STRIKE IN FLOYD AS PARLEYS FAIL

400,000 Miners Idle in Soft Coal Field; 40,000 in County

Between 3,000 and 4,000 miners were idle in Floyd county Monday and Tuesday—and how long thereafter depends upon the outcome of negotiations now under way—as a result of the strike called by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The strike became effective Sunday midnight and was called when operators and mine union heads failed to agree on the tonnage rate for the digging and loading of coal.

In this county, according to all information available to The Times, the strike is "100 per cent" only a few maintenance men being still at work. No disorders have been reported.

The mine workers demanded a nine-cent increase in pay for coal loading, and after prolonged negotiations in Washington between operators and union heads, with Edward F. Crady, assistant Secretary of Labor, acting as intermediary, the operators agreed to a seven and one-half cent increase.

Union officials estimate that 400,000 soft coal miners in the states of Kentucky, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois and other bituminous-producing states are idle as a result of the strike.

A new ultimatum from miners to mine operators raised doubts Tuesday as to the speed with which the soft coal strike might be settled.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, emergency from conference on the thorny problem with the assertion that the miners would not agree to less than a nine cents a ton increase in pay for men who dig and load coal.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant Secretary of Labor, had reported the operators willing to agree to a seven and one-half cents boost.

Referring to the nine cent union offer as the union's "last word"—all other points at issue had been settled—Lewis said the special subcommittee of two miners and two operators are still engaged in a "thumb twiddling talk fest."

"As far as we're concerned, they can take it or leave it," Lewis said. "These mutual admiration sessions are beginning to wear out as far as we are concerned."

McGrady, President Roosevelt's representative, sat in an antechamber outside the negotiating room. He said he still hoped there would be a speedy agreement.

Secretary Perkins at her press conference expressed optimism as to the "ultimate outcome" of negotiations.

"I share with Mr. McGrady the feelings of optimism about the outcome, but I would not want to date it," she elaborated.

WEEKSBURY MINER IS ENCEPHALITIS VICTIM

More White, Weeksbury, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Tuesday morning, a victim of encephalitis from which he had suffered for the last two weeks. The body was brought here prepared for burial by E. Arnold, then was returned Weeksbury. Funeral arrangements had not been announced when this was written Wednesday.

HUSBAND HERE SEEKING WIFE AND 'OTHER MAN'

William L. Stanley, of Maxie, Va., was in Prestonsburg last week, seeking information of the whereabouts of his wife, Cinda Stanley. Stanley asked Floyd county authorities to maintain a watch for his wife and Elmer Carnell for whom, he said, he has sworn out warrants in the Greenup county court. He charges the couple with bigamy and in another warrant alleged against Carnell violation of the Mann act. The couple is being accompanied, he said, by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley's sons, aged 9 and 5 years.

NEWSOME GIVEN LIFE PEN TERM

Jury Makes Verdict In Hour After Failure Reported

(Pike County News) A trial which opened in circuit court here last Friday ended shortly after noon Tuesday when a jury which had deliberated but one hour, returned a verdict finding Robert Newsome, a paroled convict, guilty of murder in connection with the slaying of Deputy Constable Cline Tackett at Robinson creek last June. The jury fixed his punishment at life in the state penitentiary.

A few minutes after the case was given to the jury Tuesday noon the jurors filed back and announced that they were unable to reach an agreement but were advised by Judge Fields to deliberate further. After the verdict was announced it was rumored that a number of the jurors first asked for the supreme penalty.

The case was keenly contested with Newsome claiming that he fired in defense of his own life. Commonwealth witnesses stated that Tackett, Garrett Johnson and Glenn Osborne were on a truck which passed the defendant and Earl Newsome on the highway at Robinson Creek shortly before the shooting. The officer's companion stated that Newsome was apparently intoxicated and they turned around to go back and place him under arrest.

The prosecution contended that as Tackett got out of the truck and placed his hand on Newsome's shoulder, Newsome drew his pistol and fired. Newsome, however, contended that Tackett threatened him as he alighted from the truck and approached him. Tackett and Newsome are reported to have had difficulty a short time before the shooting.

A few months before Tackett's death, Newsome was paroled from the state reformatory where he was serving a sentence in connection with the slaying of a man on Beaver Creek, it was stated.

Railway Company Offers Low Rates To Ashland

Those from this county who plan to attend the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' celebration in Ashland Friday and Saturday are being offered special rates by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, L. S. Moles, local agent, announced this week.

