JUDGE CAUDILL STRESSES NEED OF REGISTRATION

Must Register in Order To Suffrage; Caudill Issues Statement

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN

Importance of the registration of voters was stressed this week in a statement issued by Circuit Judge John W. Caudill in which he pointed out provisions of the new election law requiring all voters to register in order to retain the right to vote. Election day, Saturday August 1, is state registration day.

Judge Caudill's statement follows: "In order that the voters of Floyd County may fully understand the registration law and to prevent confusion from finding himself directed to vote at the August primary or in the November election, I take pleasure in giving the following instructions:

The registration law, passed by the 1936 General Assembly, requires that every voter shall be registered before the clerk of the election can issue to him a ballot. The clerk of county court will select and have two men present in each voting precinct for the purpose of registering voters, but it will be found to be a very slow process in making this registration and have the cards completed as the cards for permanent registration must be made up by these registrars on the day of the primary and in the presence of the voters, and unless the voters give their cooperation and assistance the clerk and the registrars that he may appoint will find it absolutely impossible for all the voters in the large precincts of the county to register.

Voters should be on the election grounds at the opening of the polls in sufficient number to keep the registrars busy, so that as many as can possibly register may do so in time to vote, and each voter should do all that he can to prevent any disturbance or delay in any way in making this registration. And if it should be possible that a part of the voters can not be registered, the law makes a provision whereby you may afterwards register in the county clerk's office in order to be a qualified voter in the November election.

I know our clerk is giving his very best attention to this matter and is trying to make a selection of registrars who are very speedy persons, and I wish to appeal to the voters to stand by them, giving all assistance possible to expedite this matter and give everybody a chance to vote if possible."

GARRETT MINERS RETURN TO WORK

Approximately 500 miners who last week "took a walk" when company officials failed to discharge an employe unsatisfactory to the United Mine Workers returned to work Monday at the Garrett mines of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation after the company dropped from its payroll the employe over whom the dispute arose.

The strike was peaceful. Ep Laferty, former Prestonsburg and Garrett officer, to whose employment the miners objected, has moved to Scotland, where he is an officer, it was said.

Y INJURED IN FALL OF 15 FEET FROM TREE

A nine-year-old son of Mr. K. W. Pigg, sustained serious injuries Monday when he fell from a tree on the Prestonsburg campus, his back striking a tree. It was feared his hurts were serious now that he has been away for several days.

Hammond's Record As Legion Leader Called Outstanding

JAMES W. HAMMOND

Under the leadership of James W. Hammond, who retires this week as State Commander of the American Legion, the Legion in this state reached new heights during the past year.

Mr. Hammond, formerly of Paintsville and well-known throughout this section, is now warden of the state Reformatory at Frankfort where he is making an enviable record.

Of Mr. Hammond a well-known Legionnaire recently said: "He is the greatest Commander that we have ever had, and we are proud of him and his accomplishments." State convention of the Legion is being held in Paducah this week.

PUBLIC RELATIONS MEET HELD HERE

C. and O. Committees Report Progress in Furthering Doctrine of Goodwill

Chesapeake and Ohio Lines Public Relations committees from Floyd, Pike, Johnson and Lawrence counties, assembled Saturday evening at the Auxier hotel here for their first joint meeting with the hose choirman, Lon S. Moles, presiding.

Reports from the various county chairmen indicate unusual activity in furthering public relations work and a direct trend toward a better understanding and growing friendliness between the railway company and the people it serves.

A round-table discussion of the major subjects in public relations work brought out many good suggestions to be utilized in contact with the patrons of the railroad. E. D. Stephenson, counsel, Pikeville, reported great gains in good will in his county due to the unusual activities of members. Z. Wells, counsel Paintsville, gave a most interesting account of the committee work in Johnson and Lawrence counties, and cited the fact that much good was being accomplished by individual members. Lon S. Moles, Prestonsburg, made the report for Floyd county, gave interesting accounts of work done in this territory.

Special stress was laid on chairman responsibility, resourcefulness, sources of information and distribution, courtesy, creating good-will, solicitation of freight and passenger business, taxes, legislation and government ownership. After the business session Congressman A. J. May gave a very interesting talk, citing the necessity of vigorous public relations work by the carriers, lauding the Chesapeake and Ohio lines for pioneering the work in this county.

Those present were Congressman A. J. May, Prestonsburg; E. D. Stephenson, attorney, W. A. Mordica, assistant train master, Wm. Barrett, attorney, and W. E. Robinette, agent, Pikeville; Z. Wells, attorney, B. F. Roberts, agent, O. T. Hall, ticket seller, Paintsville; R. C. McClure, Louisa B. F. Combs, attorney, L. S. Moles, agent, C. H. Dickerson, ticket-seller, Prestonsburg; W. T. Hatcher, agent, Lackey; Dr. M. V. Wecker, surgeon, W. N. Stratton, agent, Wayland; H. C. Marrs, assistant trainmaster, Shelby; and E. T. Evans, general yardmaster, Martin; J. E. Venters, yardmaster, Shelby; Norman Allen, Prestonsburg.

SCHOOL LEVY IS RAISED 20 CENTS

Fiscal Court Votes Increase at Request of Superintendent; To Build Bridge

The fiscal court's levy of 50 cents per $100 taxable property for common school purposes for the year 1936 was raised to 70 cents by the court at its meeting Friday upon urgent request of Palmer L. Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools.

Appearing before the fiscal court, Mr. Hall said that the extra levy would be necessary in order to supply funds needed by the school system. Magistrate Jim Clark voted against the levy increase.

Each of the four magistrates of the county was authorized to spend not in excess of $1,000 this year on county roads and bridges.

Magistrate M. C. Wright was directed to procure necessary material and supplies for the construction of a bridge across Right Beaver Creek between Garrett and Lackey. The court voted unanimously to pay the bill $48 a year in monthly installments.

Magistrates Scott, Clark and Hall met Tuesday afternoon with L. J. Dean, Huntington, W. Va., architect, in a discussion of possibilities of courthouse construction. No official action was taken, and the matter awaits action of Public Works Administration on the court's application for a grant of 45 per cent of the total cost of construction.

BURNETTE FUNERAL IS HELD AT BETSY LAYNE

Funeral of Harrison Burnette, 42 years old, who died in the county jail here July 13, was conducted Wednesday, last week, from the Free Will Baptist Church, Betsy Layne by the Rev. Isaac Stratton, and burial was made in the Layne cemetery under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

Mr. Burnette is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frankie Buchanan Burnette, and 12 children: George, Berntha, Roy, Clarence, Earl, Wayne, Robert, Harrison, Jr., Ratha, Bernice, Gene and Huey; also two brothers and one sister, Mrs. Myrtle Smith, a sister, resides at Betsy Layne.

