets and credit statements as one of its national projects for farm aid.

BRADLEY RETURNED TO FLOYD IN MURDER CASE

Deputy Sheriff W. A. Wills, Cal Clark and Curtis Clark returned Sunday night from Michigan, where they went to return to this county Curtis Bradley, who was wanted in the murder of a son of Willis Conley a few months ago at Maytown.

Bradley had forfeited his bond which Cal Clark and others had signed for him, and his whereabouts were unknown here until last week when Michigan authorities notified officials here of his capture at a logging camp.

A good cigarette, too needs Balance—

And that's why the tobaccos in Chesterfield are carefully balanced one against the other . . . not too much of one—not too little of another.

We take the right amounts of the right kinds of four types of tobacco—Bright, Burley, Maryland and Turkish.

It is this balancing of tobaccos that makes Chesterfields milder and makes them taste better.

This Be The Saga Of An
 'Idioter' Of 'The Weakly'

I remember the incident—perhaps I ought not to call it by the somewhat frivolous title of incident, seeing he owed the paper $36—but anyhow I remember it very well because a young lady named Elizabeth Soshill, whom Ezra was going with," wrote a poem on his sudden taking off. Liz had been standing around now 39 summers without being asked and she felt almost as bad about Ezra as I did. I sat up all night setting up that poem-let and I have always remembered every line of it. Not that I made an effort to commit it to memory. As a matter of fact, I have since taken the cure and the gold cure trying to get rid of it, but it sticks to me like the malaria, and feels worse. I have always felt sorry Ezra went and did what he did. Had he didn't, this poem would never have been written. It was a remarkable poem and that is why I have never been able to shake it off. The queer thing about this poem is the fact that after you read it you cannot forget it. If you want to forget it do not read it. If you want to remember it, after you have struck the trail
 all you have to do is to follow the main traveled road. This is Liz' dizzy fizz:

HE HAS WENT

He has went, has went and left us,
 Went and left us all alone,
 Left us all alone in sorrow,
 Sorrow heavy as a stone.

Heavy as the stone gigantic,
 Stone that crushed the Greek of yore
 Or the stone beside the highway
 Highway down by Skinner's store.

Skinner's store where in his lifetime,
 Lifetime full of pleasant hours,
 Hours he used to set a-talking
 Used to set a talking hours.

Hours while other men were toiling, Toiling in the race for wealth—

Wealth he never wanted while he Could get credit and had health.

Health, however, is not lasting Lasts no longer than the rain.
 Rain that soaks the morning-glory
 Glorious blooming in the lane.

Lanes they say must have a turning,
 Turning, twisting and again,
 And again we see turn upward
 Upward turn our Ezra Lane.

Ezra Lane used blasting powder Blasting powder tried to dry,
 Tried to dry it did our Ezra; Ezra then was called on high.

High to Glory he ascended,
 Ascended and we know,
 alack,
 From a lack of things returning, Returning we'll ne'er see him back.

Back within our pleasant circle,
 Broken by unhappy fate;
 Fate the circle has uncircled
 Where he used to circulate.

He has went and left alone
 here,
 Left alone here parents two,
 Two and twenty aunts in sorrow,
 Sorrowing uncles, too a few.

Few may hope to go where Ez is,
 Ez is sundered from his Liz,
 Liz who'd gladly follow if she,
 If she knew just where he is.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip — to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

A MODERN DAVID

Curtis McGuire, 16, a high school student and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McGuire, of Bradley, is handy with a slingshot, according to his father. The young man molds his own ammunition, casting bullets from lead in the old-fashioned bullet mold.

One of Curtis' feats was killing a rabbit with a hingle shot from his weapon, while accompanying other youths who used firearms. This occurred last winter. Later in the season, a wild duck fell victim to his trusty slingshot, although this took three shots to bring down the game.

One morning last week this young man went squirrel hunting before breakfast, returning with a gray squirrel which he had killed with his slingshot.

Bring on your Goliaths. Here is your modern David with a slight variation in his weapon. —Salysville Independent.

EXTRA PRIZES FOR 4-H MEAT ANIMAL WINNERS AT SHOWS

Four-H club boys and girls in meat animal projects in Floyd county are eligible to compete for the splendid county, state, sectional and national awards given in the sixth annual meat animal contest sponsored by Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago meat packer and chairman of the National committee on Boys' and Girls' club work.

These prizes supplement handsomely those offered in the year's livestock exhibitions for 4-H animals and are an extra incentive to club members to complete their projects in the best possible manner.

County winners, who are to be chosen by extension agents, receive a beautiful embossed gold medal, while state champions win a 17-jeweled gold watch on which their names are engraved. Four sectional winners each receive a trip with all expenses paid to the forthcoming National Club Congress to be held in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition the first week in December. Three cash college scholarships of $300 $200 and $100 go to the national winners. Contestants are required to fill out forms available from the county agent.

Three $300 scholarships are also provided by Mr. Wilson for livestock club members showing in the 4-H International show in connection with their meat animal projects. Scholarship awards are announced after the show.

WORK CONTINUES GOOD AT ELK HORN COAL MINES

Garrett, Ky., Aug. 10 — Work at the Elk Horn Coal Corporation's mine here continues to be good, and it is believed by both workers and company officials that a good run will be in order for the next several months. The installation of new machinery and the repairing of the mine tipples during recent weeks indicates that the company expects orders for its coal, the employes believe.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Reagent substitute, 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

ENLARGEMENT OF THIS PLACE SEEN

Would Annex Porter Addition; Bootblacking Activities Restricted Here

Unless objection is raised, Prestonsburg will be enlarged shortly, a resolution introduced before the city council at its meeting Friday night provides. This resolution, if adopted, would annex all the Porter Addition to the Cliff bridge to Prestonsburg's corporate area. An ordinance enacted at this meeting forbids "shine boys" to ply their trade on the streets here. This action followed alleged deprecations committed by one or two bootblacks against visitors there. When they were refused permission to shine shoes of a few visitors here, some of the boys are alleged to have blained the trousers of the men from whom they sought business.
