

Standard Printing Co.
Louisville, Ky.

The Only Weekly Newspaper in Floyd County.

Floyd County Times

Patronize Home Merchants
Keep Your Money At Home

A PROGRESSIVE PAPER FOR PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

TENTH YEAR NUMBER 47 Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky, Friday, June 5, 1936 $1.50 PER YEAR

HUNTER WINS IN COURT OF APPEALS

TWO DIE IN FLOYD WITHIN A WEEK BY OWN HANDS

Little Paint Man, Despondent Since Tragedy Here, Fires Rifle Bullet Through Brain

GIRL DRINKS POISON
Two Floyd county residents, one a girl of 16, the other a man of 21, have died within the last week at their own hands.

The girl, Oma Mabe, of Wayland, succumbed Monday morning after having drunk Paris green, it is said, and the young man, Cecil Baldrige, died instantly on Little Paint Friday morning at 2 o'clock after firing a bullet from a .22-calibre rifle into his forehead.

Despondent since last November, when his brother, Eldon, and Miss Bessie Brauhm were killed by an automobile here, young Baldrige killed himself at the home of his mother, Mrs. Iva Baldrige, widow of Zach Baldrige. He is said to have threatened at various times to end his life, and shortly before the shot was fired he had telephoned neighbors, telling them that he was shot and asking that they come to him. When he arrived at the home they found him dead.

Surviving here are his mother, two sisters and a brother: Mrs. Harry Huger, Little Paint; Mrs. Donald McElroy, Catlettsburg; and Nelson Baldrige, Little Paint; three half-sisters and four half-brothers: Ernest Baldrige, Ashland; Mrs. Otto Baldrige, Paintsville; Fred Baldrige, Lane; Luther Baldrige, Allen; Mrs. W. A. Baldrige, and Mrs. Basson Robinson, Little Paint, and Willie Baldrige, of Auxier.

Funeral rites were conducted from the Baldrige home Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Green Allen, of Garrett, and burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

Oma Mabe, 16-year-old Wayland schoolgirl, died Monday morning, approximately 12 hours after drinking Paris green at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mabe.

It was said that the girl drank the poison with suicidal intent and that she left a note to her parents. Contents of the note were not revealed, and it was not definitely learned why she committed the act, she drank the lethal poison Sunday afternoon.

Surviving the youthful victim are her parents and two sisters. The body was prepared for burial by G. D. Ryan and then taken to Hazard, where interment was made Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Payment of Old Age Pensions In State May Be Delayed To August; Require Investigation of All Cases

Frankfort, Ky., May 26—Flow of the five million annual old age assistance grants in Kentucky probably will be delayed until August or September by the detailed investigation of every applicant required by law, and by preliminary organization for the task, it was reported authoritatively here today.

Although the law provides old age assistance shall become effective July 1, indications were that it may be September 1 before the paying machinery gets into full swing.

The manual of old age assistance regulations prepared by the department of welfare is now ready for approval by Governor Chandler and will be submitted to him within the next few days. The manual includes forms, Attorney General has approved the forms as complying with the statute and the regulations.

W. A. Wallis, of the department, said that the regulations were being worked out as rapidly as possible, but that no definite announcement could be made at this time regarding either the date of beginning payments or the type of the organization.

PRICES RURAL WRITERS

Wheeler McMillen, editor of The Country Home, has announced the magazine's second annual contest for country newspaper correspondents. It is designed to call attention to the excellent writing in the rural press and offers prizes which include a trip to New York and Washington.

MURDER REPORT IS EXAGGERATION

As Twain Once Remarkd; Rumor Does Mothers Good Turn in Control of Children

Report of the murder of Sam Goble Sunday night near Knollys Hollow, above here, was, like Mark Twain's death, greatly exaggerated. The alleged "crime" was reported Wednesday as having been hoisted on a cow creek.

Search in and along the Big Sandy river in the vicinity of Knollys Hollow was conducted Monday afternoon after a trail of blood from the highway over to bank to the river was discovered. It was reported that Odie Jarvis and Goble had had a fight on the preceding night, and the rumor spread that Goble had been killed and thrown in the river.

The only good to come from these ill tidings was help to mothers along the river who had been having trouble keeping their children out of the river. For a few days this week they effectively threatened them with finding a dead man in the water.

TO HOLD DOLL TEA

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church is having its third annual Doll Tea at the church Wednesday afternoon, June 10, at 3 o'clock. An attractive program, featuring the little folks in costume, is planned for the occasion.

W. A. Maers, drift merchant, was a business caller in Prestonsburg Wednesday afternoon.

BUDGET APPROVAL VOTED BY COURT

Fiscal Court Wednesday Rescinds Action Providing Salary for Commonwealth's Attorney

Approval of the 1936-37 budget for Floyd county as fixed by the county budget commission was voted by the fiscal court in session Wednesday.

The budget provides for a reduction in the general fund, the amount of the reduction being placed in the courthouse fund. It is substantially the same as last year's budget. For purchase of right-of-way $15,000 was set aside, and $10,000 was set up for payment on outstanding indebtedness as represented by fiscal court warrants. The hospital fund to provide treatment of indigents was reduced from $6,000 to $4,000.

At Wednesday's meeting the court voted to rescind its action of the regular April term at which Commonwealth's Attorney O. C. Hall was voted a salary of $1,200 annually for official services. Magistrate M. C. Wright offered the motion voiding Mr. Hall's salary, and Magistrate Jim Clark seconded the proposal.

A tax equal to one per cent of the market value of all crude oil produced in Floyd county was voted. The tax was adjudged retroactive so as to take effect as of December 1, last. Funds thus derived are to be deposited to the credit of the general fund.

H. L. Mayo's bid of $275 on the old bridge across the Big Sandy here was high, and the court approved sale of the span on this offer.

CARNIVAL TROUPE HAVING TROUBLES

INJUNCTION WHICH FAILED HERE BEING INVOKED ON SHOW AT MELVIN

The Volunteer State Exposition Shows, a carnival company, is having its troubles in Floyd county. Last week, while showing here, Commonwealth's Attorney O. C. Hall procured an injunction against the show operating in Floyd county. Then, when the show opened despite the restraining order, Circuit Judge John W. Candill issued a rule against it. Notice of the rule was not served on the show owners, however.

This week, the show is at Melvin, and Tuesday morning Magistrate Willie Hall moved to "close" it. The injunction procured here is still effective, and Magistrate Hall said there would be no delay about proper service of any papers necessary to restrain the carnival from showing at Melvin. County Attorney Forrest D. Short went to Melvin Tuesday afternoon to assist in squelching the carnival.

Officials who have taken action against the carnival did so because of open gambling permitted on the show grounds. They hold that, since poker and other gambling games are outlawed, gambling devices brought into a community by shows should not be given the approval, hitherto shown them in permitting them to be operated.

Dr. Marvin Bunsell, director of the Floyd county health department, last week said that he could think of no greater health hazard than is presented by such shows. He pointed out that they recruit their employees from all parts of the country, group in a conservatively small space over a period of a week and take few sanitary measures.

Rudely awakened by a loud crash, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pizzingilli, of Camden, N. J., found their bed sliding toward the street, and the walls of their room crumbling. A truck had smashed into the house.

USED FURNITURE CASH HARDWARE CO.
Opposite Presbyterian Church

THE HOODED TERROR

DR. MORGAN FREED RETIRED MINISTER ON $10,000 BOND SUCCUMBS MONDAY

Martin Chiropractor Waives Examination, Executes Bond to Grand Jury Under Charge

Dr. O. Boone Morgan was released from the Floyd county jail May 28 under $10,000 bond to answer to the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court at its September session to a charge of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Rosie Bellomy who died at Drift recently.

Dr. Morgan, Martin chiropractor, branded the charges as altogether false, claiming that they were made in order to effect without cost the settlement of a hospital bill he held against the Bellomys for Mrs. Bellomy's treatment. Mrs. Bellomy, in a statement sworn to before a notary public, alleged that treatment received at the doctor's hands caused a condition from which she did not expect to recover.

Cal Clark and H. E. Stewart, of Prestonsburg, signed Dr. Morgan's bond.

HEAVY BLANKET RAISE THWARTED

Tax Commission Foregoes Plan To Increase Floyd Real Estate Assessment 40 Per Cent

County Attorney Forrest D. Short and J. W. Howard, Prestonsburg attorney, Monday succeeded in thwarting a move contemplated by the State Tax Commission to make a "blanket raise" of 40 per cent on all Floyd county real estate.

The tax commission notified County Judge W. L. Stumbo that it appeared that the Floyd county assessment total for 1935 taxes was low, and that the raise would be necessary in order to make that county's assessment commensurate with that of other counties. The Floyd county assessment has been no substantial reduction in the county's total assessment.

Including franchise taxes, stocks and other intangibles, this county's assessment total approximates $22,000,000. It was shown, though there was a decrease of approximately 50 per cent in livestock valuation, an increase was made in the assessment on corporations. County Attorney Short said, The real estate and personal property assessment totaled $8,807,725.

MEDAL MARKSMAN

Lexington, Ky.—Cadet Lieut. James D. Stephens, son of H. C. Stephens, Prestonsburg, and Cadet Guy Pennington, McDowell, were awarded rifle team medals at the annual Military Field Day of the University of Kentucky R. O. T. C. held Wednesday afternoon, May 27.

HUNTER CLAIMS SUPERINTENDENT OFFICE REGAINED

Fight for Post Not Over, Plans of Hall Indicate; Opposing Views Voiced

NEW ACTION SEEN

Fortunes of war in Floyd county's educational "feud" shifted to Ballard Hunter this week as the Court of Appeals granted a temporary injunction in accordance with the prayer of Hunter's petition against Palmer Hall, the Floyd County Board of Education, etc.

But the fight is not yet finished, it was indicated Thursday morning as The Times sought to learn the exact status of the case.

Mr. Hunter and his attorneys claim that the Court of Appeals action not only removes Palmer Hall temporarily from office as County Superintendent but restores Hunter to the office.

On the other hand, Mr. Hall and his counsel were contending that the office is not restored to Hunter, also that the matter of restoring the former Superintendent to office had not been ruled upon by Judge John W. Candill, of the Floyd circuit court, and, therefore, was not before the appellate court.

The Court of Appeals ruling, signed June 2 by Judge Alex. L. Ruffin, reads:

"Motion before me for a temporary injunction in the above styled action is sustained, and a temporary injunction is hereby granted in accordance with the prayer of the petition.

"All members of the court sat with me in hearing and determining this motion, and concur in this order."

Mr. Hunter indicated that he would enter the office from which he was ousted by action of the County Board of Education February 8, this year.

He plans this action on the premise that the Court of Appeals ruling not only ousts Hall and prevents the hiring of teachers by Hall but also restores him temporarily to office until outcome of his suit to block appointment of his successor is decided. A petition filed with the Court of Appeals by Harkins and Harkins, Hunter's attorneys, not only included the prayer for an injunction preventing Hall and the county board from hiring teachers but also asked that Hunter be restored to office on June 2.

Floyd Countians Prominent In Affairs Of Other States And Counties, Review Shows

Recent discussion of Floyd county and Floyd county people with a former surveyor and County Judge in Texas. He is said to have won Texan esteem through a trick learned from Sant Layne—that of cutting elsewhere. The list includes a former U. S. Senator, county and state physicians and prominent citizens.

If the following list of Floyd countians who have "made good" is not complete, write The Times and thus enable us to give these "troughs" who have found honor outside their own country the publicity due them. Our present list follows:

- Bee Mayo (deceased), founder of East Texas Normal School, Commerce, Texas. This college recently was sold to the state of Texas, it is reported, for several millions of dollars.
- W. P. Leslie, chief justice of the Texas court of appeals. Was former student of Professor Mayo, is a brother of L. C. Leslie, of Emma.
- Prof. M. J. Mayo, member of the faculty of Harris College, St. Louis, Mo.
- Tandy L. Stratton (deceased), who learned his surveying under the - late Moses Sanford (Sant) Layne, and
- George B. Martin, native Prestonsburg man, who became U. S. senator and now is one of Kentucky's most brilliant lawyers.
- J. R. Shepherd from the Middle Creek section, now county judge of Greenup county.
- Woods Allen, jailer of Greenup county.
- George "Lionie" Clarke, of the University of Texas faculty, from Beaver Creek. Author of a textbook on English, widely adopted. Brother of Mrs. Anna Stephens and Mrs. Wilson Clarke, of Prestonsburg.
- Green Howard, former Elliott County Judge and now a member of the state legislature.
- Dr. Joseph Hicks, prominent Texas physician, of Middle Creek. A brother of Jonathan Hicks.
- Greenbury Sturgill, Abbott Creek

Continued on page eight

Floyd Gibbons

Adventurers' Club

Hello Everybody!

"Death in the Air"

By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter.

OUR featured guest in this thrill corner is Marcus Thrasher Monk of Queen's Village, L. I., N. Y. Mark gets his name on the club roster with an aviation story that is as exciting as it is unusual.

You know aviators, particularly in war time, often have animal mascots that they take up in the air with them. The mascot might be a pet kitten, a dog or even a monkey and after a while the flyer begins to think that his mascot brings him luck and wouldn't think of flying without his live good-luck piece.

With the big planes we are getting nowadays I wouldn't be surprised if some pilot adopted an elephant as a mascot, but I haven't heard about one yet. Have you?

The Lafayette Escadrille, that gallant band of young Americans who flew for France before we came into the World war, had a couple of lion cubs named "Whiskey" and "Soda" as mascots. Captain Bill Thaw brought them out to the hangar when they were about as big as Pekinese puppies and the lions were great pets—until they started to grow up.

"Whiskey" and "Soda" Were Fond of Chickens and Rabbits.

The cubs were perfectly tame and used to run around like a couple of dogs. But soon French mess sergeants in that sector began to miss chickens and rabbits from their supplies. The nightly disappearance of the meat was a great mystery until one morning the thieves were caught in the act. The prowlers were none other than "Whiskey" and "Soda," and when a French soldier tried to take their prey away the lions chased him almost all the way into Germany!