BECKHAM, ALLY BROWN TARGETS

Senatorial Candidate Tells Voters Here Friday Governor Chander Violated Promise

John Young Brown, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, in his address to voters here Friday afternoon directed his most vigorous blasts at J. C. W. Beckham, one of his two principal opponents, and at Governor A. B. Chandler, ally of Mr. Beckham.

Referring to the new state tax on ice cream and soft drinks, Mr. Brown placed the blame for these taxes on Governor Chandler and his administration. He also charged the Governor with violation of his pledge of support of Brown in return for services rendered during Mr. Chandler's race for the Governorship last year.

He said his and Governor Chandler's relations at this time were those of one young man pushing another up the ladder, and the one thus helped turning and bludgeoning his helper down." Referring to Mr. Beckham's plea, which he opposed James B. McCreary for the Senate in 1906, for the people to "give a young man a chance." The speaker said that the same slogan should now apply, since Mr. Beckham is now as old as Mr. McCreary was then.

Brown made brief reference to Senator Logan, his other prominent contender for the Senate post, stating that the seated position in which the Senator posed for a photograph being used in his campaign was characteristic of his activities in Washington.

LABOR ENDORSES CONGRESSMAN MAY

Federation of Labor, Rail Organizations Pledge Support; Record of Congressman Viewed

Labor went on record last week as endorsing the candidacy of Congressman A. J. May for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the Seventh district.

In convention at Louisville the state Federation of Labor gave Mr. May its endorsement, and during the same week the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors joined in endorsing Congressman May: "We heartily concur," the rail organization wrote, in the action of the chief executives and national legislative representatives, and urge our membership and their friends to actively interest themselves in your behalf."

Appearing before the Federation of Labor convention, Congressman May reviewed his activities in behalf of the workingman and declared himself wholeheartedly the friend and supporter of organized labor.

AUTO SUPPLY FIRM TO OPEN AUGUST 1

The Peerless Auto Supply, wholesale dealer, in automobile parts of all kinds, will open in the Nursery building, opposite the courthouse, on or about Aug. 1, Jenna Spradlin, manager and part-owner of the business announces.

In addition to Mr. Spradlin, one of the two owners of the Peerless Auto Supply Company, Charleston, W. Va., is a stockholder in the concern. Though the two stores will be operated independently, they will co-operate in buying.

Until recently, Mr. Spradlin was connected with Genswade's Service Station here.

BIRTHS

Born at the Beaver Valley hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Prater, of Martin, on July 18, a 10-pound son. The babe has been named Joseph.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kazez, of Garrett, at the Beaver Valley hospital July 10.

KNOTT COUNTIAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Johnny Mosely Succumbs Monday to Injuries Sustained Near Dinwood 3 Hours Earlier

Johnny Mosely, 19 years old, of Leburn, Knott county, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, three hours after being struck by a passenger train near Dinwood on the Right Beaver branch of the C. and O. Railway Company.

The train crew was quoted as having said that the whistle of the engine was blowing as it emerged from the tunnel between Martin and Dinwood, but that young Mosely stepped onto the tracks in front of the train. His skull was crushed at the base of the brain and he died without regaining consciousness.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Len D. Mosely, of Troublesome Creek, Knott county, and had many relatives in this county. He had been employed on a pipe line on Beaver Creek. Besides his parents, he is survived by several brothers and sisters.

The body was prepared for burial by E. P. Arnold and returned to Troublesome Creek for burial in the family cemetery.

DYSENTERY VICTIM

The four-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Moore, of Dinwood, died Friday of dysentery. Funeral rites and burial were conducted at Dinwood Sunday under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

Scutchfield Named Graduate Assistant At U. of Kentucky

Announcement was made last week by the Kentucky Kernel, student publication of the University of Kentucky, Lexington, that Beecher Layne Scutchfield, of Water Gap, this county, and former teacher in Prestonsburg high school, has been named graduate assistant in bacteriology at the University for one year. Mr. Scutchfield is a graduate of Berea College and has a special talent for chemistry and allied subjects. He entered the University for further study during the summer session with no hope of becoming an instructor there, but his work attracted such attention that his appointment followed naturally.

CHILD-VICTIM OF CAR BURIED HERE

Newsome Charged with Involuntary Manslaughter in Death of 4-Year-Old Tot

Body of Paul Richard, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Shepherd, of Burton, who died Sunday afternoon beneath the wheels of an automobile, was buried at West Prestonsburg Monday afternoon, and on the same afternoon Kenneth Newsome, of Pike county, was brought here as driver of the death car.

A young man of about 22 years, Newsome executed $500 bond for his release on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Relatives here of the child-victim said that the car ran 11 feet off the highway at Burton onto a vacant lot where the child was playing, and that two pills of whisky were taken from Newsome's auto.

Young Newsome and his father, Andy Newsome, claimed that the child was playing in the road and that not until their car had topped a slight incline over the railroad and dipped over the other side of the rise did they see the tot. The driver, they claimed, made every effort to avoid striking the child. One of the two officers, Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson and Frank Hotfield, who brought Newsome here, said the tragedy was unavoidable. Brakes on the car were defective, it was said.

Though the younger Newsome denied that he had been drinking, his father paid Magistrate Willie Hall a fine for drunkenness following the child's death.

Besides the parents, the little victim is survived by two brothers and two sisters: Pearl, Ruth, Fran and Harry. The Shepherd family moved from here to Burton some time ago.

SUCCESSFUL CANNING DEMONSTRATION HELD FOR LEADER TRAINING

What was probably the most successful canning demonstration to be given in this county was that held Thursday, last week, in the Home Economics room of Prestonsburg high school as training for leaders in 4-H club and National Youth Administration canning work.

The demonstration was conducted by Mrs. Mock of the Experiment Station, University of Kentucky, Miss Johnson, Johnson county home acet, and Mrs. Wheeler, Paintsville, district home management supervisor for the Re-Settlement Administration. The meeting was arranged by County Agent S. L. Isbell.