Round-trip fare from Prestonsburg and intermediate points is $2.25 for the Friday afternoon train or that of Saturday morning, returning from Ashland at 5:30 p. m. The afternoon train will be held up two hours Saturday in order to accommodate those attending the celebration, it was said.

SISTER OF GARRETT WOMAN IS SUICIDE

Geneva Allen Dies Monday in Ashland of Self-Inflicted Wound

Geneva Allen, 18 years old, daughter of Reece Allen, of Greenup county, and a sister of Mrs. Nora Diller, of Garrett, died Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock in the King's Daughters' hospital, Ashland, of a self-inflicted bullet wound through the upper lobe of the heart.

She shot herself at 11:40 o'clock Sunday night at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Russell "Buck" Allen, of Ashland. She had been making her home there since July 4.

Miss Allen died without giving any reason for her act.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Allen, who were at home at the time of the shooting, and Clyde Haney, a neighbor, asked her several times why she shot herself but her only answer was:

"I don't know—I don't know."

Once she cried out:

"Oh, why did I do it?"

She used a .32-20 revolver which belonged to one of Mr. and Mrs. Allen's sons and which had been lying in a dresser in the room for some time.

Dr. E. C. McGehee, Boyd county coroner, said he would probably hold no formal inquest. He has been conducting an investigation along with police officers and says he is convinced the shooting was a suicide and believes a jury inquest would be unnecessary.

Miss Allen is survived by her father and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Mary Fritz, Riverton; Mrs. Gladys Coburn, Russell; Ward Allen, Wurtland; Mrs. Nora Diller, Garrett; Jack Allen, Frankfort; Mamie, Elsie May, Morton, Walter and Ruby Allen, all at home. Her mother died six years ago.

Funeral was held at the Allen cemetery Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. W. M. A. Oakes in charge.

KIWANIANS TO HONOR POULTRY JUDGING TRIO

Members of the championship Floyd county poultry judging team will be guests of honor at Friday evening's meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Valley Inn, it was announced this week.

In addition to the entire membership of the Kiwanis Club, members of the fiscal court are expected to join in honoring the boys.

F. M. Burke, of Frankfort, was a business visitor in Prestonsburg Monday.

BLACKCATS TO PLAY HAZARD SATURDAY

Messer Works Hard To Iron Out Kinks Shown in Play Against Raceland

Having passed the first barrier last Saturday on the road seeking a second season unmarred by defeat, the Prestonsburg Blackcats on Saturday afternoon of this week tackle the powerful Hazard high school eleven at Gasco Park here.

If the 'Cats can take this hurdle without a spill, their stock will soar to a level of that of last year. Coach Messer is working hard with his charges this week, seeking better blocking and more co-ordination in the execution of plays.

Hazard comes here with two games won by big scores under its belt, and will furnish the Blackcats a tough afternoon. A big crowd is expected to witness the game.

SURFACING BEGUN ON MAYO TRAIL

The pouring of concrete on the Mayo Trail was begun last Saturday afternoon by F. C. Gorrell and Sons, contractors on the four miles which have been let for surfacing. They began pouring the surface near the mouth of Rush and are pouring the west half of the road toward the Garrett highway. The work is being pushed along as rapidly as possible and already more than a mile of surface on the west half of the road has been laid. It is necessary to halt traffic for short intervals along the part under construction, but for the most part there is little waiting necessary. The most modern machinery is being used on the road and the contractors have indicated that they will push the project through to completion as rapidly as possible.—Paintsville Herald.

Mrs. John Gray, of West Prestonsburg, submitted Friday to an operation at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin. She is recovering nicely. Mrs. Gray was a member of the pet jury at the present term of court.

Former County Attorney J. N. Hamilton and son, Perry, of Stamping Ground, Ky., are visiting relatives and friends here and elsewhere in the county.

Mrs. Oak Prichett, formerly of Prestonsburg, is critically ill at her home at Pikeville. The many friends here of Mrs. Prichett are hoping for her recovery.

KNOTT MEN WOUNDED IN KNIFE GUN FIGHT

Lee Terry and Johnce Perkins, of Knott county, are in the Hurst hospital, Hazard, as the result of a shooting and cutting affray from which both emerged wounded Saturday night near Hindman.

Terry shot Perkins through the neck and in turn was slashed down the face by a knife. The shooting took place at the New Tavern inn at the mouth of Poplar Trot, about two miles above Hindman. Perkins, more seriously wounded of the two men, is expected to recover.