That was the end of "Whiskey" and "Soda." The cubs, now as big as police dogs, were banished from the front and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Paris zoo. A year later I visited "Whiskey" and "Soda" with their old owner, Bill Thaw. The lions were now full grown, but they hadn't forgotten their old friend, Bill, to my horror and to the horror of the spectators and guards, walked right up to the cage and, putting his hand through the bars, began to pet them. And the lions, to the amazement of everybody, rolled over on their backs and purred like big kittens!

Bill had tears in his eyes when we left and the two big cats stood on their hind legs and watched us through the bars until we disappeared in the distance.

Mark Didn't Weep Over His Uninvited Aerial Mascot.

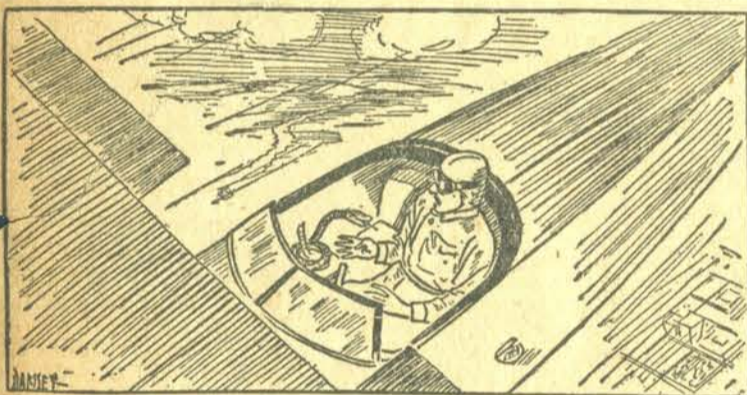

Mark's story is about an uninvited mascot he had on his first and only solo flight, but he didn't shed any tears when he parted company with him, not by a darn sight.

Here's how it all happened: Mark always had been crazy about planes and his greatest ambition was to be a pilot. He worked around flying fields and studied flying in his spare time and looked forward to the day when he could take a solo flight.

Mark got his chance when he visited a cousin of his who lived in Florida and who flew his own plane. The plane, Mark says, was pretty much of a crate but it flew and that's all that was necessary. His cousin didn't have a hangar but used to park the plane in a field the way you would a car.

Mark's Stowaway Was a Venomous Rattlesnake!

Well, sir, Mark's cousin was a good guy and started giving Mark lessons in the air. Mark caught on fast and finally the day came for his first solo flight. Mark shook hands with his cousin and, climbing into the cockpit, was soon off to a good takeoff. The plane rose and Mark was at last piloting a plane. He was nervous, he admits, because he didn't want to smash up his cousin's plane, but he had no thought of danger to himself until he suddenly felt a sharp burning sensation in his leg and immediately began to feel sick at his stomach.

A Coiled Rattlesnake Writhed Up in the Cockpit.

The sick feeling persisted so strongly that he feared he might faint, but he never connected it with the burning sensation in his leg until he felt it again. This time it felt as though needles had been driven into the calf of his leg.

When he had reached an altitude of one thousand feet and felt safe to do so, he glanced down at his throbbing leg to see the cause. And what he saw nearly finished him. The hair on his head began to rise. The plane went into a nose dive and Mark fell forward on the controls in a half faint. His "mascot" was a rattlesnake!

Mark's First Solo Flight Was His Last One.

Mark says his sensations were indescribable. He has always had a horror of snakes and to be trapped in such a perilous position with one of the poisonous reptiles nearly drove him frantic. He felt like jumping out of the plane from sheer terror. But he controlled himself and tried to think.

He knew now why he was sick. The snake had bitten him and the venom from the fangs had gone through his system and nauseated him. In a few minutes he would be unconscious from the poison. There were two things he must do, get rid of that snake and land the plane!

Mark saw the swampy ground coming up at him and pulled out of his dive just in time. Then he shut off his motor and as he glided toward a field he gritted his teeth and grabbed that snake. The feel of the slimy body, Mark says, was horrible, but he held on and threw the rattler over the side.

Death and Safety Were Only Minutes Apart.

Familiar landmarks shot by his rapidly dimming eyes. The earth seemed to be dancing crazily. He felt himself bounced high in the air as the landing gear struck.

He thought the plane would turn over and crash but he didn't care much if it did; he was too sick to care. His head felt like it was bursting and his throat was torturing him. He let go of the controls and closed his tired eyes!

The next thing Mark remembers was a knife cutting into his leg and the doctor gave him first aid for snake bite. The treatment, the doctor said, was just in time and Mark was up again in a couple of weeks. But he wasn't up in the air. No, sir-ree, that snake bite killed his flying bug and Mark hasn't flown since. And I don't know as I blame him.

©—WNU Service.

Zircons, More Than Other

Gems, Resemble Diamonds

Zircon is a native silicate of zirconium which occurs as rounded pebbles and as tetrahedral crystals with pointed ends. Zircon has a hardness of 7.5, and is usually brown and opaque, though some is transparent and beautifully colored. Because of their hardness, double refraction and rich colors, the transparent varieties of zircon have been highly prized as gems. In dispersive power, zircon is exceeded only by the diamond, according to a writer in the Indianapolis News. The red zircons are called hyacinth; those that are golden yellow, jacinth; while those that are colorless, a condition usually produced by heating, are known as jargon. Colorless zircon, more than any other gem, closely resembles a diamond. It is easily distinguished because the diamond is not double refracting. The most valuable zircons are obtained in Ceylon and New South Wales.

Excellent crystals are found in Norway, Russia and Canada. In the United States, zircon is produced most extensively in Florida, but is found also in North Carolina, New York, New Jersey and Colorado. The ordinary opaque varieties are employed for furnace and crucible linings, and in making the brilliant zircon light, which is similar to the limelight.

ASK ANYBODY

"Bob's a hard working skate."
"Why he never worked in his life!"
"Well that is the hardest thing a man can do."

JUST A HINT

New Beau—Sammy, I hope you put money in the bank regularly.
Little Sammy—I nster when sister's last beau was on de job.

IN CONDITION

Cholly—I feel like a fool tonight.
Clara—So glad you've recovered.

NO SAMPLES

He—Money! Money! Money That's all I hear. Why don'tcha practice a little bit of economy?
She—Why don'tcha ever give me a little to practice with?

SOME TICKER

"Yassah! Ise got a swell solid-plated watch dat I got for fou' dollahs."
"Do it keep time, sah?"
"Do it? Dar ain't two clocks in dis town, sah, dat kin keep up wid it when it's right at itsef!"

SEE THE BROKER

"One good turn deserves another."
"But suppose you don't know which way to turn?"

Pop's Request

Eloping Bride—Here's a telegram from father.
Eloping Groom—What does he say?
Eloping Bride—Don't come home, and all will be forgiven.

A Slenderizing Coverall Featuring Eyelet Puff Sleeves With Bow Knots

PATTERN NO. 1853-B

You want to indulge in new styles and fancies, of course; but first and foremost as the backbone of any sensibly planned wardrobe comes this utilitarian coverall.

Note especially the sleeve treatment—the wide eyelets and bow knots. Unusual aren't they? And you'll approve the smart adjustable belt which can be tied or buttoned as shown. The front panel buttons at the shoulder and contributes a most appealing feature. Who'd ever guess this model was a smock dress? Surely not the casual observer, who's so taken with the slenderizing lines and neat appearance.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1853-B is available for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 34 requires 4 7/8 yards of 35 inch fabric. Send 15 cents for the pattern.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 367 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Foreign Words and Phrases

Ab initio. (L.) From the beginning.

Arts est celare artem. (L.) Art consists in concealing art.

De mortuis nil nisi bonum. (L.) Of the dead (say) nothing but good.

Esto perpetua. (L.) May it (or mayest thou) last forever.

Imperium in Imperio (L.) Empire within empire; realm within realm.

Les absents ont toujours tort. (F.) The absent are always in the wrong.

Pater familias. (L.) The head of a family.

Qui vive? (F.) Literally, who lives? who goes there?

Sauve qui peut. (F.) Let him save himself who can.

Totidem verbis (L.) In so many words.

Repondez s'il vous plait (R. S. V. P.) (F.) Reply, if you please.

Vulgo. (L.) Commonly.

Pagodas for Heroes

For 1,600 years the "pagoda" has been closely associated with Buddhism, which disapproves of fighting. But modern China is building pagodas to glorify the deeds of men at arms and to encourage China to become war-minded.

Uncle Phil Says:

We Do From Motive
Human nature is naturally lazy. We do everything from motive, and the strength of the motive measures the result of the effort.

Hardly anything can make sink the heart of a young man of twenty like being expected to enjoy a job for which he has neither taste nor talent.

In our own personal affairs, each of us thinks he is something of an efficiency expert himself.

You sometimes have to judge a man by what people don't say about him.

Do As You Advise

Children will profit by what their parents tell them if they observe that what their parents tell them corresponds to what their parents do.

His working capacity makes the mule valuable in spite of his ability to kick and bray.

When people are deadly determined to call a spade a spade with great frequency, we wish they'd shut up.

Common Ashes Are Melancholy Things

The ashes of the commonest fire are melancholy things, for in them there is an image of death and ruin of something that has been bright, and is but dull, cold, dreary dust—with which our nature forces us to sympathize. How much more sad the crumbled embers of a home; the casting down of that great altar, where the worst among us sometimes perform the worship of the heart; and where the best have offered up such sacrifices, and done such deeds of heroism, as chronicled, would put the proudest temples of old time, with all their valuable annals, to the flush.—Charles Dickens (Barnaby Rudge).

A Million Miles WITHOUT AN ACCIDENT

Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRES

- ★ WILL STOP A CAR UP TO 25% QUICKER!
- ★ GIVES GREATER BLOWOUT PROTECTION!
- ★ GIVES 25% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE!

BUY ON PROOF OF PERFORMANCE

A MILLION miles on Firestone Tires without an accident. That is the record of Ab Jenkins, famous driver, who has driven on all kinds of roads and in all kinds of traffic in every state in the union. What a tribute to safe, dependable, tire equipment! Make this proof of performance your guide in choosing new tires to protect yourself and your family.

AB JENKINS—Famous driver who holds more records than any man in automotive history.

There are three important facts you should know about the tires you buy—

- THE FACTS ON TRACTION and NON-SKID SAFETY
A leading university in 2,350 tests has found that the new, scientifically designed tread on the Firestone High Speed Tire stops a car up to 25% quicker.
- THE FACTS ON BLOWOUT PROTECTION
Ab Jenkins used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires when he drove his 5,000-pound car over the hot salt beds at Bonneville, Utah, in the record-breaking time of 127 miles per hour, covering 3,000 miles in 23 1/2 hours without a blowout or tire trouble of any kind.
- THE FACTS ON ECONOMY and NON-SKID MILEAGE
The largest transportation companies in the country, such as Greyhound, to whom safety and tire economy mean business efficiency, use Firestone Tires from Coast to Coast and from Canada to the Gulf. And our own test fleet records prove that the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 gives you up to 25% longer non-skid mileage.

Make these proofs of performance your yardstick of safety and value. Decide today to equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1936—the safest driving equipment money can buy.

SIZE	PRICE
4.50-21 ...	$8.60
4.75-19 ...	9.10
5.25-18 ...	10.85
5.50-17 ...	11.90
6.00-16 ...	13.25
6.00-17 H.D.	15.90
6.00-19 H.D.	16.90
6.50-17 H.D.	18.40
7.00-17 H.D.	21.30
7.50-17 H.D.	31.75

FOR TRUCKS
6.00-20 ...	$18.85
7.50-20 ...	39.10
30x5 T.H.	18.75
32x6 H.D.	40.25

Other Sizes Priced Proportionately Low

STANDARD TYPE		SENTINEL TYPE		COURIER TYPE
SIZE	PRICE	SIZE	PRICE	SIZE	PRICE
4.50-21	$7.75	4.50-21	$6.05	4.40-21	$5.08
4.75-19	8.20	4.75-19	6.40	4.50-21	5.60
5.25-18	9.75	5.00-19	6.85	4.75-19	5.92
5.50-17	10.70	5.25-18	7.60	30x3 1/2 CL	4.33
6.00-16	11.95	5.50-19	8.75

SEAT COVERS  79¢ UP COACHES and SEDANS $1.69 up	BATTERIES  $6.25 UP Exchange	SPARK PLUGS  58¢ EACH IN SETS	Firestone STEWART-WARNER AUTO RADIO  $37.95 Includes Dash Mount
RADIATOR HOSE  21¢ UP PER FOOT Wax, 12 oz. 45¢ Polishing Cloths 15¢ up Sun Glasses 10¢ up	BRAKE LINING  $3.30 UP PER SET Labor Extra	FAN BELTS  45¢ UP

OVER 2,000 AUTO SUPPLY NEEDS AT MONEY SAVING PRICES

Listen to the Voice of Firestone featuring Margaret Speaks, Soprano, with the Firestone Symphony and William Daly's Orchestra—every Monday night over N. B. C. Nationwide!

Pretty Wall Hanging of Colorful Peacocks

PATTERN 1014

How rarely one sees a peacock with all his lovely plumage displayed! This proud pair of colorful birds will hold this unique pose as long as your wall panel lasts. You'll want it done in a short time, of course and it will be, for the actual embroidery goes very quickly, using only single, running and outline stitches. You may use either silk, wool or cotton floss, but remember—the more colorful it is, the prettier!

Pattern 1014 comes to you with a transfer pattern of a picture 15 by 20 inches; a color chart and key; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches needed. Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) to The Sewing Circle, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Say Boundary Dispute Caused Trojan War; Helen a Myth

Debunkers now tell us that the Trojan war was probably the result of a boundary dispute, and was not caused by the abduction of Helen, the beautiful wife of King Menelaus, by Paris, and that Helen was a myth. Still, Helen's story must have happened somewhere; it's too good a story just to be made up, even by a war office propagandist.