Junior Club and NYA workers attending were: Mrs. Walter Roberts, Tram; Wm. Haywood, Dock; Mrs. Ishmael Triplett, Prestonsburg; Misses Della Egger and Inez Baisden, Betsy Layne; Mrs. O. G. Conley, Misses Anna Lou Stanley, Virginia Harmon, Bobby Stanley, Gladys Conley and Gladys Williams, of Bonanza; Mrs. Lum Dennesset and daughter, of East Point; Mrs. Johnny Holbrook, Mrs. Edna Branch and Mrs. Nellie Crum, of Cliff.

Leroy Combs returned Sunday to Lexington to resume his studies at the University of Kentucky during the second session of the summer term.

FOUR AUXIER MEN HELD IN ALLEGED SABOTAGE CHARGE

Accused of Plotting Destruction of North-East Coal Company Tipples at Auxier

TIMBERS REMOVED

Four Auxier men were jailed here Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Elbert Dye following their arrest on a warrant charging them with conspiring and banding to damage the property of the North-East Coal Company at Auxier.

The prisoners are Jim Honeycutt, Billie C. Wells, Tag Moore and Ernest Wells. The warrant for their arrest was sworn out last week by R. C. Thomas, superintendent of the coal company.

It was said here last week that the men removed timbers from the coal company's tipples across Johns Creek. Coal company officials believe that failure of one of the men to get a job led to the act.

Had not officials of the mine learned of the plot to destroy the tipples, a "work trip" of more than 50 miners would have crashed through the weakened structure as mine cars bearing them passed over it.

WELL-KNOWN DWALE MAN DIES JULY 15TH AT AGE OF 72 YEARS

T. A. Amburgy, well-known Dwale citizen, died at his home July 15, a victim of cancer from which he had suffered for the last 15 years. He was 72 years old. Mr. Amburgy had been a member of the Baptist Church for a number of years, and had a host of friends in this section.

Surviving him are three sons and three daughters: Mrs. Chas. Porter, of Dwale; Mrs. Bert Hall, Detroit, Mich.; Corbett Amburgy, of Dwale; George Amburgy, Detroit; Ed Amburgy, Dwale, and Mrs. Clarence Lewis, Detroit. He also leaves two half-brothers, Ed Goodman, of Russell, and Bob Amburgy, of Hindman.

Funeral rites were conducted by the Revs. Isaac Stratton and Joe Laferty, and burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

WOODSON HOPKINS, 86, SUCCUMBS TO CANCER AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Ill for several months with cancer, Woodson Hopkins, 86 years old, died Thursday, July 16, at the apartment here of his daughter Mrs. Bess Golden.

Mr. Hopkins came here a few years ago from Hendersonville, Ky., to reside with his daughter, and during his residence in Prestonsburg he gained the friendship of his every acquaintance. He was prominent in Henderson, and had a host of relatives and friends in that section of the state.

Body of Mr. Hopkins was prepared for burial by E. P. Arnold, then taken to Henderson for interment.

P'BURG BREAKS LOSING STREAK

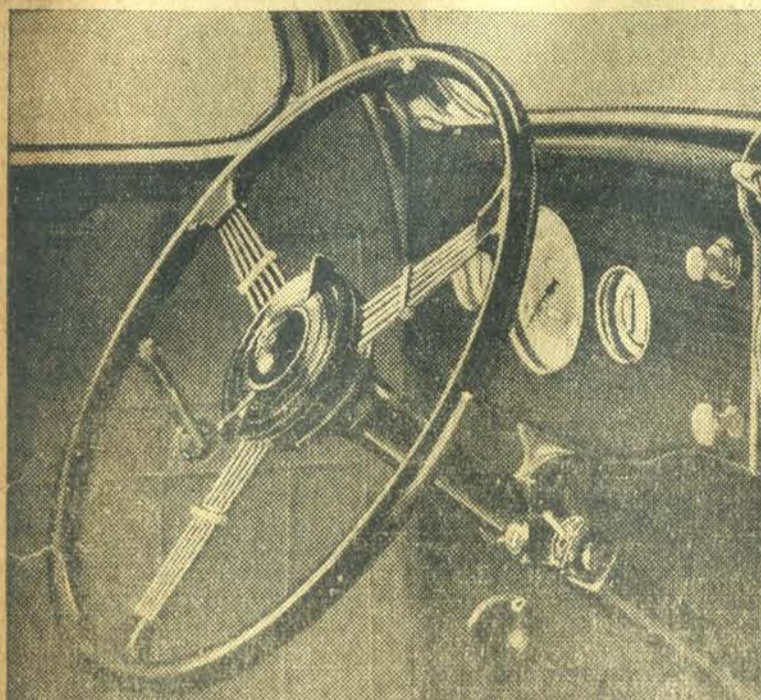

With Adrian Collins back on the mound, the Prestonsburg baseball team snapped out of its losing streak Sunday to defeat Shelby 5-2.

The hitting was not especially vigorous on either side, but defensive play of the Prestonsburg infield was excellent. These four youngsters contributed four double-kills. One of Prestonsburg's runs was a home by Rose, and it was one for the book. The local outfielder's hot smash caromed off an infielder's glove over a railing into foul territory, while the Shelby infield hesitated to follow the play, Rose circled the bases.

An A. J. Drift was swamped beneath a 13-2 score as the Auxier boys pounded Kit Stumbo hard. Castle twirled the win over the left-handed boys. In the second round game there "Yank" Mills pitched Auxier to a 5-0 victory over the

LAND BANK LOANS IN FLOYD, $42,700

Observing this week the 20-year anniversary of the passing of the Farm Loan Act of 1916 which marked the beginning of the co-operative credit in the United States, Ernest Rice, president of the Land bank of Louisville, announced that the outstanding amount of Federal land loans in Floyd county increased from May, 1933, when the Farm Credit Administration was organized, to $42,000, which was the face amount of Land Bank and land bank commissioner loans outstanding at the beginning of 1936. The number of farmers in this county having their average loans through the bank is 31.

This large advance in the amount of loans outstanding has made very little, if any, increase in the total indebtedness of Floyd county farmers. Mr. Rice said, since farmers used about $9 out of every $10 borrowed to pay already-existing debts owed to banks, insurance companies, merchants, and other concerns and individuals.

The cooperative farm loan business is handled locally by the Magoffin County National Farm Loan Association, located at Salyersville. It is one of 124 similar organizations serving farmers in this state. Edward D. Holbrook is the secretary-treasurer and chief executive officer. B. F. Holbrook, president, Clay Prater, vice-president, Henry Lyon, A. L. Cooper and John M. Salyer.