FLOYD SINGULARLY FREE OF DISEASE

For Season of Year; Typhoid Decrease Marked; Comparison is Made

Floyd county is singularly free from communicable diseases for this time of year, a season when such diseases are most prevalent, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd county health department, said this week.

There have been reported to the health department to date only 12 cases of typhoid in the county, with only one death; four cases of scarlet fever and eight cases of diphtheria.

Scarcity of typhoid, it is pointed out, is in marked contrast to the record existing eight years ago when Dr. Ransdell came to Prestonsburg. "When I came to this county," Dr. Ransdell said, "there were 150 cases of typhoid in Prestonsburg alone and from 150 to 200 cases in the county."

In Prestonsburg several cases of mumps have been reported, and at Westbury and Bosco whooping cough is prevalent.

More than half of the rural schools of the county have been visited by members of the health department, and immunization against typhoid, diphtheria and smallpox has been completed in these. Remaining schools will be visited as rapidly as they can be reached.

"I would particularly emphasize," Dr. Ransdell said, "the importance of pre-school children being brought to their neighborhood schools for immunization against diphtheria. This is one of the most important things to be done by the health department and the parents of young children."

COURT OF APPEALS AFFIRMS RECOUNT

Hatcher Thus Given Lead of 137 Votes Over Petry for Representative

The Kentucky court of appeals at its meeting Tuesday affirmed the recent decision made by Chief Judge John W. Caudill to the effect that Precincts No. 1 and 2, Prestonsburg, and Wayland should not be counted in the vote cast for J. M. Hatcher and M. J. Petry, Democratic candidates for Representative from this county.

This decision leaves Mr. Hatcher a lead of 137 votes over Mr. Petry. Instead of the 10-vote lead which Hatcher in the vote count made by the Floyd county action commissioners.

In Wayland precinct 229 votes certified for Petry were disregarded because George Pow, judge of the election there, had signed only the name "Pow" in Prestonsburg. Continued on page 7

BLACKCATS TAKE FIRST TILT, 13-6

Snap Into Action To Score Twice On Little Eight Champs

After spending an entire half in the doldrums, the Prestonsburg Blackcats came to life in the second half of their game Saturday afternoon with the Raceland Ramblers, quickly pushed over two touchdowns and thus started their season off right.

The score was 13 to 6, Raceland scoring in the last period when an ill advised Prestonsburg pass was intercepted by a Raceland back who took the ball in the end zone and raced approximately 85 yards to a touchdown.

Otherwise, the visitors, last year's Little Eight conference champions, offered little or no threat to the 'Cats. Throughout the game Prestonsburg had Raceland on the defensive. The 'Cats in the first half gained enough ground for three or four touchdowns, but lacked a scoring punch when within striking distance of the invaders' goal.

When they came back for the half, however, they at once buckled down to business. The Prestonsburg blocking which had been conspicuous by its absence, started clicking, and "Ott" Archer and "Turkey" Hughes began hitting the line for big gains. These two scored the markers. The extra point gained was made by plunging the line. Leck Williamson and young Dick Mayo showed fine promise in making pretty broken-field runs. Two "end-around" plays, with "Bull-Tom" Archer and Ray Craft, the ends, carrying the ball, were cleverly executed.

Except for lack of co-ordination, the big Prestonsburg line played well and gave the visitors little opportunity for gains. The Prestonsburg passing attack is below the standard of that of last year, but is expected to improve. Lack of efficient blocking—which, after all, is what scores touchdowns—severely hampered the 'Cats. Coach Messer is working hard to smooth out the rough spots shown in the Blackcat play in this first game.

INLAND STEEL IN COAL LOADING VAN

On C. and O. in State; 329,000 Tons Loaded in Floyd During August

On the basis of 50 tons to the car, 329,000 tons of coal were produced by Floyd county mines last month, figures made available last week show.

Of this tonnage, the Inland Steel Corporation at Wheelwright produced approximately 2,000 cars. Next to Inland in loading were the Elk Horn Coal Corporation and Koppers Coal Company with approximately 900 and 800 cars respectively. Inland Steel is the largest coal producer on the Chesapeake and Ohio in this state.

Total loadings on the C. and O. system, these figures show, were 70,775 cars, 12,590 of which were produced in Kentucky. The Logan field produced 19,472 cars.

16-YEAR-OLD BOY IS SERIOUSLY CUT

Marsillett's Assailant Not Definitely Known Wayland Woman Shot

Week-end violence in Floyd county consisted of a cutting affray and the shooting of a woman.