KILL RATS

MICE COCKROACHES
USE STEARNS' ELECTRIC PASTE IN TUBES 35c IN BOXES $1.00

ASK YOUR DEALER

Poison Ivy
Sunburn
Chafing
Itching

Torment
soothed-
Healing aided by

Resinol

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes, feel nervous, miserable—all upset.

Don't delay? Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from your druggist.

DOAN'S PILLS

WNU—E 23-36

No Need to Suffer "Morning Sickness"

"Morning sickness"—is caused by an acid condition. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia.

Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—the most pleasant way to take it. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of fluid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system and insure quick, complete elimination of the waste matters that cause gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.

Start using these delicious, effective, anti-acid, gently laxative wafers today

Professional samples sent free to registered physicians or dentists if request is made on professional letterhead. Select Products, Inc., 4402 23rd St., Long Island City, N. Y.

35c & 60c bottles
20c tins

UNCONFESSED

by Mary Hastings Bradley

Copyright by D. Appleton-Century Co., Inc. WNU Service

CHAPTER VIII—Continued

I decided to wait for the results of Anson's search, and I was so sleepy, after the wakeful night and the walk in the open air that I curled up in my rose cushioned chair for ten minutes and slept for forty. I woke to find Harriden in my room, sitting stolidly there confronting me with an air of grim scrutiny.

I sat up quickly, pulling down my rumpled gray frock and brushing my hair out of my eyes, staring at him with something very much like fright. Behind him the door was closed.

"You needn't try to run," he told me, and I flung back, "Why should I run? What do you want, Mr. Harriden?"

"I want to know what you know about all this," he growled at me. "You're in with Deck. I want to know what all that row was about—that row with Elkins—"

His voice fumbled so at the words that I felt a pang of pity for him in spite of all my other feeling.

"I never saw Alan Deck until I came here," I said and spoke as quietly and gently as I could. "I don't know anything about his affairs."

"That's your story, and you can stick to it before the others. But I want the facts, and I'm prepared to pay for them." And I'll let you off—I'll let you off whatever trouble those stones have got you in for, if you'll tell me everything you know."

"I know nothing."

"You know why you went up to my wife's room last night. You had some reason—even if you saw her slapped you wouldn't go in like that—"

His eyes, grimly skeptical, looked me through and through.

"You can't pull any wool over my eyes. You were meeting Deck before dinner. I want to know what he and—that he was threatening my wife about. He wanted money from her—wasn't that it? If you never met him before, as you say, he's interested enough in you now to tell you. Your own safety and a good substantial sum of money ought to make you see the light."

"I'll give you five thousand—five thousand for a few words. Only no faking. I want the truth."

"You are utterly mistaken in me, Mr. Harriden," I said steadily. "I couldn't sell information if I had it. . . . I know nothing at all of Alan Deck and his secrets."

Some one knocked. I called, "Come in," and the door opened. There stood Alan Deck.

At sight of Harriden he stiffened, then, with assumed naturalness to me, "About those pictures—"

Harriden got to his feet; his eyes flickered from Deck back to me with a malevolent sort of satisfaction.

"Well—is it yes?" he said harshly, his look holding mine.

"It's no, Mr. Harriden."

Without another word to me, without a glance toward Deck, he marched past him, out the door.

I burst out, "Oh, why did you come?" to Deck.

His gaze that had followed Harriden to the door flashed back to me.

"What was Dan doing here?"

"Trying to buy me," I said. "Offering me five thousand dollars to find out gown—I want to hold you in my arms, to soft music, you understand—"

And then he dropped into a chair—the deep cushioned chair beside the little white one I was sitting in—and said coaxingly, "Talk to me, Lella. Tell me about your picture puzzles and the fakes and the millionaires you rescue. The pre-depression millionaires. Tell me all the stories of your young art life."

Nothing that we said mattered; it was all about paintings and artists and people and plays.

The telephone broke in on it. Monty Mitchell's voice told me to come down at once.

We both went down, I expecting heaven-knows-what of revelation but finding only that Mitchell wanted my report on the hair ornament.

I murmured that he had said I was barking up the wrong tree, but I scurried back upstairs, and this time I got the crescent with no delay for Miss Van Alstyn was in her room and produced the gewgaw from her jewel box.

"Is there something special about it?" she murmured, and I said lamely enough that I wanted to study the stones. I might as well have studied Plymouth Rock, for there was no blood to be found on them. If there ever had been any, she'd had all the time in the world to wash it off. . . . I gave it back to her and went downstairs again, finding Mitchell and Deck deep in talk.

"I found it. Nothing," I reported shortly to Mitchell.

He merely nodded, then said earnestly, "I am telling Deck this 'I don't remember' stuff won't wash with a coroner's jury."

Deck's eyes, brilliant and haggard, played with him. "What do you suggest I say?"

Monty was ready. As I dropped down on the end of the couch beside him, he offered, low-toned, "Suppose Nora was jealous of Dan and Letty and threatened to raise the roof about them, and you warned her not to. What?"

"Got a cigarette?" said Deck. "Mine are all gone." He put the case he had taken out back in his pocket rather slowly. Casually he mentioned, "What about the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?"

The lawyer did not bat an eyelash. "Isn't that the truth—now that your head has cleared?"

"Why drag in Letty?"

"Why not? You'll have to explain those threats, and that does it—with no discredit to yourself."

Deck grinned. "You're a swell lawyer, Monty."

"And you need one."

Deck rose with a vague word or two. Silently we sat there and watched his tall figure sauntering away. Monty Mitchell's lips were creased in a taut line; he knew, and I knew, with heart-catching anxiety, that whatever Deck had done or not done, whatever had been between him and that dead woman, whatever danger menaced him now, he was going on in his own high-handed way, to play his lone, defiant game, and I was terribly afraid for him.

CHAPTER IX

Nothing happened that night. I gathered in a stout, dignified gray cat that I found promenading the hall and fed it morsels from my squab and tried to pretend that I was not lonely. It seemed a thousand years since I had first entered that room, since I had looked down to those two dark silhouettes in that front window.

I tried again to reconstruct those silhouettes, hoping that some trick of memory would bring to life a forgotten detail, but I was so tired that their shapes wavered fantastically before me.

Nothing was going to interest that jury, I thought, except the finding of those diamonds inside my dress and the report of Deck's violent threats to Nora Harriden. And his absence from the table.

I needed all the rest I could get to face that tomorrow, so I took a hot bath and went to bed.

At first I slept, then as my weariness wore off, my worrying thoughts kept coming to the surface, rousing me, and at last, in the early morning dark I lay wide awake, my mind racing like an engine. I thought of the questions they were likely to ask me and a sudden qualm assailed me. I had taken it absolutely for granted that I would tell the same story which I had told Donahay about my reasons for going up to Mrs. Harriden's room, and that Deck would tell his same story, but now—

This was different, this testimony before a coroner and a jury. This was under oath.

Suppose Deck wanted me to tell "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth"—to show that since he had asked me to go up he believed that Nora Harriden was still alive?

I had to find out, I thought, stricken with belated panic, before I went into that jury room. I would phone him for an interview the very moment it was light enough to make my call possible.

Then my mind turned to that handkerchief with the rust marks. Some time on Friday night that handkerchief had been drying on a radiator.

Now a thought came to me. I didn't know all that Donahay had asked, but I knew that in front of me no one had asked if such a handkerchief had been seen.

I made up my mind to see every maid on that floor in the morning.

It was Anson my thoughts circled about. I remembered that Anson had not volunteered anything about the open window, though its being open must have seemed a trifle unusual. She had not volunteered anything. She had given me a distinct impression of diffident reticence.

Elkins, too, had not come forward with his statements until he had been questioned, and then he had had a bad struggle between his duty to his employers and his conscience and love of importance. I began to think it quite possible that some one had seen something that only direct questioning would bring out.

Day was a desperate laggard. Very slowly the pale oblongs of my window lightened.

Seven o'clock. Could I telephone then? No, that was far too early—I forced myself to wait till seven-thirty. Then there was no answer. The instrument was dead.

I decided to dress and go downstairs. Dressing took time. I combed my fluff of hair into decorum and put on a subdued lipstick. Then, just as I was ready to leave, came a knock at my door and the breakfast tray.

I asked my maid what rooms she looked after. "Why yours, miss, and the next when it is occupied."

"Then you aren't very busy now?" I suggested.

"I assist with the linen. The mending, I mean," she explained.

Mending and the third-floor room—and mine was the only one occupied on the third floor. No use going into the questions about the handkerchief, now, though I decided to ask Mitchell to see that the question was asked at the inquest of every one. I hurried through my breakfast to get downstairs.

I took the staircase to the left. One flight down I saw Anson standing in talk with the maid who did my room, and I quickened my steps toward her.

Her arms were piled with fresh towels and the feminine in me could not resist paying attention to those towels, they were so lovely.

Anson's pretty face was troubled as she turned it to me. I said, "Oh, Anson, there's something I want to ask you," and the other maid slipped away.

Anson said, "Just a minute please. I'll be right out," and turned into the door of Prince Rancini, with a quick, preliminary knock.

I didn't want to stand there waiting so I walked on down the hall, past the closed door where Nora Harriden was lying, then turned and sauntered slowly along.

Ahead of me I saw Anson come hurriedly out of Rancini's door her hands to her disordered hair, and behind her the prince made a Jack-in-the-Box appearance, popping back as he caught sight of me but not before I had glimpsed his flashing, amused smile.

Anson was breathing quickly. "Those foreigners!" she threw out, tucking in the loosened edges of her starched white frill. "He can keep his hands off!" she added, resentment stirring her out of her reticence.

"Why don't you complain to the princess?" I suggested wickedly.

That startled Anson more than Rancini had done. She looked at me out of shocked eyes. "Oh, the maid is always wrong," she said with cynical succinctness. "If you'll excuse me, miss, I'll be going back for my towels," and she cast a look, troubled for all her recovered composure, at the closed door of the room.

"Just a moment, Anson. I was waiting to see you. I want to ask you something."

She kept her face away from me. "I'll be telling all I know at the inquest this morning."

"I know, but I want to speak to you first. You know you said to the inspector that you could not say that Mr. Deck had been in Mrs. Harriden's room—when you saw him in the hall—you remember you said that, don't you?"

"I remember," she said almost reluctantly. "I didn't like to say anything else and make the gentleman trouble—I didn't know what words to use for the poor lady then."

Her voice changed to such sternness that I said quickly, "But perhaps Elkins didn't understand—"

"He's not one to misunderstand," she told me firmly. "I'm promised to Elkins, so I might say I know him. He didn't like to say what he had to say, but it was his duty. A man making such threats—!"

All sympathy for Deck was gone from her now. I went on anxiously, "And there's another thing. Did you happen to see a handkerchief drying on a radiator in any of the rooms last night?"

I wished I could know what that change in her face meant. Had I hit on something—or was she merely startled at the idea? Her answer seemed slow in coming and when it did it was oblique.

"Will they ask me that, miss?"

"Yes, they will ask you that. But if I could know first—"

"I'll tell everything they ask me downstairs," she said at last. "It's my duty, I know, though I'm sorry enough—any one might have washed out a handkerchief—"

I said more; I urged her eagerly but the girl was immovable. She only repeated that she would tell all she knew later.

It is quite futile to look back now and think, "Oh, if I had only done that differently, if I had only found the right word!" I see her there, in her pretty black and white, that secret knowledge which she was so reluctant to reveal in her troubled eyes, and I think that if only I had been able to induce her to share it, perhaps—

But she moved away determinedly, and I went on upstairs to my room where I wrote a note to Mitchell, asking him to have that question put about the handkerchief, and another to Deck, asking him to come to see me as soon as possible. I rang for the maid and asked her to deliver them. Then I waited, hoping desperately that each moment would bring Deck.

He didn't come. He might be testing. He might be being kept incommunicado. . . . I mustn't let myself look so worried; I must seem natural and at ease before that jury.

I was in a tense state of nerves when they finally came for me. My heart was beating sickeningly when I entered that dining-room, and for a moment the faces turned to me seemed like blurs in a fog. Then I steadied, and took in the groups. I saw a knot of people writing away busily on little pads, newspaper people, I supposed, and I saw Mitchell and Donahay. The six men of the jury were lined along the dazzling black table and the coroner, a tall, thin man with a drooping mustache, was at the end, and a court reporter, writing away, sat beside the vacant chair for the witness, across from the jury.

"Do you solemnly swear that the testimony that you shall give in the

1. "Hamlet."
2. William McKinley.
3. North sea.
4. Milk.
5. James Fenimore Cooper.
6. Nevada.
7. Golf.
8. Oklahoma.

The state with the highest Indian population is—New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, California.

China and India, contrary to popular opinion, are not the most densely populated countries in the world. China stands seventh and India fifteenth in the list of twenty.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

China and India, contrary to popular opinion, are not the most densely populated countries in the world. China stands seventh and India fifteenth in the list of twenty.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

The Mind Meter

By LOWELL HENDERSON

© Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.

The Completion Test

In this test eight incomplete statements are made. Each one can be completed by adding one of the four suggestions given. Underline the correct one.

1. Ophelia was a character in—"King Lear," "Hamlet," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Julius Caesar."

2. The twenty-fifth President of the United States was—Theodore Roosevelt, Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, Benjamin Harrison.

3. The Thames river flows into the—Atlantic ocean, North sea, Bay of Biscay, Irish sea.

4. Cheese is chiefly made from—water, butter, milk, oleomargarine.

5. "The Last of the Mohicans" was written by—Sir Walter Scott, James Fenimore Cooper, Owen Wister, Richard Harding Davis.