The land bank president said that since the Farm Credit Administration undertook to reopen the channels of agricultural credit the amount of land bank loans outstanding in Kentucky increased from $24,629,000 in 1930 to $58,506,000 at the beginning of 1936. During that period, farm foreclosure sales—40 foreclosures per 1,000 farms in the year ending March 15, 1933—have been cut in half. In Kentucky the rate last year was 14.9 per thousand, which approaches normal for the pre-depression years 1926-1930.

"The farm Credit Administration has reduced directly the interest rates of one in every three farmers with mortgages," Rice said, "and out of every three dollars of interest paid by the average before refinancing, he now pays only two dollars and the other dollar stays in his own pocket. The total interest saving to Kentucky farmers as a result of refinancing amounts to more than $498,000 a year."

The Federal Land Bank of Louisville makes first mortgage loans and also acts as agent in making land loans, some of them on second mortgage security, as authorized by law.

All land bank loans in Kentucky are handled by associations and advanced from funds obtained by selling farm loan bonds, whereas the commissioner lends from funds provided from the Federal government. The bank lends in amounts up to about one-half the appraised normal value of the farm property, and this may be supplemented, with proper security, by a commissioner loan, the total of both not exceeding 75 per cent of the appraised normal value of the farm property.

"Commissioner loans may now be made to aid the purchase of farm lands," Mr. Rice said. "A favorable investment market enables the Federal land banks to make new loans bearing 4 per cent rate of interest a year, the lowest in the 20 years of their history."

The experience in cooperative credit furnished by the land banks and the farm loan associations paid the way for the organization of a cooperative short-term lending system. Floyd county farmers are served in this by the Big Sandy Production Credit Association, which has made 550 loans for $113,598 since its organization early in 1934.

AN EXAMPLE TO FOLLOW

A splendid example of pride in home and hometown is offered by a select group of property-owners who have beautified their backyards bordering upon the Mayo Trail through this place so as to present Prestonsburg in the most favorable manner to visitors driving along this, the finest thoroughfare in all Eastern Kentucky.

From Court street south, before the Trail was paved through Prestonsburg, a swampy strip of land lay between Second and Third avenues. People naturally did not build their homes fronting on this unsightly stretch, and so there are few residences facing on that part of the street.

But those whose backyards border on the thoroughfare are no content to permit their backyards to remain just that after the traditional manner. The unsightly features have been, or are being, removed; landscaping is being done, flower gardens blooming.

The Times not only commends these homeowners upon their evidence of the aesthetic in taste but also suggests that we all should, wherever possible, follow suit.

The following letter from a "Left-Out" teacher is so full of good sense and of the very essence of good sportsmanship that The Times takes pleasure in printing it in this column:

Once again the Board of Education has hired teachers. Once again there are teachers left out. With a surplus of teachers in the county, this is inevitable. If someone has a recipe for supplying jobs when teachers outnumber positions, bring it forth.

What of the left-out teacher? How does he or she take it, or can one take it? Few if any find other work, for there is none. Only a limited number go to school due to the uncertainty of work another year. Too many become models of sour grapes. Too few prove to be good sports in the face of defeat. Yet the teacher who cannot be a cheerful loser is scarcely worthy of victory. The teacher who does not help in community life and work when out of the school is seldom known to be a leader when employed to teach.

Since some teachers must be left out in the county annually, some good as well as bad, why not make the best of it? Why criticize and condemn your school because the political faction opposite your own is in? Why not boost the school, look for the good in the teachers and prove that you have the character of which real teachers should be made? Teachers are taught and trained to be community leaders. Many fail to live up to this, especially the left-out teacher who becomes a grinch, determined to oust the administration which left him out, but had he been given a job, he'd have sung praises to those whom he now condemns.

This attitude is all too prevalent and does not speak well for members whether in or out. Hence, remember—a good citizen does everything he can at all times to assist in progress in his town.

Judge Caudill Gives Reasons Why He Is Supporting Senator M. M. Logan For Renomination

Senator Logan is a sober, Christian gentleman, has been a member of the Baptist Church for more than 40 years; has been a public servant of the people for more than 20 years, and no one would dare accuse him of one wrongful act or any misconduct in office.

He has never been defeated by the vote of the people for any office. He did not belong to either of the political factions that twice defeated the Democratic party and placed two Republicans from Kentucky in the United States Senate, does not believe in machine politics, but has implicit faith in the people, and has no political enemies. He regained by a handsome majority the Senate seat that J. C. W. Beckham lost.

Senator Logan has supported President Roosevelt in all his New Deal policies, including all Labor bills, relief appropriations and the Soldier's Bonus Bill (having lost two brothers on the battlefields of France, he still feels the sting of their loss).

President Roosevelt would like to see Senator Logan renominated and re-elected. He appreciates Logan's loyalty in the trying years just past, and feels the need of his wise counsel and mature judgement. If you are for President Roosevelt, how can you afford to vote against Senator Logan?

I have known Senator M. M. Logan for about 25 years. All of this time he has been one of my most loyal friends. He is a sober, honest, efficient, conscientious servant of the people and a christian gentleman. To know Senator Logan means to love him.

Se never lost a political battle. Let's not let him lose this time

Anything that you may be able to do for Senator Logan will be considered me as a personal favor.

Yours for more loyal supporters of the President,

[Signed] John W.

Friends of Mrs. J. R. Hurt will be sorry to learn that she is ill in a Richland, Va., hospital. Mr. Hurt is at her bedside.

Miss Anna Harris, Mrs. Emma Gabany, Dick Feiler and Bill Osborne returned Sunday from a motor trip to Banner Elk and Asheville, N. C.

Wald Cross, of Newark, O., spent the week-end with Mrs. Cross and daughter, here.

Mrs. Geraldine Allen returned last week from Richmond, where she has been a student at Eastern State Normal and Teachers' College during the summer session.

Condition of Mrs. A. B. Combs, who was operated upon recently at St. Joseph's Infirmary, Louisville, is much improved, her many friends will be pleased to learn.

F. M. Addis, of Lafayette, Ky., was a business visitor in Prestonsburg this week.

Mrs. Lydia Preston is a patient in a Huntington hospital, receiving medical treatment.

Mrs. Adrian Collins and son, Pete, and Miss Billy Preston left Sunday for a visit in Norfolk, Va., with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Coyer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Vincent, of Prestonsburg visitors Tuesday.

Miss Helen Moore and Sue Martha Ramsdell returned this week from Owenton, Ky., where they have been spending several weeks with relatives.