Charlie Marsillett, 16-year-old Middle Creek youth, was taken to the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Saturday night, suffering a deep knife wound in his throat and stabs in his back.

Officials here said they had encountered difficulty in identifying Marsillett's assailant, and so no arrest has been made.

G. D. Ryan, in whose ambulance Marsillett was taken to the hospital, said a man named Hicks accompanied the wounded youth to Martin and admitted that he cut Marsillett.

At the hospital Tuesday afternoon it was said that Marsillett has a good chance of recovery, though his condition is little changed from that of the preceding day.

The other victim of violence in the county is Mrs. Elizabeth Manns, wife of Ernie Manns, who was shot Saturday night on Steele's Creek, in or near Wayland, by Pearl Manns, her sister-in-law. Jealousy is said to have been the motive for the shooting.

The woman was wounded by the charge of a shotgun fired, it is said, from a distance of only a few paces. The charge penetrated her thigh. She is recovering, it was said at the hospital at Martin.

TEACHER SALARY MINIMUM IS $75

Schedule Submitted by Hunter for Teachers' Pay Is Approved

Lowest salary any teacher employed by the Floyd county board of education will receive this year is $75, the salary schedule submitted by Superintendent Ballard Hunter and approved by the state department of education last week provides.

The basal teachers' salary is $70. This will be supplemented by 25 cents for each semester hour of college training up to 128; $2 a year for teaching up to five years; $3.50 to $6 per teacher for school principals.

which teachers in the Prestonsburg graded school will be paid had not been approved when this was written Tuesday, and may not be adopted until next week. The basal salary may be from $5 to $10 lower than that of last year, it was predicted. Last year, basic monthly teacher pay in the graded school was $55, with 25 cents per college hour up to 128 and $55, with 25 cents per college hour up to 128 and $2.50 for teaching experience up to and including four years supplementing this salary.

The county and city boards of education remained out of hiring teachers for the Prestonsburg and Floyd county high school when this was written, and from one source came the statement that the county board may pay the teachers it hired, leaving the city to pay faculty members it selected. From another source, however, came the prediction that all difficulties would be ironed out within a few days and that the two boards, as before, would share the expenses of the school. High school teachers hired by the county, if paid by the county board alone, will receive $112 monthly.

Folk Psychology

Incidents otherwise puzzling often seem clear when viewed in the light of folk-lore. A case in point is the Floyd Collins disaster. Many another man has lost his life in a cave or in a mine, but somehow no one else has appealed quite so strongly to the folk imagination as did this unknown Kentucky cave explorer. The tragedy appealed to all sorts of people, was soon interpreted in several ballads, and within a few years has acquired all the necessary elements to ally it with the deeds of Bonnie Barbara Alien or of Robin Hood and his merry men. In spite of education people are still of the folk when they fear. For a whole afternoon I rowed around in a boat searching for the body of one of my students who had lost his life while trying to save a young woman from drowning. On the seat in front of me lay the clothes of the young man, which had previously been cast into the turbulent river by some well-meaning person in the hope or belief that they would go down in the spot where the body was to be found. I need hardly say that the boy was not found in this way, but I suspect that the person who tried the experiment will not remember this if fear comes again in this guise.

Lord condemn him to be spurned by the heel of man? The hawks in our day are a race paying the penalty of a very few species that are predatory. Sometimes one almost despairs of uprooting a prejudice against certain things of nature, so long have men unreasonably condemned whole species unheard.

Why do certain customs persist? For example, why do people continue to practice charms against disease, death, or the evil eye, or wild animals? In spite of education and science we are still more guided by primitive feelings than by thought. Since all of us are likely to suffer certain ills, there has grown up a body of quackeries and nostrums that stagger belief. The charms of other days, like the assafoetida bag, may not be so plentiful as they were; but patent medicines are enriching their makers because of recurrent ills in humanity and a consequent breakdown of acquired knowledge. Night air is still feared, even though some of the people who pull their windows down at night have gone to the trouble to have screens. And though most people take the medicine left by the physician or sent from the drugstore, other remedies hallowed by memory and usage, are as common as ever. Catnip tea has never lost its popularity; those who have given it to their children probably have not reasoned that some warm water might have done as well. Civilization is, after all, pretty largely a matter of actions and thoughts that are constant and persistent; when we become passive, we unconsciously fall back on folk thinking and reasoning.