6. Carson City is the capital of—Wyoming, Nevada, Colorado, South Dakota.

7. Johnny Revolta is associated with—baseball, horse racing, boxing, golf.

8. The state with the highest Indian population is—New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, California.

Answers

1. "Hamlet."
2. William McKinley.
3. North sea.
4. Milk.
5. James Fenimore Cooper.
6. Nevada.
7. Golf.
8. Oklahoma.

China and India Not Most Densely Populated Countries

China and India, contrary to popular opinion, are not the most densely populated countries in the world. China stands seventh and India fifteenth in the list of twenty.

Actually, only one small province of China (Kiangsu, the coastal province containing the great cities of Nanking, Soochow and Shanghai), with its 897 persons per square mile, has a greater density than Belgium. —Current History Magazine.

RID HOUSE OF ANTS

Sprinkle Peterman's Ant Food along window sills, doors, any place where ants come and go. Peterman's kills them—red ants, black ants, others. Quick. Safe. Guaranteed effective 24 hours a day. Get Peterman's Ant Food now. 25c, 35c and 60c at your druggist's.

PETERMAN'S ANT FOOD

REPORTS SKIN Greatly Relieved

Floyd County Times, Prestonsburg, Kentucky

Published Every Friday by

Prestonsburg Publishing Company

Incorporated

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KENTUCKY

$1.50 Per Year

Payable In Advance

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

If, as is planned, a free public library is constructed in Prestonsburg, this town leaves far behind the ranks of the ordinary small town.

Industry, size and prospects for financial development do not thereby elevate a place. It all goes deeper than that. Good schools and churches are needed, the intellectual and the spiritual, the inner side must be developed.

A handsome edifice, dedicated to knowledge, to the wealth that lies in the pages of good books, goes along with beautiful churches and well-ordered schools. We need to know more of authors living and dead, of the great minds who recorded in imperishable type their thoughts.

Prestonsburg has an urgent need for the contentment found in a good book. Its young people need this quieting but mind-stimulating influence. The quiet hours of reading are as hours of silent communion, and they lift the mind above many things of a sordid nature.

Those who have worked toward realizing the fond dream of a public library here are not the sort who seek publicity; they are working unselfishly toward an end which, surely, none can criticize. We all should join them. Now is the time to join.

ELIMINATE FRAUD

If the machine introduced recently to the Kentucky Legislature is fraud-proof, some legislator has the opportunity of gaining the undying gratitude of every honest Kentuckian by making a determined fight to have this voting machine adopted by the state.

The young inventor of the machine, if it will do all he claims for it, is a benefactor to the ordinary citizen who knows only how to cast his vote honestly. He is, by the same token, a bane to the ordinary politicians. If there are enough outstanding politicians—and by that is meant the type of officeholder who is willing to risk his fortunes upon the honest, unbiased vote of the people—Kentucky will adopt the device, if it is worthy of adoption.

Surely somebody in this scientific age can devise a system whereby votes may be cast by the voter alone and counted as cast. Our civilization, however, has seemingly backslid to the point that nine out of every ten citizens think it impossible to elect a man by real, honest-to-goodness votes. Machine-voting, as we Kentuckians have been accustomed to it, is quite another thing from what it would be if this contraption works as advertised.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB HEAD IS SPEAKER

Dendy Tells Kiwanians Here of Potential Tourist Trade If Route 23 Completed

Announcement made by N. W. Dendy, secretary and manager of the Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club, a division of the AAA, at the Kiwanis Club meeting in Prestonsburg Friday evening, that the membership of the club had passed the thousand mark, was received with gratification by the members present, especially when Mr. Dendy stated that last August, when he became manager of the club, it had only 180 members.

At this meeting he introduced his former associate in the development business, Charles S. Emerson, one of the best-known newspaper men of Florida and a consistent booster of good roads in that state for more than a quarter of a century. He told of the present enviable record of Florida, which now has 7,800 miles of paved highways connecting each of the 67 county seats and 3,000 miles of county roads leading into the farming districts which are being rapidly developed all over the state.

Mr. Emerson stated that three million people visited Florida last winter, at least 10 per cent of them coming from Ohio and Michigan, through which federal highway No. 23 passes, coming through Eastern Kentucky, continuing through Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina to the Great Smoky Mountain National Park, which was visited last summer by more tourists than any other national park in the United States, then on to Atlanta and Florida.

He said if No. 23 was completed through Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina it would be used by a quarter of a million motorists annually and the money they would spend with filling stations, garages, restaurants, hotels and stores would run into millions every year. He urged that the Kiwanis Club and every other organization join the efforts now being put forth by the Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club to have this road completed in order to profit from the great tourist industry.

SHEPHERD GRADUATED

Berea, Ky., May 30—Robert L. Shepherd was among those graduating at Berea College Academy graduation exercises, May 30. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shepherd, of Goodloe.

Since coming to Berea, Shepherd has been a member of the Y. M. C. A., Sigma Tau literary society, and the Strollers, a dramatic organization on the campus. He is president of the literary society.

WHIPPINGS LAID TO HOODED BODY

17 FACE TRIAL AT SALYERSVILLE IN BEATING OF 9 MEN, WOMEN

Salyersville, Ky., May 28—Whippings of men and women in Magoffin county were blamed by officials today on a hooded order known in the community as the "Black Leg." Seventeen men, indicted on charges of confederating in connection with the flogging of nine men and women, are at liberty under bond awaiting trial at the September term of circuit court.

At the trial of two at the April term, which resulted in hung juries, they were referred to in the testimony as "Black Legs."

The two defendants who will be retried are Noble Cole and Carl Hall. The others named in the indictments on charges of confederating are Jim Marshall, George Perkins, Everett Risner, German Risner, Garfield Fletcher, Eddie Marshall, Lynn Marshall, George Marshall, John Clemons, Taylor Marshall, Bill Sloan, Newt Cole, Curtis Marshall and Trey Cole.

The indictment charged the defendants with whipping George Barnett, Charles Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cole, Hugh Marshall, Mary Barnett and her daughter, Delilah, Sissie Risner and Ben Cole. The whippings were reported to have occurred in rural sections of the county.

Commonwealth's Attorney Earl R. Cooper, of Salyersville, said: "From evidence given at the examining trial, before the grand jury and at the trials of Cole and Hall, it appears that the Black Legs are organized along essentially the same lines as the Black Legion. Several of the witnesses testified that the leader selected a secret number of men whom he designated as Black Legs, whose duties, he said, would be to clean up things. I have no definite information as to a connection between the Black Legs and the Black Legion."

Explaining that membership of "The Black Legs" apparently is limited to 12 residents of the county, an official who preferred that his name not be published, said there was "testimony that 'The Black Legs' grew out of an organization which was trying to get people on relief who weren't on."

Placing the date of formation of "The Black Legs" as "the middle of March," he said "the same witness testified that a leader of the original organization notified members that 12 men would be appointed to clean up the county and that their identity would remain secret."

One person whipped was told he was being punished for "giving away the password" of the original organization, and another who was whipped was accused of feigning illness, working on a WPA road project, the official said, adding that others were flogged without being told why they were being punished. The whippings were described as "nothing serious, although the whippers, who wore black false faces, were armed with revolvers—some of them with shotguns." The whippings were administered with switches cut from trees.

The usual whipping consisted of "from ten to twenty licks, never hurting anyone very much." Its primary purpose was believed to be to frighten the victims, the official said, attributing to that fact that persons under indictment here face charges of confederating and banding together to intimidate.

No insignia was noticeable on apparel of members of "The Black Legs." The penalty for conviction on the confederating charge is from one to five years in the penitentiary, the official said.

DRIFT MAN NEAR DEATH FROM SHOT

James Williams Wounded Thursday; Brother of Man Williams Shot Is Fugitive

James Williams, drift miner, is in the Gearheart hospital, Martin, believed to be fatally wounded by a revolver bullet said to have been fired by Jimmy Caudill early Thursday evening, last week, at Wheelwright Junction. The bullet of a .45-calibre revolver passed through Williams' body from side to side.

Williams was accused of shooting Charles Caudill, brother of Jimmy Caudill, at Hunter about two years ago, and one report credits this affair with furnishing a motive for last week's shooting.

Caudill jumped into an automobile and fled from the scene of the shooting. He had not been captured when this was written Tuesday.

The shooting took place at James Meigs' restaurant, Omery Hall, former Floyd deputy sheriff, said that, about an hour before the shooting took place, Caudill had asked him to arrest Williams, alleging that Williams was drunk. Caudill was sober at that time, Hall said. The arrest was not made, since Hall resigned as deputy sheriff January 1. Friends of Williams were quoted as claiming the shooting was unprovoked.

REGISTRATION NECESSARY FOR RIGHT TO CAST VOTE

Every voter, to be qualified to vote in the November election, must register Saturday, August 1, which is state registration and state primary election day. Louis W. Arnett, state organizer of the Young Men's Democratic Clubs, notified the Floyd County Young Men's Democratic Club this week.

The state primary bill, enacted at the request of Governor A. B. Chandler, requires that every voter be registered before he or she can cast his or her ballot.

Personals

Mrs. Robert F. Roth, of Fairmont, W. Va., is visiting her brother, F. L. Heinze, and family here.

Miss Geraldine Allen and Jack Allen have as their guests this week Miss Margaret Hubbard, of Ashland, and Marshall May, of Ft. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Staley, of Lackey, were business visitors here Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. H. L. Goble was called to Louisa Tuesday by the illness of her mother, Mrs. W. B. Huff.

Condition of Mrs. J. H. Nunnery, who has been seriously ill at her home here, shows slight improvement.

Misses Esta Salisbury, of Maytown, and Mabel Allen, of Northern, were week-end guests of Miss Docia Baldrige here.

Miss Emma Jean Endicott, Miss Rose Rancier, Jack Allen and Robert Day Francis motored Sunday to Ashland, where they met Miss Geraldine Allen, who was en route home from the Eastern Kentucky State Normal, Richmond.

Miss May Kenney had as her guests last week-end her sister, Miss Beryl Kenney, Brooksville, Ky., and Joe Bengel, of Augusta. Miss Kenney accompanied them to Brooksville upon their return.

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Bond and daughter, Miss Dorothy, arrived home Sunday from South Webster, O., where they have been for the past few weeks after spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Jo M. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Layne and Mrs. E. H. Sowards, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rice and daughter, Mary Grace, of Paintsville, spent the week-end in Saltville and Abingdon, Va.

J. B. Clarke and Fred Francis returned Monday from a week-end fishing trip to Dix River dam.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burke, of Covington, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burke and Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Burke and Children, of Ashland, were Memorial Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Burke here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harkins, Mrs. Josie D. Harkins and Mrs. Osa F. Ligon last week attended the Commencement exercises of Kentucky Military Institute at Lyndon. Walter Davidson Howard, son of Mrs. G. L. Howard, was a member of the graduating class.

F. L. Heinze has been quite ill at his home here. Mr. Heinze several weeks ago suffered a heart attack, but until Saturday, last week, had for a few weeks been able to resume work in his office. His many friends hope for his early recovery.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Davidson, Mrs. Josie D. Harkins, Mrs. John R. Clarke and Mrs. Osa F. Ligon attended the funeral of Sanford Carpenter in Millersburg, Ky., last week.

S. R. Gearheart, of Greenwood, Ky., was in Prestonsburg Tuesday, returning from a visit with relatives at Huesville. Mr. Gearheart has a responsible position with the U. S. Forestry Service at Greenwood.

Senator M. M. Logan was in Prestonsburg Tuesday, in the interest of his candidacy for re-election.

Earl Stumbo returned Tuesday from Berea, where he and Mrs. Stumbo attended the Commencement exercises of Berea College, from which their daughter, Miss Kathryn, was graduated this week. Mrs. Stumbo and daughter stopped in Lexington, where Miss Stumbo plans to enter the University of Kentucky for the summer term.

Mrs. Gwenn Ford, Carthel Smith, Miss Geraldine Allen and Harzey Mayo arrived last week from Richmond, where they have been students at the Eastern Kentucky State Normal and Teachers' College. Mrs. Ford will receive her A. B. degree from Eastern in August. Mr. Mayo has been studying at Eastern preparatory to his entrance to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Mrs. W. H. Craft last week submitted to a major operation at a Columbus, O., hospital where she has been a patient for some time. Her condition for a few days was critical, but is now reported as being improved. Mr. Craft and children and Mrs. Craft's mother, Mrs. Jeff Harris, were with her last week.

"Ann" Charity Beavers is in Ashland, guest of her son, Palmer Beavers, and family.

Travel Costs Smashed!

2¢ A MILE in Imperial Salon Cars with individual chairs... reading lamps... tables... special lounge for women... NO EXTRA CHARGE for seats.	3¢ A MILE in air-conditioned Pullman cars. No surcharge to pay... reducing berth charges one third. Sleep Like a Kitten and Arrive Fresh as a Daisy.
--	--

Travel in Air-Conditioned Comfort

The same complete Luxurious service for much less money. You no longer need deny yourself the safety, comfort and convenience of travel by rail.

For complete information on many important travel savings please consult the Chesapeake and Ohio ticket agent.

George Washington's Railroad

CHESAPEAKE and OHIO

Lines

Original Producer Company Founded by George Washington in 1785

HAYMOND NAMED COAL BODY HEAD

Annual meeting of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators' Association was held at Ashland Tuesday at 1 p. m., for the election of a board of directors and transaction of regular business. A meeting of the new board of directors was held immediately after the general meeting and officers elected for the ensuing year, as follows:

- Thomas S. Haymond, president, Fleming, Ky.
- Harry LaViers, vice-president, Paintsville, Ky.
- S. B. Hosmer, treasurer, Cincinnati, O.
- H. S. Homan, secretary, Ashland.
- Harry L. Gandy, Jr., representative of the National Coal Association, Washington, D. C., discussed current interest of the industry as developing in Washington.
- W. Burlingham, who is connected with Appalachian Coals, Incorporated, Cincinnati, gave an enlightening picture of the present status and prospects of the new sales organization.