Mrs. E. E. Clarke has been ill at her home on Highland avenue, but her condition is reported as showing improvement.

Prof. M. J. Mayo, of St. Louis, Mo., arrived Monday for a visit with relatives in Prestonsburg and elsewhere in the county.

Mrs. R. Taylor is recovering at at her home here from a recent illness.

Mr. J. D. Thomas is confined to her home by illness this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith have as their guest the Rev. Mr. Edward, of Gallon, O.

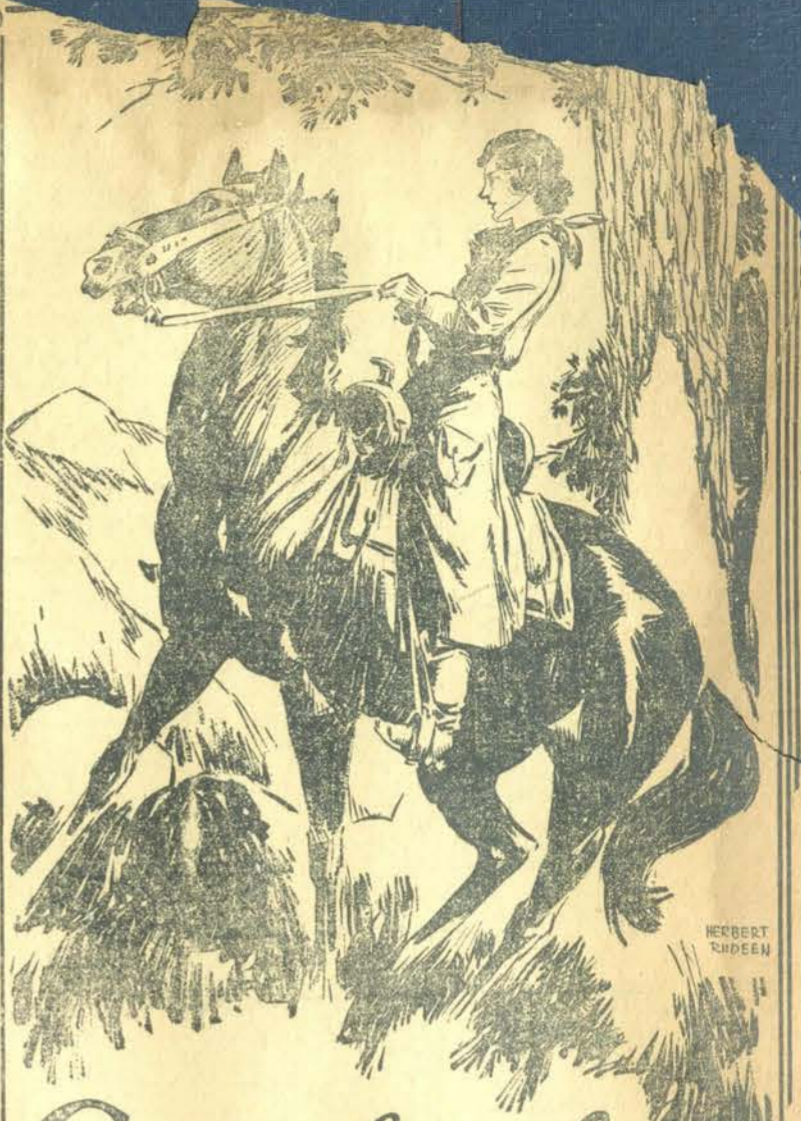

Miss Kathryn Stumbo arrived Wednesday from Lexington, where she has been attending the summer session of the University of Kentucky. En route home, she stopped in Ashland, where she was the guest of Mrs. B. F. Nolte.

ROOSEVELT WANTS LOGAN

President Roosevelt has quietly let it become known in Kentucky that he desires the return of Senator Logan.

L. M. Combs, a candidate for the Senate, withdrew for Senator Logan because he found out the President wanted Senator Logan. He said:

"The reason I am withdrawing from the race for United States Senator is because President Roosevelt sincerely desires the return of Senator Logan.

"The President desires for Senator Logan's return merely increases my devotion to him because it indicates his deep appreciation of Senator Logan's loyalty to him in trying years just past."

Senator A. O. Stanley, who will speak for Senator Logan in Kentucky during this campaign, said publicly in the papers that he withdrew from the race because he found out through Chairman James A. Farley that the President desired the return of Senator Logan. This was after Beckham announced his candidacy.

President Roosevelt knows he would have trouble with Senator Beckham should he be sent to the Senate. He knows his record. He knows that he was one of the most reactionary, ultra-conservative men in the Senate. HE VOTED THREE TIMES AGAINST WOMEN SUFFRAGE. Practically all his votes were against labor. He would be a thorn in the side of President Roosevelt, and the country is finding it out. He is not in step with modern progress as interpreted by the President.

Beckham has been trying to get a job under Roosevelt since he has been President. In 1935 he applied for the position of Interstate Commerce Commissioner. He was endorsed by both Senators Logan and Barkley. The President refused to appoint him. In 1934 he was again endorsed by the Senators and again the President refused to appoint him on the Federal Trade Commission. He made an application again for appointment to the Board of Tax Appeals, this time endorsed by both Senators and the President refused to appoint him. WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH BECKHAM? The labor vote in Kentucky has never been for him, and three times this vote has defeated him. Why would they be for him now?

The Governor of Kentucky (Sales-Tax Happy) is trying to drive labor into Beckham's camp, by threatening to refuse to pass the laws that Labor wants. Why didn't he pass the laws sponsored by Labor when he had a chance? Every bill Labor sponsored in the Legislature was defeated. Logan's labor record is 100 per cent, right. Beckham has never been endorsed by Labor, and is not endorsed now. A few individuals who claim to speak for Labor say Beckham's record is all right, but Labor should beware of "wolves in sheep's clothing" and "false prophets."

Roosevelt needs a man on whom he can rely in the Senate. To defeat Senator Logan under these circumstances would be a direct slap in the face of the President. Let us make him feel good by endorsing at the polls a man we know has been right and will be right in the future for all the policies of the President, including his organized labor policies. If Beckham was a reactionary 20 years ago, he is still older and still more reactionary now.

Respectfully,

ROADHOUSE LAW TOOTHLESS ACT

No Penalty Provided for Failure to Procure Permit, Vincent Says

The only way to stop operation of a roadhouse doing business without a license, Attorney General Beverly M. Vincent advised the revenue department Monday, is through court injunction.