Scientists have always had trouble in getting a proper hearing for certain quadrupeds, birds and plants. Pioneers seem to have regarded all nature as for him or against him. If a thing did not yield immediate assistance, it should be destroyed. The snake, for example, was and is only partially bad; most species that live in America are neutral or even beneficial. The terror inspired by the copperhead or the rattlesnake made all snakes venomous; anyway did not Satan disguise himself in this form and did not the

DIRECT RELIEF TO END IN SIX WEEKS

County and City Officials Told Burden To Be Shifted To Them November 1

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 23 (Spl.)—As time draws near for the end of direct relief in Kentucky and the absorption of all workable relief clients on worth-while projects under the new Works Progress Administration local governmental units are faced with the immediate problem of caring for indigents in their respective localities. Six weeks hence, it is expected, direct relief will end and no more funds will be forthcoming from Washington for that purpose.

Taking into consideration the problems confronting governmental units in their new undertaking, George H. Goodman, administrator for the Kentucky Emergency Relief and the Works Progress Administration, has addressed a letter to county judges and mayors of Kentucky in which he says:

"According to our records we are now carrying a number of unemployable relief cases in your county. This means that none of these cases contain a person who can be transferred from direct relief to the Works Progress Administration program now being started in Kentucky.

"As you know, the KERA program was designed to take care of needy, unemployed people, able and willing to work. As a purely humanitarian measure this organization has been permitted to assist in the care of indigent persons and families in counties and municipalities of Kentucky that were not able, under the stress of the depression, to provide care for them. Unquestionably this permission has been imposed upon in many instances. However, a great many helpless people would have suffered severely without the help we have given. It now becomes my duty to advise you that by November 1 we must liquidate the KERA program. Unworkable indigent cases must be returned to the responsibility of the county, the municipality, and the state, by that date. By that time all workable cases should be provided care through employment on WPA work projects at a wage which will be sufficient to care for the average family. In unusually large families or where illness or other conditions entail abnormal expenses, two workers may be given employment.

"Please let me know if you are in position to give these workable cases adequate care. We are interested in their welfare and are anxious to help them in any way we can. It may be we can help you financially toward supplying one or more trained welfare workers, who will keep in touch with needy families and as the need develops look after the certification of additional workers to the Works Progress Administration program. This procedure seems to me to be a necessity until such time as Kentucky is prepared to take advantage of the Federal Social Security Act recently signed by the President.

"I will appreciate a frank statement from you and I know you will agree that whatever program can be set up to safeguard the future of those unworkable persons should be established at the earliest moment."

According to Mr. Goodman, ample projects under the Works Administration have filed from each county to care for all workables on relief for a period of a year. These projects, Mr. Goodman pointed out, are now in the hands of Washington officials awaiting their approval before they can start.

Mr. Goodman expressed the hope that the bulk of projects on file from Kentucky at Washington would receive consideration and would not tend to hold up the program in the state. He said projects over the state were being started as quickly as approval for them is given.

LAFFOON WILL NOT CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Laffoon said Saturday night that he would not call a special session of the legislature to repeal the sales tax.

The Governor said his decision was guided by "hundreds of letters from Kentucky citizens who asked that he abandon any plans he might have concerning a special session,"
it was reported.

"And besides," the Governor said, "I don't want to pull the house down that I built myself. It takes an expert carpenter to build a house, but any fool with a sledge hammer
can tear it down."

In speaking of letters from persons in all walks of life, Republicans as well as Democrats joined in urging him not to call the session, the Governor said, "And some of them
even voted for Chandler."

The Governor in referring to what he termed "a necessary continuation of the sales tax," said that all state warrants sold since the result of the runoff primary because known had brought less than par.

Governor Laffoon declared
all state warrants marked in the six months preceding the primary had brought prices ranging above par.

YORK FUNERAL RITES ARE HELD SUNDAY

Last rites for Dr. L. H. York, 84, who died at his home at Louisa Thursday, were conducted Sunday afternoon from the Baptist church in Fort Gay.
The Rev. Bascom Lakin, of Fort Gay, widely known Baptist evangelist, preached the funeral sermon.

The Vinson Masonic Lodge
of Fort Gay, of which the deceased was a member, officiated
at the rites, and interment was made in the Beairs cemetery at Fort Gay.

Pall Bearers were:
Active—J. B. Kinstler, Lace
M. Wellman, R. J. Vinson,
Robert Dixon, J. B. Clayton
and Dr. C. B. Rice. Honorary
—Ed J. Vinson, R. W. Vinson,
G. R. Vinson, M. S. Burns,
Dr. W. W. Wray, Dr. L. S.
Hayes, Dr. J. E. Carter, Dr.
J. W. McNabb, Dr. Ira Well-
man and Dr. Jay Bartram.