General discussion of the important issues of the industry took up most of the afternoon, which was enjoyed by a representative group of the Big Sandy field.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Annual election of officers of the Floyd County Medical Society was held at the Beaver Valley hospital on May 20. The following physicians were present: M. V. Wicker, L. A. Donohy, J. H. Allen, J. E. Allen, H. Hensley, A. J. Davidson, Paul Grammernd, B. B. Rader, T. J. Chandler, and J. G. Archer.

Officers elected to serve for 1936 were: Dr. O. T. Stephens, Prestonsburg, president; Dr. L. A. Donohy, Wayland, vice-president; Dr. J. G. Archer, secretary-treasurer.

PLANS FOR ROAD CHANGE STUDIED

Right-of-Way Remains Hindrance to Re-Routing of Trail Here; Justice Promises Co-Operation

Zack Justice, Pikeville, highway commissioner for this district, and District Engineer McCormick conferred with officials and citizens here Tuesday morning in a study of plans for re-routing the Mayo Trail at the upper limits of Prestonsburg.

Nothing yet is definitely known. Mr. Justice promised full co-operation, but the matter of right-of-way remains to postpone or prevent improvement of this stretch of highway which is unpaved. Two routes were studied but right-of-way purchase must be made on both. The present route has not been paved because it has never been approved by the federal government.

ALLEGED SLAYER IS BEING SOUGHT

Louisa, Ky., June 3—Junior Griffith, 24, accused as the murderer of Miss Cella Ward, 29, at Hockville, last week, is still at large. It was reported at the sheriff's office here today.

A younger brother, Joe Griffith, 18, who was reported to be hiding in the woods near Hockville with his accused brother, went to London, Ohio, with two uncles who came back to their home at Hockville Memorial Day and returned to Ohio Sunday. Sheriff G. F. Smith reported today after going to Ohio Monday to check up on the matter.

A posse which searched Monday through the section where the crime was committed near Hockville, failed to find any trace of Griffith, but officials here are of the opinion that he is still hiding in the woods near there.

MARINE CORPS ENLISTMENTS

The U. S. Marine Corps District Recruiting office at Macon, Ga., serving this area, accepts a limited number of outstanding applicants for general service, monthly, between 18 and 25 years of age and not less than 5 feet 6 inches in height.

After completion of basic training the recruits are assigned to Infantry, Machine Gun, Artillery, Motor Transport, Signal, or Aviation units, or are sent to the sea school at Norfolk, Va., for training for service afloat with the Marine detachments on battleships, airplane carriers and cruisers. No other branch of the military service offers this opportunity for later specialization.

Interested persons should write the above office in the Municipal Auditorium, Macon, for full information and application blanks.

WOMAN, DAUGHTER HURT

Pikeville, Ky., May 31—Mrs. Allen Layne and her daughter, Daryl, 10, were treated at the Methodist hospital here today for broken bones and other injuries received under the wheels of a hit-and-run motor last night. They were walking on the Mayo Trail, near here, returning from a tent show, when they were run over.

HANEY HEADS ALUMNI

Ova C. Haney, superintendent of Morgan county schools and former member of the Wayland high school faculty, Thursday was elected president of the Morehead State Teachers' College alumni association.

$25 REWARD

For return or information leading to the recovery of a brown-and-white Llewellyn setter, missing since May 24. Answers to name of "Jack."

T. J. ALLEN, Martin, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Josephine Grime, of Breckinridge, Mo., have lived in the same house since their marriage 50 years ago, and do not intend to leave their four children.

MID-SUMMER SPECIALS

Ladies' White Purses-59c
 ELGIN WATCHES AS LOW AS $14.75
 15 jewel BULOVA $18.75
 7 jewel CENTRAL $6.95
 4 Diamond Wedding and Engagement Set
 $19.75

DAN HEFNER

PRESTONSBURG, KY.

SWORD SHOOTING HELD ACCIDENTAL

Victim Given Fair Chance of Recovery; Compton Alleged to Have Fired Shot

Dick Sword, 25 years old, is in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, in a serious condition as the result of a revolver wound sustained Saturday night at the WSM garage, Martin. Basil Compton was named as the man who fired the shot, but it was claimed that the shooting was accidental. There had been no warrant issued for Compton when this was written Tuesday. The bullet passed through Sword's abdomen, lodging near the spine. Unless complications arise, he has a good chance of recovery, it was said at the hospital Wednesday. Since the shooting took place Compton has visited Sword at the hospital several times.

With the closing of high school here, a majority of members of the faculty plan to attend summer school. Beecher Scutchfield and Carl Ford, with Mrs. Ford, are in Berea vacationing and will enroll at the University of Kentucky June 15. Miss Louise Swan is at her home in Murray, Ky. Miss Virginia Marrill is in Lexington, spending a part of her vacation with her brother, Miss Mae Kenney is at her home in Brooksville, Ky., and will enter the University of Kentucky for the summer term. Superintendent Ishmael Triplett will remain at his home here until June 15 when he enters the University of Kentucky. Mrs. N. C. Boughton, principal of the school, also will attend the University. Plans of Miss Minnie Grace Harris and John Wells were not stated. Coach W. M. Mosser and Clayborne Stephens will probably spend the summer in Prestonsburg, and Gerald Leslie at his home near Emma.

E. R. Price, superintendent of the Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, attended compensation court here last week.

BURGLAR GETS $70 IN CASH AT HOME HERE

Home of Mrs. Minta Allen and son, John Allen, county judge pro-tem, was burglarized Thursday night, last week, while they were a wrist watch and a revolver. Local absent, the loot being $70 in cash, police have not uncovered clues to the identity of the thief. The money was taken from a traveling bag which was ripped open with a butcher knife which the burglar had found in the kitchen of the home. The bag was found at the rear of a nearby house.

SLONE, MRS. EDENS ARE SLASHED BY MRS. SLONE

George Slone was brought to Dr. Dotson's office here Wednesday afternoon after having been slashed across his wrist at Colonial, near here, by his wife, Mrs. Mary Slone. He suffered severely from loss of blood. At the same time Mrs. Slone is said to have cut Miss Loraine Edens, 18, of whom she is said to have been jealous. No action was taken against Mrs. Slone. It was said at the County Judge's office that Miss Edens' parole would be revoked.

AWARDED PRIZE BIBLES

J. A. Bentley, Halo, and Robert Shepherd, Goodloe, students at Berea College Academy, were among those who received prize Bibles at special chapel services Sunday, May 24. The Bible is presented as a part of the annual Berea College commencement exercises for excellence in Bible study. Other commencement events include an address by Dr. Mary Emma Wiley, president of Mount Holyoke College.

FARM FOR SALE

100 acres, log building, water, fruit, timber. $350; terms; Also several more farm bargains in easy terms.
 HENRY HARDY,
 Vanceburg, Ky.
 6-5-4t

WATCH COSTS!
 Low costs mean greater savings
 Low costs mean greater pleasure

The only complete low-priced car is the most economical car to own

CHEVROLET FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION
 In all your investments—watch costs! In all your pleasures—watch costs! Keep them low and you will keep savings and satisfaction high! Owners will tell you that the new Chevrolet for 1936 is the most economical of all motor cars. It costs less to buy. It costs less to operate. It costs less to maintain over a period of months or years. And, in addition to giving you economy without equal, this new Chevrolet will also give you enjoyment without equal, because it's the only complete low-priced car! It alone brings you the safer, quicker, smoother stopping-power of New Perfected Hydraulic Brakes, and the maximum overhead protection of a Solid Steel one-piece Turret Top. It alone brings you the unequalled gliding smoothness of the famous Knee-Action Ride*. It alone brings you the more healthful comfort of Genuine Fisher No Draft Ventilation—the greater driving comfort of Shockproof Steering*. And it alone brings you the combined performance and economy advantages of a High-Compression Valve-in-Head Engine—all at Chevrolet's remarkably low prices! You'll thank your own good judgment for buying a Chevrolet, because it gives more for less, and that is the secret of all wise investment and all wise pleasure. See your Chevrolet dealer—today! CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

NEW PERFECTED HYDRAULIC BRAKES (Double-Acting, Self-Articulating), the safest and smoothest brakes ever developed • SOLID STEEL ONE-PIECE TURRET TOP, a crown of beauty, a fortress of safety • IMPROVED GLIDING KNEE-ACTION RIDE*, the smoothest, safest ride of all • GENUINE FISHER NO DRAFT VENTILATION in New Turret Top Bodies, the most beautiful and comfortable bodies ever created for a low-priced car • HIGH-COMPRESSION VALVE-IN HEAD ENGINE, giving even better performance with even less gas and oil • SHOCKPROOF STEERING*, making driving easier and safer than ever before

ALL THESE FEATURES AT CHEVROLET'S LOW PRICES
$495 AND UP. List price of New Standard Coupe at Flint, Michigan. With bumpers, spare tire and tire lock, the list price is $50 additional. *Knee-Action on Master Models only. $20 additional. Prices quoted in this advertisement are list at Flint, Michigan, and subject to change without notice. A General Motors Value GENERAL MOTORS INSTALLMENT PLAN—MONTHLY PAYMENTS TO SUIT YOUR PURSE

CHEVROLET
CARTER MOTOR SALES
 Prestonsburg, Ky.

For the convenience of our customers we have installed a telephone in Prestonsburg. When in need of good laundry work call

PHONE 50

SANITARY LAUNDRY CO., INC.

Pikeville, Ky. Phone 400 Main Office and Plant

CITY DRY CLEANERS

Prestonsburg, Ky. Phone 50

7th DISTRICT MAKES BID FOR CONVENTION

Mrs. E. R. May, of Langley, district governor of the Federation of Woman's Clubs in the Seventh Congressional district, this week announced that the district is inviting the state convention to meet in Md., in July. He recently returned from Richmond, where he has been a student at the Eastern Kentucky State Normal and Teachers' College, and at the request of Mrs. W. P. Mayo, Prestonsburg, last fall the clubs of the district voted to assist Pikeville if that club made a bid for the convention.

The convention, held annually, is attended by women from all parts of Kentucky, with speakers from various states appearing on the program. The bid for the state convention was made by Mrs. Katherine B. Langley, president of the Pikeville club, in behalf of the club and the district.

MAGOFFIN COUNTY DRYS WIN LOCAL OPTION ELECTION

Salyersville, Ky., June 2.—Results of yesterday's local option election in Magoffin county tabulated today showed the county voted dry by a majority of 5,470.

The vote was 5,037 in favor of prohibiting the sale of beverages containing one per cent or more of alcohol and 433 against. Only two of the county's 25 precincts voted wet. The vote was tied in one precinct. The election was held under the local option act of the 1936 legislature. The mandate of the voters outlawing intoxicating liquors becomes effective Aug. 1. About 12 liquor stores in the county will be compelled to close.

TO ENTER ANNAPOLIS

Carthel H. Smith, son of C. H. Smith, of Prestonsburg, will enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., in July. He recently returned from Richmond, where he has been a student at the Eastern Kentucky State Normal and Teachers' College, preparatory to his entrance to Annapolis. Both he and Louis Harkey Mayo, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mayo, who also will enter Annapolis, were members of the same class in Prestonsburg high school and were prominent in athletics.

NOTICE

At its regular meeting on June 6, 1936, the Floyd County Board of Education will receive bids and let contracts on the following school buildings:
 2-room building, District No. 38, Wonder, Ky.
 1-room building, District No. 90, Riley's Branch.
 1-room building, District No. 90, Buckingham, Ky.
 1-room addition to G10 school building.
 1-room addition and new roof on school building, District No. 61, Honaker, Ky.
 All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for 3 per cent of the amount of the bid or a bidders' bond. The contract will be awarded to the lowest and best bidder, the Board of Education reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

bond must be executed by the successful bidder within ten days from the time the contract is let.
 5-29-3t

FOR HAIR AND SCALP JAPANESE OIL
 Made in U. S. A.
 The Antiseptic Seep Medicine—Different from ordinary Hair Tonics—60c & $1. FEEL IT WORK! At All Druggists Write for FREE Booklet "The Truth About The Hair" National Remedy Co., New York

A. J. MAY
 Attorney and Counselor
 Practices in all courts
 Fitzpatrick Bldg.
 Prestonsburg, Kentucky

DR. C. R. SLONE
 Dentist
 Layne Bldg., Court St.
 Phone No. 211
 Prestonsburg, Ky.

M. T. DOTSON, M. D.
 Office: Opposite courthouse
 Phone 234.

DR. J. S. KELLY
 Dentist
 Wright Building, corner and Second, Prestonsburg, Ky.
 PHO

BRISBANE

THIS WEEK

The Big "Black Legion"
More and Better Babies
A Worried Empire
U. S. Dollars Emigrate

The "ritual" of the murderous secret society called the "Black Legion" contains some old "Know-Nothing" features. The candidate for admission must be "willing to commit murder, to proceed against Catholics, Jews, and Negroes"; he must be "native born, Protestant, white and gentle."

Arthur Brisbane

The "Black Legion," which probably will not last long, had ambitious plans. Among other things it proposed to overthrow the federal government, which is not an original idea. It was also going to set up a dictatorship, with night-riding regiments to enforce discipline. Dictatorship is not a new idea, either.

Strange things are done or planned in the name of "liberty" now, as they were when Madam Roland mounted the guillotine platform.

Russia wants bigger families, like Mussolini and others with "plans." Stalin wants plenty of new little citizens.

A thousand million rubles will be set aside by Moscow to "subsidize large families and aid mothers." Birth control clinics and gentlemen will hear, surprised, that aid to large families will begin after the seventh child. Seven are taken as a matter of course; that is just the beginning of a Russian family.

Chancellor Hitler of Germany joins in the "more and better babies" cry.

The German ideal is no longer the beautiful golden-haired Margaret, spinning her wheel and saying "No." The Nazis demand women who, "above everything else, can become the mothers of several children," and are willing to do so, according to a representative of Chancellor Hitler.