A roadhouse, Attorney General Vincent replied to a request by the revenue department for a definition, "is a place where intoxicating liquor is sold and entertainment is had."

Many Giants Mentioned Through Ancient History

Stories are common among the lower civilized peoples, as well as among savage tribes, to the effect that men have lived who have measured 15 feet in height. Og, King of Bashan, is said in Deuteronomy (3:11) to have been the last of the giants. His bedstead of iron was nine cubits, or between 11 and 13 1/2 feet in length. Pliny mentions the name of an Arabian giant who measured 9 1/2 feet, and also speaks of two others who were 10 feet in stature. The following list of men whose real height is well known shows that it is possible for individuals to go far beyond the average height of the human species, which is 65 inches.

Magrath, bishop Berkeley's giant, ninety-two inches; Patrick Cotter (1761-1804), or O'Brien, 99 inches; Charles Byrne, Irish giant, 100 inches; Topinard's Kalmuck, 100 inches; Winkelmaier, Austrian (died 1887) 103 inches; Topinard's Finlander, 112 inches.

Eleven roadhouse operators of Floyd county had filed applications for permits under the new law till Tuesday morning, this week, it was said at the County Judge's office. No permits had been issued at that time.

There is no penalty for an operator who fails to obtain a permit from the county judge," the attorney general said. "The law merely states that it is unlawful to operate without obtaining a permit, but there is no penalty provided for it. There is nothing to compel an operator to obtain a permit. The only relief that could be had by the county judge or people interested, would be to secure an injunction."

County clerks, he said, should sell beer licenses to applicants without investigating whether they come under the provisions of the roadhouse act.

Descend Among Bicycles
Many Strikes and Worries
Two Flags That Clash
Two National Hymns

This column, like others to follow, written in Europe, traveling about by automobile, will represent an effort to see things clearly, and describe them simply, according to the old formula.

You descend from the ship at Havre into a world on wheels, bicycle wheels, a change from the world on automobile wheels left on the other side of the Atlantic.

Here working men and women, thousands of them, ride to and from work, ten to thirty abreast, depending on the width of the street.

They have the right of way, properly, in a democracy. So it used to be in America, when automobiles were new, small boys shouted "Get a horse," and New York state law compelled the automobile driver to stop his car and engine, while a farm wagon passed, if the farmer raised his hand, or even lead the farm team past his machine if the farmer requested it. Here the car stops, while bicycles circulate around it on both sides. Similarly, you stop, later, meeting flocks of sheep, on roads across the salt marshes of the Vendee.

France is a land of bicycles, of many political parties, and, at the moment, a land of strikes. Like all other European countries, it is a land of permanent war scares. America looks upon war as a distant, improbable possibility, and when it comes spends billions on airships that do not fly, ships that never go to sea, and similar evidences of patriotic dollar-a-year efficiency. Europe's nations live in a state of fear, as an American family might live if it knew that, at any moment, well-equipped gangsters from next door might enter, "shoot up" the household and set fire to the house.

American travelers leaving the city by railroad, descending in the Saint-Lazare station, were surprised to find crowds fighting each other, not waiting for Germany, crowds made up entirely of Frenchmen of different political opinions.

Some wore ribbons with the red, white and blue colors of the French flag; others, more numerous, wore the plain color red. One side sang the "Marseillaise," national hymn of France since the revolution.

Others wearing small red flags sang the "Internationale," official song of the Communists the world over, from Moscow to Harlem. Crowds grew bigger, the Frenchmen sang the two hymns at each other, more and more violently, with excellent voices, not one out of tune, all knowing the words of their respective hymns. The "Marseillaise" says, "Let us go, children of the fatherland, the day of glory has arrived"; the other says, "Arise ye prisoners of starvation; arise, ye wretched of the earth."

It was a scene never to be described, now that Dooley is dead, and Artemus Ward. Nobody bothered the descending foreigners from across the water. A few Frenchmen hit other Frenchmen, not hard, then agents of the Surete, whom we should call policemen, gradually dispersed the crowds, that met and sang at each other again the next day. They live in the suburbs and work in Paris, or vice versa, and, meeting in the railroad station, it engages them to encounter those that sing the wrong hymn and wear the wrong colors.

Those singers have chests like drums, complexions that reveal countless billions of red corpuscles and voices that could be heard, almost, from Los Angeles to Santa Monica.

One of them broke off at the sad word "starvation" and said to your narrator, who had politely congratulated him on his vigor: "Tenez, tenez mon bras, et j'ai soixante sept ans"—meaning, "Here, feel my muscle, and I am sixty-seven years old."

The muscle rose in a biceps like a small melon.

The duty of a visiting foreigner is to observe, describe and not comment; but this writer, had he accepted the invitation to speak at the American club in Paris recently, would have suggested that the French, whose only earthly possession is France, should be careful not to tear that property apart, especially with Germany ready to tear up the pieces.

He crosses the water by mail, new, and not news, when you Only heaven knows what happen in a week.

"The Man Who-o-o"
Tales and Traditions from American Political History

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

War Debt Hangovers
SANTA MONICA, CALIF.— In summarizing governmental finance for the fiscal year, Secretary Morgenthau doesn't even list the thirteen thousand millions of dollars owed to us by defaulting foreign nations.

Irvin S. Cobb

But Americans at large won't forget. If you doubt this, wait till one of these debtor countries gets in a fresh jam and turns to Uncle Sam for succor—and, brother, you can spell that last word the other way and still be right.

We didn't know what we were getting into when we stuck around too long after the fighting ended in 1918. Makes me think of a colored labor battalion who went on the loose at Brest on Armistice day.

A hardboiled top sergeant rounded them up: "Get to work on dem freight piles," he commanded. "But de mess ai done over," declared a spokesman. "And us boys only enlisted fur de duration of de war."

"Lissen," barked the sergeant, "de war may be over, lak you specifics, but fur sich ez you de duration ain't hardly started."

Woes of French Hotels
IF, OVER the woes of the French resort hotels, anybody catches me shedding a tear, it'll come out of an eyedropper and not from the heart. I'm thinking particularly of the romantic and soulful Riviera, which, under the surface, is just as romantic as an adding machine and soulful as a cash register.

There, where E. Phillips Oppenheim once delighted to "op" and the Yankee suckers rushed in, ready for their skinning—and never disappointed—is the original home of the deft short-change and the mastodontic overcharge. There I've seen many a mistake made in the bill and never yet one in favor of the customer.