Probably one of the largest assemblages ever to attend a funeral in Fort Gay attended the rites. Acquaintances and friends of the aged surgeon came from long distances to be present at his funeral.

In the passing of Dr. York this section has lost one of its noted citizens. Dr. York had practiced as a physician for more than half a century. He established the first hospital in the Big Sandy Valley at Louisa in 1902, and was also active in business and civic life.

Surviving are his widow, a son, Chas. T. York, of Hightown, Va.; and a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Bromley, of Louisa; and a sister, Mrs. James Atkins, of Kermit, W. Va.

JUDGE J. R. SHEPHARD

Probably one of the most modest men in the county is Judge J. R. Shephard. He consented to let The News have his story last week, but when the time came for the interview, he was too modest to sit through it. Therefore, the writer of this column will have to tell just exactly what he,
himself, knows about the Judge.

His business is located at Fullerton, where he and a son own and operate one of that community's best stores. There he proved a success and has carried his years of business experience into public office, where the county has greatly benefitted by it. When he retires from office Greenup county will know that a successful administration has been carried through.

Today, he is probably one of the most influential men in the county. He was the omnipresent figure in the recent large majority that Greenup county gave Thomas S. Rhea in his race as Democratic candidate for Governor. Caring little for credit, he is a man who does things. Notice the results of the last election. As campaign chairman for Rhea in this county, he let only two precincts be carried by the opposition, and his home town
came through with their recommendation of Judge Shephard by giving Rhea the greatest majority of all. He is a great Democratic figure. Mr.
Rhea should feel complimented
in having him as a supporter.

To date he has succeeded in reducing the county's debt several thousands of dollars, and continues to reduce it under all conditions.

Always interested in civic progress, he has gone to a great deal of trouble and personal expense to see a progressive move go through. No one can say that he has intentionally been unfair in any case which has appeared before him since his term on the bench — The Greenup News.

Judge Shephard is a native of Floyd county.

WILL LINDBERGH
SAVE HAUPTMANN?

Edward J. Reilly, chief of the defense staff for Bruno Richard Hauptmann during his trial for the murder of the Lindbergh baby, this week declared that the German carpenter's friends damaged his case by bringing the German-Jewish racial issue into the spotlight.

"The conviction of Hauptmann and his approaching execution in the electric chair at Trenton, N. J., brings this factor to the forefront of public discussion, since many are still debating his innocence or his guilt," Reilly states in an article in the current issue of Liberty Magazine.

"Expressly against my orders," he says, "friends of Mr.
Hauptmann tried to make it seem that a Jew, Attorney General Wilentz, was persecuting a Christian. They maligned Wilentz at every opportunity from the platforms
where they were trying to raise funds for the defense and by issuing inflammatory printed leaflets which set forth that the whole case was a racial conflict."

This was one reason why
Reilly quit the defense staff.
"It was not because of non-payment of his fee, as most persons seem to think," the lawyer writes. "And it was not because I believe that Hauptmann is guilty. I cannot believe, as the state of New Jersey contended, that any one person could have kidnaped the Lindbergh baby.

"I have never been able to set my mind at rest as to why Violet Sharpe committed suicide, nor why no one in the house on that fateful night heard a man entering the window of the nursery. I cannot adjust in my mind the fact that Hauptmann, a stranger,
would know that the Lind-berghs would be at Hopewell that night when they never before stayed there during the week, nor can I understand the strange actions of Jafsie, whose offer of $1,000 reward brought response when there were numerous rewards of $25,000
that went unanswered."

lic and parochial schools in Louisville.

With a vacation two weeks
longer than usual ended, approximately 16,000 returned to parochial schools, it was estimated by the Rev. Felix N.
Pitt, secretary of the Catholic school board.

RHEA APPOINTED TO OLD POSITION

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 25—
J. A. Reed, of Russellville, submitted his resignation today as a member of the State Highway commission for the third district. Governor Laffoon, who accepted it, immediately appointed Thomas S.
Rhea, of Russellville, to take the post.

In a letter to the governor, Reed, who was appointed to the commission last spring after Rhea resigned to run for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, expressed the hope
"the highway commission will re-employ me as highway engineer in the third district."
Reed had been district engineer prior to his appointment
as Rhea's successor.

Rhea resigned last March 29 to become a candidate for governor.