William Phillip Simms, English, is afraid the British empire may not survive, on account of "air fleet peril."

Britain is disturbed by the thought that her whole imperial line of communication, stretching 4,000 miles from the Straits of Gibraltar to the Gulf of Aden, is under Mussolini's bombing planes. Except that her empire is the biggest, England should not worry more than other countries. With surface ships losing all importance, except in the opinions of some Americans, anybody's bombers can break up any line of communications temporarily.

"Americans investing huge sums in the Bahamas, to escape income tax," says the New York Times, big type, front page.

Americans have been "investing huge sums" elsewhere, outside of the United States. Billions of American money have gone to Canada, England and other "foreign parts." More will go.

In all the Bahamas, 4,403 square miles of beautiful territory, there is no income tax. Think of that for a happy country.

Needless to say, if enough American money pours in to make it worth while the intelligent British will find a way to tax it.

Germany has proved the "48-hours-from-Europe-to-America" possibility, with America looking on.

Now England is rushing preparations for a line of heavier-than-air planes to fly between England and America, starting in a few months and the French, preparing a similar line, are negotiating for a half-way harbor at the Azores. The southern route was said to be the wisest by Lindbergh, shortly after his great flight.

Many Frenchmen are disturbed and puzzled by the situation in Europe, and General Mordacq, close associate of Clemenceau in the war, discusses the question, "What would Clemenceau do if he could come back?"

France feels the need of "a man with a fist," un homme a poigne, and Clemenceau was that kind.

Concerning that fine old fighter from the Vendee, it is safe to say that if he came back he would hasten preparations for another war. But he would not have waited until now.

Marshal Badoglio, who cleaned up Ethiopia so swiftly, has been called to Rome, perhaps as part of a wise move to let anybody grow too big. A tree Idrasil, supposed to have been in hell, its topmost branches is now approaching us, and named for L. C. Pelletier, astronomer, who works on a telescope, will be the first to come to the naked eye since 1927.

They cut off the head of a sixty-year-old man convicted of killing his wife before death, "examined" by a doctor, who thought he might be a secret poison that

STAR DUST

Movie • Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

WANT to be a camera man? All of you men and boys who cherish that ambition can't do better than to heed the advice of Hal Mohr, who knows what it is to start from scratch and win. He is one of our ace photographers, you know; did the camera work on "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Captain Blood," among others, and won the Academy Award this year.

"I get hundreds of letters from boys wanting to know how to become studio camera men," he said the other day. "They all want to come to Hollywood, and that is the worst thing to do. I'd say to them—

"Begin at home as an amateur camera man. Practice on your friends with your home movie and any simple kodak. Learn all you can about trick photography, lighting, effects, enlarging and finishing—this is the foundation."

Mohr did that, years ago in his home in San Francisco, using a rather crude movie camera that he had made himself and photographing local news events.

It seems too bad that Ginger Rogers and Lew Ayres have decided to part; they were such a nice young couple, and such an attractive one. Of course, it may be career trouble; Ginger has climbed right along up since she's been coupled with Fred Astaire, and young Mr. Ayres has shelved the acting career that had such a brilliant start when he did "All Quiet on the Western Front" for directing. Here's hoping their difficulties can be patched up.

Ginger Rogers

Charles Boyer continues to be the one actor all the girls want for leading man. He's said to be the reason that both Merle Oberon and Marlene Dietrich wanted to do "The Garden of Allah"—he was cast for the hero. And now Garbo has drawn him for "Countess Walewska," which she will do after she finishes "Camille."

Do you by any chance listen to those "Vox Pop" broadcasts on NBC on Tuesday evenings? If you don't, form the habit; they're great.

Parks Johnson and Jerry Belcher set up shop just anywhere around New York and gather in innocent bystanders to broadcast; they ask questions—tricky ones, usually—and the victim replies.

The boys have been doing a bit of research work, and declare that people from small towns have faster, keener minds than city bred people.

If you're interested in Radio salaries—Harry Conn, who wrote Jack Benny's scripts till he and Benny had a tiff, received $1,000 a week.

And if you're interested in the difficulties of a radio star Jack is having some, because after his regular broadcast is done he has to repeat it, some time later, for the Pacific Coast. One of its chief charms is its effect of spontaneity; that's not hard to achieve the first time, but it's tough to repeat.

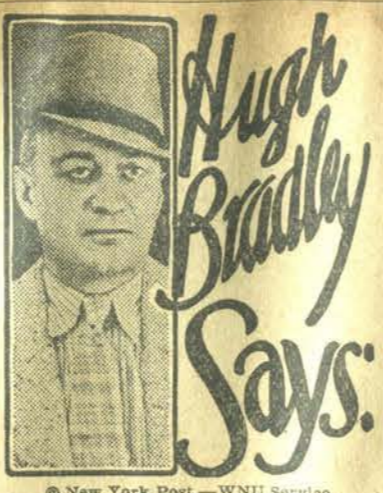

RKO officials gave a little boy one of the most thrilling moments of his life recently. He is Sammy Mydash, seven years old, and he had been blind. An operation restored his sight, and as soon as he left the hospital he went with his doctor and his nurse to the Radio City Music Hall, to a preview of RKO's "Dancing Pirate," an all-color picture.

No doubt you saw the dialect comedian known as Parkyakarkus in Eddie Cantor's recent "Strike Me Pink"; you must have heard him on the radio, too. But— you should have seen him at a big league baseball game the other day with his nine-year-old son. The boy had a toy microphone, and busily pretended to broadcast the entire game. Incidentally, Eddie Cantor continues to be one of the most popular air comedians. Considering the number of years he's been broadcasting, he ranks as a veteran on the air.

Eddie Cantor

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Gloria Swanson hoped to come back in "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie" for Paramount; "Carrie" was a grand role for her; but Irene Dunne got it . . . Fred Astaire just can't resist writing songs; he's just finished another one . . . Fred MacMurray got a bad sore throat from the dust storms at the "Texas Ranger" location . . . Margaret Sullivan and Henry Fonda broke up their marriage because they couldn't get along together; now they're being teamed in pictures, because all of us movie-goers liked them in "The Moon's My Home" . . . James Cagney's in New York incognito; registers at hotels under his wife's maiden name . . . John Charles Thomas won't broadcast because the Federal Communications Commission won't let him go on ending with "Good Night, Mother." Newspaper Union.

Hugh Bradley Says:

© New York Post.—WNU Service.

Grimm Full o' Hope Though 1936 Pennant Chase Is Plenty Tough

CHARLEY GRIMM—"What's that? No, I'm not thinking about becoming a pitcher just because I've got this big yellow-finger mitt on and because you've seen me warming up for ten minutes. I'm merely breaking it in for Larry French, who's got a lot of other things on his mind now besides new gloves, and asked me to do it for him. It's all in the day's work for a manager. Even when you're with the league champions, you've got to help out wherever you can, and— What's that?"

"You think from what you've seen that I'd be a lot more help if I did go in there and pitch? Well, that's where you're wrong. We've got a pretty fair staff just the same and getting Curt Davis will help us plenty. May be he'll start slow, but you can bet he'll win plenty of games for us. And don't let anybody kid you about Lon Warneke. He's got all his stuff and you can take my word, there's never been a thing wrong with his arm. Also you can believe some more of the same about Bill Lee. I'm telling you that we'll be going along smoothly before long, and—

"Sure, I know Galan and Hack are not hitting as good as they did this time last year. But they're both fellows who're really good hitters and you can't keep them down. They're likely to snap out of it any day now and keep on going. Besides, we're getting some pretty fair power in there anyhow, aren't we? Sure, we are. Look at Billy Herman. He's slapped seventeen doubles so far and you now know that's the kind of smart belting that wins ball games, and—

That Kid Cavaretta Is Okay at First Base

"How about first base? Well, what about it yourself? That young Cavaretta is coming along okay. He's fielding pretty and he's picked up plenty up there at the plate. So—

"Yeah, maybe I could go out there because I honestly am feeling swell. But I tried it twice this spring and each time that ligament slipped in my back. So, isn't it better for me to be ready if necessary, and meanwhile give a kid who's going so well his due and— Don't believe a word of it. The fellow who started that swelled head yarn was dreaming.

Terry Needs a Pitcher but Where's the Trade?

Bill Terry—"How do I know how long my leg's going to let me stay in there? It swells up big and is so sore at night that it's pretty tough sleeping, and what's worse there doesn't seem to be anything anybody can do for it. But I'll stick in there just as long as I can.

"Bartel? Don't believe everything you read. He's had a charleyhorse in his leg and that's naturally slowed him some, but he's coming along all right.

"Trade? Certainly I'd make one. I'm not saying we haven't looked bad a few times in the last couple of weeks, but we've got a pretty fair ball club. Give us another pitcher to go along with what we have and—

"Why don't I get one then? Say, why don't you go on over there and interview Grimm. What? Okay, you can stay then, but don't ask any more questions like that. Haven't you ever met any other managers in this league? Don't you know that if you were to give up your right eye and a few other knickknacks such as that they'd probably still be asking how you expected that to—

"What? You're right, it's a tough race. Maybe it won't be decided until three or four clubs are at the wire, which would suit us swell the way we're keeping close up now. Maybe the breaks will decide it. Anyhow, there's no soft spots.

PREAKNESS Pickings
Bold Venture joined an illustrious company of ponies including Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Burgoon King and Omaha that have won both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. Twenty Grand and Cavalcade, Derby winners, were second when they tried their luck at the Preakness.

Only two fillies have reached the winners' circle. They were Rhine Maiden in 1915 and Nellie Morse in 1924. . . . Tom Healey has been the most successful of the modern trainers in the $25,000 classic. He saddled four winners, Vigil, Pillory, Display and Dr. Freeland. The combination of Owner G. L. Lorillard and Trainer R. W. Walden was tops among the ancients. They had all five winners from 1878 to 1882. Walden also was the winning trainer in 1875 and was both owner and trainer of Refund, who romped home in front in 1888. . . .

Just to show that things were on the up and up in those days a horse named Welcher finished second in a field of two in 1884.

Not in the Box Score:
There is an unwritten baseball law that there shall be no "throwing" at night. The lights and shadows make it so difficult for a batter to dodge that even the hardest-hearted pitchers prefer to hit at the outside corners rather than be charged with manslaughter.

Baltazar Sanchez, recognized in Europe as the world's bantamweight champion, says he started boxing because he didn't want to go to work. . . . The Meusels, Irish and Bob, are playing semi-pro baseball in Los Angeles. . . . Pa Stribling now peddles automobiles in Hattiesburg, Miss. . . . Elmer Layden, the Notre Dame football mentor, is flooding the malls with circulars advertising his forthcoming Olympic tour. . . . Jack Kearns now operates a tavern on Randolph street in Chicago. . . . Vaughan Williams, long one of the most capable soccer referees, now is vice president of the Brookhattan A. C.

Bill Tilden Fading as Box Office Magnet

A sports idol seems to be fading at last. Although the Lott-Stoefen-Vines unit continues to do very well at the box office, Pro Tennis Promoter Bill O'Brien is losing money on his Bill Tilden troupe. . . .

Tilden

Tickets for the Louis-Schmeling affair cost four cents each. That is, Mike Jacobs pays $40 a thousand for the cardboard and the printing on them. This, incidentally, is a high-class job, since fight ducats ordinarily are prepared for $6 a thousand. . . . The Evans brothers, who run the Loch Sheldrake resort where Jim Braddock trained to win his world championship, continue to bet that the luck of their spot will hold good when the title finally is defended. . . . Nasty mens say that the real head of the opposition wrestling trust is Billy Sandow.

Mike Jacobs, the sports impresario who probably knows more about Broadway than any living man, continues an old-fashioned guy under his modish haberdashery. He wears long underwear the year around. . . . There are big-time players who will bet you that the average annual salary of the Athletics is less than $2,000 a year although the average among other clubs is double that amount. . . . The Children's Aid Society Sandlot league, which provided recreation for 3,998 baseball playing youngsters last year, is continuing the good work this summer with the able assistance of Col. Jacob Ruppert. . . . Willie Herkert, secretary of the German-American Football association, once starred with the Brooklyn Wanderers and was a member of the G. A. F. team which toured Germany in 1930. . . . Left-handed golfers no longer are bound by the belief that no southpaw can succeed at the game.

Racetrack trots are agents who keep up with the times. In states where there are laws against the hopping of horses they start work on a prospect by flashing a badge and hinting that they are narcotic agents. The rest of the sales talk is to the effect that they have spotted several gee-gees which are hopeheads and are letting them run so as to gather conclusive evidence against the owners. Thereupon three out of five prospects fall in with the idea of getting down a sizable bet on his sure thing. . . . If you have been wondering where wrestlers come from take a look at Oklahoma. Mat performers from that state won 18 of the 23 amateur and collegiate titles, including six of the seven Olympic team spots this year.

The Giants might like to know that several Western opponents hint they quit when the going gets tough. The athletes say that when a Dean or a Warneke is rifling the ball across, the Polo Grounds performers seem all too anxious to get away from the plate as quickly as possible, so they (Joe Moore is excluded by the scandalmongers) hit feebly at bad balls instead of waiting out the speed hurlers. . . . Bookmakers are happy to discover that even the parimutuel machines have a bit of larceny in them and that a totalizer once welched in England. This was a movable device that was carted from track to track and one day it left before the races were over.

TIPS ON TURF TERMS:
BILL DALY—A horse which takes the track and is never headed. Hardly ever a favorite.
SHORT—A horse (sometimes a player) which tails off after making most of the pace—also favorite players all wind up short.
GUMBO—When the track's muddly.

what Irwin S. Cobb thinks about:

Hot Political Campaigns.

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—They say this will be the liveliest fight for years and years, with glee clubs gargling and the boys out with brass bands—and brass-knucks; and batteries of college professors firing on opposition professors.

Irwin S. Cobb

But they'll never reclaim the glorious ancient spirit. We're too tame. Take '96. Now, there was a campaign for you. When Bryan was a discovery instead of a chronic recurrence.