Influenza Complications
SINCE the last bedside bulletin, so many souls have inquired, that I am offering a supplemental report on the work of the wrecking crew.

First I cracked an ear drum. (Cries of "Whose?") Then this clinging California influenza moved slightly south by west within your correspondent's area. So now I've fallen into the hands of a throat specialist.

A fine fellow—but easily satisfied in the matter of entertainment. His idea of a sprightly conversation is to hold down my tongue with a spoon and have me say "ah." What I claim is, when you've heard one "Ah," you've heard 'em all. But he fairly hangs on my words. There's a gleam in his eye I don't like. He's beginning to crave my tonsils.

Taking Political Sides
TODAY some entirely fair-minded patriot who is snuggled up close to the throne or hopes soon to be, proclaims: "Landon is as synthetic as a rubber duck. Roosevelt is the only hope of an imperiled people. What price a constitution when we can have frankfurters?"

Tomorrow another gentleman, who likewise is as unbiased as a spitefence, bursts forth with something like this: "Re-elect Roosevelt and your country forever is wrecked. Landon alone can save our threatened institutions. A real statesman. He eats in the kitchen and hates to wear neckties."

The Two Opposing Camps
ON THE Republican side there temporarily is a lull. Incredible though it sounds, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is not getting ready to run for anything. Later reports may change this.

Organizing the speaking bureau for the Democrats, Chairman Rayburn does not list among the chosen orators the name of his most distinguished fellow Texan. In vaudeville it breeds a laugh when the second half of the sketch makes the wrong answers, but politics is something else again. Can it be that Uncle Jack Garner has become the Gracie Allen of his sex? Only they do let Gracie talk!

A writer who isn't taking sides wonders at length whether the homespun suspender-wearing qualities of Gov. Landon can overbalance the melodious and limpid lines of President Roosevelt. For this problem the appropriate musical accompaniment would seem to be, "Poet and Peasant."

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

Grammar school, high school, college—if you were lucky to attend all three of them you probably think you have "completed your education." You haven't. You have just begun it. The real school begins now that your time of study is over, and you go to work.

Then you begin to find out things for yourself instead of half listening to instructors and skimming through text books.

It is meeting people, talking with them, finding out what they have in their minds that really educates you.

If you are keen and observant, you can learn at least a little something from almost everybody with whom you come into contact.

Among these people you will meet with many surprises and perhaps with many disappointments.

But they are the people with whom you must live and work. You must study them and come to understand them. You must bear in mind that few of them are "gaited" as you are; that their ways are new to you, and that their minds work differently.

But you can't bother about that. It is your job to get along with them; to find among them those who will be your friends; to be wary of others who profess friendships that they do not feel, merely for the sake of getting something from you. Treat them as you would like to be treated.

You may differ with them in religion and politics, but you don't need to get messy about such things, and either hurt their feelings or arouse them to anger.

In this world Jew and Gentile, rich and poor, must live and work side by side.

If they have the gift of tolerance, and you have it too there will be no trouble.

If you think they are bigoted and narrow minded, associate with them as little as possible.

Remember that many people you don't like and never could like have just as much right to life in this world as you have.

Be civil and considerate with them.

Overlook such prejudices as you may think they have.

Prejudices have started most of the trouble from which this world has suffered.

If some of those with whom you may be thrown are pompous, or bigoted, or top lofty, still treat them cheerfully when you meet them.

But it is better to make your close associates with people who think as you do.

You probably will be going on a long road. So make your travel as pleasant as it can be made.

All Around the House

If the rind is left on a ham it will boil or bake more rapidly.
Chamois gloves will be soft and pliable if a few drops of olive oil are added to the water in which they are washed.
Waterlilies grow best in a garden pool that is not too clean. They like sunshine and seldom bloom in shaded places.
Potatoes to be French fried will be more crisp if allowed to stand in cold water for half an hour before frying.
Celery, lettuce or almost any vegetable may be refreshed by adding a little lemon juice to some cold water and letting the vegetables stand in it for a few hours.
Green vegetables will retain their natural color if cooked in an uncovered saucepan.
Cut all dead blossoms from garden plants, cultivate soil and water plants frequently during the dry hot weather.

NON-RELIEF VETERANS MAY ENROLL IN CCC

W. A. Peterman, district manager, National Re-employment Service, with offices at Pikeville in a state- ment this week, said that the Vet- erans' Administration had been au- thorized to fill the veteran CCC quota without regard to public re- lief requirement or certification, of public relief requirement. There- fore non-relief veterans who can meet the other eligibility require- ments can now be enrolled in the CCC.

Any World War veteran desiring to fill out an application for the CCC camps can obtain application blanks by applying at the National Employ- ment office located in the court- house at Pikeville.

CHANGES MADE IN FARM PROGRAM AS RESULT OF DROUGHT

Changes have been made in the farm program in an effort to help farmers adjust their operations to meet the emergency caused by the drought.

One of these modifications relates to the minimum acreage of soil con- serving crops. Formerly, if a farmer did not have a conserving acreage at least equal to the sum of 15 per cent of his general soil-depleting base and 20 per cent of his tobacco soil-depleting base, a deduction was made from his total amount of the Class I and Class II payments.

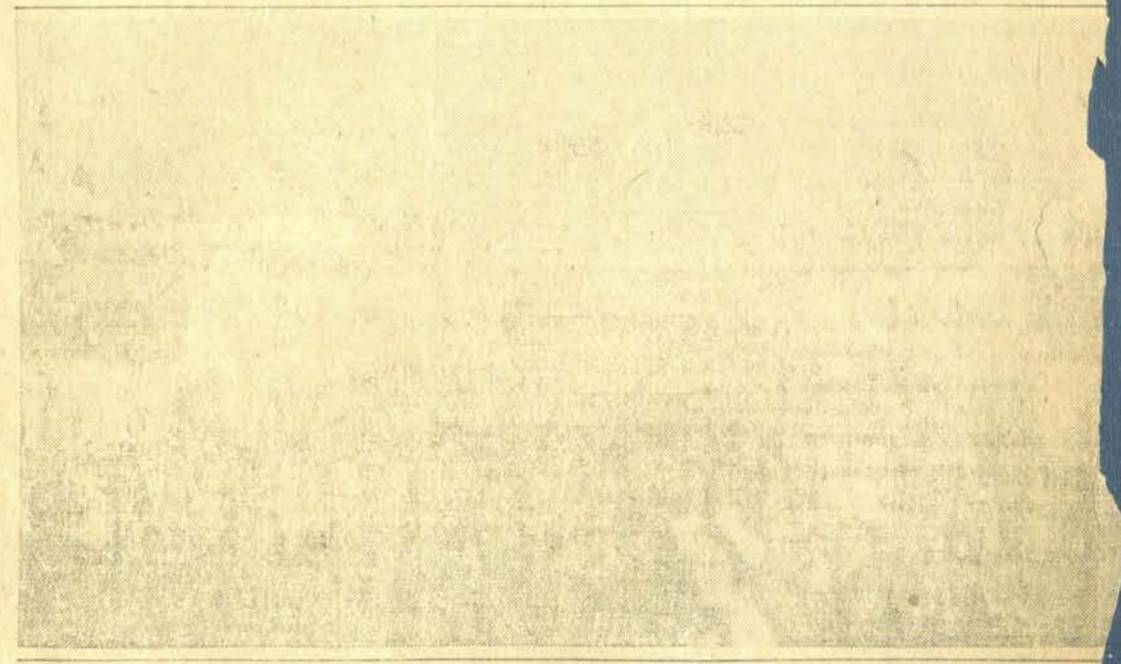

Now, if a farmer falls short of the minimum acreage requirements, a deduction will be made only from the Class I payment. That is, the farmer will be paid for the soil- building practices carried out with- out being required to have any given percentage of the land on his farm devoted to soil-conserving crops.

The above modification does not affect the soil-building allowance, nor the limit which it places upon the amount of the Class II payment.

Another modification provides that land from which wheat is harvested in 1936, which is grown in com- bination with or immediately follow- ed by a legume, will be classified as soil-conserving for the purpose of meeting re- quirements for the minimum soil- conserving acreage and new seed- lings or soil-conserving crops. The entire acreage from which wheat is harvested in 1936 still is considered as soil-depleting, however, for all other purposes of the program. The change will enable those producers who have not been able to seed soil-conserving crops this year on land other than wheat acreage to receive credit for seed crops sown in wheat. Also, soybeans cut for hay in wheat. In Kentucky will be classified this year as soil-conserving if it's crop is followed by a winter cover crop. In this state, acreage devoted to soy- bean hay previously was classified as soil-depleting, however, for all

Crowds Pour Into Exposition Grounds

Every day is a busy day at the Great Lakes Ex- position in Cleveland and this picture shows the crowds pouring across the Court of Presidents into the compact grounds of the Exposition. The grounds cover 150 acres lying along the coast of Lake Erie. Overhead are two of the bridges which take passengers for trips over the ground and the city.

317,000 acres, or about 8.9 per cent more than the 291,000 acres cut in 1935. Wheat in this state' apparently will produce about 5,750,000 bushels compared to 4,430,000 in 1935. Corn acreage in Kentucky is about 2,914,000 acres or an increase of about 3 per cent over the 1935 acreage, with a July 1 condition of 63 per cent of normal and a 1932-32 10-year average of 80 July 1. This month's estimate of the acreage of corn in Kentucky indicates a probable crop of about 61,194,000 bushels if average growing conditions prevail hereafter, compared to 62,238,000 bushels grown last year and an average annual production of 60,301,000 bushels 1928-32 inclusive. However, it should be kept in mind that these estimates are as of July 1 and do not take into account the intense heat prevailing in most of the state since that date. As the season progresses these first preliminary forecasts may be changed very materially by changes in condition after July 1.

Roosevelt and May

A. J. May, present Representative in Congress from Ninth Kentucky District, seeks renomination by the Democratic Party at the Primary Election, August 1, upon record.

He has been a steadfast and faithful friend of labor and refused to desert the veterans under fire, in the face of their enemies.
He is qualified for the great office he seeks, by training, education and experience.
He made a gallant fight in 1928 and, although defeated, he did not despair but, with renewed courage and determination, he renewed the battle in 1930 and won this large Republican District for the Democratic party, and with each succeeding election he has increased his majority. Because of his fine record in Congress, he has thousands of Republican friends throughout the district that will insure his election in November, and add strength to the National ticket.
He has faithfully supported the President's Social Security program and knows well the tasks that must be confronted by the Administration in the future.

President Roosevelt wants Congressman May returned.

Vote against Congressman May is a vote against the President.

Democrats should follow the old slogan, "Never swap horses in the middle of the stream".

Victory in November, renominate Congressman A. J. May

STATE SCHOOL OFFERS ADVANTAGES TO BLIND

The Kentucky School for the Blind, Louisville, provides for the visually handicapped children of the state full educational opportunities from kindergarten through an accredited high school. Boys and girls without sight or whose sight is so defective as to be of education and good health are admitted as pupils if capable of education and in good health. Instruction is given in vocal and instrumental music, industrial, vocational occupations and training. There is no charge for tuition, board, laundry or books. There are separate schools for white and colored children, some distance apart, each with its own staff of teachers.

The state has endeavored to make these schools everything they should be for the education, health and comfort of the blind children of Kentucky. The building, are beautifully situated on rolling grounds with magnificent forest trees and filled with every possible device for the training of the blind. The teachers are the best that can be had, thoroughly experienced in teaching those who cannot see.

Opportunity is provided for those qualified to pursue higher studies or to take advantage of work in music or vocational fields. The school session opens the second Wednesday of September and closes the second Wednesday in June, the children going to their homes for the summer vacation. If you know of such a child, write Miss Catherine T. Moriarty, Superintendent, KENTUCKY SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND, 1867 Frankfort avenue, Louisville, Ky.

REGISTRATION ACT UPHELD

Pikeville, Ky., July 18—Circuit Judge James M. Gilbert today sustained constitutionality of the state-wide compulsory registration act. An immediate appeal was granted and Judge Gilbert gave consent to the original record of the case being taken to the court of appeals. He said he expected this would be done early next week. Judge Gilbert denied general and special demurrers to the action of James H. Lee to have Bell county court clerk John Mat Pursifill enjoined from complying with the registration act. The court held Lee was not qualified to bring the action and also that the act was constitutional. N. R. Patterson represented Lee. County Attorney Walter B. Smith represented the clerk assisted by the staff of Attorney General Vincent. The act was passed this year. It required all persons qualified to vote to register prior to the Aug. 1 primary election from Aug. 15 to Oct. 10, this year, or from Nov. 15 to July 10, any year. It provides prison sentence or fine or both for persons convicted of illegal registration or election officials convicted of tampering with registration books.