Two life-long friends would meet. "What d'ye think of this here free silver thing?" one would ask. "I think it's the greatest notion in history," the second fellow would say. "What do you think?" "I think you're a dirty such-and such!" The first man would yell, and then everybody would start bouncing those old-fashioned brass cuspidores off of everybody else's dome.

J. Edgar Boulder.
OWING to recent developments over which I had no control, I believe the Interior department temporarily has shelved the idea of changing J. Edgar Hoover's name to J. Edgar Boulder, as was previously predicted in these dispatches. But now certain critics at Washington insist on accusing that gentleman of over-advertising in connection with his latest activities. Well, he has the advantage over some press agents. When he promises a show he certainly puts it on upon the day and date announced, with the band playing "The Alcatraz Drag"—and every cage full.

Funny Foreign Names.
WORD from Warsaw is that the incumbent, the Hon. Marjan Zyndram Koscielowski, having resigned, the president of Poland has picked as the new premier none other than Gen. Felcjan Slawogskladkowski. The latter gentleman has already been installed up to and including his first five or six syllables, the rest of the name running as a second section. So what you mistook for static on the radio night before last was just the news broadcaster trying to pronounce him as a whole.

Ever Rising Taxes.
ANYBODY who fondly believes that, regardless of which outfit wins in November, taxes won't keep right on going up and up has a thinking apparatus that dates back quite a spell. I'd say it dates back to the climax of the big rise, as set forth in the Bible, and is a direct inheritance from the skeptical folks who wouldn't harken to the prophetic warning.

Remember the scene, don't you? The forty days' rain still beating relentlessly down, the freshest climbing higher and higher, the animals marching in two by two.

And with the old ark starting to move and Father Noah yelling, "All aboard," and with the waters closing over their heads, those know-it-all still gurgling through their valetiditary bubbles, "Shuckin's, there ain't goin' to be no flood."

Honoring Lee and Jackson.
WHEN the Post Office department includes among the gallery of the greatest Americans, to be pictured in the new issue of memorial stamps, the faces of the Confederate chieftains, Lee and Jackson, what happens?

Why, nobody waves the bloody shirt. Nobody ennobles the sorry word "traitor" by applying it to the memories of those two gallant soldiers and simple Christian gentlemen. Nobody in the name of patriotism drags the moldering bones of sectional rancor out of the ground. Nobody beats the "Rogue's March for Rebels" on hate's snare drum.

Instead, all over the Union, men and women applaud this generous but merited gesture. A leading paper of Boston—Boston, no less, once the mulching bed of abolition and the breeding ground for anti-southern sentiment—editorially commends the idea.

IRVIN S. COBB
Copyright.—WNU Service.

Railcar Popular in France
The railcar, or "automotrice," as it is known there, is becoming one of the most popular means of rapid passenger transport in France. At the same time great efforts are being made to increase the speed of these railcars. Every few weeks a new record is established by one of the rival constructing companies. Record was attained by M. Jean Bugatti, who drove a Bugatti railcar from Strasbourg to Paris in 3 hours 31 minutes, averaging 89.4 miles an hour. Seventy-five Bugatti railcars are now running on the French railway system. M. Jean Bugatti considers that railcars run on petrol are particularly useful for ultra-rapid transit transport over distances of three or four hundred miles.—London Sunday Observer.

Fine to Kill the Appetite
Mayme—Dearie, did you ever try smoking a cigar?
Jayne—Once, and for a week after I didn't have any trouble sticking to my reducing diet, darling!

All Around the House

Keep a small pair of scissors in the drawer with your knives. Scissors will trim the edges of pie crust much more quickly and more neatly than a knife. Also they are very convenient for preparing bread sandwiches.

Salt should never be added to stews, soups and boiled meats until after they are cooked. If put in at first it toughens the fiber of the meat and takes out the juices.

If liquid in which olives are bottled is thrown away when bottle is opened, olives may be kept indefinitely if olive oil is poured over them after they are put back into bottle.

If you rinse a plate with cold water before breaking eggs on it, add to them a pinch of salt and then stand where there is a current of air, you will have no difficulty in beating them to a froth.

To remove a fresh grease spot on a rug, cover the spot with blotting paper, then press with a hot iron. Cover the spot with magnesia, let it remain for 24 hours, then brush off.

When serving a steak smothered in onions, squeeze the juice of a lemon over it before serving and you will find the flavor greatly improved.

Never serve food in a dish that is too large for amount of food served. It detracts from the appearance of your table.

If the bottoms of legs of furniture are waxed they will not scratch polished floors when moved around on them.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

THE NEW Coleman SAFETY RANGES INSTANT GAS FROM GASOLINE

The Stove That MAKES ITS OWN GAS and LIGHTS INSTANTLY

This modern Coleman Safety Range brings to your kitchen, wherever you live, the finest kind of modern gas cooking service. Makes its own gas from lead-free gasoline. Lights instantly. Fuel cost as low as 75¢ a month.

Band-A-Blu Burners provide any cooking heat you want for any kind of cooking—save fuel. You can prepare meals easier, in less time with less work and the result is Better Cooked Foods.

A variety of handsome models priced to fit every purse.

Free Stove Check Chart—Send a postcard now for your name and name of Coleman Dealer near you who will gladly demonstrate these stoves.

THE COLEMAN LAMP & STOVE CO.
Dept. WU-240, Wichita, Kans.; Chicago, Ill.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Los Angeles, Calif.; or Toronto, Ont., Canada (324)

The Really Great
Great men are those who get their country out of trouble, not into it.

SOLVE BAKING PROBLEMS with CLABBER GIRL BAKING POWDER

Try a Can TODAY

"Free as a Bird"
A fish or a bird is "free," but menaced constantly by death.

"Black Leaf 40"

KILLS INSECTS ON FLOWERS • FRUITS VEGETABLES & SHRUBS

Demand original sealed bottles, from your dealer

Subsides dirt easily. Money back if not satisfied. Packed in 1 lb. and 5 lb. Milk In. 20 lb. Pail Address: BUR-LITE

Tidbits of
Kentucky Folklore
BY
Gordon Wilson Ph.D.
WESTERN KENTUCKY
TEACHERS COLLEGE
BOWLING GREEN, KY.

NEGRO SPIRITUALS

Though much has been written in recent years about Negro spirituals, the Kentucky negro has as yet attracted the attention of few folklorists or musicians. Prof. Karl J. Holzknicht, now of New York University, collected many negro songs in Louisville when he was teaching in the University of Louisville. Miss Mary Allen Grissom has published a delightful collection entitled "THE NEGRO SINGS A NEW HEAVEN," discovered among the negroes of Louisville and Columbia. In practically every part of the state there are equally rich resources of negro songs, waiting the attention of those who know and care for these valuable contributions to folk-lore.

A phase of negro music that has always been interesting to me is the "holler," or "yodel." Since Swiss mountain music has become well-known everywhere, negroes as well as whites know how to give these calls; but the distinctive "holler" is a thing entirely different. When I was a boy in the Jackson Purchase, every negro had his individual holler. At almost any time of the day, particularly as we went to the field to work early in the morning, these inarticulate longings of primitive souls could be heard ringing across the fields. I early learned to express myself in this same fashion and could once imitate a dozen or so of the negroes, for each one had a distinctive twist to his call. Nearly all the cries began far up the scale and, by two or three descents, came down to the bottom, with a great mixture of minors. I have heard several commercial exploiters of our folk fail lamentably in trying to imitate these calls as to talk like an old-fashioned dandy or to use "you-all" correctly.

Scholars have about agreed that the distinctive parts of negro music owe their origin to the primitive chant of the savages of Africa. The characteristic Congo song has a leader who improvises stanzas or exclamations, while all the throng join in on the refrain. A good illustration of this can be heard now where a crew of negroes are working. On a steamboat, when the deck hands are pulling in a rope, one negro will make some melodious call as an order, while all the rest answer together as they pull, inserting many a quaint phrase or turn of expression. The holler of the negroes of my boyhood is a remnant of the primitive chant, still inarticulate, just as the so-called moaning at church. Practically all spirituals keep this elemental chant, a remnant of the half-barbaric life that Vachel Lindsay has tried to express in his "The Congo."

Most of the negro's music, of course, is merely a reworking of the music he heard in the early days of slavery, adapted to his own moods. Recent studies made by musicians of old songbooks used by the pioneers of Kentucky and the neighboring states show that all the negro has added to some of his spirituals is the inimitable swing and harmony that the high-pitched voices of the whites seldom can acquire. In fact, I have myself heard in many a country church of the whites the songs that have since then been collected and published as negro spirituals. When Mr. J. D. Rowlett, now of Murray, conducted his tobacco factory in the hills near the Tennessee River, the negroes, particularly the women, would sing at their work the very songs that we sang in our churches, but it would have taken a good musician to recognize in the rich negro music the rather flat, bleak, rasping sounds we produced in our white churches. This factory became the show place, to which all visitors were taken, to see the negroes at work, and to hear them sing.

GOVERNOR, SPEAKER AT ALUMNI BANQUET

Richmond, Ky., May 27—Speaking at the annual Alumni banquet of the Eastern State Teachers College here last night, Gov. A. B. Chandler pledged his support to education, lauded the new school code, and assured his hearers that he would not allow politics to be played in the operation of state schools and colleges. Former Governor J. C. W. Beckham was also present and spoke briefly, referring to his student days on the Eastern campus as a student of old Central University. Eastern's predecessor, "If I have an alma mater," he said, "it is here." He said he had watched with intense interest and affection and enthusiasm the growth of Eastern from its small beginning during his administration as Governor to out of the best institutions of the country which it is today.

More than four hundred persons were present for the reunion followed by the banquet. These included alumni, members of the 1936 class, and friends. Members of the classes of 1911 and 1926 were honor guests.

Promising his full support for fair salaries and funds sufficient to operate the schools efficiently, Governor Chandler, referring to demonstrations and lobbying on the part of school teachers, said: "I don't believe teachers should have to come to Frankfort to ask for their just rights. Kentucky will contribute more to education in the next four years than ever before for a similar period."

Pointing out objections which had been made to some of the new tax measure enacted during the recent sessions of the Legislature, particularly to the cigarette and whiskey taxes, he said, "If you have enough money to smoke and drink whisky, you ought to pay taxes." Income taxes, he said, were necessary to balance the state's budget and he signed that he himself as well as others, would pay his share of this tax. "Public health, public charities and the great educational institutions of the state are more worthwhile in my opinion than private interests of tax objectors," he said.

"Backwardness of education in Kentucky ought to be resented," Governor Chandler stated. "No attempt will be made during my administration to change the present school code. You can't build school systems with money and buildings alone. You must have the right spirit of service."

Touching on the elimination of graduate work in the state teachers colleges and the centralization of graduate study at the University of Kentucky, Governor Chandler said this action was necessary in the interests of economy. He related the agreement reached between teachers College presidents and the president of the University whereby the University would discontinue courses in education in the first two years of college and the teachers colleges would stud all their graduate students to the University.

Praising Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of Eastern, as a college administrator, Gov. Chandler said: "Dr. Donovan has no superior in the state and few equals in the country. It is no mere chance that Eastern ranks high as an educational institution." He said that when the needs of the colleges were being studied he asked Nat B. Sewell, state inspector and examiner, which of the colleges was most economically administered, and Mr. Sewell replied, "Donovan gets the most for his money."

Referring to the fixing of the state appropriations and allotment of $2,000,000 a year for the operation of Eastern, the Governor said that after a study had been made of the amount available, the reduced appropriations were fixed in the interest of "orderly, decent, respectable government, not a future indebtedness," and asked the cooperation of Pi Mu Lambda literary society invited to attend the meeting. His hearers to assist him in his plan to live within the state's income.

Concluding his address, Governor Chandler referred to Ken Johnson, Lieutenant Governor, saying, "He is as loyal and fine a state official as has ever come to Frankfort to serve the people."

FLOYD POST TO NAME OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Annual election of officers will be held by Floyd Post, American Legion, at its regular meeting to be held at the Auxier hotel here Saturday evening. B. M. Rogers, Van Lear district commander, has been invited to attend the meeting.

HUEYSVILLE GIRL HONORED

Berta, Ky., May 30—Bertha Allen, daughter of Blucher Allen, of Hueysville, has been elected treasurer of Pi Mu Lambda literary society in Berea College. She is a freshman and a member of the Dramatic Club, a local post of Sons of the Legion Association.

At the same time organization of a local post of Sons of the Legion will be made. Dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock.

MAKE THIS TEST!
DRINK
Budweiser
FOR FIVE DAYS

On the sixth day try to drink a sweet beer

You will want the Budweiser flavor thereafter

Never Sweet · Never Syrupy
Always Uniform · Always Distinctive

A N H E U S E R - B U S C H · S T . L O U I S

Calotabs
10¢ 25¢
For Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Flatulence, Nausea and Sick Headache, due to Constipation.

NOW!

Reduced Night Rates
in effect
All day Sunday
and
every night after 7 p.m.

on both station-to-station and person-to-person long distance telephone calls to most places.
Telephone and Telegraph Co.
Incorporated

LET THE SUN SHINE IN . . . it won't fade!
HANNA'S LIQUID SATINOID WALL FINISH

Bright, piercing sunlight may take the color out of wallpaper and cheaper wall finishes, but it does not effect the soft, mellow tones of Hanna's Liquid Satinoid. This famous wall finish is absolutely sun fast.

Liquid Satinoid is a wall finish that you can always keep bright, clean and new looking by using soap and water to remove all dirt, grime and finger marks.

See us, your Hanna Paint Dealer . . . We have a complete array of the various beautiful Satinoid colors.

HANNA'S LIQUID SATINOID

See Us, Your HANNA Dealer

MORELL SUPPLY CO.
Prestonsburg, Ky.

For Congress

CONGRESSMAN A. J. MAY

We are authorized to announce A. J. MAY, of Prestonsburg, Ky., as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of Representative in Congress from the Seventh Kentucky District, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August, 1936 primary election.

PAYMENT OF OLD AGE PENSIONS

Continued from page one
men, farm and labor representatives, the county judge and the county attorney.

Each meeting will be asked to elect a county security board. No elective or appointive public official would be eligible to serve on the board, and its members would receive no compensation.

Each county board, thus elected, would recommend to the welfare department five eligible persons, one of whom would be selected by the commissioner of welfare as the director of public assistance in that county.

The county boards would serve as advisors to the county directors. Members could be removed by order of the welfare department.

At the start, it was believed one director would be chosen to supervise welfare field work in two or three smaller counties. In such cases, the field worker would call representatives of these counties together at a central place to organize a consolidated board, to be composed of three members from each county.

Federal relief authorities have estimated the administrative cost of the first year's old age assistance would be in the neighborhood of $750,000. Wallis, however, today expressed belief the figure would be closer to four hundred thousand, of which one hundred and twenty-five thousand is to be provided by the federal government, for all the department's field work and old age assistance overhead.

HUNTER CLAIMS OFFICE REGAINED

Continued from page one
the grounds that he was not given a fair trial.

Hill and Hobson, Hall's attorney, claim, however, that Hunter's petition for restoration to office has not been acted upon in circuit court here and, therefore, was not up for a Court of Appeals ruling. It was indicated that a temporary restraining order would be sought to prevent Hunter from re-entering office.

The superintendent's office had not been opened at 8 o'clock Thursday morning.

Friends of Hunter hailed the Court of Appeals decision as a major victory, and are confident that his restoration to office not only is effected but that it will be permanent.

Meanwhile, decision in the contest suit of Jack Branham against Guy Childers and Harold Bailey, who on the face of last election returns were elected to the County Board of Education, is pending in the Floyd circuit court.

Hunter was elected for a four-year term starting July 1, 1934, and on January 6 Henry Porter filed a writ of habeas corpus against him, alleging that the Superintendent had neglected his official duties while engaging in undue political activities.

Attorney Edward L. Allen spent Saturday afternoon near Huesville, visiting his mother, Mrs. Polly Allen.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR CONGRESS

We are authorized to announce DOUG HAYS

as a candidate for Congress, from the Seventh Congressional district, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary 1936. Your support and influence will be deeply appreciated.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS

DEAR PATRON:

For your convenience Mrs. Richard Davis will be at The Bank Josephine during banking hours, except between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, the first 10 days of each month, beginning June 1, 1936 for the purpose of collecting water bills.

This service is being installed for your convenience and we trust you will take advantage of it promptly.

All persons not paying at the bank on or before the 10th of the month will be subject to having their service discontinued.

Yours truly,

PRESTONSBURG WATER CO.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS TO BID

Contractors interested in submitting bids for the construction of a courthouse at Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky, are advised as follows:

Due to the lack of time in which to prepare and submit bids on or before May 25, 1936, the original date for awarding the contract, a large number of contractors were deprived of submitting bids on said courthouse and no bids having been received or submitted, the Building Committee and the Fiscal Court of Floyd County, Kentucky, deferred the time for the awarding of the contract till JUNE 15, 1936 as hereinafter set out.

Contractors interested in securing plans and specifications for the construction of the courthouse at Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Kentucky, may secure same from the office of Levi J. Dean, Architect, 2748 Gayman Avenue, Huntington, W. Va., and those desiring to submit bids must file same with A. B. Meade, clerk, Floyd County Court, at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, or Levi J. Dean, Architect, 2748 Gayman Avenue, Huntington, W. Va., on or before MONDAY, JUNE 15, 1936. No bids shall be received or filed after 12:00 o'clock noon, on said day.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or Bidder's Bond equal to two per cent of the bid.

The successful bidder shall furnish the owner a bond in the amount of the contract price, issued by a responsible Bond Company or Trust Company; said bond to be approved by the Fiscal Court of Floyd County, guaranteeing the faithful performance of the contract as to the terms thereof.

The owner, the Floyd County Fiscal Court and Floyd County, reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Bids shall be opened and the contracts awarded by the Fiscal Court of Floyd County, in session, on Monday, JUNE 15, 1936, at 1 p. m., and the bidders will be expected to comply with all terms herein.

(Signed)

W. L. STUMBO,

A. B. MEADE

F. D. SHORT

Building Committee

By FORREST D. SHORT

5-29-21

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

In support of President Roosevelt's plans and as my contribution thereto, my services to employes of the PWA and their families will be given free. In all cases of accidental injury or illness of any kind, any one desiring services, call at my office day or night, in Martin, Ky.

Yours to serve the New Deal,
W. L. STUMBO, M. D.
2-3, 6 mos.

FOR SALE—23-acre farm, good 3-room log house, good well, on Little Paint Creek, 4 miles from Prestonsburg, about 1-2 mile from Mayo Trail. Write or see

R. H. HUFF,

East Point, Ky.

5-22-41

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dimick, of Huntington, W. Va., were here for Saturday afternoon near Huesville, Memorial Day, and were weekend guests of Judge and Mrs. E. P. Arnold.

Unique Theater .. Program

Offering For Week Of June 5-11

Unique Theater

Prestonsburg, Kentucky

NIGHT SHOWS START AT 7:30 P. M.

"Sound as Good as the Best"

FLOYD COUNTIANS PROMINENT IN OTHER STATES

Continued from page one

man, brilliant Oklahoma attorney. Dr. W. J. Fitzpatrick, Prestonsburg native, leading member of the dental profession in Miami, Fla., and former president of the Florida Dental Association.

Harry Fairchild, a brother of Den Fairchild, of Allen, prominent Texas educator.

Frank Fairchild, son of Den Fairchild, head of the aeronautics department, Cincinnati Public Schools. Newton Fairchild, prominent Texas citizen.

J. B. Setser, formerly of the Johns Creek section, now Circuit Clerk of Greenup county.

Jake Coburn and L. B. Wells, both natives of this county, now members of the Greenup county fiscal court.

BIRTHDAY CANDLES BURN

FOR RUSSELL E. HAGEWOOD

Saturday evening, May 23, at 7 o'clock, friends and co-workers of Russell Hagewood, teller and bookkeeper at the First National Bank, met at his home on Graham street to celebrate his birthday. The lovely cake with its 30 candles was placed in the center of the table, and surrounding it were fried chicken, salads, strawberry shortcake and other delicious foods.

In speaking of the occasion, Glenn Soradlin, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, said: "Never before have I seen gracious hosts entertain more appreciative guests than this evening." A very useful present was handed Mr. Hagewood from "The Boys" by E. C. Hall, who said, "We are glad to be here this evening to rejoice with you on this happy occasion, because our joys are multiplied when shared with others. Thirty years young. You are not in the prime of life and we trust time will deal generously with you and there will be many years of useful activity ahead. Perhaps some day you will be president of a bank or something better. Be that as it may, continue your life and conduct in the same self-sacrificing manner that you have in years gone by, and your friends will know you as an honest, industrious, trustworthy man. This gift, though it be small, is in reality great, because it is given with affection that springs from the heart. As often as you wear it, may it refresh your memory of this happy birthday occasion."

Richard Spurlock expressed thanks for the hospitality shown those present, while J. E. Stanley said he wished Mr. Hagewood could have two or three birthdays each year.

GRADUATED BROM

BEREA ACADEMY

Berea, Ky., May 30—Elmer Owen

FRIDAY—

"Personal Maid"

with Margaret Lindsay and Warren Hull. Serial and Comedy.

SATURDAY—

"Bar-20 Rides Again"

with William Boyd. Serial and Comedy.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY—

"Strike Me Pink"

Starring Eddie Cantor. News and Comedy.

TUESDAY—

"THE RAIN MAKERS"

Starring Wheeler and Woolsey.

WEDNESDAY—

"Barbary Coast"

with Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea.

THURSDAY ONLY—

"Love On A Bet"

with Gene Raymond and Windy Barrie.

Coming Sunday and Monday, June 14-15 -- "The Bride Comes Home", with Claudette Colbert and Fred McMurray.

The Curious Corner

Rickard was among those to graduate at the annual Berea College graduation exercises, May 30. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rickard, Weeksbury.

Rickard's activities while in Berea include membership in the Young Men's Christian Association, Adelphe Literary Society and the Strollers, a dramatic organization on the campus. He was manager of the Academy baseball team for two years.

For two years Mrs. Elizabeth Babson, of Roosevelt, N. Y., thought her son, George, 19, was dead. Recently she located him in court in Newark, N. J., where he was held for breaking into a house.

On September 9, 1858, George Robinson, who resided near the mouth of Guest River, in Wise county, Va. gave Commodore Reed a deed of trust on a cow he was selling William Osborn for. The instrument provided that if Robinson won in his suit with Osborn and became possessed of the cow the animal was to belong to Kennedy forever, or until such time that Robinson settled a certain debt he had made.

Super Liner Queen Mary's Kitchen

The largest electrically equipped kitchen in the world.

FOOD of the finest quality prepared by expert chefs to delight the palate of the "Gourmet" will be provided for the thousands of passengers on the Cunard White Star Line's "Queen Mary," as she races swiftly across the Atlantic.

The main restaurant is the largest room ever built in a ship. It is 150 feet long and is so large that the steamship company's first transatlantic liner, "Britannic," could be placed within it.

There is intense rivalry in the transatlantic trade for supremacy of the sea. This rivalry extends not only to the speed of the ship but to her equipment and the service to passengers. For this reason, the designers of the "Queen Mary" have placed particular emphasis on her culinary department and have equipped her with what are perhaps the largest completely electrified kitchens in the world.

Here is the last word in modern Kitchens constructed on a vast scale. Gleaming porcelain enamel ranges, supplied with pure electric heat, and polished metal working surfaces combine to give assurance of cleanliness.

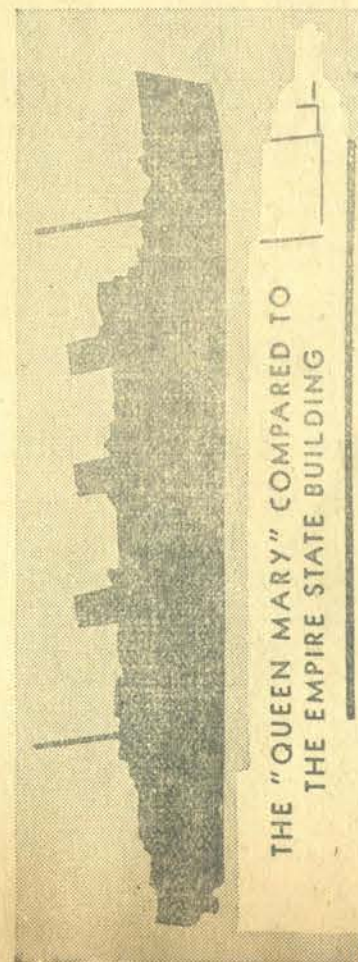

The ship's kitchens would delight the heart of any housewife for they contain every sort of electrical labor saving device. Imagine the complete elimination of such laborious tasks as potato peeling and dough mixing. Machines take care of both operations on the "Queen Mary." Every conceivable electrical device for kitchen efficiency is to be found on the ship, from orange juice extractors to huge ice cream freezers.

Raoul Ricourt, born in Mayenne, France, 54 years ago, is the chef who directs her staff of cooks and bakers. M. Ricourt had completed his apprenticeship in cooking at the age of 15. He has presided over the kitchens of internationally famous hotels and restaurants. Now, after many years with the line, he is the proud director of this most modern kitchen. His Cabin Class Kitchen contains two large electric ranges, each with 8 ovens, and one smaller range with 3 ovens for the vegetable cook. The main service hotpress in the kitchen is 55 feet long.

The Tourist Kitchen and Third Class kitchen are equipped like the Cabin kitchen. In addition, the ship has a large bake shop and a Kosher kitchen where food is prepared according to the Jewish ritual.

The "Queen Mary's" vast cooking equipment is the largest ever assembled on a ship.

THE "QUEEN MARY" COMPARED TO THE EMPIRE STATE BUILDING

FREE BOOK about STOMACH TROUBLE
Explains the marvelous Willard Treatment which is bringing amazing relief. Sold on ironclad money-back guarantee.
PRICELESS INFORMATION—for those suffering from STOMACH OR DUODENAL ULCERS, DUE TO HYPERACIDITY—TOOR DIGESTION, ACID DYSPEPSIA, SOUR STOMACH, GASTRITIS, HEARTBURN, CONSTIPATION, BAD BREATH, SLEEPLESSNESS OR HEADACHES, DUE TO EXCESS ACID.
Ask for a free copy of Willard's Message.

H. E. HUGHES AND CO.

Are You Ahead of Last Year?

No matter what the results of the past year have been, you are still striving for success during the coming months.

Good insurance can help you. It will eliminate the danger of losing the headway you have gained. It will relieve you of the worry of danger and give you peace of mind and confidence.

Let us tell you more about insurance. Not about any particular policy, but about insurance as a practical business force to promote your interests. This organization is at your service.

United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co.

JOHN ALLEN, AGENT
Telephone 98 Prestonsburg, Ky

BRING YOUR RADIO TROUBLES TO

Koch Radio Service

(Pronounced Cook)
Seven Years in Prestonsburg, Member Radio Manufacturers Service. We Repair All Makes of Radios—Auto, Battery Or Electric.
PHONE 109 — LOCATED ON THIRD AVENUE NEAR COURTHOUSE

E. P. ARNOLD

Funeral Director
FRANKLIN W. MOORE
Undertaker and Embalmer, Assistant

ANY HOUR, DAY OR NIGHT, WE STAND READY TO SERVE YOU, EFFICIENTLY AND REASONABLY, IN THE CARE OF YOUR LOVED ONES

Ambulance Service Phone 94-W and 94-J, Prestonsburg, Ky.